THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 27 QUINCY, MASS., MONDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 1, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

NEW OFFICIALS ARE AT CITY HALL TODAY

Quincy's "Second Inauguration Day" Opens Propitiously

Quincys second inauguration day, sometimes called moving day at city hall, finds the newly appointed officials on duty in their respective offices. A regular visitor to the stone building, wherein are located the offices of the department officials will not notice much difference.

The first change one finds on the main floor is in the tax collectors office. Here the usual force of women clerks are at work, and occasionally, City Treasurer Curtis, under whose direction the office is now, looks in to see that everything is running smoothly. A little further down the main corridor is the office of the assessors. A look into the office this morning found the new board in session in their six by eight box which passes for an office. They had nothing to give out as to their plans. They were simply having a little heart-to-heart talk, discussing the affairs of the city.

Down in the basement George E. Thomas, the new inspector of buildings, was found at his desk looking over some of the papers of the office, familiarizing himself with the duties of the office. Mr. Thomas had a pleasant word of greeting for a number of callers. Some came on business and others just dropped in to congratulate the new official and wish him good luck.

Over across the corridor in the board of health office the new members reported at the office this morning but none of the three members remained a great while.

The only other change in the basement is in the office of the overseer of the poor. Miss Huston, the new overseer, was found at her desk. When asked how she liked her new position Miss Huston said that she hardly knew as yet. She had not been on the job long enough to find out. She had several old cases to which to give her attention this morning and one new case.

There has been much speculation as to how a woman is to fit in this office. At first men shake their heads and seemed inclined to doubt the wisdom of it. But as several have stated the more they think about it the more they are inclined to think that it is a good thing and Miss Huston will make good.

As far as city hall is concerned these were all the changes. There are some changes however in some of the administrative boards but none of these have met as yet for organization.

FIRST MEETING OF THELMA GIRLS

The Thelma Girls, a newly organized club of Quincy young women, held their first social Saturday evening. It was in the form of a banquet and theatre party.

The banquet was held in the private dining room of the Quincy House. Miss Mildred Duggan presided at the piano while Misses Annie and Julia Corcoran gave several pleasing duets. Miss Annie Clinton rendered a cornet solo. After the banquet the party attended "Ben Hur" at the Boston Theatre.

They will hold their first grand dance in Alpha hall, Tuesday evening April 6th. Those who attended:—Misses Mildred F. Duggan, Josie Grady, Nancy Corcoran, Marie Corcoran, Josie Kiernan, Gertrude Ferriter, Annie Clinton, Ernestine Shores Ruth Gullickson, Nora Corbin and Annette Gilcoine.

Miss Elizabeth G. Pattee of School street left today for Franklin, where she will be the guest for a few days of Miss Seabury, formerly of the St Agnes school in Albany where Miss Pattee was a student before entering the Institute of Technology.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Tuesday unsettled, probably with rain or snow. Warmer.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.57
Sun sets	4.59
Length of day	10.02
Moon rises	8.03
High water, A. M.	12.30
High water, P. M.	12.45
Days increase	0 hrs. 56 minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.33 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	34 degrees
Feb. 1, 1914, 43	60 degrees
Feb. 1, 1913, 42	5 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—37.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

RECTOR TO COME HERE THIS WEEK

Rev. William Grainger, who has accepted a call to become the rector of Christ church preached his farewell sermon at his church in Canton, Sunday. Rev. Mr. Grainger will move his household effects to Quincy some day this week and will begin his duties as rector of Christ church next Sunday. Just what day he will remove to Quincy, is at yet undecided. He said this morning that it depended largely upon weather conditions.

UNITY CIRCLE MEETS.

Miss Edith Randall Will Be The Speaker.

Unity Circle of Kings Daughters will meet Tuesday at Bethany church. A business meeting at 5.30 P. M. will be followed by a supper at 6.30. Miss Edith Randall will be the speaker.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

PROGRAMME

Mon., Tues., Wed., Feb. 1-2-3

Matinee 2.30 P. M. Evenings 8 P. M.

A Overture by Orchestra.
B Hearst Selig—World's Daily News
C Henry Kelly, Monologue Artist
D Feature Photo Play, "Walls of Jericho." Two reels. Produced by James H. Hackett featuring Edmund Breese.
E Mitchell and Lightner, Novelty Artists.
F Feature Photo Play, "Walls of Jericho." Two reels.
G Diamond Beatrice Musical Trio
H Feature Photo Play, "Walls of Jericho. One Reel.
I Exit March by Orchestra.

Subject to Change

Matinee Prices 10-15c
Evening Prices 10-15-25c

Feb. 1-3t.

MISS ARTHUR IS MARRIED

Bride is Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Arthur of Hollis Avenue Atlantic

GROOM CAMBRIDGE MAN

Miss Helen Gladys Arthur, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Arthur of Hollis avenue, and Frank Harvey Barrett of Cambridge were married Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride in the presence of their immediate relatives and friends.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Walther, pastor of the Wollaston Baptist church. The couple were unattended and entered the room to Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Jennie Harding, and took their place under a large white wedding bell from which hung a shower of white ribbons and orange blossoms. The hall, dining room and parlor were decorated with large vases of pink roses.

The bride was dressed in white silk trimmed with lace and carried a shower bouquet of freesia.

Assisting the young couple to receive were their parents and a cousin, Mrs. L. P. Davis, of St. Thomas, Ontario, Canada, and her two daughters, Miss Vera and Miss Mildred Davis.

Light refreshments were served to the friends after which the bride and groom and their relatives sat down to a turkey dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrett will reside on Appleton street.

The bride was tendered a farewell party at the home of Mrs. Isabel Smith of Brooks street on Friday evening.

During the evening the party enjoyed hearing several Victrola selections. Games and singing were also entered into by all.

At 9.30 the party adjourned to the dining room for refreshments. This room was handsomely decorated, the color scheme being pink and white. The pink and white ribbons which were festooned from the chandelier to the table were arranged so as to form an artistic lattice work over the table. In the center of the table was a large bridal cake surrounded by dishes of fancy nuts and confectionery. The favors, which were given to each girl present, were pink satin hearts. On each of these was a white china cupid. The hearts were filled with pink, white and green confectionery.

Miss Arthur cut the cake in which there was a ring, thimble and button. Miss Gretchen Young had the piece containing the ring. Miss Ruth Buckley the thimble, and Miss Onida Keay the button.

Those present were: the Misses Phyllis Smith, Phoebe and Ruth Buckley, Emily Gnong, Collina Brown Gretchen and Marjorie Young, Marion Wilson, Helen Day, Viola Jackson, Bertha Fuller, Beatrice Rogers, Clara Ven Emden, Pearl and Onida Keay, Madeline Guillop, Florence Nelson, Alina Kilpatrick, Jean Arthur Clara Fitzgerald, Jennie Harding and Jessie French.

The matrons were Mrs. E. S. Tead, Mrs. C. A. Stearns and Mrs. Isabel Smith.

Miss Arthur received several beautiful gifts of cut-glass and linen from the friends present.

ENTERTAINS GUESTS.

Friday afternoon Mrs. Thomas W. Daly of Walker street, Atlantic, entertained as her guests Mrs. William Thompson of Atlantic, Miss Clara Tobin of Rockland, Mrs. Margaret Crowne of Dorchester and Miss Mary R. Sullivan of Atlantic. Before the guests departed, they partook of a dainty collation which was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Sullivan.

Miss Margaret Raab of West street, who has been confined to her home the past week by a severe cold, is out and around again.

You need the Ledger every day.

ELABORATE PLANS FOR ELKS BALL

Dance to be Held Wednesday, Will Have Some Novel Features

DISTINGUISHED GUESTS

The annual ball of Quincy lodge, B. P. O. E., to be held in Music hall on Wednesday evening of this week promises to be one of the most elaborate affairs held this season. The indications are that in brilliance of the decorations, gowns and order of exercises it will eclipse all former successes of the organization.

The guests of the evening will be the city and state officials and higher officers and will include Grand Trustee James R. Nickerson of Springfield and District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler James Johnson of Boston.

A novel and elaborate program has been arranged for the mystic hour of Elkdom and promptly at 11 o'clock the memorial for absent brothers will be given. Edward J. Fegan, president of the Board of Trade, will give the Elks toast.

The decorations this year will be under the direction of the Atlantic Decorating Co., of which Ernest W. Campbell, brother of Mayor Campbell is president.

Exalted Ruler John Hildebrand will be chief marshal and the assistant marshals will be Philip H. Sullivan, P. E. R., Councilman Robert J. Williams, Jr., P. E. R., William Cashman, T., Dr. J. H. Maloney, E. L. K., Hon. Louis F. R. Langelier, Col. Henry L. Kincaide all of Quincy and John W. Sweeney of Nantasket.

Edward D. Larkin, E. L. K., will be chief of aids and James M. Sweeney, P. E. R., is chairman of the committee of arrangements. The grand march will be under the direction of Leo J. McMasters.

COUNCIL WILL MEET TONIGHT

Expect New Business to be Introduced

A regular meeting of the city council will be held this evening. There is but little in the calendar to come before the meeting in the way of business or committee reports but it is expected that there will be considerable new business offered. For the next two months a large amount of new business is expected to be introduced at each meeting. Standing committees have not got down to regular business as yet but are expected to very soon. The next important matter will probably be the annual budget.

SURPRISE PARTY.

Joseph J. McGue was tendered a surprise party at his home 115 Upland road Saturday evening in observance of his birthday. Vocal selections were rendered by Miss Eva Rice, Mr. Restelli, Miss Teresa Wholey and William Mahon. Mr. McGue was presented with a beautiful turkish rocker, beside many other gifts. Herbert Campbell made the presentation speech. Friends from Dorchester, East Milton and Quincy were present. A buffet lunch was served.

DIES AT NEWTON.

Winfield S. Slocum, for many years City Solicitor of Newton, and one of the special commission appointed to determine how the separation of the grade crossings at Saville, and Water streets, should be accomplished passed away Friday, and his funeral was held this afternoon.

SONS ST. GEORGE ATTEND SERVICES

Hold Funeral of Ernest Wallace at Christ Church

Funeral services for the late Ernest Wallace of 124 Centre street, who passed away at his home Wednesday morning, were held at Christ church, Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock following a short service of prayer at the house, the Rev. F. H. Steenstra of Wollaston officiating.

The services were attended by the Foresters of America and the Sons of St. George, of which the deceased was a member. A quartette from the Sons of St. George sang during the services.

At the close of the Episcopal burial service the Sons of St. George conducted their ritualistic service. A short service was held at the grave in Mt. Wollaston Cemetery. Four members of the Sons of St. George and four members of the Foresters of America acted as bearers.

Mr. Wallace was 46 years old and came from England. He was a granite cutter by trade and has resided in Quincy for a number of years. He is survived by his wife, one son, Ernest, and two daughters, Elizabeth and Bertha.

The floral pieces were many and beautiful, a silent tribute of the esteem in which he was held by his many friends:

Pillow of calla lilies, roses and pinks from the family.

Wreath of pinks and galax leaves Mr. and Mrs. L. Gleason.

Spray of 46 carnations, Mr. and Mrs. William Lawry of Braintree.

Anchor of roses, pinks and sweet peas, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Richards.

Cross of roses and carnations, Mr. and Mrs. William Richards.

Pillow of narcissus and roses, Mr. and Mrs. James Lawry of Providence R. I.

Pillow, Foresters of America.

Wreath, Granite Lodge No. 193 Order Sons of St. George.

Spray of roses, Employees Association Women's Ed. and Ind. Union of Boston.

Wreath of pink roses and galax leaves, Food Shop Women's Educational and Industrial Union of Boston

Standing wreath of pink roses and Easter lilies, W. B. White & Co., and Employees.

Pillow of tulips, narcissus and violets, Mrs. L. J. Moyle and family.

Spray of white carnations, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Newton.

Spray of carnations, Miss Alice Findlay.

Spray of calla lilies, Mrs. William King.

Wreath of carnations, Mr. George Provost.

Spray of carnations, Mr. Harding and family, Atlantic, Mass.

Spray of sweet peas, Mrs. Donnelly and family, Braintree.

Spray of carnations, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vanner.

Spray of carnations, Miss Hewina McLeod.

Spray of roses and carnations, Miss Lena Allen.

Spray of carnations and narcissus, Mr. and Mrs. Nils Johnson.

Spray of write carnations, The St. Margaret's Guild.

Spray of carnations, Mr. George Runnells.

Spray of carnations, Mr. J. Warren Nightingale.

Large bouquet of carnations, The Darby family of Belfast, Maine.

PETERS—DEVLYN.

Earl Roy Peters and Sarah Devlyn, both of 582 South street, were married on Jan. 22, by Rev. Edward Norton, pastor emeritus of the Bethany Congregational church. The marriage became known this morning with the filing of the certificate at the office of City Clerk Crane.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

DRESSMAKING and Alterations
Terms Moderate
MISS CLARA M. TEES
1623 Hancock St., Quincy, Mass.
Jan. 27-6t

NEW THEATRE TO BE BUILT HERE IS REPORT

Site is in Rear of Greenleaf Building and Capacity is 2500

The Quincy Real Estate and Trust Co., is said to be contemplating the erection of a handsome theatre and if plans mature spring may see the start of building operations.

It is understood that the site will be on Granite street, directly in the rear of the Greenleaf block, the main entrance of which will be used as a theatre entrance in addition to its present use.

So far as can be learned the building will combine the latest in theatrical equipment and its interior will be so arranged that 2500 people can be conveniently seated. The stage part of the house will be large enough to stage the ordinary companies which appear at the Boston theatres. Vaudeville and moving pictures will also be the main feaure of the entertainments to be given.

It is said that the lessees of Music hall, now operated as a moving picture house once a week, are to be the lessees of the new theatre.

HOCKEY CLUB WINS 2nd GAME

Wollaston Boys, Defeat Pilgrims of Somerville

The Wollaston Hockey Club won its second game of the season Saturday, by defeating the Pilgrim Hockey club of Somerville, 2—0, on Sailors Home pond.

The first game was won last Thursday night at Cunningham Rink Milton, by defeating the Parkway A. C., team of that town 5—2 in two 20 minute periods. A. Hall and Fowler Brothers starred for the Wollaston team, A. Hall scoring four of the five goals and L. Fowler shooting the fifth in the last few minutes of play.

In Saturday's game Fowler Brothers and W. Hall excelled for the Wollaston team while Burke starred for Somerville.

WOLLASTON		PILGRIM
W. Fowler, rw		lw, A. Hall
A. Hall, c		c, C. Burke (capt.)
J. Osberg, r		r, White
L. Fowler, lw		rw, Smith
W. Hall, cp		cp, Jones
W. Webber, p		p, Brown
H. Lovell, (capt.), g		G. La Croix

Score Woll. 2—Som. 0

Goals made by L. Fowler and W. Fowler. Referee A. Fering. Goal umpires: R. Lamb and J. Fering. Time two 20 minute periods.

LOCAL CLUBS NOT HIT.

Yacht clubs, like the Quincy Yacht club for instance, are not hit by the new regulations of the Fire Hazard Commission which go into effect today, relative to the sale of gasoline and other volatile, flammable fluids to boats in the waters adjoining the cities and towns in the Metropolitan Fire Prevention district. Yacht clubs are not prevented from selling gasoline from a tank located on its pier or grounds direct to vessels and boats, provided that the club is licensed and approved by the chief of the fire department.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

IS ALTERNATE TO ANNAPOLIS

Charles Raymond Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Gerrish Smith of Goffe street, has been appointed first alternate to Annapolis by Senator Weeks. He will take his examinations in April and if successful will enter either in June or July, if Paul W. Haines of Brookline, the principal, fails to qualify.

Mr. Smith is well known among the younger set of this city. He was educated at the Greenleaf private school on Greenleaf street and attended Thayer Academy for three years. He is at present a student at the Columbian Preparatory School in Washington, D. C.

The appointment was announced Saturday. Mr. Smith is the first Quincy boy so honored in recent years. His father, H. G. Smith, is general manager of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation.

NINE TABLES IN PLAY.

At the whist party held by the Montclair Women's club in Association hall Friday evening there were nine tables in play. Gentleman's first prize, a pearl handled jack-knife, was awarded to Frank Sherman. George Thomas received second prize. Lady's first prize went to Miss Rose Berlo. and the second prize to Miss Frances Berlo. The patchwork quilt, which was pieced by the ladies of the club, was won by Mrs. Alfred Fox. After the prizes wer awarded dancing was enjoyed. The music was furnished by a local orchestra.

ATTEND HEARING.

Mayor Campbell, City Engineer Sargent and City Solicitor Pinkham are attending the hearing at the state house today on the bill which calls for an additional appropriation of $50,000 to complete the boulevard from Wollaston beach to Hancock street.

SUFFERS FALL.

Miss Donovan, a domestic employed in the family of T. L. Sturtevant of Adams street fell while getting off a street car Sunday night near the corner of Adams and Alleyne street. Miss Donovan fortunately escaped without any serious injury other than a general shaking up.

WHERE IS IT?
WHY
1387
Hancock St.

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass. as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)

VALUE OF FIRE DRILL.

An editorial in the Brockton Enterprise has some pertinent observations to make about the fire drill. That paper holds essentially the same position as the Ledger, which more than once has denounced the folly of those petitioners who would have the School Committee abolish or weaken the safeguard erected round the lives of school children.

The editorial reads:

The Boston Advertiser remarks that "The value and good sense of the fire drill, as taught in the public schools of this city, was seen when the Cushman school's several hundred pupils were marched out of the building in almost less time than it takes to tell it." When in the Brockton High school the alarm rings and over 1500 pupils are enabled to leave the building in good order and without confusion in a minute and a half or so, it seems incredible that anybody should see anything but value in the plan; and yet there is a leading educator in a city not fifty miles from Brockton, who, according to a newspaper in his city, doesn't think the school fire drill is worth while or has any value. Perhaps if some day a fire breaks out in his schoolhouse and he has for the first time to marshal his forces and try to keep the untrained and rattled throng in order he may realize too late the folly of his attitude. The rush of an unorganized throng down the aisles and halls of a burning building oftentimes does more danger to life and limb than the fire itself. The fire drill is an excellent thing and most useful, and whenever put to the test it appears to have worked well.

HALTING A VICIOUS PRACTICE

There is nothing sensational about the mayor's appointments except the selection of a woman as overseer of the poor. His honor appears to have gone about his important and difficult task with a conscientious desire to select efficient officials and if he found men in office who appeared to him efficient he let them remain. This is highly commendable.

One of the chief reasons for the failure of city government in America is the tendency of each incoming administration to oust political enemies and appoint political friends, with an obvious lessening of efficiency. Other things being equal the man who has had experience in office will make a more capable official than the man who has all the ropes to learn. It is a good thing for Quincy that it has a mayor who has the courage and good sense to call a halt to a vicious practice.

THE BOARD OF ASSESSORS.

It is safe to say that during the coming year no department will be so closely and critically watched as the board of assessors. It would not be charitable to comment upon the old board. What it did is now history. For how much of that history Mr. Sherman, the only member reappointed, is responsible can not be known, nor is it a matter of vital moment to the city. His record this year and the records of his fellow assessors is the thing with which the voters are concerned. Mr. O'Hara brings to the board valuable experience gained as tax collector. Mr. Mitchell brings an experience on the board itself. With a mayor behind them who appears to have the welfare of the city seriously at heart the new assessors should make good.

A REPREHENSIBLE ACT.

In charging the Germans with "extraordinary brutality" at the dinner of Dartmouth alumni at New York Friday night Interstate Commerce Commissioner Charles A. Prouty was guilty of poor taste to say the least.

For an officer of the government to break away from the standards of neutrality laid down by President Wilson is reprehensible. That the audience recognized this was attested by their vigorous hissing.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

It was a gracious act of courtesy upon the part of our contemporary in daily newspaper field, when it printed in Saturday's editorial column a tribute to the Ledger extra Friday night which gave the full list and biographies of the mayor's appointments. The tribute ran:

"We congratulate our esteemed contemporary on last night's extra. It was a lively piece of newspaper work, which met with a popular response.

SCISSORS AND PASTE

BREAD MIGHTIER THAN CANNON.

The current issue of the Public has the following comment which can profitably be considered by every advocate of a bigger army and navy for the United States, and also by all those who are still hesitating to break away from the thraldom of the idea of militarism:

"Those mediaeval-minded persons who think the only way to maintain peace is for every man to carry arms and every country to surround itself with forts and ships of war, might well ponder the words of the Burgomaster of Louvain, Alfred Nerinex. Speaking of America's aid to his stricken countrymen, he said:

We cannot buy food, even if we have money, when the doors are closed to imports. Feed us now and we will pay you back in industry when the war is over. We are paying back now in gratitude for the lives America has saved, gratitude which will endure as proof that human affection is stronger than any treaty alliance. The most powerful army in the world cannot Teutonize Belgium, but America, armed with bread, is Americanizing Belgium.—Jamaica Plain News.

ON MILITARY TRAINING.

Military training in the public schools would fill a great need. Football, baseball, hockey and the gymnasium really benefit but a small percentage of school boys, and no statistician ever found that the best athletes make the best soldiers. Military training will give the boys the rudiments of war service and will give healthful exercise to all alike.

In the meantime the militia gives splendid opportunities to young men who will take advantage of it. Massachusetts is one of the few states of the union which has a well organized and well-equipped volunteer army. It is open to recruits, who will find themselves, as Colonel Glines points out, amid pleasant comrades, with the pleasures and advantages of the armories, which are, in a sense, military clubs.—Somerville Journal.

ANENT BILLY SUNDAY.

The real test of a revivalist's work is not the line of men who "hit the sawdust trail." The country is full of revivalists who possess a certain magnetism, before which all the difficulties of changing habits seem to vanish. The real test comes when the preacher is gone, the crowd scattered and a man is up against the old temptation to take the easiest way. The obscure pastor of the home church, the unknown worker in a Sunday school or fraternity, is perhaps more often the real agent in a man's amendment. It is comparatively easy to get men to confess their sins amid the contagion of a friendly crowd. Quite another for some weak-willed fellow to walk the straight and narrow path with the "boys" joshing him.—Manchester Union and American.

WELL WORTH POSTING.

"A fire in this establishment may put everyone out of work! Guard the property against fire and protect your job!"

These words are conspicuously posted about the premises occupied by a large Boston concern. They are words that every careful employe of that firm has committed to memory and the other kind, the careless and shiftless, if any there be, will soon be weeded out. There is a whole sermon in these two sentences—a forceful, powerful argument. A fire would destroy, not alone the building, but the workers' opportunity to work and earn a livelihood. These two sentences ought to be placarded in bold-face type and posted in every store, shop and factory in our land.—Dedham Transcript.

NOT CHEERFUL CONDITIONS.

One hundred men offered their blood in a New York hospital the other day in a case where blood transfusion was imperative to save a patient. Most of them were out of work, and only two were found whom the doctors considered suitable persons to give their blood. This may mean many were suffering from ill health, or it may have meant that because of lack of work and pay most of them were below normal nourishment. The whole episode indicates conditions in the big city that are not cheerful.—Brockton Enterprise.

EDWARD B. NEVIN.

Edward B. Nevin, a retired wholesale coal dealer in South Weymouth and former state senator, died Friday

DESPOTISM IN CLOSED CAMPS

Colorado Mine Operators Declared to Be All Powerful

MORE TESTIMONY BY LAWSON

Says Election Judges Count Sheep, Mules and Box Cars as Votes—Coal Companies Dominate In All Activities of Life—Even Coroners Declared to Be Against Employes

New York, Feb. 1.—John R. Lawson, executive member for Colorado of the United Mine Workers of America, continued his testimony before the industrial relations commission at the city hall regarding mine conditions in that state.

Following the lines of his previous testimony Lawson told of the social environment of the miners in Colorado and of the conditions in the Colorado coal region during the strike last year. He also detailed the conversation he had with John D. Rockefeller, Jr., at the latter's office on Friday.

The labor leader admitted that he had met Rockefeller "simply as one American citizen meeting another, and not as an officer of the United Mine Workers." He said he called on Rockefeller with Edward L. Doyle, another official of the miners' union.

"The interview was pleasant," he said. "The situation in Colorado was gone over and Mr. Rockefeller asked my opinion as to the value of the system of electing representatives from the workers in the mines to meet the executive officials of the company. I told him the system would not be of benefit to the miners; that there was no organization to back up the demands of the men, and the success of the system depended solely upon the good will of the operators."

Led on by suggestions of the members of the commission, Lawson told of the voting methods that obtained in the counties where the mine operators were powerful. The voting of sheep and mules and even box cars, he said, was common.

"You see," said Lawson, "when the returns were in the election judges, who are usually mine bosses or camp liquor dealers, called up headquarters and asked how many votes were needed. Then they'd count a flock of sheep or a bunch of mules, or a string of cars to fix the returns."

In picturesque language the witness said the social life of miners in Colorado had been very limited, especially in closed camps, where a kind of despotism prevailed, the coal company owning all the buildings, running the schools and churches, and even directing the recreations of the workers. From a list the witness read that forty-four men had been killed in mine accidents in Colorado last year, leaving twenty-seven widows and eighty-one orphan children.

"The fatalities in the Colorado mines have been so much higher than in any place in the world," said Lawson, "that humanity has been shocked. Even if a family is paid $305.40, how far does that go with them? This is the human side of it that seems to get so little consideration from these operators."

The witness told of the domination of the companies in all the activities of life there. A young man going to one of the camps and being put to work, he said, would have to go to the company store, to the company doctor, and, if hurt, to a company hospital.

"And I want to say, Mr. Chairman," continued Lawson, "that, if he died, he would be examined by a company coroner who selects men who are friendly to the company. I have known only two verdicts ever to have been rendered which were unfavorable to the coal companies."

Lawson said the miners were never known to fail to face danger to save either life or property. They were not permitted, he said, to have clubs or organizations of any kind.

CHARGES NOT SUSTAINED

Three Men Accused In Frank Case Are Acquitted by Jury

Atlanta, Feb. 1.—A verdict of not guilty was returned by a jury in the case of D. S. Lehon, C. C. Tedder and Arthur Thurman, charged with subornation of perjury in connection with the Leo M. Frank case.

Lehon is southern manager for the Burns detective agency, Tedder formerly was employed by the agency and Thurman is a lawyer.

Ninth Death on the San Diego

San Diego, Feb. 1.—The explosion aboard the flagship San Diego claimed another victim with the death of Ralph B. Glidden, a fireman. His death is the ninth and four men remain seriously injured.

Story of British Warning Denied

Washington, Feb. 1.—A published report that Great Britain has told the United States and government purchase of German ships would be considered unneutral was officially denied.

Convicted of Manslaughter

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 1.—Angelo Pedalino, who shot and killed Antonio Gimalaro at a party in Newton, was found guilty of manslaughter by a jur in the superior court.

MAY BUILD UP BOARD OF TRADE

Efficiency Expert May Be Engaged for Task

A regular meeting of the Board of Trade will be held Wednesday evening at which time Walter B. Moore, an efficiency expert, will address the Board on recruiting the membership, following which the board will consider the advisability of engaging Mr. Moore to build up the board. Action will also be taken on changing the night of the regular meeting. In order to get an expression of the members as to the best night return postal cards have been mailed each member asking them to express their opinion as to the best night, the second Tuesday or Thursday of each month. Meetings are now held on Wednesday evenings and it is a fact that there is more going on, on that evening than any other evening in the week.

FRIENDS SURPRISE JAMES GRAHAM

A few friends of James Graham of Willard street, who returned from Charlesgate Hospital on Friday, gathered at his home Saturday evening and gave him a reception. Mr. Graham had his hand amputated just above the wrist. The operation was successful and it is healing up quickly.

A good time was enjoyed by all. Singing and dancing was a feature of the evening. During a lull in the merriment John Shea presented Mr. Graham with a purse of gold on behalf of his friends. He was visibly affected and could hardly express his appreciation. The evening closed by all singing the popular songs of the day and wishing Mr. Graham a speedy recovery. He is a popular employee of the Highway department.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A pleasant surprise was given Miss Ruth Drew at her parents' home on Davis street, Friday night by a number of her friends. The evening was spent with music and games after which Miss Ruth was presented with a pretty cap and scarf by her schoolmates.

Hot chocolate, cake and sandwiches were served by the young ladies among whom were Ethel Cleale Mildred and Mabel Kappler, Marion Hallett, Marie Anderson, Ida Drew, Dorothy Eaton, Myrtle Maxwell, Mildred Ahlstrom, Dorothy Drew and Eleanor Knight

The engagement has been announced of Miss Grace M. Bicknell of Weymouth Landing to Norton F. Pierce of East Weymouth.

SELF FILLING · NON SPILLING
The Crocker
INK-TITE
FOUNTAIN PEN
For a Short Time Only
WE'LL PAY
YOU $1.00
FOR YOUR
OLD FOUNTAIN PEN
Provided You Buy a Crocker
INK-TITE
Fountain Pen
(Only one Pen taken in exchange for each new pen purchased.)
Exchange Your Old Pen Now
DON'T WAIT
Every Crocker Ink-Tite Pen is guaranteed to be a FAR BETTER PEN than you have ever known.
QUINCY
ARTHUR L. McGILVRAY, Druggist
WOLLASTON
G. C. SHUNK, Newsdealer & Stationer
Jan. 18-9t-eod

THOSE WHO HAVE READ IT
SAY
IT'S GREAT
You'll Say The Same
When You Read It
THE EXPLOITS OF ELAINE
The Most Sensational Motion Picture
Serial Ever Written
START READING IT
NOW
THEN SEE THE PLAY AT THE
KINCAIDE THEATRE

OFFICER FINDS MISSING BOYS

Ibrahaim Spencer and Robert Illingsworth, two six-year old Braintree boys who disappeared from their homes shortly after noon Sunday, were found by Special officer George H. Jones at the corner of Middle and Union streets, several miles from home later in the afternon. The non-appearance of the boys at their homes in late afternoon alarmed their parents and searching parties were formed. The woods about their homes were searched but no trace of the missing boys was found. Then the parents became thoroughly alarmed as it had commenced to snow. It was about this time that Officer Jones picked them up.

EXAMINE FOR MILITIA SQUAD

Dr. Sydney C. Hardwick, lieut. of 9th Regt. M. V. M., assigned to the surgical staff, has been appointed examiner of the applicants for the machine gun company being formed in this city and tonight will examine in Alpha and Union halls.

Applicants, as soon as accepted, will be measured and the figures forwarded to the quartermaster's department for the regular issue of uniforms, requisition for which has been made by Lieut. George Downes.

Col. Warren E. Sweetser and Lieut. Downes have arranged to appear before the city council tonight to explain how Quincy will act as the agent of the state in all matters pertaining to the Alpha building.

Quincy young men, to the number of almost 70 have filled in application blanks and several have not yet been placed in the hands of Lieut. Downes. The indications point to a speedy formation of the company. Recruit drill will commence as soon as applicants are passed by the surgeon.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

W. R. C. OBSERVE McKINLEY DAY

The W. R. C. 103 observed McKinley day at the home of their Patriotic Instructor Mrs. Kate A. Blaisdell Friday evening, Jan. 29.

The interior of the house was prettily decorated with the stars and stripes, streamers of red, white and blue and the McKinley pink. The exercises opened with a prayer and short address to the G. A. R. men present by Rev. T. W. Davison of Atlantic.

There was a reading by Mrs. Kate A. Blaisdell. Commander Hanson of Post 88 spoke on "McKinley As a Soldier."

Senior Vice Commander Packard of the S. of V. read a sketch of the life of McKinley.

Miss Phylis Smith gave two readings in a very pleasing manner. Mrs. Emma Ela past president of D. of V. made a few well chosen remarks.

Mrs. Sarah Williams read a short sketch of the life of McKinley. Kate A. Blaisdell gave a reading "The G. A. R." which was loudly applauded.

The flag salute was given and the evening closed with all joining in singing, "God be with us till we meet again."

BRIDGE CLUB MEETS.

The Saturday Auction Bridge club met last week with Mrs. Frederick G. Howe, Jr., of Butler road. Mrs. Carl F. Doble, nee Spear, who last fall moved to East Braintree, was among the invited guests. A pretty tea apron was awarded Mrs. F. Ambler Welch for having the highest score. The next meeting will be held on Feb. 13 with Miss Madeline McCrory as hostess, at the home of her sister, Mrs. John L. Evans of Edgemere road.

ATTEND MEETING.

Misses Eleanor Whittemore, Ella Packard, Belinda Wainwright and Librarian Alice G. White of the Thomas Crane Public Library attended the meeting of the Massachusetts Library club at Malden last week.

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

About 150 townspeople attended the mock town meeting under the auspices of the Thursday Evening club in the clubrooms. Samuel Woods acted as moderator. The first "warrant" discussed was to see what action the meeting would take towards adopting a resolution for woman suffrage.

Miss Margaret Foley, the well known suffrage orator, was present to speak in favor of this resolution. The meeting voted to favor such a resolution.

Article number two, concerning the purchase of the muck pond as a recreation park was lost after considerable discussion. The removal of the "Keep to your right" sign, which stands in the square was voted. The meeting also appropriated the sum of $200,000 for a beautiful arc lamp in its place. The question of precinct voting was then brought up. Mr. George Arnold, very considerate of the coming women voters, moved that an appropriation of $50,000 be made towards the erection of a magnificent voting booth with a special entrance for the women. This motion was passed.

The Sunday Schools of Milton held a conference Thursday evening under the auspices of the Norfolk East District S. S. Association at the First Baptist church. A goodly representative body of teachers, pupils and officers of the various Sunday schools attended.

The Agenda Club of the First Baptist church is to entertain the Ladies Aid society and Woodsum class Tuesday evening in the vestry Rev. Irad Hardy, former pastor of the church, now of Gloucester, is to be the speaker of the evening.

You need the Ledger every day.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

ONLY ONE "Bromo Quinine," that is
Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove on box. 25c.

Among Our Churches

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL.

"Progressive Revelation" was the subject of Rev. Mr. Willmott's morning discourse. He said that in the study of the Old Testament historic difficulties had been in great measure removed but moral difficulties which were much harder to meet remained. The fact is undeniable that the morals of the Old Testament do not always coincide with our moral sense or with the teachings of Christ. Several solutions have been offered.

First, to throw overboard the whole Bible. But that is unthinkable to the Christian world.

Secondly, some recommend a surgical operation, cutting off the Old Testament from the New. This is also impossible for the reasoning soul. The roots of the New Testament are to be found in the Old. It is important to know the beginnings of our religion.

The third method is the most dangerous of all: to say that all these things mentioned in the Old Testament without disapproval are good and right because they are in the Bible. This claim has produced athcists.

The fourth and best way is that adopted by Christ himself. He takes us to a higher platform of development than that of Moses.

It is now generally acknowledged that man has been developed physically from a lower stage. This is just as true of his spiritual nature. The Old Testament was the kindergarten of religious life. In its teachings nomadic men of untrained moral and intellectual habit were led upwards step by step as fast as it was possible for them to go.

Modern reformers often make the mistake of going too far ahead of those they would lead. The scriptural way was to draw men by a beacon light which was always kept within their sight; thus God led them thro' the prophets to the highest revelation of himself in the person of Jesus Christ.

The C. E. had for its leader Mr. Theodore Forsythe. The subject was "Missions."

The meeting was preceded by an executive committee meeting.

FIRST PARISH.

Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson in his sermon on "Building a Home City" emphasized the importance of loyalty to one's home city, state and country. He also said that this sentiment of local loyalty is one mark of strong and generous minded man.

The individual who affects cosmopolitanism, declaring himself "a denizen of the world," will be found on closer analysis to be a self-centered egotist with no real interest outside of himself and the gratification of his own selfish desires.

Mr. Hudson paid a hearty tribute to the Board of Trade and other organizations which are working to promote the welfare of the city and to develop unity of purpose among those who have the best interests of the city at heart.

But he insisted on a definite moral standard if the city is to have any wholesome growth. There is today too much of a tendency to make "The pursuit of happiness" the chief occupation of life to the exclusion of all feeling of responsibility and duty.

Complaints are common among our business men that families who are six months behind on their bills for the necessaries of life are frequent attendants at moving picture shows. This method of using other people's money to gratify a craving for excitement is one striking indication of the decline of authority of the moral law. It shows the need for the churches of the city to make their influence felt in the development of higher ideals of character.

On Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 the alliance will hold its regular meeting in the church parlors. Mrs. Lucid Amos Mead will speak upon "Euro pean War and American duty."

HALL PLACE M. E.

Rev. P. S. Neldon of the Hall Place M. E. church preached especially for the children at the Sunday morning service. He took for his text "Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them. Eccl. 12-1.

Sunday school met at 11.45 and showed a slight decrease in the attendance.

Miss Mary Williams led the Epworth League service at 6 P. M. The subject was "An Evening With Great Hymns."

The text for the evening service was taken from Rev. 3-11 "Hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown."

On Wednesday evening the Fowler Chapter of the Methodist Brotherhood will hold a banquet in the vestry.

The Junior League will enjoy a social in the vestry Monday at 4 P. M.

Prayer meeting Thursday evening A. D. Stewart will have charge of the service.

Baked with great care and wrapped in Wax Paper. Dust proof between our bakery and your table. Ask for it.

YOUR GROCERS SELL IT

PETER PAN BREAD CO. 3190 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON

WOLLASTON BAPTIST.

One week ago the pastor Rev. Joseph Walther spoke of Four Famous Fools in the Bible as was outlined in the Ledger of that week. At the Sunday morning service he spoke of "Some other Fools."

It is indeed interesting and helpful to note the different kinds of fools mentioned in the Bible. One mentioned today is the fool who despises wisdom and instruction. This comes to us in many ways, through the Bible and Bible characters good and bad, through God's commandments through the sermon on the Mount and specific teachings.

Next comes the selftrusting fool Prov. 28:26. He that trusteth in his own heart is a fool. Then there is the fool that makes a mock at sin. Prov. 14:9.

If there is no sin why did Jesus come to save sinners? Jesus came to seek and save them from this false belief. If we say we have no sin we deceive ourselves. Men who jest and make sport of sin are fools because sin is a dreadful reality. It has shattered the universe, it has stooped to the most awful crimes, it is the great enemy of God. The man who goes back to his sin after he has left it is termed a fool. Prov. 26:11.

The communicative fool is another Prov. 29:11. A fool uttereth all his mind but a wise man keepeth it in till afterwards. The allusion here is to one who in a temper says many foolish things. And then there is the blasphoming fool. Psalm 74:18.

In conclusion the pastor said we have all played the fool sometimes, May God forgive us and help us to come to Him.

The Sunday school followed the morning service, the Junior Endeavor met at 3.30, Mrs. Walther in charge subject "A Story About Some Fishermen." Luke 4:10. Leader was Frances Smith. Y. P. S. C. E. meeting at 6.00. Subject "Foreign Mission Opportunities the World Around." Miss Annie Flieger led the meeting.

In the evening the pastor spoke on "Satan's Side Tracks." The choir sang morning and evening.

Tuesday evening, at 7.45, a Cottage Prayer meeting will be held at the home of William Arthur, 137 Hollis avenue.

Wednesday, beginning at 10.00 A. M., an all day sewing meeting will be held in the Chapel. Women urged to be present as the work is to be done for the Belgians.

Wednesday afternoon, at 3.00, the Social and Benevolent Society will meet in the chapel. All members are urged to be present.

Thursday afternoon, at 4.00 the pastor's class in the Fundamental Principles of the Christian Faith, will meet in the Chapel. Boys and girls from eleven years upwards are urged to be present. Parents are asked to co-operate.

Thursday evening, at 7.45, the monthly Covenant Meeting of the church will be held in the Chapel. All our members are urged to be present.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN.

"This do in remembrance of me"—Luke 22, 19 was the text of an interesting and instructive study of the Lord's Supper by the pastor. In the thought of Jesus the bread stood for his body, the wine for his blood, as the bread was broken so his body would be broken, as the wine was poured, so his blood would be shed.

He did not say 'these elements are myself, eat and drink them and you eat and drink me." He said "their fate is mine." To be sure the bread was to be eaten and the wine to be drunk but the symbolism lies in the breaking and pouring, not in the eating and drinking. Here, then, we have a beautiful service that comes straight down to us through all these centuries from Jesus. Let us through this memorial service be reminded of him whom we reverently call our Lord and Master.

Contributions of old linen and cotton, or bandages for the soldiers in Northern France are urgently needed. Bundles may be left with Miss H. E. Turner, 25 Winthrop avenue or Mrs. William M. Burrell, 114 Beach street this week or sent to Room 720, Tremont Temple, addressed Soldiers' Relief Work.

A special service of worship with sermon by the Rev. John Haynes Holmes of New York will be held in the South Congregational church, corner Exeter and Newbury streets, Boston at 4 o'clock, Sunday afternoon Following the service a reception to Mr. Holmes will be held in the church parlors.

Special special for deepening of the moral and religious life will be conducted by prominent out-of-town clergymen in the Wollaston Unitarian church Sunday evenings during Lent.

Among the Lenten preachers this season are the Rev. Abbott Peterson Associate minister First Parish Brookline; Rev. Lyman V. Rutledge Minister Third Congregational society Cambridge; Rev. Henry C. Parker First Unitarian Parish, Woburn and others.

All Sunday School teachers and workers are reminded of the lecture free to all, Saturdays at eleven o'clock at Channing hall, 25 Beacon street Boston. This month's lectures deal with "Special Days"—Association Day Mrs. Clara B. Beatley; Christmas Miss Gertrude Downing, Easter and it message, Rev. Thomas Van Ness, Memorial Day, Rev. Edward A. Horton.

Services, lasting thirty minutes are held daily at King's Chapel, Boston at noon.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL

At the Sunday morning service Dr Sneath spoke on the text:- "Jesus the Light of the World" and said in part

"At the beginning there was darkness and light and the light triumphed over the darkness because it was Gods light. Today trees are grown by artificial means and light and they blossom but bear no fruit It is not the right way. Nor is constant light best. Even the sun, the source of all energy, is not always with us but there is one Light that always is. Jesus the Light of the world is constant and ever ready to receive."

At the vesper service at 4 o'clock a large audience enjoyed the several splendid selections rendered by the Schumann Quartette and the solo by Mrs. Frances Titefsky. "The Rosary" sung by the quartette was used as the sermon text.

Dr. Sneath spoke of how Ethelbert Nevin, born in Pennsylvania, was a fine musician and composer at the early age of twelve years.

Later he studied in Boston, going abroad to finish his courses. When he returned he lived a part of the time on Bigelow street, Quincy, where he wrote "Narcissus" and was organist at Christ church. Then travelling again in Europe he returned in 1900 broken in health and soon died. His "Rosary" is the most famous of his compositions and is a wonderful interpretation of Radgers poem.

But there is another interpretation shown by substituting the words "Dear Lord" for "Sweetheart." The song then becomes the prayer of a lost soul which once enjoyed religious life but through selfishness has lost all, but now returns "to kiss the Cross," and only by a sacrifice. Let us learn to "kiss the cross" through sacrifice and peace and joy of God will be with us.

The postponed Thank Offering meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary W. B.M. will be held at 19 Lincoln avenue with Mrs. A. A. Lincoln at 2.30 P. M. Wednesday. Mrs. Johnson takes up "The Child at School" and Mrs. Bain has charge of Current Events.

In the vestry the regular Midweek service led by Dr. Sneath will be held. Topic "The Story of the Samaritan Woman—A Study." John 1:1

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet Friday afternoon with Mrs. E. S. Tenney, 115 Prospect avenue. Subject "Penal and Reformation Work." Leader Mrs. F. R. Morgan.

THROWS 20 BASKETS.

Thomas, the Quincy Y. M. C. A., left forward, threw 20 baskets while playing with the second team against Hyde Park Thursday night, set a new record in Y. M. C. A. circles for individual scoring this season. It also materially helped the juniors win their 10th straight game.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

OLD WAGE OF $2 A DAY

Armour Plant at Roosevelt Yields to Demands of Strikers

Roosevelt, N. J., Feb. 1.—Striking laborers at the plant of the Armour Fertilizer Chemical company here won their fight for restoration of the $2-a-day wage, which had been reduced to $1.60. The Armour plant is one of the three involved in the strike.

The $2 wage becomes effective at once. Only the employes at the Armour plant are affected. Wages were reduced at the three leading plants last fall.

After the strike was declared on Jan. 2 armed guards, sworn in as deputy sheriffs, were stationed at the plants. After the shooting on Jan. 19, in which nineteen men were wounded, two dying later, the guards were withdrawn from the plants.

Twenty-seven of the guards are in jail awaiting the outcome of the grand jury's investigation of charges of murder preferred against them by the county prosecutor.

THE SHIP BILL WAR

Senate Recess After Thirty-Seven Hours of Continuous Session

Washington, Feb. 1.—An armistice in the battle over the administration ship-purchase bill began Saturday night at 11:19 o'clock, when the senate ended nearly thirty-seven hours of continuous debate by recessing until 10 o'clock this morning, after moving the hands of the clock around to mark midnight.

Senator Smith of Michigan resumed his speech today, when the Democrats began another effort to hold the senate in continuous session until the bill is passed.

The contest has been waged with a spirit of determination little short of desperation on both sides. Always just ahead was a final vote on the bill, which would break the deadlock and release the blockade of legislation. Physical endurance alone remained to hold back the taking of the vote.

RECOVERING FROM RARE OPERATION

Chicago Man's Skull Patched With Membrane and Bone

Chicago, Feb. 1.—Having "borrowed" from his own body to save his life, Hugh D. Adair, 21, who recently underwent a very rare surgical operation in St. Luke's hospital, must pass the rest of his life with a web taken from his thighbone covering his brain and a part of his shoulder blade imbedded in his skull.

The operation, which had attracted much attention, and has seldom been performed before, was carried out successfully by Dr. Halsted.

Adair is recovering so rapidly that he is able to walk about the corridors of the hospital, and he expects to be back at his work as a stenographer week after next. The cause of the operation was a tumor of unknown origin that formed on the skull.

AN OBLIGING JUDGE

Night Court of Domestic Relations For Benefit of Working People

Chicago, Feb. 1.—The establishment of a night court of domestic relations was ordered by Judge Sabath of the municipal court, for the benefit of many men now on probation. Sessions will be held once every two weeks.

"Women who provide for themselves and their children, to many of whom a trip to court in the day time represents loss of wages, also may now attend the night sessions to report on the conduct of their husbands," said Sabath. "The plan was adopted for the benefit of working people who have little chance to attend court in the day."

FORTY SALOONS CLOSED

Police Find Hundreds of Homeless In Sunday Raid on Bowery

New York, Feb. 1.—In a raid ordered by Police Commissioner Woods, forty saloons in the Bowery were closed early Sunday. The work of making the Bowery "dry" during the forbidden hours began at Five Points and extended north to Grand street.

Of the 800 or 900 men who were turned out of the places about 300 were homeless, and these men were given tickets calling for lodging and a meal at a charitable institution. A dozen men were locked up charged with intoxication.

Sale of Yankees Complete

New York, Feb. 1.—The transfer of the stock of the New York American league baseball club to Jacob Ruppert and T. L. Huston was completed here. The negotiations extended over a period of almost two months.

1915 FEBRUARY 1915

S	M	T	W	T	F	S
	1	2	3	4	5	6
7	8	9	10	11	12	13
14	15	16	17	18	19	20
21	22	23	24	25	26	27
28

SKULKS IN DARK BURGLAR ESCAPES

"Brave" Young Man Loses Opportunity of Lifetime as Sleuth

CROOK ROBS SMALL STORE

A young man, whose name has not been disclosed, lost the chance of his lifetime to turn sleuth and bring about the arrest of the man who burglarized the store of Miss Christine Booth on Liberty street after midnight Saturday because he was afraid to make an attempt to learn the identity of the culprit or to shadow him.

The young man was returning home from a late call when he heard the shattering of the glass and as he neared the Booth store he was a tall man, wearing a long coat and a derby leave by the rear door. He ducked into a shadow and hid until the man got out of sight. Sunday he told his story to the police.

The burglary of the store followed close on the first break which took place three weeks ago. On that occasion more than $15 worth of goods was taken. Tobacco and candy, valued at $6 was taken Saturday night.

The man pained an entrance by breaking the glass in the rear storm door and then lifting the safety on the latch. He then broke the window in the rear door and unlocked it. The cases and shelves he raided were left in a partly disordered condition.

The break was a daring one and more than five minutes could not have passed between the entrance and exit of the actor. The shattering of the glass was heard generally throughout the neighborhood but none of the residents connected the sound with a burglary.

MAKARIA LOSES BY BIG SCORE

The Makaria Fraternity of Quincy lost to Clapp Memorial Saturday night at Weymouth in an interesting basket ball game by a score of 53 to 32.

The summary:

CLAPP MEMORIAL	MAKARIA
Riley, rf	lb, Nicoll
Gorman, lf	rb, Chell
Wall, lf	rb Ahlstrom
Nolan c	c, Avery
Warren, rb	lf, Bates
Fraher, lb	rf, England
Ahlstedt lb

Score, Clapp Memorial 53, Makaria 32, Goals from floor, Riley 6, Gorman 5, Wall 5, Nolan, Warren, 7, Fraher 2, Chell, Ahlstrom 5, Avery, Bates 4, England 2 Goals from foul Ahlstrom 2 England 4. Referee, Howley. Umpire Howley. Scorer, Reis. Timer, Gifford. Time, 20m halves. Attendance 150.

TO HELP UNEMPLOYED.

Will Subgrade Furnace Brook Parkway.

Bids for the subgrading of Furnace Brook Parkway link will be advertised this week. The State Committee to Promote Work after a conference with the Governor has included this project in the list of availabilities. Mayor Campbell., who has been advocating this construction, has been promised that Quincy's unemployed will be given the preference.

ASKS QUINCY MAN.

Gov. Walsh has asked Caleb F. Howard, of this city, the I. W. W. organizer, to serve on the Massachusetts Committee to promote work.

GIVEN STUDENTS BAG.

Miss Anna Castleman, 120 Sumner street, was surprised by a party of friends at her home Saturday night and presented with a students bag. The committee was Miss Mollie Kauffmann, Miss Sarah Grossman and Miss Bessie Dobrow.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN

PIANO TUNER

78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.

Telephone 1153-M Quincy

Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy F27

EXPERIENCED IRONERS AND STITCHERS WANTED

APPLY

SOVEREIGN WAIST CO.

192 GRANITE ST.

Feb. 1-tf

SHAVING NECESSITIES

Our stock of Soaps, Powders and Razors we believe is the most complete in the city. Perhaps you Mr. Man, want another box of shaving soap, or a new Razor. Well we won't say any more, but drop in and see our stock

CHAS. C. HEARN, City Square Druggist

Feb. 1-3t

ABOVE ALL OTHERS

are our bread and cakes. They're way ahead of any others. Perfectly brown and crisp, baked to a perfect turn without a burn. The highest around here because it measures up to the best that mother ever made. Won't you give us a trial Madam. But

LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN

1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.

MADE IN QUINCY, U. S. A.

HAD SERVED IN CITY COUNCIL

John M. O'Brien Died at His Home Saturday

Ex-Councilman John M. O'Brien, a well known and highly respected resident of West Quincy, passed away Saturday evening at his home on Furnace Brook Parkway after a lingering illness.

Mr. O'Brien was born in this city 52 years ago and was the son of the late Thomas and Mary O'Brien. He was educated in the Willard grammar school after which he went to work driving a team for his father, later entering the business.

He remained in the teaming business a number of years, leaving when he received the appointment of foreman in the city sewer department. He was one of the three successful ones who passed the examination for superintendent of streets held last year.

Mr. O'Brien was a member of St. Francis Court, M. C. O. F., Division 4, A. O. H., Quincy Lodge of Moose, and was an ardent and faithful member of the Holy Name Society of St. Marys church.

He is survived by a widow, two daughters, Emeline and Marguerite, and two sons, Frederick and Francis. Two of Mr. O'Briens four sisters are in the convent, one in a hospital in New Orleans and the other in New York. He also leaves two brothers, William and Francis.

Funeral services will be held from his late home Tuesday morning.

SAILS FOR GERMANY.

The steamship Herman Frasch, built at the Fore River some years ago for the Union Sulphur Co., sailed from Portland, Me., Sunday for Bremen, Germany. She will stop at Norfolk, Va., where she will take on board 4000 tons of cotton for Germany.

FEMALE IMPERSONATOR.

Richard A. Hussey the popular West Quincy tenor will appear as the "Girl of the Golden West" at Kincaide Theatre beginning Feb. 8 to 10. Mr. Hussey has appeared in amateur productions several times in Quincy and has made good. His female impersonations are said to be very clever. A large crowd is expected to witness Mr. Hussey's first appearance as a professional in this city. He sings in the Trinity church every Sunday.

GO IN SPECIAL CAR.

The railroad men of the Quincy car barn had a special car carry them to Canton hall, Brockton Friday to attend the annual ball of the Brockton division employees.

CONLIN SHOE REPAIRING

Men's Sewed Taps and Heels	75c
Men's Sewed Taps and Rubber heels	$1.00
Men's Nail Taps and Heels	65c
Men's Heels	20c
Ladies' Taps and Heels Sewed	65c
Ladies Taps and Rubber heels Sewed	85c
Ladies Heels	15c
Rubber Heels	40c and 50c
Skates Sharpened, New Process	15c
$4 Ralston Shoes for	1.50

Hancock and Saville Sts.

Tel. 961-M. Oct. 7-tf

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES

20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.

Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

W. R. LOFGREN

Carpenter and Builder

PLANS EXECUTED

Established 1891 in Quincy

Hundreds of Satisfied Customers

Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs

19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall

Tel. Quincy 398-3

June 24f

Build Now! Plan Now!

To the prospective home builders of Quincy that Quincy may share in the general betterments that will accrue to every one who takes advantage of the Build Now opportunities we propose the following inducement which we are sure the material men and all labor will generously follow. For a limited time we will blueprint any of our plans of flats at a reduction from the regular price. We will also estimate all building work at Build Now prices and can save you some money if you'd dare take a chance.

How many Real Boosters in Quincy?

J. W. PRATT Architect and Builder

18 FAXON AVE, from City Sq. Tel 581-W

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Hughes & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

TEN STRING AVERAGE MORE THAN 100

Louis Ross closed a ten string friendly match with Dubos at Wardwells Friday night for an average of more than 100. His total was 1219 and his last single 164. The last single proved to be a corker and a tough break, with a unique deadwood spoiled him passing the mark. Three of the strings total 424, a remarkable total.

They were

18	18	20	20	9	19
17	35	20	40	18	37
10	45	20	60	20	57
7	52	12	72	20	77
16	68	8	80	16	93
10	78	17	97	8	101
10	88	17	114	19	120
9	98	10	124	15	135
9	107	8	132	9	144
9	116	12	144	20	164

CUNNINGHAM GYM.

In the bowling match at Cunningham Gym team 3 is in the lead for the second consecutive week with team 7 a very close second. The standing of the teams is as follows

Team	Won	Lost	Total P. F.
3	29	15	14397
7	28	16	13473
9	26	18	13361
4	25	19	13623
10	23	21	14185
6	21	23	13909
2	21	23	13731
8	19	25	14089
5	14	30	13367
1	14	30	12566

The high individual averages are: Wood 95.6; E. Cummings 93.2; Jobling 93.1; J. F. Reid Jr. and C. Smith 92.1; Duggan 91.4; Bishop 90.5; Sim 90.1; D. Reid 90.

"Dick" Reid holds the high three string 336 and "Jack" Reid the high single with 125.

THAYER WINS.

The Thayer Academy boys easily defeated the Dummer Academy boys from South Byfield last Saturday in the White Gym by a score of 38 to 10. Holmes and Leonard starred for Thayer and Burns of Dummer also played well. The summary

DUMMER	THAYER
Drake rf	lb Cole
Young lf	rb Holmes
Havelin lf
Rowe c	c Leonard
Barns rb	lf Greeley
Small rb
Senior lb	rf Hanson

Score Thayer 38, Dummer 10. Goals from floor, Holmes 7, Leonard 6, Hanson 2, Greeley 2, Cole 2, Burns 2, Senior 1, Rowe 1. Goals from fouls, Rowe 2, Referee Cate. Scorer Thompson. Timer Reed. Time 15m periods. Attendance 200.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
Room 6, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 648-4. Haymarket 2440

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con.

QUINCY LOSES ROUGH BATTLE

Wellesley High Wins by Score of 43 to 13

Wellesley High school got a firmer grip on first place in the Interscholastic league on its own court Friday by defeating Quincy 43 to 13. The second team also won 21 to 14.

Wellesley outplayed, outfought and outroughed the Quincy boys and when it was demonstrated early in the game that their superior passing would bring victory it was very surprising to the Quincy fans to see them adopt such tactics. Referee Coady repeatedly cautioned the players to 'cut it out' and finally ordered Finnerty from the floor when he tackled Crosscup harder than he was tackled in any football game last fall.

Walsford, Ford and Hamlin were so badly injured it required the full time out for their recovery. Davis was slowed up so much when his opponent dove and struck him in the pit of the stomach he had to be withdrawn and Favreau, playing with the second team, was hurt so severely he was taken from the floor.

Coady called 20 fouls on Wellesley and could have doubled that number. Quincy's infractions were minor ones, while the formers were for rough work or tackling.

The shooting of Baker featured the second game. He scored 10 out of the 14 fouls called. Gilliat played his first full game with the juniors and did good work.

WELLESLEY H. S.	QUINCY H. S.
Keefe rf	lb Eaton
Delaney rf	lb Barstow
Finnerty lf	rb Davis
Walker lf	rb Wellsford
Stover c	c Crosscup
Curry rb	lf Hamlin
Kuhlewein lb	rf Brown

Score Wellesley 43, Quincy 13. Goals from floor, Kuhlewein 5, Finnerty 4, Delaney 3, Keefe 3, Stover 2, Curry 2, Hamlin 2, Brown 2. Goals from fouls, Kuhlewein 5, Wellsford 3, Davis 2. Referee, Coady. Scorer, Currier. Timer Barnes. Time, 15m and 10m periods.

THREE BOOKED FOR FAST RACE

The first race in Frank Bruce's gym in the Keating block on Canal street takes place this evening. Bruce will represent the Italian A. C., John Davidson, a Scottish organization, and a Dorchester runner will be the third man.

Bruce is too well known here to need an introduction, as only three years have elapsed since he qualified for the Italian team at the Olympics at Berlin.

"Johnny" Davidson represented the Garscube Harriers from 1908 to 1911, and was one of their team when they took fourth place in the Western District Championship of Scotland in 1909. He again represented them in the team that ran into third place in 1910. After that he went to Whitinch Harriers to coach his brother for their five mile novice championship, and he had the pleasure of seeing him romp home the winner by 1 1-2 minutes. The following winter the two brothers ran for the west of Scotland Harriers, which is the premier club of Scotland.

They represented their new club in the championships that year, 1912, and "Johnny" ran first man home for the team with brother "Rab" second. They were also prominent in the club races. "Johnny" has numerous cross country and track prizes as evidence of his speed. He came to Boston just before Thanksgiving, and joined the Irish American A. A., but has not done any running. He is now in fine condition and expects to break the tape the winner on Monday evening.

AUCTION BRIDGE PARTY.

An enjoyable auction bridge party was held at the clubhouse Friday afternoon by the Educational committee of the Quincy Women's club in aid of the school nurse. Fourteen tables were in play, and the afternoon proved very enjoyable. The committee in charge were Mrs. Henry H. Schulze, chairman, Mrs. Ezekiel C. Sargent, Mrs. Joseph P. Prout, Mrs. Fred W. Austin, Mrs. Frank F. Prescott, Mrs. William W. Jenness, Miss Emily Wilde, Mrs. Charles Grinwold.

☞ PRATT'S BREAD is baked for those who want good bread. Grocers sell it.

SPORTING COMMENT

Boxing as a local sport has come to stay. Therefore, it will be interesting to publish the Marquis of Queensbury rules, to point out the right to the young bloods and refresh the memory of the older ones. The set, is called from the Police Gazette, sporting annual, and are as follows:

1. To be a fair stand-up boxing match in a 24 foot ring, or as near that size as practicable.
2. No wrestling or hugging allowed.
3. The rounds to be of three minutes duration and one minute time between rounds.
4. If either man fall, through weakness or otherwise, he must get up unassisted, ten seconds to be allowed him to do so, the other man meanwhile to return to his corner and when the fallen man is on his legs the round is to be resumed and continued until the three minutes have expired. If one man fails to come to the scratch in the ten seconds allowed, it shall be in the power of the referee to give his award in favor of the other man.
5. A man hanging on the ropes in a helpless state with his toes off the ground, shall be considered down.
6. No seconds or any other person to be allowed in the ring during the rounds.
7. Should the contest be stopped by any unavoidable interference, the referee to name time and place, as soon as possible, for finishing the contest: so that the match must be won and lost, unless the backers of both men agree to draw the stakes.
8. The gloves to be fair-sized boxing-gloves of the best quality, and new.
9. Should a glove burst or come off it must be replaced to the referee's satisfaction.
10. A man on one knee is considered down, and if struck is entitled to the stakes.
11. No shoes or boots with springs allowed.
12. The contest in all other respects to be governed by rules of the London Prize Ring.

The Wasecas strengthened their first place position in the social clubs league at the Coliseum alleys Friday night. The match was a postponed one.

Two records were smashed in the Junior league matches at Wardwells Friday night. Swain rolled a single of 141 and Little a total of 316. The new marks were made with a gallery of enthusiastic fans shouting and cheering their favorites.

The Wollaston Tennis Club rolls the Cunningham Gym this evening at East Milton. Capt. Hoxie expects to duplicate the defeat administered the Milton team, this being a return match.

Paul Poehler and Archie Walsh are tied at 107 for high average in the Boston City league. The champs head the Suburban list however with 109, having jumped a point on "Red" Millar, Welsh and Hardy.

LOCAL TEAM LEAGUE LEADER

The Clan MacGregor team of Quincy has worked its way from a triple tie to first place in the Scottish Clans league. The Ramsay's are runners-up and are formidable opponents. The "Macs" expect to remain A-1 the rest of the schedule.

SCOTTISH CLANS.

	Won	Lost	Pinfall
McGregor	53	11	22,689
Ramsay	51	13	22,396
McPhail	50	14	22,569
Lindsay	44	20	21,856
Farquharson	43	21	21,835
McKenzie	42	22	22,267
Stewart	30	34	21,204
Campbell	29	35	21,493
McDougal	24	40	20,795
McLeod	23	41	21,396
Cameron	23	41	21,027
McNeil	18	46	20,456
McKinlay	16	48	20,821
McKinnon	2	62	15,210

POOL TOURNEY.

Rogers and Josephine, who are to clash Tuesday evening at Wardwell's Pool Room in the first of a series of games for the championship of the city, met Saturday evening in a friendly contest at Wardwells. Josephine slightly outpointed Rogers but the table being new to Rogers may have handicapped the West Quincy idol. The loyal fans from the West side will follow Rogers on Tuesday evening and it looks as though Wardwells room will be taxed to its capacity. The second game will be played Thursday evening at Penios Emporium, the home table of Rogers.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

MODERN MODERATE HOMES.

F. Edgar Norris Architect.

In treating of the decoration and styles of the mantel of the Modern Moderate Home the architect has a great range of precedents from which to choose to please the taste of the client.

The design of the house often determines to a large degree the style of the interior decorations. If it is a colonial house, the colonial type if of a rambling variety a less formal treatment. If of the modern type often various styles are used according to the treatment of the several rooms.

In the colonial days the mantels were designed and adapted to each individual room, the idea of picking out a mantel ready made and fitting it to a fireplace was entirely unknown. The workmen took considerable pride in the execution of their work, employing variously according to the design of the column, engaged or not as the case might be, or perhaps only a pilaster at the sides of the fireplace. Their mouldings were beautiful and are today models of refinement. The variety of designs of the single moulding, the egg and dart are almost endless, so also with the use of dentils.

The egg and art moulding is one of the most refined and decorative mouldings ever invented. In the colonial days this moulding was carved by hand and not stamped out in papier mache' by the mile as it is today. The one who has a house with some of the old time good hand carving should be very jealous of it.

Grover Cleveland once said "anybody can have a new house, but it falls to the good fortune of only a few to have an old one." By this I suppose was meant an old house of merit. It will be remembered that ex-President Cleveland acquired a fine old estate in Princeton. The writer used to pass it frequently when engaged on work near that city.

Reflect for a moment the result of this individual treatment as compared with the present day department store way of buying things, and of the mail order method, as for example, a person living here in Braintree can have their home entirely furnished by a concern located in the West. What an unsatisfactory way of doing if any good results are to be expected. I have a tenant who trades with a certain mail order house in Chicago and the results speak for themselves. Is it any wonder that such an organization as the society for the Prevention of New England Antiquities is asking for funds to preserve such excellent work as remains of the colonial days?

I should like to call your attention to a very fine colonial house within a 5 cent fare of this town. I refer to the Arnold house built about 1790 and located just out of Weymouth square. The entrance porch and door is without an equal anywhere about here and the hand carved frieze in the cornice is magnificent. In considering the various periods I have not thought it necessary to go further back than the gothic which reached its perfection in the thirteenth century as the result of a religious development.

The gothic is certainly the most picturesque if not the most beautiful, admitting of carving and decoration to the last degree. A plank which helps uphold another plank may be sawed with a rough trefoil, to be sure; but that is no more gothic than crude carpentry is cabinet making. In gothic every moulding, every dentil has its religious meaning. It is an exacting style, requiring that no single detail shall be at fault. This style was used at one time very considerably in our best domestic work. It is an expensive style to work in as it is almost always done in oak only. The renaissance followed and may be dated from the year 1500. No style presents such a medley as the whole career of the renaissance. Classical and saracenic ornaments on the same piece of work, panels faceted and cut like jewels, the square parting the circle, human and ideal figures, and those of birds, beasts and reptiles, natural, conventional and grotesque, the crescent, the vase, the cartouch; all flat decoration; a harnessing of straps, buckles and ribbons.

In the Elizabethan, we have a style which is neither pure Classic, nor pure gothic, nor pure renaissance, still it possesses a style of its own a certain dignity and subtle charm. The English people are very proud of this style. This style is also very elaborate, about as much so as the preceding ones. The strap work an interlacing of lines is prominent in this style, pierced shields are largely introduced. You will sometimes find an Elizabethan chimney-piece, the fluted and channelled columns and the entablature of which leave little to be desired except the absence of the strap. More often the chimney pieces are cumbrous affairs in which the drawing of the figure is not sufficiently correct to warrant the artist in giving the whole of it.

Over the chimney piece there was frequently an elaborate dais, and another over the door. Above these places pithy mottoes expressive of the duties of the host were carved. This style is used today, but only in the more expensive work. The Jacobean followed resembling the previous style, the elaboration still continuing. Later came several British styles including the First Empire under Napoleon and the Georgian from which our colonial is adapted.

I have before me the photograph of a mantel in an old house in Salem, which is unusual in that a full column and a flat pilaster are used side by side. Above the column and pilaster in the frieze are carved colonial emblems. The mantel shelf and the mouldings under are all hand carved. In this case there is no over mantel. One of the most common treatments for the over-mantel was the single large panel simple but dignified. The top next to the ceiling was finished by the continuation of the cornice of the room around the chimney breast.

The writer in his own practice has often introduced in the woodwork above the mantel a mirror or some choice carved panel, sometimes a carved motto, at another time a picture or a plaster cast and in a number of cases I have used one of the large size photographs of the Roman Forum. A subject of this kind is best adapted for the library or living room.

The colonial and its adaptations seem to offer the most appropriate possibilities to the architect in designing his mantels for the modern moderate home and for very many reasons, chiefly—expense. Adaptations are possible of course, but as a rule the moderately priced house will not admit of doing very much in the early styles which I have described.

Occasionally a modification of the Elizabethan may be used and now and then some of the French periods in designing for something a little extra in parlor, music room, reception room or the madame's boudoir. Sometimes the fire-place and mantel are carried out in brick entirely, but such designs are suitable for certain rooms only and need careful designing. From the consideration of the treatment of the mantel the next thought is, how are the other parts of the room treated, therefore I propose in my next paper to write on the style and treatment of the wood work of the dining room as the first room to be described.

☞ PRATT'S BREAD never varies. It is made and baked by a fixed rule. Ask your grocer.

IT'S SURPRISING

That So Many Quincy People Fail To Recognize Kidney Weakness.

Are you a bad back victim
Suffer twinges; headaches, dizzy spells
Go to bed tired—get up tired
It's surprising how few suspect the kidneys.
It's surprising how few know what to do.
Kidney trouble needs kidney treatment.
Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only.
Have convinced Quincy people of their merit.
Here's a Quincy case; Quincy testimony.
Kidney sufferers hereabouts should read it.

Mrs. M. A. Jacobs, 499 Washington street, Quincy, says: "I was greatly annoyed by too frequent action of my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills corrected this weakness and made me feel better and stronger in every way."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Jacobs had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the next of kin and all others interested in the estate of Agnes McDonald late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, Mary A. Joyce the administratrix of the estate of said deceased, has presented to said Court for allowance the first and second accounts of her administration on said estate and application has been made for a distribution of the balance in her hands among the next of kin of said deceased. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of February A. D. 1915 at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why said accounts should not be allowed and distribution made according to said application. And the petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court and by mailing postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-eighth day of January in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Jan. 30-Feb. 1-8.

State House News

Jan. 29th, 1915.

The Suffragists have no doubt—and neither have the antis for that matter—that the suffrage amendment passed by last year's legislature will pass again this year. Although the present Legislature is more conservative than usual, it is showing no inclination to go back on the decisive vote of its predecessor.

As soon as the amendment passes, the fight for and against its adoption this fall will begin. On one side the Political Equality Union and the other suffrage organizations, and on the other side the M. S. O. T. T. F. E. O. S. T. W. the name being too long to print in full—stand ready for the fray.

It is currently supposed on the Hill that Wendell Philip Thore filed by mistake for a bill on old age pensions one of his speeches on the subject, cut up into sections, at least that is what the bill sounds like.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Margaret A McPherson late of Quincy in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Christina McPherson of said Quincy without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the seventeenth day of February A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-seventh day of January A. D. 1915.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Feb. 1-8-15.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Georgiana B. Sanger sometimes called Georgiana Sanger late of Quincy in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Fanny B. Fish of said Quincy without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of February A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-seventh day of January A. D. 1915.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Jan. 29-Feb. 1-8

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Mary D. Dame late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, and appointing Michael T. Sullivan of said Quincy, address Durgin & Merrill Blk., his agent, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

HARRY H. BROWN,
Executor.
(Address)
136 Wade St., Jersey City, N. J., or P. O. address Care of Box 54, Quincy, Mass.
Jan. 29, 1915.
3t Jan. 29 Feb. 1-8

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To all persons interested in the personal estate of Thomas A. Mullaney late of Quincy in said County, deceased.

Whereas, James Mullaney of Salem administrator of the estate of said deceased has presented a petition praying that he as said administrator may be ordered to sell at private sale certain of the personal estate of said deceased described in said petition, for a sum not less than two hundred and fifty dollars, or at public auction. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham in said County, on the third day of February A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each known person interested, fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-first day of January in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Jan. 23-25 Feb. 1

Probate Court

To the Honorable the Judge of the Probate Court, in and for the County of Norfolk:

Respectfully represents Andrew Johnson of Quincy in said County, and Bertha C. Johnson his wife, that they are of the age of twenty-one years or upwards, and are desirous of adopting Edward E. Larson of Cambridge, Massachusetts, a child of Andrew Larson of Cambridge in the County of Middlesex and Anna Teresa Larson his wife, which said child was born in said Quincy on the twenty-eighth day of May A. D. 1905; that the mother of said minor child has deserted and is living separate and apart from her husband and said minor child, and his father is not able to support said child properly.

Wherefore they pray for leave to adopt said child, and that his name may be changed to that of Edward E. Johnson.

Dated this eleventh day of January A. D. 1915.

ANDREW JOHNSON
BERTHA C. JOHNSON

The undersigned, being the father of said child, hereby consents to the adoption, as above prayed for.

'ANDREW LARSON.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

On the foregoing petition, it is ordered that the petitioners notify said Anna Teresa Larson to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of February, A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock, in the forenoon, to show cause, if any she has, why the same should not be granted, by serving her with a copy of said petition and this order seven days before said Court, or if she be not found within this Commonwealth, by publishing the same once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, esquire, Judge of said Court, this fourteenth day of January, in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Jan. 18-25 Feb. 1

MORTGAGEE'S SALE.

By virtue of a power of sale, contained in a certain mortgage deed, given by John Corcoran to John Kilmartin, dated the sixteenth day of July in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, for breach of the conditions contained in said mortgage deed, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction upon the premises on Thursday the eleventh day of February nineteen hundred and fifteen, at three o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely, a certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated on Grove street so-called in Quincy in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and being lot No. 7 according to the plans in the possession of the Granite Railway Company, said lot being described as follows, viz:—Commencing at a point on the northeasterly side of said Grove street, at a private way and running northwesterly, eighty-one and 5-100 feet; thence northeasterly along the line of No. 6, to the land now or formerly of Jeremiah Corcoran sixty-nine and 25-100 feet; thence southeasterly along the line of land belonging to said Jeremiah Corcoran eighty-seven and 37-100 feet; thence along the line of said Grove street, northwesterly and southwesterly thirty-four and 6-100 feet and also thirty-five and 7-100 feet to the point of beginning, and containing fifty-seven hundred and forty-two square feet of land more or less. Being the same premises conveyed to John Corcoran by the Granite Railway Co., by deed recorded with the Norfolk Deeds book 612 page 119.

Two hundred (200) dollars will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale, and the balance of the purchase price on the delivery of the deed.

The above described property will be sold subject to all taxes, liens, and assessments if any such there be.

BRIDGET KILMARTIN.
Executrix of the will of John Kilmartin.
3t Jan. 19-26-Feb.1

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES.
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

DRIFTED ABOUT FOR SIX DAYS

But Two Pounds of Food For Twelve Shipwreck Victims

ALL EXHAUSTED WHEN SAVED

Ten Men and Two Women on Bark Ethel V. Boynton Have Narrow Escape From Death After Their Ship Is Wrecked by Heavy Sea In Mid-Ocean—Picked Up by Steamer

New York, Feb. 1.—A tale of shipwreck, in which ten men and two women, short of food and water, drifted for six days on a waterlogged bark until piece by piece the vessel broke up, leaving them to float another day on a flimsy raft, was told on the arrival of the steamer Monterey from Cuba with seven of the crew of the American bark Ethel V. Boynton.

During all that time the dozen shipwrecked seafarers existed upon a total of two pounds of canned food among them and a pint a day each of brackish drinking water.

With the five other members of the bark's company, including Captain Waldemar, his wife and niece, the seven members of the crew who reached New York were rescued Jan. 18 about 200 miles west of Bermuda by the steamer Manzanillo and landed at Santiago, Cuba. All had suffered so much from privation and exposure that it was necessary to send them to a hospital.

The Ethel V. Boynton left Mobile on Dec. 26, lumber laden, for Genoa, and on Jan. 11 ran into a terrific southerly gale. Her cargo shifted and she sprang a leak. That night, according to Mate Olsen, "a heavy sea like a tidal wave" swept over the bark, carried away her wheel and rails, and soon filled the vessel until she was waterlogged and helpless.

"The next morning found us a total wreck," continued the mate. "We tried to secure things and save a few stores to take them with us in a boat. In the midst of our preparations, the foreyard came crashing down on the deck, and we were obliged to cut away the rigging and throw the spar overboard. At 9 a. m. we put the big boat in the water, but she was instantly smashed to pieces in the heavy sea and wreckage that floated alongside.

"After that the bark began to break up. That day the fore lower mast went through the bottom and, after hanging for four hours, drifted clear. We clung on, but on the afternoon of the fourteenth her bow broke adrift and left us. Two hours later her main deck was swept away and left us only the afterhouse.

"We hung to this until the seventeenth, when our position became so dangerous that we decided to break off the top of the house and use it for a raft. On this small remnant the twelve of us floated off with what stores we had saved.

"All we had from the time the big wave came aboard was two pounds of canned tripe, and about a pint of water each for a day's ration, and the water was partly salt. We drifted all night and the next day sighted a piece of the maindeck, paddled to it with boards, and made a bigger raft. But that, too, began to break up. We had nothing to secure it, and had almost given up hope when the Manzanillo came along and rescued us."

After their recovery at Santiago, Waldemar, his wife and niece and two of the crew took passage for Mobile, Olsen said.

VETO LIKELY TO STAND

Ninety Percent of Congressmen Are Against Literacy Test

Washington, Feb. 1.—That President Wilson's veto of the immigration bill will in all probability be sustained by the house when it comes up for a vote Thursday is indicated by polls of the membership just completed by the leaders.

The attitude of 90 percent of the members toward the principles of the bill, with its literacy test as a standard of admission for aliens, has been pretty well established by previous votes.

In no case was there a two-thirds majority indicated, as required, to pass the bill over the president's veto.

Cattle Plague Hits State Herd

Worcester, Mass., Feb. 1.—Seven cows in the herd of seventy-three cattle on the farm of the state hospital were discovered to be infected with the foot and mouth disease and the entire herd, valued at $30,000, is to be slaughtered in an effort to prevent a spread of the disease.

Bogus Money Orders Afloat

Boston, Feb. 1.—Notices of the circulation of counterfeit money order forms printed for Baltimore were received from Washington by Postmaster Murray. Many of the forms have been passed in Pittsburg and Chicago.

Lynn's Generous Offer to State

Lynn, Mass., Feb. 1.—The Lynn park commission has offered to deed the Lynn woods to the Metropolitan park commission. This is the largest natural park in the state, having 2500 acres, and is assessed for $101,000.

REAL LEAP FOR DEATH

Sensational Suicide at Boston of a Circus Performer

Boston, Feb. 1.—Ernest W. Steele, well known circus and vaudeville performer, who had thrilled thousands by his act of "a leap for life," ended his career in a deliberate "leap for death" from the roof of his wife's home at Washington and Union Park streets, after first tossing his baby son to the sidewalk.

The little boy, David, 20 months old, was thrown so far out by his father that he landed in the snow by the curb, and though he had fallen twenty-five feet and his jaw was broken, he is expected to live.

But Steele made no such error in taking his own life. With his hands at his side, he dived as gracefully as he ever had under the big tent, and landed accurately in the middle of the sidewalk, dashing out his brains and dying instantly.

Before attempting the life of the boy, Steele had attacked his wife with a blackjack and had threatened members of her family with a knife. The police believe insanity was responsible for his acts.

Steele and his wife had been living apart for about seventeen months and during that time had seen each other about once a week.

SAYS HE IS "ALL RIGHT"

Villa Himself Denies That He Has Been Injured

Washington, Feb. 1.—Denial of reports that General Villa had been seriously wounded was received at the state department from American Agent Carothers at El Paso.

He informed the department that Villa himself, at Aguascalientes, sent him a telegram saying that he was all right and had not been injured in any way. Carothers is the department's special agent, who has been traveling with Villa.

THREE ACCUSED OF ALBERTSON'S DEATH

First Degree Murder Verdict Is Sought Against Two

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 1.—The three men charged with the murder of Morris A. Albertson, a Lawrence jeweler, whose body was found buried in a Wakefield cellar, were put on trial this morning in the superior criminal court here. One hundred talesmen were summoned.

A verdict of murder in the first degree will be asked against Bagio Falzone and Ignatzio Morella, who, it is alleged, killed Albertson, robbed him of a quantity of jewelry and then buried him under a shack in the rear of 34 Columbia street.

In the case of Luigi Grassidono, the jurors will be asked to find that he was an accessory, as the government will try to prove that he took Falzone to Albertson's shop in Lawrence and was present at the time Albertson was induced to bring a large stock of jewelry to Wakefield.

THREE MEN PERISH

Overheated Stove Believed to Have Set Home on Fire

Livermore Falls, Me., Feb. 1.—Three men were burned to death in a fire which destroyed a small dwelling on the Jay road. The dead:

H. A. Plant, aged 47; Ernest Penley, 36; William King, 43. The other occupant of the house, Fred Douglass, escaped with severe burns.

King ad Penley, who were employed in a sawmill at Jay, were the tenants of the house and Plant and Douglass were passing the night with them.

Coroner Dillingham decided that an inquest was unnecessary. The fire is believed to have been caused by an overheated stove.

GET BUT SMALL BOOTY

Surprising Nerve of Burglars Who Fail to Blow a Safe

Fort Wayne, Ind., Feb. 1.—Compelling the night watchman to report regularly on the electric signal system, two burglars worked four hours in an attempt to blow open the safe in the Rurode Dry Goods store here. Finally the robbers gave up the attempt and escaped with a small amount of cash left outside the safe.

The night watchman, W. C. Karns, who had been bound and gagged, was unable to report on the electric device after the burglars departed and this caused the discovery of his trouble.

Society Women to Be Nurses

New York, Feb. 1.—Miss Nona McAdoo, daughter of the secretary of the treasury, and Miss Catherine Britton, both Washington society favorites, sailed on the Lusitania to be war nurses. They will go to an army hospital in France.

Sheppard's Life Threatened

Washington, Feb. 1.—A letter threatening his life in case he didn't cease his agitation to abolish saloons in the national capital, was received by Senator Sheppard of Texas. The letter was turned over to the police.

Yeggs Rob Railroad Safe

Portsmouth, N. H., Feb. 1.—The Boston and Maine railroad station at Greenland was broken into by yeggmen, who secured between $20 and $25 from the safe.

BRITISH SHIPS AGAIN RAIDED

Daring Feats Performed by a German Submarine

ENGLISH CHANNEL IS INVADED

Two Vessels Are Sent to the Bottom and Three Meet Same Fate In Irish Sea—Ample Time Given Crews to Make Their Escape—Russians Claim Advantage In Heavy Fighting In Carpathian Mountains, Which Is Likely to Have Marked Effect on Future Operations—Artillery Continues Busy on Western Front

London, Feb. 1.—The French ministry of marine announced that two British ships had been torpedoed in the English channel, off Havre, by a German submarine. They are the steamers Tokomaru and Icaria.

The Tokomaru was boud from New Zealand to England. Her crew were rescued by the trawler Semper. Her cargo consisted in part of clothing and a contribution of $7500, New Zealand's gift to the Belgian refugees. No details are available concerning the torpedoing of the Icaria.

The Tokomaru was a vessel of 3912 tons. She sailed from Newcastle, N. S. W., on Oct. 29. Shipping records make no mention of the Icaria.

Raid In Irish Sea

The toll taken by the German submarine U-21, in its raid Saturday afternoon in the Irish sea, in the vicinity of Liverpool, still stands at three ships—the steamers Ben Cruachen, Linda Blanche and the Kilcoan, the latter a small vessel. The crew of the Kilcoan was landed on the Isle of Man by a coastwise steamer.

The commander of the submarine gave the crews of the steamships time to take to their small boats before launching the torpedoes that sent the vessels to the bottom.

The crews of the Ben Cruachan and the Linda Blanche were landed at Fleetwood by trawlers which rescued them from their small boats. They reported that the Germans told them where the trawlers were located and also gave them cigarets and chocolate after they had expressed regret that it was necessary to torpedo the steamships.

Attack Close to Liverpool

The German submarine selected a point about eighteen miles off Liverpool harbor for the attack, showing that all steamships bound for that port, including the giant Cunarders from New York, must now be guarded by British warships all the way into the entrance to the harbor.

The Irish sea raider easily made her escape. This under-water Emden is the same vessel which, last September, torpedoed in the North sea the British cruiser Pathfinder, with a loss of 246 lives, and later destroyed two British steamers off Havre. She found numerous vessels in the waters to which she has now transferred her activities.

In addition to the three vessels which she is known to have sunk, at least five other steamers were chased by her. These include the steamer Graphic, with 100 passengers and a crew of forty, and the smaller boats Arteus, Ava, Kathleen and Endymoin. All these vessels escaped in zig-zag flight.

The Graphic's captain had his passengers don lifebelts and sent all the members of the crew to the stokehole, so that the steamer could keep up a full head of steam in flight. The captain also took the precaution to warn, by wireless, vessels from coming into the zone of the submarine's activity.

The Carpathian Campaign

For the fourth time since the commencement of the war, the Carpathian mountains beteen Dukla and Wyszkow passes is the scene of a pitched battle.

The previous battles were between Russians and Austro-Hungarians, but in that which is now developing the Austrians and Hungarians have the assistance of the German armies and are assuming a vigorous defensive.

Despite this, the Russian report asserts that the preliminary fighting has turned to the advantage of Russia and that prisoners and guns have been captured.

Simultaneously, the Austro-Germans are concentrating armies in the mountains between Bukowina and Transylvania to prevent an attempt by the Russians to outflank them, and on the Roumanian and Servian frontiers to check any effort of the armies of those countries to take a hand in the fighting, upon the result of which Austria stakes much.

The Russians also are pushing their offensive in East Prussia, while the Germans continue their attack on the Russian positions in central Poland. These operations, however, are secondary to the battle in the Carpathians, the outcome of which is likely to have a marked effect on the future operations of the war.

Turks Again Defeated

The Russians have inflicted another defeat on the Turks in the Sari-Kamysh region where, during a snowstorm, they crossed a mountain and after heavy fighting captured the commanding general and his staff of the Thirteenth Turkish division and a large quantity of war material.

ADOLPH PEGOUD.

Famous French Air Man, First to Loop the Loop, Throws Bombs on Germans.

Photo by American Press Association.

To add to the difficulties of the Ottoman army, the Russian fleet has resumed its activity in the Black sea and has bombarded the Turkish barracks at Trebizond and Rizah, besides sinking several Turkish sailing vessels used as transports.

On the Western Front

Except in the neighborhood of La Bassee and in the Argonne, where the Germans have resumed their attack, artillery has been the only arm engaged on the western front. The Germans again claim to have captured some trenches near La Bassee, while the French say that the British have reoccupied all the ground which had been temporarily lost.

At that place the official British eyewitness, in a description of the battle of Jan. 25, says that after some of the most desperate hand-to-hand fighting of the war the Germans were driven out and suffered very severe losses.

Nothwithstanding this, it is evident that the Germans are still set on breaking the lines which guard the French coast ports, as dispatches coming by way of Holland say they are gathering another fresh army for an attack on the Yser line.

RENOWN IS WELL EARNED

Aviator Pegoud Performs Wonderful War Stunts For France

The Paris Liberte prints details of exploits of Airman Pegoud, who, since the beginning of the war, has proved worthy of his renown as an aviator.

In a reconnoissance over the Artois front, Pegoud noticed a German explosive depot, which, an hour later, he assailed from a height of 600 metres, with nine bombs, all accurately placed, demolishing it.

Consequent atmospheric disturbances nearly caused the fall of his aeroplane and Pegoud was forced to resort to more than exhibitionary acrobatics.

A few days previously he had destroyed a captive balloon carrying two heavy guns.

THROAT TROUBLES HIM

Kaiser's Return From Front to Berlin Is Due to Illness

The German emperor's return to Berlin from the front was due to the state of his health, according to a report from the German capital by way of Amsterdam.

The emperor, the dispatch adds, will consult his medical adviser concerning his throat, which has given him much trouble. Those who have heard the emperor speak lately say that his voice is scarcely audible.

FOR MURDERING BROTHER

Mulkerrin Given Life Sentence In Maine State Prison

Portland, Me., Feb. 1.—Michael J. Mulkerrin of this city, convicted of the murder of his brother, Patrick, was sentenced to life imprisonment in the state prison, in the supreme court here.

An appeal to the supreme court had failed to secure a new trial. Patrick Mulkerrin was shot during a quarrel in a barn last summer.

Gloucester's New Postmaster

Gloucester, Mass., Feb. 1.—A telegram from Washington announces the nomination of Charles D. Smith for postmaster. His choice settles a five-cornered contest that has kept the rank and file of the Democrats of this city in a turmoil ever since the night of President Wilson's election.

Change In the Meals.

Boarder—Here's a nickel I found in the hash. Landlady—Yes, I put it there. You've been complaining. I understand, about lack of change in your meals.—Boston Transcript.

BIG CONGRESS STARTS TONIGHT

Bowlers Ready for City Championship Matches

The city championship matches to determine who shall be awarded the handsome silver trophy offered by Capt. George A. Wardwell will take place at Wardwells alleys Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week. More than 24 men have qualified for the congress by attaining better than 500 total in five strings.

Richard Ring of Houghs Neck has been appointed official referee and George Westland will serve as official scorer. Four "up to the minute" men will be appointed to watch the pinfall from the pit and clear the lanes of the deadwood under the rules which regulate the national congress.

On Monday night the 24 highest men who have qualified will compete. If any are absent the men next in order will be allowed to roll.

The 12 highest of the first night matches will enter the semi-finals on Tuesday night. If a tie develops for 12th place the winner of a single string will be the competitor.

The finals on Wednesday night will be between the six highest men in the Tuesday night matches. The high man will win the title and the trophy

The congress, the first since bowling became the winter sport of the city, will probably be the most interesting affair of the sort ever held here. For months the bowlers have worked hard to qualify and many have fallen by the wayside. Arrangements have been made to accommodate the hundreds who will crowd into the gallery but it would not be surprising if those who arrive late will be unable to get into the building.

James Dell, the crack Clan MacGregor league bowler, is being backed by hundreds of his friends as the winner, while pitted against him is Olindy who holds the individual records in the Fore River league. Dell qualified with a total of 390, Olindy with 563. The third highest man was B. McLean with a total of 561. No matter what the congress develops into among the other men the triple contest between these top notchers will be most interesting.

Others who have qualified are G. Brown, J. Pinel, J. Harling, Walfred Nordquist, C. H. Baker, James Smollett, J. Sweeney, A. Taylor, J. Kelly, I. I. Litchfield, P. Restelli, C. Dixon J. Jepson, C. White, Peter Morton, H. G. Jenner, Allixon, Bugbee, Lemieux, Frank McPherson, Walsh, Dunn, Joyce A. N. LaBrecque.

Experts in discussing the approaching congress are of the opinion that it is impossible to predict with any degree of certainty who will take the trophy. Various things are to be considered they say and experience will not be so much of a factor as many of the fans believe. Many entertain the view that the person who finished in first place will be somewhat of a dark horse and that the winning total in the finals will be about 450. The matches are scheduled for eight o'clock each night.

Another question which has arisen is the standing of the contestants. Many unhesitatingly say the affair is to be a strictly amateur congress. Actual facts however will not bear out such a rating since practically all of the men are professionals, of a class not so fast as that headed by Paul Poehler. Most bowlers have been and are members of leagues which offer money prizes at the close of the season while others have competed for the weekly rolloff money prizes offered throughout the city. The best opinions are to the effect that the congress will be a semi-professional affair.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter s Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

A Few Choice House Lots
—ON—
PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX
are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.
SWITHIN
3 GREENLEAF BLOCK
Jan. 5-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

Read Ledger Advs.

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—One or two rooms for light housekeeping. Also furnished rooms with board if desired. 132 Marlboro Street, Wollaston Park. 30-3t

TO LET—A nice large front room suitable for one or two men or man and wife. Apply 26 School street. 30-3t.

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Four room apartment, new house, all improvements. Apply at 226 Franklin street. 30-tf

TO LET—Nice large furnished rooms, all improvements reasonable. Will give board if preferred. Apply 44 Chestnut street, second floor. 30-6t

TO LET—Three furnished rooms for housekeeping to man and wife. 761 Washington street. 29-3t

TO LET—Three connecting rooms and bath, electric lights, heat and gas range. 178 Washington street, phone Quincy 1732M. 28-tf

TO LET—Sunny front room, near the square. Table board if desired. References. Mrs. L. S. Hall, 27 Chestnut street. 27-6t

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 26 tf

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—Very attractive 6-room, lower suite, new house; 4 minutes from Centre; select neighborhood; $28 W. T. Donovan, 4 Adams Bldg. (Over Cox Pharmacy.) 26-6t

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Four room tenement all improvements, range and gas attached, house new. Apply James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street, Quincy or Tel. 599-1. Jan. 15-tf

TO LET—On Russell Park house of seven rooms and bath and large attic, cemented cellar, furnace, gas and coal range, electric lights all modern. Reasonable rent on a lease to right people. Apply to Miss Prescott at Ledger-Patriot Office, Quincy. 4-tf lpo

FOR RENT—2 houses, one $20 a month, all improvements, and one $12. Apply to G. G. Ellsworth, 117 Adams street, Braintree. Ob 1w L tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Flats, five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Gratton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent. $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

LOST

LOST—Between Gong Sings store on Granite street, Francis court and Sweeney's store on Washington street on Sunday morning a sum of money. Return to 11 Francis Court and receive reward. 1-1t

WANTED

WANTED—Board for two children, girl three years old and boy five years old. Apply 66 Arnold street, Quincy. 1-3t

WANTED—Working housekeeper. Apply 87 Adams street. 30-tf

WANTED—Position as companion, attendant, or helper by woman of refinement who has no permanent home and desires to live in Quincy. Could be in attendance daily if preferred. Address for further details I. C., Care of Ledger, Quincy. 29-3t

WANTED—Housekeeper's position in widower's family by an experienced American woman or would care for invalid. References exchanged, Mrs. D. W. Hall, Wollaston. 28-6t

WANTED—Mrs. C. F. Wrisley, 22 School street, can accommodate a single man, for board and room, with all home comforts and refinement. Seven minutes walk to station, one minute to Fore River cars. Tel. 363-W. Quincy. 26-tf

WANTED AT ONCE—$4000, 5 1-2 per cent. A 1 security. Write J. H. Ledger office. 26-6t

FOR SALE—Practically new, six room house, every modern improvement, hot water heat, solid cement piazza and steps, cement curbing and stucco cement gables. Beautiful view of water front, garden and fruit trees. For particulars and very low price apply to 35 Bay View street, off Edison Park. 28-6t

FOR SALE

In South Quincy two-family house with modern improvements. Convenient to electrics and Quincy Adams Station. Good renting proposition. For further details address, A. W. B. Care of Ledger, Quincy. 15-tflpo.

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M. Quincy Res. 22-tf

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

TO LET

Shop or Factory—34 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block. 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water, $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS

Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for L. r. Kribs.
Greenleaf Block. ('Phone 21066) Quincy

KINCAIDE THEATRE

Coming Attractions

IN response to a growing demand for Feature Photo Plays, the management is pleased to announce that at this theatre will be shown a series of Photo Plays representing the most costly productions that have ever been produced. Among the attractions already booked are the following :

THE THIEF by Charles Frohman
featuring Dorothy Donnelly
LIFE'S SHOP WINDOW by Victoria Cross
Claire Whitney and Stuart Holmes
SAMSON by Charles Frohman
with William Farnum
A FOOL THERE WAS by Robert Hilliard
with Edward Jose and Theda Bara
THE IDLER by Daniel Frohman
with Charles Richman
CHILDREN OF GHETTO by Liebler & Co.
with Wilton Lackaye
THE GIRL I LEFT BEHIND by Frohman
with Robert Edeson
THE GILDED FOOL by Nat Goodwin
with William Farnum
THE BUTTERFLY ON THE WHEEL by Shuberts
with Claire Whitney

These Photo Plays will be shown Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each Week—one of the above features each week in addition to our regular vaudeville.

Regular Prices.

BRIEFS

The second half year of the public schools of the city begins today.

Misses Lynch and Desmond, nurses at the Carney Hospital, were guests of their former patient, Miss Rose Morrissey of Euclid avenue, Sunday.

Mrs. Frank A. Page was the soloist yesterday at the Church of the Unity in Randolph, where her two solos gave great pleasure to the congregation.

Miss Catherine Cronin, Miss Mildred Smith, Irving Hayden and Joseph Curry were guests of the Wolsbach Company at their annual ball held in St. James hall, Boston, Friday evening.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

TO LET— Large pleasant room, conveniences, near the center. Private family, 30 Upland road. 1-6t

TO LET—Rooms and board with private family, all conveniences. 3 minutes to Fore River yard. Mrs. Briggs, 63 Howard avenue. Tel. 1333-W. 1-6t

FOR SALE—Music cabinet, almost new. Apply 40 Edison Park. 1-3t

WANTED—A four room furnished apartment with bath. The four rooms must consist of two bedrooms a living room and a kitchen. Address John Byers, 59 Germaine avenue, Quincy. 1-3t

MARRIAGES.

PETERS—DEVLYN—Jan. 23, by Rev. Edward Norton, Earl Roy Peters and Sarah Devlyn both of Quincy Point.

WISHART—WYNNE— Jan. 15, by Rev. Frederick R. Steenstra, Robert Wishart of Quincy Point and Sarah Wynne of England.

ROFFI—CELLUCCI—In Quincy, Jan. 30, by Emery L. Crane, City Clerk, Donato Roffi and Lucia Cellucci, both of this city.

COHAN—ROWZEE—In Boston, Jan. 14, by George M. Young, Esq., Jeremiah G. Cohan of Quincy and Martha N. Rowzee of Boston.

DEATHS

O'BRIEN—In West Quincy, Jan. 30, John M., beloved husband of Catherine J. O'Brien (nee Harrington), 52 years, 9 months.
Funeral from his late residence, Furnace Brook Parkway, Tuesday, Feb. 2, at 8.15 A. M. High mass of requiem at St. Mary's church at 9. Relatives and friends invited to attend. Late member of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's church, St. Francis Court M. C. O. F., Division 4, A. O. H., and Quincy Lodge L. O. O. M.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

SUNDAY STIRS RICH AUDIENCE

Society Fascinated by Earnestness of Baseball Evangelist.

CUTS CORNERS OF SLANG.

Wealthy Woman Carries Him Off In Her Car, Begging Him to Preach In Her Residence — Drives Eloquence Home as He Pleads With Ultra Exclusive Set to Be Good.

Billy Sunday, the baseball evangelist, preached by special invitation in Philadelphia to several hundred members of that city's ultra exclusive social set. His tabernacle was for the time the drawing room of the residence of Anthony J. Drexel-Biddle, more familiarly known as "Tony," at 2104 Walnut street.

But if society was looking for one of his ripsnorting, slang slinging, jumping jack harangues he fooled them. He was quiet, though intense, and he didn't use a word that was not perfectly proper and properly placed.

Before the unusual service the streets about the Biddle home were aswirl with scores of limousines, and the crowd entering the house looked like one bound for a fashionable wedding, with its top hats and costly furs and millinery.

Banker's Wife Impressed.

Afterward all the hearers of the peppery little ex-outfielder seemed deeply impressed. Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury thought so much of Sunday that she invited him to preach in her home at 1925 Walnut street as soon as possible and took him away in her own motor, so that she might better plead with him. He said he would deliver the sermon as soon as he found an open date.

Billy, after an opening prayer, said in the Biddle house:

"If for some reason or another you have given Christ up I may recall to you Henry van Dyke's story of 'The Last Word.' It may be the heart's narrative of many of you."

The audience, expecting something in tumultuous slang, opened its eyes at the nice diction.

"You may remember the young Hermes," Billy continued, "son of the great man who was a friend of the king of Antioch. He had deliberated long and finally accepted Christianity and was driven from the house of his father. All of his desires, all of his pleasures, he gave up. Many people do not do that. They go on and on like stampeded cattle, rushing always down.

Rich Can Be Friend of God.

"One can be wealthy and still be a friend of God. Abraham was one of the richest men of his time, but he was a friend of God.

"There are those among you that never pray—except when some one is sick or dead. The good God has to tear some people out of the social whirl and flatten them on their backs and shake a shroud before their eyes before they remember his name. Oh, my friends, it isn't right; it isn't right. I tell you from my soul that I am staggered and stunned when I consider the patience of God.

"If you were neglected, snubbed, forgotten, derided, ridiculed, abandoned, if you were left by your friends as you leave your God, what would you do? Would you hate? Would you destroy? But yet God waits for you, patient always. His hands stretched out with the peace that passeth understanding!

"What have you so great or so beautiful as the contentment and the happiness that he offers you?"

At the close of the sermon Billy was escorted to the front of the house by Mr. and Mrs. Biddle, and the line passed before him while he shook the hands of one after another, with his genial smile.

PRESENT SUM OF MONEY.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick L. Levangie Observe 15th Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick L. Levangie of 237 Franklin street, South Braintree were tendered a surprise party at their home Saturday evening by about sixty relatives and friends in honor of their fifteenth wedding anniversary which, although it occurred January 7th, was not celebrated until the latter date.

Mr. and Mrs. Levangie received a glass water set and other articles of crystal, also a sum of money. The cash was contained in a little box which was the last of seven, nailed one inside another, Mr. Levangie's frantic efforts to open them all called forth shouts of laughter from the guests.

The presentation speech was made by Charles H. Custance of Franklin street and the recipients responded most graciously.

There were vocal solos rendered by M. J. Levangie, Harvey Williamson, Fred Kerr and Francis Levangie and piano selections by Miss Susie Levangie, Miss Lillian Levangie and Ray Glover. Ice cream and cake were served and there was a general good time.

Guests were present from Hyde Park, Cambridge Boston and the Braintrees. Great credit for the success of the affair is due Mrs. Joseph P. Levangie and Mrs. William S. Levangie who arranged it.

DISTRICT COURT.

John J. Walsh was sentenced to one month in the house of correction

John M. Brett was fined $15 for drunkenness at Quincy.

Joseph P. Henn was fined $15 for disorderly conduct at Braintree.

Carlo, Carmelio and Annie De Barardinis were fined $5 each for trespass and the larceny of coal from the New Haven railroad at Braintree.

Carl Bjorkman was arraigned for assault at Braintree. Case continued until Feb. 11.

FUNDS FOR QUAKE VICTIMS.

The Italian residents of this city are taking steps to raise funds and articles or wearing apparel, etc., for those who suffered from the earthquakes in Italy, and with this object in view are to hold a fair and dance at Quincy Adams hall, Saturday evening, Feb. 13, from 8 to 12 o'clock. Next Saturday in order to arouse enthusiasm in the movement the Italian band will parade through the principal streets of the city and on the following Monday a committee of prominent Italians will canvass the stores in the city and for aid for these sufferers. The committee having the matter in charge is as follows: President, Abbondio Bianchi; Secretary Luigi Serafini; Treasurer U. Sansatini. Others on the executive committee are: Salvatore Giarrusso, Enos S. Costa, Pietro Restalli, Pietro Coletti and Lorenzo Caravaglio. The committee will acknowledge contributions of money and clothing through the columns of the Ledger.

WISHART—WYNNE.

Robert Wishart of 80 Baxter street and Sarah Wynne of England were married by Rev. F. R. Steenstra of St. Chrysostom's church on Jan. 15. The bride, when the intention was filed at City Clerk Crane's office, was a passenger aboard the S. S. Pomeranian bound for Portland, Me. She came to Quincy where she was joined by her husband.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

R. E. Foy.
Chas. C. Hearn.
Sovereign Waist Co.
Orent-Payson.
Quincy Whist Party.
Kincaide Theatre.
Barnard's Bakery.

QUINCY LODGE 413
Loyal Order of Moose

The funeral of our late brother, John M. O'Brien, will be held from his home, Furnace Brook Parkway, Tuesday, February 2, 1915, at 8.30 A. M.
Services at St. Mary's church, West Quincy, at 9 A. M. All members are requested to attend the services.
WILLIAM B. NORRIE, Dictator.
EDWARD J. FEGAN, Sec.
Feb. 1-1t

STANDING IN THREE LEAGUES

QUINCY SOCIAL CLUBS.

Waseca	20	8
Quincy Adams	18	10
Senecas	11	17
Pastime	7	21
Franklin	5	23
Nonpareils	3	5

JUNIOR LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	Pinfall
Kelliher	15	5	6250
Swain	13	7	6320
Sullivan	5	15	5824
Wrenn	7	13	6071

High three string, Little 316.
High single, Swain 141
High team total, Swain 1330.
High team pinfall, Swain 6320.
High average, Little 98, Swain 96
Kelliher 94, Byrne 93.

FORE RIVER LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	Pctg.
Machine Gallery	64	12	.842
Yard	55	17	.765
Electricians	47	29	.618
N. Dept.	43	29	.597
Shipfitters	41	31	.569
D. Dept.	40	36	.526
Ex-Apprentices	32	40	.444
Treas. Office	22	30	.423
Blacksmiths	32	42	.421
U. S. N.	27	45	.375
Machine Floor	27	49	.355
Purchasing Agents.	13	59	.180

High single, Olindy 153.
High team single, Yard 506.
High three strings,, Olindy 360
High team total, Machine Gallery 1442.
High averages, Smith 99, Tirrell 98 Olindy 98, Kateon 93, Ago 93, White 93, Djerf 92, Golden 92 Westland 92, Carlson 92, Smith 91, Mahoney 91, A. Smith 91, Dubois 91, Ryan 90, Malnati 90.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS WIN EASILY

The basket ball quintette of the U. S. S. Brooklyn was defeated by the Quincy Y. M. C. A. Saturday night in the local gym 30 to 9. Trask secured eight points from free tries. The visitors did not put up a winning fight. The second team easily defeated the Redmen of South Quincy 43 to 11.

QUINCY Y M C A		U S S BROOKLYN
Jenkins, rf		lb, Prat
Rich, lf		rb, Lone
Trask, c		c, Stone
Chapman, rb		lf, Grege
Kenn, lb		rf, Nesbitt

Score, Quincy 30, Brooklyn 9. Goals from floor, Jenkins 2, Rich 5, Trask Chapman 3, Stone 2, Grege 2, Goals from fouls, Trask 8, Grege. Referee. Wellband. Timer, Brook. Time, 20m halves. Attendance, 300.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Public Whist Party
Ladies and Gentlemen
Monday Evening, Feb. 8, 1915
At 8 P. M.
TOWN RIVER YACHT CLUB
Foot of Edison Park
All R. R. Tickets
Admission 25 Cents
Feb 1-6t

THE House of Bargains
The Liveliest Place in Quincy
Something Doing every minute
TODAY
RUBBERS take the Stage
Women's 29c
Children's 29c
Misses' 35c
Men's 65c
Orent-Payson Co.
1387 Hancock St.

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

J. P. Reid of the granite firm of J. F. Reid & Co., is confined to his home with blood poison in his left arm.

The W. R. C. 103 will hold a whist party at the home of Mrs. Mary Jones, 58 River street, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. John Prouty of Edgemere road entertained Mrs. David Phillips of Reading at luncheon Saturday.

The regular meeting of the Quincy Day Nursery was held at 2.30 P. M today.

The First Parish Alliance will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 in the church parlors.

Cards have been received from Walter E. Barry who is in St. John, N. B. He is working on a large contract for Stone & Underhill.

Misses Harriet B. Pierce and Catherine Saville have been appointed the flower committee of the First Parish for this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Howe, Jr. of Butler road have been entertaining their cousin Mrs. Winter of Springfield .

A regular meeting of the Quincy branch of the National Alliance will be held at the First church, Wednesday.

Miss Margaret G. Clark and Miss Lillian M. Deacon were the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Deacon of Plymouth.

Adams Chapter Daughters of the Revolution is meeting this afternoon with Miss Harriett B. Pierce on Granite street.

Mrs. Carrie S. Atwell returned to her home in Kingston Friday after an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. Elbert L. Haskell of Wollaston.

Mrs. Arthur Harney and daughter Miss Susan are visiting Alexander M. Bowe of Silver Lake, Mrs. Harney's father.

Mrs. K. L. Stevenson, state president of the W. C. T. U. will address the Quincy Union, Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Spear, 166 Washington street.

Horace F. Spear of Franklin street is one of the committee of arrangements for the annual ball of the employees association of W. & A. Bacon Co. to be held in Boston this week.

Members of the Quincy Y. P. C. U. of the Universalist church were the invited guests yesterday of the North Weymouth union. Rev. Rufus H. Dix Newtonville was the speaker.

Major Fred E. Jones was among the many military officers who attended the annual dinner of the Coast Artillery Corps. Saturday evening at the Copley Square hotel, Boston.

Past Commander Edward E. Jameson of Wollaston, headed the reception committee at the annual ladies' night celebration of De Molay Commandery at the Copley-Plaza Saturday evening.

Miss Mary Souther has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Isabelle Souther of Edison street for a few days. Miss Souther has just completed her work at Boston University for her B. A. degree.

St. Mary's C. T. A. & M. R. society will hold a regular meeting this evening in their hall. Business of much importance is expected to come before this meeting.

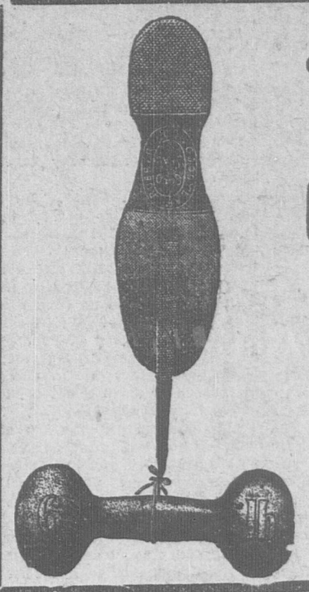

Joseph Paradise of Dayton street is spending a few days with his parents. Mr. Paradise will return Wednesday to Winchester, N. H., where he is employed as a government inspector by the Bureau of Etymology.

There will be a meeting at 2.30 P. M. Friday of the W. C. T. U., at the home of Mrs. Charles Spear, 166 Washington street. The State president, Mrs. K. L. Stevenson, will speak.

Wm. Stevens and his son William, have returned to Quincy after several months in Salt Lake City where they were working on a large granite contract. They expect shortly to leave for Milford on another contract.

Walter H. Bentley, formerly master of the Coddington school, is now a member of the faculty of Dummer Academy, South Byfield. Mr. Bentley accompanied his boys to Braintree Saturday and saw the basket ball team soundly trounced by the local boys.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

THERE IS ONLY ONE BEST BRAND OF RUBBERS
GOLD SEAL
THERE IS ONLY ONE STORE SELLING THEM—
THE GRANITE SHOE STORE

ATTY. ADAMS IS 2nd LIEUT. NOW

Atty. George E. Adams of Quincy, assistant to Dist. Atty Barker of Norfolk and Plymouth counties, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the Coast Artillery Corps. and has been assigned to duty on the staff. He was a sergeant major when he received his commission.

Lieut. Adams served in Co. K, 5th Regt. M. V. M., when it was in service in the Spanish War and later with the First Corps of Cadets. He is past commander of John A. Boyd Camp, U. S. W. V., and has served as judge advocate on the department staff of the Spanish War Veterans. Lieut. Adams took his examination before the military board this week. He is an enthusiastic and expert horseman.

MCLAUGHLIN WINS HEAT.

James McLaughlin, the well-known West Quincy athlete, won his heat in the 40 yd. dash at the Irish American A. C. meet held in Mechanics Building Saturday evening. McLaughlin defeated Wilcox of Harvard who won the 390 yd run. In the finals in the 40 yd run McLaughlin came in third amongst a crack field and was awarded a gold medal. McLaughlin runs under the B. A. A. and his performance of Saturday evening was a surprise to all as he has done absolutely no training for the past month.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE STANDING

Wellesley vs Winthrop, Friday.
Reading vs Revere, Saturday.

Wellesley and Winthrop High school each captured games in the Interscholastic league last week and increased their percentage. The two games to be played by the leaders this week may practically settle the championship. The fur should fly when the leading teams meet Friday night. The former have adopted bearcat tactics but Winthropers say their men can hold them to fast, furious play which will eliminate some rough house points. Bill Coady, the referee may come in for his share of punishment trying to smash up the melees. The standing:

Wellesley High	4	1	.800
Winthrop High	3	1	.750
Quincy High	2	3	.400
Reading High	1	3	.250
Revere High	1	3	.250

SLIGHTLY INJURED.

John Walters of Boston, said to be a Finn, boarded a Brockton car by mistake Friday evening and when he discovered it leaped from the car in City Square when it was going at fair speed. He struck on his head and received a slight scalp wound. After treatment by Dr. Geary he disappeared.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

WHERE IS IT? WHY
1387
Hancock St.

FOR SALE
House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,300. Straight Loan of $2,000.
EDMUND C. HAYDEN
Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing
HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.
129 Tremont St., Boston.
Oct. 8-tf

Try a Pound of our Coffee
if you want to taste something real delicious. We carry all the advertised brands and feel sure we can suit on quality and price. Buy some today.

La Touraine	35c lb
Quality	32c lb
Stanzalone	25c lb
White House, 1 lb can	35c lb
Seal Brand Chase & Sanborn, can	38c lb
Yuban, the Guest Coffee, can	35c lb
Cafe Des Invalides, can	42c lb
Barrington Hall, steel cut. can	40c lb

ADAMS MARKET
City Square
Phone 1980

FOY'S
2 STORES

WATER STREET
Cor. Quincy
Phone 117

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 28 QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 2, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

FIND GEO. W. MILLER GUILTY OF CONSPIRACY

Quincy Boy Gets Verdict of Not Guilty on Larceny Charge

George W. Miller, formerly of South Quincy, was today found not guilty on a charge of larceny and guilty on a charge of conspiracy to defame Dr. George Burgess Magrath, medical examiner of Suffolk county. Fred L. Green, indicted at the same time, was found guilty on three accounts and Thomas H. Kingston was acquitted on three counts and his discharge was ordered by the court.

The jury in the case returned a sealed verdict today to Judge Aiken in the Suffolk Superior Criminal Court. Miller has been held in $2000 until sentence is pronounced.

The three men were charged not only with conspiracy to discredit the administration of public justice and to deprive Dr. Magrath, medical examiner of Boston, of office, but also with the larceny of $230 from Timothy X. O'Brien, a dead man. Dr. Magrath was not appointed to office.

DANCING AND WHIST PARTY

Ladies Catholic Benevolent Association Makes Debut

The Ladies Catholic Benevolent association of Quincy made its social debut with a whist and dancing party in Electa hall Monday evening. There was a good attendance.

The souvenirs of the evening were awarded to Miss Nellie O'Connell, Mrs John Cunniff, M. E. Cook and A. Lawson. The young women who punched were Miss Catherine Brown, Miss Marion Cunniff, Miss Mary McCormick, Miss Eleanor Mahoney.

Throughout the entire evening punch, made by William Walsh, was served with candy and cakes. Music for dancing was by James Provost.

The committee was Mrs. William Walsh, Mrs. Mary A. McKay, Miss Josephine Collican, Miss Mary McCormick and Miss Elizabeth Mahoney.

Quincy Women's Riverside Club is to hold a public whist party tomorrow afternoon at their clubhouse on Edison park.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Wednesday probably snow followed by clearing weather.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.56
Sun sets	4.59
Length of day	10.00
Moon rises	10.30
High water, A. M.	2.00
High water, P. M.	2.30
Days increase	0 hrs. 58 minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.33 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	28 degrees
Feb. 2, 1914,	41 degrees
Feb. 2, 1913,	25 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—37.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

CHILDREN RAISE BELGIAN FUNDS

Seven children of Wollaston Heights held an entertainment Saturday afternoon at the home of Hesta Buchanan, 133 Grand View avenue, and the proceeds were on Monday turned over to the fund for the relief of the Belgians.

A dramatic performance entitled "The Family Picnic," in six acts, written and presented by the little people, was the principal feature of the afternoon. Eleanor Bates sang a song, accompanied by Mrs. Luard, and also gave a recitation. Candy was sold during the intermissions. The children, who managed the entire attraction, were Hesta Buchanan, Doris Pinkham, Eleanor Bates, Dorothy Bates, Dorothy Brady, William Soule and Alden Pinkham.

The ushers were Mrs. Carroll Bates, Mrs. W. G. Corthell, Mrs. Walter Pinkham, Mrs. Gilbert Hamlin, Mrs. Walter Brady, Miss Ninon Lacey, Miss Joyce Buchanan and Miss Anna Witham.

ADAMS CHAPTER HOLDS MEETING

The monthly meeting of Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, was held Monday afternoon with Miss Harriet B. Pierce, Granite street, and despite the weather there was a good attendance. There was but little business to be transacted other than the appointing of a nominating committee to prepare a list of officers to be voted for at the annual meeting. The committee appointed were Mrs. George T. Magee, Mrs. Susan J. Wilde and Miss Harriet B. Pierce. The chapter is looking forward to the celebration of its twentieth anniversary, which occurs Jan. 27, 1916.

After the business session the members enjoyed auction bridge. During the afternoon the hostess served refreshments.

FEAST DAY FOR CATHOLICS.

Candlemas Day, a feast day in the calendar of the Catholic church, was observed today. Despite the storm there was a large attendance at the masses. The candles were blessed and distributed among those present. A second distribution will take place this evening.

A handsome new safe has been installed in the office of the probation officer at the district court.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

SERVICES HELD FOR JOHN M. O'BRIEN

Many Friends Relatives and Delegates From His Societies Attend

MANY FLORAL TRIBUTES

The funeral of ex-councilman John M. O'Brien was held this morning from his late residence on Furnace Brook Parkway and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends and delegations from the fraternal organizations of which he was a member. A requiem mass was celebrated in St. Mary's church at nine o'clock by Rev. William J. Duffy. Mr. O'Brien was a life-long and faithful member of this church. Gregorian mass was sung by the regular church choir under the direction of Mrs. Mary McKay Reardon.

Delegations from St. Francis Court M. C. O. F., Div. 4, A. O. H., Quincy Lodge of Moose and the St. Mary's Holy Name Society were present. The pall bearers were Napoleon Grignon, Philip Garity James Knight, Michael Lyons, Michael Scully and Cornelius Collins.

Mr. O'Brien is survived by his widow and four children, Emeline, Marguerite, Francis and Frederick.

There was a wealth of floral tributes which were a silent token of the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Pillow—St. Francis Court, M. C. O. F.

Wreath—L. O. O. Moose.

Standing Wreath—Employees of Ginter Grocery Co.

Spray—Cashiers of W. A. Bacon Co.

Standing Cross—Copeland Club.

Standing Horse Shoe—Teamsters' Union.

Wreath—Mrs. J. W. Burke.

Spray of Pinks—Miss Edith Barron.

Spray of Pinks—Alex Craig.

Sheaf of Wheat—Miss A. Ingersoll.

Spray of Roses—James OBrien.

Spray of Pinks—Marion O'Brien.

Spray of Lilies—Herbert, Lucy and Irving Morton.

Standing Wreath—Alice O'Brien.

Pillow — William and Francis O'Brien.

Pillow—Family.

Burial was in the family lot in St. Mary's cemetery.

PASSES SEVERAL APPLICATIONS

A Dozen or so go Through Ordeal

Lieut. Sydney C. Hardwick, attached to the surgeons' staff of the 6th Regt. M. V. M., passed nearly a dozen applicants for membership in the machine gun company, to be formed here on Monday night in Alpha hall. Several were not accepted because of their age.

Among those who met the requirements was Arthur B. Hultman, assistant court officer, who was pronounced "normal" by the examiner. The official figures gave his height as 6 ft. 5 in. and his weight as 276 pounds.

Uniforms and accoutrements will be issued to the accepted candidates by Lieut. George M. Downes, in charge of the company, within a few days.

The examination will be continued next Monday evening. Several additional applications for membership were received.

PROUD PARENTS.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Slavin are the parents of a boy, born this morning at their home at 98 Pleasant street

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

TO DUMP SEWAGE IN QUINCY BAY

Opposition Develops to Innocent Appearing Petition From Hull

PUBLIC HEARING FEB. 16.

The town of Hull has made application to the Directors of the Port of Boston for permission to lay and construct a sewer main or pipe in and over the tide waters of Weir Riverin the town of Hull and a public hearing will be held on the matter on Feb. 16 at 10 o'clock at 40 Centre street, Boston.

The innocent appearing petition if granted, will give Hull a license to dispose of its sewage in Hingham and Quincy Bays, just inside the hook of land which encloses the Hingham waterfront and further end of Quincy bay.

The danger of sewage being scattered throughout these waters is said to be great with an incoming tide and already a strong sentiment against the petition is growing.

Although Quincy, which would be much affected if the permission is granted, has received no official notification of the hearing it has been brought to the attention of the city government and City Engineer Ezekiel Sargent has been instructed to examine the plans filed with the petition and report on the same within a few days.

A strong sentiment against the petition is growing and the indications are that it will increase by leaps and bounds as soon as the residents become aware of the important bearing it will have on the city.

The state board of health will also be appealed to to rule against granting of the permission on the grounds that it will be a menace to public health and also because of the sewage outlets now in Quincy bay.

The residents of Hingham are preparing to oppose the petition with all their might and foremost in their ranks will be the officials and yachtsmen who have never been really called upon before to take up the "Safety First" fight from this angle.

The Quincy opposition will hase its case on the report of the city engineer.

THELMA GIRLS PLAN FOR DANCE

The Thelma Girls held a special meeting Monday evening at the home of Miss Ernestine Shores of 93 Revere road. The committee on the banquet reported. Plans were considered for the dance which is to be held on the evening of April 6th, at Alpha hall. The club plans to make this, their real entry into the social life of Quincy an occasion long to be remembered.

After the meeting a social was held Miss Julia Corcoran and Mildred Duggan entertained with vocal selections. The balance of the evening games of all kinds were enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

MRS. SHERMAN LECTURES.

Mrs. Sherman a noted parliamentarian, lectured before the parliamentary law class of the Quincy Women's club Monday. Because of the storm the attendance was small. The session was the second in the series, Mrs. Sherman will lecture again on Feb. 15.

SLIGHT FIRE.

The central station apparatus was called out on a telephone alarm at 10 o'clock this morning for a slight fire in the house of Louis Grossman on Water street. A defective flue started a slight fire in a closet. The damage will not exceed $100.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

DOWN RESOLVE ABOLISHING PARTY DESIGNATIONS IN CITY ELECTIONS

Council Has Spirited Discussion on Councilman Smith's Resolve Which Committee Reports Unfavorably

Recommendation by Mayor on Fire Department Investigation Rejected

A large amount of new business, coupled with several spirited debates, served to make Monday night's meeting of the city council one of interest. The first and perhaps the liveliest debate came over accepting the recommendation of the committee on legislative matters, which reported "ought not to pass" on the resolve asking the Mayor to petition the legislature to amend the city charter so as to eliminate party designations from municipal elections.

Councilman Smith who introduced the resolution started the ball rolling when he asked the chairman of the committee the reason for the report. Councilman McDonald replied that the time for filing petitions in the legislature had expired several weeks ago and that it was not now an opportune time to take up the matter. He believed it better for the council to look over the charter carefully and see if there were other matters that should be included in the bill.

COUNCILMAN SMITH'S ATTITUDE.

Councilman Smith said that Mayors for several years had advocated the abolition of party designations. All are doubtless familiar with what is going on. The general feeling is that it should be removed. Any citizen that takes stock in any candidate simply because he is a Democrat or Republican is foolish and should be disfranchised. When we get here there is no difference between a Democrat and Republican. We are supposed to do the best we can for the city. The Democratic party is pledged for that purpose. Our mayor was elected as a candidate of the Republican and Progressive parties. He has got a job on his hand to satisfy himself and both of these parties.

"Two members of the city council were elected Republicans, Democrats and Progressives. If the party label means anything they have got to 'go some' to represent all three. The fact is we should get away from the label, which does not cut any figure. Any man who thinks it does has not studied the signs of the times. If a man elected as a Democrat from Wollaston is treason then a Republican elected from West Quincy means treason. If I can be shown one good reason why we should have party designation I am willing to subside.

URGES RESOLUTION BE BURIED.

Councilman Beeman said: "A non-partisan coat on the gentleman from Ward Four or myself would be a poor fit. Another thing it would not change the minds of men? Not for a minute. Have not the voters a right to know? I think they have. If a man is a non-partisan it is simply because of the working of his mind. I hope the resolution will be buried so deep that it will never be heard of again."

Councilman McGrath spoke of the city of Haverhill which was governed by a commission form of government. The city had been in bad shape but was now one of the best governed cities in the state. Now the same element that brought the city where it is is trying to go back to the old method of party designation. "I believe in the elimination of party designation" the speaker declared. We should select men not because of their party but because of the men. What is the use of keeping up the farce?"

Councilman Griffin said he did not believe in some of the things that had been said. "If we remove party designations there will be something else to take their place. A man does not come to this council to play politics but to attend to the business of the city.

"It is impossible to be a Democrat or Republican here. I believe in letting the thing alone unless it can be shown where we have suffered."

Councilman McDonald felt that there was no chance of getting the matter before the legislature this year as it required a four fifths vote to suspend the rules.

Councilman Kessler saw no reason for hustling the matter. "Last years recess committee went into the matter of city charters. When we get their report we will find one at least of their forms which does not have party designation."

Councilman Ross opposed, declaring "If we go before the recess committee of the legislature we will have to show them that it is an urgent case."

Councilman Smith said he would be pleased to hear how the mayor was going to serve two parties. "If there were ever two decrepit organizations that needed sympathy they are the Democratic and Republican city committees."

The report and recommendation of the committee was then accepted on a roll call by a vote of 17 yes and 5 no. Those voting against accepting the recommendation of the committee were Councilman Barry, McGrath, Slade, Smith and Williams.

DOWN MAYOR'S SUGGESTION.

There was a spirited debate in a resolution offered by Councilman Gallagher calling for a committee of three to be appointed by the president of the city council to act in conjunction with the mayor in investigating the needs of the fire department.

This raised a howl of disapproval as it was looked upon as a step to take from the standing committee on fire department matters a part of its duties.

Councilman Smith who was in fighting mood, started the discussion by stating that the fire committee held only eight or ten meetings last year and was not so overworked but what it could handle this matter.

Councilman Craig asked the Mayor if he was willing the matter should go to the fire committee.

Mayor Campbell replied that he believed that before any great amount was expended on the department what was needed to bring it to a state of efficiency should be ascertained. This could be done by going into the matter thoroughly. It would be impossible to do all in one year, but a plan could be laid out and carried through as fast as possible. He thought a special committee could do this best. It was harder to get a large committee together. He had no objection to three members of the fire committee being appointed.

Councilmen Griffin, Barnicoat, O'Dowd, Williams and Ross believed still it a matter for the fire committee.

The resolution was then rejected.

AMENDS POLICE ORDINANCE

Councilman Smith introduced an order amending the ordinance establishing a police department. The amendment settles definitely the ranking of the officers, inasmuch as under the amendment the officers of the department will consist of a captain, inspector, lieutenant, two sergeants, etc. The amendment also changes the salaries of the captain and inspector. It increases that of the captain from $1200 to $1300 per year. The inspector from $1200 to $1250, lieutenant $1200 as at present and sergeant at $1150 as at present. There was no change in the salary of the regular patrolmen or reserve officers.

This was referred to a joint committee on Fire Department and Ordinances.

Councilman McGrath offered a resolve requesting the mayor to take up the matter of a public waiting room in city square and that a committee of three members of the city council be appointed to act with him, one of which committee should include the president of the council. The resolution was adopted and the committee appointed were Councilmen Whiton, McGrath and Richards.

MCGRATH OFFERS RESOLUTION

Councilman McGrath introduced a resolution that in the judgment of the city council the change contemplated by Senate bill 61 should not be mandatory but that the bill should be amended so as to provide for the acceptance by a two-thirds vote by the council before going to a general referendum, and that the mayor and city solicitor attend the hearing on Wednesday and present the attitude of the council. The bill in question is an act to increase the limit of indebtedness of cities and towns. Under the present act cities may borrow for current expenses 2 1-2 percent of the average valuation for the past three years. The bill in question increases the limit to4 per cent. McGrath believed this to be a bad precedent and that while the present council would not exceed the 2 1-2 percent, future councils might take advantage of it.

The resolution was adopted.

There was a debate on a communication from the Directors of the Port

(Continued on Page Six.)

Public Whist Party
Ladies and Gentlemen
Monday Evening, Feb. 8, 1915
At 8 P. M.
TOWN RIVER YACHT CLUB
Foot of Edison Park
All R. R. Tickets
Admission 25 Cents
Feb 1-4t

Quincy Board of Trade
Annual Banquet
Tuesday, February 9th, 6.30 P. M.
ALPHA HALL
Good Speaking, Singing, Orchestra. Good Dinner.
Unusual Features
Get Your Tickets at once
E. J. FEGAN, President.
JOHN O. HALL, Sec.
Feb. 2-3t-eod

DRESSMAKING and Alterations
Terms Moderate
MISS CLARA M. TEES
1623 Hancock St., Quincy, Mass.
Jan. 27-6t

WHERE IS IT?
WHY
1387
Hancock St.

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)

PARTY DESIGNATIONS.

The vote of the city council Monday night defeating Councilman Smith's resolve favoring the abolition of party designations in city elections in Quincy was not wholly a vote of enmity to the principle itself. Other motives, such as the difficulty of getting action upon the question at this session of the legislature were at work. This will be apparent to all who read the account of the meeting in another column of today's Ledger.

Some there were who opposed the resolve for its own sake, or, perhaps, for their sakes. But we also believe that some who voted in favor of the report of the committee which said the resolve ought not to pass believed the principle itself was sound. The Ledger does not pretend to be able to say just how the vote would lie in the city council if the question of abolition of party designations was presented solely on its merits. It does know that the overwhelming majority of thinking men who have studied municipal government in this country are agreed that the use of the national party label in city elections is both senseless and harmful.

LOCAL POLICIES AND PARTIES.

One of the arguments against the abolition of party designations in city elections advanced at the council meeting Monday seems to the Ledger in reality an argument in favor. Councilman Griffin pointed out that "you may abolish the title of 'Republican' and 'Democrat' but there always will be some other title."

The Ledger believes that Councilman Griffin stated the precise truth It believes he has presented a fact, at disagrees with him in the inference he draws from his premises.

We believe that representative government to be successful must be a government of parties, whether that government be national, state or city.

We believe a successful republican form of government requires two major parties. There may or may not be one or more minor parties. France is not a government of two parties but a government of many minor parties. Republican government in France has not been successful for that very reason. The Republican and Democratic parties have performed, and are still performing, a noble function in national government and in state government. They are performing a cheap, petty function in city government.

The Republican party has no municipal policy in Quincy. The Democratic has none. They never can have a serviceable one so long as they are national parties. There is a service which can be rendered by parties in Quincy, if they are strictly municipal parties, whose platforms are local policies.

The passage of a law abolishing party designations in Quincy would remove from the ballot the names of national parties. It is to be hoped that it would also remove these designations from the minds of the voters when they entered the city voting booth. It would not remove from the minds of the voters, and it is good that this should be so, the local policies which the candidates stood for. We agree with Councilman Griffin that candidates would be labelled in the minds of the voters with party designations, but such parties would be local parties, founded on local policies.

To go on further it would be proper for a local party to adopt as one of the planks in its program the advocacy of the abolition of party designations on the ballot, and it would be proper for another local party to adopt a plank in opposition.

The abolition of party designations in city elections would give an opportunity for the development of local policies and parties.

WEALTH AND WICKEDNESS.

Wealth and wickedness do not necessarily go hand in hand, although this is a more or less common delusion. Billy Sunday the Evangelist in the course of a sermon at Philadelphia the other day, delivered to a fashionable audience in the home of Anthony J. Biddle-Drexel, pointed out that his hearers were not absolutely prevented from being friends with God. "One can be wealthy and still be a friend of God," he declared. "Abraham was one of the richest men of his time but he was a friend of God."

The Exploits of Elaine

A Detective Novel and a Motion Picture Drama

By ARTHUR B. REEVE
The Well-Known Novelist and the Creator of the "Craig Kennedy" Stories

Presented in Collaboration With the Pathe Players and the Eclectic Film Company

Copyright, 1914, by the Star Company. All Foreign Rights Reserved.

SYNOPSIS.

The New York police are mystified by a series of murders of prominent men. The principal clue to the murderer is the warning letter which is sent the victims, signed with a "clutching hand." The latest victim of the mysterious assassin is Taylor Dodge, the insurance president. His daughter, Elaine, employs Craig Kennedy, the famous scientific detective, to try to unravel the mystery. What Kennedy accomplishes is told by his friend Jameson, a newspaper man. Clutching Hand tries to kill Elaine by means of a diabolical device which generates a poison in the wall paper of her room that is deadly to breathe for any length of time. Again Kennedy's scientific knowledge is brought into play just in season to save the heroine from death.

SIXTH EPISODE

"The Vampire."

Kennedy went the next day to the Dodge house, and, as usual, Perry Bennett, Elaine's lawyer, was there in the library with Elaine, still going over the Clutching Hand case in their endeavor to track down the mysterious master criminal.

Bennett seemed as deeply as ever in love with Elaine. Still, as Jennings admitted Craig, it was sufficiently evident by the manner in which Elaine left Bennett and ran to greet Craig that she had the highest regard for him.

"I've brought you a little document that may interest you," remarked Kennedy, reaching into his pocket and pulling out an envelope.

Elaine tore it open and looked at the paper within.

"Oh, how thoughtful of you!" she exclaimed in surprise.

It was a permit from the police made out in her name allowing her to carry a revolver.

A moment later, Kennedy reached into his coat pocket and produced a little automatic which he handed to her.

"Thank you," she cried, eagerly.

Elaine examined the gun with interest, then, raising it, pointed it playfully at Bennett.

"Oh, no, no!" exclaimed Kennedy, taking her arm quickly and gently, deflecting the weapon away. "You mustn't think it is a toy. It explodes at a mere touch of the trigger—when that safety ratchet is turned."

Bennett had realized the danger and had jumped back, almost mechanically. As he did so, he bumped into a suit of medieval armor standing by the wall, knocking it over with a resounding crash.

"I beg pardon," he ejaculated, "I'm very sorry. That was very awkward of me."

Jennings, who had been busy about the portieres at the doorway, started to pick up the fallen knight.

"Too bad, too bad," apologized Bennett profusely. "I really forgot how close I was to the thing."

"Oh, never mind," returned Elaine, a little crestfallen, "it is smashed all right—but it was my fault. Jennings, send for someone to repair it."

It was late that night that a masked figure succeeded in raising itself to the narrow ornamental ledge under Elaine's bedroom window.

Elaine was a light sleeper, and, besides, Rusty, her faithful collie, now fully recovered from the poison, was in her room.

Rusty growled and the sudden noise awakened her.

Startled, Elaine instantly thought of the automatic. She reached under her pillow, keeping very quiet, and drew forth the gun that Craig had given her. Stealthily concealing her actions under the covers, she leveled the automatic at the figure silhouetted in her window and fired three times.

The figure fell back.

Down in the street below, the assistant of the Clutching Hand who had waited while Taylor Dodge was electrocuted, was waiting as his confederate, "Pitts Slim"—which indicated that he was both wiry in stature and libelous in delegating his nativity—made the attempt.

As Slim came tumbling down, having fallen back from the window above mortally wounded, the confederate lifted him up and carried him out of sight hurriedly.

Elaine, by this time, had turned on the lights and had run to the window to look out. Rusty was barking loudly.

In a side street near by stood a waiting automobile, at the wheel of which sat another of the emissaries of the Clutching Hand. The driver looked up, startled, as he saw his fellow hurry around the corner carrying the wounded "Pitts Slim." It was the work of just a moment to drop the wounded man, as comfortably as possible under the circumstances, in the rear seat, while his pals started the car off with a jerk in the hurry of escape.

Jennings, having hastily slipped his trousers on over his pajamas, came running down the hall, while Marie, frightened, came in the other direction. Aunt Josephine appeared a few seconds later, adding to the general excitement.

"What's the matter?" she asked anxiously.

"A burglar, I think," exclaimed Elaine, still holding the gun in her hand. "Someone tried to get into my window."

"My gracious!" cried Aunt Josephine, in alarm, "Where will this thing end?"

"Well," Elaine laughed, a little nervously, now that it was all over, "I want you all to go to bed and stop worrying about me. Don't you see I'm perfectly able to take care of myself? Besides, there isn't a chance now of the burglar coming back. Why, I shot him."

"Yes," put in Aunt Josephine, "but —"

Elaine laughingly interrupted her and playfully made as though she were driving them out of her room.

"Rusty!" she called. "Down, there!"

The intelligent collie seemed to understand. He lay down by the doorway, his nose close to the bottom of the door, and his ears alert.

Finally Elaine, too, retired again.

Meanwhile the wounded man was being hurried to one of the hangouts of the mysterious Clutching Hand.

The car containing the wounded "Pitts Slim" drew up, and the other two men leaped out of it. With a hurried glance about they unlocked the front door with a pass key and entered, carrying the man.

Indoors was another emissary of the Clutching Hand, a rather studious-looking chap.

"Why, what's the matter?" he exclaimed as the crooks entered his room supporting their half-fainting, wounded pal.

"Slim got a couple of pills," they panted as they laid him on a couch.

"How?" demanded the other.

"Trying to get into the Dodge house. Elaine did it."

Slim was, quite evidently, badly wounded and was bleeding profusely. A glance at him was enough for the studious-looking chap. He went to a secret panel and, pressing it down, took out what was apparently a secret house telephone.

In another part of this mysterious house was the secret room of the Clutching Hand himself, where he hid his identity from even his most trusted followers.

His telephone rang and he took down the receiver.

"Pitts Slim's been wounded, badly, chief," was all he waited to hear.

With scarcely a word he hung up the receiver, then opened a table drawer and took out a full face mask. Next he went to a nearby bookcase, pressed another secret spring, and a panel opened. He passed through, the mask adjusted.

Across, in the larger outside study, another panel opened, and the Clutching Hand, all crouched up, transformed, appeared. Without a word he advanced to the couch on which the wounded crook lay, and examined him.

"How did it happen?" he asked at length.

"Miss Dodge shot him," answered the others, "with an automatic."

"That Craig Kennedy must have given it to her!" he exclaimed with suppressed fury.

For a moment the Clutching Hand stopped to consider. Then he seized the regular telephone.

"Doctor Martin?" he asked, as he got the number he called.

Late as it was, the doctor, who was a well-known surgeon in that part of the country, answered from an extension of his telephone near his bed.

The call was urgent, and apparently from a family which he did not feel that he could neglect.

Doctor Martin was a middle-aged man, one of those medical men on whose judgment one instinctively relies.

It was only a matter of minutes before the doctor was speeding over the now deserted suburban roads, apparently on an errand of mercy.

At the address that had been given him he drew up to the side of the road, got out and ran up the steps to the door. A ring at the bell brought a sleepy man to the door, in his trousers and nightshirt.

"How's the patient?" asked Doctor Martin, eagerly.

"Patient!" repeated the man, rubbing his eyes. "There's no one sick here."

Slowly it dawned on the doctor that it was a false alarm, and that he must be the victim of some practical joke.

"Well, that's a great note," he growled, as the man shut the door.

He descended the steps, muttering harsh language at some unknown trickster. As he climbed back into his machine and made ready to start two men seemed to rise before him as if from nowhere.

As a matter of fact they had been sent there by the Clutching Hand, and were hiding in a nearby cellarway until their chance came.

One man stood on the running board, on either side of him, and two guns yawned menacingly at him.

"Drive ahead that way!" muttered one man, seating himself in the runabout with his gun close to the doctor's ribs.

The other kept his place on the running board, and on they drove in the direction of the mysterious, dark house. Half a mile, perhaps, down the road, they halted and left the car beside the walk.

Doctor Martin was too surprised to marvel at anything now, and he realized that he was in the power of two desperate men. Quickly they blindfolded him.

It seemed an interminable walk, as they led him about to confuse him, but at last he could feel that they had taken him into a house and along passageways, which they were making unnecessarily long in order to destroy all recollection that they could. Finally he knew that he was in a room in which others were present.

A moment later he felt them remove the bandage from his eyes, and, blinking at the light, he could see a hard-faced fellow, pale and weak, on a blood-stained couch. Over him bent a masked man and another man stood near by endeavoring by improvised bandages to stop the flow of blood.

"What can you do for this fellow?" asked the masked man.

Doctor Martin, seeing nothing else to do, for he was more than outnumbered now, bent down and examined him.

As he rose, he said, "He will be dead from loss of blood by morning, no matter if he is properly bandaged."

"Is there nothing that can save him?" whispered the Clutching Hand hoarsely.

"Blood transfusion might save him," replied the doctor. "But so much blood would be needed that whoever gives it would be liable to die himself."

Clutching Hand stood silent a moment, thinking, as he gazed at the man who had been one of his chief reliance. Then, with a menacing gesture, he spoke in a low, bitter tone:

"She who shot him shall supply the blood."

* * * * * * * *

A few quick directions followed to his subordinates, and as he made ready to go he muttered, "Keep the doctor here. Don't let him stir from the room."

It was just before early daybreak when the Clutching Hand and his confederate reached the Dodge house in the city and came up to the back door, over the fences. As they stood there the Clutching Hand produced a master key and started to open the door. But before he did so he took out his watch.

"Let me see," he ruminated. "Twenty minutes past 4. At exactly half past I want you to do as I told you—see?"

The other crook nodded.

"You may go," ordered the Clutching Hand.

As the crook slunk away Clutching Hand stealthily let himself into the house. Noiselessly he prowled through the halls until he came to Elaine's doorway.

He gave a hasty look up and down the hall. There was no sound. Quickly he took a syringe from his pocket and bent down by the door. Inserting the end under it, he squirted some liquid through, which vaporized rapidly in a wide, fine stream of spray. Before he could give an alarm Rusty was overcome by the noxious fumes, rolled over on his back and lay still.

Outside, the other crook was waiting, looking at his watch. As the hand slowly turned the half-hour he snapped the watch shut. With a quick glance up and down the deserted street, he deftly started up the rain pipe that passed near Elaine's window.

This time there was no faithful Rusty to give warning, and the second intruder, after a glance at Elaine, still sleeping, went quickly to the door, dragged the insensible dog out of the way, turned the key and admitted the Clutching Hand. As he did so he closed the door.

(Continued tomorrow)

GROUND HOG APPEARS TODAY

Today is Candlemas Day, perhaps better known as Ground-Hog day, given prominence in the calendar as prognostications are made on this day by scholarly scientists. According to general supposition his royal highness the Ground-Hog sneaks out from his cave laboratory where he has been during the winter months, and goes looking for trouble.

If when he makes his appearance, the sun is shining so that he can see his shadow, then he immediately hikes back to his hole and winter has six weeks more to run. If, however, the sky is so overcast that he cannot see his shadow his shadow then he leaves his happy home for good with the belief that winter is nearly over.

There is but little doubt that when his Hogship comes out today he will be unable to see his shadow and that he will stay out. If the old saying is true, winter is nearly over, it should be a source of joy to many, especially to the man who has devoted the greater part of his time for the past ten days feeding a gaping furnace door with black diamonds.

Herbert W. Pinkham of Wollaston was elected secretary and treasurer of the Massachusetts Co-operative Bank League at its annual convention in Worcester Saturday.

SCISSORS PASTE

OUR SUMMER RESORTS.

Next summer will be a great season for the summer resorts, the railroads and the trolley lines. The war in Europe will cut off the usual rush for that continent. The experience of tourists who were marooned last spring and summer was enough to stop the tide of European touring. The result will be that the people who have been accustomed to take annual trips across the Atlantic will be forced to seek pleasure in other directions. An opportunity will be afforded for many of them to visit those sections of our own country that offer attractions in no other respect inferior to those in other lands. The scenic beauties of our northwestern mountain regions are not excelled by anything in nature to be found anywhere else in the world. The Middle West, the South and the Pacific coast, and the Panama canal and the islands in the Caribbean, not to mention the South American republics, all call to the tourists to come and enjoy themselves. Vast sums of money that are usually emptied into European coffers will this year go to enrich American landlords and American lines of transportation. Our people will learn much about their own country that they can only acquire by travel and observation, and much good will result. New England with her well known and popular seashore and mountain resorts will interest many tourists.—Lynn Item.

ARMY OF UNEMPLOYED.

There are 562,070 unemployed in New York, 60,000 of whom are homeless and practically destitute; and of the whole lot, about 125,000 are women presumably women ordinarily working. That is the report of the investigator of the Public Forum of the Church of the Ascension. How accurate his figures are we do not know, but they are probably near enough the correct state of things to be regarded as reliable. It is just one more item of news in the great array of public distress. It accentuates the pressing need for providing some sort of employment out of the ordinary—it must be done and done at once. These men and women must live. Which shall it be—doling out plates of soup or alms, or providing them with work which will protect their self-respect—and give to the public a return in visible fruits of their labor? It is no time for long discussion, but one for constructive action.:—Framingham News.

NATURALIZATION.

The war in Europe, which is drafting millions of fighting men from all the countries affected, is also the direct cause of a great volume of naturalization of aliens in this country. This is illustrated nn the small city of Salem, where, on one day within the week just past 124 men applied for issuance of first papers for naturalization. The quota from the countries named was as follows: Great Britain and her provinces 61; Russia 25; Sweden, 10; Italy 10; Germany 3; Portugal 4; Austria 3; Norway 2; Turkey 2; Greece 3; Holland 1.—Framingham News.

CAN YOU BEAT THIS?

I didn't think that a young man could get cold feet after spending the evening with his lady love, but find I was mistaken when I heard the story this week about a youthful swain from this town who goes calling on a certain young lady on a certain car line where there is no heated waiting rooms and the young lady's father, I understand, has donated the use of an oil heater in one of these temporary waiting rooms to keep the young man's tootsies warm till the car comes along to convey him to his domicile. Verily, these are the days for courting.—Rockland Standard.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Many and varied are the methods employed to induce people to go to church, but the latest and most novel expedient is reported from New York, where it is said that the leading exponents of modern terpsichorean art have been engaged to dance in the vestibule of a prominent church in order to attract a congregation.—Milford Gazette.

LARGE ELM TREE FALLS.

The weight of the snow and ice on a large elm tree in the yard of Mrs McCann, corner Copeland and Buckley streets, caused it to topple over The tree landed within three feet o the house and if it had hit the house would have done considerable damage to the same.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

Coming Attractions

IN response to a growing demand for Feature Photo Plays, the management is pleased to announce that at this theatre will be shown a series of Photo Plays representing the most costly productions that have ever been produced. Among the attractions already booked are the following :

THE THIEF by Charles Frohman
featuring Dorothy Donnelly
LIFE'S SHOP WINDOW by Victoria Cross
Claire Whitney and Stuart Holmes
SAMSON by Charles Frohman
with William Farnum
A FOOL THERE WAS by Robert Hilliard
with Edward Jose and Theda Bara
THE IDLER by Daniel Frohman
with Charles Richman
CHILDREN OF GHETTO by Liebler & Co.
with Wilton Lackaye
THE GIRL I LEFT BEHIND by Frohman
with Robert Edeson
THE GILDED FOOL by Nat Goodwin
with William Farnum
THE BUTTERFLY ON THE WHEEL by Shuberts
with Claire Whitney

These Photo Plays will be shown Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each Week—one of the above features each week in addition to our regular vaudeville.

Regular Prices.

ELECT NICOLL FOR 20th TIME

The managers of public burial places, appointed by Mayor Campbell in charge of Mt. Wollaston cemetery, organized Monday evening and elected James Nicoll, superintendent for the 20th time. The erection of a new fence, to extend from Coddington to Greenleaf streets, was discussed and it is probable that they will recommend such an addition. Thomas Bishop accepted the chairmanship when his associates agreed that he could retire in favor of Albert W. Fay when the latter recovered from his present illness. John Cudworth was reelected secretary.

Ellen Murphy, wife of Arthur Murphy, is critically ill at her home on Farrington street. Mrs. Murphy is a popular resident of Wollaston and has a host of friends throughout the city.

FIFTY DOLLARS ALREADY DONATED

Aranaldo Di Nicola, president of Loggia Quincy, Figli d' Italia, and one of the most active merchants of the city, is treasurer of a fund being subscribed by his fellow countrymen living in the vicinity of Canal street to aid the earthquake sufferers and although the fund was started but a few days ago over $50 has been donated.

The amounts range from 35 cents to $2.00 but the treasurer says it is only a part of what is to be given. He feels that within a week the total will have been trebled.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Piles Cured in 6 to 14 Days
Druggists refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. First application gives relief. 50c.

ABOVE ALL OTHERS

are our bread and cakes. They're way ahead of any others. Perfectly brown and crisp, baked to a perfect turn without a burn. The highest around here because it measures up to the best that mother ever made. Won't you give us a trial Madam. But

LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN

1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.
MADE IN QUINCY, U. S. A.

If about to build or repair, specify
NEPONSET SHINGLES
Durable, Artistic and Fireproof, nothing better.
Surely call or write for samples.
See them and be convinced.
GROSSMAN'S BUILDING SUPPLY HOUSE
"The House of Quality"
37 Federal Ave. Tel. 979-R Quincy Quincy Adams, Mass.

Build Now! Plan Now!
To the prospective home builders of Quincy that Quincy may share in the general betterments that will accrue to every one who takes advantage of the Build Now opportunities we propose the following inducement which we are sure the material men and all labor will generously follow. For a limited time we will blueprint any of our plans of flats at a reduction from the regular price. We will also estimate all building work at Build Now prices and can save you some money if you'd dare take a chance.
How many Real Boosters in Quincy?
J. W. PRATT Architect and Builder
18 FAXON AVE, from City Sq. Tel 581-W

SLEET STORM LASHES CITY

Howling Gale Does Damage During Night

Quincy all night was in the grip of the worst sleet storm in years. Traffic was crippled, plows on railroads were out, the mercury dropped to 20, the wind blew hard and the weather man says no let up is in sight, although the weather is moderating.

The storm broke out early Monday evening and towards midnight increased to a gale which swept the city at 55 miles an hour. Limbs of trees were torn off and in their fall carried down electric wires, the police signal circuit in Wollaston was put out of commission, the fire alarm system was affected slightly and telephone service was somewhat impaired.

At Scammell and South streets, the cluster light which extends over the middle of the thoroughfare was discovered burning a few feet above the ground and an investigation showed that the wind had torn the weight on the end of the wire from its fastenings and released the light. The light was replaced shortly after Sergt. Larkin reported the matter to the Quincy Electric Light and Power Co.

The street railway company although it started operations soon after the first flakes fell, worked under difficulties. The high wind drove the sleet into the switches and caused them to freeze. The task of keeping them clear was allotted to a score of extra men who found it more of a burden than a pleasure. Another group of extra men manned the plows and worked until noon today. The early service was much delayed but normal conditions will probably be brought about by this evening.

A tree in front of Bethany church Chestnut street was twisted and tossed so badly that one of its heavy fest limbs had to be removed this morning by Andrew Forest Stewart city forester.

CITY OFFICIALS ATTEND HEARING

Mayor Campbell, City Solicitor Pinkham and City Engineer Sargent attended two hearings Monday before the committee on Metropolitan Affairs at the state house. One of the bills called for an appropriation of $50,000 to complete the boulevard between Wollaston beach and Hancock street and the other called for an appropriation of $3500 to build a bridge over Sachem brook at its junction with the Wollaston boulevard. All three spoke on both bills and at the conclusion of the hearings Mayor Campbell invited the committee to visit Quincy and look over the route of the boulevard and look over the proposed route of the boulevard. It was intimated that the committee would accept the invitation.

REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting of the Quincy Day Nursery association was held Monday at the Women's club house. The main business of the afternoon was an informal discussion on the dance to be held Feb. 13, and the advisability of building a playroom for the children on the grounds of the day nursery. No definite action was taken on the project however.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—try it with a bowl of milk and blueberries. All grocers.

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
Room 8, Curtin & Merrill Block, Quincy
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448-4. Haymarket 2410
Oct. 2d

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1660 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con.

SEVERAL TRIPLE IN F. R. LEAGUE

FORE RIVER LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	Pctg.
Machine Gallery	68	12	.850
Yard	59	17	.777
Electricians	47	29	.618
N. Dept.	43	29	.597
D. Dept.	42	38	.525
Shipfitters	41	35	.511
Ex-Apprentices	32	40	.444
Treas. Office	22	30	.423
Blacksmiths	32	44	.421
U. S. N.	27	45	.375
Machine Floor	29	51	362
Purchasing Agents	13	59	.186

High single, Olindy 153.

High team single, Yard 506.

High three strings, Olindy 360.

High team total, Machine Gallery 1442.

High averages, Smith 99, Tirrell 98, Olindy 98, Kateon 93, Ago 93, White 93, Djerf 92, Golden 92, Westland 92, Carlson 92, Smith 91, Mahoney 91, A. Smith 91, Dobos 91, Ryan 90, Malnati 90.

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

M. Gallery 4—Blacksmiths 0.
Yard 4—Shipfitters 0.
M. Floor 2—D. Dept. 2.

Smith's total of 329 featured the Fore River league bowling at the Coliseum Monday night. Several other men tripled. In Machine Callery increased its lead by four points and in doing so got a total of 1426.

M. GALLERY—4.

Djerf	112	104	86	302
Morgan	77	91	100	268
Moran	81	85	108	274
Carlson	86	92	96	274
Tirrell	98	106	104	308
	454	478	494	1426

B. DEPT.—0.

McClellan	84	90	84	258
Flanigan	78	79	74	231
Weil	78	102	112	292
Duff	72	84	79	235
White	106	83	89	278
	418	438	438	1294

Y. DEPT.—4.

Mahoney	85	81	92	258
Dummy	75	75	75	225
Golden	91	110	106	307
Mills	96	89	73	258
Smith	104	95	130	329
	451	450	476	1377

S. DEPT.—0.

A. Smith	76	90	101	267
Arbuckle	61	82	81	224
Mitchell	91	84	77	252
Levangie	75	88	82	245
H. Smith	85	103	82	270
	388	447	423	1258

M. FLOOR—2.

Ford	78	90	94	262
Mahoney	83	74	69	226
Cockett	95	88	107	290
Vose	82	79	91	252
Russell	84	73	84	241
	422	404	445	1271

D. DEPT.—2.

Lawton	74	74	89	237
Hamilton	90	109	105	304
Teasdale	78	84	77	239
Richardson	66	95	83	244
Kateon	94	94	82	270
	402	456	436	1294

Qualities of the Topaz.

The name of the precious stone inserted in the ring of Gyges has not been handed down to us, but it is probable that it was the topaz, whose wonders Philostrates recounts in the life of Apollonius. An attribute of the sun and of fire, the ancients called it the gold magnet, as it was credited with the power of attracting that metal, indicating its veins and discovering the treasures. Heliodorus in his story of Theagenes and Charicles says that the topaz saves from fire all those who wear it and that Charicles was preserved by a topaz from the fiery vengeance of Arsaces, queen of Ethiopia. This stone was one of the first talismans that Theagenes possessed in Egypt. The topaz at present symbolizes Christian virtues—faith, justice, temperance, gentleness, clemency.

Our Moral Codes.

Our moral codes were invented not to prepare men for heaven or for Utopia. They were invented by men who were none too good themselves to protect themselves from people who were not much worse. There are great differences in human beings as to the amount of knowledge and wisdom which they possess, but there is small difference in regard to the amount of goodness or rascality that they manifest.—Mowry Saben in Forum.

A Suffering Case.

"Those detectives have just arrested as osteopath as a felon."

"That must have been a painful duty."

"Why painful?"

"Didn't it give them a bone felon on their hands?"—Baltimore American.

ASSAULTS HIS COOK

King's Champion Compelled to Pay Fine In London Court

London, Feb. 2.—Frank S. Dymoke, the king's champion, whose duty it is at a coronation to ride, clad in resplendent armor, into the coronation banquet hall, dismount from his charger, fling down his gauntlet and challenge to mortal combat any one who should deny the king's right to the throne, was fined 20 shillings for assaulting his cook.

According to the testimony given in the police court the champion came home after stopping into four different bars on the way, and found his wife in an altercation with the cook, who had been discharged.

Marion Noel, the cook, testified that the champion caught her by the throat, but was routed by an umbrella that she wielded with good effect.

The champion denied the allegations and also denied that the visit to the four bars had put him in a challenging mood. But the adverse testimony of the cook and an ostler caused the magistrate to inflict a fine for common assault.

KILLS THREE AND SELF

Real Estate Operator Uses Rifle Equipped With Maxim Silencer

New York, Feb. 2.—Investigation of the slaying of his wife and two daughters by Herman Auerbach shows that Auerbach, who afterwards killed himself, used a rifle equipped with a Maxim silencer. There is every evidence the crime had been planned for several days.

The coroner expressed the belief that Auerbach's despondency was due to recent depreciation in value of mortgages and securities which he held. Until a few years ago Auerbach had been a member of a candy firm in this city, from which he withdrew to devote his attention to real estate. A few months ago, it is said, his property was valued at nearly $1,000,000.

CAN INDICT WOMAN AS CO-CONSPIRATOR

Supreme Court Interpretation of White Slave Law

Washington, Feb. 2.—The federal white slave law was interpreted by the supreme court as authorizing the indictment of a woman, transported in violation of the law, as a co-conspirator with the person who caused her to be transported.

Justice Holmes, announcing the court's opinion, intimated that a woman could be indicted also if she engaged in a conspiracy to have herself transported with a view to blackmail. Justice Lamar rendered a dissenting opinion in which Justice Day concurred.

Supreme court lawyers, skilled in the administration of the act, were of the opinion that the decision would have the effect of making prosecutions very difficult.

TO REOPEN CARMAN CASE

District Attorney Decides to Again Place Woman on Trial

Mineola, L. I., Feb. 2.—Mrs. Florence Carman will be tried a second time on a charge of murdering Mrs. Louise Bailey, who was shot to death in Dr. Carman's office at Freeport, L. I., June 30.

This became known here when District Attorney Smith had a conference with the husband of the murdered woman. Mrs. Carman probably will face a jury again in May.

TO PAY TOTAL OF $15,000

Canada Will Settle For Killing and Wounding Duck Hunters

Washington, Feb. 2.—Under an agreement reached last night, the Canadian government will settle claims growing out of the recent shooting of two American duck hunters by Canadian militiamen, by paying $10,000 to the parents of Walter Smith, who was killed.

It was also agreed to pay $5000 to Charles Dorsch, who was wounded, in addition to all legal expenses.

Wilson Wants Two Battleships

Washington, Feb. 2.—President Wilson stood pat for a two battleship program this year. He told Chairman Tillman of the senate naval committee he believed public opinion demands that this plan be maintained.

New Head of Worcester Bank

Worcester, Mass., Feb. 2.—John E. White was elected president of the Worcester National bank, succeeding Alfred E. Aiken, who resigned to become governor of the federal reserve bank in Boston.

Work For Eight Thousand

Pittsburg, Feb. 2.—Eight thousand men returned to work at the Homestead works of the Carnegie Steel company. The plant resumed operations almost in full.

"Jim Crow" Law Favored

Washington, Feb. 2.—A "Jim Crow" car bill to cover public conveyances in the capital was reported to the house by a committee with recommendations that it be passed.

Real Winter In Middle West

Chicago, Feb. 2.—Chicago and most of the middle west and northwest is stormbound. Still lower temperatures and more rain and snow are predicted.

SOUTHERN RESORT CLOTHES.

Summer Models in Sporting Toggery —Thin Dresses—Wraps and Fixings.

The fashionable shops on and near Fifth avenue have been doing a rushing business in Summer clothes for wear at Palm Beach and other smart Southern resorts, where people who habitually flit to warmer climates are installed in increasing numbers, since conditions abroad make European resorts impossible.

ADVANCE MODELS.

From selections made by these smart flitters, it is now easy to predict the trend of fashion, so that costly mistakes in early planning can be avoided. Sport skirts of corduroy remain favorites for golf wear, skating and tobogganing, with certain tan and putty shades first favorites for use at the North, and white and lighter tints where tropical temperatures prevail. The smartest cuts in these heavy cords are gored at the side seams to fit snugly over the hip, and have quite a bit of fullness under the strapped belt at the back. The belt ends in yoke pieces at either side of the front closing. The buttons used down the front and on the yoke are covered with the cord.

BEACH CLOTH AND RATINE.

Beach cloth makes a lighter skirt that has been enthusiastically received. This is cut in full circular style close at the top and very full at the hem, and is smartened by patch pockets at either side of the front, and by a high short turn-over belt at the back caught by smoked pearl buttons after the manner familiar in the childrens' Dickens suits. Ratine skirts in plaids and blocks are very similar in cut and finish, and blouses of wash silks, crepes and organdies to wear with these are constructed on decidedly tailorish lines, with little in the way of trimming except the hemstitching of revers and collar.

A NEW IDEAL.

A very new blouse developed in linen and voile can be worn either fastened at the top with the high turn-over collar held by a velvet band, or open in high pointed neck the revers having touches of embroidery.

6318
6285
McCall Designs

SPORT COATS.

A much fuller sport coat nearly circular in cut, has succeeded the Balmacaan that was killed by too great popularity. The sleeves of the new coat set in to a slightly dropped shoulder and it is guiltless of any ornament in the way of belt or even patch pockets.

For the warm stylish coat needed for travelling and automobile wear there are no end of desirable models to be found. The best styles and values can be had at January figures, even in the most exclusive places. At C. C. Shayne & Co's I saw a number of beautiful coats in the "Auto Section" and in nearly every case there were fur robes to match the coats, such matching being rather faddish this season.

FASHIONABLE OUTLINES.

Slouchy, "natural" outlines—so called—are taboo with present modes the loosest high waisted model depending quite as much upon the neatness of the underlying figure as the most primly fitted Godey's Lady Book styles, which are revived in such picturesque variety. This is fortunate as most people will wear garments of both sorts, over practically the same foundation.

AN INNOVATION

In one of the most exclusive shops on Fifth avenue I saw a little gown that had several novel and attractive points of interest to the woman who likes to get her wardrobe ready in advance. Built of fine white cotton crepe, this was embroidered in a graceful braiding pattern with a mixture of small jet and porcelain beads. The waist evidently suggested by an Early Victorian fichu, ended in two points in front and one in the back which fell over the skirt about six inches below the belt line. A girdle of black velvet ribbon, run through buttonholed slits held these points in position and the bead embroideries made them very attractive.

Lucy Carter.

New York, Jan. 25, 1915.

THOSE WHO HAVE READ IT
SAY
IT'S GREAT
You'll Say The Same
When You Read It

THE EXPLOITS OF ELAINE

The Most Sensational Motion Picture
Serial Ever Written

START READING IT
NOW
THEN SEE THE PLAY AT THE
KINCAIDE THEATRE

CHURCH AND CHOIR

SPIRITUALIST.

The meeting at 7.30 P. M. opened with song service, Bible reading and prayer. Mrs. Mabel Page, president of the Swampscott Society, presided and gave an interesting talk on the working of spirit control. She also gave many well received and acknowledged messages. E. Milton gave 2 recitations which greatly pleased the audience. Mrs. S. V. Odiorne gave good and acknowledged messages.

Tuesday at 3.00 and7.30 P. M. circle meeting at 8 Mechanic street. Mrs. Odiorne will give messages, Thursday at 8.00. Developing class open to all interested. Wednesday at 8.00 P. M. a meeting will be held to form a society. All interested invited to attend.

WOLLASTON M. E.

Rev. George M. Bailey of the Wollaston Methodist Episcopal Church took as his theme for the Sunday morning service "The Note of Song in the Night of Darkness." The text was a part of the eleventh chapter of first Corinthians, verse twenty-three; "The Lord Jesus the same night in which he was betrayed took bread." In this letter written by the Apostle Paul to the church in Corinth he makes reference to some of the things done by the Lord Jesus on the same night in which he was betrayed. Certain events make some occasions unforgetable. This is one of these occasions.

Let us lay stress upon some of the features of this "same night," for upon this night as upon no other that crushed flower yielded its sweetest odors. We find if we consider carefully that our suffering days are our birthdays and therefore our resurrection days. Otherwise they become our burial days. It is as we use these days that they return unto us. It seems as though betrayal and night naturally go together, sorrow and gloom are usually companions, failure and heartbreak are closely linked.

Was the Lord Jesus overwhelmed, and overcome on this "same night"? By no means. At this time he was thinking not of self but of his church. He was not only not overcome but he was victorious. His was the only noble, quiet heart in the gathering gloom of that hour. His it was to die, to rise, to reign.

The quartet sang "Oh for the Pearly Gates of Heaven." Miss Lovell's solo in the quartet selection was well rendered. Miss Marguerite Louise Holbrook sang "Dear Shepherd of the fold."

Mervyn J. Bailey led the Epworth League service. The theme was "Evenings With Great Hymns." He pointed out the difference between the old hymns of the church and the present day productions.

Miss Margaret Ruggles of the Liederhein School of Muise, Auburndale, sang a solo at the evening service. She also played a cello solo.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS —STATE HOUSE, BOSTON, FEB. 1, 1915. The committee on Harbors and Public Lands will give a hearing to parties interested in H. 517, on rebuilding Stony Beach breakwater, Hull:—at Room 437, State House, Friday, Feb. 5th, at 10.30 A. M. L. F. K. Langeller, Chairman. Horace F. Field, Clerk of the Committee. 2-2t

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS —STATE HOUSE, BOSTON, FEB. 1, 1915. The committee on Water Supply will give a hearing to parties interested in S. 107, for State Commission on water supply sources, etc., at Room 445, State House, on Friday, Feb. 5th, at 10.30 A. M. George H. Jackson, Chairman. Edgar H. Hall, Clerk of the Committee. 2-2t

W. R. LOFGREN
Carpenter and Builder
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 398-3
June 2-tf

G. A. R. PARTICIPATE.

Services Held For Mrs. Sarah J. Auderson of Braintree.

Funeral services were held Saturday for Mrs. Sarah J. Anderson of Taylor street Braintree, at the South Congregational church of that town. Rev. Tyler E. Gale, pastor of the church, conducted the services. Burial was at Uxbridge.

Mrs. Anderson was the wife of Charles G. Anderson of Gen Sylvanus Thayer Post, G. A. R., and was a member of the Woman's Relief Corps, in which she had served as treasurer for 25 years. Two years ago failing health compelled her to relinquish her duties.

Mrs. Anderson had been continually helping in the cause of the Grand Army as well as that of her own organization. For that reason Gen. Thayer Post, with full ranks, drooped flags and muffled drums, attended the services in the church. The members of the Woman's Relief Corps also attended.

NO MODERN DANCES.

Div. 5, A. O. H., Plan For Old Fashioned Square Dances.

Div. 5, A. O. H., are planning amateur theatricals to be followed by a dance in the near future. Arrangements are being made for jig and reel dances for prizes and the old square dancing with a one man fiddler. The latter will be held in Quincy Adams hall. The committee is John Donahue, James McArdle, James Scanlon, James Doherty, Timothy Sullivan and Daniel Ahearn.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is liked by the most discriminating people. Grocers sell it.

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS— Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

BRAINTREE WOMEN BOWL.

Team three won eight points out of twelve in the Cochato ladies' Boston pin tournament Monday evening. Mrs. Wilder made the best single and total. The scores were as follows:

TEAM ONE.

Mrs. Andrews	76	83	74	233
Mrs. Wetherbee	88	76	71	235
Mrs. Patten	67	64	63	194
Mrs. Olin	75	90	76	241
Miss Crocker	70	67	64	201
Mrs. Hollis	43	70	53	166
	419	450	401	1270

TEAM TWO.

Mrs. Keating	94	91	81	266
Miss Abercrombie	75	86	70	231
Mrs. Woodsum	62	68	68	198
Mrs. Clapp	64	64	64	192
Miss M. Kneeland	56	39	64	159
Miss Rogers	69	65	66	190
	410	413	413	1236

TEAM THREE.

Mrs. Connell	87	89	75	251
Mrs. Wilder	87	86	97	270
Miss Perry	75	87	75	237
Miss Hatchard	79	73	80	232
Mrs. Lawley	70	71	79	220
Mrs. Prescott	76	70	62	208
	474	476	468	1418

PLAN TO HOLD TOURNAMENTS

James Griffin and Frank Morrill were admitted to membership in the St. Mary's C. T. A. & M. R. society at a meeting held Monday evening in the society hall. Plans were made to hold tournaments between different societies in the section during the coming Lenten season. It is expected that at the next meeting of the society dates will be arranged and team captains elected to have charge of the tournaments.

PLAN VALENTINE PARTY.

St. Marguret's Guild of Christ church has completed arrangements for the annual Valentine party to be given at the parish house on the evening of Feb. 9.

The decorations, which will be one of the features have been made by the members at weekly meetings and all will meet the night before to transform the hall interior into a Cupid's den.

The program will include an entertainment in which all will participate games of the season and dancing. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

FOR SALE

House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $2,300—Straight Loan of $2,000.

EDMUND C. HAYDEN
Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing
HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.
120 Tremont St., Boston.
Oct. 8 tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

CITY BOWLING CHAMPIONSHIP

W. Dobos, Who Takes First, and Eleven Others Reach Semifinals

TWELVE ARE ELIMINATED

Twelve men were eliminated in the trials for the city bowling championship and the silver trophy at Wardwells Monday evening. It was a case of the survival of the fittest from the very first and those who qualified for the semi-finals tonight include beyond question some of the best in Quincy.

W. Dobos and George White, two members of the Fore River league finished in first and second place while C. H. Baker and H. Jenner of the Wollaston Tennis Club League took third and fourth place. Olindy was fifth and Dell sixth, but neither exerted themselves it seemed after they felt certain they would remain on the firing line.

McPherson of the West Quincy league went by in ninth place and J. Kelly, G. Wl Brown and Walfred Nordquist, three unattached rollers, filled the remaining three places.

An enthusiastic band of fans thronged the gallery but there was no cheering, no applause, only a word of encouragement here and there. All respected the rights of the bowlers to devote their entire efforts to the task in hand. More than one good break was lost because Referee Bing spotted men going over the foul line. This necessitated a resetting of the pins. The men in the pits were only called on a few times to decide on whether the deadwood would remain but in all cases the decisions worked to the advantage of the bowlers. Official Scorer George Westland had perhaps the easiest time because his duties called only for an audit of the sheets.

J. Bugbee of Norfolk Downs got high single of the evening, his string of 120 coming in the fourth. Jenner of the Wollaston Tennis had 118, second high single.

Several of the men who had qualified arrived too late to take the mark with the bunch and several others who had qualified but were not in the 24 eligible had an opportunity to fill the vacancy. Among those left in the cold was Walsh, the West Quincy bowler, who with McPherson as a partner, rolled Dell and Olindy a week ago.

The men who qualified for the semifinals:

W. Dobos	92	108	107	112	109	528
G. White	104	116	105	86	105	516
C. H. Baker	90	113	110	95	100	508
H. Jenner	88	107	107	79	118	499
J. Olindy	105	108	107	105	71	496
J. Dell	90	105	100	102	98	495
J. Bugbee	105	78	83	120	98	484
G. Erickson	99	88	88	104	89	468
F. McPherson	85	99	97	86	96	463
J. Kelly	83	84	87	94	115	463
G. W. Brown	99	84	99	98	82	462
W. Nordquist	88	88	86	87	111	460

The totals of those eliminated:

A. D. Martin	447	W. B. Donovan	430
J. Sweeney	433	I. L. Litchfield	448
H. Ellison	417	B. Lemieux	432
J. Harling	411	J. Jepson	442
J. Smollett	414	A. Taylor	372
J. Pinel	454	L. Harkins	436

MATCHES BRING NEW RECORDS

Keen Interest in Fight in K. of C. League

K. OF C. LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost
Capt. R. Sullivan	16	4
Capt. P. Avery	14	6
Capt. T. Fallon	9	11
Capt. Coyle	8	12
Capt. Cantfill	7	13
Capt. F. Avery	6	14

High single, R. Sullivan 130.
High total, R. Sullivan 333.
Team single, Capt. Cantfill 478.
Team total, Capt. R. Sullivan 1362.

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

Capt. Sullivan 3—Capt. Cantfill. 1
Capt. P. Avery 2—Capt. F Avery 2
Capt. Fallon 3—Capt. Coyle 1.

Four new records were made in the weekly matches of Quincy council, Knights of Columbus league, at Wardwell's Monday evening to the accompaniment of a lusty band of rooters and tooters who filled the gallery.

Capt. Russell Sullivan broke the single string record of 122, held by Paul Avery. His total was 333, likewise a new record. The total of his team, 1362, was considerably more than the mark set in the third rolloffs. Capt. James Cantfill's five contributed a team single of 478 which puts that mark on ice until another vigorous quintette shelves it.

From the outset, the rolloffs developed into a keen but exciting contest between Russell Sullivan and Timothy Ford, the latter of the Capt. Thomas Fallon's aggregation. Both are friendly rivals of the intense nature and in the third string interest centered around both bowlers.

Sullivan opened with 130 against 108 for Ford. Sullivan then got a century while Ford jumped to 110. The former got 103 in his last and Ford 107. Eight pins separated them in the total.

Both went into the eighth box of the last string tied for total. Two poor breaks gave Ford but 12 pins in his finals while Capt. Sullivan secured a perfect three quarters hits each time and took the record.

CAPT. SULLIVAN.

Powers	90	90	71	251
Myatt	83	86	89	258
Mahon	75	86	101	262
Driscoll	80	88	90	258
R. Sullivan	130	100	103	333
	458	450	454	1362

CAPT. CANTFILL.

Brown	95	77	84	256
McDermott	111	79	81	271
Heaney	84	89	92	265
McGrath	84	77	89	250
Cantfill	104	83	88	275
	478	405	434	1317

CAPT. F. AVERY.

Burns	105	75	85	265
Driscoll	85	103	86	274
Fallon	86	73	75	234
Welch	96	83	93	272
Avery	76	85	97	258
	448	419	436	1303

CAPT. P. AVERY

Murphy	112	90	83	285
Brown	77	76	51	204
Lavelle	81	92	96	269
Walsh	81	67	80	228
Avery	107	97	93	297
	458	422	413	1293

CAPT. FALLON.

Mahon	85	71	98	254
Cain	85	89	74	248
Flaherty	64	89	96	249
Ford	108	110	107	325
Fallon	82	90	73	245
	424	449	448	1301

CAPT. COYLE

Hogan	84	97	74	255
Sullivan	85	78	99	262
Thompson	83	75	91	249
Magee	74	71	74	219
Coyle	100	90	91	281
	426	411	429	1266

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
Telephone 1153-M Quincy
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy F27

MUIRHEAD—RAITHBURN.

John Muirhead of Scammell street Quincy and Sarah Raithburn of Everett, were married at Everett on Jan. 31. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Quint. The groom is a wheelwright and has lived in this city for some time.

ALL EXECUTED BY SANTIBANEZ

Jesus Carranza, Son and Staff, Victims of Vengeance

HELD PRISONERS FOR A WHILE

First Chief, Brother of Slain General, Failed to Cease Operations as Demanded by Zapata General—Family of Slayer In Vera Cruz, Where They May Be Massacred

Laredo, Tex., Feb. 2.—General Jesus Carranza, his son Abelardo, and Ignacio Peraldi, members of his staff, were executed by General Santibanez, former constitutionalist general who defected to Zapata, according to a telegram received by the widow of General Carranza, from the first chief at Vera Cruz.

Mrs. Jesus Carranza, a refugee here, in announcing the death of her husband, said that General Venustiano Carranza, the first chief of the Mexican constitutionalists, had telegraphed her that he would send troops to recover the body.

Jesus Carranza and his staff were taken prisoners recently near San Geronimo on the isthmus of Tehuantepec. Carranza's staff, according to reports, were executed immediately.

Jesus Carranza, his son Abelardo and Peraldi, a relative, were held prisoners for a time by Santibanez, who demanded as the price of their safety that Venustiano Carranza cease operations in that territory.

The father, mother, wife and other members of General Santibanez' family were recently reported captured in the state of Jalapa and sent to Vera Cruz, where constitutionalists said they would hold them pending disposition of Jesus Carranza.

New Movement Against Carranza

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 2.—A movement directed against the Carranza elements in Mexico has been launched by the Cientifico party, which supported the Diaz and the Huerta regimes, according to information received here. The new movement is said to have received the adherence of many former wealthy landowners.

WEDDING IS POSTPONED

Groom-to-Be Skips With Money Which Belonged to Sweetheart

New Bedford, Mass., Feb. 2.—The plans for the wedding of Miss Franczizek Galuse and Alexander Govertski were abruptly terminated when he ran away with a $1 banknote which had been given to him to secure the marriage license, as well as a pocketbook containing $30 which belonged to his prospective bride. The police were notified, and are trying to find the near-groom.

They planned that their marriage would take place next Sunday, and she gave him $1 to secure the license. He left the house, but came back through the rear door and took $30 which was in a pocketbook in the coat of the suit Miss Galuse was to wear on her wedding trip, the expense of which she was to stand.

ANCHORED TO OCEAN'S BED

Fate of Schooner Hailing From Boston When She Turned Over

Washington, Feb. 2.—When the schooner Frank E. Swain of Boston capsized seventy-five miles southeast of Cape Henry she anchored herself to the bottom of the sea, and will have to be blown up to clear the path of navigation.

This report was made to coastguard headquarters by Captain Uburroth of the cutter Seminole. It is not known here what became of her crew.

Uburroth reported the schooner's anchors were loose on deck when she turned over and they are now securely fastened on the bottom.

Women Must Tell Their Ages

Chicago, Feb. 2.—Women voters of Chicago must tell their ages when they register, according to a ruling by Judge Scully. They must answer the same questions, he ruled, that are required of the men.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

Mrs. Ella Van Tine of New York committed suicide by hanging at a Stamford, Conn., sanatorium.

The senate confirmed the nomination of William B. Mahoney as postmaster of Westfield, Mass.

Peter J. Nichols, 84, for a time general superintendent of the Union Pacific railroad, died at Indianapolis.

President Wilson appointed Thomas J. O'Connell as postmaster of Wakefield, Mass.

Almon Libby, 50, a farmer, committed suicide at Princeton, Me., by shooting. He was despondent on account of ill health.

Morris R. Earl has petitioned the Roselle, N. J., board of health for permission to conduct a skunk farm. His neighbors have protested.

Mrs. Lucy Allen, 90, who lived alone at Boston, was burned to death by the explosion of a kerosene lamp, which she dropped.

Mrs. Leander Pope, an 80-year-old recluse, was burned to death in bed at her home at Manchester, N. H.

James Rafferty was found dead from accidental asphyxiation in a boarding house at Pittsfield, Mass.

SENATOR WALSH.

Montana Man Who Warmly Supports Administration's Ship Purchase Bill In Speech.

Photo by American Press Association.

ALBERTSON JURY CHOSEN

Panel Is Secured After Fifty-Seven Men Have Been Examined

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 2.—After fifty-seven of a panel of 104 men had been examined, a jury was obtained to try the three men charged with complicity in the murder of Morris Albertson at Wakefield.

The jury went to Wakefield to view the scene of the tragedy. Those who are on trial are Bagio Falzone and Ignazio Marello, who are charged with murder, and Luigi Grassidonio, charged with being an accessory.

YOUNGSTER SEES PLAYMATES DROWN

Does Not Tell of It For Hours For Fear of Whipping

Newton, Mass., Feb. 2.—Seven-year-old Thomas Ewart saw William Edwards, also 7, and Ellen Edwards, 5, his playmates, drown in the Charles river, but, fearing a whipping for playing on the ice, he told no one of the tragedy for several hours.

The boy and girl who were drowned were the children of Harry L. Edwards, a coachman. Thomas is the son of John E. Ewart, overseer of the Newton almshouse.

No one but the Ewart boy saw the accident. A day away from school spent making bows and arrows, with an opportunity later to play Indian in the open, made the youngsters so enthusiastic in their play that they disobeyed the edict of their parents and went down to the river bank to play "real Indian" around the trees and bushes.

DEMURRER OVERRULED

Federal Court Upholds Indictment of Terre Haute Officials

Indianapolis, Feb. 2.—Judge Anderson, in the United States court for the Indiana district, overruled the demurrer of twenty-seven defendants to the indictment charging conspiracy to corrupt the Terre Haute elections. The jurisdiction of the court was attacked.

As a result of the ruling, 115 Terre Haute politicians must stand trial. Of these, eighty-three pleaded guilty and five not guilty. Mayor Roberts, Judge Redman and Sheriff Shea are prominent among those who will fight the case. With them are most of the Terre Haute official family.

The indictment was upheld in every particular. Following the decision the twenty-seven who demurred pleaded not guilty. The cases of the 115 defendants were set for trial March 8.

UNREST A GOOD THING

Labor Leader Mitchell Thinks Toilers Are Benefited by It

New York, Feb. 2.—John Mitchell, one of the foremost labor leaders in the United States, testified before the federal commission on industrial relations that industrial unrest is a good thing. Mitchell believes it shows ambition on the part of the toilers to better their conditions.

Mitchell sketched conditions in the coal fields to show that where the miners are strongly organized they get more money and better living conditions.

Three Killed by Train

Beaver Falls, Pa., Feb. 2.—Lintel Barstill and Giuseppe Farioli were killed when a train struck a sleigh they were riding in. Lorette Gentile, watchman at the crossing, lost his life in an effort to stop the horse.

"Why do we always speak of the silvery moon?" asked the boob.

"On account of its quarters and halves, I suppose," replied the cheerful idiot.—Cincinnati Inquirer.

SHIPPING BILL NOT PROTESTED

Diplomatic Question Not Necessarily Raised, Says Bryan

ISSUES FORMAL STATEMENT

Assumed That Administration Will Have Due Regard For Welfare of United States—Pandemonium in Senate When Nine Democrats Desert the Measure

Washington, Feb. 2.—Secretary Bryan formally denied that any government had protested against the bill pending in congress for the purchase of ships by the United States. Bryan issued this statement:

"No nation has protested against the passage of the shipping bill, and it is not likely that any nation will or would, since the bill does not necessarily raise any diplomatic question.

"It is not proper for the state department at this time to discuss the manner in which the authority conferred by the bill will or should be exercised. We assume that the authority conferred upon the president and those who will be associated with him in the matter will be exercised properly and with a due regard to the nation's welfare."

In administration sources close to President Wilson, it was reiterated that it is not the intention of the administration to buy vessels under the shipping bill which will cause friction with belligerents in Europe.

President Wilson and Bryan have taken the attitude that the administration could be trusted not to do anything to involve the United States in international trouble. Friends of the president stated that it could be taken for granted that no ships of belligerents would be bought unless satisfactory arrangements were made.

The senate resumed consideration of the government ship purchase bill, refreshed by a recess of thirty-four hours, anew. The Democratic leaders announced that the bill would be continuously kept before the senate. The Republicans declare they are ready to meet any plan of compaign the Democratic leaders may launch.

Although the Republicans assert that the Democratic leaders already are showing indications of weakening, the latter declare the fight will be pressed more vigorously this week than heretofore and that the opposition will be forced to talk continuously until the shipping bill reaches a vote. They declare that three or four days of continuous session will force a rollcall on the bill and that thereafter the measure will quickly be brought to final disposition.

Under the bill President Wilson would be authorized to purchase the ships, and officials, it is said, would view any protest or formal communication from a foreign government in advance of actual purchase as a reflection on the integrity of the president.

Without warning, in the senate late yesterday, nine Democrats joined an alliance with Republicans in an effort to send the government ship purchase bill back to the commerce committee.

The revolt, as unexpected as it was sudden, turned an administration advantage into a defensive position, which seems almost hopeless to many Democratic leaders.

Forced to fight for the life of the measure, the Democrats succeeded in adjourning the senate with the motion to recommit pending, and a party caucus was called for today.

Senator Clark of Arkansas, Democrat, and president pro tempore of the senate, revolutionized the situation which has held the senate in a deadlock for many days. He rose while Senator Smith of Michigan was concluding a long speech against the shipping bill, and asked him to yield for a motion.

The senator yielded, having learned of the nature of the motion to come, and Clark, introducing his remarks with an appeal for consideration of other legislation, moved to send the pending bill back to committee.

Such pandemonium as followed this development has not been witnessed in the senate in many years. Senators poured from the cloakrooms to the chamber like angry bees from a hive. Republicans, however, were the first on the scene.

Both sides seemed to be willing to declare a truce to take stock of the new situation, and when Senator Fletcher moved an adjournment until noon today, there was no opposition.

Sunday Gets Big "Dry" Vote Pledge

Philadelphia, Feb. 2.—Taking a vow that when they next get a chance to vote Philadelphia "dry" they will do it, 40,000 voters cheered "Billy" Sunday when he preached his famous "booze" sermon.

Divorces American Wife

London, Feb. 2.—Sir Horace G. P. Beauchamp was granted a divorce from his wife, daughter of H. M. Leavitt of New York, on statutory grounds. The action was not defended.

Court Clerk Kills Himself

Cincinnati, Feb. 2.—Frank Loveland, clerk of the United States circuit court of appeals, committed suicide by cutting his throat and wrists.

EATON WALDO
CELEBRATED
CLAIRVOYANT and PALMIST

Says no man or woman is born into this world whose work is not born with them. His extraordinary clairvoyant powers, combined with his superior knowledge of occult science and palmistry, enable him to read life with accuracy from infancy to old age. His powers are wonderful, indisputable; his advice reliable, his information clear, concise and to the point in love, courtship, marriage, sales, wills, journeys, investment, speculation, property, insurance, mortgages, etc.

Without Asking a Question.

Without any previous knowledge, and having no natural means of knowing who you are, whence or for what you came, he tells the truth, good or bad. He tells you names of friends and enemies—who is true and who is false. Tells whom and when you will marry, giving names, dates, facts and location, accepting no fee unless satisfaction is given.

Readings 50c, $1.00. Ladies.

Hours 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. 233 West Newton street, Boston.

Jan. 21-eod

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Levi H. Turner late of Quincy in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Emily T. Turner of said Quincy without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of February A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-seventh day of January A. D. 1915.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Jan. 29-Feb. 2-8

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the next of kin and all others interested in the estate of Joel Sargent late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, Theodore H. Tyndale the administrator of the estate of said deceased, has presented to said Court for allowance the first account of his administration on said estate and application has been made for a distribution of the balance in his hands among the next of kin of said deceased. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of February A. D. 1915 at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why said account should not be allowed and distribution made according to said application. And the petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court and by mailing postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixteenth day of January in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Jan. 19-25 Feb. 2

CONLIN SHOE REPAIRING

Men's Sewed Taps and Heels	75c
Men's Sewed Taps and Rubber heels	$1.00
Men's Nail Taps and Heels	65c
Men's Heels	20c
Ladies' Taps and Heels Sewed	65c
Ladies Taps and Rubber heels Sewed	85c
Ladies Heels	15c
Rubber Heels	40c and 50c
Skates Sharpened, New Process	15c
$4 Ralston Shoes for	1.50

Hancock and Saville Sts.
Tel. 961-M. Oct. 7-tf

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES.
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1896 W

LONDON THROWN INTO A PANIC

Receives Orders to Prepare For Raid by Zeppelins

DARKNESS QUICKLY FOLLOWS

Five German Airships Seen Near Dover Driven Away by Forts Before They Can Head For Metropolis—German Submarines Also Said to Have Been Fired Upon—Russia Said to Have Taken Twelve Thousand Austrians In Killed and Wounded—German Attack on British Repulsed With Heavy Loss

London, Feb. 2.—Another daring German raid upon the east coast of England, within sixty miles of London and evidently aimed at the latter city, in which it is believed both Zeppelins and submarines were used, was foiled last night by the vigilance of the forts at Dover

London was thrown into a panic early in the evening by the news that five hostile airships had been sighted over Dover headed towards the capital. Police orders were flashed all over the city at once to extinguish all outdoor electric lights and darken buildings so far as possible.

Blinds were whisked down in every section, the streets were darkened, and for more than two hours the British metropolis waited breathlessly, expecting at any moment to hear the droning of the ominous Zeppelin motors and the crash of exploding bombs.

The orders to prepare for an air raid had been quickly sent out from the war office, and the promptness with which the big city subsided into gloom showed the effect of war discipline upon the inhabitants.

Driven Back by Forts

Telephone messages from Dover shortly before midnight stated that the five hostile airships had been driven back over the straits by the fire of the forts, the invaders having been unable to continue their course towards London.

Whether any of the Zepeplins were damaged by the aerial guns could not be learned, communication with Dover being in an unsatisfactory state.

Later it was learned that while searchlights swept the waters the Dover forts had also fired upon German submarines, which were sighted in the waters of the straits of Dover much above the same time that the Zeppelins were hovering overhead.

It is presumed that these were part of the submarine squadron that has been attacking merchantmen in the channel, and that they were heading for the mouth of the Thames to add to the destruction expected to be wrought by the bomb-droppers.

Inquiry at Harwich, Yarmouth, Cromer and other coast towns nearest the German Zeppelin base at Zeebrugge brought replies that no air raiders had been seen.

Reported Reverse For Austrians

By way of Geneva comes a report, as yet unconfirmed, that the Austrians have been lured into a trap by the Russians south of Tarnow, sixty miles east of Cracow, in Galicia, and defeated with the loss of 12,000 men in killed, wounded and prisoners. No mention of desperate fighting in the vicinity of Tarnow is made in any of the day's official reports, and the news is hardly credited.

In other sections of the eastern field there seems to be a lull in activities, although the continuous attacks by the Germans at the little town of Borjimow, west of Warsaw, gives Petrograd the impression that Field Marshal von Hindenberg has not yet given up his drive at the ancient Polish capital.

In the Carpathians, where the next serious fighting is expected, there have been no important developments, although the Vienna official communication claims a Russian defeat on the frontier.

The Russian general staff reports that the positions of the Russian forces are secure on the Carpathian front from Mt. Dukla to Mt. Wyszkow. An official statement issued in Berlin admits that the Austro-German forces have been thrown back in an attack in the Uzsok pass. The conflict all along the Hungarian border has grown into a general engagement, with large numbers participating on both sides.

British Repulse German Attack

In the west the most notable feature continues to be the desperate attacks of the Germans along the La Bassee canal, where last week they first took and then lost British trenches. Monday the British troops again distinguished themselves in this bitterly contested field.

The Germans attacked in force, advancing against the British regiments entrenched north of the high road-between Bethune and La Bassee. For many weeks the Germans have struggled to capture this road, and from time to time have taken certain lines of trenches from which they have been almost immediately evicted. Monday they delivered one of the most violent attacks of the winter, but were driven back, leaving many dead and wounded on the field.

French troops gained honorable mention by the general staff as the result of operations north of Albert and in the wood of La Grurie in the Argonne. In the former region they detected a surprise movement by German infantry and poured such a heavy fire upon the attackers that the Germans fled back to their lines, abandoning a quantity of explosives with which they had intended to blow up the French trenches.

In the wood of La Grarie the Germans attempted to carry on their offensive operations aimed at the fortress of Verdun, but were beaten back. Only at one point, near Bagatelle, were the French obliged to give way.

A slackening of operations between the Meuse and the Moselle and in Alsace is due, probably, to heavy snowfalls, which are mentioned in the government reports. The French maintain their positions in the loop around St. Mihiel and north of Pont-a-Mousson, on the Lorraine frontier, and hold their advanced lines at Hartmanswelier kopf and Cornay, in Alsace, while awaiting favorable weather.

CAPTIVE TURKOS.

Prisoners Taken at Dixmude by Germans.

Photo by American Press Association.

GERMANY'S RAID ON SHIPS

Merchant Navigation Must Reckon With Submarine Dangers

The German newspapers comment extensively on the German submarine raid in British waters.

"We hope that the commercial war now taken up by German submarines in British home waters," says The Tages Zeitung, "will strike at the root of the British transoceanic trade."

Captain Persius, the naval expert of the Berliner Tageblatt, has this to say of the event in his paper:

"Especially remarkable is the theatre of new action. Hitherto the most advanced point where our submarines displayed activity was in the westerly outlet of the channel, but henceforth the English merchant navigation will have to reckon with other German submarine dangers, which it can only avoid when it stops traffic."

FOOD PRICES SOARING

British People Paying Fifty Percent More For Their Bread

While English newspapers continue to feature every article, authoritative or otherwise, tending to show that Germany is suffering from food shortages, the abrupt increase in food prices in Great Britain refuses longer to be concealed, and the labor element threatens to bring the matter before parliament.

Bread has increased 50 percent in price to the consumer. The effect of this on the poor is drastic. All agencies concerned are seeking to pass the blame to someone else.

Ship owners shrug their shoulders when asked about increased freight charges. "The supply of ships is not equal to the demand," they say—and dismiss the subject.

BOUND TO GET COPPER

Germans Will Melt Monuments and Church Cupolis If Necessary

"So far as copper is concerned, by making use of all the bronze monuments and the copper cupolas of the churches, and collecting all the copper we have used for other purposes in the last few years, Germany will be able to hold out for thirty years more.

Thus spoke Dr. Schuster, secretary of the German Iron Founders' union, at the annual meeting of the union in Duesseldorf. Schuster is reported as having added:

"If necessary in the conquered parts of Belgium and France, we shall seize everything made of copper."

HAILED AS GOOD OMEN

Alsatian Stork Alights on Staute of Liberty in Paris

A great crowd assembled in the Place de la Bastile, Paris, to watch an Alsatian stork, which had alighted on the wings of the statue of Liberty on the top of the July column, erected in honor of the heroes of the revolution of July, 1830.

The fact that an Alsatian bird had taken refuge in Paris was declared by some of the spectators to be a good augury.

EXPLORE CAVES IN CANAL ZONE

Unique Experience of Natural History Museum Collectors.

MONKEYS AS FORECASTERS.

Animals Howl Loudest and Most Often Before Storm—Volume of Sound Suggests Roar of Lions—There Are Countless Bats, Strong, Muscular and Always Ready to Bite.

H. E. Anthony and George Shiras 3d have returned to New York from a trip to the Panama canal zone, where they went to obtain flashlight photographs and specimens of animal life. The trip was made in apprehension that faunal conditions would undergo abrupt changes with the damming of Gatun lake and the consequent extension of the inland water areas. Although canal completion has converted expanses that were nearly all marsh, except at the height of the rainy season, into a lake of 164 square miles area and from sixty to eighty feet deep in many places, the visitors were in time to find many primitive faunal conditions. Mr. Anthony, who went as collector for the Museum of Natural History, reports the trip in the current issue of the Museum Journal.

Adventures began with "black howlers," the largest of the Panaman monkeys, whose booming and roaring calls carry long distances through the tangled wilds. These animals howl loudest and most often before a storm, and thus the natives regard them as weather prophets. Mr. Anthony says he came upon a troop of the monkeys while the first drops of a sudden shower were pattering on the trees. The volume of sound suggested the roar of lions. He felt a pang when he aimed his gun at one of the foremost, but pangs of a more effective sort were experienced when his native boy and he tried to retrieve the monkey, which had fallen into a bees' nest the size of a bushel basket.

Hunted With Headlight.

Countless bats were found. In their cave life they separated into species, and the sexes kept by themselves, specimens in each mass being all of one sex. They hung in clusters of several hundred individuals. Some of the largest had a wing expanse of twenty-six inches. As the masses hung together they bore close resemblance to the stalactites with which the walls and domed ceilings of the caves were covered. Many of the big bats were strong, muscular and always ready to bite.

The most efficient method of hunting the jungle was by means of a headlight at night, when the light was reflected in the eyes of the animal, which shone like red, green or blue fire. The animal could see nothing except the light and thus was easily shot.

Good flashlight pictures of small mammals were obtained by setting out cameras for them. Apparatus was placed along runways and watercourses where the animals were apt to pass. It consisted of a mechanism to fire a magnesium flash and to trip the shutter, and it was set off by a thread attached to bait. When the animal pulled the bait it thus fired the flash.

"Spotted Rabbits."

One specimen illustrated in the report is of a paca, a large rodent, exceeding in size the capybara. The natives call it "spotted rabbit." Its habits are nocturnal. It was flashed while seizing a mango that had been placed as bait. Opossums and many species of rodents were flashed in the same way. The trip yielded well in small mammals, but not in large ones. Opossums actually proved obstacles to flash-light work owing to their abundance and their omnivorous appetite. Mr. Anthony says that probably 75 per cent of the flashes fired were sprung by opossums who found and seized the bait shortly after dusk, before better game was moving. The trip yielded for the museum, however, many specimens not heretofore represented.

Trips for the collection of specimens will become increasingly difficult for visitors owing to changing conditions in the zone areas and also in respect to unofficial visitors to the adherence to the policy to maintain the isthmus as a game preserve, a policy adopted by Colonel Goethals during the engineering work, which he has continued as civil governor. Exception to the laws against shooting game outside a short open season will be made only in favor of occasional zoological expeditions sent out for scientific purposes.

COIN MONEY FOR CUBANS.

Nearly Five Millions Will Be Made at Philadelphia Mint.

One million dollars in gold, $2,500,000 in silver and $1,000,000 in nickel is the amount of currency to be coined at the United States mint in Philadelphia for the Cuban government.

The law for the coinage of Cuban currency was approved Oct. 26, 1914, and makes the national currency of Cuba and that of the United States the only legal tender for the payment of an obligation while the law is in force.

The denominations specified in the law call for gold coins of $20, $10, $5, $4, $2 and $1; also silver coins of $1, 40 cents, 20 cents and 10 cents. The nickel coins will be 1 cent, 2 cents and 5 cents.

The Soliloquy of an Old Soldier

You need not watch for silver in your hair,
Or try to smooth the wrinkles from your eyes,
Or wonder if you're getting quite too spare,
Or if your mount can bear a man your size.

You'll never come to shirk the fastest flight,
To query if she really cares to dance,
To find your eye less keen upon the sight,
Or lose your tennis wrist or golfing stance.

For you the music ceased on highest note—
Your charge had won, you'd scattered them like sand,
And then a little whisper in your throat,
And you asleep, your cheek upon your hand.

Thrice happy fate, you met it in full cry,
Young, eager, loved, your glitt'ring world all joy—
You ebbed not out, you died when tide was high,
An old campaigner envies you, my boy!
—O. C. A. Child in New York Times.

YOUNGEST WARRIOR IN ALGERIAN COMMAND.

French Boy, Determined to Fight, Takes Place With African Troops.

Search for the youngest soldier has resulted in the locating of Christian du Jonchay, aged fourteen years, of the Algerian cavalry. He is a son of Lieutenant Colonel du Jonchay of the cavalry and grandson of General de Soundis, who fought with distinction in the war of 1870 and was killed in December of that year at the battle of Patay.

Not being able because of his age to enlist in a French regiment, Christian, who is strong and vigorous for his age, went to Algeria and engaged in one of the corps of cavalry. He is now at the front and has taken part in several engagements, in which he has borne himself valiantly.

The youngest of the wounded is Henri Derombier, aged thirteen. Young Derombier, who was employed in the hospital at St. Nicholas, was allowed to go out and help bring in the wounded under shell and shrapnel fire when he himself was struck by the fragment of a shell.

Charles Trottemont, aged thirteen, of Nancy, who is the oldest of a large family of children, declared when the movement of troops began "there should be at least one of each family to defend France," so he followed the Fourteenth regiment from Toul when it passed through Nancy during the middle of August and was adopted by one of the companies of that regiment, with which he made the greatest part of the campaign of Lorraine.

He was chiefly engaged in running errands. Lamenting that he was unable to handle a gun, he succeeded in getting himself adopted by the Fourth regiment of heavy artillery, which used him chiefly to pass shells. Captain Michelant, who commanded the battery, had an artillery uniform made for him and treated him in every respect as a real soldier. He was able to avoid pursuit of his relatives until after participating in so many battles, his exploits disclosed his whereabouts, and his family promptly reclaimed him from the army.

FOR CANNED ART LECTURES.

Boston Man Would Have Nickel In Slot Phonographs In Museum.

Municipal nickel in the slot art lectures were advocated by Henry Turner Bailey of Boston, prominent art authority and former supervisor of drawing in the public schools, at the Twentieth Century club's discussion of "The Significance of Chinese Art."

"I would like to see installed in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts," said Mr. Bailey, "a slot machine where, upon the dropping of a coin, by phonographic reproduction I could get an explanation of the particular subject I wanted to understand and appreciate."

He declared that the museum authorities should place the best specimen of Chinese pottery, for instance, in concealment. "Then in some conspicuous place post directions telling us what to look for to see what is artistic."

BADGES FOR CONGRESSMEN.

Raid Results In Bill Requiring Members to Wear Shields.

Indignant because Washington gamblers caught in a raid on a Maryland poolroom represented themselves as members of congress, Representative Carey of Wisconsin introduced a resolution providing that members of the house shall wear a badge bearing the inscription, "Member of Congress." The resolution was offered as a result of statements that in a recent raid at Myers Station, Md., several persons were immediately released on saying they were congressmen.

The bill provides that the official title "Member of Congress" is neither license to transgress the law nor to render one immune from prosecution.

There is a good deal of sentiment in the house favorable to the bill.

Maggie O'Leary Dead.

Mrs. Maggie O'Leary, who for forty years lived alone in a little farmhouse near Escanaba, Mich., is dead. Neighbors declare she was the woman whose cow was credited with causing the great Chicago fire of 1871. In 1803, when officials from the World's fair came to urge her to attend the exposition, Mrs. O'Leary refused.

AMERICAN ACHIEVEMENTS.

Some of the Big Things to the Credit of This Great Country.

Americans founded the first government under which all men were equal before the law. Since the Declaration of Independence was published to the world the democratic idea has hourly received impulse until now its march seems irresistible.

Americans were the first to demonstrate the feasibility of relying on a citizen soldiery to defend the land and its institutions against foreign or domestic attack.

Americans were the first to abolish titular distinctions and to deprive social eminence of any support save character or the consensus of those who chose to consider themselves socially elect.

It was an American who invented the steamship.

An American invented the telegraph.

An American invented the telephone.

An American invented the electric light.

An American invented the reaper which makes it possible to feed the billion and more people on this planet.

It was an American, too, who invented the sewing machine.

Americans also were the conquerors of pain when they discovered how, by means of sulphuric ether, the tenderest human nerves could be made insensible to the surgeon's steel.

Americans opened the ports of Japan to the nations of the world, made a path into darkest Africa, and an American crowned the geographical achievements of his countrymen by discovering the north pole.—Pittsburgh Press.

HUMOR OF LINCOLN.

How the President Sized Up the Confederate Forces.

A visitor once asked Lincoln how many men the Confederates had in the field. The president replied very seriously:

"Twelve hundred thousand, according to the best authority."

The visitor paled as he said:

"Good heavens!"

"Yes, sir, 1,200,000. No doubt of it. You see, all of our generals when they get whipped say the enemy outnumbered them from three or five to one, and I must believe them. We have 400,000 men in the field, and three times four make twelve."

A delegation once waited upon Lincoln to ask the appointment of a certain man as commissioner to the Sandwich islands. Besides his fitness for the place, they urged his bad health. But the president in reply said, "Gentlemen, I am sorry to say that there are eight other applicants for that place, and they are all sicker than your man."

A woman came to the White House one day on an unusual errand, which Lincoln suspected was a pretext, but he took her at her word and gave her the following note to a major of the quartermaster's department: "My dear sir, the lady bearer of this says she has two sons who want to work. Set them at it if possible. Wanting to work is so rare a merit that it should be encouraged. A. Lincoln."

Bolivia's Electrical Storms.

Owing to the peculiar topographical formation of Bolivia, electric and other phenomena are of constant occurrence, the principal zone where such disturbances take place being the Altiplanicie, or grand plateau. As the atmosphere is heavily charged with electricity both in summer and winter, dry or electric storms are of frequent occurrence both on the plateau and in the valleys. Before the rainy season sets in electrical accumulation becomes considerable on the plateau region, its most violent manifestations taking place toward the eastern section of the tablelands. An electrical storm in these regions is always a most imposing spectacle, as the tremendous force of the wind, almost equal to a hurricane, and the heavy electrical accumulation in the clouds produce terrible atmospheric explosions and violent detonations, while the surface of the ground sparkles and crackles.

Scattered.

Pat was employed on an engineering job a few miles out of the city and was carried to his work by an express train, which accommodatingly slowed up near the scene of his labors. One morning, however, the train rushed through the cut without reducing speed, and the superintendent of the job looked in vain for Pat. At last he saw a much battered Irishman limping back down the ties and called to him:

"Hello, Pat! Where did you get off?"

Pat turned stiffly and, waving his hand toward the steep embankment, sighed:

"Oh, all along here!"—Life.

Keeping Mulberry Leaves.

Mulberry leaves, the chief diet of silkworms, can be preserved for a long time in cold storage if placed in well ventilated boxes of not more than three cubic feet capacity at a temperature of between 33.8 and 36.6 degrees F. The silkworms eat them just as if they were fresh.—New York World.

Compromise.

"Dear lady, your child grows prettier every day."

"Oh, you exaggerate, sir."

"Well, then, let us say—every other day."—Man Lacht.

Change In the Meals.

Boarder—Here's a nickel I found in the hash. Landlady—Yes, I put it there. You've been complaining, I understand, about lack of change in your meals.—Boston Transcript.

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET— Large pleasant room, conveniences, near the center. Private family, 30 Upland road. 1-6t

TO LET—Rooms and board with private family, all conveniences, 3 minutes to Fore River yard. Mrs. Briggs, 63 Howard avenue. Tel. 1333-W. 1-6t

TO LET—One or two rooms for light housekeeping. Also furnished rooms with board if desired. 132 Marlboro Street, Wollaston Park. 30-3t

TO LET—A nice large front room suitable for one or two men or man and wife. Apply 26 School street. 30-3t

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Four room apartment, new house, all improvements. Apply at 226 Franklin street. 30-tf

TO LET—Nice large furnished rooms, all improvements reasonable. Will give board if preferred. Apply 44 Chestnut street, second floor. 30-6t

TO LET—Three connecting rooms and bath, electric lights, heat and gas range. 178 Washington street, phone Quincy 1732M. 28-tf

TO LET—Sunny front room, near the square. Table board if desired. References. Mrs. L. S. Hall, 27 Chestnut street. 27-6t

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 867, Quincy. 28 tf

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Four room tenement all improvements, range and gas attached, house new. Apply James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street, Quincy or Tel. 599-1. Jan. 15-tf

TO LET—On Russell Park house of seven rooms and bath and large attic, cemented cellar, furnace, gas and coal range, electric lights all modern. Reasonable rent on a lease to right people. Apply to Miss Prescott at Ledger-Patriot Office, Quincy. 4-tf lpo

FOR RENT—2 houses, one $20 a month, all improvements, and one $12. Apply to G. G. Ellsworth, 117 Adams street, Braintree. Ob 1w L tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Flats, Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

A Few Choice House Lots

PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX

are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.

SWITHIN

3 GREENLEAF BLOCK

'ss. 5-tf

WANTED

WANTED—A four room furnished apartment with bath. The four rooms must consist of two bedrooms a living room and a kitchen. Address John Byers, 59 Germaine avenue, Quincy. 1-3t

WANTED—Board for two children, girl three years old and boy five years old. Apply 66 Arnold street, Quincy. 1-3t

WANTED—Working housekeeper. Apply 87 Adams street. 30-tf

WANTED—Housekeeper's position in widower's family by an experienced American woman or would care for invalid. References exchanged. Mrs. D. W. Hall, Wollaston. 28-6t

WANTED—Mrs. C. F. Wrisley, 22 School street, can accommodate a single man, for board and room, with all home comforts and refinement. Seven minutes walk to station, one minute to Fore River cars. Tel. 368-W. Quincy. 26-tf

FOR SALE

TO INTRODUCE our Victoria Coal we will have our agent deliver you one ton for $5.00 or one 1-2 ton $2.65 in the following towns, Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth. Write P. Dukeshire, 240 N. Quincy street, Brockton. 2-1t

FOR SALE—Music cabinet, almost new. Apply 40 Edison Park. 1-3t

FOR SALE—Practically new six room house, every modern improvement, hot water heat, solid cement piazza and steps, cement curbing and stucco cement gables. Beautiful view of water front, garden and fruit trees. For particulars and very low price apply to 35 Bay View street, off Edison Park. 28-6t

FOR SALE

In South Quincy two-family house with modern improvements. Convenient to electrics and Quincy Adams Station. Good renting proposition. For further details address, A. W. B. Care of Ledger, Quincy. 15-tflpo.

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36

Second Floor

Savings Bank Building

Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes

Quincy Savings Bank

CLARENCE BURGIN: Treas.

Nov

TO LET

Shop or Factory—34 Granite St.

22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up

Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld.

Small front office.

Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop —ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall —28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK

CITY SQUARE

(Best location in City.)

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water, $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS

Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building —City Square—capacity 246—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building; City Square—capacity 700.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.

Ask for L. r. Kribs.)

Greenleaf Block. 'Phone 2166) Quincy

Read Ledger Advs.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

PROGRAMME

Mon., Tues., Wed., Feb. 1-2-3

Matinee 2.30 P. M. Evenings 8 P. M.

A Overture by Orchestra.

B Hearst Selig—World's Daily News

C Henry Kelly, Monologue Artist

D Feature Photo Play, "Walls of Jericho." Two reels. Produced by James H. Hackett featuring Edmund Breese.

E Mitchell and Lightner, Novelty Artists.

F Feature Photo Play, "Walls of Jericho." Two reels.

G Diamond Beatrice Musical Trio

H Feature Phote Play, "Walls of Jericho. One Reel.

I Exit March by Orchestra.

Subject to Change

Matinee Prices 10-15c

Evening Prices 10-15-25c

Feb. 1-3t.

FOURTH WEEK OF UNION SERVICES

The opening service of the fourth week of the union evangelistic meetings, which are being conducted by the three Swedish churches of Quincy, was held Sunday night at the Swedish Congregational church. The speakers were Rev. A. E. Hillman, pastor of the Swedish Methodist church, who spoke on the subject: "Without Excuse." and Rev. Paul Hallin of the Swedish Baptist church, whose subject was "Harden Not Your Hearts."

There was spirited singing under the direction of Rev. A. G. Sporrong who also had charge of a fruitful aftermeeting. The Men's choir of the Congregational church sang a well rendered selection. Wednesday at 2.30 P. M. there will be held three cottage prayer meetings at following homes: Hilda Nilson's, 18 Curtis street; Mrs. Sandblom's, 25 Station street, Mrs. Steele's 156 Granite street. The meetings will continue this evening, Thursday and Friday evenings at 7.30 P. M.

A Sunday school meeting will be held at the Swedish Baptist church, Saturday at 2.30 P. M., when the three schools will unite. Parents and teachers are especially invited to this meeting.

Samuel Johnson of Upland road, who has been confined to his home by a severe cold the past week, returned to work Monday. He is employed at the local exchange of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

WHERE IS IT?

WHY

1387

Hancock St.

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

The Franklin Associates will hold a dance next Monday evening.

The Elks will hold their annual ball Wednesday evening at Music hall.

The masquerade ball will be held Saturday evening by the Finnish Temperance society.

James Duffy, the well-known and popular athlete, returned home from Rutland Saturday.

The Boston Social club will hold a dance in Malnati's hall Saturday evening.

The annual ball of the Police Relief Association will be held at Music hall Thursday evening.

The Quincy Women's club dramatics will be held on the afternoon of Tuesday, Feb. 8. On Wednesday evening the club will present the opera "Mikado" in Music hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Renwick, their daughter Miss Florence and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Daggett of Readville moved last week to Vassal street, Wollaston Park.

Miss Lou Connors of Garfield street has returned from Gloucester, where she has been the guest of her aunt for the past week.

Don't forget the birds these days. The ice and snow make living hard for them and a few crumbs, suet or water placed in a sheltered place where they can get at it will tide them along until pleasant weather.

The entertainment and athletic committees of the High school alumni met Sunday at the home of Miss Dorothy Packard on Hancock street and approved an entertainment program which will include amateur theatricals and other events of importance, to be given at the regular meetings.

The last in the series of opera talks by Havrah Hubbard under the auspices of the Wollaston Woman's Club will be held Wednesday afternoon in the Wollaston school hall, with Parsifal as the subject. Mrs. Safford has arranged for an extra talk for the evening of March 3 in Wollaston school hall when Aida will be given.

The Wollaston Woman's Club is extending an invitation to the public to hear Jay William Hudson, Ph. D., lecture Friday evening in Wollaston school hall on. "America's Message to Europe." Mayor Campbell will also speak. Dr. Hudson is the speaker for the Massachusetts Peace Association, and of the faculty of the University of Missouri. He is a man and speaker of great ability.

FORMS HOCKEY TEAM.

John Anderson, the popular City Square drug clerk, who is reputed to be the local "Hobie" Baker has organized a hockey team, named it the "Wreck's All Point Dispensers" and has arranged a game with the aPrkway A. C., be played at the Milton rink this week. Manager Anderson's lineup will include Dr. T. Veale, Walter Manhire, B. Booth, Robert Kenn, Robert Veal, James Lennon, "Tisser" Carlson and C. Carlson. Ice experts believe it is a most formidable aggregation.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Commonwealth Notices.
Board of Trade Banquet.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

SHAVING NECESSITIES

Our stock of Soaps, Powders and Razors we believe is the most complete in the city. Perhaps you Mr. Man, want another box of shaving soap, or a new Razor. Well we won't say any more, but drop in and see our stock

CHAS. C. HEARN, City Square Druggist

Feb. 1-3t

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE

Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit

WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS

Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.

Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys

1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block

Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.-tf

MADE HIM A PROFESSOR.

He Didn't Know Very Much, but His Bluff Won the Appointment.

In one of the Japanese papers are some reminiscences of the war with Russia, and among them is the following:

When peace was concluded between Japan and Russia the study of the Japanese language became something like a craze among Russians. At Harbin, for instance, Japanese were in great demand as teachers of their mother tongue. Many Japanese barbers and laundrymen shut up their shops and became instructors of Japanese.

As in most cases the instruction was not conducted on a systematic method, many Russian students of Japanese only succeeded in acquiring a smattering of the language.

Then one day a Japanese interpreter who taught Japanese to Russian railway men at Harbin received a letter from one of his whilom pupils asking for a certificate of his proficiency. As a matter of fact, his knowledge of Japanese does not extend beyond what may be called pidgin Japanese, but a certificate was forwarded to him as requested.

A few weeks later the interpreter was surprised to receive a letter from the Russian informing him that he had been engaged by the government as professor of Japanese at a monthly salary of 500 roubles.—Japanese Chronicle.

SEEK THE BRIGHT SPOTS.

Don't Grouch In the Gloom, but Look Up and Be an Optimist.

He who thinks the world is full of good people and kindly blessings is much richer than he who thinks the contrary. Each man's imagination largely peoples the world for himself. Some live in a world peopled with princes of the royal blood; some in a world of paupers and privation. You have your choice.

This is a big, busy world. It cares precious little what you think of it or what faults or troubles you find in it. It is a choice that concerns yourself more than all others combined, whether you grouch in the gloom, the companion of hateful goblins, or stride in the sunshine, seeing smiles and catching shreds of song.

Men and women in God's image were not made as whining, groveling beings. They were made to stand erect, mentally as well as physically; to labor well and joyously; to take the gifts of providence, whether they be joy or sorrow, and bear them cheerfully and with courage; to add ever something to the world's store of happiness, if it be only a smile.

Look up! See how flooded with sunshine this beautiful world is when faced with smiling eyes.

If you would win anything, do anything, be anything, don't whine.—Christian Herald.

A Tartar Courtship.

Among the Tchulian Tartars a curious mode of "popping the question" exists. The Tchulian bachelor in search of a wife, having filled a brand new pipe with fragrant tobacco, stealthily enters the dwelling of the fair one upon whom he has bestowed his affections, deposits the pipe upon a conspicuous article of furniture and retires on tiptoe to some convenient hiding place in the neighborhood, local etiquette requiring that he should execute this strategic movement apparently undetected by the damsel of his choice or any other member of her family. Presently he returns without further affectation of secrecy and looks into the apartment in a casual sort of way. A single glance at the pipe he left behind him enables him to learn the fate of his proposal. If it has been smoked he goes forth an accepted and exultant bridegroom; if not, the offer of his hand and heart has been rejected.

No Business Good Business.

"Yes," said the quiet man, "business has been good with me this week—or bad—I don't know which you would call it. I have been busier than the company likes to have me."

"What do you mean by that? Is there an employer who does not like to have his employees work? Could I get a job there? It seems to me that such a position would suit my temperament exactly."

"The company doesn't care to have anything doing in my department. It would be glad to pay me my salary and never have me do a stroke of work."

"What an ideal job! What kind of a place is it?"

"I am an adjuster of death claims for a life insurance company."—New York Press.

Sandy's Advice.

At a time when the Scots had considerably less love for their southern neighbors than in these days a father, taking leave of his son, said: "Sandy, ma bairn, ye're aboot tae gang up tae London. Tak' a' th' siller ye can frae the English—ta' everything ye can frae them. But mind ye, Sandy, they're a braw fechtin' people, so be carefu' wi' them. Never fecht a bald mon, fer ye canna catch him by th' hair."—Argonaut.

It Makes a Difference.

In Lever's "Charles O'Malley" the hero's boast while on his way to a duel, "I can break the stem of a wineglass at fifteen paces," was met by his friend and mentor with the comment, "Yes, but the wineglass hasn't a pistol in its hand."

Sensible men show their sense by saying much in few words.—Franklin.

JOHN MUIR AND TREES.

The Great Naturalist's Plea For the Preservation of Forests.

Few men loved and knew trees better than John Muir, the naturalist of the Sierras. He fought hard to preserve the forests, and in one of his books he says:

All sort of local laws and regulations have been tried and found wanting, and the costly lessons of our own experience as well as that of every civilized nation show conclusively that the fate of the remnant of our forests is in the hands of the federal government and that if the remnant is to be saved at all it must be saved quickly.

Any fool can destroy trees. They cannot run away, and if they could they would still be destroyed—chased and hunted down as long as sun or a dollar could be got out of their bark hides, branching horns or magnificent bole backbones. Few that fell trees plant them. Nor would planting avail much toward getting back anything like the noble primeval forests. During a man's life only saplings can be grown in the place of the old trees—tens of centuries old—that have been destroyed. It took more than 3,000 years to make some of the trees in these western woods—trees that are still standing in perfect strength and beauty, waving and surging in the mighty forests of the Sierra.

Through all the wonderful eventful centuries since Christ's time—and long before that—God has cared for these trees, saved them from drought, disease, avalanches and a thousand straining, leveling tempests and floods, but he cannot save them from fools. Only Uncle Sam can do that.

AN ARCTIC DRAMA.

Playing to the Coldest House Known In Theatrical History.

Many and many a play has had a chilly reception. But imagine what it must have been to witness a play or to be an actor therein in a temperature 25 degrees below zero. It was a company of American sailors who made the record of playing to "the coldest house" known in dramatic history.

Dr. Kane, the famous arctic explorer, told an audience at old Masonic hall along in the fifties of a play given at an exceedingly low temperature by the crew of one of the ships on the 14th of February, 1851. The play was the farce called "The Mysteries and Miseries of New York."

The outside temperature was 36 degrees below zero. In the "theater" it was 25 degrees below behind the scenes and 20 degrees below where the audience was seated. One of the sailors had to enact the part of a damsel with bare arms, and when a cold flatiron, one of the properties, touched his skin the sensation was that of a hot iron.

On Washington's birthday the crew had another performance. Outside the ship's thermometer was 46 degrees below zero. Inside, by the aid of lamps, it was only 30 degrees below zero. "The condensation," said Dr. Kane, "was so excessive that we could barely see the performers. They walked in a cloud of vapor. Volumes of smoke accompanied all vehemence of delivery. Their hands steamed. When an actor took off his coat it smoked like a dish of potatoes."—Indianapolis News.

The Practice of Kicking.

Kicking, like charity, should begin at home. It ought to be the duty of everybody at home to object, persistently and effectively, to the specific overcrowded street car, the badly paved road, the encroaching doorstep, the neglected yard, the malodorous cesspool, the irresponsible motorcar and the reckless railroad—especially if he have any personal part in the maintenance of similar abuses. If the tendency of these evils were rightly apprehended, if a part only of the effort that is expended presumably in objecting to the generalized, foreign and futile subjects were bestowed on specific and tangible details, if we would forego the emotional pleasure of the impersonal "muckrake" to assail the evil at our very feet—especially if each one of us were careful to avoid offense in matters of the same kind—our country would surely be a much fairer one.—Unpopular Review.

No Accent.

Many stories are told of a former Canadian bishop who had passed his youth in Scotland, but flattered himself that not a hint of his origin could be gained from his speech or manner.

One day he met a Scotchman, to whom he said at last abruptly, "Hoo lang hae ye been here?"

"Aboot sax years," was the reply.

"Hoot, mon!" said the bishop sharply. "Why hae ye na lost yer accent, like mysel'?"

When Astronomy Was Young.

The ancients called Venus by the name of Hesperus when she was evening star and by the name of Phosphorus when she was morning star, for until her motions were studied it was not known that the two stars were one and the same planet.

Coin Abrasion.

By mere waste caused by coins rubbing one against another the civilized world, it is said, loses one ton and a quarter of gold and eighty-eight tons of silver annually.

Japan and the Figure 4.

There are no fours nor 44's in Japanese telephone directories because the names of the figure four—shi—is the term for death.

Boys in forming life attachments should not overlook the association of that fellow Will Power.—Omaha Bee.

A CUP OF COFFEE.

It Has No Value as Food, but It Has a Stimulating Effect.

The infusion of coffee presents practically very little material that is of direct nourishing value, says a writer in the London Tablet, but by diminishing nervous fatigue, by virtue chiefly of the caffeine present, it may increase muscular power. It is not itself a builder of tissue. The use of coffee after dinner, it is of interest to note, is justified in a large number of cases by the fact of its stimulating effect upon the vital centers, and it is said to serve to some extent as an antidote to alcohol.

It is commonly claimed to remove drowsiness. As a matter of fact, in many subjects it produces drowsiness, but this is usually followed by marked wakefulness. The practice of drinking coffee after a meal for the sake of the stimulus which is experienced has much to be said in its favor dietetically.

There is no reason for supposing that coffee possesses any value as a food. The berry contains a quite important proportion of fatty substances (12 per cent average), but these are necessarily excluded from the infusion, as, owing to their insolubility, they remain in the "grounds."

According to our analysis, the protein contents of a cup of coffee are small, approximating to 1.25 per cent of the coffee extracted. This amount can have little dietetic significance. There is also a trifling quantity of sugar present, besides traces of alcohol, which again can possess no importance from a physiological point of view.

WOOD FOR VIOLINS.

Maple Is the Best and Is What the Old World Famed Makers Used.

In the finest violins the body is made of white maple. In cheap ones violet ebony is used. In medium priced ones alternate leaves of the two are employed. The best wood of all is that of the epicea, a tree resembling a fir in general appearance, which grows in central and northern Europe, but musical instrument makers set special value on that from the Vosges mountains. Its wood is most homogeneous and has the advantage over all others that there is scarcely any difference between the sap wood and the heart.

Violet ebony, which comes from Brazil, Africa and India, is much used for pianos. True ebony is now so expensive that it is reserved for nuts and twisters.

Sycamore maple, somewhat less homogeneous than white maple and hence less sonorous, is employed chiefly in making mandolins.

The wood of trees from high altitudes and a severe climate is much better than that from plains and warmer countries for all purposes in which sonority is desired. And it should have had not less than 200 or 300 years of growth, and its concentric circles should be no more than two or three millimeters apart.

The ancient violin makers, Stradivarius, Amati, Guarnerius and the others, used the finest and best seasoned maple, and this, with their perfect varnish, is why their violins have lasted so long.—New York World.

The Seven Wise Men of Greece.

The seven wise men of Greece were Thales of Miletus, Periander of Corinth, Cleobulus of Lyndus, Chilon of Lacedaemon, Solon of Athens, Bias of Prienne and Pittacus of Mitylene. Some fishermen of Miletus sold a draft of fishes to a bystander. When the net was drawn in it contained a golden tripod, and the purchaser claimed it was his, while the fishermen contended that they sold only the fish that might be in the net. The dispute was referred to the oracle of Delphi, who awarded the tripod to the wisest man in Greece. Thereupon it was taken to Thales, who declined it and suggested that it be given to Bias. He in turn refused to accept it, and thus it was successively declined by all the seven, and they were thereafter known as the seven wise men of Greece.

Beltane.

In the highlands of Scotland and in Ireland May 1 was called Beltane. This was the name of an ancient pagan festival, traces of which have survived to this day. The name is still used for May day in Gaelic Scotland. It is said that the druids on that day used to make two fires with great incantations and drive their cattle between them as a safeguard against disease.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

FOR SALE—Fresh eggs and poultry I. E. Prouty, 57 Edgemere road, Quincy. 2-3t

BIRTHS

SLAVIN—In South Quincy, Feb. 2, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Slavin of 98 Pleasant street.

MARRIAGES.

MUIRHEAD — RAITHBURN — In Everett, Jan. 31, by Rev. John Quint, John Muirhead of Quincy and Sarah Raithburn of Everett.

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

EXPERIENCED

IRONERS AND STITCHERS

WANTED

APPLY

SOVEREIGN WAIST CO.

192 GRANITE ST.

Feb. 1-tf

Furniture Storage Warehouse

Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.

Rates $2---$3---$4 per month

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.

1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.

Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.-tf

DOWN RESOLVE

(Continued from Page One.)

of Boston giving notice of a hearing on the petition of Sarah F. Castor to build a fence from high water mark to low water mark to separate her property from her abutters, which meant a fence 100 feet long into the water.

Councilman Craig offered an order for the legislative committee to appear at the hearing and oppose the granting of the permit. This provoked quite a discussion as to the rights of the city and of Mrs. Castor.

Dock Commissioner Crane appeared before the council and explained the situation. City Solicitor Pinkham explained the law.

Councilman Smith sought to amend the order but was defeated and the order was then adopted.

Councilman Prescott offered a resolve requesting the mayor and city engineer to consider the feasibility of establishing a new grade of Beale street between Hancock street and Newport avenue with a view of reducing the heavy grade, and that they endeavor to obtain from the New Haven railroad the grade required at the Beale street bridge when four tracks are laid, and whether it is contemplated to relocate the Wollaston station, and report to the council if expedient a plan for the improvement. Adopted.

MINOR ORDERS.

Other orders introduced were as follows:

By Councilman Yule that the mayor be requested to have prepared plans and specifications for a brick school building to be located on the school site recently purchased in Ward Two.

By Councilman Bolster appropriating $3,800 to build the east side of Independence avenue.

By Councilman Barnicoat appropriating $4,500 for paving Liberty street between Brook road and Penn street, and $1,500 to rebuild Liberty street between Penn street and Water street.

By Councilman Kessler for the widening of West Squantum street from Farrington street to Newport avenue.

By Councilman Prescott for a granolithic sidewalk on the northerly side of Revere road between Hancock and Washington streets.

Then there were a large number of orders for street lights in different parts of the city which were referred to the executive.

CHILDREN ON STAGE.

Permission was granted the Parents and Teachers association of the Massachusetts Fields school to have children appear on the stage.

The city solicitor gave his ruling on section 47 of the city charter. The ruling asked was if the fire department came under this section and ruling of the city solicitor was that it did. The section in question provides that the salaries of one year shall be fixed by the council of the previous year. This means that if the order increasing the salaries of members of the fire department which is now pending goes through this year it will not take effect until next year.

Petitions were received for additions to the Massachusetts Fields school which were referred to the Public Buildings committee.

The Mayor appointed Amos L. Litchfield a constable and the appointment was confirmed.

Several petitions for gasoline permits and pole locations were received and hearings ordered for Feb. 15.

Petitions of the telephone and street railway companies for attachments were granted while petitions for relocation of poles were referred to the street committee.

Germantown residents petitioned that a supply of hose be kept there so that it might be used in case of emergency. Referred to the Fire Committee.

A petition for the acceptance of Davis street was referred to the Street committee, as was also a petition to widen Sea street at its junction with Sea avenue.

The Finance Committee reported an order retiring Lieut. Mark E. Hanson which was ordered to a second reading.

The Public Buildings committee reported a substitute order appropriating $125 for lighting fixtures at the Cranch school which was adopted.

Under the calendar the order retiring Samuel D. DeForest on a pension was passed.

Adjourned at 9.47.

Try a Pound of our Coffee

if you want to taste something real delicious. We carry all the advertised brands and feel sure we can suit on quality and price. Buy some today.

La Touraine	35c lb
Quality	32c lb
Stanzalone	25c lb
White House, 1 lb can	35c lb
Seal Brand Chase & Sanborn, can	38c lb
Yuban, the Guest Coffee, can	35c lb
Cafe Des Invalides, can	42c lb
Barrington Hall, steel cut. can	40c lb

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980

FOY'S 2 STORES

WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 29 QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 3, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

UNITY CIRCLE OF KINGS DAUGHTERS

Large Number Sit Down to Annual Banquet at Bethany Church

MISS RANDALL IS SPEAKER

Despite the inclement weather all of the 240 seats were taken at the annual banquet of Unity Circle of King's Daughters, held in the chapel of Bethany church Tuesday evening.

The decorations were a feature. The color scheme was pink and green and as one entered the tables presented a truly beautiful appearance with candles draped in pink and green shades. The tables were adorned with green maiden-hair ferns and begonia blossoms, and beside each plate was a pink and white favor.

Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott, pastor of the church gave the blessing and then all partook of the following menu grape fruit with cherries, turkey, potatoes, turnips, celery, cranberry sauce, rolls, and butter, coffee, pineapple and orange ice cream, cake and nuts.

Mrs. V. E. Miller, president of the circle presided and gave a short address of welcome and called for the report of the secretary, Mrs. Charles A. Sampson. After the latter had read her report Miss Lou Lewis, the treasurer, read hers. Mrs. Farley, state secretary, brought greetings from the state, and Miss Brokenshire, international third vice-president spoke of work in other lands.

Mrs. Frank J. Moore was chairman of the committee in charge. The other members were: Mrs. Frank F. Prescott. Mrs. Edwin Livingston, Mrs. Percival eSars, Mrs. Mary England, and Mrs. James Milne. Mrs. Milne had charge of the decorations.

Miss Edith Randall was the speaker of the evening. She held the attention of the audience with an interesting collection of stories and incidents which she had encountered during her travels.

Music was rendered by the Cecilian Quartette: Misses Alice Parker, Ada Williams, Bella Laing, Florence Sabean. Mrs. Frank J. Moore was in charge of the waitresses, who included Misses Harriet Griffiths, Esther Beckford, Esther Boyson, Dorothy England Frances Ward, Vera Bergfors, Elizabeth Rundle, Ellen Sanison, Gertrude Beale, Ethel Beale, Helen Miller, Hazel Sabean, Gertrude Shaw, Gladys Hunt, Marion Shaw, Katherine MacKenzie, Annie Holmes, Helen Mitchell, and Florence Hant.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Thursday fair with moderate temperature.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.55
Sun sets	5.02
Length of day	10.07
Moon rises	3.10
High water, A. M.	2.00
High water, P. M.	2.30
Days increase	1 hr. 1 minute

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.33 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	28 degrees
Feb. 3, 1914,	48 degrees
Feb. 3, 1913,	35 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—67.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

CITY RECEIPTS DURING JANUARY

Auditor Fairbanks Makes Monthly Report

City Auditor Fairbanks reports the receipts of the city for the month of January to have been as follows, the figures being given in comparison with the years 1914 and 1913.

WATER.
1913	$14,415.39
1914	14,264.27
1915	13,822.71
TAXES
1913	$45,679.26
1914	65,072.82
1915	52,412.39
SEWER ASSESSMENTS.
1913	$1,083.55
1914	1,090.88
1915	635.08
PARTICULAR SEWERS.
1913	$892.41
1914	1,723.09
1915	986.25
DEBT STATEMENT.
1912 net valuation	$34,822,530
1913 net valuation	36,596,240
1914 net valuation	40,668,240
	$112,086,816
Average for three years	$37,362,272
2 1-2 per cent	934,056.80
Debt Jan. 1, 1915	593,735.64
	$340,321.16
Bonds matured	27,500.00
	$367,821.16
TOTAL NET DEBT.
Municipal	$566,235.64
Playground	18,000.00
Street Improvement	59,800.00
Sewer	628,500.00
Water	686,500.00
Refunding	120,000.00
Total	$2,079,035.64
Decrease in debt	$31,500

TO AID TRANSFER OF REAL ESTATE

The South Eastern Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange has presented a bill to the legislature, through its committee, former Rep. Michael T Sullivan and Thomas Swithin of Quincy and Joel Bean of Brockton, which if passed will simplify real estate conveyancing, doubly protect future purchasers and reduce attorneys fees in the examining of titles of property.

The bill provides that clerks of courts shall file monthly with the registrars of deeds certificate of the attachments and liens discharge, and its passage, it is expected, will mean that the records of that office will be more helpful than in the past.

The present laws provide only that attachments and liens placed be made part of the records. No record is kept of their discharge.

This condition has often required long and patient investigation by attorneys clearing up titles, previous to the sale of property, and the delay has frequently prevented the final transfer of property.

The bill is the first of many to be introduced to improve real estate records in the state. No opposition to its passage is anticipated.

DISTRICT COURT.

Martin Joyce of Milton was sentenced to one month in the house of correction for drunkenness. Sentence suspended until Dec. 4.

AN ANNOUNCEMENT

The Wollaston Young People's Religious Union regret to announce that the vaudeville that was to be held Friday, Feb. 5, has been postponed to the last of March or the first of April, owing to the new Parish House not being ready for it.

An Announcement will be made later.

Feb. 3-3t

PRICE OF FLOUR UP 25 CENTS

Latest Advance Makes Total Increase of $2.75 Since War Began

OTHER MARKET FEATURES

One of the things that is worrying the economical housewife this week is the fact that flour, from which the so-called "staff of life," is made, has gone up again. This time advance is twenty-five cents on all brands, which brings the price of the best flour up to $9.50 a barrel, a net advance in price of $2.75 per barrel since the European war began. The continuation of the war probably will mean a still higher figure. The price by the bag has advanced five cents.

Those who depend on the baker for their bread will soon find that the size of the loaf for which they have been paying five and ten cents is growing smaller. The bakers have given notice that in order to meet the additional cost of flour they must either advance the price of bread by the loaf or make the loaf smaller, and they believe it is easier to reduce the size of the loaf than to increase the price. Ordinarily good flour, such as most people use is now $1.15 per bag or $8.75 per barrel. The price $9.50 per barrel only applies to certain brands.

However, to offset the advance in flour, we have, as stated a week ago, the encouraging news that beef is lower. The prices this week remain the same as then.

Some people have a craving for meat and are not satisfied unless they have meat at least once every day. To these people the advance in flour will not mean so much as great meat eaters are, as a rule, small bread eaters. Those who have been paying 45 cents per pound for rump steak which could be bought a few years ago for 25 and 28 cents can not be blamed much if they are beginning to think that the idea of the vegetarian comes pretty near being the right solution. However vegetarians are having a little difficulty in providing their tables just at the present time for they have to depend upon hot house vegetables or in most cases upon vegetables that are raised in the South and shipped North while yet green.

There are not many vegetables in the market just at present but they are beginning to come in. The newest thing in the vegetable line to make its appearance in the market is rhubarb, and some large and handsome rhubarb is being shown in our markets, selling for five cents a pound Most of this comes from the South. Then there are some large and handsome cucumbers selling at 20 cents each and some tomatoes that were raised in the South, which do not look quite as inviting, are selling at 40 cents a pound and as it takes but three or four tomatoes to make a pound they are pretty dear eating.

Fruit is not high and there is some fine California fruit in the market. The best grapefruit today in the Quincy markets is selling four for twenty five cents, but it is large handsome fruit, thin skin and juicy. Then there is some white and crisp looking Boston market celery selling for 15 cents a bunch.

Eggs also remain the same as last week, strictly fresh Quincy eggs selling for 50 cents a dozen while cold storage eggs of some grades can be bought for half that price.

Poultry continues to be low for the season and turkey remains from 25 to 28 cents.

There is no change in the prices of sea food, but lobsters are still scarce and high. Most of the lobsters which are in the market at the present time come from Nova Scotia and there is no great supply. The price remains so high that local dealers are not carrying any and the only way to get them in Quincy is on a special order.

As stated last week steaks can be bought from 30 to 45 cents a pound. roasts of beef from 25 to 28 and 30

(Continued on Page Three.)

BOARD OF TRADE MEETS TONIGHT

Will Vote Whether to Hire Efficiency Expert

An important meeting of the Board of Trade is scheduled for this evening President Fegan will probably appoint his committees for the year, and the Board will listen to Walter B. Moore, an efficiency expert who will outline his plans for recruiting the membership, after which the Board will pass on the question of the advisability of engaging his services for the purpose of building the Board of Trade.

Dr. Francis Abele, Jr. having resigned as a member of the board of directors it will be necessary to fill the vacancy. There is also a proposed change in the bylaws that will come up for action.

SUCCUMBS TO SUDDEN ATTACKS

Mary Elizabeth Cahill, one of the best known members of St. John's parish and sister of Miss Annie Cahill, teacher at the Willard school, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon, three hours after she was found unconscious in her home at 85 Water street. Death was probably due to apoplexy.

Mary Elizabeth Cahill was the daughter of the late George and Mary Cahill and was in her 37th year. She has been a cripple from childhood, the result of an accident, but despite her handicaps lived a lovable life and enjoyed apparently normal health.

On Tuesday morning she gave no indications of the approaching attack but at 11.30, within a very few minutes of her brother George's errand to another part of the house, she collapsed. He found her on his return.

Her funeral will take place Friday morning. A high mass of requiem will be celebrated at St. John's church. The deceased, besides her sister, leaves two brothers, George and Peter Cahill.

FRIENDS TENDER SURPRISE PARTY

A score of friends of Mrs. Henry Starr, 64 Arnold street, Quincy Point, tendered her a surprise party at her home Tuesday evening, the occasion being the anniversary of her birth. She was the recipient of presents from all who attended.

An entertainment program was given during the evening which included piano solos by Miss Annie Callahan and Frank Flynn and vocal solos by Miss Margaret Reed. Refreshments were served. Dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

Tmong those present were Margaret Arbuckle, Harriet McCracken, Margaret Reid, Evelyn Reid, Katherine E. Meade, all of Quincy, Katherine Sullivan, Annie Callahan and Amelia Chisholm of Atlantic, Lillian Ford and Annie Fitzpatrick of Dorchester.

ASKS SUCCESSOR FOR PERMIT.

Lora C. Merrill, who held the office of inspector of buildings last year, paid his successor a visit this morning. Mr. Merrill said that this time he came on business in connection with a building permit.

Pollyanna
Illustrated with Living Pictures
BY
A. Isabelle Davis
AT
Bethany Chapel, Friday, Feb. 12.
4 P. M. Children 10 Cents
8 P. M. Adults 35 Cents
DON'T MISS IT.
GET YOUR TICKETS NOW.
Feb. 3-3t-3-6-10

WIDOW OF FIRE CHIEF WEBBER

Mrs. Catherine J. Webber Dies in 69th Year

Mrs. Catherine J. Webber, widow of the late Lewis P. Webber, for 17 years chief of the Boston fire department, died this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward J. Murphy, 11 Russell park. Mrs. Webber was in her 69th year and her death followed a long illness.

Mrs. Webber was born in Roxbury. Her family name was Corbett. Since the death of her husband 10 years ago she has lived in this city. She was widely known throughout the state, particularly in fire department circles.

Her two sons Joseph A. Webber and Walter H. Webber are also well known. The former is associated with the La France Auto Fire Apparatus Co. of Boston and the latter is chief of the fire department of the E. A. Filene store of Boston.

The funeral of Mrs. Webber will be held from the home of her daughter on Friday morning and will be largely attended, among those present being a delegation from the Massachusetts Fire Chiefs association and members of the Boston Fire department. The body will be taken for burial to Calvary cemetery. Roxbury.

SECOND ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY

A bill in which Quincy is interested, has been admitted to the legislature under suspension of the rules It is a bill to provide a second assistant district-attorney to District-Attorney A. F. Baker of the southeastern district, at a salary of $1200 per year. At the hearing before the rules committee Mr. Baker appeared in its favor as did also F. G. Katzmann, the assistant district-attorney. Should the bill go through Atty George E. Adams of Quincy, who at present frequently assists the district attorney, would probably be appointed.

A similar bill has been killed twice in previous years. District-Attorney Baker deems it necessary in handling the criminal work of Norfolk and Plymouth counties, particularly in Plymouth county where business has increased enormously in the last ten years.

To take care of this property the district-attorney's office, as busy as any in the state outside Suffolk, has for several years hired a second assistant, George E. Odams of Quincy, charging his salary to the expenses of the office. The creation of this place officially by the legislature would transfer much of the burden of added expense from the county accounts to the state.

NEW BOARDS TO MEET.

Mayor Campbell has called a conference for Saturday afternoon at city hall at 3 o'clock of the city planning board and the board of survey to organize and for a general discussion of the various problems. Ex-Councilman Charles L. Gilliatt, the three year man on the board of survey is the chairman of that board and the act provides that the city engineer shall act as clerk of the board. The planning board however will elect its own chairman. It is stated at city hall that at least two persons will make immediate application to the board of survey for approval of new streets which they intend to lay out on private property. The applications, however, have not been received as yet.

VALUE OF SOUND TEETH

Dr. Frederic A. Keyes of Boston read a paper on "School Dentistry," in Hancock hall Tuesday evening before members of the School Committee and dentists of Quincy. The speaker talked upon the value of sound teeth in relation to health and mental development of children, and proposed a plan for improving dental conditions of the school children.

Dr. Keyes is to read his paper again at a public meeting, notice of which will be given later.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

FORE RIVER TO BUILD TWO OIL STEAMERS

Million Dollar Contract to be Completed Within a Year

Steamers to be Built for Texas Oil Co areDuplicates of "Richmond"

The Fire River Shipbuilding Corporation has been awarded a contract to build two oil tank steamers for the Texas Oil Co. The contract involves the expenditure of about $1,000,000 and is the biggest received at the yard for some time. The ships will be almost duplicates of the Richmond, launched at the shipyard April 8, 1913.

The preliminary work on the ships started this morning and the keel will be laid inside of a month. The contracts call for delivery to the company within a year.

The ships will be built to carry 2,750,000 gallons of oil in bulk. They will be 415 feet over all, 54 feet beam and 31 feet draft. They will be subdivided into 16 tanks for oil, with a pump room located forward and two tanks for fuel oil aft. The machinery is aft and the ships are equipped with all sorts of steam windlasses and hoisters for cargo handling, warping, and stowing. It is expected that the engines will develop 3000 horsepower and reach an average speed or 11 1-2 knots.

HEATHER CIRCLE VALENTINE PARTY

The regular meeting of the Heather circle was held Tuesday evening with Miss Helen Smith at her home on Independence avenue and notwithstanding the bad weather there was but one absentee. This meeting was called a valentine party and there was a general exchange of valentines among the members. The home of Miss Smith was prettily decorated for the occasion, hearts and cupids being used profusely. After the business sesion there were games music and refreshments. The next meeting two weeks hence will be a theatre party and the young ladies are looking forward to seeing "Ben Hur."

When the young ladies departed they gave Miss Smith and her mother a hearty vote of thanks for the delightful evening they had enjoyed.

TO VIEW LIGHT LOCATIONS.

Mayor Campbell speaking of the large number of petitons and orders for street lights said that there was no question but some of the lights were needed and that there were others that were not needed. He intends at an early date to take a look at the locations where lights are wanted and then visit the places in the evening to see how dark they are.

SUES FOR $5000.

The suit of William B. Norris of Quincy against the New Haven railroad is on trial in the superior court at Dedham. The suit is to recover $5,000 for alleged personal injuries received to plaintiff's hand by having it caught in the door as he was leaving the train at South Quincy. The accident happened Feb. 18, 1914.

Amos D. Albee is on a week's business trip to Chicago. He spent part of Sunday with Eugene Theodore Marceau, recently of this city.

Masquerade Costumes For Rent
Children's Costumes in variety
MRS. R. E. WOODWARD
155 Billings Road
Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs
Feb. 3-tf

Public Whist Party
Ladies and Gentlemen
Monday Evening, Feb. 8, 1915
At 8 P. M.
TOWN RIVER YACHT CLUB
Foot of Edison Park
All R. R. Tickets
Admission 25 Cents
Feb 1-6t

HEALTH BOARD AT POLICE STATION

Walter H. Buchan, chairman, Dr. Harold Diehl and Thomas Musgrave, the new board of health, accompanied by Jeremiah Keniley, inspector of plumbing made on inspection of police headquarters this morning. Their report will be submitted to Mayor Campbell and will incorporate several unusual features, it is expected.

FREES MAN WHO SHOT HIS WIFE

Edward C. Marshall, a saleman of 15 Bickerstaff street, was freed from the charge of assault with the intent to murder his 20-year-old wife, Edna E. Marshall, in the Roxbury Court Tuesday. The dismissal came after a short hearing in the judge's private office.

Francis M. Costelo, appearing for Marshall, said he would show that the shooting was accidental, that Marshall was putting the revolver in a bureau drawer when it was discharged, the bullet pasing through a door and entering the young wife's side. Mrs. Marshall and her husband corroborated these statements. Both declared there had ben no quarrel.

Mrs. Marshall, who has been at the City Hospital since the shooting occurred on Jan. 15, was with her husband yesterday. They sat together during the hearing and left the courthouse arm in arm.

Before mariage her name was Edna Whittaker. Her home was at Houghs Neck.

The Annual Dramatics
OF THE
Wollaston Woman's Club
Quincy Music Hall
Tuesday, Feb. 16, 2 P. M.
"THE PIPER"
The World Prize Play by
MRS. LIONEL MARK
Based on the story of The Pied Piper of Hamlin.
Tickets may be obtained of Club members.
Feb. 3-3t-3-10-15

FOR SALE
3 Single Houses, all modern improvements.
Easy Terms.
APPLY
SWITHIN BROS.
GREENLEAF BLDG.
Feb. 3-6t

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)

CHINA AND ITS CONSTITUTION.

Frank J. Goodnow, recently advisor to the Chinese government and now president of John Hopkins University, in an address before the members of the Twentieth Century club, Boston, Saturday pointed out that China is not adapted to a republican form of government.

"The result of the strong family feeling which prevails in China," he said, "is the difficulty the Chinese have in being loyal to any wider social group than the family. In China such a thing as a private corporation was unknown until within the past few years. A man put in charge of such a corporation finds he has a duty not to the stockholders, but to his family.

"In like manner he cannot conceive of any obligation he owes to the city, the government or the nation. His duty, as he sees it, is to get into the corporation or the government all the members of his family he can. He cannot appreciate the necessity of obligation to the wider social group.

"Out of this comes the difficulty in China of getting any high degree of social co-operation, and the impossibility of developing anything but a personal government. You cannot transfer a republican form of government, as we know it, to China, because you have not there the basis on which to build.

The amazing thing is that any sensible person cherished the idea that China could become a republic in less than a century or two. It is pretty certain that Yuan Shi Kai, president of China and one of the really great men of the age, never had the delusion. Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the founder of the Chinese Republic, was a noble man but, like so many reformers, he had a distorted vision, he had no ability to see things as they were and to meet the problem presented in a common sense, practicable and therefore workable way.

The constitution which he drafted for the country for which he did so much was a highly up-to-date constitution. It is worthy of study by American statesmen who are striving to solve this country's problems, but it never had the faintest chance of success. Elaborate provisions are made for the regulation of monopolies and other problems of modern economic and social life which will not be existent in China for several centuries.

Yuan Shi Kai knew this from the first no one can doubt but he was wise enough to say nothing, get elected to office and then proceed to adapt the constitution to his own ends It is only fair to say that so far as can be discerned from this side of the world he is making a capable dictator and is stimulating that growth in the Chinese people which must precede any advanced form of government.

HARVARD'S ECONOMY.

Usually it is in the little things that one can economize. Expenses can be reduced by a thoughtful attention to the details. Harvard College in an attempt to cut down expenses and reduce the huge annual deficit has lowered the quality of the paper on which examinations are printed. In the past an expensive white paper has been employed, a source of wastefulness when it is borne in mind that not more than one in twenty of the examination papers are saved after the hour of misery is over. Now Harrard is using an inexpensive grade of manila paper, which serves the purpose just as well although maybe not presenting so handsome an appearance.

NO LONGER RICH.

How times do change. A few years ago it was considered, at the worst, a sort of lesser thievery to rob a big corporation, a railroad, for example. Just the other day, however, a man was brought before Judge Byram in the Attleboro district court, charged with larceny of about 400 pounds of coal from the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. Co. at Mansfield. "I can understand that you applied the coal," remarked Judge Byram as he placed the case on file on payment of costs, "but you should not steal from the New Haven because the company needs the fuel."

Despite the bad weather a large number of Quincy people on Tuesday evening attended the performance of Ben Hur at the Boston Theatre. The party was organized by our enterprising friend and colleague, "Al" Labreque of the Telegram. Congratulations "Al."

The Exploits of Elaine

A Detective Novel and a Motion Picture Drama

By ARTHUR B. REEVE
The Well-Known Novelist and the Creator of the "Craig Kennedy" Stories

Presented in Collaboration With the Pathe Players and the Eclectic Film Company
Copyright, 1914, by the Star Company All Foreign Rights Reserved

(Continued from last issue.)

Evidently the fumes had not reached Elaine, or, if they had, the inrush of fresh air revived her, for she waked and quickly reached for the gun. In an instant the other crook had leaped at her. Holding his hand over her mouth to prevent her screaming, he snatched the revolver away before she could fire it.

In the meantime the Clutching Hand had taken out some chloroform, and, rolling a towel in the form of a cone, placed it over her face.

When Elaine was completely under the influence of the drug they lifted her out of bed, the chloroform cone still over her face, and quietly carried her to the door, which they had opened stealthily.

Holding his Hand Over Elaine's Mouth to Prevent Her Screaming, He Snatched the Revolver Away Before She Could Fire It.

Down stairs they carried her until they came to the library with its new safe where they placed her on a couch.

* * * * * * * *

At an early hour an express wagon stopped before the Dodge house and Jennings, half-dressed, answered the bell.

"We've come for that broken suit of armor to be repaired," said a workman.

Jennings let the men in. The armor was still on the stand and the repairers took armor, stand and all, laying it on the couch, where they wrapped it in the covers they had brought for the purpose. They lifted it up and started to carry it out.

"Be careful," cautioned the thrifty Jennings.

Rusty, now recovered, was barking and sniffing at the armor.

"Kick the mutt off," growled one man.

The other did so, and Rusty snarled and snapped at him. Jennings took him by the collar and held him as the repairers went out, loaded the armor on the wagon, and drove off.

Scarcely had they gone, while Jennings straightened out the disarranged library, when Rusty began jumping about, barking furiously. Jennings looked at him in amazement as the dog ran to the window and leaped out.

He had no time to look after the dog, though, for at that very instant he heard a voice calling, "Jennings, Jennings!"

It was Marie, almost speechless. He followed her as she led the way to Miss Elaine's room. There Marie pointed mutely to the bed.

Elaine was not there.

There, too were her clothes, neatly folded, as Marie had hung them for her.

"Something must have happened to her!" wailed Marie.

Jennings was now thoroughly alarmed.

Meanwhile the express wagon outside was driving off, with Rusty tearing after it.

"What's the matter?" cried Aunt Josephine, coming in where the footman and the maid were arguing what was to be done.

She gave one look at her bed, the clothes, and the servants.

"Call Mr. Kennedy!" she cried in alarm.

* * * * * * * *

"Elaine is gone—no one knows how or where," announced Craig, after leaping out of bed that morning to answer the furious ringing of our telephone bell.

When we arrived at the Dodge house Aunt Josephine and Marie were fully dressed. Jennings let us in.

"What has happened?" demanded Kennedy, breathlessly.

While Aunt Josephine tried to tell him, Craig was busy examining the room.

"Let us see the library," he said at length.

Accordingly down to the library we went. Kennedy looked about. He seemed to miss something.

"Where is the armor?" he demanded.

"Why, the men came for it and took it away to repair," answered Jennings.

Kennedy's brow clouded in deep thought.

Outside we had left our taxi waiting. The door was open and a new footman, James, was sweeping the rug, when past him flashed a dishevelled hairy streak.

We were all standing there still as Craig questioned Jennings about the armor. With a yelp Rusty tore frantically into the room. A moment he stopped and barked. We all looked at him in surprise. Then, as no one moved, he seemed to single out Kennedy. He seized Craig's coat in his teeth and tried to drag him out.

"Here, Rusty—down, sir, down!" called Jennings.

"No; Jennings, no," interposed Craig. "What's the matter, old fellow?"

Craig patted Rusty, whose big brown eyes seemed mutely appealing. Out of the doorway he went, barking still. Craig and I followed, while the rest stood in the vestibule.

Rusty was trying to lead Kennedy down the street.

"Wait here," called Kennedy to Aunt Josephine, as he stepped with me on the running board of the cab. "Go on, Rusty; good dog!"

It seemed miles that we went, but at last we came to a peculiarly deserted looking house. Here Rusty turned in and began scratching at the door. We jumped off the cab and followed.

The door was locked when we tried it, and from inside we could get no answer. We put our shoulders to it and burst it in. Rusty gave a leap forward with a joyous bark.

We followed more cautiously. There were pieces of armor strewn all over the floor. Rusty sniffed at them and looked about, disappointed, then howled.

I looked from the armor to Kennedy in blank amazement.

"Elaine was kidnapped—in the armor," he cried.

* * * * * * * *

He was right. Meanwhile, the armor repairers had stopped at last at this apparently deserted house, a strange sort of repair shop. Still keeping it wrapped in blankets, they had taken the armor out of the wagon and had laid it down on an old broken bed. Then they had unwrapped it and taken off the helmet.

There was Elaine!

"Sh! What's that" cautioned one of the men.

They paused and listened. Sure enough, there was a sound outside. They opened the window cautiously. A dog was scratching on the door, endeavoring to get in. It was Rusty.

"I think it's her dog," said the man, turning. "We'd better let him in. Someone might see him."

The other nodded and a moment later the door opened and in ran Rusty. Straight to Elaine he went, starting to lick her hand.

"Right—her dog," exclaimed the other man, drawing a gun and hastily levelling it at Rusty.

"Don't cautioned the first. "It would make too much noise. You'd better choke him!'

The fellow grabbed for Rusty. Rusty was too quick. He jumped. Around the room they ran. Rusty saw the wide-open window—and his chance. Out he went and disappeared, leaving the man swearing at him.

A moment's argument followed, then they wrapped Elaine in the blankets alone, still bound and gagged, and carried her out.

* * * * * * * *

In the secret den the Clutching Hand was waiting, gazing now and then at his watch, and then at the wounded man before him. In a chair his first assistant sat, watching Doctor Martin.

A knock at the door caused them to turn their heads. The crook opened it, and in walked the other crooks who had carried off Elaine in the suit of armor.

Elaine was now almost conscious, as they sat her down in a chair, and partly loosed her bonds and gag. She gazed about, frightened.

"Oh, help! help!" she screamed, as she caught sight of the now familiar mask of the Clutching Hand.

"Call all you want—here, young lady," he laughed unnaturally.

"Now, doc," he added harshly to Doctor Martin. "It was she who shot him. Her blood must save him."

Doctor Martin recoiled at the thought of torturing the beautiful young girl before him.

"Are—you willing—to have your blood transfused?" he parleyed.

"No, no, no!" she cried in horror.

Doctor Martin turned to the desperate criminal. "I cannot do it."

"The deuce you can't."

A cold steel revolver pressed down on Doctor Martin's stomach.

The other crooks next carried Elaine, struggling, and threw her down beside the wounded man.

Doctor Martin, still covered by the gun, bent over the two, the hardened criminal and the delicate, beautiful girl. Clutching Hand glared fiendishly, insanely.

From his bag he took a little piece of something that shone like silver.

A moment later, Doctor Martin looked up at the Clutching Hand and nodded, "Well, it's working!"

All were now bending over the two.

Doctor Martin bent closest over Elaine. He looked at her anxiously, felt her pulse, watched her breathing, then pursed up his lips.

"This is—dangerous," he ventured, gazing askance at the grim Clutching Hand.

"Can't help it," came back laconically, and relentlessly.

The doctor shuddered.

The man was a veritable vampire.

* * * * * * * *

Outside the deserted house, Kennedy and I were looking helplessly about.

Suddenly Kennedy reached into his pocket and produced and pulled out a police whistle. He blew three sharp blasts.

Would it bring help?

* * * * * * * *

While we were thus despairing, the continued absence of Doctor Martin from his home had alarmed his family, and had set in motion another train of events.

When he did not return, and could not be located at the place to which he was supposed to have gone, several policemen had been summoned to his house, and they had come, finally, with real bloodhounds from a suburban station.

It had not been long before the party came across the deserted runabout beside the road. There they had stopped for a moment.

It was just then that they heard Kennedy's call, and one of them had been detailed to answer it.

"Well, what do you want?" asked the officer, eyeing Kennedy suspiciously as he stood there with the armor. "What's them pieces of tin—hey?"

Kennedy quickly flashed his own special badge. "I want to trail a girl," he exclaimed hurriedly. "Can I find a bloodhound about here?"

"A hound? Why, we have a pack—over there."

"Bring them—quick!" ordered Craig.

Kennedy held the armor down to the dogs. "Searchlight" gave a low whine, then, followed by "Bob" and the others, was off, all with noses close to the ground. We followed.

* * * * * * * *

In the mysterious haunt of the Clutching Hand, all were still standing around Elaine and the wounded Pitts Slim.

Just then a cry from one of the group startled the rest. One of them, less hardened than the Clutching Hand, had turned away from the sight, had gone to the window, and had been attracted by something outside.

"Look!" he cried.

From the absolute stillness of death there was now wild excitement among the crooks.

"Police! Police!" they shouted to each other as they fled by a doorway to a secret passage.

Clutching Hand turned to his first assistant.

"You go, too," he ordered."

* * * * * * * *

The dogs had led us to a strange looking house, and were now having and leaping up against the door. We did not stop to knock, but began to break through, for inside we could hear faintly sounds of excitement and cries of "Police! Police!"

The door yielded and we rushed into a long hallway. Up the passage we went until we came to another door.

An instant and we were all against it. It was stout, but it shook before us. The panels began to yield.

* * * * * * * *

On the other side of that door from us the master crook stood for a moment. Doctor Martin hesitated, not knowing quite what to do.

Just then the wounded Pitts Slim lifted his hand feebly. He seemed vaguely to understand that the game was up. He touched the Clutching Hand.

"You did your best, chief," he murmured thickly. "Beat it, if you can. I'm a goner, anyway."

Clutching Hand moved over to a panel in the wall and pushed a spring. It slid open and he stepped through. Then it closed—not a second too soon.

"Elaine Was Kidnaped—in the Armor," Cried Kennedy.

At the very moment when we burst in, Doctor Martin, seeing his chance, stopped the blood transfusion, working frantically to stay the flow of blood.

Kennedy sprang to Elaine's side, horrified by the blood that had spattered over everything.

Just then the police burst through the secret panel and rushed on, leaving us alone, with the unconscious, scarcely breathing Elaine.

From the sounds we could tell that they had come to the private room of the Clutching Hand. It was empty.

A policeman now stood beside Elaine and the wounded burglar, who was muttering deliriously to himself.

He was pretty far gone, as the policeman knelt down and tried to get a statement out of him.

"Who was that man who left you—last—the Clutching Hand?"

Not a word came from the crook.

Doctor Martin had paid no attention whatever to him, but was working desperately now over Elaine, trying to bring her back to life.

"Is she—going to—die?" gasped Craig frantically.

Every eye was riveted on Doctor Martin.

"She is all right," he muttered. "But the man is going to die."

At the sound of Craig's voice Elaine had feebly opened her eyes.

"Thank heaven," breathed Craig, with a sigh of relief, as his hand gently stroked Elaine's unnaturally cold forehead.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

OWATONNA SOCIAL CLUB.

The Owatonna Social Club met Monday evening at the home of Miss Elizabeth Ross on Bennington street. The first part of the evening the members devoted to sewing of usefui articles following by a social hour in which Miss Marion Duffy entertained by several pleasing vocal selections. She was accompanied on the piano by Miss Celia Connors. Games of all kinds were enjoyed. The party broke up at a late hour after singing the popular songs of the day. Refreshments were served.

TO ENTER CONVENT.

Miss Eva M. Bertrand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bertrand of Filbert street, left Monday evening for Canada where she will enter a convent as a novice.

She was educated in the Willard grammar school, after which she worked in the Milton laundry. Miss Bertrand is a member of St. Marys parish and was a leader in the social life of the church and a member of St. Marys Sodality.

ENJOY SOCIAL.

A small social was held Monday evening at the home of Miss Katherine Cronin of Barry street. Guests were present from Milton, Mattapan and Boston. Games were enjoyed by all and there was much merriment. James E. Murphy the popular conductor of the Bay State Street Railway Company rendered several selections which met with the approval of all. Among those present were Misses Catherine Shea, Mary O'Neil, Helen Cronin, Nora Fitzgerald, James A. Doyle, Thomas McKluskey, Hector Parker and James E. Murphy.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
STATE HOUSE, BOSTON, FEB. 1, 1915.
The committee on Harbors and Public Lands will give a hearing to parties interested in S. 317, on rebuilding Stony Beach breakwater, Hull, at Room 431, State House, Friday, Feb. 5th, at 10.30 A. M. L. F. R. Langelier, Chairman. Horace F. Field, Clerk of the Committee. 2-2t

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
STATE HOUSE, BOSTON, FEB. 1, 1915.
The committee on Water Supply will give a hearing to parties interested in S. 107, for State Commission on water supply sources, etc., at Room 435, State House, on Friday, Feb. 5th, at 10.30 A. M. George H. Jackson, Chairman. Edgar H. Hall, Clerk of the Committee. 2-2t

KINCAIDE THEATRE

Coming Attractions

IN response to a growing demand for Feature Photo Plays, the management is pleased to announce that at this theatre will be shown a series of Photo Plays representing the most costly productions that have ever been produced. Among the attractions already booked are the following:

THE THIEF by Charles Frohman
featuring Dorothy Donnelly
LIFE'S SHOP WINDOW by Victoria Cross
Claire Whitney and Stuart Holmes
SAMSON by Charles Frohman
with William Farnum
A FOOL THERE WAS by Robert Hilliard
with Edward Jose and Theda Bara
THE IDLER by Daniel Frohman
with Charles Richman
CHILDREN OF GHETTO by Liebler & Co.
with Wilton Lackaye
THE GIRL I LEFT BEHIND by Frohman
with Robert Edeson
THE GILDED FOOL by Nat Goodwin
with William Farnum
THE BUTTERFLY ON THE WHEEL by Shuberts
with Claire Whitney

These Photo Plays will be shown Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each Week—one of the above features each week in addition to our regular vaudeville.

Regular Prices.

ASSESSORS HAVE LONG BUSY DAY

Organize With J. O'Hara as Chairman and Miss Allen as Clerk

MURPHY IN MAIN OFFICE

The new board of assessors spent a busy day Monday, remaining in their office until 5 o'clock. The board first organized with John J. O'Hara as chairman and then elected Miss Annie Allen as its clerk. The election of Miss Allen was somewhat of a surprise as this position has heretofore been held by a man, and for the past few years by Patrick Murphy.

When asked as to why the change in a clerk had been made the chairman said that is was for no ulterior reason but simply as a business proposition only, as the board desired to have Mr. Murphy and the other clerks remain in the main office in order to attend to the business of callers at the office. Heretofore Mr. Murphy as clerk of the board has been in the office with them while in session and they believed it better business that he should be in the outside office.

TIPPERARY ON PROGRAM.

Fore River Corp Band to Give Concert Sunday.

The recently organized band of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation will give a concert in the Kincaide theatre next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock under the direction of Thomas H. Carter, formerly of Carter's band. Tickets for the concert are being distributed to employees at the shipyard. The program will include popular songs of the day, including "Tipperary."

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER

Only One "BROMO QUININE"
Whenever you feel a cold coming on, think of the full name, LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for signature of E. W. Grove on Box. 25c.

BEGIN SECOND HALF YEAR

The second half year of the public schools began Monday. That was the day children were admitted to the lower grades. There are always a number of children who enter the schools for the first time on this date and it was expected that as a result some of the buildings would be pretty well crowded. Supt. Barbour said, however that owing to the stormy day Monday very few new children reported, a condition which also obtains today.

BUILDING PERMITS.

The following building permits were issued last week:

James J. Foley, dwelling, Holmes street.

Henry M. Faxon, dwelling, Elm street.

Edward Granlund, garage, Glendale road.

Alice E. Staunwhite, dwelling Charles street.

Carl Erickson, dwelling, Whitwell street.

Lincoln Polishing Co., polishing shop, Intervale street.

John E. Levitt, dwelling, Central avenue.

W. L. Birnie, dwelling, Franklin street.

Charles N. Totten, dwelling Pawsey street.

Atto T. Krafft, removal, Curlew street.

Ralph Doble, dwelling South street.

BARNES TO RUN.

Ex-Representative Clarence A. Barnes of Mansfield has announced that he would be next Fall a candidate for the Republican nomination for the Governor's Council from the 2d District to succeed Guy A. Ham, who has stated that he would be a candidate for Lieutenant Governor.

Mr. Barnes has been a member of the Legislature and was one of the men in charge of Samuel W. McCalls campaign headquarters last year.

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con

Build Now! Plan Now!
To the prospective home builders of Quincy that Quincy may share in the general betterments that will accrue to every one who takes advantage of the Build Now opportunities we propose the following inducement which we are sure the material men and all labor will generously follow. For a limited time we will blueprint any of our plans of flats at a reduction from the regular price. We will also estimate all building work at Build Now prices and can save you some money if you'd dare take a chance.
How many Red Boosters in Quincy?
J. W. PRATT Architect and Builder
18 FAXON AVE, from City Sq. Tel 581-W

What Local Clubs are Doing

News of Women's Clubs is a feature of the Daily Ledger every Wednesday. Secretaries of organizations should send notices of club activities, to reach the Club Editor not later than Tuesday night to insure insertion the next day.

Quincy Women's Christian Temperance Union meets Friday afternoon at 2.30 with Mrs. Charles A Spear of 166 Washington street. Mrs K. L. Stevenson, state president of th W. C. T. U. will be present and speak An interesting program has been arranged and all women are cordiall invited to attend the meeting.

* * *

The monthly tea of the Massachusetts Society of the Daughters of th Revolution will be held Friday from until 5 o'clock in the society room at Hotel Westminster, Copley Square Boston.

* * *

Christ Church Women's Guild meet tomorrow afternoon in the parish house.

* * *

Under the auspices of the Massachusetts Society of the Daughters o the Revolution a sale is to be held to morrow in the banquet hall of Hote Westminster, Boston, from 10.30 unt 4.30 with buffet luncheon from 12.30 until 2 o'clock. The sale is for th benefit of the treasury and there wil be booths of everything salable.

* * *

Reapers Circle Kings Daughter meets Friday evening with Miss Madeleine Pollock of Bigelow street.

* * *

In order not to conflict with th Quincy Women's Club parliamentar law class held every other Monday af ternoon, the Junior Friday Club ha changed its meeting day for the pres ent. Its next meeting will be o Feb. 8, with Mrs. Albert H. Wright o 50 Saville avenue with Mrs. Thompso in charge of the program.

* * *

Colonel Anderson is to be the speak er Monday afternoon at the meetin of Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter D A. R. of Wollaston, at the home o Mrs. E. E. Jameson, 58 Beach street Wollaston park. The chapter is arranging for a card party to be held this month.

* * *

The Mountain Whites, will be th subject of the Ladies Benevolent Society of the Wollaston Congregationa church at its meeting next week Wednesday, with Mrs. Wyman Streeter as leader.

* * *

Mrs. John J. Donahue is to speak on Patriotism and Loyalty at the Feb 10th meeting of Wollaston Alliance.

* * *

Atlantic Shakespeare Society will finish the reading of Henry the Fourth at its next meeting, Thursday, afternoon Feb. 11. Mrs. Elijah Hall will be chairman of the meeting .The next play to be taken up will be, Midsummer Nights Dream, and will conclude the plays for this season.

* * *

The Altar Guild of St. Chrysostoms meets Thursday evening.

* * *

Last rehearsals are going on for the annual dramatics of the Wollaston Woman's Club which are to be given at Quincy Music hall Tuesday afternoon Feb. 16. "The Piper" from the story of "The Pied Piper of Hamlin" will be given with a fine cast of club members. Tickets are to be on sale by the Custodian committee for the public members being admitted by their club tickets it being one of the regular club meetings.

* * *

A Newark, N. J. paper speaking of Mrs. E. C. Bumpus and her series of illustrated art conferences given in hat city in January said: "This is Irs. Bumpus third appearance as a lecturer in this city. From the outset she has been highly appreciated by Newark women, and her popularity has steadily increased so that now she speaks under the patronage and personal interest of the most prominent women of the city. Mrs. Bumpus was the first president of the Quincy Women's Club, was formerly resident art teacher at Smith college. She is a graduate of the Yale School of Fine Arts, later a papil in Paris of Bouguereau, Robert Fleury and Deschamps."

* * *

RIVERSIDE CLUB.

The February calendar of the Quincy Women's Riverside Club gives a good program for the month as follows: Feb. 3. at the clubhouse, a public matinee whist under the auspices of the executive board; Feb. 10 at the clubhouse regular business meeting; Feb. 17 at clubhouse a Valentine luncheon when members will be guests of the executive board; Feb. 24 at clubhouse regular business meeting.

* * *

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

Next week is an exciting one socially for the Quincy Women's Club, for the annual club dramatics take place Tuesday afternoon at Quincy Music hall and the following evening at the same place the Music committee gives the opera Mikado, which is a public affair and attracting much attention.

The play, "A Rose O' Plymouth Town," is to be given with a fine cast with Mrs. Willard Sheppard (Molly Brown) in the leading role and other favorites in amateur performances.

The doors will open at one o'clock. The usual business session of the club will be held at two and the play will begin at half past two. Home made candy will be on sale by the Philanthropy committee.

Unlimited guest privilege is to be granted members to the capacity of the hall which will give members an opportunity to take their friends to some thing worth while, as every one enjoys a good play.

The Custodian Mrs. Charles R. Safford and committee Mrs. Zenas S. Arnold, Miss Emily C. Wild, Mrs. Herbert S. Barker, Mrs. George H. Brown, Mrs. Frank J. Moore, Miss Margaret L. Thomas, Mrs. George L. Badger, Mrs. George Fleming, Mrs. Charles A Pinkham, Mrs. E. E. Jameson, Mrs. Jesse I. Litchfield, Mrs. Percy L. Davidson and Mrs. William F. Cummings are giving out the tickets for the play and all members should be provided with tickets for their guests before the date of play.

The Mikado being for the public the tickets are on sale by the Music committee in charge of Mrs. William H. Doble. It will undoubtedly be the finest musical production ever given in Quincy the expense being over $400 for the orchestra, vocalists and incidentals. Nearly every seat in the hall has been sold and it promises to be a brilliant affair.

* * *

KATHARYN CRANE CLUB MEETS.

A meeting of the Katharyn Crane Memorial club was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of A. L. Barbour on Linden place. The most important action of the meeting was the vote to supply two baskets and a ball for the Young Women's club room in the Adams Academy building. Light refreshments were served.

* * *

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

The Civics department of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs has sent out the following circular:

Twenty-five cities in the United States have women police officers under public appointment.

In Massachusetts but one woman police officer has been officially appointed.

Under Chapter 510 of the Acts of 1914, any city or town may appoint women as police officers to supervise dance halls, bathing beaches, parks, moving picture shows, railroad stations, etc., where young girls are exposed to peculiar dangers, attend young girls at court hearings, accompany girls and women committed to state institutions of reform in place of men officers, etc.

Men, not women, are performing those functions in your city. Why?

In Massachusetts 228 women were admitted to the Massachusetts Reformatory for Women in 1913. 203 of these were accompanied by men; 25 by women officers; 234 girls from 12 to 18 years are on probation; 2,044 women are on probation; 12,309 women were arrested during 1913; 7,604 arrested in Boston alone; 108 girls arrested between 10 and 15 years of age; 453 girls between 15 and 20.

Salem is the single city in Massachusetts having a woman police officer officially appointed.

Are these girls and women in the hands of men or women in your city? Why?

* * *

ST. MARY'S GUILD.

St. Mary's Catholic Guild held its monthly business and social meeting at the home of its president, Mrs. Stephen B. Little, 23 Crescent street. The "Reveries of a Bachelor" in tableaux was presented by the following young ladies—

Country Girl—Elizabeth Farrell
Golf Girl—Sadie Monahan.
Coquette—Alicia Elcock.
Military Girl—Helen Burke.
Nun—Celina Beliveau.
Hunting Girl—Helen Elcock.
Nurse—Grace Lamb.
Belle of Ball—Annie Healey.
College Girl—Mercedes O'Brien.
The Bride—Gertrude Burke.
The Bachelor—Annie McGilvray.

Miss Annie Burns read the verses accompanying the various characters, as they took their places in the frame arranged for the occasion.

At the conclusion of the "Reveries" Miss Celina Beliveau rendered several pleasing vocal solos while mandolin selections were given by Miss Ethel Burns.

Refreshments followed served by Mrs. William Callahan and her assistants on the hospitality committee.

* * *

WHATSOEVER CIRCLE.

The Whatsoever Circle of King's Daughters held their meeting at the home of Mrs. E. R. Frost, 239 Farrington street, on Monday evening.

Nine of the Circle braved the elements. Plans were made at this meeting for celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization on the twenty-fourth of February. It was decided to have a reception at that time. Other plans for the occasion are not quite completed.

Mrs. Edmund Taylor, who is president of the circle is also chairman of the committee on arrangements. After the close of the business meeting light refreshments were served.

* * *

☞ Tickets are now on sale by members of the Wollaston Woman's Club for their annual dramatics at Quincy Music hall, Tuesday afternoon Feb. 16. They are to give "The Piper" based on the story of "The Pied Piper of Hamlin."

CLUB EVENTS

FEBRUARY.

4—Q. W. C. Board meeting.
5—Q W. C. T. U. Mrs. Spears
8.—Junior Friday, Mrs. Wrights.
8—A. P. Q. Chapter, Mrs. Jameson.
9—Q. W. Club—Q. Music Hall.
10—Q. W. R. Club.
10—Wollaston Alliance.
10—Ladies' Ben. So. Wol. Cong.
10—Q. W. Club—Opera Q. M. Hall.
11—Atlantic Shakespeare Society.
11—St. Chrysostom's Guild Fair.
11—W. W. Club—Board meeting
15—Q. W. C. Parliamentary Law Class.
15—Charitable Ten—Miss Newcomb
16—K. C. M. Club—Miss Holden.
16—W. W. Club—Q. M. Hall.
17—Q. W. R. C. Valentine Lunch.
17—Quincy Alliance.
22—Junior Friday, Mrs. Thompsons.
23—Q. W. Club—10th Anniversary.
24—Q. W. R. Club.
24—Wollaston Alliance.
24—Ladies' Ben. So. Wol. Cong.
25—Atlantic Shakespeare Society.
25—Hospital Aid—Mrs. F. H. Smith.

Baked with great care and wrapped in Wax Paper. Dust and flyproof between our bakery and your table. Ask for it. YOUR GROCERS SELL IT
PRATT BREAD CO.
5150 Washington Street. Boston

DR. C. F. S. PEARCE
DENTIST
327 Newport Avenue, Wollaston
Mondays -- Wednesdays -- Fridays
9 to 12 — 1 to 5
EVENINGS
Boston Office 194 Boylston Street
June 24-1y-W.-s

CLARA MORRISON
Pianist and Teacher
Leschetizky Method
CATHERINE MORRISON
Mandolin and Guitar
50 Hamilton Street, Wollaston
Tel. Quincy 1318-W. Sept 30-w.s.-1y

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
Room 8, Dur in & Merrill Block, Quincy
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448-4. Haymarket 2440
Oct. 4f

W. R. LOFGREN
Carpenter and Builder
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 398-3
June 9-M

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

HAMMERING AT ALLIED LINES

Germans Making Desperate Efforts to Break Deadlock

SEEK TO CROSS THE YSER

Reported to Have Suffered Heavy Losses In Endeavor to Clear Way to French Coast Ports—Von Hindenberg's Army Suffers Terrible Casualties In Attempt to Break Through Russian Lines Before Warsaw—Germans After British Transports—Forts In Dardanelles Destroyed by Anglo-French Warships

London, Feb. 3.—During the last few days the Germans have been making desperate efforts to break the deadlock which has existed for so long on both the eastern and western fronts.

They have delivered a series of attacks, always preceded by artillery activity, on the allied lines in Flanders and France, and while in almost every case they have thus won a preliminary advantage, before the fighting was concluded the French, British and Belgians have been able to regain the trenches temporarily lost and, in some cases, to occupy the German positions.

In these attacks, according to the reports of the British and French general staffs, the Germans have suffered severe losses.

The German artillery has been subjecting the Belgian positions in Flanders to a severe bombardment, which suggests that the moment has arrived for another effort to get across the Yser, and thence to the French coast ports.

In return, the French have bombarded the railway station at Noyon, one of the German military centres, behind their advanced lines.

That terrible loss of life was suffered by the German army in attempting to take British entrenchments is reported in the account of the British official eye-witness of two German attacks between the La Bassee canal and the Bethune road.

Germans Attack Russian Lines

More serious attacks have been made against the Russian lines in central Poland. Faced by flanking movemets, both north and south, Field Marshal von Hindenberg made a desperate effort, which, apparently, is to be renewed, to break through to Warsaw and thus not only gain a great military and political advantage for Germany, but at the same time release the pressure on Hungary and East Prussia, in each of which regions the Russian troops are slowly pushing forward.

The fighting to the west and southwest of the Polish capital has been of a most desperate character and the Germans were at first successful, but the Russian official report declares that the Russians, by a counter-attack, regained most of the lost ground. The report adds that the German losses were "colossal."

The German official account simply says of the fighting there: "We are making progress."

Six Thousand Dead In One Mile

For four days the little vilage of Borjimow has been the centre of furious fighting. On one occasion the Germans, after an all-day struggle, claimed a great victory because they had been able to occupy the Russian trench. The battle has assumed tremendous proportions, and prisoners taken by the Russians declare that the Germans counted 6000 dead in one mile of their lines.

The entire front on the Bzura and Rawka rivers, which has been quiescent for several weeks, is now occupied by assaults which the Russian official statement characterizes as "ferocious and distinguished by great tenacity."

This new drive towards Warsaw reached its height last Saturday, and is continuing in the same pitch.

German Submarire at Large

A German submarine is still at large in the English channel and the French officially report an attempt to torpedo the British hospital ship Asturias. The German submarine U-21, which recently sank three steamers in the Irish sea, has not been seen since Sunday and it is believed that she has withdrawn.

Traffic in these waters, however, continues to be somewhat restricted, shipowners preferring for the present to keep in port all but the fast steamers, which, it is believed, can elude the submarines.

The Germans, flushed with their successes, have issued a warning that an attempt will be made to sink British transports, and they advise neutral shipping to keep away from the north and west coasts of France.

Four Turkish Forts Destroyed

Copenhagen, the newspapers of which still have correspondents at Constantinople, has a report that the Anglo-French fleeets have destroyed four of the Dardanelles forts, and that there is a panic in the Turkish capital, where the defeats suffered by the Turkish armies in the Caucasus and Azebaijan are just becoming known.

With the opening of the British parliament the political truce was renewed. The government, while assuming all responsibility for the war, welcomed the opposition's support and the ministers announced that they would readily reply to all criticism and endeavor to avoid controversial matters.

An indication of possible action by Italy is to be found in a notification issued to Italian reservists in England to prepare to join the colors.

Berlin Bakeries Guarded

Reports reaching Holland say that the new bread regulations in Germany have caused so much unrest that 12,000 special constables have been appointed to guard the bakeries in Berlin.

It also is said that, following the action of the government in commandeering cereals, the military authorities are confiscating all utensils containing metals useful for their purpose. It is recognized that these are precautionary measures and are not due to any immediate shortage.

WILL SEIZE GRAIN CARGOE

England Will Not Permit Food to Reach Belligerent Countries

Ambassador Page at London cabled the state department at Washington that the British fleet had been ordered to treat cargoes of grain and flour destined for Germany and Austria as conditional contraband, subject to seizure and confiscation.

This step, the ambassador explained, followed the announcement that the German government had decreed confiscation of all grain and flour to conserve the nation's food supply.

Since the publication of the German order, Ambassador von Bernstorff has virtually assured the American government that no foodstuffs imported from the United States or other neutral contries would be subject to seizure, and press dispatches have announced the issuance of a modifying decree making such exemptions by the German government.

MORE GERMAN AIR RAIDS

Bombs Are Rained on Several French Towns Near the Border

German aviators hurled bombs with deadly effect in the region southeast of Verdun. One non-combatant was killed near Pont-a-Mousson, a boy was frightfully maimed at Nancy and a maternity hospital at Remiremont was slightly damaged.

News of the latest German air raid reached Paris on the heels of the announcement that German taubes had again successfully bombarded Dunkirk, raining sixty shells upon the seacoast town. Paris newspapers voiced the popular demand that the allies' aviators take the aggressive at once and shell German cities in retaliation.

THE SEIZURE OF COPPER

Correspondence Concerning It Kept Secret by President Wilson

Declaring it "incompatible with the public interest," President Wilson refused to send to the senate the state department's correspondence with foreign governments over the seizures of copper shipments.

The information was asked in a resolution calling also for the correspondence relative to making copper conditional or absolute contraband. The president also refused, for the same reason, to send the senate the corerspondence concerning the making of naval stores contraband.

LOOKS BAD FOR JOHNSON

Likely to Experience Great Difficulty In Getting Into Mexico

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 3.—How Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight pugilist, will enter Mexico and by what route he will travel to Juarez for his fight March 6 with Jess Willard is unexplained.

Federal officials are prepared to arrest the pugilist, who is under conviction in Chicago for violation of the Mann act, should he attempt to pass through the United States.

Promoters of the fight claim that General Villa has promised protection to Johnson, but at this time no port on the east coast is controlled by Villa, and the occupation of Mexico City by Carranza troops will prevent his entering from Central America.

ONE YEAR IN JAIL

Sentence of McSweeney of Lynn, Convicted of Manslaughter

Salem, Mass., Feb. 3.—John McSweeney of Lynn was found guilty of manslaughter in causing the death of M. C. McGarry at Lynn on Oct. 28, 1914.

McGarry sustained a broken neck as the result of being pushed down a flight of steps at McSweeney's house. McSweeney was sentenced to one year in the house of correction.

Mine President Drops Dead

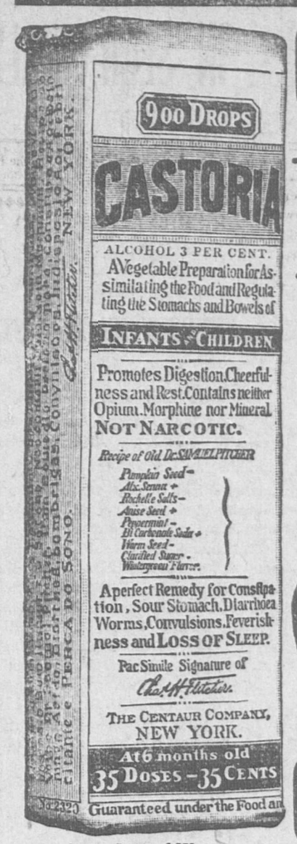

Peaody, Mass., Feb. 3.—J. B. Neily, 60, of Halifax, a mining promoter with offices in Boston, dropped dead as he stepped onto a train for Boston last night. He came here on a business visit and had run for the train. Neily was president of the Goldenville Mining company.

Three Jailbirds Take Flight

Skowhegan, Me., Feb. 3.—John Semanchook, Samuel Dawes and William Wheeler escaped from the jail here by sawing off bars in a window of the workshop. They were recaptured last night.

Change In the Meals.

Boarder—Here's a nickel I found in the hash. Landlady—Yes, I put it there. You've been complaining, I understand, about lack of change in your meals.—Boston Transcript.

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

FLOOR UP 25 CENTS

(Continued from Page One.)

cents a pound, excepting rib roast which can be had from 15 to 25 cents a pound. Pork continues to be within reason, chops selling from 15 to 22 cents, chine pieces and ribs at 15 cents, smoked shoulders and corned shoulders at 14 cents, while whole smoked hams can be had for 20 cents.

Shrewd buyers should watch carefully the columns of the Ledger, especially on Fridays of each week for every week our enterprising provision dealers and grocers make specialties of some staple article upon which low prices are quoted.

Then again a visit to the grocery and provision stores in and about city square will disclose different lines of canned goods, upon which special prices have been made for the day. This only shows that it will pay the woman of the house who does the family buying to keep in touch with the markets, and it will be time well and profitably spent if she will devote an hour or so every morning in visiting the different stores and see what bargains are offered Rather than buying only from the grocery clerk who calls for orders it is well to visit the stores and see what one is getting.

This is especially true if one is buying steaks, for when the clerk brings in an order for steak the meat cutter, as a rule, cuts it from the first piece of beef he gets his hands on, while if the customer is on the spot he can tell whether the steak will be tough when cooked as well as whether it is full of veins. By all means therefore, careful housewife, go to the markets and see what you are paying your good money for.

Now is the time to hold that sleigh party which has been delayed on account of lack of snow.

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

Kenneth Hecker of Huntington road returned to his home recently after spending six weeks with relatives in Milwaukee, Wis.

Much interest is being shown by the people throughout the east section in the minstrel show to be given Wednesday evening, Feb. 10 in Ellsworth hall by the Kemp Class of the East Congregational S. S. The boys have worked hard the past few weeks and deserve good support. Some of the money made will go towards buying the new piano for the school.

The public school pupils were highly elated Tuesday morning when for the fourth time within a month the no-school signal sounded.

The Ladies Aid society of the First Baptist church will hold its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon in the church parlor. Mrs. Lillian Bryant will preside.

The Woodsum Class of the First Baptist church is to engage in a membership contest with the Davis Class of the Calvary Baptist church of Quincy. The contest will continue for three months commencing, next Sunday.

The Apollo Quartet of Boston will make its annual appearance here in the First Baptist church on Mar. 12, under the auspices of the Woodsum class.

A cottage prayer meeting was held Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bezanson on Bailey avenue.

The wet snow and sleet gathering on the fire alarm wires caused a break Tuesday in No. 6, circuit in the Houghs Neck district. The break was quickly repaired by the fire alarm crew.

WE have the largest and most complete stock of Oriental Rugs in Boston and can always show you a greater assortment than you can find elsewhere.
JOHN H PRAY & SONS CO
646-650 Washington St., opp. Boylston St.

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 1.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

LIGHT PINFALL IN CHURCH LEAGUE

POINT CHURCH LEAGUE.

Rocky Point	47	21
Beach Point	32	36
Cedar Point	30	38
Stage Point	27	41

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

Stage Pt. 4—Beach Pt. 0
Rocky Pt. 2—Cedar Pt. 2.

Light pinfall marked the Point Church league rolloffs at the Wardwell alleys Tuesday night. Four dummies were necessary because of the absence of regular men.

ROCKY POINT—2.

Waddell	84	84	100	268
Thayer	80	89	76	245
Moe	65	74	84	223
Wight	96	89	85	270
Everson	84	86	91	261
	409	422	436	1267

CEDAR POINT—2.

Hayden	82	101	79	262
Chisholm	86	100	84	270
Scouler	74	79	72	225
Dummy	65	74	76	215
MacQueen	85	90	101	276
	392	444	412	1248

STAGE POINT—4

Mead	72	93	86	251
Peterson	69	75	89	233
Jones	99	86	85	270
Oliver	75	75	103	253
Dummy	75	75	75	225
	390	404	438	1232

BEACH POINT—0.

Putnam	76	80	77	233
Geisler	75	81	71	227
Melville	82	74	91	247
Dummy	75	75	75	225
Dummy	75	75	75	225
	383	385	389	1157

SELF FILLING — NON SPILLING

Crocker

INK-TITE FOUNTAIN PEN

For a Short Time Only

WE'LL PAY YOU $1.00

FOR YOUR OLD FOUNTAIN PEN

Provided You Buy a Crocker INK-TITE Fountain Pen

(Only one Pen taken in exchange for each new pen purchased.)

Exchange Your Old Pen Now

DON'T WAIT

Every Crocker Ink-Tite Pen is guaranteed to be a FAR BETTER PEN than you have ever known.

QUINCY
ARTHUR L. McGILVRAY, Druggist
WOLLASTON
G. C. SHUNK, Newsdealer & Stationer

Jan. 18-01-eod

SIX BOWLERS ARE IN SEMI-FINALS

Will Struggle Tonight For City Championship and Silver Cup

McPHERSON HEADS LIST

Six more men were eliminated in the semi-finals of the bowling congress at Wardwell's Tuesday night and the six survivors will enter the trials tonight to take the city championship and the large silver trophy offered by Capt. Wardwell.

McPherson topped the list with a total of 500 Tuesday night and trailing him was Baker of the Wollaston Tennis Club league, Dell of Clan MacGregor, George White of Fore River, H. Jenner of the Wollaston Tennis league and J. Bugbee of the Boston wool league. All six are perhaps the best in their respective leagues.

James Olindy's sudden departure to the submarine plant at Montreal, Canada, on Monday night, after the match, left a vacancy in the list of the 12 who qualified in the trials and removed a leading contender for the honors. A call was sent out for James Pinel, the next lowest man, but he was absent. Nordquist, unattached Jesse I. Litchfield of the Wollaston Tennis and Angus Martin of the Clan MacGregor leagues were called for but they were likewise absent. John Jepson of High school, the next in order was present, but failed in qualifying in the top six.

FRANK McPHERSON.

Baker got high single of the evening, 122. The showing of McPherson was the most consistent of any bowler since the tournament opened. Dell only went over the century mark once, but flirted close enough to the figures to secure his entry.

The fighting six:

F. McPherson	104	90	90	110	106	500
C. H. Baker	78	105	122	87	93	485
J. Dell	111	99	89	87	95	481
G. White	99	106	82	89	100	476
H. Jenner	96	101	93	86	94	470
J. Bugbee	80	87	81	104	116	468

Those climinated:

F. Dobos	436	J. Kelly	459
J. Jepson	445	G. W. Brown	439
G. Erickson	467	W Nordquist	403

ROGERS WINS FIRST GAME

In the first game of the pool tournament being played for the championship of Quincy Thomas Rogers, the West Quincy idol, defeated Raymond Josephine by the score of 100 to 98. The game was played Tuesday evening in Alpha hall pool room and was witnessed by a large and appreciative audience. The fans for some time past have been trying to get these players together.

Rogers started off in the first few racks like a whirlwind and at the end of the third frame was leading 31 to 14 . In the fourth frame Josephine ran the fifteen balls. Josephine overtook Rogers in the eighth frame and at its finish was leading 62 to 58. The Quincy boy gained steadily and at the end of the twelfth frame was conceded to be a winner when he scratched on the last ball and Rogers scored it making the score 99 to 81.

Josephine broke in the thirteenth frame leaving one ball loose. This was Rogers' faint hope and by a beautifully played shot he scored the ball and got in a position to open the bunch which he did and ran off the balance of the fifteen making the score 99 to 96.

In the last frame Josephine scratched on the break and Rogers scored two balls making the score tie 98 to 98. Josephine missed and Rogers scored two more winning the game amid the applause of the fans.

The feature shot of the game was made by Josephine in the fourth frame when he scored a difficult cut shot the length of the table and then cleaned the rest of the balls off. Josephine suffered by fouling, no less than four fouls being called on him, while Rogers played a perfect game. The referees were Angelo Bizzozero and Robert Mitchell.

The second game of the series will be played Thursday evening at Pineo's Emporium, the home grounds of Rogers, and will cause a large turning out of the loyal fans. The game will be started at 7.15 P. M.

SPORTING COMMENT

Michael J. Brady, the Wollaston golf professional, now touring the country is playing in championship form. Brady got 72 at the San Antonio country club Texas on his first round there.

Davison did not appear to run against Frank Bruce in the latters gym on Monday night.

Guy Tutivller, the hard hitting Providence outfielder, has been added to the Red Sox roster.

Athletic relations between the Volkman and Huntington schools have been severed by the former. The trouble had its origin in a controversy in a recent dual meet.

NICOLLS TEAM INCREASE LEAD

Standing in Clan MacGregor League

CLAN MacGREGOR LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost
Capt. Nicoll	56	24
Capt. McKenzie	46	30
Capt. McLean	44	32
Capt. Hughes	35	45
Capt. Smith	31	49
Capt. Maver	24	56

High team total, Capt. Nicoll 1493.
High team single, Capt. Hughes 564.
High individual totals, J. Dell 149, P. Dackers 322, M. Nicoll 329.
Individual single J. Dell 149, D. Desmond 127.

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

Capt. Hughes, 4, Capt. Smith 0. forfeit
Capt. Nicoll 3, Capt. Maver 1.

Capt. Smith's five failed to appear to roll against the Hughes quintette in the MacGregor league matches at the Coliseum Tuesday night and the points were forfeited. The Nicolls combination increased its lead through a 3 to 1 defeat of Capt. Maver's boys. Smith picked five men and rolled his opponents but suffered defeat. No records were endangered during the rolloffs.

CAPT. SMITH—0.

(Forfeited 4 points not regular team)

Stewart	94	112	88	294
Nicol	93	91	83	267
Smith	86	94	93	273
Paterson	80	81	80	241
McLean	94	96	91	281
	447	474	435	1356

CAPT. HUGHES—4.

Hughes	89	83	89	261
Mitchell	90	80	82	252
Carson	89	95	115	299
O'Neil	111	86	94	291
Dackers	82	78	110	270
	461	422	490	1373

CAPT. MAVER—1.

H. Welsh	89	83	83	255
Maver	75	78	82	235
D. Welsh	80	76	83	238
Bigin	90	90	89	272
Drummond	85	103	92	280
	422	430	429	1281

CAPT. NICOLL—3.

Craig	47	96	83	253
A. Michael	81	80	83	244
J. Stewart	102	81	85	268
J. Michael	93	60	103	256
Nicoll	95	96	95	286
	445	413	449	1307

☞ PRATT'S BREAD sales have increased because it satisfies. Your grocer.

MAINE BRIDGE IS DYNAMITED

Structure on Canadian Boundary Is Partially Wrecked

GERMAN OFFICER ARRESTED

Explosive Cap, Plan of Bridge and German Flag Found In Pockets of Prisoner, Who Is Said to Have Admitted Charges Made Against Him by Maine Officials

Vanceboro, Me., Feb. 3.—An attempt to destroy the railroad bridge spanning the St. Croix river, which forms the international boundary line between eastern Maine and New Brunswick, was made, and one of the three spans of the structure was blown up by dynamite.

Inquiry led to the arrest at a local hotel of a man who gave his name as Van Horn. According to the police, the prisoner claimed to be an officer in the service of Germany, but refused to divulge his rank.

The police assert that he admitted that he exploded the dynamite under a section of the bridge and that a dynamite cap and a plan of the bridge were found in his pockets.

In the winter season St. John is the principal eastern port of Canada, and thence has come from Montreal and further west great quantities of provisions and other munitions of war for shipment to England and France. The shipments have passed over the bridge which it was sought to destroy.

It is a part of the most direct route from the west, as, cutting across the state of Maine, it is several hundred miles shorter than the northern route operated by the Canadian government, which follows the St. Lawrence river to Little Metis, Que., and then turns south to Moncton, St. John and Halifax. The loss of the bridge would delay, but not interrupt, the transportation of war materials to the coast.

Railroad officials, after a careful examination of the bridge, decided that the explosion had been a failure as far as serions damage was concerned. The intention apparently had been to blow out one of the abutments, but this was not successful. Instead, the force of the explosion was up through the bridge.

Sleepers were blown out, the rails were twisted and a girder was damaged, but repairs can be made within a day. The foundation of the span was not damaged.

Temporary repairs were made so that cars could be pushed across one at a time, within a few hours, by a wrecking crew from Bangor. A plank walk was laid across the ice for passengers to cross the river.

The bridge is the connecting link between the Maine Central and the Canadian Pacific tracks, the Canadian Pacific having traffic right over the former road from Mattawamkeag to the boundary. This is the through route from upper and western Canada to the maritime provinces, directly connecting Montreal with the ports of St. John and Halifax.

The attack on the bridge caused great excitement on the New Brunswick side, where rumors of a German plot spread rapidly and resulted in an immediate investigation by the principal authorities.

Van Horn, according to the police, described himself as 37 years of age. He is 5 feet 11 inches in height and weighs about 200 pounds. He is smooth shaven. The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff Ross, who was accompanied by a Maine Central railroad detective and two Canadian officers from MacAdam Junction, N. B.

The man was removed to the United States immigration rooms, where he was closely guarded. Ross notified the United States marshal and the United Setates district attorney at Portland, asking for instructions.

When taken into custody at his room in the hotel Van Horn made no resistance, but is alleged to have told the officers the circumstances of the dynamiting. He did not appear to be able to speak very good English. There were no papers found to identify him. In a coat pocket he carried a German flag.

Asked why he had dynamited the bridge, the prisoner, the police say, made the simple explanation that his country was at war with Great Britain and that Canada was a part of the enemy's country. He said, according to the officers, that he came from New York, having left that city on Friday night, and arrived in Vanceboro Saturday.

The arrest of Van Horn has aroused special interest because of the fact that he was taken into custody on American territory and was made a prisoner of the state of Maine. To avoid possible complications, the local authorities made no further move pending advice from the federal government.

The Canadian authorities indicated that they would immediately make representations at Washington with a view to extradition on the ground that the dynamiting had been done on the Canadian side of the border.

On the other hand, it was said that Van Horn would be defended against extradition, basing his claim for the protection of the United States on his assertion that he had committed an act of war and that his offense was politi al.

FLOUR AT $20 A BARREL

Startling Prediction of Dealers In New York and Boston

Boston, Feb. 3.—Assuming the per capita consumption of flour to be one barrel a year, Greater Boston will spend for the ensuing year $14,021,557 for its bread, twice the amount spent during normal times.

The reason for it is that wheat rose yesterday to $1.65 a bushel, and the consequent rise in flour brings the price of a barrel to $11 wholesale.

Ten-cent bread within a few months, even though the war in Europe should be suddenly ended, is said by mill and bakery experts to be almost a certainty.

The most conservative wheat men insist that, allowing for a reasonably quick ending of the general European war, Europe's grain production cannot be brought back to normal in less than two years.

Flour, selling at $4 a barrel last July, is slated to go to $15 a barrel as soon as wheat gets to $2. There is no more uncertainty as to whether it will get there, and $20 flour was predicted on the floor of the produce exchange in New York, and the local chamber of commerce.

PLOTTED FULLY A MONTH

What Prosecutor Says of Murder of Morris Albertson

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 3.—Evidence tending to show that Morris Albertson, the Lawrence jewelry salesman, whose body was found buried in the cellar of a shack in Wakefield, was lured to Wakefield on the prospect of a large sale of jewelry on Dec. 20, the day the alleged murder was committed for the purpose of robbery, was presented by the government in the superior criminal court.

The three defendants, Biagio Falzone and Ignazio Marello, charged with murder in the first degree, and Luigi Grassidonio, charged with being an accessory before the fact, listened intently to each witness on the stand.

District Attorney Corcoran, in his opening address to the jury, asserted that the alleged robbery, including the murder, was plotted fully a month before it took place.

Dr. Perley testified that there was no evidence that Albertson was buried alive. He died of eleven stab wounds. He also told of a cord being found about the victim's neck.

LABOR HEADS HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

Jailed In Connection With Mine Strike In Colorado

Denver, Feb. 3.—William T. Hickey and Eli M. Gross, secretary-treasurer and vice president, respectively, of the Colorado Federation of Labor, were arrested, charged with murder.

The men, who are in the county jail, were arrested upon information from Walsenburg, Col., where, it is said, secret indictments were returned. The grand jury has been in session since last November investigating violence incident to the recent coal mine strike.

KILLED BY "LAUGHING GAS"

Young Boston Dentist Meets Death While Testing Machine

Boston, Feb. 3.—Dr. Hermann H. Stahl, 21, a dentist who had been established in the Paddock building for about ten weeks, was found dead on the floor of his office with a gas inhaler over his face and the tank nozzle opened.

After considering all the circumstances in the case Medical Examiner Magrath said that in his opinion Stahl had met accidental death.

It is assumed that Stahl was testing the gas on himself and before he realized it permitted too much of the anaesthetic to enter his body. Then he collapsed and was unable to check the flow before death resulted.

TALKED AS HE CHOSE

Hutchins Declared It His Privilege Because He "Bought" Wife

Washington, Feb. 3.—"I've bought and paid for you," Stilson Hutchins, millionaire, was quoted as telling his wife, in the trial of the contested will case.

On this ground, witness said, Hutchins claimed the right to speak as he chose to Mrs. Hutchins—and he did, with language that wouldn't look well in print.

War Songs Barred In Schools

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 3.—Popular war songs, all national anthems and ragtime music will be barred in Cambridge schools in the future. This order was sent to principals by Superintendent Fitzgerald and Director of Music Whoriskey.

Hunting Pawtucket Bandits

Pawtucket, R. I., Feb. 3.—Police are searching for three masked men who, with drawn guns, entered the Greeks' Co-operative store at Manville and forced the proprietor to hand over $115.

Price of Bread Advances

Chicago, Feb. 3.—One of the large baking companies here, the output of which is 35,000 loaves of bread daily, announced that 1 cent had been added to the price of the 5-cent loaves.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Boston & Boughs Neck Steamboat Co. to Minnie M. North, Sea street.

Alfred Bozier to Gertrude Ellsworth Ridgeway street.

J. W. Butler to Julia E. Fuller, Babcock street.

Karl E. Carlson to George F. Gillman, Hilda street.

Alice M. Carr to Arthur E. Driscol, Taylor terrace.

Dennis Coffey by Julia E. Fuller, Quincy street.

Ira M. Cushing to Ella A. Cushing, Ranson road.

Sarah Cutler to Julia E. Fuller, Lyndon road.

Sarah Cutler to Julia E. Fuller, Mass. avenue.

Daniel F. Donovan to Mary Donovan, Dysart street.

Leo Dufour to Richard D. Chase, Copeland street.

Wilton A. Dunham to Julia E. Fuller Highland avenue, Spring street.

Wilton A. Dunham to Emily J. Murnagham, Houghs Neck.

Elizabeth L. Eastman to Joseph Fratus, Billings road, Hancock street.

Axel E. Ellis to Julia E. Fuller, Warwick street.

Kate A. Foster to Julia E. Fuller, Bay View and Edison streets.

Emma L. Fratus to Royal S. Eastman, Newbury avenue.

Herbert D. French to Julia E. Fuller Lunt street.

Ada T. Hayden to Adelaide Gregory, Agawam street.

George T. Jaques to Julia E. Fuller, Shellton road.

Sarah T. Johnson to Julia E. Fuller, Shellton road.

Sarah T. Johnson to Julia E. Fuller, Swan road.

Benjamin Johnson to Market Trust Co., Mass. avenue.

Johnson Lumber Co. to Market Trust Co., Merrymount road.

Annie M. Kelley to City of Quincy, W. Squantum street.

Maurice E. Kilpatrick to Christina A. Smith, Colby road, Sharon road.

Charles W. Lee to George H. Field, Freeman street.

Andrew Milne, et al trs to Charle Sampson, Avon Way.

James Murray to Hanoria M. Dillon, et al, Field street.

Ella M. Norris to Thomas L. Skinner, Whitwell street.

Annie N. Saylor to George E. Rogers Crosby street.

Ruth A. Schaefer to Gardner I. Jones, assee, Houghs Neck.

Charles R. Sherman to Gertrude Ellsworth, Hilda street.

Abbie C. Stearns to Laura E. Connor, Albion road.

Mary A. Stewart to Walter T. Fuller, Sea street.

Eugene R. Stone to Gertrude Stone, Germain avenue.

Nellie Thompson to Julia E. Fuller, Oak street.

Wollaston Land Co. to Julia E. Fuller, Safford street.

Wollaston Land Co. to Julia E. Fuller, Belmont street, North Central avenue.

Wollaston Land Co. to Julia E. Fuller, Safford street.

Wollaston Land Co. to Julia E. Fuller, Belmont street, North Central avenue.

Wollaston Land Co. to Julia E. Fuller, Safford street.

BRAINTREE REAL ESTATE SALES

William W. Merrill to Ada M. Wills Jersey avenue.

John M. O'Connell to Thomas O'Connell, Prospect street.

CHILDREN PROMOTED.

A number of children were promoted from the third to the four grade of the Montclair school on Monday. The fortunate children were:

Charles Duggan, Ronald Cook, Mary Kane, Anna Seller, Inez Parlee, Margaret O'Connell, Sarah McNally, Phyllis Mossman, Elizabeth Melanson, Flora Ross, Clara Zottoli, Charlotte Fox.

CONLIN SHOE REPAIRING

Men's Sewed Taps and Heels	75c
Men's Sewed Taps and Rubber heels	$1.00
Men's Nail Taps and Heels	65c
Men's Heels	20c
Ladies' Taps and Heels Sewed	65c
Ladies Taps and Rubber heels Sewed	85c
Ladies Heels	15c
Rubber Heels	40c and 50c
Skates Sharpened, New Process	15c
$4 Ralston Shoes for	1.50

Hancock and Saville Sts.
Tel. 961-M. Oct. 7-tf

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTORS OF THE PORT OF BOSTON.
40 Central street, Boston,
January 30, 1915.

Notice is hereby given that the Town of Hull by its Board of Selectmen has made application to the Directors for license to lay and construct a sewer main or pipe in and over the tidewaters of Weir River in the Town of Hull in the County of Plymouth, as per plans filed with said application; and Tuesday, the sixteenth day of February, at 10 o'clock A. M., and this office, have been assigned as the time and place for hearing all parties interested therein.

EDWARD F. McSWEENEY, Chairman.
JOSEPH A. CONRY,
LOMBARD WILLIAMS,
Directors.
3-1t

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To all persons who are or may become interested in the real estate hereinafter mentioned, devised by the will of Edgar F. Roby late of Norwood in said County, deceased, and to all persons whose issue not now in being may become interested:

Whereas Mary A. Roby of Norwood in the County of Norfolk as tenant in possession of certain real estate, devised to herself and others in the will of Edgar F. Roby late of Norwood in said County has presented to said Court her petition praying for the appointment of Irene B. Roby of Westwood in the County of Norfolk or some other suitable person, as trustee to sell and convey at private sale for the sum named in said petition or at public auction said real estate therein described, for reasons therein set forth. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-fourth day of February A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in Quincy, Mass., the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons who or whose issue not now in being are or may become interested, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this first day of February in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Feb. 3-10-17

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

For breach of the condition of a certain mortgage deed given by Aloys Burkard to John Cashman dated November 2, 1904, recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 986, Page 465, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Saturday the twenty-seventh day of February, 1915 at 3 o'clock P. M., all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage and therein described substantially as follows:

A certain lot of land with the buildings thereon situated in Quincy in the County of Norfolk, bounded and described as follows:—Northwesterly on land of Franziska Wittich, one hundred and thirty-two (132) feet; Northeasterly on a certain open private way that is not less than twenty-six feet wide and that runs in a Northwesterly direction from West Street to other land of said Franziska Wittich, bounding thereon seventy-five (75) feet; Southeasterly on land of said Wittich, one hundred and eighty-seven (187) feet; Southwesterly on land of Herbert F. Doble, ninety-four (94) feet. Being the same premises conveyed to me by Richard Walser by deed dated June 27, 1896 and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 764, Page 57.

The premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes, assessments or liens, if any. A deposit of two hundred (200) dollars will be required at the time and place of the sale. Balance in ten days upon delivery of the deed.

JAMES E. CASHMAN,
JOHN J. CASHMAN,
DAVID J. WHITE,
WILLIAM J. CASHMAN,
Trustees of John Cashman, Mortgagee
J. J. McAnarney, Atty.
3t Feb. 3-10-17

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
Telephone 1153-M Quincy
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy F27

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES.
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1898 W

MILLIONS HAVE BEEN KILLED IN EARTHQUAKE ZONE OF ITALY

No Other Land Can Show Record of Disaster Comparable With Country In Southern Europe.

In Messina Catastrophe at Least 76,000 Lost Lives. Tidal Waves Frequently Add to Terror.

THE exact toll of the dead and injured in the great earthquake that has swept over central and southern Italy likely never will be known. Towns with thousands of inhabitants have been overthrown. In the larger cities, where the loss of life, so far as is known, was comparatively small, the terror of the populace formed one of the greatest barriers to anything like concerted relief measures.

Men, women and children, disheveled and wan from fear and lack of sleep, filled the streets and piazzas. Some seemed crazed and cowered on the pavements or ran aimlessly back into buildings. Cries of "Terremoto! Terremoto!" (earthquake) acted like magic in the crowds, and the carabineers were helpless to restrain the disorder.

Some other section of the earth's surface, such as Japan, Peru or the islands of the South Pacific, may have suffered more than Italy from volcanoes and earthquakes, but no other land whose history is as well known over as great a period of time can show a record of disaster at all comparable with that of the peninsula and the adjoining island of Sicily.

Lying, as it does, within one of the two great earthquake zones of the earth, Italy's uneasy surface attracted the attention of the Greek philosophers as far back as 400 B. C. Aristotle made a careful study of Italian earthquake phenomena, and reached the conclusion that their number and violence were due to the unusual number and size of the earth caverns in southern Italy, within which, he thought, air disturbances attained such magnitude as to burst through the earth's crust and throw the entire region temporarily out of balance.

The earliest reporter of an earthquake in Italy was Lucretius the Epicurean, who lived from 95 to 55 B. C. His account of the quake, however, concerns itself entirely with the disturbance and its effect upon his own mental equilibrium and utterly omits such details as the number of dead and injured and the property damage.

The first serious earthquake in Italy in the Christian era occurred in the neighborhood of Vesuvius in the year 63. The Tempie of Jupiter at Pompeii was thrown down, and considerable loss of life and property occurred. This earthquake was the subject of a careful investigation by Pliny the Elder.

Great Eruption of Vesuvius.

In A. D. 79, however, occurred the great eruption of Vesuvius, which was accompanied by violent earthquake shocks extending over the whole southern end of the peninsula. There was a great loss of life, among the killed being Pliny the Elder himself, and the cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum were buried beneath the ashes of the eruption.

The peninsula was comparatively quiet after this disaster until 543, when a great earthquake shock was felt from Sicily to the Alps and caused many people to believe that the end of the world was at hand. Another period of 800 years, and then, in 801, occurred an earthquake felt also in France and southern Germany, but most severe in Italy, where many hundreds of lives were lost.

In the year 1137 the city of Catania, in Sicily, at the foot of Mount Etna, felt the hand of destruction that since has smitten her again and again. The entire town was laid in ruins, and it was estimated that 15,000 persons were buried beneath the wreckage of their homes.

This time there was only an interval of fifty years before the next blow. This time it fell upon Calabria, where more lives to the square mile have been sacrificed to the earthquake god than any other region even of Italy.

Most of the loss of life on this occasion was due to a tidal wave from the Adriatic, which overwhelmed one entire city beneath it, drowning nearly 20,000 people.

On Dec. 5, 1456, just as the people of Naples were stirring abroad in the morning, the ground beneath their feet was suddenly shaken "like the waves of the sea," the chronicler says, the buildings fell, and after another shock the sea rose into the streets, submerging half the city, so that 40,000 persons perished there.

The people of Naples took no warning, however, and their city was rebuilt again when, on the 30th of July, 1626, the catastrophe was repeated on a still larger scale. The entire countryside was laid waste, no less than thirty towns and villages being wiped out of existence, and at least 70,000 lives paid the cost. This, incidentally, is a record of slaughter matched only once in Italy's history—by the terrible day of Messina and Calabria, in 1908, when 76,000 met their deaths.

Calabria Smitten Again.

Twelve years later, on March 27, 1638, Calabria was smitten again. On this occasion the disaster was so widespread that not a single historian, so far as known, makes any real attempt to estimate the loss of life, but it is known to have run up in the thousands.

Not in Italy proper, but across the Adriatic in the ancient Italian and now Dalmatian city of Ragusa, the next blow fell on April 6, 1667, laying the city flat and taking 5,000 lives.

The seventeenth century was a memorable one for Italy, as far as earthquakes go, for only five years after the destruction of Ragusa Rimini met the same fate in an earthquake that ranged also nearly the whole length of the peninsula, but concentrated its fury on that city, where 1,500 were killed.

Catania was destroyed for the second time in a more terrible disaster than the first in the latter part of September, 1693. Of the city and its 18,000 inhabitants, it is recorded, not so much as a trace remained when the earth had quieted and the sea had receded from its fury. Nor was this disaster confined to Catania, for the whole Sicilian coast felt its weight. Probably, in the magnitude of destruction and possibly in the loss of life, this was the greatest and most terrible earthquake in the history of the world. More than fifty towns and villages were thrown in ruins.

The new century brought no rest nor peace to Italy, for in 1703, on Feb. 2, Aquila was laid waste by earthquake and fire, and 5,000 lives were lost, more than half the estimated population of the town.

In close succession after the destruction of Aquila came the earthquake of the Abruzzi on the 3d of November, 1706, with the toll of 15,000 lives; the almost complete ruin of Palermo, at a cost of 6,000 killed, on the 1st of September, 1726, and another visitation upon Naples in 1732, when 2,000 were swallowed up in the ruins.

Then for fifty years Italy had peace, but in 1783 Messina was visited by ruin almost as complete as found her more than 100 years later, and many thousands were found dead.

This particular earthquake has special interest because it was one of the first great historic earthquakes to be the subject of careful scientific investigation and study. Up to this time, it is estimated, more than 2,000,000 Italians had met death as a result of earthquakes, but the science of earthquakes and the question of avoiding their destructive effects had advanced, to all practical intents and purposes, not one step from the days of Aristotle.

Scientific Men Busy.

The ruined city of Messina, however, was visited soon after the quake in 1783 by a commission appointed by the king of Naples. Careful observations and measurements were made of the fissures, and topographical changes made by the quake and other valuable data regarding the nature, time and attending phenomena of the entire occurrence were carefully noted down and preserved. Several other noted scientific men of the day visited the region and made notes, from which much of the modern knowledge of earthquakes resulted.

Calabria once more was the scene of disaster in 1835, when on April 29 practically the entire city of Cosenza was wiped out. But with the advance of modern civilization had come safer building and the spread of precautions, so that the disaster cost barely a thousand lives and when in another quake the same year the town of Castiglione was laid waste the loss of life was measured in tens instead of thousands.

But all had not been learned of the earthquake's violence, and fifteen years later, on the 14th of August, 1851, all southern Italy was once more overturned before the earthquake. In duration and intensity the shocks surpassed those of the great earthquake of 1783, and 15,000 people perished in the ruins of their homes.

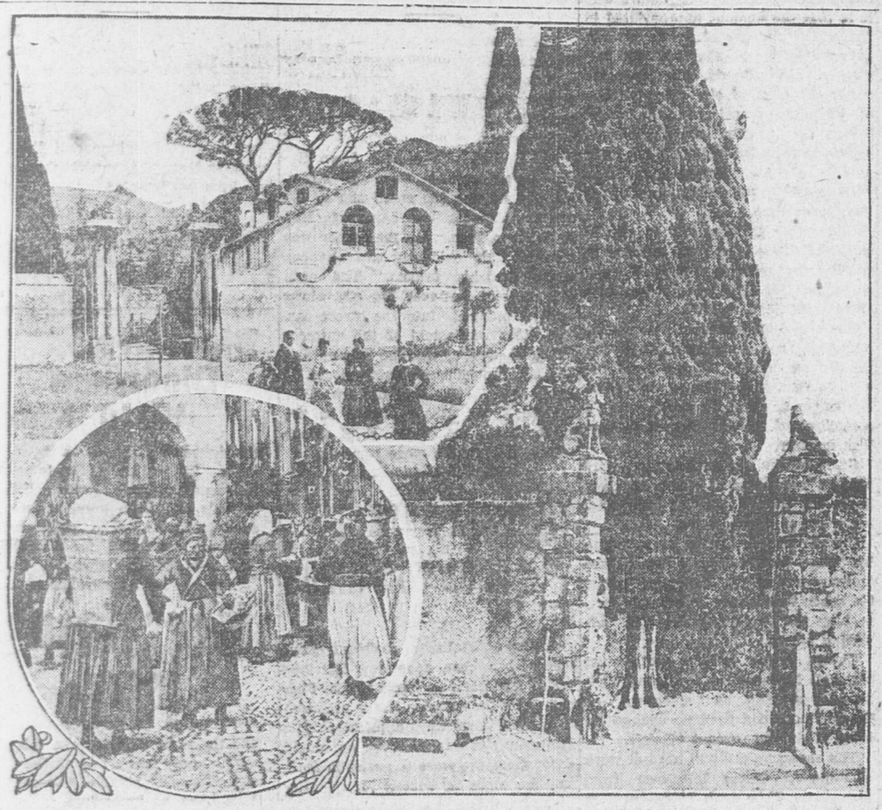

Calabria again on Dec. 16, 1856, was smitten. Montemurro this time was the center of destruction, but all the countryside was laid waste and 10,000 people killed. It was estimated immediately after this disaster that between the years 1783 and 1857 the kingdom of Naples, with a total population of 6,000,000, lost 111,000 or more lives from earthquakes alone, an average of 1,500 a year.

From 1856 however, until the end of the nineteenth century the shocks, though frequent enough to serve as warnings, as a rule did not result in great loss of life.

But in 1883, on the 28th day of July, Casamicciola shared the fate of Catania and Messina.

Slight shocks from time to time, but none the less severe enough to cost Italy some scores of lives, were recorded in nearly every year of the last decade of the nineteenth century and the first decade of the twentieth, until on the 28th of December, 1908, Sicily and Calabria received their latest and in some respects most terrible blow.

This earthquake came almost without warning at 5:30 of a winter morning, with the result that upward of 76,000 people in Messina and the adjoining towns on both sides of the strait were crushed to death beneath their falling houses, close upon 100,000 more escaped with terrible injuries, and more than a million in all were left homeless.

VIEWS IN EARTHQUAKE ZONE.

Upper Left, Scene In Frascati; Lower Left, Market Day In Avezzano; Right, Gateway to Frascati.

SHIPPING PLAN OF LA FOLLETTE

Represents Agreement Between President and Republicans

INTRODUCED IN THE SENATE

Progressives Who Stood Pat For Eliminating Leasing Plan and to Make System Permanent Win Over Executive—Caucus Names Committee to Confer With Recalcitrants

Washington, Feb. 3.—Ship purchase bill amendments, limiting to six months the length of time the government may lease a ship to a private corporation, empowering the government to fix minimum rates under the lease and invalidating the lease itself if these terms are violated, were introduced in the senate by Senator LaFollette.

It was reported they represent the agreement between the president and the independent Republicans, with whom he had conferred. The senate, however, adjourned until today without taking action.

That President Wilson has agreed to modifications of the administration's ship purchase bill, in a conference with Senators Norris and Kenyon, Progressive Republicans, was broadly intimated after the session. The senators had stood pat for their proposal to eliminate from the bill the leasing plan and to make the system permanent.

The president indicated later to newspaper men that he was agreeable to some changes to meet Progressive Republican demands, although these shifts, he held, would be for the purpose of making the plan more definite.

As to the Norris proposal to make certain that no belligerent ships would be purchased, the president said, the senator wanted a policy defined and not a right surrendered.

The executive also declared that the question of turning the ship lines over to private capital would be up to subsequent congresses. The Democratic bolt, however, he said, he did not believe to be permanent.

Incidentally, he said, foreign nations had not registered formal protest against prospective ship purchases, and he held that tramp ships, such as the government desires, could be promptly built.

A committee to confer with the independent Republicans who may be won over to the ship purchase bill, and with the Democrats who have kicked over the party traces, was appointed by a Democratic senate caucus after two hours of discussion. Senators Martin, Simmons and Fletcher were appointed as the envoys.

Extraordinary efforts were exerted by administration leaders of the senate to save the bill from threatened defeat or consignment to a pigeonhole for this session of congress.

After all angles of the situation had been canvassed during the day, Republican leaders were confident that their fight against the measure had been won. Senators Smoot, Lodge, Weeks and others declared that the bill was dead. Democratic leaders, on the other hand, still were hopeful.

MORGUE MEN CONVICTED

Jury Finds Two Tried to Discredit Medical Examiner Magrath

Boston, Feb. 3.—Two of the three defendants in the North Grove street morgue robbery case were declared guilty by a jury. The verdict is a vindication of Medical Examiner Magrath, whose reappointment to office by Governor Walsh has been held up largely because of this affair.

Fred L. Green is declared guilty on all three charges: larceny of $230 from the body of Timothy X. O'Brien, conspiracy to deprive Magrath of his good name, and conspiracy to steal $230. George W. Miller is declared guilty of the latter two charges and not guilty on the first. Thomas H. Kingston is freed from all charges. All three are former employes at the morgue.

Green and Miller are held in $2000 each pending sentence. It is an increase from $1000 each.

LONG LEAP TO DEATH

Young Woman, Ill and Despondent, Jumps From Tenth Floor

New York, Feb. 3.—After returning to her apartment shortly after midnight, Miss Madeline Bickhard, 18 years old, of Stanford, Conn., put on her night clothes and a kimono, went to the tenth floor and leaped to her death to the court below.

She was visiting relatives at 158 West Fifty-ninth street, and in a note addressed to them said she was despondent and in ill health.

Railway Asks Time Extension

Providence, Feb. 3.—The Southern New England railway, a Grand Trunk subsidiary, petitioned the state legislature for an extension of time until July 1, 1917, for the completion of the company's construction work in Rhode Island.

Killed For Stealing Bread

Cleveland, Feb. 3.—Caught stealing a loaf of bread, Dominick Margold, Jr., a youth, was shot and killed by Joseph Findurs, a grocer.

LOWERED SIXTEEN FEET

Peculiar Effect on Lake by Minor Earthquake at Avezzano

Rome, Feb. 3.—Earth disturbances of a minor nature continue at Avezzano. One of the most important was the lowering of the level of Lake Paterno by sixteen feet after a vortex appeared in its centre.

This is interpreted as indicating a subterranean eruption, which, in subsiding, drew into the earth an immense volume of water from the lake.

VILLA TROOPS TAKE RAILROAD JUNCTION

Step Toward Acquisition of Mexican Seaport Town

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 3.—Confirmation of reports of the capture of San Luis Potosi was received in Juarez. The city is an important railroad junction.

Its capture is the first step in Villa's movement from Aguascalientes to the Atlantic port of Tampico, capture of which would afford him a seaport, which he now lacks.

The defeated commander of the Carranza garrison was General Bonavides, a former Villa brigade commander, who deserted his leader at the time of the flight from Mexico City of Provisional President Gutierrez.

The Villa forces was led by General Urbina. Villa remains in Aguascalientes.

It was announced also that railroad traffic for freight and passengers had been opened between San Luis Potosi and El Paso by way of Aguascalientes.

NORTHLAND LONG OVERDUE

Fear That Maine Schooner and Her Crew Have Been Lost

Rockland, Me., Feb. 3.—The four-masted schooner Northland is so long overdue that grave fears are felt for her safety by the owners in this city.

The schooner sailed from Philadelphia on Jan. 8 with a cargo of coal for Searsport, and was last reported when passing the Highlands of Navesink, N. J. The owners have only a slight hope that she will reach port.

The Northland is commanded by Captain Saunders and carries a crew of twelve men. She was built here in 1906, registers 2047 tons, and is valued at about $130,000.

Suffrage Party Is Growing

New York, Feb. 3.—In Greater New York there are 151,668 enrolled members of the woman suffrage party, according to reports of chairmen of the borough committees.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

Leander E. H. Jones, 60, of Boston, pioneer in the building trade, dropped dead on the street at Kennebunkport, Me.

Despondent because of lack of work, Benjamin Hurwitz of Springfield, Mass., a bridegroom of two weeks, cut his throat.

As a result of a coasting accident Muriel Coyle, 7, of Boston, died from her injuries.

Professor S. H. Hadley, 70, noted musical director, composer, pianist and church organist, died at Boston, following a surgical operation.

Enfield, Mass., shifted from no license to license at the annual town meeting. The vote was yes, 65; no, 51.

FOR SALE

House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,800. Straight Loan of $2,000.

EDMUND C. HAYDEN
Tel. 1877-M. Quincy, Representing
HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.
120 Tremont St., Boston.
Oct. 6-tf

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.

W. H. HASLETT
31 Bridge Street, Quincy
Tel. Quincy 1092 W

Plastering and Cementing
Concrete Houses
Outside Stucco Work
Cement Walks, Steps and Cellar Floors.

PETROSILO sanitary and fireproof flooring—guaranteed to wear longer than hard wood floor—no joints one continuous piece put over any floor.
Feb. 25- W-S. tf

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Large pleasant room, conveniences, near the center. Private family, 30 Upland road. 1-6t

TO LET—Rooms and board with private family, all conveniences. 3 minutes to Fore River yard. Mrs. Briggs, 63 Howard avenue. Tel. 1338-W. 1-6t

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Four room apartment, new house, all improvements. Apply at 226 Franklin street. 30-tf

TO LET—Nice large, furnished rooms, all improvements reasonable. Will give board if preferred. Apply 44 Chestnut street, second floor. 30-6t

TO LET—Three, connecting, rooms and bath, electric lights, heat and gas range. 178 Washington street, phone Quincy 1732M. 28-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny. Central. Address P. O. Box 307, Quincy. 26-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 226 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Four room tenement all improvements, range and gas attached, house new. Apply James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street, Quincy or Tel. 599-1. Jan. 15-tf

TO LET—On Russell Park house of seven rooms and bath and large attic, cemented cellar, furnace, gas and coal range, electric lights all modern. Reasonable rent on a lease to right people. Apply to Miss Prescott at Ledger-Patriot Office, Quincy. 4-tf 1po

FOR RENT—2 houses, one $20 a month, all improvements, and one $12. Apply to G. G. Ellsworth, 117 Adams street, Braintree. Ob 1w L tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $13. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

A Few Choice House Lots
— ON —
PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX
are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.
SWITHIN
3 GREENLEAF BLOCK
Jan. 5-tf

WANTED

WANTED—A pony or donkey and team for a few days, state price and where can be seen. Write to Ledger "Donkey." 3-3t

WANTED—Position as companion, attendant, or helper by woman of refinement who has no permanent home and desires to live in Quincy. Could be in attendance daily if preferred. Address for further details I. C., Care of Ledger, Quincy. 3-3t.

WANTED—A four room furnished apartment with bath. The four rooms must consist of two bedrooms a living room and a kitchen. Address John Byers, 59 Germaine avenue, Quincy. 1-3t

WANTED—Board for two children, girl three years old and boy five years old. Apply 66 Arnold street, Quincy. 1-3t

WANTED—Working housekeeper. Apply 87 Adams street. 30-tf

WANTED—Housekeeper's position in widower's family by an experienced American woman or would care for invalid. References exchanged. Mrs. D. W. Hall, Wollaston. 28-6t

WANTED—Mrs. C. F. Wrisley, 22 School street, can accommodate a single man, for board and room, with all home comforts and refinement. Seven minutes walk to station, one minute to Fore River cars. Tel. 368-W. Quincy. 26-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Fresh eggs and poultry J. E. Prouty, 57 Edgemere road, Quincy. 2-3t

FOR SALE—Music cabinet, almost new. Apply 40 Edison Park. 1-3t

FOR SALE—Practically new six room house, every modern improvement, hot water heat, solid cement piazza and steps, cement curbing and stucco cement gables. Beautiful view of water front, garden and fruit trees. For particulars and very low price apply to 35 Bay View street, off Edison Park. 28-6t

FOR SALE

In South Quincy two-family house with modern improvements. Convenient to electrics and Quincy Adams Station. Good renting proposition. For further details address, A. W. B. Care of Ledger, Quincy. 15-tflpo.

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

TO LET
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall—28x45—20 feet high—3 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care, $1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water, $3.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 711 singers—possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—capacity 166.
Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for S. r. Kribs.
Greenleaf Block. 'Phone 2106) Quincy

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

PROGRAMME

Mon., Tues., Wed., Feb. 1-2-3

Matinee 2.30 P. M. Evenings 8 P. M.

A Overture by Orchestra.
B Hearst Selig—World's Daily News
C Henry Kelly, Monologue Artist
D Feature Photo Play, "Walls of Jericho." Two reels. Produced by James H. Hackett featuring Edmund Breese.
E Mitchell and Lightner, Novelty Artists.
F Feature Photo Play, "Walls of Jericho." Two reels.
G Diamond Beatrice Musical Trio
H Feature Photo Play, "Walls of Jericho. One Reel.
I Exit March by Orchestra.

Subject to Change

Matinee Prices 10-15c

Evening Prices 10-15-25c

Feb. 1-3t.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS.

Letters unclaimed for the week ending Jan 30 1915:

Carrie Avery, Charles W. Blood, Buckedge Tool Co., A. Cantetine Clarence H. Crowder, R. H. Ehoff, Rudolph Ehoff, G. L. French, M. Herendeen, Mrs. Willie Higgins, H. Hontall, Walter Hutchins, Miss Mary B. Hyde, John McCloud, Fred Qeodocico, Mr. Sawasta, James Scott, Miss Minnie Shannon, W. W. Thomas, Tolfa Vittorio, Giovanni Trionfetti, Mrs. John D. Tucker.

ENTERTAIN WITH BRIDGE.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Lovell of Edgemere road entertained neighbors at an auction bridge party Tuesday night. There were four tables in play. Mrs. Frank E. Remick and Samuel T. MacQuarrie were awarded first prizes, and second prizes went to Miss Madeline McCrory and Frank E. Remick. Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis and Eugene R. Atwood were awarded consolation prizes. Refreshments were served.

OCTOGENARIAN DIES.

Albert Holmes Well Known Resident of Randolph.

Albert Holmes of Randolph, one of the best known residents of that town died there Tuesday in his 82nd year. Mr. Holmes was a member of the K. L. of H. for 34 years. He joined Union lodge and became a member of Maple lodge of this city when the former consolidated, 15 years ago. He was the seventh member to pass away within a year.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Barnard's Bakery.
Announcement.
Pollianna.
Annual Dramatics.
Swithin Bros.
Masquerade Costumes.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

MILTON CLUB ARE GOOD HOSTS

The Agenda club of the First Baptist church royally entertained the ladies Aid society and Woodsum class Tuesday evening in the church vestry. The hall was tastily decorated with white and green crepe paper . A word of greeting was given by Mrs. Edith Davidson, president of the club. The ushers were: Miss Marion C. Johnson. Miss Inez Carder and Mrs. Victor E. Landstrom. The guest of the evening was Rev. Ir ad Hardy, formerly pastor of the church and now of Gloucester. He gave an interesting address on: "The Sunny Side of Life." A violin solo was given by Miss Ulrecht of Boston accompanied by Mrs. James Maxwell at the piano. Vocal solos were rendered by Miss Olive Bishop and Rev. Mr. Hardy. Following this a buffet lunch was served by Miss Belva Hamilton, Miss Inez Carder, Miss Edith Graham, Mrs. Ernest Choate, Mrs. Cornelius Van Ham, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Edith Davidson, Miss Marion Johnson Mrs. Victor E. Landstrom, and Mrs. Winfred Geddes. Games and singing closed the evening's entertainment.

BRIEFS

Alfred John Luxton who left for England a month ago, has enlisted in the Medical corps of His Majesty's army.

Towns are getting ready for their annual meetings the first Monday in March, and soon the bakers will be displaying the time honored election cake..

Special street cars will leave for all parts of the city at the close of the ball of Quincy lodge of Elks tonight. The affair promises to be very largely attended.

Secretary John O. Hall of the Board of Trade attended the legislative hearing this morning and opposed the bill to increase the amount cities might borrow for current expenses from 2 1-2 per cent to 4 per cent.

HOLD REGULAR MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid was held in the vestry of the Wollaston Methodist church on Monday afternoon. In spite of the bad weather there was a goodly number present.

Mrs. Sedgwick, the president, presided. Mrs. George Crothers, who was the delegate to the meeting of the Deaconess Aid Society held in Boston last month, gave a report of that meeting. Mrs. Crothers was again appointed delegate for the February meeting. It was voted to hold a St. Patrick's Day party in the vestry of the church on the evening of March 17th and that at that time the Dime Cards should be brought in. Mrs. Crothers was appointed chairman of a committee to arrange for this party.

HISS HUSTON AT CITY HOME.

Miss Huston, overseer of the poor paid her first official visit to the Quincy Home Tuesday afternoon. She says that she found things moving all right.

EXAMINATION FOR CENSUS.

An examination of applicants for position as census takers will be held at City Hall Saturday evening. It is understood that there are 80 applicants.

COMMENTS ON MAGRATH CASE

Boston papers comment editorially upon the verdict in the Magrath case. George W. Miller, formerly of this city, was a prominent figure in the case, being found guilty of conspiracy to discredit the administration of public justice and to deprive Dr. Magrath, medical examiner of Suffolk county, of office.

When asked on several occasions his reasons for failing to reappoint Dr. George B. Magrath medical examiner of Suffolk County, as urged by the medical profession, or to name a competent successor, Governor Walsh has offered the excuse that, in justice to the examiner and the public, he was awaiting the disposition by, the court of pending cases involving Dr. Magrath and his accusers. The jury, in a sealed verdict, opened today, frees one of these accusers but finds the other two guilty, one of them of larceny and conspiracy to steal, and both of them of conspiracy to discredit Dr. Magrath. The two convicted men were formerly employed at the North Grove Street Morgue. App arently the governor regarded seriously their charges which reflected both upon the work and the integrity of the medical examiner. In another case, some weeks ago, the verdict of the jury was in favor of the medical examiner. Shortly after his first inauguration the governor expressed the intention of ultimately reappointing Dr. Magrath medical examiner, but added that he thought no harm would come if he "took his time about it." We submit that the lapse of more than a year is taking entirely too much time to fill an office of the importance and responsibility of the medical examiner of Suffolk County. Governor Walsh should either reappoint Dr. Magrath or appoint his successor, and then the publis will know whether the appointment is dictated by a sense of fair play and regard for the public service or by the wishes of Mr. Lomasney.—Transcript.

Now that the court cases, which were the cause of the failure to reappoint the medical examiner of the county, have been settled by the courts, most of the legal and medical practicners of this section hope to see Doctor Magrath reappointed. That he is one of the most efficient men in the State's service, in his own particular line, seems to be beyond contradiction That he has made a very high record in his office, seems to be the concurrent testimony of competent observers. That a plot was on foot to discredit him, the recent verdict of the court implies, plainly enough. That it was inspired by a notoriously cheap gang of Boston politicians is current political gossip. The work of the medical examiner of Massachusetts should be kept absolutely free from any influence by gangsters or crooks. Since Doctor Magrath had the pluck and the public spirit to defy the crooked city bosses, he should have the hearty support of the executive, now that the charged against him have been proved to be so baseless.—Advertiser.

No public official in recent years has been pursued by the wolves in a more unrelenting manner than Dr. George B. Magrath, whose substantial vindication yesterday affords ground for renewed confidence in the jury system and in the essential soundness of human nature. Gov. Walsh has undoubtedly been justified in delaying the reappointment of this highly efficient officer until the result of these court proceedings should become known. He need now no longer delay. And, incidentally, Dist.-Attorney Pelletier should be congratulated for the vigor and effectiveness with which his office has performed its important part in bringing about a wholesome conclusion of the affair.—Herald.

A Suffolk County jury has returned a verdict that two men, of no prominence or large influence in the community, entered into a conspiracy to defraud George Burgess Magrath, a medical examiner for the county, of his reputation as an honest man and make it impossible for him to receive reappointment as a medical examiner from the governor of Massachusetts.

The evidence, as presented, justified the verdict. Moreover, it fully justifies the belief that all of the parties to the conspiracy have not been indicted or tried. What the future may bring forth, along that line, is important, of course, but it is more important, from thet standpoint of efficien public service, that the conspiracy failed.

It is not, as has been declared, a vindication of Dr. Magrath. He was vindicated, if vindication were needed, when the grand jury returned an indictment for conspiracy. But the cause of honor and decency in the treatment of efficient public servants has been vindicated, as far as jury can vindicate it. The next logical step must be taken by the governor.—Journal.

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

If the saying about the ground hog is correct winter is nearly over.

The Manet Social club will hold its annual "Last Before Lent" dance Tuesday evening, February 16th.

The Chickatawbut Social club will meet Friday evening at the home of Kimball Roberts on Crescent street.

The Thistle Girls will hold their Annual Dancing Party in Alpha hall Thursday Evening, April 22.

The cottage prayer meeting of the Wollaston Baptist church scheduled for Tuesday was postponed on account of the storm.

Frank Drake of Quincy Point and his friends will hold a private dancing party in Colonial hall this evening.

Miss Ellen Dalton of Holbrook was the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Burke, Hancock court, Monday and Tuesday.

Peter M. Sullivan, grand knight, and the officers of Quincy council, Knights of Columbus, will exemplify the first degree on a class of candidates at the regular meeting in Colonial hall on the evening of Feb. 18.

John E. Brown, Albert J. Williams, Jr. were the winners of souvenirs at the whist party following the meeting of Quincy lodge, I. O. O. M. in Electa hall Tuesday evening. The consolation prize was given to William Nott.

John Mattson 165 Hillside street West Quincy, was removed to the Quincy City Hospital Monday evening in the police ambulance suffering from kidney trouble. He is resting comfortably.

John J. Fallon, night man at city hall is ill at his home at 771 Washington street. Mr. Fallon was stricken Monday morning. He is responding well to treatment and his early recovery is expected.

A year ago Thursday the noon temperature registered 55 degrees and people were about city square with their overcoats on their arms. It does not look now as though they would be able to go without top coats tomorrow.

There is to be an official board meeting after prayer meeting on Thursday at the Wollaston Methodist church. This is an important meeting as the fourth Quarterly Conference is to be held on the following Wednesday.

The policemen have been busy during their off hours of late practicing fancy steps for the annual ball of the police relief association at Music hall Thursday evening. The affair promises to be a grand success, judging from the large number of tickets that have already been sold.

On Friday at three o'clock, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet with Mrs. E. S. Tenney, 115 Prospect avenue, Wollaston. The subject of the meeting is "Penal and Reformatory Work." Mrs. F. R. Morgan is to lead.

"The House of Mirth," which is to be given by the Queen Esther Circle of the Wollaston Methodist church on Wednesday evening, is to be a unique and amusing entertainment. The people who know about the evening promise that there will be lots of fun for all who come. The exact nature of the fun is somewhat of a secret.

The Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church will meet at 6.30 for supper on Friday night and at eight o'clock, John Scott will lecture on the development of the telephone from infancy to the present time. Mr. Scott's lecture will be illustrated and over 100 slides will be shown. Invitations have been issued to the women of the district and the public at large Wollaston people are looking forward with pleasant anticipation to hearing Dr. Isaac T. Headland who is to speak Friday evening at the Quincy Mansion School and at both services Sunday in the Wollaston Methodist church. These addresses will not be ordinary missionary sermons for Dr. Headland knows and has seen things that few other men in the country have seen and known personally.

Mt. Wollaston Lodge, I. .O O. F. has arranged a series of six whist parties to take place every Monday evening in their hall in the Adams building. The series will be under the direction of Alexander Marnock. Bert Prescott, Abel Gomez, William Esau. The winners Monday evening were Bert Prescott, Mrs. Martha A. Jones, Mrs. George Bolster, John Drumgold. Mrs. Mary Thomas, B. Magnus and Mrs. Beatrice Hughes.

CITY HALL NOTES

The city council committee on Fire department matters and the joint committee on police and ordinance will meet Friday evening. Several important orders will be acted upon.

Mayor Campbell and City Solicitor Pinkham attended the hearing at the state house this morning on the bill relative to the limit of indebtedness of cities and towns. If they follow out the wishes of the city council they will oppose the bill in its present form. The city council by a resolution expressed itself as against the bill being mandatory and believed that it should be submitted to the council and should not be accepted except by a two-thirds vote.

The next matter of importance that will demand the attention of the council will be the annual budget which is due to be forwarded to the city council at its next meeting. Under a resolution passed by the council of 1914 it expressed its objection to the clerical force at city hall receiving extra compensation, and having the same charged to the miscellaneous account. What the council believed was that all salaries should be provided for in the budget.

Now that the city solicitor has ruled that members of the fire department come under the provisions of section 47 of the city charter, some one will doubtless rise to inquire why it is that the amount appropriated in the budget for pay of firemen is not included in the amount paid for salaries of city officials. If they come under the head of city officials, then the amount appropriated in the budget for pay of firemen and policemen should be included under the head pay of city officials. Some councilman will doubtless raise that question at the proper time.

Under this same ruling it would seem that there is no need to hurry in passing the order increasing the pay of firemen for they can not go into effect until January 1916.

The city council evidently do not intend that time shall hang heavily on the Mayors hands, judging from the various resolutions adopted in which, the mayor is asked to work with a committee of the city council in various matters.

Some of the newly appointed city officials had boxes of cigars on their desks for callers Monday morning, but more of them did not.

City Treasurer Curtis is spending his time now-a-days between the treasurers and tax collectors office. He hopes that it may be possible soon to have the two departments in adjoining offices.

Things in the various offices at city hall have settled down and business is running as smoothly as though there had been no change in some of the department officials.

The assessors are still hard at work cleaning up matters left over from last year. This work keeps them in session daily from 8 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Jerry Connolly is acting as night janitor of city hall this week during the temporary illness of John Fallon. Mr. Fallon expects to be back again in a few days.

CHARGED WITH LARCENY.

Gilbert Wright, Robert Workman, Eddie Myatt and Ligurg Almquist of Quincy and Premo Giovanni, William Ritchie and Roy Hines of Braintree were summoned into court this morning by Chief Hunt of Braintree on a complaint of larceny. Chief Hunt claims that several of the summer cottages, back of the Cedarcrest Inn have been broken into and a quantity of small articles taken. The defendants mentioned are charged with the larceny of the goods. All pleaded not guilty and their cases went over until Feb. 11.

E. B. Neal of 182 Warren avenue eft Monday on an e:t nded trip to California on business. His route lies through the Yellowstone and Grand Canyon.

DEATHS

CAHILL—In Quincy, suddenly, Feb. 2. Mary Elizabeth, daughter of the late eGorge and Mary Cahill of 95 Water street, aged 37 years.

WEBBER—In Quincy Febr 3, Catherine J. Widow of the late Chief Lewis P. Webber, of the Boston Fire Department.
Funeral from the residence of her daughter Mrs. Edward J. Murphy, 11 Russell Park. Friday Feb. 5, at 9 A. M. Solemn High Mass of Requiem at St. John's church at 10 A. M. Train leaves South Station at 8.34 A. M.

HOLMES—In Randolph, Feb. 2, Albert Holmes of Randolph, age 82 years.

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

SHAVING NECESSITIES

Our stock of Soaps, Powders and Razors we believe is the most complete in the city. Perhaps you Mr. Man, want another box of shaving soap, or a new Razor. Well we won't say any more, but drop in and see our stock

CHAS. C. HEARN, City Square Druggist

Feb. 1-3t

EXPERIENCED

IRONERS AND STITCHERS

WANTED

APPLY

SOVEREIGN WAIST CO.

192 GRANITE ST.

Feb. 1-tf

AUTO AND CAR IN COLLISION

There came very near being a serious accident in City Square Tuesday afternoon when an automobile of C. H. Brooks collided with a street car near the corner of Hancock and Saville streets.

Mr. Brooks was coming down Saville street toward Hancock street. He was holding his small son in his arms. The car was being operated by William Tate. As the corner was reached Tate evidently saw the car and applied his brakes. The auto did not stop however but slid along until it bumped into the street car. The glass windshield of the automobile was smashed and the axle sprung and Mr. Brooks was somewhat cut by flying glass. The little child was not injured. Mr. Brooks drove to the to the residence of Dr. F. E. Jones where his injuries were treated.

TO DISTRIBUTE FOOD FOR BIRDS

Arthur B. Hultman, assistant court officer, has been appointed distributer of foodstuffs for birds by the Fish and Game Commission and is prepared to furnish same upon application. Mr. Hultman was one of those appointed throughout the state to assist in feeding the birds in winter. A quantity of foodstuff has been placed at his disposal. A state wide movement is underway to take care of the feathered flocks when snow covers the ground. Mr. Hultman can be seen at the Court House during the day or at his home on Hancock street.

☞PRATT'S BREAD made of the best flour by the best bakers. Your grocer.

SPORTING COMMENT.

Frank L. McGlinchey, the former Brockton High school athlete, lost $29 in Brockton Friday to a pickpocket.

Kid Williams the fast polo player will replace veteran Bob Hart on the rushline of the Brockton team. Williams is the youngest man who has broken into the game. Things have been breaking badly for Hart and the deal between Brockton and Fall River which brought about the change has just been consumated.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

Digestive Disorders Yield When the right help is sought at the right time. Indigestion is a torment. Biliousness causes suffering. Either is likely to lead to worse and weakening sickness. The right help, the best corrective for disordered conditions of the stomach, liver, kidneys or bowels is now known to be

Beecham's Pills

and the right time to take this famous family remedy is at the first sign of coming trouble. Beecham's Pills have so immediate an effect for good, by cleansing the system and purifying the blood, that you will know after a few doses they

Are the Remedial Resort

Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World. Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

AND PURITY

has made our bread the leader In this community.

It's perfectly baked to a rich crisp brown. Every ingredient used in the making is the best money can buy. f you, Madam would get the best bread instead of the ordinary, you would be satisfied. Always

LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN

1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.

MADE IN QUINCY, U. S. A.

JOHNSON AND CO.'S PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT

Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.

IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.

Be Sure My Name is on The Band

Yours, JOHNSON

Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

Try a Pound of our Coffee

if you want to taste something real delicious. We carry all the advertised brands and feel sure we can suit on quality and price. Buy some today.

La Touraine	35c lb
Quality	32c lb
Stanzalone	25c lb
White House, 1 lb can	35c lb
Seal Brand Chase & Sanborn, can	38c lb
Yuban, the Guest Coffee, can	35c lb
Cafe Des Invalides, can	42c lb
Barrington Hall, steel cut. can	40c lb

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980

FOY'S 2 STORES

WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 30 QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 4, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

ELKS ENJOY EIGHTH ANNUAL CHARITY BALL

Elaborate Decorations Transform Music Hall into Veritable Fairyland

Exalted Ruler John D. Hildebrand is Chief Marshal, E. D. Larkin, Chief of Aids

Seldom if ever has Music hall presented a more attractive appearance than on Wednesday evening, the occasion of the eighth annual charity ball of Quincy lodge of Elks.

In place of the usual four bare walls of the hall there was presented a sort of Venetian garden scene. Suspended on the ceiling from the sides and end of the hall to the centre chandelier were broad streamers of blue, buff and purple, while from the centre chandelier there was a cluster of rustic leaves and crimson ramblers, and below this a cord supporting the five pointed star, one of the well known emblems of the Elks.

On the sides of the hall over the windows were draped buff and blue bunting, between these were large American flags and large pillars containing a bouquet of artificial flowers while below extending the full length of the hall was a broad streamer of royal purple. The front of the balcony was covered with rustic boughs, ramblers and other artificial flowers, and suspended from the four chandeliers in the corners were clusters of green boughs and flowers. These served to soften the glare of the electric lights and made a very pretty effect.

The decorations which were the most beautiful, however, were on the stage. Across the lower front was draped blue, buff and purple bunting while across the front of the stage was a lattice like fence on the front of which were two large five pointed stars and on the posts bouquets of illuminated artificial flowers.

Suspended from the ceiling over the stage were five lanterns of the Paul Revere period with red shades, and inside of each of these burned an electric light. This served to give the stage a pretty setting for the scene that had been arranged for a background.

This background had for a centre panel a painting of a large Elks head the antlers of which supported an Elks clock dial, upon the face of which the hands pointed to the mystic hour of eleven. On either side of this panel was a lattice fence, the front of which was covered with bouquets of artificial flowers and many colored electric lights, while beneath each of these lattice fences were large silk American flags. It was a beautiful setting and seemed more especially so at the 11 o'clock exercises when the lights in the main hall were turned off and the clock dial and stage were illuminated.

Many handsome gowns were worn by the women, all being in the lighter evening shades, and those served to enhance the brilliancy of the scene. The ball was a little late in starting owing to the bad weather which delayed the arrival of the participants. However those who came early enjoyed the promenade concert which was given by Strachan's orchestra whose selections included, March, "World Peace"; selection, "Crinoline girl:" cvornet solo by J. W. Donovan; selection of popular airs; and finale.

It was 9.30 when the grand march which opened the ball was inaugurated and it was a very pretty affair and well executed. The march was under the direction of Leo J. McMaster, whose reputation as a director of the march is almost world wide. With Mr. McMaster were two masters, Dana Kaulbach and Reginald Hanson. They were dressed as pages, and gave out the dance programs during the march.

The march was led by Exalted Ruler John D. Hildebrand with Mrs. Hildebrand and following him was Dr. J. H. Maloney, esteemed leading knight, with Miss Minnie Hildebrand Col. Henry L. Kincaide, floor marshal, and Mrs. Kincaide, Edward D. Larkin, esteemed loyal knight, with Miss Anna Larkin, Charles P. Gould, chairman of the reception committee, and Mrs. Gould, Capt. George A. Wardwell and Mrs. Wardwell, Charles H. Hanson and Mrs. Hanson, James W. Sweeney and Miss Charlotte Sweeney.

Mrs. Hildebrand wore a handsome black satin with jet and green net, butterfly effect. Miss Hildebrand wore a black chiffon, Mrs. Kincaide, green charmeuse with embroidered overdress, Miss Larkin, a pink empire crepe de chine, Mrs. Gould, a pink charmeuse with fur and lace trimmings, Mrs. Wardwell, turquoise blue with lace overdress, Mrs. Hanson, an orange taffeta, and Miss Sweeney, white lace with blue lace waist.

As the hour of 11 o'clock approached the members of the lodge marched onto the floor and formed in a circle beneath the star and joining hands stood in silence while Edward J. Fegan, president of the Board of Trade gave the Elks toast to departed brothers. The toast was very fine and although there was a large number of participants present the dropping of a pin might have been heard.

The toast of Mr. Fegan was as follows:

ELEVEN O'CLOCK TOAST.

My Brothers:—

It is the hour of Eleven! I look

(Continued on Page Two.)

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Friday unsettled and warmer. Possibly rain or snow at night.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.54
Sun sets	5.03
Length of day	10.09
Moon sets	11.46
High water, A. M.	3.00
High water, P. M.	3.15

Days increase 1 hr. 3 minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.33 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	18 degrees
Feb. 4, 1914, noon	55 degrees
Feb. 4, 1913	38 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—87.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

J. DELL IS NOW CITY CHAMPION

Five String Total of 528 Defeats C. H. Baker and Brings Cup to Him

OTHER FOUR OUT OF RACE

James Dell of the Clan MacGregor league won the city championships at the Wardwell alleys Wednesday evening with a total of 528. He defeated C. H. Baker of the Wollaston Tennis club, his active rival by 18 pins. A 19 strike in the last box of the fourth string and a 19 spare in the last box of the fifth gave Dell his margin.

The handsome silver trophy, offered the winner by Capt. George A. Wardwell, was presented by Manager Louis Ross.

Dell came through a field of 24 bowlers. In the trials 12 were eliminated and six dropped by the wayside in the semi-finals Tuesday evening. The six remaining bowlers were unquestionably as good as the city has. The contest on that last night of the congress was exciting. Referee Richard Ring tabooed cheering and the favorites received a silent applause. Dell, picked fro mthe outset as the winner, came up to expectations. The shoiwng:

J. Dell	106	100	101	111	110—528
Baker	101	89	108	1020	110—510
McPh's'n	85	90	113	97	97—482
G. White	89	112	98	86	89—474
Jenner	85	99	104	95	81—464
Bugbee4	93	100	85	87	99—464

CHILDREN FLEE RUNAWAY HORSE

George Patriarch Stops Anima After Being Dragged

A horse owned by Dennis Crowley broke from his harmness near the West Quincy depot dashing down Copeland street just as the children from the Willard school were going home after the morning sesion on Wednesday.

The principal of the school warned the children of the approaching horse just in time as he turned the corner and adshed up the Frurnace Brook Parkway. The horse was stopped near Doble street by eGorge Patriarch who dived at the reins and after being pulled along the snow a few feet succeeded in getting the animal in control.

LAST CHANCE FEB. 10.

The time for paying water bills expires next Wednesday, Feb. 10, and all persons who have not paid their bill by that date will have the supply of water shut of.

Quincy Board of Trade
Annual Banquet
Tuesday, February 9th, 6.30 P. M.
ALPHA HALL
Good Speaking, Singing, Orchestra. Good Dinner.
Unusual Features
Get Your Tickets at once
E. J. FEGAN, President.
JOHN O. HALL, Sec.
Feb. 2-3t-eod

TO LET
Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

OPPOSES BILL TO RAISE DEBT LIMIT

City Solicitor Pinkham Speaks at Legislative Hearing at State House

BILL MAKES LIMIT 4%

State House, Boston, Feb. 3. Decided opposition from the cities of Quincy, Brockton and Fall River to the bill proposing to raise the debt limit of cities from 2 1-2 to 4 percent of the assessor's valuation of taxable property was voiced today before the legislative committee on municipal finance. Quincy was represented by City Solicitor Walter S. Pinkham.

The city solicitor declared that the tax rate of a city should reflect the expenditures of the administration and those voting the expenditures should be held responsible. The current expenses of a city should not be saddled on the shoulders of the coming generations, he said, but a city should pay as it goes.

The measure was introduced on petition of Senator Andrew P. Doyle of New Bedford and has experienced a decided reversal of fortunes within the past few days. It was one of the first bills to be referred to the committee on municipal finance, was heard early in the session and the city of Quincy, officially, apparently was entirely unaware of what was taking place. The bill was reported favorably by the committee and went smoothly through to engrossment in the upper branch of the legislature before the opponents requested that it be recommitted and another hearing given.

If the bill becomes law, cities will be allowed to authorize indebtedness up to four percent of the average of the assessor's valuation of taxable property for the three preceding years and towns will be permitted to borrow up to four and one half percent. The present limit is two and one half percent for cities and three percent for towns.

"The legislature will allow any municipality that comes to Beacon Hill with a request endorsed by the city government to borrow money for improvements," said Mr. Pinkham. "Any necessary improvements may be obtained in this way and in my opinion this bill would tend to encourage extravagance in the management of municipal affairs.

"The municipal finance act now on the books is a very good one and if it had been passed ten years sooner, all cities would be in good financial condition by this time.

The proponents of the bill declared that cities should be allowed to do the work demanded by the citizens without coming to the legislature for permission to borrow outside the debt limit. Every year the legislature is flooded with requests from cities and towns for authority to borrow money and it is seldom that such a request is denied. The purpose of the bill is to throw more responsibility on city governments and relieve the legislature of the burden of passing on the annual inundation of local financial problems.

WILLIAM A. McKEAN.

William A. McKean, town auditor of Braintree for 12 years, died at his home in that town Wednesday, aged 72. He was treasurer of the Cochato club for 12 years, and a 32 degree Mason. He leaves a family.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

FOR SALE
3 Single Houses, all modern improvements.
Easy Terms.
APPLY
SWITHIN BROS.
GREENLEAF BLDG.
Feb. 3-6t

KNOCKERS SHOULD BE DROWNED LIKE SUPERFLUOUS KITTENS

Board of Trade Comes to Life With Such Vigor That it Looks Like Battlefield for Time

J. W. Pratt Says He Knows Why Charles Johnson. Sent Resignation

The yearly display of fireworks on the National holiday at Merrymount park does not hold a candle to the pyrotechnical display that took place at the meeting of the Board of Trade Wednesday evening. Skyrockets, aerial bombs, red, blue and green fire make the usually bright glare of the gas lights, with which the room is lighted, fade into insignificance. Herbert S. Barker, the vice president, who presided at the greater part of the session, received his first baptism of fire as a presiding officer of the Board and he had his hands full. Finally thoroughly worn out he adjourned the meeting, saying that "if I do not do so there will be no Board of Trade left."

There was a fairly good attendance at the meeting and things were running smoothly until the question of endorsing the bill which provided that teamsters, expressmen and others who transport household goods from one town to another should file with the city clerk a statement of whom he had moved, where from and where to.

Alfred Pinel then hurled a bomb into the quietness of the evening by remarking that if the board of Trade would devote more time to the discussion of local matters, such as the public dock, instead of wasting the whole evening in discussing matters that do not concern Quincy more might be accomplished.

Fuel was added to the fire thus started when a letter was read from Charles H. Johnson resigning as a member of the Board of Trade. Someone wanted to know why Mr. Johnson has resigned and J. Winthrop Pratt remarked that he knew. "People look upon the Board of Trade as a lot of hot air artists who did not accomplish anything."

These pointed remarks rather stepped on the toes of John L. Hamilton, who for the past two years has presided over the destinies of the Board of Trade and with fire in his eye he arose and talked right from the shoulder. "For two years I labored hard to make the Board of Trade something. Where there were ten workers there were forty knockers. There are some members of this board who are continually asking what it has accomplished. If they would only take the pains to read the records and examine the doings of the Board they would find out that it has accomplished things.

"The trouble with this Board is that there are too many knockers. Too much time has been spent in finding fault with others than in trying to aid the Board to do things. As far as I am concerned it would be a good thing if 50 percent of the knockers of Quincy were taken out into the bay and disposed of the same way they do with surplus kittens of the family cat. There is an old saying that a prophet is not without honor save in his own country. This is beautifully illustrated in this city. At the state house and in other Boards of Trade the Quincy organization is put down as having some life, as a live wire organization and one which has accomplished things. If men would only take the pains to inquire regarding the truth of their statements, they are so anxious and ready to make, they would find Annanias was an amateur compared with them. If God Almighty should come to Quincy and try and start something for its betterment, instead of turning to and aiding in the good work they would all set about and try and find some obstacles to place in his way."

At this point Secretary Hall came to his rescue and read from his records some of the things that the Board had accomplished last year.

Instead of quieting the waters this only served to create more tempestuous waves for it was declared that one of the things that the Board was credited with having done, it did not do at all. The particular thing to which attention was called was the coming to Atlantic of the Means-Thatcher Co. That concern it was said was brought to Quincy solely by Arthur W. Stetson. J. Winthrop Pratt is speaking of this said "This is one of the things for which the Board of Trade takes credit, which it had no hand in. That company came to Quincy solely on the solicitation of Arthur W. Stetson. It is the claiming of having accomplished such things as this that makes the Board of Trade a laughing stock."

This was a body blow and for a few minutes the dropping of a pin might have been heard. Then a motion was adopted extending a vote of thanks to Mr. Stetson for his efforts in bringing the Means-Thatcher Co., to Quincy, and that made Arthur grin.

Then "Al" LaBreque has his say. He defended the local newspapers of the city: "The Board of Trade is lacking in that it does not make more use of the press. I firmly believe in publicity and my friends on the Ledger believe the some way. If a publicity campaign was inaugurated and plenty of printers ink used people would have a chance to see what the Board of Trade is doing."

By this time things had quieted down somewhat and the Board got back to the original matter that had started the oratorial display and without further argument voted to give its endorsement to the bill.

The little clock on the rear wall which was merrily ticking the hours away showed the hour to be near 11 and it was then that presiding officer Barker adjourned the meeting.

During the first part of the evening Walter M. Packard was admitted to membership.

County Commissioner Merrill called attention to the meeting next Saturday at Dedham of the farm bureau movement which the Board had endorsed and hoped for a good attendance from Quincy.

The bylaws were amended by striking out the word "application" and substituting the word "membership." This makes it read "membership committee."

The resignation of Dr. Francis Abele, Jr., from the board of directors was received and the directors were empowered to fill the vacancy.

The resignation of Charles H. Johnson was referred to the membership committee.

The matter of endorsing the bill which provides for a tax of one percent on all business done by mail order firms was referred to the committee on legislative matters, as was also the bill relative to bicnial election and sessions of the legislature.

The matter of an entertainment to be given by the Wollaston Glee club for the benefit of the Board of Trade and various womens clubs was referred to the entertainment committee.

A request for the endorsement of the Board of the action of the Essex county association of Boards of Trade relative to the increasing of afres by street railways and the doing away with transfers was referred to the committee on street railways.

Before President Fegan resigned his chair for the balance of the evening to the vice president he stated that the directors were considering the matter of trying to arrange so that the monthly meetings of the board should be held in Colonial hall where the conditions were much more inviting.

He also announced the apointment of the committees. In the make up of each committee it will be noticed that a member of the board of directors is the chairman and that every ward of the city is represented on each committee.

BRIEFS

Mrs. S. I. Wood is in New Jersey on a visit to her daughter Mrs. Cecil Blanchard.

Mrs. Edward A. Chase of Beverly, wife of the former pastor of the Wollaston Congregational church, is the guest of Mrs. A. A. Lincoln of Lincoln avenue for a few days.

Mrs. James Donovan returned from New York Wednesday where she has been the guest of her daughter Margaret.

The Norfolk County Farm Bureau will hold a meeting to complete organization at the courthouse, Dedham at 1.30 Saturday afternoon.

"The feast of the seven tables" is the name given the buffet supper to be served in the parish room of St. Chrysostoms church tomorrow evening. An entertainment, Mr. Jarley's wax works, followed by dancing will be given in the assembly room after the supper.

Public Whist Party
Ladies and Gentlemen
Monday Evening, Feb. 8, 1915
At 8 P. M.
TOWN RIVER YACHT CLUB
Foot of Edison Park
All R. R. Tickets
Admission 25 Cents
Feb 1-6t

LOST
SAVINGS BANK BOOKS

Savings Bank Books as listed below have been lost and application has been made for payment of the accounts in accordance with Section 40, Chapter 590, of the Acts of 1908. Payment has been stopped.

Book No. 20445	Book No. 38526
Book No. 25547	Book No. 41095
Book No. 28602	Book No. 42444
Book No. 36756	Book No. 43048

QUINCY SAVINGS BANK
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.
Jan. 21-3t-21-28-Feb. 4

AN ANNOUNCEMENT

The Wollaston Young People's Religious Union regret to announce that the vaudeville that was to be held Friday, Feb. 5, has been postponed to the last of March or the first of April, owing to the new Parish House not being ready for it.

An Announcement will be made later.

Feb. 3-3t

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

ROAD TO BETTER GOVERNMENT.

It is a popular misconception that a city is merely a business corporation and that the members of the city council in Quincy, for example, are merely a board of directors of that business. At city should certainly be run on businesslike principles but, at the same time, a city is something more than a business. It is also a political unit, a government on a small scale. The problem of city government will never be solved until this delusion is done away with, until men cease to be elected to office simply because they are able men.

Perhaps Quincy would have reason to feel fairly satisfied, under the circumstances, if it succeeded in placing an able business man in every councilman's seat. We do not seek to minimize the value of electing honest and efficient men to office. We need them badly enough and that should be our first consideration, of course.

But that is not the whole story. It is not quite enough to have an able and honest man in a councilman's chair. Suppose there were two men running for the city council, equally able and both honest. Suppose Candidate A. believed in the erection of a new high school. Suppose Candidate B. believed that such a purchase was unwise. Should the voters not have an opportunity to take these two opposite policies into consideration when they cast their ballots?

Today they rarely have such an opportunity. The candidates rarely adopt a definite, absolute platform, to which they promise to adhere in the council chamber. They base their candidacy upon personal qualifications and a national party label. The first is an excellent standard so far as it goes: the latter is absolutely worthless. Whether Candidate A believes in a high protective tariff or not is of absolutely no importance in a city election. Whether he believes in some large, local policy is of great importance.

The voter will be afforded an opportunity to vote upon matters of local policy only when those local policies have assumed sufficient importance to become the policies of a local party. A local party can not live until national parties are abolished locally.

It is to be hoped that the day of the abolition of national party designations in Quincy city elections is near at hand. We believe the consequent formation of local policies and parties will do more than any one thing to awaken civic interest among Quincy citizens and hence lead to a better city government.

AMERICA AND THE WAR.

The address of Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead, secretary of the Woman's Peace Party, before the Alliance of the First Parish Wednesday afternoon was heavily laden with illogical and inconsistent statements.

The speaker is a woman of national reputation and unquestioned ability. Unfortunately, she has evidently become so obsessed with the peace idea that her vision is hopelessly distorted.

"Preparedness" is the cause for war according to Mrs. Mead. And then she delivers the following beautiful inconsistency:

"Some will say, "What of Japan?" Poor little Japan doesn't want war," Mrs. Mead exclaimed, "Not with us with the third greatest navy in the world, and she with the fifth."

There was much of value in her lecture but sprinkled here and there were such absurd inconsistencies as the quotation just given which destroy the force of the lecture as a whole.

We hope that Mrs. Mead's interpretation of America's present duty will find few converts. She believes the United States should take vigorous steps to bring about peace. Should call into conference the 30 other neutral nations to see what can be done. The warring nations are ready for peace, she declares.

The warring nations are not ready for peace. To enforce a peace now would fail of permanent results. It would be like separating two bull dogs locked in a deathlike grip and then leaving them, vigorous and blood thirsty in the same yard together. The bull dogs over in Europe must become pretty well exhausted before a peace will be anything more than a truce.

The United States so far has managed to maintain neutrality and also the goodwill of the combatants. It is likely to lose everything if it interferes where interference is not wanted.

All good men and women ardently desire peace, a lasting peace, as soon as it is possible. The time is not yet at hand and until it is an address such as Mrs. Mead's can do no real good. It is not a time for jumping at conclusions based upon misstatements and illogical reasoning. It is a time for a diligent search for the facts and unimpassioned reasoning.

And now we suppose pork is due for a climb. Germany, it is reported, is to buy $50,000,000 worth of hogs.

NAMES OF OUR EARTH.

It Was Called Ge by the Greeks and Terra by the Latins.

Answering the question, "Who named our planet the earth? Why could it not have had a romantic and beautiful name such as astronomers have given to the planets Jupiter, Venus, Mars or Neptune? Our planet alone has the utilitarian, but not graceful name the earth," Edgar Lucien Larkin in the New York American says:

The good Anglo-Saxon folk gave the name earthe to this, our world, and the British dwindled the word down to earth. But is this not fully as romantic as the name Ge, given to it by the Greeks, and Terra by the Latins? Ge is indeed commonplace, but Terra is highly romantic.

Classic mythology tells that Terra was one of the most ancient deities and wife of Uranus and mother of Oceanus, the Titans, Cyclopes, Giants, Thea, Rhea, Themis, Phoebe, Tethys and Mnemosyne. And she is the same deity as Tellus. But Tellus was the most ancient goddess after Chaos. In later mythic ages she was called by the exceedingly romantic names Cybele, Rhea, Vesta, Ceres, Tithea, Bona Dea, Proserpine and others. And when sailing under the euphonius titles she passed through many very romantic episodes. At times she got into romantic difficulties when circulating around with other goddesses and gods.

INTRODUCING THE TELESCRIBE

Panama-Pacific Fair to Show Edison's Latest Invention.

Among the remarkable exhibits to be shown at the Panama-Pacific International exposition at San Francisco will be Thomas A. Edison's latest invention, the "telescribe." This is a combination of telescope and dictaphone and has never before been exhibited at an international exposition. It fulfills Mr. Edison's prediction, uttered in 1870, that perfection in telephonic communication would be reached only when means were discovered for combining the telephone and phonograph.

When the receiver of the desk telephone is removed from the hook and placed in the socket of the "telescribe" the acoustic connection of the dictating machine is made, and then the user takes up the small receiver attached to a "telescribe" and begins conversation. In this way both sides of the conversation are recorded on the telescribe cylinder and communication with the central operator is shut off, thus preventing "breaking in" on the line. The value of the telescribe is shown by the fact that the telephone system transmits 60 per cent of all forms of communication in the United States, totaling 15,000,000,000 conversations a year, a grand total in excess of the number of telegrams, letters and railroad passengers in the same period.

Appropriate Emblem.

"You women ought to organize a society for the encouragement of pickpockets."

"What do you mean?"

"And adopt as your insignia the dangling hand bag."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

What you do for an ungrateful man is thrown away.—Latin Proverb.

You need the Ledger every day. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

BUSINESS FAILURES

80 per cent of them in the United States are those firms which do not advertise.

The longer you delay advertising your business the slimmer grow your chances of having a business to advertise.

Why not start a consistent and persistent advertising campaign now in

THE DAILY LEDGER
A GOOD TEA TABLE PAPER
READ IN THE HOME

RENEW ATTACKS AT HEAVY COST

Germans Fighting Hard to Gain Russian Trenches

TRY TO CAPTURE WARSAW

Military Experts Think Kaiser's Troops Are Attempting What Seems to Be Virtually Impossible—Russian Forces Advance In Carpathian Mountains and Break Into Hungary Despite Immense Reinforcements Sent by Germany to Help Austrians—British Repulse Turks East of Suez Canal

London, Feb. 4.—With comparative quiet prevailing on the western front, the fighting in the east, which is more strenuous and widespread, monopolizes attention.

While the Russians are on the offensive in East Prussia, northwestern Poland and in the passes of the Carpathians, the Germans continue their attacks on the Russian lines along the Bzura and Rawka rivers.

The invaders reached the Rawka line about the middle of December and since that time have made at least half a dozen attacks in force against the Russian trenches, each time at undoubted heavy cost.

Nothing daunted, however, they have been repeating the attacks and, while they have made a slight advance, it has been accomplished only after further great losses, according to reports from Petrograd.

Now it is believed the Germans are preparing for still another onslaught, for only by compelling the Russians to strengthen their lines protecting Warsaw can they hope to divert the Russian attacks from East Prussia and Hungary.

Military men in London hold to the belief that the Germans are attempting what seems virtually impossible in their efforts to force their way through to Warsaw.

The Rawka and Bzura lines, which they have been attacking for six weeks, are exceedingly strong, for on the right banks of the rivers, which the Russians for the most part hold, the ground is considerably higher than on the left banks; so that the Russian infantry and artillery have a decided advantage.

Should the Germans break through this barrier there is another line of entrenchments half way between the Bzura and Warsaw with Blonie as the centre, which would have to be forced before the Polish capital fell.

Russians Invade Hungary

Russian troops are swarming into Hungary as the result of Austro-German defeats in the passes of the Carpathians, and the czar's troops are headed for Budapest, the first European capital to be seriously threatened since the German drive at Paris last August.

In spite of immense reinforcements sent by Germany to help the Austrians, the joint Teutonic army has been driven back through the Dukla, Mezo Laborcz and Lupkow passes, controlling the main highways between Galicia and Hungary, and the Russian invaders are reported from Petrograd to be crossing the southern slopes of the Carpathians.

Already, Russian cavalry has advanced many miles to the south, along the roads leading to Budapest. The whole of northern Hungary is reported to be in a state of terror, and thousands of fugitives are fleeing before the Russians toward the capital or westward to the Austrian frontier.

Some of the most violent battling of the war in the east has been necessary before the czar's troops have been able to break the opposition massed before the Carpathian passes.

Advance of Russians

The Russian general staff, in its official statement, in recording the campaign on the Hungarian frontier, says that their forces made a notable advance, fighting along the broad front at Dukla pass as far as the lower reaches of the San river. In this movement they would seem to have swept a large portion of western Galicia clear of Austrians and Germans.

During their wide deployment the czar's troops crossed the principal ridge of the mountain range in the vicinity of Jaslisko and Mezo Laborcz, at which latter pass they captured a battery of six cannon, two mortars, a number of rapid-firing guns and numerous prisoners.

At the Vzsok pass, further to the east, where the Russians have for some time been in full possession, a violent Austro-German attack was repulsed, the loss of the attackers being reported as heavy.

At another mountain pass, the Beskid, the advancing Russians found complete evidence that the Germans have hurried many troops to the assistance of the Austrians. Here the czar's troops practically annihilated a battalion of a German regiment, which was attempting to maneuver into Galicia.

When the Russians had completed their work of destruction, only a remnant of the battalion was left, including battalion and company commanders and about twenty soldiers, all of whom were made prisoners.

British forces had a skirmish with Turks in the neighborhood of Ismalia on Lake Timsah, on the Suez canal. The Turks finally retreated. The British had six men wounded. The engagement occurred during a sandstorm, but the shooting by the Turks, both with the rifle and artillery, was bad.

The opinion still prevails in London that the Turks will not attempt to cross the desert with a large force, and that the present "pin pricks" were arranged only to compel the British to keep troops in Egypt instead of sending them to France.

It is officially announced at Petrograd that a Russian submarine sank a German torpedo boat off Cape Moen, Denmark. Two or three German warships in the Baltic have suffered at the hands of the Russians within a week. The German protected cruiser Gazelle was torpedoed near the island of Ruegen, and was taken to the port of Sassnitz badly damaged.

PROTEST IS EXPECTED

Britain's Latest Embargo on Shipping Creates Dissatisfaction

Warning from Great Britain that all food shipments destined for Germany and Austria will be seized as contraband put a new problem up to the state department. The United States now faces the possibility of a new protest to England on that nation's attitude towards American shipping.

Britain is apparently taking advantage of Germany's plight in being forced to confiscate all grain and flour, also all hogs, the whole to be portioned out to the people.

In view of Germany's assurance that such cargoes would not be commandeered for military purposes, some authorities hold that England is disregarding established rules in declaring these cargoes conditional contraband.

Officials admit that England has the right to revise her contraband and conditional contraband, but it is pointed out that alleged arbitrary treatment of America's commerce was the basis for the former shipping protest, and this view strengthens the belief that the United Sttes will not submit without objection to this latest move.

TO CONSIDER WAR ONLY

All Domestic Measures Laid Aside In British Parliament

Premier Asquith presented a resolution in the house of commons to devote the present session entirely to government measures.

"There is no precedent for this resolution," said the premier, "but all our energies as a nation are concentrated on the war and every interest must be subordinated to this overmastering purpose. Accordingly, the government purposes to take away the opportunity for private members to introduce bills, and will confine its legislative proposals to measures for the prosecution of the war."

Mr. Law, speaking for the opposition, agreed to the resolution. He said the opposition intended to treat the present sitting of the house as a war session, as had been done in Canada and France.

JEWELRY IDENTIFIED

Falzone Had Property Which Had Been Carried by Albertson

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 4.—That the jewelry found on Biagio Falzone at the time of his arrest was a part of the missing stock of the murdered jewelry salesman was the testimony offered by Clara Otis, a bookkeeper in the Albertson jewelry store at the trial of Biagio Falzone, Ignacio Morella and Luigi Grassidoina for the murder of Morris Albertson.

The jewelry consisted of a gold watch case, gold watch chain and charm, a ring, a stick pin and a watch. Miss Otis positively identified the pieces of jewelry, with the exception of the watch, as a part of the missing stock of the store.

TWENTY ARE STRICKEN

Doctors and Nurses Contract Typhoid Fever In Hospital

New York, Feb. 4.—Eighteen nurses and two physicians have contracted typhoid fever during the last three weeks at the Sloane Maternity hospital, where there are 200 prospective mothers. This was admitted at the hospital by Miss Russell, the superintendent.

The source is not yet discovered. Physicians and pathological experts are turning their attention to finding a "Typhoid Mary" among the hundred-odd employes.

NINE MEN CREMATED

Two Others Are Dying as Result of Explosion and Fire

Mayburg, Pa., Feb. 4.—Nine men were cremated here when the two-story bunk house of the Tionesta Valley Chemical company burned down as the result of the explosion of a gas stove. Six others were injured, two fatally.

Just one year ago two men, a woman and a baby lost their lives in a similar explosion and fire in Mayburg.

VICTORY FOR SUFFRAGE

Favorable Resolve Passes New York House Without Protest

Albany, Feb. 4.—Without opposi- senate and assembly resolution of the senate and assembl to submit the woman's suffrage question to New York voters passed the lower house.

Its passage by the upper house and signature by Governor Whitman within the near future is certain.

MEMORIES OF 55 YEARS AGO

A. F. Nightingale Writes of Boyhood Days at Quincy High School

LIVES IN EVANSTON, ILL.

Editor, The Ledger

Several weeks, months ago, I was transplanted into the realm of my youthful fancies, and regaled by an inspirational report in the Ledger of a gathering of your High School devotees, bent on the formation of an Alumni Association. I could not refrain from asking myself, with no hope of a reply how many of such associations have been formed in the past, redolent with the breath of permanency, but all ephemeral, and what because of them? I was interested and amused by the statement that some of the dames were present, who dated their graduation back to the early 80s and while the spirit of youth was upon them, they must have been hovering about the half century line or nearing the three score, yet still beautiful and blithesome as June.

The love and loyalty, the enthusiasm and enterprise, that fired the spirits of the assembled hosts, must have been very cheering, and yet these same qualities crowned the days of those who are now living on borrowed time.

Having been superintendent in charge of the twenty High Schools of Chicago for ten years, I challenge any one to a deeper interest in the welfare of young people.

I, too, am a product of the Quincy High school, and my memory goes back to the principal ships of Samuel Duncan, afterward U. S. Commissioner of Patents, and a professor at Dartmouth, and of Mr. Davis of the same college. I remember with what startling gaze I used to watch Mr. George Barker and the son of the Rev. William P. Lunt turn English into Latin, on the blackboard, with such rapidity, as a Pro-German talks of God's Vice regent—the Kaiser, in these gloomy days of the world war.

I was then just learning my "Hic, haec, hoc" and my "Amo, ames, amat" I taught the same for twenty-five years, thereafter, and saw the influence of the study of Latin upon one's acquisition of English.

But speaking of Alumni Associations well do I recall the autumn of 1860, when there gathered one evening in the old school, a large number of pupils to give a farewell reception to Horace Rodgers, who, to complete his preparation for Harvard was about to attend the Conference Seminary in Newbury, Vermont, choosing this institution, because he had an uncle living in the town. In a few months I followed him, because my studies at home were interfered with too much by the temptations of my boy (?) friends.

That reception was a splendid occasion, the gift of a bible was made to the guest, and before the close a "High School Memorandum Society" was formed, with the motto "Forsitan et haec olim meminisse juvabit," and among the resolutions passed, or by-laws framed, was one in which each member agreed to write a letter each year to the secretary, (who was Mr. Edwin S. Wheeler, your writer having been made president) and he was to compile all the letters into one document, and send to each member at the close of every succeeding year.

This was done, spiritedly and loyally for five consecutive years, when at the "Town Hall," was held the first re-union, which was, indeed, a recherche affair, consisting of music speeches and dancing. There was no "Tango" and yet no "hesitation," but all was typical of the times, and ablaze with that patriotism which fired the souls of young and old at the close of the civil war.

I could give the names of many of the members of that society, but since I cannot recall them all, I will mention none. As I think of them after more than a half century, and turn over again those delightful associations, I ask Where are they all today?

If this little reminiscence should attract the attention of any or more of those who joined that society in 1860, whether ladies of gentlemen, and such would write we, addressing 916 Sheridan Road, Evanston, Ill., I would, not only appreciate the friendly compliment and favor, but agree to send a prompt acknowledgment of the same. Why should we not Keep the Vestal fires burning.

A. F. Nightingale

To Cure a Cold in One Day
Take LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE Tablets Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c.

AND PURITY

has made our bread the leader In this community..

It's perfectly baked to a rich crisp brown. Every ingredient used in the making is the best money can buy. If you, Madam would get the best bread instead of the ordinary, you would be satisfied. Always

LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN
1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.
MADE IN QUINCY, U. S. A.

If about to build or repair, specify
NEPONSET SHINGLES
Durable, Artistic and Fireproof, nothing better.
Surely call or write for samples.
See them and be convinced.
GROSSMAN'S BUILDING SUPPLY HOUSE
"The House of Quality"
37 Federal Ave. Tel. 979-R Quincy Quincy Adams, Mass.

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE
Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit
WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS
Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.
Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block
Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.tf

ELKS ENJOY

(Continued from Page One.)

beyond this festive scene—beyond your smiling faces and your brillant eyes—beyond your laughter and your happy sighs—and I behold tonight all Elkdom. Their laughter, gay as yours, blows fresh as ocean breezes—their eyes as bright as yours, flash light and love and gladness. All is joyous-vibrant-thrilling with the fullness and ecstacy of being. I hear the merry jingle of eleven bells! In one short hour this day will have reached its culmination. It is the hour of Life!

The scene changes. I see the outstretched hand of an Elk softly soothing a fevered brow. I see the stalwart arm of a Brother supporting at an open grave the convulsed form of a bereaved widow. I see the kindly Comrade guiding and leading sobbing children and gently brushing away the tears of sorrow. I see the Christ-like messenger generously dispensing to the grateful poor and needy. I hear the silvery pealing of eleven chimes! In one short hour a new day will break upon the horizon of tomorrow, bringing us its opportunities of spreading universal joy and peace. It is the hour of Love!

I have another vision! I see the great host of Elkdom of yesterday and the past glorious and triumphant! But there are hushed and darkened rooms—there are sighs and sobs and breaking hearts. There are winding processions and mournful obseques. I hear the doleful tolling of eleven bells! In one short hour today will have passed into the eternity of yesday. It is the hour of Death and Remembrance!

And so, my Brothers, as we stand thralled by the magic spell of this wondrous hour of Life and Love—Of Death and Remembrance—let us drain our glasses to that imperishable toast of Elkdom:

"OUR ABSENT BROTHERS"

"Here's to the friends who loved us:
Here's to the hearts that were true!
Here's to their souls above us
O'er the wonderful field of blue!
They will dwell in their mystical temple,
And at last when the twilight falls,
Without one fear they will answer 'here'
When the voice of the Master calls."

From 9.30 until midnight Whittemore served refreshments in the annex.

While in point of attendance the affair was not as large perhaps as in some other years what it lost in numbers was made up in enthusiasm.

The officers of the ball were as follows: Chief marshal, John D. Hildebrand, E. R., purple marshals, Philip H. Sullivan, P. E. R., Robert J. Williams, Jr., P. E. R., Dr. J. H. Maloney, E. L. K., William Cashman, Trustee, Hon. Louis F. R. Langelier, Henry L. Kincaide, John W. Sweeney.

Red chief of aids, Edward D. Larkin, E. L. K.

Blue aids, Thomas J. Dunphy, James G. Cuff, W. Frank Galvin, G. W. Nightingale, Walter Cummings, Alfred W. Goodhue, Henry W. Trrell, Edward E. Bullock, John J. Lane, Harry F. Loud, John J. Deasy, Dr. M. T. Sweeney, Baron J. Thomas, Daniel Reidy, Jr., Olindo Taddei, William P. Berry, Dr. Matthew J. Sweeney, Eugene P. LaBrecque, Joseph F. Mohan, Marshall Nazro, Arthur S. Baxter, Edward J. Fegan, Daniel J. Ring, Thomas V. Keating, John D. Beal, Dr. J. P. Murphy, John W. Walsh, William S. George, John J. O'Hara, Charles J. McGilvray, Paul Poehler, Frederick A. Meir, John T. Coyle, William J. Sullivan.

Director of March, Leo J. McMaster Orange.

James W. Sweeney was chairman of the committee of arrangements of which Edward V. Sweeney was secretary and Charles R. O'Connor, treasurer.

Charles P. Gould was chairman of the committee of arrangements.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448-4. Haymarket 2440
Oct. 4tf

Build Now! Plan Now!
To the prospective home builders of Quincy that Quincy may share in the general betterments that will accrue to every one who takes advantage of the Build Now opportunities we propose the following inducement which we are sure the material men and all labor will generously follow. For a limited time we will blueprint any of our plans of flats at a reduction from the regular price. We will also estimate all building work at Build Now prices and can save you some money if you'd dare take a chance.
How many Real Boosters in Quincy?
J. W. PRATT Architect and Builder
18 FAXON AVE, from City Sq. Tel 581-W

THE EDUCATIONAL FIELD

THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
HIGH SCHOOL PUBLIC SCHOOLS
WOODWARD INSTITUTE PAROCHIAL SCHOOL

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES.

A number of new books have been added recently to the children's department of the library. The Gunner's series by Edward L. Beach will be of particular interest to the boys; and another set of books which the boys will enjoy is the "Pioneer Boys" by Harrison Adams.

Those who enjoy true stories from American history will be interested in "Brave Deeds of American Sailors" by Robert D. Duncan. These stories include incidents of the Revolution, Civil war and the War with Spain.

For the younger reader is the "Book of Friendly Giants" by Eunice Fuller, illustrated by Pamela Colman Smith, a book of fairy tales which all the children will enjoy.

"The Story of Wool," by Sara Ware Bassett is, as the title suggests, a simple, pleasant narrative of the stages through which the wool passes before becoming cloth.

For the little girl who likes to "make things" are the books "When Mother Lets Us Make Paper Box Furniture" by G. Ellingwood Rich and "When Mother Lets US Make Gifts" by Mary B. Grubb.

The older girls will be much interested in the Hadley Hall series by Louise Marks Breitenbach. This series includes "Alma at Hadley Hall" Alma's Sophomore Year" and "Alma's Junior Year."

NEW TERM.

The second half of the school year began on Monday and promotions made in the first five grades or ten half-grades which is as far as the semi-annual promotion plan has extended. Because of the exceptionally severe weather thus far this week it is impossible to determine what the beginning class will be as a great many children who would have entered on Monday have not yet come in their parents waiting until the present storm shall be over.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOLS.

To indicate that there is a general consideration of the plan of Junior High schools it may be stated that at the next meeting of the Massachusetts Superintendents association, the topic of this plan of organization is to be the principal topic of the forenoon. The afternoon session will be devoted to a consideration of "State Aid for Public Schools" wih special reference to the mill tax bill which is now before the legislature.

This meeting is to be held at the Boston City club on Friday, February 19.

The Massachusetts city superintendents meet at the Boston City club on Saturday of this week o consider the same opic of stat and today and evening schools and no doubt every effort will be made to secure some form of lgislation which will assist the poorer towns and cities to support their day and evening schools.

With the current tendency of the wealthy people to shirk their responsibility and taxes by removing to communities where the taxes are very light the burden on th towns and cities from which thy have gone is made increasingly heavier. The only hop of remedy lies in state legislation.

The addition to the Atherton Hough school is ready for occupancy whenever the seats and desks are put in These have not yt bn ordred but ar expected before the end of the month in the meantime there are sever teachers in the building trying to work in four rooms. After the new rooms are in use, it is planned to paint the interior of the other rooms so that the appeafance of the building on the inside may be uniform.

Mr. R. E. Fenner, for some time a mathematics teacher at the High school began work in his new position in Springfield this week. Miss Edith Grant, also o fthe High schoo' goes to the same city next week.

Neither vacancy has been filled.

WOLLASTON WOMAN'S CLUB.

The regular meeting of the Wollaston Woman's club was held in the Park and Downs church Tuesday afternoon with the president Mrs Ropes in the chair.

Mrs. Safford announced that by special arrangement Mr. Hubbard will give an extra opera talk the evening of Mar. 13, in Wollaston School hall; the opera to be "Parsifal." This is an unusual opportunity to hear Mr. Hubbard, as his time in Boston for another season is very limited.

There will be a lecture under the auspices of the Civics committee by Dr. Hudson in the Wollaston School hall Friday night to which the public are cordially invited and it is hoped that all who can will take advantage of the opportunity to hear this most remarkable speaker.

Miss Hattie E. Turner thanked those who had sent old linen for the hospital relief work in northern France and asked for two ladies to assist her in making the linen into bandages of proper sizes.

The program was then in the hands of Mrs. Badger, chairman of the Civics committee. Mrs. Follett sang three songs very delightfully. Mrs. Gertrude Breslin Fuller was the speaker of the afternoon, her subject being "What Life Means to Me." She spoke at some length on child labor and humanitarianism. One could not but feel the noble strength of purpose that fills her life and all went home with a clearer idea of what life should mean to us all.

The committee in charge of the dramatics Tuesday afternoon Feb. 16 is to present "The Piper" by Josephine Preston Peabody. The play is an unusual one, full of strength and beauty, a play aglow with dramatic interest. "The Piper" is founded on the famous story, "The Pied Piper of Hamlin." The club has already shown its wealth of dramatic talent and the entire cast of thirty, has been taken from its members. The committee feels confident that an afternoon of pleasure and keen enjoyment is in store for those attending. The play is under the direction of Miss Theodora A. Luard and the music is in charge of Miss Florence G. Olney chairman of the Music committee.

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

Team 3 in the bowling league at Cunningham gym still claims first place. Team 9 has moved up to second with team 4 a close second. The standing of the teams is as follows:

Team	Won	Lost	Total Pinfall
3	33	15	15716
9	30	18	14662
4	29	19	14996
7	28	20	14756
2	25	23	15036
10	23	25	15398
8	23	25	15212
6	21	27	13909
5	14	34	14629
1	14	34	13775

The high individual averages are: Wood 95.5; E. Cummings 93.9; Jobling 93.1; J. F. Reid and C. Smith 91.9 Duggan 91.3; Sim 90.8; D. Reid 90.6; and Gordon 90.3. "Duck" Reid leads the high three string with 308 and his brother "Jack" the high single with 125.

The Cunningham Gym basketball teams will play two teams representing the U. S. S. Brooklyn on the home floor Saturday evening.

At the Belcher School Association meeting to be held Thursday evening Feb. 18 in the school hall, Dr. Harris Kennedy of the school committee will give an illustrated lecture on: "A Month in the Bermudas."

The Wide Awake Club of the First Baptist church will hold a sleigh ride Saturday evening.

The Ladies Aid society of the First Baptist church held its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon in the church vestry with a large attendance.

Couldn't Afford to Wait.

New Maid—Would you mind giving me a recommendation, ma'am?

Mistress—Why, you've only just come!

New Maid—Yes, ma'am, but you may not want to give me one when I'm leaving.—Pittsburgh Press.

SWISS MILITARY SYSTEM.

With No Standing Army Every Citizen Is a Trained Soldier.

The republic of Switzerland furnishes an example in the way of military preparedness well worth study. It has no standing army, and yet every man is a trained soldier and can at any time be called upon to defend his country.

Military training in Switzerland begins at the age of eight years. From the ages of seventeen to forty-nine service is compulsory at the call of the state. All males not incapacitated serve thirteen years in the aufzug, twelve years in the landwehr and six years in the landsturm. From eight years to seventeen the boys receive military instruction in the public schools, and when they enter the aufzug they are prepared for actual training in arms. In the first year of their service they spend from sixty-seven to ninety-two days in camp or maneuvers, depending upon whether they belong to cavalry, infantry, artillery or engineers. In each subsequent year they serve thirteen days.

The total service for the thirteen years is 141 days for infantry, 146 for engineers, 160 for cavalry and 163 for artillery. This makes a total of less than six months for the thirteen years, but the training is that of actual warfare and the product is trained and seasoned soldiers.

This Swiss force can only be called for defense against invasion. For an offensive campaign a new army must be raised by volunteering.—Newark News.

SPAIN'S WOMAN WARRIOR.

The Maid of Saragossa and How She Saved Her City.

The Spaniards have erected a monument to the memory of Angostina Zaragoza, whose bravery during the peninsular war saved her city.

In July, 1808, the French were pressing hard upon Saragossa. The hardest fighting occurred at Portillo gate where the assaulting batteries more than once reached the dilapidated earthworks. The gunners of the Spanish battery were shot down one after another, the survivors falling before they could discharge the last loaded gun.

The infantry flinched, and the French were closing in when a young woman betrothed to a young sergeant of artillery who had just fallen rushed in snatched the lighted match from her dying lover's hand and fired the undischarged twenty-four pounder into the head of the advancing column.

The enemy was thrown back. The citizens with a cheer rushed forward reoccupied the battery and the assault was checked.

Angostina Zaragoza received from her government a commission as sublieutenant of the artillery and a life pension. A few years later she was seen by an English traveler serving with her battery in Andalusia. She wore a blue artillery tunic, on the sleeve of which was a shield of honor.—Washington Star.

How to Know Hemlock.

The occasional reports in the papers of children or animals being poisoned by eating some umbelliferous plant emphasizes the importance of being able to distinguish the dangerous ones. In the case of hemlock itself, the most poisonous of all, this is not difficult. Notice first the dark green, much cut and divided leaves and the peculiar odor which botanists call fetid. But perhaps the most obvious thing and that which most easily distinguishes the hemlock from all other umbelliferous plants is the stem. This is smooth, polished, slightly furrowed and of a green color blotched and spotted with purple. No other member of the order has a stem in the least like it.—London Globe.

His Own Medicine.

A certain barrister named Jones who practiced in Lord Brougham's time was in the habit of commencing the examination of a witness with these words, "Now, sir, I am going to put a question to you, and I don't care which way you answer it."

Brougham, like many others, was growing tired of the monotonous formula, and one morning, meeting Jones near the temple, he addressed him thus: "Now, Jones, I am going to put a question to you, and I don't care which way you answer it. How are you?"—London Express.

But Do They?

Mrs. Bacon—I see it is stated that the average length of life rose from twenty and one-quarter years in the sixteenth century to forty and one-half years in the nineteenth century.

Mr. Bacon—I suppose the latter time was when the women began telling the truth about their ages.—Yonkers Statesman.

Use In Beauty.

Strike out all the beautiful from the world, leave us only the useful—the manifestly useful—and we should lose all elasticity out of our lives, all strength out of our purpose, all energy out of our arms. It is the thousand fold beauty, meeting our eyes at every turn, that saves us.—Charles Force Deems.

At Our Boarding House.

The Star Boarder—What is this thread in the steak? The Waitress—You asked for a steak two inches thick, and we had to sew three regular steaks together, sir.—Philadelphia Ledger.

We color our own landscapes. Objects and circumstances take the hues we give them.

HIGH SCHOOL BURIES WOBURN

Senior Quintette Shows Decided Improvement

The senior and junior basket ball teams of the Quincy High schools scored 41 points apiece in defeating their opponents in the local gym Wednesday afternoon. The seniors allowed Woburn 15 points while the juniors kept the Holbrook first team down to four points.

Quincy's senior team showed remarkable improvement over their play of a month ago. Their work was so much better the visitors were on the defensive most of the time. All that prevented Quincy from rolling up a total of 75 was the poor shooting which cropped in now and then.

Quincy's second team again proved its superiority. Both Morrison and Favreau threw seven goals each from the floor, and the former added three points on fouls. Miles threw the only floor goal for the visitors and the other two points were on free tries.

Whet Brown, Hamlin and Davis were responsible for the Quincy's Points. Hamlin threw seven from all sorts of angles and positions. Bob Davis shot four, all of them clean, snappy netters, and seven fouls, while Browne tossed four, two of them sensational not only on account of their accuracy but because the ball had no sooner touched his hands than he had started it toward the net.

The Woburn quintette put up a strong game in the first few minutes of play, but those few minutes when passed were never recovered. A colored centre although he exhibited a flash in the beginning soon lost his stride. Woburn's forward Mulcahy, played hard but without avail.

Welsford twisted his neck after he had been in the game two minutes but suffered nothing from its effects and Crosscup was forced to leave the floor when he twisted his ankle. Hamlin's nose took the brunt of an elbow blow and collapsed but was only out the allotted time.

QUINCY		WOBURN
Hamlin lf	rb	O'Doherty
Browne rf	lb	Loring
Crosscup c	c	Latham, Wall
	c	Moreland
Beaton lb	rf	Finnegan
Davis rb and c	lf	Mulcahy
Welsford rb

Score, Quincy 41, Woburn 15. Goals from floor, Hamlin 9, Browne 4, Davis 4, Mulcahy 3, O'Doherty Loring. Goals from fouls Davis 7. Mulcahy. Loring. Referee Thompson. Scorer Mansur. Timer, Reardon. Time 15 and 2-10 minute periods.

QUINCY JUNIORS		HOLBROOK
Morrison lf	rb	White
Gilliat rf	lb	Muzzy
Favreau c and rf	c	Miles
Desmond c
Rasmussen rg	lf	Hickey
Prout lg	rf	Witherell

Score, Quincy 2nd 41—Holbrook 4. Goals from floor, Morrison 7, Favreau 7, Prout 2, Desmond 2, Miles. Goals from fouls, Morrison 3. Miles, White. Referee, Thompson. Scorer, Mansur. Timer, Reardon. Time, 15 and 2-10 minute periods.

NOTES ON THE GAME.

Bob Davis, with the weight of Hamlin, would be as good as Talcott, the fast Winthrop boy. Despite his size he is in the game every minute and does his share of rolling the ball through the net.

Quincy High has won six of its nine games, losing only to Wellesley and Revere.

Earl Bates, who scored all of the 24 points for High school against the Fall River Tech school and who is now a student at Thayer Academy, was on the side lines at High school Wednesday. Horton Page sat at his left. Bob followed the play with interest.

Blinker Desmond of West Quincy, who is about to become a basket ball star, is the third of that family to bear that nickname. The indications are that he will be superior to both of his older brothers.

The question has arisen whether Whet Browne is the superior of Welsford, and we are inclined to think that in the long run the latter will have thrown more points but lacks the experience which makes Browne one of the most aggressive players who ever stepped onto the court. Weak in shooting early in the season he is developing into a snap shooter.

Crosscup is more or less of a hard luck player. Illness forced him out of the game during the first half of the schedule and now he is suffering from a bad ankle. On Wednesday he was carried from the floor and after first aid treatment he returned and wanted to get back in the scrimmage. He was not permitted to do so, however.

Welsford disjointed his neck, at least it is so reported, in the game with Wellesley, and Wednesday his vision clouded when he hit a man head first. A full time out and he was back in the harness.

W. R. LOFGREN
Carpenter and Builder
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 398-3
June 9tf

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

FILES DIVORCE LIBEL.

Milton O. Thompson of Boston has filed a divorce libel against his wife Marion F. Thompson of this city in the Norfolk Superior Court, alleging she deserted him at Quincy, June 30, 1910.

The Thompsons were married at Quincy, Jan. 1, 1902, and have lived here since.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Masquerade Costumes For Rent
Children's Costumes in variety
MRS. R. E. WOODWARD
155 Billings Road
Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs
Feb. 3-tf

THOSE WHO HAVE READ IT
SAY
IT'S GREAT
You'll Say The Same When You Read It

THE EXPLOITS OF ELAINE

The Most Sensational Motion Picture Serial Ever Written

START READING IT NOW
THEN SEE THE PLAY AT THE KINCAIDE THEATRE

TWO TEAMS TIED FOR FIRST

Wollaston Tennis Club Holds Matches

WOLLASTON TENNIS CLUB.

	Won	Lost
Capt. Hoxie	39	17
Capt. Monroe	39	17
Capt. Jenner	35	21
Capt. Geddes	33	26
Capt. Estes	20	36
Capt. Baker	20	36
Capt. Litchfield	16	40

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

Capt. Litchfield 3—Capt. Estes 1.
Capt. Monroe 4—Capt. Green 0.
Capt. Jenner 3—Capt. Hoxie 1.
Capt. Geddes 3—Capt. Baker 1.

The Wollaston Tennis Club matches at the Coliseum Wednesday night resulted in the Hoxie and Monroe teams being tied for first place and the Estes and Baker teams tied for fifth place. The pinfall was light, none of the bowlers tripling. The Litchfields surprised the fans by taking three points.

CAPT. HOXIE.

Brigham	85	72	76	233
Fleichner	95	76	105	276
Chase	71	78	91	240
Powers	94	87	76	257
Hoxie	85	91	94	270
	430	404	442	1276

CAPT. JENNER.

Murray	82	96	87	265
Carr	82	83	102	267
W. Baker	81	87	87	255
Barker	83	83	83	249
Jenner	97	97	97	291
	425	446	456	1327

CAPT. ESTES.

Ela	77	69	86	232
Simpson	79	81	90	250
C. B. Davis	96	76	91	263
L. Smith	74	81	89	244
Estes	85	96	78	259
	411	403	434	1248

CAPT. LITCHFIELD.

Holmes	81	75	74	230
Bates	90	80	79	249
Crossley	75	78	69	222
Nickerson	84	84	84	252
Litchfield	90	112	96	298
	420	429	402	1251

CAPT. MONROE.

Brown	91	98	92	281
R. Baker	82	92	80	254
Raymond	80	74	74	228
Pinkham	96	88	89	273
Monroe	91	112	93	296
	440	464	428	1332

CAPT. GREEN.

McLean	90	84	76	250
A. Davis	84	81	77	242
Weld	87	102	87	276
Hiller	67	76	87	230
Green	99	92	95	286
	427	435	422	1284

CAPT. C. BAKER.

Gardner	84	99	74	257
Oldham	98	74	83	255
Redlon	71	71	71	213
Hutton	72	87	93	252
Baker	94	94	94	282
	419	425	415	1259

CAPT. GEDDES.

Albee	76	84	97	257
Emery	94	103	78	275
Seiders	86	69	94	249
W. M. Smith	91	74	80	245
Geddes	80	77	96	253
	427	407	445	1279

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER

CONLIN SHOE REPAIRING

Men's Sewed Taps and Heels	75c
Men's Sewed Taps and Rubber heels	$1.00
Men's Nail Taps and Heels	65c
Men's Heels	20c
Ladies' Taps and Heels Sewed	65c
Ladies Taps and Rubber heels Sewed	85c
Ladies Heels	15c
Rubber Heels	40c and 50c
Skates Sharpened, New Process	15c
$4 Ralston Shoes for	1.50

Hancock and Saville Sts.
Tel. 961-M. Oct. 7-tf

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1595 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS— Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

SPORTING COMMENT

John "Hobie Baker" Anderson, captain of the "Wreck's All Point Dispensers" of City Square brought his combination to the Cunningham rink Wednesday night, expecting to play the Parkway A. C., of that town, which failed to appear, owing to a misunderstanding.

The faculty basket ball team of Quincy High beat the Juniors Tuesday afternoon 71 to 9. Mansur threw 16 baskets, French 10 and five fouls, Thompson five and Paulson and Fuller one apiece. Hamlin got two and Ericson one goal and three fouls for the juniors.

Class games in the High school gym today are expected to be interesting. The seniors play the juniors and the two lower classes are pitted against each other.

Report cards at High school are to be issued Friday. Final examinations for the term were given Tuesday.

TO DUMP ASHES IN OLD QUARRIES

The Board of Health, on the recommendation of Thomas Musgrave, one of its members, has instructed the drivers of ash wagons covering the Norfolk Downs section to dump their collections in both of the abandoned quarries in that section. The ashes collected in the Atlantic end will be used in filling the Vassall street quarry and all collections on the other side will be put into the Apthorp street quarry. It is the belief of the board that the former will be filled within a short time.

FINDS JOB FOR MAN.

Miss Huston Fills Request For Man to Help Mover.

Although Miss Huston, the overseer of the poor, has not as yet got the city employment bureau organized, the fact that such a thing is being considered has prompted a number of people desiring help to apply for men This morning one man telephoned asking for a man to help him move and the demand was immediately supplied.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

GREAT MASS OF PROOF

Reports of 30,000 Cases of Kidney Trouble, Some of them Quincy Cases.

Each year more than 6,000 newspapers of the United States is publishing from weeks to weeks names of people in its particular neighborhood, who have used and recommended Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney backache, weak kidneys, bladder troubles and urinary disorders. This mass of proof includes over 30,000 recommendations. Quincy is no exception. Here is one of the Quincy cases:

Charles J. Somers, barber, 17 Newcomb street, Quincy, says: "I had a lame back and weak kidneys for ten years. Nothing ever relieved me until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They soon restored my kidneys to their proper working order and corrected the other ailments. I publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills after Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chichester S Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

STARVING CREW RESCUED AT SEA

Survivors Tell of Long Battle With Death.

POUNDED BY TERRIFIC SEAS

With Coal and Food Gone, Steamship Wallowed Helplessly Through Succession of Storms Several Hundred Miles Out In Atlantic—Separated From Revenue Cutter In Fog.

No more thrilling tale of the sea and ships has come to New York in many years than that brought in by the battered Italian steamship Angelo Parodi, miraculously saved from going to the port of missing ships after her loss had been reported at Norfolk by the revenue cutter Itasca. The derelict was towed in by the Greek steamer Crios.

Coal gone, food gone to the last ship's biscuit, the steamship wallowed helplessly through a succession of storms several hundred miles out in the Atlantic from the Virginia capes.

Delays Ate Up Coal Supply.

The Angelo Parodi, of 2,488 tons burden, left Baltimore in December, bound for Maddelena, Italy. She filled with cargo there and set out for Norfolk the last week of December. From the minute she cleared Gibraltar she was buffeted by a series of heavy storms, with tremendous winds that slowed down her speed. Captain Benvenuto had to watch his coal supply dwindle daily under the futile assaults of his ship against the driving wind and heavy seas.

On Jan. 19 the last scoopful of coal was heaved onto the fires, and the stokeroom crew began to go through the ship with axes, chopping out fuel from wainscotings, cabin walls and officers' quarters. Tables, chairs and even strips of flooring in the fo'castle went to feed the fireboxes. The ship was reduced to a steel skeleton, with all her bones picked, but still 300 miles of angry water separated the Angelo Parodi from the Capes.

Captain Benvenuto's wireless call for help was heard at the wireless station on Cape Henry, and the revenue cutter Itasca, Captain B. M. Chiswell commanding, put out to rescue the derelict. For seven days the Italian ship drifted at the mercy of wind and currents while the Itasca searched for her. Having no headway, the steamship had to take many of the giant rollers broadside on. The attempts to keep her head on to the wind by a sea anchor were only partially successful.

Food Near and Yet So Far.

Saturday, Jan. 23, the smoke of the doughty little revenue cutter was carried down the storm rack to put life in the hearts of the sailors. But when the Itasca labored up to within hailing distance of the plunging Italian ship the futility of her efforts at rescue began to be apparent. A tremendous sea was driving, and no small boat would have so much as got away from the side of either craft before being swamped.

"Food!" was the cry that Captain Benvenuto megaphoned down the wind to the Itasca. "We are starving!"

On the cutter every effort was made to shoot a line over the Angelo Parodi—if not to rig a breeches buoy, at least strong enough to carry a rigged basket of food. Failure marked each attempt. While food hovered so close the sailors divided the last of the ship's biscuits.

That was Monday, Jan. 25. For ten days prior to that time they had been on quarter rations. After Jan. 18 nothing but hard bread and water had staid them. Some of the men were so weak they could not crawl from their bunks.

During a heavy fog the helpless steamship became separated from the Itasca. Those aboard heard the whistle of the revenue cutter grow more and more dim as Captain Chiswell drew away from them in his blind searching. With no steam in the dead boilers to send an answering call Captain Benvenuto and his men had to sit helpless while the only promise of succor became smothered in the fog.

Greek Ship to Rescue.

From Monday, Jan. 25, until early the following morning the Angelo Parodi drifted alone, starvaton master on the bridge. Then at 3 o'clock on Tuesday morning a lookout reported lights on the starboard bow.

Instantly the captain burned Coston lights from the bridge, and a prayer went up when the red and green eyes in the distant dark told that the strange ship had seen and was coming to aid. When daylight came the stranger was found to be the Crios, Captain Goulandris.

The seas had lessened during the night, and by skillful maneuvering the Greek skipper managed to get a line aboard. Over this towline a jury breeches buoy was rigged, and a little food—not much, for the clumsy makeshift would not stand the strain—was sent over to the Italian vessel in a basket. From time to time during the towing in a sparse supply of food was sent across the towing line, but when anchor was dropped at quarantine the first thing the officers and crew of the Angelo Parodi did was to tumble into boats and row over to the Greek ship for a square meal.

The Italian vessel was taken to the Morse drydock in Erie basin.

TURKISH SOLDIERS.

They Are Always Prepared and Ever Willing to Fight.

The popular western conception of the Turkish army is something in the nature of a wild zouave, marshaled in battalions and fired with a fanatical, homicidal mania. But nowhere in Turkey will you find such a conception realized.

The great majority of Ottoman regulars are singularly plain, unpicturesque, unpretentious soldiery. On their heads they wear either gray bashlyks wound turbanwise, or plain fezzes or "kalpaks" of a yellowish brown color corresponding to their German made uniforms of rough woolen cloth. Their legs are wound in a bulky way with the same material in a Turkish conception of a puttee, and on their feet either short boots or the soft leather moccasin-like shoes of the Balkans give them a comfortable agricultural look.

Singly or in bulk, there is nothing at all smart about them, but they look exceedingly equal to the delivery of the goods. Altogether they appear as well able to fade indistinguishably into the landscape as anything human could. Many of them are Anatolians and some are ruddy faced Kurds from the Caucasus. Others come from the Taurus mountains, back of Konia and Aleppo, swarthy Syrians and Arab types.

Any one of them will fight at the drop of a hat. He would not have to change anything. There is nothing about him to polish or to be kept clean. As he stands he sleeps and eats, drills, marches and goes into battle.—World's Work.

A SMALL WORD.

It Has Only Two Letters, Yet It Is Not Easy to Define.

To define one word in the English language one modern dictionary takes eighteen columns of small type. And this solitary word upon which the dictionary bestows such a wealth of elucidation is one that hardly anybody except a dictionary maker can define at all. The ordinary educated English speaking person's knowledge of it could be expressed in about half a single line.

This fecund word is "of." If you were asked to define it—unless you are a dictionary maker or of an allied trade—probably you would have to reply: "Of? Why, of just means of." You might add defensively, "I always comprehend perfectly what it means when I see or hear it and can use it correctly in speech, so what do I want to define it for anyway?"

But if you were a child your actual mastery of "of" would stand you in no stead whatever. You would be set to digging out and memorizing the things the dictionary had to say about it, or the driest and least informing of them, as, for instance, that in some cases it is such a kind of preposition and in other cases some other kind and that prepositions have such and such properties when they don't have some other, every bit of which you would absolutely and mercifully forget at the first possible moment.—Exchange.

Hardly Worth Mentioning.

As a New Orleans hotel keeper tells the tale a ninety-year-old negro man who was homeless, penniless, infirm and crippled crawled into a hayloft in a strange neighborhood to spend his last hours. The darky who owned the hay saw a suspicious figure slinking into his stable and came with his shotgun to make the intruder a prisoner. Cautiously entering the stable, he detected a rustling in the hay and, aiming his gun in the direction whence the sound came, yelled out:

"I got you! Doggone you, I got you!"

The expiring wanderer raised his head and as he gazed down the gun barrels replied wanly:

"An' a great git you got!"—Saturday Evening Post.

Britain's Greatest Precipice.

The wild fowls of St. Kilda find nesting places that enable them to bid defiance to the sportsman and to the most daring of bird catchers. There is, for example, the precipice called Conagher, the same being far and away the greatest precipice in the British isles, the deepest perpendicular precipice. It rises from the sea level to a clear height of 1,220 feet. Consider that a man might jump from the top of Conagher into the sea without getting a scratch by the way.—London Graphic.

Moon Blunders.

The moon has innocently been the cause of much blundering on the part of authors. Wilkie Collins in some mysterious fashion made it rise on one important occasion in the west. Rider Haggard, in "King Solomon's Mines" contrives an eclipse of the new moon for the benefit of his readers, and Coleridge ingeniously places a star between the horns of the crescent moon as she rises in the east.

Different Forms of Exercise.

"When I was a boy," said Mr. Cumrox, "I walked eight miles to go to school."

"And yet," rejoined his son Clyde, in a tone of gentle reproof, "you blame me for going in so strong for physical culture."—Washington Star.

First Cable Messages.

When the first cable was laid between this country and England in 1866 it cost $100 to send a message of twenty words, no shorter being accepted.

The prosperous cannot vastly form a right idea of misery.—Quintilian.

SHOULD POOL OUR INTERESTS

How to Find Means to Handle Public Problems

ADVICE OF THE PRESIDENT

Farmers Ought to Grow More Grain In Order That World May Be Fed—Favors Change In Anti-Trust Laws For Betterment of Business—Urges Spirit of Self-Sacrifice

Washington, Feb. 4.—Co-operation between business and the government in framing laws for the benefit of the people was urged by President Wilson last night in an address before several hundred representative business men here attending the annual convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. He declared that "we must pool our interests," in order to discover the best means for handling public problems.

The creation in the United States in time of peace of the same kind of united spirit which moves nations during wars was advocated by the president, who remarked that "when peace is as handsome as war, there will be no wars," and "when men engage in the pursuits of peace in the same spirit of self-sacrifice as they engage in war, wars will disappear."

The president predicted that, while there is a shortage of food in the world now, the shortage will be much greater. He pointed out that, under the guidance of the department of agriculture, efforts must be made by farmers in the United States to grow more grain in order that the world may be fed.

Speaking of the foreign trade of the United States, the president asked that business men devise some way of allowing exporters in the United States to combine to secure common selling agencies and to give long time credits in such a way that these co-operative devices may be open to the use of all.

He declared that apparently the anti-trust laws prohibited such combinations now, but that he would favor a change if a method fair to all could be found. He spoke of the work being done by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce in "surveying the world" for the benefit of all business men.

Business men themselves are to blame if intelligent laws affecting them are not framed, the president said. He added that they should come out into the open and use their knowledge of conditions to bring about fair laws to prevent business evils.

The Mexican question was mentioned b Wilson as an example of the difficulty he had in getting accurate information.

"I would prefer that you receive me as if for the time being I were one of your own number," said the president in opening his address, "because the longer I occupy the office I now occupy the more I regret any lines of separation; the more I deplore any feeling that one set of men has one set of interests and another set of men has another set of interests; the more I feel the solardarity of the nation, the impossibility of separating one interest from another without misconceiving it; the necessity that we should all understand one another in order that we may understand ourselves.

"We often speak of a man who cannot find his way in some jungle or some desert as having lost himself. Did you never reflect that that is the only thing he has not lost? He is there. He has lost the rest of the world. He has no fixed point by which to steer.

"He does not know which is north, which is south, which is east, which is west, and if he did know he is so confused that he would not know in which of those directions his goal lay; and, therefore, following his heart, he walks in a great circle from right to left, and comes back to where he started, to himself again.

"To my mind it is a picture of the world. If you have lost other interests, and do not know the relation of your own interests to those other interests, then you do not understand your own interests and have lost yours.

What you want is orientation, relationship to the points of the compass, relationship to the other people in the world; vital connections which have for the time being been severed. And so I am particularly glad to express my admiration for the kind of organization which you have drawn together."

Bursting Main Causes $100,000 Loss

New York, Feb. 4.—The damage done by the bursting of a water main at Forty-second street and Eighth avenue is estimated at $100,000, almost all of which was due to the flooding of cellars.

Greek Heir to Wed Roumanian

Bucharest, Feb. 4.—Princess Elizabeth of Roumania is to become the bride of Crown Prince George of Greece, the marriage to take place in the spring.

Railroads Must Name Shippers

Washington, Feb. 4.—All railroads in the United States must give the names of shippers in all freight bills, the interstate commerce commission ruled.

TRUST SUITS DISMISSED

Government Charged Ship Lines With Restraint of Trade

New York, Feb. 4.—The government's Sherman law suits against the Prince line, the Hamburg-American line, the Lamport and Holt lines and others, charging restraint of trade in connection with freight and passenger steamship business between American ports and Brazil, and against the America Asiatic Steamship company and others, whose steamships ply between New York and Asiatic ports, were dismissed here.

The suits were filed about two years ago. In each case the government charged that for some years the defendants had engaged in an unlawful conspiracy to restrain trade and destroy competition in the United States and specific foreign ports, and to monopolize such trade.

The federal district court was asked by the government to declare each of the combinations illegal and to enjoin certain alleged practices in conducting business.

SLINGSBY'S SON IS HEIR

Long Controversy Over $500,000 Estate In England Is Ended

London, Feb. 4.—The probate court decided that the son of Charles R. Slingsby is the legitimate heir to the $500,000 baronial property of the Slingsby family in Yorkshire. The case has been before the courts for nearly two years.

Charles R. Slingsby, formerly a lieutenant in the British navy and afterwards a resident of San Francisco, is in possession of the property which was devised to his offspring. When he asked the court to confirm the succession, a younger brother protested on the ground that the child was not a legitimate son, but an infant substituted by the lieutenant's wife when her own child died.

Since the case has been on trial evidence has been taken in California and records produced there to prove the child the legitimate son and heir of the Slingsbys.

FATE OF SHIP BILL STILL IN BALANCE

Camden Refers to Stone as Original "Gum Shoe Bill"

Washington, Feb. 4.—Plans of administration Democrats to save the government ship purchase bill went awry in the senate, but champions of the measure have not abandoned hope of success in an effort to recommit the bill with definite instructions for its amendment.

The revolting Democrats flatly refused to accept the concessions of the majority agreed upon in the secret caucus and the majority leaders discovered that they could not muster enough votes for their program to defeat the coalition of Republicans and insurgent Democrats seeking to send the bill to committee without instructions, to be pigeonholed for the session.

Then the party leaders determined to hold off the party vote and agreed in the meantime to castigate the seven members who overturned the shipping bill program.

Senator Stone was selected for this task, and he delivered a long speeech on the floor of the senate, bitterly arraigning the "recreant Democrats who had endeavored to unhorse their party."

Senator Camden of Kentucky, replying to Stone, said:

"I am willing to let my constituents pass upon my record. A denunciation of secrecy comes with ill grace from the senator from Missouri (Stone) who is known the world over as "Gum Shoe Bill."

LAWSON AGAIN TESTIFIES

Women Tell of Horrors Resulting From Colorado Coal Strike

New York, Feb. 4.—John R. Lawson, executive board member of the United Mine Workers of America from the district which includes Colorado, told the federal commission on industrial relations that the reason the Colorado Fuel and Iron company and other operators refused to deal with organized labor was because they realized that the unions would force them to obey the mining laws, which, he said, they had repeatedly violated.

Lawson, who was a witness last week, was recalled to the stand after Mrs. Mary Petrucci and Mrs. Margaret Dominski, the wives of Colorado miners, had told the story of Ludlow and the battle there, as they had seen it.

Mrs. Petrucci's three children were smothered to death in a subterranean chamber where they had hidden when the tent colony had burned.

Protecting Kansas Cattle

Topeka, Feb. 4.—An emergency appropriation of $10,000 was rushed through both houses of the Kansas legislature to finance the fight of the state against the foot and mouth disease in four counties under federal quarantine.

Change In the Meals.

Boarder—Here's a nickel I found in the hash. Landlady—Yes, I put it there. You've been complaining, I understand, about lack of change in your meals.—Boston Transcript.

GERMAN ENVOY IS APPEALED TO

Van Horn Seeks Protection From Extradition

NOT ON CANADIAN SOIL

Denies Previous Statement Alleged to Have Been Made to Police—Faces Life Sentence Should He Be Turned Over to Canadian Authorities—Does Not Appear to Be Worried

Vanceboro, Me., Feb. 4.—Werner Van Horn, who attempted to blow up the railway bridge here, has appealed to Ambassador von Bernstorff. He told the latter that he had not been on Canadian soil, and asked for protection from extradition.

Van Horn gave to the press the following copy of a telegram which was dispatched to the German embassy at Washington:

"I was arrested here for blowing up Canadian end of bridge at Vanceboro between Maine and Canada. I am held here by the attorney general of Maine at the request of Canadian authorities, who are trying to get extradition papers for me from Washington. Please look after my interests in this matter, as I am a German subject and did not put foot on Canadian soil."

The prisoner signed his message "Werner Horn," instead of with the name of Werner van Horn, by which he has been known here.

His statement that he had not been on Canadian soil is in contradiction to earlier statements which he is alleged to have made to the police. According to the latter, he not only exploded the dynamite on the Canadian side, but also received the explosive from a man who met him east of the river.

Dominion authorities are busily engaged in building up a case to support their request for the extradition of Van Horn. If he is extradited, Van Horn faces a sentence of life imprisonment under the Canadian laws.

A large party of secret service officers arrived here from Montreal and at once set to work to discover every known circumstance of the dynamiting.

Their business is to establish that Van Horn deliberately caused damage to a railroad and so committed an offense which is extraditable under the treaty between the United States and Canada. Meantime the question whether Van Horn is a criminal or a political offender is, it is understood, the subject of exchanges between Ottawa and Washington.

Van Horn, still claiming to be an officer of the German army, and appearing to feel secure in his position that he had properly committed an act of war, and so could not be extradited, awaits events with composure. His only regret, so far expressed, is that he succeeded in only slightly damaging the bridge.

No charge has been preferred against him and he is detained only on the authority of Attorney General Pattangall of Maine until an inquiry into the facts of his case can be made.

It was explained that because of the suspicious circumstances he could be held indefinitely unless a writ of habeas corpus on his behalf was obtained. Van Horn has shown no disposition to seek his liberty, but provision has been made to forestall such procedure.

A local trial justice stands ready to issue a warrant for the arrest of the dynamiter on any one of several charges that have been suggested. These include illegal transportation of dynamite and of causing damage in this town, where the windows of some buildings were broken by the shock of the explosion.

The prisoner occupies a room in the immigration station, where he is very comfortable. His meals are sent in from a restaurant. He is willing enough to talk, but adds practically nothing to the statement made when he was arersted.

SENTENCED TO DEATH

Fate of Seven Sikhs Who Made Trouble In Canada and India

Calcutta, Feb. 4.—The judge at Firozpur sentenced to death seven sikhs who had been convicted of killing two police officials at Calcutta in the rioting which followed the arrival of the steamer Komagata Maru at that port from Vancouver.

The Hindus who mutinied at Calcutta were the men who for several months resisted the Canadian government's order of deportation, but who finally were compelled to return from Vancouver to India on the same steamer which brought them out.

Telephone Inquiry Ordered

Boston, Feb. 4.—By a rollcall vote of 112 to 100 the house adopted an order directing an investigation of the rates and service of the New England Telephone and Telegraph company and its relations to the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

Death of Old Indian Fighter

Dresden, Kan., Feb. 4.—Elphalet Johnson, 98, widely known as an indian fighter in the frontier days, died here. He was born in New York.

CLEAN SWEEPS IN CHURCH LEAGUE

CHURCH LEAGUE RESULTS.
Makaria 4—Davis 0 even
Rand 4—O. U. B. 0.
Clarke 4—Pilgrims 0. (Default)

The Rand and Makaria classes made clean sweeps Wednesday night at Wardwells. The Clarkes took four points when the Pilgrims did not appear.

O. U. B.—0.
Sprague	76	66	100	242
French	82	89	69	240
Burrell	94	97	96	287
Hyland	66	77	68	211
Dorley	84	88	86	258
	402	417	419	1238
RAND—4.
S. Cahill	82	100	95	277
Hatfield	80	77	79	236
Machay	76	84	83	243
W. Cahill	94	82	109	285
Rhodes	85	100	106	291
	417	443	472	1332
MAKARIA—4.
Nicoll	94	96	92	282
Tytler	87	89	80	256
Prescott	79	74	89	242
McFarlane	104	113	97	314
Brooks	122	91	92	305
	486	463	450	1399
DAVIS—0.
Hobart	82	81	106	269
Smith	86	76	67	229
Harling	76	93	71	240
Neil	107	78	89	274
Duff	86	101	91	278
	437	429	424	1290

EATON WALDO
CELEBRATED
CLAIRVOYANT and PALMIST

Says no man or woman is born into this world whose work is not born with them. His extraordinary clairvoyant powers, combined with his superior knowledge of occult forces and palmistry, enable him to read life with accuracy from infancy to old age. His powers are wonderful, indisputable; his advice reliable, his information clear, concise and to the point in love, courtship, marriage, sales, wills, journeys, investment, speculation, property, insurance, mortgages, etc.

Without Asking a Question.

Without any previous knowledge, and having no natural means of knowing who you are, whence or for what you came, he tells the truth, good or bad. He tells you names of friends and enemies—who is true and who is false. Tells whom and when you will marry, giving names, dates, facts and location, accepting no fee unless satisfaction is given.

Readings 50c, $1.00. Ladies.
Hours 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. 233 West Newton street, Boston.

Jan. 21-eod

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
Telephone 1153-M Quincy
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES,
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1986 W

MANY BELGIAN FAMILIES SEEK EMPLOYMENT IN THIS COUNTRY

Stories of People Whose Homes Have Been Wrecked In European War.

Hundreds Fled, Fearing That Germans Might Make Them Serve In Kaiser's Army.

EXPERIENCES told by refugees at the Belgian bureau, at 10 Bridge street, New York city, where they have sought assistance in getting work in this country, have thrown many side lights on conditions in Belgium resulting from the war. Nearly 150 refugees have appealed to the bureau and been placed. This work by the bureau, which is a permanent institution maintained on behalf of Belgians in this country, has been in line with its activities before normal emigration was arrested by the war.

The department of refuge relief has been in charge of a supervisor, who, through her knowledge of languages, has been particularly successful in this work, which has meant more than the securing of positions for applicants. A great majority of refugees arrive in this country in great mental stress and depression of spirit and require sympathetic and individual treatment.

The Bureau Bulletin tells the story as follows:

"The Belgian refugee comes to the Belgian bureau helpless, but by no means hopeless, as he has unbroken confidence in his own efficiency and in his American brother's generosity, of which he has already had such substantial proof. We encourage his hope and then put him in a way to realize it. This, however, we could never accomplish were it not for the hearty co-operation of the splendidly big hearted Americans, at whose doors numbers of this crushed and heartbroken people are now timidly—oh, so timidly!—knocking.

Homes and Work.

"The first forlorn little group that presented itself at our doors consisted of father, mother, baby and aunt. The aunt had been in America before and was therefore the spokesman. She spoke in French, but was so nervous that she could hardly articulate. They had fled during the bombardment of Antwerp and had walked every step of the way to the Holland border. Her brother, the father of the little family, was a bright young fellow, who had been a licensed chauffeur in Antwerp and owned his own automobile. He begged for work. He didn't care what kind, but just something to keep the wolf away from the door. We were able to place this family almost immediately, and their gratitude was touching to see.

"The next group was a father, mother, baby and grandfather. Both men were clean, respectable looking fellows, with jaws set, as if prepared for anything. Had the woman with the child in her arms been cast in plaster and exhibited at a museum she could have represented nothing but despair. It would have been unnecessary to consult the catalogue long to find this out. The husband had been a pilot in Belgium, and the wife had taken care of her own little menage, consisting of her husband, child and aged father. This family presented a more difficult problem, as they seemed so loath to be separated; but, after several unsuccessful attempts to secure them a home where they would be all together, we finally had to break to them that there was nothing left for us to do but put the old father in an institution. We then could place the rest with an English friend, who has done much in assisting us to find homes for these poor, unfortunate people. They, of course, consented, but one could see that they were just steeling themselves for one more sacrifice. Happily, however, they were not called upon to make it, as it turned out that the friends to whose hospitality we had appealed for the care of the grandfather, decided, on seeing the rest of the family, to take them all into their employ—the father as useful man, the mother as seamstress and the grandfather as gardener. Another family—father, mother and child of eight years—was placed with people in the country. The daughters of the family had been educated in Belgium and were therefore able to speak to the refugees in French and also in their own Flemish tongue.

Skilled Workers From Cities.

"Thus far the refugees have been mostly from the cities, especially from Antwerp and its environs. Butchers, shoemakers, pharmacists, diamond cutters and chauffeurs have come to us. They, of course, do not expect necessarily to follow their trade here. One of them took a position in Pennsylvania as second butler, and a few days ago we received a letter from him in which he was profuse in his thanks for our help in procuring for him the means of subsistence.

"Many people ask us why so many Belgian men come here when it might seem that they ought to be at the front with the Belgian army. In making out their bureau registration we of course ascertain their military status. Almost invariably we discover that they hold government papers showing their honorable discharge, release or excuse from military service. Quite a number, also, who never were called to the army found it impossible while in Belgium to join the Belgian army on account of the German occupation of that country, and a considerable number of men not liable to their own country for military service have left Belgium in fear of being called upon by the Germans to assist in the operations of the German army.

"To show the adaptability of these people may be cited the case of a Belgian who had worked for several years in Belgium in a tobacco factory. He is now making a success as a baker. The Belgian refugees who have come to us are neat, intelligent, clean minded and serious people, courteous and full of gratitude to the American nation. So far we have nothing but the best of reports from the people who have employed the refugees we have recommended to them, and every mail brings letters written in Flemish or French to tell of considerate treatment from their employers.

Belgian Bureau Permanent.

"The Belgian bureau, the offices of which the Belgian relief fund is using, is a permanent institution whose business it is to look after the Belgians who come to this country. The bureau helped 6,000 Belgians during the past twelve months. If there is any difficulty regarding Belgians at Ellis island the director of the bureau, the Rev. J. F. Stillemans, who is also president of the Belgian Relief fund, goes over or sends one of his assistants. It is remarkable to note the change that comes over the refugee when he catches sight of 'M. l'Abbe.'

"So far we have put 141 refugees in a way to earn their living and in many cases have procured them real friends. Positions taken by the refugees range all the way from window washers to professorships. The great call is for single women as general houseworkers, but of these we have had few. The few single women that have come over have not been domestics; they have been teachers or saleswomen. This class, however, probably will be the next to arrive. At present we are seeking positions for the men. Any kind of work they will do. Many people also ask for farmers, but so far we have had very few."

WANTS IT SPELLED "SERBIA."

London Legation Appeals to British to Substitute B For V.

The Servian legation in London has addressed a letter to the press and public urging the adoption of the spelling "Serbian" and "Serbia" instead of "Servian" and "Servia."

"The latter spelling," says the legation spokesman, "is highly offensive to our people, mainly because it suggests a false derivation from the Latin root meaning 'to serve.' It is a source of hidden pain to Serbians to see that some journals persist in using the corrupt forms."

The same letter requests wider publication and performance of the Servian national hymn.

"In restaurants and public places we hear the British patriotic songs and hymns, together with those of your allies, France, Russia, Belgium and Japan, yet, alas, not that of Serbia, which is really a beautiful piece of music."

Hen Lays 3,000 Eggs.

Miss Elsie Dobbins of Caldwell, N. J., is the owner of a hen which she believes holds the world's championship for industry. The hen is fourteen years old, and recently laid its three thousandth egg. An exact record of every egg has been kept. Old Reliable is the name of the hardworking fowl.

LETTER ON A PLANK.

Strange Devices of Russian Soldiers Short of Writing Paper.

According to the Russkoe Slovo of Petrograd, the lack of writing material at certain parts of the Russian front has led the soldiers to invent many ingenious devices for the purpose of communicating with their relatives at home.

A woman living at Petrograd was surprised to receive a piece of a plank, evidently coming from the trenches. It had been planed, and one side bore her address, while on the other were greetings from her husband, who informed her that he was safe and sound.

A family at Kiev received a piece of linen, seemingly cut off from an old shirt, on which some exciting news was inscribed with a copying pencil. In many villages similar messages have been received from soldiers at the front written on pieces of leather cut from German knapsacks.

Twilight Sleep In Appendicitis.

"Twilight sleep" treatment was successfully administered at Sheridan Park hospital in Chicago in an operation for appendicitis on the Rev. John Albert Johnson, pastor of the American Reformed church. Three injections of scopolamin-morphine were used at intervals of an hour before the operation. The patient felt no pain.

"MADE IN AMERICA."

It Was Our Slogan When Washington Was First Elected.

"Made in America" is not a new slogan by at least a century and a quarter. When messengers of congress were scurrying off to inform George Washington that he had been elected president of the United States and to summon forth John Adams as the first vice president "made in America" was the issue of chief importance.

There was then much more of an organized campaign than is witnessed today. In every large town there was a society to encourage homemade goods.

That was when Philadelphia began to spin its first cotton. The people felt so bitter against England that they refused to wear British fabrics. Beaus drank beer of local brew and were clad in homespuns, while the belles of town learned to run a spinning wheel.

A politicl candidate stood little show of election unless he appeared in American made clothes. Even Washington himself was inaugurated president clad in garments every one of which had been the product of our native land. Admiring friends of Vice President Adams could find no other gift so appropriate as rolls of homemade cloth.

It was America's first notification to Europe that in wearing apparel as well as in government it was able to walk without the aid of a foreign crutch.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Jupiter Warmer Than the Earth.

"The gigantic mass of Jupiter bus a much larger warmth than that of the earth," says a scientific writer. "It is the result of the molecular movement produced by the compression of the strata and must be greater the more powerful the masses and hence the larger the pressure of the strata is. Jupiter surpasses the earth in point of mass 307 times, and for this reason the inner temperature or individual warmth of the planet is probably high enough to evaporate the water upon the surface quickly, so that water vapor forms the principal substance of the atmosphere of Jupiter. Water vapor is an excellent reflector and readily accounts for the bright radiation of light emitted by the planet."

Bible Reading.

Joseph S. Auerbach, author of "The Bible and Modern Life," asserts that "a generation has grown up without the benefit of Bible reading.

"Take away the words of Bible memory and the phrases born of Bible reading and Bible inspiration from Lincoln's Gettysburg address," says Mr. Auerbach, after pointing out the value of this training—"fourscore," "brought forth," "hallow," "perish from the earth," etc.—"and much of the solemn music has died out forever from this inspiring battle hymn of consecration to the republic."

Her Chief Charm.

"I'm very much taken with the young woman you introduced me to the other night."

"She's a very attractive girl."

"It wasn't her looks I was thinking of."

"No? Her music, then?"

"No; her originality. She didn't tell me that I reminded her of some one she knows."—Detroit Free Press.

Logic.

"You little girl is very pretty. Is she the prettiest one you have?"

"Yes, she is the prettiest of my daughters."

"How many have you?"

"This one only. But that doesn't make any difference. If you should have many daughters the one with you is always the prettiest."—Blanco y Negro (Madrid).

Reason For Speed.

Rankin—Brantbrough has bought himself a $5,000 racing car. Pryle—But he couldn't afford one worth half that amount. Rankin—That's why he bought it. He wants something that can go fast enough to keep away from the collectors.—Puck.

Inconsistent.

"What on earth is Eliza fretting so about?"

"About the paper she has to read before the Don't Worry club."—Baltimore American.

WORK OF THE CRUISERS.

Varied Functions of the "Policemen of the Fleet."

The cruiser in time of war has to perform perhaps more varied functions than any other class of warship in the fleet.

It is her business to stop and fight when the circumstances are, from her point of view, favorable and also to possess a high speed to enable her to run away when the position is unfavorable.

The cruiser is admirably termed the policeman of the fleet, for her capacities of mobility and long passage making without replenishing her bunkers are her chief attributes.

Although the introduction of wireless telegraphy has somewhat lessened the responsibility placed upon the cruiser for scouting work, she is still regarded as the "eyes of the fleet."

For the object of scouting work there is a special type of scouting cruiser in existence.

The armored cruiser's advent has almost extended that class of ship to be considered to come within the scope of the battleship. Indeed, in some cases they are so perfectly equipped in aggressive policy as to be deemed competent enough to lie in the battle line with the "capital ships."—London Answers.

MALCOLM GIFFORD

Society Lad Who Was Twice Tried For Murder

Photo by American Press Association.

GIFFORD JURY DISAGREES

Result of Second Trial of Youth Charged With Murder.

Albany, Feb. 4.—For a second second time a jury in the case of Malcolm Gifford, Jr., Hudson society youth, charged with the murder of Frank J. Clute, a chauffeur, has disagreed.

The jury was discharged following its failure to agree during almost twenty-one hours' deliberation.

Within a week the defendant's counsel will move the dismissal of the indictment. The present jury, it is authoritatively stated, stood eleven for acquittal and one for conviction.

Gifford's bail of $25,00 was continued. He will return to the preparatory school he has been attending in Massachusetts. District Attorney Alexander says he is undecided about calling the case for a third trial.

MAGRATH IS NAMED MEDICAL EXAMINER

His Reappointment Had Been Hung Up For a Year

Boston, Feb. 4.—Governor Walsh sent sent to the executive council the reappointment of Dr. G. B. Magrath as medical examiner for Suffolk county.

Magrath's term expired a year ago and he has been serving as a holdover since that time. The new term for which he is reappointed is for a period of seven years, dating from the expiration of his previous term. The income of the position, including fees, is about $5000 a year.

A strenuous fight had been made against Magrath's appointment, headed by Martin Lomasney of Boston. The verdict rendered in the North Grove street morgue robbery case, in which two of three defendants were convicted, entirely freed Magrath from allegations that have been made against him and which have been the cause of Walsh holding up his reappointment.

REPARATION IS MADE

Americans Who Fell Into Hands of Chinese Pirates Get Damages

Pekin, Feb. 4.—The Chinese government has granted damages to the heirs of Bert R. Hicks and to Albert N. Sheldon and Phillip Hofman.

These Americans were teachers in the Chinese college at Chantu, and while on a journey down the Yangtse Kiang were attacked by river pirates. Hicks was killed, Sheldon permanently, and Hofman slightly injured.

Twenty-five thousand dollars goes to the heirs of Hicks, $2000 to Sheldon and $5000 to Hofman. The Chinese government has paid this compensation in order to demonstrate its intention to protect foreigners who accept positions under it and come to China.

Artist Conant Dead

New York, Feb. 4.—Alban J. Conant, 93, poet-artist, whose war picture of "The Smiling Lincoln" made him famous, died here from old age.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Fire destroyed a large cowbarn at Danvers, Mass., owned by Dr. M. L. Chamberlain of Boston, and caused a loss of $12,000.

Charles E. Reed, 79, who served fifty-four years continuously in the employ of C. F. Hovey & Co., Boston, died of heart failure.

William Gibbs was killed by a train at Springfield, Mass.

Emmy Destinn, the dramatic soprano, took out her first citizenship papers at New York. She was born in Prague of Bohemian parents.

George Boutell, 32, committed suicide at North Adams, Mass. Fear of approaching insanity is thought to have been the cause of the deed.

The Gilbert heddle factory, manufacturing parts of weaving machinery, was burned at Leicester, Mass., with a loss of $100,000.

WAR PSYCHOSIS CLAIMING MANY

Horrors of Battlefield Cause of New Insanity.

GENERALLY QUICKLY CURED.

Victims Mostly Prey of Weak Constitutions, Which Make Them Unable Under Certain Acute Conditions to Control Their Feelings—Unnerved by "Mountains of Corpses."

Crossing the Carlsplaza, one of the most picturesque squares in Vienna, I heard plaintive screams behind me. I turned and saw a short distance away one of those war ambulances with the Geneva cross, which have been familiar sights here for months, says Dr. Wolf von Schierbrand, writing from Vienna for the New York Sun.

But this was a strange case. The cries came from a sturdy man in pike gray field uniform, who had forced his body almost through the narrow window of the vehicle. His head was bandaged. He and his fellows in the ambulance had evidently just arrived at the northern station from the front in Poland and were being taken to one of the many reserve hospitals.

Meanwhile the driver and his assistant had entered the ambulance and had pulled the wounded soldier back and calmed him for a moment.

"War psychosis," said a man next to me on the sidewalk.

"War psychosis?" I asked.

"Yes," replied my neighbor. "That's the technical term for it. It's a form of dementia for which the war is responsible, or, rather, to be more exact, the sights and experiences of the battlefield. It is by no means an uncommon thing. If you are interested go out to Steinhof and you'll learn all about it."

Visit to Insane Asylum.

Yesterday I made an excursion to Steinhof and did learn all about it. Steinhof is the model insane asylum erected by this city and the province of Lower Austria at a cost of about $7,000,000. Every American physician visiting Vienna is sure to inspect it.

One of the assistant physicians, Dr. Waldmeyer, was made my guide.

"In most cases the ailment terminates as quickly as it began," said my informant. "As a general thing this mental disease is due to a softness of disposition and to a feeble will unable to throw off the horrible impressions of the battlefield of today. The patient may be in robust health, very strong physically, and all that.

"One of them told me he could not sleep because his mind was constantly dwelling on 'mountains of corpses.' It seems his regiment, after taking one of the Russian trenches, had to literally walk over the torn, bleeding and disfigured bodies lying there.

"This man was a woodcutter, used to hard work. He was in perfect physical condition and naturally rather rough and uncouth. But the scenes in that battle and the storming of those trenches completely unnerved him, made him hysterical and unbalanced his mind for the time. In other cases there is a bias toward paralysis or hallucinations; but, as I said, in most instances the trouble is cured quickly, and the man returns to the front apparently as good as before.

"While in this demented condition, however, it is best to send him home for a rest cure, so to speak. As a rule, the moment he arrives here there is improvement."

A Tyrolese from the Eisack valley, twenty-eight, of more than medium build, had served in a regiment of the Kaiserjaeger and later had been put in a field battery. He was a good shot, like most men of the Tyrol, had pluck enough and became a corporal. He married, took a small farm on the mountain side on annual payments and saved money.

Unnerved by Battle Sights.

When the war broke out Mazi answered the call. The field post was slow and irregular and left him without news from home. His battery took part in a number of battles with the Russians at Krasnik, Komaroff and Lemberg, with Dankl and Von Hindenburg near Warsaw and lastly at Lodz. He became moody and melancholy when he saw all this never ending slaughter. One of his comrades was Tony, with whom as a boy he had gone bird nesting and who was his best friend.

Mazi's battery had been in constant action since early morning. Tony was just bringing new ammunition when a shell burst in the midst of the battery, tore off the captain's head and killed or wounded nearly every one of the men. Tony was one of the victims.

For an instant Mazi was dazed. He, too, was seriously wounded. Then the horror of it all flashed over his simple, plain mind. He ran shrieking out of the emplacement right toward the enemy, but was stopped on the way and was sent home on an ambulance train, traveling for days, his wound being looked after just once, until he finally reached the Steinhof. He was insane at that time. The picture of his friend's death would not vanish from his view waking or sleeping.

But within a fortnight Mazi has been almost completely cured, and within another week he will rejoin his battery or what is left of it.

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Large pleasant room, conveniences, near the center. Private family, 30 Upland road. 1-6t

TO LET—Rooms and board with private family, all conveniences, 3 minutes to Fore River yard. Mrs. Briggs, 68 Howard avenue. Tel. 1333-W. 1-6t

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Four room apartment, new house, all improvements. Apply at 226 Franklin street. 30-tf

TO LET—Nice large furnished rooms, all improvements reasonable. Will give board if preferred. Apply 44 Chestnut street, second floor. 30-6t

TO LET—Three connecting rooms and bath, electric lights, heat and gas range. 178 Washington street, phone Quincy 1732M. 28-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 26 tf

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 286 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $80. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Four room tenement all improvements, range and gas attached, house new. Apply James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street, Quincy or Tel. 599-1. Jan. 18-tf

TO LET—On Russell Park house of seven rooms and bath and large attic, cemented cellar, furnace, gas and coal range, electric lights all modern. Reasonable rent on a lease to right people. Apply to Miss Prescott at Ledger-Patriot Office, Quincy. 4-tf Ipo

FOR RENT—2 houses, one $20 a month, all improvements, and one $12. Apply to G. G. Ellsworth, 117 Adams street, Braintree. Ob 1w L tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 22-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Gratton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

A Few Choice House Lots
—ON—
PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX

are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.

SWITHIN
3 GREENLEAF BLOCK
Jan. 8-tf

LOST

LOST—Co-operative Bank Book No. 2511 has been lost and application has been made for payment of the account in accordance with Section 40 Chapter 590 of the Acts of 1908. Payment has been stopped. The Quincy Co-operative Bank by FRANK A. REED, Treas. 3t Jan. 21-23-Feb. 4

WANTED

WANTED—A Pony or Donkey and team for a few days, state price and where can be seen. Write to Ledger "Donkey." 3-3t

WANTED—Position as companion, attendant, or helper by woman of refinement who has no permanent home and desires to live in Quincy. Could be in attendance daily if preferred. Address for further details I. C., Care of Ledger, Quincy. 3-3t

WANTED—Working housekeeper. Apply 37 Adams street. 30-tf

WANTED—Mrs. C. F. Wrisley, 22 School street, can accommodate a single man, for board and room, with all home comforts and refinement. Seven minutes walk to station, one minute to Fore River cars. Tel. 368-W, Quincy. 26-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Fresh eggs and poultry J. E. Prouty, 57 Edgemere road, Quincy. 2-3t

FOR SALE

In South Quincy two-family house with modern improvements. Convenient to electrics and Quincy Adams Station. Good renting proposition. For further details address, A. W. B. Care of Ledger, Quincy. 15-tflpo.

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

TO LET

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.

Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—18x18 ft.—very low rent.

City Square, Store House or Shop
—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall
—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS

Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block— capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 250—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for E. F. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block. ('Phone 2066) Quincy

FOR SALE

House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,300. Straight Loan of $2,000.

EDMUND G. HAYDEN
Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing
HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.
129 Tremont St., Boston.
Oct. 4-tf

UNITED STATES SHOULD STRIVE TO END WAR

Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead Speaks Before Alliance of First Parish

Praises Sec. Bryan's Thirty Peace Treaties and Approves U. S. Mexican Policy

It is the duty of the United States to take the first step toward bringing about peace in Europe, according to Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead, who spoke on "The European war and American Duty" before the Alliance of the First Parish Wednesday afternoon.

All of the warring nations are eager for peace in her opinion. England desires it because she fears that a crushed Germany and a prostrate France would unite with Russia and become a menace to her very life. The United States should call a conference of the thirty neutral nations in the interests of early peace.

American women, she believed, should work to bring about such action by the government. This is a chief plank on the platform of the newly formed Woman's Peace Party, of which Mrs. Mead is secretary.

The speaker also indicated how she believed permanent peace could be maintained among the nations.

Mrs. Thomas Fenno, the president of the Alliance, introduced Mrs. Mead and expressed her regret that the inclement weather brought such a small audience.

"This awful war will either teach us to end war or if we do not learn that lesson, civilization will decay," declared the speaker in opening. "This is the most critical time in history and when I returned from Europe a short while ago, and saw clubs here carrying out programs made out last July with apparently no realization of the fearful war from which their sisters were suffering, I was astounded."

She then explained briefly why war could come in this civilized age. It did not come because it was wanted. No one wanted it, she declared,—the rulers, people, even the military men of the warring nations. It was possible not because of the decay of Christianity, but because of the preparedness for war. "God's law is that people get what they prepare for," she said.

She paid high tribute to our government for avoiding war with Mexico, through the medium of arbitration. These are a few of the things she said we escaped: 15 years Guerilla warfare, 1600 of our men dead, our political parties divided into two factions, anti, and pro Mexico and the arousing of South American animosity.

With a war involving fifty million dollars a day, setting civilization back 100 years and killing and maiming untold numbers of human beings, we certainly, as a powerful neutral nation, have a great responsibility to tip the scales for or against future wars. Armament has proved a failure as a war preventative. "Preparedness for war means war, preparedness for peace, means peace," Mrs. Mead emphatically declared.

To illustrate, she called attention to the fact that the Canadian border is unguarded and we have had 100 years of peace with England. Had guns and sentinels been stationed along the border we would have had war.

Mrs. Mead gave the specific causes which led up to the "Great War." She outlined the Balkan question and said: "The Balkan war is the primal political cause of this war." She believed that if the nations had had time for second thought there would have been no war. "What could be expected with 24 hours ultimatum?" she asked.

"It is a shameful hysteria among men, newspapers, organizations, business houses etc., to cry, 'preparedness for war.' 'Build ships, increase the army' they excitedly cry. That won't prevent war. The worst thing Great Britain ever did was to build that first dreadnought. Germany and the United States immediately built one, England was not one bit safer, and her people were frightfully taxed. That's all she gained.

"A great peace stride has been made by the United States this last year, in the signing of 30 peace treaties. These treaties call for one year's delay before entering into war. Had European nations possessed such treaties there would be no war today. Instead of that the signing of few diplomats binding one nation to another in case of war, has caused six nations to be forced into a fratricidal war.

"The six nations involved Italy on the verge of war and the United States just escaped from war with Mexico, own nine tenths of the world's armaments, and all eight nations are responsible for the present war. The U. S. is a militarist," she said, "and therefore partly responsible. "We must stop Congress building more ships than ever. Remind our people that we have never been attacked. The first navy of the world (England) is our friend. We are the only nation protected by an ocean on each side. On our north is a friend. Every nation involved is friendly. No nation has anything to gain by attacking us. They can't carry away our wealth—it is intangible. Besides, should they destroy us they would destory their best customer."

"No nation's trade is independent. Trade is an organism and if one nations commerce is hit every other nation suffers. We as neutrals suffer, therefore we have the right to speak. We alone stand free, have no enemies and it is our duty to act.

"Some will say, 'What of Japan?' Poor litle Japan doesn't want war," Mrs. Mead exclaimed, "Not with us with the third greatest navy in the world, and she with the fifth. Our increasing armaments made Japan sore, and caused her to burden herself to add to her navy.

"Poor Europe! Paying an enormous interest now and the war not over. Simply throwing away the patrimony of her grandchildren. God knows who will pay the principal," exclaimed the speaker with feeling.

"And the worst is yet to come. What are we going to do. Not only is Belgium starving, but Dalmatia, Caucasia, and many more are in a pitiable state. What are we to do? First of all, we must think. When the war is over, won't prostrated France, crushed Germany, and Russia unite? Then where is England? It behooves the thirty neutral nations to call a conference in the interest of early peace."

The speaker then told of the recently formed Woman's Peace Party with Miss Jane Addams as president and Mrs. Mead secretary. She read the platform of the party and said she wished Quincy would form a branch. She said there was to be a study conference at 11 Saturday at the Woman's Civic club in Boston and that she would gladly welcome any Quincy women interested in peace.

Mrs. Mead ended her address by exclaiming spiritedly: "Stir up everyone! We women of America can speak; those poor, suffering, sorrowing European sisters cannot. We are the only ones who can speak. If we don't their suffering is upon our heads."

Hot cocoa, fancy crackers, and mints were served after the address Miss Harriet Pierce and Mrs. Osborne Rogers, being the hostesses.

ESCAPING STEAM TERRIFIES FAMILY

The central station combination and ladder sled responded on a still alarm at 7.30 Wednesday evening for what was supposed to be a fire in the house of Henry Wright on Goffe street, owned by Clarence Burgin. The family saw escaping steam in the house causing them to believe that a fire was in progress and a telephone call was sent to the fire station. The auto combination had a hard time in getting to the fire owing to the thick meal-like snow which covered the ground.

FIRE AT BOX 73.

The alarm from Box 73 at 5.20 this morning was for a fire in the basement of the bungalow house on Pray street owned by Dr. E. H. Bushnell and occupied by William Williamson. The fire was caused by an overheated furnace and burned up through the floor into the bath room.

It seems that the night being unusually cold Mrs. Williamson got up at 2 o'clock and put some coal on the furnace and then retired. When she got up a little after 5 o'clock and started down to look at the furnace she was greeted by a volume of smoke. The fire alarm box is located across the street from the house and Williamson went across and sounded it. The department made short work of the fire. Chief Billings says that the loss will not exceed $50.

While the firemen were busy extinguishing the blaze Alex A. McDonald opened his house and made hot coffee for the firemen which they greatly appreciated.

LADIES AUXILIARY MEETS

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Women's Board of Missions of the Wollaston Congregational church met Wednesday with Mrs. A. A. Lincoln at 109 Lincoln avenue. The current events paper was conducted by Mrs. B. H. Bain and was followed by Mrs. E. R. Johnson who read the chapter "The Child in the Midst."

Following this Mrs. Edward A. Chase, wife of a former pastor of the church, gave a talk on her work in Beverly on the foreign mission movement also speaking of the Essex county conference and the work among the Chinese in Beverly. Light refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the hostess.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

BIRD SCRATCHED ITCHING NECK

Mirthful Mutterings at Queen Esther Entertainment

In response to the invitation to attend "House of Mirth" sent out by the Queen Esther Circle of the Wollaston Methodist church for Wednesday evening a large number responded.

The entertainment opened with "Declamation Day at the High Jinks County School." Miss Marjorie Bailey was the teacher. The pupils were dressed up for "speaking day," and had provided themselves with gum for they knew they could chew unmolested for "teacher would not say anything before the company." The speaking progressed with more or less success and hilarity. "Mary's Little Lamb" seemed to be the favorite "piece" and several versions of it were given.

Frank Dunham sang that old 'classic," "Polly Wolly Doodle" not omitting any of the verses. Miss Nettie Crittenden accompanied Mr. Dunham on the piano. "The Bargain Sale" was given by Miss. Marjorie Miller in costume and Mss Marjorie Bailey gave "The Bargain Hunter." She had found a hat, a waist, a skirt, a sash, a husband, a family and a cook for she "took the pick of the lot" and she always "took the best bargain in sight."

A one act sketch called "A Call to Arms" was presented by Hilda Bailey and Frank Dunham. Mr. Dunham's impersonation of the part of the Yankee captain was excellent, while Miss Bailey made a fascinating Southern girl.

Abraham Napoleon Sambo Washington (Raymond Cassidy) danced the "Alabama Jig." He also read a "touching" poem entitled "The Little Bird sat on the cow-shed and scratched his neck." The audience finally heard that "he scratched his neck because it itched."

"Fair but False" was read by Nelson Merrill assisted by Miss Blacklock. Miss Hilda Bailey, Miss Myrtle Starbird and Miss Marjorie Miller were "The Three Young Maids of Lee" but finally became "The Three Old Maids of Lee" where "one was blind and the other couldn't see."

Herbert Merrill read "Tommy and His Gun." Lord Lochinvar was given in three acts. Mr. Dunham was the groom, Miss Blacklock the bride and Herbert Merrill, young Lochinvar.

The entertainment ended with a song by the whole company called "Three Little Kittens."

The evening was generally enjoyed because of the opportunity for a hearty laugh for—

"A little nonsense now and then
Is relished by the best of men."

DOG CASE TO SUPERIOR COURT

Freeman W. Grant against whom a verdict was given recently in a suit of replevin by Mrs. Agnes Philbrick to recover a ruby toy spaniel dog has entered an appeal from the finding of the lower court and will carry the case to the superior court where it will be tried out before a jury.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—baked by experts in a light, well-ventilated building. All grocers.

AUCTION SALE

Unclaimed and Refused Freight.

Auction sale of unclaimed and refused freight to be sold by order of New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad Co., Tuesday March 2nd, 1915, in freight yard of this Company at South Braintree, Mass. at 12.30 P. M. in conformity Chapter 95 of the Revised Laws of Mass., Section 6, for account of whom it may concern.

One lot of 38 poles received in cars ACL 72488—ACL 72870—ACL 73298, consigned to Fore River Ship Building Co., East Braintree, Mass., arriving at East Braintree about Dec. 26th 1913, supposed to have been shipped by Samuel Dawson, Old Grade, Ga. Also lot of 40 poles received in cars ACL 72480—ACL 73447 and 5534 consigned to Fore River Shipbuilding Co. East Braintre, arriving at East Braintree about Jan. 26th, 1914, supposed to have been shipped by Samuel Dawson, Old Grade, Ga.

N. B. All purchasers must be prepared to make deposit at time of sale of at least 25 percent cash. All goods must be paid for and removed within 10 days after sale is completed.

per order G. L. WINLOCK,
Freight Claim Agent,
New York, New Haven and Hartford, R. R.
4-9t
4,5,6,11,12,13,18,19,20

WHAT WEST QUINCY NEEDS

Fowler Chapter Hold Enthusiastic Meeting

That the Fowler Chapter of the Methodist Brotherhood of the Hall Place M. E. church is fully alive was demonstrated at the banquet held by the Chapter in the vestry of the church, Wednesday evening, when about 45 men sat down to the bountiful supper provided and served by the Ladies Aid society.

The menu consisted of turkey, mashed potatoes, turnips, onions, cranberry sauce, rolls, cake, pies and coffee. The tables were set in the form of a letter "T" and were prettily decorated with lighted candles and cut flowers, Miss Edna Miller played selections on the piano during the supper which were appreciated by the audience.

Rev. P. S. Neldon was toastmaster and he first introduced President D H. McNeill who spoke on the subject "Men and the Brotherhood." Mr. McNeill emphasized the point that "old things have passed away" and called for the men to help build up a new church to meet new ideas and spoke about active men being wanted n the Brotherhood to take hold and help make West Quincy a better place to live in. "This is a men's Brotherhood made up of men's prayers; calls men to action, wants men to be manly for the right, offers them a place to get together to talk things over and help up-build not only the moral but also the social condition of West Quincy.

The next speaker was Merton Turner who responded to "What Does West Quincy Most need," Mr. Turner said he believed the church should be advertised by the Brotherhood by sending out to the members of the parish weekly bulletins and in that way keep all the people informed and in touch with coming events.

"A Man's opportunity for making West Quincy a better place in which to live" was responded to by Clarence Trask. He pointed out that it has been wisely said that opportunity knocks at every man's door at least once. I doubt much that there is hardly a door in West Quincy where a knock wouldn't bring some response if it is nothing more than the bark of a dog. It shows there is considerable life here and that is what we want. I am told that a moving picture house and a bank are needed here, first the bank and then the picture house. We have talented men among us that are worthy of mention.

We have a general store where you can buy anything you want to eat or wear, and a depot, an industry, a post office if you can find a box, a schoolhouse full of good teachers, and last but not least, a flourishing church. So much in the way of opportunity. With all of these and a good minister, let us stand as one and voice the praises of our dear old home West Quincy."

A D. Stewart spoke on "Men and the Sunday School."

The last speaker introduced by the toastmaster was Secretary Bromley of the Y. M. C. A. who responded to "What can we men do for West Quincy?" One thing we can do is to boost. Throw away your hammer or give it to the stonecutter, stop knocking and go to boosting. He believed that we had one of the prettiest places in which to live and with that belief we should go to work to make it the best. "Be pushers and not leaners."

The program closed with prayer by Rev. P. S. Neldon and the singing of "America."

At the close of the evenings pleasure a short business session was called and the following officers elected:

President—Mr. D. H. McNeill.

Frst Vice-president—Mr. John Pearce.

2nd Vice-president—Mr. Warren Jordan.

3rd Vice-president—Mr. Edward Newcomb.

4th Vice-president—Mr. Robert Newcomb.

Treasurer—Mr. J. M. Francis.

Secretary—Mr. A. D. Stewart.

Chaplain—Rev. P. S. Neldon.

English Ivy Lodge, Order Daughters of St. George will hold initiation in Clan MacGregor hall Friday evening District Deputy Mrs. Cooley of Boston will make her official visit. Refreshments will be served.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is always in favor because delicious in flavor. Your grocer.

Furniture Storage Warehouse
Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.
Rates $2---$3---$4 per month
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.
Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.-tf

THE COLD WEATHER
is now here and a good hot water bottle will feel mighty good.
We have them for as low a price as 69c and up to $2.25.
Remember always that satisfaction coupled with a moderate price is yours when you trade at
CHAS. C. HEARN, City Square Druggist
Feb. 4-3t

SUPPER AND ENTERTAINMENT

Miss Olivia Privett of the Emerson School of Oratory and Jame Whyte bass soloist of this city, were among those who participated in an entertainment at the Washington street Congregational church vestry Wednesday evening. A supper preceded the program.

Miss Privett contributed three readings, "Romance of a Business Broker" by O. Henry, "The eBar Story" and Matrimonial Experiences." Mr. Whyte rendered "Blow, blow Thou Wntery Wnds." and "My Little Woman." Dr. Pratt was the accompanist

The Baccarolle of Hoffmann was given by Mrs. Arthur P. Foster and Miss Helen Lincoln.

BRIEFS

Mrs. William Warmington and son Henry have returned to Springfield after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Furnald of Newcomb street, parents and grandparents.

The members of the Social and Benevolent society of the Wollaston Baptist Church met in the chapel Wednesday and sewed all day for the Belgians. The session was continued today and considerable was accomplished. The business meeting preceding the session was presided over by Mrs. Ernest B. Neal, president.

Every Move a Picture.

"That movie star spends all his time in bed when he isn't acting."

"Is the work, then, so awfully arduous?"

"No, but he can't bear to stand around in elegant poses that he isn't being paid for."—Pittsburgh Post.

The Only Way.

"I done wore out three foots of a graveyard rabbit in de hopes of good luck comin' my way," said Brother Williams, "an' I des 'bout come ter de conclusion dat de only way ter git dar is ter go ter work fer yo' livin'."—Atlanta Constitution.

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Miss Helen Crane who has been assisting in making out water bills at City Hall has accepted a position in the Board of Trade rooms.

Miss Rose Anderson of Berlin street, Wollaston, returned home Tuesday from the Homoeopathic hospital, Boston, where she recently underwent an operation.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE OBSERVER.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

TO LET—To small family of adults several very desirable new tenements $22 and up, also stable $10 per month; store $10 per month. Apply to C. H. Hardwick, 111Washington street. Tel. 174-2 Quincy.
4-12t

DEATHS

WEBBER—In Quincy Feb. 3, Catherine J. Widow of the late Chief Lewis P. Webber, of the Boston Fire Department.
Funeral from the residence of her daughter Mrs. Edward J. Murphy, 11 Russell Park, Friday Feb. 5, at 9 A. M. Solemn High Mass of Requiem at St. John's church at 10 A. M. Train leaves South Station at 8.34 A. M.

McKEAN—In Braintree Feb. 3, William A. McKean of 63 Ash street, aged 72 years.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

Mark-Down Prices
— ON —
Reliable Footwear

Every odd lot in our stock bears a SPECIAL PRICE FOR QUICK SELLING.

TODAY WE CALL ATTENTION TO CHILDREN'S MISSES' AND GROWING GIRLS' AND LADIES' LACE SHOES.

ALL NEW GOODS — SPECIAL PRICES.

Sizes	Value	Now Priced
2 1-2 to 6	$2.50	$1.98
2 1-2 to 6	2.00	1.69
11 1-2 to 2	1.50	1.19
11 1-2 to 2	1.75	1.39
11 1-2 to 2	2.00	1.59
8 1-2 to 11	1.25	.98
8 1-2 to 11	1.50	1.19
8 1-2 to 11	1.75	1.39
6 to 8	1.25	.89
6 to 8	1.50	1.19

EVERY PAIR BEARS OUR SILK LABEL denoting Standard of Merit.
LOTS OF OTHER BARGAINS AT THE
GRANITE SHOE STORE
Quincy's Shoe Market

Try a Pound of our Coffee

if you want to taste something real delicious. We carry all the advertised brands and feel sure we can suit on quality and price. Buy some today.

La Touraine	35c lb
Quality	32c lb
Stanzalone	25c lb
White House, 1 lb can	35c lb
Seal Brand Chase & Sanborn, can	38c lb
Yuban, the Guest Coffee, can	35c lb
Cafe Des Invalides, can	42c lb
Barrington Hall, steel cut. can	40c lb

ADAMS MARKET
City Square
Phone 1980

FOY'S
2 STORES

WATER STREET
Cor. Quincy
Phone 117

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 31 QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 5, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

ECONOMY TO RULE MAKEUP OF BUDGET

Mayor Campbell Directs City Officials to Prepare Yearly Estimates

ASKS EARLY RETURNS

The mayor has sent a request to all departments of the city to the effect that he is desirous that they should forward to him at the earliest possible moment, their estimate for the coming year so that he may consider the same for insertion in the annual budget. The communication winds up with the admonition "In making up this estimate use every endeavor to keep before you the word 'economy.'"

EXPECT TO START WORK VERY SOON

Construction work on the new contemplated Metropolitan boulevard at Wollaston beach will be started within a short time if the necessary permission can be obtained from the state and Federal governments. The boulevard must pass over Blacks creek where a bridge must be built. The plans for the structure must be approved by the Port Directors and the war department.

An extra effort is being made to have the necessary permission granted and the Massachusetts Senators and Congressmen at present in Washington attending the convention of the National Chamber of Commerce are working for that permission.

ANNUAL DANCING PARTY.

The Franklin Associates, one of the popular clubs connected with the Quincy Social clubs bowling, pool and card league, will entertain its friends at its annual dancing party in Alpha hall next Monday evening. Delegations from clubs of all parts of the South Shore and Brockton have arranged to attend. One of the features will be the exhibition of modern and society dancing by Miss Ethel Vanderstreet of Brockton and Paul Franzi.

The young men's meeting of the Swedish Congregational church will meet in the church parlors on next Tuesday evening.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity.
Saturday unsettled and warmer. Probably local rains.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.53
Sun sets	5.04
Length of day	10.11
Moon sets	12.00
High water, A. M.	3.45
High water, P. M.	4.00
Days increase	1 hr. 5 minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.33 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	36 degrees
Feb. 5, 1914,	40 degrees
Feb. 5, 1913,	32 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—87.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

FUNERAL FOR MRS. WEBBER

Boston Fire Fighters Among Those at Service

The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Webber, widow of the late Chief Webber of the Boston Fire Department, was held this morning from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward J. Murphy 11 Russell park, and among those who attended were members of the Boston and Quincy fire departments, long time friends, relatives and Quincy people.

A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. John's church. Fr. M. J. Owens, pastor was celebrant and Fr. John J. Casey and Fr. Walter A. Quinlan deacon and sub deacon. Fr. John B. Holland of Weymouth was master of ceremonies.

The musical portion of the mass was rendered by the regular choir under the direction of John Mahon, organist. They sang the Gregorian chant with Arthur Holmes, Mrs. Mary Burns King and Miss Eva Rice as the soloists.

Among those present were District Chief Shailow of South Boston, Chief William Cade of Wakefield, Capt. Farren of ladder 13 of Boston, former Chief Patrick Keyes of Boston, H. M. Stite of Boston, Lieut. Charles S. Cosgrove of Engine 37, Boston, formerly driver for the late Chief Webber, before autos were introduced into the department and Chief Faxon Billings of Quincy.

There was a magnificent display of floral tributes from organizations, relatives and friends from different parts of the state. The body was taken to Calvary cemetery for burial. The bearers were Henry McDonald, Henry DeCoste, A. A. Murphy, Daniel Lynch, Thomas J. Dunphy, George B. Gavin.

Mrs. Webber's death on Tuesday followed an illness of several months. Today, had she lived she would have passed the 45th anniversary of her marriage.

Among those who called and viewed the remains were Mrs. Egan, widow of the late Chief Joseph Egan of Boston and active members of the fire department of that city.

DISTRICT COURT.

Thomas A. Burke was sentenced to one month in the house of correction for drunkenness at Quincy.

The cases of Gregoreus Gerga and Mahamed Rehad for a mutual assault were called and the complaints dismissed.

APPOINTS CALL FIREMEN.

Mayor Campbell after consultation with Chief Billings this morning, appointed James J. Sullivan and Matthew W. Burns from the civil service lists to be call firemen. Sullivan will be assigned to the West Quincy station and Burns to the central stations. The vacancies were created by the death of Richard Colbert and the promotion of Edward Lane to the permanent force.

CATHOLIC CLUB MEETS.

A regular business and social session of the Quincy Catholic club was held Thursday evening at the rooms of the Knights of Columbus club in the Savings Bank Building. After a short business session there was a pleasing entertainment which included piano selections by Nellie Hart Reardon, violin solos by Emma May Savoie, and vocal selections by Teresa Wholley. This was followed by the serving of light refreshments. The evening's program was in charge of the entertainment committee.

RE-ELECT CRANE AS COMMODORE

Quincy Yacht Club Holds Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Quincy Yacht club was held Thursday evening in Electa hall. There was a good attendance, showing the members of the club are still enthusiastic over the sport and it will not be many weeks before yacht owners will begin to think about getting their craft into the water. Dr. Frank E.

HENRY S. CRANE
Commodore.

Dawes of the Wanderer, one of the last of the Quincy fleet to be hauled up in the fall, said that he would put his boat overboard at the earliest possible minute.

Commodore Harry S. Crane presided and the meeting was harmonious throughout. The secretary reported the membership of the club at the present time to be 406, having lost five members since the last annual meeting by death.

VICE COMMODORE EMERY

The Treasurer's report showed the total general receipts of the year to have been $5,642.70 and the expenditures $5,618.08 leaving a balance on hand of $6.62.

There was but one matter in the call outside of the election of officers and the annual reports. That was a proposition to amend article three of the by laws so as to provide that the commander and lieutenant commander of the Power Squadron division should be members of the executive committee, ex-officio. This amendment was adopted.

The election of officers resulted in the election of Harry S. Crane as commodore for a third term. Com-

(Continued on Page Three.)

REFUSES TO SAY WHY HE RESIGNED

Chas. H. Johnson Declines To Comment as Does J. W. Pratt

CENSURE PUBLICATION

Charles H. Johnson, whose resignation from the Board of Trade brought about one of the hottest discussions that ever took place at a meeting said this morning he was not open to an interview when asked for the reason, and J. Winthrop Pratt who said "He knew the reason" and then hurled a bomb by criticising the organization this morning said he knew but preferred to say nothing further on the matter.

In the meantime the people of the city are discussing the story of happenings at the meeting as published in the Ledger Thursday and are taking sides for or against former President John Hamilton, who said that "some members should be taken out in the bay and drowned the same as is done with the surplus kittens of the family cat."

This morning several members of the organization discussed the matter with a Ledger reporter and said they believed an injustice was done when the report was published. William H. Teasdale said he hardly approved of the report and regretted a resolution had not passed asking the press to overlook the discussion.

Strong intimations were made that the directors of the organization might take up the matter and probably censure the Ledger for publishing the story, although there was no denial of its truth, and it was hinted that after that was done it was possible that reporters would be barred from the meetings in the future.

The query was then made, how about those reporters who are members and it was remarked they could not well be forbidden entrance to the sacred precincts of the chamber unless they were suspended. A definite statement of that phase of the subject was not forthcoming, however.

MAPLE LODGE HAS INITIATION

Maple lodge, K. L. of H., held an initiation at its meeting in Protection hall, Wednesday evening, and appointed a committee to draw up resolutions on the death of Albert Holmes of Randolph, a long time member, whose death took place Tuesday. The committee appointed was Mrs. Eliza A. Penniman, Miss M. Lizzie Furnald and Mrs. Electa E. Field. The bowling tournament was continued and a collation was served.

The flag of the order designed by the supreme lodge was entwined with the American flag at the front of the hall for the first time. The flag was made by Miss Isabella McBirnie and was presented by her and Miss M Lizzie Furnald.

The flag is red, white and blue, and is of handsome design and workmanship. It is 44 by 32 inches. In the white, upper left hand square are the emblems of the order and in the upper right hand blue square is a large letter, "K," in red. The lower section of blue runs the entire length of the flag and is 16 inches deep. On it in red is the following, "and L. of H." Maple lodge is the third in Massachusetts to secure the flag.

AUTO PARTY.

The Franklin Associates are planning to hold an auto party Thursday evening. They plan to hire Giglio's large service truck and will attend the annual dance of the Claremont Girls which will be held in Canton hall, Brockton.

VOTE $10.

George L. Gill Rebekah Lodge voted $10 to the G. A. R. relief fund at its meeting Thursday night.

NEW ENGINE FOR FIRE TRUCK

Kissel Co. Agree to Install One in Atlantic Apparatus

After several conferences between Mayor Campbell and the Kissel Car Co., the latter company has agreed to place an entirely new engine in the auto chemical apparatus at the Atlantic station. The apparatus itself is all right but the engine has been giving considerable trouble. The matter was first taken up by Acting Mayor Whiton, who turned it over to Mayor Campbell on his assuming office.

Although the original guarantee on the apparatus ran out long ago the Kissel company has generously offered to supply the apparatus with a new engine. This engine is now in transit from the factory in Hartford, Wis., and as soon as it arrives the apparatus will be taken to Boston to have the engine installed. While the apparatus is absent its place will be taken by a horse drawn piece of apparatus.

GENEROUS DRUNK GIVES BOYS HEN

Lads Arrested As They Walk Away With "Loot"

The inability of an inebriated Holbrook man to dispute the story of two 13-year old Boston Syrian boys that he had given them a big fat rooster, a big fat hen, apples and canned goods, brought about their release after they had been held at Quincy police headquarters for several hours, Thursday evening while Chief Crooker of that town made an investigation.

Both were discovered by the chief walking toward Boston with their supposed loot. They said they had met a man in Boston who promised them a variety of things if they brought him home. They gave his name and Chief Crooker sent them to police headquarters while he looked up their story. The chief found the man inebriated and unable to dispute their story. A few hours later he "came too" and confirmed it.

AD DAMNUM TOTALS $25,000

The suits of Miss Mary Burkard and Alois Burkard of West Quincy to recover damages from the N. Y., N. H., & H. R. Co., for personal injuries received April 28, 1913, at the early morning wreck at Keatings bridge, is on trial at the Superior court in Dedham. The former sues for $15,000, and the latter for $10,000 to recover the loss of his daughter's earnings and services and the expenses of medical aid and nursing. Both cases are being tried together.

Gouverneur P. Hance, manager of the St. Barnabas Free Home of McKeesport, Pa., and his secretary R. A. Housman, are the guests of W. H. Hazlitt of 31 Bridge street. Mr. Hance is contemplating the erection of two new buildings and came here to consult Mr. Hazlitt regarding some plaster work.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

TWELVE HUNDRED AT POLICE BALL

Old Fashioned Dances as Well as Modern Ones In Favor With Bluecoats and Guests

Ninth Annual Concert and Ball of Police Relief Asso. Eclipses all Predecessors

Mayor and Mrs. Campbell, Representatives Sandberg and Ericson, with Mrs. Sandberg and Mrs. Ericson, as well as many other well known local dignitaries graced the ninth annual concert and ball of the Quincy Police Relief Association at Music hall Thursday evening. The affair was largely attended, a counting machine recording the fact that over twelve hundred passed through the entrance gate.

CAPTAIN DANIEL R. McKAY

Others noticed in the party were Councilman Charles A. Ross, chairman and Councilman Robert J. Williams, Jr., of the city council committee on police matters, Councilmen Allen R. McDonald, Herbert G. Beeman, James H. Slade, Frederick J. Kessler, Frank Ferguson, Frank F. Prescott, Robert B. Craig, Joseph A. Barry, City Messenger Harry W. Tirrell, Sealer of Weights and Measures James M. Cantfill, Thomas L. A. Musgrave of the Board of Health, Chairman Chas. L. Gilliatt of the Board of Survey, Joseph B. Grossman of the registrars of voters, Chief Faxon Billings of the Fire Department, ex-Chief of Police Walter H. Ripley, John L. Hamilton of the Park Commissioners, Edward J. Fegan, president of the Board of Trade.

Among those prominent in police circles noticed were Wash. James, chief of the Hingham police department and the terror of automobilists, Inspectors John Kilday, Richard O'Day, George Patterson, William Rooney, Harry Pierce, Walter Murphy and Walker Smith of the Boston police department, August Gustaffson the Bertillian expert and others.

Of course there were many members of the association present, in fact every officer off duty, or who was able to secure a reserve officer to cover his beat, laid aside his helmet and uniform of blue and put on the more conventional evening dress. The decorations, which were the same as those used the evening before at the Elks ball, were very much admired and of course added to the effectiveness of the scene.

The reception committee headed by Capt. Daniel R. McKay and Inspector Alfred W. Goodhue, were constant in their duty, and saw to it that the comfort of the guests was well looked after. Others who served on this committee were, Lieut. Mark E. Hanson, Sergt. Ernest H. Bishop, Sergt. John T. Larkin, George A. Cahill and David L. Farrell.

Much regret was expressed on all sides at the illness of Chief Frank E. Burrell, and his inability to be present, and many were the kind words of sympathy sent to him by visiting police officials.

Wilsons orchestra of ten pieces furnished the music for the promenade concert from 8 to 9 o'clock, the numbers including march, "The Republic," overture "Zampa," concert waltz, "Tales of Vienna Woods," duet for flute and horn, "Serenade" selection from the musical play Candy Shop and the finale "Dawn of Freedom"

A few minutes after 9 o'clock Leo J. McMaster, the director of the march gave the announcement, "form for the grand march." The couples were rather slow in forming, however as people appear to be getting over the idea of opening a dancing party with a half hours march about the hall. However, something like fifty couples participated in the march

INSPECTOR GOODHUE

(Continued on Page Three.)

SHORTHAND IN 30 DAYS
WALDO'S BOSTON SHORTHAND SCHOOL
112-25 Old South Bldg.
Day and Evening Terms and Details cheerfully yours. Telephone Main 2427. Call or write us. 5-6t

Public Whist Party
Ladies and Gentlemen
Monday Evening, Feb. 8, 1915
At 8 P. M.
TOWN RIVER YACHT CLUB
Foot of Edison Park
All R. R. Tickets
Admission 25 Cents
Feb 1-6t

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

TO LET
Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

FOR SALE
3 Single Houses, all modern improvements.
Easy Terms.
APPLY
SWITHIN BROS.
GREENLEAF BLDG.
Feb. 3-6t

AN ANNOUNCEMENT
The Wollaston Young People's Religious Union regret to announce that the vaudeville that was to be held Friday, Feb. 5, has been postponed to the last of March or the first of April, owing to the new Parish House not being ready for it.
An Announcement will be made later.
Feb. 3-3t

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

BUILD NOW.

The action of the new owner of the Packard estate on Hancock street in proceeding without delay to erect his building might well serve as an example. "Build Now" is a slogan which, if put into practice, can do much to help relieve the distress of unemployment.

Reports from all over the country indicate that the banks have plenty of money which they are eager to loan on reasonable term. The danger of encountering labor difficulties grows less in proportion as the number of men out of work increase. It is to be hoped that those who intend to build will do so without delay, will take advantage of a really excellent opportunity and at the same time do their part toward relieving the hardships of those out of work.

STEP IN RIGHT DIRECTION.

In Thursday's Ledger was an item about a man who telephoned the overseer of the poor to see if she could find him a man to help him move. The application was filled in a short time. This indicates in a small way the possibilities of a city employment bureau. The Ledger has advocated such an institution several times in this column. It notes with satisfaction that it is the intention of the new overseer to organize a bureau which shall bring the man and his job together. The sooner this is done the better. Quincy has not the problem of unemployment to such a degree as some cities and yet within the limits of the municipality there are many men who, through no fault of their own, are out of work. These men do not want charity, they want employment and it is the duty of the city to help them get it.

SHOWING HIS HAND.

Gen. Francisco Villa, one time cutthroat and bandit but now a self proclaimed deliverer of his fellow countrymen, has shown his hand. His proclammation assuming cotnrol of the government of Mexico and in effect naming himself as provisional president is precisely what every sane observer has expected ever since his early days as a "patriot." No one placed any stock in his assurances that he did not want the presidency and that he should remain loyal to the first chief of the revolution, Carranza.

* *

What will be the policy of President Wilson toward the man in comparison with whom Gen. Huerta was an innocent babe? Will he permit Mexico to work out its destiny, his announced policy, or will he send more troops to Vera Cruz. "Watchful Waiting" will hardly turn the trick. Villa moves too quickly.

SLEIGHING PARTY.

Twenty-five young people of the Atlantic Memorial church enjoyed a sleighing party Wednesday evening. They left the church at 7.45 P. M., riding through Milton to Mattapan, and returned to the church at 10 P. M., where they were served a warm luncheon by Miss Jessie French, Mrs. M. I. Atkins and Miss Ruth Buckley.

You need the Ledger every day.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER

W. R. LOFGREN
Carpenter and Builder
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 398-3
June 9-tf

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

Editor Daily Ledger:

I read with interest your article two weeks ago concerning the old Field & Wild quarry; and I read with amazement your prediction that it might never be worked again.

Knowing the excellent quality of the stock produced by the quarry in question and the great demand existing for that stock, and knowing also that the stock is still there in abundance, I feel quite sure that the quarry will be operated successfully again. There is no reason why it shouldn't.

John Q. A. Field.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A surprise party was tendered Harry Pitts, Tuesday evening, at his home 23 River street, Atlantic. His friends presented him with cuff-links, the presentation being made by Joseph Chaisson. May Stevens, Selma Suket, Ella Pitts, George Sheehan and James Chaisson contributed to the entertainment. Buffet luncheon was served. Among those present were: May Stevens, Selma Suket, Sophie Chaisson, Gertrude Kemp, Edwina Pitts, Minnie Travers, Ella Pitts, Minnie Gillis, Ruth Pierce, Eliza Pitts, Gertrude Clifford, Margaret Pierce, John McCormack, John Murphy, Ambrose Duggan, George Sheehan, Emerson Spinney, Timothy Downey, Charles Travers, Michael Meehan, James Chaisson, Otto Price, John Kelleher, Elma Slate, William Pitts, Joseph Chaisson, Frank Pitts and James Lally. The committee in charge was Misses Sophie Chaisson and Gertrude Kemp.

A YEAR OF GROWTH.

Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company Continues to Increase.

While all of the life insurance companies operating under Massachusetts laws have made strides during the past year the latter part of which was fraught with so much unrest in industrial circles, none has achieved more relative success than has the Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company, a legal reserve company organized under the rigid laws of the commonwealth and directed from its own handsome Home Office on Kilby Street, Boston.

"We grow" is the slogan of this company and the steady, uniform growth attained by it during the past decade would seem to justify its motto. The company, which makes a specialty of all modern forms of life insurance policies, industrial, intermediate and ordinary, has made notable gains in all departments—premium receipts, reserves, admitted assets, insurance in force and also in surplus which is for the additional protection of policyholders over and above the reserve required to be set aside by law.

The Boston Mutual is managed by seasoned underwriters, its president, H. O. Edgerton, having attained from the agency ranks the highest office in its gift. Behind him is a Board of Directors comprising some of the most honored names in New England. It is directed by Massachusetts men whose ambition is to maintain the reputation of the company not only for steady growth but as an institution which stands for the square deal in all its relations.

ONLY ONE "Bromo Quinine," that is Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove on box. 25c.

BUSINESS FAILURES

80 per cent of them in the United States are those firms which do not advertise.

The longer you delay advertising your business the slimmer grow your chances of having a business to advertise.

Why not start a consistent and persistent advertising campaign now in

THE DAILY LEDGER
A GOOD TEA TABLE PAPER
READ IN THE HOME

GERMANY WARNS WHOLE WORLD

Waters Around Great Britain and Ireland a War Zone

GOES INTO EFFECT FEB. 18

Neutral Ships Will Be Endangered In View of Hazards of Naval Warfare —Force of Twelve Thousand Turks Repulsed In Attempt to Invade British Territory—Desperate Fighting In Poland, Where Russians Are Satisfied to Hold Positions—Allies Reported to Have Won Important Advantages In Flanders

London, Feb. 5.—The German admiralty has issued the following communication:

"The waters around Great Britain and Ireland, including the whole English channel, are declared a war zone from and after Feb. 18, 1915.

"Every enemy merchant ship found in this war zone will be destroyed, even if it is impossible to avert dangers which threaten the crew and passengers.

"Also, neutral ships in the war zone are in danger, as in consequence of the misuse of neutral flags ordered by the British government on Jan. 31 and in view of the hazards of naval warfare, it cannot always be avoided that attacks meant for enemy ships endanger neutral ships.

"Shipping northward, around the Shetland islands, in the eastern basin of the North sea, and in a strip of at least thirty nautical miles in breadth along the Dutch coast is endangered in the same way."

That this portends a vigorous campaign by German submarines, not only against hostile war vessels but against merchantmen, is plainly read between the lines of the communication.

Retaliation for the virtual embargo established by Great Britain on the carrying of foodstuffs into Germany is apparently to take the form of reprisals on shipping. And the broad hint that even neutral ships are not safe is taken to mean that the German policy will be to launch its torpedoes first and make inquiries afterward.

British authorities on international law say this communication is tantamount to an act of hostility to neutral nations. Such a decree, it is pointed out, gives notice to shipping of neutral nations that if it goes into a certain portion of the high seas it takes its chances on being blown up. An inconvenience to neutral vessels, it is said, can readily be considered an act of hostility.

Turks Attack Suez Canal

The Turks at last have made a definite attack on the Suez canal, but after a sharp fight they were driven off with heavy losses.

After a fruitless attempt made to bridge the canal near Toussoum, they returned to the attack with a force estimated at 12,000 strong and six battalions of artillery and assayed to get across the waterway on rafts.

The British force, however, was waiting and the invaders were forced back, leaving about 300 prisoners in the hands of the defenders. A considerable number of the Turks were killed and wounded. The British lost fifteen killed and fifty-eight wounded.

The attack also was renewed by the Turks at El Kantara, but this met with no greater success than the other attempt, the Turkish casualties, in killed, wounded and prisoners, numbering upward of 100.

The New Zealand contingent, and presumably the Australians, took part in the battles, the New Zealanders having two casualties.

Fierce Conflict In Poland

The effort of Field Marshal von Hindenberg to stop the advance of the Russians in East Prussia and the Carpathians by compelling them to reinforce their centre west of Warsaw, has culminated in a desperate attack. Regiment after regiment, supported by great masses of artillery, has been flung against the Russian lines, and both sides claim to have inflicted heavy losses on their opponents, and each reports progress.

It is apparent, however, that while the Germans are making every effort to get near Warsaw, the Russians, for the present, are satisfied to hold their positions and inflict as heavy losses on their adversaries as possible.

Near Bolimow the fighting has been fierce and continuous for weeks, and the Russians claim to have taken one of the villages for which the armies have been contending.

Meanwhile, the Germans have sent strong reinforcements south to check the advance of the Russians, who are reported to be south of the main range of the Carpathians, and are thus again overlooking the plains of Hungary.

Gains by the Allies

The allies won important advantages in Flanders and northern France, and defeated a German attack in Alsace. The report issued by the French war office indicates that the allies have not merely checked German effort in the all important region between the La Bassee canal and the Aisne river, but have retained the offensive and have delivered heavy blows against the German line.

From the French point of view, the most satisfactory success was in the desperately contested region just west of the city of Lille. Having maintained their occupation of Lille for many weeks, the Germans developed offensive thrusts in the last two weeks that put the allied lines under a great strain.

Thursday, however, the allied troops made a violent attack on the German positions, and at the end of a hard fought battle, in which both sides resorted to the bayonet, the allies had captured about 300 yards of trenches.

The French artillery again proved its superiority in the Aisne country. For months the German infantry occupying the heights north of the river have been held at a distance by the destructive fire of the French cannon. Thursday the French guns found the range of the German batteries which were being operated at several places along the Aisne, silenced the batteries, destroyed ammunition caissons, forced trench diggers to flee and drove off German aviators who were on reconnaissance duty.

A dispatch from Hamburg says Emperor William arrived at Wilhelmshaven and inspected the German submarine U-21.

BRITAINS FOOD PROBLEM

Large Cities Consider the Question of Government Control

In view of the increased cost of food, members of the corporations of Glasgow, Liverpool and other cities in the United Kingdom proposed at a meeting in London the passage of resolutions for the framing of a petition to the government in favor of government control of foodstuffs and coal and the shipping services.

While the resolution was defeated, those present at the meeting expressed strong views that immediate action by the government was necessary, as wheat, flour and coal are daily increasing in price.

GENERAL FOOD SEIZURES

Not Contemplated by Britain, According to London Times

Referring to the statement in American papers that the British government has decided that foodstuffs consigned to Germany shall be considered contraband, the London Times says:

"We understand no British decision on the general principle of treating foodstuffs as contraband has been communicated as yet to the United States government. The decision published in the American press appears to refer to the specific case of the Wilhelmina."

REPORTED BREAKING UP

Japanese Cruiser Wrecked Off Coast of Lower California

Washington, Feb. 5.—The Japanese cruiser Asama, carrying 500 men, has been wrecked and is breaking up off the western coast of Lower California, according to advices to the navy department. The dispatch did not state whether the crew had been rescued.

Rear Admiral Howard, commanding the American fleet in the Pacific, who reported the wreck in a brief message from his flagship, was ordered to send whatever aid was available.

Howard said the Asama was about 350 miles south of Port San Bartolme, but inquiries for further details regarding her had brought no response.

The Asama, an armored cruiser of 9750 tons, was built in 1898. For several months she has been patrolling the eastern Pacific. Early in the war she forced the German gunboat Geier to intern at Honolulu, by taking up a position outside the harbor there while the Geier was in port for provisions.

"WARDROBE" ONLY ASSET

But It Turns Out to Be Whole Stock of Bankrupt's Store

Chicago, Feb. 5.—That Israel Sandock was a remarkable dresser was justified from his petition in bankruptcy, filed in the federal court. He scheduled his personal wardrobe as his only asset.

The list included 57 suits of clothes, 175 fancy waistcoats, 132 pairs of trousers, 30 extra coats and waistcoats, 79 overcoats, 27 evening suits, 30 Tuxedo coats, 19 frockcoats, 14 raincoats, 133 hats, 74 caps, 97 pairs of socks, 75 suits of underclothing, 110 shirts and 50 dozen collars.

Sandock's address was 34 West Harrison street, and thither the court sent an investigator.

The latter came back with the news that Sandock was in the clothing business, and had scheduled his whole stock as his personal wardrobe.

NO WORD OF STEFANSSON

NorthWest Mounted Police Have No Tidings of Explorer

Dawson, Y. T., Feb. 5.—No word concerning Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the Arctic explorer, was contained in the budget of mail brought from Fort MacPherson by northwest mounted police who arrived from the Arctic coast.

Letters dated as late as Dec. 11 said no tidings had been received from Stefansson, who set out from Herschel island a year ago for Banks Island.

Boston Man Strangely Missing

Boston, Feb. 5.—Henry C. Coe, Jr., local representative of the Standard Oil company, left his home last Saturday morning to go to his business and has not been seen since, nor has any word about him been received. Police and detectives are working on the case.

WE GROW
Boston Mutual Life Insurance Co.
BOSTON, MASS.
A Massachusetts Company
True to Massachusetts Ideals
GROWTH FOR 1914
Of Insurance in Force
Of Number of Policyholders
Of Premium Income
Of Reserve for Policyholders
Of Earned Surplus for Policyholders
Of Dividends Paid Policyholders
GROWTH EVERYWHERE!
Ample Surplus. Economical Management
ON THE MINUTE WITH THE BEST IN LIFE INSURANCE
H. O. EDGERTON, President. E. C. MANSFIELD, Secretary. ROBERT KING, Supt. of Agencies.

SCISSORS AND PASTE

NOT WHOLLY UNREASONABLE.

Mr. Taft thinks a good way to reckon the probation period for the Filipinos is to estimate the time it will take them "to become an English-speaking people," which, he goes on to say, will probably require two generations, reckoning a generation as thirty years. As there have been some pretty good specimens of self-governing people that have not been English-speaking it may be thought that what Mr. Taft was really thinking about was the possession of a single common language, whether English or not. But even this does not help much, for it happens that much the oldest, and probably the most successful, of all existing experiments in self government is to be found in Switzerland, which is a trilingual country. So one fails back, perforce, upon the hypothesis that in making the English language the test qualification, the ex-President was unconsciously, no doubt—putting the cart before the horse. Two generations, or sixty years, was a good comfortable period which, upon general principles, Mr. Taft thought would be about the right figure; and if you have to name something more specific than your own personal notion of what is right, the English test is perhaps as good as anything else for the purpose.—New York Post.

FEDERAL EMPLOYMENT OFFICE.

Prompt establishment of a national employment bureau, working through the post offices and immigration bureau, and headed and directed by the Department of Labor, is one immediate fruit of the impetus given this idea by the President in his Indianapolis speech, says the Boston Record This is good. It is a practical effort to liquefy labor—to adjust the demand and supply of labor, and to meet conditions and fluctuating circumstances. When the Department of Labor was established this point was given importance, but considerable time has elapsed before the practical effort of application has been essayed. Press of circumstances, widespread unemployment, and discussion of this condition, have united to force the situation—Jamaica Plain News.

SILLY LEGISLATION.

It was hoped that this year the Massachusetts Legislature would not be burdened with bills proposing laws that cannot be enforced, but that wish is to be disappointed. Somebody has filed a bill which makes it an offense punishable by fine for any person to run, push or unreasonably interfere with others in railway or railroad stations. All will agree that pushing and jamming that is witnessed every day in the subways is annoying, and sometimes dangerous, but the proposed bill does not offer a perfect remedy. It could not be enforced, for nobody would try. Those who think it might should read it, and when they reach the word "unreasonably" they will have to admit that it would be no easy task to make out a case. A law against the use of long hatpins is on the statute book. It is not yet two years old, but who pays any attention to it? Was there ever anybody prosecuted for a violation of it? Every session of the Legislature sees some example of silly legislation, which takes up time that should be devoted to something really worth while. Perhaps some succeeding Legislature will be rid of this glaring folly, for there is a proposition before the present body for the appointment of an official whose duty it will be to cut off all such nonsense before it can reach the point of using up the time of committees that should be better employed.—Lynn Item.

A NEWSPAPER DICTIONARY

Burley Negro—Any colored man arrested.

Engineer—The man who gets blamed for a railroad accident. (See probe.)

Gentleman Burglar—A thief with a collar. (See Raffles.)

Joy Ride—What precedes an automobile accident. (See broker.)

Loot—Goods found in a flat in Harlem.

Millionaire—A man who owns his own home. (See divorce.)

Plot—Something that is thwarted. (See foil.)

Pretty Girl—Any female.

Scanty Attire—What people escape from burning buildings in.

Sleuth—A detective in the headline.

Society Leader—A woman who returns from Europe.

Twenty-four Hours—The period in which the police expect to catch the murderer.—Puck.

U. S. NOT U. S. A.

Do you know what is the proper abbreviation of the United States. It is U. S. It is not U. S. A. There is widespread and apparently utter ignorance of this fact.

The initials U. S. A. is the official accepted abbreviation for United States Army and does not under any possible conditions, ever mean United States of America.

At this time, when so many manufacturers in this country are branding their goods as made in the United States, this is important. The brand U. S. A. upon anything means that it was manufactured in the United States Army. "Made in U. S." is the brand which should be put upon all goods manufactured in this country.—Knickerbocker Press.

EDWARD J. FECAN
Counsellor at Law
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 418-4. Haymarket 2440
Oct. 4tf

GLENROSE GIRLS MEET.

The Glenrose Girls held their regular meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mis Rose Cormack on Bunker Hill avenue. The first part of the evening was given over to the regular sewing circle. After the sewing a social hour followed in which games of all kinds were enjoyed. Miss Cormack rendered several solos and was accompanied at the piano by Miss Elizabeth Williams. Refreshments were served after which dancing was in order until midnight. The party closed by al singing the latest songs of the day.

PRATT'S BREAD is wholesome, nutritious, crisp and delicious. Get it of your grocer.

Masquerade Costumes For Rent
Children's Costumes in variety
MRS. R. E. WOODWARD
155 Billings Road
Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs
Feb. 3-tf

SELF FILLING — Crocker — NON SPILLING
INK-TITE FOUNTAIN PEN
For a Short Time Only
WE'LL PAY YOU $1.00
FOR YOUR OLD FOUNTAIN PEN
Provided You Buy a Crocker INK-TITE Fountain Pen
(Only one Pen taken in exchange for each new pen purchased.)
Exchange Your Old Pen Now
DON'T WAIT
Every Crocker Ink-Tite Pen is guaranteed to be a FAR BETTER PEN than you have ever known.
QUINCY
ARTHUR L. McGILVRAY, Druggist
WOLLASTON
G. C. SHUNK, Newsdealer & Stationer
Jan. 18-tf-eod

Build Now! Plan Now!
To the prospective home builders of Quincy that Quincy may share in the general betterments that will accrue to every one who takes advantage of the Build Now opportunities we propose the following inducement which we are sure the material men and all labor will generously follow. For a limited time we will blueprint any of our plans of flats at a reduction from the regular price. We will also estimate all building work at Build Now prices and can save you some money if you'd dare take a chance.
How many Real Boosters in Quincy?
J. W. PRATT Architect and Builder
18 FAXON AVE, from City Sq. Tel 581-W

TWELVE HUNDRED

(Continued from Page One.)

which was very prettily executed.

The march was led by President Patrick A. Milford, the marshal, and Mrs. Milford, and immediately following them were Mayor and Mrs. Campbell, Capt. and Mrs. McKay, Inspector and Mrs. Goodhue, Sergt. Larkin and Miss Ruth Tilton, Representative and Mrs. Sandberg, Representative and Mrs. Ericson, Councilman and Mrs. Ross.

The march was a short one and closed with a circle. The program of twenty numbers was then begun and continued until 2 o'clock save for a brief intermission at midnight. While there were a number of the more modern dances on the program there was a good sprinkling of the square dances, and it was noticed that merrymakers entered into these with an old time spirit of pleasure. All of the numbers on the program were dedicated to some person, or subject.

One of the attractive features of the march was the annual appearance of Master Herbert Farnham, dressed as a sergeant, who passed the dance programs.

From 10.30 until 1 o'clock Seiler served a buffet lunch in the annex.

The committees in charge were as follows:—

Committee of Arrangements—Patrick A. Milford, chairman; Henry F. Corbett, Secretary; Sergt. Ernest H. Bishop, Treasurer and members

Reception Committee — Captain D. R. McKay, Lieut. M. E. Hanson, George A. Cahill, Inspector A. W. Goodhue, Sergt. E. H. Bishop, Sergt. John T. Larkin, David L. Farrell.

Officers of the Police Relief Association—Patrick A. Milford, President; John P. Duffy, Vice President; Henry F. Corbett, Secretary; Jeremiah Hinchon, Treasurer.

Finance Committee—George A. Cahill, David L. Farrell, John J. Duane.

Trustees—Inspector A. W. Goodhue, Sergt. E. H. Bishop, Edward Johnson.

Visiting Committee—Jeremiah Dinneen, Michael Donovan, Daniel H. Doran.

Marshal—Patrick A. Milford.

Floor Director—John J. Avery.

Ass't. Floor Directors—Chief Frank E. Burrell, Jeremiah Hinchon, Henry F. Corbett, Henry Riley.

Aids—Edward J. Curtin, Claes A. Broberg, Edward Johnson, Michael Donovan, Henry W. Thorne, Thomas A. Malone, Daniel J. Ford, Alexander T. Black, John J. Duane, James H. Whelan, James McNamara, Frank Canavan, Daniel H. Doran, Charles T. Crooker, Charles Olson, Daniel M. Shea, George F. Phillips.

RETURNS FROM NEW YORK.

Konstant Tikkanen of the Willard Granite and Polishing Company returned home from a business trip through New York state. He reports that business is very quiet and that weather conditions are given by the wholesalers as the reason for the same.

Conscientious.

Dodson and his friend Jones stood conversing on the corner. Dodson looked up, clutched his companion by the arm and whispered, "Hurry, Jim!" Around the corner they went and made off up the street. Then Jones called Dodson to account. "Creditor of mine," answered Dodson. "It isn't like you to dodge creditors," said Jones. "Are you up against it?" "Well," was the reply. "I have enough in my pocket to pay him, and if he caught me I might do it. Now let's go and spend some of this money so I can give him an honest excuse if we should happen to see him again."—Argonaut.

Worth the Risk.

"Botts was run over by a handsome limousine yesterday."

"Hurt much?"

"No. A stunning girl who was in the car made the chauffeur pick Botts up, and she held his head in her lap all the way to the hospital."

"Think of a thing like that happening to Botts, who has no soul!"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Suspicious Nature.

"So you don't care for poetry?"

"I admire it," replied Miss Cayenne. "But I can't help thinking that it's dangerous to attach much importance to language that is selected because the words rhyme instead of for the purpose of communicating facts."—Washington Star.

George's Reward.

Mrs. Borem Wright—Gracie, why isn't your brother George at our party too? Gracie—George's been a good boy all week, and mamma said he needn't come.—Philadelphia Bulletin

Poor Return.

"Did you get any return from your investment?"

"Yes; the bank returned the company's check marked no funds."—Buffalo Express.

Better a living beggar than a buried emperor.—La Fontaine.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The first rehearsal for the annual play which is to be given in Music hall, April 7th, was held in the Association hall, Thursday evening A meeting of the committee planning for the play was also held and much of the detail work mapped out.

This evening at 6.15 the regular monthly senior membership "feed" will be served. There will be good singing and speaking and a royal good time is promised for all who attend.

The committee on Social clubs in the Boys' Division held a meeting in the Boys' Rooms Thursday evening and planned for the organization of four clubs among the younger boys. The Employed Boys are already organized under the name of Employed Boys' Gym club. They will meet Sunday afternoon at three P. M.

The usual sessions of the Bible classes in the Boys Division will be held this afternoon and Sunday afternoon at 3 P. M. The Sunday class is proving of much interest to the boys.

The basket-ball teams of the Y. M. C. A. will play away from home this week. but games have been arranged between the Makaria 1st and 2nd teams with outside teams to be played on our floor Saturday evening. Our second team has a record of twelve straight wins this season so far having won all their games.

The meeting for boys at nine o'clock Saturday morning will be of special interest as Irving T. Gumb is to be the speaker. Mr. Gumb will be remembered by many as the assistant boys' work secretary under Lester H. Clee and later as boys work secretary Many boys will remember him as camp director of the Braintree camp last summer and it is expected that many of his old-time friends will turn out to greet him, including the older fellows as well as the boys.

A membership campaign is being conducted in the Boys' Division during this month and many new boys it is hoped will become interested in the work they are doing. A cordial invitation is extended to any boy in Quincy to come in and look around.

RE-ELECT CRANE

(Continued from Page One.)

modore Crane was willing to give up the reins of office but so successful has the club been during the past two years, that he was pursuaded to take office for another year.

The complete list of officers elected was as follows:

Commodore, Harry S. Crane.
Vice Commodore, Edgar W. Emery.
Rear Commodore, Charles W. Laing
Secretary, John O. Hall.
Treasurer, George S. Morse.
Measurer, Ralph E. Winslow.
Executive Committee, Frank Fessenden Crane, Herbert W. Robbins, Eugene R. Stone, Ira M. Whittemore.
House Committee, F. W. Easterbrook, Walter E. Elcock, A. W. Finlay, Frank O. Fellows, William H. Huy, Fred J. Pierson, Harry E. Winslow.

In accepting the office Commodore Crane thanked the members for the confidence reposed in him and asked that they continue to give him the same support which they had in previous years.

The Commodore then appointed Dr. Fred E. Jones as fleet surgeon, ex-Commodore Herbert W. Robbins and Joshua P. Holbrook as delegates to the Yacht Racing Union.

Secretary John O. Hall, George S. Morse, William H. Huy and E. M. Wright were appointed as the board of judges.

SPEAKS ON CRIME DETECTION.

William E. Hingston Entertains Samoset Club.

At an interesting smoker held in its club rooms at Wollaston by the Samoset club, Thursday evening, William E. Hingston of Wollaston, the noted handwriting expert told of the part his profession played in crime detection.

The talk included many stories and personel anecdotes that added much to the lecture. Winslow Weston was elected secretary to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Raymond Hall, Norton H. Nickerson was elected assistant treasurer.

POSTPONE MEETING.

The meeting of the Chickatawbut Social Club which was to have been held this evening at the home of Kimball Roberts of Crescent street has been postponed for one week.

—More than nine million young trees and ten thousand pounds of seed were planted on the national forests in 1914.

—The government built more than two thousand miles of trail and three thousand miles of telephone line on the national forests in 1914.

News of Interest to Granite Manufacturers and Workers

The activities in the granite industry have been brought to a standstill by the storm of the first of the week. The sheds which have been idle all along and were just beginning to show signs of life are now closed up again. If a thaw does not come before Monday it is doubtful if they will open on that day as the present conditions make working very dangerous.

The quarries will have to wait until this ice is broken up as workers in a quarry under these conditions are taking a long chance. The snow rain and ice will put a large expense on the quarry owners who will have to burn a lot of coal to get the water out of the quarry. This storm will hold up work at the Westerly quarries again and the Quincy manufacturers will have to wait longer for their stock.

SHIPPING DULL.

Shipping the past week has been very dull and it looks as though this week will not be as good. Usually shipping at this time of the year is pretty fair as the wholesalers call for Feb. 1, delivery and also Feb. 15. It seems as though there has been almost no call from the wholesalers for February deliveries this year. This being the case next month will have a larger volume of shipping than ever before.

WILL OCCUPY NEW SHED.

H. Gerrior & Company will occupy its new shed at the corner of Garfield and Quarry streets. The shed stands on the plot formerly occupied by the well-known firm of McDonnell & Sons. The shed the company has erected was bought of the R. Cantlay Co. and was taken apart at the Lyons Granite works and put together again at its new place. This firm has been leasing space in the shed of C. H. Hardwick & Co. on Quarry street. An increase in business brought the necessity of larger quarters and better facilities. The company has bought the plot and has erected the shed and will as soon as weather permits put up a new derrick.

The firm has a contract for a large vault which will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000.00. It is to be an all polished Quincy granite vault with a marble interior. The contract calls for an early delivery.

GROWING CONCERN.

A firm whose business is rapidly increasing is Christie & Company, who have bought the plant formerly operated by John C. Murray on Gass place. This firm started in business hardly more than three years ago. It hired space in the shed of the Columbia Granite Company on Centre street and last spring when the business had made it necessary to expand they bought the plant. A large Celtic cross was cut and carved in the yard and was a fine piece of workmanship. This firm does a large business in Westerly granite and reports a large number of spring orders.

CRANE OUT OF ORDER.

Joss Bros. & Company while trying to start its travelling crane this morning put the machinery out of commission and it will take a few days to make repairs. It is next to impossible to run a travelling crane under the weather conditions. This crane is run by steam but in many other sheds where electricity is used they have tried to run their crane and have had the same conditions to contend with.

AN INTERESTING YARD.

The yard of the Quincy Column Turning company on Water street presents an interesting sight. In the shed where the machines are working may be seen every imaginable kind of columns and pedestals and the various kinds of granite used make a very pretty sight. Work at the present is very slack but the manager Mr. Peter Cahill reports that the outlook in the turning business is very bright.

HEAVILY LOADED.

Last Saturday a team owned by a large contractor and heavily loaded with paving blocks was stuck on the incline of Granite street coming up to Hancock street. The horses were poorly shod and it was a shame to load them so heavily. It seems as though some drivers do not care about anything so long as they get the required number of paving.

SERVICES FOR MISS CAHILL

The funeral of Mary Elizabeth Cahill, daughter of the late George and Mary Cahill, was held this morning from her home at 85 Water street. Included in the floral tributes were flowers from pupils of the Willard school where Annie Cahill, sister of the deceased is a teacher.

A high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. John's church by Fr. Walter A. Quinlan. Music was by the regular choir, under the direction of John Mahan, organist.

The body was taken to St. Mary's cemetery for burial. The bearers were Edward and William Parker, William Mahan, Joseph McGue, Timothy F. Ford and Peter J. Cahill.

AMUSEMENTS

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.

Mrs. Leslie Carter, without question the greatest emotional actress that the American stage ever produced, will come to B. F. Keith's Theatre for an engagement of positively one week only, commencing Monday afternoon, February 8th. Mrs. Carter, under the direction of David Belasco, won undying fame in "The Heart of Maryland," "Du Barry," and "Adria." Her biggest success was made in "Zaza," and it is the great scene of this famous drama that she has elected to play in vaudeville. Mrs. Carter has surrounded herself with a thoroughly capable and competent company, and will be one of the biggest events of the season at B. F. Keith's. Mrs. Carter has not been seen in Boston in several years. This will be the first opportunity offered to Bostonians to see this great actress, in several seasons. Surrounding Mrs. Carter will be a great vaudeville show.

SHUBERT THEATRE.

At the Shubert Theatre, Boston, for two weeks beginning Feb. 8, manager A. H. Woods will present the king of fun-makers, Lew Fields, in "The High Cost of Loving," a farce from the German that kept New York theatregoers in roars of laughter for six months at the Republic Theatre. Oddly enough, while Mr. Fields is recognized as the Fun-making King because of his brilliant career on the stage he is also another kind of a king in the present play—the Mustard King—and it is the Mustard King, of course, who causes the fun, for he is married to the president of the local Purity League and that League is investigating the rumors about the past of a member of the community, whose identity is unknown. Ludwig Klinke, the Mustard King (Lew Fields) happens to own that "past." What he doesn't know is that several other prominent citizens of the town also have guilty consciences. Things look pretty bad for Ludwig but the greater his troubles the more uproarious the joy of the audience. The end is happy of course for Ludwig finds that he isn't as bad as he thought he was. There will be matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

Mr. William Faversham in the great Paris and New York success, "The Hawk" swooped to success at the Majestic Theatre, Boston, Monday night. The theatre was filled with the largest and most fashionable audience that has witnessed a premiere this season.

In "The Hawk," Mr. Faversham has found a stirring drama of modern and social life, with absorbing love scenes, powerful dramatic climaxes and diverting comedy. It is undoubtedly the crowning triumph of his career. Not since "The Squaw Man" has he had a play with so wide an appeal. "The Hawk" has been well named "the prosperity play." For twenty weeks "The Hawk" was the most popular dramatic success in New York. It was a happy thought of Mr. Faversham's to go back to the type of drama in which he first won public favor. In "The Hawk" he has several of those charming love scenes which no other actor of today plays so delightfully. Real romance in modern dress possesses a potent appeal and the thrilling love scenes of this new play have called attention to the fact that Mr. Faversham is the last of the matinee idols.

BOSTON THEATRE.

Realistic and exciting as is the great chariot race in "Ben-Hur" with its twenty thoroughbred horses driven in quadruple teams by the five contestants for the blue ribbon of victory in the arena of the Antioch circus as seen by the breathless audience in front of the footlights at the big Boston Theatre, Boston. one gets a new sensation by watching this wonderful spectacle from behind the scenes. All around, towers, huge panoramas. At ones feet the stage is transformed from the boards trod by buskin and sock into a mechanical workshop. Four horses stand abreast before each chariot, resting upon the heavy treadmills, each chariot platform weighing, with its involved accessories, a grand total of 13,000 pounds. Yet each of these five chariots with shouting riders, plunging steeds and weighty cradles, is shifted back and forth at will by invisible means and by a simple turn of the wrist. The subterranean region below-stairs, with its constant passing through of supernumeraries, resembles a timbered dockyard, bearing as it does this Atlantean movable mass of thundering treadmills on its crouched shoulders.

A queer sight it is behind the scene just before the race begins, a curious mixture of Oriental and modern. The first and Twentieth Centuries seem to be jostling elbows. Up to date little stable boys standing by the horses at the antique chariots; a host of Romans, Jews and Asiatics in trappings of the "gorgeous East" elbowing by a small regiment of stage hands; Ben-Hur, in his white tunic, clambers cautiously to his perch in one of the race-cars, and Messala, with red cloak flying and the other contestants leap into their chariots. The red garment is the waited signal. The apathetic demeanor of the horses vanishes in an instant, their ears are pricked forward for the word "Go!" and, as the first rumble of the wheels arises, their hoofs start flying over the treadmills.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

Boston playgoers are promised one of the most fascinating comedies ever produced, and one of the most original and striking dramatic novelties ever brought out by David Belasco, Monday evening when Leo Ditrichstein will begin a limited engagement at the Colonial Theatre in "The Phantom Rival." This play proved one of the biggest hits of the current season in New York and for five months enjoyed the absolute limit of popularity and prosperity at the Belasco Theatre. Mr. Belasco is sending the entire original company and the complete New York production to Boston. The story is decidedly unique in theme, and its originality is one of its most striking characteristics. The opening of the plot finds the wife of an extremely jealous but matter-of-fact business man, cherishing the memory of a sweetheart she has had in years gone by. This fellow, a young Russian, is called back to his home country at the height of their courtship, and throughout the ensuing years the woman idolizes him and thinks of him not as he really is, but glorifies his memory because of the ideals which she believed he would realize. He returns to America; the two former sweethearts meet in the unromantic surroundings of a cafe, and there follows two scenes in which the jealousies of the husband become exceedingly acute. The young Russian and the woman are finally brought together and she discovers her hero after all is mere clay, and the husband learns that his rival is only a phantom rival. During the engagement of Mr. Ditrichstein at the Colonial, the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees will begin at 2; while the evening performance will commence at 8.15. There will be a special matinee on Washington's birthday.

MODERN THEATRE.

"The Gilded Fool," a powerfully appealing dramatic photo-play with William Farnum in the leading character will be the headline feature for next week at the exclusive Modern Theatre, Boston. The production is staged by the famous William Fox Feature Film Studio Company, whose early release of Betty Nansen, the renowned Danish tragediene is soh to be announced. The play is picturized from the drama of the same name that served as a successful vehicle for several years for Nat Goodwin, America's well known comedian. The production offers a compelling combination of love, high finance, and the life of the "Gay White Way." The plot deals with the progress of young Chauncy Short, a typical, "gilded fool" who spends his days in idleness and his nights in frivolity. He finally meets the "only girl" and through love of her is awakened to a realization of his many short comings. The play as a whole offers a series of tense and exciting scenes capped by one of the strongest climaxes ever photographed.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

The fiftieth performance of "Common Clay" will take place Friday and judging by the public enthusiasm for Mr. Kinkead's vivid study of modern life, will only be a stage toward the coveted "hundredth." Capacity houses, both afternoon and evening, marked the entry of the play upon its fourth week, and many persons prominent in social and business circles were among the spectators. News of the remarkable public reception accorded to this unknown play by an obscure writer has reached far beyond Boston and theatrical managers from "Broadway," who have been to spy out the land, are bidding for the rights of Mr. Kinkead's play.

"Common Clay" it will be recalled, concerns the story of a young girl who is led astray early in life, and whose character suddenly develops under the stress of a great wrong, until she finds her enemies in her power. The part of this girl, victim and victor at the same time, is a great creation in the hands of Miss Mary Young, and the support given by the company is doing much to carry "Common Clay" on its triumphant course.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE

Miss Billie Burke began her annual engagement at the Hollis Street Theatre, Boston, Monday night, and the big audience that greeted her voted her new comedy, "Jerry," the most delightful and the most "billieburkish" play that the popular actress has presented in Boston since she became a star.

The piece is by Catherine Chisholm an American play-wright and it is the first American play Miss Burke has ever done. It tells a very amusing story of how a mischievous Chicago girl plays havoc with the routine of a well-ordered household in a staid Philadelphia suburb. Her aunt has been engaged to a man for twenty years. "Jerry"—that is the girl's name— covets the man and by a clever ruse breaks off his engagement with her aunt and then, by another impish trick betrays him into a declaration of love for herself. The last act, the scene of which is laid in a picturesque mining camp in Arizona, shows what a really good wife the hoydenish "Jerry" has made. Miss Burke plays "Jerry," of course, and it is decidedly the best role she has had, for it enables her to display, not only all her fascinating charms, but also to prove that she is a comedienne of the first class.

WILBUR THEATRE.

The population of Boston is now divided in two parts—those who have seen "A PAIR OF SIXES" and those who are going to see it. Not in the memory of the present generation of theatregoers has any play come to Boston that so thoroughly captivated the town as this wonderfully funny farce which is now attracting huge and laughing audiences to the beautiful Wilbur Theatre.

"A Pair of Sixes" came to Boston for a short engagement, but although it is now in its sixth week, the demand for seats still exceeds the supply. Such laughter has never before been heard within the walls of a Boston playhouse. For two hours and a half this merry farce makes the audience forget its worries and its cares and keeps it delighted and amused. And the fun is of the healthy and wholesome sort, without a sting in it. The Boston Post, in commenting on the merits of "A Pair of Sixes," said "there is not a single blush among its thousands of laughs." The play ran for eight months in New York and six months in Chicago, and it seems as if Boston would like to keep it for an equal length of time. But owing to existing contracts the Boston engagement must come to an end before long. Matinees at the Wilbur Theatre are given Wednesday and Saturday.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE.

The glowing praise showered upon "Too Many Cooks," the delightful comedy of suburban life now on the eve of its third week at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, is only one reason why this play is well worth seeing. It is the cleanest sort of pure and wholesome American comedy that Boston has seen in years. In fact no play produced in a long time sparkles with such genuine and keen American wit. It is one of the most novel, delicious and wholesome comedies ever staged and moves with the regularity of a 17-jewelled watch. The story of the play is written around a young man, who, by judicious savings has set aside a neat sum with the object of building a modest little home within commuting distance. His plans begin to materialize upon the even of his engagement, but when his fiance has invited her folks to come and look at the foundation his plans nearly collapse when he discovers a dozen of unpromising relatives each with some suggestion as to how certain things should be done. In this almost chaotic state of affairs the audience is treated to a series of amusing and complicating situations that make the play sparkle with bright and breezy dialogues. The piece is written by Frank Craven, who is well remembered for his wonderful characterization of the clerk in "Bought and Paid For." Mr. Craven appears himself in the leading role and demonstrates his versatility as a diverting comedian.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

THOSE WHO HAVE READ IT
SAY
IT'S GREAT
You'll Say The Same
When You Read It
THE EXPLOITS OF ELAINE
The Most Sensational Motion Picture
Serial Ever Written
START READING IT
NOW
THEN SEE THE PLAY AT THE
KINCAIDE THEATRE

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1295 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

CLASS GAMES AT HIGH SCHOOL

Two class games were played at the Quincy High school Thursday. 1917 defeated 1916, while 1915 won from 1916. The scores were 11-5 and 17-12. "Russ" Sanborn and Erickson played well for 1916, while the two "Simies," Smith and O'Connor, played well for the Seniors. For the Sophomores, Jenkins and Mellen starred, and young Thompson of the Freshmen continued his good work, securing a basket while playing back.

The score:

1918		1917
Nelson lf		rb DeSenso
Hendry rf		lb Mullen
Isaacson c		c Atkins
Wester rb		lf Jenkins
Thompson lb		LeCain
		rf MacCarthy

Goals from floor: Jenkins 4, Mullen 1, Thompson. Goals from foul: Jenkins, Hendry 2, Nelson.

1915		1916
O'Connor lf		rb Barber
Hunt rf		lb Sanborn
Smith c		c Crikson
Larkin rb		lf Hammond
Reardon lb		rf Westland
Foy

Goals from floor: Smith 4, O'Connor 2, Larkin 2, Hammond 2, Erikson. Goals from foul: Smith, Erikson 6.

TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS.

Following are the subscribers connected with the Quincy Exchange for the week ending Feb. 3:

1524J—Field Press The, 43 Pleasant street.
2272W—Hoy, Joseph Dr., 1247 Hancock street.
423M—Roach, Anna L., 16 Miller Stile Road.
1158M—Fisher, Marie C., 11 Quincy street.
310—Grainger, William Rev. 17 Elm Street.
1086M—Bailey, Chester A., 76 Brooks Street.
1722W—Farrell, Annie Mrs. 172 Willard stret.
2251M—Malcolm, James, 91 South St.
574M—Carey, Margaret C., 59 Hall Place.
838W—Atkins, L. M., 9 Thayer Street.
2271M—O'Connell J., 33 Summer tS.
2283M—Woodward, Roy E. 155 Billings Road.
1356W—Johnson, Andrew J. 24 Euclid Avenue.
1929M—White, James F., 42 Chester Street.
1480—Bates, Charles F. & Co., Old Colony Avenue.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Rachel J. Corthell late of Quincy in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Samuel N. Corthell of said Quincy without giving a surety on his bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the seventeenth day of February A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this second day of February A. D. 1915.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Feb. 5-10-15

HILDEBRAND DO USUAL STUNT

Larkin's Team Increases Lead In Elks League

ELKS LEAGUE.

Capt. Larkin	38	18	18054
Capt. Hanson	34	22	17863
Capt. Maloney	30	26	17661
Capt. Hildebrand	10	46	16401

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.
Capt. Larkin 4, Capt. Hildebrand 0
Capt. Hanson 3, Capt. Maloney 1.

The Larkins and Hildebrands, top and bottom teams of the Elks league clashed at Wardwells Thursday night and the former won 4 to 0. The win increased the lead and depresses further than ever the trailing Belgians. Capt. Hanson's quintette tripled Capt. Maloney's, allowing the latter but one point. The match was close, only 10 pins separating the teams in the totals.

CAPT. HANSON—3.

Desmond	76	75	96	247
Neagle	85	92	68	245
Williams	79	80	88	247
Hanson	103	99	95	297
Dummy	75	89	98	262
	418	435	445	1298

CAPT. DR. MALONEY—1.

Reveney	85	86	79	250
Dr. Murphy	117	85	85	287
Dr. Sweeney	95	77	90	262
Thompson	80	83	91	254
Dummy	75	75	85	235
	452	406	430	1288

CAPT. LARKIN—4.

Gould	83	91	94	268
Coyle	101	92	81	274
Hoy	95	95	96	286
Larkin	101	116	78	295
Joyce	95	104	112	311
	475	498	461	1434

CAPT. HILDEBRAND—0.

Hildebrand	63	80	82	225
Brown	88	93	93	274
Clark	60	78	79	217
Ross	88	83	96	267
Dummy	75	75	75	225
	374	409	425	1208

BRAINTREE BEATS MILTON FIVE

"Billie" Manning of Quincy, got 22 of the points at Braintree Friday night and helped Braintree defeat the Milton town five, 50 to 26. J. O'Rourke got 12 points and Scollard got 4.

BRAINTREE A A		MILTON TOWN
Manning rf		lb Maguire
S. O'Rourke c		c Leary
Scollard c
Avery rb		lf Maher
Bennett lb		rf Hern

Score Braintree 50, Milton 26. Goals from floor Manning 11, J. O'Rourke 6, S. O'Rourke, Scollard 4, Avery 3, Leary 7, Maher 6, Hearn. Referee, Delory. Scorer, Hubbard. Timer, South. Time 20 m. halves. Attendance 500.

REDMEN A. C. ARE BEATEN

The Redmen A. C. of Quincy lost to Co. G. at the Woburn State Armory Thursday evening, 52 to 14. The local boys were unable to get together.

CO. G.		REDMEN A. C.
Mobbs rf		lb Stromsack
Murphy lf		rb Siuzgetti
Eliot c		c Moorhouse
		c Summers
Kerwin rb		lb Martin
Wall lb		rf Veal

Score—Co. G 52, Redman 14. Goals from floor, Murphy 5, Mobbs 5, Eliot 2, Kerwin 10, Wall 4, Summers 3, Martin, Veal 3. Referee, Curtin. Scorer, McGlew. Timer McGlew. Time 20m. halves. Attendance 256.

PRATT'S BREAD is baked by experts in proved ovens. Sold by grocers.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con.

FRIENDS SURPRISE JOHN J. GALLAGHER

A number of the members of the Granite City club made a surprise call upon John J. Gallagher, Thursday evening at his home in East Milton. It was intended that the party should make the journey from Quincy in automobiles but owing to the bad going most of them went in the electric cars to East Milton. When they arrived shortly after 8 o'clock "Jack" as he is familiarly known, was found resting in his comfort chair, reading the latest golf news. This however was quickly thrown aside as the party entered and he extended to them a most cordial welcome.

The visitors brought their chef along with them and he quickly took possession of the kitchen and began to prepare the refreshments which were served later in the evening. The guests also carried a handsome Victrola, which they presented to Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher as a token of their appreciation. Speech making is not Jack's long suit but he thanked his friends for their pleasing gift and told them the house was theirs.

Whist quartettes were soon formed and some spirited games played until time to leave for the last car. During the playing the Victrola was put to work and some of the latest operas as well as many of the popular airs of the day were listened to.

EAGLES TO DANCE THIS EVENING

John Adams aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will hold its annual ball in Alpha hall this evening and all arrangements have been made for a successful affair. It will be the first evening given by the aerie since John C. Faircloth became its president, early in the year, as the successor of Frank J. Duffy, who declined re-election.

The entertainment committee, headed by Past President James J. Mellen will direct the festivities. An exhibition drill by the degree team, George Mitchell, conductor, will be one of the features of the evening. Several other events of an entertaining nature have been promised by the committee.

BIG TREE.

The government has received $99.40 in settlement for a single sugar pine tree which was cut in trespass in the Stanislaus National Forest, in California, and which yielded more than enough actual lumber to build a good-sized suburban frame house. The tree scaled 18,933 board feet and was valued at $5.25 per thousand feet.

Not many trees contain enough lumber to build a two-foot board walk nearly two miles long, and this is believed to be the first case on record in which a single tree felled in a National Forest was valued at almost $100 on the stump, although National Forest timber is frequently sold at considerably higher rates.

PLAN TUNEFUL EVENING.

The choir of the Fourth Methodist church of Roxbury under the popular paster, Rev. Willis K. King, colored, are preparing to give the Atlantic residents an evening of song which will include many Southern melodies. The choir is composed of 12 fine colored musicians. Pastor and Mrs. King are both graduates of the Southern colleges. The affair will be held under the auspices of the Ladies Circle of the Atlantic Methodist church on the evening of Feb. 18.

A sleighong party from Milton passed through Quincy Square Thursday evening about ten o'clock and stopped at Wardwell's Bowling Alleys where the party both women and men bowled a few strings and got warmed up for the finish of the trip.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
Telephone 1752-M Quincy
Office at C. F. Pettenglll's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy

CONLIN SHOE REPAIRING

Men's Sewed Taps and Heels	75c
Men's Sewed Taps and Rubber heels	$1.00
Men's Nail Taps and Heels	65c
Men's Heels	20c
Ladies' Taps and Heels Sewed	65c
Ladies Taps and Rubber heels Sewed	85c
Ladies Heels	15c
Rubber Heels	40c and 50c
Skates Sharpened, New Process	15c
$4 Ralston Shoes for	1.50

Hancock and Saville Sts.
Tel. 961-M. Oct. 7-tf

SEEK TO AVOID COMPLICATIONS

Maine Authorities Place Dynamiter Van Horn Behind Bars

SENTENCED TO THIRTY DAYS

Arrested on Warrant Charging Him With Injuring and Defacing Buildings In Vanceboro When Effort Was Made to Blow Up Bridge—State Attorney General Takes Action

Vanceboro, Me., Feb. 5.—Werner Van Horn, he German who attempted to blow up the international bridge over the St. Croix river, was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail on conviction on a charge of damaging property in this town.

Van Horn was taken to the jail at Machias this morning. He was arraigned before Trial Justice Smith, who had issued a warrant for his arrest. It was charged that by the explosion, which Van Horn has admitted was caused by him, windows in this town were broken and other damage to local property resulted.

Van Horn was arrested on a warrant charging him with defacing and injuring buildings in Vanceboro. The injury to the buildings was caused by the shock of the explosion, when Van Horn exploded dynamite under the bridge.

The charge was brought on complaint of Deputy Sheriff Ross. A number of buildings were injured by the explosion and glass was broken in many houses.

Ross has nothing to give out at present. It is thought, however, the arrest was made by advice from Attorney General Pattangall. It is known that Ross wired the attorney general to the effect "unless charges were made at once the German would be discharged."

The arrest was made, it is understood, to avoid possible complications in further detaining the dynamiter without a formal charge having been made against him. Ross, who made the arrest Tuesday, feared personal liability in the matter and, after communicating with the office of the state attorney general, obtained the warrant which was later served on the prisoner in his cell at the immigration station.

Pattangall officially notified Ross, by letter, that he had a right to hold Van Horn pending extradition proceedings by the Canadian authorities. The letter says:

"I have no question about your right to hold Van Horn pending extradition proceedings on the part of the Canadian government. If any attempt is made to release him on habeas corpus proceedings, please notify me at once. If there is any necessity to do so in connection with this case, telegraph or telephone me at my expense at any time."

Extradition Is Possible

Washington, Feb. 5.—Solicitor Johnson of the state department closely scrutinized the British ambassador's request for extradition of Werner Van Horn. What action he will take he refused to disclose, but it was indicated that if the request is regular Van Horn will be extradited.

State department officials said that the next step in the case of Van Horn would have to be taken by Canadian authorities before a United States commissioner in Maine. Until the hearing is completed and all the evidence gathered there, no action will be taken on the formal application for extradition.

The points raised by Van Horn that he was not on Canadian soil, and that his was an act of war, are expected to be fully developed at the hearing before the commissioner.

LONG RUN OF BAD LUCK

Comes to an End When Box Manufacturer Drops Dead at Home

Haverhill, Mass., Feb. 5.—John Owens, 65, a box manufacturer, dropped dead after shaking down his furnace last night. His death ended a run of bad luck that had lasted a year.

Owens had a large box factory at Lynn up to a few years ago, when it was destroyed by fire. He removed here and his business prospered so that he sought to enlarge his factory, but the city government refused permission because of the proximity of a school.

Starting a plant in Newton, Owens was making money again when the factory was destroyed by fire a few weeks ago.

Bartholdt Sees Hand of Trusts

Washington, Feb. 5.—Prohibition agitation is backed by trusts who wish public attention diverted from their affairs, Representative Bartholdt of Missouri told the National Retail Liquor Dealers' associatalon.

Digging Bodies From 'Quake Ruins

Avezzano, Feb. 5.—Over 300 bodies have been taken from beneath the ruins of houses demolished in the recent earthquake at Santa Natolia.

Change In the Meals.

Boarder—Here's a nickel I found in the hash. Landlady—Yes, I put it there. You've been complaining, I understand, about lack of change in your meals.—Boston Transcript.

BY MARGIN OF FIVE VOTES

House Fails to Override Wilson's Veto of Immigration Bill

Washington, Feb. 5.—An attempt to pass the immigration bill, prescribing a literacy test for the admission of aliens, over President Wilson's veto, failed in the house, the affirmative vote lacking just five of the necessary two-thirds.

Of 399 members present 261 voted to override the veto, 136 voted to sustain the president and two answered "present."

The final test came at the close of a day of earnest debate, in which party lines were temporarily obliterated.

The vetoed bill passed the house Feb. 4, 1914, by a vote of 239 to 140. The latest vote showed a gain of twenty-two votes for it and a loss of four votes from the opposition strength.

The 261 votes for passing the bill over the veto were cast as follows: Democrats, 166; Republicans, 78; Progressives and Progressive Republicans, 16; Independent, 1.

Against the bill the vote was: Democrats, 101; "Insurgent" Democrat, 1; Republicans, 32; Progressives and Progressive Republicans, 2. Total 136.

Presidents Taft and Cleveland vetoed similar measures and attempts to override them failed.

FOR THE SECOND TIME

Suffrage Passes Both Branches of the New York Legislature

Albany, Feb. 5.—The woman suffrage resolution, passed by the legislature in 1913, was adopted in the senate by unanimous vote. It previously had been adopted in the assembly.

The resolution provides that voters may determine at the polls next fall whether the constitution shall be amended so as to give votes to women.

By law it was necessary that the resolution be adopted by two different legislatures before being submitted.

Action In Bay State

Boston, Feb. 5.—Woman suffragists won another victory at the state house when the senate passed the resolve providing that the proposed constitutional amendment granting the ballot to women shall be submitted to the people. The resolve will go to the house today, and will come up in that body for debate next week.

BANKER WALKER IS REFUSED A PAROLE

Stole Total Sum of $621,000 From Connecticut Institutions

Harford, Feb. 5.—William F. Walker, defaulting treasurer of the Savings Bank of New Britain, who is serving a sentence of one to twenty years in state prison, was refused a parole by the board of parole.

This action was taken by the board after a lengthy consideration of the appeal, which was the first made by Walker since his imprisonment six years ago.

Walker embezzled $565,000 of the bank's funds and about $56,000 from the Baptist convention of Connecticut, of which he was also treasurer. He disappeared from his home in February, 1907, and was captured ten months later in Lower California after a nation-wide search.

RESULT OF DISSENSION

Bay State Governor Disbands Battery of Field Artillery

Boston, Feb. 5.—Battery B, First Battalion field artillery, of Worcester, was dssbanded by an executive order from Governor Walsh, acting as commander-in-chief of the militia.

In a subsequent order Walsh permits a reorganization of the battery under the supervision of Major Sherburne.

The governor's order for disbandment follows an internal strife that has disturbed the battery for several years. His immediate action was prompted by an investigation of the battery by Judge Advocate General Rogers, in which it was found that the battery had "fallen below the proper standard of efficiency."

It is said to be the first time in the history of the state that a company has been disbanded for inefficiency.

Kinkead Quits Congress

Jersey City, N. J., Feb. 5.—Congressman Eugene F. Kinkead resigned his seat in congress after he had been informed that his right to vote would be challenged because he holds the position of county sheriff.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

The Garden theatre, police station and four other buildings were destroyed by fire at Colon.

Mary E. Braddon (Mrs. John Maxwell), the English novelist, died at Richmond, Eng. She was born in London in 1837.

Subscriptions to the New England Belgian relief fund to date total $189,084.

Alphonse Mathieu, 45, was crushed beneath an elevator at Worcester, Mass.

The Masonic home at Charleton, Mass., will benefit to the extent of $20,000 by the will of Henry A. Belcher of Randolph, Mass.

HUBBARD GIVES OPERA TALK

Havrah Hubbard gave the fourth of his Opera talks on Wednesday afternoon in the vestry of the Wollaston Methodist church. The opera was to have been "Parsifal," but it had been impossible for Mr. Hubbard to find time to prepare the talk, therefore "Othello" was substituted. It was announced that Parsifal would be given in the Wollaston School hall on March 6.

Mr. Hubbard said that he had been asked to say a few words about the Belgian situation and in that connection he desired to congratulate the Federated women for their zeal in sending in old linen and cotton but there is a great need of workers who will help to tear and prepare the bandages.

"Othello" is not as well known as many of the operas but it is one of remarkable beauty. Although the few presentations which have been given in America have been failures there is no doubt that in time Othello will come into its own.

This opera marks the great progress Verdi has made over the older opera. In many ways Verdi is more remarkable than Wagner although Wagner also shows this same development, namely the writing of the orchestra and the human voice with the action.

No man developed so completely with his times as did Verdi. Up to this time there was a great admiration for the human voice but Wagner and still more Verdi rebelled at this overbalancing of one side of the opera and so it was due to these two men that the dramatic element came to be a worthy part of the opera. Verdi especially made the musical utterances fit the characters. This is what makes the quartette towards the end of Rigoletto and sextette in Lucia di Lammermoor music that endures Here the individuality of each character is brought out by the music.

With "Aida" the orchestra shows new power. Sixteen years had elapsed since Verdi had written anything when suddenly, without previous announcement Aida was given to the world. When the new opera was to be presented people came to the opera house at five o'clock the day before in order to get seats. Italy went mad over this composition. The work showed him the world's greatest melodist. Wagner put his hardest studies into his work on the orchestra parts. Verdi holds more truly the balance between the parts, he retained the beauty of the human voice but he also emphasized the richness of instrumentation.

Verdi is often accused of being an imitator of Wagner but the similarity is rather the result of an association with a rich mind like Wagner's. Verdi was never a slave to Wagner, he was always Verdi.

Once again the great artist was silent and the world once more said, "He has finished his work," but in his old age, when he had reached his eightieth year, he once more amazed the world with the greatest comic opera the world has ever heard, namely Falstaff. The words and setting were adapted from Shakespeare's "Merry Wives of Windsor." This opera is in many ways more wonderful than the "Meistersinger." In this opera and in Othello, Verdi had the benefit of the great librettist, Boito, to help him in his work.

The opera of Othello is in four acts Boito cut out the whole of the first act as Shakespeare has given it to us but there are references to the events which took place during that act. Otherwise there is little difference made in the original setting except for the "credo" of Iago which Boito himself put in. Boito makes the opera open with the storm of the second act.

In the presentation of the opera itself Mr. Hubbard clearly brings out the ugliness of Iago's character as contrasted with the nobleness of the character of Othello, the noble Moor.

Mr. Hubbard has an unusual talent for presentation of plot and character and is ably assisted by his pianist, Mr. Baxter, who had a true musical spirit. With Mr. Hubbard we hear the voices, with Mr. Baxter we catch the strains of the orchestra.

CITY HALL NOTES

Although all of Mayor Campbell's appointments have been made public he still continues to have many callers every day. The door of his office however is most always open so that people passing through the corridor can see that he is holding down his job all right. Occasionally when some private conference is on, the door will be closed for a few minutes, but as a rule it is wide open.

PROPOSE CHAPEL FOR CEMETERY

Arthur B. Hultman, a member of the Board of Managers of Public Burial Places, has proposed a plan whereby a chapel may be erected in the Mt. Wollaston cemetery. He intends to present it at the next meeting of the board.

The plan calls for each granite manufacturer of the city to contribute a block of finished granite, about 6 feet by 3 feet by 3 feet, and to accept offers of individuals who have agreed to furnish the interior if the chapel is erected.

Mr. Hultman has taken up the matter with several granite men and they have promised to do their part. Within a few days other manufacturers will be approached on the project.

If sufficient support is given the plan the board may include in its annual budget money enough to pay the cost of erection of a chapel.

The need of a chapel in Mt. Wollaston cemetery has been felt for many years but definite steps have never been taken to secure one. Mr. Hultman's proposal will probably meet with the approval of the board of which is is a member.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of William Edward Hayden late of Quincy in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Lillian E. Hayden of Quincy in said County without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of February A. D., 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-first day of January A. D. 1915.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Jan. 22-29-Feb. 5

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
LAND COURT.

To Charles M. Bugel, Maurice E. Kilpatrick and William Arthur of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; George I. Adams of Lancaster, in the County of Worcester, and said Commonwealth; William S. Daniels of Boston, in the County of Suffolk, and said Commonwealth; Fred W. Wood and Henry Thornton of said Boston, and I. Warren Flagg of Acton, in the County of Middlesex, and said Commonwealth, Trustees of the Park Land Company; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Charles W. Ward and David E. Saunders, Administrators of the estate of Nathan W. Osborne, late of Salem, in said County of Essex, deceased, to register and confirm their title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Quincy, bounded and described as follows:—

Westerly by Faxon Road one hundred and fourteen and 14-100 (114.14) feet; Northerly on Hollis Avenue, formerly Charles Street, eighty-three and 35-100 (83.35) feet; Easterly by land of William Arthur one hundred and nine and 80-100 (109.80) feet; and Southerly by land of Fred W. Wood, I. Warren Flagg and Henry Thornton, Trustees of the Park Land Company, eighty-four and 89-100 (84.89) feet. Containing nine thousand four hundred and ten (9410) square feet.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the fifteenth day of February A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of January in the year nineteen hundred and fifteen.

Attest with Seal of said Court.
(Seal)
CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.
3t Jan. 22-29-Feb 5

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES.
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

NAMES SLAYERS OF ALBERTSON

Falzone and Morella Committed Crime, Says Grassadonia

HE TURNS STATE'S EVIDENCE

Prisoner Charged With Being Accessory Tells of Killing of Lawrence Jeweler and Says He Was Threatened With Death In Courtroom If He Revealed What He Knew

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 5.—That he was threatened with death in the courtroom before the judge and jury if he told the truth regarding the murder of Morris A. Albertson, a Lawrence jeweler, was the testimony of Luigi Grassadonia in the superior court here.

Grassadonia is charged with being an accessory, but because of the sensational story he told the case was taken from the jury so far as he was concerned.

Grassadonia testified that Ignazio Morella, one of the defendants charged with murder, said to him in jail: "If you tell the truth we will kill you in the cage at the courtroom."

The witness told the jurors that Biagio Falzone, the other defendant, said to him on the way to the courthouse. "What did you do last night? I know all about it. I'm going to kill you."

Previously the witness testified he had nothing to do with the robbery and murder of Albertson, but that the other two defendants told him they robbed and killed the Lawrence jeweler.

"Falzone and Morella told me they robbed and killed Albertson. They both said Morella threw the rope over Albertson's head as he came in the shack at Wakefield and that as Morella pulled the noose taut, Falzone stabbed him.

"They told me that Albertson fought hard for his life and, being a powerful man, threw them both on the bed, but that he soon became weak from loss of blood as Falzone stabbed him time and again with the stiletto. They told me Falzone finally stabbed Albertson to death. Afterward they buried the body under the shack, they told me."

Grassadonio repeated another conversation, which he said he heard between the two men in jail. He said: "Falzone said to Morella, 'You'd better take the blame of it; I have a mother and sister.' Morella replied, 'Well, we both did it and we've both got to take the blame.'"

The witness admitted he went to Albertson's store a week prior to the murder and acted as Falzone's interpreter in connection with the purchase of jewelry. He explained his reason for going as follows:

"Falzone owed me $2, and told me a few days before the murder that if I would go to Albertson's store in Lawrence with him he'd pay me the $2 he owed me. I agreed to go.

"On the way to Lawrence Falzone showed me a letter saying that Falzone's mother and sister had sold their house in Italy and were coming to the United States. Falzone said his mother was going to bring a girl with her for him to marry and he told me that he wanted to get some jewelry for the wedding and that was why he was going to see Albertson."

Grassadonia testified that at the time Albertson was killed he (the witness) was playing cards at 34 Columbia road, Wakefield, and knew nothing about the murder then. "I went home drunk after playing cards," the witness said.

In dramatic manner, Grassadonia related how Falzone and Morella came to his house after the killing of Albertson, bringing with them, he said, some jewelry and Albertson's keys. They threatened his life and that of his wife, he said, if he dared to mention their names about it.

The man's first statement was made Wednesday night, it was stated, when he was taken to Wakefield, shackled to Sheriff Fairbairn, and there produced a blood-covered stiletto, with which the deed is said to have been done, and Albertson's keys.

The stiletto he took from under a door sill at the shack where the body was found. The keys he dug up for the officers in the ground behind the shack.

Just before the court closed Felix Pasqualino, 16 years old, of Wakefield, took the stand and testified that on Jan. 26, in Cambridge jail, Falzone had told him the complete story of the murder, detailing the manner in which the murdered man was lured to the hut, and how, as Falzone talked across the table to him, Morella crept up behind him and threw a rope about his neck, and that he, Falzone, had stabbed him.

Smallpox In Vienna

London, Feb. 5.—A terrible epidemic of smallpox is sweeping Vienna, Amsterdam reports. Emperor Francis Joseph and members of the court are reported to have fled from the city to the imperial palace at Schoenbrunn.

Receiver For Grain Concern

Boston, Feb. 5.—High price of grain is responsible for the T. W. Ranlet company, grain dealers, going into the hands of a receiver. The concern owes about $100,000.

GUIDED GOOD SHIP PAST HIDDEN MINES.

Slipped by German Fleet In Fog—Crew on Edge.

The Southern Pacific steamship El Monte, the first merchant vessel flying the American flag to enter the port of Bremen in forty-four years, reached New York on the return trip. Captain Edward T. Pinchin, without the assistance of a pilot, took his vessel through mine strewn waters safely into the harbor of Bremen on New Year's day. He was inclined to dismiss his feat with the assertion that with common sense the task was easy. The El Monte slipped past the naval guard outside the harbor, and the first the Germans knew of her arrival was when the fog lifted and they found her at anchor, the stars and stripes snapping in the wind.

Picking her way through possible mine fields, the El Monte came to the mouth of the Weser on Dec. 31 and anchored on account of the dense fog. It was during this fog that the skipper steered the El Monte through a prohibited channel into Bremen harbor. Slowly the vessel forged ahead through a wall of fog that shut out all the scene. The captain on the bridge stood with his hand upon the engine room signals, guiding his craft ahead. Every one of the crew was on edge, ready to obey every order, for they realized that safety in the field of mines depended upon instant obedience.

It seemed an endless trip to the crew while the El Monte went forward, slowly feeling her way. In the fog the El Monte had eluded the fleet of German battleships and cruisers stationed at the entrance to the harbor. The first the naval authorities knew of her presence was when the fog lifted. They were astounded at the presence of the American vessel. When they recovered from their astonishment they sent an officer on board to inquire how the captain got there. He explained, and the officer went away. There was signaling between the vessels, and then a very polite officer arrived on the El Monte and informed the skipper that the German admiral wished to question him. He was taken before the admiral, who, after cross examining him, released him.

This practically ended his troubles. Because of the double distinction of guiding his ship through the mine fields and the fact that he brought the first cargo of cotton the skipper was royally entertained. When the cargo was discharged the crew were given shore leave, and they, too, shared in the reception.

DIED AMONG HER CATS.

Animals Attacked Husband and Policeman He Summoned.

Mrs. Angeline Heuerman, sixty-six years old, the wife of Arnold Heuerman, a night watchman of Brooklyn, was found dead by her husband in the bedroom of their home at daybreak. More than a dozen cats were congregated in her apartment. The woman's death was attributed to apoplexy. She had a great love for cats and was in the habit of picking them up in the street and bringing them into her apartment. She also left a window open at night so that stray cats could enter. As the result of her love for this variety of animals she and her husband were often dispossessed from rooms.

When Heuerman reached his home and stepped into his wife's bedroom he was attacked by some of the cats and hurried to the Hamburg avenue police station for assistance. Policeman Holman went back with him and was also attacked. He was obliged to use his club to get the cats out of the room.

A SPEEDER AT EIGHTY-THREE

Spry Mr. Hensley Does a Fast Dash on Motorcycle.

Although Alfred S. Hensley of Stanhope, N. J., is eighty-three years of age, he will not be "dared" by some of his cronies, who wagered that he would not ride a motorcycle. Hensley was telling them how some years ago he was a "speed maniac" with a motorcycle. His cronies laughed at this, and the old man jumped on the seat of a motorcycle and was off down the Stanhope-Newton road like a shot. He went about half a mile and then turned back, covering the last quarter of a mile in sixteen seconds, and as he set the machine against the curb he pocketed a wager with the remark:

"Well, I guess I'm still one of the young uns."

Hensley was something of an athlete several years ago, and now he thinks little of a five or ten mile walk when the roads are in good condition.

PLAN BOUNDARY GUARD.

Canadians Propose to Have Reserves Posted Along the Line.

Major W. Tait and Colonel F. B. Gregory of the Canadian national reserve said that they would lay before Major General Hughes, minister of militia, a plan for guarding with the men of the reserve force, the boundary line between Canada and the United States.

According to the officers, they will propose that the reserve be stationed along the border to keep out any hostile citizens of the countries with which Great Britain is at war and prevent reservists of these countries now in Canada from crossing into the United States. Co-operation of United States officials, it was said, would be sought.

PREMIER BORDEN.

Canadian Official Who Has Requested This Nation For Van Horn's Extradition.

Photo by American Press Association.

Detention in the United States of Van Horn may bring about unpleasant international differences. The man declares that it was an act of war. If this contention is sustained he will probably be held in the United States until after the war. Premier Borden of the Dominion has already requested his extradition, but no decison has been reached.

"LIGHT AND TRUTH"

Yale's Motto Twisted by "Lamentable Error" of Artists

New Haven, Feb. 5.—Many Yale alumni associations, who have reproduced the Yale seal on their stationery, will be surprised to learn that, through carelessness of artists, the Hebrew characters of the motto, "Light and Truth," have been made to read "Blasphemers and Farmers."

The Yale Alumni Weekly calls attention to this "lamentable error." The mistakes were made because the artists failed to observe the distinction between the Hebrew characters "vow" and "resh."

The weekly prints a reproduction of the correct characters, in order that mistakes may be corrected and avoided.

BEGINS HER FIFTIETH YEAR AS AN INVALID

Mollie Fancher, Though Bed-Ridden, Supports Herself

New York, Feb. 5.—Miss Mollie Fancher, 67 years old, Brooklyn's famous invalid, began her fiftieth year in bed by receiving and answering messages from friends all over the country.

In June, 1865, Miss Fancher sustained the injuries that have made her an invalid and an object of interest to physicians. On Feb. 3, 1866, she became helpless, and resigned herself to a life in bed.

Despite her affliction, Miss Fancher has been happy during all these years, and has helped to support herself by embroidering and crochet work.

PROTEST SHIPPING BILL

Leading Bostonians Argue Against the Administration Measure

Boston, Feb. 5.—A vigorous protest against the passage of the government ship purchase bill now before the United States senate was made in Faneuil hall by representative Boston citizens. The hall was filled and several hundred persons were unable to gain admission.

Speeches attacking the bill were made by Mayor Curley, Former Governor Guild, Henry L. Higginson, Chairman McSweeney of Boston port directors and Chairman Cole of Boston industrial bureau.

Resolutions protesting against the passage of the ship purchase bill were adopted. It was voted to send copies to President Wilson and to each of the senators and congressmen representing Massachusetts at Washington.

POSSE KILLS A DOCTOR.

Had Been Charged With Assault Upon Young Married Woman

Augusta, Ga., Feb. 5.—Dr. A. B. Culberson, a practising physician of Evans, was shot dead by a posse of citizens. Culberson was charged with assaulting a young married woman.

Culberson was killed in a farmhouse near Evans. The physician was ordered to come out. Then Culberson drew a revolver and tried to escape before he was shot.

Flour Takes Another Jump

Boston, Feb. 5.—The retail price of flour jumped 25 cents yesterday, bringing the price up to $9.25 a barrel. Unless the situation changes shortly in the wheat market, local bakers will be forced to increase the price of bread.

NEW WAYS OF GETTING INTO JAIL STARTLING.

Eugenic Legislation Typical, Says Chicago Tribune Editorially.

Under the caption "The Land of the Free" the Chicago Tribune, discussing eugenic measures which it is proposed to adopt in Chicago, says editorially:

"The Tribune expresses no opinion on the eugenic measure indorsed by the city council, for the reason that the Tribune does not know any more about the ultimate desirability of such a law than do the members of the city council, the committees before whom the law will be discussed, the members of either branch of the legislature, the governor who will be asked to sign it or the judges and juries before whom violators will be taken for sentence.

"This measure is typical of many of the growing number of criminal statutes. It is a law proposed for the governance of the whole people and undoubtedly is meant for the benefit of the whole people, but which is to be put on the statute books by a small minority of the people.

"Perhaps the most significant development of our government is that laws are not made by the people or by the representatives of the people, but by small cliques tremendously energized over particular questions. These cliques are determined to force their views on such questions upon the multitude, oblivious of the fact that other cliques are forcing views on other questions upon them.

"The number of new ways of getting a man into jail is startling, and the question does not seem to be asked whether his offenses against the community are half as bad as the penalties imposed. There seems to be a positive mania to find new ways of imprisoning American citizens, and yet there is hardly any one thing that can be as bad for the individual or the nation as a man in jail who can possibly be kept out.

"It is not irrelevant to remark that the growth of democracy in this country has not resulted in greater but rather in less freedom. 'The land of the free,' the 'sweet land of liberty,' is now infinitely less free than France, much less free than the kingdom of England, not as free in some important respects as the empire of Germany, and we hesitate to draw a distinction between the United States and Russia."

WAR GIVES HINDU 3 WIVES.

Servant Here Inherits Family of Brother Killed In Battle.

"One of the most peculiar sufferers from the war in Europe I have yet heard of," said Frederic Lack of New York, "is a Hindu servant of an American woman who arrived on the Minnewaska. So far as I can learn, this Hindu had not been any nearer the war on his way from Bombay than England, yet the war has brought him loss and gain. He has lost his father and his brother, and he has gained a small fortune and three wives. In the latter acquisition, however, he may not altogether feel comforted.

"The Hindu's father and brother were with the Indian army in France, and both were killed. The brother left him what would be considered a handsome fortune in India. However, a string went with it. He left his three wives also to his brother, the custom in their caste in India being that a surviving brother may or must marry the widows of the deceased. So when the visiting Hindu goes back home he will find three pairs of additional outstretched arms to greet him in addition to those that waved him goodby."

RADIUM AROUSES HOUSE.

Members Rush to See Samples Shown by Dr. Foster.

By exhibiting $11,000 worth of radium to the members of the house Representative Martin D. Foster of Illinois interrupted the session and caused a near stampede to the speaker's lobby, where he gave an informal lecture for half an hour. The Illinois member, who is a physician and chairman of the committee on mines and mining, asked consent to speak on the preliminary work the bureau of mines is doing in radium extraction.

"I have here two small tubes containing $11,000 worth of radium," said Dr. Foster, holding up the little glass receptacles. There was an immediate rush of members for Mr. Foster's desk, and Speaker Clark banged the gavel for order. Mr. Foster proceeded with great difficulty for a moment and then yielded the floor and started for the lobby. Fifty members followed him, crowding close to get a glimpse of the radium.

BOXER IN WHITE HOUSE.

Baby Sayre Gets Set of Half Ounce Fighting Mitts.

Francis Sayre, diminutive grandson of the president, received from Mike Donovan, who once served in the White House as boxing instructor to Theodore Roosevelt, a tiny pair of boxing gloves weighing about half an ounce each. The package was addressed to "The Young White Hope of the White House." In the deed of gift Donovan wrote:

"I hope the youngster will be handy with his 'dukes' when he grows up and will be a credit to his distinguished grandfather."

Francis showed interest in the gift, doubling up his little fists and rubbing his nose furtively when the nurse showed him the mitts.

ARTIFICIAL LIMBS.

Perfection to Which the Mechanical Arm Has Been Brought.

They are making artificial limbs with such perfection today that a technical observer who is also an enthusiastic baseball "fan" declares that he would not be surprised to see in the not far distant future some wooden armed pitcher making a good record. What is known as "glass arm" would be effectively superseded by "wooden arm."

Though this is a daring leap of the imagination, which, however, need not worry the perfectly good armed pitchers of the big leagues, still some of the things that can be done with artificial arms are simply amazing. Here you see a man lighting a cigar and with a naturalness of action and pose which would deceive the casual observer.

The mechanism is controlled by certain motions of the stump of the flesh and blood arm, and no little knack is necessary to the successful working of the artificial member, and yet withal it is not very difficult to acquire.

It is said that the man who is lighting his big cigar can pick a pin from the floor without difficulty, but it is not on record that he can give the "pep" to a ball so that it will speed by the batter like a projectile from a high powered gun. As a matter of fact, he is thoroughly satisfied with the many very necessary things that can be done with the mechanical arm without venturing afar into the luxuries and excitement of outdoor sport.—Buffalo News.

WOMEN OF EUROPE.

An Italian Critic Says Those of Spain Are the Most Beautiful.

A celebrated Italian writer of Florence has been favoring the world with his opinion of some of the women of Europe. He considers only four nations, and of these he selects Spain as most worthy of the crown for feminine beauty. He says:

"The Spanish woman is bewitchingly beautiful. She has small hands and feet and large eyes like the open windows of a sunburst marble palace, a figure full of grace and life and long, dark, wavy hair. She is very religious, very ignorant, very jealous, very sensitive and very proud."

Of the British woman he says: "Her hair is like gold. She has heavenly eyes, a peachlike complexion, a delicately formed nose and good teeth. She is reserved, very active and generally a slave to etiquette."

As to the Frenchwoman he is less complimentary. It is thus that he describes her: "She is a cat and a serpent, a palm and a violet, and when she is not pretty she is charming. She is amiable, a dreadful coquette and generally false."

His summary of the Russian woman is that she is "of an oriental type which had been prematurely transported into Europe. In her are combined the extraordinary charms of a savage and the civilized woman."—Pearson's.

Vicissitudes of Warsaw.

No city in Europe has known so many changes of masters as Warsaw. Founded about the year 850, it was capital of the independent dukedom of Mazovia until the fifteenth century, when it was annexed by Poland. In the seventeenth century its possession was contended for by Sweden, Russia, Austria and Brandenburg, until, in 1704 Russia practically annexed it. In 1795 the city was handed over to Prussia, but Napoleon occupied it in 1806, and at the peace of Tilsit Warsaw was proclaimed an independent duchy. In 1809 the Austrians seized the city, but lost it again, and after another brief spell of independence the city passed finally to Russia in 1813.—London Chronicle.

Some Valuable Pearls.

Of all the articles of luxury known to the Romans pearls were most valued. They were worn by all classes. The famous pearl earrings which belonged to Cleopatra are said to have been worth $800,000, and Julius Caesar presented the mother of Brutus with a pearl for which he paid $240,000. It has been said that one of the reasons why Julius Caesar invaded Britain was the wish to become master of the pearls which were supposed to abound there, a surmise incorrect, for few pearls of value have been found in Great Britain.

Why They Settle.

Wife—Who can doubt the power of woman's love! Think of the thousands of wild youths who have settled down into staid and respectable citizens as soon as they married.

Husband—They couldn't afford to be anything else after they got married.—New York Weekly.

Turned Down.

"Miss Dulcie," a young doctor whispered, "will you take me for better or worse?"

"If I were ill, doctor, I might take you for better," answered she. "But, being quite well, I'll let well alone!"—London Telegraph.

Her Dear Friend.

Jack—When I asked Ethel if she would be mine she fell on my breast and sobbed like a child, but finally she put her arms around my neck and—

Maud—Oh, yes, I know all about it. I rehearsed it with her.—London Telegraph.

Wise Fool.

"Everything comes to the man who waits," remarked the sage.

"Unless he happens to be waiting for his wife," added the fool.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—To small family of adults several very desirable new tenements $22 and up, also stable $10 per month; store $10 per month. Apply to C. H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. Tel. 174-2 Quincy. 4-12t

TO LET—From March 6rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET— Large pleasant room, conveniences, near the center. Private family, 30 Upland road. 1-6t

TO LET—Rooms and board with private family, all conveniences, 3 minutes to Fore River yard. Mrs. Briggs, 63 Howard avenue. Tel. 1333-W. 1-6t

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Four room apartment, new house, all improvements. Apply at 226 Franklin street. 30-tf

TO LET—Nice large furnished rooms, all improvements reasonable. Will give board if preferred. Apply 44 Chestnut street, second floor. 30-6t

TO LET—Three connecting rooms and bath, electric lights, heat and gas range. 178 Washington street, phone Quincy 1732M. 28-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 26 tf

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 20-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Four room tenement all improvements, range and gas attached, house new. Apply James Moorhead, 23 Curtis street, Quincy or Tel. 599-1. Jan. 15-tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

A Few Choice House Lots —ON— PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.

SWITHIN 3 GREENLEAF BLOCK Jan. 8-tf

Read Ledger Advs.

WANTED

WANTED—A Pony or Donkey and team for a few days, state price and where can be seen. Write 16 Ledger "Donkey." 3-3t

WANTED—Position as companion, attendant, or helper by woman of refinement who has no permanent home and desires to live in Quincy. Could be in attendance daily if preferred. Address for further details I. C., Care of Ledger, Quincy. 3-3t

WANTED—Working housekeeper. Apply 87 Adams street. 30-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Covered sleigh in good condition. Made by French Co. Suitable for physician. Apply Dr. Frank S. Davis, 25 Elm street. 5-3t

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN Real Estate Insurance Auctioneer Care of Property Justice of the Peace Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

TO LET

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St. 22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld. Small front office.

Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop —ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall —28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK CITY SQUARE (Best location in City.)

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $3.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS

Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust. Ask for E. R. Krihn. Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

FOR SALE

House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,300. Straight Loan of $2,000.

EDMUND G. HAYDEN Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc. 120 Tremont St., Boston. Oct. 6-tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS PAINTER and GLAZIER LEADED STAINED GLASS DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

SEE IT TODAY

The Exploits of Elaine

Matinee 2.30 Evenings 8 o'clock

Next Week Mon. Tues. & Wed. THE SPOILERS

From Rex Beache's Book.

Featuring

WILLIAM FARNUM and KATHLYN WILLIAMS

A Thrilling - Powerful - Picturesque - Virile Masterpiece

SPECIAL - - Richard Hussey of West Quincy

Will appear by Special Request

Kincaide Theatre

5 2t

BOARD OF TRADE COMMITTEES

The committees of the Quincy Board of Trade for the coming year are as follows:

MEMBERSHIP
Herman F. McIntire, Chairman
J. W. Hendry
Andrew Milne, Jr.
William Cashman
John L. Hamilton
Victor E. Matlack

BOARD OF TRADE BUILDING
Henry L. Kincaide, Chairman
Albert L. Hayden
Alexander Falconer
Dennis F. Crowley
Edward O. Woodward
G. F. Letteny

LEGISLATIVE MATTERS
Chester I. Campbell, Chairman
Louis F. R. Langelier
Charles A. Erickson
Edward J. Sandberg
Joseph L. Whiton
Charles J. McGilvray

MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENTS
John W. McAnarney, Chairman
Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson
Albert P. J. Pinel
Dr. John H. Ash
David Hanson
Timothy F. Callahan

WATER FRONT DEVELOPMENT
Frank Fessenden Crane, Chairman
John T. Conway
Alfred O. Diack
Peter T. Fallon
Charles L. Gilliatt
William L. Buckley

NEW INDUSTRIES
Michael Sullivan, Chairman
M. J. L. Kennedy
John R. Richards
John C. Ballou
Thomas H. Irving
Albert H. Hall

GRANITE INDUSTRIES
Joseph Walker, Chairman
Jonathan S. Swingle
Andrew Milne
James Joss
Ernest Bizzozero
P. W. Mannex

MERCHANT COOPERATION
Robert E. Foy, Chairman
William G. Shaw
William M. Prime
Oscar S. Sandberg
John L. Payson
James H. Fitzpatrick

RAILROAD SERVICE
Eugene R. Stone, Chairman
Thomas Griffin
Walter E. Piper
William H. Teasdale
Howard S. Reynolds
John R. Nelson

STREET RAILWAY SERVICE
Herbert S. Barker, Chairman
William F. Hodgkinson
Calvin C. Fletcher
James H. Elcock
Dr. Philip Kelly.
Peter F. Flynn

TELEPHONE SERVICE
John F. Scott, Chairman
George H. Jacques
Robert T. Foye
M. J. Martin
F. D. Field, Jr.,
John A. L. Ross

GAS AND ELECTRIC SERVICE
Alfred N. LaBrecque, Chairman
Henry T. Gallagher
Frank A. Tirrell
William J. O'Brien
Stanley F. Hall
William E. Barnes

ENTERTAINMENT
Albert L. Whitman, Chairman
Henry W. French
Henry C. Smalley
George A. Wardwell
Thomas C. Breen
William M. Kenyon

PUBLICITY
John O. Hall, Chairman
William G. Spargo
Eben Prescott
Frank F. Prescott
J. Winthrop Pratt
Thomas L. Williams

RECEPTION
Edward J. Fegan, Chairman
Edward J. Sandberg
J. W. Pratt
Walter E. Piper
T. L. Williams
John R. Richards
Eugene R. Stone
Charles C. Hearn
John L. Hamilton
William A. Bradford

PRICES STILL LOWER, OUR QUALITY JUST THE SAME AS EVER

Good Cheer to All

BEEF SMOKED MEATS, FOWL, LAMB ARE LOWER

The HIGH QUALITY of our Meats, Groceries and Provisions was proven better than ever by the crowds of people who thronged our store last Saturday to have

Sunday Dinner to Perfection

RUMP ROASTS	23c, 25c
SIRLOIN ROASTS	23c
UNDER CUT ROAST	23c
FRENCH ROAST	20c
POT ROAST	16c

Native Chicken, 5lbs. 25c lb.
Native Fowl, 3 lbs. 19c lb.
Native Fowl, 5lbs. 23c lb.

LAMB Leg and Loin 18½c

WHOLE HAMS	18c
SMOKED SHOULDERS	12 1-2c
SCOTCH HAM	30c lb
SCOTCH BACON	28c
ENGLISH BACON	29c

NAVEL ORANGES Regular 35c value	29c
FLORIDA ORANGES Regular 30c value	21c
GRAPE FRUIT	5c

POTATOES 17c pk.
Limit two pecks to a customer actually worth 22c peck.

ROSE MILK 10c can
EVAPORATED VAN CAMPS GOLD CROSS, or PEERLESS 3 for 23c
SHREDDED WHEAT 10c

Fresh Eggs, 45c Doz.
From Assinippi or Middleboro.

Coughlin & Donovan
High Quality Market 1475 Hancock Street
FREE DELIVERY TEL. 696-W

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Master Frederick Lovell of Edgemere road is sick with the measles.

The Squantum Women's club met Wednesday with Mrs. Sturges Wood, 991 Massachusetts avenue, Boston.

Mrs. Nellie Mitchell MacLeod of Billings street, Atlantic, is confined to her home by sickness.

Mrs. William J. Dorley of Graham street has returned from Fall River where she has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Cairns

Chief Billings has sent an extra horse to combination hose 4 at Quincy Point to be used while the going is so bad.

Miss Annie Gibson after a pleasant visit to Quincy friends has returned to Acton where she makes her home with her sister, Mrs. John Lennon.

Miss Elizabeth G. Pattee of School street is expected home today from a few days' visit with Miss Seabury in Mendon.

Frank Drake entertained a party of friends at a private dancing party in New Colonial hall Wednesday evening Refreshments were served.

C. F. Pettengill, who has been confined to his home for ten days, is improving and able to be about the house.

The council committee on fire and police meet tonight at 7.30 and at 8 o'clock there will be a meeting of the joint committee on fire and police and ordinances.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan of Sumner street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter born January 28th. Mother and child are doing nicely.

Mrs. Charlotte Dorley of River street is planning to leave this week for Concord, New Hampshire where she will be the guest of her brother, Jeremiah Pitts, for a few weeks.

Miss Bella Laing of Quincy who is visiting with her sister in Pittsburg was the honored guest at a luncheon given by Mrs. George Parsely of Pittsburg on Wednesday.

Several sleigh parties passed through city square Thursday evening. The parties were unusually quiet, evidently finding it rather too cold for comfort.

Capt. Christopher H. Chase of the Brockton police department came to Quincy Thursday to call on Chief Frank E. Burrell who has been ill at his home on Washington street.

Rev. Dr. James Todd, foremrly of Quincy was one of the committee appointed at a meeting of the Evangelical Alliance of Boston to go to Philadelphia and urge Billy Sunday to come to Boston.

John Curtis and Herbert S. Child carried off the honors at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club Wednesday evening. The prizes for the month of January went to Rollin H Newcomb, Charles H Penniman and Hazen E. Ricker.

The Quincy Young Women's club is to hold its annual gentlemen's night in Colonial hall this evening. The proceeds will be added to the fund to establish a recreation house at Adams Academy.

A large amount of escaping steam in front of the Adams building Thursday afternoon led many to believe that a fire was in progress. However those who ran across the street to investigate found that the janitor was simply using a little steam to melt the snow on the roof of the building.

Mrs. Teresa Silva of Provincetown is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Daniel Dorley of Thompson street. Mrs. Silva is the mother of John A. Silva of this city who was recently appointed warrant machinist by Secretary Daniels of the navy. Mr. Silva is now at Guantanamo Bay on the Cruiser Washington.

Henry Shea of Quincy Point, a popular member of the Wasaca Social club will leave in a few days for Bridgeport, Conn., where he has accepted a position as draughtsman.

Michael J. Saville who has been confined to his home on Dayton street the past few days returned to work on Thursday.

The Bethany Women's Union held its monthly meeting Wednesday. The session opened at 11 o'clock with sewing. Luncheon was served at 12.30 after which the executive board met. Mrs. Chauncey J. Hawkins, at 2.30 addressed the members. Her topic was "Just an Every Day Mother's Problem in Short Division." There was a good attendance.

IS DELICATE OPERATION

Two children the past week have been successfully operated on for intussusception at the Quincy City Hospital and a condition which would have resulted fatally in both cases but for the correct diagnosis of Dr. D. B. Reardon and Dr. W. J. McCausland, the attending physicians, has been relieved.

Intussusception is a condition which develops only in children and is the folding of the small into the large intestine causing a stoppage. Both cases are the first ever treated at the hospital since its institution 25 years ago.

The operations were performed by Dr. N. S. Hunting of the surgical staff. The first was on a nine months old boy, Monday night, and the second on a six months old girl. Tuesday night. Dr. Hunting was assisted by Drs. Reardon and Sargent in the first case and Drs. Reardon and McCausland in the second case.

Both patients are improving rapidly.

UNION SERVICES.

The series of union meetings for members of the Swedish Congregational, Baptist and M. E. churches is drawing to a close. Tonight the last one for adults will be held at the Swedish Congregational church and the closing session of the Sunday School children's series at the Swedish Baptist church on Saturday afternoon. Thursday night's meeting was well attended. The sermon was given by Rev. Paul Hallin of the Baptist church. Rev. A. G. Sporrong of the Congregational Rev. A. E. Hillman of the M. E. church and Rev. Mr. Hallin have conducted the services.

MAY BUILD NEW CHAPEL.

Question Considered at Meeting of Bethany Church.

At an adjourned business meeting of Bethany church, held Thursday evening following the mid week prayer meet, the appointment by the council of a committee of twenty-five to vancass among the parish to see if it is advisable to ereet a new chapel was ratified. The committee will make its report as soon as possible, and a special meeting of the church will be called to receive and act upon it.

QUINCY SOCIAL CLUBS.

Nonpareils	25	7
Wasecas	24	8
Quincy Adams	18	14
Senecas	13	19
Pastimes	11	21
Franklins	5	27

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

Wasecas 4—Quincy Adams 0.
Pastimes 4—Franklins 0
Nonpareils 2—Senecas 2.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Coughlin & Donovan
R. E. Foy & Co.
Boston Mutual Life Insurance Co.
Barnard's Bakery
Kincaide Theatre
Shorthand

The monthly convenant meeting, in preparation for communion Sunday was held at the Wollaston Baptist church Thursday evening and was well attended.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

AUCTION SALE

Unclaimed and Refused Freight.

Auction sale of unclaimed and refused freight to be sold by order of New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Co., Tuesday March 2nd, 1915, in freight yard of this Company at South Braintree, Mass. at 12.30 P. M. in conformity Chapter 95 of the Revised Laws of Mass., Section 6, for account of whom it may concern.

One lot of 38 poles received in cars ACL 72488—ACL 72870—ACL 73298, consigned to Fore River Ship Building Co., East Braintree, Mass., arriving at East Braintree about Dec. 26th 1913, supposed to have been shipped by Samuel Dawson, Old Grade, Ga. Also lot of 40 poles received in cars ACL 72480—ACL 7347? and 5534 consigned to Fore River Shipbuilding Co East Braintre, arriving at East Braintree about Jan. 26th, 1914, supposed to have been shipped by Samuel Dawson, Old Grade, Ga.

N. B. All purchasers must be prepared to make deposit at time of sale of at least 25 percent cash. All goods must be paid for and removed within 10 days after sale is completed.

per order G. L. WINLOCK,
Freight Claim Agent,
New York, New Haven and Hartford, R. R. 4-9t
4,5,6,11,12,13,18,19,20

ROGERS WINS SECOND GAME

In the second game of the series for the pool championship of Quincy played Thursday evening at Pineo's Emporium, Thomas Rogers again defeated Raymond Josephine to the tune of 100 to 76. The players were handicapped by the crowd which numbered over 200 and crowded around the table making it hard to get room to shoot in.

The playing of Rogers was perfect and he got all the breaks, while Josephine was unfortunate in playing combinations. There were no fouls called during the game. The referee was Angelo Bizzozero. Josephine has the high run so far having run 19 balls in this game.

Josephine got the lead in the first rack 11 to 4 and Rogers took it in the second by getting 13 which made it 17 to 13. In the fourth rack Josephine made a difficult side shot which opened them and he gathered in the fifteen making the score 34 to 26 in his favor.

Josephine kept the lead until the tenth frame when he was just nosed out by the score at 61 to 59. In the eleventh and twelfth frame Rogers by clever shooting secured fourteen balls in each and then took things easy and won in the fourteenth frame.

The third game of the series will be played Tuesday evening at the Alpha hall pool room and it is expected that the largest gallery that ever witnessed a pool match in this city will be present. The game will commence promptly at nine o'clock. The backers of Josephine still believe him the better man and do not seem satisfied that he has at last met his superior.

AT THE THEATRE

Although "The Exploits of Elaine" was of course the feature picture at Kincaide's Theatre Thursday it was by no means the only centre of attraction on the bill. In the picture line in addition to the thrilling presentation of the adventures of Craig Kennedy, the master detective, "The Clutching Hand," the master crook, and Elaine, the beautiful daughter of the murdered millionaire, there was the Hearst-Selig Weekly with some interesting glimpses of the war and other events of current interest. "Snakesville's Reform wave" was a comedy photo-play on "Women's rights."

Then for the vaudeville—Allen & Ross won favor as Musicians and comedians. Coady was a favorite. Mr. and Mrs. Perkins Fisher appeared in a comedy sketch entitled "In the Half way House," which was a mirth compeller. The show will be repeated today and aSturday.

Among the feature pictures billed for Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays the next few weeks are: "The Thief," "Life's shop window," "Samson," "A Fool There was," "The Idler," "Children of the Ghetto," "The Girl I Left Behind," "The Gilded Fool," "The Butterfly on The Wheel."

Owing to the cold weather there were only two tables in play Wednesday afternoon at the wist party of the Riverside club. The two best scores were made by Mrs. Barbara Milligan and Mrs. William R. Thomas.

RESOLUTIONS.

Since it has pleased the Almighty to remove from our midst our beloved Financial Secretary, Miss Olga E. Lundquist, we hereby resolve:—

That we, Circle Daughters of Viking No. 933 F. of A., express to her mother and other near relatives, our heartfelt sympathy and deep loss of this our Worthy Companion.

Resolved: that we drape our charter for a period of 30 days, and a copy of this resolution be entered on the minutes of the Circle, also printed in the Quincy Daily Ledger.

IDA ERICKSON, C. C.
SOPHIA HOIBY,
Quincy, Mass., Feb. 1, 1915. 5-1t

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to extend to my many friends my heartfelt gratitude for their expressions of sympathy at my recent bereavement in the loss of my beloved wife, also for their beautiful floral tributes.

WILLIAM R. FRENCH.
Quincy, Feb. 5, 1915. 1t

DEATHS

GOTT—In North Abington, Feb. 4, Miss Jane Gott in her 64th year.

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

BAKED BEANS AND BROWN BREAD

How good they taste when fashioned right. Only the best N. Y. State hand picked beans are used at Barnard's. Soaked in clear cold water over night, then washed thoroughly in the morning. We employ the same clean methods as mothers do down in their old Farm Kitchens. Come Madam, try a quart of our Beans for Saturday's supper.

LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN

1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.

THE COLD WEATHER

is now here and a good hot water bottle will feel mighty good.

We have them for as low a price as 69c and up to $2.25.

Remember always that satisfaction coupled with a moderate price is yours when you trade at

CHAS. C. HEARN, City Square Druggist

Feb. 4-6t

STANDISH CLUB MEETS.

The Standish club which is composed of the men of Atlantic held a meeting on Wednesday evening in their temporary club rooms in the Music Hall block, Atlantic. The president, Welcome Young, presided. The purpose of this meeting was to issue certificates of stock in the Standish club. The members also discussed plans fo r the show which is to be held in the early Spring.

THALIA CLUB TO ENTERTAIN.

The Thalia club of girls at the High school will give a social at the High School Gym next Friday. Invitations have been issued to a large number of the boys. At first a dance was to be held, but Head-Master Ernest Collins put a stop to this as he doesn't believe in the modern dancing.

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

NO REST FOR HIS HONOR.

Mayor Campbell's social and business calendar for this evening is a strenuous one. He will address the Wollaston Woman's club briefly during the first part of the evening. In this talk to the women he will make a plea for their co-operation in securing work for women seeking employment.

Later he will attend a session of John Adams Aerie of Eagles and between these two events he will find time to attenda meeting of the City Council committee on fire and police at city hall.

QUINCY DAY NURSERY.

The Quincy Day Nursery, received the following donations during the month of January: Granite City club, Mrs. Henry L. Kincaide, Mrs. W. H. Doble, Mrs. Amos Leavitt, and Mrs. Geo. W. Abele.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

It is difficult to place the blame where it belongs in the matter of the high cost of living, but if you do not take advantage of the low prices at our stores the blame is up to you. We invite your inspection of our fine line of table provisions.

Small Pig Pork Roast—strip	15c lb
Fresh Killed Fowl	20c lb
First Cut Rib Roast	14c 18c 22c lb
Corn Beef Tongue	20c lb
Fancy Bacon—strip	20c lb
Squires Little Pig Sausages	18c lb
Choice Native Onions	30c pk
Cranberries	5c qt
Hubbard Squash	3c lb
Sweet Naval Oranges	25c doz
Juicy Sweet Florida Oranges	21c doz
California Lemons	20c doz
Handsome Baldwin Apples	30c pk
Manhattan Club Rasp. Jam	15c bot
Blue Label Catsup—Pint Bot.	21c
Franklin Mills Entire Wheat	28c pkg
5 lb. Bag Graham	20c
Tryphosa—all flavors	3 pkgs 25c

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980

FOY'S 2 STORES

WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 32 QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 6, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

NEW RECTOR IS NOW RESIDENT

Rev. William Grainger Spends Friday Night In Christ Church Rectory

PREACHES HERE SUNDAY

Rev. William Grainger, the new rector of Christ church, spent his first night as a resident of Quincy Friday. He preaches his first sermon Sunday. It was the intention of Rev. Mr. Grainger to move his household effects to Quincy from Canton early in the week but the stormy weather that has prevailed for the greater part of the week held him four days. The greater part of his household effects arrived Friday afternoon, and he expects that the balance will arrive some time today.

When asked for his impressions of Quincy, he said that on account of the weather he had not been about much as yet, for he had been busy all the morning straightening out his home. The people of Quincy had been very kind to him and his reception had been most cordial and he could frankly say that he was very much pleased with the human side of the city. As for the other side, the weather had been rather against his getting about much.

Rev. and Mrs. Grainger will be tendered a reception by the parish next Thursday evening at the parish house

IVY LODGE INITIATION

English Ivy lodge, O. D. S. G., held an initiation at its meeting in Clan MacGregor hall Friday evening under the direction of Miss Emily Moyle, president. Arrangements were made for a class initiation in March and the question of changing the date of the meetings was discussed but definite action was not taken.

District Deputy Mrs. Coaley of Boston, who was to have paid the lodge an official visit was unable to be present on account of illness.

A social followed the meeting during which refreshments were served and dancing enjoyed, music being furnished by Mrs. Ethel Collins.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Sunday fair and warmer. Monday fair.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.52
Sun sets	5.06
Length of day	10.14
Moon rises	1.04
High water, A. M.	4.30
High water, P. M.	5.00
Days increase	1 hr. 8 minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.33 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	49 degrees
Feb. 6, 1914,	35 degrees
Feb. 6, 1913,	28 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—87.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

Pollyanna
Illustrated with Living Pictures
BY
A. Isabelle Davis
AT
Bethany Chapel, Friday, Feb. 12.
4 P. M. Children 10 Cents
8 P. M. Adults 35 Cents
DON'T MISS IT.
GET YOUR TICKETS NOW.
Feb. 3-3t-3-6-10

ALL READY FOR BIG BANQUET

Board of Trade Ladies Night To Be Best Ever

That the Board of Trade Banquet this year will surpass all successes of former years is now nearly an assured fact. One of the most energetic and enthusiastic committees which has ever handled the details of this star event in the life of this organization has now completed all the details for the Annual Ladies Night and Banquet, to be held at 6.30 P. M. Tuesday

No pains nor expense have been spared to cater to the tastes of the citizens of Quincy and their guests on that occasion. The banquet itself will be one of the best ever provided in this city and the entertainment will be novel. There will be orchestral music throughout the evening by Provost's orchestra, and the Pilgrim Quartetof Boston will render their best selections and lead the general singing.

The post-prandial exercises promise this year to be particularly delightful and entertaining as speakers of reputation as after dinner entertainers have accepted invitations to attend. The secretary reports that there has been a constant demand for tickets and that there is every indication that there will be an attendance up to the limit of the accommodations which have been provided by the committee.

MAKING GOOD PROGRESS.

Hultman's Chapel Plan Is Favorably Received.

Arthur B. Hultman, who has taken up the matter of building a chapel at Mt. Wollaston cemetery, announces that Albert H. Wright is drawing the plans and specifications for the chapel. Mr. Hultman says that several granite men have communicated with him offering to contribute blocks of granite for the chapel, when it is decided what size is needed.

EXEMPLIFY DEGREES.

The Encampments of Quincy, East Weymouth and Rockland, will exemplify the three Odd Fellow Encampment degrees in Odd Fellows Opera house at East Weymouth, Feb. 22, beginning at 3 o'clock. The exemplification will take place in the presence of the grand officers. Manet encampment of Quincy will exemplify the Golden Rule degree, Wampatuck Encampment of East Weymouth the Patriarchal degree and Rockland Encampment of the Royal Purple degree.

WASECA SOCIAL CLUB.

At the Forty-five party conducted by the Waseca Social club Friday night Stephen Schofield won the first prize and John J. Moriarty won the second prize. There were ten tables in play.

BOARDS TO MEET.

The Planning Board and Board of Survey meet with Mayor Campbell at city hall this afternoon to talk over their respective duties. The planning board will organize. Ex-Councilman Gilliatt, the three year man on the Board of Survey, has been designated by Mayor Campbell as chairman

SHORTHAND IN 30 DAYS
WALDO'S BOSTON SHORTHAND SCHOOL
1124-25 Old South Bldg.
Day and Evening Terms and Details cheerfully yours. Telephone Main 2427. Call or write us. 5-6t

Public Whist Party
Ladies and Gentlemen
Monday Evening, Feb. 8, 1915
At 8 P. M.
TOWN RIVER YACHT CLUB
Foot of Edison Park
All R. R. Tickets
Admission 25 Cents
Feb 1-6t

MAYOR CAMPBELL AT EAGLES DANCE

Exhibition Drill by Degree Team of Lodge is one of Chief Features

HIS HONOR MAKES SPEECH

The annual concert and ball of John Adams aerie Fraternal Order of Eagles was held Friday evening in Alpha hall and was the occasion for a large gathering of the members of this well known fraternal order and their friends.

Wilson's orchestra furnished the music for the concert from 8 to 9 o'clock, selections including the Tenth Regiment march, overture "Reception" concert waltz, "Violets" selection, "On Broadway" and for a finale the "Motor Maid.""

The dance program opened shortly after 9 o'clock with a welcome waltz followed by a two-step, dedicated "To our worthy president." Then followed the order of twenty numbers many of which were encored.

An exhibition drill by the degree team of the lodge was the third number on the program, but this was delayed until the arrival of Mayor Campbell. His honor arrived at the hall about 9.30 and was welcomed by President John C. Faircloth and escorted to a seat on the platform.

His honor was briefly introduced and in responding he spoke of the good work being done by the fraternal orders of the city. Such an order as the Eagles, standing as it did for the relief of the members in the time of sickness and death, was doing a grand work and should be encouraged. He said that he had been informed of the good work done during the past year by ex-Councilman Frank J. Duffy, Calling Mr. Duffy to the stage, the mayor addressing him said that he had been told of the hard and effectual work which he had done during the past year as president of the aerie. He had also heard of him in other ways, especially as a member of the city government, which of course interested him. The members of the aerie desired in some way to show their appreciation of his good work and he had been delegated to present to him a gold watch, which he handed to Mr. Duffy, hoping that he would wear it with honor to himself and to the fraternity.

In accepting the gift, Mr. Duffy said that he was completely surprised. He had only done his duty as president of the aerie and if he had brought success to the office he was satisfied. He then spoke on the benefits of the order and said that its 500 members stood solidly together for the relief of the brothers of the aerie in sickness and death.

The gift, a handsome gold watch, was encased in a plush case and was very handsome. On the back case there was engraved the insigna of the order, while on the inside case was the inscription: "Presented to Frank J. Duffy, past worthy president, John Adams aerie, F. O. E. in appreciation of his services."

This pleasant task over the degree team in charge of George Mitchell, marched onto the floor and went through its evolutions in a manner that called for frequent applause. During this exhibition drill the four corners of a square were marked off by four little Misses dressed in white and wearing sashes with the letters of the order. These were Viola McArthur, Margaret Mellon, Grace McDonald and Isabel Whitman.

The drill started off with the formation of the letters "F. O. E." There were then a number of evolutions, the whole ending with the degree team forming in a circle in the centre of the floor. Kneeling they sang "The Star Spangled Banner," while the degree master stood in the centre of the circle bearing aloft, "Old Glory." This ceremony over, dancing was again in order until 2 A. M.

The officers of the ball were as follows: John C. Faircloth, Floor marshal, Fred Steinbrenner, assistant floor marshal, John J. Feeley, floor

(Continued on Page Four.)

PRESENT WATCH TO HENRY SHEA

Waseca Social Club Holds Annual Election

At a well attended meeting of the Waseca Social club held in the club rooms Friday night the following officers, were elected:—John Pinel president; John Tracey, secretary; and Charles McDonald, treasurer.

Henry Shea, the retiring president, leaves Monday to accept a position as electrical draughtsman with a large electrical concern at Bridgeport, Conn. Mr. Shea has worked hard as president of the club and to show their gratitude and appreciation of him, John Pinel in behalf of the club members presented him with a handsome gold watch.

Mr. Shea was quite impressed and thanked the members and wished them success in all their efforts. During the evening a Dutch supper was served under the direction of Edmund Saunders. There were piano solos and songs were contributed by Walter Myatt, Joseph Pinel and David Fields.

FOR ANNUAL ROLL CALL

Patriotic Instructor Gurney, chairman of the committee in charge of the entertainment and annual roll call of Col. Abner Packard camp, Sons of Veterans, reported at the meeting in G. A. R. hall Friday evening the plans for that annual affair. The meeting will be at 7.30. Other arrangements will be under the direction of the "Good of the Order" committee.

It was announced that a delegation expects to attend the fourth annual military ball of the Massachusetts division of the Sons of Veterans in Convention hall on the evening of Feb. 15 and that the camp will attend the Lincoln Day observances at the home of Mrs. Idella Savage, Franklin street, on the evening of Feb. 11. On the 13th inst. the camp and Paul Revere post, G. A. R., will attend the patriotic meeting at the Y. M. C. A. scheduled for four o'clock.

MRS. AMOS T. LEAVITT.

Mrs. Minnie, wife of Amos T. Leavitt, and a prominent worker in the Wollaston Congregational church, died at her home, 67 Lincoln avenue, early this morning, in her 45th year. Mrs. Leavitt underwent a surgical operation Friday and her death was due to the shock caused by the operation. She is survived by a husband and two children. Mr. Leavitt is well known as a member of the firm of Silas Pierce & Co. of Boston. Funeral services will be held from her late home Monday at 2 o'clock.

LIBRARY BOARD ORGANIZES.

The Trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library have organized with Charles R. Safford as chairman, F. Morton Smith as treasurer and Mrs. Elizabeth Alden as secretary.

If you enjoy a good Meal Come
If you enjoy good Speaking Come
If you enjoy good Music Come
If you enjoy novel Entertainment Come
But at all events
Come to the
Quincy Board of Trade Banquet
Tuesday, Feb. 9, 1915
Pilgrim Quartet Provost Orchestra
Feb. 6-2t

WHIST and DANCE
—BY—
Mt. Wollaston Club
Odd Fellows' Hall
ADAMS BUILDING
Every Monday Evening
At 8 P. M.
Whist and Dance 25c
Feb. 6-2t-6-8

QUINCY STILL IN OX AND ASS ERA

Granite Industry Languishes For Want of Proper Transportation Facilities

"GUS" BATES SPEAKS OUT

Editor, The Ledger:

There has been, in the past, more or less discussion concerning the granite industry—in regard to the necessity of its having a public dock and the advisability of locating this dock for the granite industry on Town river. Since I am to confine myself to the granite industry in general it will suffice for me to say that I am heartily in favor of developing property along Town river, but I am opposed to the idea of locating there a public dock for the granite industry, because it is neither the natural nor logical location for the dock which is needed to take care of this big industry.

The decay and present stagnant condition of our granite industry is due to the lack of transportation facilities to and from our quarries and the result of this lack of transportation facilities is that Quincy cannot compete with other granite centres on large paving contracts or for big building and memorial work. The necessary result of our failure to compete for such work is that many of our granite workers must either leave our city or walk the streets waiting for work to turn up in which Quincy might be able to compete.

Our forefathers of the Pioneer days when granite was hauled by the Ox and the Ass, taught us how our product should be transported to the markets of the world when they built the first railroad in the United States running from West Quincy to tidewater on the Neponset river, for the purpose of shipping granite for Bunker Hill monument and other work.

The whole world (except Quincy) has profited from the wisdom and teachings of our forefathers, but Quincy, to its sorrow and disgrace, continues the antiquated method of hauling by the Ox and the Ass.

The railroads to our quarries should have been built years ago, but, unfortunately, the city of Quincy has never before in its history elected a Big Business man for its mayor and that is perhaps the reason why such railroads have never been built.

Our granite industry is a business proposition pure and simple and it is up to his honor, Mayor Campbell, and the city council, who have the power vested in them, to co-operate with the quarry owners and the granite manufacturers and in a friendly but businesslike way demand of the N. Y. N. H., & H. R. R. and the Bay State St. Ry. that they lay their tracks to every quarry in the city. This is not only a reasonable demand but it is absolutely necessary for the salvation of our granite industry and its workers.

My investigations and observations in the past have revealed to me that Quincy, beyond any question of a doubt, with its natural resources of valuable granite quarries (veritable gold mines), if properly equipped the proper transportation facilities by rail and by water, would become the greatest industrial city in the New England states. Our deep and natural waterways and our acquired but disconnected and undeveloped system of steam and electric railroads makes Quincy, residentially, commercially, and industrially naturally the richest city in any of the eastern states.

The logical location for the granite industry is along the Granite Branch and the Neponset river where it will eventually be located. By locating our granite industry on the Granite Branch we remove from our streets the present heavy teaming which destroys our streets and costs the city annually approximately $20,000. The city of Quincy does not receive an annual tax of $10,000 from all of the granite quarries in the city. In fact there have been for

(Continued on Page Two.)

Quincy Board of Trade
Annual Banquet
Tuesday, February 9th, 6.30 P. M.
ALPHA HALL
Good Speaking, Singing, Orchestra. Good Dinner.
Unusual Features
Get Your Tickets at once
E. J. FEGAN, President.
JOHN O. HALL, Sec.
Feb. 2-3t-eod

CONDITIONS ARE NOT SO BAD AS PAINTED

Mayor Campbell Speaks Before Wollaston Woman's Club

Dr. Jay W. Hudson Lectures on "America's Message to Europe"

Under the auspices of the Wollaston Woman's club a pithy and practical lecture on "America's Message to Europe" was delivered in Wollaston School hall by Dr. Jay William Hudson of the University of Missouri, special lecturer for the Massachusetts Peace society.

Preceding the address Mayor Campbell spoke briefly and to the point on civic conditions as he had found them. Conditions at city hall, he declared were not as bad as they were painted.

He had simply found a lot of honest people who had not been properly backed up. There was no antagonism. All had the welfare of the city at heart and all had co-operated with any suggestions.

A friend had asked him what he was going to speak on. The Mayor asked for a suggestion and was told to speak on "Why I put Miss Huston in as Overseer of the Poor."

He stated that he had put her in because he had watched her and thought her fitted for the office. During the past week she had saved the city $100 by investigation.

His honor spoke of the number of families dependent on the city and of the large number that now need help who have never needed it before. He urged that the club establish a bureau to which its members might come when they needed to employ help.

Regarding his appointments the mayor said that if any mistake had been made it was up to him. In closing he spoke a word of appreciation of the stand President Wilson had taken to keep the United States at peace with Mexico.

Dr. Hudson was introduced by Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, president of the club, and spoke interestingly for over an hour interspersing his remarks with many bits of dry humor much appreciated by his audience.

Declaring for a constructive civilization and a co-operative nationalism Dr. Hudson said: "Many people think our only idea is to stop war. War however, is but a symptom of other things.

"Sherman said 'War is Hell' but he had little knowledge of theology. Of the two I prefer Hell for in that place only the wicked are punished. In war countless numbers of innocent women, children and soldiers suffer.

"In spite of the great forces for peace in this country and in Europe public opinion was absolutely powerless to prevent the war. War will not stop until public opinion makes it stop.

"How are we to bring this about? First by creating a new order of things. Second by keeping America out of the fight, and lastly by helping America to do the big thing in contributing to the new world order that will be possible in the future.

"We must educate public opinion to see that war is absolutely futile. Not that it is horrible but that there is nothing to be gained from it in the long run.

"We must reach public opinion through the selfish national patriotic interest of the people themselves.

"Let us take a biological view of the war. All of the great nations of the world declined and fell when they waged great wars of conquest or defense.

"When they sent their young men, the flowers of the nation to be killed and left the cowards and weaklings at home to bring up future generations the very stock of the nation was gone.

"London, Paris, Petrograd and Berlin have sent their best young men. There they lie in hastily covered graves. They are never going back.

"War is literally suicide of the best stock of the nation. In Memorial hall at Harvard stand marble tablets of her students who fell in the Civil war. These and thousands of other college students might have lived to become our poets and essayists.

"I don't say this war is senseless. It couldn't happen without cause. Men do not like to die, to fight in trenches, to face starvation and disease. There is some cause; some reason deep down in the philosophy of nations.

"There was a time when we could localize war but during the last 100 years the world has grown smaller. We have our interests in common. The races have co-operated.

"There is such a complex religious, social, industrial and scientific interrelationship that as soon as one nation begins destroying another nation it is not simply destroying that nation but the whole world; for the world is one.

"It is a blow to the art religion and culture of the whole world. We had

(Continued on Page Two.)

TO LET
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop
—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall
—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for E. F. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block. ('Phone 21066) Quincy

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

ESTABLISHED 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION

BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES

QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

WHO GETS THE PEACE PRIZE?

The trustees of the Nobel Peace Prize not unnaturally are somewhat in a quandary to decide who has contributed most during the year, to the cause of peace. It is understood that there is great opposition to awarding the prize to His Majesty, the German Emperor, His Majesty, the Czar of Russia, His Majesty, the King of England, His Majesty, the Emperor of Austria and Apostolic King of Hungary, or His Excellency, the President of France.

And yet after all these gentlemen, or the governments they represent, may be making real contributions to the future peace of the world. The Great War now devastating Europe may bring among the combatants an exhaustion so complete that peace will hereafter reign supreme. It would be the peace of death rather than the peace of life, and perhaps that would not qualify for the Nobel Prize.

Then there is Gen. Huerta, one time president of Mexico, who certainly made a real contribution to peace by resigning his trembling seat.

But if a worthy person upon whom to bestow the coveted honor is seriously sought there might be suggested a king who has really helped the cause of peace, His Majesty, Gustaf of Sweden.

By his work in leaguing together the three Scandinavian kingdoms, Norway, Sweden and Denmark, King Gustaf has done much to prevent these three countries from being drawn into the war. Separately they presented forces which could be disregarded and bullied, perhaps into fighting, by the great warring powers. United they present a force which cannot be disregarded with impunity.

DECLINE OF MODERN DANCES.

Is the popularity of the ultra-modern dance declining? Some there are who declare that this latest development of the Terpsichorean art has come to stay and to grow. Others declare that the opposition of many churches and individuals is beginning to make itself felt. The latter point to the smaller attendance at many dancing parties in Quincy this winter is one of the grounds for their contention. But there can be no question that other influences have been at work reducing the number of persons who feel they can afford to attend a public dance.

On the other hand it is an undoubted fact that in many recent dances, in this city and in other places, there has been such a pronounced demand for the "old fashioned" dances that some compromise had to be made. The dance order at the recent Elks Ball, one of the really big dances of the city, is illuminating. The order of 20 dances runs as follows: Waltz, two-step, quadrille, onestep, waltz (hesitation) quadrille ,two-step, fox trot, quadrille, waltz, waltz (hesitation) two-step, maxixe, waltz, schottische, fox trot, one-step, two-step, one step, waltz. Of the 20 dances, 13 are either waltz, two-step, quadrille or schottische, all of which have a familiar sound and arouse memories of "the good old days."

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS.

The Ledger is amazed to discover among some of its readers a complete misunderstanding of the character of the "Letters From Our Readers." This column is a public forum, wherein citizens who have opinions upon subjects of general interest may present those opinions before a wider circle than they could hope to reach in any other way. With these opinions the Ledger may or may not agree. Our opinion on the subject has no bearing on our decision whether to publish or not. The Ledger does require that these letters shall be upon topics of general interest, shall avoid personalities and self advertising, and shall not be of a libellous nature. And the letters should be signed. The opinion of a person who is not willing to let it be known that it is his opinion is not worth much.

In its news columns the Ledger sets down the facts as nearly as it can ascertain them. In its editorial column the Ledger gives its opinion and interpretation of those facts. In its letter box it is glad to set down the opinion of its readers.

QUINCY STILL IN

(Continued from Page One.)

years granite quarries which have been virtually unassessed, because the tax received by the city would not amount to a reasonable assessment upon the personal property alone.

The present cost of shipping granite from the quarries to New York the greatest granite market on the world, varies between $2.50 and $3.00 per ton. The reason for this exorbitant rate is because the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., having stifled competition has created a transportation monopoly. With the proper transportation facilities from our quarries to the waterfront we could ship the same granite which costs us today close to $3.00 per ton for seventy-five cents a ton.

Again, I say, the mayor and the council have the whip hand and if they have the back bone, which I trust they have, the Quincy granite industry is on the dawn of a new and prosperous era.

Gustave B. Bates.

CONDITIONS ARE NOT

(Continued from Page One.)

better learn this lesson and learn it awfully quick.

"There must come a new international patriotism. There is a new international loyalty demanded. We have the interests of our family at heart but we put them aside when the interests of our state are at stake.

"When our country calls we put this above the duties to our state. We have patriotism for our country but we must not set national self aggrandizement over world welfare.

"When this is felt in Europe there will be no more war. Then will the new internationalism spring up.

"What is America's message to Europe? Let Europe with her old barbaric race prejudices look over here and see what we are.

"Slav, Teuton, Jew, Anglo Saxon we care not what they are so long as they make good citizens. We have here solved the European race prejudice.

"America is the great melting pot. Here is our great message to Europe. It is nonsense to try to spread culture by force of arms.

"German culture is not alone German culture. She owes it to all the nations of the earth.

"France has conquered us by her Victor Hugo, England has conquered us by giving Shakespeare. So it is with Russian culture and that of the other nations.

"Europe will have a hard time to pay attention to the higher things of civilization. We will have to take the lead in the finer aspects which Europe will for a time have to forego.

"We need to develop as the basis for international co-operation a new international life, a new international consciousness and a new international conscience."

QUINCY IS INTERESTED.

Quincy is interested in the naval program bill whic hpassed the National House of Representatives Friday as it provides for two battleships of the largest and most powerful design at $7,800,000 each, exclusive of armor and armament; six torpedo boat destroyers at $925,000 each; one sea going submarine boat at $1,400,000; eleven submarines at $500,000 each; one oil fuel ship at $1,140,000.

The proposed hospital ship costing $2,500,000 and a transport ship costing $1,100,000 was stricken from the bill before it was passed. An amendment was tacked onto the bill providing that three of the six destroyers may be constructed on the Pacific coast and five of the submarines can be built there. It also provides that any of the vessels authorized may be constructed at government yards. The bill has now gone to the Senate.

Should the bill become a law, there is no question but what the Fore River Corp., would be a bidder and without doubt it would be awarded contracts for some of the vessels.

RETURNS FROM HOSPITAL.

Mrs. Isaac McNiel has returned from the Quincy hospital where she recently underwent a serious operation. Her friends are pleased to see her around again.

ONLY ONE "Bromo Quinine," that is Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove on box. 25c.

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By special invitation Quincy Y. P. C. U. were guests Sunday evening of the North Weymouth union.

Mrs. John A. Silva of River street is confined to the house with an attack of the grippe.

Mrs. David Hamilton of Faxon road is recovering from her recent illness and expects to be out in a few days.

George L. Barnes of Weymouth has been chosen to fill the vacancy, created by Don Gleason Hill's death, in the Dedham Mutal Fire Insurance Co.

The Atlantic Men's club of Memorial church is to have an entertainment and buffet lunch Wednesday evening Hoyt L. Conary of Waltham is to read.

Evangelistic meetings are to be held at the First Universalist church the evenings of March 1, 2, and 3, with Rev. Charles Conklin, D. D., as the preacher.

Friends of Roy Clark of Walker street are glad to learn that his mother who has been in the Attleboro Hospital has returned to her home and is doing well.

Miss Molly Avery and Miss May Bruton were among the Quincy folks that attended the Boston College prom held Friday night at the Somerset hotel, Boston.

Miss Sadie Mellen has returned to her position at A. L. Whitman's dry goods store after having been sick for two weeks.

Mildred, the three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Amet of Common street, is confined to her home with diphteria.

Archibald Yule is seriously ill at his home on Washington street with blood poisoning of his neck. His many friends are hoping for his speedy recovery.

Mrs. Jacob Peterson of Graham street has returned from Barre, Vermont, where she has been attending the funeral of her uncle Mr. Joseph Graham of that city.

The many friends of Miss Theresa Auley of West street will be pleased to hear that she has fully recovered from her recent illness and, weather permitting, she will be able to go out next week.

The Congregational church union at their annual meeting Monday complimented Memorial church of Atlantic for its activities the past year. Special mention was made of giving the pastor freedom in developing the Squantum church.

The Woman's Guild of St. Chrysesom's is to hold an all day session in the new parish house Wednesday, followed by the regular business meeting at 2.30 in the Guild room. A basket lunch with hot coffee will be served at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Mathers of Clark street expect to bring home their baby daughter, Marion from the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary Sunday. The child had a successful operation on her ear a little over a week ago.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Olsson of Webster street sympathize with them in the death of their nine year old daughter, Elma. The child died at the Children's Hospital Wednesday forenoon after an illness of five months.

The Walther Men's class will meet Sunday at 12.15 in the Wollaston Baptist church. Rev. Joseph Walther will lead the discussion, subject: "Ruth and her excellent Choice." Song service by large chorus of men and hearty greeting. All men not in similar classes invited to join this strong and growing class.

The Y. P. C. U. is to conduct the three o'clock service Sunday afternoon at the Universalist church in observance of Young Peoples day. Addresses will be given by Freeman Hyland on "The History of the Y. P. C. U."; E. B. Spooner on "The Watchword of the Y. P. C. U."; and Miss Hanson on "The Colors of the Y. P. C. U." At the regular meeting of the Union at 4.15 Rev. M. C. Ward pastor of the church will give an address on "Lincoln's Faith and Honesty."

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackleton, Director
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings. 6-6t

SOUTH BRAINTREE

William A. Ide of 36 Taylor street, a resident here for the past 12 years has moved to Boston.

Roy C. Brett of Tufts College is laid up at his home on Summer street with a badly cut hand.

Dallas P. Monk of Washington street has been confined to the house this week on account of a sprained ankle.

Miss Helen Simonds of Tremont street has recovered from her recent attack of scarlet fever and the quarantine has been raised.

Frank C. Allen of Franklin street was confined to his home for a few days this week because of a severe cold.

About thirty young people from this town attended the ball given by Quincy lodge of Elks Wednesday evening in Music hall, Quincy.

The Pond Cemetery Association will meet next Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock with Mrs. H. W. Borden Franklin street.

Frank A. Reed of 14 Thayer avenue has announced his intention of being a candidate for member of the school committee in place of I. Wendell Gammons who declines to stand for re-election.

At the next meeting of the Braintree Catholic Women's club to be held in K. of C. hall Thursday evening an address will be delivered by Rev. James J. McMorrow, assistant pastor of the St. Francis' church.

Postmaster Murray of Boston has approved the discontinuance of the parcel post wagon at South Braintree, which had been operated at a cost of about twenty-five dollars each month.

At the weekly whist party of the Braintree club held Monday evening souvenirs, were presented to Mrs. E. B. Gerrish, Mrs. McCabe, Mrs. McLane, Dr. C. V. Haworth, James V. Cuff and L. Thurlow Torrey.

There was a meeting of the Woman's Sodality of St. Francis' church Sunday afternoon. Rev. James J. McMorrow preached a sermon and afterward plans were made for the parish reunion which is to be held soon.

Charles G. Anderson and his daughter Miss Lulu Anderson returned Monday from Uxbridge. They expect to break up their home here about the first of March and will reside with Charles A. Anderson of that town.

Rev. Hugh F. Blunt, pastor of the St. Francis church will deliver the address at the Washington and Lincoln memorial services to be held in the Town hall, February 16th under the auspices of the allied patriotic societies. Rev. Fr. Blunt is the son of a Civil War veteran.

A whist party in aid of Sons of Veterans Auxiliary No. 16 was held at the home of Mrs. A. F. Hollis, 39 Taylor street Wednesday evening Souvenirs were secured by Mrs. L. B. Spaulding, Miss Marie Seguin, Mrs W. E. Knowlton, George Ryan, Mrs. James D. Fox and John Kelley.

At the meeting of the Pond street A. A. held in their new clubhouse on Pond street Wednesday evening there was a social, with whist, music and games. Souvenirs for highest scores at whist were awarded to Mrs. William Tucker, Mrs. Winfred H. Pierce,. William Tucker and George Lemuel.

The funeral of the late Mrs. C. G. Anderson of Taylor street was held in the chapel of the South Congregational church Saturday at noon. The services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Tyler E. Gale and the members of Post 87, G. A. R., and Womans Relief Corps No. 94 attended in a body. The remains were taken to Uxbridge for burial.

The executive and entertainment committees of the South Parish Men's Club held an important meeting at the home of the president, Harry A. Simonds of Franklin street, Wednesday evening and perfected plans for coming meetings. An interesting season is anticipated and several well known lecturers and other entertainers have already been secured.

Last Sunday, Ibrahim Spencer and Robert Illingworth, two six year old boys of Braintree Highlands disappeared from home shortly after noon and were found later at the junction of Union and Middle streets, two miles away, by special officer G. Henry Jones. When night came on and the snow began to fall thickly, the neighbors organized a searching party. When Mr. Jones found the boys they were unaware that they had strayed from home.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

GIVE DANCE AND ENTERTAINMENT

Quincy Y. W. C. Hold Annual Gentlemen's Night

The Quincy Young Women's club held its annual gentlemen's night in New Colonial hall Friday evening. The proceeds will be added to the fund for the establishment of a Recreation House in the Adams Academy building.

The program was divided into two parts, an entertainment and dancing and was enjoyed by a most appreciative audience.

Mayor Chester I. Campbell, was one of the special guests of the evening. He was accompanied by several newspapermen.

The matrons were Mrs. Arthur Townsend, Mrs. Wilson Marsh, Mrs. Frank Emery, Mrs. Herbert Lawton, Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann and Miss Mary E. Gavin.

"The Obstinate Family," a playlet was given by the Misses Lora Churchill, May Knapp, Isabelle Taberner, Hilda Taberner, Ruth Farmer, Ruth Dahl. "A Husband in Clover" was given by Miss Lydia Djerf and Miss Edith Mullen.

The male parts were taken by the young women and the presentations were high class and complimentary to Mrs. H. Gurney of Wollaston, who conched the productions.

Home made candy was sold during the performance by the ushers who comprised the committee: the Misses Edith Mullen, chairman; Hannah Sandberg, Elsie Whitehead, Sadie Berman, Sadie Abrams, Marguerite Hill, Irene Ray, Harriet Waterhouse and Mary Beal.

The evening was brought to a close with dancing, music being furnished by Fred and Irving Hayden.

CITY CHARTER AMENDMENTS

The bill amending the city charter relative to the filling of vacancies in the office of mayor or members of the city council has been passed by the House and is now before the Senate. It is not expected that the bill will encounter opposition. There seems to be a general belief, however, that the bill should be amended somewhat before it is finally passed.

As the charter now reads in the case of a vacancy in the office of mayor, within three months from the end of the year, the position is filled by the president of the city council. This happened last year, as is well known ,and Joseph L. Whiton filled both the office of mayor and president of the council.

The general impression seems to be that when the president assumes the office of mayor his position as a member of the city council and president should be declared vacant, and that the vacancy thus created should be filled by the election of a new member.

The reason for this is because it is not believed to be good business for a man to hold two such important positions at one and the same time and then again that as mayor he should not be called to pass in final judgment upon a matter in which he took part in passing through the council.

DISTRICT COURT.

The continued case of James C. Grant for assault at Milton came up this morning at which time he entered a plea of nolo. He was then sentenced to six months in the house of correction and the sentence suspended until Jan. 26, 1916 on payment of $9 on account of costs.

The continued case of Umbarto Giordiani for assault at Quincy was called and the complaint dismissed.

James Tirrell was arraigned for assault at Weymouth. Case continued until Feb. 13.

John Bizzozero was fined $5 for useing profane language on the public street at Quincy.

Jacob Abdalla was fined $5 for peddling without a license at Milton.

William F. Barry was fined $15 for drunkeniness at Quincy.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

Masquerade Costumes For Rent
Children's Costumes in variety
MRS. R. E. WOODWARD
155 Billings Road
Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs
Feb. 3-tf

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhœa. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years
The Kind You Have Always Bought
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE COLD WEATHER

is now here and a good hot water bottle will feel mighty good.

We have them for as low a price as 69c and up to $2.25.

Remember always that satisfaction coupled with a moderate price is yours when you trade at

CHAS. C. HEARN, City Square Druggist

Feb. 4-3t

$20,000 TO MASONS.

By the will of Henry A. Belcher of Randolph filed Thursday at Dedham the testator's wife, Anna P. Belcher, who is named as executrix, is given the property for use during her life. At her death it is stipulated that one-fourth is to go to her next of kin, and of the remaining three-fourths $10,000 is to go to a nephew, Henry E. Cottle, $20,000 to the Masonic Education and Charity Trust for the benefit of Charleton Home; $2000 to the Norfolk Union Lodge of Masons at Randolph, and the balance to be distributed to the disposition of Mrs. Belcher.

A few private bequests before the bulk of the property is given to the widow include annual gifts of $1,000 each to Mr. Belcher's sister, Harriet B. Cottle, and her husband, Edmund Cottle; and gifts of $500 and $250 to four employees.

LINEN SHOWER.

"It never rains but it pours" is an old and homely adage but nevertheless it proved to be a factor that had to be reckoned with at a jovial gathering of a number of the belles of Quincy Thursday evening. Not that the elements proved disastrous to any of their plans for in reality the showers were the order of the evening.

The table decorations were in pink or was in somewhat of a different nature being in various forms of linen, embroidery etc., tendered as a surprise to Miss Pauline V. Swingle to show the esteemed appreciation of her many young friends. To make the surprise complete the party was held at the residence of Mrs. Lawrence B. Pratt on Faxon avenue, where the blushing bride to be was invited for a quiet evening, only to be surrounded by an anxious gathering which needed only the presence of Miss Pauline to release their constrained enthusiasm.

Singing, games and refreshments and white, hearts and cupids predominating. At a late hour the party dispersed with congratulations and good wishes to the future bride.

The party included: Miss Mila Bates, Mrs. Wm. Adrian, Miss Eleanor Files, Miss Christina Booth, Mrs. Manley Perry, Mrs. Nathan E. Austin, Mrs. George H. Ryder, Miss Margaret Carruthers, Miss Annie Allen, Mrs. J. Winthrop Pratt, Mrs. Thomas Cassey, Miss Florence Pratt, Mrs. Lawrence Pratt, Miss Marjorie Taber, Miss Pauline Swingle, Mrs. Jonathan Swingle.

John J. Moriarty, Ken McKenzie and Joseph Pinel were the prize winners at the weekly whist party for gentlemen at the Town River Yacht club on Thursday evening. There were eight tables in play.

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE

Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit

WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS

Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.

Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block
Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.-tf

Build Now! Plan Now!

To the prospective home builders of Quincy that Quincy may share in the general betterments that will accrue to every one who takes advantage of the Build Now opportunities we propose the following inducement which we are sure the material men and all labor will generously follow. For a limited time we will blueprint any of our plans of flats at a reduction from the regular price. We will also estimate all building work at Build Now prices and can save you some money if you'd dare take a chance.

How many Real Boosters in Quincy?

J. W. PRATT Architect and Builder
18 FAXON AVE, from City Sq. Tel 581-W

In SOCIETY

Mrs. Walter E. Burke, Mrs. Chester I. Campbell, Mrs. Herbert S. Child, Mrs. Henry M. Faxon, Mrs. Harry L. Rice, Mrs. Samuel J. Ripley, Mrs. Russell A. Sears and Mrs. W. Everett Simmons, Jr., are to be the matrons at the Valentine dance to be given Saturday afternoon by the Quincy Day Nursery Association.

* * *

Misses Elizabeth and Mildred Sayward of Belmont street entertained the Qui Vive Club at their home the afternoon of Jan. 28. As usual auction bridge was in order, the first prize being won by Miss Mabel Badger. During intermission covers were laid for eight and a very dainty luncheon served. Miss Lucille Smalley will be hostesses at the next meeting of the club.

* * *

Miss Madeline Stewart of South Norwalk, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Foy, left Friday for New York. A farewell supper was given to her by a large number of her friends at Mr. Foy's home.

* * *

Miss Miriam Marsh of Irving place has been a recent guest of Mrs. Parsons of Amherst.

* * *

Mrs. Adelaide A. Claflin of Cambridge, formerly of this city was again on Wednesday elected to the presidency of the Castilian Club.

* * *

Mrs. Frederick H. Steenstra of Hancock street was in New York last week, going over on Monday.

* * *

Invitations have gone out from the wardens and vestry of Christ church for a reception to Rev. and Mrs. William Grainger to be held in the parish house Thursday evening February the eleventh from eight until ten o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Grainger moved from Canton this week and are settled in the rectory.

* * *

Miss Etta M. Prescott of Presidents hill is the guest for a few weeks of Miss Emma C. Low of Brooklyn, New York, going over Thursday.

* * *

Rev. and Mrs. Leander C. Manchester of Davis street left the first of the week for Southern Pines, North Carolina where they will stay until spring. Dr. Manchester is secretary of the Episcopal Diocese of Massachusetts and they have gone south for his health.

* * *

Miss Edith Crane of Malden formerly of this city, daughter of the late Samuel Crane of High School avenue, has been the guest of Quincy friends this week.

* * *

Mrs. Herbert H. Augusta and Fred August of Shellbrooke, Saskatchewan, Canada are guests for a fortnight of their relatives the Elmer E. Grays of Newton street.

* * *

Mrs. Carl R. Sheppard of Edgemere road is leaving Monday for New Jersey for a visit to her parents.

* * *

Invitations have gone out to friends past members of the Quincy Women's Club for a reception at the clubhouse Tuesday afternoon February twenty-third at half past two, in observance of the tenth anniversary of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Spicer gave a surprise whist at their home on Faxon road Saturday evening to Mr. and Mrs. Alva T. Beede, it being the ninth anniversary of their wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Beede happened to be high scorers for the evening and were presented with a cut glass dish, and six white and gold banded bouillon cups and saucers. After games and music a chafing dish luncheon was served in the dining room by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Albert H. Hall. A wedding cake made by Mrs. Spicer was cut and served by Mrs. Beede. The gifts were a great surprise, it being the regular evening for the club to meet. Mrs. Spicer made a charming hostess and all voted it a most enjoyable evening. The club meets again this evening with Mr. and Mrs. Everett Swan of Flint street Norfolk Downs.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth G. Pattee of School street is giving a small dancing party Thursday evening in Hancock hall.

* * *

Mrs. Mary French of Abington has been spending the week with friends in Wollaston.

* * *

Mrs. W. E. Thomas of Bridgewater has returned to her home after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Ferguson of Wollaston.

* * *

Miss Lillian Welsh of Brooklyn, New York, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Henry E. Pineo. She plans to stay in Quincy for the month of February.

* * *

Miss Beatrice Morrison of Edgemere road is a guest over the week end of her uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Sprague of Malden.

* * *

Q. W. C. ANNUAL DRAMATICS.

The annual dramatics to be given Feb. 9, by the Quincy Womens' Club promises to be unusually attractive. The play "A Rose O' Plymouth Town" is a story of early colonial days, and abounds in sentiment and thrilling situations.

The stage will be set in the first act as an old colonial kitchen of 1622. In those days, this room was a living room, as well as kitchen. The furnishings, while not actually of the year 1622 will be old enough to create the illusion. The tablecloth will be of real hand-spun damask, over one hundred years old; of unique old chairs one of dark red wood, is very, very, old, dating almost back to the Mayflower. There will be some exceptionally fine pewter pieces including a trencher. These interesting old articles and furniture are family heirlooms lent for the occasion by club members. In addition, the characters will be accurately costumed, in dresses of the period.

The cast will be as follows:

Miles Standish, Mrs. Wilson Marsh
Garrett Foster, Mrs. George Fleming
John Margeson, Mrs. George L. Badger
Philippe de la Noye,
Miss Ella Packard
Barbara Standish,
Mrs. Charles Sampson
Resolute Story,
Mrs. Edward L. Mitchell, Jr.
Miriam Chillingsley,
Miss Clarice Doble
Rose de la Noye,
Mrs. Willard P. Sheppard

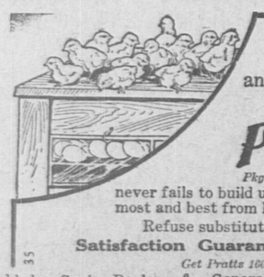

Club members may obtain guest tickets of Mrs. Charles R. Safford, Mrs Zenas S. Arnold, Mrs. Geo. L. Badger, Mrs. Herbert S. Barker, Mrs. Geo H. Brown, Mrs. Percy L. Davidson, Mrs. Geo. Fleming Mrs. W. F. Cummings, Mrs. Edward E. Jameson, Mrs. Jesse I. Litchfield, Mrs. Frank J. Moore, Mrs. Charles A. Pinkham, Miss Margaret L. Thomas, Miss Emily C. Wilde, and Mrs. Herbert W. Pinkham.

Special cars by way of Wollaston, and also Norfolk Downs will leave for Quincy at one o'clock going direct to Music hall. Special cars after the play will leave City square at five o'clock.

Pratt's Vienna Bread

Baked expressly for those who appreciate the best. Always uniform in quality and quantity.

YOUR GROCER

Fertile Eggs

and healthy chicks come only from healthy hens

Pratts Poultry Regulator

Pkgs. 25c, 50c, 60c, $1.00; 25 lb. pail $2.50

never fails to build up the health of a hen so as to get the most and best from her. Best Spring tonic.

Refuse substitutes; insist on Pratts.

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Back.

Get Pratts 160 page Poultry Book.

Sold by Grain Dealers & General Stores. 6639.

REPORT ASSAULT UPON WOMAN

Quincy police headquarters received a report from Houghs Neck about midnight that a woman had been assaulted on Rock Island road as she was about to enter her home. Her assailant was said to have been an unidentified man. Patrolman Nils Dahlberg was sent out on the case but has not completed his investigation.

BRIEFS

eRv. Clarence E. Campbell will conduct both services at the Water street Presbyterian church Sunday.

Probably no man in America today knows China better than Dr. Isaac T. Headland. Quincy people may hear him on Sunday at the Methodist church, Wollaston, where he is to speak both morning and evening.

It is expected that Right Excellent, District Deputy Grand High Priest, Olin D. Dickerman of Abington with will be present at the regular convowill be presnt at the regular convocation of St. Stephen's Royal Arch Chapter, Wednesday evening.

The monthly tea of the Massachusetts Society of the Daughters of the Revolution was held Friday from 3 until 5 o'clock in the society rooms at Hotel Westminster, Copley Square Boston.

HUNT RABBITS.

Arthur Green of Washington street Quincy Point is spending a month with Harry Redding of Plymouth formerly of Quincy Point. They report several successful rabbit hunts.

SETTLED OUT OF COURT.

The civil suits of Miss Mary Burkard of eWst Quincy and Alois Burkard, against the N. Y., N. H. & H. R R. Co., on trial Friday in the Norfolk Superior Court was taken from the jury and settled by agreement of both parties.

LOCAL SEPTETTE MEET SUPERIOR

Wollaston Hockey Club Loses First Game

The Wollaston septette lost its first hockey game of the season to the Cunningham boys at Milton Friday night by a score of 4 to 2.

Both teams played first class and the Milton boys were the victors probably because they were heavier to a man. Wollaston's game with Milton High at Milton today has been postponed. The summary of Friday's game:

CUNNINGHAM	WOLLASTON
Boylston, rw	lw, L. Fowler
Furber, c	c, A. Hall
Telford, r	r, W. Fowler
Simpson, lw	rw, Osberg
Fuller, cp	cp, Webber
	cp, Brown
Hastings, p	p, W. Hall
Driscoll, g	g, Lovell

Score Cunningham 4, Wollaston 2. Goals, Telford 2, Hastings 2, W. Fowler, A. Hall. Referee, Hastings. Umpire, Osberg and Jones. Time 2 20m pds.

SPECIAL for TODAY

$1.25 Kid Cape Gloves $1.00

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.

The Shirtwaist Store

SUBMARINE L-2 TO BE LAUNCHED

Submarine L-2, one of the eight authorized by Congress in 1912, will be launched at the Fore River shipyard Thursday at 8.30 A. M. The vessel will cost $534,000 and will have a surface displacement of 450 tons. Her surface speed will be 14 knots.

Mrs. Amy Gray of Marlboro street, Boston, will be the sponsor. Mrs. Gray is the mother of Ensign Augustine H. Gray, who is to be the commander of the submarine. The launching will be private.

The L boats are the largest submarines now in commission in the United States Navy. The M submarine under construction at the shipyard is 50 per cent completed and when launched will be the largest afloat in local waters.

ABANDON PARCEL POST WAGON

Postmaster Murray has dropped the parcel post wagon in South Braintree. Hereafter letter carriers will deliver the parcel post matter in that district. The discontinuance of the wagon is the first step in a program of retrenchment throughout the Boston postal district.

CITY HALL NOTES

An examination for enumerators for the decennial census of 1915 is to take place this evening in the council chamber at 7 o'clock. The examination will be conducted by the department of the Bureau of Statistics

A new floor is being laid in the gentlemen's toilet room in the rear of city hall.

The committee on fire department of the city council will visit the Central Fire station Tuesday afternoon to look over the fire alarm system and apparatus.

VISITS BROTHER HERE.

August Rouleau of Barre, Vt., Once Lived In Quincy.

August Rouleau, a member of the city council of Barre, Vermont, is the guest of his brother, Joseph Rouleau of Filbert street. Years ago he was well known in West Quincy where he resided. He is now proprietor of one of the largest granite quarries in Barre.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

MOST MEN WASH THEIR NECKS

and some of them wash rubber collars as well as their necks

WE DON'T WASH MEN'S NECKS WE WASH MEN'S COLLARS

and we launder them with a water ditch which prevents cracking, and allows men's neckties to slide around. And it takes the fury out of men.

AND YOU, MR. MAN

ought to if you don't do it now—send your Shirts, Collars and Cuffs to

TEL QUINCY 407

THE TEAM WILL CALL

ENJOY FEAST OF SEVEN TABLES

St. Chrysostom's Guild Have Pleasant Evening

"The feast of the Seven Tables" was an excellent buffet supper served Friday night in the parish house of St. Chrysostom's church, under the direction of Mrs. H. Kneeland Ellis, Jr., assisted by an efficient committee composed of Sunday school teachers and members of the Guild. The menu consisted of soup, chicken loaf, creamed potatoes, escalloped fish, tomato salad, fruit, cake, pies of all kinds and coffee. The waitresses were girls in the Sunday school dressed in fancy costumes.

An entertainment followed at eight o'clock, also under the direction of Mrs. Ellis. It was of a miscellaneous character opening with the game of observation in which the winner Dorothy Hennigar was awarded a box of chocolates.

Piano duets by Miss Louisa Allison Ross and Miss Marion Harmon were much enjoyed. Miss Marion Orr found favor with her readings which included "The Litle Hero," "Betty and Bear," "Poor Little Joe" and "Aunt Tahbitas."

Miss Grace MacDonald's fancy dancing was heartily applauded and she responded with an encore. Mrs. Frederick S. Waite sang "Philosophy" by Emmell and "I love you so" by Foote, with fine effect.

Archibald H. Briggs as Mr. Jarley introduced in his inimitable manner his famous waxwork figures. As a satirical burlesque and parody it was a great success. An amusement of the wholesome kind which causes laughter and gives pleasure. Peter, John and Charles S. Vibert and Ellis McTear were assistants who wound up and oiled the figures, represented as follows:

Queen of Hearts—Dorothy Wetmore
King Cole—John Mac Adams
Mrs. Allen's hair restorer—Mildred Wilmore.
Buffalo Bill—Roy Walker.
Mrs. Winslows soothing syrup—Elsie Thompson.
Dr. Watts—Sidney MacLaughlin.
May Queen—Elsie Whitehead.
Organ Grinder—Frank Fulton
John Alden—Roger Allen.
Priscilla—Mildred Bean.
Squalini—Margaret Buzzell.
Uncle Tom—Lawrence Wetmore.
Cinderella—Beatrice Nickerson.
Sleeping Beauty—Gladys Parlee.
The Prince—Everett Miller.
Little Red Riding Hood—Sadie Williams.
Goddess Flora—Marion Orr.
Orphelia—Bertha Shultz.
Liberty—Annie Lowe.
Bernice Hobson accompanied on the piano. General dancing followed the entertainment with Miss Elsie Thompson at the piano.

PLEASANT SUNDAY SERVICE.

At the pleasant Sunday evening service in Bethany church, the pastor will lecture on "Blessed is the Oiler." All who come will be cordially welcomed. The pastor feels that Quincy has special need of this message. Organ recital at 7.15.

CLARA MORRISON
Pianist and Teacher
Leschetizky Method
CATHERINE MORRISON
Mandolin and Guitar
50 Hamilton Street, Wollaston
Tel. Quincy 1318-W. Sept 30-w,s,-1y

MUSIC HALL, QUINCY,

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 10

THE OPERA

MIKADO

Will be given under the auspices of the Music Committee of the Quincy Women's Club, at Music Hall, Quincy, Wednesday evening, February 10, at 8 o'clock.

Leading Parts by Professionals.

Large Chorus of Mixed Voices.

TICKETS (all reserved) may be obtained from Mrs. William H. Doble, 24 South street, Quincy, Telephone Q. 514-W. Price $1.00 and 75c each.

DRESS REHEARSAL FOR CHILDREN

At Music Hall, February 10, at 3.30 P. M. Children under 14 years of age may attend by paying 25 cents at the door.

6-3t

BAKED BEANS AND BROWN BREAD

How good they taste when fashioned right. Only the best N. Y. State hand picked beans are used at Barnard's. Soaked in clear cold water over night, then washed thoroughly in the morning. We employ the same clean methods as mothers do down in their old Farm Kitchens. Come Madam, try a quart of our Beans for Saturday's supper.

LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN

1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.

If about to build or repair, specify

NEPONSET SHINGLES

Durable, Artistic and Fireproof, nothing better.

Surely call or write for samples.
See them and be convinced.

GROSSMAN'S BUILDING SUPPLY HOUSE

"The House of Quality"

37 Federal Ave. Tel. 979-R Quincy Quincy Adams, Mass.

Furniture Storage Warehouse

Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.

Rates $2---$3---$4 per month

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.

1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.

Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.-tf

ENTHUSIASM AT W. C. T. U. MEETING

William G. Shaw general secretary of the Christian Endeavor Union will be a candidate for governor this fall on a platform pledged to prohibition if neither of the dominant parties endorse the movement.

This announcement was made by Mrs. Ada Frisbee, state secretary of the Women's Christian Temperance Union and Editor of the "Message" at a meeting of the local organization at the home of Mrs. Caroline A. Spear, 166 Washington street, Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Frisbee's announcement was unofficial and was incorporated in her general report on the work of the union in the nation.

To demonstrate the support the prohibition movement is receiving Mrs. Frisbee said 10,000 women are ready to campaign actively in behalf of Mr. Shaw and every report indicates that citizens throughout the entire state are in receptive mood and will heartily co-operate with the W. C. T. U. in bringing it about.

Mrs. Frisbee brought the greetings of State President Catherine Lent Stevenson who was unable to be present and explained the petition filed with the Massachusetts legislature asking the enactment of a bill relative to the sale of intoxicating liquors in grocery and provision stores.

The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic held by the Quincy branch in months and was well attended. Rev. Merrill C. Ward, pastor of the Universalist church, was the only local clergyman present.

The meeting was also the occasion of a reception to Mrs. Spear, one of the foremost advocates of prohibition in the state, who observed the 92nd anniversary of her birth on Nov. 28, 1914. Mrs. Spear personally welcomed each arrival and took part in the business session which preceded the talk of Mrs. Frisbee.

A pleasant feature of the afternoon was the singing by Ethel Thompson, the 11-year old daughter of Mrs. A. M. Thompson an officer of the Quincy branch, of the new prohibition song. The words of one of the four verses follow, and are to be sung to "Tipperary:"

It's been a long way to prohibition,
It's a long way to go,
It's been a long way to prohibition,
To the first land we know,
So it's goodbye local option,
High license we'll not spare,
It's been a long way to prohibition,
But we're almost there.

The many friends of Mrs. Richard Holden of Mill street will be pelased to hear that she is able to be up and around after a severe attack of the grippe.

W. H. HASLETT

31 Bridge Street, Quincy

Tel. Quincy 1092 W

Plastering and Cementing
Concrete Houses
Outside Stucco Work
Cement Walks, Steps and Cellar Floors.

PETROSILO sanitary and fireproof flooring—guaranteed to wear longer than hard wood floor—no joints one continuous piece put over any floor.

Feb. 25- W-S. tf

WE have the largest and most complete stock of Oriental Rugs in Boston and can always show you a greater assortment than you can find elsewhere.

JOHN H PRAY & SONS CO

646-650 Washington St., opp. Boylston St.

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy

REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY

Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 18 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield. Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

JUNIOR LEAGUE HOLDS CONTESTS

JUNIOR LEAGUE RESULTS.

Capt. Wren 3, Capt. Sullivan 1.
Capt. Swain 3, Capt. Kelliher 1.

None of the Junior league records were smashed at Wardwell's Friday night but more interesting contests have not taken place since the schedule opened. Three pins for the Kellihers in the first single would have caused a division of the points with the Swains. Plenty of rooting affected some bowlers and they were unable to get their average.

CAPT. SWAIN—3.

O'Donnell	89	95	71	255
Curtan	87	83	105	275
Callahan	83	103	83	269
Lecount	91	82	108	281
Swain	82	84	115	281
	432	447	482	1361

CAPT. KELLIHER—1.

Byrne	82	87	85	254
Little	82	80	92	254
Ford	79	91	88	258
Barba	91	86	75	252
Kelliher	100	79	94	273
	434	423	434	1291

CAPT. WREN—3.

J. Gilcoine	90	95	105	290
Griffin	91	84	86	261
DeSenso	98	62	90	250
Wren	81	83	97	260
Dummy	75	75	75	225
	435	398	453	1286

CAPT. SULLIVAN—1.

Moody	75	91	75	241
Sarno	101	106	81	288
Norris	68	77	88	223
Sharkey	79	66	74	219
McConarty	90	74	69	233
	413	414	387	1214

CONCERT BY F. R. BAND

The employees of the Fore River shipyard and their families will be the guests at the first concert of the newly organized Fore River band of 35 pieces in the Kincaide theatre Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. The band, organized on the suggestion of President Powell several months ago, made its first public appearance when the torpedo boat Cushing was launched in January, and received a royal welcome.

The concert will be under the direction of John Carter, formerly of Carter's band, who has been organizing the combination. The program will include all of the popular song hits of the day.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

WILLIAM R. DIMOCK
Carpenter and Builder
Plans furnished and estimates given. All work personally and promptly attended to [133 PROSPECT AVENUE
WOLLASTON
☞ Telephone 1346 W Quincy.

STANDING OF F. R. LEAGUE

Six Teams Roll Thursday Night

FORE RIVER LEAGUE

	Won	Lost	Pctg.
Machine Gallery	68	12	.850
Yard	59	17	.777
Electricians	47	29	.618
N. Dept.	47	29	.614
D. Dept.	42	38	.525
Shipfitters	41	35	.511
Ex-Apprentices	32	44	.421
Treas. Office	25	31	.393
Blacksmiths	32	44	.421
U. S. N.	29	47	.381
Machine Floor	29	51	.362
Purchasing Agents	15	61	.196

High single, Olindy 153
High team single, Yard 506.
High three strings, Olindy 360.
High team total, Machine Gallery 1442.

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

N. Dept. 4—Ex-Apprentices 0.
Treas. Office 3—Electricians 1.
Pur. Agents 2—U. S. Navy 2.

Several passed the century mark but triples were scarce in the Fore River league matches at the Coliseum Friday night. Clinton, with 122, got high single.

N. DEPT.—4.

Gillis	97	96	89	282
Kennedy	80	83	107	270
White	93	87	91	270
Ryan	98	92	101	291
Westland	80	97	95	272
	447	455	483	1385

EX-APPRENTICES—0.

Clinton	122	56	83	261
Arbuckle	68	90	97	255
Coates	82	94	96	272
Johnson	87	77	100	264
Ash	84	76	82	242
	443	393	458	1294

PUR. AGENTS—2.

Raymond	81	67	70	218
Austin	93	83	91	267
French	79	89	88	256
Smith	80	79	85	244
Sullivan	89	81	82	252
	422	399	416	1237

U. S. N.—2.

Mooney	91	81	83	255
Lee	74	115	81	270
Nicolson	72	86	83	241
Cadman	82	79	82	243
Melendy	89	91	79	259
	408	452	408	1268

TREAS. OFFICE—3.

Coutts	86	115	95	296
Desmond	69	108	90	267
Duncan	73	87	83	243
Gullickson	79	80	88	247
Stone	106	89	82	277
	413	479	438	1330

E. DEPT.—1.

Lincoln	76	72	82	230
Souden	94	78	85	257
Ago	89	77	80	246
Smith	81	83	70	234
Malnati	88	112	100	300
	428	422	417	1267

MAYOR CAMPBELL

(Continued from Page One.)

director, William McEwen, assistant floor director.

Aids in Uniform Degree team, Robert McAllister, Michael J. Boyle, Andrew Boyle, Arthur Budd, George Mitchell, Walter Bradley, Henry Burke, Frank Lints, John Cahill, John McDonald, Joseph Walsh, William Regan, Angus McArthur, Bernard Burke

Reception committee, John C. Faircloth, Edward S. Welch, Frank J. Duffy, James J. Mellon Henry J. Langeliet, John J. Feeley, Joseph O'Brien.

Committee of Arrangements, James J. Mellon, William Childs Michael J. Royle, George P. Woodman, Charles Batson, Isaac J. McNeil, David Fields, John J. Feeley, Philip F. Pitts, Peter W. Dackers, William F. Allen, William McEwen, Herbert Hinckley, Angus McArthur John Larkin, Frank W. Lynch, A. J. McDonald, James Muir, Joseph Walsh, Reni Langelier.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—is best because more care is used in the making. Grocers.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
Room 5, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-918 Tremont Building, Boston
10 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448-4. Haymarket 2440
Oct. -tf

NEW RECORDS IN SAMOSET CLUB

Rhodes and Campbell's Teams are Victors

SAMOSET CLUB RESULTS.

Capt. Rhodes 4, Capt. Armstrong 0.
Capt. Campbell 3, Capt. Hill 1.

New records were established in the Samoset club matches at Wardwells Friday night. W. Cahill with a single of 118 and a total of 323 clinched the individual marks. The quintette of Capt. Rhodes, of which he is a member, set a new total of 1333, and Capt. Campbell's five captured the team single record with 463.

CAPT. RHODES.

W. Cahill	118	96	109	323
Smith	68	83	87	238
Dummy	74	66	67	207
Pinkham	96	84	81	261
Rhodes	102	94	108	304
	458	423	452	1333

CAPT. A. ARMSTRONG

C. Armstrong	80	78	86	244
Browne	74	66	67	207
Dummy	68	83	81	232
Nichols	99	91	92	282
A. Armstrong	93	85	102	290
	414	403	428	1245

CAPT. CAMPBELL.

Sweet	81	81	102	274
Johnson	77	81	91	249
Comins	68	98	80	246
Pope	88	106	96	290
Campbell	92	87	89	268
	406	463	458	1327

CAPT. HILL.

D. Cahill	92	84	84	260
Weston	66	55	74	195
Lupton	85	91	64	240
Cranshaw	92	75	83	250
Hill	100	94	100	294
	435	399	405	1239

OFFICE DEFEATS FINISHING ROOM

The series between the employees of the Rice and Hutchins South Braintree factory K opened at Wardwells Friday night. The office representation defeated the finishing room 4 to 0.

OFFICE EM. RICE & HUTCHINS

J. Reynolds	90	61	77	228
A. Johnson	100	71	74	245
A. Anderson	68	82	75	225
F. Watson	75	75	73	223
C. Doughty	90	79	102	271
	423	368	401	1192

FINISHING ROOM.

W. Magee	61	65	64	190
J. Sheehy	72	67	81	220
J. Ellingworth	78	69	73	220
S. Slauger	89	76	82	247
W. Stone	90	77	77	246
	390	354	377	1121

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-che-ster's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

DR. C. F. S. PEARCE
DENTIST
327 Newport Avenue, Wollaston
Mondays -- Wednesdays -- Fridays
9 to 12 — 1 to 5
EVENINGS
Boston Office 194 Boylston Street
June 24-1y-W.-s

BUSINESS FAILURES

80 per cent of them in the United States are those firms which do not advertise.

The longer you delay advertising your business the slimmer grow your chances of having a business to advertise.

Why not start a consistent and persistent advertising campaign now in

THE DAILY LEDGER
A GOOD TEA TABLE PAPER
READ IN THE HOME

DEFEND THEIR FOUNDATIONS

Welfare of Mankind the Only Object of Money Kings

CARNEGIE IN JOVIAL MOOD

His Benefactions Have Reached Nearly $325,000,000—Rockefeller, Who Appears Very Feeble, Says He Would Like to See Workers His Partners in Business as Directors

New York, Feb. 6.—John D. Rockefeller and Andrew Carnegie testified before the federal commission on industrial relations. They defended the foundations which they have endowed with their wealth, and neither believed that the institutions constituted a menace to the religious, political or educational liberty of the people of the United States.

A desire to promote the welfare of mankind and that alone, they said, prompted them to establish the foundations which bear their names.

Widely different was the manner in which the two men faced the commission and the aduience, which was composed largely of representatives of labor, Socialists, individualists and members of the Industrial Workers of the World.

Carnegie went to the witness stand from a seat in the audience. He declined to sit while reading answers to a questionaire submitted by the commission, or while he was being interrogated. Carnegie was in a jovial mood. The answers he gave to questions caused the audience and the commissioners to laugh more than once. Carnegie enjoyed that. When he left the stand he said he had not spent such a pleasant afternoon in many years.

In his testimony Carnegie revealed that up to the close of last year his donations totalled $324,657,399. His present business, he said, was to do all the good he could in this world. He sketched the growth of his steel business and said that it had been marked by an absence of labor disputes.

He "never had such a good time in his life as when he was talking to his employes," he said. The men liked him, too. "When they call you Andy, instead of Andrew or Mr. Carnegie, you know the boys are your friends," said he.

Carnegie invited the commissioners to visit the Carnegie institute in Pittsburg. Commissioner Walsh informed him that the commission planned to hold hearings in Pittsburg at a later date, and that it might accept his invitation.

Rockefeller was assisted to the witness stand by members of his personal staff, who had accompanied him to the building in which the hearing is being held. Seating himself with much difficulty, he leaned across a little table in front of him.

After he had finished his statement he folded his hands on the table and looked inquiringly at the commissioners. His body remained perfectly motionless as he testified. Not once did he change his position. Rockefeller appeared to have aged considerably since he last gave testimony in public. He spoke very slowly; very dispassionately.

He declared that his sole motive was to devote a portion of his fortune to the services of his fellowmen. He said he regarded the right to rescind the charters of the foundations as sufficient guarantee against abuse of the funds.

He told how he directed his business enterprises and the part he played in the administration of the foundations. He said he would accord all men the right to organize, workingmen and business men as well, providing they kept within the proper limitations in respect to the law and to safeguarding the general interests of the public.

Rockefeller said he would "be happy to surrender" his holdings, either in whole or in part, and let the workers have a voice in the board of directors just as all other stockholders do, thus giving them some of the profits of their labor. He would be very happy also, he said, to see the workers be his partners in business.

As for the $100,000,000 which he had given to the Rockefeller foundation reverting to himself or his heirs in the event of the legislature rescinding the charter of the foundation, Rockefeller said he "had never allowed himself to worry about that." He declared that he had a great deal of confidence in the American people and their goodness. Integrity and common sense, said he, were sufficient security for the foundation.

Rockefeller had never considered the grievances submitted to the Colorado Fuel and Iron company by its employes. He pointed out that he was a retired business man and had been such for many years.

Conference on Road's Finances

Providence, Feb. 6.—Howard Elliott, president of the New Haven, conferred with Governor Beeckman with regard to a recently proposed plan for financing the road.

Death of Banker Tilden

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Edward Tilden, 59, packer and banker, died after a brief attack of quinsy. He was prominent in Chicago Democratic circles.

ASSOCIATION HAS LIVELY MEETING

Several Speak at Atlantic Gathering

The Atlantic Improvement association had a large lively meeting at its quarters on Botolph street Friday night.

Three new members were received before the order of the evening was taken up.

President Henry F. Mosses expressed his appreciation of the large gathering of men. He advised the committee on playground to confer with the committee from the Parents and Teachers Association of the Quincy school and give any assistance it could in trying to get the Ward Six playground accepted and developed this year.

Mr. Mosses also read communications from the Interstate Commerce Commission in regard to the charging of extra express on packages addressed to Atlantic and said he was going to follow up this question.

A movement was also started to see if Atlantic could not get the Western Union Telegraph service.

President Taylor of the Montclair Improvement Association brought his congratulations to the Atlantic association and invited the men to meet with his association. He also introduced Mr. Clark of that association, who is their committee man on gas and electric lights. Mr. Clark seemed well posted on the subject and gave statistics on what a large number of towns and cities pay for gas and electricity. Mr. Clark agitated for the Improvement association to go in a body to the state house and ask for a public hearing by the commissioners of gas and electricity and put their complaint up to the commissioners.

Mr. Clark started a lively discussion that was almost a debate. He was answered by William McMahon who works for the Boston Consolidated Gas Co. Mr. McMahon told how every one who uses gas has to pay for it, and that there is a leakage in all gas pipes that is unaccounted for and that there was less unaccounted for gas in Quincy than any other city in the state on account of the new mains.

Other members advised that if a hearing was asked for the members must study the subject and be thoroughly versed in the subject.

Thomas Musgrave of the Quincy Board of Health gave a talk on that department and the work that had to be done in the city. He showed how Teel Pond, the Atlantic breeding place for mosquitoes, could be filled in a scientific way. Mr. Musgrave was asked to explain his Hygienic Wet Wash under sanitary conditions.

The meeting stirred up so much discussion that it was decided to have a large public union meeting of all the Improvement associations of Ward Six.

A slight alteration of the by laws was passed with an almost unanimous vote after a discussion that clarified the wording.

THE OBSERVER.

I see that the Granite Shoe Store has just received a large shipment of new spring shoes direct from the Elite Factory. Some excellent warm weather styles are shown.

Coughlin and Donovan have lowered the price of meats. Mr. Donovan states that meat will soon be much cheaper than at the present time. In Fridays Ledger they quoted low prices on legs of lamb.

The Old Colony Laundry has just installed a new collar machine. In talking with Mr. Neal on the subject he stated that he is specializing on Men's shirts and collars. Mr. I. Neal, by the way, believes in doing a thing right.

For the past week R. E. Foy has been selling national advertised brands of coffee at very moderate prices. Mr Foy is one of Quincy's live business men, giving the public quick auto service and clean foods at prices within reach of all. In today's Ledger his specialty is fresh killed fowl.

☞Attractive tables of aprons, babies clothing, dolls, linens, household goods, candy and ice cream are some of the features of the Woman's Guild fair to be held in the assembly room of St. Chrysostom's parish house, Thursday afternoon and evening. A supper will be served from 6 to 7.30 o'clock.

Miss Mae Landers of Roxbury has returned home after spending a week with Miss Mary O'Neil of Pine road.

WERNER HORN.

Bridge Dynamiter Who Is Repudiated By German Embassy.

© 1915, by American Press Association.

HORN NOT WORRIED

Case Against Dynamiter Ended So Far as Maine Is Concerned

Vanceboro, Me., Feb. 6.—The departure for Machias jail of Werner Horn, who claims to be a German officer, and in that capacity tried to blow up the international railway bridge here, attracted little attention. A small crowd of men and women gathered at the station. The prisoner, who was not shackled, waved a good-by as the train drew out.

The case is now ended so far as the state is concerned. The next move, it is expected, will be by the federal authorities, who are concerned with the application for the extradition of the dynamiter to Canada, where he is wanted to answer for the little damage which he did to the bridge by operating on that side of the border.

ALLEGED TO HAVE STOLEN A MILLION

Philadelphia Fugitive From Justice Dies In Louisiana

Philadelphia, Feb. 6.—Word was received here of the death in New Orleans of George M. Wagner, a fugitive from justice since May, 1913, charged with misappropriating about $1,000,000 from the trust funds of clients and from estates for which he was trustee or executor.

Wagner was prominent as a lawyer, a real estate dealer and clubman. He disappeared from Philadelphia after charges that he had misappropriated $56,000 of the state's funds.

Shortages in other funds in which he acted as trustee also were brought to light, and when a receiver was appointed by the court claims against him aggregating $500,000 were presented. The total amount of his shortage was estimated at twice that amount.

It was believed by his associates that Wagner lost heavily in unprofitable investments.

MISS CLARK SEATED

Oregon's First Woman Senator "Talks Shop" at the Outset

Salem, Ore., Feb. 6.—Miss Kathryn Clark, the first woman senator in Oregon, has taken her seat in the state senate.

Stunningly gowned she sought Miss Marion Towne, Oregon's first and only state representative in the house.

"Yes, we talked shop," admitted Senator Clark afterwards. "I wanted to get some pointers."

Representative Towne escorted Senator Clark to the senate chamber, where her appearance momentarily stopped the wheels of legislation. Doorkeepers, pages and officials crowded around to extend greetings.

Corpse Weighs 751 Pounds

Washington, eFb. 6.—Twelve able-bodied men will be pallbearers for Harry Coleman, 39, who weighed 751 pounds. Six years ago Coleman, a native of Shelburne Falls, Mass., tipped the scales at only 165.

Field Wedding Postponed

New York, Feb. 6—The wedding of Marshall Field, 3d, of Chicago, to Miss Evelyn Marshall of this city was indefinitely postponed. Illness of the bride-elect, her mother said, caused the delay.

Mrs. Carranza In Texas

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 6.—Mrs. Venustiano Carranza, wife of the Mexican first chief, reached here last night to reside until conditions improve in Mexico.

Free Employment Bureau

Dedham, Mass., Feb. 6.—A free employment bureau will be opened in this town next week, to find work for those who are idle.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE LEAGUE.

WOMAN AND WAR.

By Kate Devereux Blake.

It is said by the ignorant that women should not vote because they cannot bear arms when the nation is at war. In reply the following facts are submitted:

Women were originally, and still are exempted from fighting not because of inability, but because their function of motherhood renders them too valuable to the race to permit them to be wasted in war. When driven to a last stand the women of savage or semi-civilized people fight side by side with the men of their tribe and with equal ferocity. But "woman's chief business is mothering," and interference with this business means the destruction of the race. The soldier may give his life to destroy the life of an enemy, but the mother faces death in order to bestow life. This is the higher duty.

Women bear the burden of war. Every able bodied man taken from farm or factory leaves his work for the women to do. This is clearly shown in European countries where the women are now working in the fields and in the mines. On August 7th, 1914 Premier Viviani issued an appeal to the women of France asking them to do the work of gathering the crops that had bee left unfinished by men who had been called to arms, and also to prepare for the harvests of next year.

Man's ability to bear arms has no relation to his right to vote. The puniest, weakest, feeblest man goes unchallenged to the ballot box. A large majority of the men who appear before a recruiting sergeant are rejected as physically unfit, yet all may vote. Justice then demands that women should not be disfranchised because of weakness.

But the best answer is that war belongs to barbaric ages and conditions and should have no consideration in the government of civilized nations.

The United States Government spends 63 cents of every dollar of the total yearly budget for wars, past, present, and to come, leaving but 37 cents for all useful purposes. Of this balance, 5 cents goes for improving rivers and harbors, 4 cents for the Department of Agriculture, 3 cents for the Panama Canal, one-fiftieth of a cent for the Children's Bureau, and about the same amount for the Bureau of Education. Women do not consider children less valuable and less important than hogs and fish. Women want to have their children educated. In time of war the schools are closed. When the United States occupied Vera Cruz the Marines used the schools for barracks. It has been officially announced that the schools of London and Berlin would be used as hospitals as soon as the need arose.

There are no longer any foreign wars on which we may look with calmness because they do not touch us. Half a million men in the United States earn their living in the production of goods for Great Britain. War means the destruction of their occupation. When this European war was only a few days old, factories were closed and men thrown out of work all over the United States.

Is it not time that the women of the land who value men's lives more dearly than they themselves do, should be permitted a voice in the government, so that the gigantic folly and stupidity of war may end, and the money now wasted in military operations may be spent on education and works for the comfort of humanity?

☞PRATT'S BREAD—the staff of life for you and your wife. Get a loaf today.

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
Telephone 1153-M Quincy
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1291 Hancock Street, Quincy F27

CONLIN SHOE REPAIRING

Men's Sewed Taps and Heels	75c
Men's Sewed Taps and Rubber heels	$1.00
Men's Nail Taps and Heels	65c
Men's Heels	20c
Ladies' Taps and Heels Sewed	65c
Ladies Taps and Rubber heels Sewed	85c
Ladies Heels	15c
Rubber Heels	40c and 50c
Skates Sharpened, New Process	15c
$4 Ralston Shoes for	1.50

Hancock and Saville Sts.
Tel. 961-M. Oct. 7-tf

RUSSIANS DRIVE GERMANS BACK

They Assume Vigorous Offensive Directly West of Warsaw

DEADLOCK MAY SOON BREAK

Flank of Von Hindenberg's Army Is Seriously Threatened—Most Violent Artillery Firing of the War Now In Progress—Russian Campaign In East Prussia Making Slow Progress—Austrians Admit Loss of Tarnow—Armies Still Contending For Carpathian Passes—Allies Preparing For Offensive Movement In West

London, Feb. 6.—Coincident with the arrival at the front of Emperor Nicholas, the Russians have assumed the offensive directly west of Warsaw and, according to a Russian official statement, have crossed the Bzura river and taken some German positions.

This, in the opinion of military experts, will, if the Russians have sufficient forces at their disposal, break the deadlock which has existed in the battle in central Poland for so many weeks, since it threatens the flank of General von Hindenberg's army, which is engaged in the violent struggle immediately to the southwest in an effort to break down the Russian defensive in the region of Borjimow.

The Russians appear, according to reports from Petrograd, to have crossed the Bzura river near its junction with the Vistula and, working southward, to have taken part of the German position near Dakhova, south of Sochaczew, which was the point at which the Germans made their original attempt to break down the Warsaw line.

This new offensive on the part of the Russians explains their anxiety to clear the right bank of the lower Vistula of the Germans for, having accomplished this, they are free of threats of an outflanking movement from that direction.

Still, there has been no slackening in the desperate fighting which has been proceeding for some days in the woods and roads along the right bank of the Rawka river from Borjimow to the Skierniewice-Warsaw road. Here attacks of the Germans alternate with those of the Russians, under an artillery fire, the violence of which has never been exceeded.

In the meantime the Russians are making slow progress in East Prussia and are withstanding the attempts of the Austro-German forces to take the offensive on the Nida river in southern Poland and on the Dunajec river in Galicia.

The Austrians admit the loss of Tarnow, Galicia, an important centre, possession of which by the Russians insures the main line of communications in western Galicia.

In the midst of the snows of the Carpathians, the two armies are contending for the passes which lead into Hungary. The Austro-German forces drove the Russians back from the passes which they had occupied on their extreme right to the west of Dukla pass, but elsewhere the Russians claim to be making progress, or, at any rate, to be holding their own.

Artillery engagements and a few small infantry attacks make up the sum of the operations on the western front. There are indications, however, that the allies are preparing the way for an offensive movement in the Arras region, where their artillery has been very busy and where they have captured some German trenches. In the Argonne region, too, the French claim to have improved their position.

The failure of the Turks in their preliminary attack on the Suez canal gives a good deal of satisfaction to England, as it is felt that the territorial and Australian troops engaged there have proved their mettle. Military men express the belief that the Turkish attack was only in the nature of a feeler, and that organized assault will be delivered by the Ottoman army when it is able to collect its main strength within striking distance. Correspondents at Cairo say that a very warm reception awaits it from the ships and troops.

ANOTHER WARNING

Germany Notifies Neutral Ships of Danger Off Coast of France

The chief admiral of the staff of the German navy has issued the following official communication:

"England is on the eve of shipping numerous troops and large quantities of war material to France. Against these English transports we will proceed with all the means of warfare at our disposal.

"Neutral shipping is earnestly cautioned against approaching the northern or the western coasts of France, as in these waters such vessels would run the serious danger of being confounded with ships whose purposes are warlike.

"The best route for the North sea is around Scotland."

Spain to Buy Submarines

Madrid, Feb. 6.—Parliament has authorized the government to purchase four submarines for the Spanish navy from a builder in the United States.

FALZONE FOUND GUILTY

Faces Death Sentence, With Life Imprisonment For Morella

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 6.—Biagio Falzone was found guilty in the first degree of the murder of Morris Albertson, the Lawrence jewelry man, in Wakefield, Dec. 20, in the superior court.

Ignaccio Morella, who was on trial as his accomplice, was found guilty in the second degree.

They were not sentenced, but the sentence for murder is definitely fixed by law, life imprisonment for the second degree and death in the electric chair for the first degree.

The case went to the jury after Morella had taken the stand in his own behalf. Falzone did not testify.

The arguments of the counsel for the defense took up almost the entire afternoon sitting. The judge finished his charge at 5:30 and the jury immediately retired. At 9:40 the jury entered the box and the foreman pronounced the verdict.

TONG MEN EXECUTED

Two Chinamen Die at Sing Sing For Killing Fellow Countryman

Ossining, N. Y., Feb. 6.—Two Chinese hatchet men, Eng Hing and Lee Dock, were electrocuted at Sing Sing prison. They were the first Chinese to pay the death penalty in New York. They were convicted of murdering one of their countrymen, a member of a rival tong, in a battle in Chinatown more than a year ago.

Hing was the first to pay the death penalty. A look of almost stoical indifference was on his face when he entered the death chamber with the guards and the prison chaplain. His reserve broke when the guards began to adjust the straps, and he cried: "United States, no law."

He was quieted by a priest, who had converted both of them a few hours before.

SPARRING STILL ON OVER SHIPPING BILL

Democratic Senators Rehearse Revolt Over the Measure

Washington, Feb. 6.—Apparently few Democratic leaders now have much hope of breaking the so-called Republican filibuster against the shipping bill, and there are many rumors that the measure may be laid aside, after strenuous efforts to pass it within the next week, so that appropriation measures may be considered.

The senate was enlivened by speeches of insurgent and regular Democrats rehearsing the revolt over the bill. Senators Hardwick and Vardaman vigorously defending their positions in revolting and assailing Senator Stone for his attack upon them.

Senator James again criticized his colleagues, and particularly arraigned Senator Camden, who, he said, would "hold up the hands of the president while the Republicans tied them."

SHOT STRIKING LABORERS

Grand Jury Indicts Twenty-Six Deputies on Murder Charge

New Brunswick, N. J., Feb. 6.—Fifty-two indictments, charging murder, were returned by the Middlesex county grand jury against twenty-six deputies locked up in the county jail here on charges of murder in connection with the shooting of nineteen strikers at Roosevelt, N. J., Jan. 19.

Two indictments were returned against each of the deputies. Two of the nineteen men who were shot died of their injuries, and each of the prisoners was indicted in connection with the death of each striker.

A presentment exonerating the sheriff of the county, Edward Houghton, for employing the guards as deputies, was returned.

DIES WITHOUT DOCTOR!

Wife of Head of Zion City Was Sick For Sixteen Months

Chicago, Feb. 6.—After an illness of sixteen months, Mrs. Wilbur G. Voliva, wife of the successor of John A. Dowie, as head of the Christian Catholic church and of Zion City, is dead.

Voliva denounced those who criticised him for permitting no physician excepting the health commissioner of Zion City to attend his wife.

No Trace of Coe

Boston, Feb. 6.—The disappearance of Henry C. Coe, Jr., the Standard Oil company's representative, is still a mystery. The problem of his whereabouts seems as far from a solution as it was when he left his wife to board a car in front of his home.

Baptists Drop Missing Deacon

Brockton, Mass., Feb. 6.—Albert D. Covell, 33, deacon at the Warren Avenue Baptist church, who left the city at the same time that Mrs. George W. Keene disappeared, was dismissed from his connection with the church by the board of deacons.

Slayer Gets Maximum Sentence

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 6.—Antonio Pedelino of Newton, who was tried for the murder of Antonio Gimalaro, and was found guilty of manslaughter, was given the maximum sentence of eighteen to twenty years by Judge Irwin.

SERIOUS ISSUE FOR NEUTRALS

Must Devise Some Means For Their Self-Protection

THE GERMAN PAPER BLOCKADE

Accompanying Threat to Destroy All Commerce Makes It One of Most Serious Developments of War—England Will Challenge Enemy to Make Good—German Press Happy

Washington, Feb. 6.—Germany's declaration of a naval war zone around Great Britain and Ireland, including the English channel and the northern passage by the Shetland islands, is regarded here as one of the most serious developments of the war.

It was regarded as highly possible, for one thing, that it would hasten the movement begun by the Latin-American countries for a speedy conference of neutral states to devise means to reduce losses to neutral commerce to a minimum.

At first there were some intimations in administration circles that it might be the subject of a protest by the United States, but the official view developed that there was little or no grounds for that and it was recalled that no protest was made when the North sea was strewn with mines.

Sweden, Norway, Denmark and Holland have repeatedly addressed the state department here to secure American backing for measures to relieve distress in their own commerce, and the latest German proclamation is expected to cause a redoubled effort of all the neutrals for measures to protect themselves.

With her ships shut up in her fortified harbors by the British fleet so tightly indeed that only an occasional raiding squadron or submarine breaks loose, the declaring of a paper blockade would be regarded lightly were it not accompanied by the threat to destroy neutral commerce. Under the circumstances, however, any protest by these neutrals will not be in any way effectual.

There is no way of coercing Germany at this time, and should the Turco-Teutonic alliance win no satisfaction could be obtained in the future. In event of defeat, the offended neutrals would have to be guided by the desires of the victors, who would be virtual masters of the world.

While the British press laughs the German threat to scorn, it subordinates all other war news to give prominence to the dispatches from Berlin, while the British foreign office statement, following quickly the publication of the German decree, indicates that the government authorities take the German threat as one requiring a prompt counter stroke. As the statement says, the authorities are considering "more stringent measures against German trade." The ministers are treating the subject as of particular urgency.

The German press in the meantime hails this newly-announced policy of the navy with great satisfaction. The comments indicate that the newspapers consider sufficient the warning to neutral ships that the waters surrounding the British Isles are to be considered a military area after Feb. 18, and that ships attempting passage outside of the channels specified do so at their own risk.

KILLED MAN WHILE INSANE

Priest Who Has Regained His Reason Is Acquitted by Jury

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Rev. John J. Mullen, acquitted of the murder of Thomas Patterson, left for Carthagena, O., where he will enter the Precious Blood seminary, to which order he belongs.

On the jury which deliberated six hours before freeing the former priest at the Church of the Holy Rosary were eight Masons. They found that Mullen stabbed Patterson to death while insane, "but that since commission of the that act has permanently and completely recovered from said lunacy of insanity."

The priest's defense was that he remembered nothing of the stabbing.

Mitchell For United States Marshal

Washington, Feb. 6.—Congressman John J. Mitchell of Marlboro, Mass., was nominated by President Wilson to be United States marshal for the district of Massachusetts. Mitchell retires from congress on March 4.

Asama's Men All Rescued

Tokio, Feb. 6.—All officers and members of the crew of the Japanese cruiser Asama, which went ashore off southern California, have been rescued, according to an official announcement.

New Trial For Mrs. Buffum

Albany, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Cynthia Buffum, sentenced to die in the electric chair for the alleged poisoning of her husband and two children, was granted a new trial by the court of appeals.

Rutland Camp Inquiry Ordered

Boston, Feb. 6.—The house adopted an order providing for the appointment of a special legislative committee to investigate conditions in the prison camp and hospital at Rutland.

SUNDAY SERVICES

A new announcement of services is required each week. No notices accepted to run indefinitely. When possible the subject of sermon should be given, also special services. Generous space will be given in the news columns for church news, music and week day gatherings.

FIRST PARISH IN QUINCY (Unitarian)—City Square. Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, minister. Residence, Miller Stile Inn, Tel. 2107; office hours at church 9 to 12 A. M. Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Tel. 1290. Morning service at 10.30. Subject of sermon by the minister: "Knowing Good and Evil." Sunday School at 12 M. Miss Minnie Packard, Supt.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Junction Hancock and Chestnut streets. Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott, Pastor. Morning Service at 10.30. Message by the pastor. Subject: "Behold I stand at the door and knock." Bible School at 12, classes for all ages. Christian Endeavor at 6. 7.30 Pleasant Sunday evening service. Lecture by the pastor, "Blessed is the oiler."

ASSOCIATED BIBLE STUDENTS (undenominational) Hancock Hall, Hancock Building Quincy Centre. Free Bible Lecture Sunday at 3 P. M. for the public, speaker: C. P. Bridges of Lynn. Topic: "Behold the Bridegroom." All are cordially invited. Seats free. No Collection

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST—Quincy, Alpha Hall, cor. Hancock street and Cottage ave. Morning service and Sunday School at 10.45. Subject: "Spirit." Golden Text: "It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing." Wednesday 7.45 a testimony and experience meeting. Reading room open from 3 to 5 P. M. week days, Saturdays from 7 to 9 P. M. holidays excepted. Also Wednesday evening before and after services.

FIRST SPIRITUALIST CHURCH—Electa Hall Johnson building, Hancock street, Quincy Meeting at 7.30 P. M. Mrs. S. V. Odiorne conductor. Mrs. E. Louie Stratton, speaker. Miss McIntyre and others will take part.

WASHINGTON STREET CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Quincy Point, Rev. Stephen C. Lang pastor. 10.45 Morning Worship. Subject of sermon; "The Compassionate Christ." 12 M., Bible school and Young Men's Class. 6.30 P. M. Y. P. S. C. E. 7.30 P. M. Evening Praise service. Subject of sermon, "Saul, the People's Choice." Thursday 7.30 P. M., People's Hour service.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH—Washington Street, Quincy, Rev. Merrill C. Ward, pastor; Residence 62 Dunster road, Jamaica Plain. Telephone Jamaica 1950. Sunday School at 2 P. M. Service in observance of Young People's day by Y. P. C. U. at 2 P. M. Regular Y. P. C. U. at 4.15, address by Mr. Ward on "Lincoln's Faith and Honesty."

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH—Franklin street, Rev. C. C. Tilley, Pastor. Residence 26 Richie Road. Preaching Service at 10.30 A. M. Subject: "A Holy War; No Neutrality; No Partisanship." Sunday School at 11.45. Christian Endeavor meeting at 6. Subject: "Christian Endeavor That Counts." Leader, Miss Esther MacDonald." Scripture: 1 Cor. 15:57- 8. Christian Endeavor Day. Evening Service at 7. Subject: "The Transformation of Weary Willie." Regular prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 7.30.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Water and Quincy Streets. Rev. Clarence E. Campbell who has received a call to be pastor will conduct both services. Morning worship 10.30. Bible school and men's class 11.45. Junior Christian Endeavor at 3.0 P. M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.00 P. M. Evening service at 7 o'clock. Italian services Sunday morning at 10.00 o'clock. Prayer meeting Friday at 7.30 P. M. Rev. I. J. Romolo, Italian minister.

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Corner of School and Pleasant streets, Rev. D. B McLeod, M. A., pastor, Residence 40 Bradford st Preaching by the pastor at 10.30, and 7.30. Sabbath school and Bible class 11.45. Junior Endeavor at 3. Senior Christian Endeavor at 6.30. Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30. Subject for Sabbath evening: "Lessons from the Life of Abraham Lincoln."

SWEDISH MISSION CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, Garfield street. Rev. A. G. Sporrong, pastor, 14 Euclid avenue. Tel. Quincy 1482-M. Sunday school at 9.30 A. M. Young peoples class led by the pastor. Morning service 10.45, sermon by the pastor. Subject: "The Growth of the Kingdom." 7 p. m. Evening service. Theme: "Seek first the Kingdom of God." Special music. 5.45 P. M. Communion.

SWEDISH BAPTIST CHURCH—Brewers Cor. Rev. Paul Hallin, pastor Residence 101 Glendale Road, Sunday school 9.30 A. M. At 10.45 A. M. sermon by the pastor. Subject: "The invisible Attendant." B. Y. P. C. E. at 6.45 p. m. Evangelistic service at 7.30 P. M. Short address by the pastor Subject: "Rescued."

HALL PLACE M. E. CHURCH—West Quincy Rev. P. S. Neldon, pastor, Residence, 12 Hall Place. Morning service at 10.30. Sunday School at 11.45. Epworth League devotional service at 6.00 P. M. Subject: "A Promise of Forgiveness." Leader, Hilda Francis. Evening praise and preaching service at 7. Junior League Monday at 4 P. M. Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH—Hancock street, Wollaston—Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, rector, residence, the rectory, 303 Hancock street. Holy Communion and sermon at 10.30. Sunday School at 12. 7.30, Evening prayer and address.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN CHURCH—Corner Beale and Farrington streets. "An House of Prayer for all People." Rev. Carl G. Horst, minister. Residence 39 Grand View avenue. Telephone Quincy 317-1. The church auditorium is equipped with earphones. Service of worship with sermon at 10.45 a. m. Kindergarten for children of three years old and over in the vestry in charge of Miss Catherine Reed at 10.45 A. M. Sunday School with classes for all at 12 m. Mrs. H. C. Needham of Brookline, Supt. Y. P. R. U. meeting at 7. Leader, Miss Catherine Reed.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH—Cor. Prospect and Warren avenues. Rev. Joseph Walther pastor. Prayer meeting at 10.15 in Pinkham class room. Kindergarten for children whose parents are attending morning service at 10.45 in Primary Department room. Morning service at 10.45. Sermon by the pastor. Hand of Fellowship to new members and Communion Sunday School at 12.15. Elford L. Durgan, Supt. Lesson subject: "Ruth Chooses the True God." Junior Endeavor, 3.30. Mrs. Joseph Walther, Supt. Subject: "Christian Endeavor that Counts." Leader, Marjorie Wilson. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6. Subject: "Christian Endeavor that Counts." Leader, Edith Armstrong. Evening service at 7. The pastor will preach. Morning subject: "Bible Teachings about Thorns." Evening subject: "A Few More Fools."

ATLANTIC M. E. CHURCH—corner Newbury avenue and Squantum Streets. Rev. E. C. Pollard, pastor. Residence 19 Wesley Street, Newton, phone 2467 W. Morning service at 10.45. The pastor will preach. Theme: "Righteousness and its effects on Nations, Communities and Individuals." Communion follows this service. Sunday School at 12.15. Junior League at 3 P. M. Epworth League at 6 P. M. Public service at 7 P. M. Evangelistic services by the pastor.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Atlantic Rev. Thomas W. Davison, pastor. Morning service 10.45. Sermon by the pastor. Theme: "What is God able to Do for Man?" Sunday School at 12.00 M. Junior Endeavor at 3.30. Senior Endeavor at 6. Evening service at 7 P. M. Address on "Young People's Ideals," by the pastor. Excellent music.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST—Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor. Sunday School exercises at 3 P. M. Preaching service at 4 P. M. Sermon by the pastor. Music by the newly organized quartet.

BRAINTREE

We are glad to see Mrs. A. R. Carson out after her long illness.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Thayer are occupying their new house on Hollis avenue.

Miss Ann Chatzel is very ill with pneumonia at her home on School street. Dr. Marstin is her physician.

Marcus L. Urann very kindly distributed cranberries among various parishioners of the First Congregational church.

Dr. H. L. Dearing escaped a serious accident when a forward wheel of his machine dropped off on Elm street, Friday noon.

Orrin W. Hollis and family of 22 Cleveland avenue have moved to East Milton where they have bought a house.

The executive board of the Friendly Aid Association will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. George H. Hamblett, 15 Lowell street, next Monday afternoon.

The Ladies' Aid Society gave an excellent supper and entertainment on Wednesday evening at the First Congregational church. Various young people of the parish gave a remarkable portrayal of characters famous in history and fiction.

The annual musicale of the Braintree Teachers' association was held Tuesday evening in the Hollis school hall and very well attended despite the heavy weather. There was a program of vocal and instrumental music and readings.

Miss Helen Qualey has resigned her position as leader and pianist of the Kincaide theatre orchestra to accept a similar position in a Boston theatre She has held the above position from the opening of the Kincaide theatre over two years ago.

Miss Lelia M. Harvey, 99 West street, whose progress at the New England Conservatory of Music, has been followed with interest by many Braintree people, was one of the members of the present senior class who were chosen as soloists for the annual senior concert, given in Jordan hall of the Conservatory building, Jan. 29. Her selection, the Adagio from Guilmant's Organ Sonata in C minor, No. 5, was very favorably received by a large and representative audience. Miss Harvey has made several public appearances at the Conservatory this season.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT.

To Annie L. Newhall, Alice E. Thayer, Angus McArthur, William Nygren and Mary S. Barnard of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Peter S. Antoon and Simon S. Antoon of said Quincy, to register and confirm their title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated on Washington Street in that part of said Quincy, known as Quincy Point, being lots numbered three (3), four (4) and five (5), as shown on plan of lots at Quincy Park, dated Oct. 10, 1895, made by McClintock & Field, Surveyors, recorded in Norfolk Registry of Deeds Plan book 17, Plan 798, bounded and described as follows:—

Northeasterly by said Washington street, there measuring sixty (60) feet; Southeasterly by lot No. 2 on said plan, there measuring one hundred twenty-five and 57-100 (125.57) feet; Southwesterly by lots No. 14, 15, 16, and 17 on said plan, there measuring sixty and 9-100 (60.09) feet; and Northwesterly by lot No. 6 on said plan, there measuring about one hundred twenty-nine and 69-100 (129.69) feet. Containing according to said plan 7656 square feet of land more or less.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston in the County of Suffolk on the fifteenth day of February A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-first day of January in the year nineteen hundred and fifteen.

Attest with Seal of said Court.

CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.

(Seal)

3t Jan. 23-30 Feb. 6

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less—one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—38 Revere road, in a modern house 5 minutes from train, 2 square sunny rooms well furnished, separate or together $2.50 per week; also two medium rooms for light housekeeping. $3.50 per week. 6-1t

TO LET—Two or three rooms, furnished or unfurnished for light housekeeping, all improvements, reasonable rent, board if desired. 132 Marlboro street, Wollaston Park. 6-1t

TO LET—To small family of adults several very desirable new tenements $22 and up, also stable $10 per month; store $10 per month. Apply to C. H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. Tel. 174-2 Quincy. 4-12t

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street; nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Large pleasant room, conveniences, near the center. Private family, 30 Upland road. 1-6t

TO LET—Rooms and board with private family, all conveniences, 3 minutes to Fore River yard. Mrs. Briggs, 63 Howard avenue. Tel. 1333-W. 1-6t

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Four room apartment, new house, all improvements. Apply at 226 Franklin street. 30-tf

TO LET—Three connecting rooms and bath, electric lights, heat and gas range. 178 Washington street, phone Quincy 1732M. 28-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 26 tf

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $20. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Four room tenement all improvements, range and gas attached, house new. Apply James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street, Quincy or Tel. 599-1. Jan. 15-tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Flats, Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $13. Apply to, Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

W. R. LOFGREN
Carpenter and Builder
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 398-3

LOST

REWARD for paper parcel containing two note books and 450 pages of manuscript left on 7.42 train Feb. 3 between E. Milton and Braintree. W. Sprague Brooks, Milton, Mass. 6-6t

WANTED

WANTED—Woman to take charge of Ladies Dep't. One who has had local experience and acquaintance preferred. A good position awaits the right party. Apply Orent-Payson Co., 1378 Hancock street. 6-6t.

WANTED—Working housekeeper. Apply 87 Adams street. 30-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Covered sleigh in good condition. Made by French Co. Suitable for physician. Apply Dr. Frank S. Davis, 25 Elm street. 5-3t

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M, Quincy, Res. 22-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Burgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

A Few Choice House Lots — ON — PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX
are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.
SWITHIN
3 GREENLEAF BLOCK

FOR SALE
House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,300. Straight Loan of $2,000.
EDMUND C. HAYDEN
Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing
HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.
129 Tremont St., Boston.
Oct. 8-tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES.
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1886 W

SEE IT TODAY

The Exploits of Elaine

Matinee 2.30 Evenings 8 o'clock

Next Week Mon. Tues. & Wed. THE SPOILERS

From Rex Beache's Book.

Featuring

WILLIAM FARNUM and KATHLYN WILLIAMS

A Thrilling - Powerful - Picturesque - Virile Masterpiece

SPECIAL = = Richard Hussey of West Quincy

Will appear by Special Request

Kincaide Theatre

5 2t

JOHNSON AND CO.'S

PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR

AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT

Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.

IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.

Be Sure My Name is on The Band

Yours, JOHNSON

Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

Newly cut oak cord wood for sale

$5 DOLLARS PER CORD

Telephone

Braintree 217 W.

Feb. 6-o-tf-1-1t

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

AUCTION SALE

Unclaimed and Refused Freight.

Auction sale of unclaimed and refused freight to be sold by order of New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Co., Tuesday March 2nd, 1915, in freight yard of this Company at South Braintree, Mass. at 12.30 P. M. in conformity Chapter 95 of the Revised Laws of Mass., Section 6, for account of whom it may concern.

One lot of 38 poles received in cars ACL 72488—ACL 72370—ACL 73298, consigned to Fore River Ship Building Co., East Braintree, Mass., arriving at East Braintree about Dec. 26th 1913, supposed to have been shipped by Samuel Dawson, Old Grade, Ga. Also lot of 40 poles received in cars ACL 72480—ACL 73447 and 5534 consigned to Fore River Shipbuilding Co. East Braintre, arriving at East Braintree about Jan. 26th, 1914, supposed to have been shipped by Samuel Dawson, Old Grade, Ga.

N. B. All purchasers must be prepared to make deposit at time of sale of at least 25 percent cash. All goods must be paid for and removed within 10 days after sale is completed.

per order G. L. WINLOCK,
Freight Claim Agent,
New York, New Haven and Hartford R. R. 4-9t

4,5,6,11,12,13,18,19,20

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36

Second Floor

Savings Bank Building

Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes

Quincy Savings Bank

CLARENCE BURGIN. Treas.

Nov

FOR SALE

3 Single Houses, all modern improvements.

Easy Terms.

APPLY

SWITHIN BROS.

GREENLEAF BLDG.

Feb 3-6t

ENJOY SUPPER AT Y. M. C. A.

The third membership supper was held Friday night at the Y. M. C. A. In all respects it was the most successful one yet held. A large part of the success was due to the very fine program rendered by Sandell Trio and Miss Sandell a reader.

The following was the program rendered:

Trio, Selection from Doris.

Recitation, Miss Agnes Sandell.

Trio, The Holy City.

Graphaphone selection from grand opera.

Recitation.

Overture, The Bridal Rose.

Recitation.

Overture, The Gay Cavalier.

The Trio consisted of Miss Alice Sandell, violin; Carl Sandell, cornet; and Oscar Sandell at the piano.

The menu for the supper consisted of fish chowder, corn bread, two kinds of pudding and coffee. The preparing of the meal was in charge of a committee composed of Acting Physical Director Melville, and Messrs. Field, Hager and Schlehuber. To them was due the success of the supper.

The program was arranged through the good offices of Oscar Sandell, who is a member of the Association. To him are due the sincere thanks for securing the talent of all who had the privilege of hearing the concert.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

TO LET—Flat of seven rooms with electric lights, gas stove, range at 32 Euclid avenue. Apply at 12 Berkeley street. 6-6t

WANTED—Young man with some knowledge of stenography and ability to operate Oliver typewriter. Write stating experience and wages expected. O. T. W. Ledger office. 6-1t

TO LET—Three, four or five room tenement with heat, gas range electric lights and bath. 178 Washington street or phone 1732M. 6-tf

DEATHS

LEAVITT—In Wollaston, Feb. 6, Minnie Prescott wife of Amos T. Leavitt in her 45th year. Funeral services at late home 67 Lincoln avenue, Monday Feb. 8 at 2 oclock. Please omit flowers.

LECTURES UPON "THE TELEPHONE"

John Scott Speaker at Men's Forum

An interesting stereopticon lecture on "The telephone" was delivered Friday evening, before the Men's Forum of the Park and Downs church by John F. Scott, a representative of the New England Telegraph and Telephone Company.

Tracing the history of the enterprise from its inception he told of the obstacles overcome both in the early days and in the present.

Intimate details of modern construction work were shown and some idea of the accuracy necessary in all departments was given.

The versatility of "information" was described and a list of questions asked this important unit of the service caused a hearty laugh.

Among recent questions asked by Wollaston subscribers were: "Does the Wollaston Woman's club meet today?" and "Who is the carriage man at the Wollaston station?"

The routine of a call from the time a subscriber takes the receiver off the hook until conversation is completed was described and an interesting account of the companys exchanges followed.

Touching on local telephone history the speaker mentioned George T. Magee of the Ledger as being the first telephone subscribers in Quincy, his apparatus being installed in 1882.

The Quincy exchange was first set up in 1884 on Temple street over the plumbing shop of Mr. Keniley and was in charge of George Russell.

In conclusion Mr. Scott spoke a word in behalf of the telephone operator one of the least of offenders and most mistreated of public servants.

Forbidden to answer back, the girls sometimes with tears coursing down their cheeks, have to stand the abuse arising from hasty tempers and conditions beyond their control.

In the absence of President Breen Rev. Mr. Ayers presided. At his suggestion the Forum voted to hold a mock trial based on Dickens "Mystery of Edwin Drood."

As Dickens did not live to solve the mystery for his readers the proposed trial, with its English costumes and characters, promises to be highly enjoyable.

The usual supper was served and all joined in the singing of popular songs with Artemus Dingwell at the piano.

INTEREST IN POOL GROWS.

It is rumored that several pool players in Quincy are anxious to meet the winner of the Rogers-Josephine series, denying the right of those men to contest the championship of the city. At any rate an interest is being shown in the sport which has been lost in this city since the advent of bowling. A crowd of 100 witnessed the first game and over 250 were present Thursday evening at the second clash. It is expected that this number will be present on Tuesday evening at Wardwell's pool room to witness the third clash in the series. After this series is over it is planned to hold team tournaments and also special matches at both Wardwells and Pineos rooms.

BUILDING PERMITS.

Inspector of Buildings Thomas issued the following building permits this week:

Mary A. Palmer, addition, Grand View avenue.

A. G. Ahlstrom, dwelling, Goffe st.

Mrs. Jane Myatt, dwelling, Baxter street.

H. E. Fabian, garage, Winthrop terrace, Houghs Neck.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Wood for sale.
Grossman's Clothes Shop.
Granite Shoe Store.
D. E. Wadsworth & Co.
Old Colony Laundry.
Mikado.
Quincy Board of Trade.
Quincy Pianoforte School.
Whist and Dance.

BRIEFS

The condition of William McPherson, brother of School Committeeman Joseph H. McPherson, who was removed to the City Hospital from his home on Common street remains the same.

The many friends of Albert W. Fay of Wollaston will be pleased to learn that he is doing well and while as yet unable to appear out doors is able to be up and about his home.

Lodge Skandia O. of V. No. 82 are making plans to hold a whist party and dance in Electa hall Saturday evening, February 20th. Whist will be played from 7.45 to 9.45 and dancing from 10 P. M. to 12 P. M.

A special car is to leave Wollaston at 3.30 Wednesday afternoon to accommodate children attending the dress rehearsal of "The Mikado," at Quincy Music hall. The decision of the committee to allow children under 14 years to attend the rehearsal for a nominal sum, is being taken advantage of by parents who wish their children to see a fine performance and hear good music. The house is practically sold out for Wednesday night's performance and the Music committee of the Quincy Women's club is much pleased at the interest shown.

Wednesday afternoon the Squantum Women's club met in the apartments of Mrs. Sturgis Wood, Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge. Much of the time was given over to the completion of arrangements for a musicale to be given by the club Feb. 24 at the New England Women's clubhouse in Copley square, Boston. The artists to appear will be Mrs. Ethel Frank Brigham soloist and Miss Gertrude Morrison reader. A collation will be served. Mrs. Ethel Bostwick has charge of the tickets which members will have for sale as no tickets will be sold at the door. Mrs. Hiram Morse, president, presided at the meeting and there was a fair attendance. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. William A. Reed, Massachusetts chambers, Boston.

FERRY HELD UP.

Owing to the ice in the Town river the ferry plying betweet Quincy Point and Germantown has been held up during the past week. The ferry service is operated by the sailors of the Sailors Home at Germantown.

SLEIGHING PARTY.

A group of 30 young men and women of Quincy, Dorchester, Mattapan and Randolph held a sleighing party Friday night. They dined at the Thompson cafe, City Square, at the midnight hour. The party was organized by telephone operators of the Milton and Dorchester exchanges. The trip took them through Milton, Mattapan, Randolph, Braintree and Quincy Among those on the committee of arrangements was Miss Hildur Sandblom of tSation street.

HEARS OF FATHER'S DEATH

Mrs. George M. Bailey of 52 Brooks street Wollaston has received word of the death of her father ,the Hon. Charles E. Sprague, formerly of Maine but for several years past a resident of Seattle, Wash.

He passed away on Sunday Jan. 31 leaving a widow and three sons living ing Seattle, and the daughter above mentioned.

The W. C. T. U. met with Mrs. E. S. Tenny, 115 Prospect avenue, Wollaston. Subject of the meeting was "Penal and Reformatory Work."

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to friends and fraternal organizations for the sympathy extended us in our recent bereavement and for the beautiful floral tributes.

MRS. JOHN M. O'BRIEN, and family.
6-1t

Remember

It is wise to get rid quickly of ailments of the organs of digestion—of headache, languor, depression of spirits—the troubles for which the best corrective is

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World. Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

AN ANTI-SUFFRAGE REPLY.

The report of the Suffrage meeting at which Miss Livingston spoke gives much material for comment. I have made inquiries in Boston, at our Anti Suffrage headquarters, to learn where and when Anti-Suffrage literature has "often been distributed folded with that of the liquor interests." There, they know of not one such instance. Why then this Suffrage restraint? Why are we not enlightened by at least one definite case? Perchance the Suffragists since they were constrained to retract their abusive charges against Miss Bronson may have learned caution.

I hope and believe that they will not be able to find a single instance of any such collusion. Be that as it may, as the Suffragists have a house of glass, discretion should have prevented Miss Livingston from hurling missiles at the Anti-Suffragists. I quote from the Remonstrance of October last.

Many people who recall the early identification of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union with the suffrage cause and who do not realize the change in suffrage leadership which has taken place during the last ten years assume that giving women the ballot will promote the interests of temperance and the restriction of the liquor traffic.

The suffragists themselves, when it suits their purpose, make this claim. If their attention is called to such incidents as the Los Angeles election in which the "wet" majority was heavily increased by the women's vote, of the women's soap-box campaign at Redondo Beach in the interest of the saloons, or the election at Santa Monica, where a large majority of the women voted for "wet" Sundays, they insist that these are only scattered instances, which may be explained by local conditions, and that the general trend of the suffrage movement is on the side of temperance.

(But, where the saloon interests are strong, the suffrage politician does her best to reassure them. Mrs. Crystal Eastman Benedict, who managed the suffrage campaign in Wisconsin said, after it was over: "The brewers in Wisconsin gave us, so far as we know, a perfectly square deal.") (And the Michigan Equal Suffrage Association, in the course of the campaign in that state, published the following definite disclaimer: "Our Association has had no connection with the W. C. T. U., and are not responsible for what the W. C. T. U. says or does. The temperance issue has nothing to do with woman suffrage.")

If space permitted other instances of the position of suffrage leaders on this vital question might be given.

(In an interview in the Boston Post of July 26, Judge Lindsey said:

"Here is another point in which men are mistaken. They believe, most of them, down in their hearts, that women would at once close up the saloons. That is absolutely disproved by what has happened in Colorado. Colorado is a wet state, and Denver is a decidedly wet city. The wets won in Colorado last year with women voting. Women—good women—got out and worked for the wets. Thus you have Colorado with equal suffrage going wet by 50,000, while West Virginia, where the women can't vote goes dry of 100,000.)

I would be second to none in my admiration of heroism displayed by Miss Livingston in the noble work of reclaiming girls and women from a debased life, and inasmuch as she is able to restore these outcasts to self respecting womanhood I would pay her tribute.

I do not, and there are many who do not, approve her judgment when she claims that the ballot in the hands of women will cure, or even greatly alleviate the social evil.

Will any number of laws make morals?

Without an intelligent, dominant public opinion behind a law it cannot long be effectively enforced. Anti-Suffragists believe that women should be potent factors in creating strong moral currents of public opinion.

If they, the wives, mothers, sisters, teachers and friends of men and children have not now the wisdom or the inclination to train, inspire and direct the young instrusted to them to a realization of the sacredness of human relationship, if they do not impress the men who come within their circle of influence with the sanity and dignity of their womanhood. Will the ballot give them the moral influence they do not now possess?

That a fearful number of women have failed to respond to this high calling Miss Livingston seems to have made clear, yet while casting the lime-light upon their failure she asked that they be given the ballot!

Reports of committees investigating criminology emphasize the great need of better homes. They tell us that in a majority of instances it has been found that the fallen woman, the weak or vicious boy and man lacked the wholesome influences of a good home.

The question is asked, why women opposed to suffrage do not stay quietly in their homes, they think so much of them, and let the would be voters vote?

We reply, that while we recognize the nobility of character, and loyalty to ideals, of many suffragists there are a great many others not so admirable and all follow their leaders. These leaders, to our way of thinking, are in every instance unsound in judgment and their political methods do not find favor with us, we are therefore unwilling to leave them to represent us at the polls lest we be misrepresented.

Ella Sheppard Gallagher.

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

SCHOOL SHOE SALE

We Offer These Handsome Shoes

AT REAL CUT PRICES

(Same as Shown here)

Sizes	Value	Cut Price
Childs 6 to 8	$1.25	.89
Childs 8 1-2 to 11	1.50	$1.19
Misses 1 1-2 to 2	1.75	1.39
Big Girls 2 1-2 to 6	2.00	1.69

LOTS OF OTHER REAL BARGAINS AT

GRANITE SHOE STORE

QUINCY'S SHOE MARKET

It is difficult to place the blame where it belongs in the matter of the high cost of living, but if you do not take advantage of the low prices at our stores the blame is up to you. We invite your inspection of our fine line of table provisions.

Small Pig Pork Roast—strip	15c lb
Fresh Killed Fowl	20c lb
First Cut Rib Roast	14c 18c 22c lb
Corn Beef Tongue	20c lb
Fancy Bacon—strip	20c lb
Squires Little Pig Sausages	18c lb
Choice Native Onions	30c pk
Cranberries	5c qt
Hubbard Squash	3c lb
Sweet Naval Oranges	25c doz
Juicy Sweet Florida Oranges	21c doz
California Lemons	20c doz
Handsome Baldwin Apples	35c pk
Manhattan Club Rasp. Jam	15c bot
Blue Label Catsup—Pint Bot.	21c
Franklin Mills Entire Wheat	28c pkg
5 lb. Bag Graham	20c
Tryphosa—all flavors	3 pkgs 25c

ADAMS MARKET
City Square
Phone 1980

FOY'S
2 STORES

WATER STREET
Cor. Quincy
Phone 117

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

Grossman's Clothes Shop

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 33 QUINCY, MASS., MONDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 8, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

BURGLARS ENTER THREE CHINESE LAUNDRIES

Police Believe Boys Also Responsible For Break at Robbie Home

Boys are thought to be responsible for the burglarizing of three Chinese laundries early Sunday evening and one house Saturday evening. The breaks were among the most daring that have occurred in the city in years Nothing but shirts and collars were overlooked in the laundries while money was taken at the house.

All four were reported to police headquarters at about the same time and an investigation was immediately started. Inspector Goodhue has been assigned to the cases.

The places entered were 55 Franklin street, conducted by Eng Lene, Chin Bo in the Walsh block at School and Hancock street and Wong Kay at 285 Granite street.

Entrance to the Bo place was gained by first cutting a panel in the screen door of the porch and then by breaking the glass in the door. A small amount of pennies, a raincoat valued at $6 and a brass clock valued at $9 was taken there.

At the Lene laundry the thieves first broke a window in the door and threw the catch. They took $3 in pennies there.

At the Granite street laundry a door was forced and the cash register broken and $4 in money taken.

The Robbie home at 82 Goddard street was entered early Saturday evening. The occupants were asleep while the thieves rummaged through the house after forcing the pantry window. An envelope containing $12.50 in money and small articles were taken.

The police believe local boys can clear up the mystery. It has been the custom of the local Chinese to go to Boston Sundays and to return about nine o'clock. All of the breaks were discovered after they arrived home. The police also believe they will be able to connect the boys who made these breaks with the robbery of a Wollaston laundry three weeks ago when nothing but a loaded Colt automatic 45 calibre pistol was taken.

JAMES McDONALD.

James McDonald died Saturday at the Quincy City Hospital after a short illness. He was in his 59th year. Mr. McDonald in his younger days was a landscape gardener and was considered one of the best in the state. In late years good fortune deserted him and he has been an inmate at th city home. Several years ago he was painfully burned in a fire in the rear of the Greenleaf block and never fully recovered from the effects. His funeral will take place Tuesday morning at St. John's church and the body will be taken to St. Mary's cemetery, Randolph for burial.

VICTIM OF SCARLET FEVER.

Four Year Old Son of Wm. C. Archibald Dies Sunday.

William C. Archibald, the four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Archibald of 114 Intervale street, died Sunday at the parents home, a victim of scarlet fever. The funeral will take place today. No services will be held because the home is at present under quarantine. When that is removed a memorial service will be held.

VALENTINE SUPPER.

The annual Valentine supper of St. Margaret's Guild of Christ Episcopal church will take place in the parish house at 6.30 Tuesday evening. For weeks the various committees have prepared for the event which is the premier affair of the season. Home-made decorations will be a feature. An entertainment and dancing will follow the supper.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Fair Tuesday and Wednesday. Not much change in temperature.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.49
Sun sets	5.08
Length of day	10.19
Moon rises	3.32
High water, A. M.	6.30
High water, P. M.	7.15
Days increase	1 hr. 13 minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.33 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	41 degrees
Feb. 8, 1914,	29 degrees
Feb. 8, 1913,	32 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—37.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

INFORMAL RECEPTION.

Gustave A. Bergfors, manager of the Quincy Oil Co., and one of the youngest business men of the city, attained his majority Sunday. The members of his immediate family and a few friends tendered him an informal reception at his home at 29 Pleasant street.

Assisting Mr. Bergfors receive was Miss Hazel Condon of Roxbury, his fiancee, who will shortly become his bride. A collation was served.

ROWE—MORRILL.

Haverhill Business Man Marries Miss Morrill of Wollaston.

Maurice Edwin Rowe, a Haverhill wood dealer and Miss Lena Orrissa Morrill of 99 Brook street, Wollaston, were married Sunday in the presence of their immediate relatives and friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Walther of the Wollaston Baptist church in the church parlors. A reception followed at the home of the bride.

TAKE EXAMINATIONS.

About thirty applicants for the position of census enumerators took the examination in the council chamber at city hall Saturday evening. Four long tables were arranged at one end of the chamber and the applicants gathered about these and filled out the papers of the examination. The result of the examination will be announced later.

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

If you enjoy a good Meal Come
If you enjoy good Speaking Come
If you enjoy good Music Come
If you enjoy novel Entertainment Come

But at all events
Come to the
Quincy Board of Trade Banquet
Tuesday, Feb. 9, 1915
Pilgrim Quartet — Provost Orchestra
Feb. 6-2t

WHIST and DANCE
— BY —
Mt. Wollaston Club
Odd Fellows' Hall
ADAMS BUILDING
Every Monday Evening
At 8 P. M.
Whist and Dance 25c
Feb. 6-2t-6-8

HUGE THRONG AT SUNDAY CONCERT

New F. R. C. B. Entertains Thirteen Hundred at Kincaide Theatre

MANY MORE DISAPPOINTED

More than 2500 people attempted to get into the Kincaide theatre Sunday afternoon to hear the band of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation in its first public concert. Only 1300, the capacity of the house, were admitted but it was with the utmost difficulty that late arrivals were prevented from forcing their way past the ushers at the entrance.

The theatre opened at 2.30 P. M. and was entirely filled fifteen minutes later. President Joseph W. Powell of the Corporation was among those who arrived promptly on time. He found it impossible to get into the auditorium and was obliged to hear the concert behind the scenes of the stage.

The band was organized several months ago by President Powell and under the instruction of Thomas Carter, a venerable musician who enjoys a fine reputation throughout New England, organizer and leader of Carters band, has developed into one of the most pleasing combination of entertainers in the state.

First class mechanics, ordinary workmen and apprentice boys are included in the organization of 35 and all wear the handsome uniform and cap bearing the gold letters "F. R. C. B." in monogram. All of their instruments are new and the entire equipment has been furnished by the corporation.

The program included popular compositions from the great masters, excerpts from musical comedy scores and popular song hits.

The ever popular waltz "Dreaming" Joyce, vied with "Tipperary," in popularity but the "Anvil Chorus," from Verdi's "Il Trovatore" made the hit of the afternoon. Encores were frequent but it remained for that high class composition to kindle the spark which burst into a flame of applause which subsided only when its opening strains were again heard above the hand clapping.

One of the most pleasing features of the program was the cornet solo, "O Salutaris," Bordese, by Timothy W. Stack, director of the band, and the cocoanut obligato to the "Sprites Revelry," Bailey, by Leon B. Shaw, the versatile drummer of the band.

Mr. Carter conducted the concert but gave way to Director Stack to conduct the "Second Connecticut March," Reeves, the second last number. Mr. Stack's acceptance of the baton was heartily applauded and the march, one of the most difficult and at the same time most inspiring marches was given with a full military fervor.

Two selections "Tipperary" and "I'm on my way to Mandalay" were given with a vocal accompaniment by half of the members of the band. The concert effect of the latter was probably the best of the afternoon.

The program came to a close with all joining in the singing of the Star Spangled banner.

The band: A. E. Thatcher, tuba; Henry Mattson, baritone horn; F. A. Brooks, bass; J. Filici, clarinet; L. French, cornet; A. Vining, picallo; R. Jermyn, clarinet; C. K. Bodine, clarinet; C. D. Mazzola, trombone; Thomas Djerf, cornet; Thomas Morgan, cornet E. Crevier, cornet; G. Lake, cornet; G. Walker, tenor horn; Duncan Sharpe, tenor horn; H. Hanson, trombone; L. Shaw, drums; Timothy W. Stack, leader cornet; A. Miller, clarinet; R. Falconer, clarinet; C. Rich, tenor horn; J. Brooks, cornet; C. Dixon, trombone; J. Murphy, bass drum; Oscar Djerf, trombone; Charles Williamson, symbals; H. Nugent, trombone; J. Newson French, horn; T. Atkins, trombone; J. Sanderson, alto horn, H. Higgins, picolla.

FIFTH ANNIVERSARY.

Today is being observed as the fifth anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.

REFUSES TO START HIS CAR

Claims Too Many on Board to Allow Getting Inside to Collect Fares

DELAYS TRAFFIC FOR TIME

The homeward trip of Fore River employees from their work was delayed at the shipyard Saturday afternoon when the conductor of the car which would be the first to leave the spur track declined to start his trip because his car was overcrowded.

He claimed that it was impossible to get inside the car and collect the fares with any degree of success. The starter suggested he go ahead and take a chance on his collections but he was obdurate. In the meantime one of the passengers gave the motorman two bells and as the car started the trolley was pulled from the wire.

After a delay of some minutes nearly a dozen of the passengers left the car, vowing the Bay State St. Ry. Co., would get "no more of their nickels." With the crowded conditions somewhat relieved the conductor started his trip and his car headed the long line of extras down Quincy avenue.

Spectators say they have never seen a car with a larger crowd aboard than the one in charge of the protesting conductor. From appearances, they said it was impossible to squeeze another passenger inside and in addition to the human freight others were hanging onto the steps and fenders of the car and thronged both vestibules.

INITIATION FOR 26 DIVISIONS

A. O. H. of County Convene Here Next Sunday

Candidates for membership in the 26 divisions of A. O. H. of Norfolk county will be initiated on next Sunday afternoon. The affair will be under the auspices of Div. 5 of Quincy and will take place in their hall on Franklin street.

The exemplification will be by the uniform degree team of the Norwood division. Accompanying them will be a large representation of Hibernians from that part of the county.

Arrangements for the entertaining of the visitors are being completed by John Donahue, president of Div. 5. Assisting him is a large committee of members.

State and county officers, as well as men prominent in public life and the order, will be among the guests of the day.

DISTRICT COURT.

James Barr and James F. Duffy were fined $15 each for creating a disturbance on a street car at Quincy.

Edward J. Riley was fined $25 for assault on John Menzie at Quincy.

Abel Brown was arraigned for cruelty to a horse at Quincy. Case continued until Feb. 11.

Annie Williams was fined $15 for drunkenness at Quincy and Henry Mprales $15 for drunkenness at Weymouth.

GIVES PARTY.

Miss Alice McMilan of Winthrop gave a party recently in honor of a few of her classmates at the New England Conservatory of Music. Miss Claudia Wilson of Bigelow street was among the guests of honor.

SHORTHAND IN 30 DAYS
WALDO'S BOSTON SHORTHAND SCHOOL
1124-25 Old South Bldg.
Day and Evening Terms and Details cheerfully yours. Telephone Main 2427. Call or write us. 5-6t

FEAR DEATH MAY COME ANY MINUTE

Effects of War in Ireland Described in Letter To Sisters in Quincy

PRICES ARE HIGH THERE

"We are all right now, but we don't know what minute we'll be killed" describes the feeling of uncertainty of the residents of the Irish coast according to a letter written by Mrs. Thomas Murphy of Valentia Bay, Ireland, to her sister, Mrs. Daniel J. Donahue.

The letter, the first received since the war enveloped Europe speaks of present conditions and of the terror of the inhabitants since the German made air raids on Dover, England and other seacoast towns.

Valentia Bay is a cable station and much interest centres there at present. The effect of those raids has been lasting and prompted Mrs. Murphy to write, "we are all right now but we don't know what minute we'll be killed."

Food according to the letter is scarce and prices are high. Tea and sugar are not on sale and the prospects of a supply being received are not bright Clothing is at a premium and prices are excessive.

All lights in the town are extinguished at nine o'clock and a strict watch is kept on the shoreline. Everybody is under suspicion because of a pro-German feeling by many of the inhabitants.

PLANNING BOARD NOW ORGANIZED

Board of Survey Also Holds Conference with Mayor

The members of the Planning Board and the Board of Survey met in the office of Mayor Campbell at city hall, Saturday afternoon for organization and a general conference of the work to be performed was held by the two boards. The Board of Survey had little to do in the way of organization for Mayor Campbell had designated ex-Councilmen Charles L. Gilliatt as chairman, and the city engineer by virtue of his office and the provisions of the act is the clerk of the board.

The Planning Board, however, organized with ex-Councilman Charles W. Bailey, as chairman. City Engineer Ezekiel C. Sargent was elected as temporary clerk until such time as an ordinance shall have been drawn up and passed by the city council.

The work of these two boards was discussed in a general and informal way after which it was decided to ask the city solicitor to draw up an ordinance governing the board and defining its duties and present it to the city council for adoption.

The new ordinance will probably be presented to the city council at its meeting next week.

DIES IN SPITE OF OPERATION

Ruth E. Carlson, the 5-months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Eric R. Carlson of West street, Braintree, died Saturday afternoon at the Quincy City Hospital.

Little Ruth was operated on Wednesday night for intussusception. A similar operation performed Monday on a nine months old baby was the first of its kind ever performed at the hospital. The little boy is doing well.

NEW RECTOR PREACHES FIRST SERMON HERE

Rev. William Grainger Begins Active Service

Rev. William Grainger, formerly of Canton, on Sunday conducted his first service as rector of Christ church. The subject of his sermon was "Christian Service."

A large audience greeted the new pastor at the opening of the service at 10.45 Sunday morning. Rev. Mr. Grainger briefly expressed his pleasure at becoming rector of Christ church. He said that he expected the parishioners to be in many ways disappointed in him but that he did not expect to be disappointed in them. He declared that he believed that any parish which could hold together during an inter-regnum as he had been told Christ church had done since Mr. Armstrong's departure could do nearly anything.

"I do not believe I am wrong," continued the rector, "if I expect you to continue to do as you have been doing. I come here as your rector, your pastor. The old meaning of 'pastor' was one who led the flock of sheep. I shall endeavor to lead. I won't get behind and drive.

"And I want you to follow me. I want you to follow my direction. When I make a mistake I want you to come directly to me. I am not an ogre; I won't eat you. If you fail to come to me and talk it over with the hope of setting it right but instead think about it by yourself what may be a molehill will become a mountain. I believe we are going to work together for the good of Christ church and of the community."

At the close of the service. Holy Communion was observed.

Mr. Grainger was graduated from Harvard in 1904 and from the General Theological Seminary in New York in 1907. He held a pastorate in Susquehanna, Pa., for two and a half years and was then called to Canton, from whence he came to Quincy. In Canton he was a member of the school committee. He is a Mason.

C. F. HAYNES WEDS MISS ROUGHTEAN

Carl Frederick Haynes of Newton street, son of the late Frederick W. Haynes and Mrs. E. Mabel Haynes of Auburn, Maine, formerly of Wollaston, and Miss Laura Anna Roughtean, daughter of Mrs. Mary E. Roughtean of Billings road, were married quietly at seven o'clock Saturday evening at the parish house, Atlantic, by Rev. John P. Cuffe.

The bride wore a travelling costume of blue with a hat of the same tone. The young couple were attended by Cornelius F. Duggan of Atlantic and Miss May Galvin of South Boston. The groom who has been with Brown Durrell & Co., for the past five years was given a dozen solid silver teaspoons and set of tablespoons by the employees in his department Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Haynes will be at home after February 15th at 11 Newton street, Wollaston.

—A bargain in merchandise is "better merchandise for the same money," or "something just as good for less money." To be a judge of a Real Bargain is a talent given to few people. The value of a bargain must be judged by the reputation of the store offering it. The Granite Shoe tSore is now offering about 700 pairs of children's, misses' and growing girls' school shoes at mark-down prices (see their ad in another column.) These are Real Values and at these low prices you can fit your children with a pair of good serviceable shoes that should last until school closes. Every pair bears the Granite Shoe Store silk label guaranteeing standard of merit.

VENERABLE.

Old Lady to (cabman)—Does your horse ever shy at motors?

Cabby—Lor' bless you, no, lady; he didn't even shy when railway trains fust come in.—London Fun.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

RESCUE WOMAN IN MILTON FIRE

Fire broke out about six o'clock this morning in the house occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Frater and owned by William Maclarion on Martin Terrace. Mr. Frater ran out in his bare feet and rang in the alarm from box 67 on the Hose house.

When the firemen arrived Mrs. Frater was on the piazza roof and was removed to a neighbor's house. Smoke did much damage. The fire started at the top of the cellar stairway and burned through the house. The cause is still unknown but probably lies in defective wiring.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Blagden of Franklin street have ben called to Hyannis by the death of Mr. Blagden's mother.

MUSIC HALL,
QUINCY,
WEDNESDAY, FEB. 10
THE OPERA
MIKADO
Will be given under the auspices of the Music Committee of the Quincy Women's Club, at Music Hall, Quincy, Wednesday evening, February 10, at 8 o'clock.
Leading Parts by Professionals.
Large Chorus of Mixed Voices.
TICKETS (all reserved) may be obtained from Mrs. William H. Doble, 24 South street, Quincy, Telephone Q. 514-W. Price $1.00 and 75c each.
DRESS REHEARSAL FOR CHILDREN
At Music Hall, February 10, at 3.30 P. M. Children under 14 years of age may attend by paying 25 cents at the door.
6-3t

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

KILLING TWO BIRDS.

The problem of the unemployed is a serious one these days. The city of Quincy, as has been pointed out in this column more than once, should do her part toward solving the problem in this community. A free city employment bureau, such as is being established under the direction of the overseer of the poor can do much.

Cannot the city do more? The condition of the sidewalks during the past week of stormy weather has been deplorable. It must be admitted that the situation which faced the commissioner of public works was a difficult one, perhaps too difficult to have been properly handled by the regular force employed. If this is so why could not men who were out of work and who were eager to earn a little money have been pressed into service, a procedure which would have served two admirable ends. Other cities have adopted a similar course.

A DISTRESSING PRACTICE.

Among the customs of theaters, a custom often which detracts from the reality of the play, is that of the actors appearing before the audience after the curtain has gone down. This custom is particularly distressing when one of the actors who appears to make his bow received his death blow in the scene just concluded.

The young people from the Woodward Institute and the High school who attended the excellent presentation of Julius Caesar by Henry Jewett Players Friday afternoon showed their disapproval of the custom. With minds inclouded by conventions young people often are more apt to see things in true proportion than are their elders. When the mighty Julius appeared before the curtain, after having met his death at the hands of the conspirators a few minutes before in the famous senate chamber scene, he was greeted by laughter.

TRAIN SERVICE.

The quality of the train service between Quincy and Boston is a matter of importance. In the selection of a suburban residence by a Boston business man one of the first considerations is an adequate train service. Quincy is better served than some cities similarly situated from great centres of industry but there is room for great improvement. This is not the time to make unreasonable requests of the New Haven road. The company must reduce expenses or go into the hands of a receiver. But it is incumbent upon the city to see to it at this time and at other times that Quincy is getting its fair share of service.

REV. WILLIAM GRAINGER.

The clergy can mean much to a city and in Quincy the pastors of the various churches have been a real force for good in the community. One of the churches, Christ church, has for some months been unrepresented by a permanent rector. On Sunday, however, Rev. William Grainger of Canton, the new rector, preached his first sermon, impressing upon all who heard him that here was an earnest young man who intended to do his best for the church and the community. Quincy is glad to welcome the latest member of the city's clergy.

NOT FOR QUINCY.

There is somewhat of a tendency today toward the large cities, which swallow the smaller communities about them. Boston has more than once cast covetous eyes on Quincy. Quincy will have none of it, however, especially if the abominable mail service we have endured since being included within the Boston postal district is any indication of what might be expected.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—always crisp, clean, pure and wholesome. Try it. Grocers.

ONLY ONE "Bromo Quinine," that is Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove on box. 25c.

SOCIAL LIFE IS STRENUOUS ONE

So Says His Honor After Busy Evening

Mayor Campbell says this social life is a strenuous one, as many other public officials have found in the past. Scarcely a day passes but the mayor is urged to accept an invitation to this gathering or that gathering. Should he accept all the invitations extended to him he would have but little time for his own family.

An instance which will illustrate Friday evening the mayor had half a dozen events on his calendar. His first call was at the meeting of the Wollaston Woman's club where he spoke briefly. Then taking a hasty leave he came to city hall, where he attended a joint meeting of the city council committees on fire and police matters and ordinances.

From here, accompanied by some of the newspaper men he hiked to Alpha hall, where he attended the annual ball of the Eagles, and made a presentation speech. Leaving the hall with a body guard of newspaper men he walked to City Square, and dropped in for a minute at Colonial hall where the Young Women's club were holding their annual dramatics. Here he was greeted by Miss Minnie Packard, the president and by Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann, both of whom urged him to come in and participate, but he felt obliged to decline as he desired to take the 10.30 car for home.

As he boarded the car he remarked, social life is a strenuous one.

YOUNG PEOPLE CONDUCT SERVICE

The service at the Universalist church Sunday was in observance of Y. P. C. U. Day and was carried out in an interesting and impressive manner. Members of the Y. P. C. U. occupied the pulpit and took the different parts of the service. The singing was by a choir of the Y. P. C. U..

Voluntary, Mrs. Florence Cutter, organist.
Doxology
Invocation by the pastor.
Lord's Prayer.
Duet, E. B. Spooner and Miss Edith Hyland.
Responsive reading. Led by Willard Hyland.
Hymn 825 Read by Miss Florence Smith.
Scripture Lesson, Read by Edgar Pinel.
Prayer. By the Pastor, Rev. Merrill C. Ward.
Response, Solo by Miss Edith Hyland
Announcements. Read by Miss Alice Parmenter.
Offering taken by Misses Rena and Dorothy Stoddard.
Hymn 164. Read by Miss Mildred Stoddard.
Addresses. "The History of the Y. P. C. U." by Freeman Hyland.
"The Colors of the Y. P. C. U. by Miss Bernice Stoddard.
Hymn 309. Read by Miss H. Louise Prescott.
Benediction by the Pastor

At the regular Y. P. C. U. meeting at 4.15 the subject was "The Ideal Christian. His integrity. How Lincoln Exemplified this Trait." Several members took part. Rev. Merrill C. Ward spoke on "Lincoln's Faith and Honesty."

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

Editor, The Ledger:

I note with some regret your article in Saturday's issue relative to my announcement that Mr. Wright is drawing plans for the proposed chapel in Mt. Wollaston Cemetery. It conveys the thought that Mr. Wright is being paid for the work, while, as a matter of fact, he has graciously agreed to do it free. His endeavors in this direction will be appreciated not only by myself but by the whole city. It is a luxury to have so talented a man as Mr. Wright, therefore it would please me to see you make the correction which will give proper credit where it belongs,

Sincerely yours,
Arthur B. Hultman.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

ADRIFT ON RAFT, REPULSE SHARKS

Two Women Among Thirteen Castaways From Barkentine.

HIT BY TREMENDOUS WAVES

Ship's Company Drifted Six Days Lashed or Grasping Lines on Raft and Detached Deckhouse — Sharks Swarmed Around Them and Were Driven Off by Vigorous Attacks.

Mate Charles E. Olsen of the American barkentine Ethel V. Boynton, a bronzed six footer of Viking aspect and ancestry, got in from Cuba by the Ward liner Monterey with a vivid yarn of the wreck of his ship in hurricane blasts and ponderous seas off the Georgia coast.

The wife of the skipper, Captain G. W. Waldemar, and his niece, Gladys Larrock of Boston, were in a ship's company of thirteen all told that drifted six days lashed or grasping life lines on a raft and the detached deckhouse of the barkentine. Sharks swarmed around them at times, and the more vigorous of the castaways for diversion batted the big fellows over the snout whenever they came near enough to disturb the serenity of the women.

Cargo Lashed to Deck.

The Boynton sailed from Mobile for Genoa on Dec. 26 with a full cargo of lumber, a large part lashed on deck. Off the Florida coast on Jan. 11 a heavy southeasterly gale dashed up tall seas and forced the lumber ship to heave to under storm trysail. The gale increased to a hurricane, and, fearing she might pound out her bow in the crashing combers, the skipper turned tail to the blast and ran miles to the northward under bare poles.

The deck load shifted in the flight down the wind, and the old ship began to leak. All hands were on deck, the starboard watch at the pumps and the port watch trying to jettison the deck load, which imperiled the lives of all hands. The women were safe from the tumult in the after deck house.

The deck cargo, relieved of its lashings, went by the board on the morning of Jan. 12. The Boynton was then waterlogged, her main deck almost awash, and floundering in the trough of the waves.

Hit by Huge Wave.

A monster sea, which the mate called a "tidal wave" but which doubtless was a cumulative wave, or two or more waves rolled into one, rose forty feet above the vessel and descended on the deck thunderously.

At 2:30 o'clock the next morning a wave almost as big as the giant boarded the wreck and swept the forward house into the tumult. The men cut away the main and mizzen masts at daylight. The foremast later jammed itself through the bottom of the ship.

The yawl had escaped the smashing seas, and an effort was made to launch it. The drifting lumber stove it in, and finally it was broken to matchwood. The cargo below the main deck, forced up by the water, lifted the deck from the after house to the place where the forward house had been, and the big section went sailing off by itself and was soon out of view to leeward. The released beams and boards leaped and rolled out of the barkentine from both sides.

The skipper and the lusty mate, with the crew, attacked the after deck house and with axes and naked hands got off the top to use as a raft. All hands got aboard, and the seas launched it.

The next morning, the mate says, he did something that no castaway in his memory of wrecks ever did—that is, as he said smilingly, 'we sighted the main deck,' which had drifted back in a shift of the gale.

Rafts Lashed Together.

The smaller raft felt as if it might soon go to pieces, and it was decided to board the main deck. Two hours of hard paddling with broken oars brought the little raft to the big one, and after lashing the two, the sea having gone down somewhat, all hands made the transfer, the men assisting the women. At the end of several days the main deck began to break up, and the castaways, with life lines around them, made their way back to the smaller raft. The women lay down and were lashed, and the men held to life lines.

At 10:30 that morning, Jan. 18, the Manzanillo hove in sight. The mate, being the tallest in the party, waved as a signal of distress the only bunting saved, the international code signal R, a square flag with a yellow cross on a red ground, which had been made fast to an end of a long piece of board.

Most of the shipwrecked were carried aboard the Manzanillo from her lifeboat. They were cared for generously aboard and taken to a hospital at Santiago. The skipper and his wife and niece went to Mobile. Mate Olsen and the rest of the crew went to New York on the Monterey.

1812 Penny Found In Log.

While spliting wood on his farm near Newton, N. J., Amzi Cosner saw a piece of copper fall from one of the logs. He found that it was a penny, dated 1812. The coin was in a remarkable state of preservation, the figures on it being as easily distinguished as those on a newly minted coin.

Odd Happenings In the War News

There was a fete of fireworks in Jerusalem to celebrate the Turkish occupation of the town of Suez.

There will be no battle of confetti in Paris this year. The annual carnival at mid-Lent has been called off.

A Petrograd dispatch says the Germans are using a new kind of bullet, which if it hits nothing bursts and gives out a momentary flame like an electric light.

A letter to his mother from Dieudonne, the Paris auto bandit, says he is sorry he did not die on the guillotine instead of getting a commutation of sentence, because he can't go to the front and fight.

Fraulein Marie Weissman, who is well known in Vienna society, barely missed an officer's commission in the Austrian army. She obtained the papers of a friend who had enlisted for a year, fought on the Russian frontier two months and was sent to headquarters to receive an officer's commission for bravery when her sex was discovered. Now she has to do Red Cross work.

ASTROLOGERS SEE END OF WAR IN THE SPRING.

Planet That Figures Primarily In the Horoscope Is Saturn.

Several of the foremost astrological students in New York city have compared notes of their calculations, and all agree that the European war will come to a close in the spring. These men do not belong to the professional coterie of stargazers, but are sincere students of many years' standing, and their opinion is wholly unprejudiced and without bias.

The planet that figures primarily in the horoscope of the war is Saturn. This is the most malefic and unfortunate of all the planets, and in an individual's chart or the chart of a country Saturn raises havoc when ill placed. The proof of this is shown by the fact that since the latter part of July, 1914, Saturn has been passing through the second half of the celestrial sign Gemini, which rules Belgium. It is unnecessary to comment on what has occurred in Belgium. Saturn is now retrograding 2 degrees in Gemini, so that Belgium will still have her troubles, but within a short time Saturn will pass out of Gemini and go into Cancer.

Cancer rules Germany, and the unfortunate Saturn therein will lay a strong hand on the German empire and the allies will be pressing her hard. Just at this time the great benefic Jupiter will enter Pisces in fortunate aspect or triangle to Saturn, and this is the time when overtures for peace can be expected. This will occur between the latter part of February and the middle of April, and events will so shape themselves as to make Germany anxious for the cessation of hostilities.

One astrologer figures the date as Feb. 22, but several of the other students think this too early and look for peace in April. In the meantime no decisive battle will occur, and the same seesaw game will continue, being a mere wearing out process.

It will be interesting to follow the course of events in view of these predictions, which have been carefully calculated.

ELOPERS IN 2500 B. C.

Yale Deciphers Law Said to Be 4,000 Years Old.

Legal obstacles which the ancient Babylonians had to avoid when hiring rowboats or in eloping with the woman of their choice against the will of an irate father and the laws dealing with the ill treatment of women, the repudiation of adopted children and the killing of hired oxen by lions are outlined in a tablet, believed to be 4,000 years old, which is in the possession of Yale university.

The stone is heavily incrusted, it was said, but part of it has been cleaned and the writing translated. The laws are in the Sumerian language, that of southern Babylonia prior to the conquest of the Semites in the time of Hammurabi.

The statutes are believed to have been written about 2500 B. C. The tablet was recently taken from an excavation. It is expected the entire writing will be deciphered when the stone is cleaned.

DIET FOR ANGLER FISH.

Eats Ducks In Connecticut and Is Caught With Ice Tongs.

A strange specimen of the angler fish was caught by Captain Palmer at South Beach, Conn., who removed from its insides two ducks from J. Kennedy Tod's Innis Arden estate, one of which was still alive. The fish was struggling in the water when seen by Captain Palmer and was landed with a pair of ice tongs. It is a yard long, and its mouth is 6 by 8 inches.

The angler fish is described by Webster's Dictionary in this way:

"A pediculate fish (Lophius piscatorius) of Europe and America, having a large, broad and depressed head, with a mouth very large. It reaches a length of from three to five feet and is said to lie partly buried on the bottom and to entice other fishes within its reach by movement of fleshy appendages on the head."

No mention is made of ducks.

HOLD BIG DANCE AND MASQUERADE

Over 75 couples were in attendance at the Masquerade and Dance given by the Finnish Temperance society in its hall on Smith street, Saturday evening. Guests were present from Milton, Braintree, Randolph and Boston. There were many weird and odd looking people in their different masks and many and various were the celebrites who were imitated.

They all danced with masks until 10.30 when the signal was given to unmask. The prizes were then awarded. The first prize was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. J. Maki 2nd prize Helmi Savonen, 3rd prize Elmer Laurila. After the prizes were awarded dancing was in order until 11.30. Music was furnished by the Finnish Temperance Band. The dance order consisted of 20 dances which were all encored. Refreshments were served by the committee of young ladies from the auxiliary.

FEED THE BIRDS.

The Massachusetts Audubon Society is sending a poster to all postoffices in the State in the hope that the suffering among the wild birds caused by the icing of field and forest may be relieved as much as possible. The recent storm has been particularly hard on the birds, as even the trees have been coated with ice for days and the food supplies usually available on trunk and limb have been out of reach.

The poster reads:

PLEASE FEED THE BIRDS.

The deep snow covers their usual food—insects' eggs and larvae, and the seeds of weeds—and they will starve unless we feed them.

Give them "hayseed," chaff from the barn floor, crumbs, scraps of meat, bones and suet; anything eatable, and they will repay you a thousandfold by their work in the garden and orchard all the spring.

Do it now. Fasten the meat scraps and suet securely to the trees and see how eagerly the chickadees and woodpeckers go to it. Tread the snow down hard and scatter the hayseed and crumbs there, or put it on a board or box and watch the juncos and tree sparrows fill up. Put out chaff and grain for the quail and meadowlarks in the pasture. They work for us all summer long, eating insects.

Keep it up while the snow lasts. It is not only a fine philanthropy but a paying investment for each one of us. If you want to know more about feeding and protecting birds, write to Winthrop Packard, Secretary, the Massachusetts Audubon Society, 234 Berkeley street, Boston, Mass.

ARBUTUS GIRLS TO HOLD PARTY

The Arbutus Girls are making final preparations for their Valentine party which will be held Thursday evening in Colonial hall. The committee in charge report a large sale of tickets and that everything points that this, the clubs first social affair will be a success. The committee are. Mary E. Finn Marie A. Cormack and Mary M. Doyle.

BOSTON SOCIAL CLUB DANCE

The Boston Social club, a newly organized club of Italian residents of South Quincy, held its first grand dance Saturday evening in Malnati's hall. Over 50 couples were in attendance and guests were present from Boston, Mattapan and Brockton.

Modern dances were in order and each dance of the 24 on the order was encored several times. The floor was in charge of Fred Tangherlini assisted Tullio Tangherlini and James Giarrussi. Music was furnished by an orchestra composed of club members under the leadership of T. Tangherlini. Dancing was enjoyed by all until midnight.

Harold Hopkins of Arlington street will leave in a few days for Atlantic City where he has a contract to wire a new hotel now being erected.

Masquerade Costumes For Rent
Children's Costumes in variety
MRS. R. E. WOODWARD
155 Billings Road
Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs
Feb. 3-tf

Modern Business

grew to a point where letter service at telegraphic speed was imperative. The Western Union originated Day and Night Letters to fill this need. The astonishing results have shown this was a real need capably filled.

THE WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH CO.

COMMITTEES ARE APPOINTED

At the meeting of the Atlantic Improvement Association Friday evening the following committees were appointed by President Mosses with the consent of directors Streets and Sidewalks, W. E. Barnes, chairman, John A. Cusick, G. W. Baker, R. T. Green Watson F. Taylor, Jas. E. Packard and F. M. Spicer: Gas, Electric Light and Water, F. M. Spicer, chairman, John A. Duggan, John A. Cusick, F. E. Brooks, C. E. Carlson and W. G. Young; Entertainment, W. G. Young chairman, John Peacock, Russell T. Green, Edw. W. Gallagher, Wm. McMahan, Wm. W. Merrill, Cornelius Duggan, F. R. Foss, W. G. Hersey, Orlando M. Niles and Harry B. Wilson; Railroad, George W. Baker, Chairman, Rev. T. W. Davison and C. E. Carlson; Membership, Wm. E. Barnes, chairman, F. E. Brooks, Frank P. Leavitt, Jas. E. Packard, F. M. Spicer, F. R. Stockford, John Peacock, Henry Martens, Sydney S. Bancroft, John M. McClure, C. L. Slayter, James A. Fay, W. G. Young and William L. Buckley; Publicity committee, William H. Davis, Legislative and Legal, John A. Duggan; Health, Dr. D. A. Bruce, chairman, James E. Packard Wm. L. Buckley, H. O. Cassidy and W. E. Coulson, Play Ground, William McMahan, chairman, John Peacock, Rev. T. W. Davison and Dennis J. O'Neil. Police and Fire Service, George W. Baker, chairman, H. F. Beal and Dennis J. O'Neil, Postal Service, George W. Baker, chairman, W. G. Young and H. F. Mosses.

CONTEST FOR SWEEPSTAKES

All details for the sweepstakes contest between Paul Poehler, Archie Walsh and "Red" Millar, three of the best known professional bowlers in Greater Boston have been arranged with the exception of the selection of alley and dates.

The plan is for each man to put up a stipulated sum of money, the winner to take all. Millar is being backed by Jack McGann.

From an attraction standpoint the match will be one of the greatest ever staged in candlepin circles. The supporters all have supreme confidence in each man.

All three are the individual leaders of the City and Suburban leagues of the metropolis. Poehler is candlepin champion and is considered the greatest small ball roller in the world. He and Walsh are tied in the City league with an average of 107. Poehler leads the Suburban league with 109, while Millar and Walsh are tied for second place with 108.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

SCISSORS PASTE

NO WONDER.

We were reading a few days ago that there were a million motor cars in the United States and a prospect of a half million being added this year. Also that there were 1,200,000 miles of road in this country. That makes a motor vehicle for practically every mile of road. Is it any wonder that we think they are thick on the main thoroughfares on pleasant Sunday afternoons?—Spencer Leader.

Japan is at war with Germany, but in spite of that fact she has forwarded to Berlin the interest due on bonds held by that nation. The little brown men are honorable and honest and are setting a fine example for the world to follow. Even though owing money to enemies they paid it.—Dedham Transcript.

ANNUAL BALL OF PARK POLICE

The first annual ball of the Metropolitan Park Police Association will be held in Mechanics building, Boston on the evening of Feb. 15. Governor David I. Walsh and prominent state officials will be the guests of honor.

One of the features of the evening will be the military drill of a company of younger officers of the department under the direction of Sergeant Brevogle, for many years a mounted officer in Blue Hill Parkway. The Quincy members who will participate will be Edward Berry, Joseph McTiernan, Harry Hathorne, Edward Flaherty and Joseph Perry.

On the committee is James White and Bernard O'Neil, members of the department for many years. The officers report a good sale of tickets in this city.

ARTHUR P. BECKFORD.

Arthur P. Beckford, who lived in this city until a few years ago, died at Portland, Me., Thursday. His funeral was held at the Church of the Sacred Heart of that city Saturday morning. A requiem high mass was celebrated. His body was brought to this city for burial in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The deceased was the son of Mrs. Margaret and the late James Beckford. He was educated in the public schools of Quincy and was very popular in the Quincy avenue section where he made his home.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

Build Now! Plan Now!

To the prospective home builders of Quincy that Quincy may share in the general betterments that will accrue to every one who takes advantage of the Build Now opportunities we propose the following inducement which we are sure the material men and all labor will generously follow. For a limited time we will blueprint any of our plans of flats at a reduction from the regular price. We will also estimate all building work at Build Now prices and can save you some money if you'd dare take a chance.

How many Real Boosters in Quincy?

J. W. PRATT Architect and Builder
18 FAXON AVE, from City Sq. Tel 581-W

Among Our Churches

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL.

"Behold I stand at the door and knock" was the subject of Mr. Willmott's morning sermon.

Christ knocks at the door of the heart not with a message of philosophy, science or theology, but with a message to all that every one may do God's work. He pleads with the sweet persuasiveness of a great mercy that we rise above the sordid and embrace the spiritual life.

The heart asks, By what right do you knock? To which the answer comes, By the right of your needs and poverty of soul. We need light. He tells us I am the Light of the World. We seek truth. He says, I am the Truth. We need to know the way. He tells us, I am the Way. We desire life and he says, I am the Life. We live on a low plane. We were not meant for this. Our feet are fast in the horrible clay. We pray for deliverance and he says, He whom the Son sets free is free indeed.

If he enters, what? All doors are open before us. Only our will bars out the great goodness which would bless our lives. He would come not to argue or debate or appeal to the intellect or the emotions, but to urge that we let him into the citadel of our lives. Never can we find peace until [illegible] lives Christ dwells [illegible] sin has to go as he [illegible] battle off when light is [illegible]

Th[illegible] for the universality of Chr[illegible] peal. He says Whosoever wil[illegible] races and huts are the same to him and education or ignorance are but accidents. He offers us communion with the highest. Is it not uplifting to feel that our lives are not lacking in interest to God and would we not be stronger to bear burdens if we were blessed with this consciousness?

The Christian Endeavor society met at 6 P. M. The topic was "Christian Endeavor That Counts." Carle Hayward was the leader.

In the evening the pastor spoke on "Blessed is the Oiler."

The regular meeting of the Philathea class will be held in the ladies parlor at 7.45 this evening.

Hon. George H. Carter, ex-mayor of Chelsea, will speak on "Lessons from the Life of Abraham Lincoln" at 7.45 P. M. Wednesday.

The regular mid-week service will be held Thursday evening. The subject: "Contrasted Characters: Cain and Jonathan."

The Knights of King Arthur will meet Friday evening at 6.30.

Friday at 4 P. M. and 8 P. M. Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis will read "Pollyanna" in the chapel. The reading will be illustrated by living pictures.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL.

At the morning service in the Wollaston Congregational church the pastor, Dr. Isaiah W. Sneath spoke especially to the members of the Junior, Intermediate and Senior C. E. societies, in observance of Christian Endeavor Day.

Dr. Sneath took for his text John 7:17: "If any man willeth to do his will," and said in part: "And now abideth knowing, feeling, willing and the greatest of these is willing. Not one of us can afford to be indifferent to the fact that will power is the king of our lives.

"The man of strongest will power and who keeps his will power for his betterment in life is the man who fixes his attention persistently upon the divine ideal as it is exemplified in Jesus Christ. Here is where Christ was king. 'My meat is to do the will of him that sent me.'

"That will of yours! Use it for your good, for the good of others, for the glory of God."

Prior to the sermon, Dr. Sneath gave a short talk in the form of a story, especially adapted to the members of the Junior C. E. Society.

During the regular service in the auditorium, the Children's Hour was conducted in the vestry by Miss Lucille Smalley, for little children whose parents were attending morning worship.

The Sunday school met at 12.15, in charge of Supt. Chas. A. Campbell. The attendance was 161, with six perfect classes. Mr. Campbell, in behalf of the school thanked the Push and Pull Class for their gift of an attendance register.

Resolutions were adopted on the death of Mrs. Amos T. Leavitt, a lifelong member of the school and an assistant in the primary department.

The Junior C. E. meeting was held in the vestry at 3.30 P. M., Edna Brown, leader. The Intermediate Society met at 4.30 P. M., Hale Waite, Leader. The Senior meeting at 6 o'clock was in charge of Mrs. Wm. K. Embleton. The subject at all three meetings was "Christian Endeavor that Counts." 1 Cor. 15:57,58.

A meeting for men only, from all churches in the vicinity, was held in the auditorium at four o'clock, for the purpose of prayer for a series of meetings to be held in Kincaide's Theatre, on Sunday afternoons in the near future, under the auspices of the Quincy Y. M. C. A.

A meeting of the Ladies' Benevolent society will be held Wednesday afternoon in the vestry.

The regular Thursday midweek service will be led by Dr. Sneath. Topic: "An evening with the Workers of the A. M. A." Mark 7: 24-37.

The first "Silver Tea" of the season will be held at the home of Mrs. Carroll E. Bates, 141 Warren avenue at 2.30 P. M. Friday.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN.

This church accepts the religion of Jesus, holding in accordance with his teachings, that practical religion is summed up in love to God and love to man.

At the morning service of worship Rev. Carl G. Horst's subject was "The Child-like Heart," from the text 'Verily I say unto you, except ye turn and become as little children, ye shall in no wise enter into the kingdom of heaven.' Just as a child trusts its parents, so the Christian has perfect confidence in God. The child cannot understand all that its parents do, but trusts them where he cannot understand.

'So in all the best religious life there is perfect trust in God. Such trust does not free us from care and suffering and sorrow, but gives us strength to bear them. There are many things we cannot understand, but faith in God helps us to believe that "sometime when all life's lessons have been learned and sun and stars forevermore have set, we shall interpret all this doubt and strife, and find a key for each mystery, and see how all God's plans were right, for He knew the best."

The Sunday school is very proud of its new orchestra. The music yesterday was an inspiration. The members of the orchestra are Miss Helen Moulton, Clifford Boshan, John Tribou, Theodore Smith, Mrs. Chandler W. Smith.

The Ladies' Aid Alliance meets in the vestry, Wednesday at 2.30. Mrs. Jessie E. Donahue, the New Hampshire Director of the National Alliance, will speak on "Patriotism and Loyalty."

Rev. Carl G. Horst tomorrow evening will assist in the Ordination and installation of James W. Macdonald as pastor of the First Unitarian church in West Upton. Mr. Horst, before coming to Wollaston was pastor of this church for some years.

The special opening service of the Sunday school. Sunday was commemorative of Lincoln's birthday. Patriotic songs and special music by the orchestra lent their inspiration to the meeting. Walter E. Simmons who had met Lincoln, gave his impressions of him.

The latest arrival in our parish is a little boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Burnham of 30 Park street.

The Y. P. R. U. meeting last evening in charge of Miss Catherine Reed

(Continued on Page Six.)

Peter Pan BREAD
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
A bread of superlative excellence, carefully baked and wrapped in waxed tissue for your protection.
ASK YOUR GROCER

M. WIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
Telephone 1152-M Quincy
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy F27

Cookery Points

Oyster Stews.

There are many receipes for oyster stews. One must be careful about the length of time the stew is cooked. The special point is to achieve a broth that is piping hot and filled with plenty of oysters. The oysters must be cooked enough to be shriveled. If thickened with eggs or flour the broth must be smooth and creamy, not a pasty, lumpy, curdled fluid.

To avoid imperfections strain the oyster liquid to free it from sand and shell; rub together the butter and flour used for thickening until thoroughly kneaded and stir until smooth and even. Care must be taken in measuring the flour for a cream soup. One tablespoonful to the same quantity of butter or one ounce of each by weight will usually make a quart of cream soup of the right thickness.

An excellent cream soup with oysters is made by heating one quart of oysters in their liquor, with enough cold water added to make a quart of broth. When the boiling point is reached rub the oysters through a sieve until fine, pour the liquor over the pulp and set aside where it will keep warm. Blend two ounces of butter with two of flour and stir until it bubbles briskly. Add one quart of hot milk gradually and when smooth add the oysters and liquor. Season with salt and red pepper to taste.

Dishes For Lenten Eggs.

Most of the novelty kitchen devices sold over American counters originated in Germany. German cooks delight in making many novel and special dishes in which to serve special foods. This is very likely owing to the fact that the German housewife likes to use odd shaped and gayly colored dishes on her table.

In the breakfast eggs are the quaintest little dishes of majolica. Some of them are covered and some uncovered. Many of them rest over a dish designed to hold warm water and thus keep the eggs from cooling off. A design which is especially pleasing was an arrangement of twelve little nests in the shape of half eggshells grouped around a brown hare which was standing up quaintly on its hind legs and which served a point of usefulness as a convenient handle to the dish.

Another egg set arranged in much the same fashion had a little yellow chicken, life size, as the handle and center decoration. One covered dish was topped by a comfortable looking hen with her wings spread out as if she were sitting on a nest. In all there were perhaps a dozen different designs in this attractively colored majolica ware, which has the advantage of being reasonably priced.

Baked Potatoes and Eggplant.

It is better always to help the steam to escape from baked potatoes by pricking them either before they are put into the oven about three times with a steel fork or when they are nearly done and the water in them has a good deal expanded in steam. Once in awhile a potato will burst if this is not done, and this makes work as well as loss.

And, speaking of bursting, there is no explosion on a small scale that is much louder or has a more complete scattering of substance as its accompaniment than from an eggplant which is not pricked in time, some time before it is soft. This sort of thing is perhaps more likely to happen if the vegetable is put in the oven straight from the refrigerator.

In the course of baking the skin of this vegetable becomes drier and drier until it is stiff and hard as the hardest leather and as shiny as that called patent. The vegetable being so largely water, when this is thoroughly hot and begins to turn to steam, the cook should provide a vent; otherwise she will lose her eggplant, get a good fright and have a very mussy oven to clean.

Cream Puff Shells.

Cream puff shells, which are not at all difficult to make, are a great help in arranging dainty meals. Not only for desserts and entrees, but for the main course at luncheon, they may be used to advantage.

The shells, filled with a salad or aspic jelly, are something of a novelty, and as they lend themselves to attractive garnishing they have much in their favor.

For desserts they may be used in many ways. Filled with ice cream, fresh or cooked fruit, topped with whipped cream or meringue or with any one of the numerous cold custards or a blancmange, they will not fail to find a welcome.

Keeping Lemons.

Lemons can be kept a long time without becoming dry if put into a jar of water with a lid. The water should be changed once a week if they are to be kept long. When used they will be quite as firm as when fresh and, if anything, more juicy.

The juice of a lemon added to a pan of water will freshen wilted vegetables. Let them stand in it for an hour.

Boiling Rice.

When boiling rice add a little lemon juice to the water. This will give it a nice white appearance and make it dry and grainy.

Woman's World

Executive Ability Akin to Her Father's Miss Morgan's Gift.

Photo by American Press Association.

MISS ANNE MORGAN.

Miss Anne Morgan, youngest daughter of the late financier of that name, seems to have inherited some of his remarkable executive ability. Since her father's death she has been the leader in several philanthropic schemes unusual in scope and striking in their success.

One of her most successful projects has been the vacation savings fund, out of which grew many projects for the benefit of working women. One of these is a lunch room and club for girls on Thirty-ninth street, New York. A second lunch service combined with a dance hall has been opened in the Strand theater building. The Lafayette fund, whose object is to supply emergency kits for the soldiers of France, is a hobby which has enlisted her interest as well as that of many other society women. The vacation war relief committee, in which Miss Morgan is interested, supplies work to girls who are out of employment. The work consists in the sewing of garments for the war sufferers in Europe.

Altogether Miss Morgan seems to be a busy and resourceful woman and rather notable for the practical and original form of her philanthropies.

MILLINERY NOVELTY.

Conical Crowned Hat With Bugs Ornamenting the Bows.

Pictured here is a very novel hat of delft blue moire ribbon, which is quilted on the foundation. The crown is a conical one. An erect bow rises straight from the apex of the crown. The bow is held in place by fancy ornaments in the shape of jeweled bugs. This novel chapeau was designed by Ora Cne.

DELFT BLUE HAT.

Girdle Daggers.

The new girdle fasteners are huge dagger shaped brooches like the old shawl pins. One with topazes and dark brown enamel is in a mounting of engraved silver. Another has amethysts in graduated sizes in a row from its long, slim point to the head, which is an inch across.

Glove Bracelets.

Glove bracelets are an innovation of the season and exceptionally popular. They are made in the old gate pattern or pointed and fastened with a clasp. Worn over the glove and at its upper edge, they hold the top of the long glove in place on the arm.

HOLIDAY FARE.

Here is an attractive, economical and easily prepared refreshment menu for an evening function on Washington's birthday:

Grapefruit Cocktail With Maraschino Cherries.
Tomato Jelly.
Egg and Head Lettuce Salad.
Hatchet Shaped Sandwiches.
Coffee.
Apple and Cherry Tarts or Ice Cream and Small Red and White Frosted Cakes.

Are You Reading
THAT
Wonderful, Alluring Serial Story
THE EXPLOITS OF ELAINE
Come, Girls, start today
IT'S GREAT,
Read The Story in
THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Then See The Play At
THE KINCAIDE THEATRE

SHOD ONLY IN LIGHT SLIPPERS

Police Rescue Man Stranded at Wollaston Depot

A 60 year old man got off a train at Wollaston station Saturday evening, and because he wore nothing but slippers took refuge in the station when he found the street running with water. The man was sent to police headquarters because it was thought he might have escaped from some institution.

He gave his name first as Rocco, and then as Riley and said his home was at 31 Salem street, Boston. The police found this to be correct. His son came to Quincy and said his father, who is an expert tailor, was recovering from a severe illness. He took him home. Riley said he knew an Italian in Braintree and was on his way there but got off the train by mistake.

FARM BUREAU INCORPORATED

The incorporation of the Norfolk County Farm Bureau was perfected Saturday afternoon at a meeting held at the county courthouse at Dedham, at which John F. Merrill, chairman of the County Commissioners, presided.

In opening the meeting Chairman Merrill said that there was no reason why Norfolk county should not be a producer as well as a consumer and at least raise enough products to supply the people of the county. It was said that the County Commissioners would appropriate $100, and the several granges, boards of trade and other similar organizations would be asked to contribute.

The new organization starts out with a membership of 70 members, and it was agreed that the charter should remain open for a short period to allow other residents of the county to come in. After some discussion the by-laws of the Hampden County Improvement association were adopted.

Evan F. Richardson, of Millis was elected president of the new organization; County treasurer, Henry D. Humphrey of Dedham, treasurer; Ernest H. Gilbert of Stoughton, clerk and secretary. The organization has three vice presidents and a large board of directors, who include Mrs. Theodore C. Kitson of Quincy and Hartley L. White of Braintree.

The annual meeting of the bureau will be held on the first Saturday of each year. The County Commissioners were empowered to add to the board of directors so that each town in the county may be represented.

FORMERLY LIVED IN QUINCY POINT

Mrs. Peter Dorley Died Sunday Night at Daughter's Home

WAS 95 YEARS OLD

Word was received this morning of the death of Mrs. Olive Dorley, wife of Peter Dorley of River street.

Mrs. Dorley died Sunday night at seven o'clock at the home of her daughter Mrs. Michael McLoughlin of Shawmut avenue, Boston. Mrs. Dorley has not enjoyed good health for the past year and while her death was not unexpected by the immediate family, it came as a shock to her many Quincy friends who did not know of her illness.

Mrs. Dorley was born in Tracadie, Antigonish County, Nova Scotia, in years ago when she went to live with her son the late Joseph Dorley of this city. For the past year she has resided in Boston. Her husband is ninety-four years of age and is remarkably active and well preserved for his years and makes his home with his son William M. Dorley of River street.

Mrs. Dorley is survived by two sons and a daughter, William M. Dorley of Quincy, Daniel Dorley of Brockton and Mrs. Michael McLoughlin of Boston. She is also survived by fourteen grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

☞ The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton Director
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings. 6-6t

OBSERVES BIRTHDAY.

Over a dozen friends of Janet MacDonald gathered at her home on Saville street Saturday afternoon to help her observe her ninth birthday. An enjoyable afternoon was passed in singing, playing games and dancing. Refreshments were served.

Among those present were the Misses Frances Howley, Catherine Curtis, Mary Keating, Winifred Appleton, Mary Appleton, Janet MacDonald, and William Curtis, Ellsworth Curtis, Harry Shelburne, Russell Sullivan, Gordon MacDonald.

Commisioner Brown, advertises today for bids for furnishings for the Atherton Hough school. The bids will be opened until Feb. 15.

SELF FILLING
The Crocker
NON SPILLING
INK-TITE
FOUNTAIN PEN
For a Short Time Only
WE'LL PAY
YOU $1.00
FOR YOUR
OLD FOUNTAIN PEN
Provided You Buy a Crocker
INK-TITE
Fountain Pen
(Only one Pen taken in exchange for each new pen purchased.)
Exchange Your Old Pen Now
DON'T WAIT
Every Crocker Ink-Tite Pen is guaranteed to be a FAR BETTER PEN than you have ever known.
QUINCY
ARTHUR L. McGILVRAY, Druggist
WOLLASTON
G. C. SHUNK, Newsdealer & Stationer
Jan. 18-9t-eod

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1593 Hancock st.
Mrs. Mandep, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS— Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

SPORTING COMMENT

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE.

Revere and Quincy, Tuesday, at Quincy.

Reading and Wellesley, Wednesday, at Wellesley.

Reading and Winthrop, Friday, at Winthrop.

Revere and Wellesley, Saturday, at Wellesley.

Wellesley High looks like the champion of the Interscholastic league. Four games are scheduled this week. Quincy has but one, with Revere, Tuesday. On next Friday they play the Brockton quintette. The league standing:

	Won	Lost	Pts won
Wellesley H. S.	5	1	.883
Winthrop H. S.	3	2	.600
Quincy H. S.	2	3	.400
Revere H. S.	2	3	.400
Reading H. S.	1	4	.200

The MacGregors of Quincy are leading the Scottish clans league with 57 points won and 11 lost. The McPhails are in second place, three points behind.

The members of the Quincy Social Club's league are discussing a pool match between Ted Muer of the Quincy Adams club and Ernest Knight of the Nonpareils. The versions of the possible match differ. Some say Muer stands ready at any time to post a good sized wager and that Knight hasn't come half way. Others are to the effect that both men while claiming superiority, have made no attempt to arrange a match. In any event the meeting will take place sometime.

THAYER WINS BY 26 POINTS

Miss Piercy made 34 points for the Thayer Academy team Saturday in the game with Wellesley. Thayer won 44 to 18.

The summary:

THAYER		WELLESLEY
Miss Platts rf		lb Miss Hastings
Miss Piercy lf		rb Miss Phillips
		rb Miss Oakes
Miss Bianchi c		c Miss Lutts
		c Miss McKinnon
Miss Field rb		lf Miss Vaughn
Miss Prescott rb
Miss Gallavan lb		rf Miss Babcock

Score, Thayer Academy 44, Wellesley High 18. Goals from floor, Miss Platts 5, Miss Piercy 15, Miss Vaughn 7, Miss Babcock 2. Goals from fouls, Miss Piercy 4. Referee, Miss Carr, Wellesley. Thayer Academy. Umpire, Miss Fessenden. Scorer, Miss Walker. Timer, Miss Kuhlewin. Time, 15m. halves. Attendance 125.

PRATT'S BREAD costs a little more—but worth a good deal more. Ask your grocer to send a loaf "trial size."

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Probate court for Norfolk county will be held in Quincy Wednesday morning.

Joseph Curry of Roxbury spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Curry of Ashland street.

The Owattona Social club will meet tonight with Miss Grace Brownrigg on Garfield street.

The women of St. Mary's parish will meet Tuesday evening to plan for the annual parish reunion to be held in the near future.

The Odd Ladies will initiate, receive a visitation, and install its officers in Franklin hall on the evening of Feb. 25.

The Holy Name Society will attend holy communion monthly instead of every three months according to an announcement of Fr. Thomas R. McCoy of St. Mary's parish, made on Sunday.

The regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Auxiliary will be held on Friday at 3 P. M. A paper entitled "The One Talent" will be read by Mrs. Walter Codding of Somerville.

The many friends of Miss Helen Lyons of West street will be pleased to hear that she returned home last Saturday from the Carney hospital, where she underwent a serious operation two weeks ago.

The four little girls who took part in the Fraternal Order of Eagles ball Friday night as Liberty, Truth, Justice and Equality were Margaret Mellen, Isabel May Putman, Viola McArthur and Grace McDonald.

The bi-monthly rally of the East Norfolk C. E. Union will be held at 7.45 this evening at the Wollaston Baptist church. The speaker of the evening will be Rev. E. H. Byington, D. D., of the Congregational church of West Roxbury.

One of the Boston Sunday papers devoted a whole page to the work of William E. Hingston of Wollaston Park, the well known handwriting expert. Another Sunday paper featured the story published by the Ledger several weeks ago relative to the installation of a telephone set in the sick room at the home of Thomas Forrest.

After the regular meeting of Quincy lodge of Elks Tuesday evening there will be an amateur entertainment at which time future stars of the theatrical world will appear on the stage before the critics and show what they can do. Members of the lodge are strictly prohibitied from throwing cabbages and other vegetables at the artists who appear.

WAS JEWELRY ENGRAVER.

Henry A. Merhoff Dies at Home In Atlantic.

Henry A. Merhoff, 28 well known in the jewelry trade in Boston died at his home, 26 Conant road, Atlantic, Saturday, after an illness of two weeks. Mr. Merhoff came here a short time ago from Roslindale.

He was born in Chelsea and by occupation was a jewelry engraver, well known to the wholesale and retail jewelry trade of Boston, and was considered an exceptionally fine workman Nine months ago he married Miss Sarah J. Clark who survives him. Funeral services will be held from his late home this evening and the body will be taken to Nantucket for burial Tuesday where services will be held at the grave.

TO LET

Large Room 30x36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES,
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1906 W

FOR SALE
3 Single Houses, all modern improvements.
Easy Terms.
APPLY
SWITHIN BROS.
GREENLEAF BLDG.
Feb 2-6t

STANDING IN F. R. LEAGUE

The most interesting match of the Fore River bowling season takes place Friday night at the Columbian alleys when the Machine Gallery and Yard teams, first and second place combinations, face each other for the first time in weeks. The match promises to develop into an exciting affair.

The Machine Gallery has held the lead since early season and at times has been hard pressed by the Yard. It has taken 68 of a possible 80 points. The Yard has made nearly as good a showing.

FORE RIVER LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
M. Gallery	68	12	850
Y. Dept.	59	17	776
N. Dept.	47	29	618
E. Dept.	48	32	600
S. Dept.	41	35	539
D. Dept.	42	38	525
Treas. Office	25	31	446
Ex. App.	32	44	421
B. Dept.	32	48	400
U. S. N.	29	47	381
M. Floor	29	51	363
Pur. Agts.	15	61	197

High single Olindy 153, Y. Dept. 506.

High three string Olindy 360. M. Gallery 1442.

Smith 100, Tirrell 98, Olindy 98, Dierf 93, Golden 93, Katcon 93, White 93, Westland 92, Ago 92, Carlson 92, Smith 91, Mahoney 91, Malnati 91, Dubois 91, Ryan 90.

Spain's Arbitration Court.

"The most unique and interesting institution for the settlement of civil suits in Spain," writes Thomas W. Palmer, Jr., in Case and Comment, "is the arbitration court. All contentions or disputes before or after the commencement of litigation, no matter how far advanced, can be submitted to an arbitration tribunal by agreement of all the interested parties. The exceptions to this are those suits involving political and civil rights, etc., or those matters in which the state is especially concerned. The arbitrators, whose number must not exceed five, are lawyers of twenty-five or more years of age and in full enjoyment of civil rights. In some instances the arbitrators may be laymen (amigables componedores). Appeal is made from the arbitration direct to the territorial appeal court. This method of deciding claims has proved successful and is employed considerably."

Speculative Life Insurance.

A mania for speculative insurances on the lives of public personages prevailed in England during the eighteenth century. Warren Hastings, the pretender, the rebel lord or the unfortunate Admiral Byng answered equally the purpose of speculation, and there were also regular quotations on the lives of notorious highwaymen. Sir Robert Walpole at one period of his career, when his life was endangered by popular tumults, was insured for many thousands, and when George II. fought at Dettingen 25 per cent was paid against his return. Such speculative insurances were, however, largely checked by the gambling act of 1774, which made insurable interest a necessary condition for a valid policy.

He Knew.

The professor of the class in English history was telling his young men of the impressionable age about the Elizabethan era when, suddenly turning to one of the young men, who seemed to be in a dream, with a faraway gaze, he said:

"And how old was Elizabeth, Mr. Case?"

"Eighteen last birthday," came the instant reply.

The Largest Reptile.

The largest existent reptile is the man eating salt water crocodile of southern Asia and Australia, which, when full grown, measures thirty feet in length from end of nose to tip of tail. One man makes hardly more than a mouthful for this fearsome creature.

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF

Which is Better—Try an Experiment or Profit by a Quincy Citizen's Experience.

Something new is an experiment.
Must be proved to be as represented.
The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit.
But the endorsement of friends is.
Now supposing you had a bad back,
A lame, weak, or aching one,
Would you experiment on it?
You will read of many so-called cures.
Endorsed by strangers from faraway places.
It's different when the endorsement comes from home.
Easy to prove local testimony.
Read this Quincy case:

James W. Murray, River Road Quincy, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills for irregular kidney action. They promptly relieved me. I don't have any need of a kidney medicine now, but I keep a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills on hand. Another of my family has taken Doan's Kidney pills as a kidney tonic and the benefit has been very pleasing."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Murray had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

AS TO FLYING OF OLD GLORY

International Law Not Violated by the Lusitania

BLOCKADE CAMPAIGN PLANS

Must Include Every Possible Precaution to Guard Against Loss of Life of Civilians Aboard Neutral Ships—Little Precedent For United States Officials to Work On

Washington, Feb. 8.—No breach of international law was committed by the steamship Lusitania of the Cunard line in hoisting the American flag to escape attack in the Irish sea by a German submarine, according to a high naval authority who discussed the subject.

It was declared that the act of the Lusitania did not in any way constitute an offense against the United States nor a breach of America's neutrality. There is no law that would prevent either a German or a British warship from flying the American flag, provided the American colors were hauled down before a shot was fired.

The state department has not yet received the text of the memorandum accompanying the German announcement of danger to neutral shipping in the waters surrounding the British Isles. It is on the wording of this memorandum that the state department will decide its course as to whether protest against the so-called blockade is to be made to the government at Berlin.

An intimation has been conveyed to Ambassador von Bernstorff in unofficial form that the United States will not sanction a blockade campaign by Germany or any other belligerent in which every possible precaution is not taken to guard against the loss of life of civilians on board neutral ships.

While the administration is proceeding with great care and with all effort to avoid offense, it may be stated as coming from the highest authority that none of the nations at war will be permitted to disregard the rights of American citizens in the peaceful pursuit of their trade relations with Europe, except in so far as such interference comes within the scope of acts permissible under international law.

It is admitted among officials in the state department that there will be little precedent upon which to base any official action should that be necessary.

Officials say that the United States flag has been used so seldom in such an emergency that should the present case result in diplomatic negotiations there would be little or nothing that could be used as a guide to determine the course of this country in the present situation.

GREAT BRITAIN'S STAND

Lusitania's Ruse In Accordance With International Law

London, Feb. 8.—The British foreign office defends the use of the American flag by the steamship Lusitania, a British ship, on the ground that such use of flags of neutral nations is justified by precedents numerous in the history of warfare.

The following statement was issued by the foreign office:

"The use of a neutral flag is, within certain limitations, well established in practise as a ruse de guerre. The only effect in the case of a merchantman of wearing a flag other than her national flag is to compel the enemy to follow the ordinary obligations of naval warfare and satisfy himself as to the nationality of the vessel and the character of her cargo by examination before capturing her and taking her into a prize court for adjudication.

"The British government has always considered the use of the British colors by foreign vessels legitimate for the purpose of escaping capture. Such practise not only involves no breach of international law, but is specifically recognized by the law of this country, in the merchant shipping act of 1894.

"As we have in practise not objected to foreign merchant vessels using the British merchant flag as a ruse for the purpose of evading capture at sea at the hands of a belligerent, so we should maintain that, in the converse case, a British merchant vessel committed no breach of international law in assuming neutral colors for a similar purpose, if she thought fit.

"By the rules of international law, the customs of war and the dictates of humanity, it is obligatory upon a belligerent to ascertain the character of a merchant vessel and cargo before capture. Germany has no right to disregard this obligation.

"To destroy a ship, non-combatant crew and cargo, as Germany has announced her intention of doing, is nothing less than an act of piracy on the high seas."

The press association issued the following, under a Birmingham date:

"Passengers from the Lusitania who arrived here state that when off the coast of Ireland the Lusitania received a wireless message from the admiralty that it was to hoist the American flag. It did so and sailed under that flag to Liverpool."

SHIPPING BILL CONTEST

May Be Ended by Administration Forces Dropping the Measure

Washington, Feb. 8.—Realizing the futility of trying to force through the administration's ship purchase bill, it is reported that President Wilson is arranging for a conference with the senate leaders with a view of dropping the measure that has caused such discussion and which has broken up the Democratic alignment in the senate.

Interest among those who have been following the course of the bill centres on the reply which Senator O'Gorman will make in the speech which Senator Stone delivered last week, in which he severely arraigned the seven bolting Democrats and which was so sharp that O'Gorman interrupted him on the ground of personal privilege.

Strong representations have been made to the president that for party reasons it is infinitely preferable to meet the wishes of the insurgent Democrats in regard to the bill than to coquette with the insurgent Republicans. He is urged not to permit the split to grow wider and threaten party solidarity and cooperation on future measures.

AS COUNTED BY POLICE

New York Has Twenty-Four Thousand Homeless and Unemployed

New York, Feb. 8.—New York's "army of the unemployed" who have no homes is about 24,000 men and women, according to the figures compiled by the police, just made public. Incidentally the figures of the police are considerably less than those obtained by various charitable organizations.

The report of the police shows that in lodging houses where the price of a night's shelter is 25 cents or less there were 19,486 persons, while in missions there were 1570 men and women.

The police survey of the situation was made at the request of the mayor's committee on unemployment. It was made between 8 o'clock in the evening and 8 o'clock in the morning on Jan. 30 and was a special order for all policemen.

STABS THREE WHILE IN JEALOUS RAGE

Charge Against Man Who Tries to Take His Own Life

Manchester, N. H., Feb. 8.—Andrew Thompson, a painter, is alleged to have attempted suicide by cutting his throat after he had stabbed his sweetheart, Margaret J. McAllister, and her father and mother in a jealous rage, according to the police. Thompson will probably die. The others are expected to recover.

The police say that after passing the evening in company with Miss McAllister, he returned home with her shortly after midnight, when, it is said, Thompson accused the girl of associating with another man, and attacked her with a knife. She was wounded in the throat and back.

Her parents, aroused by her screams, ran down stairs to investigate. As they entered the room, Thompson, according to the police, attacked them.

WOMEN NOT MOLESTED

Florida Train Held Up and Passengers Robbed by Four Masked Men

West Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 8.—A train bound from Jacksonville to Miami was boarded by four masked men at Stuart last night and men passengers on the observation platform were robbed of money and jewelry.

No attempt was made to molest women passengers. They were compelled, however, to enter the car.

After completing their search of the men, the robbers made their way through the car, where they found that a brakeman had locked the front door. Revolvers were turned on the brakeman, and he was ordered to pull the bell cord to stop the train. When it slowed down, the band jumped to the ground and escaped.

Rockefeller Collects Witness Fee.

New York, Feb. 8.—John D. Rockefeller, Sr., the richest man in the world, collected $5 in fees for testifying before the federal commission on industrial relations.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

Enos Wilder, 71, banker, broker and importer, died at New York after a sudden illness lasting only a few hours.

A. Theophile Poilpot, the military artist, died at Paris, aged 66.

The treasury department authorized the purchase of a postoffice site at Southbridge, Mass., for $18,000.

Boston ranks second among the cities of the United States as a health resort for babies.

Seven men were injured during a $100,000 fire which destroyed the plant of the Enterprise Wall Paper company at Collingswood, N. J.

R. F. D. carriers in central Massachusetts are distributing along their routes during the cold weather grain for the birds.

Workingmen and their families throughout Spain are suffering much distress because of the increasing lack of employment.

CITY HALL NOTES

Carpenters were at work all Saturday afternoon making some changes in the arrangement of the office of the assessors. Formerly the counter in the office ran north and south. Now however it has been moved so that it runs east and west. As one now enters the office he comes directly to the counter. Back of this is the desk of P. J. Murphy one of the clerks in the office, which has been moved from the extreme westerly end of the office so that when a citizen enters the office and approaches the counter he comes directly to the clerk. The arrangement of the furnishings in the private office of the assessors has also been changed about somewhat.

The City Council Committee on Fire Department matters meet at the Central Fire station Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, to look over the apparatus, and inspect the fire alarm system. It is generally understood that there are a number of things needed by the fire department but that it will be impossible to do all this year owing to the financial condition of the city. It is probable however that after its inspection the committee will report orders for the things most needed at the next meeting of the council.

There is no meeting of the city council tonight. The next regular meeting will be Monday evening Feb. 15. At this meeting the mayor's and treasurer's budget will probably be received.

CONLIN SHOE REPAIRING

Men's Sewed Taps and Heels	75c
Men's Sewed Taps and Rubber heels	$1.00
Men's Nail Taps and Heels	65c
Men's Heels	20c
Ladies' Taps and Heels Sewed	65c
Ladies Taps and Rubber heels Sewed	85c
Ladies Heels	15c
Rubber Heels	40c and 50c
Skates Sharpened, New Process	15c

84 Ralston Shoes for 1.50
Hancock and Saville Sts.
Tel. 961-M. Oct 7-tf

EDWARD J. FECAN
Counsellor at Law
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448-1. Hayma rket 3440
Oct. 4f

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

BUSINESS FAILURES.

80 per cent of them in the United States are those firms which do not advertise.

The longer you delay advertising your business the slimmer grow your chances of having a business to advertise.

Why not start a consistent and persistent advertising campaign now in

THE DAILY LEDGER
A GOOD TEA TABLE PAPER
READ IN THE HOME

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Levi H. Turner late of Quincy in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Emily T. Turner of said Quincy without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of February A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-seventh day of January A. D. 1915.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Jan. 29-Feb. 2-8

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Margaret A. McPherson late of Quincy in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Christina McPherson of said Quincy without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the seventeenth day of February A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-seventh day of January A. D. 1915.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Jan. 29-Feb. 15.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Georgiana B. Sanger sometimes called Georgiana Sanger late of Quincy in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Fanny B. Fish of said Quincy without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk on the tenth day of February A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-seventh day of January A. D. 1915.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Jan. 29-Feb. 1-8

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the next of kin and all others interested in the estate of Agnes McDonald late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, Mary A. Joyce the administratrix of the estate of said deceased, has presented to said Court for allowance the first and second accounts of her administration on said estate and application has been made for a distribution of the balance in her hands among the next of kin of said deceased. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of February A. D. 1915 at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why said accounts should not be allowed and distribution made according to said application. And the petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court and by mailing postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-eighth day of January in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Jan. 30-Feb. 1-8.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Mary D. Dame late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, and appointing Michael T. Sullivan of said Quincy, address Durgin & Merrill Blk., his agent, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

HARRY H. BROWN,
Executor.
(Address)
136 Wade St., Jersey City, N. J., or P. O. address Care of Box 54, Quincy, Mass.
Jan. 29, 1915.
3t Jan. 29 Feb. 1-8

Read Ledger Advs.

RUSSIANS ARE DRIVEN BACK

Vienna Reports That Invasion of Hungary Is Blocked

ENEMY IN FULL RETREAT

Austrians Said to Have Taken Twelve Hundred Prisoners and Much War Material—No News of Battle Raging Before Warsaw, Which Is Being Watched by Czar and Kaiser—Fighting In West Appears to Be Repetition of That of Preceding Days—Hodeida Incident Closed by Turks Saluting Italian Flag and Restoring British Consul

London, Feb. 8.—In the absence of war news from all other fields of operation importance is taken by the official report from Vienna which chronicles a victory for the Austrian trcops in Bukowina, where the Russians, who have been trying to break through the Carpathian passes into Transylvania, are declared to be in full retreat.

The Austrians claim to have taken 1200 Russian prisoners and much war material as a result of the fighting, and subsequently to have occupied the town of Kimpolung, where they were enthusiastically received by the inhabitants.

Although the Vienna report abstains from mentioning the fact, there is little doubt that German reinforcements aided the Austrian troops in administering this setback to the advancing Russians, inasmuch as large masses of Germans have been hurried through Transylvania recently for the express purpose of blocking the invasion of Hungary from this side.

The Berlin government realizes the effect that a Teutonic victory here would have in holding Roumania to the strict neutrality she has hitherto maintained. It has all along been felt that a big Russian success in Bukowina would mean the immediate entrance of Roumania into the war.

In the absence of any news from Russia the Vienna report must be accepted at its face value. No official statement has come out of Petrograd since that of Saturday, which related to the advance of the czar's troops on the Bzura and Rawka rivers the day before.

Royalty at the Front

With the German and Russian emperors as eye witnesses, the armies of Russia and Germany are still contending for the positions which protect the Polish capital of Warsaw from the invaders.

The Russian emperor has been at Russian headquarters for several days, and the German report announces that the German emperor has joined his generals and has actually visited some of the troops in their trenches.

Nothing has been disclosed as to the progress of the battle, which, when the last reports were received, was raging with unabated fury. The Russians, according to Saturday's official statement, had strengthened their positions on the western bank of the Bzura river, which they had crossed near its mouth, and captured another German vantage point. They also captured a long line of German trenches near Borjimow, which has been the centre of most desperate fighting.

In East Prussia another big battle is developing, the Germans having sent reinforcements apparently from their Bzura front to that region.

In the Western Zone

Amidst the tangled mass of petty events that go to make up the usual French war office report, one feat stands out above all others—the capture by British troops of a brickyard.

This historic spot on the road between Bethune and La Bassee has already figured prominently in world-news, having been exploited in the British "eye witness" account last week as being the scene of hand-to-hand fighting during which British troops used their fists on their German adversaries in good old-fashioned prize-ring style.

The brickyard had been held by the Germans up to Saturday, and as it was on the direct road between two important positions, this occupation caused some annoyance to Sir John French's troops. So they took it.

German bombardment of the French lines north of Soissons is also noted in the latest official bulletin. This is the section where the Germans last month scored their most important successes since they took root in northern France.

Owing probably to unfavorable weather conditions there was little energy displayed on other parts of the Franco-Belgian line. Unsuccessful minor attacks by the Germans on the coast near Nieuwport are recorded. Artillery duels continue on many parts of the line, the French claiming superior results for their 75-millimetre guns.

Turkey Yields to Italy

Turkey has at last given Italy satisfaction for the Hodeida incident. The British consul has been released and the Italian flag saluted.

English refugees from Constantinople declare that the former German cruiser Goeben, now owned by Turkey, was so badly damaged by striking a Turkish mine that it will be impossible to repair her at Constantinople.

This virtual loss of the services of the Goeben reduces the Turkish fleet to a state of inferiority as compared with the Russian Black sea fleet, which is about to be strengthened by a new dreadnought constructed at Sebastopol.

It is believed that when this ship joins the fleet, Rusisa will attack the Bosphorus and the Black sea, while the allied fleets attempt to force the Dardanelles.

Germany Won't Seize Grain

Positive assurances that grain imported from America will not be used for the German army or the German administration were given by Vice Chancellor Delbrueck of Germany.

He declared that the regulations under which imported grain was subject to sale only to municipalities or the grain monopoly organization had been revoked by the bundesrath, and announced the willingness of the government to entrust the sale of such grain to an American organization for the duration of the war. By this step, he said, the absolutely non-contraband character of such grain shipments would be established.

ST. PETER'S CROWDED

Sixty Thousand Persons Join Pope Benedict In Prayer For Peace

There was an impressive scene in St. Peter's at Rome when Pope Benedict intoned his prayer for peace.

The great edifice was thronged with worshippers when the pontiff, surrounded by twenty-two cardinals, mounted to the papal altar. Standing between the four richly gilded spiral columns of the Bernini canopy, Pope Benedict intoned the prayer which was repeated by the kneeling multitude, whose voices echoed throughout the great temple. The prayer was to the "God of all mercies, King of Peace."

The Pope, on arirving and departing, was accorded an ovation. As he was leaving after the ceremony there were many cries of "Long live the pope," and "Give us peace."

Despite the downpour of rain at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon all the bells of the 400 churches in Rome pealed out, calling the people to services to implore the cessation of the war and the establishment of peace among the nations of the world. Over 60,000 persons gathered in St. Peter's.

THE COST OF WAR

France Thinks Bill of $780,000,000 For Six Months Is Small

The French chamber of deputies adopted a bill increasing by $200,000,000 the issue of treasury bonds which limits the amount to $700,000,000. It also provides for the issuance of short time treasury bonds.

Minister of Finance Ribot declared after the adoption of the bill:

"After six months of war the expenditures of France have amounted to only $780,000,000 of the amount originally appropriated. If before the war we had said that after six months' hostilities we would have been so far from exhausting the sum at our disposal it would have been received with smiles of skepticism. We have confidence in the unlimited resources of our country and in its will to continue the struggle to the end."

CAPTIVES IN GERMANY

Government Proposes to Place Them at Disposition of Farmers

Prisoners of war in Germany will be used to carry on agricultural work, under a decision of the military authorities, according to the Amsterdam Telegraaf.

It has been decided, the paper says, to place groups of from 80 to 100 prisoners at the disposition of farmers. These men must be lodged and fed by those for whom they work and will receive a stipend of 10 pfennig (2½ cents) a day.

The authorities are said to have urged farmers to take advantage of this opportunity, as the economic welfare of the country is dependent upon the production of large crops.

BOWERY MISSES HIM

Death of Harry Oxford, One of Chief Lieutenants of "Big Tim"

New York, Feb. 8.—There is mourning on the Bowery over the death of Harry E. Oxford, one of the chief political lieutenants of the late "Big Tim" Sullivan. Oxford died from cerebral hemorrhage. He was 48 years old.

For years Oxford had charge of the distribution of the "Big Tim" Sullivan charities for the Bowery. He always handled the practical side of the Sullivan Christmas dinners and shoe distributions. He had served in the assembly for several terms.

Six Fined $16,000 For Conspiracy

New York, Feb. 8.—Fines aggregating $16,000 were imposed in the Eastern Boxboard club case in the federal district court here when six defendants pleaded nolo contendere to the charges of engaging in a conspiracy in restraint of trade.

Youthful Slayer Freed

Boston, Feb. 8.—The grand jury returned a "no bill" against John H. Murphy, Jr., 13 years old, who stabbed his brother, William, after an argument which started at the supper table.

Rutland Camp Inquiry Ordered

Boston, Feb. 6.—The house adopted an order providing for the appointment of a special legislative committee to investigate conditions in the prison camp and hospital at Rutland.

LOSSES MUST BE MADE GOOD

New York Bank Directors Get Orders From Washington

BAD SPECULATIVE VENTURES

Alleged Violation of Law Took About $2,000,000 From Stockholders of Six Institutions Five Years Ago, but Controller of Currency Says They Must Be Reimbursed

Washington, Feb. 8.—Directors of at least six big banks in New York, including, it is said, the National Bank of Commerce, the Chase National bank and the First National bank of New York, are considering demands of Controller of the Currency Williams that they make good a loss of approximately $2,000,000 to the stockholders through an underwritten transaction conducted in alleged violation of the national bank act.

That the National Bank of Commerce has already been reimbursed for a loss of about $750,000 was stated by James S. Alexander, president of the institution.

In demanding that the banks be reimbursed Williams acted with the approval of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo.

Officials of the treasury department declined to comment on the situation, which establishes a new policy in national banking. Williams would not discuss the demand. McAdoo, while admitting that a call on the directors has been made, said he could not talk about the case at this time because of the extreme delicacy of the situation and the danger of doing the banks involved an injustice. When the negotiations now in process are closed, he said, the treasury department will make public whatever facts are deemed proper.

The directors on whom the demand for restitution has been made, it is said, entered into an underwriting transaction more than five years ago, in which the loss resulted. The situation has been known to the national bank examiners and officials of the treasury for a long time, but a press of work in that department prevented earlier action.

The officials had been occupied with the establishment of the federal reserve system and emergency measures for relieving the strained financial situation resulting from the outbreak of the European war and the closing of the stock exchanges.

Some of the directors already have complied with the demand, it is understood. The negotiations with others are progressing satisfactorily to the officials and the entire case likely will be cleared up within a short time.

In establishing this new policy of placing responsibility for losses in transactions conducted in violation of the national bank act officials of the treasury believe they will make bank directorships more attractive instead of less attractive for responsible business men, thereby bringing a marked improvement to the national banking situation.

T WHARF REOPENS

Famous Old Fish Mart In Boston Is Again Doing Business

Boston, Feb. 8.—T wharf has "come back." This morning, ten months after the Boston fishing industry moved away to South Boston, the old location was formally dedicated anew.

Several of the stores on the wharf itself have been let and when business opened today several vessels were alongside and ready to unload their fares.

The movement to rechristen T wharf was the result of dissatisfaction among many of the captains of schooners, who complained of the exposed location of many berths at the South Boston pier. The experiment is being watched with interest by fish men.

TWENTY-TWO JAILED

Violators of Pure Food Law Taken Secretly to Leavenworth Prison

St. Louis, Feb. 8.—Twenty-two federal prisoners convicted a week ago of violating the oleomargarine laws were taken secretly from the St. Chaires jail to the Leavenworth, Kan., penitentiary.

Their transfer was effected secretly to avoid the touching family partings, such as were witnessed in the courtroom when sentence was pronounced.

An aggregate of $138,000 in fines was imposed on the men in addition to prison sentences ranging from 3½ years to six months.

Bogus $5 Coins Afloat

New York, Feb. 8.—Turning a 5-cent piece of the "buffalo" type into a $5 gold piece is the latest evidence of cleverness on the part of counterfeiters for whom the secret service operators are searching. Hundreds of the bogus coins have been found and a warning has been issued.

Lone Bandit Gets $10,000

Lima, N. Y., Feb. 8.—A lone bandit entered the Bank of Lima, covered the cashier and assistant with revolvers, compelled them to hand over between $10,000 and $12,000 in cash, bound them and made his escape.

VON BETHMANN-HOLLWEG

German Chancellor Who Says Neutrals Must Take Consequences of New Order.

Photo by American Press Association.

"England treats the United States as a besieged fortress," declared Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg of Germany, in discussing Great Britain's attempts to prevent imports of food into Germany.

"Winston Churchill," continued the chancellor, "wants to starve a people, numbering 70,000,000, in this barbarian fashion. Against this effort Germany will use every opportunity to take revenge.

"With regard to the complaint that we are injuring neutral interests, neutral powers have not protested against England's action and they must take the consequences. We certainly are not going to die of famine."

BECOMES BRIDE OF HEIR TO MILLIONS

Miss Marshall Wedded to Marshall Field at New York

New York, Feb. 8.—Marshall Field, 3d, son of the late Marshall Field, Jr., of Chicago, and Miss Evelyn Marshall of this city, were married quietly at the home of the bride's mother, 6 East Seventy-sixth street.

Field, who is a grandson of the late Marshall Field, Chicago's merchant magnate, is reputed to be one of the richest young men in the world. Under the terms of his grandfather's will he is to inherit three-fifths of the Marshall Field estate, about $60,000,000, when he is 50 years old.

The marriage was unexpected owing to the announcement several days ago that it had been indefinitely postponed on account of the illness from the grip of both Field and his fiancee.

While the bride has almost recovered, Field is still indisposed and is under the physician's care.

ALEXANDER GIVES BONDS

Providence Man Held In $10,000 In White Slave Charge

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Charles Alexander of Providence appeared in the federal building and gave bonds of $10,000 for his appearance to answer the charge of having violated the Mann white slave act.

Alexander was indicted for the alleged transportation of Miss Jessie E. Cope of Los Angeles, Cal., to Chicago and other cities.

Miss Cope is under indictment on a charge of having attempted to bribe federal officers to aid her in obtaining money from Alexander.

JILTING UPSET HIM

Reason Given by Richmond Youth For Killing His Sweetheart

Richmond, Feb. 8.—"I was so upset because she had rejected me that I didn't know what I was doing," said John C. Watkins, 19, in jail here, when asked why he shot and instantly killed Hester Dodson, 17, his sweetheart, whom he was planning to marry.

The shooting occurred in the girl's home when she told Watkins that he need not call again. It is said she became angered because he insisted upon going with other girls.

Banker Killed by Train

Melrose, Mass., Feb. 8.—George L. Wilde, 67, for twenty years assistant treasurer of the Melrose Savings bank, was struck and instantly killed by an express train when he crossed the track at the Melrose Highlands depot.

To Aid Chicago's Unemployed

Chicago, Feb. 8.—Mayor Harrison issued a proclamation asking citizens of Chicago to help raise a $500,000 unemployment fund. The money will be used to create work for the unemployed.

CHILDREN TO AID WAR SUFFERERS

National Educators Join to Train Young Minds.

HOPE FOR $1,000,000 FUND.

Plans For Carrying Out Movement Have Been Based on Suggestions Received From More Than Five Thousand Practical Educators—One-half to Relieve Local Suffering.

The enlistment of the 20,000,000 children of the United States in an army of helpfulness to relieve suffering both in this country and Europe is the purpose of a movement which is announced in New York city by a committee of educators of nation wide reputation. It includes Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard university; David Starr Jordan, president of the National Educational association, and Richard McLaurin, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. It is the belief of those interested that evil influences in the schools of the United States are arising from the war.

"Influences of lying, hatred and murder are molding the lives of America's 20,000,000 children," says an announcement of the committee's plans, "which tend to crush out truth, justice and love. As a nation we are evading our responsibilities in not seriously attempting to counteract these evil influences. In many of our schools we even forbid all discussion of the war. We cannot, however, hide this war from our children or keep its destructive influences from their lives.

Turn Minds From Murder.

"With a nation wide relief movement of our children we can turn their minds from destructive murder to helpful life giving and build on the terrible need the strongest, most helpful race of men and women the world has ever known.

"The school children are organized and can begin immediately on relief work. They can raise at least $1,000,000 without burden on any one, as the funds will be raised in small sums, the people's gift through their children. They can make millions of needed articles of clothing and other things.

"Working shoulder to shoulder to offset the influences of organized murderous warfare, they will feel the quickening, helpful impulse of their great life giving organization, a mighty impulse in their lives and a great example to the world. They will do more to establish international peace and good will based on kindly acts than years of diplomacy and peace conferences."

The plan announced is that each child earn or make what he gives or give from what he has, that he may feel he has "worked or sacrificed to help. The fund is to be known as the "children of America's fund," which boards of education, superintendents, teachers and others are urged to address at Oak Hill, Newton Center, Mass., for working details.

Half For Local Relief.

One-half the fund is to be used to relieve local suffering and will be distributed through home charities as far as possible. The other half will be distributed to the sufferers in Europe by the national committee. Arrangements have been made for the free transportation to Belgium of all gifts of nonperishable food or new clothing in packages weighing twenty pounds or more.

It is announced that the plans for carrying out the movement have been based on suggestions received from more than 5,000 practical educators. They call for free use of the public school buildings for entertainments to raise funds, the co-operation of teachers in getting the children to earn small sums out of school hours, the manufacture of useful gifts by boys in manual training classes and one day a week devoted by all girls in sewing as a part of their school work.

COLLEGE NOT A HOTHOUSE.

Yale News Says It Doesn't "Prune" Rich Students.

The Yale News, discussing Henry Ford's reported comment that "most manufacturing plants controlled by absentee management are usually honeycombed with rich men's sons who have been spoiled with money and colleges," says:

"Mr. Ford is right—in some cases. Surely the American college is not a hothouse in which the rich man's son is carefully pruned of his good qualities, self reliance, ambition, energy, and nurtured into a full blown—to mix a metaphor—jackass. A more specific indictment of the wealthy college graduate would be tremendously helpful and enlightening."

Letter From Great Wreck.

A strange discolored envelope arrived at the home of Miss L. Rudge of London. It was stamped "Recovered by divers from the wreck of the steamship Empress of Ireland" and had come from the dead letter office at Ottawa. Posted at New Glasgow, N. S., on May 25 of last year, the letter had gone down with the big vessel in the St. Lawrence, and, though under water for months, it reached London in surprisingly good condition. The letter itself was perfectly legible.

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Flat of seven rooms with electric lights, gas stove, range at 32 Euclid avenue. Apply at 12 Berkeley street. 6-6t

TO LET—Three, four or five room tenement with heat, gas range electric lights and bath. 178 Washington street or phone 1732M. 6-tf

TO LET—Two or three rooms, furnished or unfurnished for light housekeeping, all improvements, reasonable rent, board if desired. 132 Marlboro street, Wollaston Park. 6-tf.

TO LET—To small family of adults several very desirable new tenements $22 and up, also stable $10 per month; store $10 per month. Apply to C. H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. Tel. 174-2 Quincy. 4-12t

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Four room apartment, new house, all improvements. Apply at 226 Franklin street. 30-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 26 tf

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Four room tenement all improvements, range and gas attached, house new. Apply James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street, Quincy or Tel. 599-1. Jan. 15-tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

W. R. LOFGREN
Carpenter and Builder
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1901 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 398-3
June 9-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

LOST

REWARD—For paper parcel containing two note books and 50 pages of manuscript left on 5.49 train Feb. 3 between E. Milton and Braintree. W. Sprague Brooks, Milton, Mass. 6-6t

WANTED

WANTED—Young man wants board and room with private family. Write Box 157 Post Office, Quincy. 8-1t

WANTED—A position with Granite Manfg. Co., in office. Would consider a proposition to go on the road. Write Mr. C. Ledger Office. 8-3t

WANTED—A first class completely furnished apartment in a good neighborhood of at least three rooms and bath. Write M. D. Newcomb Square, Post Office, Quincy. 8-3t

WANTED—Woman to take charge of Ladies Dep't. One who has had local experience and acquaintance preferred. A good position awaits the right party. Apply Orent-Payson Co., 1378 Hancock street. 6-6t.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Covered sleigh in good condition. Made by French Co. Suitable for physician. Apply Dr. Frank S. Davis, 25 Elm street. 5-3t

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M, Quincy, Res. 22-tf

A Few Choice House Lots
— ON —
PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX
are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.
SWITHIN
3 GREENLEAF BLOCK
Jan. 8-tf

FOR SALE
House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,800. Straight Loan of $2,000.
EDMUND G. HAYDEN
Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing
HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.
129 Tremont St., Boston.
Oct. 8-tf

TO LET
Shop or Factory—32 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—Very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.
GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water, $2.00 to $3.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 340—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.
Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for E. P. Kelley.)
Greenleaf Block. ('Phone 2106) Quincy

A WHOLE TOWN DYNAMITED!

A Volcanic Earthquake Extraordinary

Most Wonderful Photo Play Ever Filmed

THE SPOILERS

From Rex Beach's Book

Featuring Wm. Farnum and Kathlyn Williams

SPECIAL - - Richard Hussey of Quincy

Kincaide Theatre

Mon. Tues. and Wed. Afternoon and Evening 10-15-25c

8-3t

MAKARIA BEATS TEAM OF STARS

A team of Quincy basket ball stars were defeated by the Makarias in the Y. M. C. A. gym Saturday evening, 48 to 20. Between the periods the quintette of the International Trust Co. of Boston beat the Makaria second team, 24 to 21. The summary:

MAKARIA		ALL STARS
Jenkins rf		lb Rich
Andrews lf		rb Thomas
Glover c		c Smith
Morriss rb		lf Gouteman
Avery lb		rf Sprague

Score, Makaria 48, All Stars 20. Goals from floor, Andrews 11, Jenkins 5, Glover 5, Morriss 2, Thomas 4, Smith 2, Rich 3, Sprague, Avery. Goals from fouls Glover, Morriss. Referee, Robertson. Scorer, McFarlane. Timer, Summers. Time, 20m and 15m periods. Attendance, 100.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

BRIEFS

Edwin Acker has been visiting Mrs. Nellie G. Shurleff of Randolph.

Mrs. Sarah C Williams will hold a matinee whist Tuesday afternoon in Protection hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Burnham of 30 Park street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son.

Franklin Seider of Wollaston has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Mann of Randolph.

Harvey Reeding of Long Pond is spending two weeks in Quincy, formerly his home.

Miss Huston, the overseer of the poor, has resigned her position as a clerk at the district court. She will however still conduct her business as a public stenographer.

The meeting of the aSturday Auction Bridge club will be omitted this week because the nephew of the hostess, Miss Madeline McCrory has the measles and the family are therefore quarantined. The next meeting will be held with Miss Mary Faxon, Adams street, Feb. 27.

Good Tidings Products ---

at Adams Market

Canned Beans Lima, Red Kidney and Baked Pea Beans, per can .12 per dozen 1.40

Dainty Bits A cereal breakfast food made from choice grains. per pkg. .15

O. K. Peanut Butter More than double the nutritive value of beefsteak, newly made from No 1 peanuts per lb .18

Soups Nut Chowder, Nut Bouillon, Mockturpa, Nut and Tomato Bisque, Sea Shore Chowder, Imperial Bouillon. per can .10

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980

FOY'S 2 STORES

WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

Three-Day Soap Sale

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday.

It is quite necessary at times to offer big inducements, in order to accomplish a thing. This is why we are holding a soap sale for three days, in order to acquaint Quincy people with our large range and variety of soaps.

We carry the complete line of America's Leading Soap Factory.

Colgate & Co.

Their motto is ours, "a soap for every purpose at a price for every purse."

Cashmere Bouquet	15c, 25c
Oat Meal	per cake 10c 3 for 25c
Coleo	per cake 10c 3 for 25c
Natural Odors	per cake 10c 3 for 25c
Monad Violet	per cake 25c
Monad Violet	small, per cake 10c
Almond Toilet and Bath, (New)	10c 3 for 25c
Pine Tar	per cake 10c 3 for 25c
Vegetable Oil	per cake 10c 3 for 25c
Peroxide Bath	per cake 10c 3 for 25c
Lana Oil and Buttermilk	per cake 10c 3 for 25c
White Clematis	per cake 10c 3 for 25c
Cold Cream	per cake 10c 3 for 25c

Special Offer

We will give absolutely free with a cake of Remmer's Peroxide Soap or Graham Lana Oil and Buttermilk Soap a first Quality face cloth. No Miss or Lady will want to miss this alluring offer.

CHARLES C. HEARN

Druggist City Square

REV. CAMPBELL MAY COME HERE

Intimates Would Accept Call as Pastor of Presbyterian Church

PREACHED THERE SUNDAY

Rev. Clarence E. Campbell of Paulding, Ohio, will probably be appointed pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The formal call may be extended by the Boston Presbytery, the governing board of the New England churches, after the meeting next Monday. Rev. Mr. Campbell has intimated he will accept. On Sunday Rev. Mr. Campbell preached at the church and previous to the evening service had a conference with the trustees of the church.

LINCOLN DAY PROCLAMATION

Gov. David I. Walsh in his Lincoln Day proclamation says it is peculiarly fitting that the anniversary of the birth of President Abraham Lincoln should be commemorated this year with more than usual impressiveness. Recalling his own words "Fondly do we hope, fervently do we pray that this mighty scourge of war may speedily pass away." The wording of His Excellency's proclamation is as follows:

The Legislature of Massachusetts, ten years ago, wisely set apart and designated as Lincoln Day the twelfth day of February, the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, whose name will be forever linked with that of Washington.

We owe to Abraham Lincoln more than to any other man the immeasurable blessings of a free and united nation.

Under his guidance the Republic was saved from disruption and the country purified from the blight of slavery.

In life he endured bitter opposition and stinging censure from those whom he lived only to serve; in death, which came to him fifty years ago this very year, he became a martyr to his devotion to American institutions.

The people now know him as one who was with them and of them in all their hopes and fears, their joys and sorrows. As he gave his heart to them in life, so they now unreservedly and unitedly give their hearts to him.

It is peculiarly fitting that the anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birth be commemorated this year with more than usual impressiveness.

In this time of strife and suffering, when millions of our brothers across the sea are engaged in ruthless, appalling war, we can honor the memory of Lincoln no more fittingly than by making Lincoln Day a day of prayer for peace. Recalling his own words, "Fondly do we hope, fervently do we pray that this mighty scourge of war may speedily pass away," let us as one great family implore the Supreme Ruler of men to restore peace and tranquillity among the nations.

BABY DIES.

Alvin H. Dell, the one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Dell of 40 Franklin street, died suddenly on Sunday at their home. Death was probably due to a sudden closing of the larynx.

THINGS SELDOM WHAT THEY SEEM

Thus Chanted "Tramp" Whom Officer Shay Placed Under Arrest

MEANING EVIDENT LATER

Officer John Shay, one of Braintree's guardians of the peace is not strong as a vocalist, and he probably will never receive an offer of a thousand dollars a night to sing before a Back Bay audience, but the next time he hears a supposed tramp humming the words of one of the songs of a once popular opera "Things are seldom what they seem" he will probably sit up and take notice. It happened this way.

John was patroling the deserted streets of Braintree in the wee small hours of the night when quietness of the night was disturbed by musical notes. Straining his ear John caught the familiar words "Things are seldom what they seem." However they had no special meaning to him and as they came from a rough looking man, whom he took for a tramp, he ran him in. On the way to Braintree's police station, which is perhaps better known as the town lockup, the supposed tramp continued to hum the words and still the officer did not get wise.

On arriving at the lockup John thought he had better search his trampship before he locked him up, thinking that perhaps he might have some contrabrand fire water in his jeans. No fire water was found however but what the officer did unearth, was a certified check, drawn on a Canadian bank for $250 and made payable to Andrere Lidhery, which name the supposed tramp claimed was his. When asked to explain the fellow said that the check was his and that it had been sent to him by his son in Ottawa, Canada.

The officer put the check away for safe keeping and gave the supposed tramp one of the best beds which the lockup afforded. This morning he brought the fellow to Quincy and arraigned him before Judge Avery. When shown the check the court said that no man could be considered a tramp who had money or its equivalent for $250 in his pocket and he ordered his release.

As the fellow took his check and disappeared through the swinging doors of the court house he was heard to murmer, "well I got a night's lodging just the same."

BRIEFS

Mrs. J. E. Poland is to hold a whist party in Polands hall, Norfolk Downs Tuesday night.

Mrs. Grace S. Welsh is confined to her home on 17 Guild street by illness.

Mrs. Alice E. Whiton of Salem is the guest of Mrs. Ida Estey and family of Washington street.

Paul J. Revere W. R. C. 103 is to unite with Rebekah Wiswell Tent 53 Friday in a public supper in G. A. R. hall to be followed in the evening by appropriate exercises and entertainment.

Dorothy Quincy Lodge of the Golden Cross is to receive candidates at its regular meeting Thursday evening. Past Commander Dolan, will be special guest and make a presentation to the Commandery.

Col. Edward Anderson spoke before the Abigail Adams chapter, D. A. R. at Wollaston this afternoon. The meeting was at the home of Mrs. E. E. Jameson, 58 Beach street. A card party as being arranged for this month.

Special cars go by way of Wollaston and Norfolk Downs tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock going direct to Quincy Music hall, where the annual dramatics of the Quincy Women's club are to be given. Special cars will leave City square after the play.

Miss Edith Johnson of Merrymount road left Saturday for Washington, D. C., for an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. Sadie McDonough, wife of Ensign James McDonough, U. S. N., retired.

David White of New York is the guest of his brother, Park Officer James White and family, at their home in Norfolk Downs. Mr. White has been away from Quincy for three years and has just recovered from an attack of blood poisoning. He is well known in West Quincy of Simmons college was helpful and full of inspiration. There was a good attendance. The soloist was Miss Hyland, soloist in the Quincy Universalist church.

THE CHURCHES

(Continued from Page Three.)

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the Whatsoever Circle, King's Daughters of Wollaston will be held in the Wollaston Congregational church, Wednesday evening Feb. 24 at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

Do not fail to hear Miss Lucy Wheelock's lecture on "The Kindergarten Question in its relation to the Home, the School and the Community," at the Wollaston School hall this evening at 8 o'clock.

The Wollaston Unitarian club meets Tuesday evening. Dinner at 6.30 o'clock. Charles H. Bedell of New London, Conn., will speak on "The Submarine" illustrated by stereopticon.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST.

The pastor Rev. Joseph Walther spoke on "Bible Teaching about Thorns." Text 2 Cor. 12-7

He spoke of several good ways of studying the Bible, among which were studying by books, by personalities, by doctrines and another good way is that of studying the words in the Bible not necessarily great words but words that have an important bearing on Christian truth. The word used in the message of the morning was the word "Thorns." Four times at least it is used in the bible and each time with a new and deep meaning.

It is used in connection with the life of Jesus and reminds us of how indebted we are to him for what he has done for us. The historian tells us that the soldiers plaited a crown of thorns and put it on his head and put on him a purple robe. Let us do what Pilate said, "Behold the man." What kind of a man do we behold

A unique man: a perfect man. Yes! But a man bearing our thorns. Our curse, our sickness, our sorrows, our sins.. Oh! how much it cost him to save us. What should be our attitude toward such a Savior? Love so amazing, so divine, demands my life, my soul, my all.

Thorns are represented in the bible as evils permitted to come into our lives which we are not able to remove and which God has permitted for purposes which he best understands.

We too have our Thorns in the flesh, things that seem to hinder our work and obstruct our passage, sickness, frailty, opposition, vnancial limitation. If these could only be taken away! But they are not. What then ? There's a grace, a victory, a triumph for us. May God help us to seek that and enter into a new and glorious experience.

The Sunday school followed the morning service with 335 present.

Y. P. S. C. meeting at 6.00 to which the Juniors were invited. Subect: "Christian Endeavor that counts" 1 Cor. 15: 57, 58: Leader, Miss Edith Armstrong. The subject of the evening was "A few More Fools." The choir sang morning and evening.

This evening at 7.45 the East Norfolk Christian Endeavor Union will hold a rally in this church.

Tuesday evening at 7.45 a cottage prayer meeting will be held at the home of William Arthur, 137 Hollis avenue.

Tuesday evening, at 7.45 the Nearer and Farther Lights Society will meet with Mrs. Melendy, 130 Prospect avenue, subject: ""Our Chapel Cars." Leader, Miss Eleanor E. Dunn.

Wednesday, beginning at 10.00 A.M. the Sixty-third Annual Sunday School Convention of the Boston South Baptist Association will be held with the Baptist church, Avon.

Wednesday, beginning at 10.00 A. M. the Sixty-third Annual Sunday School Convention of the Boston South Baptist Association will be held with the Baptist church, Avon.

Wednesday evening at 8.00, a social and entertainment will be held in the chapel. Everyone cordially inivted. Refreshments will be served.

Thursday beginning at 10.00 A. M., an all day sewing meeting will be held in the chapel. Women urged to be present as the work is to be done for the Belgians.

Thursday afternoon at 4.00 the pastors class in the fundamental principles of the Christian Faith will meet in the chapel. Boys and girls from eleven years upwards are urged to be present. Parents are asked to cooperate.

Thursday evening at 7.45 the Y. P. S. C. E. will take charge of the regular Prayer Meeting in honor of the anniversary of Christian Endeavor. Rev. R. P. Anderson, D. D., one of the prominent leaders of Christian Endeavor will give an address. All young people especially urged to be present.

Friday evening at 8.00 an Honorary Members' Anniversary social will be held by the Y. P. S. C. E. in the chapel

REAL SCHOOL SHOE BARGAINS!!

A Pair of These Good Shoes Should Last Till School Closes

Sizes	Value	Cut Price
Childs 6 to 8	$1.25	.89
Childs 8 1-2 to 11	1.50	$1.19
Misses 1 1-2 to 2	1.75	1.39
Big Girls 2 1-2 to 6	2.00	1.69

LOTS OF OTHER REAL BARGAINS AT

GRANITE SHOE STORE

QUINCY'S SHOE MARKET

Quality and Cleanliness

coupled with dollar for dollar value and good service warrant you shopping here. In the making of our bread we abolish science, striving only to f shion the bread as you would yourself. Won't you Madam, call and take home a loaf Today.

LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN

1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.

FIRST PARISH.

"One of the practical needs of today is a gospel of healthy-mindedness," said Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson in his sermon Sunday morning on, "Knowing Good and Evil."

The chief aim of the sermon was to show that, while there is a great deal of evil in the world, both around us and within us, little or no good is accomplished by the present "muckraking" tendency to make the evil loom so large in the moving pictures of present day life that it shuts out the good entirely, and leads the average man to distrust the essential integrity and purity of the men and women around him.

There is much which happens in every day life to give color to the ancient doctrine of "original sin," and we could all join with perfect sincerity in the confession that "We are all miserable offenders."

But the fact which needs emphasis today is that from the beginning of man's long, hard struggle onward and upward, Goodness has been his most powerful environment, ready at all times to help overcome the evil. In other words goodness is the positive influence in human life, while evil is merely negative—just as physical health is man's normal condition and disease merely the exception, or as the thing we call darkness is merely the absence of light.

He urged his hearers to cultivate faith in the essential virture, truth and integrity of mankind.

By the joint action of the British and Foreign Unitarian association and the American Unitarian sssociation, the churches on both sides of the Atlantic are requested to observe next Sunday in commemoration of the ratification of the Treaty of Ghent on Feb. 17, 1814 and the hundred years of peace between England and America since that time. Accordingly next Sunday will be observed as Peace Anniversary Sunday and Mr. Hudson will preach on "A century of Peace."

FIRST SPIRITUALIST.

First Spiritualist church, Mrs. S. V. Odiorne, conductor, held Sunday evening service. Meeting opened with song service, bible reading and prayer. Mrs. Lottie Brooks of Roxbury gave a talk. Mrs. Butterworth, South Weymouth, gave many messages. Roswell C. Ross delivered a lecture on the work of Spiritualists, interspersed with messages. Mrs. Ordiorne gave many messages. Meetings at 8 Mechanic street Tuesday at 3 P. M. and 8 P. M.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

R. E. Foy & Co.
Chas. C. Hearn.
Barnard's Bakery.
Granite Shoe Store.
Kincaide's Theatre.
The Exploits of Elaine.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Addie T. Dewhurst of Maple street in the loss of her only aunt Lydia H. Ray daughter of the late Frederick A Trask of West Quincy, whose death occurred Saturday at her home in Sheldonville, Mass. after a three days' illness of pneumonia.

PROPOSALS

Quincy, Mass., Feb. 8, 1915.

Sealed Proposals for furnishing School Furniture for the Atherton Hough School Addition, Ward One, will be received at the office of the Commissioner of Public Works, City Hall, Quincy, Mass., until ten o'clock A. M. Monday, February 15th, 1915, at which time they will be publicly opened and read.

Schedule may be obtained at the office of the Commissioner of Public Works, City Hall.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids or to accept the bid deemed best for the City.

MOSES L. BROWN,
Commissioner of Public Works.
8-1t

BIRTHS

BURNHAM—In Quincy, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Burnham of 30 Park street.

MARRIAGES.

ROWE—MORRILL—In Wollaston, Feb. 7, by Rev. Joseph Walther, Maurice Edwin Rowe of Haverhill and Miss Lena Orrissa Morrill of Wollaston.

DEATHS

FOSTER—In South Braintree, Feb. 7, Joseph M. Foster of 1505 Washington street, aged 73 years.

MEHOFF—In Atlantic, Feb. 6, Henry A. Mehoff of 26 Conant road, aged 28 years.

CARLSON—In Quincy City Hospital, Feb. 6, Ruth E., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric R. Carlson of West street, Braintree, aged 5 months.

DORLEY—In Boston, Feb. 7, Mrs. Olive Dorley, wife of Peter Dorley of Quincy, aged 95 years.

ARCHIBALD—In South Quincy, William C., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Archibald, 114 Intervale street, aged 4 years.

DELL—In Quincy, Feb. 7, Alvin H., son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Dell, of 40 Franklin street, aged one year.

McDONALD—In Quincy City Hospital Feb. 7, James McDonald, aged 59 years.

BECKFORD—In Portland, Me., Feb. 4 Arthur P. Beckford, son of Margaret and the late James Beckford, formerly of this city.

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 34 QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 9, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

TEN QUALIFY FOR MILITIA SQUAD

Enlistment and Equipment of Men is Going Forward With Rapidity

TO BE MUSTERED TONIGHT

Ten accepted candidates for membership in the machine gun company being organized here will be mustered in tonight by Lieut. George M. Downes assigned to recruiting the organization. The candidates will pledge their allegiance to the state and nation and the constitution and no time will be lost in giving them their first instruction in the manual.

The men were accepted following a surgical examination a week ago by Lieut. Sydney C. Hardwick of Quincy, attached to the surgeons staff of the 5th Regt., M. V. M. Only two of the 12 examined were not accepted. Examinations were to have continued all of Monday evening in the Kincaide block but Dr. Hardwick was obliged to respond to an emergency call after passing on four men.

The formation of the company is going forward at a rapid rate and no time will be lost since the national headquarters of the regular army has ordered an inspection of machine gun companies in this state on March 29. Quincy's successful candidates will be promptly equipped, and measurement for uniforms were taken Monday evening.

Machine guns, uniforms, equipment and all that goes to meet the requirements of a machine gun company have been issued to the Quincy body. The four guns and other paraphernalia is valued at $15,000.

The matter of signing the lease of Alpha and Union hall for headquarters has not taken place, several details being as yet unarranged.

REV. CAMPBELL OFFICIATES.

Rev. Clarence E. Campbell, who will probably be the new pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiated at his second funeral service here on Monday afternoon. The services were for Alvin H. Dell, the one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Dell of Franklin street who passed away suddenly on Sunday. The funeral was held from the parent's home and burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

You need the Ledger every day.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Wednesday and Thursday probably fair. Not much change in temperature.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.48
Sun sets	5.10
Length of day	10.22
Moon rises	4.34
High water, A. M.	7.45
High water, P. M.	8.30
Days increase	1 hr. 16 minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.33 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	38 degrees
Feb. 9, 1914,	27 degrees
Feb. 9, 1913,	25 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—37.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

CLOTHES AWAIT FAIR OWNER

Post Office Has Mysterious Parcel

Albert J. Williams, one of the most active members of Quincy lodge, of Moose and a well known South Quincy resident, is assisting the postal authorities of the local office in unravelling the mystery surrounding the ownership of a package of ladies finery addressed to Nora Reardon in his care

The package was received at the Quincy office Monday and is registered and insured. Because of its weight Mr. Williams was asked to call for it.

Mr. Williams said he was positive he did not know Nora Reardon and felt he could not accept the package An examination of its contents revealed high priced fabrics, such as are worn by fair feminines, and then Mr. Williams declared he was more positive then ever he didn't know the person in question.

In the meantime an effort is being made to locate the addressee but so far there has been no success. Some of Mr. Williams' friends are of the opinion that a practical joke is being played and the finery is owned by one of the young ladies who is to apepar at a smoker of the lodge in Quincy Adams hall tonight. Although Mr. Williams is a member ofthe committee in charge he states he made no arrangements with any of the artists to send wearing apparel to this city in his care.

SAMOSET CLUB TO GIVE CONCERT

The Pierian Sodality Orchestra of Harvard University, 35 pieces strong, will make its second annual appearance in Wollaston on the evening of Monday, Feb. 15, at 8 o'clock. Its concert, in which student soloists will also take part, including Fay Roope, the tenor who left pleasant memories last year, will be under the auspices of the Samoset club of Wollaston, whose young men took an active part in Mayor Campbell's campaign for election last Fall.

Mayor Campbell who is a member of the club, will be present at the concert. The appearance of this large, well-trained orchestra last year attracted a host of music-lovers, it being a novel event for Quincy. This year's concert is in charge of Harry G. Campbell, chairman of the Samoset club entertainment committee.

GLASER—KURLANSKY.

Invitations have been received for the marriage ceremony of Miss Freeda Kurlansky and Hyman S. Glaser, to take place at Sumner hall, East Boston on the evening of Feb. 23. The bride is a sister of Harry Kurlansky, who does business as "Harry, the Tailor" and many Quincy people are planning to attend.

TO WED THURSDAY.

The marriage of Miss Janet McLellan and William Kelly will take place Thursday evening. The bride-to-be is a popular South Quincy girl and a week ago was tendered a shower by her associate employees at the Rice & Hutchins South Braintree factory. The groom is one of the best known base ball players of greater Boston and aside from playing with local teams has been a member of several in the Nova Scotia leagues.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

SPEAKS UPON KINDERGARTEN

Parents-Teachers Association Hold Meeting

At the regular meeting of the Wollaston Parents and Teachers association, Monday evening Miss Lucy Wheelock of Boston, head of Miss Wheelock's school, spoke on "The kindergarten question, and its relation to home, school and community."

Reports were received from the secretary and treasurer. Herbert H. Albee reported no final action by the School Committee on the question of fire drill.

Miss Clara E. G. Thayer told of the efficient work of the Benevolent committee and Mrs. Robert Park recommended a course of reading compiled by Dr. Claxton.

"Our first concern," said Miss Wheelock, "is naturally the home. The first concern of the home is the child. The second consideration should be the school where the child goes."

"It seems a reversal of the natural order of things that so much more money is spent on high schools than in kindergartens. It seems as if any place money could be saved it would be at the top.

"The beginning of the child's life is the most important part in education. It is then his nature is most plastic, when habits are most easily formed.

"I do not believe that pententiaries could be abolished if every child entered kindergarten, but I do believe that if we do give children the right start, a good set of habits, careful training and the proper attitude there will be much less occasion for them.

"The first claim for the kindergarten is that it is a place to train children in habits, punctuality, orderliness, helpfulness, obedience are all taught."

"Obedience is the prime virtue of childhood. The kind taught in the kindergarten is that which comes from within. It is not the following of the whims of the child but a respect for individuality and a belief in the child's control of self.

"The second claim is based on the idea of self activity. The fostering of a childs own powers of observation so that his eyes see into the heart of things, so that he sees their beauty.

"The training of the hands is an important part, whereby a foundation is laid for later effective work. The child becomes a capable doer by early being interested in doing a thing well.

"The development of the imagination is a most important element for understanding and sympathy. By fairy tales, rhymes and dramatic play the children are trained in this direction.

"The social training that comes from playing together, the organized play in which each has an acting part leads to self subordination and the acceptance of responsibility. Thus is developed the watchword. 'The children for each other.'

"These are some of the fruits of the child garden, planted on school ground to blossom and bear fruit in the future community."

TO GIVE BUSINESS TALK AT Y. M. C. A

Harold Whitehead, president of the American School of Business, Inc., will give a talk on "Training in Business" at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening.

Mr. Whitehead is connected with the speakers' bureau of the Pilgrim Publicity association of Boston, and he has given this talk before many of the Boards of Trade in this country.

SHORTHAND IN 30 DAYS
WALDO'S BOSTON SHORTHAND SCHOOL
1124-25 Old South Bldg.
Day and Evening Terms and Details cheerfully yours. Telephone Main 2427. Call or write us. 5-6t

ALUMNI TO GIVE VAUDEVILLE SHOW

Dance, Play and Picnic Also on Program For Coming Season

SHOW COMES ON FEB. 26

The first of a series of events planned by the entertainment and athletic committees of the Quincy High School Alumni association for the late winter and spring, is an informal vaudeville show to be held in the High School assembly hall Friday evening, Feb. 26 at 8 o'clock.

No charge is to be made for the vaudeville as it is arranged purely for the members each of whom is also to be allowed to bring one friend. After 7.55 any former students of the High school will be admitted.

The feature of the vaudeville will be a short play coached by Miss Ella Packard in which five alumni well known for their histrionic ability will take part. An olio of separate acts will follow. Among those expected to appear in this part of the program are Cliff Gill the inimitable amateur comedian of Atlantic; Richard Larkin in Scotch dialect number; the famous Fowler Quartet made up of Messrs. Lynde, Carl Ray and Victor Fowler of Wollaston all former High school pupils; William Northrop in a rapid-sketching and cartooning act; and Miss Florence Barker and Herbert S. Barker, in some dancing novelties. There will also be orchestral music.

The evening is in direct charge of J. Brooks Keyes, '00, vice chairman of the entertainment committee, and it is whispered that something original may be expected.

Announcements of this entertainment and membership cards are soon to be sent out by the corresponding secretary at the direction of treasurer Joseph H. McPherson, 91 Common street, West Quincy. Since there are many that signed application blanks for membership last November who have not yet paid their annual dues, the executive committee of the association have set Feb. 26, the night of the entertainment, as the limit of time within which former school students become charter members by payment of dues. All eligible, those who attended school two years or more, are urged to communicate at once with the treasurer and get in on the charter membership list.

Soon after the vaudeville show, on March 19, the entertainment committee plans to run an alumni dance, providing such an event can be run on a self-supporting basis. It is the attitude of the president, Lucien H. Thayer, and the executive committee, that social events which will bring members of the large alumni body together periodically are highly desirable if they pay for themselves, but that the association should not place itself in a position which will open it to the criticism that it exists for social purposes alone.

The entertainment and athletic committees together will centralize their efforts in the play that is to be given in High school hall late in April, probably April 24. Mrs. Willard Sheppard (Molly Brown,) who will coach the dramatics, has a close knowledge of the capabilities of all the dramatic stars of the last few classes at the High school and a star show is expected. Admission will be charged to this event, and the proceeds will be divided equally between the Alumni Association treasury and the support of the school athletic teams. William Nolan, chairman of the joint committee, is to be in charge of this event.

Another event planned for the future is an outdoor picnic with box luncheon to be held on a Saturday late in May or early in June at some neighboring park. Further details of this will be given out some weeks hence.

Late in June the annual meeting of the Association will come.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is good for growing children—nourishing and satisfying. Grocers sell it.

UNABLE TO SAVE FROM HIS WAGES

Quincy Man Before Arbitration Board

A reduction in the number of spare men on the Bay State Street Railway was suggested as a possible solution to the labor troubles at the hearing before the arbitration board in Boston Monday. The suggestion was made by Leonard John Bliss of Woburn, an extra man who believed that if there is any criticism against the railroad it was because the work was divided between too many men.

William H. Gould, president of the Quincy branch of the employees' union, was among the witnesses. He said he had been in the service of the company as a motorman for 23 years and that in that time there has been a marked increase in the cost of living. Rents he said were formerly $18 and are now $25 and he asserted that although his income was $17.22 per seven-day week he had been unable to save money. He said he formerly had a family but that they have passed away and that at present he helps take care of a sick brother and an aged father.

TEMPLE HAS NOT BEEN CONDEMNED

There have been rumors about the new Masonic Temple being erected by Wollaston Masonic lodge on Beale street. Some of these rumors have been to the effect that the building had been condemned and that it would have to be torn down and rebuilt.

There is no truth in this. Some weeks ago during the extreme cold spell the cement used in the basement was not hardening as it should and Inspector of Buildings Lora C. Merrill, ordered work stopped until it could be seen just what the trouble was.

The result was that State Expert Worcester was called in and after making a thorough inspection of the building pronounced it all right and perfectly safe. Work was suspended for a time during the extreme cold weather but is now going ahead again.

COMMITTEE HERE THURSDAY

Will Be Guests of Mayor at Luncheon

The legislative committee on harbors and public lands will visit Quincy Thursday to inspect the Weymouth Fore River relative to the proposed improvement to the channel of the river as well as to visit the water front. Two Quincy men are on this joint committee, Senator Langelier is chairman of the senate committee and Representative Sandberg of the House committee.

The committee will leave Boston on the 10.39 train arriving in Quincy at 10.57. They will go immediately to city hall where they will be received by Mayor Campbell, who will entertain the committee at a lunch at Colonial hall at 11.45. Leaving Colonial hall about 1.30 they will visit the water front, the Fore River plant and the Quincy Point bridge. This is expected to take up their time until 3 o'clock when the committee will go to Cohasset to View Stony Beach.

MAY APPOINT MISS THOMAS.

It is understood that Miss Edna Thomas of Wollaston is to receive the appointment as assistant to the clerk of the district court in place of Miss Huston, whose resignation takes effect Saturday.

FIRE ENDANGERS PUBLIC LIBRARY

Officers Prompt Alarm and Work of Firemen Prevent Serious Loss

Chief Billings Estimates Damage to be Under $500

The prompt discovery by Officer Canavan coupled with exceptionally good work on the part of the fire department prevented what first seemed like a serious fire in the Thomas Crane Public Library building on Washington street early this morning. In fact it might be said to have been one of the best stops that the fire department ever made.

The fire started in the small room in the basement used by the janitor, and while some of those present attribute the cause to defective wires Chief Billings believes that it started from some cause on a bench in the janitor's room. It was a little after 2.30 when Officer Canavan in passing the library building discovered smoke coming from a window on the north side of the basement. Without stopping to investigate further he ran to Box 26 in the First Parish church yard and sounded an alarm at 2.35.

This not only brought the apparatus from the central station but the apparatus from Wollaston Atlantic and Quincy Point, furnishing a battery large enough to cope with a big fire. An entrance was forced into the basement, and when the firemen attempted to enter they were met with a dense volume of smoke that drove them back for a minute. The fire fighters nothing dismayed, however, pushed the nozzle of the hose before them and forced an entrance.

The interior of the janitor's room was found to be a roaring furnace but by prompt and efficient work the fire was confined to that room although the firemen had to tear away the plastering on the sides of the room in order to get at it. It was feared that the fire might work its way to the main floor above but the blaze was checked and not a drop of water was used on the main floor.

While the main force was working in the basement other firemen rushed up stairs and immediately opened the windows on all sides, as well as the front door. This enabled the dense smoke to be forced out of the room. The fire was quickly under control although it was over half an hour before the all out had sounded. The only damage to the upper rooms of the library is by smoke and it is probable that the books will have a smoky smell for some time.

The only damage in the basement is to the janitor's room which was gutted and the sides of the building torn down. Some little debris got into the toilet room adjoining but outside of accumulated dirt there was no damage. Chief Billings does not think the actual loss will be heavy and thinks that perhaps $500 will more than cover it.

OBSERVE 5th ANNIVERSARY

Boy Scouts of Country Hold Exercises

This week is known as scout week among the Boy Scouts of the country for Monday was the fifth anniversary of the organization of the movement in Washington, D. C.

The membership is now something like 500,000. There are three troops in Quincy, one in Quincy of which Benjamin Hodgkinson is the scout master and one in Wollaston of which George W. Brown is the scout master and a new troop in South Quincy. Owing to the fact that Scout master Hodgkinson's business engagements take him out of the city for the greater part of the time the Quincy troop is not holding regular meetings. The Wollaston troop however are holding regular meetings and Monday evening they met in the vestry of the Wollaston Congregational church where the anniversary exercises as set down in the scout book were carried out.

One of the most interesting features of this observance was the reading of a letter of greeting from General Scout Master Ernest Thompson. Seton. At 8.15 the boys formed in line and stood at attention when the salute was given and the oath of the boy scouts was repeated. It is interesting to note that at 8.15 Monday night all over the country the boy scouts followed the same observance.

SERVICES FOR MRS. LEAVITT

The funeral of Mrs. Minnie Prescott Leavitt wife of Amos T. Leavitt was held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late home 67 Lincoln avenue. The services were very largely attended for aside from many of the neighbors and friends of the family, there was a delegation from the store of Silas Pierce Co., with which Mr. Leavitt is connected.

The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Isaiah W. Sneath of the Wollaston Congregational church assisted by Rev. Edward A. Chase, of Beverly, a former pastor of Mrs. Leavitt. There was a profusion of beautiful flowers which included remembrances from the Wollaston Congregational church, and from the employees of Silas Pierce Co. The remains were taken to Forest Hills crematory following the services.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

MUSIC HALL, QUINCY, WEDNESDAY, FEB. 10
THE OPERA
MIKADO
Will be given under the auspices of the Music Committee of the Quincy Women's Club, at Music Hall, Quincy, Wednesday evening, February 10, at 8 o'clock.
Leading Parts by Professionals.
Large Chorus of Mixed Voices.
TICKETS (all reserved) may be obtained from Mrs. William H. Doble, 24 South street, Quincy, Telephone Q. 514-W. Price $1.00 and 75c each.
DRESS REHEARSAL FOR CHILDREN
At Music Hall, February 10, at 3.30 P. M. Children under 14 years of age may attend by paying 25 cents at the door.
6-5t

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 108 or Main 414

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

THE LUSITANIA MATTER.

There have been a great many lose-jointed comments made and printed upon the Lusitania incident. So far as facts have appeared there does not appear to have been any violation of international law. The action taken by the Lusitania in striving to conceal her identity was a legitimate ruse adopted on the order of the government of one of the combatants, Great Britain. The great danger appears to lie in the practice becoming so general that the enemy may not always recognize the ship which has a real right to the American flag and such failure may conceivably lead to action being taken which would constitute an affront so serious that this country would have to seek redress.

One of the belligerents would have a right to stop an American vessel if it questioned the identity of the ship and wished to ascertain the truth. The United States could take no offence at such an action. But the introduction of the submarine into warfare has brought new element of danger. A submarine must strike secretly and quickly. It has neither the strength nor the opportunity to hold up an ocean liner and go through her papers. It is likely to strike first and inquire afterward. The concealing of the wolf in the lamb skin may result disastrously to the lamb. America's effort to play the part of a lamb amidst the wolves of Europe may prove a difficult task.

KNOCKERS.

Commenting editorially upon the Ledger's story of the spirited meeting of the Board of Trade the other evening the Barre Times makes some forcible remarks.

The editorial reads:

"If, as advocated in Quincy, Mass., knockers should be drowned like superfluous kittens," what a decimation there would be in every town and city. There's always plenty of men, women, and children to decry a town and assert it has seen its best days. And, unfortunately, the knockers work overtime in their nefarious efforts, while the boosters are busy in keeping things doing. The efforts of the one oftentimes counter-balance the efforts of the other, so that a town stands still; whereas, if all boosted, or at least the knockers quit their efforts, the town would be allowed to progress. It would be in the interests of progress if the somewhat drastic recommendation put forth in Quincy should become effective."

We trust that the knockers of Quincy, and they are not so few as they should be, will take warning.

APPREHEND THE LOOTERS.

It is to be hoped that the police will leave no stone unturned to apprehend the marauders who looted the three Chinese laundries Sunday. The Chinese have always remained aliens no matter how many years they remain in this country. They are entitled nevertheless, to the full protection of the law of the land. Peculiarly inoffensive people, they have always been the prey of mischievous boys.

Breaking into buildings is something more than mischief. The amount taken may have been small but it represented many weary hours of labor by the handworking laundrymen.

WORKING FOR A GOOD CAUSE.

The little town of Milford N. H., is doing her good share toward helping the Belgians. There is an official committee to get contributions which have been many and now there is to be a Belgium benefit basket ball game and dance. Practically every penny taken in will be for that stricken nation, as all the expenses have been contributed. One merchant has organized bands of youngsters for ticket selling, and a prize has been offered to the one who sells the most. That is true co-operation.

When Sir Ernest Shackleton, the intrepid South pole explorer, returns from his expedition in March 1916, he will probably find that his own expedition has not resulted in so many changes on the map of the world as have the terrible forces at work on the continent of Europe today. Sir Ernest must be rather relieved to be so far from the turmoil and bloodshed of the so-called civilized nations.

J. Pierpont Morgan does not appear to hold the same views upon art collections as his famous father. The son of the King of Finance has just sold the famous collection of Chinese porcelain, which for more than 20 years has been loaned to the Metropolitan Museum of Art of New York. The collection was sold for $3,900,000. It was not impossible that Mr. Morgan may be able, if he has the inclination to devise a method of spending the money which will work greater good than the porcelain collection.

FINANCIAL NEWS.

(Special)

In spite of world-wide uncertainty business affairs in the United States display continued recuperative tendencies. The improvement is slow, too slow to satisfy American optimism, but each week shows a distinct gain, both of sentiment and in the volume of trade. It is well perhaps that the gain is slow, inasmuch as it will thus prove more permanent while premature convalescence would surely invite unpleasant setbacks.

The soundness of the present forward movement is beyond question. It is based chiefly upon the abundance of loanable funds at reasonable rates and a good demand for agricultural products at generally satisfactory prices. Undoubtedly the farmers of this country are prosperous and this gratifying condition, coupled with the sound banking situation, is the prime source of our present national strength. Congress and the Administration are reflecting more reasonble attitude toward large corporations. The abuses of the latter which so aroused public opinion no longer exist. Our great industrial leaders are doing their utmost to satisfy the public and to give others besides themselves a fair chance. Out of all the bitter discussion which has been going on for nearly a decade there are signs of a better understanding between capital and labor, and prospects of more harmonious relations, notwithstanding hard times.

The fourth of March is close at hand. Congress will then adjourn and the country will have a rest of at least nine months from new legislation. The new Congress which assembles next December will be less hostile to business interests than the one about to expire. The Administration shows a most welcome desire to build up and not tear down big business. This change in the attitude of the Federal Government, which promises to extend to State and municipal authorities, will do much toward permitting the restoration of confidence, without which business revival is absolutely impossible. The country needs a rest to adjust itself to the new requirements.

Another form of financing is presenting itself to Americans, that is the floating of new enterprises in other parts of the world which have until recently been placed in London and other European markets. It must be remembered that with such financing comes the much needed orders for goods. Our manufacturers will be exceedingly eager to secure the orders for merchandise. It remains to be seen whether they will be as ready as Europeans to accept the customary forms of payment in the shape of bonds and notes which the European investor has always absorbed more readily than the American. If this tendency continues and succeeds it will be necessary to establish a better market here for securities of this class. Here is another sign of the times—that the United States must take its proper place in the world's markets.

While conditions favor higher prices in the long run, sharp setbacks are to be expected. The speculation in wheat has already reached a dangerous condition. The uncertainties of war are proverbial and a disaster to either side would have very decisive effects upon market values. The whole situation is one that warrants continued hopefulness, with much caution in regard to investments affected by foreign affairs. For securities entirely under the control of domestic influences the outlook is much more stable; not a few of our industrial establishments being sure to profit largely by the war while it lasts. At the West conditions are reported generally improving. In the East we are still suffering from industrial stagnation and general depression. The latter however has seen its worst and is now largely a matter of history. Henceforward we should experience steady business improvement, barring of course unforeseen disaster.—Henry Clews, Banker.

New York, Feb. 6, 1915.

Piles Cured in 6 to 14 Days
Druggists refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. First application gives relief. 50c.

The Exploits of Elaine

A Detective Novel and a Motion Picture Drama

By ARTHUR B. REEVE

The Well-Known Novelist and the Creator of the "Craig Kennedy" Stories

Presented in Collaboration With the Pathe Players and the Eclectic Film Company

Copyright, 1914, by the Star Company All Foreign Rights Reserved

SYNOPSIS.

The New York police are mystified by a series of murders and other crimes. The principal clue to the criminal is the warning letter which is sent the victims, signed with a "clutching hand." The latest victim of the mysterious assassin is Taylor Dodge, the insurance president. His daughter, Elaine, employs Craig Kennedy, the famous scientific detective, to try to unravel the mystery. What Kennedy accomplishes is told by his friend Jameson, a newspaper man. Enraged at the determined effort which Elaine and Craig Kennedy are making to put an end to his crimes, the Clutching Hand, as this strange criminal is known, resorts to all sorts of th most diabolical schemes to put ther out of the way. Each chapter of th sto tells of a new plot against their live and of the way the great detective uses all his skill to save this pretty girl and himself from death.

SEVENTH EPISODE

The Double Trap.

Mindful of the sage advice that a time of peace is best employed in preparing for war, I was busily engaged in cleaning my automatic gun one morning as Kennedy and I were seated in our living room.

Our door buzzer sounded, and Kennedy, always alert, jumped up, pushing aside a great pile of papers which had accumulated in the Dodge case.

Two steps took him to the hall, where the day before he had installed a peculiar box about four by six inches, connected in some way with a lens-like box of similar size above our bell and speaking tube in the hallway below it. He opened it, disclosing an oblong plate of ground glass.

"I thought the seismograph arrangement was not quite enough after that spring-gun affair," he remarked. "so I have put in a sort of teleview of my own invention—so that I can se down into the vestibule downstairs. Well—just look who's here!"

"Some new-fangled periscope arrangement, I suppose?" I queried, moving slowly over toward it.

However, one look was enough to interest me. I can express it only in slang. There, framed in the little thing, was a vision of as swell a "chicken" as I have ever seen.

I whistled under my breath.

"Um!" I exclaimed shamelessly, "A peach! Who's your friend?"

I had never said a truer word than in my description of her, though I did not know it at the time. She was indeed known as "Gertie the Peach" in the select circle where she belonged.

Kennedy had opened the lower door and our fair visitor was coming upstairs.

"Go in there, Walter," he said, seizing me quickly and pushing me into my room. "I want you to wait there and watch her carefully."

Kennedy opened the door, disclosing a very excited young woman.

"Oh, Professor Kennedy," she cried, all in one breath, with much emotion. "I'm so glad I found you in. I can't tell you. Oh—my jewels! They have been stolen—and my husband must not know of it. Help me to recover them—please!"

"Just a moment, my dear young lady," interrupted Craig, finding at last a chance to get a word in edgeways. "Do you see that table—and all those papers? Really, I can't take your case. I am too busy, as it is, even to take the cases of many of my own clients."

"But please, Professor Kennedy—please!" she begged. "Help me. It means—oh, I can't tell you how much it means to me!"

She had come close to him and had laid her warm, little soft hand on his, in ardent entreaty.

From my hiding place in my room, I could not help seeing that she was using every charm of her sex and personality to lure him on, as she clung confidingly to him.

Gertie had thrown her arms about Kennedy, as if in wildest devotion. I wondered what Elaine would have thought if she had a picture of that!

"Oh," she begged him, "please—please help me!"

Still Kennedy seemed utterly unaffected by her passionate embrace. Carefully he loosened her fingers from about his neck and removed the plump, enticing arms.

Gertie sank into a chair, weeping, while Kennedy stood before her a moment in deep abstraction.

Finally he seemed to make up his mind to something. His manner toward her changed. He took a step to her side.

"I will help you," he said, laying his hand on her shoulder. "If it is possible I will recover your jewels. Where do you live?"

"At Hazlehurst," she replied, gratefully. "Oh, Mr. Kennedy, how can I ever thank you?"

She seemed overcome with gratitude, and took his hand, pressed it, even kissed it.

"Just a minute," he added, carefully extricating his hand. "I'll be ready in just a minute."

Kennedy entered the room where I was listening.

"What's it all about, Craig?" I whispered, mystified.

For a moment he stood thinking, apparently reconsidering what he had just done. Then his second thought seemed to approve it.

"This is a trap of the Clutching Hand, Walter," he whispered, adding tensely, "and we're going to walk right into it."

"But, Craig," I demurred, "that's foolhardy. Have her trailed—anything—but—"

He shook his head, and with a mere motion of his hand brushed aside my objections as he went to a cabinet across the room.

From one shelf he took out a small metal box and from another a test tube, placing the test tube in his waistcoat pocket and the small box in his coat pocket with excessive care.

Then he turned and motioned to me to follow him out into the other room. I did so, stuffing my "gatt" into my pocket.

"Let me introduce my friend, Mr. Jameson," said Craig, presenting me to the pretty crook.

The introduction quickly over, we three went out to get Craig's car, which he kept at a nearby garage.

* * * * * * * *

That forenoon Perry Bennett was reading up a case. In the outer office Milton Schofield, his office boy, was industriously chewing gum and admiring his feet, cocked up on the desk before him.

The door to the waiting room opened and an attractive woman of perhaps thirty, dressed in extreme mourning, entered with a boy.

Milton cast a glance of scorn at the "little dude." He was in reality about fourteen years old, but was dressed to look much younger.

"Did you wish to see Mr. Bennett?" asked the precocious Milton, politely, on one hand, while on the other he made a wry grimace.

"Yes—here is my card," replied the woman.

It was deeply bordered in black. Even Milton was startled at reading it: "Mrs. Taylor Dodge."

He looked at the woman in open-mouthed astonishment. Even he knew that Elaine's mother had been dead for years.

The woman, however, true to her name in the artistic coterie in which she was leader, had sunk into a chair and was sobbing convulsively, as only "Weepy Mary" could.

It was so effective that even Milton was visibly moved. He took the card in, excitedly, to Bennett.

"There's a woman outside—says she is Mrs. Taylor Dodge!" he cried.

If Milton had had an X-ray eye he could have seen her take a cigarette from her handbag and light it nonchalantly the moment he was gone.

As for Bennett, Milton, who was watching him closely, thought he was about to discharge him on the spot for bothering him. He took the card, and his face expressed the most extreme surprise, then anger. He thought a moment.

"Tell that woman to state her business in writing," he thundered curtly at Milton.

As the boy turned to go back to the waiting room, Weepy Mary, hearing, him coming, hastily shoved the cigarette into her "son's" hand.

"Mr. Bennett says for you to write out what it is you want to see him about," reported Milton, indicating the table before which she was sitting.

Mary had automatically taken up sobbing with the release of the cigarette. She looked at the table on which were letter paper, pens and ink.

"I may write here?" she asked.

"Surely, ma'am," replied Milton, still very much overwhelmed by her sorrow.

"Weepy Mary" sat there, writing and sobbing.

In the midst of his sympathy, however, Milton sniffed. There was an unmistakable odor of tobacco smoke about the room. He looked sharply at the "son," and discovered the still smoking cigarette.

It was too much for Milton's outraged dignity. Bennett did not allow him that coveted privilege. This upstart could not usurp it.

He reached over and seized the boy by the arm, and swung him around till he faced a sign in the corner on the wall.

"See?" he demanded.

The sign read, courteously:

"No Smoking in This Office—Please.
"PERRY BENNETT."

"Leggo my arm," snarled the "son," putting the offensive cigarette defiantly into his mouth.

There was every element of a gaudy mixup, when the outer door of the office suddenly swung open and Elaine Dodge entered.

Gallantry was Milton's middle name, and he sprang forward to hold the door, and then opened Bennett's door, as he ushered in Elaine.

As she passed "Weepy Mary," who was still writing at the table and crying bitterly, Elaine hesitated and looked at her curiously. Even after Milton had opened Bennett's door, she could not resist another glance. Instinctively, Elaine seemed to scent trouble.

Bennett was still studying the black bordered card when she greeted him.

"Who is that woman?" she asked, still wondering about the identity of the niobe outside.

At first he said nothing. But finally, seeing that she had noticed it, he handed Elaine the card, reluctantly.

Elaine read it with a gasp. The look of surprise that crossed her face was terrible.

Before she could say anything, however, Milton had returned with the sheet of paper on which "Weepy Mary" had written and handed it to Bennett.

Bennett read it with uncontrolled astonishment.

"What is it?" demanded Elaine.

He handed it to her, and she read:

As the lawful wife and widow of Taylor Dodge I demand my son's rights and my own.
MRS. TAYLOR DODGE.

Elaine gasped at it.

"She—my father's wife!" she exclaimed. "What effrontery! What does she mean?"

Bennett hesitated.

"Tell me," Elaine cried. "Is there—can there be anything in it? No—no—there isn't."

Bennett spoke in a low tone. "I have heard a whisper of some scandal or other connected with your father—but—" He paused.

Elaine was first shocked, then indignant.

"Why—such a thing is absurd. Show the woman in!"

"No—please—Miss Dodge. Let me deal with her."

By this time Elaine was furious.

"Yes—I will see her."

She pressed the button on Bennett's desk, and Milton responded.

"Milton, show the—the woman in," she ordered, "and that boy, too."

As Milton turned to crook his finger at "Weepy Mary," she nodded surreptitiously and dug her fingers sharply into "son's" ribs.

"Yell—you little fool—yell," she whispered.

Obedient to his "mother's" commands, and much to Milton's disgust, the boy started to cry in close imitation of his elder.

Elaine was still holding the paper in her hands when they entered.

"What does all this mean?" she demanded.

"Weepy Mary," between sobs, managed to blurt out, "You are Miss Elaine Dodge, aren't you? Well, it means that your father married me when I was only seventeen and this boy is our son—your half-brother."

"No—never," cried Elaine vehemently, unable to restrain her disgust.

"Weepy Mary" smiled cynically. "Come with me and I will show you the church records and the minister who married us."

"You will?" repeated Elaine defiantly. "Well, I'll just do as you ask. Mr. Bennett shall go with me."

"No, no, Miss Dodge—don't go. Leave the matter to me," urged Bennett. "I will take care of her. Besides, I must be in court in twenty minutes."

Elaine paused, but she was thoroughly aroused.

"Then I will go with her myself," she cried defiantly.

In spite of every objection that Bennett made, "Weepy Mary," her son and Elaine went out to call a taxicab to take them to the railroad station where they could catch a train to the little town where the woman asserted she had been married.

Meanwhile, before a little country church in the town, a closed automobile had drawn up.

As the door opened a figure, humped up and masked, alighted.

It was the Clutching Hand.

The car had scarcely pulled away when he gave a long rap, followed by two short taps, at the door of the vestry, a secret code, evidently.

Inside the vestry room a man well dressed, but with a very sinister face, heard the knock and a second later opened the door.

"What—not ready yet?" growled the Clutching Hand. "Quick—now—get on those clothes. I heard the train whistle as I came in the car. In which closet does the minister keep them?"

The crook, without a word, went to a closet and took out a suit of clothes of ministerial cut. Then he hastily put them on, adding some side-whiskers, which he had brought with him.

At about the same time Elaine, accompanied by "Weepy Mary" and her "son," had arrived at the little tumbledown station and had taken the only vehicle in sight, a very ancient carriage.

It ambled along until, at last, it pulled up before the vestry room door of the church, just as the bogus minister was finishing his transformation from a frank crook. Clutching Hand was giving him his final instructions.

Elaine and the others alighted and approached the church, while the ancient vehicle rattled away.

"They're coming!" whispered the crook, peering cautiously out of the window.

Clutching Hand moved silently and snakelike into the closet and shut the door.

"How do you do, Doctor Carton?" greeted "Weepy Mary." "I guess you don't remember me."

The clerical gentleman looked at her fixedly a moment.

"Remember you?" he repeated. "Of course, my dear. I remember everyone I marry."

"And you remember to whom you married me?"

"Perfectly. To an older man—a Taylor Dodge."

Elaine was overcome.

"Won't you step in?" he said suavely. "Your friend here doesn't seem well."

They all entered

(To be Continued.)

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE

Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit

WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS
Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.
Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506-1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block
Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.-tf

Quality and Cleanliness

coupled with dollar for dollar value and good service warrant you shopping here. In the making of our bread we abolish science, striving only to fashion the bread as you would yourself. Won't you Madam, call and take home a loaf Today.

LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN
1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.

SUNNY SIDE of LIFE

BAD SLIP.

She—I'll never go anywhere again with you as long as I live.

He—Wh-why.

She—You asked Mrs. Smith how her husband was standing the heat, and he's been dead two months.—Pathfinder.

DOING HIS PART.

A minister was horrified one Sunday to see a boy in the gallery pelting the hearers in the pews with horse chestnuts. As the good man looked up, the boy cried: "You tend to your preaching, mister; I'll keep them awake."—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

HIS WISH GRANTED.

The Jew peddler rapped timidly at the kitchen door. Mrs. Kelly, angry at being interrupted in her washing, flung open the door, and glowered at him.

"Did yez wish to see me?" she demanded, in threatening tones.

The peddler backed off the steps. "Vell, if I did," he assured her, with an apologetic grin, "I got my vish, dank you."—Everybody's.

THIS IS SHARP.

Two young women were looking hard at the man who was occupying two seats while women were forced to stand.

"I should judge," said one, looking at him more critically, "that he would bring about $12.90."

"On what do you base your estimate" asked the other.

"On the present price of pork."

ETHEL RIGHT THERE.

A crabbed old misogynist said to Ethel Barrymore at a dinner in Bar Harbor:

"Woman! Feminism! Suffrage! Bah! Why, there isn't a woman alive who wouldn't rather be beautiful than intelligent."

"That's because," said Miss Barrymore calmly, "so many men are stupid while so few are blind."—New York Tribune.

OWATTONA SOCIAL CLUB.

The Owattona Social club held its weekly meeting Monday evening at the home of Miss Grace Brownrigg on Garfield street. The regular sewing circle took up the first part of the evening after which games of all kinds were enjoyed. Miss Celia Conners entertained with several clever recitations and Miss Marion Duffy presided at the piano. Dancing was enjoyed until midnight when a light collation was served The next meeting of the club will be next Monday evening, at the home of Miss Marion Duffy on Copeland street.

Mrs. John Glover of Pleasant street, Braintree has been confined to her home for the past six weeks because of sickness. She is in a critical condition

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con

Furniture Storage Warehouse
Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.
Rates $2---$3---$4 per month
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.
Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.-tf

If about to build or repair, specify
NEPONSET SHINGLES
Durable, Artistic and Fireproof, nothing better.
Surely call or write for samples.
See them and be convinced.
GROSSMAN'S BUILDING SUPPLY HOUSE
"The House of Quality"
37 Federal Ave. Tel. 979-R Quincy Quincy Adams, Mass.

Build Now! Plan Now!
To the prospective home builders of Quincy that Quincy may share in the general betterments that will accrue to every one who takes advantage of the Build Now opportunities we propose the following inducement which we are sure the material men and all labor will generously follow. For a limited time we will blueprint any of our plans of flats at a reduction from the regular price. We will also estimate all building work at Build Now prices and can save you some money if you'd dare take a chance.
How many Real Boosters in Quincy?
J. W. PRATT Architect and Builder
18 FAXON AVE, from City Sq. Tel 581-W

WELL KNOWN YACHTSMAN

Willie H. Shaw, Braintree, Missionary and Business Man Dies

HAD BEEN IN CHINA

Willie H. Shaw, a long time resident of Braintree, an ordained minister, and one of the best known yachtsmen on the New England coast died at his home at 50 Maple street this morning. He was in his 58th year.

Willie H. Shaw as a young man studied for the ministry. He graduated from Amherst in 1887 and from the Union Theological Seminary in 1880. He was ordained and shortly after married and went to China as a missionary, accompanied by his wife.

For three years he was stationed at Tao-Ting-Ti, China, but he had to return to this country on account of ill health.

He came back to Braintree and then engaged in the manufacturing of shirts and overalls with two other men and later did business with his brother as Shaw Bros. He retired from manufacturing 15 years ago and become a representative of Jacob Dreyfuss Co., of Boston.

Mr. Shaw was one of the most enthusiastic yachtsmen in this vicinity and was a prominent member of the Quincy Yacht Club. He was the owner of the Moondyne and Dawn. He leaves a widow and five children.

His funeral will take place from his home on Thursday afternoon. Burial will be in Mt. Wollaston cemetery, Quincy.

BRIEFS

Miss Katharine E. Howley is confined to the house by illness.

Miss Louise McLaughlin is confined to her home on Bates avenue with a severe cold.

Court Roger Wolcott No 88 F. of A. will hold a meeting this evening in Hibernian hall.

A meeting of the Ladies aid of the First church of Squantum is announced for Wednesday evening at 8.00 o'clock in the church parlors.

Among the visitors to Squantum Sunday were Mildred Hersey, Anne Allen, Mrs. Helen McGowan, Fred and Paul Lovejoy.

A regular meeting of the Squantum Improvement association is to be held in Richards Memorial hall this evening at eight o'clock. As several important subjects are to be discussed a large attendance is looked for.

Among the prize winners at the midwinter exhibition of flowers, fruits and vegetables at Horticultural hall is Dr. W. G. Kendall of Atlantic. He took a first in the awards for winter pears, dish of one variety.

The prize winners at the weekly whist party of the Mt. Wollaston Odd Fellow Associates were Mrs. S. Magnus, Mrs. Cora Carmen, Mrs. George A. Bolster, Miss Morrissey, Fred Drake and G. S. Hamlin. There were seventeen tables in play. The evening closed with dancing.

Seven tables were in play Monday evening at the whist party held at the Town River yacht clubhouse. The first prize was won by Elmer Sprague Other prizes went to Mrs. Cashman and J. Moriarty.

An enjoyable whist party was held Monday evening at Odd Fellows hall by the Odd Fellows association. Seventeen tables were in play and prizes were awarded to those having the best scores.

The Quincy Adams Social club will hold its fourth annual dancing party in Alpha hall Friday evening. The committee is Harry Brown, Eben Kerr, Thomas Curry and Daniel Kenney.

The ladies aid of the First church of Squantum are to hold an entertainment in the church Friday evening. It will be a Lincoln's birthday party with entertainment and refreshments in keeping. Mrs. Richardson, president of the Ladies aid, has charge assisted by a general committee.

Saturday evening the children of the Sunday School of the First church of Squantum are to hold a Valentine party. Mrs. C. E. Carlson assisted by members of the Ladies Aid have charge of the affair and the proceeds will be used in repairing the piano in Richards Memorial hall. An entertainment, games and refreshments will all help in making the party a success.

E. NORFOLK C. E. UNION MEETING

Delegates Attend Conference in Wollaston Baptist Church

The bi-monthly meeting of the East Norfolk Christian Endeavor Union was held Monday evening at the Wollaston Baptist church and was largely attended. At the roll call the banner for the largest percentage of attendance at regular meetings and at the meeting of Monday evening was awarded to the society of the Wollaston Congregational church.

Delegates were present from the Christian Endeavor society recently formed in the Braintree Congregational church, and this society was admitted to the East Norfolk Union.

The address of the evening was by Rev. E. H. Byington of the West Roxbury Congregational church and his topic was "Automobile Christian Endeavor Service." The speaker gave a most interesting talk applying the different parts of the automobile to Christian Endeavor work. For instance he said that every society should be a self starter. That it should be progressive. That all parts should work well in order to make progress and that it should be supplied with plenty of power.

The musical part of the program was under the direction of Amos D. Albee of the Wollaston Baptist church, and included the singing of the "Hallelujah chorus" and "Peace be Still." In addition to this Miss Annie Flieger sang a vocal solo, with violin obligato by Miss Elsa Field.

The next meeting of the Union will be a cabinet meeting and will be held a month hence at the Wollaston Congregational church.

PARK AND DOWNS.

Morning service: Text Matthew 3—8 "Bring forth therefore fruits—meats for repentance."

The sermon was a study in contrast between the results of the preaching of John the Baptist and the outgrowth of the message of Jesus. John the Baptist appealed to the Elementary qualities of the people. He aroused their fear. He awakened in the people a consciousness of Sin. He made them discontented with themselves and filled them with a desire to shake off their old lives and to confess their sins.

The people of Jerusalem and all Judea flocked to the Jordan to confess their sins. They doubtless thought that this would solve the whole problem of the future. But the inadequacy of this was revealed when John formed his message by pointing to Jesus as the One who alone had power to take away the sin of the world. John's baptism was a worthless ceremony and the people's confession of their sins amounted to nothing unless they embraced the principles of Christ and put to work immediately the impulses which John had been able to stir in their hearts

The world is visited with thrills aplenty. Peoples emotion often enough stir them to noble resolutions which they never fulfill. What we need to do is to learn to put these tremendous impulses to work. We need to take our stand immediately for the principles which Christ established.

In the evening the text was "Wherefore do you spend your money for that which is not bread and your labor, for that which satisfieth not"—"Awake thou that sleepest." It was a lesson on values. The minister drew many lessons from the development of the English race and from some pages of the history of our own country.

Tuesday night at 6.45 the Norwoll club entertains at supper the Men's forum. Friday night at 8, there will be in the church auditorium a concert by Boston and local talent under the auspices of the Primary department of the church.

The Daily Ledger is newsy very day. Are you a regular reader?

Masquerade Costumes For Rent
Children's Costumes in variety
MRS. R. E. WOODWARD
155 Billings Road
Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs
Feb. 3-tf

Here's a Delightful Spring Hat For the Pretty Little Maiden

BONNET SHAPED HAT.

ONE cannot but approve of the bonnet shaped hats which are shown for spring. They are designed not only for small folks, but for misses and adults of not too mature years. A pretty hat of this kind is pictured here. It is of fine straw in two tones and is trimmed with satin ribbon of a shade to match the darker tone in the straw. A fancy bow in which a tiny flower is knotted is adjusted at the side.

BLACK LINGERIE.

Fad That Has Many Advocates Since It Became the Rage In Paris.

Black underwear seems to have an eternal attraction for the Parisienne, and there have been some among us on this side who have succumbed to its charms and even gone the length of having black silk sheets and pillowcases to match their black silken nightdresses.

Every now and again this penchant for black crops up, and at present it is asserting itself. It is certainly practical, and in some instances it is pretty.

Some black lingerie seen in a shop the other day was extremely fascinating. Made in the finest and thinnest of black Japanese silk or crepe de chine, each garment was lavishly inset and incrusted with dainty black valenciennes lace.

There are, of course, many women, especially fair haired women, to whom black is perhaps more becoming than any color, and to them a few sets of ebon underwear must be irresistible, but to most people a few camisoles of black silk with entredeux of filmy black lace are a useful possession to wear under transparent black blouses or even white ones.

Now that black is a decoration for walls and upholstery it is perhaps natural that its use should spread to even the decorative domain of lingerie and be worn by those who have a passion for having everything about them en suite.

SPRING LINGERIE.

New Models Are Distinctively Practical Both In Material and Trimming.

Petticoats are wider at the hem and have deeper flounces. Materials with more stiffness than formerly are featured. Subdued colors dominate, says the Dry Goods Economist.

Negligees show the influence of the new silhouette. Flounces and ruffles are used on wide foundations to create the distended effect. High waisted lines are featured.

Underwear is made of more practical materials and trimmings than was the case last season. The garments fit snugly over the hips, with greater fullness in the ruffles and skirt flounces.

Corsets now include practical models for all types of figures; low busts for misses and slender women; medium high for well developed figures. There is increasing interest in front laced models.

Brassieres follow two distinct tendencies. The one calls for soft materials without bones, the other for firm fabrics with flexible bones in front, back and side bust.

Lace Boudoir Cap.

Lace insertions whipped to strips of shirred net make a beautiful boudoir cap that can be trimmed with small ribbon roses and threaded with narrow ribbons in color, which are tied in bows at the side.

Another effective way to trim the cap of this type is with velvet baby ribbon.

Black on any color or on white is a particularly smart trimming and is to be one of the fashionable things in boudoir caps for the coming season.

It must be removed before laundering, but this takes little time.

MILADY'S JEWELS.

Onyx with diamond is one of the best combinations in jewelry.

With plain shirt waists colored stone buttons and Egyptian jewelry should be worn.

A collar made of black velvet about three-quarters of an inch wide, with a rhinestone drop, is becoming to the elderly woman.

One of the most attractive novelties is a high dog collar of tulle trimmed with rhinestones, resembling the heavy jeweled collars. These collars look particularly well on young women.

New signets appear made of jet or black enamel, with the stones set flatly within their inky environment, where they seem to acquire special brilliancy.

So pronounced is the demand for silver, rhinestones and pearls, with jet or black enamel, that many excellent imitations of the more costly metals and semi-precious stones are to be had for a nominal figure.

EATING FOR HEALTH.

Moderation a Good Rule Both as to Kind and Quality of Food.

Always practice moderation in eating and always eat slowly, but you need not chew each mouthful a hundred times. The very fact of counting would make many people too nervous to digest anything. You will know when your food is masticated. The amount of food required depends on the kind and amount of labor performed each day.

A good rule is to eat just a little less than you crave. But a strong body must have a sufficient amount of fuel to keep in good working order, the same as a locomotive.

For dinner a soup, one kind of meat, not more than three vegetables, salad and a plain dessert with coffee are all one requires and are far better than a great variety.

A little lunch if you wish to do good work in the afternoon. For breakfast, either fruit or a cereal, egg or chop, roll and coffee are sufficient for almost any one.

Making Linen Wear.

Linen will wear much longer if it need not be used constantly. For instance, if half a dozen tablecloths are laid away in the linen closet the whole set should be in use, not two, three or whatever number is needed each week. In this way each cloth is not laundered nearly as often as if three were in constant use and three stored away. The result will be that the six will last much longer used in this way than if several were kept in reserve.

After the cloths have lost all usefulness as table coverings they can be cut up into napkins, hemmed and given a new lease on life. Linen should never be thrown away, as there is always some excellent use awaiting it, either as bandages, cloths for the ironing board, dust rags or a thousand and one of the other household purposes to which it can be put.

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

A second meeting of the Junior Suffrage League was held Saturday evening at the home of Miss Edith Swift on Central avenue. Mrs. Armington of Jamaica Plain was the speaker of the evening. The election of officers took place and the following were chosen: President, Miss Edith Swift; vice-president, Miss Dorothy Fuller; , secretary-treasurer Miss Edith Stocker; executive Committee, Miss Dorothy Lawton, Miss Marion C. Johnson, William Hoxie and the officers. After a short business meeting vocal solos were given by Miss Marion Hird and Miss Dorothy Fuller. Several selections were rendered on the piano by Mr. Morton Swift. Refreshments and dancing were then enjoyed. The next meeting will be held on the first Friday in March at the home of Mrs. Milliken on the Blue Hill Parkway.

Miss Mildred L. Johnson entertained a party of her little friends Saturday afternoon at her home on Brook road in observance of her sixth birthday. The little "tots" enjoyed themselves playing games and singing. Refreshments were served and Miss Mildred was heartily congratulated by all present. Those present were: Annie Rogers, "Bunnie" Keegan, Gertrude Leadworth, Magdalene Geddes, Katherine Lee Genevieve Farrell, Norman Landstrom, Harry Erhard, Louie Pendis and Milton Bohm.

Mrs. Edward James entertained the Senior English class of the college division of the High school Friday evening at her home, Russell street. Mrs. James entertained the party with readings from Shakespeare's "Macbeth" which were splendidly done. Since the class had just completed "Macbeth" in school the recital was especially interesting to them. Following the reading refreshments were served. The following were present: The Misses Adella Bates, Alice Damon, Janet Johnston, Bena Erhard, Marion Hathaway, Ruth Mooers, Marjorie Piper, Sigrid Kenseth, Mary Hendry, Caroline Schindler, Ruth Lincoln, Hazel Pond, Josephine Rice, J. Randall Pratt, Kenneth D. Johnson, Milton Tucker, Malcolm Howe, Walter Bartlett and Harold Keay.

Sunday was observed as C. E. day at the First Baptist church. The pastor Rev. J. Hamilton Woodsum, preached on, "The Impelling Power of Religious Conviction." Communion was served following the morning service. There was a large attendance at the S. S. and the Woodsum class commenced its contest with the Davis class of the Calvary Baptist church of Quincy. Miss Alice Beattie led the C. E. meeting the topic being, "A Christian Endeavor that Counts." In the evening the pastor preached on, "How to Treat the Gospel."

The churches of this town will observe the 100th anniversary of the ratification of the peace treaty between the United States and Great Britain with a union service at the First Congregational parish on Canton avenue next Sunday at 4 P. M. Rev. George Hodges, D. D., dean of the Episcopal Theological Seminary in Cambridge will deliver the address.

At the East Congregational church Sunday morning, the pastor, Rev. John M. Trout, preached a three minute sermon to the children on "Shadows." The sermon theme was, "Friendship." At the evening service the pastor preached on "Come."

Monday evening the Ladies' Aid Auxiliary entertained the Ladies' Aid Society of the East Congregational church in the vestry. Music was furnished by a Glee club formed of members of the auxiliary.

Three-Day Soap Sale
Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday.

It is quite necessary at times to offer big inducements, in order to accomplish a thing. This is why we are holding a soap sale for three days, in order to acquaint Quincy people with our large range and variety of soaps.

We carry the complete line of America's Leading Soap Factory.

Colgate & Co.

Their motto is ours, "a soap for every purpose at a price for every purse."

Cashmere Bouquet	15c, 25c
Oat Meal	per cake 10c 3 for 25c
Coleo	per cake 10c 3 for 25c
Natural Odors	per cake 10c 3 for 25c
Monad Violet	per cake 25c
Monad Violet	small, per cake 10c
Almond Toilet and Bath, (New)	10c 3 for 25c
Pine Tar	per cake 10c 3 for 25c
Vegetable Oil	per cake 10c 3 for 25c
Peroxide Bath	per cake 10c 3 for 25c
Lana Oil and Buttermilk	per cake 10c 3 for 25c
White Clematis	per cake 10c 3 for 25c
Cold Cream	per cake 10c 3 for 25c

Special Offer

We will give absolutely free with a cake of Remmer's Peroxide Soap or Graham Lana Oil and Buttermilk Soap a first Quality face cloth. No Miss or Lady will want to miss this alluring offer.

CHARLES C. HEARN
Druggist City Square

UNCLAIMED LETTERS.

Quincy Branch Advertised letters Feb. 6, 1915:

Mrs. Julias Alanko, E. F. Bailey, Edd Beede (Special Delivery), Amelo DiMuzio, Mrs. Callina Gallini, D. F. Gray & Co., David Griffith, Miss Madeline Hebert, Elli Heikkinen, Acsaja, Kavolyne, Annie Neiti, Kilppula, Thom Krinenclmk, Liberato Mariani (2), Thomas McDonald, John McGinnis, B. Noodelman, John Robert Richards, Mrs. E. B. Robey, Jan Somanuk, George A. Tanner (2), Mrs. Ruth E. Walker, Herra H. Weikkalainen, Frank Welbring, Harold Wellington.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton Director
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings. 6-6t

Are You Reading
THAT
Wonderful, Alluring Serial Story
THE EXPLOITS OF ELAINE
Come, Girls, start today
IT'S GREAT,
Read The Story in
THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Then See The Play At
THE KINCAIDE THEATRE

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS— Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue,
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

COCHATO WOMEN BOWL.

Teams two, three and four in the ladies' Boston pin tournament owned the club alleys Monday evening Seven points were made by team 3, four by team two and one by team 4. Mrs. Keating made the best single and total. Four bowlers were absent. The scores were as follows:

TEAM TWO.

Mrs. Keating	80	91	93	264
Miss Abercrombie	72	89	76	237
Mrs. Woodsum	73	73	73	219
Mrs. Clapp	70	51	73	194
Miss M. Kneeland	65	51	73	189
Miss Rogers	67	64	74	205
	427	419	462	1308

TEAM THREE.

Mrs. Connell	80	80	80	240
Mrs. Wilder	92	79	75	246
Miss Perry	66	79	68	213
Miss Hatchard	58	58	58	174
Mrs. Lawley	78	79	88	245
Mrs. Prescott	68	70	61	199
	442	445	430	1317

TEAM FOUR.

Mrs. Hall	76	76	82	228
Mrs. Perry	77	77	77	231
Mrs. Jenkins	64	59	71	194
Miss E. Kneeland	69	70	59	198
Mrs. Richards	64	61	69	194
Mrs. Robbins	64	79	54	197
	408	422	412	1242

DELTA SIGMA CLUB.

The Delta Sigma club met Monday afternoon with Miss Nettie Pote in North Weymouth. The club however voted to send 165 valentines, on Valentines day to the shut-ins about Boston. It was also decided to hold a valentine party some time this month but the exact date was not definitely decided upon.

HOLD SMOKE TALK.

Quincy Lodge, I. O. O. Moose, will hold a smoke talk tonight in Franklin hall. Several good bouts are on the program and plenty of good talent. A large attendance is expected as several local glove artists will appear.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

CONLIN SHOE REPAIRING

Men's Sewed Taps and Heels	75c
Men's Sewed Taps and Rubber heels	$1.00
Men's Nail Taps and Heels	65c
Men's Heels	20c
Ladies' Taps and Heels Sewed	65c
Ladies Taps and Rubber heels Sewed	85c
Ladies Heels	15c
Rubber Heels 40c and	50c
Skates Sharpened, New Process	15c
$4 Ralston Shoes for	1.50

Hancock and Saville Sts.
Tel. 961-M. Oct. 7-tf

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES.
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1986 W

STANDING IN F. R. LEAGUE

Positions Unchanged After Mondays Rolling

	Won	Lost	P.C.
M. Gallery	68	12	850
Y. Dept.	59	17	776
N. Dept.	50	30	625
E. Dept.	48	32	600
S. Dept.	44	36	550
D. Dept.	43	41	537
Treas. Office.	29	31	448
Ex. App.	32	48	400
B. Dept.	32	48	400
U. S. N.	29	47	381
M. Floor	30	54	357
Pur. Agts.	15	61	197

High single Olindy 153, Y. Dept. 506.

High three string Olindy 360, M. Gallery 1442.

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

Shipfitters 3—D. Dept. 1.
Treas. Office 4—Ex-App. 0.
N. Dept. 3—M. Floor 1.

Positions did not change as a result of the Fore River league matches at the Coliseum alleys Monday evening but the percentages were altered. Canno with a single of 122 was high for the evening.

None of the bowlers tripled. The Ex-Apprentices dropped four points and are now tied with the Blacksmiths.

N. DEPT.

Gillis	81	99	91	271
Ganno	103	73	122	298
White	79	91	94	264
Ryan	97	73	79	249
Westland	86	105	78	269
	446	441	464	1351

M. FLOOR.

Ford	90	75	92	257
Dalgell	83	78	92	253
Cockett	121	80	84	285
Vose	77	79	76	232
Russell	107	89	88	284
	478	401	432	1311

TREAS. OFFICE.

Welsh	88	102	94	284
Desmond	84	100	80	264
Duncan	86	74	84	244
Gullickson	94	84	77	255
Stone	86	86	108	280
	438	446	443	1327

EX-APPRENTICCES.

Clinton	84	89	87	260
Smith	75	75	86	236
Arbuckle	80	72	78	230
Johnson	91	79	76	246
Ash	87	65	78	230
	417	380	405	1202

S. DEPT.

Kennedy	95	93	93	281
Mitchell	83	80	117	280
Moran	80	82	86	248
Tirrell	78	105	96	279
Dubois	99	90	95	284
	435	450	487	1372

D. DEPT.

Lawton	61	103	103	267
Teasdale	70	86	99	255
Hamilton	91	99	82	272
Regan	81	106	79	266
Kateon	87	91	99	277
	390	485	462	1337

DISTRICT COURT.

Frank Lopez was arraigned for violation of the liquor law at Braintree. Case continued until next Tuesday.

Mark McLaughlin was sent to the state farm for being a tramp at Quincy.

MAYOR ON BENCH.

Mayor Campbell was a visitor to the district court this morning and was invited and accepted an invitation to set on the bench with Judge Avery during the first part of the session.

W. R. LOFGREN
Carpenter and Builder
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 908-3
June 9-tf

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
Telephone 1158-M Quincy
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy F27

SPORTING COMMENT

Percy Haughton has obtained a ruling from the intercollegiate football rules committee making an out of bounds forward pass an incompleted one. No radical alteration has been made in the playing code. The principal changes include giving the ball to opponents on a forward pass out of bounds, made on the fourth down, at the point where the pass was made; the increasing of the game officials from three to four and the limiting of resubstitution of players to the beginning of a period The committee also earnestly recommended the numbering of players, but did not make it a mandatory rule

Milton academy has six veterans for its base ball team. Winslow Felton, brother of Sam Felton the former Harvard star is captain and will do the pitching.

Two amateur boxing tourneys are carded for this week. St. Patricks at Brockton Friday night and the Norwood Press at Norwood Saturday night.

The New England college meet will be held on the new Tech field May 21 and 22. This year the trial heats in the century will be held on the first day.

Ken Nash of Weymouth cannot be a member of the House of Representatives and remain under contract with the Reds. Therefore he is out of big base ball for this season.

The Boston Braves are attempting to sign up Fletcher Low, the star shortstop of Dartmouth who has been declared a professional for playing with the Progressives of Beverly last summer.

Boston is picked to win the Atlantic Coast bowling tournament. The decision will be known next Monday. The fact that 16 alleys will be built especially for the events and that duckpins, candlepins and ten pins will be bowled has been all that was necessary to get the alley men and bowlers to line up for the big affair. Alley men are enthusiastic, despite the fact that under the rules of the Atlantic Coast Bowling Association an alley man can be a member but cannot hold an office in the association. Bowlers will govern the body.

Yachtsmen are beginning to plan for the spring and summer season, and one of the interesting features expected in some good racing in the 18-foot class. Since the close of the season last year three open class 18-foot knockabouts have been brought out. One of these is the Nicknack which was sailed last summer by Leon Barnes of Quincy and which will be raced next season in this class.

CITY RECORD IS NOW 383

J. T. Shannon Gets High Single of 157

J. T. Shannon of the Dreadnought Inspectors established a new three string city record at the City square alleys Monday night. Shannons total of 383 resulted from strings of 157, 115 and 111. His big single is the alley record. Hard luck in the last two boxes of that string buffaloed a larger score.

Mr. Shannon is a chief machinist mate U. S. N., and is assigned to inspection on the torpedo boat destroyer Cushing.

The string:

1		2		3
8		18		7
9	18	10	28	9	16
20	38	9	37	9	25
30	68	20	57	7	32
26	94	17	74	15	47
20	114	8	82	8	55
19	133	7	89	7	62
9	142	x	99	18	80
9	151	x	109	16	96
6	157	6	115	15	111

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

TWO PROTESTS FORTHCOMING

Washington Seeks Facts Concerning Lusitania Incident

FLYING OF AMERICAN FLAG

State Department Confronted by Double Problem Which England and Germany Will Be Asked to Help Unravel—England Thinks Use of Stars and Stripes Was Justified

Washington, Feb. 9.—Great Britain will be asked to furnish the United States with the facts in connection with the hoisting of the American flag on the Lusitania, bound from Queenstown to Liverpool.

This was indicated by Chairman Stone of the senate foreign relations committee, who exressed the personal view that the use of the Stars and Stripes on the Lusitania was improper.

Stone also said he considered it probable that congress might consider resolutions bearing on the matter, though he thought it could be better handled by the president and the state department.

Councillor Lansing of the state department conferred with the president on the Lusitania incident and the German war zone decree, but, it was understood, no definite plan of action was decided upon.

Two notes, both in the nature of protests against Germany and Great Britain, are slated to go forth at an early moment from this government, according to official hints.

While refusing to forecast absolutely their course on the proposed German establishment of war zones around England, officials suggested that they were not entirely satisfied with Germany's explanatory message as published from Berlin. Some flatly declared they did not feel that American vessels should be endangered through misuse of the American flag by Great Britain.

Confronted by this double problem, the state department was understood to be planning a request that Germany give positive guarantees of protection to American ships in the war zones.

At the same time, a protest against the British use of the American flag on the Lusitania, and its alleged use on other British vessels, was scheduled from this government.

International law experts felt that while England, in some circumstances, might fly the Stars and Stripes without violating this nation's honor, her use of the flag at this time distinctly and directly jeopardizes American commerce and American lives. Hence, they believe, there is ground for protest.

That the general situation connected with America's relation to the war in Europe has become tense is believed here.

Germany, in a statement last night, asserted that the warning to neutral shipping is intended to indicate that neutrals run the same chance in the naval war area that a civilian does moving about a battlefield.

Other neutral nations than the United States have not determined just what action they will take in view of the coming submarine campaign against British shipping. The Tribuna, a newspaper of Rome, says Italy will never permit Germany to carry out such a plan unmolested.

What England Thinks

London, Feb. 9.—England does not expect a formal protest from the United States because of the Lusitania flag incident. The foreign office believes it has shown that the use of the American flag was justified.

Any diplomatic exchanges resulting from the hoisting of the Stars and Stripes over the British liner are expected to pass between Germany and the United States, not Great Britain and the United States.

This was the position taken by both the foreign office and the admiralty. It was held here that not only the British and German governments, but the United States, had tacitly upheld the principle that vessels, to escape capture, are justified in flying flags of other nations. In the Spanish-American war, one official asserted, the American navy resorted to this practice on two occasions.

That Germany will seize upon the Lusitania incident to emphasize her warning to neutral shipping off the English coast is deemed certain here. On the other hand, foreign office attaches said they believed the same incident would be cited by the United States and other neutral nations as a basis for even stronger protests against Germany's "blockade" of the English coast.

With the concrete example furnished by the Lusitania, Washington is expected to point out to Germany the danger attached to indiscriminate submarine raids upon merchant shipping.

Walter H. Page, the American ambassador in London, forwarded to the state department at Washington a report on the Lusitania flag incident.

The ambassador in his report informally reviews the alleged use of the American flag by the Cunard liner on entering Liverpool harbor, as was related to the members of the embassy staff by Americans who had crossed the Atlantic on the vessel.

ADMITS KILLING WIFE

Comery Changes His Plea to Guilty In the First Degree

Manchester, N. H., Feb. 9.—Oscar J. Comery, who is under indictment on a first degree murder charge of poisoning his wife, Bertha, with strychnine, changed his plea of "not guilty" to one of "guilty in first degree."

The indictment alleges that Comery secretly gave his wife two grains of strychnine in a capsule. Comery was infatuated with a schoolgirl, 16 years old, whom he wanted to marry. He admitted that this was the motive of the murder. Comery is 34 years old and his wife was 27.

Comery's counsel argued that the court should sentence him to life imprisonment, but Attorney General Tuttle asked the court after determining the degree of murder to let the jury determine the punishment.

The judge ruled in favor of the state's contention, and the work of impanelling a jury commenced.

Comery is the first prisoner to be placed on trial for his life in this city for twenty years.

SLAYERS SENTENCED

Death Chair For Falzone and Life Imprisonment For Morello

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 9.—Biagio Falzone, convicted of murder in the first degree in the tragedy at Wakefield, whereby Morris A. Albertson, a jewelry merchant, lost his life, was sentenced to die in the electric chair during the week of May 9.

Ignazio Morello, Falzone's companion, was sentenced to life imprisonment for second degree murder in the same case.

Luigi Grassidonia, who was indicted as an accessory before the fact, was reindicted as an accessory before the fact to robbery. To this indictment he pleaded guilty and Judge Irwin sentenced him to serve from five to eight years in state prison.

Morello and Grassidonia were taken to the state prison. Falzone will remain at the Cambridge jail till within ten days of the date set for his execution.

SAYS SPECULATORS ARE HOLDING GRAIN

Charges to Be Investigated by Chicago District Attorney

Chicago, Feb. 9.—Charges that speculators have concentrated enormous quantities of wheat in seaboard elevators, ostensibly for exportation, but really to hold for sky prices, have been placed before Federal District Attorney Cline. The district attorney made this statement:

"Every day for some time I have talked to members of the board of trade., I intend to talk to many more. Some have told me that enormous quantities of wheat are being stored in seaboard elevators, for the ostensible purpose of exportation, but as a matter of fact it is being held in those places for speculation. Much of this wheat, I have been told, is in New York."

HIGH-PRICED CHICKEN

Man Who Stole Just One Bird Must Serve a Year In Prison

Worcester, Mass., Feb. 9.—One chicken stolen; one year! That's what it cost Edward Cormier of Fitchburg, who was given such a sentence in the superior court here.

Cormier, according to the evidence in the case, attended a chicken raffle in Fitchburg. He didn't draw a lucky number, which greatly riled him. So, on the way home, determined to get a chicken at any cost, he broke into the coop of Joseph Boucher and stole one. Cormier acknowledged his guilt, pleading guilty.

STRONG AND UNHARMED

Man Rescued From Earthquake Debris After Twenty-Five Days

Rome, Feb. 9.—Red Cross workers in the earthquake ruins at Paterno heard faint moans, and on delving into the debris excavated a man named Cairolo, who had been imprisoned there for twenty-five days.

The man, who is 33 years old, had had nothing but some water during this time. He was uninjured, and when taken in an automobile to the nearest town was able to alight from the machine without assistance.

Plucky Telephone Girls

Rome, N. Y., Feb. 9.—While smoke rolled through the room on the top floor of the Glesman block here girls in the telephone exchange pluckily stuck to their posts and called aid from Utica to combat a $150,000 fire raging about them. An acetylene explosion caused the fire.

Two Weeks' Grace For Alexander

Chicago, Feb. 9.—Charles Alexander, Providence millionaire, indicted on a charge of white slavery, was given another two weeks in which to plead.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

William Gallagher, 40, a freight conductor, was killed while shifting cars at Bridgewater, Mass.

Both eyes of Edward Marcu of Philadelhpia, 11, were burned out when a toy cannon into which he rammed a hot poker exploded.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Many Transfers but not Indicative of Prosperity as Might be Supposed as Most of them were by Collector's Sale.

Adams Shore Land Co. to City of Quincy, Shellton road.

Eveline S. Andrews to Climena H. Drake, Sea street.

Joseph F. Austin to Mary A. Austin, Penn street.

Charles F. Badger to Annie M. Kelley, Copeland street.

Martha J. Barker to Climena H. Drake, Atlantic avenue.

Alfred T. Barstow to George A. Richards, Beach street.

Richard Bishop et ux to Frederick Barnicoat, Bradford street, Endicott street.

Arthur T. Bradford to Climena H. Drake, Arnold street.

Leon E. Brown to Elizabeth J. Shea, Watkins street.

Leon E. Brown to Mary Wiley, Watkins street.

Aloys Burkhardt to Annie M. Kelley, Wittich place.

Frank E. Buxton to Charles A. Murray, Sachem street.

Frank T. Catarins to Annie M. Kelley, Sea street.

John T. Cavanagh to City of Quincy, Sea street.

John T. Cavanagh to Annie M. Kelley, Sea street, Sea and Shennen streets, Winthrop street.

John S. Chapman to Annie M. Kelley, Sea street.

Louis S. Cleaves to Leona G. Cleaves, Beach street, Muirhead street.

Dennis Coffey to Annie M. Kelley, Brook road.

Michael P. Coleman to Climena H. Drake, Bellevue avenue, Sumac road.

Charles A. Conley to City of Quincy, Yerina road.

Sarah Cutler to Annie M. Kelley, Massachusetts avenue.

Edward W. Dickerson to Albert S. Vail, Waterston avenue.

Rothens G. Drinkwater to City of Quincy, Lenox street.

Wilton A. Dunham to Annie M. Kelley, Brighton street.

Wilton A. Dunham to Bridget A. Murnaghan, Houghs Neck.

Wilton A. Dunham to Charles S. Ruggles, Ailen street, Brown street.

Wilton A. Dunham to City of Quincy, Stoughton street, Allen street, Meadow street.

Royal S. Eastman to Herbert T. Whitman, Copley street.

James L. Edwards et al to Charles S. Ruggles, Sea street.

Emma L. Ela et al to George A. Richards, Farrington street.

Mary H. Emery et al to George A. Richards, Billings street.

Margaret Fallon to George A. Richards, School street.

Julia E. Fuller to Julia E. Fuller, Bromfield street.

Julia E. Fuller to Robert J. Jones, Colby road.

Julia E. Fuller to Charles S. Ruggles, Brown street.

Bridget Gallagher to Annie M. Kelley, Nightingale avenue.

Isabella Gillis to Annie M. Kelley, Lancaster street.

Settimio Giordani to Antonio Cellini, Quarry street.

Settimio Giordani to Antonio Cellini, Hall place, Quarry street.

Harry Goldman to Bessie Kopolovitz, Grafton street, Lyndon road, Clark street.

Henry Gore to Annie M. Kelley, Main street.

William P. Grube to Climena H. Drake, River street.

William A. Hatch to Climena H. Drake, Sachem street.

Catherine Harahan to City of Quincy.

Robert W. Hill to Climena H. Drake, Glenwood way, Grafton street.

Homer H. Hopkins to Wilton A. Dunham, Adams Shore.

Robert K. James et al trs to Climena H. Drake, Elmwood avenue, Elmwood avenue, Harvard street, Elmwood avenue, Pine street, Belmont avenue, North Central avenue.

Robert K. James et al to Climena H. Drake, Elmwood avenue, Summit avenue, Elmwood avenue, Pine street.

Sarah T. Johnson to Annie M. Kelley, Shellton and Swan road.

Edwin H. Keene et al to City of Quincy, Fayette street.

Annie M. Kelley to Charles J. Kelley, Vassall street from Sea street, The Strand.

Ida F. Kelley to Annie M. Kelley, way off Plymouth avenue.

Annie M. Kelley to Charles J. Kelley, Vershire street.

Ellen J. Kennah to Annie M. Kelley, Lunt street.

William H. Kennedy, Jr., to Clifford S. Drake, Beach street.

Agnes Kerrigan to Annie M. Kelley, Quincy avenue.

Clara B. Kestner to Annie M. Kelley, Conant road.

Clara B. Kestner to Climena H. Drake, Ocean street.

Ida F. Kimball to Annie M. Kelley, Rhoda street.

John Kiyala to Climena H. Drake, Willard street, Albertina street.

William O. Lane to Ida M. Hodsdon, Sea street.

Henry G. Lavelle to George A. Richards, Highland avenue.

Charles H. Leighton to Myra G. Derry, Plover road, Bittern road.

Charles A. Lydall to Lucy J. Lydall, Atlantic street.

Annie M. Ryder to Wilton A. Dunham, Taber street.

Edward MacMulkin to George A. Richards, Hancock street, way off Holmes street.

Margaret M. Mills to Climena H. Drake, Billings street.

Salina T. Moore to George A. Richards, Rogers street Centre road, Rogers street.

Frank P. Murray to Clifford S. Drake Bass street.

William Noyes to Charles S. Ruggles, Spring terrace.

James O'Brien to Annie M. Kelley, Morton street.

William S. O'Brien to Etta C. Day, Botolph street.

Daniel M. O'Connell to Climena H. Drake, Channing street.

Pandora Park Co. to Charles S. Ruggles, Island avenue.

Josiah Quincy to Climena H. Drake, Holmes street.

Daniel M. Quincy to Climena H. Drake, Holmes street.

Terrence C. Rafferty to Annie Rafferty, Federal avenue.

Frances L. Richards to George A. Richards, Washington street.

George A. Richards to William S O'Brien, Botolph street.

Harlow H. Rogers to Climena H. Drake, Muirhead street.

Harlow H. Rogers to Annie M. Kelley.

H. C. Russell to Climena H. Drake, Vassall street.

Hyman Sarkin to Harry Goldman, Grafton street, Lyndon road, Clark street.

Gerald J. Savage to Samuel J. Powers, Bayfield road, South.

Christina J. Sewell to Annie M. Kelley, Bay View street.

Charles R. Sherman to Margaret L. Colby, Marlboro street.

Wilbur F. Stafford tr to Julia E. Fuller.

Charles E. Stratton to Timothy Dennehy, London street.

Tide Water Broken Stone Co. to City of Quincy, Rock Island.

Harriet E. Turner to City of Quincy, Bay View avenue.

Harriet E. Turner to George A. Richards, Bay View avenue.

Isaiah E. Wagner to City of Quincy, Billings road, Freeman street, Hamden Circle.

Stephen C. Wagner, to Margaret E. Bowers, Fayette street.

Mary E. Ward to Charles J. Kelly, Sea street.

Hester A. Webb to Climena H. Drake, Washington and Summer streets.

Maria O. Wilander to Hilda Natti, Suomi road.

Harold Wilder to City of Quincy, Myrtle street.

Wollaston Land Co., to Annie M. Kelley several plots.

Wollaston Land Co to Charles S. Ruggles, Arlington street, Belmont street, Hobart street, Fayette street.

Wollaston Land Co., to City of Quincy several plots.

BRAINTREE REAL ESTATE SALES

Cora M. Angier to John B. Crowe, Central avenue.

Emma L. Clapp to William J. Lavery Walnut avenue.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448-4. Haymarket 2449
Oct. 4f

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

BUSINESS FAILURES

80 per cent of them in the United States are those firms which do not advertise.

The longer you delay advertising your business the slimmer grow your chances of having a business to advertise.

Why not start a consistent and persistent advertising campaign now in

THE DAILY LEDGER
A GOOD TEA TABLE PAPER
READ IN THE HOME

TURKS' ARMY IN FULL RETREAT

Driven Back Twenty Miles From the Suez Canal

THE CAMPAIGN IN POLAND

German Movement on Warsaw Is Checked, According to Russian Claims—Germans and Austrians Gain Some Ground In the Carpathians—Germans Say They Have East Prussian Situation Well In Hand—No Change In Situation In Franco-Belgian Campaign

London, Feb. 9.—Turkey's desperate attempt to cripple Britain's power in the east by striking at the Suez canal has met with disaster.

Dispatches from the Cairo headquarters of the army in Egypt announce that the Ottoman forces which for several weeks past have been making raids upon the banks of the canal, particularly at Ismailia and El Kantara, have finally been driven off by the British forces and are now in full retreat eastward.

No indication is given that there was a battle with the Turks, but the fact that they have already been severely punished in every encounter with the British troops has presumably struck demoralization into the invaders. The Cairo dispatches add that there are now no enemy forces within twenty miles of the canal excepting fleeing rear guards.

The attempted attack on the Suez canal has never been taken too seriously in London, it being known that the marauding bands of Arabian Mahometans were sufficiently kept in check by big, well organized bodies of Australian and Indian troops, in addition to seasoned detachments of British regulars.

Russia's unexpected adoption of offensive operations in Poland, from which the Germans apparently have been withdrawing some forces both to the north and south, furnishes the most striking feature of the military situation on the European continent.

From German sources it is insisted that the plans for the capture of Warsaw are still being pushed.

But the Russians claim several minor successes at different points, and declare that the German attack reached the climax several days ago.

Another huge segment of the Russian army is continuing its efforts for a securer foothold in the Carpathians, but it is admitted that the Germans and Austrians have gained some ground. At one point a severe snowstorm is said to have aided them in an action which Vienna states has resulted in heavy losses to the Russian forces in Dukla pass.

From East Prussia there is little news, the Germans claiming to have the situation well in hand so far as the prevention of a further Russian advance without the most severe fighting is concerned.

In France and Flanders the situation is without change. Both sides are alert for the slightest indication of activity on the part of their opponents. The British and French are undoubtedly taking advantage of every day's delay to throw in reinforcements.

"BLANK CHECK BUDGET"

Britain's Money Needs Are Concealed Under Token Figures

The introduction of the largest military budget in the history of Great Britain shared the stage in the house of commons with a discussion of the activities of the official press bureau.

The task of introducing the budget fell upon the parliamentary secretary of the war office, J. H. Tennant, as Earl Kitchener, secretary of war, is a member of the house of lords.

Two more days have been allotted to the discussion of these "army estimates," which are called a "blank check budget" because the amounts of actual money which will be expended under them are represented by nominal or token figures. Tennant's speech was a stirring tribute to the British army and a plea for more recruits.

"It is true," he said, "that recruiting thus far has been very satisfactory, but it varies from week to week, and possibly at the present moment a little more energy put into the recruiting would not be out of place. There is no cause for discontent, but we want more men.

"Every man will be needed in the great life and death struggle. The variations and vicissitudes of this war may yet call for even greater sacrifices from the nation than have yet been made."

He appealed to the Labor party to help organize the forces of labor, so that when a man went to join the colors his place would be adequately supplied.

COVERS SIX MEN ABREAST

Russians Invent New Form of Shield Which Will Stop Bullets

The inventiveness of the Russians is shown in their wire entanglements. All soldiers carry instruments to cut wire, but the Russians now make an entanglement in which poles twenty feet long are combined with wire to make the barrier impenetrable unless

IN WRITER QUARTERS

Queer Straw Hut Used by Australian Troops In France

Photo by American Press Association.

the enemy is provided with axes as well as wire cutters.

The Russians also have a new form of shield which proves invaluable when circumstances admit its use. It is of light, hard steel, strong enough to stop rifle and Maxim bullets, and covers six men abreast. It runs on wheels, and is superior to the German shield.

The German armored motors also are quite outclassed by those in use by the Russians. The German moving forts weigh ten tons, a fatal defect on Polish roads in the present condition, whereas the Rusian motor weighs only two tons.

NAVAL ESTIMATE RAISED

England Has Lost Total of 104,000 Men In War Thus Far

The British naval estimate asks parliament to vote for an additional force of 32,000 officers and men. This would bring up the total personnel for the present year of 250,000 men.

In the house of commons Premier Asquith announced that the total British casualties in the war up to Feb. 4 were 104,000.

RECEIVERS UNEARTH $250,000 DEFICIT

Many Women Are Stockholders In Discount Company

Boston, Feb. 9.—The investigation of the receivers of the New England Discount company has revealed a deficit of more than $250,000 in cash paid in for stock in the company by more than 300 stockholders.

The corridor of the eighth floor of 262 Washington street was filled with anxious stockholders who besieged the officers of the company in the hope of learning whether anything was left them.

It was learned that a fair proportion of the stockholders in the New England Discount company are women. Many of the stockholders live in Brockton, Whitman or Middleboro.

A. I. Bicknell and D. D. Sullivan, the receivers of the New England Discount company, were appointed by Judge Morton of the federal court as receivers of the estate of Charles E. Walker, treasurer of the company.

DEMAND FOR SAILING CRAFT

Square-Riggers and Fore-and-Afters For South American Trade

New York, Feb. 9.—Curtailment of the European trade with South America because of war and a shortage of steamships has brought about a demand for sailing vessels of American registry, and every ship, bark and schooner flying the American flag is being eagerly sought to carry cargoes between New York and Brazil and the Argentine Republic.

For the first time in twenty years schooners and ships engaged in the coal and lumber trade in the coastwise traffic have been chartered as carriers in the South American trade.

TWO LIFE SENTENCES

Sanity of Third Man Charged With Murder Is Doubted by Court

Springfield, Mass., Feb. 9.—Three homicide cases were disposed of in little over half an hour at a special sitting of the superior court.

William Roy, who poisoned his 3-weeks-old child, born to him by a woman who was not his wife, and John Poulacas, who shot Miss Mary Pappas to death in Holyoke because she refused to marry him, were each sentenced to the state prison for life.

Albert H. Brodour, who shot and killed Mrs. Mathilde E. Case, was committed to the Bridgewater state hospital for observation as to his sanity.

Killed by Excitement

New York, Feb. 9.—"At last!" cried Leslie C. Wilder, as he received a $2225 legacy for which he had been fighting for thirteen years. He died from excitement a few moments later, the check in his hand.

DR. HEADLAND SPEAKS ON CHINA

Missionary Gives Address at Wollaston M. E. Church

Dr. Isaac T. Headland gave a missionary address at the morning service of the Wollaston Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday.

"The nations that have worshipped idols are like these same idols," he declared. "There has never been a science made by a non-Christian people. Only those nations in that part of the world that have worshipped Jehovah as revealed by the Lord Jesus Christ are among the leading nations. We grow like that thing we spend the most time on. We spend more time and money for food and clothes than we do for worship. We spend more for our homes and our education than we do for worship.

"Religion is the biggest thing in the world and it is the biggest thing that God Almighty did and when he founded a religion he did not start with an educational system but with the ten commandments. He didn't say anything about getting an education in these commandments, but you and I spend more time getting an education than we do getting wealth. We spend more time in getting an education than we do in getting religion. So" said the speaker, "I am going to speak of the three great religions of china.

"No great general underestimates strength of the opposing forces, nor does a successful missionary underestimate the forces arrayed against him Therefore we will speak of the best things in these religions, the very best.

"The first of these religions is Taoism which by the way is pronounced as though it were Dowism. Taoism was founded by a man who came from the central part of China about six hundred years before Christ. This man's name was Laotzu. Laotzu was one of the old philosophers and one of the deepest thinkers that China ever produced. In the little collection called "The Wisdom of the East" we may read today some of the wise savings of this philosopher. Laotzu could sublimate and become an immortal at will. One day he sublimated and his soul went up to talk with the immortals but he left one of his disciples to take care of his empty body but Laotzu was gone some time and while he was gone the disciples mother died and he left Laotzu's body to go and bury her and as soon as the body was left it began to decay so when its owner got back it was unfit for him to inhabit but just then the soul left the body of a poor lame beggar who was passing and Laotzu's soul went into that body. So Laotzu is represented as an old man leaning on an iron staff. The Chinaman never asked why Laotzu's body didn't begin to decay before it was left. The Chinaman never asks "why" about anything nor does any man who worships idols as "why." We ask "why" because we have developed our reason. The religion of Taoism was built upon fairy tales.

"These fairy tales are Chinese science. How would you like to live under those conditions? Is Taoism good enough for a Chinaman? The Chinaman will say "no" for he turned down Taoism 1200 years ago but still some consider it because there might be some good in it.

"The second great religion is Confucianism. No religion fears a people down. It raises them to the heights of itself and then it stops, it can take them no further and some other higher religion must come to carry them higher. Confucius was simply a teacher, a pedagog. In the teachings of Confucius we have the first form of the Golden Rule in its negative form.

"Confucianism was made a system of education. Now in China there are more than 40,000 schools, colleges and universities to teach our Eastern education. That is China's answer to the question "Is Confucianism good enough for the Chinaman." We have given the best of Confucianism but yet Christianity has swept it away.

"The third great religion is Buddhism. It was introduced in 65 A. D. by a dream of an emperor. He dreamed that a prophet had been born and so they sent out to find this man and Buddha was found in India. If these searchers had only found Paul or Peter how different the story of China would have been today. The Chinese had come to the point where they wanted to know their relation to God and so they needed a religion. Confucius had defined their relations to man, Buddha tried to show their relations to God and so introduced the idols.

"Most of the Buddhist priests are very vile and wicked, more vile than it is possible to tell. If the priests are wicked can their followers be expected to be better? Is this good enough for China? There is hardly an intelligent Chinaman today who will confess to a believe in Buddhism. They say "We turned down Buddhism years ago."

"God Almighty's answer is 'I gave my only begotten son that whosoever believeth in him shall not perish but have everlasting life.'

"Every door in China today is off its hinges and the missionaries from everywhere will be helped in their work by the Chinese government.

"It is a significant fact that in the constitution of the new China there is a clause that says that any man regardless of what his religion may be may hold an official position under the government. This does not refer to the followers of Taoism, Buddhism or Confucianism because they could always be officials. It shows that Christianity is no bar to political advancement."

The quartette sang "Rejoice in the Lord" by Lamboard. Fred Sutermeister is to sing tenor in the quartette for the remainder of the season.

Dr. Headland also spoke at the evening service taking as his subject "The By-Products of Missions." The church was crowded to hear Dr. Headland, people having to stand throughout the service. The chorus choir sang. Mr. H. C. Baldwin of Pittsburg, sang the obligato in the anthem.

Pins were awarded to the children who had attended church once a Sunday for four months without missing. The following were the children receiving pins:—Lucile Belcher, Harriet Palmer, William Jones, Stanley Sutermeister, Myron Lane, Lawrence Parrish, Robert Jones, Louis Paul, Effie Palmer, Elizabeth Morgan, Fenner Bailey.

The older people who belonged to the "Go-to-Church-Band" and have preserved a perfect record will receive their pins next Sunday.

There will be an Epworth League business meeting and social in the vestry on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock.

Dr. Bronson, district superintendent, will hold the Fourth Quarterly Conference in the church on Wednesday at 7.45 P. M.

The contest for the mile of pennies which is being carried on in the Wollaston Methodist church stands 104 against 105 feet in favor of the Reds.

The Woman's missionary meeting was held at the home of Mrs. F. H. Morgan, 132 Brook street, Wollaston, at half past two this afternoon Mrs. T. Newell Lane was the leader.

PRATT'S BREAD—not made by guess-work, but by a scientific formula. Leading grocers sell it.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES

20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.

Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Insurance

Auctioneer Care of Property

Justice of the Peace

Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

FOR SALE

House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,800. Straight Loan of $2,000.

EDMUND C. HAYDEN

Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing

HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.

120 Tremont St., Boston. Oct. 8-tf

FOR SALE

3 Single Houses, all modern improvements.

Easy Terms.

APPLY

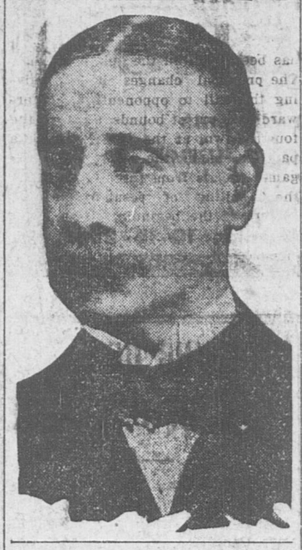

SWITHIN BROS.

GREENLEAF BLDG.

Feb 2-tf

LORD LONDONDERRY

Irish Nobleman Was Ardent Backer of Ulster Unionists

LORD LONDONDERRY DEAD

Held Many High Positions Under the British Government

London, Feb. 9.—The Marquis of Londonderry died here of pneumonia. He was one of the foremost leaders of the Ulster movement and a successful member of the British bar.

Born in Ulster sixty-two years ago he represented Dublin in parliament. His first preferment under the government came in 1892, when he was made solicitor general for Ireland, and in the last Unionist ministry he served as solicitor general of England from 1900 to 1906. He was viceroy of Ireland from 1886 to 1889 and was one of the largest landowners in Great Britain.

Lord Londonderry was married in 1875 to a daughter of the Earl of Shrewsbury. They had two children, a son and a daughter.

INVITES RESERVE ARMY TO DINNER

Gardner May Find It Difficult to Mobilize Whole Force

Washington, Feb. 9.—In line with his plan to entertain the United States reserve army, consisting of sixteen men, at a dinner in Washington, Representative Gardner of Massachusetts wrote to each member of the army, asking if a date late in March or early in April would be convenient to him.

As the members of the reserve army are scattered from San Francisco to Porto Rico, Gardner may encounter some difficulty in mobilizing the force, but he will make the effort and hopes to succeed.

QUITE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Three Brothers Take Two Sisters and Their Cousin as Brides

Nashua, N. H., Feb. 9.—The first triple wedding to take place in this city was solemnized this morning when three brothers wedded two sisters and their cousin at the nuptial mass celebrated in St. Aloysius church.

The bridegrooms are the three sons of Joseph and Alexina Delude.

Alfred, the eldest son, 24 years old, wedded Miss Josephine LaFrance; Ernest, the second son, married Miss Delia Levesque, and Evremond, the youngest of the brothers, married Miss Clorinthe LaFrance.

Two of the brides are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel LaFrance and the other bride, a cousin of the two, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andre Levesque.

IS VERY MUCH ALIVE

Maine Man Returns Home Soon After His Funeral Services

Bath, Me., Feb. 9.—William King, supposed to have been one of the three men burned to death a week ago in a house near Livermore Falls, returned to his home here from Bowdoinham, where he had been employed in a lumber camp.

One of the three bodies had been sent here and buried by relatives after a funeral service. They were notified by the town officials of Livermore Falls that there was no question that the names of the three men as given out were correct.

Old Police Official Retired

Boston, Feb. 9.—William H. Pierce, superintendent of the Boston police department and for thirty-eight years a member of the force, was officially retired last night. He will receive a pension of $2512.50 a year during the remainder of his life.

Street Railway Safe Blown

Fall River, Mass., Feb. 9.—Four masked men broke into the car house of the Providence and Fall River street railway at Swansea, beat Watchman Holmes into unconsciousness, blew open the safe and stole a small sum of money.

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Lower flat, 42 Euclid avenue, 5 rooms all modern improvements. For particulars address Mr. P. J. Curry, 94 Federal avenue or phone Quincy 1075M. 9-12t

TO LET—Half of colonial house on Russell park, 7 rooms and bath, fireplace, coal and gas range and all modern conveniences. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 9-tf

TO LET—Flat of seven rooms with electric lights, gas stove, range at 32 Euclid avenue. Apply at 12 Berkeley street. 6-6t

TO LET—Three, four or five room tenement with heat, gas range electric lights and bath. 178 Washington street or phone 1732M. 6-tf

TO LET—Two or three rooms, furnished or unfurnished for light housekeeping, all improvements, reasonable rent, board if desired. 132 Marlboro street, Wollaston Park. 6-tf.

TO LET—To small family of adults several very desirable new tenements $22 and up, also stable $10 per month; store $10 per month. Apply to C. H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. Tel. 474-2 Quincy. 4-12t

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Four room apartment, new house, all improvements. Apply at 226 Franklin street. 30-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 26 tf

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar, situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

A Few Choice House Lots

—ON—

PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX

are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.

SWITHIN

3 GREENLEAF BLOCK

Jan. 5-tf

LOST

LOST—Lady's gold hunting case Waltham watch, Feb. 6 at Kincaide theatre. Monogram V. D. C. Finder Tel. Fort Hill 3139. 9-3t

REWARD—For paper parcel containing two note books and 50 pages of manuscript left on 5.48 train Feb. 3 between E. Milton and Braintree. W. Sprague Brooks, Milton, Mass. 6-6t

FOUND

FOUND—A watch on Hancock street, J. Hietala, 25 Buckley street, West Quincy. 9-1t

WANTED

WANTED—House keeper, work light in a family of two. 425 Washington street, Quincy Point. 9-1t

WANTED—A position with Granite Manfg. Co., in office. Would consider a proposition to go on the road. Write Mr. C. Ledger Office. 8-3t

WANTED—A first class completely furnished apartment in a good neighborhood of at least three rooms and bath. Write M. D. Newcomb Square, Post Office, Quincy. 8-3t

WANTED—Woman to take charge of Ladies Dep't. One who has had local experience and acquaintance preferred. A good position awaits the right party. Apply Orent-Payson Co., 1378 Hancock street. 6-6t.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Two flat house in South Quincy. Hard wood finish, modern plumbing. Very desirable renting proposition, never vacant since built. For particulars enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 9-tf lpo

MISCELLANEOUS

DRESSMAKING, plain sewing, children's clothes done at reasonable prices by woman of experience. Write E. R. Ledger Office. 9-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage. Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36

Second Floor

Savings Bank Building

Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes

Quincy Savings Bank

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.

Nov

TO LET

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.

22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up

Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld.

Small front office.

Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.

City Square, Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK

CITY SQUARE

(Best location in City.)

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with cars—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With cars, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS

Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.

Ask for E. T. Kribs.

Greenleaf Block. 'Phone 24066 Quincy

A WHOLE TOWN DYNAMITED!

A Volcanic Earthquake Extraordinary

Most Wonderful Photo Play Ever Filmed

--- THE SPOILERS ---

From Rex Beach's Book.

Featuring Wm. Farnum and Kathlyn Williams

SPECIAL - - Richard Hussey of Quincy

Kincaide Theatre

Tues. and Wed. Afternoon and Evening 10-15-25c

8-3t

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

The Thalia club will give a social at the High school Friday evening.

The Wollaston Woman's club will present "The Piper" at Quincy Music Hall next Tuesday afternoon.

The Manet Social club will hold a dance at Alpha hall next Tuesday evening.

There will be a whist party and dance of Lodge Skandia at Electa hall on the evening of Saturday, Feb. 20.

The annual ladies' night of the Quincy Commandery, Knights Templar will be held Feb. 26.

The Easter ball of Quincy Council, K. of C., will be held on the evening of April 5.

Albert Cheney of Dartmouth College is visiting at the home of E. F. Parlee.

Miss Helen Arthur of Montclair has returned from a visit to her brother Howard Arthur of Dorchester.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas of Rockland, Me., have returned home after a visit to Mr. Thomas' sister Mrs. Sarah E. Orr of Montclair.

Miss Susie Hayes of West Quincy has the well wishes of her many friends in her own business. Miss Hayes has opened a milinery store in Boston with Miss Helen Pray of Winthrop.

The condition of William McPherson of Common street, brother of School Committeeman Joseph F. McPherson, who was operated upon Monday at the Quincy City Hospital, is as well as can be expected this morning.

A special car is to leave Wollaston for Music hall tomorrow afternoon at half past three, to accommodate the children attending the dress rehearsal of "The Mikado." The big final performance is to be Wednesday evening.

At the regular meeting of the Men's club of All Souls church Braintree, Wednesday evening the speakers and their subjects are: Henry S. Haskins, Secretary of the Massachusetts Peace Society, "The War and the Way Out," and Juiji G. Kasai of Kofu, Japan. "The Relation Between Japan and the United States."

A large delegation of linemen and inside men connected with the local telephone exchange system are planning to attend the third annual ball given by Local 142, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, to be held in Paul Revere hall, Boston, tonight. James A. Doyle has charge of the sale of the tickets at the local exchange

HOLD SECOND GRAND DANCE

Four Hundred at Ball of Franklin Associates

The second grand dance of the Franklin Associates was held Monday evening at Alpha hall. Over 200 couples danced to the strains of Hamilton's five piece orchestra which was at its best. All previous socials held by this club have been hindered by J. Pluvius but last night was an ideal one and the crowd turned out in goodly number. There were delegations from Boston, Brockton, Weymouth, Cambridge, Neponset and Milton in attendance.

An exhibition of modern dancing was given just before intermission by Paul Franzi of Quincy and Miss Ethel Vanderstreet of Brockton. They gave a clever exhibition of the hesitation, one step, two step, maxixe and fox trot, which brought round and round of applause. Modern dancing prevailed throughout the dance.

The dance was in charge of the following: Chairman Russell Farquharson; Floor Director, Paul Franzi; Asst. Floor Director, William Watson; Chief of Aids, James Bisson; Treasurer; Eddie Carson; Aids, Joseph Berlucchi, Wallace Caddy, Fred Carson, Wallace Carson, Andrew Costa, Enos Costa, Daniel Farquharson, Harry Farquharson, Edward Igo Bernard McCarthy, John Curry Louis Ross, Robert Morrison, Ray Cavicchi and William Clements.

Delegations were present from the following clubs: Seneca, Manet, Quincy Adams S. C., Redmen, Owl Club, Waseca, Echo, Copeland, Universal, Virginian, Mystic Takyhoma Girls Arbutus Girls, Glenetha Girls, I. D. I. Girls, Smilers, Clermonts, Magnolia A. C., Halcyon, Crystals.

DEVLIN—SMALL.

A quiet wedding was solemnized Monday evening in the office of the city solicitor with City Clerk Crane officiating. The contracting parties were John J. Devlin, a ship fitter, and Mrs. Mary E. Small of Boston. The only witness was a newspaper man who happened to be in the city clerk's office at the time.

RUTH E. CARLSON.

The funeral of Ruth E. Carlson, the 5-months old child of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Carlson of West street, Braintree, who died at the Quincy City Hospital Saturday following an operation for intussusception, was held Monday afternoon. Rev. Leander Hokenson of the Swedish Lutheran church officiated. Burial was in Mr. Wollaston cemetery.

STANDING OF K. OF C. LEAGUE

Capt. R. Sullivan	18	6
Capt. P. Avery	18	6
Capt. Coyle	10	14
Capt. Cantfill	10	14
Capt. F. Fallon	9	15
Capt. F. Avery	7	17

High single, R. Sullivan 130
High total, R. Sullivan 333.
Team single, Capt. Cantfill 478.
Team total, Capt. R. Sullivan 1362.

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

Capt. Sullivan 2 — Capt. Coyle 2.
Capt. P. Avery 4 — Capt. Fallon 0.
Capt. Cantfill 3 — Capt. F. Avery 1.

Ties for first and third places developed in the Knights of Columbus league at Wardwell's Monday evening but no records were broken. A real old fashioned melee is promised when the leaders clash next Monday night to determine top position. The Coyles and Cantfills match should also be exciting and if there is no tie, one will pass the other.

CAPT. CANTFILL—3

Brown	90	106	92	288
McDermott	86	104	92	282
Heaney	76	87	92	255
McGrath	94	73	72	239
Cantfill	95	80	90	265
	441	450	438	1329

CAPT. F. AVERY—1.

Irwin	84	100	88	272
Driscoll	77	86	96	259
Fallon	97	90	101	288
Welch	75	92	90	257
F. Avery	73	71	89	233
	406	439	464	1309

CAPT. COYLE—2

Mahan	83	80	79	242
P. Sullivan	72	84	85	241
Dummy	75	75	75	225
Thompson	87	98	90	275
Magee	81	82	87	250
	398	419	416	1233

CAPT. SULLIVAN—2

Powers	89	82	87	258
Myatt	107	73	95	285
Mahon	75	75	75	225
Driscoll	96	76	69	241
R. Sullivan	90	91	87	268
	457	397	413	1267

CAPT. P. AVERY—4.

Murphy	79	97	110	286
Brown	74	88	71	233
Lavelle	82	93	84	259
Walsh	93	106	96	295
P. Avery	96	90	105	291
	424	474	466	1364

CAPT. FALLON—0.

Mahon	95	90	87	272
Cain	74	95	89	258
Flaherty	76	79	86	241
Ford	86	99	91	276
Fallon	75	75	75	225
	406	438	428	1272

St. Francis Court M. C. O. F., will hold its regular meeting tonight in Hibernian hall, Copeland street.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

WANTED—We require the services of a capable man as manager of our Dry Cleaning, Dyeing and Steam Pressing Store, to be opened in Quincy by large Boston concern. He must be honest, sober and industrious and a resident of Quincy, also be in position to invest $500.00 in the business. Salary and share in profits to capable party. Give references and particulars in first letter. Write C. C. Quincy Ledger. 9-3teod

TO LET—Three furnished rooms for light housekeeping. All in good order. Apply 46 Massachusetts avenue. Opposite Edison Park. 9-3t

LOST—On Monday Feb. 8th about one o'clock; between 136 Monroe road and Judge Brumpus's house, a brown muff. If the finder will return it to Mrs. Lawton 137 Monroe road he will be received a suitable reward. 9-3t

Good Tidings Products --- at Adams Market

Canned Beans Lima, Red Kidney and Baked Pea Beans, per can .12 per dozen 1.40

Dainty Bits A cereal breakfast food made from choice grains. per pkg. .15

O. K. Peanut Butter More than double the nutritive value of beefsteak, newly made from No 1 peanuts per lb .18

Soups Nut Chowder, Nut Bouillon, Mockturpa, Nut and Tomato Bisque, Sea Shore Chowder, Imperial Bouillon. per can .10

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980

FOY'S 2 STORES

WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

SCHOOLS WILL HONOR LINCOLN

Outside of the public schools, there will be no general celebration in Quincy on Lincoln's birthday, Friday. In the public schools appropriate exercises will be held by all grades. These will consist of readings, and singing of patriotic songs and probably a brief talk on Lincoln by the master. Exercises appropriate to the day will also be held at the Woodward Institute.

While no definite programs have been announced by the several patriotic societies of the city to observe the day, it is probable that they will observe the event at their meeting night, nearest to Feb. 12. A week ago Paul Revere Woman's Relief corps, and Rebecca Wiswell Tent Daughters of Veterans held a Lincoln day celebration and Paul Revere post will remember the occasion at its regular meeting Thursday evening.

INVITE QUINCY CITIZENS.

The Harbor and Public Land Commission of the State of Massachusetts of which Hon. William S. McNary is the chairman, has presented eleven matters for recommendation by the harbor and public lands committee of the legislature relating to the reclaimation of marsh lands, the control of the flow of various rivers, survey of the great ponds of the state and kindred subjects. The three members of the Harbor and Public Land commission are to be presnt and speak on their subjects at a hearing to be held at the state house, room 431 Friday at 10.30. The chairmen of the harbor and lands committee in senate and house, Messrs Langeller and Sandberg extend a cordial invitation to citizens of Quincy to attend this hearing.

MILTON

The informal party given by the Senior class of the High school in the Assembly hall to the faculty of the school Monday evening was a pronounced success. The party was entirely informal and everyone there had a most enjoyable time. While dancing was being enjoyed by some, games were being played by others. The feature of the latter was the game called "Poor Pussy." In this game Miss Adella Bates of the faculty and principal Charles L. Curtis kept the party in a continual uproar. During the intermission the president of teh class, Kenneth D. Johnson, presented Carl S. Hall with a polished ivory travelling set for his faithful work of the senior dancing class the past nine weeks. Ice cream and cake were then served.

The chairmen of the committees were: Reception, Harold Keap; refreshment, Miss Eleanor Bradlee; games, Miss Caroline Schindler.

A goodly number of the local C. E. society of the First Baptist church attended the bi-monthly rally of the East Norfolk Union held Monday evening in the Wollaston Baptist church.

HUNTING LIPLESS MAN

Bandit Lost Part of His Anatomy In Mixup With Italians

Hamilton, O., Feb. 9.—Police and detectives are searching for a lipless holdup man. His partner's body is in the morgue. The pair, with drawn revolvers, attempted to hold up four Italians in their boarding house here.

The Italians made a flying tackle. One bit the lip from one of the holdup men. The lipless one fled outside and fired into the mixup. His bullet killed his partner.

ASKS FOR SPECIAL PANEL

Prosecution Begins Preparations For the Trial of Thaw

New York, Feb. 9.—A representative of the district attorney's office appeared in the criminal branch of the supreme court today and moved for the drawing of a special panel of 200 talesmen, from which to select a jury to try Harry K. Thaw on the charge of conspiracy to escape from the state asylum for the criminal insane at Matteawan.

The trial is to begin on Feb. 23.

Covering It Up.

Binks—Young Jenkins engaged? Is he making any preparations for married life?

Jinks—Oh, yes; every time he takes a drink he chews a clove!—Boston Globe.

TO GIVE WEEK'S EXHIBITION

As a climax to the most interesting season of billiards Boston has ever known comes the announcement that Willie Hoppe, the world's balkline champion and considered by many, the greatest player of all time, has agreed to give a week of exhibition play at Littlefield's rooms, 63 Franklin street beginning February 15. During that week Hoppe has expressed a willingness to meet any players whom Manager Littlefield secures to go against him, in afternoon and evening games. Already it has been arranged that the champion's opponent for Monday and Wednesday evenings will be George Carter, the veteran billiardist who is instructor at the Boston Athletic Association. Nathan Hall, Boston's most skillful amateur and considered in a class with any amateur in the country, has consented to play "the balkline king" Tuesday and Thursday nights. Other strong players will be secured, so that altogether it bids fair to be most interesting week of exhibition games ever known in New England.

Those who follow billiards closely may recall that two years ago the story was going the rounds that Willie Hoppe was "going back" as a player, based upon the fact that he was becoming over-cautious, slowing up in his movements and spending a great deal more time over his masse shots than ever in the past. Undoubtedly it was true that for a short time Hoppe was not feeling keen for the masse, but since that time he not only has recovered his old-time brilliancy, speed and confidence, but is now playing better than ever before in his remarkable career.

Recently while playing with Melbourne Inman in a tour which took them thousands miles through the United States and Canada. Hoppe put in a run of 378 at 18.2 balkline. A dozen or more times he has averaged better than 50 in the last few months, while once or twice his average has been in the 80s for games of 500 points. Runs of 100 or more are with him more the rule than the exception. Furthermore, while with other experts high runs become monotonous, because they are gained solely through close nursing and short drives to the side rails, with Hoppe it is quite different. He defies the recognized cannons of expert play by driving the length of the table with surprising frequency. Cushion first shots he plays frequently, where the average expert would consider them far from a sure-counting shot. In fact, Hoppe's game is one of extreme versatility, bringing into play every variety of shot and little does the "king" worry whether he is playing the balls close or open. That is the kind of game which delights the spectators and keeps them interested at all stages.

To make the games interesting from a competitive standpoint, the players who tackle Hoppe will be allowed a handicap, and with such arrangement it will be no sinecure that the world's champion will always be the winner. B. A. A. members will recall an exhibition played between Hoppe and George Carter at the B. A. A. in April of 1912. Hoppe was playing Carter 400 to 300. In his eleventh inning, Carter put in a run of 125, which gave him a lead of 233 to 177. Hoppe then began to pull up and finally passed Carter, but he still needed 64 when Carter, with a run of 14, was within 6 points of going out. Such situations have no terror for Hoppe, who stepped to the table and ran his 64.

It will be decidedly interesting to see what Mr. Hall, the Boston amateur, can do against the greatest professional of them all. Only a short time ago Mr. Hall won a 2,000-point game from Jos. Mayer, national amateur champion of 1913, Boston representative running the game out with an inning of 61 when Mr. Mayer needed only nine points. Thus far Mr. Hall has had remarkable success in the few exhibitions he has played and it may be that Hoppe's fast billiards will be just the thing to put him on his mettle and mean new amateur records in the 18.2 game.

LAST DATE.

Tomorrow, Feb. 10, is the last day for paying water bills before the inspectors of the department commence work shutting off the supply of water from premises where the water bill has not been paid.

A social and business session of the Young Men's club of the Swedish Congregational church will be held this evening. Two papers will be read, one on the life of Moses and the other on the life of Thomas A. Edison. There will also be a good musical program.

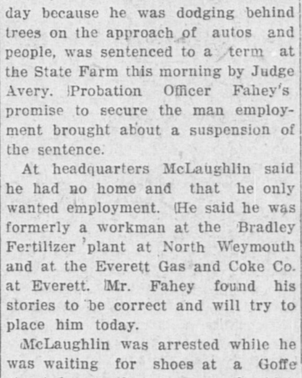

NOTICE!

This space will be devoted each day—Not to advertise cheap grade at full value but Johnson Bros. Quality goods at a sure low Price.

GET THEM TODAY.

	Value
Large Cans Asparagus	30c	22c
Curtice Bros. Jam (in glass)	20c	15c

JOHNSON BROS., City Square.

REAL SCHOOL SHOE BARGAINS!!

A Pair of These Good Shoes Should Last Till School Closes

Sizes	Value	Cut Price
Childs 6 to 8	$1.25	.89
Childs 8 1-2 to 11	1.50	$1.19
Misses 1 1-2 to 2	1.75	1.39
Big Girls 2 1-2 to 6	2.00	1.69

LOTS OF OTHER REAL BARGAINS AT

GRANITE SHOE STORE

QUINCY'S SHOE MARKET

WAS UNABLE TO FIND WORK

Court is Lenient With Man Arrested as Tramp

Mark McLaughlin of the United States, arrested on Goffe street Monday because he was dodging behind trees on the approach of autos and people, was sentenced to a term at the State Farm this morning by Judge Avery. Probation Officer Fahey's promise to secure the man employment brought about a suspension of the sentence.

At headquarters McLaughlin said he had no home and that he only wanted employment. He said he was formerly a workman at the Bradley Fertilizer plant at North Weymouth and at the Everett Gas and Coke Co. at Everett. Mr. Fahey found his stories to be correct and will try to place him today.

McLaughlin was arrested while he was waiting for shoes at a Goffe street house, the occupant of which reported his actions to the police and detained him until their arrival.

CITY HALL NOTES

The finance committee of the city council held an informal meeting Monday evening at which Mayor Campbell was present. The object of the meeting was an informal discussion of financial matters between the mayor and members of the committee particularly in connection with the annual budget which will probably go to the council next Monday evening.

BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Roach of 419 Highland avenue are entertaining Mr. Roach's mother for a few days.

Miss Margaret Goodspeed returned to Wellesley college yesterday after spending the mid-year vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Goodspeed of 114 Grand View avenue.

Rev. Carl G. Horst assists Wednesday evening in the ordination and installation of Rev. James W. MacDonald as pastor of the First Unitarian church in West Upton. Rev. Mr. Horst was formerly pastor of the West Upton church.

The flower committee of the Christian Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church is to present the three act play "Lucia's Lover" in the lecturer oom of the church Wednesday evenig.

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

AT THE THEATRE

"Dick" Hussey of West Quincy proved a feature at Kincaide's Theatre Monday and will undoubtedly continue to be today and tomorrow. Dick as a boy, attended the Willard grammar school and graduated from the Quincy High school in 1907. After a short time he was booked for Keith's circuit, appearing with a young woman who had a contralto voice who dressed in male attire. Dick as the woman. He then started on his own hook, and at last he has turned up in his own city where he received a warm welcome. His sketch is entitled "The Barriers" and he appeared as "the girl of the Golden West."

Rex Beach's famous story "The Spoilers" certainly proved one of the best pictures shown at Kincaide's for many weeks. Excellent acting good stage settings and realistic events make it a capital picture. Loyalty, courage and honor are brought out strongly by the play.

The story opens in Washington, D. C., where a crooked politician has gained control of a mine in Alaska. The crook buys a judge whom he sends to Alaska.

The judge takes his niece Helen with him. The judge has a shock in Seattle and Helen offers to take a package which the crooked politician is sending by the judge to Alaska. She does this not knowing what the package contains. After numerous adventures, wherein the real owner of the mine falls in love with her, she delivers the package, which takes the mine away from him. After much complication the mine is restored and Helen falls in love with the real owner, and thus the play ends. Many interesting minor plots were unraveled.

The Kincaide theatre management announced that the conclusion of the popular "Million Dollar Mystery" would be shown here the first week in March.

TO ENTER MEET.

Quincy High's relay team will run against Salem High at the B. A. A. schoolboy meet in Mechanic's building Feb. 7. The local team has not as yet organized but may do so within a few days. There has been an entire absence of enthusiasm in track and field events at High school although there is plenty of material.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

DEATHS

SHAW—In Braintree, Feb. 8, Willie H. Shaw of 50 Maple street, in his 58th year.

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 35 QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 10, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

WOMENS CLUB PLAY SCORES BIG SUCCESS

Present "Rose O' Plymouth Town" To Capacity Audience at Music Hall

All the club women of the city, and their friends as well, were at Music hall bright and early Tuesday afternoon for the annual dramatics of the Quincy Women's club. Long before the hour of two, it was almost impossible to find a vacant seat. There was a joyous hum of expectancy which only ceased for the half hour necessary to transact special club business, and again when the curtain went up on the first act.

The play "A Rose O'Plymouth Town," a romantic comedy was under the personal direction of Mrs. Willard P. Sheppard of Braintree, better known as Miss Molly Brown formerly of this city. It was cast as follows:

Miles Standish, Captain of Plymouth
Mrs. Wilson Marsh
Garrett Foster, of Weston's men
Mrs. George Fleming
John Margeson, Colonist
Mrs. George Badger
Philippe de lo Noye, Colonist
Miss Ella Packard
Miriam Chillingsley, Cousin of the Captain
Miss Clarice Doble
Barbara Standish, wife of the Captain.
Mrs. Charles Sampson
Resolute Story, aunt of the Captain
Mrs. Edward L. Mitchell, Jr.
Rose de la Noye
Mrs. Willard P. Sheppard

There were four acts as follows:

An early August Morning—Stolen Fruit.
An afternoon in October—A Maid's Joys.
A night in March—Red light on snow
The next afternoon—The better man.

The time 1622--1623 and the place Plymouth in New England gave a quaint picturesqueness to the play much appreciated and enjoyed by the audience. The straight backed chairs ,settle, old pewter, a warming pan and the whole setting carrying one back to the olden days.

Rose de la Noye the French lass who came to Plymouth to keep house for her brother Philippe was considered too young to preside over his house and instead was domiciled with Capt. and Mrs. Miles Standish. The first scene of the comedy shows a room in the Standish house on an early summer morning. Rose is preparing breakfast when a man bursts through the window and asks her to hide him. He has been stealing corn because of hunger. Owing to the scarcity of food and the long winter to come Capt. Standish had said that any one caught stealing corn would be sent to the stocks and flogged.

The family gather for breakfast and all goes well until the culprit, Garrett Foster one of Weston's men from Wessagussett, sneezes several times necessitating duplicate sneezes by Rose which so alarmed good Barbara Standish she made a brew to ward off the cold. As Capt. Standish is about leaving the house he discovers corn plucked by Garrett Foster who comes from his hiding place and confesses. The Capt. is much wroth but finally forgives Foster because of his great need. He stays on in the colony and falls in love with Rose.

John Margeson of the colony is also in love with Rose who leads him on because he had made love to Miriam Chillingsley, the Captain's cousin and then his ardor cooled. In the meantime Philippe had discovered Miriam's charms. Complications arose to prevent the love affairs running smoothly. There was a duel between Foster and Margeson. Rose agrees to kiss the better man, but her brother comes between the men and is wounded. Foster flees and a price is put on his head if he ever returns to the colony again.

As he is about to leave Wessagussett for England he returns to Plymouth to warn the colony of an Indian uprising but is not believed and is kept a prisoner in Capt. Standish's house. The Indians come and he leaves the house to fight wearing an old red coat of Margeson's. He guards a weak spot in the stockade saving the colony.

Through the wearing of the red coat the honor is at first given Margeson but Rose discovers the real hero and proves who is the better man and the play ends with the young people mated to their own true loves.

As the heroine of the play Mrs. Sheppard gave a most charming portrayal of the vivacious, winsome and loveable French girl. She made a picture in a pink gown good to look upon. The part was well carried throughout just the right shading and touch to seem entirely natural instead of acting a part. It was one of the cleverest bits of acting done by Mrs. Sheppard in any plays in which she has taken part.

A character study was the part of Resolute Story's aunt of Capt. Standish, by Mrs. Mitchell. This elderly lady had exhausted all the joys of London and expected to find something lively in Plymouth and instead was bored to death with nothing to do but sleep and walk out and be frightened to death for fear Indians might kill her. In makeup and acting Mrs. Mitchell was fine. Although she has taken part most creditably in several of the club plays in the part of Resolute Story she was at her best and did some fine work.

Mrs. Fleming as Garrett Foster was

(Continued on Page Two.)

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity.
Fair Thursday and Friday. Rising temperature.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.47
Sun sets	5.11
Length of day	10.24
Moon rises	5.24
High water, A. M.	8.45
High water, P. M.	9.30
Days increase	1 hr. 18 minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.33 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	38 degrees
Feb. 10, 1914,	36 degrees
Feb. 10, 1913,	17 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—37.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

MISS THOMAS IS APPOINTED

Will be Assistant to Clerk of Court

Judge Avery this morning confirmed the appointment of Miss Edna Thomas of Wollaston as assistant to the clerk of the district court. Miss Thomas will begin her duties next Monday morning.

Miss Thomas is a sister of James Thomas for several years a member of the Board of Health. She is a graduate of the Quincy High school, since which time she has been doing clerical work.

Miss Thomas succeeds Miss Mildred Gray Huston, who resigned when appointed as Overseer of the Poor.

INSPECT FIRE DEPARTMENT

The city council committee on fire department matters with Mayor Campbell visited the central fire station Tuesday afternoon to inspect the apparatus at the station, and to get an idea of what improvements in the fire alarm system were needed as well as what changes or new apparatus were needed to put the department in first class shape. The visitors were received by Chief Billings who showed them about the station and before they took their departure the horses were pulled and the visitors shown how quick a hitch could be made.

TO OBSERVE LINCOLN DAY.

Paul Revere Women's Relief Corps and Rebecca Wiswell Tent Daughters of Veterans will observe Lincoln Day, Friday with a supper and entertainment.

ROGERS LOSES TO JOSEPHINE

Pool Series Now Stands Two to One for Former

Raymond Josephine won from Tommy Rogers Tuesday evening in the third game of pool for the championship of Quincy. The final score was 100 to 84.

The game was played in Alpha hall Pool room and was witnessed by over 200 fans. The crowd surged around the players and made it difficult for them to play. Both players were off color and missed many easy shots. First Josephine would take the lead and then Rogers would get it back again and finally Rogers opened the bunch in the 12th frame and Josephine scooped in thirteen balls making the score 96 to 84.

The last frame Josephine scored the four winning balls in one shot. Not a single foul was called and no very difficult shots were pulled off by either player. Angelo Bizzozero referee and "Babe" Badger was scorer.

In the audience were several pool sharks and it is rumored that there will be several challenges issued to the winner of the series. The fourth game of the series will be played Thursday evening at Pineo's Emporium and it is expected that the largest gallery that ever witnessed a pool game in Quincy will be present. The series now stands two games to one in favor of Rogers and the fans expect to see the best game of the series when they clash again Thursday evening. The game will begin promptly at seven o'clock.

CAUSE UNKNOWN.

As to the fire at the Public Library yesterday morning. Both the inspector for the insurance co. and the inspector for the library decided that the cause of the fire Tuesday morning is unknown. It began not in the Janitor's room but outside of it in the cellar itself.

APPOINTS C. W. HILL CITY PURCHASING AGENT

Mayor Campbell Announces His Selection This Morning

In accordance with action taken by the city council of last year in amending the ordinance establishing a uniform system of auditing and accounting relative to the purchase of supplies for the city, as well as carrying out the suggestion made by Mayor Campbell in his inaugural address, the Mayor this morning announced the appointment of Clyfeton W. Hill of Wollaston as a purchasing agent.

Mr. Hill will purchase all the supplies needed by the various departments of the city and he is busily engaged today in preparing all preliminary details. His position comes under the department of public works.

Clause 3, of the amended ordinance provides that "all contracts made, or supplies and materials of any description purchased by any department board, officer, mayor or general purchasing agent, if established, shall be so made or purchased only on a written contract, etc."

Hereafter, therefore, it will be seen that all supplies of whatever nature will have to be purchased by the purchasing agent. At the same time it is understood that each department will be given a small sum, say $10 or $15, which will be known as petty cash, and this each department will use in the purchase of small articles needed for immediate use, at the end of the month turning over to the auditor vouchers for the amounts expended.

In addition to his duties as purchasing agent Mr. Hill will have charge of the new employment bureau. This department will endeavor to secure work for the unemployed of the city. A file of all such applicants for work will be kept and it is the wish of the mayor that citizens desiring either permanent or temporary help of any kind will call this department, whose telephone is Quincy 214.

Mayor Campbell held a conference this morning with the various department officials, who met for the first time the new purchasing agent. The conference this morning was over the stationery used by the different departments. It is the desire that the stationery should be more uniform in style. At present every department has a style of letter head of its own and there are scarcely two that are alike.

The idea of the conference this morning was to adopt some standard design for the letterheads so that there will be more uniformity. No particular style was adopted but the purchasing agent took samples of all the styles in use and will have a sample made up. When this is done he will supply all departments with such stationery in the way of letter heads as may be needed for the year It might also be added that each letter head will also bear the name of the official holding the office.

FOURTEENTH ANNUAL BANQUET OF QUINCY BOARD OF TRADE

Members and Guests Enjoy Speaking and Entertainment at Annual Ladies Night

His Honor Vigorously Rattles Dry Bones In Stirring Speech

All sections of the city were represented at Alpha hall, Tuesday night on the occasion of the fourteenth annual banquet of the Quincy Board of Trade. In accordance with the custom of the organization the occasion was also ladies' night and a large number of the fair sex attended.

President Edward F. Fegan presided and served as toastmaster at the post prandial exercises. There was a reception at 6.30 p. m. followed by the banquet at 7 p. m. After the dishes were cleared away the large company proceeded to enjoy the speaking and entertainment provided. The feature of the evening was the collection of slides gathered and presented by John Scott, the genial and progressive representative of the telephone company on the Board of Trade.

"John" had gleaned all sections of the city for the subjects of his slides. Business, Politics, Pulpit and Press all were represented. The police department was also worthily represented in the person of Officer Murray, under whose picture was the captain, "Sunny Jim, Guardian of the Square."

An excellent slide was also shown of President Wilson. When the face of the chief executive of the nation was ashed on the screen all the diners stood in tribute to the man whose hand is on the helm of the ship of state as it plunges cautiously through the troubled waters of a world war.

"Our President. It is not always the eleventh hour when he speaks" were the words under the well known face of President Fegan. The other pictures were. "Although a parson still a man," Rev. A. L. Hudson; "Are you a member of the Board of Trade? If not, why not?" Sec'y John O. Hall, "Efficiency, Economy and Co-operation;" Mayor Campbell; "Hold up your right hand. One dollar and two cents please," City Clerk Emery L. Crane;" "Is he a Progressive or a Republican?" Sen. L. F. R. Langelier; "Being mayor is not a bed of roses." Joseph L. Whiton; "Mr. Honorable President, the boulevard must be built," Rep. Edward J. Sandberg; "Superfluous kittens must be drowned," John L. Hamilton; "If you see it in the Globe it's so," T. J. Collins; "The Live Wire of the Telegram," A. N. LaBrecque, "Always on the right side o fthe Ledger," F. Ambler Welch; "Is this John Hall. Anything doing?" Walter Cobb; "Passed to be ordained." Clerk of the Council George T. Magee; "Quincy's Live Wire," Henry L. Kincaide; "The Poor Ye have with ye always," Miss Mildred Huston.

John Scott was in charge of the entertainment and in addition to the slides he had planned a number of other features. Most of these were omitted for lack of time,however.

Richard Hussey, the Quincy boy, who is appearing this week at the Kincaide theatre as a female impersonator sang "In the Garden of My Heart." He was liberally applauded.

The singing by the Pilgrim Quartet was much enjoyed, particularly that of William Gustafson. The other three members of the Quartette were Robert Fitzgerald, first tenor, Everett Glines, second tenor, and Edward MacArthur baritone.

The speakers were Mayor Chester I. Campbell, Frank W. Ganse of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, Hon. Edw. F. McSweeney, chairman of the Board of Port Directors, and Congressman-elect Richard Olney, 2nd.

President Fegan introduced the speakers with a few words, aptly chosen.

President Fegan had as his guest Miss Marie Fegan, his sister. Others at the head table were Fr. Owens, who asked the blessing, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Walker, Mr. and Mrs. John O. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Barker, Representative and Mrs. Edw. J. Sandberg, Representative and Mrs. Chas. A. Ericson, Senator and Mrs. L. F. R. Langelier, Richard Olney, 2nd, Rev. A. L. Hudson, Frank W. Ganse, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Hamilton, Hon. Edw. F. McSweeney, Hon. Chester I. Campbell.

The tables were prettily decorated with pink shaded candles and red pinks and green foliage strewn over the tables.

The menu was:

Oysters in Deep Shell
Lemon Quarters
Oyster Crackers Rolls
Halibut a la Gratin
Mashed Potato
Larded Filet of Beef
String Beans Julienne Potatoes
Salade de Laitue et Pamplemousse
Light and Fancy Assorted Cakes
Macaroons Lady Fingers
Ice Cream
Frozen Pudding Bombe Glace
Coffee

Messages of regret from the Governor and mayor of Boston were read by President Fegan .

The committee were: John L. Hamilton, banquet; John F. Scott, entertainment; A. L. Whitman, tickets.

Burleigh and Martin were the caterers.

Mayor Campbell received a great hand when he arose to speak. As usual, what his honor had to say was brief and to the point. He remarked that it seemed unfair to be called upon at such an early stage in the gathering. He declared that he believed in the Board of Trade, in the work it is accomplishing and has accomplished. The record of the organization, in his opinion, was one of splendid achievement. "I see a bright future in its wonderful work in Quincy," asserted his honor amid applause.

He pointed out, however, the need of co-operation before the organization could realize a full measure of success. "We are so apt in this world," he exclaimed, "where an aggressive spirit is demonstrated by a few to criticize, to say a word of discouragement to hold them back. Your association needs your support and co-operation.

"The Quincy Board of Trade stands for constructive rather than destructive work. Since I have been mayor the Board of Trade has offered to assist me in many ways. I have been assured by your president that the organization stands ready to assist in any way."

The speaker then pointed out that altogether too many persons who should trade in Quincy were going to Boston and he gave some advice.

"Do you advertise? he queried. "Do you back up your local papers? Do you advertise consistently? It is absolutely useless for you merchants to take advertisements unless you have a definite plan and system. The mere fact that you give the local papers a two or three inch advertisement once in a while does not necessarily mean you will get results.

"If you advertise consistently and have your ads written by someone who knows how you will get results. Mrs. Campbell saw an advertisement in a local paper of a shoe which she did not know could be bought in Quincy, which she always had gone to Boston for. She is now buying that shoe in Quincy.

"I notice that around Christmas time, several days before and in some case several weeks afterward, the stores had special decorations. The same decorations in some cases were retained for two weeks after Christmas That's not advertising.

"You want your goods to be a liv-

(Continued on Page Four.)

WEDNESDAY LEDGER CLUB NEWS

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

The Annual Dramatics
OF THE
Wollaston Woman's Club
Quincy Music Hall
Tuesday, Feb. 16, 2 P. M.
"THE PIPER"
The World Prize Play by
MRS. LIONEL MARK
Based on the story of The Pied Piper of Hamlin.
Tickets may be obtained of Club members.
Feb. 3 3t-3-10-15

Pollyanna
Illustrated with Living Pictures
BY
A. Isabelle Davis
AT
Bethany Chapel, Friday, Feb. 12.
4 P. M. Children 10 Cents
8 P. M. Adults 35 Cents
DON'T MISS IT.
GET YOUR TICKETS NOW.
Feb. 3 3t-3-6-10

TO LET
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Dexter-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop
ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block
City Square Club Room or Hall
—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water, $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 913—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for R.r. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, (Phone 21066) Quincy

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

THE MAYOR'S SUGGESTION.

At the annual banquet of the Board of Trade Tuesday night Mayor Campbell delivered some very pertinent remarks. He pointed out that trade was going to Boston stores which should stay in Quincy. One of the chief reasons for this unfortunate condition, said the mayor, is the failure of the local merchants properly to back up the local papers. As he well said the insertion of an advertisement now and then is of slight value. Success will follow in his opinion, a systematic advertising campaign and the consistent use of space in the local papers..

Another point he brought out which is sometimes overlooked. The advertisements should be written by someone who knows how to write them. The writing of advertisements is a business requiring technical training just as the selling of shoes, or any other article, is a business requiring technical training. A man may be an excellent business man and a poor writer of advertisements. The Ledger maintains an advertising man, skilled in the technique of the profession, who is glad to render help.

The mayor suggested that aid be also asked of the Board of Trade. The intimation might be drawn that his honor favored the hiring of an advertising expert by the Board of Trade to give advice to the members. The idea which he thus expressed has taken root and a movement is now on foot looking to the securing of the services of an advertising expert.

"ON THE JOB."

Officer M. Frank Canavan when passing the Thomas Crane Public Library at 2.30 Tuesday morning saw smoke issuing from a basement window. Some men might have rushed up to investigate. Officer Canavan gained a few moments, and everyone knows of how much importance in a fire a few minutes may be, by ringing in the alarm and investigating later. He took no chances. He was "on the job." Praise should also be accorded the firemen not only for their excellent work in stopping the fire before it reached serious proportions, but for the sane way in which they did that work. It sometimes happens that the result of a fire is not so damaging as the result of the water used in extinguishing it. That the damage from his cause was so small in Tuesday's fire is a cause for commendation.

DEFENDS HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Walker Declares He Is Not to Blame For Big Failure

Boston, Feb. 10.—Mrs. Charles E. Walker, wife of the treasurer of the New England Discount company, was wrought up over the petitioning of her husband into bankruptcy and the attachment of her own property for $20,000. She declared he is not to blame for the trouble of the New England Discount company.

Walker was petitioned into involuntary bankruptcy Monday, and at the same time Mrs. Walker's property was attached for $20,000.

A meeting of the stockholders of the New England Discount company was held in Worcester last night, during which a committee was appointed to look after the interests of the stockholders.

NO HOPE OF SETTLEMENT

Fifteen Thousand Miners In Ohio Will Continue on Strike

Cleveland, Feb. 10.—Hope of a settlement of the strike of 15,000 coal miners in the eastern Ohio fields was abandoned when negotiations between miners and operators, in the presence of government conciliators, were finally broken off.

All parties to the conference, which began Jan. 28, admit that there is no present hope of a settlement of the strike, which has tied up eastern Ohio coal mines since last April.

Maine Schooner Wrecked

Washington, Feb. 10.—The schooner William H. Yorkes of Thomaston, Me., went ashore near Cape Hatteras, and with her cargo of phosphate rock is a total loss. Captain Uberroth of the coast guard cutter Seminole reported her crew of eleven was saved.

Only One "BROMO QUININE"
Whenever you feel a cold coming on, think of the full name, LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for signature of E. W. Grove on box. 25c.

POTATO MAY BE STAFF OF LIFE

Flour Has Gone Up Another 25 cents Spuds Remain at Reasonable Prices

MEAT PRICES ARE LOWER

Both good and bad news is handed out to the local housewives by the local stores this week. The good news is that prices of beef are lower. That is especially in the cheaper cuts of meats such as are used for soups, stews, etc. The drop in prices for these cuts is from two to three cents a pound according to the cuts of meat desired. Top of the round steak, for example, can be bought this week for 32 cents per pound as against 35 cents last week.

As for the goods upon which the prices have advanced this week there are two commodities, sugar and flour Sugar has advanced, at wholesale, one cent a pound and the local dealers have advanced the price from a cent and a half a pound.

Flour which advanced a week ago 25 cents a barrel has gone up another 25 cents a barrel this week. This means an advance of about five cents by the bag.

One of the new vegetables that has made its appearance in the market this week is greens, upon which a price of 20 cents a pound is quoted.

Potatoes still remain low, and fine Maine potatoes can be bought today for 20 cents a peck or $1.40 per bushel.

Speaking about potatoes, it will be interesting to the good housewife to learn that stewards of some of Bostons well known organizations and hostelries have found a new way to beat the high flour situation, through the substitution of potatoes. While bread has always been known as the staff of life, the new slogan is "potatoes the staff of life." The steady rise in the price of flour during, the past few works and the prospects if the present war in Europe continues for any length of time that the price may soar to $20 a barrel, has caused well known chefs to look for a substitute, which they have found in potatoes.

Investigation shows that there are 6,000,000 bushels of potatoes in Aroostook county, Me., for which a price of 65 cents a barrel is quoted. Add to this the freight charge of 35 cents a barrel and we have landed in Boston potatoes in abundance at $1.00 a barrel for two and one-half bushels. But that is not all, for now these people who delight in digging into the nutritious properties of food stuffs have learned that bread is beaten in every way in nutriment values by the potatoes and that people do not realize that the potato is really the staff of life. One often hears it said that there is as much nutriment in two bananas as the is in a pound of steak.

Potatoes can be used in hundreds of ways people today know little about and one who takes the time to look into the subject a little will be surprised, so a new slogan has been coined and one says "Eat Potatoes Now" Germany learned the secret of the potato years ago. Potato makes a fine pancake flour for the breakfast dish. Potato meal makes the finest of cake, as most housewives know. Potato mixed with cracker crumbs is a splendid basis for a most nourishing soup, and best of all ninety per cent of the people can eat potatoes without that distressed feeling that is often the after feeling of one who has dined on highly seasoned articles of food. Take a bowl of mashed potato, scoop out a hole in the middle and fill it with buttermilk and it will be found to be about all the ordinary man needs for a good meal.

Here are some recipes of well known chefs for preparing potatoes:

"Potato pancakes are nothing more than raw potato grated, mixed with just enough flour to hold it together and fried. No water is needed because of the moisture of the potato. Fry it on both sides just like a griddle cake. You will find that it is more nourishing than bread, and that when served with jelly, like an omelet, is most delicious.

"Then again, you can make delicious croquettes in the same way, adding a little baking powder to make it puff.

Potato Chambre (French)—Slice some raw potatoes and fry with a little butter and grated cheese.

Duchess Potatoes (American)—Take mashed potato and thicken with the yolk of an egg. Add a little butter. Salt and pepper to taste and bake in balls in a pan.

Gnochi a la Neapolitan (Italian)—Boil and mash 1 pound of potatoes. Mix while hot with just enough flour to make a hard dough. Salt and pepper to taste and bake in walnut shells in pan. Then drop into boiling water for 10 minutes. Strain off water and serve with tomato sauce.

Potato O'Brien (Irish)—Take cold boiled potatoes and cut into dice shape. Add small pieces of bacon and green peppers and brown in pan.

Potato Salad:—Boil the potatoes with their skins on. Then peel and slice very fine, add salt, pepper, a little chopped parsley and chopped onion, pour boiling water on this and let it soak. Then add vinegar and oil to taste.

The Ledger will have more to say about substitutes for flour and beef in its Article next Wednesday.

As for sea food prices have not changed in any way during the past three weeks, and those who like fish can readily obtain sufficient for their family dinner at a small outlay of money. Fruit still continues to be plentiful, and reasonable. Eggs can be had at almost any price from 22 cents for the cheaper storage eggs to 45 and 50 cents for strictly fresh laid Quincy eggs.

DECORATIONS WERE FEATURE

St. Margaret's Guild Holds Valentine Party

The eighth annual Valentine party of St. Margaret's Guild of Christ church was held Tuesday evening and a most enjoyable affair it proved to be. The party was held in the parish house which was prettily decorated in honor of the event. The color scheme was red and white and streamers of these colors were festooned about the room upon which were arrows, cupids and hearts. At the head of each table was a large cherub. At each of the windows were white crepe paper curtains which were decorated with red hearts About 150 attended.

The decorations were tastefully arranged for which credit is due to the decorating committee, Misses Jennie Boutelier, Alice Findley, Ethel Moister, Ethel Schools and Mrs. Mary Hodgkinson. The hand painted cherubs at the head of the tables were the work of Hedley Patterson.

During the first part of the evening an appetizing supper was served the committee in charge of this part of the evening's program being Misses Emily Moyle, Olive Smith, Lizzie Ross and Bertha Wallace, the president of the Guild.

Six tables were arranged about the room and they were in charge of Misses Mildred Smith, Delia Jones Helen Schools, Marion Clark, Violet Spargo, Nellie Ridge, Annie McLean Clara Pearce, Lucy Moyle, Bessie Warmington, Margaret Clark, Mane Johnston, Mabel Dickie, Lillian Hodge Lizzie Ross and Ruth Farmer. These girls were dressed in white and wore fancy aprons and white caps trimmed with hearts.

The menu was printed on the inside of a red heart and included ham, potato salad, escalloped oysters, pickles coffee rolls, cranberry sauce, jelly cream and cake. Napkins and appropriate place cards were distributed at every plate.

The honored guests of the evening were Rev. and Mrs. Grainger. The rector invoked the divine blessing and gave a word of greeting.

Following the supper there was a pleasing entertainment which was in charge of Miss Lydia Djerf. The program included:

Piano selections, Miss May Stevens; reading, Miss Lillian Reed; sword dance, James Kennedy and a play "Their Experience" by Miss Ruth Dahl and Miss Lydia Djerf.

Dancing closed the evening's program.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

TRY THIS LOAF

A new Bread wrapped in wax paper, clean from bakery to table.
Always good and wholesome.
SOLD BY BEST GROCERS
PRATT BREAD CO., 3190 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON

DAVIS AND BEATON BEAT REVERE HIGH

Two Backfield Players Whole Show in Basket Ball Game

SECOND TEAM ALSO WINS

The Quincy High school senior team defeated Revere High school 14 to 13 in an interscholasiic league game at the High school gym Tuesday afternoon and the local second team defeated the visitors second 20 to 10.

The senior game was fast and furious from the outset. Quincy would have won easily if their shots had been more accurate. The fine defense work of "Lottie" Beaton and Bob Davis of the backfield prevented the exceptionally fine team work of the visitors from crystallizing into scores.

Hamlin was ruled off the floor in the second period because Referee Coady believed he had violated the pushing rules and Welsford was sent in his place. In the last period George Prout, one of the second team stars, made his debut with the first team in place of Crosscup.

Fully five minutes elapsed before either team scored their first points. Revere lost two free tries. Davis broke the ice when he netted Quincy's first point on a free try. Beaton from quarter the length of the floor threw the first basket for Quincy and Whet Brown followed with two in succession before the close of the period. Revere in the meantime rolled up six points.

With but one point separating the teams the second period began in dead earnest. Revere opened up a fine series of passes and time and again they carried the ball to the danger territory only to have Beaton or Davis declare a blockade. This continued the rest of the game.

Quincy's forwards did not get the breaks in their shooting. The crucial test came in the last two minutes of play with the score 14 to 9. With the rooters cheering themselves hoarse the visitors tossed a basket bringing them up to 11 and another one by Orr was the signal for roof raising cheering by the visitors' gallery. Quincy students, not to be outdone, unloosened their organized cheering and in a battery of noise the players struggled back and forth. Revere quickly passing and the Quincy backfield squelching their efforts. A foul, called on Quincy, a miss by Revere, blocked one chance to tie the score and when the final whistle blew it could not be heard above the uproar.

Webb of the Revere team made the statement after the game that he was to blame for the Hamlin incident and that Hamlin did not hit him.

Quincy's second team outplayed Revere's second. Morrison starred getting six baskets, all the result of good pass work by his associates. Art Favreau tossed two and Rasmussen one. The humorous side of the game centred in Patterson, the substitute centre, sent in by Revere in the second period. Patterson proved to be nothing more than a rough house who invited trouble but could find no one to take him at his word. "Blinker" Desmond who played against him had no trouble in ruffling him or aggravating him with a smile. McCabe cried because Revere lost the game.

SENIOR GAME.

QUINCY HIGH		REVERE HIGH
Brown rf		lb Brodbine
Prout rf
Hamlin lf		rb Oneto
Welsford lf
Crosscup c		c Webb
Davis c		c Latter
Davis rb		lf Orr
Beaton, lb		rf Blodgett

Score, Quincy High 14, Revere High 13. Goals from floor, Brown 3, Hamlin, Crosscup, Beaton, Webb 2, Orr 2, Latter. Goals from fouls, Davis 2, Orr 2, Oneto. Referee Coady. Scorer Mansur. Timer Atwood. Time, 15 and two 10m periods. Attendance, 250.

JUNIOR GAME.

QUINCY 2d		REVERE 2d
Morrison lf		rb Hall
Favreau rf		lb Hartnett
Desmond c		c McCarrick
		c Patterson
Gilliatt lb		rf McCabe
Rasmussen rb		lf Rampell

Score Quincy 2d 20, Revere 2d 10. Goals from floor Morrison 6, Favreau 2, Rasmussen, McCabe, Rampbell, Hartnett. Goals from free tries, Favreau 2, McCabe. Referee Thompson.

REDUCTION SALE of Suits and Coats
$10 $12 and $15
Suits NOW
$5.00
$15, $16.50, $18, and $20
Coats Now
$5, $6.98, $10
D. E. Wadsworth & Co.
The Shirtwaist Store

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

A cottage prayer meeting of the Wollaston Baptist church was held Tuesday evening with Mrs. William Arthur at 137 Hollis avenue.

A social of the parishioners of the Wollaston Baptist church will be held this evening in the chapel of the church.

The friends of Edward L. Stewart will be glad to hear that his mother, Mrs. Nettie Lennan, has returned to her home from the City Hospital after a brief illness.

The Nearer and Farther Lights society of the Wollaston Baptist church met Tuesday with Mrs. Melindy on Prospect avenue. The subject of the evening which was taken up after a short business session was "Chapel Car Work." which was conducted under the leadership of Mrs. Eleanor Dunn. The hostess served light refreshments at the close of the meeting.

WOMEN'S CLUB PLAY

(Continued from Page One.)

convincing, an interesting hero and ardent lover.

Mrs. Badger, a club favorite was a brave looking man even if he did not in the end prove to be the better man. The part was well sustained throughout.

Mrs. Marsh carried off the burdens and honors of Capt. Standish with credit to herself and the Captain.

Mrs. Sampson as his wife was a most attractive Puritan, there was nothing lacking in her placid portrayal of the part in dress or acting.

Miss Packard the young French man in love with Miriam and pretty little Miriam as acted by Miss Doble, were both good and rounded out the play adding to the enjoyment of the several scenes.

The eight participants were bright and particular stars in the part in which they were cast, each receiving frequent applause and several bouquets, in appreciation of their work. Curtain calls were also numerous.

As a whole it was an exceedingly creditable performance reflecting credit on each artist as well as on the coach and members of the program committee of the club.

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER

CLARA MORRISON
Pianist and Teacher
Leschetizky Method
CATHERINE MORRISON
Mandolin and Guitar
50 Hamilton Street, Wollaston
Tel. Quincy 1318-W. Sept 30-w.s.-1y

DR. G. F. S. PEARCE
DENTIST
327 Newport Avenue, Wollaston
Mondays -- Wednesdays -- Fridays
9 to 12 — 1 to 5
EVENINGS
Boston Office 194 Boylston Street
June 24-1y-w.-s

The Best Remedy For All Ages

and proven so by thousands upon thousands of tests the whole world over, is the famous family medicine,—Beecham's Pills. The ailments of the digestive organs to which all are subject,—from which come so many serious sicknesses, are corrected or prevented by

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Try a few doses now, and you will KNOW what it means to have better digestion, sounder sleep, brighter eyes and greater cheerfulness after your system has been cleared of poisonous impurities. For children, parents, grandparents, Beecham's Pills are matchless as a remedy.

For Indigestion and Biliousness

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.
The directions with every box are very valuable—especially to women.

NOTICE!

This space will be devoted each day—Not to advertise cheap grade at full value but Johnson Bros. Quality goods at a sure low Price.

GET THEM TODAY.

	Value
Large Cans Asparagus	30c	22c
Curtice Bros. Jam (In glass)	20c	15c

JOHNSON BROS., City Square.

SUNNY SIDE of LIFE

TOUGH ON NELSON.

A band was one day playing in Scotland, when an old native came up and asked the bandmaster what the piece was they were rendering.

"That's 'The Death of Nelson,'" replied the bandmaster.

"Aye, man," remarked the native, "ye hae given him an awful death!"

SHE DIDN'T UNDERSTAND.

Mischa Elman tells a story of his early youth. He was playing at a reception given by a Russian prince, and played Beethoven's "Kreutzer" Sonata, which has several long and impressive rests in it. During one of these rests a motherly old lady leaned forward, patted him on the shoulder, and said: "Play something you know, dear."

HE WAS PREPARED.

In a case in which damages were claimed for assault a carpenter who had been subpoenaed as a witness was asked by counsel what distance he was from the parties when he saw the prosecutor struck.

"Just four feet five inches and a half," the carpenter answered.

"Pray tell me," said counsel, "how it is possible you can be so very exact as to the distance?"

"Why, to tell you the truth," replied the carpenter, "I thought perhaps some fool might ask me, so I measured it!"

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

OBSERVES HER 90th BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Nancy J. Stearns Resident Here Many Years

Mrs. Nancy J., Stearns, widow of Levi Stearns, on Tuesday celebrated her 90th birthday. She retains all her faculties and to have seen her on her anniversary entertaining her neighbors and friends one would never for a minute think that she was approaching the century mark.

In addition to many of her neighbors who called to express their regards and offer congratulations, several friends were present from Cambridge and other nearby cities. Her home was prettily decorated with cut flowers and potted plants.. Many of those who called to extend congratulations brought remembrances of potted plants and other gifts. During the afternoon tea was served.

Mrs. Stearns has made her home in Quincy for many years and readily recalls important events in the city and town of years ago. Mr. Stearns will be remembered during the latter years of his life as janitor of the Hancock school. Mrs. Stearns has one son who assisted her in receiving Tuesday.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton, Director
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings. 6-6t

ORIENTAL RUGS

WE have the largest and most complete stock of Oriental Rugs in Boston and can always show you a greater assortment than you can find elsewhere.

JOHN H PRAY & SONS CO
646-650 Washington St., opp. Boylston St.

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

Going Out of Business. No More Grossman's Clothes Shop

SALE BEGINS
Thursday, Feb. 11
9 A. M.
AND CONTINUES FOR
10 Days
You seldom get an opportunity like this

BALANCE OF THE STOCK AT

1500 Hancock Street Kincaide's New Block QUINCY

MUST BE TURNED INTO CASH IN 10 DAYS

Open Every Night During This Sale

Necessity Knows No Law
Positively Nothing Reserved

Store closed Tuesday and Wednesday, February 9th and 10th, to remark and rearrange stock.

AT PRICES NEVER BEFORE EQUALLED IN QUINCY OR EVER ATTEMPTED BY ANY MERCHANT

There are many things a merchant has to do in this world to save himself. This is one of the times you can profit by our loss

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

Ever since we opened this store in the new Kincaide Block we have been confronted with conditions that could not be governed, viz: the times, weather, etc.

NOW we have approached another abyss that means more to us than real business success and that is, to meet our obligations with our Creditors that we have decided to dispose of our stock at any price and retire from business. THE CRITICAL FINANCIAL STAGNATION HAS FORCED US INTO THIS STEP. Thus have conditions shaped themselves.

This notice to the public much to our regret and great financial loss, should be of interest to everybody in this vicinity for everybody knows that there never was located in Quincy, before, such a store as Grossman's Clothes Shop for values and up-to-date Clothing and Furnishings. Now it is the one question with us to sell that stock, so we have marked everything at such Low Prices that will readily make the Goods move and every dollar's worth of Merchandise sold before the 10 days expire.

Remember it is only Five Months since this store opened its doors so the stock is practically new

SALE BEGINS FEBRUARY 11th, THURSDAY, at 9 A. M. AND CONTINUES FOR 10 DAYS AND NOT A SINGLE DAY LONGER AS WE VACATE THIS STORE BEFORE THE END OF THIS MONTH AND WHAT IS LEFT WILL BE SOLD TO SOME JOBBER.

Read this Page over carefully. It means dollars saved for you. Supply your present and future wants now

EVERY ARTICLE AT THIS SALE IS GUARANTEED TO YOU BY THE MANUFACTURERS

FURNISHINGS

Men's 5c Handkerchiefs 2c
Men's Red & Blue Handkfs. 2c
Men's 15c White Hand'k'f's 7c

MEN'S NECKWEAR

It seems a pity to sell them so low, but necessity knows no mercy

35c Knit Neckwear 15c
All 50c and 65c Ties 29c
Pure Silk Knitted and Silk Ties, extra large shape, $1.00 and $1.50 value 63c

MEN'S HOSE

15c Cotton Hose All Colors 8c pair
Middlesex 15c Hose 10c pair
25c Pure silk pleated All Colors 16c pair
25c Cotton Hose, Stag, All Colors 18c pair
50c Onyx and Gordon brands Pure silk hose in white and colors Going out of Business Price 29c pair

UNDERWEAR

UNION SUITS STAG & MADEWELL

$1.00 grade sale price 78c
$1.50 grade all shades $1.10
$2.00 grade sale price $1.28
Natural woolen Shirts & Drawers $1.50 grade. Sale price 89c
PAJAMAS, $1.50 value 76c
Boys Bath Robes $1.00 Value $1.98
Greenwood Ear Muffs 17c
Paris Garters 19c

CAPS

Reg. $1 and $1.50 kind 76c
Reg. 50c and 75c kind 39c

Men's Hats

ALL THIS SEASON'S STYLES $3.00 Hats

LAMSON & HUBBARD'S Going out of Business Price $2.25
MALLORY HATS Going out of Business Price $2.35
All $2.00 and $2.50 Hats BEDFORD HATS and SPHINX HATS at This Going out of Business Sale $1.55

The above makes of Hats include Derbys as well as Soft Hats. The many styles we are showing will enable most everyone to be suited. Sizes are 6 5-8 to 7 5-8. Colors—Blue, Brown, Grey, Midnight Blue and Apple Black.

Shirts

Only about 25 dozen shirts left in our better grades, we only ask you to compare the makes and the prices and to bear in mind that they are all this seasons goods.

Monarch Dress Shirts

$1.00 quality, good variety Going out of Business Price 79c

Arrow Dress Shirts

Every shirt bearing the Arrow label whether they are $1.50 or $2.50 goes in at one price at this Going out of Business Sale at $1.14

Black and White Shirts

Regular $1.50 grade, the black predominating At this Going out of Business sale All Sizes 88c

Silk Shirts

Reg. $1.65 and $2.00 quality Going out of Business Price $1.19

Silk shirts reg. $2.50 & $3.00 quality. Plain white and fancy At this Going out of Business sale All Sizes $1.55

About 15 doz. Dress Shirts all in neat patterns, good makes worth 75c. Sizes 14 to 17 Going out of Business Price 35c

Gloves

"Stag" and Suffolk Makes of Dress Gloves in Kid, Cape and Mocha lined, reg $1.50 and $2. quality Sizes 7 1-4 to 9. At this Going out of Business Sale 65c

Scarfs and Toques

Angora Toques in red, green, navy, tan and grey. Regular 75c quality 39c

Angora Scarf and toque combination sets in all colors. Regular $2.00 quality Going out of Business Price $1.28

Angora Scarf and toque sets in better quality and extra large scarf in all colors. Sold by Boston Stores for $2.50 Going out of Business Price $1.55

25c Men's Suspenders Going out of Business Price 15c

Overcoats

Young Men's Overcoats in Balmacaan and belt back. Greys and browns. Small sizes. Regular $10 value. Going out of business price $5.95

Men's Overcoats, Convertible collar. 50 inches long. in sizes 35 to 40. Positively and actually worth $13.50 in any store in the United States. Going out of business price $7.75

Men's High-grade Balmacaans in every shade conceivable, some with velvet collars, values $15. to $20. at this sale, all at one price $11.95

Men's Overcoats, chinchilla kerseys and fancy mixtures, made up in the new Belt-back, regular style 42 inch coats up to 50 inches in length for the extreme cold weather. Values $15 to $20. Going out of business price $11.95

M-n's Balmacaans. One-piece back with velvet collars, the latest craze in overcoats and the kind they ordinarily charge in most stores $20. or $22 and even $25. Going out of business price $15.50

Men's Blue serges and black unfinished worsteds, regular $15 to $22 quality. Going out of business price $12.50

SUITS

Men's high grade black unfinished worsteds, blue serges and brown worsteds in regular sizes, stout and slim, regular $12.50 to $15 values Sizes up to 46. Going out of business price $7.75

Men's high grade fancy mixtures in worsteds, cheviots in stripes, tartan plaids and cloths, regular $10 to $13.50 values, Going out of business price $7.75

Young Men's high grade, fancy suits with patch pockets and long roll, the kind you have to pay $13 to $15 in town. Our price during this sale $7.75

Suits for best wear in fancy and plain mixtures, finest hand tailored by the best New York and Baltimore concerns. You may go in every store in town and you would not find any better at $20. Regulars and stouts. Going out of business price $11.95

Men's and Young men's suits in fancy mixtures and tartan plaids in single and double breasted, some with patch pockets including the new single breasted square cuts. A suit of which you would be proud to wear and you would have to pay in Boston upwards to $20. Going out of business price $11.95

Full Dress Suits

Men's extra fine full dress suit the very latest in style. Strouse & Bros. They charge you $35.00 in Boston for no better Sizes 35 to 38. Going out of Business Price $20.50

Tuxedo Suits

Men's fine tuxedo suits, silk lined made by Strouse & Bros. "High Art" Clothes. $35.00 value. Sizes 35 to 38. Going out of Business Price $20.50

Mackinaw Coats

Fancy Plaid Mixtures in beautiful green, brown, red and blue effects, quality A 1 sold formerly for $6 and $7, all sizes Going out of Business Price $2.98

Regular $10 and $12 Coats heavier than any overcoat cloth in blue and grey mixtures only. Going out of Business Price $5.78

Men's Trousers

Blue Serges reg. $4 and $5 values At this Going out of Business Sale $2.98

Raincoats

Reg. $6 and $7 Raincoats At this Going out of Business Sale $3.48
Reg. $12 and $15 Raincoats At this Going out of Business Sale $7.95

FREE!! FREE!!

To the first 30 people entering our store Thursday and Friday, Feb. 11 and 12, A. M., we will give absolutely FREE a SILK FOUR-IN-HAND

Grossman's Clothes Shop

1500 HANCOCK STREET Formerly of Taunton QUINCY

→ WANTED---FIVE SALESMEN AND SALESLADIES ←

Cars Stop at Our Door Look for the Sign Before Entering

Owing to the extensive advertising and magnitude of this gigantic Sale we CAUTION you to BEWARE of unscrupulous merchants who may try to lure you in by fictitious signs. Be sure you are right. Make no mistake. Do not enter until you see the name over the door.

A real guarantee on roofing!

A useless risk is to buy roofing not guaranteed by a responsible concern. When you buy our roofing you get the written guarantee of the world's largest manufacturers of roofing and building papers

Roofings, like most people, prove their worth by the test of time

Buy materials that last

Certain-teed

Roofing

1-ply guaranteed 5 years
2-ply guaranteed 10 years
3-ply guaranteed 15 years

Ask your dealer for products made by us—they bear our name.

Asphalt Roofings (All grades and prices)
Slate Surfaced Shingles
Asphalt Felts
Deadening Felts
Tarred Felts
Building Papers

Insulating Papers
Wall Boards
Plastic Roofing Cement
Asphalt Cement
Roof Coating
Metal Paints
Out-door Paints
Shingle Stains
Refined Coal Tar
Tar Coating

General Roofing Manufacturing Company

World's largest manufacturers of Roofing and Building Papers

New York City Boston Chicago Pittsburgh Philadelphia Atlanta Cleveland Detroit St. Louis Cincinnati Kansas City Minneapolis San Francisco Seattle London Hamburg Sydney

NICOLLS FIVE STILL IN LEAD

Standing of Teams in Clan MacGregor

	Won	Lost
Capt. Nicolls	54	26
Capt. McKenzie	49	31
Capt. McLean	47	33
Capt. Smith	34	46
Capt. Hughes	32	48
Capt. Maver	24	56

High team total, Capt. Nicolls 1493.
High team single, Capt. Hughes 534
High total, Dell 369.
High single, Dell 149.

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

Capt. McLean 3, Capt. Maver 1.
Capt. McKenzie 3, Capt. Hughes 1.
Capt. Smith 3, Capt. Nicoll 1.

The Smiths were ahead of the Hughes after the Clan MacGregor matches at the Coliseum Tuesday night. The Nicolls' five are now leading the McKenzie's by five points and cannot be supplanted within two weeks at least.

The feature match of the evening was between the McLean and Maver's teams. All that prevented a division of points was one lone pin, the difference in the total. Several good singles were captured but Smith was the only one who tripled.

CAPT. McLEAN—3

Paterson	81	87	75	243
Mannock	84	85	91	260
McLeod	94	100	82	276
McLean	110	84	90	284
Dell	97	100	84	281
	466	456	422	1344

CAPT. MAVER—1

Maver	71	90	90	251
Dummy	81	84	109	274
D. Welsh	82	96	95	273
Birnie	98	88	84	270
Morton	95	89	91	275
	427	447	469	1343

CAPT. SMITH—3

Stewart	101	88	105	294
Maver	81	97	77	255
Smith	87	97	119	303
Davidson	73	81	98	252
Martin	87	111	86	284
	429	474	485	1388

CAPT. NICOLL—1

Craig	99	74	74	247
Raab	75	66	79	220
J. Stewart	89	85	103	277
Troupe	77	107	74	258
Nicoll	103	107	84	294
	443	439	414	1296

CAPT. McKENZIE—3

Hunter	68	86	81	235
Coutts	88	85	89	262
McKenzie	87	93	76	256
Russell	81	90	85	256
Drummond	115	89	82	286
	439	443	413	1295

CAPT. HUGHES—1

Hughes	73	77	97	247
Mitchell	65	82	92	239
Raleigh	76	86	76	238
O'Neil	103	93	109	305
Dackers	108	72	80	260
	425	410	454	1289

POINT CHURCH LEAGUE.

Cedar Pt. 3, Stage Pt. 1.
Rocky Pt. 4, Beach Pt.

Rev. tSephen C. Lang, pastor of the Point Congregational church, was high man in the league matches at Wardwells Tuesday night. He secured one less than a triple.

CEDAR POINT.—3.

Scouler	99	83	100	282
Chisholm	82	97	78	257
MacQueen	80	73	92	245
Jones	89	97	80	266
Dummy	75	75	75	225
	425	425	425	1275

STAGE POINT—1.

Peterson	94	75	88	257
Nelson	88	74	67	229
Melville	79	85	78	242
Dummy	80	75	75	230
Dummy	75	75	75	225
	416	384	383	1183

ROCKY POINT—4.

Waddell	66	69	87	222
Thayer	76	82	70	228
Moe	75	90	80	245
Wight	77	95	80	252
Lang	99	97	103	299
	393	433	420	1248

BEACH POINT—0.

Hoffses	84	107	94	285
Melville	95	86	73	254
Howe	66	94	89	249
Putnum	69	70	94	233
Dummy	66	69	70	205
	380	426	420	1227

NATURAL MISTAKE.

Old Lady (reading her evening paper)—"Japanese Turn Agnostics."

Second Old Lady—What wonderful things those Japanese acrobats can do.—Buffalo Express.

Masquerade Costumes For Rent

Children's Costumes in variety

MRS. R. E. WOODWARD

155 Billings Road

Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs

Feb. 3-tf

Cows Do Their Best

only when they are in perfect condition. They will pay you in the milk pail if you care for their comfort and health.

Pratts Disinfectant keeps the stable sanitary—makes everything sweet and clean.

Pratts Animal Regulator

increases the appetite, strengthens the digestion, keeps the bowels active improves circulation and, naturally, increases the flow of milk. 25c. pkg. to 25 lb. pail at $3.00.

813. Get Pratts 1914 Almanac Free.

Sold by Grain Dealers & General Stores. 6639.

W. H. HASLETT

31 Bridge Street, Quincy

Tel. Quincy 1092 W

Plastering and Cementing
Concrete Houses
Outside Stucco Work
Cement Walks, Steps and Cellar Floors.

PETROSILO sanitary and fireproof flooring—guaranteed to wear longer than hard wood floor—no joints one continuous piece put over any floor.

Feb. 25- W-S. tf

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES

20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.

Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

NINE MEN ARE MUSTERED IN

May Waive Weight Regulations in Case of Arthur Hultman

SQUAD TERMED M-G Co.

The first actual recruiting in connection with the formation of a machine gun company in this city took place Tuesday evening when nine were mustered in at Union hall.

The company will be officially known as the M-G Co., 6th Regt. M. V. M., and will be in command of Lieut. George M. Downes.

The mustering was by Capt. E. J. Connelly, Co. A., 6th Regt., of Wakefield and Capt Duncan M Stewart of Co. H., Stoneham.

Capt. Connelly mustered Alfred N. LaBrecque, Frank M. Chubbuck, Dr. John H. Anderson, Francis R. Sullivan and Terence P. McManus. Capt. Stewart mustered William C. Hoxie, Robert A. Mullaney, Patrick A. Erwin and Arthur V. Bavin.

Lieut. Downes has asked the state department to waive the regulations in favor of Arthur Hultman, assistant court officer, who is overweight, and is awaiting their decision. Hultman is 6 ft. 5 in. and weighs more than 190 pounds, the limit stated in the regulations. A record of his perfect physical condition, as found by Lieut. Sydney Hardwick of the surgeon's staff of the 5th Regt. M. V. M., has been placed before them. Those interested in the formation of the company say the Hultman case will establish no precedent inasmuch as other men who were normal but overweight as far as regulations go were accepted.

Lieut. Hardwick has examined close to 20 applicants since a week ago Monday and in most cases the men passed the physical test. The rejections were mostly because of age.

CAUSE OF DEATH IS NOT KNOWN

Find Body of Alexander Michael in Town Brook

Two little girls while sliding on the meadows in the rear of the Kincaide theatre found the body of Alexander Michael, 35 years, of 23 Caledonia avenue, just before dark Tuesday evening. The body was in the Town brook.

The girls, Norma Barnard and Mildred Swanson, 11 years of age, notified several adults who informed the police. Special Officer Thomas Fallon took charge of the body.

Michael has been missing from home several days. He was a granite polisher and a member of Clan MacGregor, O. S. C. He was identified by a nephew.

Dr. Fred E. Jones, medical examiner, viewed the body shortly after it was found and again this morning, but has not determined the cause of death.

ENJOY WHIST PARTY.

Members of the Quincy Hebrew Women's Whist club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Abraham Feldman and enjoyed their weekly game of whist. Mrs. Leventhal of Roxbury were invited guests and were successful in winning prizes. Other prizes were won by the members.

Those present: Mrs. John Berman, Mrs. H. J. Paul, Mrs. Barnet Mason, Mrs. Nathan Sternberg, Mrs. Abraham Feldman, Mrs. Hyman Apelbaum Mrs. Harry Stein, Mrs. Max Harris.

TO ENTER CONVENT.

Miss Eliazbeth G. Keating left Tuesday for New York, where she will enter the convent of "Our Lady of the Cenacle."

Miss Keating is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Keating of Upland road and is well known in this city.

☞PRATT'S BREAD never varies. It is made and baked by a fixed rule. Ask your grocer.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

14th ANNUAL

(Continued from Page One.)

ing advertisement. Then you'll get results. But if people pass your store and see no change in your windows they will think that what they see is about all you have. You can compete with Boston. There is no reason why you cannot do so. You have the same goods: you can have as low prices. Just get busy and advertise.

"I suggest that the merchants secure the services of some advertising and publicity man, a man who can write advertisements and work out striking window decorations. It would be money well spent, and at that it would be comparatively inexpensive. Advertise and you will be surprised at the results you get. If an advertising man does not seem feasible why not take the matter up with the Board of Trade? Don't feel that you know it all. There are men in the association who can make valuable suggestions. Use the Board of Trade.

"Next Monday we will have a free employment bureau at city hall, which will keep a list of unemployed There are not so many unemployed in Quincy as in many cities but there are a considerable number, nevertheless. We do not wish to make them paupers. We want to help them by giving them work. If you want anybody for any work I wish you would call the employment bureau and see if we cannot supply the one you want."

The next speaker was Hon. Edward F. McSweeney, chairman of the Directors of the Port of Boston, formerly chairman of the Industrial Accident Board. Mr. McSweeney spoke at considerable length, outlining the industrial situation of the state and its relation to conditions at the port of Boston.

"We are now," he declared, "in an extraordinary period in world history. We have been kept out of war by the wonderful quality of the president. If we can remain consistently neutral we may eventually bring this horrible war to an end. Furthermore, the war spells an industrial opportunity to the United States. The balance of trade in our favor is going up six million dollars a day. This is the first great war in the industrial era and we should seize the opportunity.

"The time of railroad development has gone by. The coastwise trade is partially developed: the ocean trade not at all."

Mr. McSweeney then severely rapped the work of the preceding port directors. Out of $9,000,000 appropriated four years ago $5,500,000, he declared, had been spent, all of it, with the exception of money appropriated to build dry docks to provide terminals for railroads, which they ought to have paid for themselves. "We have given them free docks, light, heat, in some cases even telephone service and we ram our gratuities down their throats. The old port directors started building a pier, estimated to cost $1,200,000. When I took office that pier was still unfinished and the $1,200,000 had expanded into $3,750,000. My belief is that no steamship business in the world would be so foolish as to come here to compete side by side with piers free to all. We have no business to give away terminal facilities. If railroads could stop their waste we could get some belt lines, which are sorely needed."

In explanation of the latter point the speaker cited instances of the long, roundabout way which freight often had to take under existing conditions. Goods shipped from one city to another perhaps 30 miles away would be obliged to take such a roundabout way that it might take a week or more before they reached their destination. This belt lines would remedy.

Mr. McSweeney cited some interesting figures in connection with Quincy's development in the last four years. In raw material Quincy gained 62 per cent, as compared with an average of 15 per cent for the state as a whole, 23 per cent in finished product as compared with 13 per cent in the state as a whole. With the exception of one town, Essex, the average wage paid in Quincy was the highest in the state, nearly $200 more than the average for the state as a whole, $740 against $550."

Speaking of the city's waterfront the speaker was not so complimentary. "Twenty four miles of waterfront you have, the most valuable thing in your possession. And yet only a quarter of a mile is developed. Quincy should be ashamed."

Richard Olney 2nd, of Dedham, congressman elect, spoke in approval of what Mr. McSweeney had said. He spoke of various matters of current interest, particularly of the tariff. In the recent tariff act there might be imperfections, he admitted, concealed by the war, which would be disclosed at the close of hostilities. Mr. Olney spoke of going to see Secretary of the Navy Daniels, together with Mayor Curley of Boston, in connection with the battleship award. He claimed that they were chiefly responsible for the awarding of the recent contract of two battleships to the Fore River.

An exceedingly interesting address on Abraham Lincoln was given by Frank W. Ganse, chairman of the committee on membership of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Ganse spoke of the character and mind of Lincoln, simple and direct in everything, seeing to the heart of things. These qualities were reflected in his writings, giving his written words their wonderful beauty and simplicity. The speaker told a number of Lincoln's sayings, all of which served to reveal the character of the man. He spoke of the Gettysburg address, remarking that it was impossible to change a word without injuring the beauty and meaning of the oration.

Among those present were:

Thomas Griffin, Howard Johnston, Peter T. Fallon, John F. Walsh, H. F. Montgomery, Edward Parker, John W. Burke, Jr., Joseph B. Grossman, George T. Guston, Charles Bishop, Joseph Bishop, A. J. LaCroix, Ralph E. Winslow, Miss Barbara I. Roberts, George W. Berry, W. H. Teasdale, John A. Duggan, C. J. McGilvray.

Isaac Wright, A. L. Litchfield, C. B. Huston, Mildred Gray Huston, Irving C. Austin, T. L. Williams, Mrs. T. L. Williams, F. H. Trott, Miss Mabelle L. Trott, W. H. Blanchard, M. D. J. A. Sedgwick, A. W. Marshall, H. Brown, Frank Fessenden Crane, Mrs. Frank Fessenden Crane, Charles S. Ruggles, Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Neal, Mr. and Mrs. F. Ambler Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Swingle, Mr. and Mrs F. F. Prescott, Arthur W. Stetson, Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Reynolds, J. M. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Busch, Charles A. Ericson, Mrs. Lewis N. Curtis, Lewis N. Curtis, Lewis N. Curtis, Jr., T. L Williams, A. E. Walker, J. L. Payson, Arthur E. Driscol, Frank D. Field, Jr., Charles F. Wilde, C. D. Richards, George W. Conway, Mrs. John S. Scott, Mrs. John Payson J. T. Gayton, R. R. Baker, A. G. Whitman, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Diack, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Morrison George Main, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Foy, Mrs. C. S. Ruggles.

H. D. Cole, Fred L. Zoller, Zelma N. Prescott, Edith G. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Gallagher, Mr. T. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Wbodward, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley F. Hall, Mr. and Mrs L. P. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Irving, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Whitman.

STANDING IN SAMOSET CLUB

Capt. Hill	4	Capt. Armstrong	0
Capt. Campbell	4	Capt. Rhodes	0

The Campbells and the Hills made clean sweeps in their matches at the Wardwell alleys, Tuesday evening. W. Cahill was high with 301.

CAPT. HILL—1271

D. Cahill	75	94	114
W. Weston	85	71	84
Dummy	85	80	67
Cranshaw	88	69	76
Hill	105	94	84
	438	408	425

ARMSTRONG—1223

C. Armstrong	87	90	71
L. Browne	85	80	67
Baker	85	69	76
Nichols	85	81	108
A. Armstrong	85	81	83
	417	401	405

CAPT. CAMPBELL—1324

Swett	89	112	86
Johnson	84	88	73
Comins	82	72	88
Pope	82	103	90
Campbell	92	80	103
	429	455	440

CAPT. RHODES—1193

W. Cahill	104	112	85
Smith	82	86	73
Stone	54	59	73
Pinkham	82	87	69
Dummy	82	72	73
	404	416	373

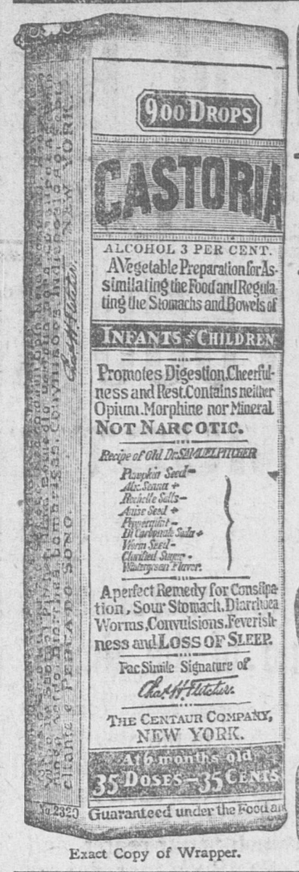

A GOOD ARGUMENT.

"Why don't you advertise?" asked the editor of the home paper. "Don't you believe in advertising?"

"I'm agin advertising," replied the proprietor of the Hayville Racket store.

"But why are you against it?" asked the editor.

"It keeps a feller too durn busy," replied the proprietor. "I advertised in a newspaper one time about 10 years ago and I never even got time to go fishing."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN

PIANO TUNER

78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.

Telephone 1153-M Quincy

Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy F27

CONLIN SHOE REPAIRING

Men's Sewed Taps and Heels	75c
Men's Sewed Taps and Rubber heels	$1.00
Men's Nail Taps and Heels	65c
Men's Heels	20c
Ladies' Taps and Heels Sewed	65c
Ladies Taps and Rubber heels Sewed	85c
Ladies Heels	15c
Rubber Heels	40c and 50c
Skates Sharpened, New Process	15c
$4 Ralston Shoes for	1.50

Hancock and Saville Sts.
Tel. 961-M. Oct. 7-tf

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

LEWIS N. CURTIS

PAINTER and GLAZIER

LEADED STAINED GLASS

DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER

Old Furniture Refinished

Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To all persons who are or may become interested in the real estate hereinafter mentioned, devised by the will of Edgar F. Roby late of Norwood in said County, deceased, and to all persons whose issue not now in being may become interested:

Whereas Mary A. Roby of Norwood in the County of Norfolk as tenant in possession of certain real estate, devised to herself and others in the will of Edgar F. Roby late of Norwood in said County has presented to said Court her petition praying for the appointment of Irene B. Roby of Westwood in the County of Norfolk or some other suitable person, as trustee to sell and convey at private sale for the sum named in said petition or at public auction said real estate therein described, for reasons therein set forth. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-fourth day of February A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in Quincy, Mass., the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons who or whose issue not now in being are or may become interested, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this first day of February in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.

3t Feb. 3-10-17

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

For breach of the condition of a certain mortgage deed given by Aloys Burkard to John Cashman dated November 2, 1904, recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 986, Page 465, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Saturday the twenty-seventh day of February, 1915 at 3 o'clock P. M., all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage and therein described substantially as follows:

A certain lot of land with the buildings thereon situated in Quincy in the County of Norfolk, bounded and described as follows:—Northwesterly on land of Franziska Wittich, one hundred and thirty-two (132) feet; Northeasterly on a certain open private way that is not less than twenty-six feet wide and that runs in a Northwesterly direction from West Street to other land of said Franziska Wittich, bounding thereon seventy-five (75) feet; Southeasterly on land of said Wittich, one hundred and eighty-seven (187) feet; Southwesterly on land of Herbert F. Doble, ninety-four (94) feet. Being the same premises conveyed to me by Richard Walser by deed dated June 27, 1896 and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 764, Page 57.

The premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes, assessments or liens, if any. A deposit of two hundred (200) dollars will be required at the time and place of the sale. Balance in ten days upon delivery of the deed.

JAMES E. CASHMAN,
JOHN J. CASHMAN,
DAVID J. WHITE,
WILLIAM J. CASHMAN,
Trustees of John Cashman, Mortgagee
J. J. McAnarney, Atty.
3t Feb. 3-10-17

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Rachel J. Corthell late of Quincy in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Samuel N. Corthell of said Quincy without giving a surety on his bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the seventeenth day of February A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this second day of February A. D. 1915.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.

3t Feb. 5-10-15

W. R. LOFGREN

Carpenter and Builder

PLANS EXECUTED

Established 1891 in Quincy

Hundreds of Satisfied Customers

Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs

19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall

Tel. Quincy 398-3

June 9-tf

EDWARD J. FEGAN

Counsellor at Law

Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy

8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.

914-916 Tremont Building, Boston

10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Telephones—Quincy 448-4. Haymarket 2440

Oct. -tf

The Exploits of Elaine

A Detective Novel and a Motion Picture Drama

By ARTHUR B. REEVE

The Well-Known Novelist and the Creator of the "Craig Kennedy" Stories

Presented in Collaboration With the Pathe Players and the Eclectic Film Company

Copyright, 1914, by the Star Company All Foreign Rights Reserved

(Continued from last issue.)

"And you—you say—you married this—this woman to Taylor Dodge?" queried Elaine, tensely.

The bogus minister seemed to be very fatherly. "Yes," he asserted, "I certainly did so."

"Have you the record?" asked Elaine, fighting to the last.

"Why, yes. I can show you the record."

He moved over to the closet. "Come over here," he asked.

He opened the door. Elaine screamed and drew back. There stood her arch enemy, the Clutching Hand himself.

As he stepped forth, she turned wildly, to run—anywhere. But strong arms seized her and forced her into a chair.

She looked at the woman and the minister. It was a plot!

"A moment Clutching Hand looked Elaine over. "Put the others out," he ordered the other crook.

"Now, my pretty dear," began the Clutching Hand as the lock turned in the vestry door, "we shall be joined shortly by your friend, Craig Kennedy, and," he added with a leer, "I think your rather insistent search for a certain person will cease."

Elaine drew back in the chair, horrified at the implied threat.

Clutching Hand laughed diabolically.

While these astounding events were transpiring in the little church, Kennedy and I had been tearing across the country in his big car, following the directions of our fair friend.

We stopped at last before a prosperous, attractive-looking house and entered a very prettily furnished, but small parlor. Heavy portieres hung over the doorway into the hall, over another into a back room and over the bay windows.

"Won't you sit down a moment?" coaxed Gertie. "I'm quite blown to pieces after that ride. My, how you drive!"

As she pulled aside the hall portieres, three men with guns thrust their hands out. I turned. Two others had stepped from the back room and two more from the bay window. We were surrounded. Seven guns were aimed as us with deadly precision.

"Gentlemen," he said quietly. "I suspected some such thing. "I have here a small box of fulminate of mercury. If I drop it, this building and the entire vicinity will be blown to atoms. Go ahead—shoot!" he added, nonchalantly.

The seven of them drew back rather hurriedly.

Kennedy was a dangerous prisoner.

He calmly sat down in an arm chair, leaning back as he carefully balanced the deadly little box of fulminate of mercury on his knee.

Gertie ran from the room.

For a moment they looked at each other, undecided. Then, one by one, they stepped away from Kennedy toward the door.

The leader was the last to go. He had scarcely taken a step.

"Stop!" ordered Kennedy.

The crook did so. As Craig moved toward him, he waited, cold sweat breaking out on his face.

"Say," he whined, "you let me be!"

It was ineffectual. Kennedy, smiling confidently, came closer, still holding the deadly little box, balanced between two fingers.

He took the crook's gun and dropped it into his pocket.

"Sit down!" ordered Craig.

Outside, the other six parleyed in hoarse whispers. One raised a gun, but the woman and the others restrained him and fled.

"Take me to your master!" demanded Kennedy.

The crook remained silent.

"Where is he?" repeated Craig. "Tell me!"

Still the man remained silent. Craig looked the fellow over again. Then, still with that confident smile, he reached into his inside pocket and drew forth the tube I had seen him place there.

"No matter how much you accuse me," added Craig casually, "no one will ever take the word of a crook that a reputable scientist like me would do what I am about to do."

He had taken out his penknife and opened it. Then he beckoned to me.

"Bare his arm and hold his wrist, Walter," he said.

Craig bent down with the knife and the tube, then paused a moment and turned to tube so that we could see it.

On the label were the ominous words:

Germ Culture 5248A
Bacillus Leprae (Leprosy)

Calmly he took the knife and proceeded to make an incision in the man's arm. The crook's feelings underwent a terrific struggle.

"No—no—no—don't," he implored.

There Stood Her Arch Enemy, the Clutching Hand.

"I will take you to the Clutching Hand—even if he kills me!"

Kennedy stepped back, replacing the tube in his pocket.

"Very well, go ahead!" he agreed.

We followed the crook, Craig still holding the deadly box of fulminate of mercury carefully balanced so that if anyone shot him from a hiding place it would drop.

No sooner had we gone than Gertie hurried to the nearest telephone to inform the Cluching Hand of our escape.

Elaine had sunk back into the chair as the telephone rang. Clutching Hand answered it.

A moment later, in uncontrollable fury he hurled the instrument to the floor.

"Here—we've got to act quickly—that devil has escaped again," he hissed. "We must get her away. You keep her here. I'll be back—right away—with a car."

He dashed madly from the church, pulling off his mask as he gained the street.

Kennedy had forced the crook ahead of us into the car which was waiting, and I followed, taking the wheel this time.

"Which way, now—quick!" demanded Craig. "And if you get me in wrong—I've got that tube yet—you remember."

Our crook started off with a whole burst of directions that rivaled the motor guide—"through the town, following trolley tracks, jog right, jog left under the railroad bridge, leaving trolley tracks; at the cemetery turn left, stopping at the old stone church."

"Is this it?" asked Craig incredulously.

"Yes—as I live," swore the crook in a cowed voice.

He had gone to pieces. Kennedy jumped from the machine.

"Here, take this gun, Walter," he said to me. "Don't take your eyes off the fellow—keep him covered."

Craig walked around the church, out of sight, until he came to a small vestry window and looked in.

There was Elaine, sitting in a chair, and near her stood an elderly-looking man in clerical garb, which to Craig's trained eye was quite evidently a disguise.

Elaine happened just then to glance at the window and her eyes grew wide with astonishment at the sight of Craig.

He made a hasty motion to her to make a dash for the door. She nodded quietly.

With a glance at her guardian she suddenly made a rush.

He was at her in a moment, pouncing on her, catlike.

Kennedy had seized an iron bar that lay beside the window where some workmen had been repairing the stone pavement, and with a blow shattered the glass and the sash.

At the sound of the smashing glass the crook turned and with a mighty effort threw Elaine aside, drawing his revolver. As he raised it, Elaine sprang at him and frantically seized his wrist.

Utterly merciless the man brought the butt of the gun down with full force on Elaine's head. Only her hat and hair saved her, but she sank unconscious.

Then he turned at Craig and fired twice.

One shot grazed Craig's hat, but the other struck him in the shoulder and Kennedy reeled.

With a desperate effort he pulled himself toward her and leaped forward again, closing with the fellow and wrenching the gun from him before he could fire again.

Just then the man broke away and made a dash for the door leading back into the church itself, with Kennedy after him.

Up he went into the choir loft and then into the belfry itself. There they came to sheer hand-to-hand struggle. Kennedy tripped on a loose board, and would have fallen backwards if he had not been able to recover himself just in time. The crook, desperate, leaped for the ladder leading farther up into the steeple.

Kennedy followed.

Elaine had recovered consciousness almost immediately, and, hearing the commotion, stirred and started to rise and look about.

From the church she could hear sounds of the struggle. She paused just long enough to seize the crook's revolver lying on the floor.

She hurried into the church and up into the belfry, thence up the ladder, whence the sounds came.

The crook by this time had gained the outside of the steeple through an opening. Kennedy was in close pursuit.

On the top of the steeple was a great gilded cross, considerably larger than a man. As the crook clambered outside, he scaled the steeple, using a lightning rod and some projecting points to pull himself up, desperately.

Kennedy followed unhesitatingly.

There they were, struggling in deadly combat, clinging to the gilded cross.

The first I knew of it was a horrified gasp from my own crook. I looked up carefully, fearing it was a stall to get me off my guard.

Just Then I Saw a Woman's Face Tense With Horror; It Was Elaine.

There were Kennedy and the other crook, struggling, swaying back and forth, between life and death.

There was nothing I could do.

Kennedy was clinging to a lightning rod on the cross.

It broke.

I gasped as Craig reeled back. But he managed to catch hold of the rod farther down and cling to it.

The crook began to exult diabolically. Holding with both hands to the cross he let himself out to his full length and stamped on Kennedy's fingers, trying every way to dislodge him. It was all Kennedy could do to keep his hold.

I cried out in agony at the sight, for he had dislodged one of Craig's hands. The other could not hold much longer. He was about to fall.

Just then I saw a face at the little window opening out from the ladder to the outside of the steeple—a woman's face, tense with horror.

It was Elaine!

Quickly a hand followed, and in it was a revolver.

Just as the crook was about to dislodge Kennedy's other hand I saw a flash and puff of smoke, and a second later heard a report—and another—and another.

Horrors!

The crook, who had taken refuge seemed to stagger back, wildly, taking a couple of steps in the thin air.

Kennedy regained his hold.

With a sickening thud the body of the crook landed on the ground around the corner of the church from me.

"Come—you!" I ground out, covering my own crook with the pistol, "and if you attempt a getaway I'll kill you, too!"

He followed, trembling, unnerved.

We bent over the man. It seemed that every bone in his body must be broken. He groaned, and before I could even attempt anything for him, was dead.

As Kennedy let himself slowly and painfully down the lightning rod, Elaine seized him and, with all her strength, pulled him through the window.

He was quite weak now from loss of blood.

"Are you—all right?" she gasped, as they reached the foot of the ladder in the belfry.

Craig looked down at his torn and soiled clothes. Then, in spite of the smarting pain of his wounds, he smiled, "Yes—all right!"

"Thank Heaven!" she murmured fervently, trying to stanch the flow of blood.

"This time—it was you—saved me!" he cried, "Elaine!"

Involuntarily his arms sought hers—and he held her a moment, looking deep into her wonderful eyes.

Then their faces came slowly together in their first kiss.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Anthony Flarherty of Quincy County of Norfolk State of Massachusetts to Oliver E. Sheldon of said County and State dated Oct. 12, 1874 and recorded Norfolk Deeds Libro 459 folio 263 which mortgage has been duly assigned to George H. Field of said County and State by instrument dated July 10, 1914 and recorded Norfolk Deeds libro 1285 folio 505 for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction from the premises hereinafter described on Wednesday, March 3, 1915 at 4 P. M. all and singular the property described in said mortgage namely—A certain parcel of land with all the buildings thereon situated on the Southwesterly side of Grove street in that part of said Quincy called West Quincy and is bounded as follows that is to say; Southeasterly by said Grove street there measuring seventy-one and 82-100 feet (71.82) southwesterly by the lot numbered eight (8) in part and part of lot numbered six (6) on a plan hereinafter referred to, there measuring one hundred forty-seven and 88-100 feet (147.88.) Northwesterly by lot numbered ten (10) on said plan, there measuring seventy and 75-100 (70.75) and north-easterly by a Private Way, twenty-five feet wide as reported on said plan, which is to be forever kept open as a Court or way of the Abutters thereon, measuring one-hundred and sixty and 27-100 feet (160.27) containing ten thousand and nine hundred square feet of land as per said plan made by Whitman and Breck Surveyors dated August 1874 Entitled Plan of Lots in West Quincy owned by the Granite Railway Company and said lot is numbered 9 in said plan. Said sale is subject to all unpaid taxes or Municipal Assessments, $100 deposit on day of sale, balance cash within ten days from date of sale on delivery of deed. Per order

GEORGE H. FIELD,
Assignee of the mortgage and present holder of mortgage.
Feb. 10-3t. 10-17-24

ELECTRIC CAR STRIKES GIRL

Miss Mabelle Browne Unconscious When Picked Up

Miss Mabelle Browne, 102 Beale street, was struck and knocked down by an electric car on the Atlantic railroad bridge about ten o'clock Tuesday evening.

Although picked up in apparently unconscious condition it is thought she was not seriously injured.

Miss Brownes accident was witnessed by several people. They carried her to a nearby house where she was treated by Dr. W. G. Garey.

Patrolman Duffy summoned the police ambulance but it was not needed.

JOSEPH M. BRUCE.

Was For Many Years Engaged In Express Business Here.

Joseph M. Bruce, for many years identified with the express business in Quincy, died at his home 1608 Hancock street, Tuesday, after an illness of several weeks duration. Mr. Bruce was 43 years of age and has for the past few years conducted an express business under the name Bruce & Warner. He was a member of Quincy lodge of Elks, Division 5, A. O .H., Quincy lodge of Moose, and Quincy Herd of Buffalos. He is survived by a wife, who was the daughter of William H. Warner, and several children.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

WANTS KAISER BLOWN UP

Federal Judge's Remarks Lead to Protest to President

Toledo, Feb. 10.—"I am a German and I do not care how soon some one drops 1000 bombs on the kaiser's head. I do not care particularly if it is an Irish, Russian or British airman that drops them, just so long as it is done."

This statement by Federal Judge Killits of this city, in a public speech to the Parents' club of Glenwood school, is the basis of a formal protest which the German-American alliance of Toledo is forwarding to President Wilson with a request that Killits be punished for violating the spirit of neutrality.

The German-American alliance, which consists of thirty-seven local societies, asks the president to investigate Killits' speech and to discipline him.

MONDELL ATTACKS BRYAN

Says Secretary Wanders Around While Ship of State Drifts

Washington, Feb. 10.—Representative Mondell, Republican, of Wyoming, launched another attack in the house on Secretary Bryan's speaking trips.

"Week after week," said he, "with war abroad, turbulent relations on our southern border, foreign complications all around, including our affairs in Santo Domingo, the secretary of state has been away, time after time, harranguing crowds in the interest of the nation whose affairs he has neglected, wandering hither and yon."

Death of Norman Ream

New York, Feb. 10.—Norman B. Ream, 70, millionaire steel man, died here following an operation for intestinal trouble. Ream was rated as one of the most prominent capitalists in the United States.

Shugrue Outpoints Welch

New York, Feb. 10.—Joe Shugrue, the Jersey City lightweight, again proved too much for Fred Welsh, world's champion of that class, in a ten-round bout here last night.

PASTOR AND WOMAN SLAIN

Pistol Wounds In Bodies and Cords About Necks

PROBABLY KILLED IN REVENGE

Crime Has No Earmarks of Robbery and Priest Was Once Threatened With Serious Harm Unless He Paid $5000 Which Was Demanded In Letters From New York

New Britain, Conn., Feb. 10.—Rev. Joseph Zebris, pastor of St. Andrews Lithuanian church of this city, and his housekeeper, Miss Eva Gilmanalis, were found murdered in the parochial residence. There was no immediate clue as to the author of the crime.

The crime was discovered by Mrs. Anna Schnyder, a next-door neighbor, whose suspicions were aroused when she had failed to see Zebris and his housekeeper about the premises.

Zebris lay flat on his back in the front room of his house with two bullet wounds through his heart and a cord tied tightly around his neck. The cord had cut the skin so deeply that it was not noticeable at first.

The housekeeper, who was found at the top of the attic stairs, was shot through the mouth and the right wrist. Two cords, one similar to that which was about Zebris' throat, were tied around her neck. The other cord was cut from a clothesline in the attic.

Mrs. Schnyder rushed to the street and notified Policeman Lyon. The officer made a search of the house and notified police headquarters. Medical Examiner Wright was shortly on the scene, but nothing developed that threw any light on the mystery.

In the front room where the body of the dead priest lay were found three or four empty cartridge shells, but no other evidence. The police gave credence to the theory that the crime was one of revenge, believing that Zebris was called to the door by the murderer and after a fight, during which he was forced into the front room of the house, was first shot and then bound about the throat with the cord.

Further weight is given this theory by the fact that the contents of the house were topsy-turvy, the chairs and tables having been upset.

The police say that the murder does not bear the earmarks of a robbery and that so far nothing is known to have been stolen from the house.

So far as could be learned Zebris was on friendly terms with all his parishioners. However, it was stated that about two years ago the priest received several letters addressed to him from New York city, which threatened him with serious harm.

The first letter demanded that he place $5000 in an old boiler on a dump heap near the New England railroad tracks in East New Britain. When he failed to pay any attention to the threat the other two letters were sent, which threatened him with harm if he did not comply with the demand for the $5000.

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Three furnished rooms for light housekeeping. All in good order. Apply 46 Massachusetts avenue. Opposite Edison Park. 9-3t

TO LET—Lower flat, 42 Euclid avenue, 5 rooms all modern improvements. For particulars address Mr. P. J. Curry, 94 Federal avenue or phone Quincy 1075M. 9-12t

TO LET—Half of colonial house on Russell park, 7 rooms and bath, fireplace, coal and gas range and all modern conveniences. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 9-tf

TO LET—Flat of seven rooms with electric lights, gas stove, range at 32 Euclid avenue. Apply at 12 Berkeley street. 6-6t

TO LET—Three, four or five room tenement with heat, gas range electric lights and bath. 178 Washington street or phone 1732M. 6-tf

TO LET—Two or three rooms, furnished or unfurnished for light housekeeping, all improvements, reasonable rent, board if desired. 132 Marlboro street, Wollaston Park. 6-tf.

TO LET—To small family of adults several very desirable new tenements $22 and up, also stable $10 per month; store $10 per month. Apply to C. H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. Tel. 174-2 Quincy. 4-12t

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Four room apartment, new house, all improvements. Apply at 226 Franklin street. 30-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 26 tf

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 19-tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $16. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con.

LOST

LOST—On Monday Feb. 8 about one o'clock, between 137 Monroe road and Judge Burpus's house, a brown muff. If the finder will return it to Mrs. Lawton 137 Monroe road he will received a suitable reward. 9-3t

LOST—Lady's gold hunting case Waltham watch, Feb. 6 at Kincaide theatre. Monogram V. D. C. Finder Tel. Fort Hill 3139. 9-3t

REWARD—For paper parcel containing two note books and 50 pages of manuscript left on 5.49 train Feb. 3 between E. Milton and Braintree. W. Sprague Brooks, Milton, Mass. 6-6t

WANTED

WANTED—A position with Granite Manfg. Co., in office. Would consider a proposition to go on the road. Write Mr. C. Ledger Office. 8-3t

WANTED—A first class completely furnished apartment in a good neighborhood of at least three rooms and bath. Write M. D. Newcomb Square. Post Office, Quincy. 8-3t

WANTED—Woman to take charge of Ladies Dep't. One who has had local experience and acquaintance preferred. A good position awaits the right party. Apply Orent-Payson Co., 1378 Hancock street. 6-6t.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Two flat house in South Quincy. Hard wood finish, modern plumbing. Very desirable renting proposition, never vacant since built. For particulars enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 9-tf 1po

MISCELLANEOUS

DRESSMAKING, plain sewing, children's clothes done at reasonable prices by woman of experience. Write E. R. Ledger Office. 9-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage. Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

TO LET
Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN. Treas.
Nov

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

FOR SALE
House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,300. Straight Loan of $2,000.
EDMUND C. HAYDEN
Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing
HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.
129 Tremont St., Boston.
Oct. 8-tf

A Few Choice House Lots
— ON —
PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX
are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.
SWITHIN
3 GREENLEAF BLOCK
Jan. 5-tf

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES.
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

What Local Clubs are Doing

News of Women's Clubs is a feature of the Daily Ledger every Wednesday. Secretaries of organizations should send notices of club activities, to reach the Club Editor not later than Tuesday night to insure insertion the next day.

Tomorrow afternoon the Atlantic Shakespeare Society concludes the reading of King Henry the Fourth, with Mrs. Elijah Hall as chairman of the afternoon. The concluding play of the season will be a "Midsummer Nights Dream," the reading to be taken up Feb. 25, March 11 and 25 and April 8.

* * *

St. Chrysostoms Woman's Guild has completed arrangements for the parish fair to be held tomorrow afternoon and evening in the parish house. Besides booths of articles on sale the ladies are to serve a supper.

* * *

The Universalist Mission Circle meets Monday afternoon.

* * *

Charitable Ten Circle of King's Daughters is to meet Monday afternoon with Miss Annie Newcomb of Bigelow street.

* * *

The Quincy Day Nursery Association is to be busy this week socially having completed arrangements for the young people's Valentine dance at Alpha hall on Saturday afternoon. The affair will have as matrons Mrs. Burke, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Child, Mrs. Faxon, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Ripley, Mrs. Sears and Mrs. Simmons.

* * *

The parliamentary law class of the Quincy Women's club meets Monday afternoon at the clubhouse at half past two. Interest is growing in this class and there is a good attendance at each meeting. The lessons are by Mrs. Electa Sherman and are complimentary to members of the club.

* * *

Miss Mary W. Holden, treasurer of the Katharyn Crane Memorial club is to entertain the club Tuesday afternoon at her home, Suite 6 in Prescott apartments on Spear street.

* * *

Mrs. E. C. Bumpus is leaving next week for Morristown, N. J., where she is to give a series of art conferences. Mrs. Bumpus was the first president of the Quincy Women's club.

* * *

Mrs. Mary Fifield King of Milton is to speak on the "Work of the International Committee," at the meeting of Quincy Alliance next Wednesday afternoon in First Church chapel.

* * *

New England Wheaton club meets Saturday at 2 P. M. at Hotel Vendome, Boston. Miss Susan Hayes Ward, member of the New York club is to speak on "Keeping a Family Record." There will also be a musical program in charge of Miss Adelaide Proctor. Miss Ward is a well known teacher, lecturer, author and a department editor on the Independent.

* * *

Next Tuesday afternoon the Wollaston Woman's club has its annual dramatics at Quincy Music hall. Rehearsals have been going on for several weeks under the direction of Miss Theodora Luard, and a fine presentation of "The Piper" may be expected. The performance is to be open to the public tickets being on sale by members of the club. There will be special cars from Wollaston and the Downs for the accommodation of those attending the dramatics.

* * *

Members of the Riverside club are to be entertained next Wednesday at a Valentine luncheon at the clubhouse on Edison park by the executive board of the club.

* * *

Junior Friday club met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Albert H. Wright of Saville avenue with Mrs. Alfred P. Thompson in charge of the program which took for its subject Argentina and Chili. As the next date sheduled for the meeting of the club comes on Feb. 22, a holiday, the meeting will be omitted and meet March 1 with Miss Mary W. Holden in Suite 6 of the Prescott apartments on Spear street.

* * *

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

A short business session preceded the annual dramatics of the Quincy Women's club at Music hall Tuesday afternoon, the president Mrs. Chandler W. Smith presiding. Mrs. Edward S. Tenney acted as clerk pro tem. Mrs. Herbert W. Pinkham, treasurer gave quite a full report of the club finances, especially special funds.

Mrs. Tenney made a strong plea for contributions to the memorial fund which was to mark the tenth anniversary of the club and take the form of a gift to the school children, by the establishing of a nurse in the public school. No work can be greater than making the children of today strong men and women to carry on future work. The nurse had already entered upon her work and already was proving helpful. There had been generous contributions from present and past members but all had not given and Mrs. Tenney hoped all would have a part in this memorial gift.

The committee of eight club members receiving old linen, cotton undergarments, etc., at the clubhouse were preparing them to send to the hospitals in Northern France. Mrs. Arnold, chairman of the committee asked that contributions be clean, laundered and ironed ready to tear into bandages, etc. $17 in money had been received. All were urged to contribute funds or linen to help care for the wounded soldiers.

Announcement was made of a musicale to be given by the Squantum Women's club Feb. 24 in the rooms of the New England Women's club Copley square, Boston.

Mrs. Eben W. Sheppard and Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham were elected delegates to the midwinter meeting of the state federation at Somerville, Feb. 26. Red tickets of admission could be had by any club member on application to the corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Zenas S. Arnold for the nominating committee presented the following list:

President—Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham.
1st Vice president—Mrs. George L. Badger, Mrs. W. Ward Whitcher.
2d Vice—Mrs. William E. Aiden, Mrs. N. S. Hunting.
Clerk—Mrs. William F. Cummings Mrs. Arthur S. Townsend.
Cor. Sec.—Mrs. Ernest L. Collins Mrs. L. C. Hewson.
Treasurer—Mrs. Edward L. Mitchell, Jr., Miss Eliza Sheahan.
Auditors—Mrs. Thomas Fenno, Mrs. John W. Sanborn.

With the exception of the office of president the committee has presented two names for each office for members to select from. The list will be read again at the next meeting and voted upon at the annual meeting March 9.

It was decided to put Hospitality on the list on departments again with the Reception as a sub-committee of it, instead of under the Reception committee as it had been the past two years.

Owing to the limited room at the clubhouse it has been decided to withdraw guest privileges for the afternoon of Feb. 23, it being the tenth anniversary of the club with many special guests invited. There would be an orchestra, soloists, historical paper for entertainment. Representatives would be present from the state federation and adjoining clubs

In the evening there would be an orchestra, soloists, a club poem by Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, the presentation of the memorial gift and brief talk by Dr. Brackett. All past presidents of the club would receive. Members would be allowed guest privileges in the evening and the waiting list and former members are invited to be present.

The president urged club members to use their year books more; a consultation of the book would save telephone calls and time of officers of the club as well as club members themselves.

Miss Edith Randall as chairman of the program committee announced the play to be presented was "A Rose O'Plymouth Town," written by Evelyn Greenleaf Sutherland and Beulah Dix. Her committee had staged the play with quaint old Colonial furniture, pewter, hand woven linen, loaned by club members.

The play was well carried through, every participant being a star performer. An orchestra composed of Miss Theodora Keith, cornet, Mrs. Lena Thomas violin and Mrs. Fannie Merchant, piano, played before the play and between the acts receiving several encores. A more detailed account of the play will be found in another column.

WOLLASTON W. C. T. U.

The monthly meeting of the Wollaston W. C. T. U. was held Feb. 5th at the home of Mrs. Edward S. Tenney, Prospect avenue, the president Mrs. George Crothers presiding. Mrs Mary W. Finney led the devotional exercises. Three new names for membership were received.

After the usual business the remainder of the time was given to Mrs. Frederick R. Morgan who spoke in her customary convincing manner on "Penal and Reformatory Work" showing the enormous expense of crime to the state, the two principal items being the cost of courts and prisons.

The counties pay the expenses of the superior courts, salaries of sheriffs and clerks of courts. Court buildings are maintained at great expenditure. In 1900 Norfolk County alone paid out for prisons $22,210; minor courts $10,500 and superior courts another $22,000 which with sheriffs and clerks salaries, truant schools, etc., make a total over $60,000. The county tax was $165,000 of which 36.4 per cent was for crime expenses.

The overwhelming number of commitments has been for drunkenness and for other misdoings, a large proportion may be fairly regarded as resulting from inebriety, namely, assault and battery, vagrancy, larceny idle and disorderly conduct, etc. which constitutes 25 of 31 offences in question.

Environment in its broader sense is the direct or remote cause of a large percentage of crime and a large majority of the world's criminals today have become such through vicious home influences, corrupt associations, drinking to excess and poverty along with other reasons too numerous to specify but so intimately related each to the other and flow together and form under the general term of "environment" one vast criminal incubator from which are hatched perhaps ninety per cent of the prison population.

Crime is a curable disease, and the criminal must be protected from himself. Such a change of influences as will form in him at least a perception of better things must be effected. The criminal is not an instance. He is a type. He is not merely a person. He is a species. He is not merely a transgressor. He is a product. He is not merely a product. He is a reproducer of his kind worsened and intensified. His moral sanitation must be regarded as of vital importance. The community must be protected from his begetting powers until he can be made a worthy citizen and allowed to become a worthy progenitor.

Mrs. Morgan spoke pleadingly of the great need of help for the discharged prisoner to help him find work and to be able to keep it, also to defend him from those temptations which occasioned his fall. Every effort should be put forth to help the man who is down and out.

* * *

STATE FEDERATION.

By invitation of the Somerville Woman's club the mid-winter meeting of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's clubs will be held in High School hall, Highland avenue, Somerville, Friday, Feb. 26, sessions at 10.30 A. M. and 2 P. M.

The second in the series of talks to homemakers will be held Thursday Feb. 18, at 3 P. M. in Perkins hall, 264 Boylston street, Boston. Stuart Chase will speak on "The Spending of the Income," which will include a discussion of budgets, household accounts and marketing.

* * *

INTERESTING THE CHILDREN.

The Literature committee of the Quincy Women's club, Mrs. Alice Maud Arnold, chairman conducted a very successful story hour for a group of children at the Public Library Sunday afternoon. The children's room was filled with interested boys and girls from the 4th, 5th and 6th grades of the Coddington school.

Miss Edith Randall read the story of "Chop Chin and the Golden Dragon" by Laura E. Richards and told a little about the Alps and a trip up the Rigi from Frank Stockton's "Personally Conducted." Her closing number was an account of children's games and sports in the Philippines, the story of the way the little children play base ball proving particularly attractive and entertaining to the children. Miss Randall lent her usual personal touch.

It is very pleasant for the committee to know that they have the cordial co-operation and interest of the Board of Trustees. It is intended to invite another group of children later on.

* * *

VISITING NURSE REPORT.

The report of visiting nurse for January is as follows: Number of visits 401; Metropolitan visits 74; patients 57; free patients 27; pay patients 26; Metropolitan patients 10: carfare $13.70; fees $61.70; first calls in obstetrics 6; doctors calling 15.

Districts visited were Quincy, West Quincy, South Quincy, Quincy Point, Wollaston, Norfolk Downs and Houghs Neck.

Donations were received of infants' clothing from Mrs. Gilbert Miller.

CLUB EVENTS

FEBRUARY.

11—Atlantic Shakespeare Society.
11—St. Chrysostom's Guild Fair.
11—W. W. Club—Board meeting
13—Day Nursery Valentine Dance.
15—Q. W. C. Parliamentary Law Class.
15—Charitable Ten—Miss Newcomb
15—Universalist Mission Circle.
16—K. C. M. Club—Miss Holden.
16—W. W. Club—Q. M. Hall.
17—Q. W. R. C. Valentine Lunch.
17—Quincy Alliance.
23—Q. W. Club—10th Anniversary.
24—Q. W. R. Club.
24—Wollaston Alliance.
24—Ladies' Ben. So. Wol. Cong.
25—Atlantic Shakespeare Society.
25—Hospital Aid—Mrs. F. H. Smith.

MARCH.

1—Adams Chapter D. R.
1—Quincy Day Nursery Association.
1—Q. W. C., Parliamentary Law.
2—K. C. M. Club, Mrs. Crane.
2—W. W. Club Musicale.
3—Quincy Alliance.
3—Wol. Aux. W. B. of M.
3—Bethany Union.
5—Q. W. C. T. U.
8—Junior Friday, Miss Holden.
8—A. P. Q. Chapter D. A. R.
9—Q. W. Club Annual.
10—L. B. So. Wol. Cong. church.
10—Wollaston Alliance.
11—Atlantic Shakespeare So.
15—Q. W. C., Parliamentary Law.
16—Wollaston Woman's Club.
16—K. C. M. Club, Dorothy Hall.
17—Quincy Alliance.
22—Junior Friday, Mrs. Lawton.
23—Quincy Women's Club.
24—Wollaston Alliance.
24—L. B. So. Wol. Cong. church.
25—Atlantic Shakespeare So.
29—Q. W. C., Parliamentary Law.

BOARD MAY HIRE ADVERTISING MAN

The suggestion of Mayor Campbell at the banquet of the Board of Trade urging a vigorous advertising campaign has taken root.

It is understood that a movement is on foot to bring an advertising expert to the Board of Trade to assist members in such a campaign. His honor also urged a more extensive and consistent use of the local press.

BRIEFS

Roger Wolcott Court 88 F. of A. held a regular meeting Tuesday evening in Hibernian hall. President Martell was in the chair.

Sons of Veterans Camp 95 and Auxiliary 3 are to observe Lincoln day Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Idella Savage, Franklin street.

Robert, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Mill street who has been very ill is improving and able to be about the house.

Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis, the reader, will read "Pollyanna" Friday afternoon and evening in the chapel of Bethany church. The reading will be illustrated with living pictures.

PARENTS OF BOY.

Mr. and Mrs. William Blanchard of Bay View street are the proud parents of a bouncing baby boy born Saturday. Mother and babe are doing well.

YOUNG MEN'S CLUB.

The Young Men's club of the Swedish Congregational church held their regular meeting Tuesday night. Three new members were added to the membership list: Gust Westrin, Carl Anderson, and Salem Kristen.

The evening's program included a paper on Edison by Russell Sandblom a short talk upon the life of Moses by Mr. Sporrong, and a poem read by Arthur Johnson.

The next meeting on Feb. 23, is to be the biggest affair of the club. A special program is being arranged.

AMATEURS NOT THERE.

Professionals took the place of amateur performers who were to furnish the entertainment at the meeting of Quincy lodge of Elks Tuesday evening. It was announced that after the regular meeting amateurs would entertain the members but none showed up although it was the opportunity of their life to establish a reputation for themselves. In their place however the members were entertained by two professionals a vocalist and monologue artist.

☞ PRATT'S BREAD is baked for those who want good bread. Grocers sell it.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Granite Shoe Store
Barnard's Bakery

BIRTHS

BLANCHARD—In Quincy, Feb. 6, a son to Mr. and Mrs. William Blanchard of Bay View street.

DEATHS

BRUCE—In Quincy, Feb. 9, Joseph M., husband of Helen M. Bruce nee Warner, in his 42nd year. Funeral from late home 1608 Hancock street, Friday Feb. 12 at 9.15 A. M. Solemn high mass of requiem at St. John's church at 10 A. M. Relatives and friends invited.

MICHAEL—In Quincy, Feb. 9, Alexander Michael in his 35th year. Funeral services at late home 23 Caledonia avenue, Friday, Feb. 12, at 2.30 P. M. 2t

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

TO LET—Apartment of five rooms and bath in new house, all modern improvements, fine location, 26 Bradford street, off Franklin street. Apply to F. Barnicoat, Quincy. 10-tf

TO LET—Half house of four rooms. Rent $10. Apply 34 Field street. 10-3t

WANTED—Cooks, second, parlor, chamber, general maids, mothers' helpers and green girls, first class positions, reliable help furnished. Oldest employment office in city, L. M. Flynn, 1522 Hancock street, Phone 2235-W. 10-3t

SHORTHAND IN 30 DAYS
WALDO'S BOSTON SHORTHAND SCHOOL
1124-25 Old South Bldg.
Day and Evening, $1.50 per week.
Main 2427 or Call In Today.
5-6t

QUINCY LODGE 413 Loyal Order of Moose

The funeral of our late brother Joseph M. Bruce, will be held from his home, 1608 Hancock street, Friday, Feb. 12 at 9.15 A. M.

Services at St. John's Church, Quincy at 10 A. M. All members are requested to attend the services.

WILLIAM B. NORRIE, Dictator.
EDWARD J. FEGAN, Sec.
Feb. 10-2t

Dr. Cooper's
Cushion Sole Shoes
The only practical Cushion Soled Shoe made for Women
Regular Price $4.50
Our Price $3.39
All Sizes and Widths in Button and Lace
Lots of Other Bargains at
GRANITE SHOE STORE
QUINCY'S SHOE MARKET

EVERYONE CAN SEE OUR BREAD

is the best. Every good Housewife appreciates the fact that it is worthy of the name of "Home Made" bread—is fresh and has a delicious taste. In fact that is true of anything you get from our bakery. It won't pay you to bake when you can get our products and service. Always
LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN
1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.

A MUSICAL TREAT
Concert by the
PIERIAN SODALITY ORCHESTRA
35 Pieces
OF HARVARD UNIVERSITY
ASSISTED BY STUDENT SOLOISTS
Auspices of Samoset Club of Wollaston
MONDAY EVENING, FEB. 15, 1915, AT 8 O CLOCK
Tickets 50 Cents Wollaston School Hall
Don't Miss It!
Feb. 10-13

Prescriptions
Just a word to acquaint you with our drug dept.; the most important part of any drug store. We take special care to make this dept. all that is the best in drugs.
We have three Registered Pharmacists, using only the best materials and at a price within reach of all.
CHAS. C. HEARN, City Square Druggist

Good Tidings Products --- at Adams Market
Canned Beans Lima, Red Kidney and Baked Pea Beans, per can .12 per dozen 1.40
Dainty Bits A cereal breakfast food made from choice grains. per pkg. .15
O. K. Peanut Butter More than double the nutritive value of beefsteak, newly made from No 1 peanuts per lb .18
Soups Nut Chowder, Nut Bouillon, Mockturpa, Nut and Tomato Bisque, Sea Shore Chowder, Imperial Bouillon. per can .10
ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980
FOY'S 2 STORES
WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

FISH! FISH!
It will pay you to visit our Fish Dept. We carry a full line of Fresh, Smoked and Salt Fish at the very lowest possible prices. Watch this space tomorrow.
QUINCY PUBLIC MARKET
1514 Hancock Street - - Kincaide's Block
Phone 1434 J. Legal Stamps Free Delivery

A WHOLE TOWN DYNAMITED!
A Volcanic Earthquake Extraordinary
Most Wonderful Photo Play Ever Filmed
--- THE SPOILERS ---
From Rex Beach's Book
Featuring Wm. Farnum and Kathlyn Williams
SPECIAL - - Richard Hussey of Quincy
Kincaide Theatre
TODAY. Afternoon and Evening 10-15-25c
8-3t

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 36 QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 11, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

ELOQUENT TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN

Hon. George H. Carter of Chelsea Speaks to Brotherhood at Bethany

BUSINESS SESSION TOO

At the regular meeting of the Bethany Brotherhood Wednesday evening Hon. George H. Carter, ex-Mayor of Chelsea spoke on "Lessons from the life of Lincoln."

There was a short business session during the first part of the evening at which President Frank W. Crane presided. Mr. Carter was then introduced and talked most interestingly on the life and character of Lincoln. In opening the speaker said:

"It is one of the hopeful signs of the times to see so many men taking an interest in church work. There is nothing more helpful for them than to study the lives of men who have been successful. On looking back into American history there are two names which tower head and shoulders above all others. Washington and Lincoln. Both were strong men. As the statue of Liberty stands at the entrance of New York harbor, so Washington stands at the entrance of this nation."

The speaker paid tribute to the character of Washington and his heroic ideas "yet he does not warm the heart as does Lincoln and Washington was a man of education and he laid his all on the altar of this country. Lincoln stands like a great mountain peak towering alone above all others, rugged and strong. As time goes on one realizes more and more the greatness of this man. His life comes to us as an inspiration of all that is noble and good, and encourages us to work hard to achieve success in life.

Born in poverty in a rough log cabin, his advantages were few and his schooling limited to less than a year. He had but few books but these were good books, like the bible and Shakespeare's works they developed his character.

"He could not boast of his ances-

(Continued on Page Six.)

TO LET

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.

22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up

Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld.

Small front office.

Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop —ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall —28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS

Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Knights Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for E. r. Kribs.
Greenleaf Block. ('Phone 2106a) Quincy

COMMITTEE IN CITY TODAY

Guests of Mayor View Fore River Channel

The legislative committee on Harbor and Lands are in Quincy today on a view of the Fore River for which an appropriation of $75,000 is asked.

The legislative committee were headed by Senator Langelier Chairman of the Harbor and Lands Committee of the Senate and Representative Sandberg chairman of the House committee and Representative Ericson.

In the Quincy party were Mayor Campbell, City Clerk Crane, Dock Commissioner F. F. Crane, President Fegan and Sec. Hall of the Board of Trade, ex-Representative P. T. Fallon, City Treasurer Curtis and representatives of the press.

Immediately on their arrival from Boston the visitors were taken to the office of Mayor Campbell where he welcomed them and expressed his pleasure at their coming. He also expressed his regrets, that owing to a previous engagement he would have to leave early but said that he would leave them in good hands. The party then visited the tombs under the First church and afterward went to Hancock hall where they were entertained at a delightful lunch by Mayor Campbell, which was served by Caterer Besse. The menu included lobster salad, chicken croquettes and green peas, bread and butter sandwiches, frozen pudding, bisque tortoni, coffee and cake.

SEN. LANGELIER WINS VICTORY

The committee on metropolitan affairs of the state senate which gave a public hearing at the state house last week on House Bill No. 729, asking for fifty thousand dollars for the construction of the Furnace Brook Parkway, reported against the bill by referring to next General Court.

Senator Langelier moved the adoption of the bill in place of the report of the committee and after a spirited debate the bill was substituted by the senate and took its first reading and was referred to the committee on ways and means.

The Metropolitan Park Commission already has one hundred thousand dollars at its disposal to begin work immediately for a continuation of the boulevard from the present end near Sailors' Home, along the shore and to Hancock street.

Because of a change in the route and the necessity of building of a bridge over Black's creek the Park Commission felt it necessary to have more money. therwise the boulevard cannot be completed to Hancock street. This appropriation will take care of the extra expense necessary to complete the work.

This is the second adverse report within a week that Senator Langelier has succeeded in ovedturning.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

Funeral Notice

Clan MacGregor No. 5, O. S. C'

members are hereby notified of the death of Clansman Alexander Michael, and are requested to meet in Clan MacGregor hall Friday, February 12th at 2 P. M., to attend the funeral which will be held from his late residence 23 Caledonia avenue.

WILLIAM CANTLAY, Chief,
ANGUS KERR, Secretary.

11-1t

ISLE OF PINES, W. I.

An association is now being formed to own 100 acres of grapefruit or 7000 trees. Join now--membership $250.00, $10.00 down and $5.00 per month. 6 pct. guaranteed for the first five years and then each member gets 85 pct. of the profits. Write for particulars.

ISLE OF PINES ASSOCIATES
170 Summer St., Boston, Mass.

Feb. 11-1m

SQUANTUM NEEDS LAND FOR PARK

Improvement Association Favors Purchase of Boston's Lot by City

PROTEST WATER RATES

A vote that the City of Quincy buy the point of land known as Squantum Head and maintain it as a public park was passed by the Squantum Improvement association at its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night in Richards Memorial hall. There was considerable criticism of the Quincy Water department as to the rates charged for water in Squantum. The meeting was a lively one and matters pertaining to the interests of Squantum were debated. Vice President James Foster presided in the absence of Councilman John R. Nelson who was attending the Quincy Board of Trade banquet Treasurer Charles Bostwick made his report showing a balance of $24 in the treasury.

The matter of the City of Quincy taking over the Squantum Head park property now owned by the City of Boston was advocated by Former President Herbert A. Smith. He said that Mayor Campbell of Quincy and Mayor Curley of Boston had been in conference over this property on which the city of Boston owes about $8,000 in unpaid taxes. According to newspaper reports Mayor Curley offered this land to the City of Quincy for park purposes for the assessed valuation of the land or about $22,000.

"It will be but a matter of five or ten years before Squantum will be built up so that it will need a public park," said Mr. Smith. "If this land is sold to private parties we don't know what the development of it would be. It is a place of great historical interest, it contains geological specimens which bring thousands of students from Harvard and other colleges to this land yearly, and looking to the future it is the only piece of park land that Squantum would have. The City of Quincy is missing a great opportunity if it allows this offer of Mayor Curley to pass."

It was voted unanimously that the Squantum Improvement association go on record in favor of the purchase of this land by the City of Quincy for park purposes. The motion further instructed the councilman of the district to confer with Mayor Campbell and see just what steps should be taken looking to the purchase of this land.

T. F. Callahan took up the matter of water rates. He said that the owners of summer cottages who come to Squantum for two or three months of the summer are taxed $10 for water. "It makes no difference if they stay but a month as they have to pay the same rate as the man who stays six months. This does not seem fair or equitable."

James H. Foster said he received a yearly bill for $14 and few weeks later received an additional bill for $11.50. He said he could not imagine what this extra bill was for.

Herman Berghaus said that when the City of Boston furnished water to Squantum the rate was $12 a year and no questions asked. He said that within the past few months he had received three different bills from the Quincy water department and could not figure where but one of them was justified. He had taken the bills back to the water department for re-adjustment.

Mr. Sprude, a market gardener, said he had received a bill for $39.50 excess water charge but he was sure he had not used anything like that amount of water.

This committee was appointed to look into the matter of water charges and report at the next meeting—Jas. H. Foster, John R. Nelson and A. Friberg.

Frank Anderson brought up the matter of paying car fares of school children. He said it cost him 50 cents a week to send his children to the Atlantic school. He felt this charge was

(Continued on Page Two.)

RUSSIAN RULE IS NOT LIBERAL

Speaker Says Turkey Foolish To Enter War

Miss Annie Kinney of Adabazar Turkey, addressing the women of Memorial church Wednesday afternoon gave some interesting information in regard to the bigotry of the Mohammedan religion.

In her reference to the war situation she was not optimistic in regard to Russia making Turkey better if it should become muster, as she said Russia had never been liberal. She felt that it was a bad mistake for Turkey to become involved, as both Germany and England had been its protector against the Russians in the past in saving Constantinople.

Miss Kenney said that when Turkey is opened up for development and higher education and civilization get to work its vast resources will surprise the world as there are great fields for copper, silver, coal and iron untouched.

Tea was served by Mrs. A. H. Hall Mrs. F. M. Spicer and Mrs G N Hight Mrs. Harry W. Read, presided.

NOVEL SCHEME TO RAISE FUNDS

The Quincy Young Women's club to show its appreciation of assistance given them in their efforts to add to the fund to equip and maintain a Recreation Room in Adams Academy has decided a novel plan to raise almost $100 among its members.

The scheme is to have one girl represent a year and be responsible for $1; 12 girls to represent the months and be responsible for 50 cents each, making $6; and 52 girls to represent the weeks of the year. Each of the "week" girls will enlist seven others to represent the days at 24 cents for the entire year. The total amount which can be raised in this way will be $94.36.

The returns will be made at the social evening on March 3rd which is to be under the direction of Miss Sadie Abrams. The scheme has met with the approval of the Young Women's club and nearly all of the weeks have been taken by the members.

COURT HEARS PETITION.

Judge Keating of the Norfolk Superior court is hearing the case of Henry Willett Safford of Quincy vs Margaret Veronica Safford of Williamston. The petition is for the annulment of marriage. The libellant alleges he was induced by fraud of the libellee to contract the marriage at Bellows Falls, Vt., Dec. 20, 1913, and that they have never lived together as husband and wife.

ROUILLARD—FINN.

John J Rouillard of 113 Copeland street and Helen L Finn of 66 Federal avenue, were married at the St. Johns parish house Wednesday evening The ceremony was performed by Fr John J. Casey. They will live in Quincy.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

SHORTHAND IN 30 DAYS
WALDO'S BOSTON SHORTHAND SCHOOL
1124-25 Old South Bldg.

Day and Evening, $1.50 per week.
Main 2427 or Call In Today.

5-6t

QUINCY LODGE 413
Loyal Order of Moose

The funeral of our late brother Joseph M. Bruce, will be held from his home, 1608 Hancock street, Friday, Feb. 12 at 9.15 A. M.

Services at St. John's Church, Quincy at 10 A. M. All members are requested to attend the services.

WILLIAM B. NORRIE, Dictator.
EDWARD J. FEGAN, Sec.

Feb. 10-2t

KNIGHTS ENTERTAIN MANY FAIR GUESTS

Merrymount Lodge Gives Annual Ladies Night at Colonial Hall

DANCING ENDS EVENING

The annual ladies' night of Merrymount lodge, Knights of Phythias was held Wednesday evening at Colonial hall and was the occasion for a large gathering of the members of the lodge and their ladies During the first part of the evening there was a short entertainment which included piano and vocal solos by J. W. Maynard of Marathorn lodge. the well known blind musician of Dorchester an address by Past Chancellor, V. Harrie, who dressed as an old man gave a sketch of Merrymount lodge as he conceived it would be in 1975. His address was humorous in nature and was received with great applause. He was followed by W. E Wallace of the Pilgrim quartette who rendered a vocal solo and by a monologue by Hammond B. Rood.

Deputy Grand Chancellor Charles S. Stevens of Washington lodge of Dorchester was then introduced and spoke briefly. thanking the members for their kind invitation to be with them and wishing them all future success The deputy was then presented with a handsome umbrella by E. Thornton Walter in behalf of Merrymount lodge Deputy Stevens in reply thanked the brothers for their most unexpected gift assuring them that he should always remember this evening as one of the gright spots in his career as a deputy.

Past Chancellor Harrie then presented Lewis N. Poland with a cut glass bowl in behalf of the lodge in appreciation of the good work he had done in increasing its membership. He also alluded to the fact that it was the fourth anniversary of the brother's marriage.

The entertainment closed with a humorous dialogue between Hammond B. Rood and Hardy A. Abbott. Both were in costume and gave an Irish dialogue.

At the close of the entertainment light refreshments were served and the evening concluded with dancing.

MOOSE HOLD BIG SMOKER

Every seat in the Quincy Adams hall and all standing room available was taken Tuesday night at the Smoke Talk given by the Quincy Lodge of Moose. The smoker consisted of three bouts and several fine vaudeville acts.

The program:

Amina—Sensational Modern Dancer.

Joe West, Monologist.

Goldie & Pemberton—Singing and Dancing

Eddie Fox—Black Face Comedian.

Haynes & Wynne—Comedians

Six Russian Dancers

Rose Shaw—Singing and Dancing.

The bouts were between Gardner of Weymouth and Carlson of South Quincy. The Quincy lad gave a very good showing for his first appearance in the local ring. The second bout was between Gillis and Marshall both of Quincy. McIntosh's lad Marshall is coming fast and is a comer. The third bout was between Barcell and Stephens also from Quincy. The bouts were all three rounds and no decisions were given.

The lodge plans to hold one of these smokers every month and a good time is promised by the committee in charge. The committee in charge of the smoke talk were Neil A. McDonald, chairman, Walter Carman secretary, John Brown, John Heffernan, Walter Buckley, Walter Darrow, James Gaudette, James Ross, Albert Williams and Martin Anderson.

OPERETTA MIKADO DECIDED SUCCESS

Presentation at Music Hall Before Large Audience Credit to Any Stage

The Mikado of Japan,	Warren A. Brown
Nanki-Poo	Frederic Kennedy
Ko-Ko. (Lord High Executioner)	Herbert W. Smith
Pooh-Bah, (Lord High Everything Else)	John E. Greene
Pish-Tush, (a Noble Lord)	Charles H. Everett
Umbrella Bearer	Sidney Crane
Yum-Yum,	Mrs. Mary Hastings Slade
Pitti-Sing, Three sisters,	Miss Angela McCarthy
Peep-Bo,	Miss Ruth Packard
Katisha, (an elderly lady)	Miss Annie Deane

Chorus of School Girls, Nobles, Guards, Coolies

CHORUS

Mrs. George Abele. Mrs. Carroll E. Bates. Miss Dorothy Brokaw, Miss Edith Chapman, Mrs. William F. Cummings, Mrs. Thomas L. Edwards, Miss Marion Edwards. Mrs. Nathan Ellis, Mrs. Frank Gilbert, Mrs. John E. Greene, Miss Marion Harmon, Mrs. Gertrude Hennessey, Mrs. William F. Hodgkinson. Mrs. Charles L Homer. Mrs. Charles Horte. Mrs. Wilson Marsh. Miss Josephine McCarthy. Miss Florence McDonald, Mrs. J. L. MacDonald. Mrs. Edward L. Mitchell, Jr., Miss Hattiemay Mitchell, Miss Dorothy Packard. Miss Ella Packard. Miss Gladys Parlee, Miss Laurice Penniman, Mrs. George Pfaffmann. Mrs. Samuel J. Ripley, Miss Annabel Troupe. Mrs. Wilfred O. White. Miss Eleanor Whittemore, Miss Claudia Wilson, S. B. Bates, F. H. Breslyn. William F Cummings. G. B. Curran. Thomas L. Edwards. William Edwards. Ryder Gay. David Hanson. William F. Hodgkinson C. L. Homer, W. A. Mann. Robert Prouty, E. G. Rhodes, Wilfred O. White.

Operas may come and operas may go but "The Mikado" will continue to be the same rare, mirthful favorite for many years to come if each re-appearance is marked by anything like the distinction which made the presentation Wednesday night under the auspices of the Quincy Women's club the high water mark for affairs of the kind in this city.

This is high praise but it is deserved. The strength of the production lay in the fact that every part was well taken. In the principal parts, since most of them were played by professionals or at least by those whose experience lifted them out of the strictly amateur ranks, excellence might perhaps have been taken for granted. And yet that in itself would not have been enough. Complete success in a light opera is impossible without a first class chorus. The chorus Wednesday night measured up to the highest standards. Always in perfect unison and harmony the songs seemed to be the outpouring of one voice.

"The Mikado" itself is a worthy product of Gilbert and Sullivan, whose operettas in recent years have had many rivals but, so far as we can recall, no equals. It is pure comedy, tuneful comedy, not a collection of songs and jokes as are so many of the latter day efforts. An executioner who seeks to save the man he is supposed to execute produces a situation which is delightful absurdity; all the more an absurdity when the prospective victim chances to be a rival and favored suitor.

The Mikado of Japan is much perturbed when he realizes that his realm has not been blessed with a single execution for a whole year. He notifies the Lord High Executioner, who rejoices in the name of Ko-Ko, that failure on his part to hold an execution within a month will result in the removal of Ko-Ko's "coco" and the degrading of the city into a village. Ko-Ko objects to being himself the subject of the headsman because as he expresses it such a course would not only be decidedly awkward but his attempt to cut off his own head might be dangerous.

Ko-Ko is not a bad sort when one gets to know him. As he admits himself he has never conducted the execution of even a fly and the proper way to exercise the art of headsman is not to be learned in a day. However, he makes a compact with Nanki-Poo, son of the Mikado himself but sufficiently disguised for an operetta to pass off as a minstrel. As a minstrel the executioner knows him. He also learns to his regret that the mintrel is in love with the beautiful Yum Yum, his ward and wife-to-be. Nanki-Poo, it is agreed, shall marry Yum-Yum for a month. Then he shall gracefully retire, be decapitated, and leave the sorrowing widow for the headsman to wed. It is then discovered that the widow of a man who is executed must be buried alive with her husband.

This discovery greatly grieves the kind-hearted executioner and he is sore perplexed. But it all comes out right in the end, except for the executioner who marries Katisha, an elderly lady in love with Nanki-Poo and the

(Continued on Page Six.)

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Friday fair and warmer. Saturday cloudy.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.46
Sun sets	5.12
Length of day	10.26
Moon rises	6.03
High water, A. M.	9.45
High water, P. M.	10.15
Days increase	1 hr. 20 minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.33 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	38 degrees
Feb. 11, 1914,	15 degrees
Feb. 11, 1913,	28 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—37.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

WEDNESDAY LEDGER CLUB NEWS

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the
TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

ENGLISH IDIOMS.

It seems strange that foreigners coming here without the slightest knowledge of the English language learn so quickly to understand it. An English text book for foreigners is full of exceptions, idioms and irregularities that would discourage a student of any new language. Yet these immigrants come here and without these text books, learn in a remarkably short time to carry on their business. How do they do it?

How can a newcomer, hired on a farm for instance, know what to do when the farmer says to him, "Get an axe and chop that tree down, then chop it up?" And is it a wonder that another such hired man after being told repeatedly to "water the horse" astounded his employer one day by asking if he should "milk the cat?"

Even the foreigners who come here after studying the language, have their difficulties. The English studied abroad is the language of Chaucer, Shakespeare, and the like. They come with a most beautiful vocabulary of words seldom used in the workaday world. One poor woman came thus armed and felt very secure travelling in Boston alone. She boarded a car without trouble, but when she reached her destination she called to mind her English vocabulary to make it known that she wanted to get off. So majestically she arose and addressed the conductor thus, "Sir, cease the vehicle, I wish to dismount."

THE LIBRARY ON SUNDAY.

The Brockton Enterprise remarks editorially: "Keeping the Public Library upon on Sunday is likely to be a very popular move. It will enable a lot of people to pass away pleasantly a few hours that might otherwise be dull, and the place will also be a warm and cheerful spot for some excellent people who perhaps find their rooms a little quiet and a little cold to occupy all through a bitter winter's day."

It is extremely doubtful whether this is the main purpose of the Sunday opening. The library reading room should be the place for anyone who wanted to read or study quietly, to find papers, reference books, magazines or novels at their disposal. It should not be a "warm and cheerful spot" for people to gather simply to pass away the time. That purpose would bring in the element which would doubtless disturb the seekers of quiet reading, and would make the trained desk assistant merely an officer to preserve order.

Such a presentation as that given by the Quincy Women's club Wednesday night can hardly be too highly praised. This sort of thing is good for the city. It fosters a commuity spirit which is disinctly desirable. If Quincy can achieve something worth while as a recreation it is not unfair to assume that Quincy can achieve something worth while in a more serious way. Excellence is always encouraging; it indicates life.

---

ii A bill has been introduced in the Kansas legislature making it a misdemeanor for a woman under 45 years of age to use cosmetics or wear earrings. It would be desirable to have a bill introduced in the Kansas legislature, and i nthe legislature of every other state in the union, providing a severe penalty, perhaps extermination by some sure and painful method, for legislators who take up valuable time with freak bills.

The governor of Rhode Island has found a way to help the problem of unemployment. Early in March 400 or more idle men and women will be employed in taking the 1915 state census. This is the much earlier than the census has been taken for over 100 years, but Gov. Beeckman realizes the immediate dire need of work for the unemployed.

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con

COULD NOT LAND ON BRITISH COAST

Speaker Says Submarines Would Destroy Any Enemy That Tried

TALK ILLUSTRATED.

An interesting sidelight was thrown on the present European conflict when Charles H. Bedell, speaking before the Wollaston Unitarian club Tuesday evening on "Submarines" declared England to be absolutely immune from foreign invasion.

"England," he said, "has over a hundred submarines and with them can protect her entire coast from an invading army.

"A hostile power would have to send a half a million men for the work and a vessel that can carry five thousand men and their equipment is a large vessel. This would mean a hundred ships.

"How long would it take them to land? It would be nothing short of a week's job and the submarine would have the chance of its life during this time.

"England could certainly stop a landing army with its submarines thereby liberating its battleship fleet for attacks in other parts of the world."

Mr. Bedell declared the recent report of a submarine sunk by gun fire to be erroneous. The submarine in action offers a target practically impossible to hit. The boat in question, while suddenly coming to the surface, was run down by a battleship.

Mr. Bedell, who is connected with the Electric Boat company of New London, Conn., opened his lecture by telling how the imaginery conditions discribed by Jules Verne in his "Twenty thousand leagues under the sea" differed from the actual conditions in force at the present day.

An interesting history of submarines was given, from Bushnell's crude craft tried in 1775 to the later efforts of Robert Fulton in 1801, Van Bibber in 1850 and the davits used by the Confederacy in the Civil War.

Hundreds were designed but almost none were satisfactory until J. G. Holland came along and discovered why previous efforts had been unsuccessful. The difficulty had lain in the placing and shifting of weights.

Many of the submarines built by the Holland Submarine Boat company, a subsidiary of the Electric Boat company, were shown on the screen, each accompanied by an interesting description.

Pictures were shown, ranging from the little "Holland" of 73 tons displacement and 53 feet in length to the present models, 263 feet long with a tonnage of 1454.

The intricate masses of machinery in a submarine were shown and their method of operation fully described. The lecture closed with an interesting discussion of the question of air and breathing.

The largest attendance of the season greeted the speaker and the questions which followed showed the interest of the members.

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

The High school hockey team played a "walk away" game against Canton High Tuesday afternoon on the Cunningham Rink. The score was 11—1 in their favor. Because of the one sidedness of the game it was very uninteresting. "Joe" Simpson of the winners showed some real playing and made seven of the eleven goals. The score was 6—1 at the end of the first half and in the second half Captain Robertson played most of his subs. The game lacked any sign of "pep" especially on the side of Canton. Pond showed signs of development as did "Park" Field, who only allowed one goal to get by him during the first half when Canton was at its best. The Milton lineup was: lw Simpson; rw Luce; c Pond; r Robertson; cp Welch; p Crowell Sprague; g Driscoll, Field.

The Milton Academy septet succeeded in defeating the Newton High team Tuesday afternoon on the Cunningham rink 3—2 after a hard fought game. Both teams did all of their scoring in the first half. The second half was a battle royal in which both teams did some excellent playing Felton and Cabot were the Milton stars. The poor condition of the ice hindered several well aimed shots. Newton's goal made some fine stops and prevented the score from getting larger. The Academy lineup was lw Humphrey; rw Cabot; c Trainer; r Broughton; cp Johnson; p Clark; g Thurber.

The Ladies Aid Auxiliary of the East Congregational church entertained the Ladies Aid society in the vestry, Monday evening. Several songs were furnished by the Glee Club made up of auxiliary members, Mrs. C. Crawford Hollidge and Mrs Marshall Abbot poured.

SQUANTUM NEEDS

(Continued from Page One.)

a hardship which should not be borne by the Squantum residents.

James H. Sumner agreed with Mr. Anderson and said that owing to the fact that there are no accommodations for the children in the Atlantic school when they eat their lunches at noon that he did not allow his children to remain at the school. He said the matter of car fares and lack of supervision of the children who do remain at Atlantic and eat their lunches was one which should be investigated.

It was voted that the school committee of which John Holmes is chairman attend the next meeting of the Quincy School committee and place before the committee the two complaints.

It was voted that the association hold a whist party in Richards Memorial hall on the evening of February 2d and the following committee was appointed to arrange the affair—Frank Anderson, chairman, Charles Bostwick, William Spargo, Perley Bostwick and John Holmes.

T. F. Callahan referred to the washouts on Huckins avenue caused by the recent heavy rains. He said the catch basins had been placed too high to catch the water that washes down from the side streets onto Huckins avenue and suggested that this matter be called to the attention of the street department in time so that it could be remedied before the street is finished Frank Anderson spoke of the heavy wash of water across East Squantum street. It was voted that the following committee take up this matter with the Public Works Commissioner John R. Nelson, John Holmes and Frank Anderson.

The members discussed he condition of Dorchester street which has been so washed by the winter tides that it is now claimed to be unsafe for travel. Mr. Callahan reported that the matter of fixing up this street was too great an expense to expect from the City of Boston and that it was a matter which the City of Quincy should look after.

The meeting adjourned at 10 o'clock.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

The National Association of Patriotic Instructors of which Miss Eva M. Brown of this city is a member has issued the following birthday proclamation:

Brighter with each passing year glows the halo which history and posterity have placed above the brow of Abraham Lincoln, and with the recession of the troublous period in which his great work was done, the sublime character of the man stands out, clear cut and distinct, against the dark background of the civil war.

A half-century has elapsed since his soul, attuned to gentleness and good-will, emerged from sorrow and gloom to rejoice in the beginning of what has proved an enduring peace between the warring sections, which are now living together in harmony and with ever-increasing unity and fraternity. This period of triumph was short, ere, with his great work completed, he passed to his reward.

Time, however, has vindicated his judgment, his spirit of forbearance and kindliness, and a grateful nation will this year pay added homage to his memory, in the observance of the one hundredth and sixth anniversary of his natal day.

In reverent thankfulness to God that in our hour of extreme need, a man was raised who could successfully and mercifully cope with the conditions which threatened to disrupt our country, all of the people of all the states may well unite in loving tribute to the memory of Abraham Lincoln, and rejoice that under his wise leadership we were guided into the path that led to peace and reunion, and that whatever destiny awaits, we shall meet it as one nation, under one flag, the Stars and Stripes.

Masquerade Costumes
For Rent
Children's Costumes in variety
MRS. R. E. WOODWARD
155 Billings Road
Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs
Feb. 3-tf

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Mrs. Thomas of Farrington street has moved to Medford.

Miss Mary McGilvray of Bay View street has accepted a position as bookkeeper at Dorley Bros. market on River street.

Rev. A. G. Sporrong will conduct the regular midweek services at the Swedish Congregational church this evening.

Friday night Rev. A. G. Sporrong of the Swedish Congregational church will hold services Friday at the West Duxbury church.

Miss Dora Staples of Camden, New Jersey formerly of Quincy is the guest of Miss Helen Lee of Bay View street for a few weeks.

Charles French, assistant purchasing agent at the Fore River Shipbuilding corporation is kept to his home on Washington street with an attack of the lumbago.

Mrs. Alfred H. Remick of Edgemere road entertained her neighbors Tuesday at luncheon, followed by auction bridge. The luncheon table was beautifully decorated with an artistic centrepiece of jonquils. The hostess presented Mrs. Arthur W. Harris with a lovely Dresden plate for having the highest score.

Friends of Mrs. Bert Miller who had an urgent call to the telephone during the play at Music hall Wednesday afternoon are pleased to learn that it was not of a serious nature, in fact was unnecessary being a mistake on the part of the one answering the telephone during Mrs. Miller's absence from home.

Gov. Walsh has written Willard J. Dunham of Houghs Neck and Everett a personal letter complimenting him on his work as gun pointer during the recent tour of the Massachusetts Naval Brigade. Young Dunham was pointer of the gun on the Chicago which established a wonderful record and brought the mark to this state.

The Epworth League of the Wollaston Methodist church held their regular meeting and social in the vestry of the church. After the business meeting was over Mrs. N. T. Lane the fourth vice-president took charge of the games which included "Hunt the ring," "Grunt" and "Animated Words." Miss Violet Smith played Chopin's Valse in C Sharp Minor and Smith's "Chanson Rousse." Tea and cake were served.

Posters are out for the reading of "Pollyanna" which is to be given in the Wollaston School hall, Friday "Pollyanna" or "The Glad Game," is to be interpreted by Mrs. Lillian Pike Everest. The reading will be in three parts as follows:

Part 1. The Game. Its Invention
Part. 2. The Game. Its Players
Part. 3. The Game. Its Testing and its Triumph. Mrs. Everes comes well recommended from Plattsburgh, New York. The press notices from places where she has read are very flattering. Carl D. Hopkins who is to assist in the program, is considered one of the best tenors in this part of the country. He is not altogether unknown to Wollaston people as he is a member of the Schumann Quartette. Miss Marguerite Louise Holbrook will be the pianist.

TEAM BREAKS DOWN.

A three horse team with a fifteen ton stone on it broke down in front of Casey's Market on Copeland street, Tuesday forenoon and tied up the street car lines at this point for about four hours. The passengers had to shift cars at this point.

The axle broke off clean and it was a very difficult task to remove the stone to another wagon. The wagon was owned by P. W. Mannex and the driver was Joseph Lemieux. The stone was being taken from Mannex's quarry to Lavers Granite Company's shed on Copeland street where it was to be sawed.

HEAR BILLY SUNDAY.

Quincy People Find Evangelist Is Arousing Philadelphia.

Dr. and Mrs. William McLaughlin of Billings street have returned from their visit in Philadelphia. They attended one of Sunday's meetings when in the city. And while they can not endorse the Sunday methods they think it is stirring the city so that many are thinking about religion.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is liked by the most discriminating people. Grocers sell it.

TELLS OF FAR OFF ALASKA

Men's Forum Enjoy Supper and Entertainment

Members of the Men's Forum were guests of the Norwoll club, an organization of young men, at the Park and Downs church, Tuesday evening where a supper was served and a travelogue by Hon. J. Wilder Fairbanks enjoyed.

Alan Painten, president of the Norwoll club, presided and speeches were made by Stanley Smith, vice president, President Breen of the Forum Rev. Mr. Ayers, pastor of the church and Clerk Crichton, leader of the Norwoll club.

A musical program, consisting of solos by Alan Painten and Artemus Dingwell and vocal selections by the Norwoll quartet, were enjoyed. Composing the quartet were: Arthur Bullock, Artemus Dingwell, Frank Dunham and Alan Painten.

The reading of the Norwoll Record the monthly organ of the club, by Frank Dunham proved a bright spot in the evening's entertainment.

In his travelogue Mr. Fairbanks carried his hearers to far off Alaska and with the aid of the stereopticon told much of the history and natural characteristics of the land.

The Klondike with its goldfields and the rapid development of Seattle as a commercial city were described.

The account included a visit to the Canadian Rockies and a dissertation on the strategic points in the Pacific ocean which the United States should hold.

THE JOHN HANCOCK.

The largest Life Insurance Company in the Commonwealth reports progress all along the line.

The Directors of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston have just rendered their annual report for 1914 to its members.

The John Hancock is today one of the great institutions of the United State. Its gross assets as of December 31st last totalled the stupendous sum of over $116,305,000. which less the reserve for policies required by law, and sundry minor liabilities, leaves a safety margin of unassigned funds over and above the requirements of the law, of over seven and a quarter million dollars.

The past year has been an eminently satisfactory one to the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company. Like the fifty-two preceding years of its history, the Company records progress in every direction. Not only has its business increased, but the expenses of conducting it have decreased bringing the net cost of insurance to its policyholders to a very low point.

Last year the Massachusetts Insurance Department completed its regular triennial examination of the Company as required by law. The examination was conducted with the thoroughness characteristic of the Department, the chief examiner in concluding his report stating that the Company was "thoroughly organized and honestly and efficiently administered.

COL. ANDERSON SPEAKER.

Col. Edward Anderson was the guest of Abigail Phillips Quincy chapter, D. A. R. at the February meeting held at the home of Mrs. Edward E Jameson Beach street, Wollaston

Col Anderson who commanded the 14th Indianna Cavalry during the Civil War, spoke on "The Early Days of the Civil War and the Causes that Brought on that Great Struggle"

His acquaintance with Abraham Lincoln enabled him to tell many personal anecdotes not commonly known. Extremely interesting was the account of the troublous times in Kansas where Col. Anderson went with a company of Massachusetts men to assist John Brown.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. K Barker and Mrs. W. F. Jones, served ices and cakes

NEW TENNIS CLUB.

A tennis club is being organied by Atlantic young men and within a week it is expected that a large number will have signified their intention of joining. Actual organization will take place within a few weeks. The present plans call for the construction of four double courts. Clifton Hill has been appointed chairman of the committee to prepare a vaudeville show to be given in the near future.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

Furniture Storage Warehouse
Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.
Rates $2---$3---$4 per month
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.
Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.-tf

SUNNY SIDE of LIFE

THE REAL REASON.

Two men came running at top speed toward the station, where the train that would carry them to town in a few minutes was steaming ready to start. As they reached the station floor the whistle sounded, and the train was off. Gasping for breath, one said to the other, with cheery good humor:

"Eh, Jim, tha didna run fast enough."

"Yea, Ah did." Jim instantly replied "but Ah didna start soon enough."—Manchester Guardia.

FINE CHIVALRY.

An Irishman in France had been challenged to a duel.

"Sure," he cried. "we'll fight with shillelahs."

"That won't do," cried his second, "as the challenged party you have the right to choose the weapons, but chivalry demands that you should decide upon a weapon with which Frenchmen are familiar.

"Is that so?" said the generous Irishman; "then we'll fight it out with guillotines."—Tit-Bits.

NO DOUBT.

Client—Good gracious, what a caricature!

Painter—Excuse me; that's a portrait of myself.

Client—Oh, lifelike; very lifelike. I'm sure!—Fliegende Blatter.

WHAT HAPPENED THEN.

"Miss Bolde." said the shy student to the fair coed on the other end of the sofa, "if I were to throw you a kiss, what would you say?"

"I'd say you're the laziest man I ever met."

THOUGHT SHERMAN RIGHT.

The Society Dame—Do you think there'll be any war?

The Reporter—No, madam.

The Dame—Then I wish you'd say that my dearest wish is to go to the front as a Red Cross nurse—and here is my picture.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

FOR A RAINY DAY.

Young Sandy returned home from the fair with a barometer which he had purchased, and which he showed to his mother with much pride, explaining that it was a "machine for telling when it's goin' to rain."

"Losh me!" exclaimed the good dame; "sic an extravagance! What far dae ye suppose a marcifu' Prividence gied yer feyther the rehumatism?"—Argonaut.

SLIGHT MISUNDERSTANDING.

A gentlemen who had married his cook was giving a dinner party and between the courses the good lady sat with her hands spread on the tablecloth.

Suddenly the burr of conversation ceased and in the silence that followed a young man on the right of his hostess said, pleasantly:

"Awful pause!"

"Yes, they may be," said the old-time cook, with heightened color; "and yours would be like them if you had done half my work."—New York American.

HIS DEFINITION.

Knicker—What is a flat?

Bocker—A flat consists of a janitor entirely surrounded by cubby holes.—New York Times.

To Cure a Cold in One Day
Take LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE Tablets Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c.

NATURAL MISTAKE.

She—Is there any alcohol in cider?

The Boob (looking around wildly)—Inside who?—Pelican.

TAKING NO CHANCES.

An old miser in Athens, Ga., hated to part with money, and to the physician who was just bringing him around from a long illness he said one day: "Ah, doctor, we have known each other such a long time I don't intend to insult you by settling your account in cash, but I have put you down for a handsome legacy in my will"

The doctor looked thoughtful. "Allow me," he said, "to look at that prescription again. I wish to make a slight alteration in it."—Norfolk Ledger Dispatch.

A PRACTICAL EXPERIMENT.

The friends of a certain distinguished professor frequently dropped into his laboratory for a chat in the evening. Generally they found him busily engrossed in some experiment with some oddly-named bacteriological micro-organism. One evenin, when two friends called, they found the professor bending anxiously over a spirit lamp, on which a small pot was bubbling.

"Well," said one of the callers.

"What is it tonight"

"Guess," murmured the professor.

"Micrococci?" asked one.

"No."

"Pneumococci?" asked the other.

"No."

"Spirochaetae?"

"No."

The callers ran the scale of microorganism as far as they knew it. Then one of them said:

"Well, we give it up! What is it?"

The professor smiled blandly. "Sausages!"—Boston Herald.

ST. STEPHENS VISITATION

St. Stephen's Royal Arch Chapter received an unofficial visitation at its regular convocation Wednesday evening from Right Excellent Olin D. Dickerman of Abington, district deputy grand high priest of the seventh capitular district. The deputy was accompanied by Excellents W. W. Whitmarsh, William Pierce, Charles F. Dudley and Bertram A. Thompson, of Pilgrim Chapter of Abington and Excellent Edward H. Kavanagh of St. Paul's Chapter of Boston. In addition the deputy was accompanied by a number of companions from Pilgrim chapter.

The deputy and his suite were escorted to the lodge room by a committee who included Excellents John H. Whitehead, Eben Hardy, John Morgan, William H. Parry, Walter E. Piper, Lawrence Duncan and Companion Joseph L. Whiton. The distinguished visitors were received by Excellent Arthur F. Raymond, high priest of St. Stephen's Chapter, who extended a royal welcome to the visitors. The work of the evening was the Mark Master degree which was exemplified upon several candidates. At the close of the work the right excellent briefly addressed the companions, thanking them for the hearty welcome which they had extended to him on this unofficial visit.

An adjournment was then made to the banquet room where a hot supper was served after which Carl D. Hopkins entertained the companions with several solos, being accompanied on the piano by Companion Herbert Y. Follett. The evening closed with chorus singing by the companions present.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter s Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TERS DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

If about to build or repair, specify
NEPONSET SHINGLES
Durable, Artistic and Fireproof, nothing better.
Surely call or write for samples.
See them and be convinced.
GROSSMAN'S BUILDING SUPPLY HOUSE
"The House of Quality"
37 Federal Ave. Tel. 979-R Quincy Quincy Adams, Mass.

THE EDUCATIONAL FIELD

THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
HIGH SCHOOL — PUBLIC SCHOOLS
WOODWARD INSTITUTE — PAROCHIAL SCHOOL

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES.

EUROPEAN WAR.

Three small books by three of the best known English writers, bearing one the British view, have recently been added to the already long list of books on the subject. "War that Will End War," by Herbert George Wells; Great Britain and the Next War," by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle; and "Liberty; a Statement of The British Case," by Arnold Bennett, are all books by authors whose writings are very well worth reading.

"War that Will End War," is marked by the fairness of the point of view from which it is written, giving not only the English case but also the German. "Great Britain and the Next War," written early in 1913, before the war, is a warning to the Britains to be prepared, and is based on Bernhardi's well known book "Germany and the Next War," which has already been noted in this column, together with a great many other books on all the other countries involved. "Liberty" is a statement of why Great Britain is at war, and begins with an historical account of the events which preceded the outbreak.

"The present act of Germany in initiating the European war of 1914 will always be connected in history with the teachings of Treitschke." This is what Adolf Hausrath affirms in his introduction to "Treitschke, his Doctrine of German Destiny and International Relations," one-third of which book is devoted to a life of Treitschke, told by Hausrath, and the remaining two-thirds to Treitschke's own views on German policies in regard to the army, international law colonization and to Austria, Russia and the neutral states of Belgium Holland, Switzerland.

Five more books in the Countries and Peoples series, previously described in the Notes, have been added. These are on the countries engaged in the war, and include:

"Germany of the Germans," by R. M Berry.

"Belgium of the Belgians," by D C. Boulger.

"Turkey of the Ottomans." by Lucy Garnett.

"France of the French," by E. H Barker.

"Servia of the Servians," by Chedo Mijatovich.

Although these books do not bear directly on the war, they are nevertheless of interest in connection with this subject, as they give much general information on the culture, government, and ideals of the peoples.

HIGH SCHOOL.

HONOR LIST 2ND QUARTER

1915—Thomas Parstow, Edna Gray, Jennie Kerner, William MacMahon, Edith Murray, Margaret Park, Beatrice Rogers, Marian Simpson.

1916—Paul Brown, Warren Crane, Mildred Harrison, Emma Kendall, Edward Likander, Hilton Marr, Annie Schlenker, Florence Wetmore, Eunice Leach.

1917—Noemi Abbiatti, Alice Charlesworth, Harry Diamond, Hildegarde Ducey, Reginald Faulkner, Katherine Gesmer, Grace Gooding, Ruth Higgins, Russell C. Johnson, Mary McCue, Henry Peterson, Isaac Wainionpaa, Priscilla White, Isabel Wragg.

1918—Elsie Broughton, Helena Buckler, Rosslyn Burgess, Henry Carlson, Medeline Coulson, David Gesmer, Flavia Gustafson, Edwin Heap, Esther Jackson, Frank Julius, Marjorie Leach Muriel Matlack, Teresa Morrell, Aubrey Nicholson, Mabel Rouche, Charles Stewart, Lillian Walters, Mary Watermann, Florence Yarmouth, Charles I. Williams.

Atherton Hough School.

The work on the addition to the Atherton Hough school has been completed and the Commissioner of Public Works has placed the order for the pupils' desks and chairs.

The large teachers' desks and library tables which are placed in each room are under process of construction at the industrial school at a cost of about one-half of what similar furnishings would cost through a supply house.

Coddington School.

A meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association of the Coddington school will be held in the assembly hall at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Ernest L. Collins, head master of the High school will speak on "After the Elementary Schools, What?"

Music b ythe Cecilian Quartet, Miss Alice Parker, 1st soprano, Miss Ada M. Williams, 2nd soprano, Miss Isabella Laing, 1st alto, Miss Florence V. Sabean, 2nd alto.

Evening Classes.

The State Board of Education notified the School Department Wednesday that it had received requests from women in Quincy for the opening of evening classes in millinery and asking as to the prospects of opening such classes. The statement was made that the classes for dressmaking now in progress were the most enthusiastic and successful of any in the state. As a matter of fact, even as late in the winter as this there are 15 or 20 women now waiting for any vacancy that may come up in either of these classes.

Wollaston School.

An interesting meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association was held Monday evening. Miss Lucy Wheelock was the speaker.

An ettendance banner has been presented to the school by a member of the association. The children are to encourage their parents to attend the meetings and the room with the best attendance wins the banner for the month. A premium is placed on fathers, as in the scoring they ocunt two points, while mothers and teachers only one. Room three is to have the banner for the next month. A large delegation of fathers is expected next month.

The class of 1915 is running a checking room in connection with the various concerts, lectures and entertainments given in the school hall. The money is to be used in buying a class picture. At date quite a sum has been realized.

Mass. Fields School.

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association will be held in the school corridor tonight at eight o'clock.

J. Gould Spofford, principal of the Quincy Industrial school will be the speaker.

The children are rehearsing da ily for the Brownie Ball, an operetta, to be given in the Wollaston school hall, Thursday and Friday evening, Feb. 18 and 19. Over 200 children will take part. Tickets for sale by the children of the school.

Because of the over crowded condition in room two the children will come only half a day begining Monday Feb. 15.

Nearly three hundred of the pupils from the High school and Woodard Institute are attending the special productions of Shakespeare given every Friday afternoon at the Boston Opera House. Through the courtesy of the Twentieth Century Club of Boston, arrangements were made whereby the pupils of the schools of Greater Boston could attend a series of such plays at one fifth the usual price.

Increase In Attendance.

The new first grades are fully up to expectations and the increased attendance which was shown throughout the first half year is being fully maintained during the present month. For January there were 403 more pupils in attendance than for the previous January, irrespective of the pupils in the Industrial shool.

Attendance Work.

During the month of January there were issued by the attendance officer 138 employment certificates t o young people between the ages of 14 and 16 and 120 educational certificates to young people between the ages of 16 and 21.

Of the 138 employment certificates issued 64 or almost half were re-issued This will gnve some idea of the instability of employment among young people. It is not at all uncommon for a child to have six or seven certificates in the course of a year.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton, Director
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings. 6-6t

John Hancock
MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS

Nearly 53 years ago the Company was chartered by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

It has seen over half a century of useful service, and this is its 52d annual statement.

Its mission has been and is to furnish life insurance to the public upon the best terms.

Though it is in the form of a corporation, it has no stock, and is conducted wholly for the benefit of the policyholders.

It has become one the strong institutions of the land—7th in point of insurance in force, 8th in point of income and 10th in point of assets, among the 270 legal reserve life companies operating in the United States.

The gross assets of the Company on December 31st, 1914, were	$116,305,468.82
The reserve for policies and for sundry minor liabilities aggregated	$109,062,538.01
The unassigned or safety funds, measured upon the Massachusetts standard, were	$7,242,930.81
The Company paid to policyholders for death claims in 1914	$7,987,287.28
The Company paid in in 1914 for matured endowments	$550,152.00
The Company paid in 1814 for surrendered policies and for dividends or abatement of cost to policyholders	$5,220,087.48
There was added to the policyholders' reserves in 1914	$8,819,672.00
The total payments to policyholders, together with the reserve addition, equalled	$22,577,198.76
The death claim, endowment and other policy payments made during 1914 averaged for each working day	$45,858.42

The Directors report that the volume of new insurance added during 1914 was ample and of good quality; that the expenses of conducting the business continued to be reduced; that the reduction in expense effected during the last seven years represents a saving of over six and one-half million dollars; that the scale of surplus return or abatement of cost to the policyholders for 1915 will be continued as in 1914; that the plan of paying all weekly premium death claims on the present high scale of benefits, which in 1914 resulted in the payment of $429,286.00 more than was called for by the policies concerned, will also be continued in 1915; and that with the intention of making such a condition ultimately permanent there has been laid aside out of the resources of the Industrial Branch this year the sum of $2,900,000.

The Directors further report that their Committee has examined the cash and the bonds held December 31st, and has found the account correct; that the securities of the Company are in good condition; that the Company holds no foreclosed real estate; that it is their continued belief that the investments of the Company are upon the very highest possible plane; and that it is a satisfaction to be able to record the conclusions of the examiner of the Massachusetts Insurance Department in his report upon the triennial examination of the Company, finished in the early part of 1914, when he said: "the company is thoroughly organized, and honestly and efficiently administered—"

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

CHARLES E. LAURIAT, Charles E. Lauriat Co.
EDWIN B. HOLMES, Second Vice-President
ARNOLD A. RAND, First Vice-President and Counsel
ROLAND O. LAMB, President
JOHN L. WAKEFIELD, Associate Counsel
WILLIAM H. WELLINGTON, Welling ton ,Scars & Co.
HARRY W. CUMNER, Cumner, Jones & Co.
WALTON L. CROCKER, Third Vice-President and Secretary
ELWYN G. PRESTON, S. S. Pierce Co.
EDWARD F. WOODS, Hinckley & Wo
GEORGE S. SMITH, Real Estate Trus
CHARLES L. AYLING, Baker, Ayling

ANNUAL REUNION ST. JOHN'S PARISH

Reception to Rev. Michael J. Owens, Pastor of St. John's Parish

LARGE NUMBER EXPECTED

The annual reunion of the members of St. Johns parish will take place this evening in Music hall and the indications point to a successful affair. For weeks augmented committees have been perfecting arrangements.

The reunion will be the first since Fr. Michael J. Owens became pastor and he, with Fr. John J. Casey and Fr. Walter A. Quinlan, curates, will be the special guests of the evening Other clergymen, as well as men prominent in the public life of the city and state have been invited.

The decorations will be one of the features of the occasion and will include 400 hand made Killarney roses. made by a committee of young ladies.

FLOOR MARSHALL AND AIDS

Floor Marshal
Michael T. Sullivan

Asst. Floor Marshals
Edward J. Parker J. N. McAnarney

Chief of Aids
Raymond Coyle

Aids
William J. Nolon
Henry T. Magee
John Mahan
James Gallagher
Byron Brown
George Fallon
John Hart
Dennis Sweeney
George Costello
Edward Desmond
Harry A. McGrath
Thomas M. Elcock
Adelard Picard
Richard Howard
Joseph G. Kelly
John P. Tierney
Michael Scanlan
John Heaney
Joseph M. Larkin
George Crotty
J. Aloysius Carey
Leo Ford
Martin Heaney
William A. Carey
Edward Gallagher
Andrew Fahey
Stephen Devaney
Alexander D. Thompson
John Ford
John Deasy
Walter Ferguson
William J. Hogan
Arthur Kelly
Leo Tierney
Henry Talbot
Thomas Sullivan
James Powers
Thomas Flaherty
Andrew Driscoll
Peter M. Sullivan
Frank Avery
Arthur Dorley
William J. Sullivan
Micheal T. Walsh
William Byron
Leo J. McMasters
Edward Durant
Matthew Fay
J. H. Sullivan Jr.
Frank Tate
Eugene McAuliffe
John Goodhue

REFRESHMENTS, SOLICITING

MRS. JOSEPH GRIFFIN, Chairman
Mrs. Michael E. Cook
Mrs. Edward J. Curtain
Mrs. Edward E. Bauet
Mrs. Edward L. Bean
Mrs. Mary Brown
Mrs. James Brogan
Mrs. Peter Cahill
Mrs. Daniel Chisholm
Mrs. T. J. Carey
Miss Ellen Conors
Mrs. J. J. O'Donnell
Mrs. Frank Hibbard
Mrs. David Barry
Mrs. Bridget Dunn
Miss Margaret Gallagher
Miss Eliza Dolan
Mrs. Roger Tanner
Mrs. Thomas McCormick
Mrs. Eugene Shine
Mrs. John Cunniff
Mrs. J. H. Dinegan
Mrs. Maurice Powers
Mrs. John King
Mrs. M. T. Sullivan
Miss Elizabeth Flynn
Mrs. Joseph Heaney
Miss Elizabeth Sullivan
Miss Nellie Collins
Mrs. John Monahan
Mrs. John Nolan
Miss Sarah Mundy
Mrs. Prince
Mrs. Daniel McGerigle
Mrs. Edward Gallagher
Mrs. Francis J. Fahy
Miss Elizabeth Garrity
Mrs. A. Stevens
Mrs. William Sullivan
Mrs. Michael O'Hara
Miss Casie Larkin
Mrs. J. J. McAnarney
Mrs. Annie Hadley
Mrs. Rose Reed
Mrs. Patrick Driscoll
Mrs. Julia Coyle
Mrs. David DeCoste
Miss E. Hernan
Mrs. Wm. Reardon
Mrs. Daniel Reardon
Miss M. Gavin
Mrs. Chas. Hearn
Mrs. D. Deasy
Mrs. J. D. Griffin
Miss Mary Carey
Miss Mary Lyons
Miss Annie Walsh
Mrs. T. J. Carey
Mrs. Dunn
Miss Mary Heaney
Mrs. Norris
Miss Catherine Roach
Miss Mary Harkins
Mrs. Wm. Walsh
Mrs. Wm. Donovan
Mrs. Margaret Mahan
Miss Nona O'Connor
Miss Lou Crowley
Mrs. Broughton
Mrs. Gallagher
Miss Eliza Dolan
Miss Ella Keefe
Miss Mary Dinegan
Miss E. McCarthy
Mrs. McDermot
Miss Alice Faircloth
Miss Molly Parker
Miss Gertrude Carrol
Miss Ellen Connors
Miss E. Ring
Mrs. T. Dumphy
Mrs. Otho O'Leary
Mrs. Hart
Miss Charlotte Donovan
Mrs. Lund
Mrs. Swine
Mrs. Peter Cahill
Mrs. James McGrath
Mrs. Chisholm
Mrs. Osborne
Mrs. McConarty
Mrs. Hartery
Mrs. Wm. Howard
Mrs. Stewart McKenzie
Mrs. Daniel Sullivan
Miss Mary Cummins
Miss Louise Scully
Miss Mary Griffin
Mrs. R. T. Foye
Mrs. Murdock Morrison
Mrs. D. Kelleher
Mrs. O'Brien
Miss Agnes Deasy
Mrs. Mullen
Mrs. Curtin
Mrs. McCormick
Miss Nellie Scully
Miss Margaret Sweeney
Miss Evelyn Moriarty
Miss Malone
Mrs. Sullivan
Miss Eliza Levangie
Miss Mabel Delory
Mrs. Kennedy
Mrs. Milton Kelley
Miss Helen Connors
Mrs. Dolan
Miss Mary Collagan
Miss Josephine Collagan
Miss Teresa MacCormack
Miss Mary Avery
Mary Sullivan
Mary McGue
Marguerite Gavin
Emma Biganess
John E. Lynch
John Tierney
Mary Harkins
Catherine Griffin
Mary Lyons
Annie Walsh
Antonia Picard
Josephine McCarthy
Sarah Mundy Gavin
Micheal Barry
Waldo Galligan

DOOR, CLOAK AND TICKET.

EDWARD J. LENNON, Chairman
Murdock Morrison
Patrick W. Driscoll
Daniel Chisholm
James Cantfill
Edward Powers
Joseph Austin
James E. Burke
Michael D. Dewey
James Boudreau
David E. Curtin
David Warner
John J. McVay
Daniel Sweeney
Edward McGinty
John J. McDonnell

DECORATION

MISS NELLIE DESMOND, Chairman
Elizabeth Mahoney
Margaret Heaney
Clara De Coste

PRINTING

DANIEIL DONOVAN, Chairmen.
Robert T. Foye
Thomas J. McGrath
John Goodhue

(Continued on Page Six.)

NOTICE!

This space will be devoted each day—Not to advertise cheap grade at full value but Johnson Bros. Quality goods at a sure low Price.

FOR SATURDAY THE 13TH,

With each purchase of one pound of HASKELL & ADAMS private growth coffee at 35c a lb. we will give FREE one half pint jar of best Deerfoot Cream.

JOHNSON BROS., City Square.

EVERYONE CAN SEE OUR BREAD

is the best. Every good Housewife appreciates the fact that it is worthy of the name of "Home Made" bread—is fresh and has a delicious taste. In fact that is true of anything you get from our bakery. It won't pay you to bake when you can get our products and service. Always

LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN

1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 2.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
Mrs. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS— Branschied & Marten.
Hughes & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

MAKARIA BOYS SMASH RECORDS

Set New Marks in Quincy Church League

QUINCY CHURCH LEAGUE.

Davis—4 Rand—0.
Pilrgims—3 O. U. B.—1.
Makaria—3 Clarke—1.

The Makaria team members smashed all the existing records in the church league at Wardwells Wednesday evening. Nicolls set a new single at 140 and a new three string total at 352. The team made a mark of 509 as a record team single and 1486 as a record total. The matches were faster than any since the schedule opened.

MAKARIA—3

Nicoll	140	104	108	352
Jones	96	93	89	278
Prescott	91	91	100	282
McFarlane	83	88	95	266
Brookes	92	99	117	308
	502	475	509	1486

CLARKE—1

Tinney	98	96	84	278
McDonald	93	106	113	312
Moyle	80	99	93	272
Craig	70	103	88	261
Falconer	90	90	84	264
	431	494	462	1387

	Won	Lost	Pinfall
Makaria	39	13	17387
Rand	36	16	16896
Davis	31	21	17082
Clarke	22	30	16583
Pilgrim	19	33	15370
O. U. B.	9	43	15813

High Single String Nicoll 140.
High 3 Strings Nicoll 352.
High Team Single Makaria 520.
High Team Total Makaria 1506.

PILGRIM—3

Moe	94	61	88	243
Melville	90	78	88	256
Lang	105	88	99	292
MacQueen	86	90	83	259
Dobos	93	104	103	300
	468	421	461	1350

O. U. B.—1

Frost	80	85	68	233
Sprague	113	67	71	251
Moody	116	80	93	289
Dorley	97	78	84	259
Dorley	85	78	84	247
	491	388	400	1279

DAVIS—4

Brown	103	107	95	305
Smith	105	97	96	298
Harling	89	96	106	291
Neil	100	81	105	286
Dut	95	95	76	266
	492	476	478	1446

RAND—0

Cahill	85	98	100	273
Hatfield	100	68	83	251
Cahill	92	84	88	264
Mackay	90	82	72	244
Cahill	120	100	89	309
	487	432	432	1341

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

TENNIS CLUB LEAGUE GAMES

Monroes Win Again at the Coliseum

LEAGUE STANDING.

Capt. Monroe	46	18
Capt. Hoxie	43	20
Capt. Jenner	38	26
Capt. Geddes	35	29
Capt. Green	28	36
Capt. Baker	25	39
Capt. Estes	23	41
Capt. Litchfield	18	46

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

Capt. Estes—3 Capt. Jenner—1.
Capt. Hoxie—3 Capt. Geddes—1
Capt. Monroe—3 Capt. Litchfield—1
Capt. Baker—2 Capt. Green—2

The Monroes and Litchfields, first and last position teams of the Wollaston Tennis club, rolled each other in the league matches at the Coliseum alleys Wednesday evening and the former won 3 to 1. It looked in the beginning as though the submarine five would cripple their opponents but they couldn't stand the pace. Baker's team took only one team single but it topped the Green's mark by enough to take the team total.

C. BAKER, CAPT. NO. 3 TEAM.

Gardner	84	84	84	252
Oldham	80	89	80	249
Redlon	92	87	76	255
Hutton	69	95	98	262
C. Baker	85	87	96	268
	410	442	434	1286

GREEN, CAPT. NO. 5 TEAM.

McLean	84	84	84	252
A. Davis	88	80	84	252
Weld	85	93	93	271
Hiller	74	93	88	255
Green	78	120	81	279
	409	470	430	1309

LITCHFIELD, CAPT. NO. 2 TEAM

Holmes	85	75	65	225
Bates	62	81	88	231
Crossley	82	102	90	274
Nickerson	81	73	80	234
Litchfield	110	93	80	283
	420	424	403	1247

MONROE, CAPT. NO. 4 TEAM

Brown	89	89	89	267
Baker	72	101	80	253
Raymond	81	81	81	243
Pinkham	80	82	83	245
Monroe	92	92	84	268
	414	445	417	1276

HOXIE, CAPT. NO. 6 TEAM

Brigham	70	78	90	238
Fleichner	84	86	78	248
Chase	74	77	90	241
Powers	83	85	96	264
Hoxie	91	91	91	273
	402	417	445	1264

GEDDES, CAPT. NO. 8 TEAM

Albee	83	92	76	251
Emery	84	85	81	250
Seiders	57	80	84	221
W. Smith	92	85	81	258
Geddes	75	86	72	233
	391	428	394	1213

JENNER, CAPT. NO. 1 TEAM

Murray	90	89	85	264
Carr	69	77	67	213
M. Baker	79	82	87	248
Barker	79	87	76	242
Jenner	103	101	101	305
	420	436	416	1272

ESTES CAPT. NO. 7 TEAM

Ala	87	85	72	244
Simpson	76	89	103	268
C. B. Davis	93	86	79	258
L. Smith	79	84	98	261
Estes	78	97	99	274
	413	441	451	1305

Not a Success.

"Why did Mertle decide that she did not wish to become a war nurse?"

"She tried on a nurse's uniform and found that it did not suit her style of beauty."—Boston Traveler.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

BUSINESS TRAINING

Speaker Gives some Advice At Y. M. C. A.

Harold Whitehead, president of the American School of Business of Boston, addressed an interested audience at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening on "Training in Business." Mr. Whitehead was presented by A. F. Bromley, secretary of the association.

The lecture was in connection with the course in salesmanship to be given under the auspices of the association to be opened on Feb. 24. Several students were enrolled at the close of the lecture. Although Mr. Whitehead was not asked questions fro mthe floor he was the centre of an inquiring group of young men before he departed.

Mr. Whitehead's statement that training leads to efficiency was aptly borne out by illustrations, particularly the results brought about by Frank Taylor, efficiency expert of the Bethlehem Steel Co.

The speaker said in part:

"In the prehistoric days of this earth when man was only slightly removed from brute beasts, the struggle for existence was difficult, laborious and dangerous. In time, he discovered that trying to do everything himself meant continual labor to get and continual fighting to hold his possessions. From this realization grew the plan of the distribution of labor. One man who was an expert hunter spent all his life in the chase; while others spent their lives in preparation of clothes or the preparation of food or the tilling of the soil. Greater results came through this division of labors. By long, slow and painful evolution, we have arrived at the present state of business development. It is only in recent days that we realized that at the back of every action there is always a law which govedns that action.

"For thousands of years we have cultivated the product of the earth more by rule of thumb than by scientific development. We have done things just because that is the way they always were done. The last score of years, however, has seen a wonderful change in our methods of agriculture. Our scientists realized that there were rules and principles in agriculture just the same as in astronomy and everything else. The difference between doing a thing in a certain way because others do it in that way and doing it by the application of the principles which govern it, is the difference between success and failure.

You can see today two rows of corn, both raised from the same ground. One is raised in the ordinary way—the way the old-fashioned farmer would raise it—put the seed in the ground, till the soil, put a little fertilizer around it—the other row is raised scientifically. The same seed; exactly the same soil. When it rained it rained on both rows alike. But because one row is cultivated scientifically, it produced 87 bushels of corn while the other row produced 57 bushels.

"The fact that production efficiency has advanced, while leaving merchandising efficiency behind, is realized now so forcefully that business men everywhere are training for business—are studying and applying the laws and principles of business; just as they have studied and are still studying the laws and principles of manufacturing and agriculture and astronomy.

The young man who hopes to make a success as a business man absolutely must know business. He must know the principles of business and how those principles are to be applied in his everyday work.

ANNUAL LADIES NIGHT.

The annual Ladies Night of the North Quincy Catholic club will take place in Poland's hall Friday evening. The program will include whist until ten o'clock, to be followed by dancing. A musical program of five numbers will be given during the evening The entertainment committee has arranged for a series of lectures, to be given during the Lenten season by prominent men.

HELEN B. CRAIG.

Helen B. Craig, the one year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forbes A. Craig, Jr., of 106 Federal avenue, was removed to the contagious hospital at Brighton Wednesday, suffering from diphtheria and died shortly after her arrival. The little girl developed the disease early in the week. From the first her condition was critical and she was taken to the hospital in hopes of saving her life.

MORS AFFIDAVIT IS DAMAGING

Opinion of Coroner Investigating Mysterious Deaths

EVIDENCE FOR PROSECUTION

Said to Show That Thoughts of Killing Inmates of Odd Fellows' Home by Ether or Chloroform Were Revolving In Brain of Man Suspected of Having Killed Eight

New York, Feb. 11.—"Madman or murderer, Mors' cunning brain was continually planning ways of putting old persons to death. His own signed statement, denying he had committed chloroform murders, is one of the strongest bits of evidence against him."

Coroner Dunn of Westchester county made this assertion when he resumed the investigation of Frederic Mors' confession that he killed eight aged inmates of the German Odd Fellows home at Yonkers "because they were getting peevish."

The affidavit produced by former Superintendent Bangert of the home, in which Mors said he was only "joking" when he told the chloroform stories, was regarded by the coroner as distinctly evidence for the prosecution.

"Mors signed this statement Dec. 8, at the instance of officers of the home," said Dunn. "It proved conclusively that thoughts of killing by ether or chloroform had been revolving in his brain. A few days later, mind you, two more feeble old inmates, 'who were in his way,' were cold corpses in the morgue. They died suddenly and for no apparent cause."

Dr. Gregory of the psychopatic ward of Bellevue hospital, where Mors is under observation, will report to Dunn the results of his observation of the self-confessed murderer.

The district attorneys of both Westchester and Bronx counties will hear Gregory's report on Mors' sanity. On his statement they will base their decision as to whether bodies of Mors' supposed victims shall be exhumed.

BOSTON'S NEW POLICE HEAD

Crowley's Appointment as Superintendent Comes as Surprise

Boston, Feb. 11.—Captain Michael H. Crowley of the Dorchester police station was appointed superintendent of police by Commissioner O'Meara last night, to succeed Superintendent Pierce, who was retired from office a few days ago.

Less than eight years ago the new superintendent was an ordinary policeman. When he becomes the uniformed head of the city's police department he will have the distinction of being the youngest man who ever held the high office. He is 49 years old.

The appointment comes as a great surprise, as Crowley had been a captain but a little more than a year.

MRS. POMEROY'S ESTATE

Half of It, Amounting to $1000, Goes to Noted Life Prisoner

Dedham, Mass., Feb. 11.—Jesse H. Pomeroy, whose address is given as Charlestown, is entitled to share equally with his brother, Charles J. Pomeroy of Worcester, in the $2000 estate left by his mother, Mrs. Ruth A. Pomeroy, who died in Weymouth on Jan. 10, if he should ever gain freedom from the state prison.

Judge Flint, sitting in the Norfolk probate court, allowed the estate of Mrs. Pomeroy. She left no will. Her property consists of $1800 in real estate and $200 personal. Mrs. Abbie E. Glidden, a granddaughter, was appointed administratrix.

HINT OF RECEIVERSHIP

May Be Only Way to Settle Troubles of the Boston and Maine

Boston, Feb. 11.—The Boston and Maine trustees have prepared and published a ten-page pamphlet setting forth some facts concerning the past and present of the property, in which, among other things, the following statemen is made:

"In the opinion of all the trustees and all the members of the executive committee of the board of directors, unless something radical is done, the railroad will be forced into the hands of receivers, with a view to the protection of its creditors and the public, at an early day."

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

Ernesto Nathan, former mayor of Rome, who will represent Italy at the Panama-Pacific exposition, arrived at New York.

The body of Alexander Michael, 38, of Quincy, Mass., was found in a brook in that city.

Mrs. Emily A. Proctor, 79, widow of United States Senator Redfield Proctor, died at Proctor, Vt.

Five thousand dollars for injuries inflicted by a neighbor's cat was the jury award to Mrs. Sarah W. Ray at Washington.

Allen M. Barrett, who ran out of Boston as a postal clerk, is in jail at Burlington, Vt., charged with robbing the mails.

SPORTING COMMENT

J. T. Shannon who totaled 383 in three strings at the City Square alleys is a chief machinist in the U. S. N., and is one of the government machinery inspectors on the dreadnought Nevada. Under construction at the Fore River shipyard. Shannon made his local debut recently. His singles were 157, 115, 111. The first is an alley record but the total an all city mark.

Jim Olindy is in Montreal, working on submarines and may not be back to defend his single record of 153 which now stands in the Fore River league. His total of 360 is also a record.

Young Fowler of the Wollaston hockey seven is slowly recovering from an injury sustained in the game against Cunningham. The point of a skate penetrated his foot and severely bruised his right foot.

This week's matches in the Fore River league cannot affect the position of the leaders. The Machine Gallery has taken 68 points and lost but 12, as near perfect a score as could be expected. The Yard has won 59 and lost 17. Both face each other Friday night Gentlemen place your bets.

The team total of 1364 made by Capt. P. Avery's team in the Knights of Columbus league is a new record in the combination. It passes the Capt. Russell Sullivan's team mark by two pins.

In the death of Willie H. Shaw, the yachtsmen of Massachusetts and Quincy Bay loose a good companion and a man whose interests in the sport never waned.

W. Talcott, the fast Winthrop High school basketball player has joined the machine gun company of that place. His brother has filed an application. Dr. W. H. Blanchard of Quincy attached to the surgeons staff of the 5th Regiment, M. V. M., who conducted the examinations of candidates recently stated all were huskies and that their contemplated basketball team should be a hummer.

Patrick Haley of the Des Moines team of the Western league has been secured for the Providence Grays by president Lannon of the Red Sox. Haley is a catcher of promise.

Polo is to be introduced into the U. S. Army.

Quincy devotees of fencing will attend the Eastern championships at the B. A. A. Feb. 12.

In the foot ball code revision the powers of officials have been strengthened and they will be enabled to use greater discretion. In the past they have had no middle ground in penalties.

Dave Shean will start as manager of Joe Lannins Providence Grays with the best wishes of scores of friends. Shean has experience and intelligence which should prove satisfactory.

The basket ball fans are desirous of seeing Wellesley and Boston college clash. The former wants to have one game on its home court and the other on a neutral floor. From an out and out standpoint we hope B. C. won't agree to any such proposition. If necessary put both teams on a neutral floor and determine the issue the proper way.

Newton High has strong baseball prospects. Six vets are available and the chances of winning the pennant in the Triangular league are of the best.

The amateur boxing tourney of the Quincy A. A. will take place in Quincy Adams hall March 5. Several local entries have been received.

Randolph Osgood of Howard avenue set a new single record for his section by rolling 156 at the Murray alleys.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—try it with a bowl of milk and blueberries. All grocers.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER

Needful Knowledge

Quincy People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are many. Disordered kidneys often excrete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding. The back may ache, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighted down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger. Delay often proves fatal.

You can use no better endorsed kidney remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Quincy proof of their merit.

Mrs. S. Nelson, 177 Washington St., Quincy, says: "One of my family had pains across the small of the back. Four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills were used and they made a great improvement. Doan's Kidney Pills deserve great credit for what they have done in that case."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Nelson recommends. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

HOLDS PROBATE COURT SESSION

Judge Flint Sits at Quincy Today

Judge Flint held probate court for Norfolk county at Quincy today and transacted the following business:

WILLS ALLOWED

Of Murto Gallivan late of Braintree. Daniel J. Gallivan, executor, bond $5,000.

Of Samuel S. Winslow late of Stoughton. Rogena A. Winslow executrix. Bond $4,500.

Of Alexander Mundle late of Quincy Helen Mundie executrix. Bond $10,000

Of Thomas Curtis late of Quincy, Thomas W. Curtis, executor.

Of John Hyde late of Norwood. Albert Fales executor. Bond $200.

Of George W. Foster late of Brookline. Edward S. Foster executor. Bond $300,000.

Of Mary L. Stone late of Milton. Frederick M. Stone executor. Bond $50,000.

ADMINISTRATIONS

Patrick E. McGonnigle on estate of Hannah Morse late of Avon. Bond $5,000.

Emily T. Turner on estate of Levi H. Turner late of Quincy. Bond $5,000

Abbie Ethel Glidden on estate of Ruth A. Pomeroy late of Weymouth bond $500.

George B. Crafts on estate of Mary B. Carter late of Milton. Bond $300.

Fannie B. Fish on estate of Georgiannia B. Sarger late of Quincy. Bond $6,000.

George A. Briggs on estate of Abbey R. Briggs late of Canton. Bond $1,000.

Eugene B. Hamilton on estate of Llewellyn H. Bartlett late of Brookline. Bond $10,000.

George H. Mann on estate of Julia A. Mann late of Sharon. Bond $3,000.

Arthur W. Warriner on estate of Daphne S. Naramore late of Sharon. Bond $4,000.

George R. Chippendale on estate of Joseph Chippendale late of Quincy. Bond $1,000.

Frederick M. Clark on estate of Jessie M. Durant late of Weymouth. Bond $1,000.

Lillian E. Hayden on estate of William E. Hayden late of Quincy. Bond $2,500.

ACCOUNTS ALLOWED

Third of L. Alice Talbot administratrix of estate of Abram Bromade late of Stoughton for $446.26.

First and second of Mary A. Joyce administratrix of estate of Agnes McDonald late of Quincy for $111.

First, second and third of the Old Colony Trust Co., trustees of will of James A. Boody late of Brookline for $526.90.

First and final of Joseph L. Clough executor of will of Lucy T. Brainard late of Sharon for $20,718.67.

First and final of Peter Morton administrator of estate of Thomas Mitchell late of Quincy for $1,029.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Sarah J. Eddy administratrix of estate of Charles Eddy late of Stoughton was granted permission to mortgage real estate to the amount of $800.

Byron B. Johnson of Waltham was authorized to expend the sum of $125 for purpose of burial of Charlotte Dickerson and the erection of a marker on the grave.

Maria L. Gardner was appointed guardian of Harold S. and Arthur H. Gardner, minors of Weymouth. Bond $200.

An assignment was ordered of the estate of Martha W. Pratt late of Weymouth to pay debts of the deceased.

Carl A. Lathrop of Braintree was appointed to make a partition of certain estate for the benefit of the heirs.

A distribution was ordered of the estate of Agnes McDonald late of Quincy.

Margaret S. Chippendale was appointed guardian of Grace C., Mary C., Margaret H. and Daniel J. Chippendale, minors of Quincy. Bond $1000.

ALLIANCE MEETS.

Owing to the noise at the Wollaston Unitarian church, due to the work on the new parish house, the use of the chapel of the Wollaston Methodist church was kindly granted to the Womans Alliance of the Unitarian church for its meeting Wednesday. The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Jesse E. Donahue one of the New Hampshire alliance directors who spoke on "Patriotism and Loyalty." At the close of the address tea was served. The hostess of the afternoon was Mrs. Thomas Lacey who was assisted by Miss Catherine Adams and Miss Alice Taylor.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTORS OF THE PORT OF BOSTON,
40 Central street, Boston,
February 9th, 1915

Notice is hereby given that the Metropolitan Park Commission has made application to the Directors for approval of plans for constructing a bridge and filling solid in and extending tidewaters of Blacks Creek in the city of Quincy, as authorized by chapter 699 of the Acts of 1912, as per plans filed with said application, and Thursday, the eighteenth day of February, at 10.00 o'clock A. M., and this office, have been assigned as the time and place for hearing all parties interested therein.

EDWARD F. McSWEENEY,
Chairman
JOSEPH A. CONRY,
LOMBARD WILLIAMS,
Directors.
11-1t

Sheriff's Sale.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss.

Quincy, January 14, A. D., 1915.

Taken on execution, and will be sold at public auction, on Saturday, the twenty-seventh day of February, A. D., 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, at my residence, No. 163 Franklin Street, in said Quincy, all the right, title and interest that Mary E. Ward, had (not exempt by law from attachment or levy on execution) on the 29th day of October, A. D., 1914, at eight o'clock and fifty minutes A. M., the time the same was attached on mesne process, in and to the following described real estate, to wit:—

A certain parcel of land with buildings thereon, situated in that part of said Quincy, known as Houghs Neck and bounded and described as follows:

Westerly by Sea Street, measuring 41 feet;

Northerly by land now or formerly of Adam Vogel, measuring 90 feet;

Easterly by land now or formerly of Heirs of Joshua E. Hanson, deceased, measuring 42 feet;

Southerly by land now or formerly of Chapin Thayer, measuring 92 feet;

Containing 3776 square feet; being shown as lot 15 on a plan of lots at Houghs Neck drawn by E. C. Pratt, dated July 20, 1870, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Deputy Sheriff
11-3t Feb. 11-18-25

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
Telephone 1153-M Quincy
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1291 Hancock Street, Quincy F27

CONLIN SHOE REPAIRING

Men's Sewed Taps and Heels	75c
Men's Sewed Taps and Rubber heels	$1.00
Men's Nail Taps and Heels	65c
Men's Heels	20c
Ladies' Taps and Heels Sewed	65c
Ladies Taps and Rubber heels Sewed	85c
Ladies Heels	15c
Rubber Heels	40c and 50c
Skates Sharpened, New Process	15c
$4 Ralston Shoes for	1.50

Hancock and Saville Sts.
Tel. 961-M. Oct. 7-tf

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

W. R. LOFGREN
Carpenter and Builder
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 395-3
June 2-tf

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block,
Quincy
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448-4. Haymarket 2449
Oct. -tf

GREAT BATTLES IN MOUNTAINS

Carpathian Losses Will Reach Tens of Thousands

FIERCEST KIND OF FIGHTING

Austro-Germans Driven Back by Russians at Bayonet Point In One Engagement Described as Without Precedent In History—Teutonic Allies Appear to Be Greatest Sufferers—Important Battle Impending on East Prussian Border—Western Armies Not Doing Much

London, Feb. 11.—The Russian and Austro-German armies are fighting another series of battles for possession of the Carpathian passes which will decide whether the Russian troops will commence another invasion of Hungary or be compelled to evacuate part of Galicia, as they have done in Bukowina.

The Russians have issued two official reports of the operations, according to which they have thus far had all the better of the fighting. Their right wing has, at any rate, succeeded in crossing the mountains, for it has been engaged in a battle near Bartfeld and Svidnik, which are on the Hungarian side of the Carpathians and on the edge of the plains which sweep down to Budapest.

The army, too, threatens the rear of the Austro-Germans, who, having entered Lupkow pass to the east, have suffered severe losses in a battle with another Russian force which was waiting for them there.

The hardest fighting, however, has occurred on the Galician side of Tukholka pass, where the Austro-Germans captured the heights in the region of Koziouwka, only to be driven from them after a bayonet fight, which the Rusisan report describes as being "without precedent in history."

The battle is said by correspondents to have been terrific. The Germans brought up their best reinforcements to aid the Austrian army and themselves led the attack.

Backed by heavy artillery they assaulted the Russian position on the heights of Koziouwka, but found themselves under an enfilading fire from the Russians on parallel hills and were cut off from the main German column. They were then attacked by the Russian infantry, who drove them back at the point of the bayonet.

Attack followed counter-attack until the Russians had regained their old positions, leaving the slopes, according to their report, "littered with bodies of dead Germans."

The losses on both sides will mount up into tens of thousands. It was a desperate attempt on the part of the Teutonic allies to block the Russian advance into Hungary. Petrograd reports that during the battle, which lasted all day, the German and Austrian forces made twenty-two distinct, violent attacks on the Russian lines, moving forward, wave upon wave, in dense masses, despite the lessons learned in Belgium and before Warsaw, and, as on previous occasions, being literally decimated by the hail of shot and shell ploughing through their dense ranks.

The Germans have now assumed the offensive on the southern border of East Prussia, and as a result another important battle is developing in that region. Of the battle in the northern part of East Prussia neither official communication speaks.

At the other extreme end of the line—in Bukowina—the Russians are falling back before superior Austrian forces, but still hold the greater part of that province.

From Rome comes the report that the Russians have reached Wloolawek, on the lower Vistula, thirty-five miles southeast of Thorn. If this is correct it suggests that the Russians, who were last reported at Siaropo, have made a move which may enable them to interfere with the transfer of troops from Poland to East Prussia, as Wloolawek is on the railway from Lowicz to Thorn.

There has been little or no fighting in Flanders, France or Alsace, although the artillery and arimen continue active. It is believed the Germans are preparing for another attack on the British line near Le Bassee, which, if successful, would open the door to the French coast, from which the Germans hope to threaten England.

Meanwhile, the allies are reported to be making slow progress along the coast of Belgium, the capture of the Great Dune being of considerable advantage, as from it almost the entire coast as far as Ostend can be controlled by artillery.

BARED BY FRENCH PRESS

Details of Franco-German Peace Bargain Which Fell Through

Certain French newspapers reprint, with the consent of the government censors, an article published in the Democrate de Delemont, stating that previous to the battle of the Marne a party existed in France which was ready to sign a peace compact, at the same time ceding to Germany the towns of Briey and Nancy, French Lorraine, the island of Madagascar and the protectorate of Morocco as well as paying an indemnity. The article continues:

"General Joffre, the French commander-in-chief; President Poincare and most of the cabinet ministers were opposed to the plan, but the situation became so tense as to necessitate the resignation of Adolphe Massing as minister of war and the formation of a ministry of national defense.

"After the battle of the Marne, Germany proposed peace through Joseph Caillaux, offering to give up the provinces of Alsace and Lorraine, with the exception of Strassburg, receiving in exchauge a small zone on the North sea coast extending from Calais to Dunkirk. France, in addition, was to acknowledge the annexation of Belgium by Germany.

"The answer to this proposal was the signing of a convention by the allies to make no separate peace. After this Caillaux was appointed to an important position in the pay corps but later was relieved of this post and sent on a mission to Brazil."

THE RUSSIAN GOAL

Douma Expects Acquisition of Constantinople and Dardanelles

Resolutions expressing the conviction that Russia would carry on the war until the peace of Europe is assured were adopted by the douma at the close of its sitting. The resolutions, which were adopted without a dissenting vote, said in part:

"The douma expresses its firm conviction that the great national and liberating objects of the present war will be achieved and declares the inflexible determination of the Russian nation to carry on the war until conditions shall have been imposed on the enemy assuring the peace of Europe and the restoration of right and justice."

Professor Milukoff addressed the douma in behalf of the Constitutional Democrats. "We are convinced," he said, "the accomplishment of our principal task—the acquisition of the straits and Constantinople—will be guaranteed in good time both from a diplomatic and military point of view."

AMERICA'S WARNING

Germany and Great Britain Must Respect Stars and Stripes

In a note sent to the German government the United States government gives plain warning, couched in the language of diplomacy, that an attack on a neutral vessel under the protection of the Stars and Stripes would be considered such a grave matter that it may lead to serious complications.

And in another note to Great Britain it is intimated that though the raising of the United States flag on a belligerent vessel in order to aid her to escape capture is not considered a matter calling for protest, yet the continued and frequent use of such a stratagem might cast suspicion on vessels properly entitled to fly the American flag and might subject them to the danger of attack.

Both notes are of a "friendly" character, but there is no mistaking the tone or the serious intent of the communications, especially in the case of the German note.

HIDES UNDER OLD GLORY

Cunarder Flies "Neutral Flag" While Clearing the Irish Coast

Officials of the Cunard Steamship company at New York admitted that the steamer Orduna, which arrived at New York from Liverpool, flew "a neutral flag" for a time while she was clearing the Irish coast.

The statement was made after a number of passengers on the British liner had declared that for nearly twenty-four hours, on Jan. 31, she flew the Stars and Stripes while passing through the Irish sea. These passengers asserted that the American flag was flying aft, indicating the nationality of the vessel.

On behalf of the line, a denial was previously made that the Orduna had flown the flag except at the foremast, it being explained that it was customary for all ships to do this to indicate the country for which they are bound. Captan Taylor, in charge of the Orduna, declined to make any statement.

WILHELMINA'S CARGO SEIZED

Must Go Through Prize Court, but Steamer Is Free to Sail

The British foreign office, after an inquiry, decided that the cargo of the American steamship Wilhelmina must go through a prize court. The ship may depart from Falmouth as soon as the cargo is discharged.

It is officially confirmed that the Wilhelmina was neither convoyed nor ordered into Falmouth, but was compelled to make that port because of damage suffered in storms while crossing the Atlantic.

Constable's Slayer Lynched

Mayfield, Ky., Feb. 11.—Thomas Tinker, who, it is charged, shot and killed Richard Tart, a constable, was taken from the county jail here and lynched.

Ireland Loses $2,500,000 by Storm

Belfast, Feb. 11.—Loss caused by the terrific storm is estimated at $2,500,000. A heavy wind is still blowing.

Cynical Wit.

Less brains are required to say brilliant bitter words about people than to say brilliant kind words. The cynic's wit is easiest and cheapest.

PRIEST VICTIM OF HIS ENEMIES

Theory of Police Concerning the Murder of Zebris

HARD PRESSED FOR MONEY

Lived Most Frugally, His Home Affairs Being Subordinated to Church Labors—Citizens Considering Plans to Unravel Mystery Which Has Stirred New Britain

New Britain, Conn., Feb. 11.—Public feeling was aroused to such an extent over the murder of Rev. Joseph Zebris and his housekeeper, Miss Eva Gilmanailis, who were found shot and strangled in the rectory of St. Andrew's Lithuanian Catholic church, that a party of prominent citizens visited the office of Mayor Quigley, where a canference was held and plans discussed which will probably result in the immediate summoning of private detectives to take a hand in unravelling the mystery.

Developments have strengthened the police in the theory that the murder was the result of a deliberate plot of enemies of the priest to do away with him, despite the fact that he was believed by some to possess considerable money.

That he was in an almost impoverished condition, however, is evidenced by the fact that twice since Jan. 1 he had been obliged to borrow sums of $100 and $400 from persons in this city to carry on the work of his parish.

It was also made known that Miss Annie Gutouskas, the parochial school teacher, had been obliged to wait on two occasions, recently until the priest could arrange for funds to pay her weekly salary.

Conditions in the rectory indicated that the priest lived lived most frugally, there being evidence that the housework had apparently been sadly neglected, the affairs of his home being subordinated to the church labors.

Zebris lived on a salary of $1000 per year and gave much of this to his church work, having contributed about $8000 to the church out of his own funds in the past ten years.

That he was hard pressed for funds is also shown by the recent sale of his interest in a bakery at Union City, Conn. The business was valued at $10,000, and Zebris had been paid $2000 and had threatened foreclosure to get the balance. The police are investigating this affair in the hope that it may possibly develop a clew in the murder mystery.

The city council voted to offer a reward of $1000 for the apprehension of the murderer or murderers, and Governor Holcomb stated at Hartford that the state of Connecticut would offer a reward of a like amount.

The autopsy was completed, but the report was not made public. A bullet located in the priest's body indicates that it came from a powerful automatic revolver.

CAUGHT IN JEWELRY STORE

Boston Police Arrest Two Men Who Are Heavily Armed

Boston, Feb. 11.—Two men giving their names as John Anderson and Alexander Lundstrom, each 24 years old, armed with automatic revolvers, a ten-pound steel bar and 100 rounds of ammunition, were arrested after a struggle by Inspectors Conway and McGar in the jewelry store of Bernard Kuhn.

A third man, seated in a large touring car outside the store and believed to be operating in conjunction with the two men, drove swiftly from the scene when the two inspectors entered the store.

The police are of the opinion that their timely capture of the men frustrated a well-planned attempt to rob the store. Each of the men is fully six feet in height and weighs more than 200 pounds.

PROHIBITS DECEPTION

Bill In Kansas Legislature Will Not Meet Feminine Approval

Topeka, Feb. 11.—Kansas women under 45 years of age who wear earrings or treat their faces with cosmetics "for the purpose of creating a false impression" will be guilty of misdemeanors and upon conviction be subject to fines, if a bill introduced in the lower house of the legislature becomes a law.

Face powder, perfume, false hair and bleaching materials for the hair are among the articles enumerated in the list the women are forbidden to use.

The bill provides that the women may not have their ears pierced or wear earrings "at parties or in any public place."

Former Fireman a Suicide

Boston, Feb. 11.—Despondency over the loss of his position in the fire department is believed to have been the reason that former Lieutenant James J. Burke of the Boston fire department committed suicide at his home by shooting.

Banker Goes to Prison

Memphis, Feb. 11.—C. H. Raine, who pleaded guilty to misuse of the mails while president of the defunct Mercantile bank here, was sentenced to five years' imprisonment in the Atlanta federal prison.

Good Form

Neighborhood Courtesy.

"Some years ago we moved from our home town—the town we were born and reared in and where all our friends and kinsfolk lived," said the neighborly woman. "The new town was a railroad and river town. I thought we would soon have neighbors and in time friends. I did get acquainted soon with one woman, but she moved away. She recommended some other friends of hers to me. I intended to call, but never did, my boys, my work and my home keeping me busy.

"After awhile I grew to be like the people around me, tending to my own business and making no calls. But I was lonely. One of my children came down with scarlet fever. We were quarantined. It made little difference, as no one had the habit of coming to our house, anyhow, or I of going to other people's houses. The third day of the quarantine I heard a step in the back yard and rushed to the door, thinking the deliveryman had not seen the sign.

"It was my nearest neighbor. She had a dish of something in her hand. 'For the sick little fellow,' she said. 'I'm sorry I can't come in and give it to him myself.' I stood looking at her amazed. 'I hope you are not offended,' she said.

"Offended! She never can know how good she looked to me.

"We became friends after that. Through her I met other neighbors. We never tire of doing good turns for each other. It has made life a thousand times more worth living for me."

Solving a Social Problem.

A young matron who had asked six friends to luncheon suddenly found herself without a maid. She was equal to the occasion, however, and on their arrival said nothing to her guests about the very important missing member of her household.

Before going to the dining room each guest was handed a ribbon bow, to which was attached a safety pin, and told to find her place by matching the colors at the places. It did not take long to appropriate the pretty aprons with the strings of ribbon to match each bow. They were made of large colored handkerchiefs, and the point forming the bib was pinned up by the safety pin and bow.

Anchovy canapes formed the first course. After they were eaten the hostess turned to the guest at her right and said, "Look under your plate and do what the card says." And the little card bore this request, "Please remove the plates and bring in the soup." Amid much merriment this was accomplished, the bouillon being already on a tray over the gas, which was turned low. Another guest removed the cups and brought in the next course. Minute directions were on each card. The hostess did not find it necessary to leave the table, and the absence of the maid was voted to have made the party a great success. Every one declared that the aprons were the most acceptable of souvenirs.

Etiquette of Mourning.

A widow who intends to leave off her mourning in due time wears a crape bonnet and a long veil and crape trimmed gowns a year. After this dull black, suitably relieved by white and lilac touches, should be worn for a year. When two years have passed colors may be worn.

As long as the crape veil and crape trimmed gowns are worn a woman should refrain from participation in all social gayeties. After six months a widow may attend concerts and matinee performances at the theater. When the crape trimmings are put off small dinners and luncheons and night performances at the theater or opera may be attended.

Of course these are conventional rules, which she may follow if she wishes. They are not adhered to by every one, for people are becoming more liberal about mourning and are following their own inclinations regarding the matter rather than doing as some one else has done under similar circumstances.

Lenten Entertaining.

Lent this year begins on Feb. 17. While the forty days which follow Ash Wednesday will be more or less generally observed as a time for fasting, still many informal luncheons and dinners will be given, and the ever old but not less interesting "Lenten sewing circles" will hold a conspicuous place among the entertainments of the paschal season. Knitting bees will also be popular.

The day immediately preceding Ash Wednesday, known as Shrove Tuesday or Pancake Tuesday, has been observed as a day of feasting since A. D. 230. In some sections of our country the carnival of the Mardi Gras is held at this time, and much merry-making ensues, in which the pancake or shrove cake plays an important part.

Returning First Calls.

One should return a first call within three weeks after it has been made. After a dinner, luncheon or a card party one should call within two weeks after the entertainment. A party call is not necessary after attending an afternoon tea, but after a large reception a call is necessary.

For the Children

A Titled English Girl Who Likes Lawn Tennis.

Photo by American Press Association.

Quite a noted tennis player is this little girl here pictured. She is an English girl, and her name is Lady Rosamond Butler, quite a high sounding title for one so young. In England, however, it is not at all unusual for some small person to bear a big name. Lady Rosamond is very fond of racket and ball and is said to be very skillful. Tennis is an excellent outdoor sport and is deservedly popular in this country. In winter, of course, there is not much opportunity to play the game, as it is essentially a game to be played in the open air. Some folks have indoor courts and keep up practice all the year.

Game of Tip Cat.

This is a common sport among boys, more particularly in the country. It has a great advantage in being easily made with a common knife. The piece of wood which is called the "cat" is about six inches in length and from one and a half to two inches in diameter, gradually tapering from the middle to each end.

The cudgel with which the game is played is about the length and thickness of a common hoopstick.

The player, taking this in his right hand, strikes one end of the cat smartly, which causes it to rise in the air high enough to be struck before it again falls to the ground.

There are several ways of playing the game of cat. The most common is to make a ring, selecting a piece of flat ground. One boy holds a piece of string that will make the circle required at the center, and another one takes the extremity of the line, and with a piece of chalk he walks round and forms the ring. The player takes his stand in the middle, and his business is to strike the cat outside the ring. Should he fail in doing so he is out, and the next player takes his place; if successful he judges with his eye the distance the cat is driven from the center of the ring and calls for a number to be scored for his side. If the number named be found to exceed the same number of lengths of the stick he is out. If, on the contrary, it does not he obtains his call.

Some Hints on Fire Making.

To begin with, dry wood must be used to get the fire started, and after it is once going you should mix green wood with the dry. Birch bark is about the best thing to start with, or pine needles and other things may be used. On top of the birch bark small dry twigs should be laid. Around all this a sort of blockhouse of larger wood should be built. The whole fire should be built between two green logs about four or five inches in diameter, if such logs are easily procured. If not, the fire should be built inside a three sided wall of rocks. The opening should be turned toward the wind. Never choke a fire by piling on too much wood. Grass is a poor substitute for birch bark, as also are leaves.

A Potato Race.

Put ten medium sized potatoes in a pile for each contestant and about twenty feet away from each pile a pan. Provide each contestant with a teaspoon and at a given signal let all start to transfer the potatoes to the pans. The potatoes are not to be touched with either hand. The contestant who first gets the ten potatoes into his pan is winner. The larger the potatoes selected the greater is the skill required. Entries may be limited to men, women, girls under twelve, and so on.—Country Gentleman.

Politeness Pays.

A little tramp dog met a nice little cat.
And he bowed most politely and took off his hat.
"Good evening, good evening!" so sweetly said he
That pussy invited him home to tea.

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Lower tenement with all improvements. Rent $19.50 per month C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 11-6t

TO LET—Apartment of five rooms and bath in new house, all modern improvements, fine location, 26 Bradford street, off Franklin street. Apply to F. Barnicoat, Quincy. 10-tf

TO LET—Half house of four rooms. Rent $10. Apply 34 Field street. 10-3t

TO LET—Three furnished rooms for light housekeeping. All in good order. Apply 46 Massachusetts avenue. Opposite Edison Park. 9-3t

TO LET—Lower flat, 42 Euclid avenue, 5 rooms all modern improvements. For particulars address Mr. P. J. Curry, 94 Federal avenue or phone Quincy 1075M. 9-12t

TO LET—Half of colonial house on Russell park, 7 rooms and bath, fireplace, coal and gas range and all modern conveniences. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 9-tf

TO LET—Flat of seven rooms with electric lights, gas stove, range at 32 Euclid avenue. Apply at 12 Berkeley street. 6-6t

TO LET—Three, four or five room tenement with heat, gas range electric lights and bath. 178 Washington street or phone 1732M. 6-tf

TO LET—Two or three rooms, furnished or unfurnished for light housekeeping, all improvements, reasonable rent, board if desired. 132 Marlboro street, Wollaston Park. 6-tf.

TO LET—To small family of adults several very desirable new tenements $22 and up, also stable $10 per month; store $10 per month. Apply to C. H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. Tel. 174-2 Quincy. 4-12t

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 20-1mo

TO LET—Four room apartment, new house, all improvements. Apply at 226 Franklin street. 30-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 26 tf

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

LOST

LOST—Lady's gold hunting case Waltham watch, Feb. 5 at Lincaide theatre. Monogram "E. D. C." Finder Tel. Fort Hill 3189. 9-3t

REWARD—For paper parcel containing two note books and 50 pages of manuscript left on 5.49 train Feb. 3 between E. Milton and Braintree. W. Sprague Brooks, Milton, Mass. 6-6t

WANTED

WANTED—We require the services of a capable man as manager of our Dry Cleansing, Dyeing and Steam Pressing Store, to be opened in Quincy by large Boston concern. He must be honest, sober and industrious and a resident of Quincy, also be in position to invest $500.00 in the business. Salary and share in profits to capable party. Give references and particulars in first letter. Write C. C. Quincy Ledger. 9-3teod

WANTED—Cooks, second, parlor, chamber, general maids, mothers' helpers and green girls, first class positions, reliable help furnished. Oldest employment office in city, L. M. Flynn, 1522 Hancock street, Phone 2235-W. 10-3t

WANTED—Woman to take charge of Ladies Dep't. One who has had local experience and acquaintance preferred. A good position awaits the right party. Apply Orent-Payson Co., 1378 Hancock street. 6-6t.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Two flat house in South Quincy. Hard wood finish, modern plumbing. Very desirable renting proposition, never vacant since built. For particulars enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 9-tf lpo

MISCELLANEOUS

DRESSMAKING, plain sewing, children's clothes done at reasonable prices by woman of experience. Write E. R. Ledger Office. 9-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36

Second Floor

Savings Bank Building

Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes

Quincy Savings Bank

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.

Nov

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Insurance

Auctioneer Care of Property

Justice of the Peace

Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

FOR SALE

House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,300. Straight Loan of $2,000.

EDMUND G. HAYDEN

Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing

HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.

129 Tremont St., Boston.

Oct. 8-tf

A Few Choice House Lots

— ON —

PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX

are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.

SWITHIN

3 GREENLEAF BLOCK

Jan. 8-tf

HOLMES & HALL

GENERAL REPAIRERS

— OF —

HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS

SCREENS, SHADES,

LOCKSMITHS

1179 HANCOCK ST.

TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

FISH, OYSTERS and CLAMS

Fresh Smelts	2 lbs. for .25
Fresh Eastern Halibut	.20 lb.
Live Shore Haddock	.10 lb.
Fresh Mackerel	2 for .25

And a large variety of other Fresh, Smoked and Salt Fish at equally low prices.

QUINCY PUBLIC MARKET

1514 Hancock St., Kincaides Block

Phone 1434 J. Legal Stamps Free Delivery

HULTMAN LOOKS LIKE PYGMY

Honest---Pri oner Is Head Taller Than Court Officer

Topdacha Bogdon a Polander who in height towered head and shoulders above Court Officer Hultman, was brought into court this morning by Officer Ferguson for drunkenness. Topdacha told the court that he had been in the woods of Maine all winter and had just come out. Of course he came immediately to Boston where he did his best to put the liquor stores out of business. Then he thought he would come to Quincy and visit his brother. This was a fatal mistake for here in Quincy, the banner temperance city of the country, he met his Waterloo, and spent the night in the police station. The court assessed him $5.00.

DONOVAN AGAIN HIGH.

Timothy Donovan of the Quincy Lumber Co. again finished high man in the rolloffs at Wardwell's Wednesday evening with 319. Peter Morton was second with 307. Bergfors had 304, Fred Erickson 303 and C. Bishop got the cigars with 121. The booby prize went to H. Cain with 232.

SALAD SUPPER UPON HOLIDAY

Lincolns Birthday will be observed jointly by the W. R. C. 103 and Tent 53 of the D. of V's Friday.

A salad supper will be served to the public from 5.30 to 6.30 P. M., followed by an entertainment under the direction of Miss Ella Packard, a members of the D. of V's.

The executive committee of the W. R. C. meet at Mrs. Kate A. Blaisdell's Monday evening Feb. 15th.

The W. R. C. have accepted an invitation from Gen. Sylvanus Thayer Post G. A. R. of Braintree to be present at the patriotic exercises to be held at G. A. R. hall, Braintree, next Tuesday evening.

FINED $25.

Abele Brown was fined $25 in court this morning for cruelty to a horse. He appealed.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

TO LET—After March 1. House of nine rooms with all modern conveniences at 5 Summer street. Apply to Dr. D. B. Reardon, 1186 Hancock street. 11-tf

MARRIAGES

ROUILLARD—FINN—In Quincy, Feb. 10, by Fr. John J. Casey, John J. Rouillard and Helen L. Finn, both of this city.

DEATHS

MICHAELS—In Quincy, Feb. 9, Alexander Michael in his 35th year. Funeral services at late home 23 Caledonia avenue, Friday, Feb. 12, at 2.30 P. M. 2t

NELSON—In Boston, Feb. 9, Andrew G. Nelson, formerly of Wollaston.

CRAIG—In Brighton, Feb. 10, Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forbes A. Craig, Jr., of 109 Federal avenue, aged one year.

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

MEN'S CLUB OF ATLANTIC

Graphophone Selections and Readings Entertain Members

At the Men's Club of Atlantic in Memorial Congregational church Wednesday night the program differed from the usual dinner and a musical treat with buffet lunch were given.

Mr. Brannon of the Edison Laboratory gave selections on a new phonograph loaned through the courtesy of Mr. Edison himself.

Hoyt L. Conary of Waltham was the humorist of the evening. He gave an original dialogue. "Around the tSove" telling of old characters in the country store.

He told of his acquaintence with Will Carleton and gave Carleton's poem—"Gone with a Handsomer Man' He gave several other selections all of which, were greatly enjoyed, concluding with Kipling's "If."

President Harry W. Read announced that he expected either Congressman Powers or Judge Murray for the next meeting which will be the second Wednesday of March.

The buffet lunch consisted of ham tongue, and swiss cheese sandwiches doughnuts, cheese and coffee.

BRIEFS

Otto Jepson of Beale street is ill at his home with the grip.

Thomas Reed is still confined to his home on Arnold street with pneumonia but his condition is much improved

Duncan McKimmock, who is a patient at the Massachusetts General Hospital, is improving.

James Deady of Cranch street, who has been under treatment at the Quincy City Hospital for an injury to his leg, is able to be out.

Thomas Turner who was successfully operated upon for appendicitis will resume his duties with the water department of the city within a few days.

TO SPEAK ON LINCOLN.

Hon. George H. Carter, ex-mayor of Chelsea will be the speaker this evening at the meeting of Bethany Brotherhood. The meeting will be held in the chapel at 7.45 P. M. The speaker will take for his subject; "Lessons From the Life of Abraham Lincoln." All men of the city are cordially invited.

AUCTION SALE

Unclaimed and Refused Freight.

Auction sale of unclaimed and refused freight to be sold by order of New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Co., Tuesday March 2nd, 1915, in freight yard of this Company at South Braintree, Mass. at 12.30 P. M. in conformity Chapter 95 of the Revised Laws of Mass., Section 6, for account of whom it may concern.

One lot of 38 poles received in cars ACL 72488—ACL 72870—ACL 73298, consigned to Fore River Ship Building Co., East Braintree, Mass., arriving at East Braintree about Dec. 26th 1913, supposed to have been shipped by Samuel Dawson, Old Grade, Ga. Also lot of 40 poles received in cars ACL 72480—ACL 73447 and 5534 consigned to Fore River Shipbuilding Co. East Braintre, arriving at East Braintree about Jan. 26th, 1914, supposed to have been shipped by Samuel Dawson, Old Grade, Ga.

N. B. All purchasers must be prepared to make deposit at time of sale of at least 25 percent cash. All goods must be paid for and removed within 10 days after sale is completed.

per order G. L. WINLOCK,
Freight Claim Agent,
New York, New Haven and Hartford, R. R. 4-9t
4,5,6,11,12,13,18,19,20

John Adams Aerie Fraternal Order of Eagles

The funeral of our late brother Joseph M. Bruce will be held from his home, 1608 Hancock street, Friday, Feb. 12 at 9.15 A. M.

Services at St. John's Church Quincy at 10 A. M. All members are requested to attend the services.

JOHN C. FAIRCLOTH,
President.
PETER M. DACKERS, Secretary.
Feb. 11-14

SUBMARINE L-2 IS LAUNCHED

Latest Addition to U. S. Fleet Receives Her Initial Dip

PRESENTATION to SPONSOR

Submarine L-2, one of four L boats under construction at the Fore River shipyard was successfully launched at 8.30 this morning in the presence of a small party of shipbuilders and government inspectors.

Mrs. Amy Gray of Marlboro street, Boston, mother of Ensign Augustine H. Gray, who is to command the vessel was the sponsor. After the launching she was presented with a silver tray, suitably inscribed, as a souvenir of the event. The presentation was made by S. A. Gardner of the Electric Boat Co., at which plant the ship was constructed.

The L-2 is one of eight authorized by congress in 1912. She cost about $534,000 and has a displacement of 450 tons. Her surface speed will be 14 knots and her contract calls for 11 1-2 knots when submerged.

The submarine will be given her trials in Massachusetts bay within a few weeks and will put in commission without any delay. Two other submarines L-3 and L-4 will be launched shortly.

The Electric Boat Co., is preparing to submit bids on the 12 submarines authorized by congress last week.

CLASS OF 1911.

The class of 1911 of Quincy High school will hold a reunion in Colonial hall on the evening of Feb. 20. A short reception will precede the entertainment to be given. Dancing will bring the affair to a close.

The reunion is an annual affair and the arrangements are in charge of Miss Daisy Brooks, Miss Jeanne Arthur, Miss Edna Rose, Paul Blackmur, Sidney Crane and Frederick Sutermeister.

MRS. LENA MUELLER.

Supervisor of Children's Department In Odd Fellows' Home, Who Is Under Fire.

Photo by American Press Association.

Mrs. Lena Mueller, supervisor of the children's department in the Odd Fellows' home at Yonkers, N. Y., where eight mysterious deaths are now being investigated, is accused of ill treating her wards. One of the children in the home is shown with Mrs. Mueller.

MANY WOMEN VICTIMS

Discount Company Shareholders May Lose Many Thousands

Boston, Feb. 11.—Shareholders lost $400,000 in the failure of the New England Discount company and the three other concerns of which Charles E. Walker was interlocking treasurer, according to a report from the representatives of the receivers, who are investigating the affairs of the discount company.

Since the organization of the New England Discount company in 1908, approximately $200,000 of its stock has been sold to the public. Much of this brought a premium on account of the promise of dividends of 24 percent, the receivers say, so that the actual amount paid to the company will approximate $250,000.

Much of the stock is held by women. Practically all of it is in the hands of investors of small means. The 24 percent dividends of the New England Discount company led persons with only $1000 or $2000 to buy stock in Walker's other companies as he organized them.

ELOQUENT TRIBUTE

(Continued from Page One.)

tors. His father was noted more for his shiftlessness than his thrift. But he had a good mother and he often said that he owed his all to his mother. That was one element that made him a success. Away with the man who does not honor and uphold his mother and who does not work to make her happy.

"Lincolns progress at first was slow Until 21 he was a farmer and rail splitter. At 21 be became captain of a militia company in the Black Hawk war. How successful he would have been in this is not known for before his company reached the front the war was over.

"The sights which he saw in New Orleans where slaves were sold in the open market and where his ears resounded with the swish of the lash as it cut into the flesh of the slaves, cut him deeply and he declared that if ever opportunity offered he would deal that traffic a blow. He got the opportunity to strike that blow when he signed the emancipation."

The speaker then briefly referred to Lincolns early business career as a grocer, at which he was not much of a success and how he assumed the burden and paid all of the debts of the store which was later left on his hands. This was a great burden to him, but he was not discouraged, said the speaker. In connection with his career as a grocery dealer Mr. Carter told of some of the incidents in Lincoln's life which led to his being called "Honest Abe."

"When first elected to the legislature he had to borrow the money to buy himself a suit of clothes and he had to walk to the capital. Here he developed as a speaker. One of the great secrets of his success was his honesty and integrity of purpose, plodding along persistently he forced himself ahead to the front.

"Lincoln had a strong sense of wit and humor," continued the speaker, recounting some of his many humorous sayings.

The speaker also alluded to Lincoln's strong temperance principles. In those days it required real courage to stand up for one's convictions. Another source of his strength was his strong religious feeling. He went to Washington and proved faithful to his trust, saying as he took leave of his neighbors "I go to take up the burdens with the faith that God who stood by Washington will stand by me."

In closing his most interesting talk the speaker said: "As long as men love liberty. As long as the nation lives. As long as freedom lasts in this world, the name of Lincoln will never go down."

Prolonged applause greeted the speaker as he concluded and he was given a rising vote of thanks. A social half hour followed during which coffee and sandwiches were served.

ANNUAL REUNION

(Continued from Page Three.)

Waldo Galligan
Thomas J. Cotter
John Harrigan

RECEPTION COMMITTEE

Dr. George M. Sheahan, Chairman, Edward J. Fegan, Charles C. Hearn, Dr. C. J. Lynch, E. J. Murphy, Dr. James Maloney, Thomas J. Dunphy William T. Donovan. Joseph Griffin S. J. Hofferty, John Foley, Richard Roch, Harry McGrath, John Horrigan, J. Frank Goodhue, Dr. James P. Murphy, Edward H. McGinty, James McGovern, Joseph Levangie, William Callahan, Benson Myatt, Cornelius F. Ford, Marcus Mahan, William Parker, Edward D. Barrett, Otto O. Leary James J. Nolan, John Cunniff, John Walsh, John H. Dinegan, Michael E. Cook, Michael O'Brien, Joseph Heaney, Alfred LaCroix, Robert E. Foye Elpedio Braechi, Timothy Murphy, M. J. L. Kennedy, John A Avery, Dr Daniel B. Reardon, Eugene H. McGullicuddy, Albert Murphy, James McGrath George E. Tanner, John Reardon Matthew Ott, Michael Barrett, Thomas Keating, Joseph A. Keating, Thomas McGrath, Joseph A. Dasha, John Donahue, William H. McNiff, Jeremiah J. McAnarney, John Heffernan, William Reardon, John J. O'Hara, Richard Barry, Matthew Morrissey Robert Egan, Peter J. Cahill, James P. Brogan, Edward L. Bean, James Cantfill Michael Hartrey, Elphege Messier, George H. Ferguson, Herbert Lund, Timothy F. Ford, Patrick Milford, Dr. Joseph Harkins, John F Bruton, Frank J. Duffy, Timothy J. Sullivan, Robert J. Williams, John Coughlin, Daniel Donovan, David Frazier, Andrew J. Fahey, Alfred Goodhue, John Donovan, Thomas Dunn, James O'Neil, William H. Flynn Michael J. Sweeney, Morris Kearnis Nathaniel A. Ellis, John J. Avery, Hugh Tracey, Theophile Gagnen.

INTENSELY EXCITING

Don't Miss This Episode

THE EXPLOITS of ELAINE

Arnold Daly — Pearl White — Sheldon Lewis

See The Fight On a Church Steeple

Also Other Pictures

Hearst Selig Weekly and a War Drama "Their Soldier Boy"

NEW VAUDEVILLE

Harry LeMarr, Impersonator The Dancing Maddens
DeMarest, Vaudeville's Foremost Comedy Pianist, and Bon Ray Comedy Quartette. (A Remarkable Entertainment)

KINCAIDE THEATRE

Thurs. Fri. Sat. 10—15—25c Matinee and Evening

NEXT WEEK { Bernstein's Famous Photo-Play } THE THIEF with Dorothy Donnelly

Order Tickets Early

OPERETTA MIKADO

(Continued from Page One.)

cause of the prince's banishment from his father's court when he refuses to return an equal ardor.

Nanki-Poo is played by Frederic Kennedy, tenor soloist of the Rogers' Memorial church of Fairhaven. Mr. Kennedy was perhaps the best actor in the cast, easy, graceful, with a fine tenor voice. His speaking voice was clear and musical and he was usually the center of attraction when he was on the stage. He was also the coach of the production.

His loved one was Mrs. Mary Hastings Slade as Yum-Yum. Mrs. Slade was at her best, which is saying a great deal. Her beautiful, clear soprano voice, winsome ways and clever acting all combined to make her appearance a rare treat. She was naturally a high favorite with the audience and was the recipient of several bouquets.

Miss Annie Deane of Weymouth, who scored such a success in "H. M. S. Pinafore" when it was presented by the club a few years ago, was even better as Katisha. She had a fine contralto voice and a clever make-up. Her facial expression was remarkable. She was obliged to respond to several encores and was presented with several bouquets.

Miss Angela McCarthy had a wonderful voice, well suited to the part of Pitti-Sing, sister of Yum-Yum. Her acting was above reproach and her graceful, mincing Japanese steps added to her success. She also was a prime favorite with the audience. Miss Ruth Packard was the other sister, Peep-Bo and a lovely Peep-Bo she made. Her voice was pleasing and her acting as usual, excellent.

Sidney Crane, the umbrella bearer for the Mikado, carried out his part to perfection. He took some fine high steps which proved highly interesting to the audience. His master, the Mikado, played by Warren A. Brown, made his entrance as befitted a comic opera king. In his hair was a tall black feather which served to balance a pair of fierce looking moustaches. He was the care-free, gay but feared ruler to perfection. His rhythmic dancing and catching songs were much enjoyed.

Most distinguished was Pooh-Bah as played by John E. Greene. He made the dignity of his many offices very convincing, although he was always ready to take a bribe. Tall, sombre, never smiling, he sang the bass part admirably.

Mr. Greene sings at All Souls church, Braintree and lives in this city.

Charles H. Everett, baritone of the Wollaston Congregational church, played the part of Pish-Tush. His part did not call for much acting but what he did do he did well. His singing was excellent.

Most difficult of all parts is that of Ko-Ko, the executioner. The part was well taken by Herbert W. Smith. No fault could be found with his acting and he had a fine voice. In his speaking parts he was sometimes inaudible to those in the rear of the hall. He kept the audience laughing when he was on the stage, as he was most of the time.

In what is unquestionably the most difficult and most essential part of the opera Mr. Smith faced a difficult task. There was danger of being too boisterous. He found the happy medium and was always entertaining and yet always natural. His facial expressions and gestures left nothing to be desired.

Mr. Smith lives in Allston and sings at the Central church, Boston.

Miss McCarthy and Mr. Crane are residents of Quincy.

Mr. Brown sings at the Leyden church, Brookline.

The operetta is in two acts both scenes being laid in a garden overlooking the city. The stage was prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns.

Between the acts Emery L. Crane ascended the platform and proceeded to auction off the large poster which told that the Mikado was to be given. Delcevare King opened the bidding with 98 cents. The poster was not to be sold at any such bargain price, however, and the bids soon came fast and furious. W. H. Doble finally bought the prize for $4.50.

Music was furnished by the Brockton Philharmonic orchestra of eight pieces, George S. Dunham, conductor. The accompanist was Mrs. Jennie Hocking Hunt.

The ushers were: Delcevare King, Maurice Blackmur, Willard Crocker L. Kenneth Edwards, Henry H. Faxon. Brooks Keyes, Allan Miller. Albert Parker. Karl Pfaffmann. Winslow Sears.

The operetta was produced under the direction of the Music committee of the Quincy Women's club Mrs. Jennie Hocking Hunt is chairman and to her belongs chief credit for the success of the piece.

Mrs. Hunt managed the entire production, Mr. Kennedy, the coach, working under her direction. She trained chorus herself. The latter to show their appreciation at the dress rehearsal Wednesday afternoon presented Mrs. Hunt with two beautiful solid silver tablespoons. In the evening they presented her with a large bunch of violets.

The dress rehearsal was witnessed by some 150 school children who took advantage of the opportunity to see the opera at a reduced price.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

CITY HALL NOTES

The time for paying water bills expired at the close of business Wednesday afternoon and this morning water inspectors commenced work shutting off water, on premises where bills had not been paid. During the past three days $13,500 has been taken by the city treasurer for water bills. This amount is about $5,000 ahead of a year ago. The amount taken in on Monday was $4,000, Tuesday $4,100 and Wednesday $5,400.

The purchasing agent's office has been located for the present in the office of the Overseer of the Poor in the basement of City Hall where he can be found every day. Word that Quincy has appointed a puachasing agent has resulted in a large number of salesmen from Boston firms visiting the agent with their goods.

Mayor Campbell, Commissioner Brown and City Engineer are attending the dinner of the Massachusetts Highway Association this afternoon at the American house Boston.

The work of the Employment bureau will begin in earnest Monday. After that time people desiring work may register and those desiring temporary or permanent help should consult Mr. Hill.

DIED FROM EXPOSURE.

Alexander Michael, whose body was found in Town brook, died from exposure, according to Dr. Fred E. Jones, medical examiner.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE

Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit

WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS

Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.

Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block

Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.-tf

Prescriptions

Just a word to acquaint you with our drug dept.; the most important part of any drug store. We take special care to make this dept. all that is the best in drugs.

We have three Registered Pharmacists, using only the best materials and at a price within reach of all.

CHAS. C. HEARN, City Square Druggist

Good Tidings Products ---
at Adams Market

Canned Beans Lima, Red Kidney and Baked Pea Beans, per can .12 per dozen 1.40

Dainty Bits A cereal breakfast food made from choice grains, per pkg. .15

O. K. Peanut Butter More than double the nutritive value of beefsteak, newly made from No 1 peanuts per lb .18

Soups Nut Chowder, Nut Bouillon, Mockturpa, Nut and Tomato Bisque, Sea Shore Chowder, Imperial Bouillon. per can .10

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980

FOY'S 2 STORES

WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 37 QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 12, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

FIREMEN CONQUER STUBBORN BLAZE

Obliged to Chop Away Plaster to Reach Wollaston Fire

DAMAGE IS ABOUT $400

The alarm from Box 53 at 7.42 this morning called the Wollaston and Central station apparatus to a bad fire in a bungalow house at 198 Fayette street, owned by Horace W. Richmond and occupied by a family named Johanson. The family has been in Quincy but a short time.

The fire started back of the kitchen stove and worked up behind walls to the roof, making one of the hardest kinds of fires to fight as it was necessary for the firemen to chop away the plastering in order to get at it.

The family was aroused by smoke and while one of the family ran to the box to sound the alarm someone telephoned the central station so that before the first round of the box had finished sounding the chief and central station auto chemical were flying down Adams street.

Fortunately the family were able to get the greater part of their furniture out of the building so that the loss will not be heavy, the total loss on building and contents being estimated at $400. While at work at the fire Fred Bent of Ladder No. 2 of Wollaston had a hard pine splinter forced through his hand, making a ragged wound. His injury was dressed by a physician.

John Desmond one of the firemen attached to the central station combination was working in a blind attic during the fire and was partly overcome by smoke. He was feeling his way toward a window, when he tripped and fell heavily, striking his nose on the window sill, bruising it quite badly as well as cutting a gash in his forehead.

SPORTS

MUSICAL PROGRAM.

A fine musical program will be rendered at the Wollaston Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday evening under the direction of William C. Sleeper. Miss Virginia Hicks, of the Leiderheim School of Music of Auburndale will assist the newly organized chorus choir. The musical program will be as follows:

Lift up your Heads, Hopkins—Chorus.

The Day is Ended, Alto Solo, Bartlett—Miss Virginia Hicks.

The Pillars of the Earth, Tours—Chorus.

The Lord is our Leader, Duet, Brackett—Miss Hicks and Mr. Sleeper.

The Heavens Proclaim Him, Beethoven—Chorus.

Offertory Anthem, I Am Alpha and Omega, Stainer—Chorus.

SMALL SCORES.

The rolloff scores at the Coliseum alleys Thursday evening were small. Smith had 298, O'Neil 298, Tirrell 288.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Saturday generally fair. Sunday fair and colder.

TOMORROWS ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.44
Sun sets	5.13
Length of day	10.29
Moon rises	7.00
High water, A. M.	10.15
High water, P. M.	11.15
Days increase	1 hr. 23minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.33 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	43 degrees
Feb. 12, 1914,	8 degrees
Feb. 12, 1913,	31 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—87.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

DECLARES HE IS ONLY FIFTY-TWO

"Joe" Dennen Observes 72nd Birthday

Joseph W. Dennen, the popular restauranter of City Square, hale and hearty, quietly observed the 72nd anniversary of his birth Thursday. Mr. Dennen attended to business throughout the day, holding to his rule of life, "Never happy unless doing something." He was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Dennen and was the recipient of many remembrances.

The query, "How old are you, Mr. Dennen?" brought the answer "say 52 years, my boy, not a day older and I feel just as well as when I first came to Quincy 42 years ago. Perhaps not so spry, but just as well."

Mr. Dennen was born in Gloucester, not pronounced in the usual way, but giving the letter "c" an "sh" sound. "Gloushester?" "you never heard that pronunciation" said he. "Why it was just that when I was a boy and that's what it is now."

A farmer all his life, Mr. Dennen has always lived a close to nature life He is an admirer of horses, but a few years ago sold his pet mare, one of the best pieces of horse flesh ever seen in the city, and took up automobiling, but he uses the machine to reach the Marshfield, Brockton and Readville tracks on racing days.

His first employment was on his father's small farm and at the age of 20 he was made overseer of a 100 acre farm in Salem. Ten years later he took charge of the extensive Mt. Wollaston farm in this city and made it one of the most prosperous of the cultivated areas in New England.

Mr. Dennen in a pleasant way harks back to the time he drove a milk wagon from "Gloushester" to Boston and then from Quincy to Boston. "I did that for 20 years," he said, "from Quincy to Back Bay and every family had its private can. And snow storms, why we don't have snow storms now. In those days we oftentimes had to shovel our way into town.

Mr. Dennen told but a few of his friends of his anniversary and today others who have just learned are dropping in to grasp his hand.

WILLIE H. SHAW.

The funeral of Willie H. Shaw, a prominent member of the Quincy Yacht club, who died Tuesday, took place from his home in Braintree Thursday afternoon.

Rev. Harry Grimes, pastor of the First Congregational church of that town officiated at the services and among those present was a delegation from the class of 1877 Amherst college, of which the deceased was a member, and business associates.

There were many beautiful floral remembrances. Burial was in Mt Wollaston cemetery, Quincy.

EAGLES MEET.

John C. Faircloth president of John Adams aerie Fraternal Order of Eagles, at the meeting in Electa hall Wednesday evening announced that he had reappointed Past President James Mellen, chairman of the entertainment committee. The other members are William McEwan, Fred Steinbrenner, Peter M. Dackers, Andrew Boyle, George Mitchell, Charles Battson, William Childs, William Allen, Michael McNeil

Resolutions were passed on the death of Joseph M. Bruce and it was voted to have a delegation from the aerie attend the funeral.

FINED $5 EACH.

Peter Corbett, 19, and David Corbett 18, of Quincy Point, pupils of the evening school classes were summoned before the district court this morning by Attendance Officer Charles H. Johnson for failure to attend school. Both young men are employed at the Fore River and have been in court before for failure to attend school. Both claim to be Spaniards. This morning the court fined each $5.

Prizes were won by Elmer Sprague John J. Moriarty and Ken. McKenzie at the whist party of the Town River Yacht club Thursday night. There were seven tables in play.

By permission of "McClure's"

Abraham Lincoln

Born	Feb. 12, 1809
Moved to Indiana	1816
Moved to Illinois	1830
Served in Black Hawk War	1832
Defeated for Legislature	1832
Member of Legislature	1834-1835
Admitted to Bar	1836
Married	1842
Elected to Congress	1846
Defeated for U. S. Senate	1858
Lincoln-Douglass Debates	1858
Inaugurated President	1860
First fall for Volunteer	1861
Emancipation Proclamation, Jan. 1,	1863
Re-elected President,	Nov 1864
Fall of Richmond	April 3, 1865
Surrender of Lee,	April 9, 1865
Assassination	April 14, 1865

HOLD LINCOLN DAY EXERCISES

Exercises appropriate to Lincoln day were held in all of the public schools of the city this morning, including the Woodward Institute. There was no set program for the exercises each school making up its own program. In general this included a brief talk on the life and character of Lincoln by the master, the reading of abstracts from Lincoln's addresses, and the singing of patriotic airs.

At the conclusion of the exercises the school children gave the salute to the flag and repeated the oath of allegiance.

One of the most inspiring sights that one can witness is to see the children of our schools standing, with the right hand extended and repeating in unison the oath of allegiance.

SERVICES FOR JOS. M. BRUCE

Friends of Well Known Business Man Attend

The funeral of Joseph M. Bruce was held this morning from his late home on Hancock street at 9 o'clock and was followed at 10 o'clock by a solemn high mass of requiem at St. John's church. The services were largely attended, for aside from his many personal friends there were large delegations present from the several secret societies with which he was affiliated. These included the Elks, Moose, A. O. H., Foresters of America, Eagles and Buffaloes, all of whom sent beautiful floral tributes.

Rev. Michael J. Owens was the celebrant at the mass, with Rev. John J. Casey as deacon and Rev. Walter J. Quinlan as sub-deacon. The musical portion of the mass was the Gregorian chant which was rendered by the regular choir under the direction of John Mahon, organist, the soloists being Mrs. Mary Burns King and Miss Eva Rice.

The burial was at St. Mary's cemetery West Quincy. The bearers were Joseph Neagle, John Faircloth, Alexander W. Russell, John Haggerty and David Warner.

SHAKESPEARE SOCIETY.

The Atlantic Shakespeare Society brought its readings of King Henry the Fourth to a close on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Elijah Hall was chairman of the afternoon. The society will take up the reading of "A Midsummer Night's Dream." The readings will be Feb. 25, March 11, March 25, and April 8.

"DOLL DANCE" IS VERY LATEST

Arbutus Girls Make Initial Social Bow

The Arbutus Girls made their initial bow into social life at a pretty valentine party Thursday evening at Colonial hall. About fifty couples attended. Music was furnished by Morrissette's orchestra.

Guests were present from Milton Weymouth Neponset, Mattapan and all parts of Boston. The dance order contained sixteen numbers one a special dance called "The Doll Dance" given for the first time in this city. Modern dancing prevailed throughout the evening. The floor was in charge of Miss Mary E. Finn, assisted by Misses Marie A. Cormack, Mary M. Doyle, Ella Mulligan, Anna Thayer Mary Williams, Ethel Jones and Frances Daley.

"A FAMILY AFFAIR."

Annual Play of Y. M. C. A. To Be Given April 7.

The annual play of the Y. M. C. A will be given on the evening of April 7. It will be a three act comedy entitled "A Family Affair."

Erastus Osgood is the coach. There will be an added attraction, a short sketch entitled "Old Cronies," which is said to be a side splitter. Mr. Osgood and William Walker will take the parts in this playlet.

SHOWS STEP FORWARD.

Dr. Dillon Bronson held the Fourth Quarterly Conference in the Wollaston Methodist church on Wednesday evening. The reports showed a decided step in advance, financially, over last year. The pastor, Rev. George M. Bailey, was called back for another year by a unanimous vote of the board. L. C. Merrill was made a member of the board of trustees and William E. Robinson and Mrs. George Crothers were made members of the board of stewards.

HOLD MATINEE WHIST.

The George L. Gill Associates held a matinee whist Thursday in Odd Fellows hall in charge of Noble Grand Mrs. Sadie M. Walker. The scores ran high and souvenirs were awarded to Mrs. B. Walsh, Mrs. E. Newcomb, Mrs. B. Magnus, Mrs. G. V White, Mrs. William Thomas, Mrs. J Langhorn, Mrs. H. Spear, Mrs. Hildebrand, Mrs. H. Baker.

BUYS DRUG STORE.

Robert Morrison, for some years connected with the Walsh Drug Co store at Franklin and Water streets has purchased a pharmacy in Cliftondale and is preparing for a grand opening.

INVESTIGATION OF FIRE DEPARTMENT

Mayor and Council Committee Find Is Deficiency Of Apparatus

TO RECOMMEND REMEDY

The Mayor, assisted by the city council committee on fire department has been making an investigation of that department in accordance with the statement contained in the Mayor's inaugural to the effect that the fire department was very deficient the point of apparatus and equipment Conditions found according to the mayor seemed to justify his statement and there is no doubt but what urgent recommendations will be made to the council in the near future.

For the past 17 years there have been practically no repairs or improvements in the equipment other than the few pieces of motor apparatus which have been installed, but no attention has been paid to the alarm system. The circuits were found to be very much over-loaded, there being 28 boxes on one circuit, which would result in a bad mixup of alarms should there be two alarms come in from boxes on that circuit. The condition of the wires was found to be bad and many of the boxes are continually out of order.

The result of this investigation by the committee and mayor has been the bringing to Quincy of an expert in fire alarm systems and a thorough examination has been made by him the result of which has been the suggestion of a method to bring that department, insofar as the alarm system is concerned, to a high point of efficiency. To do this will require the replacement of approximately 14 miles of new wires with 1400 or 1500 feet of special covered copper wires for underground work, besides the adoption of a new storage battery, switchboard, protector board, punching register (which will punch the box number automatically on a long tape) thus keeping absolute record of the box calling and not depending on the counting of the number.

If this entire method is finally reported to the council it will require an additional appropriation for a building independent of the fire station to accommodate the apparatus, but the installation of the same and its full equipment will mean it is claimed the very best in fire alarm systems and one that will last 40 or 50 years. It has been estimated that the cost, including building for installation, will approximately be $15,000 The mayor and committee have the matter under consideration at this time and no doubt will frame a report for the council in the near future with their recommendations.

ASSOCIATION MEETS.

An interesting meeting of the Wollaston Park Improvement Association was held, Thursday evening in Progressive hall with the newly elected president William M. Chase in the chair.

A delegation was present from the Montclair Improvement association and President Taylor spoke in favor of uniting the improvement associations of the city.

Harry G. Clarke of Atlantic told of the movement on foot for cheaper gas and electricity and after some discussion Messrs Chase, Anthony and Barber were appointed to represent the Association before the Public Service Commission.

The need of a fence at the Wollaston railroad station was again discussed and Dr. Whitehouse told of recent narrow escapes at that point.

A large number attended the meeting and several new members were added to the list.

Dennen's Cafe, furnished over one thousand sandwiches, ten roast Turkeys, fifty gallons of coffee and large quantities of fancy cake and ice cream to the Reunion meeting held by the St. John's Parish. The luncheon was pronounced excellent.

NEARLY 2000 ATTEND ST. JOHN'S REUNION

Occasion Was Reception to Fr. Michael J. Owens, Pastor of Church

The annual reunion of members of St. John's parish in Music hall Wednesday evening was the largest affair ever held under church auspices. Nearly 2000 were present and for the first time it was necessary to refuse holders of tickets admittance because of the crowd. Alpha hall was engaged for the overflow.

The occasion was also a reception to Fr. Michael J. Owens, pastor, and during the evening about 2000 Catholics of Quincy, mostly his parishioners, were presented to him.

Fr. Owens sat in the receiving corner until midnight and with him was Fr. John J. Casey and Fr. Walter A. Quinlan, curates of the parish; Fr. John B. Holland of Weymouth, Fr. John P. Cuffe, pastor of Sacred Heart church of Atlantic, Rev. Dr. William Lockney of Peoria, Ill., who is visiting in Norfolk Downs. Other priests of the Boston diocese paid their respects to Father Owens during the evening

Men prominent in the public life of the city were present among them Joseph L. Whiton, president of the council and Councilmen Thomas J. McGrth, John D. Smith and Thomas Griffin.

The hall had been opened but a few minutes when the advance guard arrived and eight o'clock all available seats were taken and standing room was at a prelum. Half an hour later the hall was more than comfortably filled. At 9.30 the ticker turned up the number allowed in the hall by the state regulations and no more tickets were taken. Alpha hall was then engaged and a large number went across and enjoyed dancing.

The concert from eight to nine o'clock was by Burke's orchestra of Brockton which furnished the music for the evening and one of its pleasant features was the cornet solo, "Du Du Leigst," Levy, by Milo Burke. As an encore he played the "Maid of Dundee." The concert programme was:

March, "The Hero of the Game" Bohnlein
Overture, "Light Cavalry" Suppe
Cornet Solo, Milo Burke
Excerpts from Sari Karman
Finale "High Jinks"

Following the concert the waitresses, 60 young women of the parish, dressed in party dresses and wearing pink hats the shape of tam-o-shanters, gave a drill in which they executed maneouvres of the most intricate nature, forming the letters of the word "welcome," and bringing to a close their contribution by walking, in company formation, from the opposite corner towards the pastor behind a long pink banner on which was inscribed in 18 inch letters the word "welcome." The march was under the direction of Miss Margaret Heaney and Miss Corrine LaBrecque.

The reception march was formed about 9.30 and was headed by John Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Griffin of 1087 Hancock street, and James McDermott, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McDermott of Quincy avenue, both dressed as pages. Former Representative Michael T. and Mrs. Michael T. Sullivan were the first couple in the march. Next in line were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hearn, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dasha, and Mrs. John Nolan, William Nolan and Miss Irene Dasha. Miss Mary Gavin and Mrs. David Burke of New York City, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McAnarney, Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Barrett, J. Aloysius and Miss Carey and 400 others.

The long line circled the hall once and as they commenced the second circle the pages presented Father Owens with a large basket of American Beauty roses. George M. Sheahan, chairman of the reception committee then presented those in line. Dancing followed and those who did not participate in the reception march were received until midnight.

Tickets for the refreshments were sold in the hall by the Misses Emma Biganess, Gertrude Crowley, Lulu Crowley, Mary Heaney, Sadie Heaney, Gertrude Hughes, Josephine McCarthy, Mary Lyons, Bessie Mahoney, Margaret Sullivan, Anna Walsh, Gertrude Hughes, Gertrude Carroll, Noni O'Connor and Helen Hamilton Gavin.

The evening was replete with novelties and one of the prettiest was the decorations of the hall including 400 hand made Killarney roses. The stage was literally a bank of potted plants and palms, behind which the orchestra was concealed. The front of the stage represented a rose garden, hundreds of the paper blossoms giving it a most realistic appearance. Woven in and out among the flowers were ferns and greenery and protecting the arrangement from the large crowd was a fence, the design of which was quarter circles in pyramid formations.

A large American flag illuminated by several dozen Japanese lanterns shades, was the background of the stage. The reception corner was a most inviting one. Over the three heavy chairs where the clergy of the parish were seated was a canopy which extended five feet from the wall An intricate electrical arrangement made possible the net work of lights, all of which were covered with pink crepe paper shades and around the side of the hall were streamers of pink and white, toned off with large bunches of artificial chrysanthemums, carnations and roses. In another corner of the hall there was a frappe table, daintily decorated, presided over by young women.

The decorations were made by the young women members of the Catholic club, and are active workers of the parish. The decorating was by Miss Nellie Desmond and was a big factor in the success of the affair.

Those who participated in the waitresses' march were:

Carmel Brogan, Helen Brogan, Pauline Brogan, Clara Brown, Stella Brown, Catherine Brown, Marie Broughton, Helen Cahill, Marion Cahill, Ethel Cook, Mary Driscoll, Ethel Driscoll, Lillian De Young, Marie Ferguson, Mary Foley, Eva Frazier, Laura Gallagher, Evelyn Galvin, Mary Goodhue, Augusta La Breque,

(Continued on Page Three.)

WEDNESDAY LEDGER CLUB NEWS

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the
TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Although today is not observed as a national holiday there will be few in America who will not remember that it is the birthday of Abraham Lincoln. For the man who guided the ship of state through the woeful days of the Civil War has become more beloved as the years roll on. It needs no national holiday to keep the memory of him fresh in the minds of the men and women, and children, too, of the country which he gave his life to save.

Many have attempted to measure his greatness. They have compared him to Washington, to Hamilton, to other great Americans. There is no profit in such speculation. Washington had his task to do and he did it. Lincoln had his task to do, quite a different task, and he did it. Both were men of destiny, both called to face the duty which confronted them. Lincoln could no more have filled Washington's place than Washington could have filled Lincoln's. The one was the founder of the nation, the other its preserver.

Lincoln was a man of the people, as that phrase is usually understood. a simple, unassuming man, with the pure heart of a child and the strength of a man. He was not an uneducated man, rather he enjoyed such a liberal education as few men can claim. His schooling was meagre, it is true, but in place of it he substituted the education to be gained by reading good works and thinking real thoughts.

Lincoln's character was always consistent. He was honest, frank and sincere in every action, and these qualities were reflected in his writing He saw, too, the heart of things more directly than other men. His great political creed that a house divided against itself cannot exist, was formed early in his political career after the mature deliberation of a logical mind. From this creed he never swerved.

Such a man could not help, when he put pen to paper, writing words which will endure forever, which make him great in literature as he was in affairs of state. The Gettysburg address is known to every school boy and girl in the land. Perhaps it is the most beautiful thing he wrote. But many other things there are, all too seldom read, which are moulded in the same beautiful simple, logical, compelling style. To find these qualities one does not have to turn to his state papers. They are to be found just as easily in the casual things which he wrote, letters, and telegrams to friends and enemies. Perhaps there is nothing of his, unless it is the Gettysburg address, which expresses more truly the great sympathetic heart of the man than his letter to Mrs. Bixby of Boston, written in November 1864, when the shadow of the great struggle hovered darkly over him. He wrote:

"I have been shown in the files of the War Department a statement of the Adjutant-General of Massachusetts that you are the mother of five sons who have died gloriously on the field of battle. I feel how weak and fruitless must be any words of mine which should attempt to beguile you from the grief of a loss so overwhelming. But I cannot refrain from tendering to you the consolation that may be found in the thanks of the Republic they died to save. I pray that our heavenly Father may assuage the anguish of your bereavement and leave you only the cherished memory of the loved and lost, and the solemn pride that must be yours to have laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom."

Less than five months after this letter was written the whole country was mourning the death of the man who had laid his very life upon the altar of freedom.

ISLE OF PINES, W. I.
An association is now being formed to own 100 acres of grapefruit or 7000 trees. Join now—membership $250.00, $10.00 down and $5.00 per month. 6 pct. guaranteed for the first five years and then each member gets 85 pct. of the profits. Write for particulars.
ISLE OF PINES ASSOCIATES
170 Summer St., Boston, Mass.
Feb. 11-1m

GILMAN TO BE CHIEF SPEAKER

Local G. A. R. Veterans Invited to Campfire at Y. M. C. A.

A Lincoln's Birthday Campfire will be held at four o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A., John Gilman of Boston, past national commander of the G. A. R., will be the speaker. Col. Edward Anderson will preside. The local G. A. R. post and Sons of Veterans have been invited There will be special features and decorations.

WITH THE MOVIES IN CHINA.

A number of American young people gave a moving picture machine to the American Board Mission in Taikuhsin, China. The story of its use last summer has just come to hand. Taiku is a city of 20,000 inhabitants and is one of the banking centers of China. It is in Shansi province about forty miles south of the provincial capital. The Oberlin-Shansi Memorial Academy is located there as well as a lively girls' boarding school and an efficient hospital.

Rev. Wynn C. Fairfield, an Oberlin man who went to China in 1910, is the one who has managed the movies and who tells the story of their use in this remote interior city. The Chinese preacher got permission from the Buddhist priest in charge of the White Pagoda Temple in the center of the city to set up the machine on an elevated platform in front of the temple where plays in honor of the temple gods are given. Before the platform is a big paved space where the audiences stood as they do in Chinese theatres.

The show was advertised by posters and by word of mouth and about 1,000 came the first night. Next night the Chinese servant who carried the apparatus said "If there are not 8,000 or 9,000 people here there are 10,000" but Mr. Fairfield reckoned on about 2,000. He used about 1,000 feet of film each night and sandwiched in between the reels of educational views were slides picturing the Life of Christ.

This was in April. Later exhibitions were given in June, July, August and September. The audience averaged about 1,500—perhaps 22,500 persons attended during the season. Some reels expected from America not having arrived, Mr. Fairfield secured, to use with the films originally given, a set illustrating the First Christmas and another on the Life of Paul. It was encouraging to find, after these were shown, that men who had seen them were reading their New Testaments to find out more about the subjects of the pictures.

Mr. Fairfield made plans to reach some of the crowds at the great fairs held in the Autumn; but winter use is not practicable as Taiku has no house big enough to hold the crowds who want to come to an indoor exhibition When the attempt was made to have an exhibition in the mission chapel the crowd was so destructive of furniture, etc., that it was not tried again. By the time outdoor work is again possible Mr. Fairfield hopes to have a still larger assortment of pictures which will take into the Chinese minds by eye-gate the facts preachers and teachers are trying to put in through ear-gate.

GOLDEN CROSS MEET.

Past Noble Invests Officers With Official Emblems.

Past Noble Commander Patrick Dolan invested the officers of Dorothy Quincy Commandery United Order of the Golden Cross with the official emblems Wednesday evening. The investment took place at Hancock hall at the annual gentlemen's night of the organization.

The officers invested were Noble Commander Mrs. Mary Cryan Vice Noble Commander Miss Mary Sweeney Secretary John Griffin Financial Keeper-of-Records Miss Sadie Wilson Treasurer Miss Veronica Burke, Prelate Miss Agnes Roust, Herald William Griffin, Inner Guard John Hyslop and Outer Guard Fred Pringle.

During the evening there was an entertainment which included games dancing, songs by Fred Pringle and step dancing by Patrick Dolan. Music was by Miss Helen Connor.

"LIFER" IS HEIR.

Jesse Pomeroy the noted lifer at State Prison, and his brother, Charles of Worcester, are the heirs-at-law of the estate of Mrs. Pomeroy. The real estate is valued at $1800 and $200 personal property.

CITY APPEARS IN OPPOSITION

There was considerable opposition at the hearing before the Directors of the Port of Boston Thursday on the petition of Mrs. Sarah Castor of Quincy for permission to build a fence from high to low water mark along her property on Town river, to separate it from abutting property. Among those to appear in opposition to the petition were City Solicitor Pinkham, City Engineer Sargent, and Councilmen McDonald, McGrath and Kessler, the committee on legislative matters of the city council. Mr. Smith and Mr. Sibley, abutters to the property through counsel registered their opposition.

The grounds for objection were that it would be dangerous to the small boats that were constantly using the river. It was pointed out that part of the time the fence if built would be under water and that small sail boats as well as row boats containing women and children would be in danger of fouling the fenee and being capsized.

Mr. and Mrs. Castor, both of whom were present, were represented by counsel who stated that they simply wanted to protect their property, from trespassing.

The Port Directors took the matter under advisement.

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

A hockey game in which there was nothing but Simpson was played Wednesday afternoon on the Cunningham rink between the Milton and Dorchester High schools. The former won 4—0. The score was only 1—0 at the end of the first half, but in the second "Joe" Simpson woke up and made five goals in rapid succession. Bruce made the other two goals. "Park" Field at goal played an excellent game. This is the third consecutive game the Milton team has won. The Milton lineup was: lw Bruce; rw Simpson; c Pond; cp Crowell; p Welch; r Robertson; g Field.

The big game of the year took place Thursday afternoon against the Academy team.

The Cunningham Juniors and the Ward Eight five engaged in a hard fought basket ball game Wednesday afternoon on Cunningham floor which finally ended in a victory for the Juniors with the score 18—17. At the end of the first half the score stood at an 8—8 tie. Both teams came back stronger in the second half and played a speedy game. With but a second to play the score stood 17—16 in Ward Eights favor when Hyslop, the Junior's right back, threw the winning basket just as the bell rang. Shand starred for the losers, making five goals from the floor and one on a foul and Barry and Maguire played well for the winners.

The lineup was as follows:

Cunningham Juniors	Ward Eight
MacCormick c	c Maguire
Hall rb	rb Hyslop
Fallon lb	lb Lewis
Shand rf	rf Long
Morrissey lf	lf Barry

The High school hockey team met its first defeat of the season Thursday afternoon on the Cunningham rink at the hands of the Academy team. The score was 3—1. Humphrey and Clark each made a goal during the first half for the Academy. During the second half referee Shea was forced to put several men of each side out of the game. Clark made his second goal in the second period. The prettiest shot of the game was that of Captain Robertson, which was Milton's only goal. Field continued his good work as goal tender. Clark starred for the Academy.

William A. Fredericks of Clapp street observed his eightieth birthday on Tuesday evening at his home. Mr. Fredericks is a memoer of the Grand Army Post 68 of Harrison Square and has a wide circle of friends among the older residents of the town. He was showered with gifts from the Woman's Relief Corps, Sons and Daughters of Veterans and from other organizations to which he belongs. The affair was a regular family reunion. After supper was served speeches were made and whist enjoyed.

At the recent roll off in the mixed league at Cunningham Gym team one defeated team six 3—1. William Eaton made the high single for the men 110, and Miss Cobb for the women, 95.

The minstrel show presented Wednesday evening in Ellsworth hall by the members of The Kemp class of the East Congregational Sunday school was one grand success. The hall was so crowded that seventy-five people had to be refused admission. Too much praise can not be given to James L. Maclary, leader of the boys, who for the past two months has been working continually in training these "rookies" in minstresly. The club was assisted by John Robertson and Horace Woods, who acted in the role of end men. The jokes and acting of these two combined with the other end men, Louis Gosselin and Clarence Carlson, kept the audience laughing through the whole performance. The boys were fortunate in securing Olaf Olsen, president of the Men's Club, to act as interlocutor. Miss Alice Lakin assisted at the piano. The first scene was laid in a hotel lobby.

The characters were as follows:

Clerk—Clarence Carlson.

Bell Boys—Ross Doherty and Fletcher Long.

Waiter—Horace Wood.

Pat the Porter—Louis L. Gosselin.

Salesmen—George Reid, Crawford Hollidge, Randall Pratt, Lester Avery, Winthrop Greene, Hugh Robertson and Paul Carlton.

College boys—Edwin Lakin and Brackett Parsons.

"In Minstrel Land" was sung in the opening chorus. Clarence Carlson, president of the class, sang "I'm Going Back to Caroline;" Alfred Wood, "You are the Rose of my Heart;" John Robertson, "My Wife's in Europe," William Hoxie, "In the Garden of My Heart;" Louis Gosselin, "Sailing Down Chesapeake Bay." Hugh Robertson, "To Have To Hold, To Love," Horace Woods, "Celebratin' day in Tennessee" and the whole chorus, "It's A Long Way to Tipperary" and "America."

The following were in the chorus: Lester Avery, Paul Carlton, Ross Doherty, Winthrop Greene, Kenneth Hecker, Crawford Hollidge, Malcolm Howe, William Hoxie, Edwin Lakin, Fletcher Long, Brackett Parsons, Langdon Parsons. Randall Pratt, George Reid, Hugh Robertson and Alfred Wood.

On the bowling match at Cunningham Gym team 3 has now a firm hold on first place, having held it for four consecutive weeks. Team nine is still in second. One of the surprises of the past week was to see team 1 crawl out of the bottom place and leave the honors to team 5. The standing of the teams is:

Team	Won	Lost	Total P. F.
3	37	15	17012
9	34	18	16048
4	30	22	16244
7	28	24	16058
8	27	25	16563
10	27	25	16450
2	25	27	16269
6	21	31	13909
1	17	35	15064
5	14	38	15872

The highest individual averages are Wood 95.4; E. Cummings 93.7; J. F. Reid and C. Smith 91.8; Duggan 90.8; J. Corkery, D. Reid and Bishop 90.5; Sim and Gordon 90.4; J. Cummings 90.3; Delury 90.2; J. Farrell 90.1; "Dick" Reid still retains the highest three string, 336 and "Jack" Reid the highest single string with 125.

QUEEN ESTHER CIRCLE MEETS

The Queen Esther Circle of the Hall place M. E. church met at the home of Miss Susie Edwards, Copeland street, Wednesday evening.

The contest which has been carried on the past month to raise funds ended at this meeting. The side with Miss Ethel Newcomb as captain raised the largest amount. The losing side with Miss Ethel Nicholls as captain will furnish a supper at the next meeting which will be held at the home of Miss Edna Burke on Willard street.

The Circle has voted to purchase a banner.

This evening the Circle will give a Valentine party to the Knights of St. Paul in the vestry.

In the interests of Home Missions the Circle is studying "Red Man's Land." Miss Mary Williams read a paper on the Indians. At the close of the meeting the hostess served hot chocolate and cake and fruit. The Queen Esther Circle was organized last September with 14 members. Since then three new members have been added.

At Christmas the Circle sent a box of children's garments made by the circle to the East Boston Medical Mission. It also pledged fifteen dollars to help educate a Mexican girl in one of our mission schools. This pledge has been paid. With all expenses paid including the Valentine party, the Circle still has a good balance on hand in the Treasury.

At the next meeting the mite boxes will be opened and this will add to the general funds.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

WILL PROTECT AMERICAN SHIPS

United States Will Not Permit Them to Be Molested

BELLIGERENTS GET WARNING

Use of Stars and Stripes by British Merchantmen Considered Dangerous —Germany Told That Friendly Relations May Be Charged Should American Vessel Be Destroyed

Washington, Feb. 12.—The United States has warned Great Britain and Germany, respectively, that general use of the American flag by British vessels would be viewed with grave concern here, and that the destruction by Germany of any American vessel in the newly prescribed war zone would lead to serious complications.

It became known that the text of the two notes sent to Great Britain and Germany expressed much more emphatically than had been generally known the displeasure of the United States at the use of neutral flags by British merchantmen, and its solicitude over the implication that neutral vessels were liable to destruction by German submarines in the waters around Great Britain and Ireland.

In the document which has been transmitted to Ambassador Gerard at Berlin for presentation to the German foreign office there is a friendly but pointed statement that American vessels should have free and unrestricted passage through the high seas and unblockaded waters and that destruction of an American vessel might lead to a change in the hitherto friendly relations which have existed between the United States and Germany.

While in the note to Great Britain the representations made are not based on the Lusitania incident, but on the statement of the British foreign office justifying the use of neutral flags by its vessels, the United States has stated its position unequivocally.

The text of the two documents were published by the state department. Among the diplomatists in Washington the fact that the United States has taken a pronounced stand created a profound impression.

No joint representations with the United States on the same subjects have been made by any of the neutrals, though the various foreign offices, through their ministers in Washington, have consulted the American government as to its attitude.

What the Notes Say

To Germany the Washington note says:

The imperial German government is asked to consider the critical situation that might arise were the German naval forces to destroy any American merchant vessel, or cause the death of American citizens.

The sole right of a belligerent in dealing with neutral vessels on the high seas is limited to visit and search, unless in case of a blockade effectually maintained.

"If commanders of German warships should destroy on the high seas an American vessel or the lives of American citizens, the imperial German government can readily appreciate that the government of the United States would be constrained to hold the imperial German government to a strict accountability for such acts, and to take any steps that might be necessary to safeguard American lives and property.

To Great Britain Washington says:

The occasional use of a neutral flag under stress of immediate pursuit seems to this government a very different thing from an explicit sanction for a belligerent's merchant ships generally to fly the flag of a neutral power within sections of the high seas frequented by hostile warships.

Such a policy of general misuse of a neutral's flag jeopardizes the vessels of the neutral visiting those waters, by raising the presumption that they are of belligerent nationality, regardless of the flag they carry.

Such a policy would even seem to impose on Great Britain a measure of responsibility for the loss of American lives and vessels in case of an attack by German naval vessels.

Diplomats Are Notified

The British, Spanish and Brazilian ambassadors, who happened to call at the state department, were given copies of the notes, as were the ministers of Sweden, Norway and Denmark, who specially requested them.

High officials of the American government pointed out informally that it had been deemed advisable to speak in unmistakable terms now, rather than to await the alarming effect upon American opinion which might ensue from the sinking of a vessel with scores of American citizens. The notes, officials were confident, would serve as a preventative of the crucial possibilities discussed in them.

Diplomats examined with great interest the language of the communications, and some of them construed the note to Germany as a warning that the loss of American lives by sinking even a belligerent merchant ship would be covered by the representations of the American government because of the insistence that all merchant ships must be visited and searched and passengers taken off before ships can be sunk.

NOTICE!
This space will be devoted each day—Not to advertise cheap grade at full value but Johnson Bros. Quality goods at a sure low Price.
FOR SATURDAY THE 13TH,
With each purchase of one pound of HASKELL & ADAMS private growth coffee at 35c a lb. we will give FREE one half pint jar of best Deerfoot Cream.
JOHNSON BROS., City Square.

News of Interest to Granite Manufacturers and Workers

The weather this week is more favorable to the granite men than it has been for the last two months. Several of the sheds are overhauling their machinery and getting their yards ready for the spring rush. From now on business will have to be better as every day is one nearer to Memorial day and the work must be ready on that day.

Several men have been hired at the quarries during the week. As soon as the frost leaves the ground and work on the Westerly quarries begins so that the local manufacturers can get the stock for their Westerly orders which have accumulated on their books since last November business in this city will be on in earnest.

ARTHUR HULTMAN'S PLAN.

It looks as though the plan of Arthur B. Hultman to erect a chapel at Mount Wollaston cemetery has met with favor from the granite manufacturers of the city. With two men representing the granite industry of the city on the board of Managers of Public Burial Places it is to be expected that if this chapel is built. Quincy granite will be named as the only granite to be figured upon.

The city does not want to have any more public buildings built of imported granite. The Post Office building although a beautiful one looks out of place in Quincy and the question "Why was not Quincy granite used in the postoffice?" has been asked innumerable times It is hoped that Thomas Bishop and Joseph H. Vogel will take care of this for the good of the leading industry of the city. The offer of Mr. Wright to draw plans for the chapel shows a public spirit.

IS IN NEW YORK.

Konstant Tikkanen of the firm of Willard Granite Polishing Company, is in New York to attend the convention of the Retail Granite Dealers of New York. Mr. Tikkanen formerly was foreman for the Sampo Granite Company and Neil A. McDonald formerly was employed by Deacon Brothers as foreman of the polishing mill. They bought out the Mannex plant on Willard street and have a well equipped plant.

AN INTERESTING PLANT.

The yard of John Horrigan on Federal avenue presents one of the most interesting plants in the city. The work out here is all high class carving, delicately executed. Several fine pieces of statuary are now being cut at the plant and will be completed before Memorial day.

IS INDUSTRY DYING?

A well known quarry foreman who was formerly employed in this city stated that in a very few years the granite industry in Quincy will be a dead issue. He stated that the supply of dark and extra dark stock was limited and was fast diminishing. The wholesalers demand nothing but dark and extra dark and the manufacturer must fill the order accordingly. Quincy has several fine quarries which produce a pretty light stock but this will only do for bottom bases.

Some of the manufacturers use this stock and get by with it by using either ink or dope, a practice which has hurt our industry very much of late. Unless some new dark and extra dark quarries are opened up within the next few years Quincy's well known industry will "be up against it" in the opinion of this man.

The letter of Gustave Bates printed recently in the Ledger was read with interest by the granite men of the city. It is a well known fact that one of the greatest problems for the quarry owners to consider is how to get some return for the grout and get it out of the way. The further the grout has to be taken either by car or horse the greater the expense. The huge piles of grout surrounding every quarry in this city represents a dead loss. Mr. Bates suggests that each quarry be connected with the railroad. If this was done there probably would be a change for the better.

USE OWN STONE.

The Swedish Lutheran church on Granite street has added a wing to the church. The granite was taken from the rock on which the church stands. This church is built on a large bluff and can be seen for miles around. When the need for more space came several months ago one of the parishioners suggested that the stock be taken from the large bluff on which the church is built. The wing is now near completion and is a very fine looking building. The cost of construction of the wing was thus reduced to a minimum.

PRESENT THREE ACT COMEDY

A large number attended the presentation of "Lucia's Lover" in the First Presbyterian church Wednesday evening. The three act comedy was given by young women of the church.

The scenes were laid in a girls' boarding school. The actors acquitted themselves well and were enthusiastically applauded.

The leading part was well taken by Miss Miriam Kemp a sister of Miss Ruth Kemp who appears in leading parts in productions by the Eastern Star. Miss Margaret McLennan was a clever love-lorn lass.

The cast included Misses Edith Murray Annie Jenkins Mildred Moyle Miriam Kemp, Jennie McLeod, Margaret McLennan, Margaret McIntosh.

Solos were rendered between the acts by Miss Annie Heggie, humorous selections by the Pickwick Trio, composed of Louis Marini, Wm. Cummings and Walter Emery.

CONLIN SHOE REPAIRING

Men's Sewed Taps and Heels	75c
Men's Sewed Taps and Rubber heels	$1.00
Men's Nail Taps and Heels	65c
Men's Heels	20c
Ladies' Taps and Heels Sewed	65c
Ladies Taps and Rubber heels Sewed	85c
Ladies Heels	15c
Rubber Heels	40c and 50c
Skates Sharpened, New Process	15c
$4 Ralston Shoes for	1.50

Hancock and Saville Sts.
Tel. 961-M. Oct. 7-tf

EDWARD J. FECAN
Counsellor at Law
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 418-4. Haymarket 2440
Oct. -tf

ONLY ONE "Bromo Quinine," that is Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove on box. 25c.

Masquerade Costumes For Rent
Children's Costumes in variety
MRS. R. E. WOODWARD
155 Billings Road
Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs
Feb. 3-tf

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES.
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

NO MORE GROSSMAN'S CLOTHES SHOP

SALE BEGAN
Thursday, Feb. 11
9 A. M.
AND CONTINUES FOR
10 Days
You seldom get an opportunity like this

BALANCE OF THE STOCK AT

1500 Hancock Street Kincaide's New Block QUINCY

MUST BE TURNED INTO CASH IN 10 DAYS

Open Every Night During This Sale

Necessity Knows No Law

Positively Nothing Reserved

AT PRICES NEVER BEFORE EQUALLED IN QUINCY OR EVER ATTEMPTED BY ANY MERCHANT

There are many things a merchant has to do in this world to save himself. This is one of the times you can profit by our loss

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

Ever since we opened this store in the new Kincaide Block we have been confronted with conditions that could not be governed, viz: the times, weather, etc. NOW we have approached another abyss that means more to us than real business success and that is, to meet our obligations with our Creditors that we have decided to dispose of our stock at any price and retire from business. THE CRITICAL FINANCIAL STAGNATION HAS FORCED US INTO THIS STEP. Thus have conditions shaped themselves.

This notice to the public much to our regret and great financial loss, should be of interest to everybody in this vicinity for everybody knows that there never was located in Quincy, before, such a store as Grossman's Clothes Shop for values and up-to-date Clothing and Furnishings. Now it is the one question with us to sell that stock, so we have marked everything at such Low Prices that will readily make the Goods move and every dollar's worth of Merchandise sold before the 10 days expire.

Remember it is only Five Months since this store opened its doors so the stock is practically new

SALE BEGAN FEBRUARY 11th, THURSDAY, at 9 A. M. AND CONTINUES FOR 10 DAYS AND NOT A SINGLE DAY LONGER AS WE VACATE THIS STORE BEFORE THE END OF THIS MONTH AND WHAT IS LEFT WILL BE SOLD TO SOME JOBBER.

Read this Page over carefully. It means dollars saved for you. Supply your present and future wants now

EVERY ARTICLE AT THIS SALE IS GUARANTEED TO YOU BY THE MANUFACTURERS

MANY ATTEND TURKEY SUPPER

Woman's Guild Hold Successful Fair

Perfect weather conditions and a new parish house helped to make the fair and supper of the Woman's Guild of St. Chrysostoms church, Thursday afternoon and evening a success. The attendance during the afternoon was good but around six o'clock the arrivals were frequent and soon after a turkey supper was served The excellency of these suppers has long been recognized and that of Thursday evening was fully up to the standard of other years. It was served in the old parish rooms and so many desired to partake that it was necessary to set two tables. Half of a good dinner is in the serving and the ladies who acted in this capacity were so solicitous for the welfare and comfort of the guests that it seemed like one large family gathering. The menu was roast turkey with all the "fixins".

The decorations in the assembly hall where the sale was held were pink and green. At the candy table branches of Japanese cherry blossoms made by members of the Junior Auxiliary were attractively used. All kinds of home made candy, stuffed [illegible] popcorn balls, besides chocolates and stick candy were readily sold by Mrs. Herbert L. Packard, Mrs Theresa M. Campbell, Mrs. Thomas L. Marshall and Mrs. Charles J. Kelley.

The ice cream table was daintily set in delicate pink and white in charge of Mrs. J. Willard Hallett, Mrs. William Klingenhagen and Mrs. George A. Vibert.

The doll table which was the most elaborately decorated had pink and green arches, trimmed with festoons and streamers of crepe paper. Every kind of a dressed doll as well as a good assortment of children's dresses were sold by Mrs. Hy Kneeland Ellis, Jr., assisted by Mrs. George L. Allen Mrs. Frederick S. Waite and Mrs. Oliver D. MacLaughlin.

The linen table presided over by Miss Elizabeth Cook and Mrs. Theodore Parker was an attractive booth where choice articles mostly of exquisitely embroidered linen pieces were sold.

At the apron stall were the Misses Clean, Mrs. Arthur Stanley, Mrs. Alice J. Bainbridge and Mrs. Herbert F. Price and aprons of every conceivable shape, size and color found a ready sale.

The baby table was in charge of Mrs. Horace W. Richmond assisted by Mrs. Frederick H. Steenstra, Mrs John E. Walter, Mrs. Frank J. Aulbach, and Mrs. John Ramsey. The dainty little articles in white, pink and blue for babies were adorable

At the household table was a fine display of useful articles as well as canned fruit in glass, in charge of Mrs. Percy L. Davidson, Mrs. Frank E Cleveland and Mrs. Frederick A Kelley.

Mrs. Howard D. Fowler had a small table which looked most inviting, on which were marmalades of all kinds in glass jars.

"Aunt Becky" with her hundred pockets was Mrs. Elizabeth Shultz; anything mysterious always attracts and she was well patronized.

Mrs. David L. Jewell sold supper tickets. The supper committee was headed by Mrs. Herbert D. Albee and Mrs. Daniel C. Miller, assisted by Mrs. George H. Bean, Mrs. Frederick L. Bent, Mrs. Vernon S. Brokaw, Mrs. Edwin J. Coleman, Mrs. William J. Croucher, Mrs. Eleazer F. Drew, Mrs. Alfred J. Fox, Mrs. Benjamin A. Hobson, Mrs. George Horte, Mrs. John P. Lamb, Mrs. Ellis M. McTear, Mrs George J. Poch, Brs. George F. S Pearce, Mrs. Roland A. Thayer, Mrs Lewis E. Trussell, Mrs. Samuel W. Wilkinson, Miss Gertrude M. Thorne and Miss Dorothy Brokaw.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton, Director
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings. 6-6t

SPECIAL MEETING.

A special meeting of the School Committee has been called for Saturday evening, at which time it will consider its annual budget which will be forwarded to the mayor and city council Monday.

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

There will be a Bible Class "feed" at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday.

Chester N. Godfrey of 407 Highland avenue is convalescing slowly from a severe attack of throat infection.

The Norwegian society will hold its tenth annual smoke talk Saturday evening in Protection hall.

Charles H. Totten has been appointed as janitor of the Savings Bank building, succeeding William E. Dewhurst.

A regular business session of the Riverside club was held Wednesday afternoon at the club house. Routine business was transacted.

Several West Quincy young men attended the annual dance of the M. I. T. Catholic club at the Hotel Somerset Wednesday evening.

Physical Director La Rose of the Y. M. C. A. who has been kept from his duties for some weeks because of ill health, is expected to be on hand Monday.

The Franco Americans met Wednesday evening at Hibernian hall. Ferdinand Gosselin of the entertainment committee reported that the whist party and dance was very successful.

The women of the Wollaston Baptist church held an all day meeting Thursday to sew for the Belgians Light refreshments were served at noon.

The Young Peoples Society of Christian Endeavor had charge of the prayer meeting at the Wollaston Baptist church Thursday evening. There was a very large attendance of young people who were addressed by Rev. R. P. Anderson, associate editor of the Christian Endeavor World, who gave a most interesting talk on the line of work of the society. Carrying out the idea of Christian Endeavor week the society will give a reception at the church tonight to the honorary members.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

AT THE THEATRE

A full house greeted Kincaide's week end show and the audience appreciated the jokes and applauded with much spirit. "The Exploits of Elaine" is more exciting each installment. Kennedy almost catches the "Clutching Hand" but the wonderful cleverness of the crook saves him. A fight on a church steeple is one of the main features. Kennedy and the fake minister fight it out on top of the roof, and Elaine comes just in time to shoot the villain.

"Their Soldier" is a pathetic picture which ends well, however. The Hearst-Selig Weekly showed the new army the Kaiser is raising to meet "Kitchener's Million Men," and other events of current interest. De Marest's act was highly popular, his jokes were new and he can certainly play the piano. Harry LeMarr came a close second. He impersonated a "fussy old maid" to perfection, and his jokes took with the crowd.

"Bon Ray Four" in a comedy singing act made a hit, their make ups were good and their interpretation of stringed instruments, excellent. Their local jokes were also appreciated. The Dancing Maddens sang, danced and talked.

Although the patrons of Kincaide Theatre regret that Miss Qualey, one of the best orchestra pianists in this vicinity, is to leave the theatre, the new arrangement of the orchestra is good, the violinist, being the leader.

Cattle Disease Still Prevalent

Boston, Feb. 12.—Seventy-two cows were slaughtered in Waltham as a result of an infection of hoof and mouth disease. A number of cows and several pigs were put to death in Arlington also.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

With a big hole in her hull, the result of running into a rock, the steamship Caroline arrived at New York from Porto Rico.

Eighteen people were driven to the street in their night clothes when fire destroyed the Parker block at Hillsboro, N. H.

The students of Vassar college defeated a scheme to abandon the spectacular class day exercises and the time-honored daisy chain procession.

After a happy celebration of her 100th birthday anniversary a week ago Mrs. Margaret J. Jordan died suddenly at her home at Malden, Mass.

NEARLY 2000

(Continued from Page One.)

Hester Harkins, Katherine Harrigan, Miriam Hartrey, Marq Harrigan, Julia Harrigan, Anna Heaney, Sadie Heaney, Gertrude Hughes, Mildred Igo, Sarah Leet, Josephine McCarthy, Dorothy McCormac, Marguerite McCarthy, May Mahoney, Gertrude Mahoney, Mary Reilly, Margaret Revenev, Margaret Sullivan, Odile La Brecque.

Elizabeth McVey, Francis Meade, Julia McGilvray, Mary Holmes, Louise Ford, Eva Rice, Minnie Rice, Olga Riley.

The Officers of the evening were: Floor Marshal, Michael T. Sullivan; Asst. Floor Marshals, J. W. McAnarney, Edward J. Parker; Chief of Aids Raymond Coyle.

The chairmen of the various committees were: souvenir programmes, Robert T. Foye, Holy Name Society, President. John E. Lynch; hall committee, Edward J. Lennon; Junior Holy Name society, President John Goodhue; decorating committee, Miss Nellie Desmond; printing committee, Daniel Donovan; refreshment and soliciting committee, Mrs. Joseph Griffin; reception committee.

The committees were given in full in Wednesday's evening Ledger.

Souvenir programs were distributed during the evening. The first page had a large cut of St. John's parish church. The illustrations were: His Eminence William Cardinal O'Connell, D. D.. Most Rev. John T. Williams, D. D., late Archbishop of the Diocese of Boston; Fr. Michael J. Owens, pastor of St. John's parish; Hon. Chester I. Campbell, mayor of Quincy; Rev. John T. Roddan, who purchased the land to build the original St. John's church. Fr. Roddan, an early pastor; Rev. James F. Sullivan, second pastor; Rev. Francis Frigueletti, third pastor; Rev. John J. Coan, fourth pastor, Rev. John P. Cuffe, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, Rev. Julian Johnstone, former curate; Rev. John Casey and Rev. Walter A. Quinlin, curates, and the church of St. Francis-by-the-Sea, and the St. Johns parish school. The program was a product of the press of the George W. Prescott Publishing Co., Inc.

☞PRATT'S BREAD sales have increased because it satisfies. Your grocer.

SERIES NOW IS THREE TO ONE

Rogers Wins Again Over Josephine

Tommy Rogers gained another lap on Raymond Josephine in the fourth game of the series being played between these two stars for the championship of the city. The game was played Thursday evening at Pineo's Emporium before a gallery of over 200 fans. The game was the fastest played game thus far in the series The final score was 100 to 64.

Josephine started off like a whirlwind and the fans began to pick him a sure winner. Josephine held the lead at the end third frame 24 to 21. In both the fourth and fifth frame Rogers secured fifteen balls, making the score his favor 51 to 24. This appeared to take away Josephine's courage and Rogers won the game easily. Rogers scored the fenture shot of the game, a difficult bank shot which brought rounds of applause from the gallery.

The series now stands three to one in favor of Rogers. The fifth game in the series will be played Tuesday evening at Alpha hall pool room. The West Quincy fans are confident that their man will score the final victory on Tuesday evening.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

NATIVE CHICKEN · SWIFT'S HEAVY CORN FED BEEF · SWIFT'S GENUINE SPRING LAMB

Fill our Refrigerators and Glass Show Cases to their utmost capacity to meet our large Saturday demand.

QUALITY CLEANLINESS SERVICE

Native Chicken 4 to 5 lbs.		25c
Fowl 4 to 5 lbs.		23c
Fowl 3 1-2 lbs.		21c
ROAST BEEF
Sirloin Roasts	23c	25c lb
Rump Roasts		25c lb
French Roast	20c	22c lb
Under Cuts	22c	24c lb
5 Rib Cuts	18c to	24c lb
LEG & LOIN LAMB		18½c LB
Short Legs		20c lb
Fores		12c lb
Whole Hams		18c lb
ROAST PORK		14½c
By the Strip.
VEGETABLES First of the season
STRAWBERRIES direct to us from Florida.		35c Box
Rhubarb		12½c lb
Boston Market Celery		25c bunch
California Celery		18c bunch
Heavy Lettuce		9c
Good Lettuce		7c
Cranberries		7c qt.
Brussels Sprouts		22c
FRUITS
Sunkist Cal. Oranges Regular 35c. Value		29c
Sunkist Oranges		25c
Florida Oranges		21c
Grape Fruit, very large		5 for 25c

COUGHLIN & DONOVAN
HIGH QUALITY MARKET, 1475 HANCOCK ST.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS— Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Fred Davis will be the speaker at the Boys' Meeting at nine o'clock Saturday morning. Mr. Davis comes from Brown University and is one of the best speaker for boys to be found any where and the fact that he is a friend of Irving T. Gumb. who spoke so interestingly to the boys last week should make every boy in Quincy turn out to hear him.

Two games of basket-ball for the Junior members are scheduled for Saturday afternoon. The Junior first team will battle against a strong team from the Washington Street Congregational church. while the second team will line up against a team from the Wollaston Methodist Sunday School. The first game will commence at four o'clock and a cordial invitation is extended to any who may be interested to come in and see both games played.

The next Bible Class "feed" will be served on Wednesday evening at 6.15 P. M., when it is expected some ninety boys and invited guests will sit down to the tables. The work along this line in the Boys' Division has proved very interesting and helpful to the boys and the Bible class committee is to be complimented on the excellent results obtained.

Quincy Y. M. C. A. will be represented at the Boys' Conference to be held in Pawtucket Rhode Island. from the 19th to the 22nd by the following boys; Sturgis Hunt. Joe Beal, Frederick Tobbenboske, Maynard Hatch Percy Jenkins. George Prout, Roger Ahlstrom, Herbert Hendry, Everett Robble, Eric Nelson and the Boys' Work Secretary, C. H. Humphrey. Two papers are to be read by the Quincy boys, one by Sturgis Hunt and the other by Joe Beal, and it is hoped that much good will result from the conference not only to the boys who attend but to the rest of the boys in Quincy who shall be reached as a result of the inspiration received at the conference in each boys life.

The tickets for the Annual Y. M. C. A. play which is to be given in Music hall on the evening of April 7, can be purchased at the building at any time and those contemplating going had better secure their tickets early as there are expected to sell rapidly.

Two of the hardest games of the season are to be played on our floor Saturday evening when our first and second teams line up against the fast Newton Y. M. C. A. first and second teams. Quincy's first team lost to the Newton boys at Newton a few weeks ago but are confident that they can turn the tables this time. Our second team should be able to repeat their success at Newton as they won there with a good number of points to their credit. The first games will start at eight o'clock and both games will be refereed by one of the best men who could have been secured for the game, W. Wilband of the Chelsea Y. M. C. A. As this is one of the most important games of the year and sure to be well contested by both sides the public should turn out in large number to witness it and all who attend can be assured of good clean games.

About fifteen members of the Franklin Associates and women friends went to Brockton in Giglio's large auto truck Thursday evening to attend the third annual dance of the Clermont Girls in Canton hall.

SEEK HAVEN FOR INSANE BELGIAN

Here's Real Case of "Man Without a Country."

AUTHORITIES IN QUANDARY.

Mad From Plight of Homeland and His Capture by Germans, He May Be Doomed to Wander Until War Is Over—Belgian Consul Says His Hands Are Tied.

On Ellis island, New York, the immigration authorities are taking care of a man without a country. They don't want to keep him longer than they can help, even though a fee of $1.50 a day has been paid for his maintenance since his arrival in this country on Nov. 27. If the government has its way he will be sent to Brazil on Feb. 10 on the steamship Stephen.

The man without a country is John Joseph Bordui, a Belgian, forty-nine years old, who was a sailor on the Lamport & Holt liner Vandyck, which was captured by the German cruiser Karlsruhe off the Brazilian coast on Oct. 26.

He signed on at this port on Sept. 3, sailing on the Vandyck on her last journey to the south. Bordui worried much over the plight of his country and made unsuccessful efforts to get home. He was a sailorman by trade and hoped that by the time he had made the round trip on the Vandyck conditions would have changed sufficiently to permit him to enter his native land. On the journey north, however, the Vandyck fell into the hands of the Germans, and Bordui, with the captured vessel's passengers and crew, was taken to Para, Brazil by one of the cruiser's scout vessels.

At the expense of the Lamport & Holt line Bordui and the crew and passengers were kept at a hotel in Para. Later their passage was paid on the Booth steamship Stephen, which landed them in New York on Nov. 27.

Worry Causes Insanity.

Worry over the destruction of his country, augmented by his capture on the Vandyck, caused Bordui to lose his mind. He was taken to Ellis island, pronounced insane and ordered deported to Para, which the immigration officials called the "port of origin."

According to the contention of the Lamport & Holt line, the insane man was not actually brought here from Para. His brief sojourn there was an accident. He was as a shipwrecked sailor cast upon the Brazilian coast. He would not have been sent north from that port had not the Karlsruhe incident forced him against his will to be taken to Para. As the same view of the case has been taken by the Brazilian consulate, objection has been made to the proposal of the government to send him there. The Brazilian authorities have declared that they will not permit Bordui to land, and his deportation will amount to nothing more than a round trip to Para, after which he may again be taken to Ellis island.

Representatives of the Lamport & Holt line have offered to pay for the man's keep at Ellis island until the war in Europe is over. He cannot go back to Belgium, as that nation is now in the hands of Germany and the allies. The local Belgian consul maintains that there is no government of Belgium now in existence and that he cannot send back his unfortunate countryman.

If the government should deport Bordui on the Stephen on Feb. 10 he will become a permanent passenger on that vessel until the Belgian government is restored.

"TIPPERARY" OVER PHONE.

Solo In New York Heard In San Francisco.

It's a long way to San Francisco, it's a long way to go. But Arthur D. Geissler, vice president of a New York talking machine company, made the first experiment of sending musical sounds over the new long distance telephone wires between New York and San Francisco.

"It's a Long Way to Tipperary" was the record used for the test. Mr. Geissler was on the local end of the wire and Mrs. George A. Moore, Mr. Geissler's mother-in-law, living in Ross Valley, a suburb of San Francisco, was at the coast end. Connections were maintained for about ten minutes, during which time the record was run off. Every note of the song was clearly heard by Mrs. Moore, she declared. The cost of the solo was at the rate of $20 for the first three minutes and $3 additional for each additional minute.

IRON CROSS SAVES LIFE.

Was Shield Against Foe's Shell, German Paper Says.

That the iron cross is not merely decorative is illustrated in the Berliner Tages Zeitung, which says:

"In a recent artillery action in the Argonne an lieutenant ventured near the enemy's lines and was struck by a splinter from a shell. He was lacerated about the chest and body, but his iron cross, though demolished, saved his life.

"The kaiser caused another iron cross to be sent to the fortunate officer, and, in addition, the red eagle for his bravery in reconnoitering within the fire of the hostile lines."

State House News

Massachusetts is noted for the care with which she supervises corporations, and particularly investment corporations. Yet a trusteeship can be organized with all of the functions of a corporation and none of the responsibilities. Such a concern was the Associated Trust commonly known as the Assassinated Trust which went into a receivership last fall.

Early in the summer the mismanagement of the trustee was discovered The stockholders at once organized a protective committee, fired the trustee, and elected three new trustees in his place. Judd Dewey was the active member of the new board. He made a thorough examination of the finances and recommended a receivership. He is now co-operating with the receiver in an attempt to straighten the company's affairs.

Representative McLane, who was an active member of the protective committee, and Mr. Dewey have introduced a bill to subject such companies to state control the name as corporations It is meeting with very favorable attention on the Hill.

The Republican Committee on Rules has shown its fairness and non-partisanship by vindicating Governor Walsh in his discharge of E. Gerry Brown, Supervisor of Loan Agencies. The Committee will now take up the case of his discharge of Fred F. Walker, Commissioner of Animal Industry.

It was Walker who is said to have bought in the name of the Commonwealth, cattle which he only had authority to destroy. The investigation of this case will be watched with interest by the farmers, many of whom sympathize with Mr. Walker, in spite of the fact that the reason of his discharge was his alleged deceiving the farmers.

The farmers have employed the Boston Law firm of Hoar & Dewey to handle their claims against the Commonwealth for cattle killed by Commissioner Walker.

The political fight between Daniel J Kiley and District Attorney Pelletier over the reappointment of Dr. Magrath, medical inspector of Suffolk County, has reached an important stage in the conviction of Pelletier of three of the conspirators against Magrath.

Friends of Magrath have blamed the governor for his delay in investigating the charges against the examiner, but it now appears that this delay was at the request of Pelletier as Magrath's attorney. Pelletier asked the governor to wait until the conspiracy trial had been had.

A new organization was launched here last week at a luncheon at the Women's City Club. It proposes to extend the functions of the present International Postal Union so that the international mail service of the world will be run by the Union, each nation contributing its share of the carriers and expenses. This ought to furnish an easy basis for the nations to get together and co-operate. Such co-operation will certainly help to a better international understanding, and may be gradually extended to include jurisdiction over other matters of international interest.

The name of this new organization is the New England branch of the World Postal League. Mrs. George B. Gallup of Boston is President, and Demarest Lloyd of Boston secretary and treasurer. On the executive committee is E. G. Clement, formerly of the Boston Transcript. The league plans a series of public meetings, and a legislative campaign.

Insurgency has at last broken out among the Republican members of the Legislature. The cut and dried plan of Speaker Cox has struck a snag in the person of Representative Washburn, the fire-eater of Worcester who is leading the revolt.

Incidentally the rebels have succeeded in defeating the proposed investigation of military unpreparedness. Evidently they don't believe in starting a war scare which may hurt business.

SPORTING COMMENT

The MacGregors will roll the McKenzies at Littlefields this evening in the O. S. C. league. The local clansmen are heading the league and the McKenzie although not in first division threaten to do some damage. A large band of rooters are planning to accompany the MacGregors.

The prize winners at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club Wednesday evening were Warren H. Rideout and A. D. Chaney. The entertainment committee served ice cream and cake after the tournament.

TO TAKE REFUGE ON YANKEE SHIP

Minister Representing Spain Is Banished From Mexico

AIDED FELLOW COUNTRYMAN

Latter Accused of Working In the Cause of Villa—Carranza Says No Offense Is Intended Against Spanish Government or People—Diplomats In Mexico City Uneasy

Washington, Feb. 12.—Jose Caro, Spanish minister to Mexico, has been summarily expelled from Mexico by General Carranza. He is believed to be on his way to Vera Cruz, where the American battleship Delaware lies in the harbor, with instructions to offer him a refuge.

News that the minister had been given twenty-four hours to leave Mexico, because he is alleged to have sheltered in the Spanish legation Angel de Caso, a Spanish subject accused of aiding General Villa, came to the state department in official dispatches. After hurried conferences between Secretary Bryan and the Spanish and Brazilian ambassadors, Secretary of the Navy Daniels called Captain Rodgers of the Delaware to take Caro on board and await orders.

Consul Canada at Vera Cruz was directed at the same time to look out for the minister and give him every assistance possible.

When Caro received Carranza's note he immediately prepared to start for Vera Cruz, expecting to sail from there to Havana to await instructions from his government. An American warship will take him to Cuba unless a merchant ship bound for that country puts in at Vera Cruz within a day or two.

While Carranza in his note explained to the minister that no offense was intended against the Spanish government or people, the right of asylum to nationals of a foreign government is a long-established rule, and the deportation of a diplomat for granting this right, it was suggested in diplomatic circles at Washington, might easily result in serious complications.

Neither Secretary Bryan nor Mr. Riano, the Spanish ambassador in Washington, would comment upon the incident. Riano said he had heard nothing from his government, and therefore could have nothing to say as to what might be done.

In official circles it was intimated that, while the American government probably would hold that the expulsion of the minister was a matter between Spain and Carranza, it might be the subject of a note from Washington to Carranza pointing out the consequences liable to follow such action.

The entire diplomatic corps at the Mexican capital has been in a state of unrest on account of conditions there and the uncertainty of communication with the outside world. Some of the diplomats already have suggested that they be withdrawn.

TEMPORARY CLAUSE PLAN

Resorted to In Last Effort to Save Ship Purchase Bill

Washington, Feb. 12.—A compromise designed to extricate the administration ship purchase bill from the deadlock which has blocked its passage in the senate, and to avert an extra session, was put forward last night by house Democrats.

The new plan, which proposes the passage of the shipping bill as a temporary emergency measure, was developed at conferences on the house side of the Capitol, while the senate marked time, with both opponents and supporters of the measure sparring for advantage.

The compromise contemplates the passage through the house next week of a compromise bill with an amendment that will terminate the governments activities in the shipping business two years after the close of the European war.

ROBBERS STRANGLE WOMAN

Gag Chokes Her to Death While House Is Being Robbed

New York, Feb. 12.—Burglars who broke into the home of George Schunsky in Williamsburg gagged Schunsky's young wife so tightly that she choked to death.

Her husband, returning home, found her dead body bound to a chair and the house stripped of valuables.

There were indications that the woman had made a desperate struggle.

Lane to Open Exposition

Washington, Feb. 12.—Secretary of the Interior Lane was designated by President Wilson to go to San Francisco formally to open the Panama-Pacific exposition.

Capital Preachers Want Sunday

Washington, Feb. 12.—After three hours' bristling debate, pastors and laymen voted to ask Billy Sunday, evangelist, to bring his gospel to the capital.

Death of General Caudenes

Madrid, Feb. 12.—General Fermin Caudenes, who signed the capitulation of Manila to the American forces in 1898, died here.

AMUSEMENTS

SHUBERT THEATRE.

The myriads of admirers of Lew Fields as an actor will welcome the opportunity of seeing their favorite comedian in a high class comedy character—that of Ludwig Klinke in "The High Cost of Loving" now playing at the Shubert Theatre; for Mr. Fields has forsaken musical comedy and burlesque and will make his first appearance here in straight high-class comedy. This in itself should attract the blase theatre-goer in search of novelty; but this is not all; Mr. Fields has made the legitimate comedy role of Ludwig Klinke the most emphatic "hit" of his long career on the stage and proved to his admirers who have always thought him capable of playing straight, high-class comedy, that he does not have to resort to "clowning" and burlesque methods to keep you in roars of laughter in the straight comedy characterization of Ludwig Klinke in "The High Cost of Loving." The comedy is said to be one of the funniest ever written, and is a riot of fun from start to finish. It is a play in which the fun is continuous. There is never an interruption of the merriment, and while Mr. Fields is the "piece de resistance" of the mirth, yet he is not alone, for his three confederates who are implicated in a little love affair of twenty-five years standing, are equally involved and equally amusing.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

William Faversham in the great Paris and New York success "The Hawk" swooped down on Boston with the force of a Zeppelin and won the most marked success of his career. After two years of prosperity in Paris and New York, Boston is making a new record of large attendance for Mr. Faversham. The critics were unstinted in their praise. Philip Hale in the Herald wrote: "An impersonation romantically real by a well-graced actor. A brilliant performance." C. S. Howard in the Globe said that "never has this excellent actor shown more gratifying evidence of his art. It was a performance of memorable merit."

H. T. Parker of the Transcript in speaking of the play said: "It interested the mind and impressed the imagination." Helen Bishop in The Traveler in writing of Mr. Faversham's performance wrote that it was "The best work of his career." Matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE

"Common Clay," the stirring, startling drama of big moments by Cleves Kinkead, entered its sixth record-breaking week yesterday at the Castle Square. The throngs that have been pouring daily into the theatre testify that there is no diminution of interest in the Harvard prize play. John Craig surely picked a winner and it seems that the piece is destined for a longer run than "Believe Me Xantippe." The prologue arouses interest at once. The first act makes the audience impatient for the second. The second act with its sarcastic exposition of human nature and the workings of the law induces laughter and gasps. The third act sweeps the audience off its feet with its astonishing revelation. The epilogue holds an unexpected denouement at the last moment. Altogether the play has justified the prophecies of the critics who praised it roundly and in superlatives. It seems headed for Broadway, for several New York managers have made trips to Boston to negotiate for its production.

Miss Mary Young in the part of Ellen Neal has made the little tenement girl who succumbed to temptation a living, sentient creature with a big soul. Her revolt against the men who conspire to keep her a woman of the streets and her subsequent triumph over them and over her condition, arouses her audience to the highest emotional tension.

WILBUR THEATRE.

Boston simply can't get enough of "A Pair of Sixes," that play of happy laughter which has been filling the Wilbur Theatre for the past six weeks, and which is now in the seventh week of its run. This farce was originally engaged for six weeks, but when the first four weeks were over it became evident that thousands of people in Boston and the surrounding territory would be unable to see it in that time, and arrangements were immediately made to extend the engagement two weeks longer. Now it begins to appear that even eight weeks will not be enough. Every performance of this remarkable laughter play has been attended by a full house and there has never been so much laughter heard in any Boston playhouse as is being created by "A Pair of Sixes."

The Wilbur Theatre is Boston's newest and most beautiful playhouse, and is proud of housing such a popular attraction. "A Pair of Sixes" is an American farce, by an American author, about American people, and its humor and sentiment are such as to be appreciated by an American audience. Matinees are given Wednesday and Saturday.

CORT THEATRE.

It has been well said that the public is tired of the salacious themes and problem plays that have recently encumbered the drama; that the present is an era when the play that is wholesome, bright and appealing is the play that is bound to receive the greatest amount of attention. This being true, then no theatrical merchandise could be more popular and welcome than the musical farce "What's Going on?" now playing at the Cort Theatre. It contains all the essentials of popular demand, song, dance and a cleverness of lines and an absurdity of situations that provoke hearty laughter. In the theme and development the farce is a novelty. It is a story of a thrifty German Inn-keeper in the Catskill mountains who finds on his hands an Irish baronet and a titled Englishman that have been his guests for some time and being without funds are unable to settle their long over-due board bills. The landlord is in a dilemma, whether to eject them or not, as he needs money more than he needs his impecunious though titled guests, when Madame Pom Pom arrives on the scene with her maid Elaine. Madame gives the appearance of one of wealth and social position. The landlord sees his opportunity and he lays plans to bring about a match between Madame and the Baronet. A real love affair, however, blocks all his efforts much to the merriment of those on the other side of the footlights.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE.

"Too Many Cooks." Frank Craven's brilliant comedy of suburban life is causing genuine joy at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, where on Monday it begins its fourth week. The piece represents the cleanest sort of American comedy ever staged. It is, moreover, novel and brimful of bright and snappy American wit. From the moment the curtain rises there isn't a dull moment. Playgoers should bear in mind that "Too Many Cooks" will not appear in any other New England city. Therefore if you would enjoy the most laughable comedy Boston has seen in years you had better make up your mind to see it now. Extra matinee is to be given on Washington's birthday, in addition to the regular Thursday and Saturday matinees. The story of the play is woven around a young man who has started in to build himself and future wife a modest little home in the country. It is a curious coincidence that the plot is in strict conformity with the "Build Now" slogan urged by one of Boston's leading newspapers. Its very sense of apropos would make it an excellent reason why the piece is well worth seeing. In the play, however, many amusing and complicating situations arise which almost shatter the hopes of the young people concerned.

B. F. KEITH'S.

The celebrated legitimate star, and without question the world's greatest emotional actress, will come to B. F. Keith's Theatre on Monday afternoon, February 15th, for a positively limited engagement, in the tabloid drama of the European conflict, "War Brides," by Marion Craig Wentworth. Nazimova has just completed her third consecutive week at the magnificent Palace Theatre, New York. She has scored the success of the century in this tremendously vital, timely play of power, passion and pathos so magnificently presented. It is woman's Magna Carta. One cannot forget Nazimova's message to the war lords until one dies. Boston will be the first city outside of New York to see this remarkable play, presented by America's famous emotional star. Nazimova will be surrounded by a record-breaking bill of star vaudeville features. Vaughn Comfort and John S. King, the minstrels and cleverest of blackface comedians, will appear in their new act, "A Coontown Divorce." Paul Conchas, the Military Hercules, will present his famous comedy juggling act, "Achilles and Patrocles," with cannonballs, gun carriages, and other heavy objects which he manipulates with apparent ease.

BOSTON THEATRE.

The staging of "Ben-Hur" in Boston at the Boston Theatre is always an event of more than usual significance to thoughtful observers of the theatre and its products. This wonderful story of the Nazarene has been uniquely effective as a creator of popular and critical attention.

The real, vital spark and sustaining vigor of this play is the religious theme and reverential treatment of the Messiah. The stimulating chariot race with its twenty galloping horses and the fierce battle between the galleys are effective for the moment, but neither scene takes hold of the deeper feelings of the spectator, while the reverential treatment of the pivotal idea of the Saviour reaches the soul and lingers in treasured and sweetening memory long after the passing of the affecting scenes. The utmost delicacy has been observed in dealing with the scene on the Mount of Olives. This picture is beautiful and effective with its chorus of Hosannas sung by palm-bearing crowds and the vast multitude stretching their hands and uplifting their faces towards the approaching Nazarene. At the opening of this scene, there are heard sounds of celestial music and hundreds of men and women fall on their knees and the stage is darkened, when suddenly a ray of the purest and brightest light indicating The person of the Saviour falls upon the heads of the vast multitude. It lingers lovingly as if in benediction and then softly steals away like the slowly fading notes of distant convent bells, fascinating every beholder. Only at one other time during the play is the Nazarene brought closer to the minds of the actors and that is when Ben-Hur tells of the young boy who gave him a cup of water as he passed wearily on his way to the galleys.

ANDREW G. NELSON.

Andrew G. Nelson formerly of Wollaston, who with Mrs. Nelson entered the Mount Pleasant Home October 1910, died at the Home Tuesday of Brights disease. Mrs. Nelson passed away last year, since which time Mr. Nelson has gradually failed. Brights disease was the immediate cause of his death. His funeral was at Mount Pleasant Home Thursday morning, Rev. R. B. Tobey of Wollaston officiating.

MAYOR CAMPBELL GUEST.

Mayor Campbell was the guest of the Massachusetts Highway association Thursday at the semi-annual meeting and dinner of the association at the American house, Boston. The meeting was of an informal nature. There were brief addresses by Mayor Campbell, and the mayors of Springfield, Worcester and Waltham; Mayor Campbell spoke along the automobile line. That is the use of highways by automobiles. His talk was etirely of an informal nature.

SOPHOMORES AND SENIORS VICTORS

The Sophomores at the High school again demonstrated their basket ball ability when they beat the Seniors 18—5. Jenkins and LeCain starred for the winners, Jenkins team work was remarkable, while young LeCain shot two sensational overhead baskets. Atkins also played well.

The Seniors had no difficulty defeating the Freshmen although the Freshmen gave them a scare, the score being tied at the end of the first half. Poor shooting by the Seniors was responsible, Smith being the only man who shot with any success.

The score:

1917	1916
Jenkins rf	lb Sanborn
LeCain lf	rb Barber
MacCarthy
Atkins c	c Erickson
Mullen rb	lf Hammond
DeSenso lb	rf Denihey
Reinhalter

Goals from the floor; LeCain 3; Jenkins 3; Atkins; Hammond, Denihey, Barber.

Goals from foul; Jenkins 4; Barber.

1915	1918
O'Connor rf	lb Williams
Smith lf	rb Walker
Larkin c	c Isaacson
Reardon rb	lf Wester
Merrill lb	rf Nelson
Foy
Cutler

Goals from floor: Smith 5; Reardon 2; O'Connor 2; Nelson; Larkin.

Goals from foul; Nelson 2.

GETS HEAVY SENTENCE.

John Houlihan, alias John Hutchinson, who escaped from the House of Correction and gave the officers a chase for five days through Plymouth County, being arrested at Braintree, after knocking a woman down and taking her money, was sentenced on two counts, each for breaking and entering at Plymouth. On the first one he got from two and one-half to three years in State Prison and the same on the second count. He must first serve out his time for breaking into the Postoffice in Worcester County.

Officer J. Galvin who made the capture will now receive the reward offered for the apprehension of Federal prisoners, Houlihan confessed to having assaulted a Braintree woman on the evening of his capture. He will be tried here at the expiration of his sentences.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
Telephone 1153-M Quincy
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy F27

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

W. R. LOFGREN
Carpenter and Builder
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 308-3
June 24f

VIOLENT FIGHTS IN MANY PLACES

Armies of Warring Nations Are Kept Extremely Busy

INSTERBERG IS IN DANGER

Civilians In East Prussian City Are Ordered to Leave—Everything Points to Great Battle With Advancing Russians, Who Meet Opposition of Hardest Kind—No Let-Up In Severity of Fighting In Carpathians—Serious Contests Again on In Western Theatre of War

London, Feb. 12.—The Russian offensive against East Prussia has reached a point where Konigsberg is seriously threatened.

In spite of the enormous force of men withdrawn from the Warsaw attack by Marshal von Hindenberg for the defense of East Prussia, orders have been given to all civilians to leave Insterburg, which is only fifty-five miles east of Konigsberg, and everything points to a great battle near that point within a few days.

With six violent battles raging on the eastern front, for the approach to Koenigsberg in East Prussia almost to the Roumanian border, and with the hardest fighting in weeks going on in the western theatre, from Notre Dame de Lorette in Flanders to the Argonne region and in the Vosges mountains, Thursday was probably the biggest day of the year in the entire European war zone.

Of the six battles that are raging along the eastern front, five are swinging in favor of the czar's forces, and if unconfirmed reports be true there have been developments of the utmost importance to the Russian forces.

Germans Evacuating Lodz

Besides the reported preparations for battle at Insterburg, word comes from Warsaw that the Germans have evacuated the important city of Lodz, which was captured at terrific cost in lives on Dec. 8. The German forces, with their commissariat and transport, are said to be withdrawing toward Kalisz, on the Prussian border.

Lodz is the second city of Poland. It is sixty miles southwest of Warsaw. The Havas news agency, which received the dispatch in Paris, characterizes the advance on Warsaw as a complete failure, now abandoned, with the retreat of the German rear guard approaching a rout.

It is apparent that in the northern reaches of the battle zone the Russians are advancing against opposition of the hardest kind. They are approaching Gumbinnen in a ponderous march toward Koenigsberg. They have relieved Warsaw and are forcing a way toward the East Prussia frontier at Kalisz.

The Carpathian Campaign

There is no doubt that the fighting in the Carpathians is continuing with all the bitterness that has marked it for the last four days. Here there is now not one battle, but a desperate and oftentimes hand-to-hand contest in every valley, every mountain pass and even over the snow-crowned mountains themselves.

Beginning with the Dukla pass, and extending with the sweep of the mountains through Polonino, Royna, Mt. Munkacs, in the valley of Lyutta, the valley of Laboncz, where the railroad crosses into Poland, and so on up to the lines where the desperate drive for Bukowina is being made, there is a series of violent battles waged in bitter cold and deep snow that is driving the contending forces to the limit of their endurance.

Russians Falling Back

In the passes of the Carpathians the Russians are falling back before superior numbers of the enemy, but they are fighting over every inch of that frozen, snow-covered retreat.

No military expert so far has been able to develop, except in a general way, the purpose of the fighting in the Carpathians. The Austrian general staff speaks of the fighting as vexatious and rests content with the statement of the capture of a few of the enemy.

Berlin reports the day as without significance, advantages resting with the forces of the kaiser. Petrograd deals merely with the isolated battles. All agree there may be so many objectives, so many plans are feasible, that it would be a rash expert who will not wait for something more definite before criticising.

Fighting Resumed In West

The bitterest battle in weeks in the western war zone has been fought during the last two days in the Argonne region, near Bagatelle. Six thousand German troops, advancing in massed formation four ranks deep over a front of 500 metres, made a furious attack Thursday on the French earthworks at Maria Theresa.

French infantrymen were sent out to meet them, and the result was one of the most violent battles that have taken place in this region. When the French gunners, infantry and their artillery support got the range, shot and shell were poured into the advancing gray ranks until they were compelled to fall back. The fire was deadly and the Germans retired in disorder, leaving many dead on the field.

American students and school children who remained in German universities and schools at the wish of their parents, despite the war, now are being recalled. A number of scholars from Munich and Dresden passed through Geneva for Paris.

Refugees from Syria continue to arrive at Alexandria. Thy report that great misery exists in Syria and that many persons are stranded there. The United States cruiser Tennessee has done splendid work in transporting the people fleeing from Syria.

It is reported that Jaffa, a short distance northwest of Jerusalem, was decorated with flags last week on the occasion of the "successful crossing of the Suez canal by the Turks."

NO HOPE OF PEACE

Germany Has No Desire Even to Consider It at Present

The allies see no likelihood of any opening which would lead toward peace at the present time. This was emphasized in the house of commons by Sir Edward Grey. In reply to a question asking what terms the allies would be willing to offer to Germany at the present time, the foreign minister said:

"The recent public utterances by Germany have not given us any reason to suppose that the questioner's object would be promoted by adopting the course suggested and outlining any tentative terms for peace."

There is a small group of labor members of the house who have advocated sounding out Germany to determine how she stands on the peace question, but the emphatic statement of the foreign minister is construed as indicating that Germany has no desire even to consider peace, at present.

KAISER SEEKS BIG LOAN

Effort to Secure $1,250,000,000 From Big Firms In the Fatherland

Advices from Berlin say the kaiser has summoned the leading financiers of Germany for a secret conference, the object of which is believed to be the floating of a new German war loan of $1,250,000,000.

It is understood a large part of this proposed loan is expected to be taken up by the Krupps and other big German firms in exchange for contracts with the government for war materials.

In addition, the kaiser, who has returned to Berlin, has held a number of conferences with his chief military advisers, at which the general war situation was discussed.

BLOCKADE GERMAN COAST

How England May Try to Paralyze Commerce of Her Enemy

In the house of commons Premier Asquith announced that the British government was considering drastic measures to paralyze all German commerce.

The premier said that the recent "flagrant breaches of the rules of international warfare" made such steps necessary.

While it was not disclosed what action is contemplated at this time, it is understood that the suggested "submarine blockade" by Germany will be followed by an actual blockade of all of the German coast by the British fleet.

SPARE NO BRITISH SHIPS

Germans Intend to Sink Every One They Can Get Hold Of

A dispatch from Copenhagen says:

The New Hamburger Zeitung, in an officially inspired article, says the German admiralty has issued orders that neutral ships shall not be interfered with if they are not suspected of carrying contraband, but that every British ship, whether a war vessel or a merchantman, will be unconditionally sent to the bottom of the sea.

COUNTERFEITING TOOLS

Found on Man Shortly After He Is Released From Prison

Gloucester, Mass., Feb. 12.—A mysterious prisoner named Robert Campbell, 51, is under arrest here, and the police say they found in his possession a complete set of counterfeiting tools, with several coins.

He was released only Wednesday from the house of correction at Ipswich, and was found with the counterfeiting implements yesterday afternoon.

Persons sent to the Ipswich institution are given a considerable degree of liberty. It is said Campbell worked as a fireman, and in that capacity he would have access to a furnace, where he could use the molds found in his possession.

Young Bank Clerk Goes to Prison

Boston, Feb. 12.—James G. Bridgman, 19, was sentenced to the jail at Northampton for five years in the United States district court for embezzling $1259.50 from the First National bank of Amherst, where he was employed as clerk.

Methodists' Big Retirement Fund

Chicago, Feb. 12.—A campaign for a fund of $11,600,000 with which to provide for retired ministers and for widows and orphans of ministers of the Methodist Episcopal church of the United States will be made this year.

Liquor Men Ask Lower Tax

Lynn, Mass., Feb. 12.—Several Lynn liquor dealers have asked the Lynn license commissioners to reduce the cost of saloon licenses from $1500 to $1200 and hotel licenses from $2000 to $1500.

ODDLY POCKETED COAT.

Spring Outdoor Costume That Is Quaintly Picturesque.

SPORTS HAT AND COAT.

This sports coat of tan and white plaid worsted has huge patch pockets both above and below the belt. The belt is held in place by wide straps of brown cloth, which material forms the buckle and faces the collar. One notes with interest the new outing hat shaped like a sou'wester. The gown worn has a deep plait in front.

LINGERIE COLLARS.

Easy Way to Wash and Iron Thin Neckwear.

See that the collars and cuffs are quite dry after washing before attempting to starch them. Place them in a clean, dry towel and have ready a basin of well made cold water starch.

Mix the starch up well from the bottom, lay in as many collars as the starch will easily cover at one time and let the starch soak well through them.

Squeeze them with the hands in the starch; then wring as dry as possible. Draw them out straight and lay smoothly on a towel, but do not put one on top of the other; roll each one separately between the towel. Leave for half an hour before ironing, but do not let them get too dry.

When ready to iron spread wrong side uppermost and iron first one side and then the other. Iron slowly at first, then more and more quickly until there is a glossy surface and the collar is dry.

The right side naturally requires the most ironing, but the wrong side must be ironed quite smooth. Lift the collar occasionally when ironing to let the steam escape and dry the sheet under it with the iron. A teaspoonful of powdered borax in cold starch will give an added stiffness to linen.

Travelers' Brushes.

Two flat clothes brushes packed into flat pockets of a leather case are sold in the shops. They are very convenient for the traveler, as they can be stowed away in the pocket of a suit case in an almost imperceptible space. They are likewise convenient for a man to carry in his overcoat pocket. They have black wood backs, and the bristles of one are gray, of the other white. The gray one is stiffer.

WHAT A GIRL SHOULD REMEMBER.

There are some things that a girl is richer for remembering and the poorer for forgetting. Here they are, and it is possible for most of us to acquire them without much expense; in some instances without any outlay at all.

Every girl should know how to sew and make dresses.

To cook and clean.

To mend her own and the household things.

To dress neatly and becomingly and daintily.

To keep a secret and respect confidences.

To be self reliant and not helpless.

To keep a house tidy and have a place for everything.

To respect old age.

To be above gossiping or listening to slander.

To control her temper.

To care for the sick and the young.

If she has these accomplishments then she need not trouble very much if fate has denied her the chance of acquiring some others that may be a trifle more fashionable, but are certainly not so delightful and useful.

THE KNAPSACK BELT.

New Suit That Shows This Sartorial Embellishment.

GABARDINE AFTERNOON GOWN.

An afternoon frock of sand colored silk gabardine, the full skirt gathered and plaited and hemmed with a stiff corded band, is pictured here. The bodice is long sleeved and high collared, the belt crossing in knapsack fashion over a tiny peplum at the back. Trimmings of dark blue embroidery and small self covered buttons adorn the frock.

SPRING GARMENTS.

Fuller Skirts Characteristic of the New Season's Styles.

The fuller skirt is the notable feature of the new season styles. It is accompanied by simple bodices, with high neck, narrow shoulders and long sleeves. The waist line is either normal or raised, says the Dry Goods Economist, speaking of spring fashions.

Suit coats include tailored and demi-tailored effects, with preference for the tailored. Tailored coats with belts placed at a high or slightly raised waist line are particularly strong at present. Flare effects are also emphasized.

Separate coats have considerable flare at the bottom edge and are being shown in three-quarter length or slightly shorter. High waist line effects are very prominent, and belts are being freely used.

Skirts of dresses and suits and also separate skirts include the circular and gathered forms, together with box and side plaited effects. Dress skirts include the ruffled and tiered designs, together with a limited number of voluminous tunics accompanying narrow underskirts. Yokes are used on many of the new skirts.

Bandeau For the Hair.

A hair ornament that is very attractive and one that would make an acceptable gift is of rhinestones mounted on blue velvet. There is a narrow bandeau to go about the head and two curved ends that stand upright. They are all formed of a string of rhinestones held on a wired twist of sapphire blue velvet.

HOW TO LOOK TALL.

There are a great many things a girl may do which will add inches to her appearance.

The first rule should be to keep the chin up.

Dress the neck either low or with a very high, tight collar.

The second rule should be to wear the hair dressed high on the head. Never wear a wide pompadour.

Wear gowns with long lines. Short girls should effect long gowns whenever the opportunity presents itself.

The short girl should avoid round trimmings, shoulder draperies and plaits. Her wraps should be long and narrow.

Hair ornaments should be worn high and never large. Hats should be narrow, with some smart feather trimming—narrow and straight up in the air.

Tennis will narrow the hips and strengthen the waist of a short girl.

Standing a great deal—well poised, not leaning against anything—will make one appear taller than one naturally is.

Some women believe that stripes add the appearance of height to a short, stout figure. This is not true.

A GREWSOME MYSTERY

Human Skulls and Hands Found In Rubbish Pile In Detroit

Detroit, Feb. 12.—Although convinced that the two human skulls, feet and hand, found wrapped in an acid-soaked canvas bag in a rubbish pile, were the discarded property of a modeller, police prepared to make thorough inquiry into the grewsome find.

Discovery of an old satchel containing clothing bearing the name "M. F. A Easton" near the spot where the human parts were found was the one definite clue on which the detectives started their investigation.

Easton, who conducted a mission, died several days ago. His wife, who lived in Chicago, and from whom he had been separated for several years, visited police headquarters, with the demand that investigation be made into several mysterious circumstances in connection with Easton's death.

The woman told detectives she was convinced there was some connection between the finding of the human hands and the death of her husband.

NOT A HOUSE STANDING

Populace of American Samoa Lose Everything In Severe Storms

Tutuilla, Samoa, Feb. 12.—The Manua islands in American Samoa have been swept by devastating storms. No deaths have been reported, but the populace has lost everything. The food situation is serious and help is needed.

The Manua islands are situated about 4200 miles southwest of San Francisco. They are populated by natives, who are typical Polynesians.

On March 16, 1889, the islands were swept by a tidal wave which destroyed the American and German fleets in Apia roadstead. The American ships Trenton and Vandalia were sunk and the Nipsic cast upon shore. There was considerable loss of life.

By an agreement of Dec. 2, 1899, the Samoan islands were partitioned between Germany and the United States.

JESUIT ORDER HAS NEW "BLACK POPE"

Ledochowski Is Chosen as the Successor of Wernz

Rome, Feb. 12.—Rev. Wladimirus Ledochowski of the Polish order of Jesuits was elected head of the Jesuit order.

Before his elevation Ledochowski was general of the Polish Jesuits. He is 48 years old and entered the order in 1899. His accession to be head of the Jesuits throughout the world followed a long period of fasting and meditation on the part of the delegates to the conclave.

The new head of general of the Jesuit order succeeds Rev. Francis Wernz, who died shortly after Pope Pius X. A general of the Jesuits is elected for life and from the day of his election he is absolute ruler of the order.

PEALS ACROSS CONTINENT

Liberty Bell In Philadelphia Is Heard In San Francisco

Philadelphia, Feb. 12.—Telephonic communication between Philadelphia and San Francisco formally was inaugurated over the Bell system by three taps on the Liberty Bell, the sound of which over the wire was the signal to a bugler in the far western city to play "The Star Spangled Banner." The strains of the national anthem were distinctly heard by 200 persons who held receivers to their ears in this city.

Mayor Rolph in San Francisco, speaking to Mayor Blankenburg here, urged the Philadelphian to send the Liberty Bell to the Panama-Pacific exposition, and Blankenburg promised to do all he could to give the people of the country an opportunity to see the historic relic.

Servant Sues Golfer Travis

New York, Feb. 12.—Virginia Blackman, until recently a servant in the home of Walter J. Travis of Garden City, formerly amateur golf champion, has sued him for $20,000 for alleged assault.

☞PRATT'S BREAD made of the best flour by the best bakers. Your grocer.

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36

Second Floor

Savings Bank Building

Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes

Quincy Savings Bank

CLARENCE BURGIN. Treas.

Nov

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Insurance

Auctioneer Care of Property

Justice of the Peace

Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—After March 1, House of nine rooms with all modern conveniences at 5 Summer street. Apply to Dr. D. B. Reardon, 1186 Hancock street. 11-tf

TO LET—Lower tenement with all improvements. Rent $19.50 per month C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 11-6t

TO LET—Apartment of five rooms and bath in new house, all modern improvements, fine location, 26 Bradford street, off Franklin street. Apply to F. Barnicoat, Quincy. 10-tf

TO LET—Half house of four rooms. Rent $10. Apply 34 Field street. 10-3t

TO LET—Lower flat, 42 Euclid avenue, 5 rooms all modern improvements. For particulars address Mr. P. J. Curry, 94 Federal avenue or phone Quincy 1075M. 9-12t

TO LET—Half of colonial house on Russell park, 7 rooms and bath, fireplace, coal and gas range and all modern conveniences. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 9-tf

TO LET—Flat of seven rooms with electric lights, gas stove, range at 32 Euclid avenue. Apply at 12 Berkeley street. 6-6t

TO LET—Three, four or five room tenement with heat, gas range electric lights and bath. 178 Washington street or phone 1732M. 6-tf

TO LET—Two or three rooms, furnished or unfurnished for light housekeeping, all improvements, reasonable rent, board if desired. 132 Marlboro street, Wollaston Park. 6-tf.

TO LET—To small family of adults several very desirable new tenements $22 and up, also stable $10 per month; store $10 per month. Apply to C. H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. Tel. 174-2 Quincy. 4-12t

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Four room apartment, new house, all improvements. Apply at 226 Franklin street. 30-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 26 tf

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 5 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1501 Hancock street. 27-tf

LOST

REWARD—For paper parcel containing two note books and 50 pages of manuscript left on 5.40 train Feb. 3 between E. Milton and Braintree. W. Sprague Brooks, Milton, Mass. 6-6t

WANTED

WANTED—Cooks, second, parlor, chamber, general maids, mothers' helpers and green girls, first class positions, reliable help furnished. Oldest employment office in city, L. M. Flynn, 1522 Hancock street, Phone 2235-W. 10-3t

WANTED—Woman to take charge of Ladies Dep't. One who has had local experience and acquaintance preferred. A good position awaits the right party. Apply Orent-Payson Co., 1378 Hancock street. 6-6t.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Two flat house in South Quincy. Hard wood finish, modern plumbing. Very desirable renting proposition, never vacant since built. For particulars enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 9-tf lpo

MISCELLANEOUS

DRESSMAKING, plain sewing, children's clothes done at reasonable prices by woman of experience. Write E. R. Ledger Office. 9-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,300, reduced from $3,300. Straight Loan of $2,000.

EDMUND C. HAYDEN

Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing

HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.

129 Tremont St., Boston.

Oct. 8-tf

A Few Choice House Lots

— ON —

PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX

are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.

SWITHIN

3 GREENLEAF BLOCK

Jan. 5-tf

TO LET

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.

22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up

Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld.

Small front office.

Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall—28x45—26 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK

CITY SQUARE

(Best location in City.)

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water, $2.00 to $6.50 per week.

HALLS

Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.

Ask for E. r. Kriba.

Greenleaf Block. 'Phone 21066 Quincy

FOSS BOSTON
Quality AND Premiere
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
CHOCOLATES

Have You Tried
Our Saturday Special
If not you should. 1 pound of the best 40c chocolates for 29c
They are delicious, ask any one who has tried them.
Monday and Tuesday Special
1 lb. box of Peppermint Patties 29c worth 40c
CHAS. C. HEARN
Druggist, City Square

CITY HALL NOTES

Mayor Campbell is considering the proposition of installing a telephone switch board at city hall. At the present time each office has its own telephone with direct connection with the central office. If a switch board is installed there will be several trunk lines to the central office which will enter the switch board from which lines will connect every office in city hall.

BRIEFS

A Myers of Revere and Quincy has returned from Florida, where he went to recuperate from a severe illness. He is in fine condition. Mr. Myers reports that he met Henry P. Kittredge of Quincy in Miami and Edward Powers, a candidate for mayor last fall, in Jacksonville. Both men were in the best of health.

The Ladies' Benevolent society of the Wollaston Congregational church held a missionary meeting Wednesday afternoon in the church vestry. Mrs. Leon Besse had charge of the devotional exercises after which there was a discussion of the work of the American Missionary association in the South, which was presided over by Mrs. Howard Kingman. Mrs. Kingman was assisted by several members of the society who spoke of the work in the schools and colleges of the South among the colored people.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Grossman's Clothes Shop
R. E. Foy & Co.
Coughlin & Donovan
Barnard's Bakery
Charles C. Hearn
Quincy Public Market.

AUCTION SALE

Unclaimed and Refused Freight.

Auction sale of unclaimed and refused freight to be sold by order of New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Co., Tuesday March 2nd, 1915, in freight yard of this Company at South Braintree, Mass. at 12.30 P. M. in conformity Chapter 95 of the Revised Laws of Mass., Section 6, for account of whom it may concern.

One lot of 38 poles received in cars ACL 72488—ACL 72870—ACL 73298, consigned to Fore River Ship Building Co., East Braintree, Mass., arriving at East Braintree about Dec. 26th 1913, supposed to have been shipped by Samuel Dawson, Old Grade, Ga. Also lot of 40 poles received in cars ACL 72480—ACL 73447 and 5534 consigned to Fore River Shipbuilding Co. East Braintre, arriving at East Braintree about Jan. 26th, 1914, supposed to have been shipped by Samuel Dawson, Old Grade, Ga.

N. B. All purchasers must be prepared to make deposit at time of sale of at least 25 percent cash. All goods must be paid for and removed within 10 days after sale is completed.

per order G. L. WINLOCK,
Freight Claim Agent,
New York, New Haven and Hartford, R. R. 4-9t
4,5,6,11,12,13,18,19,20

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

WANTED—Young couple desire two or three furnished rooms with bath and kitchenette for light housekeeping, central location. Address C. G. Norse, Hancock House, Ledger. 12-1t

SOME ONE—Please answer who would be willing to take a fine upright piano into their home. Prefer small private family who might consider purchase later if well pleased. Write for full information. E. C., Ledger office. 12-6t

FOR SALE—Victoria coal $5.00 per ton. This coal is a hard coal to be used alone or mixed with other coal, a hot fire in either case. Order direct from us and our agent will deliver. A. Dukeshire, 240-N, Quincy St., Brockton. 12-2t

LOST—Horse blanket. Return to Joe Pompeo, 41 Union street, Quincy. 12-1t

DEATHS

BUSHNELL—In Quincy, Feb. 10, Ellen, widow of Henry A. Bushnell in her 75th year.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1185 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

TACK NO LONGER STRONGEST MAN

"No-Hit" Davis of the Boston Braves shattered "Tack" Hardwick's strong man record at Harvard Thursday. His mark was 1437, 56 better than the Quincy boy's.

Davis is a second year student at the law school and took the Dr. Sargent test at the Heminway gymnasium. He came from Williams college where he made a record as a pitcher. He has since played with the Boston Braves and pitched a no-hit game last summer

"Tack" Hardwick first took the record three years ago. He held it for months and it was broken by a "dark horse." Hardwick came back strong and set a new record. The mark was never endangered until Davis boosted it.

NONPAREILS AND SENECAS VICTORS

QUINCY SOCIAL CLUBS.

Seneca 3—Waseca 1.
Nonpareils 4—Pastimes 0.

The Nonpareils with a total of 1345 swept the Pastimes away at the Coliseum alleys Thursday night. The Senecas lost the first point but came back and took three straight.

SENECA—3.
Booth	82	92	69	243
Grassick	87	92	80	259
Crommond	77	69	94	240
Moyle	79	109	101	289
Main	90	86	94	270
	415	448	438	1301
WASECA—1
Pinel	97	77	90	264
Costello	79	70	85	242
Allen	78	73	84	235
Wright	89	78	82	249
Sherriff	85	75	82	242
	428	381	423	1232
ROLL OFF
Smith	85	118	95	298
O'Neil	99	95	104	298
Tirrell	94	102	92	288
NONPAREIL—4.
O. Djerf	100	77	82	259
F. Markham	105	107	94	306
A. Johnson	88	99	89	276
T. Jerf	78	80	89	247
C. Lawson	85	91	81	257
	456	454	435	1345
PASTIMES—0
T. Smith	76	77	80	233
C. French	107	59	72	238
D. DeBona	77	81	77	235
G. Blanchard	90	87	76	253
M. McFord	95	91	80	266
	445	395	385	1225

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Jane Evans, late of Quincy, in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by John Evans of said Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the third day of March, A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this tenth day of February in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Feb. 12-19-26

Children of the Dead

[Five hundred and fifty orphan children, mostly babies and all nameless, were brought here this afternoon from the quake area.—Cable Dispatch From Rome.]

Gone are the hearts that bore them,
Gone with the dead and missed.
Lost are the hands which soothed them,
Still are the lips that kissed.
Silenced the songs which lulled them,
Sweet at the close of day.
Oh, for the angel mothers
So far, so far away!

Who is to plan their future?
Who is to teach them games?
Who is to answer questions?
Who is to give them names?
Where winds the path tomorrow?
Where runs the road next year?
Who is to guide their footsteps
Up through the hills from Here?
—H. S. Haskins in New York Sun.

WIRELESS PHONE OVER SEA SOON A REALITY.

Peter Cooper Hewitt Now Perfecting Invention—Tests Successful.

Wireless telephoning across the Atlantic ocean is possible, according to Peter Cooper Hewitt, whose invention made possible the three relay stations which have been utilized by the American Bell Telephone company in talking directly from New York to San Francisco. Mr. Hewitt is now working on an oscillator which he believes will obviate all difficulties heretofore experienced in using wireless for telephoning.

His oscillator has already proved practicable for short distances. He has talked several times to persons at Columbia university, New York, four and a half miles from his experimental laboratory on the roof of Madison Square Garden, with perfect results. The problem that remains is to strengthen the oscillator to carry sufficient voltage to transmit messages long distances, and this is a matter that will take but a few months, Mr. Hewitt believes.

"Within ten years I predict that every ship will carry wireless telephones, and the wireless will be used entirely in talking over long distances. I don't think it will ever prove a substitute for the regulation telephone in the congested districts. In time, though, practically every farmer will have his wireless telephone, and other persons living in lonely districts will have this easy method of keeping in touch with civilization."

The invention upon which Mr. Hewitt's hopes are founded is a gas and vapor device, which removes all the present defects of the wireless and makes the service stable and highly efficient at all times.

WHITE CLAY FOR CHOLERA.

German's Remedy Suggested For Russian Prisoners.

In view of the discovery of symptoms resembling those of Asiatic cholera in the concentration camp in which 2,800 prisoners of war are confined at Ulm, in Germany, where four Russians died and eleven sickened, various measures have been taken, according to the Frankfurter Zeitung, to prevent a spread of the disease.

One of the most striking measures, which is discussed in several German newspapers, is the remedy advocated by Professor Stumpf of Wurzburg and Professor Graeser of Naples, which consists of feeding the cholera patients simply white clay in porridge form.

In an article describing experiments carried on with this method Professor Graeser says that the effect of this "white clay porridge" is not only remedial, but very swift, and that common sense should convince all who have witnessed its good results that it is better far than "poison and disinfectant pills," which have impressed the lay mind as of greater importance.

Nursing infants, he says, receive thirty grams of white clay powder (bolus alba) in seventy to 100 grams in their nursing bottles; older children get twice as much in 120 grams of water every three hours. The results are usually manifest in twenty-four hours, the patients reviving and craving food and the intestinal disturbances being eliminated. For eighteen hours, however, great care must be taken not to give the patient anything to eat nor any drink other than water.

WON'T SCHOOL BE POPULAR!

Nutley (N. J.) Man Wants a Modern Dance Course Introduced.

Had a 42 centimeter shell exploded in the meeting room of the Nutley (N. J.) board of education it would hardly have caused a greater shock than did the suggestion of William J. Kinsley, a board member, that a modern dance course be added to the high school curriculum.

"This is not a joke," said Mr. Kinsley. "I am most serious about it. The matter has been called to my attention a number of times by the students. The modern dances are graceful and of mental and physical benefit. The course could be furnished the school for the remainder of the year for $75."

The question was sent to the teachers' committee.

Many Relatives In War.

A German living in St. Louis has twenty-three nephews in the kaiser's army, three of whom have been decorated with the iron cross for bravery. Two have been wounded in action. A French senator has given his three sons for France. One was killed in Alsace, another storming breastworks on the Aisne and another in Africa.

HARBOR AND LAND COMMITTEE HERE

F. F. Crane, E. J. Fegan and Others Speak For Widening of Channel

PARTY VIEWS FORE RIVER

If anything was needed to convince the legislative committee on Harbors and Lands that the bill now pending in the legislature appropriating $75000 for improvements in the Fore River channel was worthy of merit it was furnished to them Thursday when they came to Quincy for a view of the channel which it is desired should be deepened and widened. As noted in Thursday's Ledger the committee arrived in Quincy at 10.59 and went immediately to city hall where they were received by Mayor Campbell. In the legislative committee were: Senator L. F. R. Langelier of Quincy chairman of the Senate committee, Senator C. S. Beal of Rockland, Senator O. T. Mason of Medway, Representative Sandberg chairman of the House committee and Representatives, Charles A. Ericson of Quincy, Herbert Wing of Dartmouth, J. P. McLane of North Reading H T. Field of Mattapoisett, O. McKenzie of Holyoke, W. O. Souther of Cohasset, T. R. Kelley of Boston, D. F. Duggan of Northbridge, H. C. Woodill of Melrose, Richard Knowles of New Bedford, Matthew J. Carbary of Milford, C. H. McGlue of Lynn and Samuel Collins of Amesbury. The committee were in charge of Messenger H. E. Rudderham.

After a most appetizing lunch which was given to the committee by Mayor Campbell at Hancock hall, Dock and Water Front Commissioner Crane, into whose care the mayor placed the committee when he left for Boston, spoke briefly on the project which the committee had come to Quincy to see. Vessels he said had been built in Quincy for 100 years so that it might be called a shipbuilding city.

"When the Fore River Corp., first started we had a channel of 16 feet, which was large enough for the war vessels built at that time," he said. "In 1912 the government appropriated $140,000 for deepening the channel and I was able to secure the balance of that appropriation for a survey of the channel to a depth of 24 feet and a width of 300 feet. Through the efforts of Senators Lodge and Weeks I was enabled to get the United States engineers to reopen the matter turned down by Col. Millis, since removed from Boston, and Col. Craighill has reported in favor should the local community show its interest by contributing. The City of Quincy is asking authority to appropriate $10,000, the Fore River Corp., will appropriate $15,000 and if the state will appropriate $75,000 it will make the $100,000 which the government desires and the government will then appropriate $200,000."

He also spoke of what the Port Directors had done in deepening the channel. The upper side of the draw so that both openings could now be used. He gave some facts about the amount of business done along the water front of Quincy in the matter of commerce alone. Last year from November to November the amount of commerce by water was $15,089,435 and besides this $7,000,000 was done by rail making a total for the year $23,000,000. With such a large commerce as this he believed the state should pay a small part toward improving the channel. Aside from the Fore River Corp., there were the coal wharfs, the Baker Yacht Basin and other industries along the river doing an annual business in Boston of $1,600,000. In his opinion this was a national matter as well as a state for supplies were purchased all over the country.

Edward J. Fegan as president of the Board of Trade hoped that the committee would consider the proposition favorably. He told of the good work being done by Commissioner Crane and said that the benefit would not be to Quincy alone but to the entire state. The government is continually enlarging its battleships and Quincy wants to be in a position to get a part of this work. There are now 3,000 men employed at the Fore River many of whom come from other places. When the European trouble is over there will be a large amount of ship building work which can not be done there and Quincy wants to be in a position to get a part of this work.

City Clerk Crane when introduced told several stories and in closing said he did not know if the gentlemen were familiar with the national game but if they were he wanted them to see our $10,000 and raise it.

Peter T. Fallon spoke of the large amount of business that was now done along Quincy's water front and the many advantages for future development. "Quincy has 28 miles of water front which is more than that of any other city in the commonwealth. Today we have many industries along our water front and there is room for more if we only have a deep channel. Every increase in valuation along our water front means an increase for the state and it is up to the state to help along so great a project. We now have $10,000,000 of capital invested on our water front with a pay roll of $45,000 weekly. Does not that mean something to the state?"

At the conclusion o fthe speaking automobiles were taken for a visit to the Fore River plant after which the party visited the Quincy Point bridge and from there went to Hull where there is a proposition for a breakwater at Stony Brook Point. After this the party went to the Bread and Cheese Motor Inn in Cohasset for dinner.

PARISH AND CITY WELL REPRESENTED

Reception to Rev. and Mrs. Grainger at Christ Church Thursday

YOUNG MEN ARE USHERS

A large number attended the reception to Rev. William Grainger, the new rector of Christ church, and Mrs. Grainger in the parish house Thursday evening. Not only was the parish well represented but many from other churches, including several clergymen attended. Rev. and Mrs Grainger were assisted in receiving by Senior Warden William L. Thomas and Mrs. Thomas and Junior Warden A. L. Barbour and Mrs. Barbour.

The reception began at eight o'clock and continued for two hours.. During this time music was furnished by an orchestra consisting of Roscoe R Ricker, violinist, Miss Marion Moorhouse, cello and Mrs. Jennie Hocking Hunt, pianist. Solos were rendered by Miss Moorhouse and Mr. Ricker Light refreshments were served.

The guests were escorted to the receiving line by young men of the parish, who served as ushers. The ushers were: A. Newton, R. E. King, S Moyle, Roy Prout and Henry W. Boutelier. The committee in charge included: Mrs. C. M. Chase, Mrs. C Theodore Hardwick, Mrs. W. F. Torrey, Mrs. W. E. Burke, Mrs. C. E. Haskins and Mrs H .W. Lawton.

FIRST PARISH CLUB.

The speaker at the monthly meeting of the First Parish club next Tuesday evening will be J. Machol of the National Cash Register Co. of Dayton, O. Following the address there will be a short concert on the Edison Diamond Disc phonograph by an operator from the Edison laboratory of New Jersey. As usual the members of the club will assemble in business dress at 6 o'clock for a short social hour and dinner will be served at 6.30.

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

INTENSELY EXCITING
Don't Miss This Episode
THE EXPLOITS of ELAINE
Arnold Daly — Pearl White — Sheldon Lewis
See The Fight On a Church Steeple
Also Other Pictures
Hearst Selig Weekly and a War Drama "Their Soldier Boy"
NEW VAUDEVILLE
Harry LeMarr, Impersonator The Dancing Maddens
DeMarest, Vaudeville's Foremost Comedy Pianist, and Bon Ray Comedy Quartette. (A Remarkable Entertainment)
KINCAIDE THEATRE
Thurs. Fri. Sat. 10—15—25c Matinee and Evening
NEXT WEEK Mon. Tues. Wed. Order Tickets Early
Bernstein's Famous Photo-Play
THE THIEF with Dorothy Donnelly

BEST VALUE IN MEATS

CORNED SHOULDER	11c lb
POT ROAST (clear meat)	15c lb
SWIFT'S BEST HAMS	17c lb
FANCY CORNED BRISKET	17c lb
LITTLE PIG SAUSAGES	16c lb
PORK STEAK (lean)	14c lb

Also Lettuce, Celery, Spinach, Kale, Oranges, Grape Fruit, Groceries and Fish at Lowest Prices.
QUINCY PUBLIC MARKET
1514 Hancock St., Kincaides Block
Phone 1434 J. Legal Stamps Free Delivery

BREAD THAT IS GOOD

Should be fashioned with the Best Flour, Clean and Skilled Workmanship, Sanitary Methods and Fresh. Such a loaf of bread is ours. You get it fresh every day, it isn't carted over miles of roads, it's here for you to call for it. Make that call Today, Madam. Then truly you'll find Bread that is Good.
LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN
1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.
12-2t

Ecomony Prices at Foys

Roasts of Beef Tender, Solid Meat	.22 lb
Choice Rib Roasts	.14 lb
Legs Best Lamb	.20 lb
Fresh Pork	.15 lb
Middle Cuts Sliced Ham	.30 lb
Squires Sausages	.18 lb
Best Beef Liver	.12 lb
Choice Fowl	.20 lb
California Pea Beans	.14 qt
Karo Corn Syrup	3 cans .25
Aunt Jemima's Buckwheat	.07 1-2 pkg.
Priscilla Doughnut Flour .25 regular	.21 pkg.
Hawaiian Pineapple, Sliced	.15 can
Red Salmon Steak .20 value	.15
Sniders Catsup, pints	.19
Champion Sweet Peas	2 cans .25
Sweet Florida Oranges	.21 doz
Red, Ripe California Oranges	.25 doz
Large Grape Fruit	3 for .25
Small Grape Fruit	.25 doz
La Touraine Coffee	.35 lb.

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980
FOY'S 2 STORES
WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117
12-2t

Advertise in the Ledger

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 38 QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 13, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

POLLYANNA AT BETHANY CHURCH

Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis, Reader, and Living Pictures Give Story

INTERPRETS "GLAD BOOK"

Those who went to the Bethany church chapel Friday afternoon or evening ot hear "Pollyanna" read and enacted in remarkably good living pictures were "glad," like the heroine of that charming story, that they were able to be there.

The book is rightfully called "The Glad Book" because its heroine is a little girl whose father has taught her the "glad game", that is, finding something to be glad about in everything that happens.

Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis read the story and as she read, living pictures were shown in a frame on the platform, illustrating the characters and their doings. Mrs. Davis read with appreciation the varied characters, interpreting each with trueness to life. Little Pollyanna had the sweet happy voice one would want her to have, Aunt Polly the stern, hard voice in the beginning and the tender voice in the end, Dr. Chilton the deep cheery tones, John Pendleton the weary, discouraged voice of a broken man, and Nancy the brusque, yet tender tones of the faithful servant.

Mrs. Davis read twice for two hours without rest, yet her voice at the end of the evenings entertainment was as clear as when she began. It was necessary to cut the long story, yet she so cut it that it was perfectly clear in plot. It was cleverly abridged so that the story was told almost wholly by the conversations of the characters, thus Miss Porter's charming style was not at all marred by omitting or changing her words.

Pollyanna comes to her aunt's splendid home an unwelcome guest. Her father, a poor struggling minister dies and sends her to aunt Polly, a stern old maid, disappointed in love. Now Pollyanna always playing the "glad game" has a pretty hard time in this aunt's house, finding anything to be glad about, especially when she is put all alone up in an attic, but she conquers and in time makes her aunt and everyone she sees play the game.

In the end, Dr. Chilton and aunt Polly are lovers again and marry, an

(Continued on Page Three.)

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Sunday increasing cloudiness, followed by occasional rains during the afternoon and evening.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.43
Sun sets	5.15
Length of day	10.32
Moon rises	5.58
High water, A. M.	11.30
High water, P. M.	12.00
Days increase	1 hr. 23minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.33 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	38 degrees
Feb. 13, 1914,	8 degrees
Feb. 13, 1913,	24 degrees

Feb., Noon Maximum, 18 years—37.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

Q. Y. C. PLANS FOR SEASON

Executive Committee Met Friday Evening

An important meeting of the executive committee of the Quincy Yacht club was held Friday evening at which time dates for the season's races and social events were decided upon. The club house will open for the season on Saturday April 17 and remain open until Saturday Oct. 30. The opening smoker will be held on Wednesday evening May 19, and the annual cup night on Wednesday Sept. 8. It was also voted that this year women should be invited to the cup night celebration.

Club races will be held every Saturday during the season from May. 29, to Sept. 4, inclusive, also on Labor Day. The date for the annual open race can not be fixed until the Yacht Racing Union has made up its schedule.

The social events of the club will commence on Tuesday evening June 15, and hops will be held every Tuesday evening from that date to Sept. 14. On Thursday evenings from July 8, to Sept. 6 inclusive whist parties will be held at the club house.

The annual Ladies' day celebration will be on Wednesday, July 21, and the annual Ladies' night on Wednesday Aug. 25.

The sum of $1,000 was appropriated for the use of the house committee for the season.

Ex-Commodores Frank Fessenden Crane, Ira Whittemore and Eugene R. Stone were appointed a committee on the matter of the nuisance of the Moon Island sewer.

With the outlet of this sewer as it is presented, it has become, it is claimed a menace to public health and a public nuisance to yachtsmen and the public in general who visit the shores of Quincy bay.

It is not infrequent to find the shores along Squantum, Wollaston beach and Houghs Neck covered with refuse matter from the sewer.

The committee voted to send a letter to every yacht club in the state asking their assistance in making a vigorous protest in regard to the present outlet to the sewer and to use their influence to have the outlet extended below the wharf at Long Island. Protests will be made to the local and state boards of health as well as to the city council and Metropolitan sewage commissioners.

MILLER GETS 15 MONTHS

George W. Miller of Quincy and Frederick L. Green, convicted of conspiracy to defame Medical Examiner George Burgess Magrath of Boston, were sentenced to 15 months in the House of Correction by Chief Justice Aiken in the Superior Criminal court of Suffolk county on Friday. Green was also convicted of larceny of money from the body of Francis X. O'Brien Appeals were entered and the execution of the sentences were stayed pending a hearing before the full bench.

The Chickatawbut Social club held its weekly meeting Friday evening at the home of Kimball Roberts on Crescent street. After a short business meeting in which plans for a baseball team were discussed a social hour was enjoyed.

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

FORMULATE RULES FOR CITY HOME

Mayor Finds Has Been Absence of Regulations In Past

TO TREAT INMATES KINDLY

It will probably be surprising to most people to learn that up to the present time there have never been any rules at the Quincy Home for the government of the warden, matron or inmates. This fact was discovered by the mayor and overseer upon investigation of the home. Heretofore orders have been given by various parties, causing some conflict in authority and doubtless have been the cause of much of the trouble at the home. Rules for the government however have now been formed and will go into effect immediately. In the interest of the general public the new rules are published in full, and are as follows:

All orders given to the inmates and employees at the almshouse or grounds will be given by the warden and matron.

All orders given in or about the house or grounds to inmates or employees must be given in a quiet tone of voice, and if disobeyed such disobedience should be called to the attention of the overseer at once.

When orders are given to inmates who are at the time in the smoke house or stable, the inmate, or employee, should be called to the house and the order given there.

The warden and the matron are under orders only from the state inspector, mayor or overseer, and are strictly accountable to them.

If the inmates or employees require clothing, medical care, etc., they will state their needs to the matron, who will at once notify the overseer. For medical services the city physician may be called directly, but the call should be reported to the overseer.

Requisitions for any articles needed must be given by the warden and the matron to the overseer in writing on the proper blanks, and executed in a proper manner.

If a request is given over the telephone it must be confirmed on proper order blank.

Al orders from the overseer to the warden or matron will be given in writing.

The city physician will give his orders to the matron in writing.

Women inmates must not be made to do heavy work. Light duties, such as making their own beads, dusting their own rooms, washing dishes should be encouraged. They should be urged to mend their own clothes and keep themselves in a neat condition.

The male inmates are expected to assist in such work as they are able, including work about the place, assisting in running the washing machine, and such other work as might be suggested, which they are physically able to do.

Provisions taken from the store for the inmates' table must be taken on an order blank, charged up and handled in the same manner as all out-poor orders.

Provisions taken from the store for the warden's table must be taken in a like manner.

Supplies taken from the linen closet for use of inmates or for warden's family must be reported each week to the overseer on an order blank.

Inmates must not be allowed to do work in the office or work of any official character.

The inmates and employees must be treated in a kindly sympathetic and reasonable manner and any complaints which are received by the overseer will be immediately investigated, and if thought advisable, both parties will be heard.

Fifteen members and women friends of the Franklin Associates attended the dance given in Brockton Thursday evening by the Clarement Girls.

HOLD LINCOLN DAY EXERCISES

Rebecca Wiswell Tent and D. of V. Joint Observance

Rebecca Wiswell tent, Daughters of Veterans, and Paul J. Revere Woman's Relief Corps jointly observed Lincoln's Day in G. A. R. hall Friday evening. Preceding the exercises a supper was served to an attendance of over 150 members and friends.

During the intermission of the tableau program there were selections on Lincoln by Bert Reed, violin selections by David Weinhouse; sketch from Uncle Tom's Cabin by Miss Ella Packard and S. Reed; piano selections by Marion Huston, Lincoln's Gettysburg speech by Mrs. Kate A. Blaisdell, patriotic instructor of both organizations

Past Commander Marston of Post 88 G. A. R., made the address of the evening in which he spoke in reminiscent vein of the days of the martyred president.

During the meeting of the tent it was voted to affiliate with the G. A. R. Relief Association. The delegates were Mrs. Mae F. Berry and Miss Ella M. Packard.

Mrs. Grignon, president of the tent announced the following advisory board; Mark Hanson, Francis P. Lous, George Phillips, William French, Harry Ford and Walter M. Packard.

The tableau program of the evening was an entertaining one. The pages were Francis Crane and Madeline Huston. The program:

Piano selections—Marion Huston
"Quilting party"—Lillian and Bert Reed, piano music by Mrs. Stewart.
"Annie Laurie"—Introduced by "Coming thro' the rye"—music by Mrs. McCurdie, song by Ruth Packard, picture by Miss Maxwell.
"Old Black Joe," picture by Parker Souther, violin music by David Weinhouse.
"Juanita," song by Helen Rogers, picture by Miss Morton.
"Larboard watch," duet, Ruth and Ella Packard, picture by Harold Stoddard, followed by sailor's hornpipe.
"Tenting Tonight," picture by members of Sons of Veterans, song Walter M. Packard.
"Just Before the battle, mother" picture by members of the Sons of Veterans, Guy Baker, violin music by David Weinhouse.
"Vacant chair," song Past Commander C. R. Marston of Post 88.
"Red, white and blue," with chorus picture by Frank Stoddard, story of flag by Mrs. Huston.
Betsey Ross by Mrs. Exelsis Nason, piano music by Mrs. Stewart.
"O Columbia, the gem of the ocean" picture by Bernice Stoddard, song by Ruth Packard.
"Star spangled banner," song by assembly.

DISTRICT COURT.

At the conclusion of the hearing Friday afternoon in the cases of the young men arrested charged with breaking into some of the summer cottages near the old Cedarcrest Inn at Braintree the court sentenced Gilbert Wright and Ray Hines to two months each in the house of correction. The cases of William Richie, Eddie Myatt and Sagard Almquist were continued until Feb. 25 and Priemc Giovanni and Robert Workman were discharged.

Isaac Withy and John Dempsy were fined $15 each for drunkenness at Randolph.

John McLaughlin was fined $50 for assault on Lawrence Mullehy at Milton.

Niles F. Sullivan, who was fined some weeks ago for drunkenness at Braintree and had his case continued to pay his fine was defaulted for nonpayment.

The case of Frank Lopez for violation of the liquor law at Braintree was again continued until Feb. 19.

The case of James Single for neglect to support his family was again continued until Feb. 18.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER

WEDNESDAY LEDGER CLUB NEWS

BELONGED TO MICMAC TRIBE

Dennis Meuse, an Indian, Dies in Milton

Dennis Meause of Milton, one of the few surviving members of the Micmac tribe of Indians, passed away to the happy hunting grounds this morning in his 51st year. His death was directly due to an abcess on the neck. He is survived by his squaw and three children, the oldest, being a 17 year old boy, named for his father.

Dennis Meuse is probably one of the best known characters on the South Shore. He went to Milton many years ago and pitched his tent near the puritan spring, on the old trail through the Blue Hill Parkway. He had been but a short time when he retudned to Nova Scotia and claimed as his bride the daughter of the aged chiftain of the Micmac tribe.

A few years ago he moved from his camping ground to Granite avenue, East Milton, so his family could be near the schools. He was a registered voter and told the board when he asked them to recognize his rights of franchise that he wanted to vote for "Bill" Shea, his friend from boyhood.

Dennis, as he was familiarly termed throughout the South shore, was noted not only for his powers of physical endurance but also because of his sharpshooting ability. He had lived in Milton for years without seeking the friendships of the natives and his periodjcal disappearance in summer was not solved until Chief Maurice Pierce of the police of that town discovered him at Nantasket Beach doing circus stunts.

Dennis under pressure then confessed that he was the Indian who had performed remarkable sharp shooting throughout the country. One of his stunts was the shooting of apples from the head of his wife and cigars from between her lips. Although he fired thousand of shots he never injured his wife.

Several years ago under the shadows of the handsome grove of trees surrounding the frame dwelling house he called his wigwam, he granted the newspapermen an interview in which he told the history of his life.

His closing words at that time were that he gave up his target shooting because the great love he bore his wife prompted him to no longer take her life in his hands.

From then on he devoted his hours to whittling hammer handles, making wicker baskets and weaving Indian ornaments.

Dennis in boyhood grew up in the Roman Catholic faith and for years has been a constant attendant of St. Mary's church. The sight of himself being trailed by his wife and she in turn by their children, on their way to late mass day after day witnessed by the people of West Quincy. His funeral will take place there on Monday.

VALENTINE PARTY.

A valentine party was held at the home of Miss Martha Pyyny Friday night. The evening opened with a few songs by the members of the Bluebird Sewing Circle Girls. Music was enjoyed and games were played. The committee in charge were Mrs. T. Penttila and Mrs. W. F. Pyyny.

Those present included: Tyyne Tapio, Lempi Tapio, Esther Riihimaki, Fannie Matson, Irene Matson, Miriam Nelson, Lelia Penttila, Martha Pyyny, Paul Nelson, Evald Penttila, and Frank Pyyny.

Refreshments were served.

HELEN B. CRAIG.

Helen B. Craig, the one year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forbes Craig of 108 Federal avenue who died shortly after she was taken to the contagious hospital at Brighton suffering from diphtheria, was held from the parents home Friday afternoon. Services were held in Mt. Wollaston cemetery by Rev. C. M. Campbell of the First Presbyterian church.

The Daily Ledger is newsy very day. Are you a regular reader?

TO HOLD EXAMINATION FOR POLICE SERGEANCY

Will Also Promote Sergeant to Lieutenancy In Same Manner

Mayor Campbell has announced that a competitive examination for the position of sergeant of police to fill the vacancy that will be caused by the promotion of one of the present sergeants to the position of lientenant when Lieut. Mark E. Hanson is retired on March 1. On the same day an examination will be held of sergeants who have held that position for six months for promotion to the rank of lieutenant. This decision was made known at police headquarters at roll call Friday night when the following order was read:

"A competitive examination for the position of sergeant in the Quincy Police Department will be held on March 1, 1915. The examination is limited to patrolmen who have served at least one year under the rules. On the same day an examination will be held for promotion to lieutenant. This latter examination is limited to sergeants who have served as sergeants at least six months under the rules. Application blanks may be obtained in person or by mail from the Civil Service Commission, Room 151, State House, Boston. When filled out they should be returned to the office of the Civil Service Commission so as to be received on or before twelve o'clock noon on February 25, 1915. Only the first two pages of the application blank need to be filled out."

BURGLARS AT SAVINGS BANK

That's What Police Thought When Alarm Sounded

Police headquarters was rudely disturbed Friday afternoon by the violent ringing of a gong, which informed the police that something was wrong at the Savings Bank Building. Officer Whelan hurriedly cranked up the engine of the patrol wagon. Inspector Goodhue jumped on behind and the auto was speeding toward City Square at top speed. Dashing through a large mud puddle in the middle of the street, the dirty water was thrown up like a geyser, bespattering the sides of the car and nearly giving several pedestrians on the street a shower bath.

Arriving at the building the officers rushed into the bank and asked what the trouble was. The employees, very much surprised, said "nothing." A crowd quickly gathered on the outside of the building and "rubbered" through the windows but could see nothing of a startling nature. Then the officers came out and the patrol wagon started back to the station. The burglar alarm wires had become crossed causing the gong to sound at police headquarters.

HOUSE WARMING.

St. Chrysostoms parish has been invited to a house warming in the parish house next Tuesday evening at eight o'clock when the hostesses will be the Girls Friendly society. Two playlets "The Piper's Pay" and "The Obstinate Family" will be given under the direction of Mrs. M. J. Walker and refreshments served.

COMMITTEE FAVORABLE

At a meeting Friday of the legislative committee on Harbors and Lands, which was in Quincy on Thursday for the purpose of viewing the Fore River channel for which an appropriation of $75,000 is asked to dredge the channel to a depth of 24 feet and a width of 300 feet, it was voted unanimously to report favorable to the passage of the bill.

LARGE NUMBER ENGAGE IN WHIST

The North Quincy Catholic club on Friday, held its first of a series of novelty mid-winter parties. A hundred members and their ladies met at Poland hall and played whist until ten o'clock, during which time they were entertained by the Beacon Trio and Master Mulloy, the famous boy soprano from a local theatre. Dancing was then enjoyed until midnight, during which time exhibitions of modern dances were given by Mr. Martell and Miss Hattie Raiche, well known young people of the Downs. John J. Cusick Edward Gallagher, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCabe, Mr. and Mrs. Twitchell, Mr. and Mrs. McMasters and Cornelius Duggan were among the guests present.

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

AUCTION SALE

Unclaimed and Refused Freight.

Auction sale of unclaimed and refused freight to be sold by order of New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Co., Tuesday March 2nd, 1915, in freight yard of this Company at South Braintree, Mass. at 12.30 P. M. in conformity Chapter 95 of the Revised Laws of Mass., Section 6, for account of whom it may concern.

One lot of 38 poles received in cars ACL 72488—ACL 72870—ACL 73298, consigned to Fore River Ship Building Co., East Braintree, Mass., arriving at East Braintree about Dec. 26th 1913, supposed to have been shipped by Samuel Dawson, Old Grade, Ga. Also lot of 10 poles received in cars ACL 72480—ACL 73447 and 3534 consigned to Fore River Shipbuilding Co. East Braintre, arriving at East Braintree about Jan. 26th, 1914, supposed to have been shipped by Samuel Dawson, Old Grade, Ga.

N. B. All purchasers must be prepared to make deposit at time of sale of at least 25 percent cash. All goods must be paid for and removed within 10 days after sale is completed.

per order G. L. WINLOCK,
Freight Claim Agent,
New York, New Haven and Hartford, R. R.
4-9t
4.5,6,11,12,13,18,19,20

A MUSICAL TREAT
Concert by the
PIERIAN SODALITY ORCHESTRA
35 Pieces
OF HARVARD UNIVERSITY
ASSISTED BY STUDENT SOLOISTS
Auspices of Samoset Club of Wollaston
MONDAY EVENING, FEB. 15, 1915, AT 8 O CLOCK
Tickets 50 Cents Wollaston School Hall
Don't Miss It!
A. HAYWARD and WALTER
Feb. 10-13

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

THE HOME MERCHANT.

The home merchant, Who is he?

He is the chap who gives you credit when you are financially broke, and carries your account until you are able to pay.

He is the chap who gives you back your money or makes exchanges when you are not satisfied with what you have bought.

He is the chap who stands behind his guaranty, and makes restoration of all losses that you may sustain on the goods you buy.

He is the chap who meet and greets you on the street every day in the year, and takes a neighborly interest in your family and your affairs.

He is the chap whose clerks and bookkeepers and other employes live in Quincy and Spend their money with you and with other Quincy people.

He is the chap who pays heavy taxes to help support Quincy schools, and build Quincy streets, and maintain Quincy fire departments and police departments, and parks, and lighting and water service.

He is the chap who helps support Quincy churches and hospitals and charity organizations.

He is the home merchant—your neighbor—your friend—your helper in times of need.

Don't you think, that you ought to Trade with him, and be his friend and his helper in the time of his need

Don't you know that every dollar that you send out of Quincy for merchandise. is sent to strangers — to men who never spend a dollar in Quincy.

You don't save much, frequently nothing, when you send your money out of Quincy. And don't you know that the growth and prosperity of Quincy depends very largely upon the success and prosperity of the home merchants. Out-of-town people judge our city by the appearance of our stores and the degree of enterprise shown by your merchants. And our home merchants can not succeed unless home folks give them loyal support.

FATHER LEDOCHOWSKI.

A press dispatch from Rome announces the election of a Russian Pole Father Ledochowski, as general of the Jesuits. Today such an announcement means little; most people pass it by with a casual glance. But there was a time when the General of the Jesuits was one of the most prominent figures in Europe, more powerful than kings, a person to be feared.

Prominent men air the following views:—

Samuel Untermyer, N. Y. Bar Association:—"We are in a state of coporate lawlessness and the responsibility rests largely with lawyers."

President MacCracken of Vassar:—"Teachers must create in the American home an interest in beautiful speech."

Professor Emeritus Edwin A. Grosvenor of Amherst:—"We are in greater war peril than at any time since Lincoln."

The other day in Malden the Woman's Civic League fancied it saw something improper in the presentation of a motion picture entitled "Neptune's Daughter," in which Annette Kellerman, scantily clad, played the title role. The league made an emphatic protest which had no other result than to pack the house with the curious. Wonder if these purity leagues will ever realize what great little press agents they can make themselves.

The modern theatre is certainly decaying. At a performance in Boston the other day a boy spectator fell asleep and did not awake for 10 hours.

BUY HOUSE LOTS.

The purchasers of house lots in the Washington Park being developed by Spaulding and Hachard, have been the following: Willie J. Loring, George P Hachard, John H. Spaulding of Braintree, David Toomey, Mrs. Minnie Bargin, Mrs. Mary A. Clarke, James Robbie, Empire Polishing Co., Quincy and Mrs. Adeline S. Weeks, Brookline.

ASK FOR BETTER ACCOMMODATION

Association Protest Overcrowding at School

A protest against the present crowded conditions at the Massachusetts Fields school was voiced at the meeting of the Parents and Teachers Association, Thursday evening, when it was voted to write the superintendent of schools asking that better accommodations be given.

On account of illness Principal Spofford of the Quincy Industrial school was unable to attend and his assistant F. P. Barrows gave an interesting description of the school and told of the results being accomplished.

In the absence of the president, David H. Goodspeed presided. Piano ducts by Misses Ross and Harmon were enjoyed. Mr. Barber reported that the playground, for which the Association had worked, was now the property of the city.

WOLLASTON WOMAN'S CLUB.

To Present The Piper at their Annual Dramatics Next Week.

The annual dramatics of the Wollaston Woman's Club are to be given Tuesday at 2 P. M. in Quincy Music hall. The committee with Miss Theodora A. Luard as chairman has worked tirelessly and a great treat is in store for those attending "The Piper," The play to be presented, is taken from Robert Browning's Poem, "The Pied Piper of Hamlin," and has been presented but once before in New England. It was the prize play of two years ago and was at that time presented in Stratford-On-Avon.

The strolling players are—The Piper, Miss Theodore A. Luard; Michael the-Sword-Eater, Mrs. Arthur Whittam; Cheat-the-Devil, Mrs. Aylmer Hatch.

Men and women of Hamlin—Jacobs, the burgomeister, Mrs. H. N. Thomas; Kurt the synic, Mrs. George Fleming; Peter the cobbler. Muriel May Badger; Hans the butcher, Mrs. Jesse I. Litchfield; Axel the smith, Mrs. John C. Merrill; Peter, the Sacristan Marion Thomas; Anselin a young priest, Marion Hardy; Old Claus a miser, Mrs. C. Ernest Carr; Town Crier, Elsie Patterson; Veronika the wife of Kurt, Mrs. William J. Colby; Barbara, daughter of Jacobus, Mrs. L. W. Newell; wife of Hans the butcher, Mrs. Walter C. Brady; wife of Axel the smith, Mrs. Vernon H. Brokaw; Old Ursula, Mrs. Oscar A. Blaisdell.

The children—Jan, Carolyn H. Lewis; Hansel, Mrs. Charles E. Swett; Isle, Miriam Breen.

Others in the cast—Burghers and children of Hamlin.

The scenes are—Act 1. The Market-place in Hamlin.; Act II. Scene one, Inside the "Hollow Hill" scene two, The cross ways; Act III. The Cross-ways; Act. IV The market-place in Hamlin.

It has been arranged for special cars to leave Neponset at 12.50 P. M. by way of Wollaston; 1 P. M through Norfolk Downs and 1.07 P. M. by way of Hancock street.

The club has granted unlimited guest privilege and admission cards may be obtained of any club member.

THROUGHOUT THE LAND.

Proclaim liberty throughout all the land, unto all the inhabitants thereof." Thus reads the inscriptions on the famous old liberty bell of Philadelphia.

Little did our forefathers who had the bell thus inscribed realize that the bell could ever literally ring across the country. Thursday it rang over the telephone in San Francisco and was the signal for the bugler there to play "The Star Spangled Banner."

What a thrill must have come to the people of San Francisco when they heard those three cracked strokes of the famous liberty bell.

KELLY—McLELLAN.

Miss Janet McLellan, 53 Phipps street and William Kelly of Buckley street were married at the St. Mary's parish house Thursday evening by Rev. Fr. Thomas R. McCoy. Miss Susie Devine of Braintree and Thomas Kelly were the attendants. They will live in Quincy.

ONLY ONE "Bromo Quinine," that is
Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove on box. 25c.

Judge of said Court, this February in the year one nine hundred and fifteen.
J. R. McCOOLE, Regis
3t Feb. 12-19-

POLLYANNA AT WOLLASTON

An entertainment was given Friday evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society of the Wollaston Methodist Episcopal church in the Wollaston school hall.

Mrs. Lillian Pike Everest of Plattsburgh, New York, presented "Pollyanna" or "The Glad Game" to an attentive audience. The story was presented in three parts. The first part was "The Game, Its Invention," a matter of missionary barrels, ladies aiders, duties and punishments. Part two was "The Game, Its Players," a matter of jellies, prisms and love. The last part of the reading was "The Game, Its Testing and its Triumph" a very different matter.

Carl Dana Hopkins, tenor soloist, assisted Mrs. Everest. His selections were "Somewhere a Voice is Calling" by Eileen Newton, "Onaway, Awake, Beloved" the Aria from S. Coleridge-Taylor's "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast" and Bruno Huhn's "Invictus." Mr. Hopkins has a fine, pure voice of great beauty and sweetness. His encores were "When Love Abides" by Clough-Leighter and "The Little Gray Home in the West" by Lohr. Miss Marguerite Louise Holbrook was the accompanist.

WILL SPEAK ON BILLY SUNDAY

Rev. Mr. Willmott Takes Evangelist as Subject

In response to various enquiries from the people of the city concerning Evangelist Sunday, the pastor will speak at the Pleasant Sunday evening service on the topic "Why Mr. Sunday." This matter is of some importance, because this community would be greatly interested if Mr. Sunday should come to Boston. The doors will open at 7.00. Organ recital at 7.15.

Y. P. S. C. E. SOCIAL.

The Young Peoples Society of Christian Endeavor of the Wollaston Baptist church gave a reception Friday evening in the chapel at the church to the honorary members. During the vening there were piano solos by Miss May Critchley, vocal solos by William E. Bullock and readings by Miss Annie Fleiger. Games were played and light refreshments were served.

A regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Auxiliary was held Friday afternoon in the parlors at the Y. M. C. A. building. During the session an interesting paper was read by Mrs. W. F. Cummings on "One Talent" and Mrs. A. F. Bromley read an interesting report of the recent conference held at Cambridge. The auxiliary was presented with a silver tray by the Boys Bible class in appreciation of what the auxiliary had done for them. During the afternoon Mrs. Hennessy sang two selections, "Still, Still with Thee" and "The Unseen Kingdom."

THALIA CLUB SOCIAL.

The first social of the High school year was held at the local gym Friday evening, The Thalia Club entertained the Boys' Debating club and a few others. Games were played until ten o'clock, then refreshments were served, consisting of cocoa, sandwiches and candy. The committee in charge were Mary Shine, Beatrice Rodgers and Mildred Harrison. Miss McMurty and Miss Brookes were in charge of the games. A new game called the Circulating Library was introduced. Headmaster Collins and Mrs. Collins, Miss Howe and Miss Thayer were the invited guests. Westly Browne won the prize for forfeits, and Margaret Park won the prize for the best winker.

STATE HIRES 20 MEN.

The state begins its relief of the unemployed and in Weymouth 20 men from out of town under Walter F. Holmes began work Friday on the Richards estate, Weymouth Landing, the state to pay their wages.

TO HOLD CONFERENCE.

Mayor Campbell is holding a conference with the trustees of the city hospital this afternoon relative to the amount that shall be placed in the budget for the hospital this year.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

CONCERT IS BIG SUCCESS

A concert of merit was given in the Park and Downs church, Friday evening, under the auspices of the primary department of the Sunday school. A fine array of talent participated and the proceeds will go towards the purchase of a motion picture machine.

The contributing artists consisted of Miss Louise Thornton, reader; Mrs. V. C. Saunders, soprano; William Bullock, bass; Miss Emily Bjorkman, accompanist and a trio consisting of Miss Edna Polley, pianist; Paul Maling, violin and Earle Dexter, drum.

The program opened with "Spirit of Independence March" by Holtzman performed by the trio. Readings by Miss Thornton followed which included "Russy and the Lie" and other short monologues.

A solo "Out on the Deep" by William Bullock preceded a trombone solo. "Gates of Pearl" by Charles A. Richardson. "The summer wind" by Bischoff and "Will o' the wisp" by Spross were sung by Mrs. Saunders.

The reading of "A Shop Girl's Aspirations" by Miss Thornton and the rendition of a novelette, "Spring Thoughts" by the trio brought the first half of the program to a close.

During intermission candy was sold under the direction of Mrs. Charles A. Richardson. The ushers were Misses Miriam Breen, Mabel Doring, Ethel Axberg, Clara Coombs and Lena Kilpatrick.

Part two opened with a solo by Mr. Bullock and a selection by the trio "Night Reverie" by Stultz, a number of humorous and dialect stories by Miss Thornton were well received.

Mrs. Saunders sang "Come down laughing streamlet" by Spross and the evening closed with an oriental intermezzo "Nuvida" by Claypole played by the trio.

The concert was artistically and financially a decided success and much credit is due to the efforts of Mrs. James A. Boone, head of the primary department under whose direction it was given.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN CHURCH.

Tomorrow's service of worship at 10.45 o'clock will be in observance of the Century of Peace between Great Britain and the United States of America. The Rev. Chester Arthur Drummond of Somerville will deliver the sermon. In the church decorations the English and American flags will be given a prominent place.

Immediately after the service the Sunday school will hold in the church a special service in celebration of the Centennial of the ratification of the Treaty of Peace between the United States and Great Britain, February 17 1815. A special order of service has been prepared by the American Unitarian Association, which will be used at this service. Patriotic hymns and songs led by the Sunday school orchestra, besides recitations by members of the school and an address by the superintendent will be a special feature. The public is cordially invited.

The next vesper service with music by the Apollo Quartet of Boston will be held Sunday Feb. 21 at 4:30 o'clock

PEACE ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.

The Treaty of Peace between England and the United States, signed at Ghent, Dec. 24, 1814, was ratified on Feb. 17, 1815. In commemoration of this event and the one hundred years of peace between the two nations since that time the American Unitarian Association and the British and Foreign Unitarian Association have united on both sides of the Atlantic in setting apart Sunday, Feb. 14, 1915 for a special peace anniversary service. Sunday morning Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson of the First Parish church will preach upon "A Century of Peace," and the Sunday school will use on that day a special service prepared for the occasion.

Masquerade Costumes
For Rent
Children's Costumes in variety
MRS. R. E. WOODWARD
155 Billings Road
Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs
Feb. 3-tf

W. H. HASLETT
31 Bridge Street, Quincy
Tel. Quincy 1092 W

Plastering and Cementing
Concrete Houses
Outside Stucco Work
Cement Walks, Steps and Cellar Floors.

PETROSILO sanitary and fireproof flooring—guaranteed to wear longer than hard wood floor—no joints one continuous piece put over any floor.
Feb. 25- W-S.

IT'S GREAT
That Sensational, Wonderful, Gripping, Mystifying Motion Picture Serial
THE EXPLOITS OF ELAINE
READ IT
In Next Tuesday's Ledger
Mary Says She Likes It
You Will Too
Don't Forget
Next Tuesday's Ledger
See The Play At
THE KINCAIDE THEATRE

SUNNY SIDE of LIFE

ENGLAND'S MARTIAL SPIRIT.

"Why are you moping there, Dick?"

"I've no one to play with."

"Well, go and fetch Freddie next door."

"Oh, I played with him yesterday, and I don't suppose he's well enough to come out yet."—London Opinion.

WARNING.

Motorist (to chauffeur)—"Be careful about running over anybody hereabouts, James. This is a Prohibition county, and most everybody has a bottle in his pocket."—Atlanta Constitution.

Dispatches declare that the Kaiser again is back at the front. The English language surely is wonderful.—Washington Herald.

NO TROUBLE NEXT FALL.

"That bathing suit of yours is cut rather low."

"Can't help it. I want to get tanned this summer low enough to meet my evening gowns."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

PERFECT LOGIC.

"I do wish," observed Mildred, "that Santa Claus had brought me a new doll for Christmas."

"But your old doll," her mother answered, "is as good as ever."

"So am I as good as ever," the little girl retorted, "but the doctor brought you a new baby."—New York World.

CAN BE CARELESS NOW.

Mr. Manley, "Well, my dear, I've had my life insured for $5,000."

Mrs. Manley—"How very sensible of you! Now I shan't have to keep telling you to be so careful every place you go," — Pathfinder.

SOURCE OF DANGER REMOVED

Lady—"Doctor, I am so glad to hear you have stopped calling upon poor Mrs. Smith. Now I am sure she is out of danger."—Judge.

KNIGHTS OF KING ARTHUR.

A regular conclave of Bethany castle, Knights of King Arthur, was held Friday evening. After a short business session the evening was given up to a rehearsal for the installation of officers of the castle which will be held next Friday evening at 7.30. The members of the Bethany Brotherhood will be present in a body at the installation service.

HOW ROMANS HELP.

An interesting postcard has been received by Mrs. Ama K. Lee of Wollaston from an elderly American friend whom she met in Rome on a recent trip abroad. It tells one way in which the Italian people are helping the sufferers in the earthquake of which such full accounts have been given in the newspapers. The card was as follows:

"The earthquake did little damage in Rome, though the shock was severe. I had to steady myself by a table to avoid falling. But outside, as the papers are now telling you the harm done is terrible. It is as bad as Messina but happily less extensive. Of course all are straining every nerve (already overstrained) to help. Today great wagons pass through every street, stopping at each door and people throw in what they can spare, a blanket, a pair of stockings, anything. This is the spectacular side (so dear to Romans) of a very great and noble charity, but alas inadequate. And was not the world sad enough already without this! Truly the ways of Providence are sometimes murderous. Courage, Courage."

Miss Irene Howes is to be the soloist Sunday evening at Electa hall, where the Spiritualists hold meetings every Sunday evening.

MRS. ELLEN BUSHNELL.

Mrs. Ellen Bushnell, widow of Rev. Henry A. Bushnell and mother of Dr. E. H. Bushnell, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lincoln A. Cook, Wednesday after a brief illness, aged 75 years. Mrs. Bushnell was the widow of a well known Methodist clergyman who died about 6 years ago. During his active career as a preacher he was located in Vermont but during the latter years of his life he preached at Lovell's corner, Weymouth.

Mrs. Bushnell has been remarkably active up to the very last. She leaves two sons and a daughter, Dr. E. H. Bushnell and Mrs. Lincoln A. Cook of Quincy Point and Charles W. Bushnell of Boston.

HOLD SILVER TEA.

A silver tea of the Ladies Benevolent society of the Wollaston Congregational church was held Friday at the home of Mrs. Carroll E. Bates. It was a sort of get together and get better acquainted meeting and the afternoon proved to be one of enjoyment to the forty of more women present. Light refreshments were served by the hostess.

PRATT'S BREAD—baked by experts in a light, well-ventilated building. All grocers.

BREAD THAT IS GOOD

Should be fashioned with the Best Flour, Clean and Skilled Workmanship, Sanitary Methods and Fresh. Such a loaf of bread is ours. You get it fresh every day, it isn't carted over miles of roads, it's here for you to call for it. Make that call Today, Madam. Then truly you'll find Bread that is Good.

LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN
1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.
12-2t

If about to build or repair, specify
NEPONSET SHINGLES
Durable, Artistic and Fireproof, nothing better.
Surely call or write for samples.
See them and be convinced.
GROSSMAN'S BUILDING SUPPLY HOUSE
"The House of Quality"
37 Federal Ave. Tel. 979-R Quincy Quincy Adams, Mass.

In SOCIETY

Mrs. Charles A. Price of Adams street is opening her house Tuesday afternoon for an anti-suffrage conference.

* * *

A pleasant feature of the Quincy Women's club dramatics at Music hall Wednesday afternoon was the presence of many out of town friends, former residents whom it was a pleasure to greet.

* * *

Mrs. Joseph Copeland Morse who since giving up her residence on Monroe road, Presidents hill has been on a trip to the Philippines has returned to America and after a stay in California is now en route for the East and home.

* * *

Owing to illness Mrs. George B. Rice of 308 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, formerly of Quincy, was obliged to give up her usual Lincoln's birthday reception, much to the regret of many friends who have enjoyed her gracious hospitality on these anniversarics.

* * *

Mrs. Walter P. Emery and Mrs. Cutler of Worcester have been guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Mitchell, Jr., of Glendale road, coming down for the Quincy Women's club dramatics and the opera Mikado, Mrs. Emery being especially interested in the opera as she was chairman of the music committee of the club before moving to Worcester.

* * *

Rev. Merrill C. Ward of the Universalist church was a guest the first of the week at the old Wayside Inn in Sudbury with a group of Universalist ministers preparing for Lenten services.

* * *

Announcement has been made this week of a charity ball and bridge party to be given Thursday evening, March fourth for the benefit of the Quincy Associated Charities.

* * *

Mrs. Everett C. Bumpus of Presidents hill is leaving next week for New York, going over to give two illustrated art conferences at Morristown, New Jersey on Feb. 18th and 25th at the home of Mrs. John O. H. Pitney.

* * *

Mrs. S. I. Wood is prolonging her stay in New Jersey, where she is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Cecil Blanchard of 316 Berwyn avenue, Trenton. She returns to Quincy in March.

* * *

A surprise party was given Feb. 5th by Mr. and Mrs. Clifford R. Davis at their home, 79 Elm avenue, in honor of Mrs. Frank M. Coe, in observance of her birthday. After the guests, 24 in number assembled Mrs. Coe was telephoned to and asked to spend the evening with Mrs. Davis and on entering the living room, her surprise was genuine. After extending congratulations, the hostess presented her with packages of various sizes, each containing a humorous gift, accompanied by best wishes in prose and poetry; the last parcel opened containing a handsome silver trivet. Novel games were played, a prize being given to the most efficient. At eleven o'clock most and attractive and dainty refreshments were served. The color scheme in the dining room being pinks including a beautifully decorated birthday cake cut and served by Mrs. Coe. Music was enjoyed including a tenor solo by Arthur Stanley of Elm avenue.

* * *

Invitations have gone out from the Quincy Tennis club for a dance at Alpha hall Thursday evening, Feb. 25th. Patronesses for the affair are Mrs. Frederick [illegible] Mrs. Arthur W. Hall, Mrs. Henry R. Holden, Mrs. J. Brooks Lovell, Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann, Mrs. Henry W. Porter, Mrs. Carl R. Sheppard and Mrs. James H. Slade.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Constable (Fannie Ellsworth) of Hingham are receiving congratulations, a daughter being born to them on Wednesday.

* * *

The C. H. society held its regular fortnightly meeting at the home of Mrs George A. Smith, Berlin street, Thursday afternoon. It took the form of a valentine party, but ended in a linen shower, which was a distinct surprise to Miss Ella F. Winship of North Central avenue, one of the members whose engagement was recently announced to John Dwight Seaver. When the dining room doors were opened, the table looked most attractive, with red decorations and red hearts at each cover. The centerpiece was a pile of white parcels tied with red ribbons. After a dainty collation served by the hostess, the guests were invited to pick up their heart and pull out a package, and if any found one which did not belong to them, to give it to the one for whom it was intended, the result being that Miss Winship was literally showered with packages amidst a burst of laughter. The parcels contained towels of all descriptions, beautifully embroidered, centerpieces doilies and a luncheon cloth.

* * *

In the series of dances and entertainments by the Y. P. R. U. of the First Parish, the next will be a dance on Friday evening at Alpha hall. Preparations are going forward for "college night" on March 26th.

* * *

Mrs. Frank Robinson of Electric avenue, Somerville, entertained the Atlantic Criterion club at her home Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Fred Storck and Mrs. F. Crowell, former members of the club were substitutes. Souvenirs were awarded Mrs. John Lily, Mrs. E. Swan and Mrs. John Burke. A buffet lunch was served. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. John Burke of Billings road.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Royal Clark of Walker street are expected home Sunday from Attleboro, where they have been staying for some time because of the illness of Mr. Clark's mother, who has now greatly improved.

* * *

Miss Susan Handy of Manville, Rhode Island, a student at Wellesley college is the guest of Mrs. Frederick H. Sleenstra over the week end.

* * *

Miss Eleanor E. Dunn of Newport avenue has returned from a two weeks visit in Sudbury.

* * *

Colonel and Mrs. Edward J. Booth of Burlington, Vermont were guests last week of their daughter, Mrs. Percy L. Davidson of Marion street. John E. Booth is remaining for a more extended visit with his sister.

* * *

Miss Marjorie Cole of Wollaston was the guest of her grandmother in Plymouth over the week end.

* * *

Mrs. Margaret Pitts of Bay view street, Quincy Point entertained the Harmony Whist club at her home Friday evening. Games and vocal and piano solos were enjoyed after which the hostess presented each member with a beautiful souvenir.

* * *

Miss Wonder Smith of Boston is the guest of Miss Lillian DeYoung of Kittredge avenue, Quincy Point, for a few days.

* * *

Mrs. Edward Eastman, president of the Abington Woman's club, was the guest of Mrs. Ronald MacDonald of Hancock street, Wollaston, at luncheon on Tuesday and accompanied her later to the Quincy Women's club play at Music hall. Other members of the Abington club attending the play were: Mrs. Joseph C. Kimball, Mrs. Richard Rand, Mrs. Harry Kay and Mrs. Willard Thayer.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Johnson of Maple street leave Tuesday for a trip to Bermuda and possibly Panama.

CLARA MORRISON
Pianist and Teacher
Leschetizky Method
CATHERINE MORRISON
Mandolin and Guitar
50 Hamilton Street, Wollaston
Tel. Quincy 1318-W. Sept 30-w,s,-1y

DR. G. F. S. PEARCE
DENTIST
327 Newport Avenue, Wollaston
Mondays -- Wednesdays -- Fridays
9 to 12 — 1 to 5
EVENINGS
Boston Office 194 Boylston Street
June 24-1y-w,s

ISLE OF PINES, W. I
An association is now being formed to own 100 acres of grapefruit or 7000 trees. Join now--membership $250.00, $10.00 down and $5.00 per month. 6 pct. guaranteed for the first five years and then each member gets 85 pct. of the profits. Write for particulars.
ISLE OF PIN'S ASSOCIATES
170 Summer St., Boston, Mass.
Feb. 11-1m

COAST RAIDED BY AIR FLEET

Great Britain Inflicts Heavy Losses on German Bases

RUSSIANS LOSE 26,000 MEN

Taken Prisoners In East Poland by Reinforced Army Estimated at 200,000 Men—"Strategical Retirement" Into Russian Territory Appears to Be More Like a Rout—German Casualties In Poland Reported to Be 40,000—Lull Prevails on Western Battle Front

London, Feb. 13.—A fleet of British armed aircraft made a spectacular and disastrous raid upon the Belgian coast, hurling bombs into four towns where the Germans have been most diligent in preparing descents upon England.

The raid was one of the most brilliant feats of the war. It was participated in by thirty-four aeroplanes and seaplanes, which had been concentrated at Dunkirk, on the French coast.

A picturesque feature of the flight was the dumping out of Commander Grahame-White into the North sea while maneuvering off Nieuwport. The aviator, who is so well known in the United States for his dare-devil flights, was apparently unharmed by his fall into the sea. He was at once picked up by a French warship, amidst a hail of shot from German rifles, anti-aircraft guns and machine guns on shore.

The extent of the damage effected by the British raiders, who flew over Bruges, Zeebrugge, Blankenberghe and Ostend, dropping hundreds of bombs, has not yet been determined. It is known that the Ostend railway station was set on fire and was probably burned to the ground.

The principal object of the attack was the port of Zeebrugge, a few miles north of Ostend, where the Germans have, for the past four months, been assembling submarines, Zeppelins and other war craft intended for action against the English coast. At this point the aviators dropped bombs on the power station and succeeded in damaging German mine-sweeping vessels. The airmen reported that they saw no submarines during their trip.

Russians Are Driven Back

All eyes now are turned upon East Prussia, where the German army, under observation, if not the command, of Emperor William, has taken the offensive and compelled the Russians to evacuate their positions east of the Mazurian lakes and retire to their own territory.

The Russians refer to this as a strategical retirement, but the German official communication intimates that the appearance in this district of a strong new German force was a surprise to the Russians, and that the Germans captured 25,000 prisoners, twenty cannon and thirty machine guns, in addition to a lot of war material.

If the German statement is correct, the Russian reverse apparently is almost as serious as that which the Muscovite forces suffered in the same place early in the war.

Before the German official communication was received in London, military men were inclined to look upon the Russian retirement as a wise move, declaring that it would compel the Germans to fight the battle on Russian territory and away from their strategical railways.

The army which the Germans flung so suddenly into East Prussia is believed to have numbered 200,000 men, and to have been made up of soldiers who have been fighting on the Bzura and western fronts and of units of the new army which has just completed training in central Germany.

German Losses In Poland

An official statement given out at the French war office announced the complete failure of the German offensive in Poland. The statement follows:

"The failure of recent attacks by the Germans in Poland appears to be complete. The losses of the Germans are unprecedented. It is reported that they exceed 40,000 dead.

"Cold and the frequent use of dense formation are among the causes given for the losses of the Germans. An eyewitness of the battle declares that machine guns mowed down the ranks of the enemy like a steel blade.

"When the combat ended the Russians saw hills of dead before them. At night, under the glare of searchlights, the undulating mass of wounded made efforts to extricate themselves. Then, toward 2 o'clock in the morning, they moved no more."

The lull continues to prevail on the western battle front, where the fighting is confined to artillery duels and a couple of infantry attacks in the Argonne and northwest of Verdun, in which the Germans claim to have been successful.

WILL ASSIST ENGLAND

Portugal Prepared to Live Up to Agreement to Supply Troops

Portugal formally announced that she will carry out the policy decided upon early in the war, involving adhesion to the treaty with Great Britain requiring Portugal to assist her with troops when necessary. There are about 100,000 men under arms.

Portugal has been making military preparations most of the time since the war began, but uncertain internal political conditions are said to have interfered somewhat with these operations. A part of the army already has been mobilized, and its strength at present is believed to be about 100,000 men. A second mobilization would bring this figure up to at least 245,000.

The Portuguese navy has in commission five protected cruisers, three destroyers, four torpedo boats and three submarines.

NEXT TO CONSCRIPTION

England Calls Upon All Able-Bodied Men to Join the Colors

England summoned to arms all able-bodied men in the kingdom not now under colors who, under the recent military census, expressed a willingness to enlist.

The step was taken as an immediate consequence of the vote of the commons giving to Earl Kitchener authority to increase the British strength to 3,000,000 men. There are over 2,000,000 already in the army.

This action is regarded by experts as the last step before conscription, and indicates that England thoroughly realizes the necessity of calling for the last man to arms.

DANCED AT POINT OF GUN

Pilot Says Compulsory Stunt Led Him to Commit Murder

Elizabethton, Tenn., Feb. 13.—Clyde Stover, who as arrested here as a suspect in connection with the murder near Welaka, Fla., of Alonzo G. Gardner of Baltimore, confessed, according to Sheriff Ausbrooks, that he killed Gardner and also his brother, Horace B. Gardner of Springfield, Mass., who is missing.

Stover, who piloted a yacht for the brothers on a camping trip, shot them in the back, the alleged confession said, because they forced him to dance at the point of a gun.

One was shot, the pilot is alleged to have confessed, as he was butchering a pig some distance from the camp. The other was killed, he said, a short time later at another place.

$75,000 LOVE SUIT SUDDENLY HELD UP

Declared Mistrial Because Juror Shook Hands With Witness

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 13.—Judge White brought to a sudden halt in the Middlesex county superior civil court the trial of the suit for $75,000 damages brought by Ralph M. Herrick against Albert M. Waitt for alleged alienation of Mrs. Herrick's affections, by taking the case from the jury, declaring it a mistrial and dismissing the jurors.

This move resulted from the action of a juror who shook hands with Miss Alice D. Witt, a bookkeeper, as she was leaving the witness stand. Miss Witt was the second witness to testify, the first having been the defendant, Waitt.

Judge White stated that the action of the juror indicated that he was well acquainted with the witness and that the attorney for the defendant felt that that fact might tend to prejudice the juror.

For this reason, White said, though it will put the county under an expense of several hundred dollars, he felt obliged to take the case from the jury.

PLANT CLOSELY GUARDED

Rumor of Conspiracy to Destroy Property of the Grand Trunk

Portland, Me., Feb. 13.—The large guard of police and civilians at the elevator, docks and coal pockets of the Grand Trunk railway was materially increased in consequence of the report of a plot to destroy the railroad company's property in this city and its principal bridges between here and Canada, and the discovery of two suspiciously acting strangers near one of the elevators.

According to informration received from Montreal, at least six men were coming from California to carry out the alleged plans.

WARSHIP BADLY DAMAGED

North Dakota Must Undergo Repairs at a Cost of $500,000

Washington, Feb. 13.—The battleship North Dakota will be out of commission one year, as repairs costing $500,000 will be necessary as a result of an accident to her propelling machinery during the Guantanamo maneuvers.

Under orders to return to her home yard for thorough overhauling, the battleship is reported proceeding slowly up the Virginian coast. She will reach Norfolk today.

Earthquake Hits Panama Canal

Panama, Feb. 13.—A slight earthquake shock was felt in the canal zone. The canal was not damaged.

Iowa Senate For Dry State

Des Moines, Feb. 13.—The Iowa state senate adopted a constitutional amendment providing for state-wide prohibition. The measure now goes to the house.

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

John McDonald of Curtis avenue has gone to Montreal to work on the submarines.

The O. U. B. of the Universalist church are to hold a poverty social in Murray hall Tuesday evening.

Miss Louise Churchill of Billings street is confined to her home with jaundice.

The schooner Georgietta of Hancock Maine arrived Thursday morning at the wharves of the Quincy Lumber Co. with 3200 bundles of laths.

Miss Mildred Moir of Arnold street has accepted a position in the office of the Massachusetts Chocolate Co. at Boston.

Preston Kittredge, one of the oldest men in Quincy is ill at his home on Washington street, Quincy Point. Mr. Kittredge is ninety-two years of age.

Wallace Glidden, formerly of Quincy Point is visiting in Quincy. Mr. Glidden is connected with a large Land and Timber Co., at Los Angeles, California.

The reunion service of the Christian Endeavor Society of Memorial church with the evening church service, proved to be such an interesting meeting last Sunday that the society has planned to take part in the church service tomorrow evening.

The Walther Men's Class will meet Sunday at 12.15 in the Wollaston Baptist church. Rev. Joseph Walther will lead the discussion subject, "Lessons from the life of Eli and Samuel." Chorus of men's voices and a hearty greeting. All men not in similar classes cordially invited.

The Kindergarten at St. Chrysostoms church will be open Sunday during the morning service for children under six years. Mrs. Edward F. Parlee is chairman of the committee and Miss Ethel Vogler will see that light interesting and pleasing occupation is provided for the children.

Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock, Mendelssohn's sacred cantata, "Hear my Prayer," is to be given by the full vested choir of St. Chrysostom's church. This cantata contains the beautiful soprano solo "O for the wings of a dove," which will be sung by Mrs. Jeannie M. Follett.

Frank H. Deyette, of Worcester, Mass., a chauffeur and Doris A. Chase daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Chase of 92 Botolph street, were married at noon Friday at city hall. The ceremony was performed by Emery L. Crane, city clerk. The couple were unattended.

The members of St. Mary's Holy Name society will attend Holy Communion in a body Sunday at the eight o'clock mass. The regular monthly meeting of the society will be held in the afternoon at four o'clock when the annual election of officers for the ensuing year will take place.

Colonel Anderson will be the speaker at the meeting of the Young Peoples' Religious Union of First Church Sunday afternoon at half-past four subject "Abraham Lincoln." Colonel Anderson is well-known as an interesting talker and will give personal reminiscences of Lincoln. All those who are interested will be cordially welcome.

Organized effort is not the only effort put forth to boom Atlantic this year. William Glover who is one of the oldest inhabitants has called the attention of the Park Commissioners of Quincy to the fact that band concerts have mostly been held in the Yacht club district or around Wollaston and that the Atlantic playground would be a suitable place for the Atlantic portion of the music appropriated for the city. It is understood that the commissioners will take up the matter and give Atlantic its share hereafter .

☞Mrs. S. I. Wood of the Adams building has closed her millinery rooms and will open March 15 for the Spring and Summer season with a complete line of trimmed and untrimmed hats.

Pratt's Vienna Bread
A Bread made after a fixed formula by expert workmen in a light, modern bakery.
Sold Through Grocers

FOSS BOSTON
Quality AND Premiere
REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
CHOCOLATES

Have You Tried Our Saturday Special
If not you should. 1 pound of the best 40c chocolates for 29c
They are delicious, ask any one who has tried them.
Monday and Tuesday Special
1 lb. box of Peppermint Patties 29c worth 40c
CHAS. C. HEARN
Druggist, City Square

Furniture Storage Warehouse
Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.
Rates $2---$3---$4 per month
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.
Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.-tf

POLLYANNA

(Continued from Page One.)

invalid is made happy, a little boy orphan gets a good home, a minister's church is saved from breaking up, a disappointed man is made glad, and all on account of Pollyanna's glad game.

A treat to music lovers was given before the story by Miss Frances Murray who played the piano. She has a beautiful, sure touch and plays as if she really loved it, and therefore with much appreciation of her selections.

Two little boys all in white pulled aside the curtains from the frame. These little pages were Masters Norman Schulze and Sidney Everett Richards.

The cast was as follows:—
Pollyanna—Miss Alice Miller
Miss Polly—Mrs. H. Everett Crane
Nancy—Miss Grace Fisher.
Old Tom—Henry Hayward.
Timothy—Russell Williams.
Mrs. Snow—Mrs. E. E. Miller.
John Pendleton—Carl Pierce
Jimmie—Master Edmonston.

Ladies' Aiders—Miss Addie Parks, Mrs. A. L. Melcher, Mrs. V. E. Miller, Mrs. B. A. Willmott, Mrs. H. C. Collins.

Dr. Chilton—Frank W. Crane.
Rev. Paul Ford—Charles Sampson.
Nurse—Mrs. Charles Sampson.
Dr. Mead—A. L. Melcher.
Dr. Warren—William Sidelinger.

The pictures shown were:—
1. Miss Polly telling Nancy.
2. Miss Polly reading the letter.
3. Nancy telling Tom.
4. Nancy and Timothy meet Pollyanna.
5. Pollyanna in Miss Polly's lap.
6. Telling Nancy the "Game."
7. Pollyanna and old Tom.
8. Pollyanna meeting the "man."
9. Pollyanna and Mrs. Snow.
10. Pollyanna meets Jimmy.
11. Pollyanna at the Ladies Aid.
12. Pollyanna and Mr. Pendleton in the woods.
13. Pollyanna, Mr. Pendleton and Dr. Chilton.
14. Pollyanna dressing up Miss Polly.
15. Pollyanna, Mr. Pendleton and Dr. Chilton.
16. Pollyanna and Mr. Pendleton.
17. Pollyanna and Mr. Ford.
18. Pollyanna in Dr. Chilton's office.
19. Pollyanna, nurse and Miss Polly.
20. Mr. Pendleton and Miss Polly.
21. Pollyanna, Dr. Mead, Dr. Warren, Miss Polly and nurse.
22. Nancy telling Mr. Pendleton.
23. Nancy and Miss Polly.
24. Jimmy telling Miss Polly.
25. Pollyanna, Dr. Chilton, Dr. Warren, Miss Polly and nurse.
26. Pollyanna.

Miss Alice Miller made a winsome little Pollyanna and won her way into everyones heart. Miss Polly as shown by Mrs. H. E. Crane was splendid, first with her hair parted and patted down close to her head and her stern mien and in the end the happy different aunt and lover. Miss Fisher's expression as Nancy was good. All the other characters were just what one would picture them after reading the book.

The entertainment was given under the auspices of the Junior Christian Endeavor society of the church. The chairman of arrangements was Mrs. E. W. Sheppard assisted by Mrs. B. A. Willmott, president of the society.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton, Director
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings. 6-12t

NOTICE!
This space will be devoted each day—Not to advertise cheap grade at full value but Johnson Bros. Quality goods at a sure low Price.
FOR SATURDAY THE 13TH,
With each purchase of one pound of HASKELL & ADAMS private growth coffee at 35c a lb. we will give FREE one half pint jar of best Deerfoot Cream.
JOHNSON BROS., City Square.

ORIENTAL RUGS
WE have the largest and most complete stock of Oriental Rugs in Boston and can always show you a greater assortment than you can find elsewhere.
JOHN H PRAY & SONS CO
646-650 Washington St., opp. Boylston St.
All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. E. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
Hart Kittredge, City Square.
[illegible] O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bogbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

WOMEN ROLL FOR SILVER CUP

Single of 107 by Mrs. Bird High Mark

The silver cup offered for the highest single in the roll offs of the Wollaston Woman's club at the Wardwell alleys will be presented to Mrs. Bird next Friday afternoon if her record single of 107 is not bettered on that day. In that event the person who passes the mark will be given the cup. The weekly matinee Friday did not result in a heavy pinfall. The summary:

WOLLASTON W. C.
Mrs. Bird	79	82	89	250
Mrs Waterhouse	67	64	76	207
Mrs. Price	72	95	91	258
Mrs. Barstow	74	93	74	241
Mrs. Mirtt	60	75	49	284
Mrs. Howard	76	79	82	237
Mrs. Newall	69	69	69	197
Mrs. Diusune	75	66	73	214
Mrs. Hopkins	70	70	70	210
Mrs. Otis	71	71	80	222
Mrs. Hatch	68	68	68	194
Mrs. Freen	61	49	68	178
Mrs. White	69	73	56	219
Mrs. Suard	63	63	63	189

VARSITY FIVE WIN.

The Varsity Five of the Quincy Y. M. C. A. beat Cohasset High school at Cohasset Friday night 36-15. The Varsity lineup included some of the best basket ball players in the city. Earle Bates got five goals from the floor and two fouls and Osberg got four goals. Sturgis Hunt shot two baskets and four fouls. James Jenkins two baskets and Baker two baskets. Bates and Osberg played the star game.

JUNIORS WIN.

The Y. M. C. A. Juniors won from the Cohasset boys by a score of 26-11. Sullivan played well for the losers. The Junior 1st team will play the Washington Congregational church team this afternoon at 4 o'clock and the 2nd team will play the Wollaston M. E. church. Everybody welcome to the games. The Junior-Cohasset score was:

Y. M. C. A. JUNIORS	COHASSET
Sanderson rf	lb Sweeney
(Wester) —(Jenkins)
Nelson lf	rb Mulcahy
Meda c	c Bowser
Williams rb	lf Savage
McMillan lb	rf Sullivan

Score 26-11. Goals from floor McMillan 2, Williams 1, Meda 2, Sanderson 1, Nelson 4, Jenkins 2, Sullivan 5. Goals from fouls Nelson 2, Mulcahy 1. Referee Hennessy. Scorer Wester. Timer Jones. Time 15 minutes.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

WILLIAM R. DIMOCK
Carpenter and Builder
Plans furnished and estimates given. All work personally and promptly attended to 128 PROSPECT AVENUE
WOLLASTON
Telephone 1238 W Quincy.

WINS FIRST IN NEW SERIES

Squantum Beats Montclair in Bowling Match

The Squantum Improvement Association defeated the Montclair Association in the first of a series of matches at Murray's alleys Friday evening. A return match will be rolled within a few weeks. Spargo, captain of the winning team, a sporting writer of the Boston Traveller, is completing the arrangements.

SQUANTUM IMP. ASSO.
Sumner	107	81	84	272
Mason	84	98	96	273
Spargo	87	94	81	262
Mardon	100	72	86	258
Gorham	79	120	84	283
	457	460	451	1348
MONTCLAIR IMP. ASSO.
Lindberg	87	85	89	261
Morgan	91	74	87	252
Sangster	76	67	69	212
Cochy	87	101	82	270
Byrne	96	98	94	278
	437	425	421	1273

PINFALL IS LIGHT

The finishing room of the Rice & Hutchins South Braintree factory beat the office corps in the second of the series at Wardwells Friday night. Pinfall was light.

FINISHING ROOM.
W. Magee	83	75	82	240
J. Sheel	69	85	82	236
J. Ellingsworth	70	88	79	237
F. Slauger	78	69	88	235
W. Stone	93	85	90	268
	393	402	421	1216
OFFICE.
J. Reynolds	82	80	77	239
A. Johnson	87	102	64	253
G. Singleton	57	85	79	211
A. Anderson	63	65	71	199
C. Doughty	77	69	84	230
	366	401	375	1142

War Closes Meat Plants

Wellington, N. Z., Feb. 13.—All meat packing establishments on South island have been closed, owing to the shortage in shipping facilities.

France Puts Ban on Absinthe

Paris, Feb. 13.—The chamber of deputies adopted a new law forbidding the sale of absinthe in France.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

President Wilson nominated for United States attorney for the district of Maine John F. A. Merrill of Portland.

George A. Marshall, 58, committed suicide at Clinton, Mass. He was despondent because of ill health.

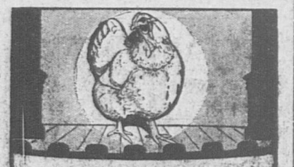

Samuel T. Pickart, 87, biographer and literary executor of John G. Whittier, the poet, died at the Whittier homestead, Amesbury, Mass.

Ross S. Turner of Salem, Mass., 67, famous marine painter, died at Nassau, Bahama islands, of heart failure.

The annual parish reunion of St. Mary's church will be held Monday evening in St. Joseph's hall. Ex-Councilman Stephen B. Little is chairman of the reception committee.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

The Leading Lady
All the farm's a stage and the hen just now is the star; she is laying the foundation of future poultry profits.
Pratts Poultry Regulator
25c, 50c, 60c, $1.00; 25 lb. pail $2.50 gives health and thereby increases the number of fertile eggs. Result—more and sturdier chicks.
Pratts Baby Chick Food
25c, 50c and $1.00
is the greatest chick saver known.
Refuse substitutes; insist on Pratts.
Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Back
Get Pratts 160 page Poultry Book
A. J. RICHARDS & SON
C. W. & G. W. NIGHTINGALE
NATHAN AMES
E. H. DOBLE & CO.
And Grain Dealers and General Stores everywhere 6639

SPORTING COMMENT

An accident at the N. Y. A. C. games on Wednesday night has brought about the retirement of "Mel" W. G. Sheppard, one of the world's greatest athletes. For over a decade he represented the Irish American A. C. and the last year the Melrose A. A. He made world's records and saw them bettered by Meredith and Kiviat in the 800 and 1500 metres. He held his share of marks. Today the only world's mark credited to him is 1.10 4-5 for 600 yards. Sheppard created the American amateur record of 2.12 2-5 for 1000 yards five years ago.

Samuel Dauchy who bought the Class R Sally 12 from Lawrence Percival will race her on the lakes next summer. Unless several new boats are built the loss of the Sally 12 will be keenly felt. There has been some talk of turning over the Quincy Cups to Class R and the withdrawal of one sloop detracts from the interest somewhat. A. F. Breed of the Corinthian Yacht club is having a new yacht built for the class; last year the Alpha and Beta were newcomers, built for C. H. W. Foster, and then there was the original of the class, the Sumaki, owned by W. K. Harcourt of Gloucester.

George Barry, son of Michael Barry of the Central fire station, has not signed up with any league for next season. He is considering several offers. It would not be surprising to see him join the Toronto team. Last season he was the catcher for Taunton and was known as the "Little Commodore" on the Colonial league circuit He finished with an average of .381, after playing four days a week. He was presented with a valuable diamond ring by the fans on the day in his honor.

W. Gerstels fractured wrist is mending. The injury was sustained the night before the Inter-city boxing matches. Gerstel was, up to then, considered a possible winner in his class.

Webb McDonald of the Quincy A. A. is recovering from an attack of blood poisoning. A scratch in the right arm became infected and brought on his condition.

The merchants of City Square, after a two weeks' rest, are prepared to renew punishing the pins and bowling records are threatened.

Herb Smith and "Spider" Kelley are willing to roll any tandem combination in the city. The arrangements to compete with Dell and Olindy fell flat when the latter left for Montreal.

President Lannin of the Red Sox believes that unless the opposing factions get together it will cost two dollars to see a game.

Harvard starts base ball practice Monday.

Thayer Academy just beat Rockland High in a bitter overtime game Friday afternoon by a score of 24 to 22.

Boston College High took Weymouth into camp Friday 49 to 8.

The Fenno Five got the jump on Cohassets A. A. on the latter's court Friday night and won 47 to 17.

Winthrop High beat Reading High 58 to 7 in an interscholastic League game Friday night.

The Fearless Five of Hingham beat the Harbor Views, a fast South Shore team, 27 to 20 at Hingham.

Rogers High of Newport beat Gloucester 30 to 20 at Newport, R. I., Friday night.

One round Davis was all but knocked out in Buffalo Friday night by Jack Twin Sullivan in 10 rounds.

On Tuesday evening St. Chrysostom's branch of the Girls Friendly society has invited all affiliated with the parish to a house-warming in the parish house. The society will be the hostess and entertain with two bright little playlets, musical numbers and light refreshments.

W. R. SOEGREN
Carpenter and Builder
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 388-3
June 9-tf

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
Room 8, Dursin & Merrill Block, Quincy
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
9.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 448-4. Haymarket 2440
Oct. -tf

QUINCY HIGH LOSES 22 TO 14

Brockton Senior Quintette Defeat Local Boys

Brockton High beat Quincy High at Brockton Friday afternoon 22 to 12 and got revenge for its football loss here last fall. The Quincy High junior team copped a win from the Brockton juniors, 12 to 11.

The features of the big game were the fancy shots by Crosscup and Beaton. Five consecutive shots in the first half went into and came out of the basket for Quincy, enough to have given them the game. The seniors were handicapped by the absence of Hamlin who is ill. Brockton introduced stiff arming and body checking which was allowed by the referee.

The Quincy second team was the first to win over the Brockton second quintette this season. Morrison and Favreau starred for the seconds the latter getting two lateral shots. Creed did well for Brockton. For the first time Mahar got no baskets this season while Whet Browne, his opponent got two. The summaries:

SENIOR TEAM.

BROCKTON H. S.	QUINCY H. S.
Fred Hill rf	lb Beaton
Mitchell, lf	rb Davis
	rb Prout
Peterson, c	c Crosscup
Frank Hill, rb	lf Welsford
Mahar, lb	rf Brown

Score, Brockton High 22, Quincy High 14. Goals from floor. Fred Hill 5, Mitchell 2, Frank Hill 3, Beaton, Crassings, Welsford, Brown 2. Goals from fouls, Frank Hill 2, Davis 3, Welsford. Referee, Lawson. Scorer Staff. Timer, Jenkins. Time 20m periods.

JUNIOR TEAM.

QUINCY H. S. 2d	BROCKTON 2d
Favreau rf	lb Walter Hill
Morrison, lf	rb Creed
Desmond, c	c Laroque
	c Washauer
Rasmussen, rb	lb Bogigian
	lf Miller
Gillett, lb	rf Hurtwitz
	rf Laroque

Score, Quincy H. S. second 12, Brockton H. S. second 11. Goals from floor. Hurtwitz, Laroque, Washauer, Creed 2 Morrison 2, Favreau 2. Goals from fouls, Walter Hill, Favreau 4. Referee Lawson. Scorer, Staff. Timer, Jenkins. Time 15m periods.

JUNIOR LEAGUE MATCHES.

Capt. Kelliher 4—Capt. Sarno 0.
Capt. Wren 4—Capt. Swain 0.

The Kelliher five got a total of 1333 a new record in the Junior league, at Wardwell's Friday evening. Three dummies were used in the matches.

CAPT. KELLIHER—4.
Kelliher	111	114	92	317
Byrne	81	71	100	252
Barba	79	83	75	237
Ford	107	107	79	293
Little	79	78	82	239
	457	453	428	1333
CAPT. SARNO.
Sarno	98	89	73	260
Moody	85	72	96	253
Sharkey	75	75	75	225
Dummy	75	75	75	225
McConarty	85	80	78	243
	418	391	397	1206
CAPT. WREN—4.
Gilcoine	76	90	75	241
Griffin	73	81	85	239
DeSenso	87	84	96	267
Wren	75	93	87	255
Dummy	75	75	75	225
	386	423	418	1227
CAPT. SWAIN—0
Dummy	75	75	75	225
Curtain	81	90	96	267
Callahan	70	70	67	207
LeCount	75	85	81	241
Swain	81	82	87	250
	382	402	406	1190

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Good Nights
are enjoyed by those in good health. The perfect digestion, clear system, and pure blood upon which sound health depends, will be given you by
BEECHAM'S PILLS
Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World
Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

BRAINTREE

The regular meeting of the Noah Torrey School Association will be held in the school hall next Friday evening. There will be a stereopticon lecture by Mr. R. L. Wiggin, superintendent of schools. This will be a social hour. Ice cream will be on sale.

Miss Emma Belcher of Randolph is the guest of Mrs. C. H. Hobart of Washington street.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Kilbrith of Bryantville are visiting Mr. and Mrs. James H. Kilbrith of Washington street.

The Noah Torrey school was closed Wednesday for fumigation.

Eleanor Torrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Torrey of Washington street has the chicken-pox.

Philip Gillis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gillis of Pearl street is ill with diphtheria.

Mr. and Mrs. William Davis entertained a number of relatives and friends at their home on Washington street Feb. 7 from 5 to 8 P. M., the occasion being the fifth anniversary of their marriage. Each guest brought some wooden gift as a reminder of the day. An excellent supper was served followed by ice cream and cake. Friends were present from Somerville Cambridge, Boston, Holbrook, Readville, Brockton and South Braintree, who in departing wished them many happy returns of the day.

At the regular meeting of the Braintree Catholic Women's club in K of C. hall Thursday the members were addressed by their spiritual director, Rev. James J. McMorrow, assistant pastor of the St. Frances church on "The Catholic press."

The Umo Club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. T. E. Gale It was "Fine Arts Night' and a talk on "Stories and Legends of the Boston Art Museum" was given by Mrs. Gale. A collection of large mounted photographs of objects and paintings in the Boston Museum was loaned to the club for the occasion by the museum. After general discussion of the topics treated in the paper, the last part of the evening was spent in games under the direction of Miss Dorothy White.

At the weekly whist party of the Braintree club Monday evening souvenirs were presented to Miss Mary MacInnis, Miss Avis A. Thayer, Mrs. Thomas H. Gould, Chester O. Wilson, Edward Hughes and Thomas Buckley. Series prizes were awarded Miss Avis A. Thayer and Chester O. Wilson.

Edward Ralky of Providence, R. I., was the guest of Leo Brett of Tremont street for several days the past week.

Miss Mary White of Franklin street a teacher in the third grade, Noah Torrey school, spent the week end with her parents in Taunton.

Mrs. F. H. Merriam and children of Holbrook avenue spent several days this week with her parents, Mr and Mrs. Paul Jones of Stoughton.

Charles C. Hill is ill at his home on Tremont street.

Royal Belcher of Tremont street has been quite ill the past week.

Miss Lauriel Horton of Brockton has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. A. G. Auger, of Pond street.

Miss Flora Matherson of Rockport is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McLellan of Pond street.

Of interest to the Knights of Columbus and their friends. The Rev. Fr. George, C. P., will start the regular retreat for laymen at the Blessed Gabriel Monastery in Brighton on Saturday, Feb. 20, at supper time, instead of Friday. This will make the ending on Tuesday morning instead of Monday, allowing the men to make the retreat without any loss of time from work.

On Sunset lake Thursday afternoon the Braintree High school and Thayer academy hockey teams played two 20 minute halves, the game being declared a draw.

Miss Pearl Madan of Franklin street entertained at whist Monday evening.

Amasa S. Thayer of Tremont street who has been indisposed for several days is feeling all right again.

We received word this morning that Mr. C. S. Hannaford was the successful bidder for the post office and so it will remain at the present location.

Mrs. Goodin Bird of Central avenue who has been ill quite a while died this morning.

Our popular assessor, Henry W. Mansfield, has been very busy at the State House in the interests of the united retailers of groceries and provisions. He has been on committees of legal affairs, mercantile, agriculture and public health.

Joseph V. Cuff of Tremont street attended the ball of Rockland Council, K. of C. in Rockland, Wednesday evening.

About ten gentlemen from this town, all well known in musical circles attended the banquet of the musicians' union held in Massassoit hall, Brockton, Monday evening.

Irving W. Bean of Pond street went to New York yesterday to attend the poultry show.

Children Cry for Fletcher's
CASTORIA
The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.
What is CASTORIA
Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhœa. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.
GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over 30 Years
The Kind You Have Always Bought
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

QUINCY GIRLS LOSE.

The Quincy Girls lost to the Winthrops in a Greater Boston league match at the New Boston alleys Friday night. The summary:

WINTHROP.
Alcorn	99	76	88	263
Clem's	69	94	72	235
Drury	62	64	73	199
Mitton	88	88	79	255
Oresten	91	97	92	280
	409	419	404	1252
QUINCY
Elcock	82	86	79	247
Olsen	82	64	76	222
Gagner	62	85	73	220
Blake	74	69	76	219
Moran	76	87	74	237
	376	391	378	1145

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To all persons interested in the estate of William Murphy of Quincy in said County, an insane person.
Whereas, George J. Murphy, the guardian of said ward, has presented for allowance, his first and final account as guardian upon the estate of said ward. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said County, on the tenth day of March A. D., 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed. And said guardian is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.
Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eleventh day of February in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.
J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Feb. 13-20-27

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To Thomas J. Welch otherwise called Thomas Welsh and Eliza Welch otherwise called Elizabeth Walsh the next of kin and all other persons interested in Mary Agnes Welch otherwise called Mary Agnes Walsh of Quincy in said County of Norfolk minor:
Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Georgianna E. Dumais of Quincy in the County of Norfolk praying for the appointment of herself, or some other suitable person as guardian with the custody of said minor; You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-fourth day of February A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why a guardian should not be appointed as aforesaid. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give notice thereof, to the next of kin of said minor, and others interested, by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, or by delivering a copy thereof to the said Thomas J. Welch otherwise called Thomas Walsh and Eliza Welch otherwise called Elizabeth Walsh at least seven days before said Court.
Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this second day of February in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.
J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t-Feb. 13-15-23

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
Telephone 1153-M Quincy
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy F27

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

CONLIN SHOE REPAIRING

Men's Sewed Taps and Heels	75c
Men's Sewed Taps and Rubber heels	$1.00
Men's Nail Taps and Heels	65c
Men's Heels	20c
Ladies' Taps and Heels Sewed	65c
Ladies Taps and Rubber heels Sewed	85c
Ladies Heels	15c
Rubber Heels	40c and 50c
Skates Sharpened, New Process	15c
$4 Ralston Shoes for	1.50

Hancock and Saville Sts.
Tel. 961-M. Oct. 7-tf

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1063 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES.
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1890 W

Crocheted Boudoir Slippers Are Evolved on Popular Lines

SILK BOUDOIR SLIPPERS.

KNITTING and crocheting for the war sufferers of Europe have brought about a revival of interest in both these arts. Knitted and crocheted articles of all kinds are being made for the boudoir. Pictured here is a handsome pair of boudoir slippers. The design is carried out in knitting silk in the stitch ordinarily used for the yarn slippers. The straps are decorated with crochet buttons. The long straps at the back are made to pass around the leg several times in sandal style.

HANDSOME BOOKS.

They Impart a Distinctly Decorative Value to a Room.

Books possess a wonderful decorative value. They supply "atmosphere" and are in keeping with the architecture or decoration of any living room or library.

This is largely because the varied colors in which books are bound and the placing of books closely together in masses gives a certain domestic or "livable" air which imparts an informal character to a living room.

This quality is appreciated not only by those who are lovers of books, but also by those who value them chiefly for their indefinable atmosphere.

A living room where the walls are lined with low shelves or cases filled with books in varicolored bindings possesses a homelike air. Books also have the advantage of filling up awkward angles and corners where nothing else seems to look well.

A shallow alcove or the space within an unused doorway when fitted with shelves well filled with volumes ceases to be awkward and useless and becomes a decorative asset.

There are frequently such useless spaces in bedrooms or in upper floor halls or even upon the landings of wide stairways in country homes, and the use of books in any of these places helps wonderfully in creating the "intimate" air so greatly to be desired.

SASH CURTAINS.

Very Effective Ones Are Fashioned of Scrim and Net.

Sash curtains should be measured from the top of the inside of the window casement to the sill, allowing two inches at the top and bottom.

The top is turned and stitched through the center, which allows for small beading and the casing for the brass rod.

The hem is turned in at the bottom, so that the curtains just escape the sill.

The curtains may be perfectly plain or finished with lace edging. A narrow gimp braid is sometimes used as a finish for sash curtain. The French stripe nets, or Brussels net, are always nice.

Scrim and a quality of voile made for curtain purposes are also used, especially when a less transparent material than net is desired.

Punch work is very easily and effectively done on scrim because the mesh is coarse.

Bureau covers and centerpieces may be elaborately inset with heavy lace and the spaces in the design filled in with punch work.

The lace may be simply appliqued rather than to cut the material underneath, because scrim ravels easily, but being of a coarse weave it is not objectionable under the lace pattern.

Sliced Lemon Pie.

After you have carefully lined a pie plate with pie crust put in a cupful of sugar. Pare one large lemon or two small ones, taking care to leave none of the white rind. Slice thin, removing all seeds. Arrange slices evenly in pie. Put on a top crust, pinching down well so that juice does not escape. Bake fifteen minutes. Serve cold.

THE EVENING SHOE.

The well dressed foot is one of the most attractive parts of a costume. If it falls below the standard of the rest of the costume it will detract from the beauty of the whole. When women don the evening gown or the beautiful afternoon costume there must be at the same time a change in the slippers or shoes that should complete the idea.

* *

There have been many changes for the better in the matter of slippers. The long vamp in evening slippers has arrived. When you consider the extremely short vamp that gives a pudgy look to any foot the beauty is gone. Now at least a foot looks like a foot, which is a pleasing fact to note.

* *

This season there is a strong predilection for bronze in shoes and slippers. In the beaded pair of slippers here shown the bronze is made doubly sure of its success by beads and leather in the same color. The vamp, toe and straps are covered with glittering beads, and the slippers are an important finish to any dress for afternoon or evening.

* *

The roman striped silk upper on leather is a new thing and bids for favor for afternoon. This has the straps and back of silk, and, although the silk has not the wearing quality of leather, it is used at just the right places to escape wear and yet add to the general effect. To a plain dress or one that has any of the roman colors these slippers will be a decided addition.

* *

On gold brocade there is a trimming of a jeweled buckle that has a cameo for its center and gives a wonderful finish to the material. Such a pair of shoes will complete the costume of metallic brocade or scintillating beads and sequins.

Toy Scrub Brushes.

Little five and ten cent scrubbing brushes are most helpful things in a kitchen. One kept on the washstand in the bathroom will be found convenient for cleaning soap dishes and the washbowl. They are handy to use in cleaning a stove and for other rough work. One should be kept expressly for cleaning grates, for which there is nothing better, as it removes all soot, is lintless and has no fibers to catch fire easily.

Expert Needlework.

When drawing threads for hemstitching or drawn work, wet a small brush, rub over it white soap until it lathers, then scrub the threads that you are going to draw.

You will be greatly astonished to find how easily they will come out without breaking when you treat the goods in this manner.

Snap Fasteners For Veils.

Some women sew small snap fasteners to the brim of the motor bonnet and also to several veils, so that a change of veils may be effected quickly when the costume calls for particular color, or when one veil has become damp or dusty midway of the trip.

SHIP BILL FIGHT TAKES NEW TURN

Compromise Measure Is to Be Placed Before House

LEADERS PREDICT ITS DOOM

Administration Plan to Place Government Permanently in Shipping Business Does Not Meet With Favor—Counter Proposal After Cloture Rule Meets Filibuster In Senate

Washington, Feb. 13.—The fight over the government ship purchase bill has been shifted from the senate to the house. In the senate the measure, blocked by determined Republican opposition, was displaced as the unfinished business, and a cloture rule, designed to terminate forcibly the filibuster, was taken up.

Administration forces began work on a compromise bill to be passed through the house. Leaders on that side of the Capitol, however, are far from confident that the proosed comfrom confident that the proposed senate Democrats or win support from Republicans. They declare that the administration did not concede enough in the proposed compromise to secure its passage.

The cloture rule presented in the senate met the same Republican filibuster that had blocked the shipping bill, and a conference of the Democrats of the senate was called to consider the advisability of continuing the fight for the cloture proposal or of abandoning it and returning to a direct contest for the shipping bill.

The new bill in the house was developed after Postmaster General Burleson went to the Capitol and definitely rejected the compromise measure advanced by Representative Kitchin. The Kitchin proposal contemplated making the shipping bill a purely temporary emergency measure, and would have taken the government out of the shipping business two years after the termination of the European war. Kitchin declared that conferences had assured the passage of this measure through both branches of congress.

The administration counter proposal, as it is being framed, would organize a shipping board with an appropriation of $40,000,000 to engage in shipping for a period ending two years after the termination of the war. Then the ships would be turned over to the secretary of the navy, to be leased or operated in the merchant service in his discretion.

This plan to place the government permanently in the shipping business was the point insisted upon by the administration. It is also the provision against which the senate Republican filibuster is chiefly aimed.

Kitchin and other house leaders say that with this provision in the measure it will be impossible to force it through the senate in this congress. The administration proposal will be brought into the house next week.

BURIAL OF SLAIN PRIEST

Hundred Clergymen Take Part In Ceremonies at New Britain

New Britain, Conn., Feb. 13.—The funeral of Rev. Joseph Zebris, pastor of St. Andrews Lithuanian Roman Catholic church, who, with his housekeeper, Miss Iva E. Gilmanaitis, was slain at the church rectory, took place in the church where he had labored for many years.

The crowds in and about the church during the funeral were estimated at 10,000, fully half this number being unable to get inside, while 2000 gathered in the basement.

Bishop Nilan and 100 priests were seated in the chancel and took part in the ceremonies. Rev. Dr. Murray, chancellor of Hartford diocese, was master of ceremonies.

CHILDREN NOT TO BLAME

Judge Says They Should Not Be Brought to Court For Neglect

Fall River, Mass., Feb. 13.—The arrest of children solely because they are neglected is a pernicious practice, and should be stopped, Judge Hanify told an agent for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children from the bench of the district court.

Two boys were under arrest on the charge of being neglected. Their mother was in court on another charge.

"It is not a crime to be a neglected child. It is a misfortune," said the judge. He ordered that no warrants for such arrests should be issued in the future.

THE LINCOLN MEMORIAL

Cornerstone of Washington Structure Is Laid Without Ceremony

Washington, Feb. 13.—The cornerstone of the $2,000,000 Lincoln Memorial structure was laid here without ceremony. In the cornerstone were laid a copper box containing a history of Lincoln, signed by his living son, Robert T. Lincoln, and other historical data.

Lincoln's 106th birthday anniversary was observed in the house with an address by Representative Sherwood of Ohio. Senator Lee of Maryland read Lincoln's Gettysburg address to the senate.

SUNDAY SERVICES

A new announcement of services is required each week. No notices accepted to run indefinitely. When possible the subject of sermon should be given, also special services. Generous space will be given in the news columns for church news, music and week day gatherings.

FIRST PARISH IN QUINCY (Unitarian)—City Square. Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, minister. Residence, Miller Stile Inn, Tel. 21072; office hours at church 9 to 12 A. M. Monday, Wednesday and Friday Tel. 1290. Morning service at 10.30. Subject of sermon by the minister: "A Century of Peace." Sunday School at 12 M. Miss Minnie Packard, Supt. Y. P. R. U. at 4.30 P. M. Chapel Entrance, Col. Edward Anderson will speak on "Abraham Lincoln." Open to the public.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH — Junction Hancock and Chestnut streets. Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott, Pastor. Morning Service at 10.30. Message by the pastor. Subject: "When truth divides." Bible School at 12. 6.00 Christian Endeavor (Consecration service.) 7.30 Pleasant Sunday evening service. Lecture Topic Why Mr. Sunday."

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH — Washington Street, Quincy. Rev. Merrill C. Ward, pastor; Residence 62 Dunster road, Jamaica Plain. Telephone Jamaica 1950. Sunday School at 2 P. M. Service 3 P. M. Subject sermon "The Promotion of Peace, its Tasks, and its Triumphs." Y. P. C. U. 4:15, Subject: "The World's Work to Heal Disease." Speaker from Mass Y. P. C. U.

FIRST SPIRITUALIST CHURCH—Electa Hall Johnson building, Hancock street, Quincy Meeting at 7.30 P. M. Mrs. S. V. Odiorne speaker. Mrs. J. E. Bartlett of Boston, Soloist. Miss Irene Howes accompanied by Mrs. M. Stebbens Mrs. Lottie Brooks and others will take part. Mrs. S. V. Odiorne will give message.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST — Quincy, Alpha Hall, cor. Hancock street and Cottage ave. Morning service and Sunday School at 10.45. Subject: "Soul." Golden Text: "O Lord God of Israel, which dwelleth between the cherubins' thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth. Wednesday 7.45 a testimony and experience meeting. Reading room open from 3 to 5 P. M. week days, Saturdays from 7 to 9 P. M. holidays excepted. Also Wednesday evening before and after services.

WASHINGTON STREET CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Quincy Point, Rev. Stephen C. Lang pastor. 10.45 Morning Worship. Subject of sermon; "The Fearful." Mark 6.50. 12 noon, Bible school Observance of Decision Day. 6.30 Y. P. S C. E. 7.30 Evening praise. Subject of address "One hundred years." Thursday 7.30 P. M., People's Hour service.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH—Franklin street, Rev. C. C. Tilley, Pastor. Residence 26 Richie Road. Preaching Service at 10.30 A. M. Subject: "Dead and Alive; or Wholly Alive." Sunday School at 11.45. Christian Endeavor meeting at 6. Subject: "The solid Foundations of Life." Leader, Ashley Hoffman. Scripture; 1 Cor. 3:9-15. Evening Service at 7. Subject: "The Price of Peace." Regular prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 7.30.

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Corner of School and Pleasant streets. Rev. D. B McLeod, M. A., pastor. Residence 40 Bradford st Preaching by the pastor at 10.30. and 7.30. Morning subject "Lot's Mistake." Evening subject: "No night in Heaven." Sabbath school and Bible class 11.45. Junior Endeavor at 3. Senior Christian Endeavor at 6.30. Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30. "Come then with us and we will do thee good."

HALL PLACE M. E. CHURCH — West Quincy Rev. P. S. Neldon, pastor, Residence, 12 Hall Place. Morning service at 10.30. Sunday School at 11.45. Epworth League devotional service at 6.00 P. M. Leader, Miss Ethel Nicholls Evening praise and preaching service at 7 Junior League Monday afternoon at 4 P. M Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30. A cordial welcome to all.

SWEDISH MISSION CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH Garfield street. Rev. A. G. Sporrong, pastor, 14 Euclid avenue. Tel. Quincy 1482-M. Sunday school at 9.30 A. M. Young peoples class led by the pastor. Morning service 10.45, by pastor Subject: "Their King goes before them to Jerusalem and Calvary." 5 P. M. Young People's meeting 6.30 The Choir will meet for a short rehearsal 7 p. m. Evening service. Topic: "The Master is come." Special music. Welcome to all.

SWEDISH BAPTIST CHURCH—Brewers Cor. Rev. Paul Hallin, pastor Residence 101 Glendale Road, Sunday school 9.30 A. M. Classes for all ages Sermon by the pastor at 10.45 A. M. Subject "Follow me." Y. P. C. E. at 6.45 p. m. Evangelistic service at 7.30 P. M. Strangers are cordially invited to attend.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH—Cor. Prospect and Warren avenues. Rev. Joseph Walther pastor. Prayer meeting at 10.15 in Pinkham class room. Kindergarten for children whose patents are attending morning service at 10.45 in Primary Department room. Morning service at 10.45. Sermon by the pastor. Sunday School at 12.15. Elford L. Durgan, Supt. Subject: "Samuel called to be a prophet." Junior Endeavor, at 3.30. Mrs. Joseph Walther, Supt. Subject: "The story of Levi's Feast." Leader, Marjorie Wilson. Y. P. S. C. E. consecration meeting at 6. Subject: "The solid Foundations of Life." Leader, Ernest C. Roberts. Evening service at 7. Sermon by the pastor. Everyone invited to these services.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH—Hancock street. Wollaston—Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, rector, residence, the rectory, 830 Hancock street. Holy Communion at 8. Morning Prayer and Sermon at 10.30. Sunday School at 12. Mendelssohns Cantata "Hear my prayer," at 7.30.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN CHURCH — Corner Beale and Farrington streets. "An House of Prayer for all People." Rev. Carl G. Horst, minister. Residence 29 Grand View avenue. Telephone Quincy 317-1 The church auditorium is equipped with earphones. Service of worship with sermon at 10.45 a. m. Kindergarten for children of three years old and over in the vestry in charge of Miss Catherine Keed at 10.45 A. M. Sunday School at 12 M. Mrs. H. Gurney will speak. Seats are free and a cordial welcome to all.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH — Atlantic Rev. Thomas W. Davison, pastor. Theme: "What is God able to Do for Man?" Morning service 10.45. Sermon by Rev. Sampson Nicholls of Neponset Church in exchange with the pastor. Sunday School at 12.00 M. Junior Endeavor at 3.30. Senior Endeavor at 6. Evening service at 7 P. M. sermon by the pastor. Excellent music. A cordial welcome to all.

FIRST CHURCH OF SQUANTUM — Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor. Sunday School at 3 P. M. Church service at 4 P. M. Sermon by the pastor. A cordial welcome.

ATLANTIC M. E. CHURCH—corner Newbury avenue and Squantum Streets. Rev. E. C. Pollard, pastor. Residence 19 Wesley Street, Newton, phone 2467 W. Morning service at 10.45. The pastor will preach. Theme: 1 Chron 29.5 "The Consecration of Willing service to God." Sunday School at 12.15. H. O. Cassidy Supt. Junior League at 3 P. M. Miss Alice Beal Supt. Epworth League at 6 P. M. Theme: "The Challenge of the Changing East." Albert Church, leader The pastor will open the League with a short lecture on the "Board of Education." of the Methodist Evangelistic services at 7 P. M.

HOLD FOURTH ANNUAL DANCE

The fourth grand dance of the Quincy Adams Social club in Alpha hall Friday night was a grand success and was attended by delegations from the clubs in Quincy, Weymouth, Braintree Dorchester and Brockton.

David Curtin was floor director; Clifton Smith, assistant and Fred Johnson, chief of aids. The aids were Premo Cappiferri, Charles F. Neagle, Henry Sullivan, Stanley Panek and Eben Kerr. Music was by Hamilton's orchestra.

CITY HALL SWITCHBOARD.

In speaking of the plan to install a telephone switchboard in city hall, the Mayor said that from investigation he had found the city could make quite a saving, and would be able to trace all toll calls. It is a well known fact that every month there are quite a number of toll charges the origin of which no one has been able to trace.

James F. Costello M. D., of Cambridge Hospital staff who has been at the family home on Wollaston avenue for some time suffering from a severe attack of the grip is able to take exercise on the piazza.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS —STATE HOUSE, BOSTON, FEB. 12, 1915. The committee on Joint Judiciary will give a hearing to parties interested in H. 520, on hearings before the Supreme Judicial Court of questions of law arising in the county of Essex; H. 692, on business of Supreme Judicial Court and of Superior Court; H. 1244, that former Supreme Court justices may act as such in certain cases; H. 1372, that Supreme Court may revise findings of fact; at Room No. 227, State House, on Wednesday, Feb. 17, 1915, at 10.30 o'clock A. M. C. Augustus Norwood, Chairman. Robert Robinson, Clerk of the Committee. 13-1t

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of John Dever, late of Quincy, in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Annie Dever of said Quincy who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline in said County of Norfolk on the twenty-fourth day of February A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court. Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twelfth day of February in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Feb 13-15-23

A Few Choice House Lots
— ON —
PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX
are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.
SWITHIN
3 GREENLEAF BLOCK
tfn. 5-tf

FOR SALE
House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,300. Straight Loan of $2,000.
EDMUND C. HAYDEN
Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing
HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.
129 Tremont St., Boston.
Oct. 6 tf

TO LET
Large Room 30x36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

M. T. SULLIVAN.
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 13-9t

TO LET—Three connecting unfurnished rooms. Apply 32 Newcomb place. 13-3t

TO LET—After March 1, House of nine rooms with all modern conveniences at 5 Summer street. Apply to Dr. D. B. Reardon, 1186 Hancock street. 11-tf

TO LET—Lower tenement with all improvements. Rent $19.50 per month C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 11-6t

TO LET—Apartment of five rooms and bath in new house, all modern improvements, fine location, 26 Bradford street, off Franklin street. Apply to F. Barnicoat, Quincy. 10-tf

TO LET—Lower flat, 42 Euclid avenue, 5 rooms all modern improvements. For particulars address Mr. P. J. Curry, 94 Federal avenue or phone Quincy 1075M. 9-12t

TO LET—Half of colonial house on Russell park, 7 rooms and bath, fireplace, coal and gas range and all modern conveniences. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 9-tf

TO LET—Flat of seven rooms with electric lights, gas stove, range at 32 Euclid avenue. Apply at 12 Berkeley street. 6-12t

TO LET—Two or three rooms, furnished or unfurnished for light housekeeping, all improvements, reasonable rent, board if desired. 132 Marlboro street, Wollaston Park. 6-tf.

TO LET—To small family of adults several very desirable new tenements $22 and up, also stable $10 per month; store $10 per month. Apply to C. H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. Tel. 174-2 Quincy. 4-12t

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Four room apartment, new house, all improvements. Apply at 226 Franklin street. 30-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 26 tf

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lohtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

LOST

LOST—Thursday evening in Music hall or on Hancock street between there and Quincy Car House, a pearl brooch. Please return to 301 Hancock street. 13-3t

LOST—Horse blanket. Return to Joe Pompeo, 41 Union street, Quincy. 12-1t

WANTED

WANTED—A second hand cook stove and wash tubs for a needy family. Associated Charities, 148 Goffe street. Feb. 13-3t

WE PAY $80 monthly salary, furnish rig and expenses to introduce guaranteed poultry and stock powders, Bigler Co., X 980, Springfield, Illinois. 13-1t

WANTED—We require the services of a capable man as manager of our Dry Cleansing, Dyeing and Steam Pressing Store, to be opened in Quincy by large Boston concern. He must be honest, sober and industrious and a resident of Quincy, also be in position to invest $800.00 in the business. Salary and share in profits to capable party. Give references and particulars in first letter. Write C. C. Quincy Ledger. 9-3teod

WANTED—Young couple desire two or three furnished rooms with bath and kitchenette for light housekeeping, central location. Address C. G. Norse, Hancock House, Ledger. 12-1t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—1 pair horses, weigh 2500, 1 bay horse, 7 years old, 1600, very cheap for cash. Also, one and one-half ton auto car truck in fine condition, just overhauled by auto car company and returned to me in pink of condition. No reasonable offer will be refused for the above, demonstration given. H. G. Pope, Squantum. Tel Quincy 2267-W. 13-3t

FOR SALE—Victoria coal $5.00 per ton. This coal is a hard coal to be used alone or mixed with other coal, a hot fire in either case. Order direct from us and our agent will deliver. P. Dukeshire, 240-N, Quincy St., Brockton. 12-3t

FOR SALE—Two flat house in South Quincy. Hard wood finish, modern plumbing. Very desirable renting proposition, never vacant since built. For particulars enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 9-tf 1po

MISCELLANEOUS

SOME ONE—Please answer who would be willing to take a fine upright piano into their home. Prefer small private family who might consider purchase later if well pleased. Write for full information, E. C., Ledger office. 12-6t

DRESSMAKING, plain sewing, children's clothes done at reasonable prices by woman of experience. Write E. R. Ledger Office. 9-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Mas. 22-tf

TO LET
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x35 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water, $3.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $300 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 812—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for R. T. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, 'Phone 21066 Quincy

BEST VALUE IN MEATS

CORNED SHOULDER	11c lb
POT ROAST (clear meat)	15c lb
SWIFT'S BEST HAMS	17c lb
FANCY CORNED BRISKET	17c lb
LITTLE PIG SAUSAGES	16c lb
PORK STEAK (lean)	14c lb

Also Lettuce, Celery, Spinach, Kale, Oranges, Grape Fruit, Groceries and Fish at Lowest Prices.

QUINCY PUBLIC MARKET
1514 Hancock St., Kincaides Block
Phone 1434 J. Legal Stamps Free Delivery

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE

Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit

WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS
Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.
Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block
Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.-tf

GIVE VALENTINE PARTY AT CHURCH

The Queen Esther circle of the Hall place M. E. church gave a valentine party to the Knights of St. Paul in the vestry of the church Friday evening.

At the beginning of the evening's pleasure every young man was presented with a beautiful carnation by his lady partner.

A progressive talking contest, in which every young man was obliged to talk to every young woman present on the question of Woman's Suffrage for two minutes, was held after which the young women voted on who was the most entertaining young man. Arthur Williams won the prize.

Games of various kinds were in order and afforded a great deal of fun.

Ice cream and cake were served by the Queen Esthers and each person had to tell a funny story.

The room was prettily decorated with hearts and valentines, the work of some of the younger members of the Circle.

BOY SLAIN ON STREET

Boston Police Have an Unusual Mystery to Unravel

Boston, Feb. 13.—John S. Goodwin, 15, a student at the Boston English high school, a state ward, who lived in Brookline, was fatally stabbed in the throat while on Park street about 9 o'clock last night, and the police are searching for a 12-year-old boy who is said to have been the assailant.

The case is most mystifying and there is absolutely no motive which can be ascribed for the act of the unknown assailant, as the boy had left a church where he sung in the choir just a few minutes before he received the wound which caused his death and had no trouble with anyone as far as known.

SENTENCE IS STAYED

Fifteen Months Each In Prison For Boston Morgue Robbers

Boston, Feb. 13.—Fren L. Green and George W. Miller, former employes of the North Grove street morgue, who were found guilty of conspiracy to steal money from a dead body and conspiracy to charge Medical Examiner Magrath with the theft, were sentenced to serve fifteen months each in the house of correction.

Sentence of the pair was afterward stayed while exceptions are taken to the supreme court.

"The Arrival of Kitty," the three act comedy presented with such success by the Y. P. R. U. of the First Parish church will be given by the Y. P. R. U. of the Canton Unitarian church some time in March. Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis, the coach of the play given here Jan. 29, will be the coach for the Canton production.

MARRIAGES

DEYETTE—CHASE—In Quincy, Feb. 12, by Emery L. Crane, city clerk, Frank H. Deyette of Worcester and Doris A. Chase, 92 Botolph street, Atlantic.

REILLY—McLELLAN — In Quincy, Feb. 11, by Fr. Thomas R. McCoy, William Kelly and Janet McLellan.

DEATHS

MEUSE—In Milton, Feb. 13, Dennis Meuse, in his 51st year.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

LEAGUE LEADERS AGAIN VICTORS

Machine Gallery Defeats Yard By Score of 3 to 1

	Won	Lost
M. Gallery	71	13
Y. Dept.	60	20
N. Dept.	50	30
E. Dept.	52	32
S. Dept.	44	36
D. Dept.	43	41
Treas. Office	29	31
Ex. App.	32	48
B. Dept.	35	49
U. S. N.	30	50
M. Floor	30	54
Pur. Agts.	15	65

High single Olindy 153, Y. Dept. 506
High three string Olindy 360. M. Gallery 1442.

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.
M. Gallery 3, Yard 1.
Blacksmiths 3, Navy 1.
E. Dept. 4, P. Agent Clerks 0 (forfeit.)

The Machine Gallery and the Yard teams of the Fore River league clashed at the Coliseum alleys Friday evening and the former won 3 to 1. The match was the most exciting one held in the schedule this season. The men on both teams have been preparing for the contest and the leaders were in a fair way to break the record total but failed to do so. The Yard did not seem to have the punch necessary to cop the victory. Their taking of the point in the second single was most decisive.

The Blacksmiths beat the Navy 3 to 1 and the Electricians were awarded four points when the Purchasing Agent Clerks did not appear.

M. GALLERY—3.

Djerf	90	102	80	272
Morgan	84	90	110	284
Moran	95	77	107	279
Carlson	97	86	111	294
Tirrill	102	89	95	286
	468	444	503	1415

Y. DEPT.—1

Mahoney	91	92	96	279
Galvin	87	105	88	280
Golden	87	87	87	261
Mills	91	90	107	288
Smith	93	104	85	282
	449	478	463	1390

B. DEPT.—3

McLellan	82	84	102	268
Flannigan	74	97	104	275
Dummy	75	75	75	225
Neil	79	101	108	288
White	87	102	81	270
	397	459	470	1326

U. S. N.—1

Mooney	104	107	78	289
Shay	90	88	91	269
Lee	79	73	91	243
Cadman	92	75	95	262
Melendey	92	93	84	269
	457	436	439	1332

BRIEFS

The Owattona Social club will meet Monday evening with Miss Marion Duffy on Copeland street.

A new fire-escape has been placed on the Balfour Factory on Granite street to conform with the recommendation of Chief Billings.

The Quincy National Band will hold wrestling matches in five classes this evening in their hall on Nelson street. After the wrestling dancing will be enjoyed.

MR. AND MRS. KLEIST

She Is a Witness For Her Father In $250,000 Suit

Photos by American Press Association.

Mrs. Max F. Kleist, heiress to a fortune, who married a gardener, is a witness for her father in her husband's $250,000 suit for alienation of affections. On the witness stand at one session Kleist swore that he had been taught to drink and smoke by Miss Brietung, who later became Mrs. Kleist. Edward N. Breitung, father of the woman, is a millionaire shipowner.

KLEIST SUIT A MISTRIAL

Stopped by Judge Because of Plaintiff's Newspaper Interview

New York, Feb. 13.—Judge Hand declared the suit of Max Kleist for $250,000 damages against his father-in-law, E. N. Breitung, for the alleged alienation of his wife's affections, a mistrial. He at once dismissed the jury.

The judge declared that an interview with young Kleist that was carried by New York newspapers was the cause of his action.

MADE BOGUS COINS WHILE A PRISONER

How Alleged Counterfeiter Utilized Spare Time In Jail

Boston, Feb. 13.—Ipswich jail has been a counterfeiter's den for the past few months, according to Secret Service Agent Connolly, who secured the arrest of Robert Campbell, a recent prisoner at Ipswich, on a federal warrant charging him with passing counterfeit coin.

Campbell was picked up by the police of Gloucester on Thursday within five hours after his release from jail, loaded down with counterfeit coin.

According to Connolly, Campbell said he made it while he was a prisoner in Ipswich jail. Campbell had been sent there for drunkenness and while serving a sentence of nine months managed to construct a complete counterfeiting plant which he removed from the jail on his release Thursday.

Immediately on his release he went to Gloucester, where he made a round of the saloons. So much of the spurious coin was found in his wake that the police were notified and he was locked up.

WARNING TO CARRANZA

Should Not Interfere With Rights of Foreign Envoys In Mexico

Washington, Feb. 13.—Representations have been sent by the United States government to General Carranza, pointing out that serious complications may follow interference with the rights of the diplomatic corps in Mexico City.

It is understood that no specific reference was made to the cases of the Belgian and Spanish ministers, both of whom have been expelled from Mexico by Carranza. The communication was of a general character covering the delicate situation of all the diplomats in the Mexican capital.

Flour Drops at Boston

Boston, Feb. 13.—Boston flour dealers reduced the price of flour 15 cents a barrel, a total of 25 cents reduction from the highest price that prevailed in the early part of this week.

"Why do we always speak of the silvery moon?" asked the boob.

"On account of its quarters and halves, I suppose," replied the cheerful idiot.—Cincinnati Inquirer.

ABANDON PARCEL DELIVERY SERVICE

Bay State Railway Co. Will Maintain its Trolley Freight However

DISCONTINUE ON MARCH 1.

Shippers of this city have received notice that the pickup and delivery service of the Bay State Trolley Freight has been discontinued. The announcement did not come as a surprise became rumors to that effect have been current for several weeks.

It is understood that the entrance into the express field of parcel delivery trucks, has taken so much business from that branch of the service that further operation would be at a decided loss to the company.

The company will continue its trolley freight service.

WILSON LOSES IN HIGH COURT

In the superior court at Dedham Friday Judge Wait dismissed a bill brought by Charles H. Wilson, a Quincy lawyer, who is the administrator of his father's estate, against his step-mother, seeking to have her ordered to transfer to him five shares of the Quincy Electric Light & Power Co., which his father had given her shortly before he died. It appears that the late Charles Wilson made no will but that he did transfer to his wife before he died the stock in question, and it was this that his son and administrator desired transferred back to the estate.

Mr. Wilson, who was a well known dealer in granite paving blocks died April 8, 1913 leaving an estate inventoried at about $30,000. In April he married the defendant, his first wife having died about a year previous and the stock in question was the largest single item in his property.

The judge finds the marriage was not a mercenary one, though no doubt the ability of Charles Wilson to support a wife and provide for her, even in case of his death, was not overlooked. The court also says the son was well cared for by his step-mother.

The court further says the father did not wish to make a will and was content to have the law dispose of what he left. The stock in question was the largest single item of his property. Judge Wait said after the transfer of the shares to Mrs. Wilson she put them in her husband's safe and applied half the dividends before his death to obligations of his.

BRIEFS

Master Theodore Russell, the eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Russell of River street was removed to the Quincy hospital on Thursday with a bad case of blood poison.

Edward D. Barrett, DDSK, and staff of Quincy will exemplify the Knights of Columbus third degree under the auspices of Taunton council at Taunton Monday evening.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Atlantic Memorial church held a social in the vestry of the church Friday evening which was largely attended. Games and refreshments was the program of the evening.

The M. E. T. Sewing club of Quincy Point will meet on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. John Silva on River street. The club is composed of ten young women of the Point district. Mrs. Arthur F. Dorley is president and Miss Elizabeth J. DeYoung is the secretary.

Richard Crane of the tennis team of the Class of 1917, Harvard, is spending his vacation with his parents, City Clerk and Mrs. Emery L. Crane. Donald, his older brother, of Colgate University is also home, having completed his course, a few weeks ahead. It is simply the matter of a degree now.

Read Ledger Ads

INTENSELY EXCITING
Don't Miss This Episode
THE EXPLOITS of ELAINE
Arnold Daly — Pearl White — Sheldon Lewis
See The Fight On a Church Steeple
Also Other Pictures
Hearst Selig Weekly and a War Drama "Their Soldier Boy"
NEW VAUDEVILLE
Harry LeMarr, Impersonator The Dancing Maddens
DeMarest, Vaudeville's Foremost Comedy Pianist, and Bon Ray Comedy Quartette. (A Remarkable Entertainment)
KINCAIDE THEATRE
Thurs. Fri. Sat. 10—15—25c Matinee and Evening
NEXT WEEK Mon. Tues. Wed. Order Tickets Early
Bernstein's Famous Photo-Play
THE THIEF with Dorothy Donnelly

SERVICES FOR ALEX. MICHAEL

The funeral of Alexander Michael who died Tuesday was held Friday afternoon from the home of his mother, 23 Calidonian avenue.

It was largely attended showing the high esteem in which he was held by his many friends. The Rev. Clarence Campbell officiated. Clan MacGregor No. 5, of which the deceased was a member, held services at the home. There was a large delegation present from that society. Burial was at Mount Wollaston cemetery.

The bearers were Charles Clark, Alexander Smart, Alexander Mundie, William Rennie, Peter Morton, John Hutchinson. There was a wealth of beautiful floral pieces among them being:—

Pillow—"Son" from Mother.
Wreath—"Brother" from Sisters and Brothers.
Wreath—Mr. and Mrs. John Bissett, Jr.,
Spray—Mrs. Kate Michael, Misses Mary and Isabella Michael.
Stand Wreath—Lincoln Polishing Co.
Standing Wreath—"Shopmate" — Lincoln Polishing Co.
Cross—Clan MacGregor No. 5.
Pillow—"At Rest"—Mrs. Bowman, Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Howie, Mrs. Hadden, Mrs. Mundie, Mrs. Cowe, Mrs. Hutchinson, Mrs. Makie, Mrs. Crammond and Misses Mary & Jean Crammond.
Standing Wreath—Seneca S. C.
Wreath—Heather Circle.
Spray—Christian Endeavor Society. First Presbyterian church.
Spray—Ladies Aid So. First Pres. church.
Spray—First Presbyterian church.
Spray—Quincy Chapter O. E. S.
Spray—R. H. Stearns Co., of Boston
Spray—The Girls at R. H. Stearns Co., of Boston.
Wreath—Mr. and Mrs. John F. Reid of East Milton.
Spray—P. Morton.
Spray—Mrs. S. Troupe and Miss Annabelle Troupe.
Spray—Mr. and Mrs. George S. Troupe.
Spray—Miss M. Spratt.
Spray—Miss Sarah Howes.
Spray—Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Grassick and family.
Spray—The Garmory Family.
Spray—Mr. and Mrs. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hobart of Braintree.
Spray—Mr. and Mrs. D. Strathdee and family, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. Morrison of Braintree.
Violets—Master Wallace Strathdee of Braintree.
Spray—Mrs. Tytler and family.
Spray—Miss Christina Booth.
Spray—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller and family.
Spray—Mr. and Mrs. Forbes Craig.
Spray—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stevens.
Spray—Mr. and Mrs. Capoccioli.
Spray—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rennie.
Spray—Mr. and Mrs. C. Clark.
Spray—Mr. and Mrs. S. Trevains.
Spray—Mrs. E. Stewart, Atlantic.

CITY HALL NOTES

The main interest in the meeting of the city council Monday evening will be the receipt of the annual estimate of amounts needed by the several departments. There will also be reports from several of the committees and the usual amount of new business. As soon as the annual appropriation order is out of the way the council will get down good and hard to business and from now on busy sessions will be in order.

You need the Ledger every day.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

Now is the time to order your FIREPLACE OR STOVE WOOD

Place your order NOW and have it selected, seasoned and cut in lengths to suit your individual requirements.

RETAIL PRICES

A No. 1 white Oak, Red Oak and Maple fireplace wood cut into 16" length delivered	$8.00
Heavy Oak and Maple 12" delivered	7.50
Ordinary Cordwood " "	7.00
Heavy Trash " "	6.50

The best value, lowest prices and delivered when you want it. Order now, pay when you get it.

Telephone Braintree 217 W

1-t L 13-tf O

OBSERVE LINCOLN DAY.

Sons of Veteran Camp 95 and auxiliary No. 3 observed Lincoln day, Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Idella Savage.

The program included "America," Lord's Prayer, flag salute, address by Mr. Gurney, patriotic instructor of the camp, duet by Misses Miller and Savage, remarks by the president, Mrs. French of the Auxiliary, remarks from commander William French of the camp and remarks by other members of the camp. A prayer by the chaplain of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Merritt closed the exercises. Mrs. Savage and Mrs. Johnson were in charge.

PRATT'S BREAD is always in favor because delicious in flavor. Your grocer.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

BRIEFS

The Edgbert Social club is rebuilding the clubroom which was destroyed by fire a few months ago. The new structure is considerably larger than the old one.

Ash Wednesday services are to be held at St. Chrysostom's church with morning prayer and penitential office at ten o'clock and evening prayer and address at half past seven.

There were nine tables in play at forty five party at the Waseca club rooms Friday night. Charles Strattard, Stephen Schofield and David Fields were the prize winners.

The Ellerton A. C. will hold a dancing party in Alpha hall Wednesday evening, April 21, 1915. The affair is in charge of a committee composed of Daniel Devine and John Thayer. Music will be furnished by Hamilton's five piece orchestra.

Ecomony Prices at Foys

Roasts of Beef Tender, Solid Meat	.22 lb
Choice Rib Roasts	.14 lb
Legs Best Lamb	.20 lb
Fresh Pork	.15 lb
Middle Cuts Sliced Ham	.30 lb
Squires Sausages	.18 lb
Best Beef Liver	.12 lb
Choice Fowl	.20 lb
California Pea Beans	.14 qt
Karo Corn Syrup	3 cans .25
Aunt Jemima's Buckwheat	.07 1-2 pkg.
Priscilla Doughnut Flour .25 regular	.21 pkg.
Hawaiian Pineapple, Sliced	.15 can
Red Salmon Steak .20 value	.15
Sniders Catsup, pints	.19
Champion Sweet Peas	2 cans .25
Sweet Florida Oranges	.21 doz
Red, Ripe California Oranges	.25 doz
Large Grape Fruit	3 for .25
Small Grape Fruit	.25 doz
La Touraine Coffee	.35 lb.

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980

FOY'S 2 STORES

WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

12-2t

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily - Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 39 QUINCY, MASS., MONDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 15, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

THREATENING FIRE IN ADAMS BUILDING

Firemen Make Good Stop in Sunday Fire Over Foy's Market

The fire department made another good stop Sunday morning when it checked what gave promise of being another bad fire in the Adams building. It was about 11.45 A. M. Sunday when one of the occupants of the building detected a strong odor of smoke in the building. About the same time a pedestrian passing along Hancock street in front of the old cemetery saw smoke coming from the building. He rushed to Box 26 and sounded the alarm. This is one of the danger boxes of the city and brought a large battery of apparatus, which included not only that from the central station but the apparatus from Wollaston, Atlantic and Quincy Point.

The fire seemed to be in the store of the Adams Market; owned by R. E. Foy & Co. One of Mr. Foys employees happened to be near at hand and quickly opened the outer door for the firemen. Entering here the fire was found to be on the ceiling about half way down the store. It was just eating through the ceiling and the sparks were dropping to the floor. While one chemical stream was carried in here and firemen with hooks pulled down the sheathing letting the hot coals fall on the floor, other firemen quickly extinguished the latter with the chemical stream. Two large rubber blankets were also carried into the store and spread over the counters thus saving a large amount of damage that might otherwise have occurred.

In the meantime the firemen had smashed open the door leading to the second floor and rushing up found the place so filled with smoke that it was almost impossible to remain. The doors leading to the rooms of the Granite Manufacturers association were opened and then the windows on the east side were opened letting out the smoke. Others rushed to the third floor occupied by Mt. Wollaston lodge of Odd Fellows where the windows were also opened.

Lines of hose were carried to the upper floors by the rear windows as well as by the stairway but Chief Billings refrained from turning the water on thus preventing a possible large water damage. Chemical streams from several pieces of the apparatus were carried into the building and with these the fire was extinguished.

The fire under the floor over Foy's store only came through in one place, that was the toilet room on the second floor. Here the firemen were obliged to cut away in order to get at it. As soon as a spark was found the chemical stream quickly extinguished it, and in a remarkably short space of time what at first looked like a bad fire was under control and the last burning ember extinguished.

In addition to the fire apparatus the alarm brought the patrol wagon from the police station with Capt. McKay and Inspector Goodhue and they quickly roped off the square so that it was kept free from moving electric cars and as the crowd was also kept back the firemen were not handicapped in any way.

Aside from burning about the ceiling of Foy's store and the closet on the second floor there was no damage by fire although the entire upper part of the building was well filled with smoke. Not a drop of water was used and this also prevented a loss. Chief Billings estimates the damage would be between $400 and $500.

The cause of the fire was probably crossed wires. It started back of the sheathed ceiling of Foy's store where the wires were and the burnt ends of broken wires left hanging leaves but little doubt of the cause.

As soon as the firemen left the building Mr. Foy and several of his clerks started cleaning up. All damaged goods were removed and before night the store was made ready for business, so that today the store is open as usual, the only sign of the fire being the hole in the ceiling. The rubber blankets spread by the firemen in the store, prevented much of the stock from being damaged.

The only damage to the room on the second and third floor is by smoke.

It is interesting to note that the fire Sunday was within a few hours of being the anniversary of the most serious of the series of fires that have occurred in the Adams Building during the past year. The fire of a year ago started in the middle of the night on the top floor of the southerly end of the building, in the rooms occupied by a newly married couple. They were awakened to find a fire in progress in their room and with difficulty were able to get out, losing all of their household effects.

At this fire a general alarm brought all of the fire apparatus of the city, with the exception of Houghs Neck, and so threatening did it look at the start that aid was summoned from Boston and Milton. Boston sent two steamers with hose wagons and Milton also sent its steamer. It was a bitter cold night and the ground was covered with snow, the out-of-town steamers being drawn by four horses.

Although the exact cause of this fire was never given out it was the belief of many that wires were responsible.

A little later in the year fire started in the rooms of the Mt. Wollaston bank in the middle of the night. This is the fire that the night telephone operator discovered. The line leading to the bank rooms kept ringing and as she could get no response she thought something was wrong and telephoned police headquarters. An officer was sent to the building and looking through the window discovered the fire. Although considerable damage was done the quick witted telephone operator prevented a bad fire. This fire was also laid to wires.

It was but a little later in the spring that a fire was discovered one Sunday noon on the extreme easterly end of the building. At this fire the apparatus responded to a still alarm and it was checked before much damage was done. Wires were also said to be responsible for this fire.

Shortly after this it was understood that the entire building was rewired.

At the Sunday fire the rooms of the occupants of the upper rooms were quite badly smoked, and all of their loss will be by smoke. Just what this will be is hard to tell.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity.

Fair and somewhat colder Tuesday and Wednesday.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.40
Sun sets	5.17
Length of day	10.37
Moon sets	8.11
High water, A. M.	12.45
High water, P. M.	12.45
Days increase	1 hr. 31 minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.33 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	38 degrees
Feb. 15, 1914,	18 degrees
Feb. 15, 1913,	43 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—37.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

POSTPONE MEETING.

On account of some slight damage to the rooms of the Granite manufacturers' association caused by the fire in the Adams building Sunday morning the meeting called for this evening has been called off.

John R. Graham of Maine has been the guest of Dr. F. E. Jones and family for a week.

BOLD ROBBER GETS MONEY IN STORE

Pretended Purchaser Steals $5.50 and Walks Rapidly Away

ARREST MAY FOLLOW

A young man, thought to be a resident of Quincy, at a busy moment Saturday night stole an envelope containing $5.50 in coin from the counter in Brown's stationery store in City Square. Miss Rogers and Miss Lombard were the only clerks in the store at the time.

The money had been taken from the cash register and put in an envelope when the young man entered and asked for crepe paper. The young lady went to the rear of the store and brought several patterns, keeping the money in sight all of the time.

Dissatisfied with the goods, the stranger said he wanted green and as she turned to get it he reached for the money and left the store. A clear description has been furnished the police and an arrest may be made today.

CLUB ENTERTAINS YOUNG WOMEN

The members of the Nonpareil Social club entertained their young women friends in their clubrooms at Brewers corner Sunday evening. There were 25 couples present, many of them from Dorchester.

During the evening there were piano selections by Miss Catherine McLean of Dorchester and Lloyd Lewis, cornet solos by Thomas Djerf of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation band, vocal solos by Charles Predario and Albert Martell, violin solos by Walter Johnson.

A buffet luncheon was served. The committee in charge was William Curtis, John Mattson and Thomas Djerf.

JOHNSON—PHILLIPSON.

Romance Follows Miss Phillipson visit to Old Home in Michigan.

The home of Mrs. Eva Eklof, 3 Emery street, Roxbury, was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday evening when Miss Hannah Phillipson, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Phillipson of Squantum, was united in marriage to Aloph Johnson of Nashua, Michigan. Pastor Johanson of the Swedish church of Roxbury performed the ceremony.

A pretty romance, a case of love at first sight, has come to light with the announcement of the marriage. Miss Phillipson left Squantum two months ago on a trip to her birth place in Michigan to visit brothers and sisters whom she hadn't seen since a small child. She also met a young man, Mr. Johnson, soon after her arrival and a fast friendship which soon ripened into love resulted. Miss Phillipson returend to Squantum two weeks ago to prepare for her wedding and Mr. Johnson came a few days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson go to Michigan today where they will make their home.

COL. ANDERSON SPEAKER.

There was a large attendance Sunday afternoon at the meeting of the Young People's Religious union of the First church to hear the address on Lincoln by Col. Edward Anderson. In addition to the members of the society there were many others present. Col. Anderson gave an exceedingly interesting talk on Lincoln, relating many personal reminscences, also speaking on the life and character of Lincoln in Indiana and Illinois and his own personal meetings with Lincoln. He also spoke of the famous debates between Lincoln and Douglass and of Lincoln's abhorence of slavery, following the scenes which he had witnessed in the slave markets in New Orleans.

FRIENDS TENDER LINEN SHOWER

Miss Minnie R. Hardwick Given Pleasant Surprise

Miss Minnie R. Hardwick of Revere road was the recipient of a kitchen linen shower Saturday afternoon in honor of her approaching marriage to Lyman Morrison of Braintree.

A few of her friends were invited to the home of Miss Lela B. Smith of Holbrook, formerly of Granite street this city, to a valentine party and each one was requested to bring some kitchen linen for Miss Hardwick's surprise.

The decorations, the games, the refreshments and the favors were all in the shape of colored hearts. A Christmas tree covered with colored hearts figured in the decorations and in one of the games. The ice cream was heart shaped, the cakes were hearts with vari-colored frostings and the candy was hearts.

The shower itself was of course the feature of the afternoon and was carried out in a novel way. Miss Roberta Smith and her sister, the hostess, brought into the room several huge bundles with the name of a guest on each one. These bundles contained other bundles with other names and were undone and undone by the guests whose name appeared uppermost and in the end every bundle contained Miss Hardwicks name. Everyone present, however found in one of the bundles a red satin heartshaped box, filled with heart-shaped candy for herself.

When Miss Hardwick opened her bundles she found aprons, dish mops, many dusters and various other useful gifts.

The guests were Miss Hardwick, Mrs. Robert Hardwick, Miss Ethel Hersey, Miss Carlena Walker and Miss Marguerite Davis of Quincy, Mrs. Carl F. Doble and Miss Louise Abercrombie of Braintree.

INITIATION OF A. O. H. DIVISIONS

The uniform degree staff of the A. O. H. division of East Dedham conducted a class initiation in Hibernian hall, South Quincy, for 50 candidates for membership in the various divisions of the county.

Delegations from many of the towns witnessed the exemplification. The affair was held under the direction of County Vice President Thomas Welsh of Quincy, assisted by County Secretary James L. Knox of East Weymouth.

Other guests of the day were President John Donahue of Div. 5 of Quincy, Pres. T. Shea of 17 of Atlantic, Pres. Bart Connell of 9 of Weymouth, Pres. Jeremiah Clark of 12 of Braintree, Pres. Charles Rice of 20 of Milton, Pres. Thomas Murphy of Cohasset of 16 of Cohasset, and Pres. John Donahue of Walpole the youngest organization head in the state. County President James White of Walpole and County Treasurer Dennis J. Slatterry of Weymouth. All made short speeches. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

THANKS FIREMEN.

Chief Billings of the fire department has received the following letter from R. E. Foy of the Adams Market:

Chief F. Billings,

Dear Sir:—I want to express my thanks to you and your men for the able manner in which you handled the fire over our Adams Market this morning. Your good judgment no doubt saved us a good many dollars.

(Signed) Robert E. Foy.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

WEDNESDAY LEDGER CLUB NEWS

MAN WANTED FOR ATTEMPTED MURDER FLEES THROUGH QUINCY

Two of Three Bandits Who Shot Chief James of Hingham Sunday Still at Large

Police Chief is No Longer on Danger List

One of the bandits who shot Chief James of Hingham Sunday night has broken through the strong police lines of Weymouth and Hingham and escaped through Quincy and is now at large in Boston according to a clue uncovered at noon.

The information was furnished by Arthur Brady, starter at Neponset, that an excited man answering the description of one of the three men was on a Boston bound car.

Capt. McKay notified Station 11, Boston and the car was chased but the man was not aboard. He is thought to have left somewhere between Neponset and Fields corner.

In the light of recent developments it is believed the man got out of Weymouth into Quincy just before daybreak and obtained refuge for several hours in the Italian settlement on Brackett street.

Chief Washington James of the Hingham police, shot by three enraged Italians in front of police headquarters Sunday evening when he refused to surrender their countryman who had been locked up for drunkenness, has been operated upon at the Massachusetts General Hospital and is not on the dangerous list. The indications are that he will recover from his three wounds.

Chief James owes his life to two note books in his vest pocket which impeded the progress of a bullet aimed for the heart. Another wound in the groin is not as fatal, as it first appeared to be and the wound in his hand is slight.

John Arventi an Italian arrested by U. S. Marines on the Hingham arsenal reservation at daybreak was arraigned in the Abington court this morning and held in $10,000 bonds as a principal in an attempted murder charge. Another Italian, taken into custody by the police of Cohasset is held as a witness.

The entire South Shore is aroused by the shooting and all the available patrolmen, regulars and reserves of Hingham, Hull, Cohasset, Weymouth, and Scituate are on the trail. Reinforcing them is a posse of citizens and members of Co. K, 5th Regiment, M. V. M., of Hingham who have volunteered their services and are being directed by Capt. Walter Bouve of the company.

The impression prevails that a second man is in hiding on the government reservation and every effort is being made to uncover him. No quarter will be offered if he does not surrender on discovery as he is known to be armed.

Special officer Taft is directing action from the Hingham police headquarters where he has been in charge since his superior was shot down 18 hours ago.

The posse is being directed by Chief Reynolds of Hull, Chief Bates of Cohasset, Deputy Sheriff John T. Condon of Rockland, Chief Butler of Weymouth, Patrolman Heffernan of Hingham, whose arrest of an Italian kindled the hatred of the three bandits into frenzied passion toward law and order.

The chief was on the sidewalk about nine o'clock Sunday night in front of the station when the three men approached him. After a short conversation two of them are said to have drawn revolvers and three shots were fired. Patrolman Heffernan heard the shots and rushed from the station in time to see two men running up Cottage street and a third disappearing toward Hingham harbor. He gave chase after the two in Cottage street and fired several shots at them, none of which apparently took effect.

Dr. S. P. Wilde was called and after a hasty examination found that the wound in the groin was dangerous and ordered the chief's removal to the Boston hospital.

One of the three men disappeared in the direction of Boston. Citizens took up the chase but lost sight of him in the darkness. Reports were later received that a hatless Italian was making his way through North Weymouth. Guards were thrown out and men stationed at the Fore River bridge. A Hingham officer joined Patrolman Edward Johnson in an attempt to cut off escape. Capt. MacKay and Inspector Goodhue also scanned the Point section.

The belief that the man may have reached Quincy and is now hiding in one of the four Italian sections although strong is based on little information. However a search is being made for a 25 year old smooth faced man, wearing a black sweater that has a yellow stripe around it.

Chief Thomas Bates of Cohasset accompanied by officers Grassick and Jason invaded the Italian camp at Cohasset after midnight and lined up the inmates. A call of the roll revealed four missing. Their names and descriptions have been sent broadcast.

BREAK INTO CENTRE GARAGE

Night Watchman Pursues Two Thieves

Two midnight thieves broke into the Wollaston Centre garage in Wollaston at 12.30 Sunday morning and were dectected as they left the building by Enock Eckstrand, the night watchman.

He gave chase and caught one of them by the heel as he sped up the steps leading to the platform of the Wollaston station. Both carried Presto-lite tanks. Realizing capture was imminent one turned and heaved his tank at Eckstrand. The latter let go and the men gained the platform and disappeared down the track toward Norfolk Downs.

Eckstrand in the meantime had shouted for assistance and patrolman Riley responded. Together they made a search of the vicinity but were unsuccessful.

Two men were found in the Murray Lunch room in Poland's block and were questioned. They easily accounted for their actions of the evening. Two others were later held up on Taylor street. Eckstrand could not identify them as the persons wanted.

The men gained an entrance to the garage by forcing a window in the stock room. They worked with such care Eckstrand who was in the building did not discover them until they were leaving. They dropped both the Presto-lite tanks in their flight.

The police are of the opinion the attempt to rob was by people living in the vicinity. No suspicious characters were seen thereabouts by people who left the train which reaches Wollaston at 12.15, a few minutes before the burglary.

MISS FAXON PASSES AWAY.

The many Quincy friends of Miss Elizabeth Faxon, especially those connected with the work of the First Parish church and Sunday school, where she was one of the most enthusiastic workers were shocked this morning to learn of her death at the Commonwealth hospital in Boston where she had gone a week ago.

Miss Faxon had become thoroughly tired out and a week ago decided to go away quietly for a two weeks rest. Although many of her friends were aware that she had gone away it was not until Saturday morning that she became seriously ill.

Saturday morning Miss Faxon was found by one of the nurses at the hospital in an unconscious condition on the floor of her room, and she remained in that condition until the end shortly after noon on Sunday.

Miss Faxon was a daughter of Francis and Elizabeth Faxon, both of whom have passed away, her mother having died about 9 years ago. She is survived by two brothers, Lawrence Faxon of Wellesley Hills and John Lyman Faxon of Fitchburg.

Miss Faxon has been employed for several years past as private secretary to her cousin, Henry M. Faxon at his Granite street office.

Funeral services will be held from the First church Tuesday at 2.30 P. M.

SCOTTISH CLAN LEAGUE.

The standing of three leading teams in the Scottish Clans league follows:

MacGregor	58	14	25,609
Ramsay	57	15	25,072
McPhail	54	14	23,987

Poehler and Archie Walsh are tied at 108 for high average in the Boston City League. The champ leads his associate by one point in the Suburban league.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our deepest appreciation for the sympathy given us by our many friends in the loss of our son, Melvin H. Dell, one year old.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Dell,
10 Franklin street

Masquerade Costumes For Rent
Children's Costumes in variety
MRS. R. E. WOODWARD
155 Billings Road
Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs
Feb. 3-tf

The Annual Dramatics
OF THE
Wollaston Woman's Club
Quincy Music Hall
Tuesday, Feb. 16, 2 P. M
"THE PIPER"
The World Prize Play by
MRS. LIONEL MARK
Based on the story of The Pied Piper of Hamlin.
Tickets may be obtained of Club members.
Feb. 3-3t-8-10-15

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the
TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

WHAT WOULD BE YOUR CHOICE?

One of the most interesting hypothetical questions which is propounded from time to time by way of intellectual exercise is this one: "If you were cast away alone on a desert island what book, leaving out of question the Bible, would you prefer to have with you "

Answering this question in a short talk to a young people's club some years a local clergyman declared that his choice would be "The Cloister and the Hearth," by Charles Read. That is surely a peculiar choice and probably few would agree with the clergyman. Some might choose Homer's Iliad or Odyssey, Virgil's Aeneid, Dante's Divine Comedy, or Milton's Paradise Lost, to mention perhaps the world's greatest epic poems.

Some might well select a volume of Shakespeares plays, realizing that the great master in his works ran the whole scale of elementary human passions, hopes, thoughts and ideals and that in him they could find something eternally new. The lover of adventure would perhaps take "The Three Musketeers" and like Stevenson again and again take horse with the beloved D'Artagnan. Some might take a novel of Scott, or Fielding, or Thackeray, or George Elliot, or Dickens. A few might choose the melancholy Don Quixote as their companion. The plays of Tennyson, or Browning, or Coleridge, or Wordsworth would likely be the choice of many. Of the modern authors Kipling would doubtless be the favorite.

The practical man would probably choose a book which would be of real service to him, a treatise on medicine perhaps, or a book on engineering, or farming, or woodcraft. The field of choice is wide: of a hundred individuals selected at random there would probably be nearly as many different selections.

What would be your choice?

Although we should rejoice in the opportunity of renewing our acquaintance with some of the books mentioned we must admit that our first choice would likely be a book on boatbuilding, a good, practical, untechnical volume which would tell the layman how to construct a seaworthy bark.

"ANIMUS."

A short time ago the Ledger in this column pointed out the unfortunate tendency to misuse a word until popular use, or rather misuse, totally changed the meaning, often with a distinct loss to the language. It was pointed out that this had been the fate of the word "criticize," originally meaning to estimate impartially the respective merits of a person or thing but generally taken in the sense of adverse criticism or censure. The latter meaning is now given by the later dictionaries as a second choice to the old meaning. The result has been the loss of a word for which there is no precise substitute in English.

The world "animus" has suffered similar ill-treatment. Originally the word meant the attitude with which one viewed a person or thing, the animating spirit. Gradually the animating spirit became to be understood as one hostile to the person or thing which was being viewed, that is animosity. This tendency is distinctly unfortunate: it makes for a looseness in speech which is deplorable.

The last of the Micmas—hereabouts at any rate.

FINANCIAL NEWS.

New York, February 13.—No better evidence of financial improvement could be recorded than the increased activity in new financing. Immediately following upon the opening of the war there was a sharp contraction in new capital applications, the total of which recorded for the last seven months reached about $480,000,000, or $166,000,000 less than the same time last year.

Total issues in February last year were $176,000,000. A considerable portion of current new issues is for the purpose of adjusting maturing obligations; but the significant feature is that these operations could not have been successfully carried through a few weeks ago; while now it looks as if other important flotations will follow, so that this February will considerably exceed the same month a year ago While we are facing beyond doubt an urgent demand for capital, it is not likely under existing business depression that there will be any great demand from really new enterprises.

There is also another and very significant trend in the new demands for capital, which is that nearly every important nation in the world except Great Britain is either borrowing in the United States or wishing to borrow. This is due to the war. London has practically retired as the world's banker for the purpose of devoting its whole financial resources to conduct of the war. Of course, this withdrawal is temporary, yet it offers an unusual opportunity to the United States, because New York is now the only free capital market in the world, and hither will come a large portion of the new capital applications. All of the belligerents have established extensive credits in this market, for the purpose of purchasing war materials, immense quantities of which are being steadily shipped to Europe. This movement will continue as long as the war lasts, and is proving a very vital factor in swelling our exports, large quantities of ammunition, automobiles clothing, etc., leaving American ports every week. Our ports are being further expanded by heavy shipments of wheat and cotton.

Meanwhile our importations are running very light, owing to the interruption of supplies by the war; and in the week ending February 6th, the excess of exports over imports was estimated at $37,000,000. As a result of these international operations, foreign exchange has again declined to the lowest point since 1907. Gold imports from China and Canada are coming at a moderate scale, and larger amounts would follow were it not for the establishing of the foreign credits referred to above. It is estimated that the present inward movement may run as high as $10,000,000, but we do not need gold while Europe does, and under existing conditions it is more advantageous to Europe and to the United States to allow these credits to stand We have thus become a creditor instead of a debtor nation.

The most important local factor in the financial situation is the abundance of loanable funds at reasonable rates. This is due partly to the dullness in trade and partly to the workings of the Federal reserve banking system.

Investment conditions have improved as shown by the ready absorption of really high-grade bonds and stocks. Some of the latter are selling at very low prices, compared with current rates for interest. Stock Exchange values have been subjected to sharp fluctuations.

There is a continued gain in business confidence, also some, though limited, improvement in the volume of business. Bread is advancing owing to the high cost of wheat, brought about of course by war conditions. Grain has already risen dangerously high: and present prices naturally yield gratifying results to the farmer, as all food prices are rising. The Southern cotton planter is also getting a better price for his product. These are comfortable times for our farming classes since conditions encourage the largest possible production at good prices for nearly all agricultural products.

January railroad earnings were exceedingly unsatisfactory and often showed large decreases. Yet later freight returns show an increasing movement, and there is reason to hope that the railroads have seen the worst of their troubles In another aspect the tide seems also to have turned for the better; that is in the iron trade. In the export division a much better business is being done, and our own railroads are placing more liberal orders for equipment than for several months.

Business this week was somewhat interrupted by the holiday, but indications point to a more active and irregular market. Should nothing occur to prevent the present reviving tendency of confidence, we may look for a still higher market, but purchases should be governed with exceptional caution and sharp reactions are possible at any time.—Henry Clews, Banker.

You need the Ledger every day. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

Carefully baked and wrapped in waxed paper, to protect you and us from dust and dirt. Ask for it by name, Peter Parley bread. Take no substitute
SOLD BY LEADING GROCERS
PRATT BREAD CO.
3190 Washington Street. Boston

AFTER SEARCH OVER THE EARTH

Schmidt, Indicted In Dynamite Outrage, is Arrested

HUNTED SINCE OCTOBER, 1910

Explosion Last July In New York, In Which Three Men and Woman Met Death, Furnishes Clew to Man Said to Be Implicated In Los Angeles Times Building Tragedy

New York, Feb. 15.—Matthew A. Schmidt was arrested here as a fugitive from justice, on an indictment found in Los Angeles in October, 1910, charging him with being implicated in dynamiting the Los Angeles Times building. The arrest was made on upper Broadway, where detectives had traced him after a search of four years.

Detective Burns, who accompanied the officers making the arrest, said that the indictment charges that Schmidt was one of several men who went with J. B. McNamara to the works of the Giant Powder company in California and purchased 1000 pounds of dynamite. Schmidt was held without bail to Feb. 24 to await extradition.

When arraigned before Magistrate McQuade, the prisoner said that he was a mechanic, aged 34, but refused to answer the other customary questions.

After the arraignment, however, the magistrate said the man had confessed to him in his chambers that he was Matthew A. Schmidt, as alleged in the Los Angeles indictment.

Burns stated that the arrest of Schmidt was the outgrowth of an investigation into a bomb explosion which occurred in a six-story flat house on Lexington avenue, in this city, July 4 of last year, and which killed three persons, injured others and partly wrecked the building.

Detectives who examined the premises became convinced that the bomb used was of the same type as that used in blowing up the Los Angeles Times building, and similar to those placed at the homes of General Otis, owner of The Times, and of the secretary of the Manufacturers' association.

The investigators soon struck a trail which was followed and led to the arrest of Schmidt.

The three men charged with purchasing the dynamite from the Giant Powder company works were J. B. McNamara, M. A. Schmidt and David Caplan.

A world-wide search was made for McNamara's associates, and their capture was erroneously reported on many occasions. Until the arrest here both had eluded arrest.

The Fourth of July explosion attracted wide attention at the time. Three men engaged in manufacturing a bomb, believed to have been intended for use in connection with the demonstration against John D. Rockefeller's Pocantico Hills estate because of the Colorado labor dispute, were killed by the explosion and a woman in a neighboring apartment also lost her life.

The men were Charles Berg, said to have beeen a member of the Industrial Workers of the World; Arthur Caron, who had been a leader among the pickets in Westchester county, and Carl Hansen. An anarchist society held exercises for the three men victims.

In detailing the circumstances of the search for Schmidt, Burns said that about ten days ago it was learned that Schmidt was working here as a mechanic, under the name of Joseph Hoffman, and that he was living at an uptown hotel.

He was kept under surveillance, but his arrest was deferred in the hope that by watching him the detectives might locate Caplan also. Learning that Schmidt was preparing to leave the city, however, they decided to take him into custody without further delay.

QUARREL OVER MONEY

Lawrence Man Dying and Alleged Assailant Under Arrest

Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 15.—Octave Saderi is dying and Ernest Columbo is under arrest charged with murderous assault as the result of a shooting affray here. The police allege that Columbo attempted to commit suicide after he had been arrested.

A quarrel over a payment due on a grocery store which Columbo sold to Saderi some time ago led to the shooting, according to the police.

General Sherman's Widow Dead

New York, Feb. 15.—News of the death at Nice, France, of Mrs. Ellen M. McClellan, widow of Major General George B. McClellan, commander-in-chief of the army of the Potomac during the Civil war, was received by her son, George B. McClellan. Pneumonia was the immediate cause of her death. She had made her home in France since her husband's death in 1885.

Japanese Admiral Honored

Annapolis, Feb. 15.—Admiral Dewa of the Japanese navy inspected the naval academy. He was accorded the honors due his rank, and in addition was presented several interesting mementoes.

SCISSORS PASTE

HUMILIATING INDEED.

For a man who planned such grand deeds it must be somewhat humiliating to Werner Horn, the alleged German captain, to be sent to jail for 30 days for breaking windows in Vanceboro. He must have been expecting a long sentence in the State's prison, or may be to have been shot at sunrise.

BEGINS TO MOVE.

The Sultan of Turkey is preparing to move his court across the Bosphorus to Asia. The work of turning Turkey out of Europe "bag and baggage" has begun.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY MEETS

The regular monthly meeting of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's church was held yesterday afternoon with an attendance of over 650. A reception of new members was held for all who joined during the year. After the services an election of officers and the same board was unanimously elected for the coming year. A series of lectures will be given during the year by the spiritual director Father McCoy.

The officers of the society are:
President—George A. Reinhalter.
Vice President—Martin A. King.
Secretary—Joseph H. McPherson.

USE FOR OLD KID GLOVES.

Thousands Wanted at Once to Make Coats for Men at the Front as Protection Against Cold.

Cast off leather and kid gloves are being pieced together and made into splendid waistcoats or linings for coats by the Belgian women refugees in London for the soldiers at the front as a protection against suffering and exposure to the cold. These improvised winter garments have proved to be of the greatest service, and the demand for them has been so great that the women workers are not able to meet it unless more material is received at once.

The coat is made simply by cutting the gloves into strips and sewing them together in the form of a waistcoat which may be worn over or under any other wearing apparel. There must be thousands of pairs of leather gloves of all kinds in Boston and vicinity which have been discarded by the owners as of no value, but which would be of inestimable value to the "Men at the Front," when converted into coats as before described.

Any material of this nature will be greatly appreciated if sent to Mrs. Henry L. Mason, 188 Bay State road, Boston, and will be forwarded by her to London.

A sample of the vest is on exhibition at 685 Boylston street, Boston.

BUILDING PERMITS.

Inspector of Buildings Thomas issued the following building permits last week:

L. S. Cleaves, dwelling, Beach street
Jacob R. Salin, addition, Littlefield street,
James H. Broughton, dwelling, Greenwood avenue.
Edla E. Soard, remodel barn, Carlson street.
Paul Hamill, wagon shed, Quincy avenue.
C. J. Beausang, addition, River road.
Isabella Ward, alteration, Willard street.
Elmer J. Rogers, addition, Heron road.
Cornelius M. Duggan, addition, Holmes street.
E. Alfred Gingras, dwelling, Pawsey street.
Mary L. Silck, repairs, Palmer street.
Iara F. Maine, addition, Sea street.
C. L. Boyden and J. F. Smart, dwelling and garage, Kemper street.
Augusta F. Beausang, addition, Darrow street.

The many friends of Miss Ann Schatzel of Braintree who formerly lived on Willard street will be pleased to hear that she is convalescent from a serious attack of pneumonia.

ONLY ONE "Bromo Quinine," that is
Laxative Bromo Quinine
Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 2 Days
E. W. Grove on box. 25c.

CARRANZA'S NEW ORDER

Would Compel Foreign Diplomats to Recognize His Government

Washington, Feb. 15.—While no official message has been received by the state department or the Spanish embassy here as to the attitude of the Spanish government toward the expulsion of its minister from Mexico by General Carranza, press dispatches from Madrid indicate that the matter will be adjusted through diplomatic channels.

Another action of the Carranza government, which may cause further complications for the diplomatic corps in Mexico City, and induce them to leave the country, was taken in the announcement that Carranza, as first chief, is solely authorized to receive and pass upon diplomatic communications.

The order apparently will make it impossible for diplomatic representatives of foreign governments to deal with the Carranza government except by going to Vera Cruz, which they have been unwilling to do, lest such action be construed as formal recognition.

ADMITS PERJURY

Marshall Says He Gave False Testimony In the Becker Trial

Philadelphia, Feb. 15.—James Marshall, a negro, whose evidence materially assisted in the conviction of Police Lieutenant Charles Becker of New York for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, declared that the evidence that he gave was false.

Becker is now in the death house in Sing Sing, N. Y. Marshall said that an attorney had instructed him as to the evidence he was to give. Acting under those instructions Marshall said he testified that he saw Becker talking to "Bald Jack" Rose, "Bridgie" Webber and Sam Schepps at the "Harlem conference."

"I testified that I knew about the conference, but I didn't," Marshall said. "I knew nothing about the conspiracy."

The state of New York, in its case against Becker, tried to make one of its strongest points against Becker on the charge that he was at the "Harlem conference."

MINE OWNER SLAIN; MONEY UNTOUCHED

Rich Operator Had Refused to Sign Union Wage Scale

Walsenburg, Col., Feb. 15.—William Dick, one of the wealthiest independent mine owners in the state, was shot from ambush as he was driving an automobile near Walsenburg.

The slayers left untouched $6500 in a locked box in the rear of the machine with which Dick intended to cash the checks of miners at the Oakview mine.

Sheriff Farr, with twenty-five armed deputies, started out in automobiles as soon as word of the tragedy was received.

According to the authorities, Dick's property had been threatened with destrection. He had refused to sign any agreements for working scales at his mines, running them on an independent basis.

The mine at Oakview, whither Dick was bound, figured in the strike fights last spring. Dick leaves a wife and eight children.

CENTURY OF PEACE

Celebrated by Many Boston Churches and Sunday Schools

Boston, Feb. 15.—Prayers of thanksgiving for the attainment of a century of peace between the United States and Great Britain, and of entreaty for a speedy termination of the European struggle, were held in many Boston churches yesterday, in commemoration of the treaty of Ghent, signed 100 years ago.

Sunday schools also participated in the Boston observance, which was in conjunction with the national celebration suggested by the federal council of the Churches of Christ in America. Special lessons on international peace were used in the Sunday schools.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

Prof. Samuel W. Shattuck, for forty-four years a member of the University of Illinois faculty, died at Urbana, Ills. He was born in 1841 at Groton, Mass.

Colonel Nicholson, commandant at Fort Ethan Allen, Burlington, Vt., has been transferred to Fort Sheridan, near Chicago, and is succeeded by Colonel Dickman.

Andrew J. Bates, a millionaire shoe manufacturer, died at his home at Webster, Mass.

James Marcello, 52, a contractor, living at Portsmouth, N. H., was found dead from gas poisoning at a Boston hotel.

Rev. Bro. John Chrysostom, 70, superior general of the Xaverian Brotherhood, died at Mayfield, Eng. His headquarters were at Brugges, Belgium.

The late George M. Marston of Stoughton, Mass., wrote his will in a groceryman's order book which he used for keeping memoranda.

Mayor O'Halloran says he will appoint a third policewoman at Marlboro, Mass.

Guaranteed roofing—best responsibility!
Why accept a doubtful guarantee on roofing when you can get one signed by the largest manufacturer of roofing and building papers in the world, with a saving in cost in the long run?
Buy materials that last
Certain-teed
Roofing
is guaranteed in writing 5 years for 1-ply, 10 years for 2-ply, and 15 years for 3-ply, and the responsibility of our big mills stands behind this guarantee. Its quality is the highest and its price the most reasonable.
General Roofing Mfg. Company
World's largest manufacturers of Roofing and Building Papers
New York City Boston Chicago Pittsburgh
Philadelphia Atlanta Cleveland Detroit
St. Louis Cincinnati Kansas City Minneapolis
San Francisco Seattle London Hamburg Sydney
At each of our big mills we make the following guaranteed products:
Asphalt Roofings (all grades and prices)
Slate Surfaced Shingles
Asphalt Felts
Deadening Felts
Tarred Felts
Building Papers
Insulating Papers
Wall Boards
Plastic Roofing Cement
Asphalt Cement
Roof Coating
Metal Paints
Outdoor Paints
Shingle Stains
Tar Coating

SEEK TO CATCH CELLAR THIEVES

Chief Billings, Police Officers and Store Clerk Join in Hunt

The police and firemen had a lively chase after two men supposed to be cellar thieves about four o'clock Saturday afternoon but the suspects had a good start and got away.

A young man employed in the store of Skelton Bros., on South street saw two young men about the vicinity trying cellar doors on Atherton road and Berkley street and he telephoned the police. About the same time Mrs. Billings, wife of Chief Billings of the fire department, discovered that two men were at work in the cellar of her house on Atherton road. They took to their heels when discovered.

Mrs. Billings telephoned the chief at the central fire station and he started out in his big red car to give chase. In the meantime the police patrol wagon with several officers was also sent on the hunt. Chief Billings went by one route and the patrol wagon by another, as it was hoped in this way to head the fellows off. The woods along South street were also searched but no trace of the two could be found.

The store clerk who first saw the fellows gave chase and followed them to Quincy avenue, and Elm street where he lost sight of them. In their flight the fellows ran by the central fire station although at that time the chief was out searching for them. It is reported to the police that during the past week a number of cellars in the vicinity of South street have been entered and that small articles, such as rubber boots, old clothing etc., have been taken.

RELIGION AND POLITICS.

The recent speech of Hon. Samuel W. McCall in condemnation of the injection of religious issues into party politics is worthy of the serious and thoughtful attention of all Americans who pride themselves on their devotion to what have always been the dominant ideals of the greatest of republics—liberty of speech, of the press, and of religious opinion. As Mr. McCall pointed out, the Constitution expressly provides that no religious test as to fitness for office shall ever be imposed, and it is self-evident that indirect action to that end is just as subversive of the constitutional guarantees of American citizens as direct legislation.

The restriction of all members of any one religion to any one political party, or, what amounts to the same thing, their exclusion on religious grounds from political preferment at the hands of any party, would be just as deplorable as the proposed formation of a German-American party, to which Professor Francke so patriotically declined to lend his support. Parties must divide on political lines, not religious or racial ones, if America is to remain the land of the free.

But in its larger aspect, aside from politics, the exaggeration of religious differences is unfortunate. The sincerely religious man is rarely intolerant, the hypocrite, usually so. Prejudice is not in accord with Christianity, with civilized standards of conduct, nor with American ideals. The essentials of human existence are shared by all of us in common. We have the same hopes and disappointments, the same trials and triumphs, we breathe the same air, we face the same inevitable death, whatever be our race or color or religion; we are all children of the same Heavenly Father, no matter how we worship Him. If we cannot obey the divine command to love each other, at least we can respect each other's most sacred opinions.

CHANGING DIET OF CHINESE.

Americans who have been influenced by the Orient to the extent of taking their tea clear, without milk or sugar, will be astonished to learn that the Occident is now bent on teaching the Chinese to use milk with their decoction of tea leaves—and condensed milk at that. An enterprising condensed-milk company is pushing the campaign, and expects to be successful. This concern has already introduced condensed-milk ice cream to the Chinese and they like it so well that many of the restaurants keep it always on hand. Practically no fresh milk is to be had in China, although the natives seem familiar enough with the virtues of both the fresh and the condensed article. Perhaps after all the Orientals have taken their tea clear because there was no milk to put in it and not because they thought the addition of milk ruined the beverage.

Canned salmon is another Western staple that has made a decided impression on the Far East, according to a report entitled "Canned-Goods Trade in the Far East," Special Agents Series No. 92, written by Commercial Agent J. Alexis Shriver and published by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. The report contains many interesting facts about the home life of the Chinese, Japanese, Malays, etc., and many valuable suggestions for canners who are considering the feasibility of selling goods on the other side of the Pacific. Copies may be had for 10 cents each from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington.

TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS.

Following are the subscribers connected with the Quincy Exchange, week ending Feb. 10th:

1048-W—Cantlay, Wm., 18 Elliott St.
1404-M—Cook, James H., 138 Franklin street.
1760—Ott, Phil, 754 Hancock street.
2097-W—Walsh, J. F., 41 Elm street.
1897-3—Spollett, Frederick W., 160 Davis street.
1901-M—Walker, Mac Knight, 124 Elm avenue.
2257-J—Walther, Fred W., 196 Farrington street.
534-1—Hurlbert, Wm. A., 324 Fayette street.
824-M—Brown, Eva M., Miss, 110 Upland road.
1274-M—Hammel, Fred J., 260 Belmont street.
1652-W—Vayette, P. M., 27 Beebe road.
2095-W—Drummond, David J., 85 Pleasant street.
1302-J—Loomis, H. R., 195 Goffe street
2012-W—Galvin, Emma Mrs., 30 Chestnut street.

Clarence Cassidy who is in school in New York is visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cassidy of Lincoln avenue.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Some People We Know, and We Will Profit by Hearing About Them.

This is a purely local event.
It took place in Quincy.
Not in some faraway place.
You are asked to investigate it.
Asked to believe a citizen's word;
To confirm a citizen's statement.
Any article that is endorsed at home
Is more worthy of confidence
Than one you know nothing about,
Endorsed by unknown people.

Walter E. Berlucchi, barber, Adams Building, Quincy, says: "I needed a good medicine for backache which bothered me severely at times. My kidneys acted irregularly and when I took cold, it settled in my back and kidneys. I was tired in the morning. Someone recommended Doan's Kidney Pills, and after I used four boxes I was relieved so much that I had no further need of them. I like to keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand so that I always have them when needed."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Berlucchi had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Among Our Churches

PARK AND DOWNS CHURCH.

An interesting sermon was given at the morning service Sunday by the pastor, Rev. William B. Ayers. Text Matthew VI, "Thy Kingdom Come."

The minister said that Jesus came to earth for two purposes. To reveal the Fatherhood of God over the individual and to build up the Kingdom of God in the hearts of men. Jesus was always talking about these two things, "The Father"— and "The Kingdom." His judgment of men was based upon whether they had already entered the Kingdom, were near to it or afar off. It was a simple teaching. It was for the individual.

We judge men in the mass and try to solve them in the mass. Jesus success was with the individual. He preached to 5000 and fed them and they left him. He stood before the solitary individual and said, "Follow Me," and immediately His Kingdom had commenced to grow. Jesus might have been easily discouraged as he contemplated the population of His day and its sins. He might easily have been led to think "What can one or twelve do," and been tempted to deal with humanity in the bulk, to become a popular leader. But He called one, then another, finally twelve.

Only when we return to Jesus' teachings and Jesus' methods and seek to bring the soul of the individual into the Kingdom of God will the world be won to Christ."

In the evening the lecture was on "the Law of Indirection." The speaker reviewed England in the light of education and sports and militarism. He showed England—training herself through sports to a strong physical being and a world power and world ruler. Neglecting the education of the masses for the development of the classes as her chief interest, commerce and politics. A race of world activities rather than study and yet producing the most wonderful literature.

He reviewed this literature. Not the aim of England and yet the result by indirection of England's activities. So the individual aims for one thing and acquires another. Men do not find happiness by searching for it. But by devoting themselves to duty they find contentment. Men do not acquire greatness by striving after effect but by seeking after goodness. Men possess the earth by acquiring God.

At the meeting of the Women's Guild Wednesday afternoon of this week the subject will be "Belgian Relief." Next Sunday night the subject of the minister's sermon will be "Why does God allow the nations to war?"

SWEDISH CONGREGATIONAL.

Services were well attended both morning and evening. The pastor preached in the morning on the text for Shrove Sunday on the topic: "Christ goes up to Jerusalem to be delivered up." Male chorus rendered two selections. The topic for the evening address was: "The Master Is Come." There was much spirited singing both by congregation and the choirs. Mixed choir gave two numbers and male chorus two.

At the Y. P. meeting a musical program was rendered by a mixed quartette: Paul Palmgren, John Anderson Ruth Johnson and Esther Danielson.

Meetings during the week will be: Tuesday rehearsal of the union choirs from the three churches at 7.45, to practice for the concert. Wednesday the young women will meet at the house of Carl Andre, 25 Cherry avenue, at 8 o'clock. Thursday the regular mid week prayer meeting.

WOLLASTON M. E. CHURCH.

The regular monthly communion service was held at the Wollaston Methodist church on Sunday morning. Rev. George M. Bailey preached a short sermon from the words found in the fourth chapter of Ephesians, the fifteenth verse. "Speaking truth in love, may grow up into him in all things, which is the head even Christ."

Growth is the most desirable thing in life. When a man plants a garden and expends his energy on it he does so because he expects growth and a harvest. There can be no harvest if there is no growth. We watch the development of the body, mind and soul of children with great interest and if either of these fail to develop it is a matter for sorrow and disappointment. In like manner it should be a matter for sorrow and disappointment if the growth in Christ fails. To stand still is impossible, there is no such thing as a static condition in the Christian life any more than there is in the physical life.

There should be growth in knowledge. To have growth in knowledge it is necessary to be obedient and to put into action that knowledge and those attainments which we already have in our possession. We are told that all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge are in Jesus Christ and therefore we should make a study of him. No scholar pretends to have found the last word in human knowledge for he recognizes that there is no bound to intellectual attainments. Likewise there is no bound to Christian attainments for men and women never found the ends in the knowledge of Christian experience.

There should be growth in love.

The world wants a larger brain, it wants men who will invent and do large things. Jesus Christ wants a larger heart, he wants hearts that will realize and aid in the world's needs. We are exhorted to grow in love. When we give a book to a child we give one with pictures, otherwise the book means little to the child. When we become older we care less for the pictures and more for the words and thoughts. So in our growth in Christ we go from the concrete to the abstract.

There should be growth in character.

No man's life becomes entirely changed in a day. He may change the direction of his life at a particular day and hour but as time goes on the Christian virtues take on new beauty by growth. Let us "grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ."

Mr. Raymond Cassidy sang "Trusting in Thee" and the quartet sang "Love not the world" by Marston.

AT ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S.

Lenten services are to be held at St. Chrysostom's church as follows:

Ash Wednesday at 10 A. M. and 7.45 P. M.

Children's services Tuesdays at 4.45 P. M.

Devotional reading Wednesdays at 4 P. M

Prayer and sermon Thursdays at 7.45 P. M., with the following preachers:

Feb. 25, Rev. Henry B. Edwards, Milton.

March 4, Rev. George S. Fiske, East Boston.

March 11, Rev. M. Oakman Patton, Braintree.

March 18, Rev. Allen Greene, Peabody.

March 25, Rev. W. H. Osmond, Marlboro.

Special services are announced for Holy week and Easter.

FIRST SPIRITUALIST CHURCH.

Mrs. S. V. Odiorne, conductor, meeting at 7.30, opened with song service. Bible reading and prayer followed by a solo by Miss Irene Howes accompanied by Mr. Stebbins. Mr. J. E. Bartlett of Boston was the speaker and the audience had a real feast of good messages and a beautiful talk about Mrs. Fanny Crosby, who has just passed over to the other side of life. Miss Irene Howe accompanied by Mr. Stebbins sang and Miss McIntyre gave a beautiful recitation. Mr. Bartlett gave many messages which were well received. Mrs. S. V. Odiorne gave many direct messages which were all recognized.

Meeting at No. 8 Mechanic street, Tuesday 3.00 and 8.00 and Thursday 8.00, Mrs. Odiorne, leader. All invited to Sunday evening meetings.

CHURCH NEWS.

Church news, crowded out today, will be printed in Tuesday's Ledger.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER

ISLE OF PINES, W. I

An association is now being formed to own 100 acres of grapefruit or 7000 trees. Join now—membership $250.00 $10.00 down and $5.00 per month. 6 pct. guaranteed for the first five years and then each member gets 85 pct of the profits. Write for particulars.

ISLE OF PINS ASSOCIATES

170 Summer St., Boston, Mass.

Feb. 11-1m

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton Directory

Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings. 6-12t

MRS. LUCY DUNBAR.

Mrs Lucy Dunbar, widow of James F. Dunbar, for many years treasurer of the A. T. Stearns Lumber Co. at Neponset died Saturday at the home of her brother 48 Gay street, aged 65 years. Mrs. Dunbar lived in Neponset for many years coming to Quincy last August to make her home with her brother, Walter E. Dunbar. She has been in poor health for some time. Funeral services will be held at the chapel at the Mt. Vernon church Boston, Tuesday at 2 o'clock.

DEYETTE—CHASE.

The marriage of Miss Doris Chase of Atlantic and Frank Deyette of Worcester took place in Quincy on Friday, Feb. 12th, after which a wedding supper was given by the brides aunt Mrs. Wm. J. Voss at 92 Botolph street, Atlantic, where covers were laid for twelve. The decorations were of pinks which were afterwards distributed among the guests.

After a two weeks trip among relatives in Centerville and Wollaston the young couple will take up their residence in Worcester.

INDIANS ATTEND FUNERAL.

Sixty Indians, squaws and children, attended the funeral of Dennis Mease from his wigwam on Granite avenue, East Milton this morning. All were representatives of the Micmac Tribe and they came from all parts of New England, including Oldtown, Maine. In the gathering were several long haired guides of the New Hampshire woods, but all were dressed in the garb of civilization.

A requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Gregory's church, Milton Lower Mills. The body was then taken to the old Milton cemetery for burial. The bearers were all Indian friends of the deceased tribesman.

BRIEFS

Bethany castle, Knights of King Arthur, will hold an installation of officers Friday evening.

Miss Bertha N. Polk of Wollaston is the guest of her sister Miss Mildred Polk at Bridgewater Normal school. Miss Bertha Polk was a former student of the school.

On account of delay in securing the Go-to-Church-Band pins the names of those having been winners in this contest at the Wollaston Methodist church will not be announced until next Sunday.

At the regular meeting of Maple Lodge K. & L. of H. Wednesday evening a pleasing entertainment will be given under the charge of Mrs. C. Alice Litchfield. The third in the series of the bowling contest will no doubt be very interesting as there are some large scores to be beaten.

Sand Hills of Bergen.

Bergen is so called doubtless from the sand hills which at this point of the coast of Holland are unusually conspicuous and give the name of "Little Switzerland" to the neighborhood. These dunes are the scene of very interesting experiments in fir planting, with a view to keeping them stationary and preserving the valuable land behind them from sand drift. This slow afforestation at Bergen, on which some thousands of pounds are spent annually, was initiated by a very remarkable private association, the Netherlands Health society, which, starting in a quiet way twenty-five years ago, now employs from its headquarters in Utrecht an army of workers and turns over some £80,000 annually in its improvements.—London Standard.

The Lesson.

"Winzer put on his wife's spats this morning."

"Why, the old file must be growing polite."

"You don't get me. He wore 'em. He wanted his wife to see how ridiculous they looked."

"Well!"

"The first man he met said, 'By Jove, Winzer, I never saw you so well dressed.' And the second man said, 'Why, old chap, you're looking positively distanggy!'"

"What did the old guy say?"

"He said, 'This will be a good lesson to my wife. It's going to teach her that these extremes in fashion are meant only for the favored few.'"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Key to the Dutch Seas.

In the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries the fame of Middleburg and Flushing, in Holland, extended all over Europe. The latter especially was so important that it was called "the key to the Dutch seas." The Emperor Charles V. visited the city and spent some days in the small adjoining town of Zuytburg. It was there that in September, 1556, he dated his act of abdication before sailing from Flushing to Spain and retiring to the monastery of St. Juste.

A Case For Tact.

"There are ladies on the jury."

"They ought to favor a lady defendant."

"We shall have to be exceedingly careful. I don't think it would be good policy for our fair client to dress better than they do."—Kansas City Journal.

CONSCRIPT ARMIES.

Military Rules In Force in the Various States of Europe.

Napoleon in 1798 first brought conscription into force, then it was adopted by Prussia after her defeat by the French at Jena in 1806. In most countries where conscription is in vogue every man on reaching a certain age—from nineteen to twenty-one—has to undergo a period of military training. This prevails in France and Germany, but in Russia a certain number of men is required only, and if this is exceeded the authorities decide from whom full service shall be exacted. Of course certain men are excused, such as the only sons or eldest sons of clergymen, etc.

In Spain and Portugal every man is not directly called upon, but each locality is obliged to furnish a certain number, the men being chosen by ballot. There is no standing army in Switzerland, but all ablebodied citizens serve in the militia, which is called upon to train a few weeks every year. Although compulsory service is the law of the land, the army in the Netherlands is mainly composed of volunteers.

It is considered by some people that conscription is unpopular, but in the rural districts of the countries where conscription is in force the inhabitants look forward to the time when they will be called upon as the only exciting change in their lives.

The best conscriptive countries have so legislated that when the conscript leaves the army suitable employment is found for him; also, another point in his favor, his period of service is not so long as that of the volunteer.—London Chronicle.

A BOTANICAL PARADISE.

Juan Fernandez Islands Have More Than One Claim to Fame.

In the Juan Fernandez group of islands, 360 miles from Valparaiso, the Chilean government has a wireless station. Three islands comprise the group, but the name is usually applied to the largest, Mas a Tierra, closest to the mainland. Here it was that Defoe pictured Alexander Selkirk (Robinson Crusoe) in exile.

Mas a Tierra is of irregular form, about twelve miles in length, but hardly four miles across in its widest part. When seen from a distance the peak of El Yunque—the anvil—appears conspicuously in a range of precipitous mountains and attaining a height of 3,000 feet. From the summit to the base the mountain is wooded, with a wonderfully fertile valley at the foot.

Dr. Carl Skottsberg of the Swedish Magellanic expedition landed on the island in 1908, and the eminent geographer wrote subsequently that "from a botanical point of view Juan Fernandez is one of the world's most famous places. So many wonderful plants are brought together here on a small area that one must touch them to realize that one does not dream." Colonization of Juan Fernandez began some years ago, and a considerable fishing settlement is now in evidence.

In the finer restaurants of Valparaiso and Santiago the lobsters of Juan Fernandez are considered delicacies for which fancy prices are paid.—Argonaut.

Asking Too Much of the Bank.

The officials of the English savings bank department, a correspondent writes, occasionally find themselves regarded as a kind of universal purveyors. A depositor sent his bank book with this modest request: "There are some little things I should like to get from London, and one is some natural leaf tobacco. I should be glad if you will send two ounces and charge to my account. It is only to be obtained in the largest tobacco stores." We failed to comply with his wishes, whereupon he wrote an indignant letter to the comptroller of our department.—Manchester Guardian.

Languages of India.

One hundred and fifty different languages are spoken in India, most of them unwritten, and this fact frequently leads to trouble in the courts of that oriental country. Strangely enough, Indians frequently drift into that capital who can find no one able to understand their vernacular. Neither the court nor the court interpreters understand some of the litigants and witnesses in legal cases.

Obnoxious Presumption.

"Why did your sister drop her welfare work?"

"While she was out trying to uplift the children of other people another welfare worker came along and tried to uplift her children."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Flowers.

Slowest—Virginia creeper, trailing arbutus.

Most sedate—Jack In the Pulpit.

Dopiest—Poppy.

Most active—Johnny Jumpup.

Most taciturn—Chrysanthemum.—Detroit News.

Chemistry Kindergarten.

Bobby—Is oxygen what oxen breathe all day? Papa—Of course, and what everything else breathes. Bobby—And is nitrogen what every one breathes at night?

Different Ways.

Hewitt—I have been pinched for money lately. Jewitt—Well, women have different ways of getting it. My wife kisses me when she wants any.

There is not a single moment in this life that we can afford to lose.—Coulburn.

JANIN THE "BUG" A REAL INVENTOR

Obscure Cabinetmaker Made Hydroaeroplane Possible.

SEES BIG FORTUNE IN SIGHT

"Dreamer" Worked Fifteen Years on Device For Which He Gets Patent. Dazed Over Good Luck as Fellow Workers Surround and Congratulate Him on Notable Triumph.

Albert S. Janin, cabinetmaker, a few days ago took off his apron in the shop in which he has worked eight hours a day for the last fourteen years at Rosebank, N. Y., walked up to the foreman and resigned his job.

He didn't quit in a huff—a fact that was plainly attested by the manner in which the foreman wrung his hand and his fellow workmen crowded around him, their faces beaming.

"Congratulations, Al," said the foreman simply. From somewhere in the crowd spoke one of Janin's intimates:

"The 'Bug' has made good. Whaddaya know about that?"

"Well," rejoined Janin good naturedly, "it no longer will be Janin the cabinetmaker or Janin the Bug, the dreamer and the impostor. I guess the handle to my name has been pretty firmly established as 'Janin, inventor of the hydroaeroplane.'"

And that night the modest little five room Janin flat at 78 Clifton avenue, overlooking the broad sweep of New York's bay, was the scene of a celebration the like of which has never been seen at Rosebank. Most enthusiastic of the guests were men who for the last ten years have scoffed at the strange looking winged craft in the Janin back yard, which, the poor carpenter persisted, would some day be recognized by the patent office as the first flying boat.

Rosebank went on the map to stay when word was received from Washington that the board of examiners in chief of the patent office had decided unanimously that the man who made the hydroaeroplane possible was Albert S. Janin, the poor cabinetmaker of Staten Island. For four years powerful interests had fought the claims of the obscure and almost penniless carpenter through the patent office and to its highest court—the board of examiners in chief.

Dazed Over Good Luck.

Just how it feels for success for a struggling workman, whose $5 a day is barely enough to provide the necessaries of life for a wife and seven children, to suddenly find himself famous and a fortune within his grasp Janin tried to explain. He is still a little dazed over his good luck, and in his hour of triumph thinks only of the good things in store for his wife and the now bright futures of the seven little Janins, blond haired youngsters ranging from three to fourteen years of age.

"We put it over, didn't we, mother?" Janin beamed, affectionately patting his wife. "If it hadn't been that she stuck to me—believed in me when all the rest were poking fun and scoffing—I never would have made it."

"And if it hadn't been," Mrs. Janin interrupted, "that after your hard day's work for almost every night in the last ten or fifteen years you burned the oil at your work bench until long after midnight, you never would have made it."

"The best part of this invention is that, unlike a whole lot of others, it's going to bring us money—gobs of it." Janin broke in. "For years we have felt the pinch of poverty, but I guess that day is passed. You know the decision of the patent office gives me a royalty on every hydroaeroplane turned out in this country dating from the day a few weeks hence my patent is printed and issued by the government. I am told that the royalty can be fixed arbitrarily by the inventor. The failure of any of these companies building hydroaeroplanes to come to terms, of course, would be followed by an infringement suit, but we don't expect any such difficulty.

"What will I do with the money? The first thing will be to get a home of our own with plenty of ground around it for the kids to play. No more of these flats for us. But we are going to stay right here in Rosebank, where my wife and I were born and brought up. You know we were sweethearts, even at old P. S. No. 13, around the corner. Most of the kids are now going to that same school. The oldest girl, Antoinette, who is now fourteen, can realize her ambition to go to the normal school and take up teaching if she wants to, but she don't have to now."

MAYOR'S OFFICE HOP JOINT.

Legislators of Colorado Witness Novel Exhibition of Drugs.

The office of Mayor Perkins of Denver was turned into a "hop joint" for the benefit of the legislature, and seventy senators and representatives got a practical illustration of the effects of opium, cocaine and other drugs on victims.

The lawmakers, led by Lieutenant Governor Lewis, saw twenty "fiends" engaged with their favorite dope. After the exhibition they pledged their votes for a bill regulating drug traffic. The demonstration was arranged by Health Officers Madaris and Baker.

EXPERIENCED STITCHERS WANTED

APPLY

SOVEREIGN WAIST CO.

192 GRANITE ST.

Flour Going Up ! !

With the steady climb in the price of flour it would seem that Housewives would abandon the Home-baking ideas. We wish it were so, for we are confident that our Bread and Cakes are just as delicious and dainty as home-made. No Madam, don't worry about the price of flour. Our Bread is the same price, the same size and as clean as ever. Abandon the Home-Baking idea but always

LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN

1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.

GOOD TEETH CUT LIVING COST.

Thorough Mastication and an Active Toothbrush the Foundation of Health.

A way to cut down the high cost of living, and at the same time to enjoy better health was outlined by Dr. S. A. Hopkins at the public lecture at the Harvard Medical School recently. The way is simple enough, for it involves chewing the food thoroughly and cleaning the teeth carefully after each meal.

"The full nutritive value of food is gained only in thorough mastication," said Dr. Hopkins. "You are throwing away money when you belt your food, for you have to eat twice as much. Proper chewing, moreover, makes more simple foods palatable. Be cheerful at the table. Any disagreeable emotion stops the gastric juice and causes nervous indigestion.

"A poorly-kept mouth and the bad teeth resulting are largely responsible for the diseases of childhood, stunted growth of body and of mind and character, and more specifically for indigestion, malnutrition, insomnia, morbidity, neuralgia, rheumatism and attendant affection of the heart and even dementia," according to Dr. Hopkins.

"Fine white bread, white crackers, starchy foods and sweets," said the speaker, "are damaging because they produce an acid fermentation in the mouth, which eats the enamel of the teeth. Brushing the teeth after meals and especially at bed time is therefore of the utmost importance.

"The Forsyth Dental Infirmary is going to gather data, showing that the physical, mental and moral condition of the child is largely dependent on the condition of his mouth. Already we know that forty per cent of the absences from school are due to toothache. Nothing so greatly interferes with one's working capacity as ill health. To cure illness costs a great deal of time and money. To prevent the many illnesses arising from bad teeth requires just a little self-control.

"The uncared-for human mouth means the best condition in the world for the growth of bacteria, especially the germs of pneumonia.

"A child's six year molars are the most important of his teeth, the foundation of his jaws. These should be watched for by the time the child is five and a half.

"Thumb-sucking is a habit that must be broken at all costs, as it causes mouth breathing, colds and attendant ill health. Mittens can be tied on a child's hands at night."

REFUSE MRS. CASTOR.

Port Directors Deny Petition To Erect Fence.

The Port Directors at their meeting this morning denied the petition of Mrs. Sarah Castor of Quincy. This was a petition to build a fence along her property line from high to low water mark on which the city solicitor Dock Commissioner Crane and the committee on legislative matters appeared in opposition at the hearing last week.

ENJOY VALENTINE DANCE.

The annual valentine dancing party was held Saturday afternoon at Alpha hall under the auspices of the Quincy Day Nursery association. About 150 children and grown-ups enjoyed dancing for three hours. Music was furnished by Ryder H. Gay and Ralph Hendrie.

The features of the afternoon were a very pretty valentine german and a spirited confetti battle, much enjoyed by the children.

The matrons were Mrs. H. M. Faxon, Mrs. W. B. Rice, Mrs. W. E. Burke, Mrs. R. A. Sears, Mrs. Charles Alden, Mrs. Chester I. Campbell, Mrs. Joseph Ripley and Mrs. Herbert Child.

The hall was strikingly decorated with valentines and potted plants. Suspended from the ceiling were red butterflies, and the stage was banked with potted plants and valentines tastefully arranged. The Katharyn Crane Memorial, arranged the decorations.

Mrs. J. H. Johnson was chairman of the committee in charge of the dance, and she was assisted by Mrs. E. E. Jameson, Mrs. Clarence Burgin, Mrs. G. E. Pfaffmann and Mrs. Paul R. Blackmur.

The ushers were:—Otis Angier, Malcolm Anthony, Joseph Barber, Thomas Barstow, Richard Blackmur, Roger Burgin, Tom Burgin, John Coombs, Joseph Dasha, Henry Faxon, Wellington Glover, Walter Barber, Richard Barber, Harold Hall, Sidney Hardwick Jr., Edward Miller Jr.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

THIS SPACE

Will be devoted each day—not to advertise cheap grade at full value, but Johnson Bros. Quality Goods at a sure low price.

Buy These Today

20c can Extra Sifted Peas for 15c

25c Glass of Curtice Bros. Current Jelly 20c

JOHNSON BROS., City Square.

SPECIAL

MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY

Large, Luscious Peppermint Patties

29c a lb.

CHAS. C. HEARN

Druggist, City Square

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

THAYER GIRLS BEAT ALUMNAE

Hingham Fearless Five Defeat Thayer Second

Friday afternoon the Fearless Five of Hingham defeated the Thayer Second with a score of 25-12. Bouve played well for the Hingham team. The line up:

FEARLESS FIVE	THAYER 2nd
Mackenzie rf	lb Frazer
Noonan lf	rb Dyer
Hall c	c Seavey
Campbell rb	lf Blackmur
Bouve lb	rf Cate

Score Fearless 25, Thayer 2nd 12, Goals from floor Blackmur 2, Dyer, Cate, Mackenzie, Noonan 3, Bouve 4. Goals from fouls: Cate 4, Mackenzie 3. Referee Cole, Timer Reed. Scorer, Bower. This game was followed by an exceedingly interesting game between Rockland High and Thayer. At the end of the second 15 minute period the score stood 20 to 20 and it was necessary to play another five minutes. Rockland made one basket, but Leonard of Thayer netted two thus giving the game to Thayer. The line up:

ROCKLAND	THAYER
F. Osgood rf	lb Cole
A. Osgood lf	rb Thompson
Johnson c	c Leonard
Estes rb	lf Bates
	lf Greeley
Baker lb	rf Hanson

Score. Thayer 24, Rockland 22. Goals from floor—Hanson 6, Leonard 5, Thompson, F. Osgood 5, Baker 2. Johnson, R. Osgood 2. Goals from fouls R. Osgood 2. Referee Cate. Timer Reed, Scorer Bower Attendance 150.

Saturday afternoon the Thayer Girls challenged the Alumnae and were favored with the score of 62 to 36. Miss Platts starred for Thayer, alone scoring 34 of the points made by her team. The summary:

ALUMNAE	THAYER
Miss C. Kimball rf	lg Miss Prescott
Miss D. Summers lf	lg Miss Field
	rg Miss Gallivan
Miss Foss c	c Miss Bianchi
Miss Perry rg	lf Miss Piercy
	lf Miss H. Summers
Miss Walsh lg	rf Miss Platts

Score Thayer 62, Alumnae 36. Goals from floor—Miss Platts 17, Miss Foss 8, Miss Kimball 7, Miss Bianchi 7, Miss Piercy 4, Miss H. Summers 3, Miss D. Summers, Miss Perry. Goals from fouls, Miss Foss 2. Referee, Miss Fessenden, Umpire Inman, Timer Cole, Scorer Miss Bradford. Time 15 min periods.

W. R. LOFGREN
Carpenter and Builder
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
10 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 2053-3
June 9-tf

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 4624. Haymarket 2449
Oct. -tf

WILL PROBABLY HEAD F. R. LEAGUE

Machine Gallery Looks Like Champion

The Machine Gallery practically has won the championship of the Fore River league and the Yard is in second place. Both combinations are considerably ahead of the rest of the field. The Gallery clinched its lead through its defeat of the Yard Friday night. Both teams roll once more, the former against the Shipfitters and the latter against the Purchasing Agents Clerks. The N Dept, third place claimants have just topped the Electricians. On Friday night the N's roll the Navy draftsmen and the Electricians roll the Blacksmiths tonight. Those matches will result perhaps in first division changes. Smith retains his lead as high average men, Tirrell's 98 being a point behind. Several postponed matches are in the air:

FORE RIVER LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	P. C.
M. Gallery	17	13	.845
Y. Dept.	60	20	.750
N. Dept.	50	30	.625
E. Dept.	52	32	.616
D. Dept.	46	38	.547
S. Dept.	41	39	.512
Treas Office	29	31	.483
B. Dept.	35	49	.416
Ev. App.	32	48	.400
U. S. N.	30	50	.375
M. Floor	30	54	.357
Pur. Agents	15	65	.187

Smith 99, Tirrell 98, Olindy 98, Djerf 93, Golden 93, White 92, Kateon 92, Carlson 92, Westland 92, Ago 91, Smith 91, Mahoney 91, Dubois 91, Malnati 91, Morgan 90, Neil 90, Ryan 90.

High single Olindy 153, Y. Dept 506 Three strings Olindy 360, M. Gallery 1446.

PROMINENT IN WEYMOUTH.

David J. Pierce Dies at Boston Hospital.

David J. Pierce one of Weymouth's most prominent citizens, died Sunday morning at the Fernway hospital Boston, aged 75 years. Mr. Pierce was born in Weymouth Oct. 2, 1839, and has always resided in that town. During the civil war he served in Co. A, 32d Mass. Infantry. For many years he has been actively engaged in the real estate business, although at one time he was proprietor of a drug store at Weymouth Landing.

He was a past master of Delta Masonic lodge of Braintree and a past commander of South Shore Commandery of East Weymouth. He was also a member of Penalpha chapter R. A. M. and a past chancellor commander of Delphi lodge Knights of Phythias of Weymouth., and Reynolds Post G. A. R., His funeral will be held Tuesday from his late home on Webb street

BEGINS DUTIES.

Miss Edna Thomas began her duties this morning at assistant clerk to the probation officer and clerk at the court house building.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is wholesome, nutritious, crisp and delicious. Get it of your grocer.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To Thomas J. Welch otherwise called Thomas Walsh and Eliza Welch otherwise called Elizabeth Walsh the next of kin and all other persons interested in Mary Agnes Welch otherwise called Mary Agnes Walsh of Quincy in said County of Norfolk minor:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Georgianna E. Dumais of Quincy in the County of Norfolk praying for the appointment of herself, or some other suitable person as guardian with the custody of said minor: You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-fourth day of February A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why a guardian should not be appointed as aforesaid. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give notice thereof, to the next of kin of said minor, and others interested, by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, or by delivering a copy thereof to the said Thomas J. Welch otherwise called Thomas Walsh and Eliza Welch otherwise called Elizabeth Walsh at least seven days before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this second day of February in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t-Feb. 13-15-23

CHILDREN ENJOY VALENTINE PARTY

The Valentine party given by the boys and girls of the Sunday school of the First church of Squantum Saturday evening in Richards hall was a great success. A large number of children were present with their parents.

The hall was attractively decorated with red and white crepe paper streamers. Red and white hearts was suspended from streamers and formed a border around the wall of the hall. On the platform at one end of the hall was a white tent and for a small sum Madam Valentine told fortunes. The fortune teller was impersonated by Mrs. Benjamin Goldbranson. She was dressed in white crepe paper covered with red hearts and cupids, and wore a big picture hat.

A dainty lunch consisting of heart shaped cookies, cake, coffee, chocolate, and tea was served through the evening by the following: Mrs. Herman Berghaus, Mrs. Hackerson, Mrs. John Holmes, Mrs. John Mardon, Mrs. James Sumner, Mrs. Frank Anderson, Mrs. Gregory and Mrs. S. Purcell.

Games were enjoyed, these being in charge of Mrs. W. Spargo.

Mrs. C. E. Carlson and Mrs. B. Goldbranson did the decorating.

Mrs. Carlson had charge of the party and much credit is due her for the success.

LENTEN REGULATIONS.

The Lenten regulations were read in the four Catholic churches of the city Sunday. Lent begins Wednesday. The regulations, issued by William Cardinal O'Connell, Archbishop of Boston, are as follows:

1. All the days of Lent, except Sundays, are fast days of obligation.

2. Those only are bound to fast however, who are over 21 years old and not of advanced age, no one in any case being bound to fast who is over 60 years old. The following persons are also exempt from fasting: The sick and convalescent; women in delicate health and condition; those to whom fasting would cause grave injury to health, or produce such illness or exhaustion as would interfere with their daily duties; and those whose occupations are of a very laborious and exhausting nature. Those who doubt whether they are excused or not should consult their confessor.

3. On fast days those under the law are allowed but one full meal and a light supper.

4. Those whose habit it is to take their dinner in the evening are allowed a slight refection in the middle of the day. In all cases the breakfast should not be a meal, but should consist simply of a cup of coffee, chocolate or some other drink, with a small portion of bread.

5. Though the fast days of Lent are also days of abstinence by virtue of Apostolic indult even those who are obliged to fast may use flesh meat once a day on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, except the second and last Saturdays; those not obliged to fast may eat meat more than once on these days, but by special privilege granted by the Holy See, workingmen and all the members of their families who are keeping the fast may eat meat once a day on all the days of Lent save Fridays. Ash Wednesday and Wednesday and Saturday of Holy Week; those of the family who are not obliged to fast may eat meat more than once a day on any day, when the use of meat is at all permitted.

6. The use of flesh meat and fish at the same meal is forbidden to all persons during Lent, even on Sundays.

7. Those who are in some way or other dispensed from fasting or abstinence during Lent must remember that they are all the more strictly bound to mortify and deny themselves in some other way. Abstinence from all intoxicating drinks in honor of the sacred thirst of our Lord is especially commended.

8. The usual Lenten devotions will be provided in all the churches of the diocese and the faithful should be reminded that they should endeavor by earnest prayer, heartfelt contrition, and the worthy receiving of the Sacraments to profit by the special graces of the holy season.

William Cardinal O'Connell,
Archbishop of Boston.

FRACTURES ARM.

Eric Dahlquist, 40, fell down a flight of stairs Saturday evening at Richards Memorial hall and broke a bone in his left arm. Dr. Bruce was called and ordered the child taken to the Quincy hospital as the fracture was a serious one. Mr. and Mrs. William Spargo and Mrs. John R. Nelson took the child to the hospital in Mr. Spargo's automobile. The boy is reported as resting comfortably.

SPEAKS ON 100 YEARS OF PEACE

At the Parish church Sunday Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson in discussing the century of peace between England and America since the ratification of The Treaty of Ghent on February 17, 1815, referred to some of the more serious causes of irritation which might easily have drawn the two nations into war, had not such a disaster been prevented by certain moral qualities in the character of the two peoples which have enabled them to preserve "peace with honor."

Prominent among such possibilities of war he mentioned the building of the Laird rams at Liverpool in 1863—war vessels of the type of the famous Alabama, but even more powerful and dangerous, which were being constructed under contract with agents of the Southern Confederacy to make war upon the commerce and navy of the United States.

Our minister to England at that time, Charles Francis Adams, had repeatedly called the attention of the British government to the facts and had submitted proofs that these formidable warships were intended for use against the United States; but without avail until at last these "superdreadnoughts" of that period were completed and might at any time slip out of the Mersey, as the Alabama had already done. If they had thus been permitted to escape and enter the service of the Confederacy, the whole history of the Western Continent might have been changed.

The crisis had come, and Mr. Adams made a final representation to the British government, marshalling the facts with masterly clearness and vigor, and closing with the words: "I need not remind you that this is war." At last the Government was aroused to action and took immediate steps to prevent the delivery of the rams. The United States was saved from this new and deadly peril.

What was it saved our country, and made possible the restoration of the Union The Tory Government of Great Britain was in open sympathy with the South both for social and commercial reasons. It certainly did not fear our naval or military power, already involved in the throes of Civil War. But what it feared was the deep seated sense of Justice, Righteousness and Fair Play among masses of the English people, who from the days of Magna Charter had shown a growing power to make and unmake governments. The great heart of democratic England beat true It abhorred human slavery, and, in spite of considerations of financial gain or loss, it sympathized with the sturdy patriots across the sea who were fighting for liberty and union.

This, Mr. Hudson thought, was the real explanation of the Century of Peace we have enjoyed. It is the moral forces which have been developed among the English speaking people which make them today the greatest hope of permanent world peace. These moral forces however have been the outgrowth of a thousand years of steady development under the influences of a loyal and at times fanatical devotion to the Christian religion and only by a continuance of the power of Christian faith can we hope to realize a future which shall be worthy of the past.

Y. M. C. A. TEAMS ARE BEATEN

Both Newton teams beat Quincy Y. M. C. A. here Saturday night. The first score was 28 to 26 and the second 31 to 27. Trask and Rich excelled for Quincy.

NEWTON Y.M.C.A.	QUINCY Y.M.C.A.
Chivers rf	lb Chapman
Wiley lf mm	rb Ke
Bells c	c Trask
McKenzie rb	lf Rich
Jacobs lb	rf Jenkins

Score, Newton 28, Quincy 26. Goals from floor, Chivers, Wiley 4, Bells, Jacobs 5, Trask 3 Rich 4, Jenkins 3. Goals from fouls, Jacobs 6, Trask 6. Referee, Wiband. Scorer La Rose. Timer, French. Time, 20m halves. Attendance 200.

NEWTON 2DS	QUINCY 2DS
Hitchcock rf	lb Brooks
Sprague rf
Irving lf	rb Shirley
Kerr c	c Bishop
Viles rb	lf Dineen
Hunt lb	rf Thomas

Score, Newton 2ds 31, Quincy 27. Goals from floor Hitchcock 3, Irving 4, Kerr 2, Viles 2, Hunt, Brooks Bishop 3, Dineen 4, Thomas 4. Goals from fouls Viles 7, Thomas 3.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

CONFESSES TO KILLING

Lad of Fourteen Stabs Fellow Chorister After a Quarrel

Boston, Feb. 15.—Fourteen-year-old Wright A. Edmunston, Jr., of Cambridge was held by the juvenile court in $1000 bail on a charge of manslaughter for stabbing fatally John S. Goodwin, a fellow chorister at the Church of St. John the Evangelist.

Edmundston told the story of the stabbing without hesitation. He said:

"Goodwin had been picking on me in church during the rehearsal and said he would get me and 'put it all over' me when he got me outside," said the boy. "After rehearsal he chased me up Bowdoin street to Beacon street, and got me in a doorway. I pulled out the knife that they gave me in church Christmas and struck at Goodwin and ran. He followed me, but I got ahead of him and ran into the Cambridge subway."

Efforts were made to locate the mother of Goodwin. It was said at the home of Mrs. Bertha D. Foster in Brookline, where the boy lived under the care of the Children's Aid society, that the mother was in the west or possibly in the canal zone. The Children's Aid society will take charge of the boy's body.

"SOLD OUT TO RAYMOND"

Originator of Famous Advertising Line Dies in the West

Boston, Feb. 15.—George J. Raymond, head of the Raymond Syndicate and one of Boston's best known business men, known almost everywhere as "Sold out to Raymond," died at Hot Springs, Ark.

His death was unexpected, although he had been in poor health for several weeks, and went there for treatment.

Raymond's rise in the business world was picturesque and unusual. He drove into his business tremendous energy, originality and personality. He displayed great ability in buying and in disposing of his goods. He had a boundless faith in advertising and his own personality was his adtisements' great attraction to the public.

The merchant was not only commercially prominent, but was picturesque in politics and civic life as well. He was born sixty-two years ago in New Brunswick.

EXPECT THAT MORS WILL BE DEPORTED

Odd Fellows Express Belief That Alleged Slayer Is Insane

New York, Feb. 15.—Frederic Mors, who swore that he killed eight aged inmates of the German Odd Fellows' home at Yonkers, will be declared insane and deported, officers of the Odd Fellows declare.

Thomas McNight, grand master of the state lodge, said he knew positively there would be no grand jury investigation of Mors' confession. He said he had been assured by Westchester county authorities that Mors' stories of conditions at the home have been accepted as insane ravings, and that arrangements are being made to send the former orderly back to Austria.

CALLED TO NEW JOB

Editors of Three New Bedford Newspapers on Jury Duty

New Bedford, Mass., Feb. 15.—The call of the jury has left the ranks of local newspaperdom almost deserted by its leaders. Three editors of three different New Bedford newspapers have been called to do jury duty at the sitting of the superior court, and they have all left their positions in the hands of assistant editors.

A freak of fortune caused the drawing of the three editors for jury duty, and though they may all differ in editorial policies, they will perforce be members of juries where an agreement is more necessary than it is in the outside world.

CHINA STANDS PAT

Will Refuse to Acquiesce In Demands Made by Japan

Pekin, Feb. 15.—The Chinese minister at Tokio reported to his government that the Japanese foreign minister, Baron Kato, had declared that Japan must insist on the acceptance of the Japanese note to China.

At the Chinese foreign office, however, it was said to be the intention of the Pekin government to continue in its refusal to acquiesce in the Japanese demands.

Deficit Caused by Prohibition

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 15.—Governor Hatfield sent to the legislature a special message asking legislation to make up the deficiency of $600,000 occasioned by the operation of the prohibition amendment.

Couple Killed by Gas

Fall River, Mass., Feb. 15.—Patrick Hogan and his wife, Mary, were killed by gas escaping from the oven burners of the kitchen. The medical examiner said the deaths were accidental.

Bernhardt Going Under Knife

Paris, Feb. 15.—Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, unable to walk because of an affection of the knee, was carried to Bordeaux to undergo a surgical operation.

SPORTING COMMENT

The Revere Journal of Feb. 13. says the following about the game between Revere and Quincy high schools:

"In a fast and furious game, the result of which was in doubt up to the last minute of play, Quincy high won from Revere high in the interscholastic League on Tuesday afternoon, 14 to 13. at Quincy.

"For Quincy, the floor work of Davis and Beaton was a strong factor in preventing Revere's splendid team work from scoring a number of times. Hamlin, left forward for Quincy, was retired by Referee Coady for alleged clinching."

Manager Low Pieper of the Lynn N. E: league team wants the Manchester N. H. team shifted to Fitchburg. Paul McHall of the Worcester N. E. team is willing to back the International league in that city.

George Stallings of the Braves has recovered from his illness.

Bill Sweeney Charley Smith, Tommy Leach and Stack, have been released by Chicago. Young bloods will take their places.

The Braves are due at Macon, Ga., March 1.

Yale nosed Dartmouth out of a basket ball victory Saturday, 31 to 29.

Lehigh beat Tech 32 to 12.

Lynn Y. M. C. A. beat Melrose, 49 to 13.

Wellesley High beat Revere High 37 to 11 Saturday night and won the championship of the Interscholastic league for the second time.

Wellesley High 2d by winning over Revere 2d, 12 to 11, went into first place in the Junior league. The team has only been beaten by Quincy 2d and if the latter wins the rest of its games both will be tied for the championship.

The only blot on the champs record was made by Winthrop in midseason.

The unbeaten Boston College High, the champs, and Melrose High are contenders for state honors. B. C. high meets Weymouth today, and Wellesley plays Brockton Thursday. B. C. high eliminated Brockton from the running for honors last week. Melrose plays Chelsea a week from Thursday.

Matty Baldwin in defeating Beecher in New York Saturday showed old time speed.

Eddie Morgan of England lost to Johnnie Kilbane in "Phillie" Saturday, but was game to the finish.

The Indiana legislature is considering a boxing bill which provides for 10-round bouts and one commission.

Manager Louis Ross of the Wardwell alleys has offered a silver cup to the winners of a special match between tandem teams representing the clubs of the Quincy Social clubs' league. Larson and Djerf will probably represent the Nonpareils.

Banquets to bring about a fitting close of the bowling season are being planned by the Fore River and Quincy Social Club leagues. The latter has chosen Feb. 23 for that event.

The proposed pool match between Ted Muir and Ernest Knight has taken a new turn. Friends of Muir have maintained Knight refused to play. Knight now claims his forfeit is in the hands of Jerome Markham. The outlook for a series is promising.

DISTRICT COURT.

William H. Smith was fined $15, Lawrence Sullivan $15, and Andrew F Anderson $10 for drunkenness at Quincy.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is baked by experts in proved ovens. Sold by grocers.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
Telephone 1153-M Quincy
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy F27

CHICHESTER S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter-s Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Margaret A McPherson late of Quincy in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Christina McPherson of said Quincy without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the seventeenth day of February A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-seventh day of January A. D. 1915.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Feb. 1-8-15.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of John Dever, late of Quincy, in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Annie Dever of said Quincy who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline in said County of Norfolk on the twenty-fourth day of February A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court. Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twelfth day of February in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Feb 13-15-23

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8. 30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

CONLIN SHOE REPAIRING

Men's Sewed Taps and Heels	75c
Men's Sewed Taps and Rubber heels	$1.00
Men's Nail Taps and Heels	65c
Men's Heels	20c
Ladies' Taps and Heels Sewed	65c
Ladies Taps and Rubber heels Sewed	85c
Ladies Heels	15c
Rubber Heels	40c and 50c
Skates Sharpened, New Process	15c
$4 Ralston Shoes for	1.50

Hancock and Saville Sts.
Tel. 961-M. Oct. 7-tf

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con.

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES.
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY FETE

Clever Conceits In Colonial Style For Giving the Patriotic Touch to Social Functions In Honor of the Father of His Country.

THE Washington birthday hostess should have everything truly American from the colors in her decorations to the mold of the ice cream on her menu.

The colonial reception gives the fortunate owner of rare old silver or beautiful china a splendid opportunity to display her heirlooms and antiques.

If in the family possessions there are no colonial heirlooms and antiques the hostess need not despair, for the shops are full of excellent imitations that are inexpensive and give a most satisfactory effect.

CHERRY TREE MATCH SAFE.

The place cards and favors for a Washington party are various and many of them are easily made. Little cardboard figures of George and Martha Washington are most effective place cards. Attractive place cards are made of white mat board with red, white and blue shield either painted on or cut from a paper napkin and pasted on the board.

Interesting little favors are tiny cabins made of dark brown corrugated paper and filled with bonbons. On the slanting roof of the cabin is a tiny hatchet carrying on its handle a couple of cherries tied with patriotic ribbon. The centerpiece to correspond with this is a large cabin built on the same design with windows of red, white and blue tissue. The candles burn inside and light up the windows.

The baskets fashioned of white or red paper with clusters of cherries tied to the handles are filled with wintergreen candies.

The bonbon boxes, made to imitate bark covered stumps, to which are attached little hatchets, are favors much in demand, as are the logs fashioned somewhat after the same line.

A little more expensive and almost impossible to make at home are the funny colonial figures, the bodies of which are made to look like a tree trunk. The head is a large red cherry turned around so that the stem serves as a pigtail. The eyes, the nose and the mouth are painted on and a cocked hat made of black cardboard tops off this figure.

The handsome favor illustrated here is a match safe made to imitate bark. The cluster of artificial cherries tied at the side is fastened with red, white and blue ribbon. Thus it represents the cherry tree fruit and bark.

FOR VALENTINE DAY'S LUNCHEON

Novelties Best Appeal to the Guests, and Many of These May Be Fashioned by the Clever Fingers of the Hostess.

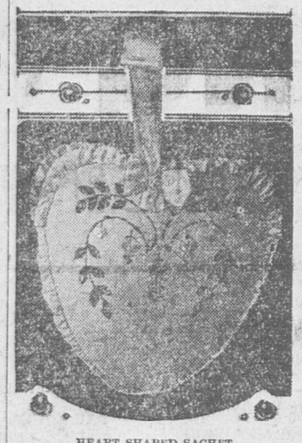

ONE of the least expensive and most satisfactory ways of entertaining on Valentine's day is to give a luncheon.

At a valentine luncheon last year the hostess hit on a new idea. The day before the luncheon she mailed to her own address a little package for each guest.

At dessert the maid answered a ring at the door given by an imaginary postman—really a small daughter, who thought it a treat to be in her mother's secret—and appeared in the dining room with a trayful of packages done up with red twine with hearts of paper used as seals.

A merry ten minutes followed while the guests unfastened the bundles. Some of the gifts inclosed were jokes on hobbies of the guests. A woman with a weakness for sweets found a little satin heart full of bonbons. A woman with a taste for pretty clothes unrolled layers of waxed papers to find a true confection of the milliner's art—a candy hat, trimmed with candy flowers and ribbons. The unmarried guests found little plaster cupids, one wielding an arrow, another carving a heart, another linking two rings together.

The table decorations at this luncheon, designed by the clever hostess, showed a bank of red carnations and asparagus fern in the center of the table. Half a dozen small plaster cupids were hidden in the greenery and flowers. To the hand of each cupid several streamers of red satin ribbons, baby width, were tied, and these streamers led to each guest's place, where they ended in a rosette fastened to the place cards—hand painted with cupids and hearts. Under the rosette the stems of long stemmed carnations and a sprig of fern were slipped.

HEART SHAPED SACHET.

Plaster cupids in marble white five inches tall and well modeled make attractive place favors. Each of these cupids carries over his arm with a colored ribbon a square box—about an inch square. Each box could contain a different sort of trinket.

The heart shaped souvenir pictured here is a little sachet which may be used for scenting milady's dainty garments. The ribbon hanger is ornamental and may be useful in attaching it to the clothing. The sachet is of pink silk embroidered in a darker shade. A piece of cardboard covered with wadding and thickly sprinkled with sachet powder is the foundation for the sachet.

The Modish Maiden Now Affects The Torpedo Shaped Hand Bag

SMART NEW MILITARY HAND BAG.

THE military influence has made itself felt even among designers of accessories for women's dress. An example of this exploitation of the military idea may be seen by a glance at the illustration. This shows the new torpedo shaped hand bag of black leather. This attractive trifle is mounted in gun metal and supplied with toilet accessories to match. The lining is of soft white leather.

KAISER WILL MEET GERARD

Personal Conference Over Protest of United States

GERMANY TAKES FIRM STAND

Not Inclined to Modify Conditions Set Forth by War Zone Proclamation—Russians Fighting For Lost Ground In East Prussia, a Million Men Being Engaged In Great Conflict—War Staffs of Both Nations Hold Back Details of Battles—Austria Thought to Have Engineered Albania's Entry Into War—Fighting In West Continues to Be of Petty Character

London, Feb. 15.—The kaiser has invited Ambassador Gerard to his field headquarters in East Prussia for a conference.

Only four days remain before the German admiralty's proclamation of a submarine war against enemy merchant ships goes into effect, and all waters contiguous to the British Isles will become a war zone, dangerous to neutral shipping. That the kaiser has invited the American ambassador to a hasty conference shows how deeply the German foreign office is concerned over the protest of the United States that American ships and the lives of American citizens must be made safe.

The German foreign office is now preparing an answer to the American note. This reply will be couched in language as friendly as that which marked the representations of the United States, but it is said that the note will firmly decline to modify the conditions set forth by the war zone proclamation, and the note is likely to assert even more strongly than did the original proclamation that the commanders of the German submarines cannot undertake to search every merchant ship in the war zones flying a neutral flag.

The idea is entertained in some quarters that Germany may suggest that the United States send an American warship to convoy American merchant ships through the danger zone, thus guaranteeing the neutrality of the vessels.

German feeling, so far as it can be judged by the Berlin newspapers, is distinctly hostile to the United States. The editorials are all determined in tone. A few are couched in friendly language, but several of them, notably Die Post and the Tages Zeitun, employ sharp phrases.

Fighting In the East

Two great battles are under way at either end of the long Russian line, one on the frontier of East Prussia and the other near the Transylvania border, in Bukowina.

In both conflicts the Russians, after having been compelled to retreat before overwhelming forces of Germans and Austrians, are striving desperately to recover the ground so suddenly lost.

In the north, the battle is being fought on Russian soil, along a line just east of the German frontier, and probably extending nearly the entire distance of 100 miles, between the two Russian fortresses of Lomza and Kovno.

At a point about midway between these is the third fortress of Grodno, and it is this trio of fortified places which form points of support for the reorganized Russian forces.

Fighting at Lyck, about ten miles from the border, on the German side, has been reported, but this may be only rear guard actions by the retiring Russian forces.

Million Men Fighting

While both Berlin and Petrograd have again drawn the curtain over the great conflict, the result of which may not be known for several days, it is estimated that fully 1,000,000 men are engaged west of the Niemen. General von Hindenberg's great strategic coup of last week hurled 200,000 new troops into East Prussia in addition to the big forces of Germans already there, and further reinforcements, drawn from the Warsaw front, from Galicia and even from Belgium are pouring into the province every hour.

On the other side Grand Duke Nicholas has promptly met the situation by hurrying more than a quarter of a million men from behind Warsaw and other fortified places to reinforce the armies that are facing the Germans between the Niemen river and the East Prussian frontier.

In Bukowina the battle line appears to be on the Sereth river, which would indicate that the Russian retreat was halted before it reached Czernowitz, their original objective after retiring from Suczawa, the capital. As in the northern battle, details are being held back by the war staffs.

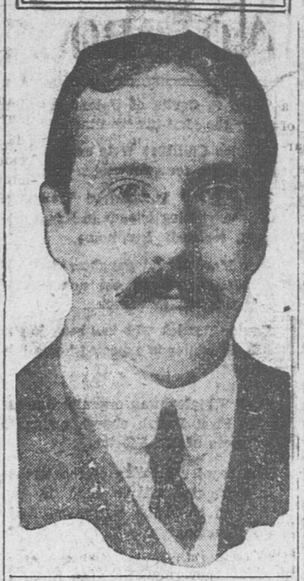

Albania Invades Servia

A new element, although one of minor importance, excepting as it may affect the attitude of Italy and Greece, entered the war with the appearance of little Albania as an invader of Servia.

Official dispatches from Nish declare that heavy Albanian forces suddenly crossed the Servian frontier in the department of Prinsrend, and advanced in such force and with such vigor that Servian troops and municipal authorities were compelled to flee before them.

JAMES W. GERARD.

He Is United States Ambassador to Germany.

While Albania is ostensibly under the direction of the European powers it has been realized ever since the war began that she is almost entirely under the influence of Austria, and there is no doubt felt in diplomatic circles in London that the present invasion has been engineered by Austria in an endeavor to divert the Serbs from the proposed new Austrian attacks on the Danube.

It remains to be seen whether Italy and Greece, both of whom claim certain rights in Albania, will allow that country to be used as a weapon against the Serbs, with whom both the former nations are friendly.

Quiet In the West

Military operations in France and Flanders continue on a minor scale, the petty character of the fighting being a surprise to London military critics, who had expected a resumption of hostilities of a violent nature while the Russians and Germans are locked in deadly struggles in the east.

The French have lost two important positions in Lorraine, near Ponta-Mousson, where the Germans have captured the town of Norroy and hill No. 365, taking two officers and 151 men as prisoners. A strong counter-attack is now under way by the French in an endeavor to regain the lost ground.

In the Champagne district, further west, the Germans have been unusually busy with their artillery, and shell-riddled Rheims has again been bombarded.

Artillery work in the Flanders section is becoming more violent. The latest feat of the Germans has been the bombardment of Nieuwport-le-Bains and the attempted destruction of the Belgian trenches on the Grand Dune, captured by the allies several weeks ago.

LUSITANIA STARTS WEST

Captain Says He Will Use the Stars and Stripes If They Are Needed

That the German threat against British shipping will have little effect on the transatlantic service is shown by the huge list of passengers the Lusitania carried when she left Liverpool for New York. The fleet Cunard steamship is speeding westward with the largest number of passengers she has carried this year.

Just before the Lusitania started from her pier and started down the Mersey Captain Dow declared:

"I hoisted the Stars and Stripes on the eastward voyage because of the danger of German pirate submarines. If a similar danger arises again I shall do the same thing, because if my passengers have to die through German torpedoes I am sure they would rather go down under the Stars and Stripes than under any other flag. But I am sailing under the British flag, and the American emblem will be used only if I believe it necessary."

RETURNS TO PRISON

French Soldier Keeps Pledge Personally Made to Kaiser

Raoul Davidot, a French prisoner of war, returned to Germany from a visit to his home in France, where he was permitted to go by order of Emperor William to see his dying mother.

The Frenchman wrote direct to the emperor his request to be allowed to visit his mother, pledging his word of honor to return by March 1. The emperor immediately granted the request and Davidot made the trip to France by way of Switzerland. After the death of his mother he returned to the detention camp in Germany.

Flood Threatens Rome

Rome, Feb. 15.—The river Tiber is rising rapidly and part of the city is already flooded. Serious consequences are feared.

House Passes Sundry Civil Bill

Washington, Feb. 15.—The sundry civil appropriation bill, carrying $125,000,000, was passed in the house

Paradoxical.

He—You have had a week now to think over my proposal of marriage. She—Yes; and the more I think of it the less I think of it.—Boston Transcript.

SKIN OF THE FRUIT.

It Is Wise Not to Eat Apples or Pears Without Peeling Them.

Some people say that an apple does not taste right when the skin is removed. Some even go so far as to say there is danger in eating fruit that has come in contact with the steel of the paring knife, as the acid in the fruit is apt to produce some poison when it comes in contact with the metal. But whether these things are true or not, there is still greater danger in eating apples without peeling them.

The skin of the apple has always been more or less infested with germs of different types, and now our modern methods of fighting insects by spraying the trees are liable to leave poisonous deposits on it which will do our stomachs serious harm.

Arsenate of lead, lime and sulphur wash and a number of other spraying compounds used by fruit growers have been found to remain in considerable quantities on the skin of apples and pears until ripe and placed on the market. The action of such chemicals upon the tissues of the human body is very injurious.

Spraying the trees is giving us more perfect fruit and getting the grower better prices, but if you value your health you should never eat apples or pears without first removing the peels. —New York American.

NAPOLEON VALUED TIME.

He Might Have to Lose Battles, but He Would Not Lose Minutes.

After forcing the army of Sardinia back toward Turin, Napoleon had scarcely taken possession of the beautiful Palace Salmatori, at Cherasco, thirty-five miles from the Piedmontese capital, when an aged marshal from the Sardinian side came and informed the little general of the French that the king was about to propose terms of peace.

"Terms!" shouted the young commander in chief in startling tones, as he pounded the desk, "it is I who name terms. If you don't accept them at once Turin is mine tomorrow!"

Although the directory, sitting in far away Paris, had reserved the right for themselves and their trained diplomats to accept or reject terms, the young general could not delay operations for weeks while messengers were sent back and forth between the camp and the capital, so Bonaparte took it upon himself to arrange an armistice. He called a halt to all sparring for time by drawing out his watch and, tapping the dial with his forefinger, ordered them to sign immediately, remarking:

"I may lose battles, but I will not lose minutes."—Condensed From "In the Path of Napoleon," by James Mangan.

His Indorsement.

The late Lord Roberts once sent his orderly to the bank to cash a check, says Pearson's Weekly, and the clerk wanted it indorsed.

"What for?" demanded the soldier.

"Well, it's the rule, and I can't pay you the money until you do indorse it," he was told.

"Oh, all right," grumbled the messenger. So he took back the check and bit the end of a pen in deep meditation for a minute or two. Then he wrote this:

"I beg to say that I have known Lord Roberts for several years, and he has proved himself times without number to be as brave as a lion, but always kindly considerate to those who serve under him. And I have, therefore, great pleasure in respectfully indorsing his check."

Difficulties of Pronunciation.

What is the most difficult English place name for a foreigner to pronounce? That is a question suggested by a writer in the London Observer. He plumps for Southampton as the most difficult "port of call" for the Frenchman bound for England. Obviously it cannot be spelled phonetically, as there is no "th" in French. We all have these little international difficulties. But the Frenchman gets over the sea to Southampton by calling it "Sudonton."

A Few Choice House Lots — ON — PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX

are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.

SWITHIN

3 GREENLEAF BLOCK

Jan. 5-tf

FOR SALE

House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,300. Straight loan of $2,000.

EDMUND C. HAYDEN

Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing

HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.

129 Tremont St., Boston.

Oct. 8-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Insurance

Auctioneer Care of Property

Justice of the Peace

Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.90. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 13-9t

TO LET—Three connecting unfurnished rooms. Apply 32 Newcomb place. 13-3t

TO LET—After March 1, House of nine rooms with all modern conveniences at 5 Summer street. Apply to Dr. D. B. Reardon, 1186 Hancock street. 11-tf

TO LET—Lower tenement with all improvements. Rent $19.50 per month C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 11-6t

TO LET—Apartment of five rooms and bath in new house, all modern improvements, fine location, 26 Bradford street, off Franklin street. Apply to F. Barnicoat, Quincy. 10-tf

TO LET—Lower flat, 42 Euclid avenue, 5 rooms all modern improvements. For particulars address Mr. P. J. Curry, 94 Federal avenue or phone Quincy 1075M. 9-12t

TO LET—Half of colonial house on Russell park, 7 rooms and bath, fireplace, coal and gas range and all modern conveniences. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 9-tf

TO LET—Flat of seven rooms with electric lights, gas stove, range at 32 Euclid avenue. Apply at 12 Berkeley street. 6-12t

TO LET—Two or three rooms, furnished or unfurnished for light housekeeping, all improvements, reasonable rent, board if desired. 132 Marlboro street, Wollaston Park. 6-tf.

TO LET—To small family of adults several very desirable new tenements $22 and up, also stable $10 per month; store $10 per month. Apply to C. H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. Tel. 174-2 Quincy. 4-12t

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Four room apartment, new house, all improvements. Apply at 226 Franklin street. 30-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36

Second Floor

Savings Bank Building

Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes

Quincy Savings Bank

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.

Nov

TO LET

TO LET—Furnished rooms in newly renovated house, hot water heat, all conveniences. Gentlemen only. Meals if desired. Garage room for one automobile. Apply to Mrs. A. E. English, 273 Newport avenue, Wollaston. 15-6t

TO LET—New single house, with 5 rooms, bath, range, hot and cold water furnace heat, gas light. Vacant Mar. 1. John A. Wedden Greenleaf Block. 15-6t

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

LOST

LOST—Thursday evening in Music hall or on Hancock street between there and Quincy Car House, a pearl brooch. Please return to 901 Hancock street. 13-3t

WANTED

WANTED—A second hand cook stove and wash tubs for a needy family. Associated Charities, 148 Goffe street. Feb. 13-3t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—1 pair horses, weigh 2500, 1 bay horse, 7 years old, 1600, very cheap for cash. Also, one and one-half ton auto car truck in fine condition, just overhauled by auto car company and returned to me in pink of condition. No reasonable offer will be refused for the above, demonstration given. H. G. Pope, Squantum. Tel. Quincy 2267-W. 13-3t

FOR SALE—Two flat house in South Quincy. Hard wood finish, modern plumbing. Very desirable renting proposition, never vacant since built. For particulars enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 9-tf 1po

MISCELLANEOUS

SOME ONE—Please answer who would be willing to take a fine upright piano into their home. Prefer small private family who might consider purchase later if well pleased. Write for full information, E. C., Ledger office. 12-6t

DRESSMAKING, plain sewing, children's clothes done at reasonable prices by woman of experience. Write E. R. Ledger Office. 9-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

TO LET

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.

22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up

Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld.

Small front office.

Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop

—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall

—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK

CITY SQUARE

(Best location in City.)

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water, $3.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS

Music Hall with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 140—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 100.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.

Ask for L. r. Kribus.

Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

SPECIALS FOR TUESDAY

Corned Shoulders 11c lb
North's Lean Bacon 20c lb. piece
Fresh Liver 10c lb

QUINCY PUBLIC MARKET
1514 Hancock St., Kincaides Bldg.
Phone 1434 J. Legal Stamps Free Delivery
Watch this space for Wednesday Specials

PAGANISM SAPPING LIFE OF AMERICA

Rev. Willmott Says Billy Sunday May be Man Century Needs

That there was terrible need of a man to drive the church back to the common people and redeem it from Paganism was the contention of Rev. Benj. A. Willmott in his Sunday evening sermon on "Why Mr. Sunday?"

Although frankly declaring that he himself shrank from Sunday's methods he declared that the need was so overwhelming that he would welcome the redeemer in whatsoever guise he might present himself. Although admitting his distaste personally for the phraseology employed by Sunday he pointed out that Sunday was using the language which would reach and move the class to whom he spoke and that in this he did precisely as Christ, who spoke always in the language best adapted to his hearers.

In opening Mr. Willmott pointed out that what he said was an expression of personal opinion and in no way bound the church.

"I am sure," said the speaker, "that no earnest clergyman nor layman round Boston will disagree with me when I say that our churches are confronted today with a great, overwhelming tide of Paganism. It is threatening the very life of our democracy, imperilling our business and morals. It is one of the greatest perils the nations ever faced.

"In New England, the home of Puritanism, is the same seeming reaction to Paganism. Many churches if not empty are nearly so. The church in the eyes of many men has become a joke. In the eyes of the workingmen it has become the foe of the social and economic aims of the poor. The church has been arrayed unjustly on the side of economic injustice.

"There are churches which frankly say 'we are ministering to a class.' Imagine Christ ministering to a class. It has come to pass that business men, cultured men and working men have turned away from the church. Young men have absolutely no use for it. If they do go they are coherced there by entertainments or suppers. The church supports subterfuges of this character, which would be called dishonest in the business world.

"Just as soon as a church gets on an altitude where it has nothing for the common man it has lost its grip on the bulk of our humanity. The church of Christ will have to be driven back to the common people. There is absolutely no hope for a church fed by the intellectual class.

"Every century somebody has come from the people to translate religion in terms of human life. When Luther came the church had dry rot. When Wesley came the church had gone over to the rich. We face the same condition today. We have cut loose from the rank and file and preach to a select few and those few are so gospel-hardened that the Son of God Himself could make no impression if he came. Those are the conditions. I speak of them with shame. Coldness and indifference have paralyzed the church of Christ. We sing 'Onward Christian Soldiers' and are backstepping all the time we sing.

"Such are the conditions. Is Billy Sunday the man to remedy them?

"Frankly I shrink from Sunday. I wish we did not need such a terrific doctor to deal with conditions, but when I see the masses, sheep without a shepherd, what do my feelings count? When I can almost feel the morals of the community crackling why should I oppose my feelings? If he can help, why God be thanked. If a life boat can get to the sinking man why thank God for the life boat. If a fashionable yacht can get to the sinking man why thank God for the fashionable yacht. If an old fishing dory can get to the sinking man why thank God for the fishing dory. I want the man saved.

"I think the average person is grossly misled about Sunday's manner of speech. I was. He was an old baseball player and he used the phraseology of baseball. As a matter of fact Jesus Christ was the most thoroughgoing sensational of his age. He called men vipers hypocrites. He lashed sins right and left and poured on oil to heal the wounds. Sunday is an educated man, but he uses the language which will reach his hearers.

"It is said he takes money away from the places where he preaches I don't know what he does with it. Someone asked him once and he told him it was none of his business. I don't know as it is. I wish this element did not enter into it so much but the money he gets is a free gift. Billy Sunday helps men, he redeems men.

"Boston is the last place in creation where one can treat the gospel with any degree of comfort. There is only one sin in Boston, infelicity of speech. If Sunday comes to Boston he will hurt me but if he will save men I will do anything to have him here. He'll make me feel as if I'd been through a cyclone. But I want to be big enough and I want you to be big enough to take within your scope all kinds of men. We face a condition in America far more serious than intellectualism. Intellectualism is not doing anything to save this world. If anything will fend of the day of social revolution in America and give us a chance to develop normally, God speed it.

"If Sunday comes to Boston I'll do everything I can to help him and I want you to do the same. This may not be the way you regard Sunday, I know some of you differ with me. But its the way I regard him and, if you will pardon me for saying it, I think it is the Christian way."

POLICE RAID MRS. PALMA.

Capt. McKay and Inspector Goodhue raided the premises of Mrs. Teresa Palma at 1 Willard street Sunday afternoon and seized a pint of whiskey. This was found on the person of Mrs. Palma. The home of the Palma's has been visited a number of times by the police and the husband of the woman is now doing time at Dedham. On his first offence the case was continued on probation and a little later the police again raided him and seized liquors. Then Palma skipped and did not come back until last December when he went to Dedham jail on a sentence.

Mrs. Palma was raided last January but was not brought into court as she had five small children to support and promised to stop doing business.

MAY NOT ACCEPT CALL.

Rev. Hokenson Wanted By Lowell Church.

Rev. Leander Hokenson of the Swedish Lutheran church may not accept the call to become pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church at Lowell although a strong effort is being made by that church to receive a favorable answer. The call carries with it an increase in salary of several hundred dollars over what he receives here. Rev. Mr. Hokenson has been here three years and is building an addition to his church on Granite street.

MAKARIA LOSE.

The St. Alphonsus A. A. won two victories over the Makaria teams Saturday night. The scores were 25 to 20 and 24 to 10.

You need the Ledger every day. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

ARMY CAMP WATER.

How the Supply Is Conserved and Used In the German Army.

Suitable drinking water is of vital importance to an army, and this is only one of a multitude of problems that must be studied carefully by those who conduct a successful campaign. The water supply of a camp is a matter of great importance. Only running water is used.

In the German army the upstream water is used for drinking purposes and the downstream water for watering horses and for bathing. Suitable signs notify the men which water is safe to drink and which may be used only for bathing. In shallow or narrow streams basins are dug or small dams built so as to form a reservoir of ample dimensions.

Stepping stones are provided to keep the water clean, as well as board protection to prevent the banks from crumbling. Basins are dug for watering horses; troughs are provided only in case of necessity and are then propped on posts and filled by means of pumps. Pipes may be driven if water lies at a reasonable depth—in other words, not more than twenty feet. Depending upon their size, these pipes will deliver from four to twenty-two gallons of water per minute.

If water lies very near the surface a hole is dug and a cask, the bottom of which has been knocked out, is placed in the hole to form a basin. If the water lies at a greater depth the basin may be formed of box sections driven in one on top of the other.—Scientific American.

FISHES WITH ITS WINGS.

The Cassowary Has a Way of Its Own For Capturing Its Prey.

Habits of the cormorant and of our native fish hawk are generally known. Their methods of taking fish are very much like those of birds of prey. But the cassowary fishes according to a method of its own. A well known naturalist witnessed its operations on a river in the island of New Britain.

He saw a cassowary come down to the water's edge and stand for some minutes apparently watching the water carefully. It then stepped into the river where it was about three feet deep and, partially squatting down, spread its wings out, submerging them, the feathers being spread and ruffled.

The bird remained motionless and kept its eyes closed as if in sleep. It remained in this position for a quarter of an hour, when, suddenly closing its wings and straightening its feathers, it stepped out on the bank. Here it shook itself several times, whereupon a quantity of small fishes fell out of its wings and from amid its feathers. These the bird immediately picked up and swallowed.

The fishes had evidently mistaken the feathers for a kind of weed that grows in the water along the banks of the river in this island and which much resemble the feathers of the cassowary. The smaller fishes hide in these weeds to avoid the larger ones that prey on them.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Camels In Warfare.

Camels are a feature of warfare in the far east. Basar was in the year 656 the scene of a fight known as the battle of the camel, in which Ayeshah, the wife of Mahomet, headed the charge mounted upon one of these beasts. And down through the centuries Arab hosts have been led by a girl riding on a blackened camel, singing songs of encouragement to her own side and insult to the other. According to the strict rules of the game, her capture or death meant the flight of her tribe, while in the event of victory she led the triumphal march.—London Chronicle.

Human Life.

Human life is the same everywhere if we could but get at the truth we should find that all the tragedy and comedy of Shakespeare have been reproduced in this little village. God has made all of one blood. What is true of one man is in some sort true of another. Manifestations may differ, but the essential elements and springs of action are the same.—Whittier.

Sleep in the Dark.

The most undisturbed sleep is always enjoyed in a thoroughly darkened room. Light acts upon the brain, and those who keep their blinds up will find that in the summer time, when so few hours are really dark, their sleep is restless and disturbed. This is often attributed to the heat, but more often than not it is the light which causes wakefulness.

Where the Danger Was.

"I'd cross the world for you, dear," said the infatuated young man on the parlor sofa.

"Oh, that's all right," said the sweet young thing alongside of him, "but don't cross father."—Yonkers Statesman.

Herat's Hard Luck.

The city which has been most often destroyed is Herat, in Afghanistan. Fifty-six times have its walls been laid in ruins, and fifty-seven times have they been built.

The Proper Thing.

"Here's a story of a man who hanged himself, and space is short. What shall I do?"

"Cut him down."—Baltimore American.

The man makes the circumstances and is spiritually as well as economically the artificer of his own fortune. —Carlyle.

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Jesse F. Curtis of Upland road is among the shut-ins by illness.

Charles Cuthbert Wrigley has gone to Bermuda for two weeks vacation.

Mrs. Harry Thomas of Wollaston has been visiting friends in North Abington, formerly her home.

Guy Marden and daughter Eva of Dorchester renewed old acquaintances in this city last week.

Dexter Remick who has been in the south all winter is expected home this week.

Prof. Wrigley was organist Sunday at the First Parish church owing to the illness of Mr. Weston.

The regular meeting of the Methodist Men's club will be held in the Wollaston Methodist church on Wednesday evening.

Thomas C. Hewson of Newcomb place is entertaining his brother, Capt. John Hewson who has just returned from Europe.

Councilman and Mrs. James O'Dowd of Copeland street entertained their nephew, Valentine O'Dowd of Tacoma, Washington, the past week.

At the session of the Sunday school of the First Parish church Sunday the school used the peace service prepared for use in England and America.

Miss Martha Clean of 24 Walker street, Atlantic has been confined to her house through illness the past week.

Miss Rose Alma Hallett of Centreville is the guest of her sister. Mrs. Wm. J. Voss, 92 Botolph street, Atlantic.

Mrs. Hugh Stockwell of Charlestown, is the guest of Mrs. H. K. Ellis 36 Warwick street for a few days before leaving for her new home in Orona, Florida.

Friends of Mrs. Annie T. Thompson will be sorry to learn that she is confined to her home on Beal street having had the misfortune to fall on the ice injuring her back and hip.

The regular meeting of the St. Mary's C. T. A. & M. R. Society has been postponed until Tuesday evening to allow the members to attend St. Marys reunion.

George T. Young of Quincy made the presentation speech to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Small of Randolph, when their friends presented them with a music cabinet in celebration of their 10th wedding anniversary Friday.

Mrs. Mary Hastings Slade attended the midwinter reunion of the Isles of Shoals Summer Meetings association Saturday at the Second church, Boston and contributed to the enjoyment of others attending by rendering several solos. She attended the meetings last summer being of the quartet furnishing the music for the meetings.

CITY HALL NOTES

An executive session of the School Committee was held Saturday evening at which time the Board made up its annual budget which will probably go to the city council tonight.

Mayor Campbell held a conference with the trustees of the City Hospital Saturday afternoon in relation to the amount to be asked for current expenses this year by the hospital. The session was an executive one.

Commissioner Brown was summoned to Dedham this morning to testify in a civil suit.

A large amount of new business is expected to be introduced at tonight's meeting of the city council.

DEATHS

DUNBAR—In Quincy, Feb. 13, Lucy J., widow of James F. Dunbar, 65 years, 11 months.
Funeral services at chapel, Mt. Vernon Church, corner Beacon street and Massachusetts avenue, Boston, Tuesday, Feb. 16, at 2 P. M. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

FAXON—In Quincy, Feb. 14, Elizabeth F. Faxon of Quincy, aged 51.
Funeral services at First Unitarian church, Tuesday at 2.30 p. m. Relatives and friends invited.

PIERCE—In Weymouth, Feb. 14, David J. Pierce, aged 75 years

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

THE THIEF
Daniel Frohman's New York Lyceum Theatre Success
BY HENRY BERNSTEIN—featuring
DOROTHY DONNELLY
CREATOR OF MADAM X
RICHARD BUHLER and an all star cast
Every lover of good acting will enjoy this remarkable Photo Play
REFINED VAUDEVILLE—Watkins and Williams, Singing and Dancing Rapid Change Artists, Monti Trio, European Singing Troubadours and Hamilton Bros. Knockabout Comedians.
KINCAIDE THEATRE
MON. TUES. WED. Daily Matinee 2.30 P. M. — Evenings at 8 P. M. — 10--15--25c
Coming Thurs. Fri. Sat. — Exploits of Elaine — also A New Picture For Boys
The Boy Scout Farm showing out door life of the Boy Scouts—New Vaudeville.

ST. MARY'S REUNION.

The annual reunion of the parishioners of St. Mary's church will be held in St. Joseph's hall this evening. The program will consist of moving pictures and a concert from 8 to 10 and dancing from 10 to 1 o'clock. The pastor, Father McCoy and his assistant, Father Duffy, have worked hard with the committees to make the affair a success. Ex-Councilman Stephen B. Little is chairman of the reception committee.

Court Roger Wolcott will hold a class initiation Tuesday evening. Eight candidates will present themselves. Grand Senior Warden Peter J. Barry will be the special guest.

FR. GASSON ATTENDS.

Edward J. Fegan Toastmaster At Banquet.

Fr. Thomas I. Gasson, S. J., former president of Boston College and now a member of the faculty of Georgetown college, was the guest of honor at the reunion banquet of the Georgetown University club of New England in Boston Saturday night.

Edward J. Fegan of Quincy, toastmaster at the banquet was re-elected secretary and among those present was Dr. M. D. Sweeney of Atlantic.

Father Gasson was accorded a fine reception. He has apparently recovered from his late severe illness.

AUTO ANTHEM.

"My auto 'tis of thee
Short cut to poverty,
Of thee I chant.
I blew a pile of dough
On you two years ago.
Now you refuse to go,
Or won't, or can't.

To thee old rattle-box
Came many bumps and knocks,
For thee I grieve,
Badly thy top is torn,
Frayed are thy seats and worn;
A cough affects thy horn,
I do believe.

Thy motor has the grippe,
Thy spark plug has the pip,
And woe is thine,
I too have suffered chills,
Ague and kindred ills,
Trying to pay my bills
Since thou wert mine."

—Hull Beacon

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

Overcoats

Young Men's Overcoats in Balmacaan and belt back. Greys and browns. Small sizes. Regular $10 value. Going out of business price $5.95

Men's Overcoats, Convertible collar. 50 inches long. in sizes 35 to 40. Positively and actually worth $13.50 in any store in the United States. Going out of business price $7.75

Men's High-grade Balmacaans in every shade conceivable, some with velvet collars, values $15. to $20. at this sale, all at one price $11.95

Men's Overcoats, chinchilla kerseys and fancy mixtures, made up in the new Belt-back, regular style 42 inch coats up to 50 inches in length for the extreme cold weather. Values $15 to $20. Going out of business price $11.95

Men's Balmacaans. One-piece back with velvet collars, the latest craze in overcoats and the kind they ordinarily charge in most stores $20. or $22 and even $25. Going out of business price $15.50

Men's Blue serges and black unfinished worsteds, regular $15 to $22 quality. Going out of business price $12.50

Suits

Men's high grade black unfinished worsteds, blue serges and brown worsteds in regular sizes, stout and slim, regular 12.50 to $15 values Sizes up to 46. Going out of business price $7.75

Men's high grade fancy mixtures in worsteds, cheviots in stripes, tartan plaids and cloths, regular $10 to $13.50 values, Going out of business price $7.75

Young Men's high grade, fancy suits with patch pockets and long roll, the kind you have to pay $13 to $15 in town. Our price during this sale $7.75

Suits for best wear in fancy and plain mixtures, finest hand tailored by the best New York and Baltimore concerns. You may go in every store in town and you would not find any better at $20. Regulars and stouts. Going out of business price $11.95

Men's and Young men's suits in fancy mixtures and tartan plaids in single and double breasted, some with patch pockets including the new single breasted square cuts. A suit of which you would be proud to wear and you would have to pay in Boston upwards to $20. Going out of business price $11.95

No More GROSSMAN
NEW KINCAIDE BLOCK

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 40 QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 16, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

HUGE CROWD ATTEND ST. MARY'S REUNION

Annual Coffee Party and Entertainment Notable Success

The largest number in the history of St. Mary's church were present last evening at the Annual Coffee Party and Reunion held in St. Joseph's hall. The building was packed to the doors and many had to stay outside and in the basement the first part of the evening. It is estimated that from 1500 to 1800 people attended.

Among those present were Reverend J. P. Cuffe of Atlantic, a former priest of the parish, Fr. Duffy, Fr. McCoy, Councilmen Barry and Smith. The stage was beautifully decorated with pine boughs and potted plants and the basement with burting crepe paper and pine boughs.

The entertainment consisted of moving pictures and a concert from eight to ten and dancing from ten to one. The concert was given by local talent and was well received. Miss Nona Reardon opened the concert with two selections which received several encores. She sang "When the Shandon Bells are Ringing" and "Where the River" Shannon Flows. Joseph Morrisette rendered "Achushla" and the "Maid of Dundee."

A selection by the Holy Name Quartette, who sang "Bells of Shandon," followed. The quartette is composed of Paul, Joseph and Peter Morrisette and Joseph Daley. A solo entitled "When you wore a Tulip" was given by Paul Morrisette, assisted by the quartette. John Quinn of Roxbury gave several humorous monologues which were very clever. The finale was a musical number entitled "Shine Little Glow Worm Glimmer" by the White Trio. The trio consists of Miss Rosalie DuTemple pianist, Miss Mary White violinist and Miss Catherine White bass viol.

Between the songs comic moving pictures were flashed on a screen. Miss Rosalie DuTemple was the pianist for the concert and music for the dancing was furnished by Morrisette's five piece orchestra. Modern dancing was prohibited and the old fashioned square dances were enjoyed by both the young and the old. The dance program was made up of eighteen dances and each dance received several encores.

During a lull in the merriment the prizes were drawn and the following were winners:

$20.00 gold piece, Miss Mary Girard.
Ton of coal—James McDonald.
Barrel of flour—Daniel Ford.

The floor was in charge of George Reinhalter, president of the Holy Name society with Martin A. King as assistant. A large corps of aids assisted them.

Ex-Councilman Stephen B. Little is Chairman of the reception committee and Thomas F. O'Brien, secretary. The following assisted: Napoleon B. Grignon, Edward Buckley, John F. Burke, August Amet, John L. Crowley, Edward Finn, Sarsfield Quigley, Chas. J. McGilvray, John L. McLaughlin, Daniel E. Duggan, Arthur Ballou, George A. Sullivan, Robert J. Teasdale, Charles Reardon, John E. Welch, Michael E. Monahan, James Halligan, James B. White, Ferdinand Gosselin, John C. Kapples, Daniel Scully, John Healey, Dennis Ford, James O'Dowd, Edmund Fennessey, Michael Crowley, Timothy Denehy, Joseph McNealey, Joseph Dillon, Frank Desmond, Frank S. Hebert, Ralph Elcock Frank McPherson, Thomas F. Dooley, William F. Donaher, Philip F. McGrath, Bernard J. Griffin, Edward Martell, John J. Fitzgerald, James E. McDonald Jr. John W. Kapples, Arthur Leary George A. McDonald, John J. Mahoney, Thomas O'Brien, Paul J. Little, John Sheehan, John D. Smith, James A. Flaherty, Michael Scanlon, Alphouse LeClair, James J. McDonald, Thomas J. Shortle, John W. Ryan, August Hamel, Walter K. Pendis, Peter Morrissette, Michael Riley and Joseph I. Garity.

Supper was served in the lower hall by the refreshment committee in charge of Mrs. John Minahan. The following served: Mrs. Maria Kelley, Mrs. Thomas Golden, Mrs. Patrick Scanlon, Mrs. Michael Reardon, Mrs. Stephen Little, Mrs. Mary Mahoney, Mrs. William Callahan, Mrs. Catherine Martin, Mrs. Cecelia Lorandeau, Mrs. John Murphy, Mrs. Edward Finn. Mrs. Philip Garity, Mrs. Rose Farrell and the Misses Elizabeth Farrell, May Kapples, Elizabeth Rouleau, Margaret Sheehan, Helen Sheehan, Catherine McKenna, Ita Sullivan, Marion Duffy, Helen Elcock, Mary Little, Sadie Monahan, Mary Drohan, Mary McHugh and Gertrude O'Brien.

SIX MONTHS SENTENCE.

Court Finds Everett Campbell Guilty Of Larceny.

Everett Campbell of 50 Beach street was arraigned in court this morning for the larceny of $42 from James C. Mitchell, a Wollaston grocer. It was alleged that Campbell who was employed as a clerk for Mitchell, collected accounts for which he failed to account. The fact of the larceny was brought out when Mitchell attempted to collect some bills from parties who had paid the Campbell boy. The court found Campbell guilty and imposed a sentence of six months in the house of correction.

WHIST PARTY.

Twelve tables were in play at the whist party of the Mt. Wollaston lodge club in Odd Fellows hall Monday evening. The souvenirs were awarded to W. L. Sanders, Miss M. Lizzie Furnald, Miss Lena Allen, John Drumgold, N. Emanuel, Frank Carleton.

Ruth, the 10 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs Arthur Murphy of Copeland street, is confined to her home by a severe attack of diphtheria.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity.

Continued fair weather with moderate temperature is indicated for Wednesday.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.39
Sun sets	5.19
Length of day	10.40
Moon sets	9.15
High water, A. M.	1.15
High water, P. M.	1.45
Days increase	1 hr. 34 minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.33 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	50 degrees
Feb. 16, 1914,	18 degrees
Feb. 16, 1913,	40 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—37.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

WEDNESDAY LEDGER CLUB NEWS

ISLE OF PINES, W. I.

An association is now being formed to own 100 acres of grapefruit or 7000 trees. Join now—membership $250.00, $10.00 down and $5.00 per month. 6 pct. guaranteed for the first five years and then each member gets 85 pct. of the profits. Write for particulars.

ISLE OF PINES ASSOCIATES
170 Summer St., Boston, Mass.

Feb. 11-1m

CRUSHED BENEATH ROLLING BOULDER

Michael Michaelson is at City Hospital as Result of His Injuries

EMPLOYED AT SWINGLES

Michael Michaelson, 10 Hillside street, employed as a quarryman at the quarry of J. S. Swingle on the South Common, West Quincy, was badly crushed about the legs this morning when a heavy rock rolled over on him.

Michaelson was engaged in splitting the rock into sections when one of the pieces suddenly tilted and pinned him underneath. Workmen went to his assistance and removed the boulder.

Dr. John H. Ash was summoned and after an examination ordered his removal to the Quincy City Hospital. The police ambulance was called. Dr. N S Hunting took charge of Michaelson at the hospital. He is resting as comfortably as can be expected.

HERO MEDAL TO BOY RESCUER

Ernest Foster Saved Boy From Drowning

Rev. Stephen C. Lang, Arthur B. Foster, Stewart T. Foster, and Ernest R. Foster, the parties who rescued Charles Hammett, aged 13 years of Thompson street from a watery grave in Town river Dec. 31. have been rewarded by the Massachusetts Humane society.

The Hammett boy was attempting to skate across the river and had almost reached the centre of the channel when the ice gave way and he was thrown into the water. A younger brother, John, who dared Charles to skate the river also broke through but managed to save himself by clinging to the ice and drawing himself out.

Charles however would doubtless have been drowned but for the efforts of Rev. Mr. Lang and the Foster boys, who seeing his plight ran to his assistance. A rope was tied about Ernest Foster, and he slid along the broken ice to where the Hammett boy was struggling to keep afloat managed to draw him to safety after he had been in the icy cold water for eight minutes. First aid treatment was applied and the boy was taken to the Foster home where a physician worked over him some time before he recovered from the effects of the chill and water he had swallowed.

The rescue was brought to the attention of the Humane society and this morning there arrived in Quincy a bronze medal and button for Ernest Foster, and handsome certificates for Rev. Mr. Lang, Arthur B. and Stewart T. Foster.

TIMOTHY F. SULLIVAN.

Well Known Atlantic Resident Dies At Hospital.

Timothy F. Sullivan, a well known resident of Atlantic, died Monday at the Boston City Hospital from tracomitia meningitis, following a fractured skull, the result of an accidental fall down a flight of stairs in Boston last week.

The deceased was the son of Timothy and the late Marie F. Sullivan and was in his 30th year. His funeral will take place from his father's residence, 50 Botolph street, Atlantic on Wednesday morning. A requiem high mass will be celebrated at the Church of the Sacred Heart.

He is survived by his father, two sisters, Mary and Catherine, and five brothers, Edward, Gerald, William, Joseph and Arthur.

BELIEVED THEY WERE IN JAPAN

Dainty Decorations Delight Guests at Home of Mrs. Clapp Monday

WILL REPEAT WEDNESDAY

One of the most artistic pieces of decorative work ever seen in this city beautified the home of Mrs. C. A. Clapp, 66 Merrymount road, Monday evening. The occasion was a Japanese whist party given for the benefit of the Dorcas society of the Universalist church which was attended by over sixty people including invited guests from Concord, N. H., Worcester, Lowell, Brookline and other cities.

On entering the guests were met by a Japanese in beautiful costume who politely requested them to go up stairs, where they were met by another Japanese in costume, who informed them that a room on the next floor was ready for them where a Japanese lady was in attendance to receive their wraps. Returning to the lower floor the guest was again met by the Japanese attendant who presented each woman with a souvenir for the hair, consisting of small fans and small umbrellas while to the men were presented little Japanese lanterns for the coat lapel. Then each guest was given a score card, upon which was delicately executed a Japanese scene.

The guests were then greeted by the hostess of the evening, Mrs. Clapp, and her Japanese lady attendants, who informed them that before beginning the whist play they would have an opportunity of enjoying the sights of beauty that were on every side.

In the hall the eyes beheld a shower of flowers and lanterns and Japanese wind bells, while in one corner was a beautifully decorated booth of bamboo and flowers with birds flying about and little Japanese dolls hanging by ribbons with arms extended in greeting. Back of the booth was Miss Mary Blake, in Japanese costume, ready to give information about the various articles on sale.

From here the guests entered the living room where another scene of beauty was presented. The bow window was one large lattice work of wild roses, in pink and white, on natural twigs, and covered with birds and butterflies and dozens of small electric light bulbs. The ceiling of the room was also covered with wisteria hanging down, also Japanese lanterns, and birds flying about the room. The dining room was another work of art. Here again the ceiling was hung with wisteria blossoms in different designs and colors, while over the window was a Japanese roof design of smilax and lanterns. In one corner was a Japanese tea booth where tea was served by Mrs. R. C. Sanborn of Concord, N. H., who wore a Japanese costume. This booth was entirely in white, Mrs. Sanborn standing beneath snow white wisteria.

From here the guests went to the room above where again were scenes of splendor. A massive shower of trimmings in Japanese flowers there was with birds waving back and forth in the air, and wind bells tinkling their sweet music. In the front room was lattice work of bamboo covered with smilax, birds and butterflies, the ceiling being covered with wisteria in red, white and purple. The two rooms in the rear were also profusely decorated, the scene being entirely different from the other rooms although on the same general line.

The inspection over the guests began to play whist, the changing of tables being announced by chime gongs. At 10 o'clock cards were laid aside and a Japanese supper was served. At each table was a hand-painted menu card, upon which in Japanese letters was printed the menu Chop suey, chicken salad, hot rolls and butter, hot coffee.

During the evening Japanese nuts and candies were served. Vocal and instrumental music made the guests

(Continued on Page Three.)

NEW DEPARTMENT BEGINS ITS WORK

City Employment Bureau Registers 10 Persons on Opening Day

C. W. HILL IS IN CHARGE

The new city employment bureau started business Monday, and although it was the first day officially for the new department, quite a business was done. Clyffeton Hill, the purchasing agent who has charge of this department, has an office in Room 11 in the basement and on Monday quite a number registered as desiring positions, although there was not the great rush for positions as might have been expected.

In addition to those registering for positions, it might be said that the agent received a number of calls by telephone for help and that during the day he furnished two women to do washing and one man was secured employment at the Fore River yard.

Mr. Hill said Monday night that during the day ten persons had registered for positions and of this number four were women. It is expected that before the week is out that many others will register.

ENJOY VALENTINE SURPRISE PARTY

Miss Minnie Freberg was tendered a Valentine surprise party at her home on Jackson street Saturday night. Games, singing and dancing were enjoyed until a late hour. Miss Edith Freberg and Miss Ellen Evans were the piano accompanists. Miss Ella Anderson and Roy Imlay entertained the party with well executed native dance.

During a lull in the festivities Miss Freberg was presented with a beautiful moonstone ring. Miss Medlyn made the presentation. Refreshments were served.

Among those present were the Misses Hilder Hermanson, Mary Smith Gladys Imlay, Annie Bonham, Charlotte MacDonald, Vinal MacDonald, Hannah Roberts, Ella Anderson, Agda Gustafson, Eleanor Frisk, Lillian Peterson, Ingrie Jacobson, Edith Freberg, Esther Hermanson, John McNeil, Albert Beer, Everett Gillis, Stanley Summers, James Calaruso, Tilla Corena, Idnal Jones, John Roberts, Roy Imlay, William Smith, Carl Bergfors, Alex Smart, Lillian Jacobson, Marion Kerr, Ellen 7vans, Beatrice Medlyn, and Miss Minnie Freberg, Mr. and Mrs Freberg, Albert Freberg, George Freberg, Mrs Lints and Mrs. C. O. Freberg.

ATTEND BALL.

Members of the Metropolitan Park police, their wives, families and friends attended the first ball of their relief association in Mechanics hall, Boston, on Monday evening. Among those on the committee in charge of the event were James White, Edward Flaherty and Bernard M. O'Neil of Quincy. A drill by a company of 48 officers was under the direction of Sergt. Brevogle, for some years a mounted officer in the Blue Hill parkway. Participating in the drill were officers Edward Berry, Edward Flaherty, Joseph Perry, Harry Hathorne, Joseph McTiernan of Quincy.

SERIOUSLY ILL.

Mrs. Charles Spear is seriously ill with pneumonia at her home on Franklin street.

Masquerade Costumes For Rent
Children's Costumes in variety
MRS. R. E. WOODWARD
155 Billings Road
Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs
Feb. 3-tf

SCHOOL COMMITTEE ASK FOR $203,360.00

Mayor Does Not Forward His Budget at Council Meeting.

Although the mayor did not forward his budget to the city council Monday night that of the School Committee was forwarded. The school committee asks this year for the sum of $203,360.00 as follows:

Administration	$6,500
Instruction	156,385
Text Books	4,750
Stationery	6,500
Operation of plant	23,125
Maintenance	250
Miscellaneous	3,200
Evening schools	2,650
	$203,360

Added to this is the state aided industrial school as follows:

Evening classes	$1,550
Day classes	10,625
	$12,175

Provisional requirement for machinists' department in case funds are available $2,490

The expenditures of the department in 1914 were as follows:

Administration	$6,083.93
Administration	$6,083.93
Instruction	147,650 94
Text books	3,902.46
Stationery	6,319.80
Operation of plant	22,275 98
Maintenance	193 14
Miscellaneous	2,517 29
Evening schools	2,662 25
	$191,650.79

Referred to the finance committee.

The School Committee also asked that the receipts from articles made by the Industrial school, that were sold, be placed to the credit of the Industrial school. Referred to finance committee.

A large amount of new business was offered, which included street repairs and acceptance of new streets, appropriating money for the rebuilding of the Fire alarm and police signal system, etc.

John F. Cain and George N. Nordell were appointed special constables. Confirmed.

The Fire Hazard commission called attention to the need of passing an ordinance relative to fire proof roofs for buildings. Referred to ordinance committee.

The city auditor forwarded his annual report of the receipts and expenditures for the year 1914. Referred to Finance Committee.

The Directors of the Port of Boston gave notice of a hearing Feb. 18, on building a bridge by the Metropolitan Park Commissioners over Black's creek. To legislative committee.

The school committee called attention to the advisability of favoring the passage of House Bill 670 relative to expenditures for school funds.

Public hearings were ordered for March 1, on petitions for gasoline licenses and pole locations.

Permission was granted the Jewish Congregational society to have children appear at an entertainment Feb. 28.

Petitions were received for the acceptance of Bellevue road and Willow street, that the lot at 8 Beach street be acquired and made a part of the street, that Lunt street and Forest avenue be accepted. Petitions received for street lights on a number of streets.

The orders for fire alarm boxes on Ocean street and Faxon road and for a fire hose at Squantum were rejected.

The committee on police and fire department reported an amendment to the order amending the police ordinance. The amendment as it now stands provides that the officers of the police force shall rank as follows: Captain, inspector, lieutenant and sergeant. The salary of the captain is to be $1,300, inspector $1,250, lieutenant $1,200 and sergeant $1,150, this part to take effect in January 1915. Order passed.

The fire committee reported an order for $75 for a fire alarm box on Waterston avenue. To finance committee.

The police committee reported an order for three additional permanent policemen. Passed.

Councilman Ross offered an order for $1500 for rebuilding part of the police signal system. The joint committee on finance and police.

Councilman Richards offered an order appropriating $2,000 for the expenses of the machine gun squad. To finance committee.

Councilman Williams offered an order for $15,000 for rebuilding the fire alarm system. To fire committee.

(Continued on Page Six.)

TO LET

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.

Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop
—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall
—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS

Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for L. r. Kribs.
Greenleaf Block. 'Phone 21066) Quincy

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the
TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

THE PERIL OF PAGANISM.

The sermon by Rev. Mr. Willmott Sunday night in which he pointed out that Paganism was sapping the very life of the American nation, in substance reported in Monday's Ledger, constitutes a manful handling of a serious problem. It is not a new problem. It has been with us, apparent to all men and women who stopped to think. The trouble is that most men and women did not stop to think.

"It is one of the greatest perils the nation ever faced," declared Mr. Willmott. It certainly is. If the hold of our churches upon all the people is to be broken the moral fibre of the community will be broken, too. The trouble has been, as Mr. Willmott pointed out, that the churches have been inclined to cater to the so-called wealthy and middle classes and have not offered the workingmen the welcome which ought to be his in the House of God.

There is no question but what this has been an important cause toward the arousing of a social bitterness which if allowed to grow unchecked will bring the terrible social revolution which Mr. Willmott so much fears. Broadly speaking, we have been forgetting the Brotherhood of Man, not only inside the church but also outside. In our selfish endeavor to accumulate as much material wealth as possible we have erected an economic system, saturated with selfishness and unfairness, which is in danger of falling to pieces. The Darwinian theory of survival of the fittest has been followed too literally in the economic world, and naturally has made itself felt within the sacred precincts of the church itself.

Economic and social paganism gains in strength as religion weakens. When the principles of Christianity are not so taught and learned in the church that they are translated into terms of actual life there is prepared a fertile field for the growth of a Paganism whose touch is Death.

TOM SAWYER'S CEMENT ROCK

A really great book is "Tom Sawyer" by Mark Twain. Presumably every American boy has read it, and, let us hope, many girls, too. There are few books outside the works of the great masters, which are truer to life as it really is, but the appeal of the story ought not to be confined to children. There are hundreds of love stories written today which have not half the genuineness of that of Tom and Becky.

A striking illustration of the book's trueness to life is the description of the cement rock in Tom's cave in his home town, Hannibal, Mo. It is said that this description attracted the attention of practical men who investigated the cave, saw the cement and thereupon laid the foundations of the town's great Portland cement plant, which employs thousands of men.

A GOOD IDEA.

The Independent of this week has a good slogan for the campaign to relieve the unemployed. It says:

"After the Buy-a-Bale movement, why not try Buy-a-Day-of-Work campaign. A day's work would cost you little and might help one of the unemployed much."

THE STREET MATRON.

Does Quincy need a Street matron? Miss Emily Fisher of Norwood says that the women of her town thought they did not, but found out after one was employed that they certainly did. She says the duty of such a matron is to keep girls and boys off the street.

Still another illustration of the universality and immortality of Shakespeare's plays: "Much Ado About Nothing" is to be presented at a Norway theater.

In the Hull East Wind there is a column headed Hullonians' Happy Hours and under this head appears an item that Mrs. ——— is recovering from laryngitis. Her hours can't be very happy.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day, Are you a regular reader?

GERMAN DECREE HAS A PARALLEL

Washington Finds It Similar to That of British.

NO SERIOUS PROTEST LIKELY

Memorandum From Berlin Received From Gerard Evidently Will Stop Hasty Action—Declared Germany Has Executed Clever Move by Taking Leaf Out of English Book.

The long memorandum delivered by the German foreign office to Ambassador Gerard, explaining the German war zone proclamation, has been received at the state department, and perusal of its text, which was cabled to American newspapers, convinced Washington officials that at present no serious issue could be raised with Germany over the creation of the projected war zone without at the same time raising identically the same issue with Great Britain.

The German memorandum transmitted by Ambassador Gerard emphasizes the fact—a vitally important one in the present situation—that Great Britain has declared the entire North sea to be a war area and that if England has not made impossible the passage of neutral shipping through the sea between Scotland and Norway she has rendered it "so difficult and so dangerous that she has to a certain extent effected a blockade of neutral coasts and neutral ports, in violation of all international laws."

The fact that the British government has done identically the same thing with respect to the establishment of war zones in the open seas beyond the three mile territorial limit has been officially certified to the state department by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador. This was done three months ago, and no protest has ever been made by the United States against the action of Great Britain in establishing such a war zone.

Trump Card For Germany.

It dawned upon officials in Washington that the German government had executed a rather neat and clever counter diplomatic stroke in notifying the world of its intention to create a war zone around the British isles by taking a leaf out of the British book and doing the very thing that the British government had done. The British and German war zone orders as officially communicated to the state department have been compared and closely studied. This comparison was not found to be to the disadvantage of the Germans. It was even suggested that the German government had played a trump card.

The situation resolves itself something after this fashion: For England the official date of the beginning of the war was Aug. 4. England waited until three months of the war had been fought and then served notice on the neutral powers of the world of her intention to establish a war zone. The British war zone was set up on Nov. 5. The Germans waited an additional three months, twice as long as did Great Britain, or until Feb. 4, exactly six months from the official British beginning of the war, and then announced its decision to establish a war zone very similar to that of Great Britain, although somewhat more extensive. However, the principle involved with respect to both war zones is the same.

War Zones Compared.

A comparison of the British and German war zone orders disclosed these striking facts:

First.—The British government on Nov. 4 notified the United States government that its war zone would be effective from Nov. 5—one day's notice.

Second.—The German government issued its war zone proclamation on Feb. 4 and communicated it to Ambassador Gerard on the same day, announcing that the German war zone around the British isles would be effective after Feb. 18—fifteen days' notice.

Third.—The British war zone covers the whole of the North sea.

Fourth.—The German war zone covers the entire English channel and all the territorial and high sea waters around the British isles.

Fifth.—The British war zone order sought to close the north of Scotland route around the British isles to Norway, the Baltic, Denmark and Holland.

Sixth.—The German war zone seeks to close the southern or English channel route around the British isles to Holland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark and the Baltic.

Seventh.—The British war zone decree drew an arbitrary line from the Hebrides islands along the Scottish coast to Iceland and warned neutral shipping that it would cross this line at its risk, but that ships of neutral nations might go to Holland and other neutral nations along the eastern littoral of the North sea by taking the English channel and strait of Dover route.

Eighth.—The German war zone declares that neutral vessels will be exposed to danger in the English channel, but routes of navigation around the north of Scotland islands in the eastern part of the North sea and in a strip thirty miles wide along the Dutch coast are not open to the danger zone.

Ninth.—The Germans make the southern channel route dangerous and declare the north of Scotland route safe, while the British declare the north of Scotland route dangerous and the English channel route safe, the effect of this being that neither the northern nor the southern routes around England will be safe for neutral vessels.

Tenth.—The British war zone order was based on the discovery of mines in the North sea, while the German decree is based on England's attitude toward contraband, the Wilhelmina case and England's establishment of a war zone.

COUNT VON BERNSTORFF.
German Ambassador to the United States.

AFTER HALF A CENTURY

Diphtheria Germs Revive and Cause Death of Three Children

York, Pa., Feb. 16.—Diphtheria germs which had lurked for half a century in the walls of the house occupied by Raymond Miller, health authorities and attending physicians declare, caused the death recently of three of Miller's children.

Fifty years ago, several members of a family that lived in the house died from diphtheria. Shortly before the present outbreak, Miller had some papering done and a heavy coating of whitewash, which was scraped away, was thrown in a heap near the house. Warm, damp weather, physicians say, revived the germs which had been imprisoned under the whitewash.

GIRL OF 14 GIVEN VERDICT OF $16,500

Burned by Live Wire on Land of Boston Elevated Road

Boston, Feb. 16.—Josephine Romano, 14 years old, won a verdict of $16,500 against the Boston Elevated from a Suffolk grand jury for burns received when 8 years old from stepping on a charged electric wire on land adjacent to the Eagle street car barns in East Boston.

At a previous trial she was awarded $10,000. The full bench of the supreme court ordered a new trial. The present verdict is for $1500 more than she sued to recover, the ad damnum of her writ naming $15,000 as damages suffered. The second trial lasted nine days.

WILL NOT HELP BECKER

Schepps Has No Intention of Going Back on His Testimony

New York, Feb. 16.—Sam Schepps, whose testimony at the first trial of Charles Becker was largely responsible for the conviction of the former police lieutenant on the charge of murdering Herman Rosenthal, declares that he has no intention of repudiating his story.

When asked if there was any basis for the intimation by Becker's counsel that he (Schepps) would recant, Schepps said:

"There is no truth in Manton's story about my wanting to go back on my testimony."

Attorney Manton, Becker's lawyer, reiterated his intention of asking for a new trial as a result of the affidavit which he claims to have secured from James Marshall, who testified against Becker at his second trial. Marshall now denies he made any such affidavit.

REVISITED BY 'QUAKE

Much Damage and Loss of Life In District of Central Italy

Rome, Feb. 16.—Renewed earthquake shocks occurred in parts of the district in central Italy visited by siesmic disturbances several weeks ago.

One person was killed and six persons were injured in the collapse of a house at Nazhano.

At Rocca Sinibaldi, the belfry of the convent of Santa Maria fell upon houses, burying ten persons. Cittaducale was entirely wrecked and at Veroli several houses were rendered uninhabitable.

Mexican Teachers to Visit Us

Vera Cruz, Mex., Feb. 16.—One hundred women school teachers have been selected to go to the United States to study educational methods in that country. The expenses of the teachers will be paid by the Carranza government.

Life Term For Wife Slayer

Taunton, Mass., Feb. 16.—Olephas Blanchard of New Bedford pleaded guity to a charge of wife murder and was sentenced to state prison for life. Blanchard cut his wife's throat during a quarrel.

Funeral of Fanny Crosby

Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 16.—The funeral of Fanny Crosby, the blind hymn writer, was held here from the First Methodist Episcopal church.

SCISSORS AND PASTE

THE NEW DANCES.

What has happened? Just a little while ago a great protest went up about the modern dances. Now everybody is doing them and they attract no attention at all.—Monpelier Argus.

If that is so, Mr. and Mrs. "Everybody" are out of date, for the so-called "new" dances are going into the discard just about as fast as their foolishness can drive them there. All the hue and cry about the alleged immorality of the body-twisting, mind-burdening, nerve-wracking dances went for nought and was fairly unnecessary, inasmuch as the barnyard series, barring a few figures perhaps, were bound to go into disuse.—Barre Times.

IT OUGHT TO BE KILLED.

A 30 mile an hour speed bill for automobiles, outside thickly settled parts of cities and towns, will be reported today in the Senate. The Highway Safety League and the Massachusetts Highway Commission had agreed to an increase to 25 miles an hour as being a limit beyond which, as Col. Sohier, Chairman of the Commission said they could more definitely define an excess of speed, than if the limit were 20 miles. The committee now adds five miles more.

The Highway Commission has made a special study of this particular question, studying it from all angles. To an outsider, the limit of 25 miles which they set seems excessive. The only thing to commend it is the fact that the Commission, which is a good one, recommends it. To add five miles to their limit is to increase the danger four fold. It is a good bill to kill in the amended form.—Waltham Press-Tribune.

TO VOTE UPON ANNUAL OFFICERS

A special meeting of the Ward Four Improvement society has been called for Thursday evening St. Jeans hall on Copeland street.

The committee appointed at the last meeting to prepare a list of nominations have prepared the following list which will be voted upon at the meeting.

For president—Alphonse E. LeClair and Charles J. McGilvrary; for vice president, William J. Corcoran Neil A. McDonald, John Kapples; for secretary, Joseph H. McPherson; for treasurer, Michael E. Monahan.

The nominating committee included: Stephen B. Little, William H Teasdale, John Burke, John Kapples Neil A. McDonald, James H. Elcock Joseph H. McPherson.

The officers urge all residents of the ward to be present Thursday evening as many things of importance to the district will be discussed.

Senator Langelier, Representative Sandberg, Stephen B. Little and William H. Teasdale will hold a conference today in the state house with the Highway Commission relative to state highways, including Willard street. This committee will report the results of their conference at the meeting Thursday evening.

CURE FOR WEAK LUNGS

Witness In Suit Testifies as to the Efficacy of Cement Dust

Riverside, Cal., Feb. 16.—Is cement dust a sure cure for lung trouble? It is, in the opinion of George C. Baldwin, and he testified to that effect in the case of Brideson vs. the Riverside Portland Cement company.

Baldwin testified he went to work as a carpenter for the cement company about four years ago, being then in poor health with tuberculosis threatened and weighing only 138 pounds. He found the cement dust most beneficial and now weighs 174 pounds and considers himself a well man.

On Trail of Coe

Boston, Feb. 16.—Henry C. Coe, Jr., the missing Standard Oil salesman, who left his wife nearly three weeks ago, at their home, to go to his work, and has not been heard from since, will probably be located in Canada within the next twenty-four hours, according to Detective Burns.

Maine Embargo on Horses

Augusta, Me., Feb. 16.—Boyden Pearce, the live stock sanitary commissioner for Maine, placed an embargo on all horses coming into the state for two weeks, on account of the prevalence of the foot and mouth disease in some states.

SODALITY GIVES FINE CONCERT

The Pierian Sodality orchestra of Harvard University paid its second visit to Wollaston, Monday evening, when a concert was given in the Wollaston school hall under the auspices of the Samoset club.

As was the case last year the organization was accorded an enthusiastic reception and all through an excellent program of ten numbers the applause was loud and insistent.

The contributing artists also found great favor; especially the singing of W. H. Roope who, as last year, scored one of the hits of the evening.

The orchestra, under the direction of Conductor W. N. Hewitt, was in fine form and was at all times susceptible to the influence of the leader.

In all, there were over 35 pieces and the various combinations of tone and tempo effected helped to make the evening one of the especial musical treats of the season.

The program opened with "Les Abencerages," an overture by Cherubini, whose studied climax brought forth loud applause. For the following number Jarnfeldt's "Berceuse" a piece of funeral tendencies was given.

Two "Norwegian Dances" by Grieg were rendered, containing the wild and elusive strains often found in his composer. "Canzonetta," by Sibelius, followed.

Two violin solos were contributed by B. G. Grosbayn, accompanied by N. N. Hewitt. The delicate fingering and deft touch of this artist brought a tone and expression into the instrument which resulted in loud encores. "Hegra Kati" by Hubar and "Wiegenlied" by Elman-Schubert were the selections.

Mr. Roope was given a rousing reception upon his appearance and was forced to sing three numbers: "Maroushla" by Rowe, "Till I wait" by Finder, and a French piece "Obstanation" by Fontenailles.

The singer has a rare voice and the pure tones, combined with a fine presence and excellent control, made him a favorite from the start.

E. B. Packard contributed two cello solos which were greeted with well merited applause. They were Capricclo" by Goltermann and Elegie des Erinnyes" by Massenet.

A selection from "The Grand Duchess" by Offenbach was rendered by the orchestra.

Several college numbers were interpolated including "Veritas" and Gridiron King" the rousing martial trains bringing down the house.

"Estudiantina" a waltz by Waldteufel and an overture "Orpheus" by Offenbach were played. After a college medley the orchestra drifted in the strains of "Fair Harvard," which brought both audience and players to their feet.

Composing the entertainment committee responsible for this enjoyable evening were: Harry G. Campbell, Clarence Armstrong, Albert C. Armstrong, Lucien H. Thayer, Winslow Veston, Norton Nickerson and others

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

A birthday party was held on Saturday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. A. C. Demary, 68 Goffe street, it being the sixth anniversary of the birthday of her daughter Helen. Several games were enjoyed by the little visitors, and the happy party participated in the singing of the popular songs and the college glees. Mrs. Louis Ela of Wollaston was the accompanist. Late in the afternoon, cakes and ices were served, the birthday cake being cut by Miss Helen.

Among those present were the Misses Enid Bradford of Quincy, Tone, Lillian and Chester Higgins of Wollaston, Dorothy and Louis Ela of Wollaston, Master Gordon McKenzie of Quincy, and Masters Henry and Edmund Godin of East Weymouth ,and Ruth and Helen Demary. Miss Helen was the recipient of many happy reminders of the day.

LEAVE FOR SOUTH AMERICA.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Johnson To Take 22 Day Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Johnson of Maple street leave this afternoon for New York, where they take the boat Wednesday for a twenty-two days' trip. Their first stop is at Kingston, Jamaica and from there they go to Colon. The trip also includes visits to three cities in Columbia, South America and a journey across the Isthmus of Panama along the canal to the Pacific ocean.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—is best because more care is used in the making. Grocers.

Furniture Storage Warehouse
Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.
Rates $2---$3---$4 per month
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.
Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.tf

If about to build or repair, specify
NEPONSET SHINGLES
Durable, Artistic and Fireproof, nothing better.
Surely call or write for samples.
See them and be convinced.
GROSSMAN'S BUILDING SUPPLY HOUSE
"The House of Quality"
37 Federal Ave. Tel. 979-R Quincy Quincy Adams, Mass.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Tryphena E. Berry to Anna W. Wilson, Charles street.

Mary E. Granahan to Mabel T. Collins, Walnut street.

Martha E. Jenkins to Grace D. Redman, Russell street.

Martha E. Jenkins gdn to Grace D. Redman, Russell street.

Robert J. Jones to Reuben P. Durkee, Herbert road.

Margaret Keith to Loisima Barnes, Wendell avenue.

Frederick C. Kendall to Alice M. Kershaw, Charles street.

Frederick C. Kendall to Alice M. Kershaw, Charles street.

Lincoln Polishing Co. to Richard Bishop et al, Brooks avenue.

John F. Loftus to Sarah Loftus, Riverside.

John J. Malone to E. Alfred Gingras Houghs Neck.

Alice M. O'Brien to Isabella Ward, Willett street.

Annie L. Rogers to Harriet B. Pierce, Fort street, School street.

Isabella Ward gdn to Alice M. O'Brien, Willett street.

Luther B. Woodward to E. Alfred Gingras, Pawsey street.

BRAINTREE REAL ESTATE SALES.

Sydney P. Guild to Gerrit Van Gemert.

Sydney P. Guild to Jeremiah P. Frazier, Monatiquot River.

Walter Tellier to Frank Olson, Commercial street.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

The following letters remain unclaimed at the Quincy postoffice, week ending Feb. 13:

Mrs. S. E. Bates, Mrs. Jeanette Doud (Secretary,) Mr. Greer, Robert Greer, Mr. Hadson, Otta Hanninen, T. Miniot B. Nudelman, Mrs. Peterson, Fred Richardson, Hofsum Ynensoki.

BEWARE!

THE CLUTCHING-HAND IS LOOSE

Notice is hereby given that a notorious criminal is at large in this city. He is the author of a score of crimes, particularly fiendish in the methods employed.

He has completely eluded the police, for he has left no clue as to his identity, except a mark of a clutching hand by which he has come to be known.

His ways are peculiar, his motive for activity being indefinable. He turns up everywhere, he attacks anybody. He goes from a palace to a lonely hovel; from a little child to an old lady. The beautiful woman is not beyond him; nor the strong one. He does not work in the ordinary way; his schemes are awful. He must be a scientist gone away.

This warning is therefore made to put every family on its guard.

Women! Lock your doors.

Men! Do not go out unprotected.

The "Clutching Hand" is worse than ever was "JACK THE RIPPER," for here the favorite pastime is murder.

Rewards are offered for the detection and arrest of the "Clutching Hand."

Send all information to
The People's National Anti-Crime League
Care of the
QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
Read It In
TODAY'S LEDGER
SEE IT
THURSDAY
At The
KINCAIDE THEATRE

REV. CAMPBELL NOT APPOINTED

To Be Supply Pastor Until Credentials Arrive

Rev. Clarence Campbell who has been called to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church was not given his appointment by the Boston Presbytery which met in Boston Monday because his credentials had not arrived from the Ohio Presbytery and the communication from the church stating he was the choice of the trustees was placed on file.

The church will continue under the direction of Dr. George Young of Roxbury, moderator of the Presbytery, and it is probable that Rev. Mr. Campbell will remain here as the supply pastor.

Forbes Craig and Charles A. Ross, commissioners from the church, attended the session Monday.

Rev. Mr. Campbell has intimated that in the event of the appointment by the Presbytery he would accept it. He took possession of the manse on Quincy street on Monday and will make his home there while in Quincy.

VALUATION OF CITY TOO HIGH

John R. Graham of Bangor Gives His Opinion

Quincy is overvalued one-third and will never take its proper place in the progressive cities of the state until an entire re-adjustment is made. The present conditions are not encouraging to investors and thousands of dollars would have been invested here the past few years if that condition did not exist.

This is the belief of John R. Graham, Bangor's "live wire" and a former resident of Quincy, who is now visiting in this city with Dr. and Mrs. Fred E. Jones, Hancock street.

Mr. Graham is interested in property in Quincy valued at over $400,000 and states that in his real estate dealings in Quincy he has been able to get from purchasers not more than two-thirds the assessed value.

A keen student of local conditions, acquired while he was a member of the first city council, the legislature of 1892 and '93 and while he was president of the Quincy and Boston St. Ry. Co., he graphically analyzed Quincys need to a Ledger reporter Monday.

"The assessors should start and revalue all of Quincy's property. A new start would go a long way toward clearing up the situation," he said.

Although Mr. Graham did not exactly say that "the entire records of the assessing department should be destroyed," he strongly intimated that perhaps this would be as good a way as any.

"A strong board, one which would have the courage of its convictions, is a necessity if revaluing is to be done," said Mr. Graham, "and I hope our present assessors will be equal to the task. If the tax rate must go to $30, let's have it, but let us also have a fair value in the city."

Mr. Graham is a believer in the policy of letting future generations pay their proportionate share of the cost of improvements they are to enjoy. He said he was ready to acknowledge the school problem a most pressing one.

When asked his views on the reason for Quincy's over valuation and for its increased debt, he said it was perhaps the outcome of conditions. "One reason," he remarked, "is because strong men, with positive and intelligent views of the cities needs are not elected to the city council, the body which is responsible for the annual appropriations."

Mr. Graham will remain here this week. He retains a personal interest in the city also and has received the welcome of many friends. He is a member of Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. A.

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Mr. and Mrs. William Noble of Glover place are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son.

Mrs. William Harding of Botolph street has been confined to her home with illness for several weeks.

Mr. O. V. Haight of Bridgeport Conn., is the guest of J. C. Fuller of Botolph street.

John La Tour of Sagamore street is entertaining his mother and grandfather from New London, Conn.

Mrs. Clifford Bates and son Fordyce of Wollaston were guests last week of Mrs. Emma Bates of North Hanover.

Thomas Curry and John Ronaine attended the "Boy Dance" held in Town hall, Rockland, Monday evening.

The Ladies Sodality of St. Marys church will hold a meeting this evening in the church.

Hector Parker who has been visiting in the city the past month returned to his home in Woburn on Monday.

"Dick" Kaufman the popular street car conductor returned home Monday from the Brookline hospital where he underwent a serious operation.

Mr. and John Perkins and family of Euclid avenue have moved to Brooklyn, New York Mr. Perkins has accepted a position in the navy yard.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Donovan who have been temporarily making their home with Waldo Emery of North Weymouth have moved to Quincy.

Mrs. Charles McConachy of Hunt street left Monday morning for Philadelphia where she will be the guest of her daughter.

The St. Marys C. T. A. and M. R. Society will hold a postponed meeting this evening in their hall on Willard street. Several matters of importance will come up before the meeting.

Miss Annie Deane, who sang the part of Katisha in "The Mikado" given by the Quincy Women's Club, was the coach of the Whitman Women's club play given recently.

The friends of Wallace Bennett of 174 Arlington street will be pleased to know that he is recovering from his recent operation at the Quincy City hospital.

Miss May Birnie of South Quincy was the guest of Park Officer and Mrs. Joseph McTiernan at the Metropolitan Park Police Ball held Monday evening in Boston.

Master James Kennedy will be one of the star dancers at the Barnard Memorial exercises which will be held in Mechanics Building, Boston, Feb. 22.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton Director
Crecnleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy.
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings. 6-12t

TWINS DOING WELL.

The Clarkin twins, born Saturday to Mrs. James Clarkin of Copeland street are doing well today. The little girl gives every promise of being a vigorous and healthy child. The little boy, a trifle weak, shows some improvement today and is expected to live. The children are the 14th born to the mother.

Coincident with the advent of the twins came a promotion for the father to a foremanship at the Fore River shipyard where he is employed.

ANNUAL ALUMNAE PARTY.

The annual alumnae party of the Athletic association of the Woodward Institute was held in the school gym Saturday evening and was largely attended. The gymnasium was attractively decorated for the occasion under the direction of Miss Gertrude Bullock.

The evenings program included a ribbon dance by sixteen members of the freshmen class. Three games of basket ball followed, two of which were won by the alumnae and one by the school team. During the evening light refreshments were served.

HEAR $3000 SUIT.

John F. Fitzgerald Seeks to Recover For Personal Injuries.

The suit of John F. Fitzgerald of Quincy to recover $3000 for personal injuries from the Boston Elevated Railroad is being heard in the Norfolk Superior court before Judge McLaughlin. Fitzgerald alleges injuries on July 11, 1912, when a car collided with his milk wagon on Blue Hill avenue. C. J. McGilvray is plaintiffs attorney and Russell A. Sears and Paul R. Blackmur for the defendant.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

The Strange Behavior of a Striped Pussy Cat.

TABBY THAT LIKED TO FISH.

Unlike Most of Her Race She Was Not Afraid of Water—Puzzles and Games For Little People to Ponder Over and to Play.

As every boy and girl knows, nearly all cats dislike water. Indeed, if pussy only dips her foot in a little puddle she begins to shake her paw in a most comical way. Cats can swim if they are obliged to, but few will do so of their own accord. The demure looking feline in the picture is an entirely different creature. She seems to love the water. When only a kitten she surprised her little mistress by jumping into a shallow tank after some minnows that were swimming about. Later, when she grew up, she was observed going to a brook that flowed some distance from the house. There she crawled to the edge of the stream and, with one paw outstretched, would catch many minnows in her sharp claws. Quite an unusual pussy, don't you think so?

A CAT WHICH WENT FISHING.

Game of Clairvoyance.

In this game one of the company standing outside the room is, strange to say, able to tell what is passing inside. A dialogue such as would have to be carried on between the principal players will best describe the game, and show how it is to be played.

The questioner stands inside the room, the clairvoyant is outside the door.

"Do you remember how the room is furnished in which we are sitting?"

"I do."

"Do you remember the color of the chairs?"

"I do."

"Do you know the ornaments on the mantelpiece?"

"I do."

"And the vase of flowers?"

"I do."

"The old china in the cabinet?"

"Yes."

"You think there is nothing in the room which has escaped your notice?"

"Nothing."

"Then tell me which article I am now touching."

"You are touching the vase of flowers."

The vase of flowers being the only thing mentioned preceded by the word "And," the clairvoyant knows that is the object which will be touched. The mystery of the game, of course, consists in puzzling those of the company to whom the secret is unknown.

It is easy to arrange with the partner for any other catchword, and in fact it is desirable to vary this frequently, especially if the same couple accept an encore, or repeat the performance where there are some of the same audience.

Tug of War a Good Game.

Provide a strong one inch rope about twenty feet long with knots near each end at intervals of a foot. Select the same number of contestants for each side, and let them take their places at opposite ends of the rope; the object is for one side to pull the other side across a given mark. This game is not suited to women and girls and should be limited to men and boys. In a contest the side winning should score five points. Usually it is best to require the winners to demonstrate their superiority by taking two trials out of three, or three out of five.—Country Gentleman.

Letter Changes.

Change one letter and from a body of water make a dessert, to arouse, a process of cooking, a garden tool, a fraud, a fish, to form, to appropriate, a boy's nickname.

Answers.—Lake, cake, wake, bake, rake, fake, hake, make, take, Jake.

Good Kittens.

Lie by the fire and purr me a song,
Gay little, gray little cat.
Stretch on the hearth till you're half a yard long—
That's where the good little kittens belong.
Down where the fire is happy and strong.
Stay little, gray little cat.
Yes, if you like, you may play with my shoes;
Kittens are pleasant, not hard to amuse.
Lively, intent little cat—
Ready for playing whenever you choose,
Never unhappy or down with the blues,
Cheerful, content, little cat.

DON'TS FOR SHOPPERS.

Don't forget that you always can afford courtesy, kindness and a smile.

Don't forget that peace of mind is better than things you can't afford.

Don't let false pride cost you money. There is no happiness in it.

Don't buy vegetables out of season and expect low prices.

Don't feel too sure you are getting the most possible out of your expenditures. Learn what "hard pan" really is.

Don't add to delivery expenses by ordering at the last moment. Keep ahead of actual needs.

Don't be ashamed to save pennies; otherwise you are "easy prey."

Don't fail to think out your expenditures and keep inside the limit you fix.

PROLONGED STANDING.

How to Treat Feet Which Have Been Affected by It.

Probably the first discomfort which unaccustomed standing will cause results from tiredness and swelling of the feet at night. This is relieved by bathing the feet in hot water to which a good handful of coarse salt has been added, afterward drying them well and gently rubbing them with a piece of flannel. This, of course, is a very mild remedy, and a far more efficacious bath is made by adding half an ounce of powdered alum, an ounce of borax and one of sea salt to a foot bath of hot water. The greatest relief will then be given, every trace of pain and burning being removed. If the feet in addition to feeling swelled and tired are actually tender to the touch witch hazel, to which a few drops of spirits of camphor have been added, should be rubbed in after the bath, when the most satisfactory results will ensue. The extract is really invaluable for tender feet, and any one who suffers in this way would do well to see that a bottle accompanies her on her travels.

Another homely and very valuable preparation for tired or aching feet is ammonia, and this is often more easily obtainable than salt in sufficient quantities, for salt is necessarily a bulky thing. A foot bath, with hot or just warm water, to which a teaspoonful of ammonia has been added, is literally a specific for tired, swelled and aching feet, and one which is easily procured.

After the hot foot bath it is well to examine the feet carefully, noting any hard patches or calloused skin and removing them by rubbing with a file immediately they appear. Underneath the toe ball, especially of the big toe, and the sides of the heel frequently develop these hard places, and the sooner they are removed the better. If neglected they may develop into corns, and, anyway, they are productive of considerable discomfort.

Matched Jeweled Sets.

From shoe buckles to hatpins jewels now come matched together. Two buckles and two pins come in each set. Platinum is the favorite ground, ornamented with chasing or appliqued with gold filigree wire and mounted with the opaque stones.

Whatever material and gem are chosen, the construction is invariably light and airy, with openwork spacings and very small gems. Filigree wire is much used for flower pins, and a fine example of their dainty lightness is shown in platinum wire.

Baby's Knife and Fork.

A tiny knife and fork for a baby are sold in the shops. They will be welcome by the mothers who believe that small children should be accustomed to the table utensils of their elders as soon as possible, for, while his knife and fork are very broad and very short and can easily be held and manipulated by a baby hand, yet they are a real knife and fork.

IN THE LINGERIE SHOP.

Lingerie in all its daintiest forms is to be seen in the shops. Charming sets copied from imported models are very moderate in price. One lovely French set, consisting of nightgown, chemise and drawers, has a band of pink ribbons surmounted by a band faced with blue mull. Each piece in the set is charmingly finished off with ribbon bows.

Another set of three pieces has an empire nightgown and chemise trimmed with bands of pink or blue batiste. The daintiest little crepe de chine underbodices are to be seen in the stores. They are of lace and ribbon and look charming under a sheer blouse.

Everybody is dancing now, and for the feminine dancer a pretty petticoat is as necessary as a pretty dance frock. Special dancing skirts are made of accordion plaited chiffon in pink, blue or white. Crepe de chine petticoats with lace flounces are to be had in all the evening shades. For the dansants there are crepe de chine or messaline skirts in dark shades, to be worn under suits.

Mercerized cotton petticoats are well made and come in all the usual silk petticoat colors—violet, red, green, blue and brown. They are soft and durable and not at all cumbersome.

CHURCH AND CHOIR

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL.

"Truth, a Divider" was the subject of Mr. Willmott's morning sermon.

In the midst of warring sects and opposing religious dogmas young manhood and young womanhood are seeking some adequate statement of truth and some guiding principle to direct their lives. It is to be found in the Book of Books. Paul revealed the touchstone when he said: "If any man have not the Spirit of Christ he is none of his."

There is a striving in human life for unity and yet we are conscious when we come to think that truth divides. There never will be unity until all men love truth.

Into the religious world of his time separated into many sects Jesus flung a challenge. He put before them the great truth, "God is a Spirit and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth." He proclaimed a spiritual religion.

Salvation through character is a shibboleth which does not ring true. It is putting effect before cause. The spirit of man evolves from itself outward as in the material world all development is from the hidden germ within. In each man's soul a spiritual germ lies dormant which at God's touch may spring forth into life.

Religion is not logic nor philosophy nor culture though it may embrace all of these. Men may accept creeds and not be Christian. None of these things are essential to true religion which is not confined to the privileged and cultured but may be found in the meanest habit.

A man may be full of faults yet if his soul yearns for the light and seeks to become the abode of the Spirit the church should welcome him to her sheltering arms.

In a world the test of all religion is the spirit which animates the life.

The Christian Endeavor meeting was of unusual interest. It was led by Curtis Pierce and the subject was "Good Foundations." Several new members were admitted into the society Carl W. Pierce and Phillips Innis as associate members and Miss Annie Holmes Miss Ethel Ellis, Miss Vera Bergfors, and Guy Shaw as active members. It being consecration meeting the roll was called and forty-two responded.

A contest has been started among the committee to see which committee has the largest percentage present at the meetings. Sunday evening there were three committees with one hundred per cent,—the prayer meeting, the lookout, and the finance. A chart has been prepared and much interest is being shown. Seventy per cent of all the members were present and also several visitors. A cordial welcome is always extended to visitors.

HALL PLACE M. E.

At the Hall Place M. E. church, Rev. P. S. Neldon led the Epworth League devotional service at 6. P. M. on the subject "The Changing East" He took for the text of his evening sermon John 8—32 "And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

On Wednesday evening the Ladies aid will hold a poverty social at the home of Mrs. James McCormick on Hall place, the proceeds to be used for new song books in the Sunday school.

The next Sunday Wei Ping Chen, an Americanized Chinese, a graduate of Peking University, and Ohio Wesleyan University, now just completing his course at Boston University will preach at the morning service and address the Sunday school.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN.

The Rev. Chester Arthur Drummond of the First Congregational society in Somerville occupied the pulpit Sunday in exchange with the pastor and preached a helpful sermon on "Peace."

An entertainment in aid of the British Imperial Relief Fund will be given in Tremont Temple, Thursday Feb 25 at 8 p. m.

The Sunday school held a special service in commemoration of peace between England and the United States for one hundred years. A special Peace Service was used. There were readings and recitations by members of the school, selections by the Sunday school orchestra and an address by Mrs. H. J. Gurney, the well known lecturer.

The Unitarian Sunday school Union of Boston meets in Arlington street church, Boston on Wednesday. Supper at six. At seven o'clock Prof. Kirsopp Lake of Harvard will speak on "The Use of the Higher Criticism in the Teaching of Children."

Miss Fannie Johnson, 196 Pine street has been elected unanimously by the parish committee, editor of "The Dial," the weekly paper published by this church.

The following members of the Sunday school did not miss a single session during the past year:—Madeline Child, Carl G. Horst, Jr., Virginia Bishop, Earl Cath, Judith Page, Gretchen C. Horst, Anna Weston, Clarence Cath. Harold Morgan missed one session and Geraldine Olive, Bernadine Barker, Mary Polk, Lewis Merrill, Julia Polk and Helen Thompson two sessions.

Rev. Carl G. Horst will be the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Ladies' Library association in Randolph Tuesday evening Feb. 23rd.

The Apollo Quartet of Boston will render a musical program at the Vesper service Sunday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

Rev. Carl G. Horst last Wednesday evening gave the charge to the people at the installation of the Rev. James W. Macdonald as minister of the First Unitarian church in Upton.

Special services for the deepening of the moral and religious life will be held Sunday evenings at 7.30 o'clock during Lent. Among the preachers are Rev. Abbott Peterson, Brookline; Rev. Lyman V. Rutledge, Cambridge; Rev. Fred R. Lewis, North Easton; Rev. Henry C. Parker, Woburn.

The entertainment committee will hold a social in Brasee hall Thursday evening.

Mrs. William E. Rowe in the interest of the Mothers' Congress and the Parents' and Teachers' associations has lately addressed large audiences at Keene and Marlboro in New Hampshire and is to speak Wednesday of this week at Bennington, Vermont.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST.

At the Sunday morning service Rev. Joseph Walther preached an inspiring sermon on the "Kind of Christians Needed Today." The text was Eph. 6:10.

In the first place the time in which we live demands the very best which can be given to it. In Europe, Asia, and America we see social and political activity. It's a time of great questioning and much doubting. Great is the poverty and suffering of today as we see in the question of employed, but still many have vast riches and great luxuries. Many men are depending on God for help in this time of trouble while great are the revivals of today.

The kind of Christians needed for such a day and time. Those willing to work and ready to work. Also those who are in prayer with God a great deal, for all great men of the bible were men of prayer. Those willing to sacrifice, even as many a mother's son is giving his life for his country, to whatever nation he belongs. What God demands in loyalty to himself and Jesus Christ. Those who can do things and not merely talk of them. Men such as Abraham Moses, Paul and Jesus Christ and many others filled with the Holy Spirit. The Sunday School met at 12.15 in the chapel. There were 335 present and several new ones were added to the school.

The Junior Endeavor meeting was held at 3.30 P. M. in the chapel. Mrs. Walther was in charge. Subject: "The Story of Levi's Feast." Luke 5: 27-32. Leader, Marjorie Wilson.

Y. P. S. C. E. Consecration meeting was held at 6.00. Subject: "The Solid Foundations of Life." 1 Cor. 3:9-15. Leader, Ernest C. Roberts.

Evening service at 7.00. The pastor preached on the subject: "The Great Commander and His Commands." The chorus choir sang at morning and evening service.

Wednesday afternoon at 3.00, the Woman's Home Mission Society will meet with Mrs. Philip S. Dresser, 18 South Central avenue. Subject, "Notes from the Home Field." Leader, Mrs. George F. Pinkham. All women invited.

Thursday afternoon at 4.00 the Pastor's class in the Fundamental Principles of the Christian Faith, will meet in the Chapel. Boys and girls from eleven years, upwards are urged to be present. Parents are asked to co-operate.

Thursday evening at 7.45, the regular meeting for Praise, Prayer and Testimony will be held in the Chapel. Subject, "The February Number of 'Missions'; things in it helpful and interesting." Please bring your magazines to the meeting.

Friday evening at 6.15, the newly organized "Men's Assembly" of this church will hold its first meeting in the Chapel. Dinner at 6.30, followed by an address on "George Washington," by Melville C. Freeman. There will be music and other entertainment also.

NOTICE!
This space will be devoted each day—not to advertise cheap grade at full value, but Johnson Bros. Quality Goods at a sure low price.
Buy These Today
20c can Extra Sifted Peas for 15c
25c Glass of Curtice Bros. Current Jelly 20c
JOHNSON BROS., City Square.

SPECIAL
MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY
Large, Luscious Peppermint Patties
29c a lb.
CHAS. C. HEARN
Druggist, City Square

BELIEVED THEY WERE

(Continued from Page One.)

feel that they were for the time being in another land and it was with reluctance that they took their departure at a late hour. So great was the demand for tickets that the committee will repeat the party Wednesday evening, at which time another opportunity will be afforded to view the decorations.

Much praise for the beautiful work must be given to James B. Schmidt who conceived and carried out the idea and scheme. The souvenir tickets and menu cards were also samples of his work, the scenes being from Japanese gardens. Much credit is also due to the committee in charge, which included Mrs. C. A. Clapp, Miss Alfreta Hanson, Miss Mary Blake and James B. Schmidt.

So great was the desire to view the decorations that Mrs. Clapp opened her home to visitors on Sunday and Monday and hundreds called to see it.

The Japanese attendants were William Beattie and J. B. Schmidt.

The finance committee of the city council under the chairmanship of Alfred H. Richards is not allowing any matters that have been referred to them to get mouldy. For this reason a meeting of this committee was held Monday evening immediately following the council meeting.

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES.
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branchied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

THE BROCKTON GAME.

Brockton's opinion of last week's basketball game is expressed in the Enterprise as follows:

"Two fast exhibitions of basketball were handed out to the spectators at the Brockton High school yesterday afternoon when the strong Quincy first and second teams played the Brockton High quintettes. An even break was the most either team could get of the two games, but Brockton had the shade because of the fact that the first team was a winner by a 22 to 14 score. The Brockton Seconds lost their first game of the season, going down before the Quincy High second team is a hard fought game, 12 to 11.

"The Brockton first team was far from being in form in the first half, and although they came back some in the second period they showed a slowness that is something new for them this season. The only thing that brought the hopes of the Brockton rooters up were three pretty shots made by Fred Hill. His work in this period was all that Brockton could boast of in the way of a score But the team in the first half put up a good defensive game, holding their opponents down to one goal from the floor. The other two points scored by them came on goals from fouls.

"A reversal of form was shown by both teams in the second half and some of the prettiest basketball seen in the High school gym, this season was pulled off. Brockton outpointed its opponents 16 to 10 in this half of the game."

WOMEN'S TOURNAMENT.

Cochato Club Women Get Good Scores With the Boston Pins.

Monday evening teams, one, three and four bowled and only two members were absent. Team three captured 6 points, team one 4 points, team four 2 points. Mrs. Hall made the best single string and Mrs. Wilder the leading total. The scores were as follows:

TEAM ONE.

Mrs. Andrews	83	78	95	256
Mrs. Wetherbee	83	77	70	230
Mrs. Patten	70	83	63	216
Mrs. Olin	76	76	77	229
Miss Crocker	78	81	83	242
Mrs. Hollis	41	53	61	155
	431	448	449	1328

TEAM THREE

Mrs. Connell	79	80	76	255
Mrs. Wilder	94	87	84	265
Miss Perry	68	75	74	217
Miss Hatchard	58	58	58	174
Mrs. Lawley	68	74	71	213
Mrs. Prescott	74	77	79	230
	441	451	442	1334

TEAM FOUR

Mrs. Hall	78	83	97	258
Mrs. Perry	77	77	77	231
Mrs. Jenkins	57	77	87	221
Miss Kneeland	66	69	70	205
Mrs. Richards	78	76	67	221
Mrs. Robbins	62	[illegible]	59	181
	418	442	457	1317

POINTS WON

Team three	37
Team one	12 1-2
Team two	11 1-2
Team four	10

Dubois and White are ready to roll Kelly and Herb Smith Monday night at Wardwells alley. The match will be a special 10 string.

AVERY'S TEAM IN FIRST PLACE

Overturns Sullivans in K. of C. League Matches

K. OF C LEAGUE STANDING.

Capt. P. Avery	21	7
Capt. R. Sullivan	19	9
Capt. Coyle	14	14
Capt. Fallon	13	15
Capt. Cantfill	10	18
Capt. F. Avery	7	21

High single, R. Sullivan, 130.
High total, R. Sullivan, 333.
High team single, Capt. Cantfill 478
High team total, Capt. Coyle 1385.

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

Capt. P. Avery 3,—Capt. Sullivan 1.
Capt. Fallon 4,—Capt. F. Avery 0.
Capt. Coyle,—Capt. Cantfill 0.

Upsets were the rule and not the exception in the matches of Quincy council, Knights of Columbus, league at Wardwell's Monday night. The team of Paul Avery displaced Capt. Russell Sullivans five in first place; the Coyles took all four points from the Cantfills and held third place while their rivals dropped to fifth after both had been tied for a short period and the Fallons shook the Frank Averys, 4 to 0 and left the latter in the cellar while they nestled into fourth place. The Coyles made a team total of 1385, the league record to date. High single was by Coyle who got 117 and a high total of 312. The summaries:

CAPT. COYLE—4.

Hogan	101	86	92	279
P. Sullivan	99	91	104	294
Thompson	88	84	82	254
Magee	87	81	78	246
Coyle	97	98	117	312
	472	440	473	1385

CAPT. CANTFILL—0.

Brown	72	96	88	256
McDermott	83	76	85	244
McGrath	90	72	71	233
Heaney	79	100	92	271
Cantfill	82	88	95	265
	406	432	432	1270

CAPT. FALLON—4.

Mahon	87	95	101	283
Cain	110	89	96	285
Flaherty	76	95	86	257
Ford	84	79	75	238
Fallon	75	75	75	225
	432	433	433	1298

CAPT. F. AVERY.—0.

Burns	90	93	74	257
Driscoll	75	73	77	225
Fallon	88	89	79	256
Welch	77	81	84	252
F. Avery	72	81	75	228
	402	417	389	1208

CAPT. P. AVERY—3.

Murphy	96	96	91	283
Brown	84	74	70	228
Lavelle	96	88	95	279
Walsh	102	82	88	272
P. Avery	97	78	90	265
	475	418	434	1327

CAPT. SULLIVAN—1.

Powers	78	98	93	269
Myatt	80	85	82	247
Mahon	86	79	74	239
Driscoll	84	76	112	272
R. Sullivan	94	74	105	274
	423	412	466	1301

PRATT'S BREAD—the staff of life for you and your wife. Get a loaf today.

Nothing More Needed.

The Lion—Is dinner ready?
The Monkey—Yes, sir; I'll go bring it to you.
The Lion (significantly)—But why go?—Pittsburgh Press.

EDWARD J. FECAN
Counsellor at Law
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 403-4. Haymarket 2400
Oct. -tf

SINGLE OF 125 BY MRS. ELCOCK

Mrs. Gretchen Elcock, a member of the Quincy Girls bowling team established a new city record for girls at Wardwell's alley Monday when she got a single of 125, jumping the record single of Mrs. Florence Moran by seven pins and made a total of 316 in three strings. The performance has never before been equalled in Quincy and is an exceptionally high mark. Her first single was 92, two 14 spares appearing in the fifth and last box. Her third string was 99, an 18, 16 and 15 spare bringing her one pin less than a century.

Her record of 125, was made in the second string. Four successive spares all the result of fine rolling and the last spare made with the drops against her, netted her 68. Two eights and a nine box brought her up to 93 in the seventh. In the eighth she bought up a difficult spare which netted five and 108. She closed with an eight and nine box for 125.

Mrs. Elcock, while not in real league competition, had a man opponent and was forced to roll every minute to hold the lead. The witnesses to the match were Norman Beaton, Edward J. Murphy, A. J. LaCroix and Albert Nelson.

The single record of 118 by Mrs. Florence Moran was made shortly after the Wardwell alleys were opened this season. It set a beautiful mark to peg at and although any number of girls got started toward boosting the record they appeared to be unable to stand the pace. Several times 112 was reached, and 116 once, but that was the limit until Monday. Foremost among the contenders was Mrs. Elcock, a close friend of Mrs. Moran. With Mrs. Gertrude Blake, a third member of the Quincy Girls team the record was always in danger. The candy offered as a weekly prize usually went to either Mrs. Moran, Mrs. Blake or Mrs. Elcock. Helen Gagan and Helen Olson the other two members did their share in passing the century and also secured weekly prizes, the latter getting 116, but it remained for Mrs. Elcock to boost the mark and set a new total.

8	10	18	18	9
9 17	10	19	37	6	15
9 26	10	17	54	4	19
7 33	10	14	68	10	18 37
10 14 47	8		76	8	45
8 55	8		84	7	52
6 61	9		93	10	16 68
9 70	10	15	108	9	77
8 78	8		116	7	84
0 14 92	9		125	10	15 99

SUNDAY'S PRESTIGE WANES

Congregational Ministers of Boston Disagree Concerning Evangelist

Boston, Feb. 16.—"Billy" Sunday and his methods of conversion were tossed about in a lively wrangle at a meeting of the Congregational ministers, in which a sharp division of sentiment appeared.

Charges of "railroading" the project through the meeting were hurled back and forth, and the prestige that had apparently been Sunday's waned considerably before some of the ministers concluded.

A visit by Sunday to Boston was styled by one minister a calamity, while another declared that the weeping in the tabernacle in Philadelphia was by drunken men and that the "conversions" were not apparent on the faces of those who marched to shake Sunday's hands.

The opposition to Sunday appeared in the meeting with the suddenness and force of a bombshell. The meeting adjourned without definite action by either side to the controversy.

FREIGHTERS USE THE CANAL

Shorten Coast-to-Coast Trip Eighty Days and Save Money

Washington, Feb. 16.—The Isthmian canal authorities have been agreeably surprised at the disposition shown by the maritime interests to use the canal for sailing vessels, as it had been assumed that the canal would derive no revenue from this source.

As a matter of fact, four sailing vessels already have passed through the canal and demonstrated that it can be used economically by that class of ships.

It has been reckoned that, using the canal, a sailing vessel may make the trip from New York to San Francisco in sixty days, while it would require 140 days to make the voyage by way of Cape Horn. It is figured that under average conditions a vessel would save about eighty days by using the canal, which would mean an approximate saving of $3300, allowing $2700 for cost of passing through the canal.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

RUSSIANS ARE FARING BADLY

Are Driven Back Over the Border of East Prussia

ALSO RETREAT IN BUKOWINA

Vienna Reports That Whole District Has Been Cleared of Czar's Forces—Austro-German Troops Pouring Through Carpathian Passes, Where Russians Are Holding Their Own at Only One Point—Military Operations in Poland Halted by Bad Weather—Fighting on Franco-Belgian Line Is Desultory

London, Feb. 16.—Dispatches from the eastern war fields indicate that the Russians have not yet rallied before the sudden advances of Germans in the north and Austro-Germans in the south.

In both East Prussia and Bukowina the czar's troops continue to fall back. The army north of Tilsit, in East Prussia, which had been unaccounted for in the general retreat, is now declared to have been driven over the frontier with their companion forces of the Mazurian lake district, and to be now seeking a place to reorganize on the banks of the Niemen, with the pursuing Germans close at their heels.

A little further north, on Russian territory, just across the Prussian border and in the vicinity of the Prussian city of Lyck, a great battle is in progress, the Russians making a desperate attempt to stem the German tide so suddenly turned against them.

Ousted From Bukowina

In the Hungarian crown land of Bukowina, where ten days ago the Russians were on the point of invading Transylvania with the prospect of taking Roumania into the war with them, the czar's soldiers appear to have finally been ousted from the capital city of Czernowitz and to be rapidly retreating in a northeasterly direction to the Russian frontier.

Optimistic dispatches from Vienna even declare that the whole of Bukowina has been cleared of Russians, but Petrograd does not admit this, saying that fighting that is favorable to the Russian arms is still in progress.

Little word comes from the Carpathian passes, where, up to now, desperate fighting has been going on, and it is probable large numbers of Russians have been shifted from this region for the purpose of driving back the great Austro-German army now pushing into Bukowina.

Austro-Germans Fill Passes

Through the Jabonlitza, the most easterly of these Galician passes, Austro-German troops have poured in large numbers, and have occupied Nadworna, twenty-five miles to the north, and are still moving to the north from that point towards Stanislau, an important railroad junction point on the road to Lemberg, possession of which, with Halicz, a little further north, will give control of the railways between central Galicia and Bukowina.

Advances of varying importance have also been made from most of the remaining Carpathian passes. The only point where the Rusisans have been able to hold their own is the lower valley of the San. The Russian losses in the last ten days in Galicia and Bukowina are said to be well over 25,000.

Quiet In Poland

In southern and central Poland very bad weather had caused a momentary halt in military operations, with each side retaining their prior positions. The Russians seem to think the Germans are getting ready for a new drive on Warsaw as soon as weather conditions permit.

To the north of the Vistula the Germans are moving rapidly eastward and have occupied Racidz on the Dzialdorka river, northwest of Novo-Georgevisk and Warsaw.

Situation In the West

There is only desultory fighting on the Franco-Belgian line. The Germans report they have captured about 1000 yards of trenches in the region south of Ypres, in Belgium, while, as an offset, the allies have taken about 300 yards of the German trenches on the road between Bethune and La Bassee, where the British forces are massed.

In Lorraine the French are still trying to retake the town of Norroy, which was captured by the Germans on Saturday, and succeeded in driving their opponents to the north side of Signal hill, where they are still holding their trenches.

Artillery engagements have been about continuous at certain points along the line. In the region of Soissons the German defensive arrangements were destroyed and the same thing happened at Perthes. A German battery near Ypres was silenced and there was a heated exchange in the vicinity of Arras.

TEN BILLION DOLLARS

War Has Cost the Allies This Enormous Sum Up to Present

Ten billion dollars have been appropriated by the allies thus far in the most expensive war from the standpoint of human lives, dollars and war material ever waged, Chancellor of the Exchequer George asserted in the house of commons.

He added that Great Britain is spending probably $500,000,000 or $750,000,000 more than either Russia or France "in the fight against German militarism."

"England," he said, "could finance her share of the war expenditure for five years longer solely out of the proceeds of her investments abroad. France could finance her share for two or three years by a similar means and still have something to spare. There need be no fear as to Russia. Through her prodigiously rich natural resources she is in a different position from either France or England."

Winston S. Churchill disclosed for the first time the total naval losses as the result of the war. These, he said, were upward of 5000 officers and men, a majority of them victims of submarines.

Concerning submarines, Churchill outlined what Great Britain purposed to do as a counter to the German policy. In view of what he styled "piracy and murder," Churchill said that it was incumbent on Great Britain for the first time to apply the "full force" of her naval power. A formal declaration to this effect, he added, would be made forthwith.

GERMANY TO ITALY

Outline of Alleged Proposition to Latter to Join In War

The Idea Nazionale of Rome, organ of the Nationalist party, publishes a forecast of German proposals to Italy, which reads as follows:

"Before the end of February, Prince von Buelow, German ambassador to Italy, will present to the Italian government a concrete proposal for Italian participation in the war on the side of Germany. This consists of the cession by Austria of the province of Trent and the rectification of the eastern Italian frontier by the addition of a strip of land going as far as the Isonzo river. In addition Germany will pledge herself to conclude a new treaty with Italy, which will afford protection to Italy's Mediterranean interests.

"In exchange, Italy is to take part at once in the war. She will occupy Tunis and help Turkey drive the English from Egypt, which will return under the dominion of the Sultan of Turkey. In addition, the Italian fleet will attack the Anglo-French naval forces in the Mediterranean."

FIRED ON FROM AIR

Austrian Raiders Attack Palace of the King of Montenegro

The members of the royal family of Montenegro were subjected, in their residence at Rieka, to machine gun fire from two Austrian aeroplanes. Rieka is a village near Lake Scutari, where the royal family passes the winter.

King Nicholas, the queen and the princesses watched the aerial raiders from their palace windows. Several of the bullets fired from the aeroplanes fell near them.

FIVE UNDER ARREST

Hunt For Man Who Actually Shot James Is Being Continued

Hingham, Mass., Feb. 16.—Five of the six men believed to have had some connection with the shooting of Chief of Police James are now under arrest, but the man still at large has thus far eluded the net of policemen and militiamen that have been scouring the South Shore, and is thought to have taken refuge in Boston.

It is believed the man still missing is the one who actually fired the three shots at the chief, although the gun was found in the possession of John Argente, who is now held in $10,000 on a charge of attempted murder.

Argenti gave the marines at the Fore River reservation some trouble before he was finally captured. With him under arrest are four others, Joseph Muzzi, Antonio Muzzi, Peter Ponduri and Salvatore Signarelli. James is resting comfortably in a hospital at Boston.

Neck Broken by Fall of Coal

Adams, Mass., Feb. 16.—A sudden rise in temperature here caused the instant death of Abraham Saulnier. Saulnier, who was employed in a mill, inspected a pile of frozen coal. He stepped beneath an arch of it, not noticing that the warmth had started an unusual thaw. A part of the arch fell, striking Saulnier on the head and breaking his neck.

Copper Was Labelled "Sugar"

Copenhagen, Feb. 16.—A large shipment of copper, packed in casks, labelled "sugar" and put aboard the steamship Carmen, was seized here. The copper was consigned to a German firm. The shipper and the captain of the vessel were arrested.

Rushing Work on Torpedoes

Newport, R. I., Feb. 16.—Orders to rush the construction of torpedoes for the navy were complied with at the torpedo station by the setting at work of two shifts of machinists, thus doubling the product of the present limited plant.

Filipino Rebels Arraigned

Manila, Feb. 16.—Eight of the men who were arrested charged with participation in the abortive uprising in the suburbs of Manila were arraigned and pleaded not guilty. Their trial has been set for March.

One Knew It.

He—Didn't it ever occur to you that I was in love with you? She—Certainly; haven't you ever noticed me laughing to myself?—Topeka Journal.

State House News

It was inevitable that all the Peace talk which is agitating the public, should find its echo in the Legislature. There is a movement on foot to memorialize Congress on the the matter. Peace is more important than a good many subjects on which the Legislature has presumed to instruct Congress.

The particular plan now proposed is that the United States delegates to the postal congress which meets this year be instructed to suggest that the congress receive the authority of the various nations actually to manage the international mails, under an international flag, free from the interference of any nation.

The supporters of this idea claim that it will sow the seed of closer union between the nations, which will grow and grow until it insures the Peace of the World.

It now seems likely that the bill of the Boston & Maine trustees will be referred by the Legislature to the Public Service Commission.

After much urging the Sergeant-at-Arms of the State House has at last put an adequate lock—or rather an adequate guard to the old lock—on the Governor's door. It will no longer be possible for the lock to be picked with a penknife as recently happened.

With Representative Washburn out voting Speaker Cox whenever he pleases, and Representative McLaughlin doing the same with Czar Lomasney, machine rule does not seem to be very prosperous in the Legislature at present.

The appointment of a "steering committee" by the Democratic legislators at the suggestion of the Governor reminds us of 1911 and the very successful Democratic "committee on platform vindication" of that year.

With the Democrats backing their "steering committee" and with the Republicans solidly behind their declaration of principles (except when Washburn occasionally kicks over the traces) responsibility for legislation will be squarely up to each party as a whole. This is as it should be.

McLaughlin isn't expected to kick over the traces with respect for the "steering committee" for it was he who appointed it.

Many who believe that a world state is a thing of the remote future, nevertheless feel that a step toward it would be made by the establishment of an international body to many of the international mails. That is why the resolution of the World Postal League to that end is receiving such favorable attention on the hill.

Whatever one may think of McCall's views, one must admire his courage in handling the race-religious issue without gloves. He has no use for either A. P. A.'s or inverted A. P. A.'s.

It looks as though the cattle claims would be paid in full, unless the resolve for that purpose is jeopardized by the partisan action of the friends either of the Governor or of ex-Commissioner Walker.

All the committees are breaking all records by the speed with which they are holding hearings and disposing of petitions. But this speed has caused a number of mistakes in important bills, and the legislators are accordingly considering becoming a bit more deliberate.

The Governor's plan for a constitutional convention has been voted down. Evidently the conservatives wish to wait until there is a little less radical sentiment.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
Telephone 1153-M Quincy
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1291 Hancock Street, Quincy F27

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

NORTH WEYMOUTH

The Sunday school of the St. Jerome parish held a session in the newly erected church on Bridge street, Sunday for the first time. The superintendent, Mrs. Nora Joyce has charge of the Bible History Class and other teachers are Rose Landry, Agnes Monoghon, Mary Monoghan, Evangeline McDonald, the Misses Susie, Mary and Leonora O'Rourke, Annie Egan, Kathryn Egan, Mrs. Henry Damon, Nellie Coneen, Lillie McCue.

The Short Story in the Post of Monday was from the pen of Miss Maude Williams of Lincoln street.

Mrs. Henry Miller of Pratt avenue picked a full blown dandelion in her yard last Wednesday.

Mrs. Alfred W. Gardner is visiting Mr. Gardners mother, Mrs. Grace Warkus, at her home in New York.

John Tobin, the seven year old son of the popular letter carrier who has been housed with rheumatism the greater part of the winter, returned to his studies at the Athens school, Monday.

The Athens Basket Ball team scored another victory Friday when they defeated the Shaw School team by a score of 16 to 5.

Howard Coose of Green street spent the week end with relatives in South Braintree.

Miss Florence Robinson of Lynn and Braintree, was the guest Saturday of Mrs. Harry Bailey.

Mrs. Mary Mahoney of Cain avenue East Weymouth was a recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Culley.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Donovan have moved from Sea street to Quincy.

Waldo Emery of Sea street has installed a telephone at his residence.

Mrs. Alton Blanchard of the Heights who has been confined to her home with a severe cold, is much improved.

Mrs. Eliot Tobey of Bridge street is entertaining her uncle Everett Tufts, a station agent on the Maine Central R. R.

The cook books compiled by Squad 5 of the Pilgrim Circle and printed at the Ledger office is enjoying a remarkable sale in North Weymouth.

Philip C. Shute has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Roy Vining of Sea street

Troop 4, B. S. A. with Scout master Harry Bailey hiked to the Baptist church, Weymouth Landing last Friday and listened to a lecture on "Scouting." The capacity of the vestry was taxed, every troop in town attending.

Daniel Veno an employee of the A. & C. Co., on Monday fell from a step ladder while painting at the Bradley Fertilizer Co. plant. Three ribs were broken and it is thought his skull may be fractured. His condition is serious.

Frank H. Torrey, who is at present a commissioner of the water board, announces his candidacy for re-election.

Mrs. F. L. Chase of Lynn and Mrs Willard Hall of West Somerville were entertained recently by Mrs. Edward H. Kavanaugh of King Cove.

Mrs. E. C. Swift is much improved in health.

Herman Bates has been elected assistant superintendent of the Old North Sunday school; Edward Bates Secretary and Treasurer; Miss Bertha Nash librarian.

Miss Mabelle Carlton has returned to her home in Salem, after an extended visit with Mrs Hannah Abbott.

J. P. Haddie is erecting a handsome residence on Union avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hayden entertained the King Cove club at their home on Bridge street Friday evening.

Miss Doris Lovell Torrey went over to New York Friday as the guest of Mrs. Marie Massinet formerly of Brockline.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

ADMINISTRATRIX' NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administratrix of the estate of William E. Hayden, late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, intestate and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to LILLIAN E. HAYDEN, Administratrix
(Address)
25 Wollaston Ave., Quincy.
Feb. 11, 1915.
3t Feb 16-23 Mar. 2

CONLIN SHOE REPAIRING

Men's Sewed Taps and Heels	75c
Men's Sewed Taps and Rubber heels	$1.00
Men's Nail Taps and Heels	65c
Men's Heels	20c
Ladies' Taps and Heels Sewed	65c
Ladies Taps and Rubber heels Sewed	85c
Ladies Heels	15c
Rubber Heels	40c and 50c
Skates Sharpened, New Process	15c
$4 Ralston Shoes for	3.50

Hancock and Saville Sts.
Tel. 961-M. Oct. 7-tf

The Exploits of Elaine

A Detective Novel and a Motion Picture Drama

By ARTHUR B. REEVE
The Well-Known Novelist and the Creator of the "Craig Kennedy" Stories

Presented in Collaboration With the Pathe Players and the Eclectic Film Company

Copyright, 1914, by the Star Company. All Foreign Rights Reserved.

SYNOPSIS.

The New York police are mystified by a series of murders of prominent men. The principal clue to the murderer is the warning letter which is sent the victims, signed with a "clutching hand." The latest victim of the mysterious assassin is Taylor Dodge, the insurance president. His daughter, Elaine, employs Craig Kennedy, the famous scientific detective, to try to unravel the mystery. What Kennedy accomplishes is told by his friend Jameson, a newspaper man. Elaine is kidnaped by the Clutching Hand, but is rescued by Kennedy, who has discovered her whereabouts through using third degree methods on one of the crooks.

EIGHTH EPISODE

The Hidden Voice.

"Jameson, wake up!"

The strain of the Dodge case was beginning to tell on me, for it was keeping us at work at all kinds of hours to circumvent the Clutching Hand, by far the cleverest criminal with whom Kennedy had ever had anything to do.

I leaped out of bed, still in my pajamas, and stood for a moment staring about. Then I ran into the living room. I looked about, rubbing my eyes, startled. No one was there.

"Hey—Jameson—wake up!"

It was spooky.

"Where—the deuce—are you?" I demanded.

Suddenly I heard the voice again—no doubt about it, either.

"Here I am—over on the couch!"

I scratched my head, puzzled. There was certainly no one on that couch.

A laugh greeted me. Plainly, though, it came from the couch. I went over to it and, ridiculous as it seemed, began to throw aside the pillows.

There lay nothing but a little oblong oaken box, perhaps eight or ten inches square at the ends. In the face were two peculiar square holes, and from the top projected a black disk, about the size of a watch, fastened on a swinging metal arm. In the face of the disk were several perforated holes.

I picked up the strange looking thing in wonder, and from that magic oak box actually came a burst of laughter.

"Come over to the laboratory, right away," pealed forth a merry voice. "I've something to show you."

"Well," I gasped, "what do you know about that?"

Very early that morning Craig had got up, leaving me snoring. Cases never wearied him. He thrived on excitement.

He had gone over to the laboratory and set to work in a corner over another of those peculiar boxes, exactly like that which he had already left in our rooms.

Half an hour afterward I walked into the laboratory, feeling a little sheepish over the practical joke, but none the less curious to find out all about it.

"What is it?" I asked, indicating the apparatus.

"A vocaphone," he replied, still laughing, "the loud speaking telephone, the little box that hears and talks. It talks right out in meeting, too—no transmitter to hold to the mouth, no receiver to hold to the ear. You see, this transmitter is so sensitive that it picks up even a whisper, and the receiver is placed back of those two megaphone-like pyramids."

He was standing at a table, carefully packing up one of the vocaphones and a lot of wire.

"I believe the Clutching Hand has been shadowing the Dodge house," he continued thoughtfully. "As long as we watch the place, too, he will do nothing. But if we should seem, ostentatiously, not to be watching, perhaps he may try something, and we may be able to get a clue to his identity over this vocaphone. See?"

I nodded. "We've got to run him down somehow," I agreed.

"Yes," he said, taking his coat and hat. "I am going to connect up one of these things in Miss Dodge's library and arrange with the telephone company for a clear wire so that we can listen in here, where that fellow will never suspect."

At about the same time that Craig and I sallied forth on this new mission, Elaine was arranging some flowers on a stand near the corner of the Dodge library where the secret panel was in which her father had hidden the papers for the possession of which the Clutching Hand had murdered him.

She had moved away from the table, but, as she did so, her dress caught in something in the woodwork. She tried to loosen it and in so doing touched the little metallic spring on which her dress had caught.

Instantly, to her utter surprise, the panel moved. It slid open, disclosing a strong box.

Elaine took it, amused, looked at it a moment, then carried it to a table and opened it.

Inside were some papers, sealed in an envelope and marked "Limpy Red Correspondence."

"They must be the Clutching Hand papers!" she exclaimed to herself, hesitating a moment, in doubt what to do.

She seized the telephone and eagerly called Kennedy's number.

"Hello," answered a voice.

"Is that you, Craig?" she asked excitedly.

"No, this is Mr. Jameson."

"Oh, Mr. Jameson, I've discovered the Clutching Hand papers," she began, more and more excited.

"Have you read them?" came back the voice quickly.

"No; shall I?"

"Then don't unseal them," cautioned the voice. "Put them back exactly as you found them and I'll tell Mr. Kennedy the moment I can get hold of him."

"All right," said Elaine. "I'll do that. And please get him as soon as you possibly can."

"I will."

"I'm going out shopping now," she returned, suddenly. "But, tell him I'll be right back—right away."

"Very well."

Hanging up the receiver, Elaine dutifully replaced the papers in the box and returned the box to its secret hiding place, pressing the spring and sliding the panel shut.

A few minutes later she left the house in the Dodge car.

Outside our laboratory, leaning up against a railing, Dan the Dude, an emissary of the Clutching Hand, whose dress now greatly belied his underworld "monniker," had been shadowing us, watching to see when we left.

The moment we disappeared, he raised his hand carefully above his head and made the sign of the Clutching Hand. Far down the street, in a closed car, the Clutching Hand himself, his face masked, gave an answering sign.

A moment later he left the car, gazing about stealthily. Not a soul was in sight and he managed to make his way to the door of our laboratory without being observed.

Probably he thought that the papers might be at the laboratory, for he had repeatedly failed to locate them at the Dodge house. At any rate he was busily engaged in ransacking drawers and cabinets, in the laboratory, when the telephone suddenly rang.

An instant he hesitated. Then, disguising his voice as much as he could to imitate mine, he took up the receiver.

"Hello!" he answered.

His face was a study in all that was dark as he realized that it was Elaine calling. He clenched his crooked hand even more viciously.

"Have you read them?" he asked, curbing his impatience as she unsuspectingly poured forth her story, supposedly to me.

"Then don't unseal them," he hastened to reply. "Put them back. Then there can be no question about them. You can open them before witnesses."

For a moment he paused, then added: "Put them back, and tell no one of their discovery. I will tell Mr. Kennedy the moment I can get him."

Clutching Hand studied for a moment and then grabbed the telephone again.

"Hello, Dan," he called when he got his number. "Miss Dodge is going shopping. I want you and the other Falsers to follow her—delay her all you can. Use your own judgment."

It was what had come to be known in his organization as the "Brotherhood of Falsers." There, in the back room of a low dive, were Dan the Dude, the emissary who had been loitering about the laboratory, a gunman, Dago Mike, a couple of women, slatterns, one known as Kitty the Hawk, and a boy of eight or ten, whom they called Billy.

"All right, Chief," shouted back Dan, their leader, as he hung up the telephone after noting carefully the hasty instructions. "We'll do it—trust us."

With alacrity the Brotherhood went their separate ways.

Elaine had not been gone long from the house when Craig and I arrived there.

"Too bad," greeted Jennings, "but Miss Elaine has just gone shopping and I don't know when she'll be back."

Aunt Josephine greeted us cordially, and Craig set down the vocaphone package he was carrying.

"I'm not going to let anything happen here to Miss Elaine again if I can help it," remarked Craig in a low tone, a moment later, gazing about the library.

"What are you thinking of doing?" asked Aunt Josephine keenly.

"I'm going to put in a vocaphone," he returned, unwrapping it.

"What's that?" she asked.

"A loud speaking telephone—connected with my laboratory," he explained, repeating what he had already told me, while she listened almost awe-struck at the latest scientific wonder.

He was looking about, trying to figure out just where it could be placed to best advantage, when he approached the cult of armor.

"I see you have brought it back and had it repaired," he remarked to Aunt Josephine. Suddenly his face lighted up. "Ah—an idea!" he exclaimed. "No one will ever think to look inside that."

"Now, Mrs. Dodge," he said finally, as he had completed installing the thing and hiding the wire under carpets and rugs until it ran out to the connection which he made with the telephone, "don't breathe a word of it—to anyone. We don't know whom to trust or suspect."

Elaine's car had stopped finally at a shop on Fifth avenue. She stepped out and entered, leaving her chauffeur to wait.

As she did so, Dan and Billy sidled along the crowded sidewalk.

Dan the Dude left Billy and Billy surreptitiously drew from under his coat a half loaf of bread. With a glance about, he dropped it into the gutter close to the entrance to Elaine's car. Then he withdrew a little distance.

When Elaine came out and approached her car, Billy, looking as cold and forlorn as could be, shot forward. Pretending to spy the dirty piece of bread in the gutter, he made a dive for it, just as Elaine was about to step into the car.

Elaine, surprised, drew back. Billy picked up the piece of bread and with all the actions of having discovered a treasure began to gnaw at it voraciously.

Shocked at the disgusting sight, she tried to take the bread away from him.

"I know it's dirty, miss," whimpered Billy, "but it's the first food I've seen for four days."

Instantly Elaine was full of sympathy. She had taken the food away. That would not suffice.

"What's your name, little boy?" she asked.

"Billy," he replied, blubbering.

"Where do you live?"

"With me mother and father—they're sick—nothing to eat—"

He was whimpering an address far over on the East side.

"Get into the car," Elaine directed.

"Gee—but this is swell," he cried, with no fake, this time.

On they went, through the tenement canyons, dodging children and push-carts, stopping first at a grocer's, then at a butcher's and a delicatessen. Finally the car stopped where Billy directed. Billy hobbled out, followed by Elaine and her chauffeur, his arms piled high with provisions. She was indeed a lovely Lady Bountiful as a crowd of kids quickly surrounded the car.

In the meantime Dago Mike and Kitty the Hawk had gone to a wretched flat, before which Billy stopped. Kitty sat on the bed, putting dark circles under her eyes with a blackened cork. She was very thin and emaciated, but it was dissipation that had done it. Dago Mike was correspondingly poorly dressed.

He had paused beside the window to look out. "She's coming," he announced finally.

Kitty hastily jumped into the rickety bed, while Mike took up a crutch, that was standing idly in a corner. She coughed resignedly and he limped about, forlorn. They had assumed their parts, which were almost to the burlesque of poverty, when the door was pushed open and Billy burst in, followed by Elaine and the chauffeur.

"Oh, ma—oh, pa," he cried, running forward and kissing his pseudo parents, as Elaine, overcome with sympathy, directed the chauffeur to lay the things on a shaky table.

Just then the door opened again. All were genuinely surprised this time for a prim, spick and span, middle-aged woman entered.

"I am Miss Statistix, of the organized charities," she announced, looking around sharply. "I saw your car standing outside miss, and the children below told me you were up here. I came up to see whether you were aiding really deserving poor.

She laid a marked emphasis on the word, pursing up her lips. There was no mistaking the apprehension that these fine birds of prey had of her, either.

"Why—wh—what's the matter?" asked Elaine, fidgeting uncomfortably.

"This man is a gunman, that woman is a bad woman, the boy is Billy the Bread Snatcher," she answered precisely, drawing out a card on which to record something, "and you, miss, are a fool!"

There was no combating Miss Statistix. She overwhelmed all arguments by the very exactness of her personality.

Elaine departed, speechless, properly squelched, followed by her chauffeur.

Meanwhile, a closed car, such as had stood across from the laboratory, had drawn up not far from the Dodge house. Near it was a man in rather shabby clothes and a visored cap on which were the words in dull gold lettering, "Metropolitan Window Cleaning company." He carried a bucket and a small extension ladder.

In the darkened recesses of the car was the Clutching Hand himself, masked as usual. He had his watch in his hand and was giving most minute instructions to the window cleaner about something. As the latter turned to go, a sharp observer would have noted that it was Dan the Dude, still further disguised.

A few moments later, Dan appeared at the servants' entrance of the Dodge house and rang the bell. Jennings, who happened to be down there, came to the door.

"Man to clean the windows," saluted the bogus cleaner, touching his hat in a way quietly to call attention to the words on it and drawing from his pocket a faked written order.

"All right," nodded Jennings, examining the order and finding it apparently all right.

Dan followed him in, taking the ladder and bucket upstairs, where Aunt Josephine was still reading.

"The man to clean the windows, ma'am," apologized Jennings.

"Oh, very well," she nodded, taking up her book, to go. Then, recalling the frequent injunctions of Kennedy, she paused long enough to speak quietly to Jennings.

"Stay here and watch him," she whispered as she went out.

Jennings nodded, while Dan opened a window and set to work.

Elaine now decided to go home.

From his closed car, the Clutching Hand gazed intently at the Dodge house. He could see Dan on the ladder, now washing the library window, his back toward him.

Dan turned slowly and made the sign of the hand. Turning to his chauffeur, the master criminal spoke a few hurried words in a low tone and the driver hurried off.

A few minutes later the driver might have been seen entering a nearby drug store and going into the telephone booth. Without a moment's hesitation he called upon the Dodge house, and Marie, Elaine's maid, answered.

"Is Jennings there?" he asked. "Tell him a friend wants to speak to him."

"Wait a minute," she answered. "I'll get him."

Marie went toward the library, leaving the telephone off the hook. Dan was washing the windows, half inside, half outside the house, while Jennings was trying to be very busy, although it was apparent that he was watching Dan closely.

(To be continued.)

WILL BE NO MORE WARS

Rev. Dr. Sneath Preaches at Wollaston Congregational

Peace will eventually come in Europe. Then the problem arises—What next? In discussing this question at the Wollaston Congregational church Dr. Sneath named three of his convictions regarding the nature of this "aftermath of peace."

First: The time has come when war shall be no more. For the conviction is steadily growing that the tragedy of this war will continue until it becomes so awful that men will come to realize that the problems of the nations must be settled by arbitration.

Second: The day has gone by when an absolute monarchy can exist: hereafter the consent of the government must enter to a greater degree into the government of all nations.

Third: Peace in Europe will bring America's opportunity with the young men that Europe is losing in the war she is losing her power of leadership. With the burden of poverty and debt to be suffered after the war there must be suffered also a loss of heart and inspiration and it is from America that Europe's help must come.

That they may be worthy to give this help, all true Americans should cultivate a strong body, an alert mind and a courageous soul, realizing that theirs is the task of taking up the banner of Jesus Christ and, in a spirit of brotherhood, carrying the gospel in its largest, truest form, to the nations "coming up out of the night."

The service of the Sunday School under the direction of Supt. Charles A. Campbell, took the form of a memorial service to Abraham Lincoln.

FIRE BALLOONS GIVE OTTAWA BAD SCARE

Canadian Officials Prompted to Start an Investigation

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Feb. 16.—That the aeroplane invasion of Canada, which caused the government officials at Ottawa great alarm, was nothing more than a joke, perpetrated by a party of men at Morristown, N. Y., became known here.

Three large fireworks balloons were sent up from Morristown, which is eleven miles from here. A high wind carried the balloons across the St. Lawrence over Brockville and on towards Ottawa.

Ottawa, Feb. 16.—Despite reports from New York state that the aeroplane scare was a joke Canadian officials are carrying on an investigation. With the reports that aeroplanes were flying over the city all lights were dimmed and all the Dominion troops were ordered out. There is some talk of suspending night sessions of parliament.

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

LOBBYING ON SHIPPING BILL

Senate Unanimously Votes For Thorough Investigation

BURTON STIRS UP BIG ROW

Insinuation Concerning Secretary of Treasury Leads to His Resolution Being Widened to "Catch All the Fish"—Ohioan Sharply Criticised by Reed—Senators May Be Dragged In Washington, Feb. 16.—Members of the senate itself may be dragged into an investigation of the lobby for and against the ship purchase bill, it has developed.

Following the introduction of a resolution by Senator Burton providing for an inquiry into the connection between the ship companies owning interned ships and the administration, particularly the treasury department, the Democrats approved the proposed probe, but suggested that its scope be so widened, as Senator Williams put it, as to "catch all the fish and not only one kind."

The Burton resolution was reported favorably by Chairman Williams of the senate contingent expenses committee, with a number of amendments.

As amended, it directs the investigating committee to summon witnesses, and compel testimony to discover whether the shipping trust, or any shipping company, or any chamber of commerce or other body dominated by ship owners employed lawyers or lobbyists to work against the bill. The resolution particularly inquires if any company with whose ships the proposed government line might compete has been active in opposing the measure.

Also to be investigated, another committee amendment provided, is whether any senators own stock in any company operating ships. The United Fruit company was particularly singled out in this section.

The original Burton resolution inquired particularly whether any options had been obtained, either by treasury agents or by anyone else, on the interned ships or any others, and whether any overtures had been made relating to the sale of such ships.

Williams declared that those "at whom Burton struck in his resolution," particularly the secretary of the treasury, had demanded that there be the fullest investigation of the insinuation.

Burton replied that he did not aim particularly at the secretary of the treasury, but had no objection to the amendments, though they were really irrevelant.

Senator Reed followed with a scorching attack on Burton, declaring no such innuendoes should be made on the senate floor or elsewhere, unless the person making them was willing to produce substantiation.

Comparing Burton to Diogenes, who fell into a fit while looking at the stars, Reed said the Ohioan had been in an "intellectual dreamland" for years, and it was about time he "came down to earth."

The Burton amendment, as amended, was adopted unanimously. Vice President Marshall named as the investigators Senators Walsh, Simmons, Reed, Burton and Weeks.

To meet the objections of senators who have declared that cloture, combined with the caucus system, would make the senate a mere register of the president's will, Senator Norris, author of the pending cloture rule, reintroduced his rule with important changes.

As now drawn, the rule prohibits any senator who was bound by a caucus from voting on the question after the cloture rule has been invoked to cut off debate.

Although Democrats of the house in caucus last night sought to pave the way for the passage of the amended bill in the lower branch of congress within a day or two, Republicans of the senate held to their determination that the filibuster against it should not be broken.

Even some of the administration senators were inclined to the view that appropriation measures should how be taken up and rushed through before March 4. Should this result, it was intimated, there might be no further effort to force a vote on the ship bill in the upper branch, nor would an extra session be called to consider it, at least for several months.

While no definite announcements on the subject of an extra session have been made, the view was submitted by persons close to the president that the ship bill issue would be taken before the country.

Death of Missionary Washburn

Boston, Feb. 16.—Rev. Dr. George Washburn, noted Congregational missionary, for twenty-five years president of Roberts college at Constantinople, and recognized authority on international politics of southeastern Europe, died at the home of his son in this city. He was nearly 83 years old and a native of Middleboro.

Fire Destroys Leather Plant

Woburn, Mass., Feb. 16.—A loss of $150,000 was caused in twenty minutes by a fire that swept through the patent leather factory of the Harry W. Clark Leather company. The origin of the fire is not known.

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 13-9t

TO LET—Three connecting unfurnished rooms. Apply 32 Newcomb place. 13-3t

TO LET—After March 1, House of nine rooms with all modern conveniences at 5 Summer street. Apply to Dr. D. B. Reardon, 1186 Hancock street. 11-tf

TO LET—Lower tenement with all improvements. Rent $19.50 per month C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 11-6t

TO LET—Apartment of five rooms and bath in new house, all modern improvements, fine location, 26 Bradford street, off Franklin street. Apply to F. Barnicoat, Quincy. 10-tf

TO LET—Lower flat, 42 Euclid avenue, 5 rooms all modern improvements. For particulars address Mr. P. J. Curry, 94 Federal avenue or phone Quincy 1075M. 9-12t

TO LET—Half of colonial house on Russell park, 7 rooms and bath, fireplace, coal and gas range and all modern conveniences. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 9-tf

TO LET—Flat of seven rooms with electric lights, gas stove, range at 32 Euclid avenue. Apply at 12 Berkeley street. 6-12t

TO LET—Two or three rooms, furnished or unfurnished for light housekeeping, all improvements, reasonable rent, board if desired. 132 Marlboro street, Wollaston Park. 6-tf.

TO LET—To small family of adults, several very desirable new tenements $22 and up, also stable $10 per month; store $10 per month. Apply to C. H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. Tel. 174-2 Quincy. 4-12t

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Four room apartment, new house, all improvements. Apply at 226 Franklin street. 30-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 3 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

TO LET

TO LET—Furnished room in newly renovated house, hot water heat, all conveniences. Gentlemen only. Meals if desired. Garage room for one automobile. Apply to Mrs. A. E. English, 273 Newport avenue, Wollaston. 15-6t

TO LET—New single house, with 5 rooms, bath, range, hot and cold water furnace heat, gas light. Vacant Mar. 1. John A. Weeden Greenleaf Block. 15-6t

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

LOST

LOST—Thursday evening in Music hall or on Hancock street between there and Quincy Car House, a pearl brooch. Please return to 901 Hancock street. 13-3t

WANTED

WANTED—Young couple desire two or three furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Write C. D., Ledger Office, stating price and location. 16-1t

WANTED—A second hand cook stove and wash tubs for a needy family. Associated Charities, 148 Coffe street. Feb. 13-3t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—1 pair horses, weigh 2500, 1 bay horse, 7 years old, 1600, very cheap for cash. Also, one and one-half ton auto car truck in fine condition, just overhauled by auto car company and returned to me in pink of condition. No reasonable offer will be refused for the above, demonstration given. H. G. Pope, Squantum. Tel. Quincy 2267-W 13-3t

FOR SALE—Two flat house in South Quincy. Hard wood finish, modern plumbing. Very desirable renting proposition, never vacant since built. For particulars enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 9-tf lpo

MISCELLANEOUS

SOME ONE—Please answer who would be willing to take a fine upright piano into their home. Prefer small private family who might consider purchase later if well pleased. Write for full information, E. C., Ledger office. 12-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage. Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

A Few Choice House Lots
— ON —
PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX
are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.
SWITHIN
3 GREENLEAF BLOCK
Jan. 5-tf

FOR SALE
House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,800. Straight Loan of $2,000.
EDMUND C. HAYDEN
Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing
HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.
129 Tremont St., Boston
Oct. 8-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Burgin & Merrill Block,

W. R. LOFGREN
Carpenter and Builder
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 2028-3
June 24f

EXPERIENCED STITCHERS
WANTED
APPLY
SOVEREIGN WAIST CO.
192 GRANITE ST.

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE
Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit
WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS
Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.
Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block
Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.-tf

CITY COUNCIL

(Continued from Page One.)

Councilman Craig offered an order for a committee of three to confer with the street railway relative to better car service for the Fore River workmen. The legislative committee were appointed.

Councilman Yule offered an order for a committee relative to the automatic reduction of gas in Quincy. The legislative committee were appointed.

Councilman Nelson offered an order for $3,000 for rebuilding Atlantic street. To street committee.

Councilman Slade offered an order for $7,000 to rebuild Rock Island road. To street committee.

Councilman Ferguson offered an order for $300 for a gravel sidewalk and curbing on Pleasant street. To street committee.

Councilman Griffin offered a resolve requesting the mayor to arrange for a conference between the mayor, chairman of the finance committee, chairman of the public school buildings committee, president of the council and the school committee on school matters. Adopted.

Councilman McGrath offered a resolve requesting of the city engineer the grades of all streets crossing the railroad tracks and also the grade of the same streets as proposed by the grade crossing commission. Also, a resolve for the legislative committee to confer with the mayor, city solicitor, city engineer and Planning Board relative to the proposed new bridge over the Neponset river. Both resolutions were adopted.

Councilman O'Dowd offered an order that the street railway be requested to abandon its line of poles on the west side of Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets and attach its wires to the poles of the Electric Light Co. Referred to Street Committee.

A large number of orders for new street lights were offered and referred to the executive.

The order retiring Mark E. Hanson lieutenant of the police department, on a pension was passed.

Adjourned at 8.42 P. M.

LOCAL BOXER.

Eddie Mullin the local boxer and Webb McDonald boxed a three round exhibition before a club at Dorchester Monday evening.

HEARING MARCH 4.

A hearing on the matter of a new bridge over the Neponset river between Quincy and Neponset will be held at the state house March 4.

AT THE THEATRE

"The Thief" by Henri Bernstein and featuring Dorothy Donnelly as the "thief" was the feature picture at Kincaide's Theatre, Monday.

This is the story of a woman who is loved by two men, one whom she loves, and the other who is willing to do anything for her.

She finally wins the love of the former and they are married. They visit intimate friends of the husband. The man who loved the "thief" is the son of these friends and while she is there he writes notes to her, telling her of his love for her. In the meantime a dressmaker is pressing the "thief" for back debts. Driven to despair "The Thief" makes good her name and steals from her friends.

A detective is hired and the blame is shifted to the son. He does not know this until the woman tells him of it. Then he shoulders the blame. His father is going to ship him to So. America when the husband finds out the woman guilt and makes her confess. Instead of the son going to So. America, "The Thief" and her husband end the play by going themselves to start life anew.

Hearst Selig Weekly had the usual interesting pictures.

Watkins and Williams in a singing dancing and talking comedy act made a hit with the audience, Hamilton Bros., comedy acrobats and artists, drew rounds of applause with their clever tumbling and drawing. "Monte Trio" in a musical act, were good. Their singing and stringed instrument playing proved their ability as accomplished musicians.

The show will be repeated today and Wednesday.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR ATTEND.

Quite a delegation from Quincy commandery, Knights Templar, attended the annual inspection of St. Omer Commandery of Dorchester Monday night. They included Commander John Morgan, Generalissimo Otis B. Oakman, Past Commander Walter E. Piper and Sir Knights Arthur Bryant, Harry Tersum, and Hartwell B. Piper, Messrs. Morgan, Oakman and Piper were on the staff of the inspecting officer.

PASS SALARY BILL.

In the legislature Monday the bill increasing the salaries of the commissioners of Norfolk county from $1200 to $1400 a year was passed to be engrossed.

Quincy, Norwood & Sagamore Wholesale Dept., 69 Summer St., Boston.
USE OUR INTRODUCTION BLANK
introducing you to a Big Boston, Mass.
Wholesale Clothing House
Where you can save
Money on your
Clothes
You can pay for them there
and take them with you—We manufacture
That's why

Ask for our Mr. Orent in our wholesale dept. who will cheerfully look after your wants
Far be it from as to advocate Boston clothes buying. While we carry a large stock in the Quincy store our object is to give you the benefit of an enormous wholesale stock at less than retail prices.
ORENT-PAYSON CO.
1387 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

COMPROMISE IS PROPOSED

Germany Is Willing to Modify Her War Zone Decree

FOOD FOR NON-COMBATANTS

Great Britain Violated International Law In Cutting It Off, It Is Claimed, and Threatened Submarine Blockade Is Purely Retaliatory—Wilson Sends Sharp Note to England

Washington, Feb. 16.—Ambassador Bernstorff officially informs the United States that Germany will modify the war zone decree if England will permit foodstuffs to enter his country.

The German plan, this note sets forth, is in retaliation for what is termed Great Britain's violation of international law by attempting to cut off the food supplies of non-combatants. The German statement is not a reply to the United States' note of protest to Germany, but merely another warning made because the date of the operation of the decree is at hand.

After Bernstorff's visit state department officials said their course was still undecided. They indicated, however, their anxiety to do all possible to protect American commerce and lives.

To this end, it was believed, the department would use its good offices with England to induce relaxation of her plan to starve Germany.

The state department sent to Ambassador Page at London a cable message instructing him to submit to the British foreign office evidence given at Washington by the owners of the American steamer Wilhelmina to prove that her cargo consists of foodstuffs destined for non-combatants, and is therefore not subject to seizure.

That the message is couched in sharper language than the note to Great Britain asking information as to the flying of the American flag by British merchantmen is indicated by the suggestion included in the new note that, unless Great Britain has sufficient grounds, not yet advanced, for doing otherwise, the Wilhelmina be permitted at once to proceed with her cargo to her destination.

This request is believed to be an evidence of the general attitude of the United States and other neutral nations, that food for non-combatants should be allowed to enter belligerent countries in neutral bottoms without being molested.

In the meantime indication that England is regarding the German threat of a war on British trade as something more than a bluff is found in the fact that liners are entering British ports with their lifeboats slung out and watered and provisioned.

The threatened submarine blockade is the absorbing topic of discussion for English newspapers and the English people, and, judging from dispatches from the continent, Germany is equally interested. The fact that James W. Gerard, the American ambassador, has been requested to meet Emperor William at once on the eastern battle front is taken to mean in London that Berlin probably will make a prompt reply to the American note to Germany.

German comment on the situation which has arisen since Germany declared a war zone around the British isles insists that Washington should prevent the use of the American flag by Great Britan and a strict observance of the declaration of London as the best guarantee for the safety of American shipping. At the same time the Germans argue that submarines cannot be expected to make a search of hostile merchantmen before destroying them.

The English press insists upon regarding the note to Germany a virtual ultimatum. It does not attempt to forecast Great Britain's reply to the Washington communication regarding the use of the American flag, but it does declare that Great Britain cannot forego her claim to the right to use a neutral flag in case of necessity.

BERNSTORFF CALLED HOME?

Berlin Rumor by Way of Amsterdam Denied at Washington

An Amsterdam dispatch gives the rumor from Berlin that Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador to the United States, has been summoned to Berlin.

Countess von Bernstorff, it is added, had engaged passage by a steamer which sailed Saturday to join her husband at Washington, but she cancelled the booking a few hours before the steamer's departure.

The German embassy at Washington authorized a denial of the report that the ambassador had been summoned to Berlin, or was contemplating leaving the United States for any purpose. It was said also that Ccuntess von Bernsteorff had made no plans for a visit to American in the near future.

Pension of $2500 For McCollom

Boston, Feb. 16.—The final step in the retirement of Dr. McCollom as the superintendent of the City hospital was taken by Mayor Curley when he signed the pension papers for $2500 annually. This amount represents half the yearly salary of McCollom.

SPORTING COMMENT

Feb. 16—Reading at Quincy High.

Feb. 19—Weymouth at Quincy High

Both games should be crackerjacks. The first is an Interscholastic and the second with the humblers of Brockton who pinned defeat on Quincy Friday.

Because it has developed that there were only two timers at the 74th Regiment games in New York last December, Ted Meredith's 1m 21 3-5s for the 600 yard run in which Homer Baker was defeated, will not be allowed to stand as a record.

Milton's Academy's indoor base ball practice starts after Washington's birthday Winslow, Felton, brother of Samuel Felton, Harvard's great punter and pitcher is captain. There are 12 games on the 1915 schedule. The hockey team has closed its season, scoring 39 goals against 14 by their opponents.

Roger Bird, Brookline High's star plunger, was unable to return with team mates because of muscular rheumatism. He is at the Princeton University Infirmary.

Frye '15, Mahan '16 and Whitney '16 have reported for pitching practice to Coach Sexton of Harvard. All three are veterans, the first being a southpaw. The entire squad will be called out when the weather allows it. Two more pitchers, it is hoped will be developed.

Cornell has passed Princeton and is leading the intercollegiate basketball league.

"Fan—Sorry, but we never heard of the ultimate destination of Hardwick's home-run smash in the 14-inning Yale-Harvard game." Grantlands Rice's "The Sport-Light."

POPULAR IN WEST QUINCY.

William A. McPherson Dies at City Hospital.

William Ambrose McPherson, son of Duncan McPherson and younger brother of Joseph McPherson, school committeeman from Ward Four, died at the Quincy City Hospital Monday night where he has been a patient for some weeks. He was in his 21st year.

The deecased was a popular resident of the West Quincy section where he was born and attended school. Last summer he was injured in a collision between his auto and the machine of "Bill" Carrigan, of the Red Sox in the Jamaica Pond parkway. He is survived by his father, and three brothers, Joseph, Frank L. and Edward McPherson.

His funeral will take place Thursday from the home. A high mass of requiem will be celebrated at St. Mary's church at nine o'clock .

WEYMOUTH CAUCUS.

Ward One Republicans of That Town Meet.

The Ward One Republicans of Weymouth held their caucus in the engine house Monday evening. W. B. Dasha was elected chairman and A. H. Alden secretary. The members nominated the list to be presented to the general caucus to be held today. Nominees for park commissioners and the committee on High school sinking fund were left open for the general caucus. Those nominated were: George L. Newton, selectman, F. H. Torrey, water commissioners, George W. Nash, Charles W. Barrows, constables. The meeting endorsed John A. Raymond for town clerk and John H. Stetson for town treasurer.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Orent-Payson Co.
Quincy Public Market.
R. E. Foy & Co.
Johnson Bros.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

UNITED STATES post office Quincy, Mass. Office of custodian, February 15, 1915. Sealed proposals will be received at this building until 2 o'clock p. m., February 27, 1915, and then opened, for furnishing electric current, gas water ice and miscellaneous supplies removing ashes, and washing towels during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1916. Sealed proposals will also be received until 2 o'clock p. m., April 5, 1915, and then opened for fifty tons anthracite coal and one cord wood. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved by the Treasury Department. C. L. Hammond, Custodian. 2t Feb. 16-23

STANDING IN F. R. LEAGUE

Machine Gallery Has Few Nervous Moments

FORE RIVER LEAGUE.

	Won	Lost	P.C.
M. Gallery	69	15	.821
Y. Dept.	64	20	.760
N. Dept.	50	30	625
E. Dept.	53	35	.602
D. Dept.	48	40	.545
S. Dept.	41	39	.512
Treas. Office	29	31	.483
B. Dept.	38	50	.431
Ex. App.	32	48	400
U. S. N.	30	50	.375
M. Floor	30	54	357
Pur. Agents	15	69	.187

High single Olindy 153, Y. Dept 506. Three strings Olindy, 360. M Gallery 1446.

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.
Machine Gallery 2—D. Dept. 2.
Yard 4—P. Agents 0.
Blacksmiths 3—Electricians 1.

The Machine Gallery leaders of the Fore River league passed a few anxious moments at the Coliseum alley, Monday night when they dropped their first two strings to the D. Dept. They came back strong enough in the last to strike within two pins of tieing the team single record of the Yard and to cause a division of the points. In the meantime the Yard, contenders for first position, were taking four easy points from the Purchasing Agents The Electricians, a first division team lost three out of four to the Blacksmiths, a second division combination

The summaries:

Y. DEPT-4.

Mahoney	112	95	90	29
Walsh	92	96	96	28
Munzie	65	77	91	23
Mills	86	91	93	27
H. G. Smith	85	90	100	27
	440	449	470	135

PURCHASING AGENTS—0.

H. Smith	86	77	85	24
C. French	81	75	69	22
G. Blanchard	82	77	104	26
H. Sullivan	74	73	111	25
Dubois	95	107	91	29
	418	409	460	1287

B. DEPT—3.

McLellan	97	81	79	257
Flannigan	87	91	85	263
Dummy	75	75	75	225
Neil	87	98	76	261
White	90	103	103	296
	436	448	418	1302

E. DEPT.—1.

Lincoln	74	75	115	264
Souden	87	79	84	250
Smith	97	92	87	276
Ago	85	73	86	244
Malnati	91	80	78	249
	434	399	450	1283

M. GALLERY—2.

Djerf	96	81	92	269
Gallagher	80	73	85	238
Moran	88	84	103	275
Carlson	95	91	107	293
Tirrell	83	83	117	283
	442	412	504	1358

D. DEPT.—2.

Lawton	82	70	79	231
Teasdale	83	88	85	256
Hamilton	92	99	80	271
Richardson	108	80	80	268
Kateon	84	81	71	236
	449	418	395	1262

Mrs, Everett C. Bumpus leaves Wednesday for Morristown, N. J., where she will deliver one of her lectures on art at a subscription luncheon given Thursday morning by Mrs. John O. H. Pitney of Morristown. She will return on aSturday.

Fish Eaters Attention
Lent begins Wednesday, Feb. 17, 1915.
Don't forget that we carry the finest line of Fresh, Smoked and Salt Fish at the lowest prices.
Large Assortment of same just received.
We Close Wednesday at 1 P. M.
Watch for our low prices in tomorrow's "ad."
QUINCY PUBLIC MARKET
1514 Hancock St., Kincaides Bldg.
Phone 1434 J Legal Stamps Free Delivery

BRIEFS

The Ladies Aid Society of the Calvary Baptist church will meet at the home of Mrs. William Wilson, 10 Brooks avenue, Wednesday afternoon.

The second degree staff of Puritan lodge of Braintree will visit Mt. Wollaston lodge this evening and exemplify the second degree.

The friends of Mrs. John M. Black will be pleased to hear that she has returned to her home on Elm street, last Weymouth after ten weeks' illness at the hospital.

A large delegation from the local court of Foresters of America will attend the annual banquet and ball of the Knights of the Sherwood Forest which will be held in Brockton this evening.

Owing to the death of Miss Elizabeth Faxon, the anti-suffrage meeting to have been held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles A. Price Adams street was held instead with Mrs. Laurance H. Sturtevant.

Mrs. B. B. Wetherbee of Nutley, N. J., who has been with her mother, Mrs. C. H. Stenzel of Botolph street for several weeks, has returned to her home accompanied by her mother who will remain until spring.

Mr. and Mrs. John Burke of Billings road entertained the Saturday evening club on Saturday evening. Whist was played during the first of the evening, after which games and singing were enjoyed. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

A private exhibit which included three illustrated lectures was held under the auspices of the lecture committee of the Bird Helpers. It took place at the home of Mr. James Young Saturday evening. The three speakers were Phillip Young, Mannert Abele, and Trescott Abele.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

GOES TO CANADA.

Thomas S. Winders of 106 Hancock street, Atlantic, has gone to Canada, where he has enlisted in the Canadian Mounted Riflers. Mr. Winders formerly was employed at the Tubular Rivet and Stud Co., of Norfolk Downs, and has resided in Atlantic for several years.

MRS. LOUISE MARIE SPANG.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 16—Mrs. Louise Marie Spang, 60 years, mother of Mrs. Russell Cook of Quincy, died suddenly today of heart failure.

Mrs. Spang leaves husband Adam, two sons, Arthur B. and Edwin J., two daughters, Mrs. Harry D. Hoyt of Buffalo and Mrs. Harry J. Dangle of Youngstown, O. Burial Thursday afternoon at Buffalo.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

TO LET—Small store and tenement at 35 Willard street, West Quincy. Good chance for lady or couple, rent only $3 per week. Key at 33 Willard street. 16-6t

DEATHS

McPHERSON—In Quincy City Hospital, Feb. 15, William Ambrose, beloved son of Duncan McPherson, aged 21 years, 7 months.
Funeral from late residence, 91 Common street, Thursday, Feb. 18, at 8.15 A. M. High mass of requiem at St. Mary's church at nine o'clock. Relatives and friends invited to attend. 16-2t

SULLIVAN—In Boston City Hospital, Feb. 15, Timothy, son of Timothy and the late Maria Sullivan, 50 Botolph street, aged 30 years.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

Buy Sugar Now
25 lb. Bag Fine Granulated
For $1.50
ADAMS MARKET
City Square
Phone 1980
FOY'S
2 STORES
WATER STREET
Cor. Quincy
Phone 117

Flour Going Up ! !
With the steady climb in the price of flour it would seem that Housewives would abandon the Home-baking ideas. We wish it were so, for we are confident that our Bread and Cakes are just as delicious and dainty as home-made. No Madam, don't worry about the price of flour. Our Bread is the same price, the same size and as clean as ever. Abandon the Home-Baking idea but always
LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN
1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.

THE THIEF
Daniel Frohman's New York Lyceum Theatre Success
BY HENRY BERNSTEIN—featuring
DOROTHY DONNELLY
CREATOR OF MADAM X
RICHARD BUHLER and an all star cast
Every lover of good acting will enjoy this remarkable Photo Play
REFINED VAUDEVILLE—Watkins and Williams, Singing and Dancing Rapid Change Artists, Monti Trio, European Singing Troubadours and Hamilton Bros. Knockabout Comedians.
KINCAIDE THEATRE
MON. TUES. WED. Daily Matinee 2.30 P. M. — Evenings at 8 P. M. — 10--15--25c
Coming Thurs. Fri. Sat. — Exploits of Elaine — also A New Picture For Boys
The Boy Scout Farm showing out door life of the Boy Scouts—New Vaudeville.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily -- Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 41 QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 17, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

OFFICER T. J. GOLDEN TENDERS RESIGNATION

Mayor Accepts Resignation of Well Known Member of Permanent Force

Timothy J. Golden, one of the permanent police force, who has been incapacitated from active duty for a number of years, tendered his resignation as a member of the permanent force to Mayor Campbell this morning. The resignation was accepted.

In his younger days Officer Golden was employed for many years as a clerk in the store of Thomas Gurney at Atlantic. He was appointed a member of the permanent police on April 7, 1902 and during his first year was assigned to duty as wagon man. The following year he was assigned to night duty at Wollaston and one Saturday night during a scuffle with some disturbers on the late train it is claimed that he received injuries. A short time later he suffered a stroke of paralysis and has been unable since that time to do any active duty although he has always retained his position as a member of the department. his position being filled by one of the reserve force.

The department has every year given him what work was possible and he has done duty at the polling places at elections and during the summer months has done duty on the City of Boston property at Squantum. For the past few weeks he has been doing janitor duty at the police station.

Officer Golden has long desired to be retired on a pension but he did not come under the provisions of the retirement law. This morning he visited the office of the mayor and wrote out his resignation. The vacancy thus caused will be filled at the same time the mayor appoints the three new officers authorized by the city council.

FOUR COUPLES ARE MARRIED

Consent of Parents Required in Case of 17 Year Old Bride

Several Pre-Lenten marriages have been celebrated within the last week.

Thomas J. Smith of 11 Willett street and 17 year old Sophie Conway of 289 Water street were married Sunday by Fr. John J. Casey of St. John's parish. The consent of the bride's parents was necessary.

Zalmon Richardson Bacon of Sidney, Maine, and Jannette Cathrin Grant of 81 Brackett street, Quincy, were married Tuesday by Fr. Walter A. Quinlan of St. John's church. The groom reached here Tuesday and filed his intention. Judge Avery set aside the five day law so he could return immediately with his bride to his native town.

Irving P. Berry of 29 North Central avenue, a baggage master for the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. Co., and Mary A. Newall of 243 Water street were married at Lowell on Feb. 10. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Appleton Gravins and became known this morning with the return of the license to city hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Felice Sangiolo are at their home at 11 Revere road where they are receiving the congratulations of their many friends. The bride before her marriage on Sunday was Antoinette Santospirito of Boston. The ceremony was performed at her parish church by Fr. Frank Liberti. The groom is a well known fruit dealer of this city and at present conducts a store in the Plummer block, Hancock street.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Thursday fair with moderate westerly winds.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.38
Sun sets	5.20
Length of day	10.42
Moon sets	10.19
High water, A. M.	2.00
High water, P. M.	2.30
Days increase	1 hr. 41 minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.33 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	43 degrees
Feb. 17, 1914,	30 degrees
Feb. 17, 1913,	35 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—37.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

MAYOR VISITS POLICE STATION

Mayor Campbell paid an official visit to the police station Tuesday afternoon and after inspecting the station had a talk on police matters with Capt. McKay and other officers.

When asked about the appointment of the three new permanent men, authorized by the city council at its meeting Monday evening the Mayor said that he probably would make the appointments in a few days. The three men to be made regular officers will be taken from the reserve list.

There was a rumor about city square that the Mayor intended to wait until the promotions caused by the retirement of Lieut. Hanson were filled, before appointing the new men but his honor says that the civil service examination for promotions will not be held before March 1, and that it would be a week or ten days later before he got the results. He did not believe it would be advisable to wait until that time before appointing the new men.

Just where the new men will be detailed is not known but it is understood that when appointed another day officer will be placed on duty in city square. Officer Murray, who now has the day beat in city square, has too large a territory to cover and the belief of the council committee was that Officer Murray should be kept in and about the depot and city hall and that another man sohuld cover the route from city square to the corner of School and Hancock streets, Elm street and streets between there and city hall.

ASH WEDNESDAY.

Ash Wednesday, a holiday in the calendar of the Catholic church and the first day of Lent, is being observed by the Catholics of the city today. Masses this morning were well attended. The blessed ashes are being distributed throughout the day and also the evening, following Rosary and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

WEDNESDAY LEDGER CLUB NEWS

SLEOFPINES, W. I

An association is now being formed to own 100 acres of grapefruit or 7000 trees. Join now--membership $250.00, $10.00 down and $5.00 per month. 6 pct. guaranteed for the first five years and then each member gets 85 pct of the profits. Write for particulars.

ISLEOFPINES ASSOCIATES

170 Summer St., Boston, Mass.

Feb. 11-1m

RESIDENT OF CITY FOR THIRTY YEARS

Weston W. Osborne of Bigelow Street Dies in 69th Year

LEADER IN CHRIST CHURCH

Weston Washburn Osborne, 69 Bigelow street, a prominent member of Christ Church died at his home Tuesday evening after a long illness.

Mr. Osborne was born in East Weymouth in 1846, the son of Joseph and Abigail Keith Osborne. He was educated in the public schools of East Bridgewater and also at the English High school, Boston. Leaving there he went to work for Dexter Bros., paints and varnishes, 105 Broad street Boston, where he was cashier for 30 years. He resigned his position in 1899 and went into the insurance business for himself.

He was married on June 1, 1877 to Maria I. Marsh, daughter of Otis W. Marsh, of Washington, D. C. He afterward lived in Boston and in 1884 came to Quincy. He lived here until 1898 and went to Wellesley Hills where he remained until 1907. He returned to Quincy and has lived here since that time.

Mr. Osborne was a member and past master of Delphi lodge, A. F. and A. M., a charter member of Quincy Commandery, Knights Templar, and was formerly a member of Gethsemane commandery of Newton. He is also a member of Unity lodge I. O. O. F. and Unity lodge, A. O. U. W., both of South Boston.

Mr. Osborne was for many years treasurer of Christ Episcopal church and served as warden and superintendent of its Sunday school. He is survived by his wife, one son William S. of Newtonville, two daughters, Florence M., cataloguer at the Lynn Public library and Ethel W., who is connected with the Boston office of the John Hancock Insurance Co.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at Christ church.

SERVICES FOR MISS FAXON

The funeral of Miss Elizabeth Faxon, for many years prominently identified with the First Parish church and Sunday school, was held from the church Tuesday afternoon, where services of a simple nature were conducted by Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, minister of the church.

Arthur W. Hall had charge of the ushers, who also acted as bearers. They were: William C. Edwards, Eric Patch, Walter C. Nicol, Winslow Sears, Kenneth Edwards and John E. Pfaffmann, all members of Miss Faxon's first Sunday school class and three of whom are now teachers in the Sunday school.

The services were largely attended, among the many present being the young men who composed Miss Faxon's class up to her last illness. There were many beautiful floral tributes which were tastefully arranged about the altar and included a wreath from her class and a spray from the Sunday school. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

MRS. LUCY J. DUNBAR.

The funeral of Mrs. Lucy J., widow of James F. Dunbar, who died in Quincy Saturday, was held Tuesday afternoon from the Mt. Vernon street church, Boston. Services were conducted by Rev. Austin Richards. Music during the services was by the Alphine male quartet. The burial was at Cedar Grove cemetery.

Masquerade Costumes For Rent

Children's Costumes in variety

MRS. R. E. WOODWARD

155 Billings Road

Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs

Feb. 3-tf

COURT OBSERVES 14TH ANNIVERSARY

Large Number Attend Exercises Held By Local F. of A.

EXEMPLIFIES DEGREE

The fourteenth anniversary of the organization of Court Roger Wolcott No. 88 Foresters of America, was held Tuesday evening in Hibernian hall. There were over 250 present, including guests from Braintree, Weymouth, Brockton and Boston.

The court was organized February 15, 1901, in East Milton by James O'Dowd, William J. Hebert, Peter J. Barry and Daniel Ford, well known residents of West Quincy. In 1905 the court moved its headquarters to West Quincy where it now is. Its meetings are held in Hibernian hall. The membership has now reached 225. The present chief ranger is William C. Martell. James O'Dowd was the first chief ranger and is still prominent in the court. William J. Hebert is past chief ranger and is now the financial secretary. Daniel Ford is also a past chief ranger and is the present treasurer. Peter J. Barry is also past chief ranger and is now grand senior woodward.

The entertainment consisted of the exemplification of the degrees by the degree team, which was a beautiful sight and was roundly applauded and speeches by James O'Dowd, Peter Barry, Daniel Ford, and William Hebert who gave brief accounts of the workings of the organization since its formation. William C. Martell spoke on the present day workings of the court and James Conway, chief ranger of Court John Adams brought the greetings of his court. Solos were rendered by Philip Savard, George Hastings, Parker White and Andrew Pierre. Refreshments were served.

During the evening the death of William A. McPherson, a well known member of the court, was announced and all present stood as a silent token of respect.

MAYOR PRAISES CITY FIREMEN

That the Mayor is keeping tabs on what is going on and that he believes in giving credit, or praise, when the same is worthy of special mention, is shown in the following letter which he forwarded to Chief Billings of the fire department Tuesday, commending the department for its good work at the Sunday morning fire in the Adams building:

Mr. Faxon Billings,
Chief of Fire Department,
Quincy, Mass.

Dear Sir:- Kindly accept my thanks and appreciation of the work which you and your men did at the fire in the Adams Building. The stopping of the fire and the efficient work performed at that time is worthy of the highest commendation. Please convey to the men under you my thanks.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) Chester I. Campbell Mayor.

CAPT. FRANCIS B. PRATT.

Capt. Francis B. Pratt, a veteran of the civil war and the last surviving charter member of Reynolds Post, G. A. R. of East Weymouth, died at his home on Middle street, East Weymouth Tuesday, aged 87 years. Mr. Pratt was born in Weymouth, June 15 1827 and for many years was engaged in the manufacture of boots and shoes.

June 26, 1861 he enlisted in Co. H, 12th Mass. regiment, was elected second lieutenant, and later promoted to first lieutenant and then captain. He refused an appointment as colonel of his regiment. During the war he saw much service, being wounded at Fredericksburg. For many years after the war he served as an inspector in the Boston custom house.

FIRST PARISH CLUB HOLDS MEETING

J. Machol of National Cash Register Co. Speaker of Evening

CONCERT BY PHONOGRAPH

The monthly meeting and dinner of the First Parish club was held Tuesday evening in the chapel at the First church and was attended by upwards of 150 members. As usual the members met in the lower room for a half hours social session adjourning to the dining room in the main chapel at 6.30.

Demonstrators of a self-rising flour company furnished hot raised biscuits in abundance to the members. Other good things on the program were hot roast beef, mashed potatoes, peas, parsnips, coffee, ice cream and cake. The demonstrators baked the biscuits in the gas ovens in the kitchen at the church and they were served piping hot.

On the platform during the dinner aside from Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson, the president were William E. Hingston, the well known handwriting expert, Henry F. Tilden, ex-Councilman Charles W. Bailey, chairman of the new city planning board, ex-Councilman George W. Abele, also a member of the planning board, and ex-Representative Walter E. Piper of the board of survey.

The speaker of the evening was J. Machol of the National Cash Register Co., of Dayton, O., who gave a half hour's informal talk on "What, How and Why." It was the intention of the speaker to illustrate his talk with stereopticon but the slides forwarded to him from the factory miscarried in some way and did not arrive.

The speaker told in an interesting manner what had been done in the past twenty-five years in the history of the cash register. It was in 1879, he said, that a Dayton business man in search of health took an ocean voyage. Among the passengers on the ship was a Boston liquor dealer. As the two stood in the engine room watching the dial recording the number of revolutions of the shaft the liquor dealer remarked that if he had one of those things on his cash drawer he would be richer when he arrived home. This gave the Dayton man the idea of the cash register and he returned home and worked out his idea. In the first five years but 28 machines were sold. The real genius of the cash register however was John H. Petterson who borrowed $5,000 and bought out the business. He was told that he had bought a lemon, and he thought for a time that he had. But persistance had its reward and the cash register came into being. At the end of the first seven years he was almost wrecked but he kept at it. It took 22 years to sell the first 500,000 machines and less than two years to sell the second 500,000 machines.

The factory now employs 600 men. It uses 50 tons of punched steel every two days, 6,500 000 tons of iron castings a year, 7,200,000 feet of lumber a year, 195 723 pounds of tin, etc. The speaker outlined the organization at the plant. Efficiency was the first thought. On the chimney of the factory are the words "It pays." This means that it pays to be efficient. Every man is taught to think. If he has an idea he writes it out and places it in a box and it is considered.

He then told how the different departments at the factory were arranged and carried out. He also spoke of the library at the plant, the garage, playgrounds, school of hygiene and for educational research all of which were for the benefit of the workmen.

At the conclusion of the talk a fine concert was given on the Edison diamond disc phonograph, which was greatly enjoyed.

Y. P. R. U. of First church is to hold a dance at Alpha hall Friday night, in its series of dances and entertainments for the season.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

NOTABLE PRESENTATION OF FAMOUS PRIZE PLAY

Wollaston Woman's Club Give "The Piper"

The second annual dramatic program of the Wollaston Woman's club was given Tuesday afternoon in Quincy Music hall, before a large audience which included, not only club members and guests from the home city but also large delegations from Boston, Milton and Abington.

The drama chosen was "The Piper" The prize play written by America's leading woman poet, Josephine Preston Peabody (Mrs. Lionel Marks). It was first produced on the evening of July 26th, 1910, at the Memorial Theatre, Stratford-on-Avon by a notable company, and in the following January had its first performance in America at The New Theatre, New York with Miss Edith Wynne Matthison in the leading role.

It is a play of great poetic feeling and power and the Wollaston club is to be congratulated upon its excellent presentation of so fine a piece of dramatic literature.

Miss Theodora Luard was in charge of the play, and the beautiful stage settings and the happy blending of color in the costuming bore witness to her artistic skill. Miss Luard had the assistance of Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney as stage director and coach, and the smoothness of the performance, the clever ensemble work of the populace and the children, and the effective tableaux gave an additional proof of the latter's well-known ability in this line.

The argument of the play is as follows. The market-place of Hamelin a few days after the Piper has rid the town of rats. Three strolling players (The Piper; Michael and Cheat-the-Devil in disguise) have performed a miracle play. The Burgomeister Jacobus, refuses to pay the Piper, claiming the patron saint has charmed the rats away. Thereupon the Piper, by his playing draws the children after him to the mountains. Michael stays behind having fallen in love with Barbara.

The Piper and children are seen in the "Hollow Hill." The children tell of their dreams. Cheat-the-Devil comes in with goodies and news that the enraged people have declared that Barbara shall be sent to a convent. The Piper returns, meets Michael, who implores him to save Barbara. Veronika, the mother of Jan searches for her little lame boy.

Barbara and Michael are happily reunited, the Piper gives up the children to their parents in Hamelin and goes away to continue his work for the good of the world.

The strolling players were—The Piper, Miss Theodore A. Luard; Michael the-Sword-Eater, Mrs. Arthur Whittam; Cheat-the-Devil, Mrs. Aylmer Hatch.

Men and women of Hamelin—Jacobs the burgomeister, Mrs. H. N. Thomas; Kurt the synic, Mrs. George Fleming; Peter the cobbler. Muriel May Badger; Hans the butcher, Mrs. Jesse I. Litchfield; Axel the smith, Mrs. John C. Merrill; Peter, the Sacristan. Marion Thomas; Anselin a young priest, Marion Hardy; Old Claus a miser, Mrs. C. Ernest Carr; Town Crier, Elsie Patterson; Veronika the wife of Kurt, Mrs. William J. Colby; Barbara, daughter of Jacobus, Mrs. L. W. Newell; wife of Hans the butcher, Mrs. Walter C. Brady; wife of Axel the smith, Mrs. Vernon H. Brokaw; Old Ursula, Mrs. Oscar A. Blaisdell; Martins wife, Mrs. M. G. Berry.

The children—Jan, Carolyn H. Lewis; Hansel, Mrs. Charles E. Swett; Isle, Miriam Breen.

Others in the cast—Burghers and children of Hamelin.

The scenes were—Act I. The Market-place in Hamlin; Act II. Scene one, Inside the "Hollow Hill" scene two, The cross ways; Act III. The Cross-ways; Act. IV The market-place in Hamelin.

Upon Miss Luard as The Piper fell the great burden of the play, the part being a long and difficult one. Her conception was clear, consistent and well- sustained. Her scenes with the children were given with lightness and delicacy, while in the prayer before the wayside shrine, at the close of the third act she reached a high degree of emotional power.

Mrs. Arthur Whittam was a striking figure as Michael-the-Sword-Eater. Her spirited acting and the beauty of her well-trained voice gave distinction to the character and her love scenes with pretty Barbara, the Burgomeister's daughter brought well merited applause.

Barbara as acted by Mrs. L. W. Newell was a dainty, winsome, maiden, and the exquisite picture she made as she woke from the spell that had been laid upon her by the Piper will long remain with those who saw it.

Mrs. Colby made Veronika a tender and touching figure and her lines were read most sympathetically.

Jacobus, the talkative Burgomeister was played with excellent judgment by Mrs. H. N. Thomas. Mrs. Fleming was handsome, keen and hard as the villain of the play—Kurt the Syndic.

Mrs. Aylmer Hatch as the gentle youth Cheat-the-Devil—added a touch of humor that was appreciated.

Mesdames Litchfield, Merrill, Carr, Brady, Brokaw, Berry and Blaisdell; and Misses Badger, Hardy, Thomas and Patterson acted with spirit and intelligence in the scene in the market place and were very effective in the bewildered dance of the second act.

The children were delightfully natural and unconscious of their audience and added a novel and charming feature to the play. The lively Ilse and Hansel of Miss Breen and Mrs. Sweet made excellent foils for the pathetic little Jan, well played by Miss Carolyn Lewis.

The music between the acts and incidental to the play was under the able direction of Miss Florence Olney. The chorus of Nuns was sung by members of the choral class of the club.

The committee in charge wishes to express its thanks to Thomas J. Flynn & Co., for the loan of the statue used in the Shrine; to Ernest Campbell for the fountain and benches; to Leonard Newell for the shrine and the wayside cross; and to all the helpers who by their hearty co-operation added to the success of the performance.

The Chickatawbut social club will hold its regular weekly meeting Thursday evening at the home of Theodore Minnahan on Rustic place.

JOHNSON AND CO.'S PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT

Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.

IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.

Be Sure My Name is on The Band

Yours, JOHNSON

Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1306 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

GRADUATION DRESS.

It is rather early perhaps to speak of anything connected with the High school graduation next June but one feature might well be mentioned so that there shall be plenty of time to reflect upon it between then and now. The suggestion is made by the Philadelphia Bulletin that the wearing of a gown would be a desirable practice at high school graduations.

We feel that there is much in the suggestion and that it should be adopted if it does not tend to cheapen the gown heretofore confined principally to college graduates. The adoption of the gown would add a deal of dignity to the secondary school graduation and in the case of the girl graduates would save much expense and heartburning.

Whether the precise style of gown advocated by the Philadelphia Bulletin a Grecian robe, presumably white, would be desirable is somewhat open to doubt. We are inclined to think the conventional black gown is more fitted to the occasion.

At all events here is what the Philadelphia Bulletin has to say on the subject:

The graduating class of the West Philadelphia High School for Girls established a precedent that should win the permanency of a custom, when the young women appeared at their commencement exercises clad uniformly in classic Greek robes.

Most parents who have had daughters graduate from the high school know how expensive to many of them were the dainty, gauzy frocks that tradition usually demanded for the "sweet girl graduate," and many a youthful brow has carried lines of anxiety during the days when dressmaker's costs had to be met if its owner were not to feel embarrassed and distressed because her gown was not so beautiful as those of the other girls. Sometimes these expenses were a positive hardship.

But the modest Grecian robe ought to solve the problem, for such a garb imparts to the girls an air of chaste and dignified elegance, making none more conspicuous than the other and, above all, costing the wearers not more than what their parents can afford. The plan is worth extending to every other public high school.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF.

The saying that there is nothing new under the sun may be applied with startling exactness to the history of nations even if there appears to be a contradiction now and then in the life of individuals. The Great War now convulsing Europe is a case in point. The deep, underlying causes of the war are not new. Greed, jealousy, fear, hate were elemental passions of the human race long before the beginning of recorded history.

Broadly speaking, the Great War has been fought many times before. Its conterpart is t obe found again and again related in history. It is to be hoped that high school students realize this. Their study of history ought to become more vital and interesting, more illuminating and instructive. It is to be hoped that high school teachers realize this and that they by a skillful indication of the points of similarity and of difference between the Napoleonic wars, for example, and the Great War, are doing their part to show that history is a living thing, never ending, and that the study of history is not only the learning of dates and facts but a picture the life of the nations and a guide to the understanding of what is going on today.

The Protestant world lost a wonderful worker last week when Fannie Crosby, the famous blind hymn writer died. She lived ninety-four years and in that time wrote eight thousand hymns. Our hymn books of 25 years ago do not tell us all the hymns written by her because her publishers gave her two hundred pen names so she should not appear to be their sole contributor.

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

Only One "BROMO QUININE"
Who never you feel a cold coming on, think of the full name, LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for signature of E. W. Grove on box. 25c.

MANET CLUB HOLDS DANCE

Guests From Far and Near at 10th Annual Affair

The tenth grand dance of the Manet Social club in Aipha hall Tuesday evening was the last before Lent and the attendance was large and included many of the younger residents of the entire South Shore.

The special guests of the evening were the Maxim Girls of Holbrook. Delegations were present from Dorchester, Weymouth, Quincy and Braintree clubs.

The music of the Wilson orchestra was augmented by the singing accompaniment by the Thalia Club of Braintree which included Edward A. Cuffe, Charles E. Greeelish, Horace R. Burgess, W. Ray Curley, Joseph N. Cuffe.

Daniel Mahan was floor director and Frank V. Duran was assistant. The aids were Russell Gomez, Joseph Driscoll, Wilson Barnicoat, Peter Buzzie, William McCarthy.

ADMITS HE SHOT CHIEF W. I. JAMES

Guiseppe Gascapafro, arrested in Hingham shortly before midnight Tuesday confessed, according to the police, that he shot Chief of Police Washington I. James in front of Hingham police headquarters Sunday evening. The confession was made through Placido Calabro, the interpreter of the East Norfolk District Court which sits in Quincy.

The man was found walking on the railroad tracks hatless and coatless by Patrolman Heffernan who was with Chief James when he was shot. There was no resistance and attempts to question him failed. The confession was stammered forth in the presence of witnesses which included Selectman Walter B. Foster, Acting Chief Foster Robinson and Officers Michael Heffernan, Jones, Adams and Taft. The confession completes the roundup of the trio whose demands for the release of their friend led to the shooting.

The man says he is 32 years old and lives in Cohasset.

COMPETE FOR SPECIAL PRIZE

The corps of caretakers of the Wardwell alleys are preparing the pins for the severe punishments to be inflicted Thursday afternoon when professional men of City Square compete for a special prize, a gold lined, high priced cigarette case. The competitors are all intense rivals of the friendly sort and took up bowling early in the season. The prize is very valuable and is of handsome design. The match is scheduled to start at two o'clock.

Those who will compete are Alfred J. LaCroix, John Muir, Edward D. Barrett, Dr. H. E. Keene, Edward J. Murphy, William Cooper, Dr. C. J. Lynch, Arthur L. Thomas, Charles Wilkes, Fred D. Williams, Elmer E. Ricker and James Menhinick.

MOOSE HOLD MEETING.

Prepare For Nomination and Election of Officers.

Quincy lodge of Moose held its regular meeting in Electa hall Tuesday evening and made preparations for the nomination of officers at the next meeting. The annual election will be held the following meeting. Whist brought the evening to a close and the prizes were awarded to William J. Nott, Walter H. Carman and Jacob Grossman.

ATTEND RECEPTION.

William J. Day, was tendered a reception and dinner in honor of his elevation as associate justice of South Boston Tuesday night, which was largely attended. The speakers were the most prominent men in the public life of Boston. Among those who attended were George Richard Simmons of the E. J. Murphy pharmacy and Russell Sullivan of the Granite Shoe store.

PRATT'S BREAD—always crisp, clean, pure and wholesome. Try it. Grocers.

THE SHIP BILL FIGHT

Effort Will Be Made to Jam Measure Through the Senate

Washington, Feb. 17.—Democratic leaders in both houses of congress agree that the government ship purchase bill either will be before President Wilson for his signature within a few days, or dead, so far as this session is concerned.

The house remained in session until late last night to pass the Weeks-Gore bill, as the amended measure is known, and today the administration forces will begin a final effort to get a vote in the senate on the house amendments over the opposition of Republicans and revolting Democrats.

On both sides of the Capitol belief is current that if present plans for prompt action by the senate fail through the ship bill will be abandoned and all efforts centred upon disposing of appropriation bills, to make unnecessary an extra session.

Charges of improper influence exerted with relation to the bill ordered investigated by the senate were taken under consideration by the special senate committee and the formal inquiry will begin today.

ON WHITE SLAVE CHARGE

"Marrying Parson" Arrested at Chicago by Federal Officers

Chicago, Feb. 17.—Rev. James M. Darnell, the "marrying parson," was arrested here on a federal warrant, charging violations of the Mann white slave law. He was taken into custody in the office of his attorney, Richard Cooney.

The Unitarian minister was reported to have obtained a license at Crown Point, Ind., to marry Ruth Soper "Darnell" of Owatonna, Minn. Federal authorities who served the warrant on Darnell said they have been following the young pastor's peregrinations for ten days. They said they found no evidence that he had obtained a marriage license at Crown Point.

Ruth Soper, fatherhood of whose 6 months' old son Darnell has admitted, is named in the warrant. Darnell is charged with transporting her from Owatonna to Chicago and from Chicago to Kenosha, Wis., on Nov. 29, 1914, "for immoral purposes."

WILL SETTLE OWN LABOR DIFFICULTIES

Rockefeller's Reply to Commission Named by Wilson

New York, Feb. 17.—The Colorado Fuel and Iron company has served polite notice on the Low mediation commission, appointed by President Wilson, that the company will settle its own labor difficulties.

Starr J. Murphy, chief adviser to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., gave out the copy of a letter written by Rockefeller to Chairman Low of the president's committee.

Rockefeller asked Low to assure the president that he desired to cooperate with the commission "in every way in my power." He added, however, that "the executive officers of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company at Denver are the ones upon whom the responsibility for final decision must properly rest."

BREAKS WORLD'S RECORD

Remarkable Feat Performed by Gunner on Battleship Texas

Beacon, N. Y., Feb. 17.—William Ruf, a gun pointer on the United States battleship Texas, who is visiting his home here on furlough, was notified that he broke the world's record in marksmanship with the big guns during the recent target practice off the Virginia capes.

Ruf was credited with eight straight hits with a 14-inch gun, shooting at a moving target twelve miles away. For this difficult feat the sailor will receive a raise in pay, a bonus of $20 in gold, the rating of "excellent" in gunnery and will be accorded the privlege of wearing the letter "E" on his sleeve.

FOUND DEAD IN STORE

Fear That Worcester Jeweler Was Victim of Foul Play

Worcester, Mass., Feb. 17.—Surrounded by watches and jewelry to the value of several thousand dollars, Edward P. O'Neil, 58-year-old jeweler and proprietor of the Franklin Loan company, was found dead in his office last night under suspicious circumstances.

O'Neil lay on the floor with a deep cut in his head. Whether this was caused by a fall or by some sharp instrument in the hands of an enemy the police have as yet been unable to determine. It is hoped an autopsy today will clear the mystery.

Held on Murder Charge

Boston, Feb. 17.—After a sixteen months' search throughout the country Guiseppi Castania, a shoemaker, was arrested in Chelsea on an indictment issued in October, 1913, charging him with first degree murder of Agrippino Capra.

Fire Destroys Large Church

Malden, Mass., Feb. 17.—The First Baptist church was destroyed by fire this morning and the flames reaching from the huge structure threatened the nearby buildings. The loss is very heavy.

SCISSORS PASTE

IS THIS FOUNDATION SAFE?

The announcement that the famous Mayo brothers of Rochester, Minn., purpose to establish a $1,000,000 foundation for medical research is likely to give the impression that they are flying in the face of a governmental investigation. The word "foundation" is a risky thing to use in these inquisitorial times.—Springfield Union.

A BRIDEGROOM WITH BRAINS.

A Texas young lady who appeared with the bridegroom at the chancel of a church in a Texas town to be united in marriage, changed her mind before the knot was tied, declaring that she had been called to serve God in the missionary field, and the wedding was indefinitely postponed, the Houston Post tells us. The bridegroom-to-be readily consented to the postponement of the marriage, no doubt upon the very sensible theory that she would make a better "missionary" than she would a wife. Without prejudice to the lady we think the bridegroom was wise not to protest—Columbia Record.

ELIHU ROOT.

Elihu Root at seventy is still a young man in vigor and ability. No man in the Senate excells him in speaking to the point, and his endurance has been proved in the great part he has borne in the fight against the ship purchase bill, as his sagacity was by his declaration that it was a proposal to "buy a quarrel." There is nothing of the "lean and slippered pantaloon" in Senator Root, neither does he suggest the lagging veteran. On the contrary, at seventy he is a strong man, ready to run a race. His versatility, now so generally recognized, took the country by surprise. it knew him as an eminent lawyer, but when President McKinley called upon him to become Secretary of War, it did not anticipate the list of great works which proved his constructive ability. When Rooseveit transferred him to the State Department he again more than proved the wisdom of the selection. He made himself one of the great Secretaries of State. His success is the success of intellect, for he possesses great mental powers which enable him to see what others less gifted have to learn—if they can. He attains seventy within a few weeks of his retirement from the Senate, and he will leave in that body an eloquent void.—Boston Transcript.

COL. KINCAIDE PRAISES GARDNER

Col. Henry L. Kincaide, former president of the Home Furnishers' association was one of the speakers Tuesday evening at the ninth annual banquet of the association at the American house. Col. Kincaide spoke of the need of the military defenses of the country and praised Congressman A. P. Gardner for showing the true state of affairs.

ABANDON CLUBHOUSE.

It is announced that the movement started some weeks ago to build a clubhouse for the Granite City club had been abandoned for the present.

Your System Demands

an occasional corrective to insure good health and strength. Success is almost impossible for the weak and ailing. Enjoyment is not for the sick. Impaired health and serious sicknesses usually begin in deranged conditions of the stomach, liver, kidneys or bowels.

Beecham's Pills

are recognized all over the world to be the best corrective of troubles of the digestive organs. They tone the stomach, stimulate the liver, regulate the bowels. They cleanse the system, purify the blood and act in the best and safest way

For Health and Strength

Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World. Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

MAKE BREAD OUT OF POTATO FLOUR

Experiments Being Made Throughout Land Upon Lowly Spud

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW

Although it has been stated in some of the Metropolitan papers that flour, which has advanced fifty cents per barrel during the past two weeks, had dropped 25 cents, there is no evidence of it in Quincy at the present time for the prices at the local stores remain the same as a week ago. It was said, however, that it would not be surprising to see flour drop any day.

Sugar has advanced another half cent and today the price at retail is six and one half cents. When asked why the rise in sugar and flour, the reply is: "Oh, the war is responsible for it." How fortunate it is for the people who control the output of flour and sugar that they have the war as an excuse for jumping prices.

A newspaper dispatch from Chicago says that Pillsbury and Washburn have reduced the best brands of family flower 20 cents a barrel. Chicago is a long way from Quincy, which is probably the reason that the reduction in price has not reached us as yet.

New England's famous Saturday night supper of baked beans is getting hit by the high prices and if the rise continues baked beans will become a luxury for kings and millionaires. During the past month the price of beans has advanced 25 cents a bushel and it is still going up. Beans are expected by many to retail for $5 a bushel before long.

However speaking of the retail market there is but little change in the price level in the past week. Fish has changed slightly, with the exception of halibut. Poultry has not changed although eggs are somewhat lower owing to plentiful collections. Butter remains unchanged as also does cheese. Fruit and vegetables are plentiful and are fairly reasonable Strawberries made their appearance in the markets this week but the price is so stiff strawberry shortcakes are not likely to be in great demand for some time. The berries are Southern grown, and as a rule not over and above sweet. However they are handsome looking berries and are selling at 40 cents a box.

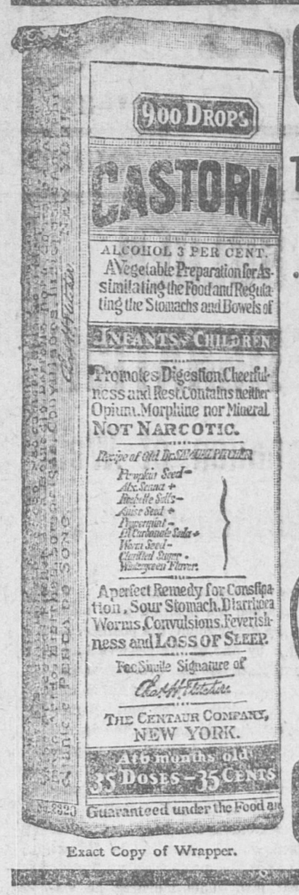

Continuing our talk last week on potatoes as a substitute for flour it is interesting to note that dispatches indicate that experiments to this end are being made all over the country. One of the latest experiments which is said to have given excellent results is a bread made of about 12 per cent of rice.

In Washington experiments in making bread of potato meal mixed with wheat flour are being undertaken by the bureau of chemistry, to test the possibilities of the potato in the same manner as Germany and Austria are now advising their people to do. The increased cost of living in these countries emphasize the fact that flour made of other substances than wheat or of these substances mixed with wheat prove healthful food at a much less cost.

In Austria bakers are now compelled to use at least 30 per cent potato meal in making their bread and in the bureau of chemistry at Washington bread meal has been baked with from 25 to 50 per cent potato meal and the rest wheat. It is stated that bread made with potato flour is much heavier in weight although less attractive in form. The bread has a rather course texture and dark appearance but possesses a distinctive and agreeable flavor.

As has been previously stated local markets as a rule make special prices on certain lines of meats for Saturday and the housewife will do well to watch the advertising columns of the Friday Ledger to see what our local markets have to offer. It is scarcely necessary again to remind readers of this column not to trust their ordering to telephoning but to visit the stores in person and see what they get for their money. In this way one often picks up a good bargain perhaps not specifically mentioned in the advertisement. Many stores, for example, make up combinations of canned goods, soups, etc., for one day sales.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

SUNNY SIDE of LIFE

DREW HIM OUT.

Collector—Hm, fairly good specimen. I'll give you $250 for it.

Curio Dealer—No, sir. I've just sold that for $500.

Collector—Five hundred! Good heavens, you've been swindled. It's worth twice as much!—London Punch

MENTAL PUNISHMENT.

Imp—Here are two spirits; one sinned knowingly and the other ignorantly.

Satan—Put them both in the same furnace, but let the knowing one see the thermometer—New York Sun.

CARELESS.

Wifey—I suppose we must send Miss Splicer a wedding present.

Hubby—I warned you not to get too intimate with that girl. I knew she was of the kind to get married soon.—Exchange.

DO THEY GROW THERE?

The cultured young woman from Boston was trying to make conversation. "Do you care for Crabbe's Tales?" she asked.

"I never ate any," replied the breezy girl from Chicago, "but I'm just dead stuck on lobsters!"—Judge

IN MEMORIAM.

It is said that a gravestone in Maine bears this inscription:

"Here lies the body of Enoch Holden, who died suddenly and unexpectedly by being kicked to death by a cow. Well done, good and faithful servant!"—Grit.

DOESN'T CARE TO ASSUME RISK.

"Papa," queried the minister's small son, "is it true that we must be born again before we can go to Heaven?"

"So the Scriptures teach us, my boy," was the reply.

"Well, I don't want to be born again," said the little fellow. "I'm afraid I might be born a girl the next time."—Kansas City Star.

RATHER DIFFICULT.

"Children," said the teacher to his pupils, "You should be able to do anything equally well with either hand. With a little practice you will find it just as easy to do anything with one hand as it is with the other."

"Is it?" inquired the urchin at the foot of the class. "Let's see you put your left hand in the right-hand pocket of your trousers."—Ladies Journal.

LEFT HIM MEDITATING.

The workman was digging.

The wayfarer of the inquisitive turn of mind stopped for a moment to look on.

"My man," said the wayfarer at length, "what are you digging for?"

The workman looked up.

"Money," he replied.

"Money," ejaculated the surprised wayfarer. "And when do you expect to strike it?"

"Saturday," replied the workman, and resumed operations.—London Opinion.

DISCRIMINATION.

"It's all wrong!" said the man with the red nose and a doleful manner of speech. "All wrong!"

"What's the trouble?"

"The music in my neighborhood has driven me to drink. And now they're going to put additional taxes on the drink and let the cornet, the piano, and the bass drum that did the damage go free!"—Washington Star.

You need the Ledger every day.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

WE have the largest and most complete stock of Oriental Rugs in Boston and can always show you a greater assortment than you can find elsewhere.

JOHN H PRAY & SONS CO
646-650 Washington St., opp. Boylston St.

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

What Local Clubs are Doing

News of Women's Clubs is a feature of the Daily Ledger every Wednesday. Secretaries of organizations should send notices of club activities, to reach the Club Editor not later than Tuesday night to insure insertion the next day.

An all day meeting of the Ladies' Benevolent society of the Wollaston Congregational church is to be held next Wednesday beginning at half past ten. Mrs. Watson Brasee is the leader of the meeting.

* * *

Mrs. Mary Fifield King of Milton was the speaker today at the meeting of Quincy Alliance in First church chapel.

* * *

Wollaston Alliance is to serve a luncheon Wednesday at one o'clock following which the usual meeting will be held at half past two, with Mrs. W. H. Sayward as the committee.

* * *

A regular business meeting will be held Wednesday at their clubhouse by the Quincy Women's Riverside club, the last one for the month.

* * *

Mrs. Frederick H. Smith of Quincy Point is to be the hostess for the February meeting of the Hospital Aid Association on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 25.

* * *

Junior Friday club does not meet next week owing to the holiday coming on the regular meeting day.

* * *

Next week Thursday the Atlantic Shakespeare society begins the reading of a new play "Midsummer Nights Dream," taking up act one with Mrs. Walter A. Jackson as chairman. The reading will continue through the next four meetings.

* * *

The Massachusetts Society of the Daughters of the Revolution is to observe Washington's birthday at Hotel Vendome, Boston Monday afternoon a half past two. Mrs. Morrill Hamlin will speak on "The Presidents and their Wives" with personal reminiscences of diplomatic life in Washington. Mrs. Carolyn Frink Cottrel will sing, accompanied by Mrs. Ellen Porter Davison. There will be a reception and refreshments.

* * *

Q. W. C. PARLIAMENTARY CLASS

Mrs. Electa C. Sherman lectured before the parliamentary law class of the Quincy Women's club Monday. There was a good attendance. The subject was "Amendments" and several ladies took part in the drill which is proving most helpful. Mrs. Sherman's next lecture on March 1st will be the fourth of the series.

Mrs. W. W. Whitcher, chairman of the Legislative committee asked Mrs. Henry W. Tirrell who was present if she had a word for the class. Mrs. Tirrell said she was happy to be present, that since leaving Quincy she appreciated the club more than ever; that the training had been useful in the club at Bennington which though having 340 members had been almost strictly a literary club but was now branching out into State Federation work.

* * *

CLUB ANNIVERSARY.

On Tuesday of next week the Quincy Women's club is to observe its tenth anniversary with meetings afternoon and evening at the clubhouse on Presidents hill.

In the afternoon the club will keep open house from one until six o'clock with officers of the State Federation and members of clubs in the vicinity as special guests. The present officers of the club will receive. There will be an address by Mrs. Charles W. Gilson, second vice president of the State Federation and an historical sketch by Mrs. Wilson Marsh.

For the musical part of the program there will be solos by Miss Ruth Lloyd of Hartford, Conn., and an orchestra composed of Miss Josephine Durrell, Miss Marion Moorhouse and Mrs. Jennie Hocking Hunt.

Mrs. Charles R. Safford is to have charge of the reception committee and Mrs. Walter E. Burke the hospitality.

The guest privilege to members, by vote of the club, is withdrawn for the afternoon but members may take a guest in the evening.

Music during the evening reception will be by an orchestra of the following men, Max Pinkham, Herbert Packard and William E. Weston.

Following the welcoming address there will be a presentation of the memorial gift which is to mark the tenth anniversary of the club and take the form of establishing a nurse in the public schools. The gift will be received by the chairman of the Quincy school committee.

Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney will read a poem and there will be a short address by Dr. Jeffrey R. Brackett, benefactor of the club. Mrs. Julia Ritter McCormick, a club favorite will sing.

The past presidents of the club will be in the receiving line and officers and charter members will act as hostesses. Mrs. Frank J. Emery is to be chairman of the reception committee; Mrs. W. E. Burke of hospitality and Mrs. Theodore Hardwick of decorations.

* * *

A. P. Q. CHAPTER D. A. R.

Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter D. A. R. has elected the following members to represent them at the national convention to be held at Washington, D. C., in April:—Mrs. I. F. Waterhouse, regent as delegate. Mrs. Edward E. Jameson, Mrs. Chilton Crocker, Mrs. William M. Chase, Mrs. C. J. O'Malley, Mrs. Edward O. Woodward, Mrs. Edward S. Tenney, Mrs. Frank Burgess, Mrs. Roland A. Thayer, Mrs. I. L. Reynolds, Mrs. George E. Healy.

CLUB EVENTS

FEBRUARY.

17—Q. W. R. C. Valentine Lunch.
17—Quincy Alliance.
23—Q. W. Club—10th Anniversary.
24—Q. W. R. Club.
24—Wollaston Alliance.
24—Ladies' Ben. So. Wol. Cong.
25—Atlantic Shakespeare Society.
25—Hospital Aid—Mrs. F. H. Smith.

MARCH.

1—Adams Chapter D. R.
1—Quincy Day Nursery Association.
1—Q. W. C., Parliamentary Law.
2—K. C. M. Club, Mrs. Crane.
2—W. W. Club Musicale.
3—Quincy Alliance.
3—Wol. Aux. W. B. of M.
3—Bethany Union.
5—Q. W. C. T. U.
8—Junior Friday, Miss Holden.
8—A. P. Q. Chapter D. A. R.
9—Q. W. Club Annual.
10—L. B. So. Wol. Cong. church.
10—Wollaston Alliance.
11—Atlantic Shakespeare So.
15—Ladies Circle, Universalist Parlor
15—Q. W. C., Parliamentary Law.
16—Wollaston Woman's Club.
16—K. C. M. Club, Dorothy Hall.
17—Quincy Alliance.
22—Junior Friday, Mrs. Lawton.
23—Quincy Women's Club.
24—Wollaston Alliance.
24—L. B. So. Wol. Cong. church.
25—Atlantic Shakespeare So.
29—Q. W. C., Parlimentary Law.

OPPONENTS OF EQUAL SUFFRAGE

Hold Meeting at Mrs. Sturtevant's Tue day Afternoon

In response to an invitation of those interested in the local anti-suffrage movement a number of women met at the home of Mrs. Laurance Sturtevant on Adams street Tuesday afternoon and listened to an interesting talk on anti-suffrage.

In the absence of Mrs. E. B. Marsh, the local president, Mrs. Brooks Adams the honorary president, presided. The Milton anti-suffrage association was represented by Mrs. White, Mrs. Hooper and Miss Mary Forbes. The address of the afternoon was given by Mrs. Thomas Allen of Commonwealth avenue, Boston. Miss Dorothy Godfrey, state organizer was also present and spoke along the same lines.

The main purpose of the meeting was to acquaint women with the anti-suffrage side of the question and to organize forces in opposition to the movement. During the afternoon tea was served, the pourers being Mrs. Herbert T. Drake and Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick.

SEND BOY HOME.

Police Find Young Man Walking On R. R. Tracks.

Joseph Dumas, 15, of Westdale was sent to his home this morning after several hours detention at police headquarters. The boy was discovered on the railroad tracks at Wollaston by patrolman Joseph Avery. He made no clear explanation of his presence and was sent to headquarters on orders of Sergt. Larkin.

There, shifting from one foot to another, he was questioned by the sergeant. "You have been locked up before" brought the answer, "no, sir, the other fellow was." He then admitted he was one of two boys who had broken into the Westdale post office a year ago and that his pal had been "sent up" for his part and that he was placed on probation because of his age.

He said he had lived in seven cities and towns of New England and that his home was at 11 School street, Brockton. The police of that city told Sergt. Larkin they could not locate any such place.

He finally gave an address in Westdale which was found to be correct and was sent to his home.

Dumas was not locked up at headquarters because of his youth. A search of clothing revealed nothing but cigarettes.

The detention of Dumas was in keeping with the belief of Sergt. Larkin that any young man, particularly a stranger, found wandering in Quincy at an early hour who could not give an account of himself should be sent to headquarters for examination.

SERVICES FOR MR. SULLIVAN.

The funeral of Timothy F. Sullivan, one of the most popular young men of Atlantic took place this morning from the home of his father Timothy Sullivan, and was largely attended. His four brothers Edward, Gerald, William and Joseph acted as pall bearers.

A high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. J. P. Cuffe, Sacred Heart church being filled with relatives and friends.

Music during the mass was under the direction of Father McNiff. There were many floral tributes.

GIVEN SURPRISE PARTY.

Edward Reid, a popular young man of Quincy Point, was given a surprise party at his home at 62 Arnold street, Tuesday night by his many friends. There were 50 present and refreshments were served and dancing and singing enjoyed during the evening.

Mr. Reid was presented with a gold ring, the presentation being made by Mrs. McCullough of Germaine avenue. The party and presentation were a complete surprise to Mr. Reid.

FORTY AIRSHIPS DROP BOMBS

Allies' Aviators Make New Raid on German Bases

EXPEDITION IS SUCCESSFUL

Believed to Have Inflicted Much Damage to Enemy's Positions on Belgian Coast—Tremendous Fighting In the East, Two Polish Towns Being Taken From Russians by Germans—Official Report of Much Trench Fighting In the West

London, Feb. 17.—Forty British and French aircraft made another brilliant raid upon German positions on the Belgian coast, dropping bombs on batteries, supply trains and barges, and upon trawlers used in mine-laying and mine-sweeping operations.

As in the successful attack of the same kind last week, when thirty-four aeroplanes were used, principal attention was paid to Zeebrugge, above Ostend, where the Germans have their principal North sea submarine base. Other points into which bombs were hurled were Ostend, Middlekerke and Ghistelles, where the Germans have established an airship base.

So far as is known the air raid was most successful. None of the machines engaged was damaged, and all the airmen returned safely to Dunkirk, on the French coast. It was a bright, clear day, weather conditions being decidedly more favorable to accurate and effective bomb-dropping than last week.

The Official Report

An official statement regarding the raid was issued by the admiralty, as follows:

"The air operations of the naval wing against the Bruges, Ostend and Zeebrugge districts were continued. Forty aeroplanes and sea-planes bombarded Ostend, Middlekerke, Ghistelles and Zeebrugge.

"Bombs were dropped on the heavy batteries situated on the east and west side of Ostend, on gun positions at Middlekerke, on transport wagons on the Ostend-Ghistelles road, on the mole at Zeebrugge to widen the breach daaged in former attacks, on the locks at Zeebrugge, on barges outside Blankenberghe and on trawlers outside Zeebrugge.

"Eight French aeroplanes assisted the naval machines by making vigorous attacks on the Ghistelles aerodrome, this effectively preventing German aircraft from cutting off our machines. It is reported that good results were obtained.

"Instructions are always issued to confine attacks to points of military importance and every effort is made by the flying officers to avoid dropping bombs on any residential portions of towns."

Little News From the East

While there must be tremendous fighting going on at both ends of the long battle line in East Prussia and Bukowina, there is nothing in the way of official news to explain how it is going.

Petrograd has issued no statement, which is in accord with the custom of the general staff when a big battle is on. Berlin's report merely mentioned that the fighting and pursuit of the Russians in the northern zone were progressing satisfactorily.

The one point that stands out in Germany's report is that her troops have occupied Plock and Bielsk. These two towns in northern Poland are on the right bank of the Vistula and only a few miles east of where the Brwica river flows into the larger stream.

Both places were recaptured by the Russians a few weeks ago during their big flanking movement toward Thorn, which was largely responsible for the final defeat of von Hindenberg's forces before Warsaw. Their occupation by the Germans at this time would indicate that the Russians in this section are withdrawing eastward to protect Warsaw from an attack from the East Prussian frontier to the north.

There is continued heavy fighting to the south of the Carpathians. In Bukowina the Russians seem to be still retreating, but they are holding the Carpathian passes further west and are putting up a stubborn resistance to the Austro-German offensive.

Western Deadlock Continues

The large number of troops which the Germans are using in the east, it is believed by military observers, will prevent for some time any attempt by the Germans to break the deadlock in the west.

Although there have been no events of outstanding importance on this front, a long official report of the operations of the British force from November to the beginning of February shows that there always is more or less activity there.

Despite the weather and the state of the ground, the report says there has been a lot of trench fighting in which the Indians and British territorials distinguished themselves.

General French, in the report, pays high tribute to the Indians, and, of the territorials, says they have far more than justified the most sanguine hopes entertained of their value in the field. The report adds that reinforcements are arriving regularly.

The first of the promised bi-weekly reports of the doings of the British army in France also was issued. It claims that progress has been made in the region of La Bassee, where the Germans are said to have suffered severe losses, and that the British artillery has shown marked superiority over that of the Germans.

BROUGHT BACK IN IRONS

Fourteen Men From Canada Are Suspected of Being Spies

The extent to which Great Britain is providing against the presence of suspected spies among its troops is indicated in the return to Halifax, in irons, of fourteen men who enlisted with the first Canadian contingent. They were sent back from Salisbury Plain, the Canadian encampment in England, just before the dominion soldiers were ordered to the front.

The men returned are classed as "alien suspects." All are of foreign birth or parentage, but some have lived in Canada for more than a quarter of a century.

The party came over on the steamer Missinabie in irons, disembarked under a strong guard, and marched, each man handcuffed to a soldier, to the citadel.

BIG CONTRACT DECLINED

Pittsburg Concern Will Not Bid on Shells For the British

Because of "humanitarian reasons" the Electro Steel company of Pittsburg, asked by the Foreign Trade commission to bid on a contract to furnish part of an order of 1,000,000 drop forge shells valued at $4,000,000 wanted by the British government, declined to make an estimate. Attached to the blue prints returned to the commission by the company was a note which read:

"For humanitarian reasons, this company finds itself obliged to refuse to consider the contract."

The value of the contract offered to the company was estimated at $450,000.

BREATHING IN THE GERMS.

Where Short Persons Have an Advantage Over Tall Ones.

Statistics reveal the fact that short persons are less liable to the different diseases which go the rounds among humanity than those who are taller and seemingly more susceptible to contagion.

Like every other fact, there is a reason for this.

Many of the different diseases are due to impurities in the atmosphere we breathe.

In factories, workshops, depots, cars, schools, churches, office buildings and in thousands of living apartments where humanity in numbers is in the habit of collecting there is more or less liability of some one or more persons having in some degree or other some of the diseases or being in an unhealthy condition, and as they breathe the air that circulates through those places the taller persons are certain to breathe more of the impurities than the shorter persons, as the warm breath of everybody naturally seeks the higher portion of the atmosphere in the inclosure, and if the air is poisoned those who are taller will breathe it first and continue to breathe it longer, as those whose heads are not so high may escape all or part of the poison, which in many instances is apt to create an unhealthy condition of body.—Philadelphia North American.

BAD EGGS AND THE STAGE.

Pelting Unpopular Performers Is a Very Ancient Custom.

The practice of hurling bad eggs at actors who displeased them has been in vogue with audiences ever since there has been a stage and a dramatic production. Chinese, Greeks and Romans ran to this sort of unfragrant criticism, and two stories told by a collector of odd things connected with the theater are worth repeating.

A number of New York youths in the fifties threw a number of bad eggs at a pallid and trembling performer. He advanced to the edge of the stage, commanded silence and said:

"Noble sirs, deign to throw me but one good one—just one. I care not if it break over me. I shall manage it. I have eaten naught in two days. Pelt me with good eggs, I beseech you."

The appeal gained him a basket of good eggs by way of the back stage.

A man went to Shakespeare's theater in the day of the great bard to throw bad eggs at an actor he disliked. Some one jostled him unduly, and he punched the jostler. The jostler whipped him, however, and finally sat him down in the bad eggs, which broke. So the would be egg thrower was thrown out because of the odor and called a bad egg in the bargain.—New York Sun.

A Bold Defense.

"An enlisted man once put the president of a court martial in a difficult position," says a writer in an English magazine. "The court martial was trying the soldier for some fault or other. When the evidence—and it took an unusually long time—had been given, the president asked the prisoner if he had anything to say in his defense.

"'Well, sir,' said the man, 'I can't see how this 'ere court can sentence me, for Major Jones 'as been reading a paper under the table the 'ole blooming time, and Captain Smith 'as been making me into a karicatoor on the blotting pad, and, as for Lieutenant Brown, 'e 'asn't 'ad his commission a year and don't count anyways!'"

NOTICE!

This space will be devoted each day—not to advertise cheap grade at full value, but Johnson Bros. Quality Goods at a sure low price.

Buy These Today

20c can Extra Sifted Peas for 15c
25c Glass of Curtice Bros. Current Jelly 20c

JOHNSON BROS., City Square.

HOME-BAKING

Flour runs pretty high just now, doesn't it Madam? Don't you think you should abandon your home-baking now, and try our tasty bread and delicious cakes.

FLOUR HAS GONE UP

but our bread is still the same size, same flavor, same price and just as clean as ever. Come Madam, never mind the price of flour, just give us a call Today, but

LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN

1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.

BUTTER IS LOWER

Finest Creamery 33c lb
Sugar Corn 3 cans 25c
Early June Peas 3 cans 25c

MAPLE DAIRY
CHESTNUT STREET

PLAYLETS IN NEW PARISH HOUSE

St. Chrysostoms branch of the Girls Friendly society proved agreeable hostess at the house-warming and reception given by the society Tuesday evening in the assembly room of the new parish house and it was an especially fitting closing to the social season before Lent.

Mrs. Howard D. Fowler, branch secretary, welcomed the guests and the entertainment began with "The Piper's Pay," a clever lively, little one-act comedy. Some of the characters fell into rather awkward situations but they had only themselves to blame for as Freda said in the play "While you're dancing the piper is running up a long bill and sooner or later will demand his pay." The cast was:

Mrs. John Burton — Annie Lowe
Miss Freda Dixon, — Gladys Parlee
Mrs. Charles Dover — Elsie Whitehead
Miss Evelyn Evans, — Beatrice Nickerson
Mary Clark, — Margaret Buzzell
Mrs. Hereford-Carr, — Beatrice Buzzell
Katie — Bernice Hobson

The second playlet, "The Obstinate Family," clearly showed the whole family pertinaciously adhering to their own opinion, even in saying "Thank goodness, the table is spread" but the amusing and conflicting situations had a satisfying ending. The cast was:

Mr. Henry Harford, — Frank Fulton
Mrs. Jessie Harford — Marion Orr
James — Roger Allen
Lucy, — Mildred Bean
Mr. Harwood, — Sumner Vibert
Mrs. Harwood, — Kathleen Jones

The participants in the playlets showed an intelligent study of their parts giving a most creditable interpretation under the excellent training of Mrs. Morgan J. Walker one of the associate members of the society.

During the intermission, Miss Edith Foley of Dorchester charmingly sang "Roses, roses everywhere," accompanied by Mrs. Alf Swensen.

Refreshments of coffee, fancy crackers and home-made cake were served by the members after which dancing was enjoyed.

FRAGMENT SOCIETY.

An all day meeting of the Fragment Society of the First Parish church is being held today. Luncheon was served at noon. This afternoon the regular meeting of the Alliance was held, the speaker of the afternoon being Mrs. Mary Fifield King whose subject was "Work of the International Committee."

Miss Elizabeth McCarthy of Brockton spent the week end with friends in Quincy.

RECEIVES PAINFUL BURNS.

James Haynes of Quincy Point Meets With Accident.

James Haynes of Mill street met with a painful accident on Monday afternoon while at work at the Charlestown navy yard.

Mr. Haynes is a plumber by trade and was using a plumbers torch when from some unaccountable cause it exploded. Mr. Haynes' clothing caught fire and his face and neck were quite badly burned. He was also severely burned on both hands.

He was saved from more serious injury by the prompt action of two sailors who heard his cries and succeeded in putting out the flames. He was attended by a surgeon from one of the ships at the yard and removed to his home in a taxicab. Although Mr. Haynes' burns are quite painful his condition is not considered serious.

.. ..MR. COLLINS TO SPEAK. ..

Ernest L. Collins head master at the High school will speak before the meeting of the Coddington Parents-Teachers association to-night at the school hall on "After the elementary school, what?"

CLARA MORRISON
Pianist and Teacher
Leschetizky Method
CATHERINE MORRISON
Mandolin and Guitar
50 Hamilton Street, Wollaston
Tel. Quincy 1318-W. Sept. 30-w,s,-1y

DR. C. F. S. PEARCE
DENTIST
327 Newport Avenue, Wollaston
Mondays -- Wednesdays -- Fridays
9 to 12 — 1 to 5
EVENINGS
Boston Office 194 Boylston Street
June 24-1y-w,-s

A bread made after a fixed formula by expert bakers, sold by Grocers under its trade-mark name: "PETER PARLEY." It is wrapped for protection.

FOR TIGHT COLDS

Non colds that are deep-seated hard to loosen and which have a firm hold on your system, there is no better remedy than our

WHITE PINE & TAR
COUGH SYRUP

Its loosening and soothing power is soon noticed.

25c A Bottle

BUILD UP YOUR SYSTEM

Everybody, even those who have failed to find COD LIVER OIL which they could taste, can without trouble take

HEARN'S EMULSION
COD LIVER OIL

A good flesh and body builder.

50c Large Bottle

CHAS. C. HEARN, Druggist City Square

Quincy Pianoforte School
Wackelton, Director
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings. 6-12t

W. R. LOFGREN
Carpenter and Builder
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 388-3
June 9 tf

LEWIS N CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES.
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1686 W

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. L. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

EASY VICTORY OVER READING

Quincy High School Wins By Score 32 to 9

Quincy High school defeated Reading High in an Interscholastic League game for the second time this season at the High school gym Tuesday. The score was 32 to 9. The local second team defeated the visiting juniors 28 to 10.

Neither of the visiting teams were the equal of Quincy and if it had not been for the excellent shooting from the foul line of Judkins, the best ever seen in Quincy with no exceptions, Reading might have gone back without any points to its credit. Judkins lost but two of the nine free tries and his seven netters went into the centre without even touching the rim.

Quincy scored its first point in the first 20 seconds of play. A signal for a series play sent the ball to Hamlin and he dropped it over. During the game he added six more while Browne Welsford, Crosscup, Davis, contributed two baskets and Davis got two of four fouls.

Quincy's game was not up to the standard set in the Revere contest. The players at times showed a tendency to bunch and any number of shots were inaccurate. At no time did Reading have Quincy on the defensive.

One of the visitor's baskets was not allowed by the referee because the player shot with one foot half way up the wall. A second later Crosscup's basket was not allowed by the referee.

George Prout played throughout two periods and showed considerable development over his style in the Revere game a week ago when he made his debut with the senior team.

The junior team of Quincy had things all their own way. Both combinations played hard but the ability of the locals to extricate themselves from dangerous positions and the pass and basket which followed brought home the victory.

SENIOR GAME.

QUINCY		READING
Browne	rf	lb McKenzie
Welsford
Hamlin	lf	rb Simonds
Crosscup	c	c Judkins
Davis	rb	lf Bachelder
Prout	lb	rf McLeod
Beaton

Score Quincy 32, Reading 9. Goals from floor, Hamlin 7, Browne 2, Welsford 2, Crosscup 2, Davis 2, Judkins. Goals from fouls, Davis 2, Judkins 7. Referee Coady, Soren Mansur. Timer Atwood. Time 15 2-10 minutes.

JUNIOR GAME.

Quincy 2d		Reading 2d
Favreau	rf	lb S. Stevens
Morrison	lf	rb Nichols
Desmond	c	c Dane
Rasmussen	rb	lf Quinlan
Gilliat	lb	rf C. Stevens
Baker

Score Quincy 2d* 28, Reading 2nd 10 *One point for interference. Goals from floor Morrison 4, Favreau 6, Rasmussen 2, C. Stevens, Quinlan. Goals from fouls Favreau 3, Nichols 6.

PRATT'S BREAD costs a little more—is worth a good deal more Ask your grocer.

SAMOSET CLUB LEAGUE BOWLS

Campbell High Man With Total of 295

	Won	Lost
Rhodes	14	6
Campbell	13	8
Hill	9	11
Armstrong	5	15

High single string—Hill 125.
High 3 strings—W. Cahill 323.
High team single—Campbell 463.
High team total—Rhodes 1333.

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

Capt. Rhodes 4—Capt. Hill 0.
Capt. Campbell 3—Capt. Armstrong 1.

The Samoset club rolled at Wardwell's Tuesday night. Campbell was high man with 295. The Rhodes team are leading the Campbell's by two points.

CAPT. CAMPBELL—3.
Pope	90	91	76	257
Johnson	75	75	74	224
Comins	90	87	84	261
Swett	93	92	81	266
Campbell	89	93	113	295
	437	434	428	1303

CAPT. A. ARMSTRONG—1.
C. Armstrong	79	71	86	236
Browne	73	74	106	253
Baker	78	90	74	242
Nichols	75	75	76	226
A. Armstrong	69	91	93	253
	374	403	435	1210

CAPT. RHODES—4.
W. Cahill	91	98	104	293
Smith	88	79	75	237
Stone	65	72	74	211
Pinkham	90	84	85	259
Rhodes	85	781	91	254
	414	411	429	1254

CAPT. HILL—0.
D. Cahill	91	86	82	259
Weston	65	72	49	186
Lupton	80	89	81	250
Cranshaw	81	79	80	240
Hill	85	85	86	256
	402	411	378	1191

LOCAL Y. M. C. A. BEATS BROCKTON

Quincy Y. M. C. A. beat Brockton on the latter's court Tuesday night in the last three minutes of play. The final score was 32 to 26. The local second team also won by a score of 25 to 21. Trask excelled for Quincy and Williams for Brockton.

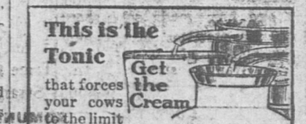

QUINCY YMCA	BROCKTON YMCA
Dineen rf	lb Freedman
Morrison lf	rb Oliver
	rb R. Jenkins
Trask c	c Higgins
Kenn rb	lf Williams
Jenkins lb	rf Kelliher

Score Quincy Y. M. C. A. 32, Brockton Y. M. C. A. 26. Goals from floor Dineen 4, Trask 4, Kenn 3, Jenkins 2, Morrison 2, Williams 5, Freedman 2, R Jenkins 2, Higgins 2, Kelliher. Goals from fouls, Trask, Jenkins, Freedman 2. Referee, Williamson. Scorer Holmes. Timer, Listman. Time 20m periods. Attendance 300.

QUIN. YMCA 2d	BROCK. YMCA 2d
Bishop rf	lb Hendrickson
Thomas lf	rb Derosier
Brooks c	c Patineau
Shirley rb	lf Cohan
Robertson lb	rf Simpson

Score, Quincy 2d 25, Brockton 2d 21 Goals from floor, Robertson 4, Bishop 2, Thomas 3, Simpson 3, Cohan 3, Hendrickseon 3, Patineau. Goals from fouls, Robertson 5, Hendrickson Referee, Williamson. Scorer, Holmes Timer, Listman. Time 15m periods.

This is the Tonic that forces your cows to the limit without injury to health

Pratts Animal Regulator

Pkgs. 25c, 50c, $1.00; 25 lb. pail $3.00

saves waste of feed, greatly increases milk yield and prolongs the profit paying period. The percentage of butter fat is always increased. Calves are born stronger and healthy and are kept so by the regular use of Pratts.

Refuse substitutes; insist on Pratts.

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Back

Get Pratts Stock Book

Sold by Grain Dealers & General Stores. 6639.

PINFALL LIGHT IN POINT LEAGUE

Cedar Pt. 4—Beach Pt. 0.
Rocky Pt. 3—Stage Pt. 1.

Several absences forced dummy scores into the scores of the Point Church league matches at the Wardwell alleys Tuesday night. The Cedars took all four from the Beachers and the Rockies beat the Stagers 3 to 1. The pinfall was light.

ROCKY POINT—3
Waddell	75	84	70	229
Thayer	87	100	69	256
Mpe	66	91	73	220
Wight	107	90	78	275
Lang	85	93	85	263
	420	458	375	1253

STAGE PT.—1.
Peterson	85	73	81	239
Dummy	75	84	69	228
Nelson	68	84	92	244
Dummy	66	90	70	226
Everson	110	83	91	284
	404	414	403	1221

CEDAR POINT—4.
Scouler	78	98	84	260
Dummy	75	75	75	225
MacQueen	87	102	77	266
Dummy	75	75	75	225
Jones	86	98	88	272
	401	448	409	1248

BEACH POINT—0
Hoffses	86	91	80	257
Howe	69	88	66	223
Melville	78	76	74	228
Dummy	75	75	75	225
Dummy	75	75	75	225
	383	405	380	1168

SPORTING COMMENT

Winchester turned the tables on Revere High Tuesday afternoon by a score of 36 to 19. Last week the Revere team beat them 52 to 19.

Chelsea High beat Watertown 20 to 14.

Rockland High defeated Weymouth 27 to 23 in a see-saw contest.

Cambridge Y. M. C. A. Juniors won over the Somerville Juniors 24 to 15.

Clark's five beat Hollinston's Independents 49 to 25.

Wellesley High has arranged games with the Rogers High of Newport, R. I. and Fall River Tech school.

OWATTONA SOCIAL CLUB.

The Owattona Social club held its weekly meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Marion Duffy on Copeland street. The meeting was to have been held on Monday evening but owing to the fact that the members wished to attend the St. Mary's reunion it was postponed. The first part of the evening was devoted to the usual sewing of useful articles, followed by a social hour enjoyed by the members. Miss Duffy and Miss Brownrigg alternated on the piano and Miss Elizabeth Ross rendered several pleasing solos. Refreshments were served and dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

WOULDN'T HELP.

"The sparrows seem to be getting at these peas, John. Couldn't you put up some kind of scarecrow?"

"Scarecrow wouldn't be of no use, Miss. Why, if you was to stand there yerself all day, I doubt if ye'd keep 'em off."—London Opinion.

CONLIN SHOE REPAIRING

Men's Sewed Taps and Heels	75c
Men's Sewed Taps and Rubber heels	$1.00
Men's Nail Taps and Heels	65c
Men's Heels	20c
Ladies' Taps and Heels Sewed	65c
Ladies Taps and Rubber heels Sewed	85c
Ladies Heels	15c
Rubber Heels 40c and	50c
Skates Sharpened, New Process	15c
$4 Ralston Shoes for	1.50

Hancock and Saville Sts.
Tel. 961-M. Oct. 7-tf

W. H. HASLETT
31 Bridge Street, Quincy
Tel. Quincy 1092-W

Plastering and Cementing
Concrete Houses
Outside Stucco Work
Cement Walks, Steps and Cellar Floors.

PETROBILO sanitary and fireproof flooring—guaranteed to wear longer than hard wood floor—no joints one continuous piece put over any floor.

Feb. 25- W-S. tf

DETERMINED TO STARVE ENEMY

Britain Proposes to Blockade All the German Ports

KAISER'S PEOPLE NEED FOOD

Establishment of War Zone a Last Desperate Effort to Have England Lift Embargo—Status of Cargo of Wilhelmina Proves to Be Important Factor In the Situation

London, Feb. 17.—Great Britain will flatly refuse to permit foodstuffs intended for the German non-combatants to pass through the North sea in return for Germany's calling off her war zone decree, which becomes effective tomorrow.

Great Britain will do all she can to starve Germany out. The government feels that the quickest way to end the war is to adopt the policy the north applied against the south in the American Civil war—to prevent, so far as is possible, all foodstuffs reaching the enemy's shores.

The statement in the house of commons of Winston S. Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, that Great Britain would, if necessary, exert the whole force of the British navy to keep food away from Germany, is taken to mean that a blockade of all German ports will immediately be announced.

That the British navy can make such a blockade effective cannot be doubted, and there would no longer be any chance for objection by neutral powers that their shipping was being interfered with. The right to blockade, providing the blockade be effective, is recognized by the international law of war.

It did not need the official admission of Germany to convince the British government that the kaiser's people are in sore straits for food, and that the proclamation that all waters contiguous to the British Isles would be a war zone after Feb. 18, and that all enemy murchant ships would be ruthlessly destroyed by the German submarines was plainly a last desperate effort to compel Great Britain to lift the embargo.

The British government has shown in many ways that it is unterrified by threats of attacks on shipping, and that it has no intention of making the slightest concession to Germany. On the contrary, there is every evidence that the admiralty is preparing to tighten the restrictions upon freight movements towards that country.

Statements in parliament also have indicated that Great Britain is determined to make reprisals if Germany enforces her threat to destroy merchant ships, together with their crews.

Preparations are already being made to retaliate against Germany by placing under more stringent control ships destined to German ports and the proclamation declaring a blockade of the entire German coast is momentarily expected—or if not a complete blockade, at least a prohibition of all foodstuffs destined for Germany—whether intended for the civilian population or for army use.

The cabinet with its military and naval advisers considered this question and it is understood that the decision is awaiting the formal confirmation of the privy council, from which all proclamations emanate.

The status of the cargo of the American steamer Wilhelmina is an important factor in the situation. The commission for the relief of Belgium is anxious to buy the cargo of foodstuffs. The owners, however, have so far declined to sell, apparently being anxious to make a test case.

The evidence they submit that the food is destined to the civil population of Germany probably will be submitted to the prize court. It is considered unlikely, however, that on the basis of any evidence that the owners can produce the British admiralty will permit the food to go to Germany without the action of a prize court.

In the meantime, British and neutral vessels are moving as freely as usual, with the exception of those belonging to a few Dutch lines, which have reduced their number of sailings.

The Norwegian and Danish insurance companies have given instructions that steamers insured by them shall have their national colors, the names of the ships and the country of their origin painted conspicuously on the sides of all vessels.

Holland and Italy, like the United States, have protested to Germany against her sea war zone threat and have asked Great Britain not to make free use of neutral flags. Similar representations are expected to be made to the two countries in a joint note by Norway and Denmark.

AMERICA MARKING TIME

No Move Pending Formal Word From Britain and Germany

Officials of the United States government made no further move in the diplomatic controversy with Great Britain and Germany over the use of neutral flags, the submarine campaign on merchantmen and the shipment of foodstuffs to Germany.

They await formal replies from Great Britain and Germany to the recent American notes on the subject.

In such dispatches as Ambassador Page at London, and Ambassador Gerard at Berlin, sent to the state department telling of their informal conferences with the high officials of Great Britain and Germany, respectively, there was no indication that the former intended to alter its policy on shipments of conditional contraband to civilians, or that the latter would recede from its announced intention of waging a submarine war on enemy merchant ships.

That the newspapers in Germany, even those of a semi-official character, are printing anti-American editorials was reported by Gerard, who, however, finds the officials friendly and disposed to take into consideration the embarrassments of the United States and other neutrals in the situation.

THE KAISER AND GERARD

American Ambassador Asked By German Emperor to Visit Him at the Eastern Front.

Photos by American Press Association.

EXPECTS AN AGREEMENT

Gerard Says Public Should Await Developments Quietly

"I regard the relations between our two countries calmly and with confidence and I believe pending questions will be solved in a manner mutually satisfactory," declared James W. Gerard, the United States ambassador, in an interview published in the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger.

"The men at the heads of the governments in Berlin and Washington are not permitting themselves to be influenced either by the press or public criticism," the ambassador is quoted as saying.

"The public in the United States, as well as in Germany, should await developments quietly."

TO HAZARD WAR ZONE

Twenty-Seven Steamers From New York Will Be In Danger

Of the steamships clearing from New York within the past two weeks, maritime records show that twenty-seven are due to be within the war zone declared by Germany around Great Britain on or after Feb. 18, the day set to establish the zone. Four ships of this fleet are American owned and fly the American flag and five carry passengers.

All were heavily laden with freight. The Philadelphia carried 250 passengers and the Adriatic 400. The other three liners had fewer passengers aboard.

FAILS TO MOVE JURY

Girl Said She Shot Society Man to Save Her Honor

Toronto, Feb. 17.—The story told by 18-year-old Carrie Davies that she shot and killed Charles A. Massey, her employer, and a prominent society man, because he tried to take advantage of her, failed to move a coroner's jury.

The jury found the girl shot and killed Massey with "malice aforethought." Coroner Johnson hinted that a sanity inquest may be ordered before the government proceeds with the girl's prosecution.

Father and Son Drown

Andover, Mass., Feb. 17.—Joseph Jacobs and his 8-year-old son broke through ice crossing the Shawsheen river and were drowned. They were swept under the ice.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

In the face of a southerner's filibuster, the national house passed the child labor bill 233 to 43.

The New Jersey senate passed the woman suffrage amendment to the state constitution. The house passed the resolution two weeks ago.

Frank X. Oberle, 52, first president of the Frank X. Oberle company, manufacturer of cigars, Boston, died at Baden, Ger.

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

The C. E. society of the First Baptist church held its first bi-monthly business meeting and social of the year Friday evening in the church vestry. A Lincoln and Valentine social were combined. Several of Lincoln's famous sayings were hung around the room and a large portrait of him stood in the centre draped with the American flag. The president Miss Edith C. Johnson, made a few remarks on the life of Lincoln, and ended with quoting James Russell Lowell's "Ode to Lincoln," written in 1865. Lincolns Gettysburg speech was delivered by Kenneth D. Johnson.

Junior girls' class of Cunningham Gymnasium held a masquerade party Saturday afternoon under the direction of Miss Caret on the gym floor before a large appreciative audience of parents and friends.

A new class for young girls of the First Baptist S. S. was organized Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Edith C. Johnson on Washington street. The class will be called the Hathaway class, in memory of the missionary who went from this church to South America several years ago. The officers of the class are: president, Miss Eleanor Waitt; secretary, Miss Esther Waitt; treasurer Miss Doris Higgins. Following the organization meeting games and refreshments were enjoyed. Those present were the Misses Dorothy Hammons, Effie Stuart, Margaret Stuart, Mildred Bates, Eleanor Waitt, Esther Waitt, Doris Higgins, Esther Carlson and Euphemia Rennie.

The Academy hockey team continued its winning streak Saturday afternoon when it defeated the Middlesex school team 3—0 on the Cunningham rink.

At the meeting of the Men's club of the East Congregational church this evening Rev. John M. Trout, pastor of the church will give an illustrated lecture on; "The Hudson River in Legend and History."

At the First Baptist church Sunday morning the pastor Rev. J. Hamilton Woodsum preached on: "Glad Tidings of Peace." In the evening the pastor preached on "The Good and the Bad."

The sermon theme for Sunday morning at the East Congregational church was: "A Man and his Shadow—Some Reflections on Influence."

The churches of Milton observed the 100th anniversary of the ratification of the peace treaty between the United States and Great Britain by holding a union service at the First Congregational parish at the centre Sunday afternoon. The music was in charge of Walter Jackson, with H. Clough-Leighter at the organ. The invocation was given by Rev. H. Boyd Edwards, pastor of St. Michaels church (Episcopal.) The responsive reading was led by Rev. Theodore L. Frost of Mattapan Baptist church Rev. and Rev. John M. Trout of the East Baptist church read the Scriptures and Rev. John M. Trout of the East Congregational church led the prayer before the address. The speaker of the afternoon was Rev. George Hodges D. D. dean of the Episcopal Theological school of Cambridge. Rev. Albert D. Smith of the First Evangelical Congregational church made the prayer after the address and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Roderick Stebbins of the First Parish (Unitarian.)

Miss Florence Humphries of Radcliffe college, Cambridge, spent the week end with Miss Ella Smith of Granite Place.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES

20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Anthony Flarherty of Quincy County of Norfolk State of Massachusetts to Oliver E. Sheldon of said County and State dated Oct. 12, 1874 and recorded Norfolk Deeds Libro 459 folio 263 which mortgage has been duly assigned to George H. Field of said County and State by instrument dated July 10, 1914 and recorded Norfolk Deeds libro 1285 folio 505 for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction from the premises hereinafter described on Wednesday, March 3, 1915 at 4 P. M. all and singular the property described in said mortgage namely—A certain parcel of land with all the buildings thereon situated on the Southwesterly side of Grove street in that part of said Quincy called West Quincy and is bounded as follows that is to say; Southeasterly by said Grove street there measuring seventy-one and 82-100 feet (71.82) southwesterly by the lot numbered eight (8) in part and part of lot numbered six (6) on a plan hereinafter referred to, there measuring one hundred forty-seven and 88-100 feet (147.88.) Northwesterly by lot numbered ten (10) on said plan, there measuring seventy and 75-100 (70.75) and north-easterly by a Private Way, twenty-five feet wide as reported on said plan, which is to be forever kept open as a Court or way of the Abutters thereon, measuring one-hundred and sixty and 27-100 feet (160.27) containing ten thousand and nine hundred square feet of land as per said plan made by Whitman and Breck Surveyors dated August 1874 Entitled Plan of Lots in West Quincy owned by the Granite Railway Company and said lot is numbered 9 in said plan. Said sale is subject to all unpaid taxes or Municipal Assessments, $100 deposit on day of sale balance cash within ten days from date of sale on delivery of deed. Per order

GEORGE H. FIELD,
Assignee of the mortgage and present holder of mortgage.
Feb. 10-3t, 10-17-24

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To all persons who are or may become interested in the real estate hereinafter mentioned, devised by the will of Edgar F. Roby late of Norwood in said County, deceased, and to all persons whose issue not now in being may become interested:

Whereas Mary A. Roby of Norwood in the County of Norfolk as tenant in possession of certain real estate, devised to herself and others in the will of Edgar F. Roby late of Norwood in said County has presented to said Court her petition praying for the appointment of Irene B. Roby of Westwood in the County of Norfolk or some other suitable person, as trustee to sell and convey at private sale for the sum named in said petition or at public auction said real estate therein described, for reasons therein set forth. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brockline in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-fourth day of February A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in Quincy, Mass., the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons who or whose issue not now in being are or may become interested, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this first day of February in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Feb. 3-10-17

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

For breach of the condition of a certain mortgage deed given by Aloys Burkard to John Cashman dated November 2, 1904, recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 986, Page 465, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Saturday the twenty-seventh day of February, 1915 at 3 o'clock P. M., all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage and therein described substantially as follows:

A certain lot of land with the buildings thereon situated in Quincy in the County of Norfolk, bounded and described as follows:—Northwesterly on land of Franziska Wittich, one hundred and thirty-two (132) feet; Northeasterly on a certain open private way that is not less than twenty-six feet wide and that runs in a Northwesterly direction from West Street to other land of said Franziska Wittich, bounding thereon seventy-five (75) feet; Southeasterly on land of said Wittich, one hundred and eighty-seven (187) feet; Southwesterly on land of Herbert F. Doble, ninety-four (94) feet. Being the same premises conveyed to me by Richard Walser by deed dated June 27, 1896 and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 764, Page 57.

The premises will be sold subject to all unpaid taxes, assessments or liens, if any. A deposit of two hundred (200) dollars will be required at the time and place of the sale. Balance in ten days upon delivery of the deed.

JAMES E. CASHMAN,
JOHN J. CASHMAN,
DAVID J. WHITE,
WILLIAM J. CASHMAN,
Trustees of John Cashman, Mortgagee
J. J. McAnarney, Atty.
3t Feb. 3-10-17

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
Room 8, Dursin & Merrill Block, Quincy
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 418-4. Haymarket 2140
Oct. -tf

The Exploits of Elaine

A Detective Novel and a Motion Picture Drama

By ARTHUR B. REEVE
The Well-Known Novelist and the Creator of the "Craig Kennedy" Stories

Presented in Collaboration With the Pathe Players and the Eclectic Film Company
Copyright, 1914, by the Star Company. All Foreign Rights Reserved.

(Continued from last issue.)

"A friend of yours wants to speak to you over the telephone, Jennings," said Marie, as she came into the library.

The butler responded slowly, with a covert glance at Dan.

No sooner had they gone, however, than Dan climbed all the way into the room, ran to the door and looked after them. Then he ran to the window. Across and down the street, the Clutching Hand was gazing at the house. He had seen Dan disappear and suspected that the time had come.

Sure enough, there was the sign of the hand. He hastily got out of the car and hurried up the street. All this time the chauffeur was keeping Jennings busy over the telephone with some trumped-up story.

As the master criminal came in by the ladder through the open window, Dan was on guard, listening down the hallway. A signal from Dan, and Clutching Hand slid back of the portieres. Jennings was returning.

"I've finished these windows," announced Dan as the butler reappeared. "Now, I'll clean the hall windows."

Jennings followed like a shadow.

No sooner had they gone than Clutching Hand stealthily came from behind the portieres.

One of the maids was sweeping in the hall as Dan went toward the window, about to wash it.

"I wonder whether I locked those windows?" muttered Jennings, pausing in the hallway. "I guess I'd better make sure."

He had taken only a step toward the library again when Dan watchfully caught sight of him. It would never do to have Jennings snooping around there now. Quick action was necessary. Dan knocked over a costly Sevres vase.

"There—clumsy—see what you've done!" berated Jennings, starting to pick up the pieces.

Dan had acted his part well and promptly. In the library Clutching Hand was busily engaged at that moment beside the secret panel searching for the spring that released it. He ran his finger along the woodwork, pausing here and there without succeeding.

"Confound it!" he muttered, searching feverishly.

Kennedy, having made the arrangements with the telephone company by which he had a clear wire from the Dodge house to his laboratory, had rejoined me there and was putting on the finishing touches on his installation of the vocaphone.

Every now and then he would switch it on, and we would listen in it as he demonstrated the wonderful little instrument to me. We had heard the window cleaner and Jennings, but thought nothing of it at the time.

By a Sort of Instinct Kennedy Seemed to Recognize the Sounds. "Elaine!" He Exclaimed, Turning Pale.

Once, however, Craig paused, and I saw him listening more intently than usual.

"They've gone out," he muttered, "but surely there is some one in the Dodge library."

"I listened, too. The thing was so sensitive that even a whisper could be magnified, and I certainly did hear something.

Kennedy frowned. What was that scratching noise? Could it be Jennings? Perhaps it was Rusty.

Just then we could distinguish a sound as though someone had moved about.

"No—that's not Jennings," cried Craig. "He went out."

He looked at me a moment. The same stealthy noise was repeated.

"It's the Clutching Hand!" he exclaimed excitedly.

A moment later Dan hurried into the Dodge library.

"For heaven's sake, Chief, hurry!" he whispered hoarsely. "The Falsers must have fallen down. The girl herself is coming!"

Dan himself had no time to waste. He retreated into the hallway just as Jennings was opening the door for Elaine.

Marie took her wraps and left her, while Elaine handed her numerous packages to Jennings.

Dan watched every motion.

"Put them away, Jennings," she said softly.

Jennings had obeyed and gone upstairs. Elaine moved toward the library. Dan took a quiet step or two behind her, in the same direction.

In the library Clutching Hand was now frantically searching for the spring. He heard Elaine coming and dodged behind the curtains again just as she entered.

With a hasty look about, she saw no one. Then she went quickly to the panel, found the spring and pressed it. So many queer things had happened to her since she went out that she had begun to worry over the safety of the papers.

The panel opened. They were there, all right. She opened the box and took them out, hesitating to break the seal before Kennedy arrived.

Stealthy and tigerlike, the Clutching Hand crept up behind her. As he did so, Dan gazed in through the portieres from the hall.

With a spring, Clutching Hand leaped at Elaine, snatching at the papers. Elaine clung to them tenaciously, in spite of the surprise, and they struggled for them, Clutching Hand holding one hand over her mouth to prevent her screaming. Instantly Dan was there, aiding his chief.

"Choke her! Strangle her! Don't let her scream!" he ground out.

They fought viciously. Would she succeed? It was two desperate, unscrupulous men against one frail girl.

Suddenly, from the man in armor

Kennedy Shows Elaine the Little Instrument That Saved Her Life.

in the corner, as if by a miracle, came a deep, loud voice.

"Help! Help! Murder! Police! They are strangling me!"

The effect was terrific.

Clutching Hand and Dan, hardened in crime as they were, fell back, dazed, overcome for the moment at the startling effect.

They looked about. Not a soul.

Then, to their utter consternation, from the helmet again came the deep, vibrant warning.

"Help! Murder! Police!"

Kennedy and I had been listening over the vocaphone, for the moment nonplused at the fellow's daring.

Then we heard from the uncanny instrument: "For Heaven's sake, Chief, hurry. The Falsers have fallen down. The girl herself is coming!"

What it meant we did not know. But Craig was almost beside himself, as he ordered me to get the police by telephone, if there was any way to block them. Only instant action would count, however. What to do?

We could hear the master criminal plainly fumbling now.

"Yes, that's the Clutching hand," he repeated.

"Wait," I cautioned, "someone else is coming!"

By a sort of instinct he seemed to recognize the sounds.

"Elaine!" he exclaimed, paling.

Instantly followed, in less than I can tell it, the sounds of a suppressed shuffle.

"He has seized her—gagged her," I cried in an agony of suspense.

We could now hear everything that was going on in the library. Craig was wildly excited. As for me, I was speechless. Here was the vocaphone we had installed. It had warned us. But what could we do?

I looked blankly at Kennedy. He was equal to the emergency.

He calmly turned the switch.

Then, at the top of his lungs he shouted: "Help! Help! Police! They are strangling me!"

I looked at him in amazement. What did he think he could do—blocks away?

"It works both ways," he muttered. "Help! Murder! Police!"

We could hear the astonished cursing of the two men. Also, down the hall, now, we could hear footsteps approaching in answer to his call for help—Aunt Josephine, Jennings, Marie and others, all shouting out that there were cries in the library.

"The deuce! What is it?" muttered a gruff voice.

"The man in armor!" hissed Clutching Hand.

"Here they come, too, Chief!"

There was a parting scuffle.

"There—take that!"

A loud metallic ringing came from the vocaphone.

Then silence!

What had happened?

In the library, recovering from their crock of surprise, Dan cried out to the Clutching Hand. "The deuce! What is it?"

Then looking about, Clutching Hand quickly took in the situation.

"The man in armor!" he pointed out.

Dan was almost dead with fright at the weird thing.

"Here they come, too, Chief," he gasped, as, down the hall he could hear the family shouting out that someone was in the library.

With a parting thrust, Clutching Hand sent Elaine reeling.

She held on to only a corner of the papers. He had the greater part of them. They were torn and destroyed, anyway.

Finally, with all the venomousness of which he was capable, Clutching Hand rushed at the armor suit, drew back his gloved fist, and let it shoot out squarely in a vicious solar plexus blow.

"There—take that!" he roared.

The suit rattled furiously. Out of it spilled the vocaphone, with a bang on the floor.

An instant later those in the hall rushed in. But the Clutching Hand and Dan were gone out of the window, the criminal carrying the greater part of the precious papers.

Some ran to Elaine, others to the window. The ladder had been kicked away, and the criminals were gone. Leaping into the waiting car, they had been whisked away.

"Hello! Hello! Hello!" called a voice, apparently from nowhere.

"What is that?" cried Elaine.

She had risen by this time, and was gazing about, wondering at the strange voice. Suddenly her eye fell on the armor scattered all over the floor. She spied the little oak box.

"Elaine!"

Apparently the voice came from that. Besides it had a familiar ring to her ears.

"Yes—Craig!" she cried.

"That is my vocaphone—the little box that hears and talks," came back to her. "Are you all right?"

"Yes—all right—thanks to the vocaphone."

She had understood in an instant. She seized the helmet and breastplate to which the vocaphone still was attached and was holding them close to herself.

Kennedy had been calling and listening intently over the machine, wondering whether it had been put out of business in some way.

"It works—yet!" he cried excitedly to me.

"Elaine!"

"Yes, Craig," came back over the faithful little instrument.

"Are you all right?"

"Yes—all right."

"Thank heaven!" breathed Craig, pushing me aside.

Literally he kissed that vocaphone as if it had been human!

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
Telephone 1153-M Quincy
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1381 Hancock Street, Quincy F27

SUFFRAGE PUT UP TO VOTERS

Amendment Is Passed by Bay State Representatives

SCENE OF GREAT REJOICING

Legislators Bombarded With Yellow Flowers as Women Gain Victory Sought For Over Half a Century—Procession of Triumph in Streets of Boston and Flag Raising

Boston, Feb. 17.—The woman's suffrage amendment was passed by the house of representatives by a vote of 196 to 33 and as a result the measure will be submitted to the voters at the state election in November, this year. An hour of debate preceded the taking of the vote. The senate has already passed the measure.

Probably the greatest crowd ever seen at the state house for any occasion was on hand, practically all women. Approximately 1000 women were seated in the house gallery and more than 100 more were crowded into the smaller press gallery which was thrown open for them. Hundreds of other women swarmed about the corridors, unable to get seats, to hear and see what they could.

Exultant suffragists from all parts of the state were present at the victorious culmination of their fight of more than half a century to bring the question of granting suffrage to women before the voters.

An unusual scene was witnessed after the vote was announced—a great shower of yellow jonquils and other flowers of the yellow hue, in harmony with the suffrage flags, descended from the galleries upon the members of the house. This was decided upon, Mrs. Teresa A. Crowley said later, "as a perfectly excusable expression of joy and appreciation to which no one would take exception."

After the vote was announced, the suffragists went to the main steps of the state house, where an informal meeting was held and addresses made by prominent suffragists.

A procession was then formed and marched, led by a band, through Park, Tremont and Boylston streets to the headquarters at 585 Boylston street.

At the headquarters there was a flag raising, the Stars and Stripes and an immense yellow Votes for Women banner being swung from new poles at hearquarters' windows. Mrs. Crowley, chairman of the legislative committee of the Massachusetts Woman Suffrage association, and Miss Alice S. Blackwell were the speakers.

The victory in Massachusetts is regarded as the greatest boon in the history of woman's suffrage.

QUARANTINE EXTENDED

Ban on Shipments of Livestock Except For Quick Slaughter

Washington, Feb. 17.—Foot and mouth disease quarantine regulations were extended by the department of agriculture so as to include all the territory east of the Mississippi and north of Tennessee in a restricted area out of which no shipments of livestock, except for slaughter within forty-eight hours, will be permitted to the south or west.

All of the great slaughtering centres are located in the restricted territory and there is little shipping of live cattle out of it, but the new order was deemed necessary to protect the stock-producing section from infection.

OLD GLORY AT THE POLLS

Chicago Judge Thinks It Time For a Lesson In Patriotism

Chicago, Feb. 17.—Scoring hyphenated Americans of all kinds, Judge Scully ordered all election commissioners to "give Chicago voters at the municipal primaries a lesson in patriotism," by displaying American flags inside all booths and polling places.

"I believe it high time," explained Scully, "the people of Chicago, and elsewhere for that matter, had a lesson in pure American patriotism."

Enforced Vacation For 2200

Readville, Mass., Feb. 17.—All employes of the New Haven railroad in the passenger and locomotive departments at the carshops here, numbering 2200, were laid off until March 1. No reason for the lay-off is given by the company.

Tuberculosis Home Dedicated

Chicago, Feb. 17.—The Chicago municipal tuberculosis sanatorium, described by experts the largest and best equipped in the world, was dedicated. The buildings, which cost $2,400,000, occupy a quarter of a square mile.

Robins Head Our Feathered Friends

Washington, Feb. 17.—A government biologists' census reported more robins in America than any other bird; then English sparrows, catbirds, house wrens, brown thrashers, bluebirds and bluebirds, in order.

Deaf Can See Sounds

Bombay, Feb. 17.—Professor Albe of Lahore has invented a "phonoscope," the use of which enables the totally deaf to perceive sounds, such as speech and music, by means of the eye.

TAKEN ON CHARGE OF EMBEZZLEMENT

Discount Company's Treasurer Arrested at Boston

Boston, Feb. 17. — Treasurer Charles E. Walker of the defunct New England Discount company was arrested on a charge of embezzlement brought by the receivers of the corporation. He is held in $10,000 bail.

The receivers declared that Walker's arrest was only one of four or five to follow the investigation into the accounts of the company. It is alleged the funds of stockholders were stolen to the amount of around $250,000.

The charge brought against Walker is the larceny of $30,000. This sum, according to the receivers, is nominal, to cover the charge, although much more money is alleged to have disappeared from the company through Walker than this amount.

HAVE PLAN FOR DEFENSE

Hamlin Joins O'Connell as Counsel For Dynamiter Horn

Machias, Me., Feb. 17.—Hannibal E. Hamlin of Ellsworth, formerly attorney general of Maine, will be associated with Mr. O'Connell of Boston as counsel for the defense of Werner Horn, the German prisoner at the county jail, in resisting extradition proceedings to take him to Canada for trial for attempting to wreck the international bridge at Vanceboro.

Horn's lawyers have determined upon a plan of defense and are said to be prepared to contest every step taken by the Canadian authorities to secure possession of him.

SHAKEUP IS COMING

Boston Prison Employes Said to Have Trafficked In Drugs

Boston, Feb. 17.—A shakeup will take place at the house of correction at Deer island, Mayor Curley announced, in an effort to stamp out the trafficking in cocaine and other drugs.

The action follows the sweeping charges by Secretary Chase of the Watch and Ward society, before a legislative committee, that employes on the island are foremost in the trade and are making big profits by supplying the inmates.

SPECIAL PANEL ORDERED

Court Sets First of March as Date For the Thaw Trial

New York, Feb. 17.—The trial of Harry K. Thaw on an indictment charging him with conspiracy was set for March 1. It had previously been set for Feb. 28.

A special panel of 200 talesmen, from which is to be selected a jury to try Thaw, was ordered drawn by Supreme Court Justice Weeks.

Murdered Man's Son a Suicide

Webster, Mass., Feb. 17.—Adolph Lawson, 21, son of Jonas Lawson, who was murdered in the cellar of the Lawson home several months ago, committed suicide over his father's grave by shooting.

On Saturday afternoon Italian residents of the city will give a fair in Quincy Adams hall for the benefit of the Earthquake sufferers in Italy.

TO LET
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for L.r. Kribs.
Greenleaf Block. ('Phone 21066) Quincy

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 13-9t

TO LET—After March 1, House of nine rooms with all modern conveniences at 5 Summer street. Apply to Dr. D. B. Reardon, 1186 Hancock street. 11-tf

TO LET—Lower tenement with all improvements. Rent $19.50 per month C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 11-6t

TO LET—Apartment of five rooms and bath in new house, all modern improvements, fine location, 26 Bradford street, off Franklin street. Apply to F. Barnicoat, Quincy. 10-tf

TO LET—Lower flat, 42 Euclid avenue, 5 rooms all modern improvements. For particulars address Mr. P. J. Curry, 94 Federal avenue or phone Quincy 1075M. 9-12t

TO LET—Half of colonial house on Russell park, 7 rooms and bath, fireplace, coal and gas range and all modern conveniences. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 9-tf

TO LET—Flat of seven rooms with electric lights, gas stove, range at 32 Euclid avenue. Apply at 12 Berkeley street. 6-12t

TO LET—Two or three rooms, furnished or unfurnished for light housekeeping, all improvements, reasonable rent, board if desired. 132 Marlboro street, Wollaston Park. 6-tf

TO LET—To small family of adults several very desirable new tenements $22 and up, also stable $10 per month; store $10 per month. Apply to C. H. Hardwick, 111Washington street. Tel. 174-2 Quincy. 4-12t

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 253-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Four room apartment, new house, all improvements. Apply at 226 Franklin street. 30-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $23. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET
Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

FOUND

FOUND—Sum of money which owner may have by proving property and paying charges. Mr. B. Ledger office. 17-1t

FOUND—A small sum of money. Owner may have same by proving property and paying charges. C. Cheever, 30 Chestnut street. 17-3t

FOUND—A gray Angora cat. Owner may have by applying at 137 Munroe road. 17-3t

TO LET

TO LET—Small store and tenement at 35 Willard street, West Quincy. Good chance for lady or couple, rent only $3 per week. Key at 33 Willard street. 16-6t

TO LET—Furnished rooms in newly renovated house, hot water heat, all conveniences. Gentlemen only. Meals if desired. Garage room for one automobile. Apply to Mrs. A. E. English, 273 Newport avenue, Wollaston. 15-6t

TO LET—New single house, with 5 rooms, bath, range, hot and cold water furnace heat, gas light. Vacant Mar. 1. John A. Weeden Greenleaf Block. 15-6t

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

WANTED

WANTED—By refined young woman position as housekeeper in widower's home. Capable of taking full charge. Write M. Ledger Office. 17-3t

WANTED—Ladies to sew at home; good pay. Send stamp. Work sent prepaid. King Mfg. Co., 1431 Broadway, New York City. 17-1t

WANTED—Lady to take charge of Ice Cream and Candy parlor. Apply at 1449 Hancock street, Quincy, Mass. 17-3t

YOUNG MAN WANTED.
With or without experience, to work in printing office. Must be a graduate of the High school. George W. Prescott Pub. Co.

WANTED—A young man, about 18 years old, to learn the trade. George W. Prescott Pub. Co. 17-1t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Two flat house in South Quincy. Hard wood finish, modern plumbing. Very desirable renting proposition, never vacant since built. For particulars enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 9-tf lpo

MISCELLANEOUS

SOME ONE—Please answer who would be willing to take a fine upright piano into their home. Prefer small private family who might consider purchase later if well pleased. Write for full information, E. C., Ledger office. 12-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

A Few Choice House Lots
— ON —
PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX
are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.
SWITHIN
3 GREENLEAF BLOCK
Jan. 5-tf

FOR SALE
House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,300. Straight Loan of $2,000.
EDMUND G. HAYDEN
Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing
HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.
129 Tremont St., Boston.
Oct. 8-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

THE THIEF

Daniel Frohman's New York Lyceum Theatre Success
BY HENRY BERNSTEIN—featuring
DOROTHY DONNELLY
CREATOR OF MADAM X
RICHARD BUHLER and an all star cast
Every lover of good acting will enjoy this remarkable Photo Play
REFINED VAUDEVILLE—Watkins and Williams, Singing and Dancing Rapid Change Artists, Monti Trio, European Singing Troubadours and Hamilton Bros. Knockabout Comedians.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

MON. TUES. WED. Daily Matinee 2.30 P. M. — Evenings at 8 P. M. — 10--15--25c

Coming Thurs. Fri. Sat. — Exploits of Elaine — also A New Picture For Boys
The Boy Scout Farm showing out door life of the Boy Scouts—New Vaudeville.

Fish, Oysters and Clams

Live Shore Haddock	9c
Fresh Eastern Halibut	20c
Fresh Smelts	2 lbs. for 25c
Fresh Herring	4c each
Fresh Mackerel	2 for 25c

QUINCY PUBLIC MARKET
1514 Hancock St., Kincaides Bldg.
Phone 1434 J. Legal Stamps Free Delivery

"READS RIOT ACT" TO POLICEMEN

Captain McKay Reminds Force of Rules at Tuesday's Roll call

DELIVERS STIFF LECTURE

Capt. Daniel R. McKay "read the riot act" to the patrolmen at roll call Tuesday evening and lectured emphatically on the necessity of keeping within the meaning of the rules and regulations of the department. He also read chapters on rules.

The lecture was the direct result of a mixup at headquarters Tuesday when through a misunderstanding no officer prepared to do house day duty. An ambulance call in the morning had to be made without a wagon officer.

The misunderstanding which brought about the condition is understood to be the result of men swapping days off and similar acts.

CITY HALL NOTES

Mayor Campbell and Commissioner Brown were out Tuesday afternoon looking at places for which orders or petitions for street lights have been referred to the executive.

Mayor Campbell has called a meeting of the special committee of the city council, appointed to take up the matter of a waiting room in city square for Thursday evening.

The Planning board will hold its first regular meeting at city hall Thursday evening.

Nothing definite has as yet been done by the Mayor in regard to installing a telephone switchboard in city hall. He has received the figures from the telephone company on cost of installation and maintenance but probably will not reach a definite decision until after the budget goes through.

"THE PRECIOUS PICKLED" PLAYED

Sister Angela's Sodality Hold Successful Social

The young women members of Sister Angela's sodality of St. John's parish held a successful social in the hall of the St. John's parish school Tuesday afternoon. The special guests were Fr. M. J. Owens, pastor, and Fr. John J. Casey and Fr. Walter A. Quinlan, curates.

An entertainment program closed with dancing and refreshments. The entertainment included vocal solos by Miss Alda Rice, violin solos by Miss Gertrude McGrann, accompanied by Miss Emma Savoie, recitations by Miss Lillian Reed, piano duets by the Misses Hesta Harkins and Gertrude Mahoney, and piano selections by Miss Margaret Hartrey.

A sketch entitled "The Precious Pickle" was given by the Misses Gertrude Driscoll, Margaret Griffin, Alice Powers, Elizabeth Tracey, Doris Fraser, Esther Dorley and Marion Allen.

JOSEPHINE AGAIN DEFEATS ROGERS

Raymond Josephine defeated Tommy Rogers Tuesday evening in the fifth game of the series being played between these two stars for the pool championship of Quincy. The final score was 100 to 78.

Josephine has won two of the games played in Wardwell's and lost the third one by a misplay of his own and over confidence. Rogers has taken both games on his home table. The series still stands 3 to 2 in favor of the West side favorite.

Tuesday's game was witnessed by a large gallery and was played at Alpha hall pool room. Manager Sullivan claims that Josephine will win on Thursday when the sixth game of the series will be played at Pineo's Emporium.

In Tuesday's game Josephine made a run of thirteen balls in the third frame. Outside of this the game was very slow. Angelo Bizzozero was referee and "Scrappy" DeCoste scorer.

ALLOW HULTMAN TO BE MEMBER

"Arthur's" Weight and Height Required Waiving of Rules

FIVE OTHERS PASS TEST

The war department has waived its regulations and permitted Arthur B. Hultman, assistant court officer, to become a member of the M-G Co., 6th Regt. M. V. M., being recruited in Quincy.

Candidate Hultman weighs 230 pounds exceeding the limit by 40 pounds and is 6 ft. 5 1-2 in. tall, three more than the regulations allow. The exceptions were made because of the high standard he secured in his physical examination.

This morning the successful candidate received instructions to report to the state headquarters for measurement. Because of his unusual size no uniforms included in the state issue are large enough.

On Monday evening five more candidates for membership passed the physical test, given by Lieut. Sidney C. Hardwick, 5th Regt. M. V. M. Others will be examined next Tuesday evening in Union hall.

Another squad, making two in all, will be mustered in at the state house on Washington's birthday by Lieut. George M. Downes, assigned to form the company, Lieut. Downes will be on duty there during the reception to the public by Gov. Walsh and the local boys will be presented to his excellency.

Col. Warren E. Sweetser of the 6th Regt. and Lieut. Downes will both appear before the finance committee of the city council this week to explain how Quincy will act as the agent of the state in the payment of the rental for headquarters.

Lieut. Downes will be at Alpha hall next Tuesday evening and every Monday evening thereafter until the company is formed.

COURT ROGER WOLCOTT. F. OF A.

Brothers are hereby notified that a special meeting will be held this evening, in Div. 22 Hall, West Quincy, to take action on the death of our late Brother, William A. McPherson. The meeting will be called at 7.30 P. M.

Funeral services will be held from his late home, 91 Common street, tomorrow at 8.15 A. M., and at St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock. Members are requested to attend.

WM. C. MARTELL, C. R.,
WM. J. HEBERT, Secretary.
17-1t

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

The Quincy Tennis club will hold a dance Thursday evening.

William Kingsbury of Houghs Neck has been visiting friends in Brockton.

There will be a meeting of the Men's club of the Wollaston M. E. church this evening.

Mrs. John Foster of Winthrop, Me., is the guest of her sister Mrs. Mabel Keene of Francis court.

A regular meeting of the Katharyn Crane Memorial club was held Tuesday with Miss Holden on Spear street.

A Brownie ball will be held in Wollaston school hall on Thursday and Friday evenings.

A reunion of the Class of 1911, Q. H. S., will be held in Colonial hall Saturday evening.

The Y. P. R. U. of the First Parish church will hold "college night" on Friday, March 26.

Miss May Knapp of Atlantic has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Tribou of Abington.

Division 4, A. O. H., is to hold an Irish concert and entertainment March 18th in St. Mary's hall.

Mrs. Howard Rogers entertained a number of her neighbors at her home on Hancock street Tuesday evening. Auction bridge was the diversion of the evening which was greatly enjoyed by the three tables present. At the conclusion of the evening's play light refreshments were served by the hostess. The souvenirs for the best scores were awarded to Mrs. William B. Kemp and Mrs. Franklin P. Horton.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

LOST—Lady's hand bag with silver monogram between Saville street and Kincaide Theatre. Reward if returned to Room 20, Greenleaf Block.
17-3t

MARRIAGES

SMITH—CONWAY—In Quincy, Feb. 14, by Rev. Fr. John J. Casey, Thomas L. Smith and Sophie Conway, both of Quincy.

BACON—GRANT—In Quincy, Feb. 16, by Fr. Walter A. Quinlan, Zalmon R. Bacon of Sidney, Me., and Catherine Grant of Quincy.

BERRY—NEWALL—In Lowell, Feb. 13, by Rev. Appleton Gravins, Irving P. Berry and Mary A. Newall, both of Quincy.

SANGIOLO — SANTOSPIRITO — In Boston, Feb. 14, by Fr. Francesco Liberti, Felice Sangiolo and Anonnettee Santospirito, both of Quincy.

DEATHS

PRATT—In East Weymouth, Feb. 16, Capt. Francis B. Pratt, aged 87 years.

McPHERSON—In Quincy City Hospital, Feb. 15, William Ambrose, beloved son of Duncan McPherson, aged 21 years, 7 months.
Funeral from late residence, 91 Common street, Thursday, Feb. 18, at 8.15 A. M. High mass of requiem at St. Mary's church at nine o'clock. Relatives and friends invited to attend. 16-2t

OSBORNE—In Quincy, Feb. 16, Weston Washburn Osborne in his 70th year.
Funeral services at Christ Episcopal Church, Friday, Feb. 19, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited.
2t

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

CAR MEN BEAT POLICE OFFICERS

The Quincy car men beat the local police in a special match at the Wardwell alleys Tuesday afternoon in the present of an interested gallery. The margin was by nearly 100 pins. Davey was high with a total of 316. A return match will be rolled next Tuesday. The summary:

QUINCY POLICE.

Fergerson	79	103	78	260
Fallon	86	97	82	265
Jannavan	93	79	92	264
Ford	75	71	73	219
Thorne	95	93	87	275
	428	443	412	1283

QUINCY CARMEN.

Anderson	80	64	94	238
Cowe	87	91	103	281
Ford	98	72	92	262
Lavoie	99	84	88	271
Davey	118	105	93	316
	482	416	470	1368

CLAN MacGREGOR LEAGUE STANDING

Capt. Nicoll	60	28
Capt. McKenzie	50	34
Capt. McLean	50	34
Capt. Hughes	37	51
Capt. Smith	35	53
Capt. Mavers	28	60

High team total, Capt. Nicolls 1493.
High team single, Capt. Hughes 534.
High total, Dell 369.
High averages, Dell 99, Nicolls 94.

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.
Capt. Nicoll 3, Capt. McKenzie 1.
Capt. McLean 3, Capt. Hughes 1.
Capt. Maver 3, Capt. Smith 1.

Light pinfall marked the Clan MacGregor matches at the Coliseum alleys Tuesday night. The Nicolls quintette increased its lead.

CAPT. NICOLL—3

Coutts	74	79	84	237
Michael	73	78	91	242
Stewart	105	90	75	270
McDonald	80	83	75	238
Nicoll	94	94	98	286
	426	424	423	1273

CAPT. McKENZIE—1.

Hunter	85	81	105	271
Gordon	79	75	72	226
McKenzie	80	87	74	231
Russell	85	83	85	253
Drummond	77	92	93	262
	406	418	429	1253

CAPT. MAVER—3

H. Welch	81	87	83	251
Maver	82	114	89	285
Mitchell	72	83	78	233
Diack	89	85	93	267
Birnie	96	81	91	268
	420	450	434	1304

CAPT. SMITH—1.

Dummy	72	81	78	231
Maver	104	80	81	265
Smith	89	80	77	246
Davidson	79	72	94	245
Martin	89	83	82	254
	433	396	412	1241

CAPT. McLEAN—3

Patterson	87	77	73	237
Mannock	96	91	89	276
McLeod	89	78	84	251
McLean	79	101	99	279
Dell	87	103	89	279
	438	450	434	1322

CAPT. HUGHES—1.

Hughes	88	93	100	281
Mitchell	78	90	68	236
Raleigh	78	84	95	257
O'Neil	85	109	83	273
Dackers	95	89	84	268
	424	465	430	1319

C. T. A. AND M. R. MEET.

Philip Grady was admitted to membership in the St. Mary's C. T. A. and M. R. society at the meeting held Tuesday evening. The entertainment committee reported that plans were under way for a minstrel show and dance on April 19th. The question of a debating club in the society was discussed and William Duane, John Fitzgerald and James Connelley were appointed on a committee to report at the next meeting.

MOST POVERTY STRICKEN LASS

Miss Newcomb Wins Prize at Church Social

Miss Avis Newcomb was the most poverty-stricken lass in Quincy Tuesday night and the judges at the O. U. B. poverty party in Murray hall of the Universalist church awarded her the first prize. M. Smith was given the men's prize

The poverty march was the central feature of the entertainment. Games were enjoyed, refreshments were served and piano solos were given by Chester French, vocal solos by Lester Sprague, recitations by Elmer Sprague and songs by Merton Grant.

The committee in charge was Chester French, Elmer Sprague and Willard Hyland

CITY FINDS JOBS FOR UNEMPLOYED

Clyffeton W. Hill, who has charge of the city employment bureau, says that he is receiving a number of applications from men and women seeking employment, to some of whom he has been able to furnish employment. He says that the bureau could be made more of a success if the merchants, manufacturers and others of the city who were in need of help would register their wants with him, instead of visiting the employment bureaus of Boston in search of help that in most cases he can provide the help needed.

SECOND DEGREE EXEMPLIFIED

There was a large attendance of Odd Fellows at the meeting of Mt. Wollaston lodge Tuesday evening when the second degree was exemplified on several candidates. The work was performed in a manner that called for many words of commendation. It was performed by the second degree staff of Puritan lodge of Braintree. During the work there was music by the orchestra of John Hancock lodge of Wollaston and the Warren lodge quartet of Boston.

After the work of the evening light refreshments were served and there were selections by the orchestra and quartet.

GETS BLUE TICKET.

Michael Kiley No Longer Water Department Blacksmith.

Michael Kiley, the well known athlete and who until his retirement several years ago was one of the fastest base ball players in New England, received his "blue ticket" Saturday and is no longer the blacksmith at the water department station in South Quincy.

Mr. Kiley became the department blacksmith shortly after the late Mayor Miller took office. Last fall he was not a member of the Campbell forces.

This, according to Mr. Kiley, explains his dismissal.

COMMTTEE MEETS.

The committee appointed to consider the advisability of a new chapel for Bethany church held a conference at the church Tuesday evening and before the business session enjoyed a supper prepared by Mrs H E Crane, president of the Bethany Women's Union Mrs Crane was assisted in serving by Miss Florence Pratt, Miss Christina Booth and Miss Susie Tytler Rev Mr Willmott, pastor of the church was a guest No definite actio was taken

SMITH—CONWAY.

The friends of Miss Sophia Conway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Conway of Water street, South Quincy, were greatly surprised to hear of her marriage to John Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Atlantic.

The couple were married quietly Sunday evening by Rev. John J. Casey at St. John's rectory.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith after a short trip will live at Atlantic.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

JUNIOR LEAGUE TEAM STANDING

The teams of Capt. Kelliher, first place claimants and Capt. Wren, third place holders, of the Junior league tace each other Friday night at Wardwell alleys. The Swain and Little quintette also roll. A clean sweep for the Swains and the loss of four points by the Kellihers will tie first place. A merry race is on between the three high teams.

JUNIOR LEAGUE STANDING.

	Won	Lost	P.F.
Capt. Kelliher	20	8	8873
Capt Swain	16	12	8867
Capt. Wren	14	14	8574
Capt. Moodie	6	22	8272
High 3 string Kelliher			317
High Single Swain			141
High Team Total Swain			1357

High averages Kelliher 97, Swain 96, Byrne 95, Little 94 1-3.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

CITY OF QUINCY

FEBRUARY 16, 1915

TO ALL PERSONS ENGAGED IN THE MOVING OF FURNITURE.

Your attention is called to the ordinance of this city relating to the moving of furniture. This ordinance is to be strictly enforced by this department. Blanks for the purpose as required in section 2 can be had on application. The ordinance reads as follows:

SECTION 1 OF NUMBER 47.

Every person, firm or corporation, engaged in the business of moving or transferring household furniture, pianos, or other articles or personal effects, shall keep a record on certificates to be furnished by the police department, of the names of the owners of the articles moved, the address from which they are taken and to which the same are moved, the general character of the articles moved, the date the same are moved and the name of the owners and drivers in charge of such vehicles. Every person, firm or corporation shall file with the police department of the city, not later than three days after said moving, on blanks to be furnished by said department, a certificate setting forth the above information and record.

SECTION 2 OF NUMBER 47.

It shall be the duty of the Police department to prepare blanks convenient for recording such information, to be furnished free of charge to those requiring same and to properly file and index record when received under the name of the owner indicted. Such information shall be accessible to the public.

SECTION 3 OF NUMBER 47.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm of corporation to fail to file a certificate in accordance with section 1 hereof, or to knowingly give a ficticious name or ficticious address in said certificate.

SECTION 4 OF NUMBER 47.

Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance, upon conviction shall be fined not less than five nor more than fifty dollars for each offence.

SECTION 9 OF ORDINANCE NO. 12.

The City Council may grant licenses to such persons as they deem expedient to employ or use any wagon, cart, sleigh, or other vehicle which may be necessary for the conveyance from place to place within the city, for hire, of any goods, wares, furniture or rubbish, and no persons shall use any of the vehicles mentioned in this section, for the purpose herein specified, without a license as aforesaid. Every person licensed under this section shall cause his name to be placed in plain, and legible words on any such vehicle he may use, and every such license shall expire on the first day of May then next ensuing unless sooner revoked. Every person so licensed shall pay to the City Clerk, for the use of the city, one dollar for each vehicle so licensed.

DANIEL R. McKAY.
Captain and Acting Chief.
17-3t

CHARLES E. DECKER, Auctioneer
Room 3, Adams Bldg., Quincy.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a mortgage deed of real estate given by Maria Giordani to Agnesa Giordani dated December 22, 1913 and recorded with Norfolk Deeds Book 1268, page 502, for the purpose of foreclosing said mortgage for breach of the conditions thereof, will be sold at public auction on the premises described therein on SATURDAY the 13th day of March 1915 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular, the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed the same being situated in Quincy in the County of Norfolk and comprising Lots 19, 20 and 21 on a plan by H. T. Whitman recorded with Norfolk Plans, plan book 47, plan 2219, said parcel being bounded and described as follows:

Northerly by land now or formerly of Adams and Whitman 126 4-10 feet; Easterly by land now or formerly of Ryan, sixty feet; Southerly by land now or formerly of Bizzozero one hundred and twenty-five 4-10 feet; Westerly by Side Street, sixty feet, containing 7554 square feet of land.

The premises will be sold subject to a prior mortgage and other incumbrances if any there be.

One hundred dollars will be required to be paid at the time of sale; remainder within ten days, on delivery of deed.

AGNESA GIORDANI.
Mortgagee.
3t Feb. 17-24 Mar. 3

Buy Sugar Now
25 lb. Bag Fine Granulated
For $1.50

ADAMS MARKET
City Square
Phone 1980

FOY'S
2 STORES

WATER STREET
Cor. Quincy
Phone 117

COAL

Just Unloaded 2800 Tons of
Sprague's Celebrated New River Cumberland Coal

J. F. SHEPPARD & SON, Inc.,
27 Granite St.

OPEN EVERY NIGHT
NO MORE GROSSMAN

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily -- Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 42 QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 18, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

POLICE DEPARTMENT SHAKE-UP EXPECTED

Mayor Campbell, It is Rumored, Will Make Drastic Changes

One of the biggest shakeups ever experienced in local police circles is expected to take place at any moment. Rumors to that effect are current and appear to have some foundation.

It is a matter of common knowledge that Mayor Campbell has been personally in touch with the happenings of the department since he took office. In his inaugural address he said better discipline was needed in the department and it is believed his close observation of the workings of the present system may result in recommendations which will include the rumored shakeup.

Only a few days will elapse before the appointment of four new officers All will be from the reserve list.

Provision for three were made at the last meeting of the council and the resignation of Timothy J. Golden on Wednesday leaves a vacancy.

No one seems to know when the shakeup will come but it is understood that the appointment of the new permanent officers will afford the opportune time.

JAMES IDENTIFIES ASSAILANT.

Giuseppe Gascapairo who escaped for a time the Hingham police by hiding in a shack they didn't visit was identified Wednesday by Chief of Police Washington I. James as the man who shot him.

He is now in Plymouth jail charged with murderous assault. Bail has been set at $10,000 but has not been furnished. Signorelli, held as a material witness will be arrested as an accessory if anyone furnishes surety of $500 set by Judge Kelly after his arraignment. John Arventi, the third man is also held in $10,000.

VERDICT FOR $161.

In the superior court at Dedham Wednesday a verdict for $161 was returned in the case of John J. Fitzgerald of Quincy against the Elevated railroad for personal injuries received when a car of the defendant company collided with the plaintiff's milk wagon. Fitzgerald sued for $3,000. Charles J. McGilvray was for the plaintiff Russell A. Sears and Paul R. Blackmur for defendants.

CANVASSING CITY.

A committee from the Italian Relief society which is to hold a fair and dance Saturday afternoon and evening in Quincy Adams hall is canvassing the city today for funds for the relief of the earthquake sufferers in Italy.

You need the Ledger every day.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Fair weather with somewhat higher temperature Friday.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.36
Sun sets	5.21
Length of day	10.45
Moon sets	11.23
High water, A. M.	2.45
High water, P. M.	3.00
Days increase	1 hr. 39 minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.33 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	43 degrees
Feb. 18, 1914,	32 degrees
Feb. 18, 1913,	28 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—87.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

MAYOR SPEAKS AT Y. M. C. A.

Association Holds One of its Famous Bible Class "Feeds"

JOE BEAL TOASTMASTER

Mayor Campbell, one of the speakers at the Bible class supper at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday evening, told the 92 boys present that "corner gangs" never helped anyone in securing employment or bettering morals and his remarks were loudly applauded.

Mayor Campbell was one of the list of speakers which included Joseph A. Sedgwick, John Melville, acting physical director, C. F. Humphrey, boys' director, Rev. A. M. Thompson and Frank Burgess, president of the Y. M. C. A., under whose auspices the supper was given. Joseph Beal was toastmaster. The welcome was extended by Sec. A. F. Bromley.

The supper was prepared under the direction of Mrs. George C. Beal, president of the Y. M. C. A. Auxiliary. She was assisted by Mrs. E. I. Beal, Mrs. Frank Hobart, Mrs. Frank Gilbert, Mrs. L. F. LaRose, Mrs. John F. Roache, Mrs. A. H. Gilson, Mrs A M. Thompson.

The silver tray presented to the auxiliary last Friday by the Bible class was exhibited by Joseph Beal, and prizes were presented to the boys who enrolled the largest number of students

Mr. Sedgwick spoke on what service boys could render and Mr. Melville told the story of the buffalo. Rev. A M. Thompson and President Burgess pointed out the value of morals and C. F. Humphrey pleaded for co-operation.

The prizes were awarded to Frank Frantiello and Gus Wester. The former, one of the cadet class, received the silver loving cup and a boy scout knife and Gus Wester, was awarded a boy scout knife.

Mayor Campbell addressed his hearers as future mayors, councilmen and members of the boards of selectmen of surrounding towns.

He said it was certainly good of the boys to invite him to sup with them and that while he was somewhat older than most of the chaps present he had endeavored to keep young because youth helps in retaining vigor. He said he always wanted to do something, something worth while, and doing something worth while brings results and makes men.

"There is a ladder in life all must climb," said his honor, "and we are apt to think our ladder is a bit steeper and harder than that of the other fellow. It is often said George or Charlie or John or Henry have a snap but quite often we know nothing about it. Most of us are apt to make judgments on appearances because we have no opportunity to get facts.

"One very important thing to consider in the start of life is the other fellow. A bright young man, accompanied by his mother recently requested assistance in securing a position. Some conversation brought out the fact he hadn't really tried to find employment. He could only remember the names of three places where he had applied during a period of several months.

"The fault with that boy was that he had spent his time with the corner gangs and not in the history of creation has the corner gang helped in uplifting any of its members, either in securing work or bettering morals. Success will come in the breaking off of such associations and knuckling down to business."

SEWING CLUB MEETS

The M E T sewing club of Quincy Point met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs John Silva on River street The first hour was devoted to sewing after which a dainty luncheon was served by Mrs Silva A social hour followed the luncheon

Those present were Mrs John Silva Mrs. Daniel Dorley, Mrs. Arthur F. Dorley, Mrs. Sarah J. DeYoung, Miss Lillian Dorley, Miss Lillian L. DeYoung, Miss Elizabeth DeYoung and Miss Wonder Smith. The club will meet next Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Daniel Dorley on Thompson street.

ALLOW LEAVITT WILL.

At the Dedham session of the Norfolk County probate ecurt Wednesday the will of Minnie A. Leavitt was allowed. Administrations were granted on the estates of Catherine F. Morgan, John M. O'Brien and Margaret A. Mcpherson of Quincy.

Mrs. Augustine Lehive of Dorchester is visiting her mother, Mrs. Margaret Gillis on Granite street, South Quincy.

NOTICE.

Merchants, tradesmen, and all others whom it may concern, are hereby notified that I have made suitable arrangements for the separate maintenance of my wife, Christie McLeod of 153 Water street, and family; and that I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by my said wife.

ANGUS J. McLEOD.
18-1t

AUCTION SALE

Unclaimed and Refused Freight.

Auction sale of unclaimed and refused freight to be sold by order of New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Co., Tuesday March 2nd, 1915, in freight yard of this Company at South Braintree, Mass. at 12.30 P. M. in conformity Chapter 95 of the Revised Laws of Mass., Section 6, for account of whom it may concern.

One lot of 28 poles received in cars ACL 72488—ACL 72870—ACL 73298, consigned to Fore River Ship Building Co., East Braintree, Mass., arriving at East Braintree about Dec. 26th 1913, supposed to have been shipped by Samuel Dawson, Old Grade, Ga. Also lot of 40 poles received in cars ACL 72480—ACL 73447 and 5534 consigned to Fore River Shipbuilding Co. East Braintre, arriving at East Braintree about Jan. 26th. 1914, supposed to have been shipped by Samuel Dawson, Old Grade, Ga.

N. B. All purchasers must be prepared to make deposit at time of sale of at least 25 percent cash. All goods must be paid for and removed within 10 days after sale is completed.

per order G. L. WINLOCK,
Freight Claim Agent,
New York, New Haven and Hartford, R. R. 4-9t
4,5,6,11,12,13,18,19,20

FORM NEW ORGANIZATION

Young Women's Sewing Circle Elects

A new organization of the Swedish Congregational church came into being Wednesday night when the initial meeting of a young women's sewing circle was held at the home of Miss Anna Andre of 25 Cherry avenue. Twenty young women were present and also the pastor of the church, Rev. A. G. Sporrong.

The purpose of the circle is to work for home and foreign missions. The pastor was elected president and Mrs A. G. Sporrong was elected an honorary member. Miss Ruth Ekstrand and Miss Hilma Ljungquist were elected supervisors of the work. Miss Anna Andre was elected secretary and Miss Ethel Sutherland, treasurer.

A short program was enjoyed, including singing and recitations. Refreshments were served and a social hour passed. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Anna Sutherland, 172 Whitwell street.

SEVERAL CASES OF SCARLET FEVER

Several cases of scarlet fever have been reported this week in the Cranch school district. This is the district which the Board of Health visited several weeks ago and found a child had been out playing with other children when he was not well and it is thought that this is where the epidemic started.

Mildred, the four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook of Glendale road is a victim of the disease.

The four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ferguson of Glendale road is another and Irene Manning daughter of John Manning, caretaker of the Brooks Adams estate, is also a victim. It is reported that several other cases are in the vicinity.

Irwin Millard the seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Millard of Whitwell street has recovered and the quarantine was taken off last Saturday and the same with the three children of Mr. and Mrs. John Pearson of Whitwell street.

E. L. COLLINS IS SPEAKER

Ernest L. Collins, headmaster of the High school, in speaking before 135 members of the Parent-Teachers association of the Coddington school Wednesday evening said it was a mistake to insist on educating a child when the child did not desire it and that his experience had been that any person forced to study would eventually balk. Mr. Collins said it was better to study a child, find his choice, and then help him pursue it.

"If school is to be discontinued a trade is the proper thing so that in the far off future he will not be one of the unskilled laborers tossed here and there in the winds," he declared.

Mr. Collins' remarks were made during his discussion of the topic, "After the Elementary School—What?"

He said ability should be developed and encouraged to become stronger. There are but two things left after the grammar school, continued education or work. Care in studying the child will solve the problem as to whether he will join with the mechanical or academical forces.

During the evening vocal selections were rendered by the Cecelian quartette of the Bethany girls choir, consisting of the Misses Alice Parker, Ada Williams, Isabelle Laing and Florence Sabean. Their selections were loudly applauded. President A. L. Hayden presided.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett B. Goodrich of Taylor street, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a second son born Tuesday Feb. 16.

QUINCY NEWSBOYS CLUB IS ORGANIZED

Live New Association Plans to Boost Local Paper Sales

ELECTION ON MARCH 2

The Quincy Newsboys club to advance the interests of the paper boys of the city has organized and a membership committee has been appointed to increase the number to a large figure.

The appointment of the committee to conduct a membership campaign is the direct result of the advice given by David Polovsky Carl Leander and Roger Forbush all three of whom addressed the club at the meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening at which time it was voted to "boost Quincy papers."

The campaign committee and their districts are Axel Broberg, Cranch Hill, Edward Riley, City Square, Alfred Boetcher, Bigelow Park, Roger Forbush, Houghs Neck, Chas. Thompson, South Quincy, John McNeil Quincy Adams, Kenneth Doyle, Cranch Hill. All will make their report at the annual election to take place on March 2.

W. Howard Mills, advertising manager of the Daily Ledger, and Alfred N. LaBrecque, editor of the Quincy Telegram, have been elected honorary members. Carl Leander is trustee. David Polovsky, lecturer, Chester Johnson, prosecuting officer and William Tretheway, sergeant-at-arms John McNeil presided at the first meeting.

Carl Leander, one of the most active news agents of the city is most enthusiastic in his efforts to make the organization one of the foremost for boys in Quincy. He believes in time it will be possible to develop the organization to the extent that scholarships will be offered for members.

The endorsement of the slogan "boost Quincy papers" has met with a fine response on the part of the members and during the past week their sales have showed a substantial increase. It is also probable that at the next meeting there will be a short lecture on "How to Bulletin the news for the Benefit of a Prospective Reader.

COLONIAL SUPPER IS BIG SUCCESS

The Colonial supper held by the Ladies Benevolent society of the Memorial church in the vestry Wednesday evening was a huge success in every particular. The women on the committee were in colonial dress and make-up.

The committee in charge were: Mrs Spencer Appollonio, Mrs. Charles Letteney, Mrs. Herbert G. Beeman Mrs. L. D. T. Gurney, Mrs. Westhaven Mrs. R. Dennison, Mrs. Herbert Tucker, Mrs. William Davy, Mrs. B. F Thomas, Mrs. John Beal, Mrs. M. Atkins, Mrs. Harry Read, Mrs. A. Robertson, Mrs. Taberner and Mrs. John Abbott.

ACCEPTS RESIGNATION.

Mayor Campbell officially accepted the resignation of Officer Timothy J. Golden this morning. The resignation takes effect immediately.

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF CRIMINAL LIBEL

Alleged To Have Defamed Character of John Doyle of This City

Robert J. Long, 53, editor and publisher of the American Citizen, was arrested Wednesday night in Rochester, N. Y., on a Suffolk County indictment warrant charging criminal libel as a result of an article in reference to John Doyle of 135 Cross street, West Quincy. His paper was formerly issued in Boston and later in New Jersey. He has been in Rochester two months.

An editorial in the American Citizen commenting on an article in a Boston newspaper dealing with Doyle furnished the basis for the complaint. Doyle, who is one of the best known men in the city, was injured in an accident at Hitchcocks quarry on June 21, 1907, and was a cripple until Oct. 25, 1914.

On that date, after attending a mission in St. Marys church, West Quincy Doyle walked to the street without his crutches apparently in perfectly sound health. Long is alleged to have reprinted the account of Doyle's recovery from the Boston paper and to have paralleled it with another story about a man called Doyle, who, it was charged, collected money by means of a false lameness and then spent the money on liquor.

At the time of his arrest, Long told the Rochester police that the article had been written as a joke, but later changed his story, the Rochester officials say, and stated that the Doyle who claimed he had been libelled was not the person to whom reference was made. It is said Long was given an opportunity to return to this city, but refused. He will probably resist extradition.

TIMOTHY F. SULLIVAN.

There were many floral tributes at the funeral of Timothy F. Sullivan of Atlantic which was held Wednesday.

They included:

Wreath of roses and lilies of valley Mr. and Mrs. David Long, Mrs. Owen McManus.

Wreath Galax and roses—Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Fitzgerald.

Spray of carnations—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fuller and family.

Standing crescent and sickle—Mr. Steve Edwards and family.

Spray of carnations and lilies of valley—Mr. and Mrs. J. Heaney and family.

Spray of carnations—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barry.

Wreath of galax and lilies of valley —James and Thomas Fay.

Spray of white carnations—Class of 1915 Quincy Grammar school—classmates of brother Arthur.

Standing wreath—Mr. and Mrs. P Barry.

Spray white carnations and roses—Branscheid and Martens.

Spray roses and sweet peas—Miss H. A. Barry.

Standing wreath—Employees Hotel Blenheim.

Spray of carnations—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Heffernan.

Wreath galax and roses—Mrs. E. L. Granahan and family.

Spray roses and violets—William Wallace & Co., Boston.

Pillow white carnations—Mr. John Heffernan and family.

Spray pink carnations—Mrs. Esther Doyle and family.

Pillow, "Son"—from father.

Pillow, "Brother" —Sisters and brothers at home.

Pillow, "Brother"—William L. Sullivan and family.

Lyre with broken string—Gerald A. Sullivan and family.

Basket bouquet, "Uncle Tim"—Miss Mildred Sullivan.

LARGE NUMBER ATTEND FUNERAL

Services Held for William A. McPherson

The funeral of William A. McPherson, younger brother of School Committeeman Joseph H. McPherson was held Thursday morning from his late home, 91 Common street, and was attended by a large delegation of relatives and friends and delegations from several fraternal societies of which the deceased was a member. Mr. McPherson died early Tuesday morning at the Quincy City Hospital where he had been a patient for the past five weeks.

A requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Mary's church by Rev. Fr. Thomas R. McCoy, the pastor, at nine o'clock. The regular Gregorian mass was sung by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Mary (McKay) Rearion assisted by Paul Morrisette, Joseph Morrisette, Peter Morrisette, Arthur Lambert and Mrs. Catherine Lyons.

Delegations were present from Court Roger Wolcott No. 88, Foresters of America, and the Holy Name society of St. Mary's of which he was a faithful member.

There was a profusion of floral tributes from several fraternal organizations and the many friends of the deceased.

The pallbearers were John McDermott, George Hebert, Napoleon Martell, Edward Farrell, Peter Gilraine and John Burke. The interment was in the family lot in St. Mary's cemetery.

OLD FASHIONED DANCE

An old fashioned dance will be held under the auspices of the Town River Yacht club in Colonial hall Friday evening.

BOYS SHOES
Made to stand Hard Wear
BOSTON WELT
Regular $2 Shoe for $1.50
As a special inducement to every mother buying a pair of these Shoes we will repair your old ones for 25 cents, which is just the cost of the leather.
E. F. CONLIY,
HANCOCK and SAVILLE STS

RENEGATE AUTO TOP & BODY CO.
PACKARD FORE DOORS $30
Runabout, Hearse, Truck, Touring, Limousines, and Speed Bodies made to order, Mud Guards, Hoods, Tops, Slip Covers, Wind Shields and Repairing of all kinds.
CONVERTIBLE LIMOUSINE TOPS FOR ALL MAKES OF CARS
ALL WORK GUARANTEED—PRICES VERY REASONABLE
637 WASHINGTON ST.--Tel. Dor. 1180--DORCHESTER, MASS.
Feb. 18-1m

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.
will continue the service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.
OFFICE AT
WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY

ISLE OF PINES
An association is now being formed to own 100 acres of grapefruit or 7000 trees. Join now--membership $250.00, $10.00 down and $5.00 per month. 6 pct. guaranteed for the first five years and then each member gets 85 pct. of the profits. Write for particulars.
ISLE OF PINES ASSOCIATES
170 Summer St., Boston, Mass.
Feb. 11-1m

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC
The general express business conducted by the late Joseph M. Bruce, at No. 1598 Hancock Street, under the name of
BRUCE & WARNER EXPRESS
will be continued in the same name, and at the same place as formerly by the undersigned.
HELEN M. BRUCE, Administratrix.
DAVID M. WARNER, Manager.
18-6t

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the
TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

JAPAN SHOWS HER HAND.

Nations seldom participate in a war for unselfish reasons. The United States entered into warfare with Spain for an unselfish reason. That was an exception. Few, if any, of the nations now battling on the continent of Europe were influenced by any motives except selfish ones.

When Japan entered the war she loudly protested that she did so out of loyalty to her ally, England. It is doubtful whether her declaration carried much conviction. Japan, according to the general consensus of opinion, had an axe to grind, and, of course, she was going to do most of the grinding in China.

The latest despatches justify the cynicism with which Japan's entry was viewed. It is reported that she has made certain secret demands upon China, all with one end and that end is the political, economic and religious dominance of Japan in China.

The demands are:

If China employs foreigners as controlling advisers in police, military or financial departments of the entire country, Japanese shall be preferred.

One half of the ammunition and arms hereafter used by China must be purchased from Japan; otherwise an arsenal must be established in China employing Japanese experts and materials.

China must grant to Japan the same privileges as other nations to establish missions, schools and churches throughout the country, with the privilege of propagating Buddhism.

Mining concessions conflicting with existing concessions in Hanang, Tayeh and Pingsiang shall not be granted to other foreigners if a China-Japanese company, hereafter to be formed, shall disapprove.

Certain railroad concessions from Nanchang to Chao Chow Fu, from Nanchang to Kukiang and from Nanchang to Hangchow shall be granted.

Foreigners other than Japanese shall be excluded from future railroad mining and dock building concessions unless Japan shall give her consent.

Japan's position appears to be completely unfair and selfish. The United States, as the only true friend China has in the family of nations and as the recipient of Japan's promise that she meant no harm to China when she entered the war, should make an emphatic protest. It is quite obvious that Japan hopes to take advantage of her position as ally of Russia, France and England in making unjust demands upon the Celestial Republic. If England, Russia and France should back up their ally the pressure upon China would be overwhelming. To these countries, as well as to Japan herself, should the United States protest. A timely protest might give just the required stiffening to the backbones of England, Russia and France to lead them to restrain their greedy ally.

A REASONABLE PLEA.

The committee for unemployment relief of the Boston Central Labor Union has appealed to the municipal authorities not to enforce the payment of poll taxes by the unemployed. The committee learned that a Somerville constable had threatened a man out of work with a jail sentence because he had been unable to pay his poll tax.

The appeal of the committee seems to be eminently reasonable. The times are hard and imprisonment for failure to pay a poll tax would be a travesty on justice. There should be no hesitation on the part of the authorities in acceding to the request.

A NEW ORGANIZATION.

A commendable ambition on the part of the newsboys of the city to advance their own interests, has brought into being the Quincy Newsboys Club. The boys are entitled to support. Newsboy organizations in other cities have proved valuable institutions both to the community and to the boys themselves.

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

TALKS ON LAW AND LAWYERS

A. L. Stinson Speaker at Methodist Men's Club

An interesting talk on "Law and Lawyers" was given before the Wollaston Methodist Men's club Wednesday evening by A. L. Stinson of Atlantic, a Boston attorney and prominent figure in the recent mayoralty campaign.

Many humorous incidents of a law office were told and the speaker demonstrated how it was possible under the law for a man to become his own grandfather.

"If a man married a widow who had a daughter," said Mr. Stinson," and his father married the daughter, the father would thus become his stepson. This would make the daughter his stepmother.

"The daughter has a son who becomes the man's brother and also his step-grandchild. Thus the man's wife is his step-grandmother, because she is the mother of his step mother.

"Therefore, he is his wife's husband's grandchild and his own grandfather, because as husband of a person's grandmother he is naturally that person's grandfather."

The speaker explained the ordinary course of civil suits, from the service of the writ to the trial and final disposition of the case as a matter which few people understand and all were glad to hear.

Commenting on the duty of the lawyer to his client, Mr. Stinson said "It is always the moral and legal duty devolving upon the attorney to see that his client, whether guilty or not, has a fair trial.

"The only point where the attorney is obliged to stop is the insistence of his client's innocence. This is unethical and unprofessional."

TO UNDERGO OPERATION

Manager Louis Ross of the Wardwell alleys enters the Massachusetts General Hospital tonight for a slight operation to gain relief from a recent strain. He expects to resume duties within a day or so.

On his return he will issue a challenge to Chief Machinist C. F. Shannon, U. S. N., assigned to inspection duty on the dreadnought Nevada, who made a total of 383 in three strings at the City Square alleys a week ago. Manager Ross is the holder of the biggest total, 434, made outside of competition, this season.

If the challange is accepted the match should prove interesting. Shannon's high single in establishing his individual record was 157, eight pins behind the city record of "Jacka" Joyce, made while he was rolling with a team in the Elks league matches at Wardwells. Ross has come within an ace of the mark several times. Shannon's single is the City Square alley record.

NEW EXPRESS COMPANY.

Thomas Smith of Washington street, a popular member of the Granite City club, has been appointed manager of the Electric Express Co., of Quincy, running from the trolley freight depot.

The company will be operated by Arthur Loud and will take over the local delivery service of the trolley freight express matter which is to be discontinued after March 1.

Mr. Loud has been the local distributing agent for the company since the trolley freight has been in operation. He conducted the service under contract.

ASSEMBLAGE BALL.

On the twenty-sixth of this month Mrs. Allen T. Williams of Montclair is to hold an assemblage ball in Berkley hall, Boston, to celebrate the fourth anniversary of her work in Spiritualism. Clayton E. Robinson who won the championship cup for dancing at the Boston Theatre last year is to be present and dance, as will also little Miss Elizabeth Goodwin ,the four year old dancer. Mr. Albert C. Orcutt, tenor, and Miss Lillian Hall, soprano, will sing. The music for the dancing which will follow the reception is to be furnished by Anclair's orchestra.

To Cure a Cold in One Day
Take LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE Tablets Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c.

ADMIRAL VON TIRPITZ.

German Naval Commander Directs Submarine Fleet In Raids on British Shipping.

EIGHT MEN ARE KILLED

Explosion In Mine Occurs Nearly Two Miles From Shaft

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 8.—Eight mine workers were killed and six others seriously injured by an explosion of gas at a colliery here. Two of the injured probably will die.

The accident occurred in a vein at a point nearly two miles from the shaft. A heavy pocket of feeder gas that had accumulated behind a wall of coal forced the coal out and, leaping to the naked lights of the miners, ignited, causing a terrific explosion.

OUR FOOD SUPPLY IS IN NO DANGER

Facts Given Out by Department of Agriculture

Washington, Feb. 18.—Assurance that the United States is in no danger of a shortage of food, despite enormous exports to Europe, was given by the department of agriculture in a statement to the public.

The surplus of wheat, above domestic needs, on hand Feb. 1, the statement said, would permit the exportation of nearly 1,000,000 bushels daily—about the recent average—until the new crop was available.

Moreover, there were larger supplies of corn and other grains, meat animals, dairy products, potatoes and fruit at the opening of 1915 than for many years.

Incidentally, it was pointed out that the average price of meat animals was 7 percent lower in January than a year ago; butter, 2 percent; potatoes, 35 percent; apples, 27 percent, and the price of chickens slightly lower.

SHIP BILL STRIKES REEF

Insurgents Are Not Satisfied With Its Amended Form

Washington, Feb. 18.—The amended government ship purchase bill, rushed through the house, failed to gain ground when it reached the senate, and administration leaders are in doubt as to its fate.

The amended bill failed to satisfy recalictrant Democrats or Progressive-Republicans. Without support of either of these factions, it cannot be passed.

In this situation, the regular Democratic leaders realized that nothing could be done unless some change in the measure could be effected in conference, but all their efforts to send the amended bill to conference failed.

Another attempt will be made and the Republican leaders, who insist the bill is dead, are expected to demand an understanding that appropriation bills will be taken up before they cease their opposition.

Walsh Names New Judges

Boston, Feb. 18.—Governor Walsh appointed James H. Sisk of Lynn and Philip J. O'Connell of Worcester judges of the superior court. Sisk will take the place made vacant by the promotion of Judge Carroll to the supreme bench, while O'Connell takes the seat occupied by the late Judge Ratigan.

West Virginia Bank Closed

Ravenswood, W. Va., Feb. 18.—The McKinley Security bank here was closed by the state banking commissioner, who declared it was insolvent. E. E. McKinley, former cashier, was arrested on a charge of having made false entries on the bank's books.

Falling Walls Kill Two Firemen

Danville, Ills., Feb. 18.—Two firemen were killed and two probably fatally injured by falling walls in a fire that did $100,000 damage to the Odd Fellows' building.

SCISSORS PASTE

GAME WORTH THE CANDLE.

After much beating about the bush the Italian flag has been saluted at Hodeida, and the British consul arrested there when under Italian protection, has been released. Turkey's delayed apology is ample if not gracious. Possibly the entrance of Italy into the world war is thereby indefinitely postponed.

The work of Berlin is evident in the new attitude taken by Constantinople Germany wants Italy to remain neutral. In the first place, Italy's military and naval power is not negligible. In the second, it is a real advantage to have a neutral country to the south, through which or from which supplies may come to Austria-Hungary and to Austria-Hungarys ally. Germany is not merely checking Turkey. She is straining every nerve to make Austria conciliatory toward Italy.

There is good statesmanship in this policy, and high strategy. The success aimed at is doubtful only because the Turks are as bitter over the seizure of Tripoli as north Italy is over Austrian tyrannies in the past Germany has the chances against her, but the game is well worth playing—Brooklyn Eagle.

NORTH WEYMOUTH

Charles Dyer, who has for several years conducted a successful grocery business at Thomas' corner has sold the business to Herman Collyer.

Miss Irene Coombs has resigned her position at Thomas Aldridge's store to accept a similar position with I. W. Morgan.

Miss S. Lizzie Fisher has returned to her duties as bookkeeper for J. W. Bartlett & Co., after an absence of four weeks due to illness.

Daniel Veno who was severely injured by falling at the Bradley Fertilizer Works on Monday was removed Tuesday evening to the Massachusetts General Hospital, where it was found that both wrists were broken and three ribs fractured in addition to other injuries.

Peter K. Nisbet of Bridge street who has been on a business trip in Maine is expected home soon.

Mrs. Alton Blanchard and daughter Gladys were in town this week calling on friends.

The Ladies' Sewing circle of the Universalist church opened their annual fair in the church vestry Wednesday evening. An appreciative audience enjoyed a program of vocal selections by the Old North Trio, readings by Miss Ida Horton and a farce "Miss Parkington" by Misses Marion White, Alice Ford, Venus Thayer and Edgar Stiles.

Mrs. Annie Collyer has bought the business and building owned by Charles Dyer for her son, Herman Collyer. When the deal is closed, the building will be renovated, restocked and reopened at an early date.

James P. Scully of the A. A. C. Co. leaves today for Searsport, Maine, where he will be stationed at the Company's plant.

Mrs. Addie Williams is detained at her home by a severe cold. Her position at the D. A. Jones news store is being filled by Mrs. Harry Hayden.

Mrs. Andrew Culley, Mrs. Grace Walker and Mrs. Harry Bailey attended the giant patriotic celebration at Braintree Town hall Tuesday.

B. F. Thomas, superintendent of North Weymouth P. O. branch attended the reunion of his regiment, the 42nd, at the Quincy house, Boston, Wednesday.

Mrs. Edwin R. Sampson and Mrs. Will Dasha served on the reception committee at the Citizens' club dance at Bates' Opera house Tuesday evening.

WANT VOLUNTEER WORKERS.

There has been a very generous response to the call for old linen and cotton to be made up at the Quincy Womens clubhouse into supplies for the hospitals in Northern France. A group of women have held one meeting but it will be necessary to hold more and volunteers to assist in the work are earnestly asked for. The help of women not members of the club would be greatly appreciated. Everyone knows how great the need is and a half day or more given by many means a great deal in the aggregate. The next meeting will be held in the clubhouse Friday, Feb. 19 at one o'clock and the work will be continued next week, due notice of which will be given in the papers.

Alice Maud Arnold, Chairman.

HAD NOT SEEN HER HUSBAND FOR TEN YEARS

The home of Mrs. Eddie Da Rue on Barry street, West Quincy, was the scene of a touching family reunion on the occasion of Mrs. Mario Baldovin's arrival from Venice, Italy.

Mrs. Baldovin greeted for the first time in ten years her husband Mario and her daughter Lena and her son, Archille, proprietor of a fruit store at Brewer's corner.

SEGREGATION URGED.

In the recent report of the New Hampshire children's commission, great emphasis is laid on the alarming disproportion between the increase of the feeble-minded and normal. In New Hampshire, which has next to the lowest birth rate in the country, the feeble-minded are increasing at far more than twice the rate of increase by birth of normal population.

The Commission states the following rather startling facts. There are 744 feeble-minded women of child-bearing age in the state and 550 of these are at large, each of them likely to give birth to several children, of whom the larger proportion, if not all, will be feeble-minded. Feeble-mindedness is hereditary. There has never been found a normal child, both of whose parents are feeble-minded.

The only remedy seems to be to segregate the feeble-minded in state homes in order that they may not have children, and that within a generation or two the race be free of the taint. Until there are sufficient funds to segregate the entire feeble-minded population, the women must be placed under surveillance. Then, says the commission, with the segregation of all feeble-minded women, including those in the almshouses, asylums, prisons and orphan homes, this element of the population will diminish as soon as we dry up the source by preventing its reproduction. Even the orphan asylums show an enormous number of sub-normal children, showing the extent to which the girls who become parents of illegitimate children are below normal in intelligence. When this taint of feeble-mindedness is removed, we help very largely in removing the necessity for prisons, insane asylums, reformatories and almshouses.

Segregation is costly, but non-segregation is more so, and according to the old saying that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," it is wiser to spend money in the prevention of undesirable propagation than in rearing year after year feeble-minded individuals who will continue to propagate.

JOHN Q. WHYTAL.

Aged Man Dies at Home of His Son in Atlantic.

John Q. Whytal, one of the oldest residents of the city, died Wednesday at the home of his son, John Q. Whytal, Jr., 69 Appleton street, aged 93 years. His death was due to advancing age. Mr. Whytal, retired from active business 25 years ago, coming to the home of his son in Atlantic several years ago. His funeral will be held Saturday and the burial will be at Cedar Grove cemetery, Dorchester.

IN AID OF BELGIANS.

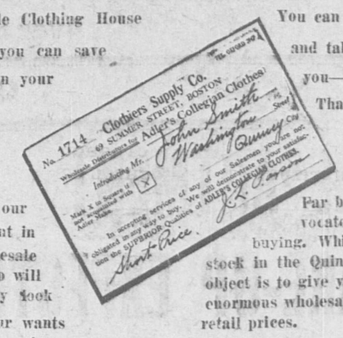

The woman's guild of the Park and Downs church met Tuesday afternoon and listened to a talk on Belgium by Mrs. E. Anna Brown. The members enjoyed an exhibition of photographs showing the condition of the people of Belgium at the present time. Letters were also read from Dr. Van Dyke, United States minister to Holland, describing the destitute condition of the people of Belgium as a result of the war. Each woman in attendance at the meeting brought a children's garment which will later be forwarded to the stricken country. The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Brown.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT.

Miss Bates of Weymouth to Marry H. G. Studley of This City.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis Bates of East Weymouth have issued cards to the marriage reception of their daughter Blanche Alma to ex-Councilman Harry Gardner Studley of Quincy for Wednesday evening March 10, at the Methodist Episcopal church, East Weymouth, from 8 to 10 o'clock. They will make their home at the corner of Billings road and Davis street, Wollaston Park.

Quincy, Norwood & Sagamore Wholesale Dept., 69 Summer St., Boston.
USE OUR INTRODUCTION BLANK
introducing you to a Big Boston, Mass.
Wholesale Clothing House
Where you can save
Money on your
Clothes

You can pay for them there and take them with you—We manufacture That's why
Ask for our Mr. Orent in our wholesale dept. who will cheerfully look after your wants
Far be it from us to advocate Boston clothes buying. While we carry a large stock in the Quincy store our object is to give you the benefit of an enormous wholesale stock at less than retail prices.
ORENT-PAYSON CO.
1387 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE
Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit
. WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS
Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.
Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block
Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.-tf

TO HOLD LADIES NIGHT ON FEB. 26

An important amendment to the by-laws of Quincy Commandery, K. T., will come up for action at the stated conclave next Monday evening. The work of the evening will be the Order of the Temple. The annual ladies' night of the Commandery will be held in Alpha and Union halls, Friday evening, Feb. 26. The program will include a banquet to be served in Union hall at 6.30 an entertainment in Alpha hall at 8 o'clock to be followed at 9.30 o'clock by dancing.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A surprise party was tendered Miss Ruth Burleigh at her home, 184 Quincy avenue on Tuesday evening. At the beginning of the evening Miss Burleigh was presented with a student's tag. The presentation was made by Miss Mary Read. Although greatly surprised, Miss Burleigh thanked her friends most graciously.

During the evening Miss Theresa Donovan and Harry Brundage entertained with several vocal solos. Warren Holland was the accompanist. A few steps of the modern dances were illustrated by Miss Edna Smith and Daniel Brundage with Warren Holland as accompanist.

Several games were played and dancing was enjoyed. During the evening a dainty collation was served by the Misses Louise Billings, Beatrice Fenby, Avalina Read and Mary Read. The party broke up at eleven o'clock.

Among those present were Mae Kealey, Louise Billings, Beatrice Fenby, Alice Parmenter, Theresa Madden, Avalina Read, Mary Read, Gertrude Hibbett, Geraldine Herd, Clara Jacobsen, Jeanne McLauchlin, Hazel Robinson, Ruth Burleigh, Mary Burgess, Louise Smith, Theresa Donovan, Edna Smith, Harry Brundage, Daniel Brundage, Peter Williams, Charles I. Williams, Charles F. Williams, Robert Fenby, George Fenby, Fred Burleigh, Scott Robinson, Albin Anderson, Warren Holland, Andrew Holloran, James Foy, Harry Malnati, Harold Cain, James McDonald, Joseph McKenna, Edward Barry, Thomas Kealey, Edwin Donavon, Joseph Irwin and Joseph McGuire.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

COUNTY FARM BUREAU.

Ernest H. Gilbert of Stoughton has been elected the seventh member of the advisory board of the Norfolk County Farm Bureau. The board has organized with F. W Kingman of Walpole, chairman and Mr. Gilbert, secretary. Mr. Gilbert is also the clerk of the bureau. The county commissioners complete the board.

Friday evening of this week a public meeting will be held in the Randolph town hall at which Prof. W. D. Hurd of the Agricultural college will explain the aims and work of the new bureau.

The directors will meet in the Dedham court house at 1.30 o'clock Saturday.

FINDS MISSING GIRL.

The 6 year old daughter of Falenzo Monico of 38 Water street, wandered away from home Tuesday afternoon. When it was coming on dark and the little girl had not returned home her parents became alarmed and applied to the police for assistance in locating the child. About the same time one of the firemen at the Quincy Point station telephoned the police that they had a little Italian girl at the station who was apparently lost and could not tell her name or where she lived. Monico was notified and he immediately visited Quincy Point and was overjoyed to find that the girl was his daughter. He lost no time in taking her home to her anxious mother.

VALENTINE DINNER.

An enjoyable valentine dinner was served Tuesday afternoon by the Riverside Women's club at the clubhouse on Edison street. The rooms were prettily decorated with hearts, cupids and arrows, while at each plate was a pretty valentine place card. The menu included grape fruit, tomato bisque, salads, hot rolls, coffee, ice cream and cake. Following the dinner there was an entertainment which included piano selections by Mrs. Charles Griswold, readings by Mrs. Kate A. Blaisdell and solo dancing by Beulah Milligan.

WEDNESDAY LEDGER CLUB NEWS

HOME - BAKING
Flour runs pretty high just now, doesn't it Madam? Don't you think you should relegate your home-baking now, and try our tasty bread and delicious cakes.
FLOUR HAS GONE UP
but our bread is still the same size, same flavor, same price and just as clean as ever. Come Madam, never mind the price of flour, just give us a call Today, but
LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN
1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.

THE EDUCATIONAL FIELD

THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
HIGH SCHOOL PUBLIC SCHOOLS
WOODWARD INSTITUTE PAROCHIAL SCHOOL

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES.

In this day when we are more or less dependent on many food supplies from the South, a series of pictures illustrating the production of such food stuffs is unusually interesting. In the art gallery are 65 views of such various flourishing industries as are carried on in the West Indies, Central America, and in our own states of Florida and California.

There are pictures of the banana trees of Costa Rica, and of the coffee berries being picked and prepared for market. The sugar as in the cane and as ready for transportation to the refining centres, the tea of Japan, China, and Ceylon as produced and prepared, proved most instructive illustrations.

There are views of the growing spices that the housekeeper could not do without, such as the nutmeg, cinnamon, clove, ginger, almond. The lemon and lime groves, the pineapple fields, and the orange groves of Florida and California are all carefully described. All the pictures are accompanied by accurate explanations.

WORK OF TRUANT OFFICER.

The work of the attendance officer in January shows an investigation of 223 cases of absence from school in only nine of which were there evidences of truancy. It may be of interest to know that the work of the attendance officer is concerned with the children themselves in only a very small percentage of cases, the great bulk of the work and most of the trouble coming in connection with cases where the parents are at fault in keeping the child out of school in defiance of the law. Conditions in this respect are improving to a marked degree since the officer is giving his full time and prompt attention to the work and the requirements of school attendance are becoming more generally understood.

SCHOOL HOUSE VENTILATION.

C. E. A. Winslow of the N. Y. State Department of Health has recently published some statements as to school ventilation that are of interest. He says that the investigations of the N. Y. State Commission on Ventilation have shown that there are no peculiar poisons in breathing air and that the sensations experienced in a close room are not due in the main to any chemical changes in the air but to its physical condition as regards temperature and humidity, that the chief problems of ventilation are not chemical but physical, not respiratory but cutaneous. In the worst ventilated school room, the decrease in oxygen and the increase in carbon dioxide never reach a point at which they have any appreciable physiological effect.

On the other hand, the over-heating of the class room is very often such as to produce a marked influence on the human mechanism. Even a room temperature of 75 degrees produces an increase in body temperature and heart rate, a fall in blood pressure and a diminished bass-motor tone. The power to work under maximal stimulation is not affected but the inclination to do physical work is markedly increased by high temperatures. When the incentive to work was not great, the subjects in the N. Y. State experiments accomplished 15 per cent less physical work at 75 degrees and 27 per cent less at 86 degrees than at 68 degrees.

Another evil effect of over heated rooms which probably, if of serious moment, is the predisposing influence of heat upon the susceptibility to communicable diseases of the nose and throat.

The experiments further indicate that no physiological effects and no dimunition of physical efficiency and no discomfort can be traced to the chemical pollution of breathed air, the subjects shut up in a chamber with 20 to 40 parts of carbon dioxide feeling exactly as they do when supplied with 45 cubic feet of air per minute, provided the temperature is the same in both cases.

The temperature which the school rooms in this city endeavor to maintain is 68 degrees, and an off hand comparison of the working conditions in room at that temperature with rooms where carelessness has allowed the temperature to go above 75 and to bear out the results of the N. Y. investigation.

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the man who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES.
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

FOX HUNTERS PAY FINES

There was a fox hunt at Cohasset last Sunday. David Souther and E. C. James got the fox which evidently did not please Kendall Bates who made a complaint to the game warden with the result that Souther and James were in court this morning for fox hunting on the Lord's day.

It appeared that Bates was out with his fox dog on the same Sunday, when dogs of Souther and James are said to have startled a fox. The chase continued through the woods at Cohasset all the forenoon until the two defendants bagged the game. After hearing the case the court allowed the men to enter a plea of nolo and placed the cases on file on payment of $10 costs.

Attorney J. J. McAnarney counsel for the defendants smilingly asked for a warrant against Bates as he was also out chasing the fox with his dog but the court returned the smile but no warrant.

ATTEND HEARING.

City Solicitor W. S. Pinkham, City Engineer E. C. Sargent and Dock Commissioner F. F. Crane attended the hearing before the Port of Boston Directors this morning and spoke in favor of the petition of the Metropolitan Park Commissioners for authority to build a bridge over Black's creek. This is the bridge which the Park Commissioners desire to build over the creek as a continuation of the boulevard from Wollaston beach to Hancock street.

LENT SEASON OPENS.

The holy season of Lent was opened last evening at St. Mary's church with the usual lenten services. Rev. Fr. McCoy said the rosary after which there was a sermon by Father Duffy. The latter gave an eloquent lecture on the meaning of Ash Wednesday. Benediction was given by Fr. Duffy after which the blessed ashes were distributed to all present.

Stations of the Cross will be held every Friday evening, followed by the usual benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

DISTRICT COURT.

Miler Baker was arraigned for breaking and entering the premises of Henry Gossemer at Weymouth and the larceny of $15. Case continued in $200 bonds until Saturday.

Thomas F. Webster was fined $15 for drunkenness at Quincy.

Lena Minchi, 18 was arraigned for being a stubborn child at Quincy, and Helen Schwinn, 16, for being a delinquent child at Milton. Both cases went over to the delinquent session next week.

BEAN BAG MATCHES.

Maple lodge continued is bowling and bean bag matches after its meeting in Protection hall Wednesday evening. Miss M. Lizzie Furnald, in charge of the former, has held the lead three consecutive sessions. The series closes next month and the prizes will then be awarded. Mrs. Annie I. Smith and Mrs. Annie T. Morrison had charge of the refreshments.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is good for growing children—nourishing and satisfying. Grocers sell it.

Unappreciative

[In Europe, where they appreciate art.—Isadora Duncan.]

In Europe when a soldier sees a work of classic art
He limbers up a howitzer and batters it apart,
And bits of gothic pinnacles go hurtling through the air,
And bas-reliefs are hurled around till art is everywhere.
It's merely his artistic and well educated way.
Too bad we haven't got it in the U. S. A.

When ancient architecture looms against the smoky sky
The learned European, in his biplane whizzing by,
Drops steel projectiles on it till, with a terrific sound,
It scatters art in various forms for twenty miles around.
He then resumes his travels with a light and happy heart.
Too bad that in America we don't love art!

Where vast museums shelter marvels wrought by human hands
The European connoisseur observes and understands
And blows them with a shell or two to shivered smithereens
Till art is powdered thickly over all adjacent scenes.
What art we have in our dull midst we do not treat that way,
But we don't understand it in the U. S. A.
—James J. Montague in New York American.

PHONES TO STATION FROM MOVING TRAIN.

Wireless From Lounsberry to Binghamton, N. Y., Twenty-six Miles.

The first completely successful tests of the wireless telephone from a moving train were made Feb. 7, when spoken messages were clearly heard twenty-six miles, from Lounsberry to Binghamton, N. Y

More than a year ago this road made use of the wireless to send messages from fixed stations to moving trains. The receiving apparatus could be operated on thirty volts, but it required 110 volts to operate the powerful transmitter needed to transmit the human voice through the air.

Four months were required to equip a train with the sending apparatus. A combination mail and baggage car was remodeled in the company's shops at Kingsland to accommodate a five horsepower steam turbine with a generator belted to the turbine, taking 125 pounds of steam from the locomotive. In the first car next to the baggage car a compartment two feet six inches by three feet was provided, where the telephone apparatus was placed.

Wires in conduits carried the high tension current from the generator in the baggage car to the wireless room. The first four cars of the train were equipped with aerial wires, eighteen inches above the top of the cars and from four to five amperes of current were produced for radiating purposes.

The train runs daily between Hoboken and Buffalo, and the wireless telephone tests were conducted for several weeks. Messages were telephoned from the moving train at Lounsberry, twenty-six miles west of Binghamton; from Vestal, fourteen miles west; from Halstead, fourteen miles east; from New Milford, twenty miles east, and from a point on the road twenty-six miles east. All of these messages were received and copied at Binghamton without difficulty.

BRAVE GERMAN WOMEN.

Fought Until All the Men About Them Had Surrendered.

A dispatch from Warsaw says that among the prisoners captured along the Bzura by the Russians were a number of German women. According to the dispatch, some of them were found with rifles in their hands when the Russians made their dash across the river. They stuck to the trenches even when the Russian light horse dashed upon them.

They fought with all the intensity of the ancient German women whom Caesar found opposing his troops before the dawn of the Christian era. They were in the first line of trenches and submitted to the invaders only when all the men about them had surrendered.

EUGENICS LAW SLAMS CUPID.

5,800 Fewer Marriages In Wisconsin In 1914 Than In 1913.

The state board of health in its annual report shows that since the eugenics law went into effect Jan. 1, 1914, the number of marriages in Wisconsin dropped 3,800. In 1913 there were 21,052 marriages and in 1914 only 17,252.

There were in 1914, however, eighty-seven recorded common law marriages just as valid in law as the ceremony kind, but not under eugenic requirements. The state board says many persons went into some other state to be married rather than submit to the medical examination.

REAL BASEBALL CZAR IS CZAR

Nicholas Controls Leather Needed as Covers on Spheres.

Curtis Guild, former United States ambassador to Russia, speaking at the luncheon of the American Manufacturers' Export association, said that if trade with Russia is broken off there will be no more baseball, as the leather for the balls comes only from Siberia.

This is the only leather which will not stretch under sudden impact, he said. Which fact puts the czar of all the Russias a class above Ban Johnson as a baseball magnate.

OUTDOOR CLOTHES.

During Lent They Are a Topic of Interest to the Athletic Girl.

The outdoor girl begins to take interest in sports clothes quite early in the season, many of them high away from regions where winter reigns to those where a milder climate prevails. And then all sorts of open air recreations are possible. She may ride or drive or motor or play tennis or golf, as her taste dictates. At the smart resorts modish clothes are important.

SMART NEW TENNIS COAT.

Suitable for wear on the tennis court is the sports coat of green eponge here shown. It has large patch pockets and a loose belt tying in front. A wide tie of the green eponge matches the belt. Flare collar and wide cuffs are of natural colored eponge.

MAKING A BED.

Efficiency Methods That Economize Time and Effort.

Even in making a bed you can economize time and effort. First pull the bed out from the wall when you are making it up and see how many steps may be saved by your being able to go around the head as well as the foot.

It is not necessary to run from one side to the other with each blanket or sheet you spread. You can spread the lower sheet, tuck in the top by raising the head of the mattress, then run the hands under the mattress, thus turning the under sheet down the near side and so across the foot and up the far side. You have then walked once around the bed.

Now spread the upper sheet and blankets, turn down the top of the upper sheet over the blankets and tuck around the bed once again. The bedspread can be adjusted on the third and last round. Be sure to keep patting the bed flat and smooth and fold in and square off the corners as you tuck them in. Everything should be done with the utmost precision and exactness. Each blanket and sheet should lie smooth and square. Never cover up a wrinkle if you want a good looking bed.

ACCESSORIES OF DRESS.

Gloves in the novelty class for the new season will consist largely of two toned embroidered backs shown on staple colors and also on the new sand and putty tones, on the novelty blue shades and a few other colorings, says the Dry Goods Economist. Embroidered effects in exceptionally attractive designs will be shown on the milanese and tricot silks.

* *

Hand bags in small sizes, in fabrics and in soft, flexible leathers, are prominently featured. Covered and semi-covered frames are the rule, the bag portion being mounted in very full effect. Light colored leathers are used in some of the new models.

* *

Hair ornaments are well liked. The high Spanish back comb continues in the lead, principally in jeweled effects in pastel colorings. Casque combs are also much in vogue. The use of matt crystal is one of the new features.

* *

Parasols show quaint shirrings, puffings, cordings and pipings. Odd shapes and rich color combinations are the features. Plain, severe styles now prevail for use with military dresses.

* *

Jewelry tendencies, owing to the conditions in Europe, strongly favor the use of jet. Combinations of jet and rhinestones and of onyx and rhinestones have chief adoption.

* *

Tulle bands with bows behind are worn for evening and are becoming to the majority of women.

BUYING NUTMEGS.

Expert Suggestions as to the Choice of Spices.

ADULTERATIONS NOW RARE.

The Department of Agriculture Experts Have Awakened Housewives to the Importance of Getting the Best Grades of These Condiments.

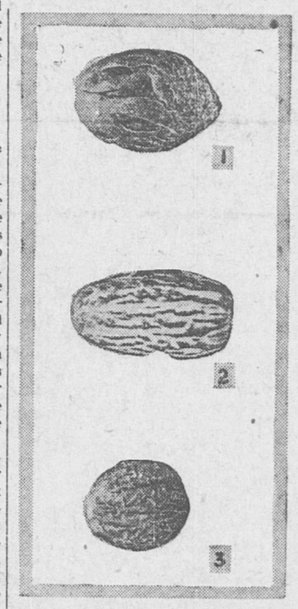

Prepared by the United States department of agriculture.

It is only within the past few years that unscrupulous spice dealers have practically abandoned the practice of adulterating their coffee, cloves, pepper and other wares with such products as ground cocoa shells, nut shells, olive stones, mineral matter and cereals. The manufacture of these so called "fillers," made from various cheap materials, ground up and properly colored, had grown into quite an industry before the food and drugs act put a stop to it.

Nutmegs, in particular, are better whole than ground. The whole nutmeg retains its flavor and can readily be grated as needed. The temptation among unscrupulous manufacturers is to use moldly or wormy nutmegs in making the powdered spice.

Most housewives who use nutmeg and mace are unaware of the fact that these two important spices grow on the same tree. The nutmeg tree, which is cultivated chiefly in the Spice islands, lying just south of the Philippines, and to some extent in the West Indies, resembles the orange tree with shining, dark green leaves. The fruit of this tree is about the size of a peach and consists of a dark brown seed encircled with bands of a lighter brown or yellow color. This outer envelope of lighter hue constitutes the mace, while the kernel of the seed is the nutmeg. When the fruit is ripe it is gathered by hand. The mace is removed, care being taken to keep it as whole as possible, and dried in the sun, after which it is sometimes sprinkled with salt the better to insure its keeping.

When ready for the market it varies from a buff to a brown in color, according to the variety and the care taken in curing, is translucent, brittle and agreeably aromatic. The seed also is dried in the sun or in ovens and then broken open and the kernel or nutmeg of commerce removed.

1, NUTMEG WITH MACE; 2, INFERIOR NUTMEG, 3, GOOD NUTMEG.

The nutmeg is oval, of a cinnamon brown, with the surface grooved and bearing numerous longitudinal wrinkles. To prevent the ravages of insects and to give an attractive appearance the nutmegs are often either steeped in lime water or powdered with dry lime; hence the white powder usually seen adhering to them.

Several varieties of nutmegs and mace are to be had, the best being produced in the Banda islands, so that the term "Banda" used in this connection generally signifies a superior product. Of the false nutmegs the Papua and Macassar are frequently encountered. They are larger and more elliptical in shape than the true nutmeg, with comparatively feeble odor and a disagreeable taste. Their lack of flavor makes them a poor investment in spite of low prices.

Bombay mace, the chief adulterant of spice mace, is a botanical mace similar in form to the other varieties. It differs from the spice mace in that it is almost entirely devoid of flavor, which, of course, renders it useless as a spice. In the whole form it can be readily detected by its feeble odor and comparative lack of pungent taste characteristic of spice mace. It is usually found on the market in the ground form mixed with Penang, Batavia or some other spice mace and labeled "Penang Bombay Mace" or "Bombay Batavia Mace," etc., as the case may be. So long as the container is properly labeled the government is powerless to prevent its sale. The housewife is therefore cautioned against the use of any blends containing Bombay mace. Ground mace might just as well have an equal quantity of tasteless vegetable matter added to it.

COAL.
Just Unloaded 2600 Tons of Sprague's Celebrated
New River Cumberland Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SON, Inc.,
27 Granite St.

FOR TIGHT COLDS
For colds that are deep-seated hard to loosen and which have a firm hold on your system, there is no better remedy than our
WHITE PINE & TAR COUGH SYRUP
Its loosening and soothing power is soon noticed.
25c A Bottle

BUILD UP YOUR SYSTEM
Everybody, even those who have failed to find COD LIVER OIL which they could taste, can without trouble take
HEARN'S EMULSION COD LIVER OIL
A good flesh and body builder.
50c Large Bottle
CHAS. C. HEARN, Druggist City Square

COAL HOD AND BROOM PRIZES

Atlantic Young People Enjoy Poverty Party

Miss Helen Arthur and Miss Marion Walters gave a poverty party in Association hall, Montclair on Tuesday evening. The young man and young woman who most truly looked the part of poverty were Henry Whalen and Miss Margaret Danehey.

Mr. Whalen wore very much worn and torn clothes while Miss Danehey going on the supposition that only the very poor would be out of style in these days, wore an old fashioned cotton gown. Prize awarded to Miss Danehey was a large broom while Mr. Whalen was given a coal-hod. The judges were Mr. Joseph Mc Cabe, Mrs. Joseph McCabe, Mr. John Campbell, Mrs. John Campbell, and Mr. Walters.

Games were played during the early part of the evening after which the floor was cleared for dancing. The refreshments consisted of rolls, coffee, cookies and pickles. With the refreshments each guest was given one peanut which upon being opened was found to contain a fortune. Mrs. F. L. Arthur and Mrs. Walters were the matrons.

Those present were: Eric Feldt, Harold Donnely, Dan Donnely, Alfred Walters, Francis McCabe, Eddie Whalen, Henry Whalen, Dan Danehey, Ray DeLury, L. DeLury, Rupert McFarlane, Adrien McFarlane Leon Hoyt Sydney Hoyt, Gordon Nickerson, Mr. Chisholm, George Lynch, John Collins, James Collins, Albert Arthur, Marion Walters, Helen Arthur, Grace Goodwin, Annie Callahan, Clarice Miller, Margaret Danehey, Julia Danehey Agnes McCarty, Mable Collins, Adelaide Knapp Miss Golden Alice McCabe, Dorothy Arthur, Hilary Walters.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A surprise party was tendered to Miss Emily Gnong at the home of her friend Miss Agnes Kinneburgh, Walnut street, Atlantic, on Tuesday evening. Miss Gnong was presented with a gold bracelet during the evening. The occasion was a pleasant one with its merry games. The refreshments were sandwiches, punch, ice cream and cake.

Those present were: Glen Arthur, Phoebe Buckley, Phyllis Smith, Dwigh Gearwar, Emily Gnong, Mildred Hadlock, Ruth Buckley, Albion Johnson, Hattie Waterhouse, Harry Bahe, W. F. McKenzie, Susie Moffatt, Lucile Churchill, Leigh Hammond, Lora Churchill, Homer Hill, Frank Damon, Gertrude Fratus, Alvin Mitchell, James Buckley, Francis Buckley, Herbert Butler, Clarence Bird, Agnes Kinneburgh, Collina Brown, Robert Kinneburgh, Eldiene Young, Christina Kinneburgh.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Mackelton Director
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings. 6-12t

SUNNY SIDE of LIFE

WANTED TO RETIRE.

"Miss Ethel," said Chollie Staylate, "if I should tell you I was going away tomorrow, would you feel sorry?"

"Tomorrow," she answered, glancing at the clock, "Yes, I should feel sorry—I thought you might go away tonight."—Boston Transcript.

IMPOSSIBLE.

He—I say, do let me introduce you to my pal, who's in the Censor's Bureau.

She—Considering he must have read all my letters from Frank ever since he went to the front, I simply daren't!—Exchange.

A BETTER WAY.

The Officer—Can't you get down flatter than that?

The Fat Private—No, Sir, unless I stand up, Sir.—London Sketch.

PROTECT SHORE OF HOUGHS NECK

Mayor Wants Port Directors to Take Steps

The committee on Metropolitan Affairs of the legislature will give a hearing March 1 on the petition of Mayor Campbell to authorize the Directors of the Port of Boston to build such breakwaters, retaining walls, sea walls or other structures in the City of Quincy as may be necessary for the protection from encroachment or damage by the sea of the shores of Houghs Neck and to expend for this purpose a sum not exceeding $10,000. The work however shall not commence until the owner of the shore where the sea wall is to be built shall release to the commonwealth all claims for damages. The hearing will be attended by Mayor Campbell, the city engineer, city solicitor and dock commissioner.

TO LET
Lower flat of new house, 5 rooms, large reception hall, large bath room, combination gas and coal range, steam heat. Located in one of the best parts of South Quincy. Two minutes to electric cars, four minutes to Quincy Adams station. Rent reasonable. Apply to
JOSEPH B. GROSSMAN,
93 Goddard Street,
Tel. 1404-W Quincy. 18-tf

W. R. LOFGREN
Carpenter and Builder
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 398-3
(jan 21t

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1585 Hancock st.
Mrs. Mather, 19 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shurtz's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

BOWLING IN CHURCH LEAGUE

Rand class 4—Pilgrims 0.
Davis class 4—Clarke class 0.
Makarias 4—O. U. B. 0.

Cahill 116, Sprague 115, McFarlane 114, Hobart 112, Brookes 111, Harling 108. This was the order in which the high men stood in the Church league matches at Wardwell's Wednesday evening.

MAKARIA—4.

Nicoll	97	92	85	274
Tytler	90	103	104	297
Prescott	95	103	85	283
McFarlane	92	82	114	288
Brookes	111	99	76	286
	485	479	464	1428

O. U. B.—0.

Sprague	115	98	81	294
Frost	83	82	95	260
Moody	80	85	84	249
Dorley	81	105	76	262
Dorley	78	95	99	272
	437	465	435	1337

RAND—4.

Cahill	87	87	92	266
Tabb	90	105	86	281
Cahill	87	116	94	297
Cahill	100	102	90	292
Rhodes	90	82	99	271
	454	492	461	1407

PILGRIMS—0.

Moe	67	89	96	262
Melville	78	88	96	262
Lang	94	79	85	258
MacQueen	102	86	94	282
Dubois	88	101	94	283
	429	443	465	1337

DAVIS—4.

Hobart	95	112	87	294
Smith	79	86	92	257
Harling	78	90	108	276
Neil	82	88	90	260
Duff	91	98	100	289
	425	474	477	1376

CLARKE—0.

Tinney	74	96	85	255
Cummings	87	95	80	262
Imray	86	90	90	266
Marini	95	96	79	270
McDonald	79	84	100	263
	421	461	434	1316

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter-s Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist and ask for CHI-CHES-TER-S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
Telephone 1152-M Quincy
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy F27

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
Room 8, Dunbin & Merrill Block, Quincy
8.30 A. M. to 6 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 443-4. Haymarket 2440
Oct. -tf

BERLIN GUARDING FOOD SUPPLIES

Seeking to Avoid Possibility of a Bread Shortage.

PARIS FAMINE RECALLED.

France Did Not Expect Wonderful Succession of Victories In 1871 by German Invaders—Pets of All Kinds Went From Cage and Kennel to Oven and Soup Kettle.

While an order for an extraordinary limitation of the amounts of flour and bread to be sold at Berlin and other German cities sounds somewhat startling, it seems to be generally accepted as new evidence of the methodical policy of the Germans to prevent all waste and thus avoid the possibility of a bread famine at any time previous to the harvesting of this year's crop of cereals. No mention is made of limitation of sale and consumption of other food material, but it is a matter of statement that, while there is an abundance of vegetables and roots, a new spring production of which will soon be due, the supply of all kinds of meats is rapidly decreasing with meager means for replenishment.

While this condition at Berlin is in no way parallel, nor any approach to it, of those months of 1870-71 when the German armies besieged Paris, it cannot fail to recall that memorable season of extreme distress in the French capital. France declared war against Prussia July 19, 1870. Germany accepted the challenge and promptly threw into the field three armies, totaling half a million men, with 400,000 in reserve. King William, Crown Prince Frederick, Von Moltke and Prince Frederick Charles at once took command, and Emperor Napoleon III. appointed Empress Eugenie regent and also took the field.

Succession of Defeats.

The first battle was at Weissenberg, Aug. 4, and the French suffered a disastrous defeat. At Worth, Aug. 6, the Prussians, under the crown prince, gave Marshal MacMahon's forces a terrific drubbing. Several fierce battles led to the culmination with the surrender at Sedan, Sept. 2, and the capture of Napoleon, and the subsequent victories of the Prussians at Strassburg and Metz, and by Sept. 19, exactly two months after the French declaration of war, Paris was completely invested.

Little or no effort had been made to lay in stores of food. No such order as that now given at Berlin was made for the conservation of food materials. France did not expect and the world did not expect the marvelous succession of lightning-like victories scored by the Germans. It was unprecedented warfare and seemed like some terrible act of magic.

Within a few weeks starvation stared Parisians in the face on all sides and among all classes. The Germans indulged in desultory bombardment mainly to hasten the capitulation, which came Jan. 28, 1871. By that time Paris was starving, and the outbreak of the communists following the declaration of peace, with its transfer of Alsace and Lorraine and a money mulct of 5,000,000,000 francs ($1,000,000,000), did not mend the terrible conditions.

Of breadstuffs there was little to be had for any price. Suspected stores were broken into by the starving populace. Forays were made upon suburban truck gardens, but these had been denuded by the investing armies. It was almost impossible for the members of the new Thiers-Gambetta government at Versailles to get half adequate supplies for themselves and for the soldiers who were fighting the revolutionists in Paris. Ordinary sources of meat supplies had been exhausted for weeks.

Horses Killed For Food.

Horses of the city and those that had been brought in from the defeated army, emaciated as they themselves were for want of fodder, were killed for human food, but that was no new thing for Parisians, nor is it in this day. Dogs mysteriously disappeared and proportionally meat as mysteriously appeared on some of the tables of homes and restaurants, and no questions were asked.

Pets of all kinds went from cage and kennel and corner to oven and soup kettle. It is an old story of a Pittsburgh student rooming in the Latin quarter that the table grew leaner and leaner every day. At last the only live thing in sight was a pet cat. That disappeared one night and there was "rabbit" for dinner the next day. No history could ever tell the tale of that amazing period in "Gay Paree." It is doubtless impossible that with the most successful and tragic of invasions of any enemy Berlin can ever have an experience approaching that which Germany thrust on the French capital in 1871.

From Belgian Trenches?

A carrier pigeon dropped from the roof of a building in Wilkesbarre, Pa., and Fred Jacobs, who found it, discovered a message tied about the bird's neck, which purported to have been written by a German soldier in the Belgian trenches. It read: "Dear Wife—I am alive and well in the trenches of Belgium, but your brother has been killed."

TEAM STANDING IN TENNIS LEAGUE

Capt. Monroe	49	19
Capt. Hoxie	47	20
Capt. Jenner	41	26
Capt. Geddes	36	32
Capt. Green	29	39
Capt. Baker	26	42
Capt. Estes	23	45
Capt. Litchfield	21	47

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

Capt. Hoxie 4—Capt. Estes 0.
Capt. Jenner 3—Capt. Green 1.
Capt. Litchfield 3—Capt. Geddes 1.
Capt. Monroe 3—Capt. C. Baker 1.

No changes followed the Wollaston Tennis Club League matches at the Coliseum Wednesday evening except that every team except one, increased its percentage. Litchfield got ten more than a triple and Jenner one more. The summaries:

CAPT. LITCHFIELD—3.

Holmes	70	77	71	218
Bates	71	91	90	252
Crossley	84	68	87	239
Nickerson	82	91	82	255
Litchfield	107	99	104	310
	414	426	434	1274

CAPT. GEDDES—1.

Albee	83	82	103	268
Emery	74	77	104	255
Seiders	76	85	88	249
Smith	87	72	85	244
Geddes	86	81	86	253
	406	397	466	1269

CAPT. JENNER—3.

Murray	89	89	88	266
Carr	76	86	71	233
W. Baker	75	89	86	250
Barker	74	80	85	239
Jonner	88	93	110	301
	412	437	449	1289

CAPT. GREEN—1.

Davis	77	72	80	229
McLean	84	84	84	252
Hiller	79	72	86	237
Green	90	90	90	270
Weld	90	90	85	265
	420	408	425	1253

CAPT. HOXIE—4.

Brigham	87	90	86	263
Fleichner	98	86	86	270
Chase	71	83	64	218
Powers	82	87	93	262
Hoxie	83	101	100	284
	421	447	429	1297

CAPT. ESTES—0.

Ela	76	70	81	227
Simpson	77	96	80	253
L. Smith	66	79	75	220
C. R. Davis	80	84	76	240
Estes	88	86	74	248
	387	415	386	1188

CAPT. MONROE—3.

Brown	91	73	83	247
R. Baker	104	90	91	285
Raymond	97	85	104	286
Pinkham	67	86	74	227
Monroe	84	83	87	254
	443	417	439	1299

CAPT. C. BAKER—1.

Gardner	84	84	84	252
Oldham	81	73	81	235
Redlon	77	77	77	231
Hutton	96	89	84	269
C. Baker	92	99	108	299
	430	422	434	1286

FRESHMEN AND SENIORS LOSE

The Sophomores continued their winning streak by defeating the Freshmen at the Quincy High school gym Wednesday afternoon, 22-9. The Seniors were defeated by the Faculty 23-5.

The Sophomores' team work and passing were too much for the Freshmen, Mullen, DeSenso and Atkins passed to the two forwards who scored at will. Jenkins played a clever game, while Jenkins was the high scorer. For the losers, Thompson played his usual snappy game. The score:

1917		1918
Jenkins rf		lb Thompson
LeCain lf		rb Walker
Atkins c		c Isaacson
Mullen rb		lf Nelson
DeSenso lb		rf Hendry

Goals from the floor: LeCain, Jenkins 5, Atkins, Mullen, DeSenso, Thompson 2, Hendry. Goals from foul: Jenkins 4, Nelson, Hendry 2. Referee Robertson. Scorer Mansur. Timer Roache.

BAKE YOUR OWN BREAD! FIVE LOAVES, 21 CENTS.

Six cent bread! Nonsense. It costs only 4.2 cents if made at home according to the directions of the Housewives' League of America.

The first practical move was made when a course of demonstrations was begun at headquarters, 25 West Forty-fifth street, New York city.

"The saving of a cent and eight-tenths, however, is not so important as the saving in nutritive value," said Miss Emily Busong. "The homemade loaves are really worth about twice as much as bakers' loaves."

About fifty women attended the first lesson. There was an actual demonstration in the mixing of dough for both white and graham breads.

ENTOMBED, WITHOUT FOOD, FOR TWENTY-FIVE DAYS

Rescued Earthquake Victim Tells Remarkable Story of His Experience.

Michael Caido, the earthquake victim who, after being entombed for twenty-five days, was dug out alive from the ruins of his house at Paterno, Italy, is rapidly regaining his strength. He is a farmer, thirty-five years old. Neighbors who had returned from Rome to try to recover some of their belongings heard his feeble groans by the merest chance, and efforts at once were made to rescue him. This work occupied two days.

Caido's first exclamation on finding himself free was: "Oh, the light! The light! I thought I had gone blind!"

He showed a ravenous eagerness for food and drink. After taking a little bread and wine he was able to tell the story of his imprisonment. He had had nothing whatever to eat, and the only water he could get was rain and melted snow which trickled down the walls.

"When the earthquake shock came," he said, "I rushed to the middle of the house. The next moment I was precipitated into the stable dug out underneath the house. It was pitch dark, and all means of escape were cut off. I wondered whether I had lost my sight. I kept shouting continuously for what seemed about four days. I often heard footsteps, but no one seemed to hear my calls. I could move about a bit, and I kept feeling around in the hope of finding some food, but there was nothing to be had.

"After a time I lay down, feeling certain I was doomed to die. I prayed I might lose my senses quickly, but I lost consciousness for only a short time. I tried to gauge the time I had been imprisoned and thought it about a fortnight, so that I was surprised to learn it was nearly a month."

After making a good meal the rescued man mounted a motorcar almost without aid and was driven to the field hospital at Avezzano. He asked earnestly after his family and was told not to worry, as his relatives were being carefully looked after in the Red Cross camp. That was a white lie, told out of pity, for every member of his family perished.

AUTO TIRE A LIFE BUOY.

Girl, Tying Line to Motorcar, Hauls Skater From Pond.

As Miss Elsie Ditson of Paterson, N. J., was driving past Bowdlin's millpond, in Cedar Grove, in her automobile her attention was attracted by the cries of William Young of Jackson Mills, who had broken through the ice while skating. Young was struggling frantically to pull himself out of the water, but at each effort the thin ice broke beneath his weight.

Miss Ditson tied a piece of rope about an extra tire which she carried and tossed the improvised life preserver to the man. He got it under his shoulders, but a new difficulty arose, for Miss Ditson found that she could not haul him out. She solved this problem by fastening the rope to her automobile.

Jumping into her machine, she switched on the power and soon had Young safely on the shore. Then she drove him to the home of his uncle in Cedar Grove.

DYING JAP SAVES TRAIN.

Shot by Mexicans, Loyal Section Foreman's Last Thought Is Duty.

Mortally wounded by a pistol shot, Kihara, a Japanese section foreman, used the last of his strength to set a torpedo on the tracks of the Salt Lake route near Milford, Utah, to save the eastbound Pacific limited train from possible wreck.

Kihara was shot in the abdomen by Mexicans, who composed his force. They fled, leaving the handcar on the rails. The wounded man tried in vain to remove the car, then dragged himself down the track with a torpedo. The train stopped in response to the signal and carried Kihara to Milford, where he died.

VERY FEW WORDS IN WILL.

New Rochelle Woman Leaves All to Her Son.

The briefest will ever filed with Surrogate Sawyer of Westchester county, N. Y., is that of Mrs. Bridget Dermody of New Rochelle, which was placed on record at White Plains. The will was written by the testatrix on a sheet of note paper and is as follows:

Feb. 2, 1915. I do hereby leave all my property and what I possess to my son, James Dermody. This is my last will.

BRIDGET DERMODY.

The value of the estate, which consists of realty in New Rochelle, is not known.

ALLIES POUNCE UPON INVADERS

Fighting Along Franco-Belgian Lines Actively Resumed

A TEUTONIC TINGE IN EAST

Russians Continue to Fall Back From East Prussian Frontier, Fifty Thousand of Them Having Been Taken Prisoners by Germans—Berlin Celebrates Outcome of Great Battle Which Lasted Nine Days—American Doctor Tells of Battlefield Casualties Mounting Well Up Into the Millions

London, Feb. 18.—There was renewed activity all along the Franco-Belgian battle line and for the first time in two months both British and French troops gave evidence of at last taking up an offensive against the remnants of the German armies left behind by the main forces now stemming the Russian invasion in the east.

From Ypres in Flanders to Pont-a-Mousson on the Lorraine frontier the allies made attacks against the intrenched invaders, and in some instances succeeded in driving them back and taking prisoners. At one or two points several hundreds of yards of trenches were captured.

Only from the Alsace-Lorraine region was there an absence of news, and even this does not indicate that there is not furious fighting going on in those provinces.

The French attacks against the German lines were carried out with perseverance. From the North sea coast to the banks of the Oise there was an almost continuous artillery action, during which the big French and British guns dispersed a number of German infantry groups, blew up caissons and destroyed trains of artillery back of the German lines.

Among the many attacks was one north of Arras, where the French took two lines of trenches and beat back furious attacks of the Germans. Here many prisoners were captured and a number of German officers were killed.

The chief advance, however, was made in the Champagne district, where the French followed up their gains northwest of Perthes and captured German positions on a front of about 800 metres. All the German counter-attacks north of Mesnil-les-Hurlus and Beausejour were repulsed. Here the French captured 200 prisoners and several mine throwers.

From the eastern battle front everything still has a Teutonic tinge. The Russians evidently still continue to fall back into Poland from the East Prussian frontier, and, according to the Berlin report, the Germans have penetrated north of the Niemen in the direction of Tauroggen. This is the first indication that the German troops had penetrated into this section of Poland.

There is fighting in the Augustowo region further south and on the north bank of the Vistula, east of Plock, but with no decisive results.

In the Carpathians the fighting is yet to reach a decision. The western end and the centre of the Russian line is holding, notwithstanding repeated and violent attacks, but in Bukowina the Austrians have pressed on to within twelve miles of Czernowitz.

Berlin announces that in the recent victory over the Russians in the Mazurian lakes region of East Prussia more than 50,000 prisoners and great quantities of munitions of war were taken. The invaders, it is said, were "utterly defeated at most points," only remnants of the Russian army escaping after a battle of nine days.

Berlin is again celebrating the success of Field Marshal von Hindenberg. All dispatches agree that the Russians are still being pressed further eastward, fighting a rear guard action in an endeavor to prevent the Germans from surrounding their wings.

A New York physician just returned from France who has connections which would give him access to inside information says an "authority" places the French and Belgian losses in killed, wounded and prisoners from the outbreak of the war to Dec. 15 at about 840,000, of which 215,000 were killed.

In the same period the English in France lost about 75,000 men, including 21,000 killed. In the eastern and western theatres of war in the same period the German losses were placed at 2,180,000, of whom 725,000 were killed. The Austrian losses were placed at 1,250,000, including 450,000 killed.

This would make the total losses of all armies about 5,895,000 men, of whom 1,986,000 were killed. This does not take any account of the losses of the Servians, Montenegrins and Turks.

A LIFE-SAVING RECORD

American Hospital Saves Ninety-Two Percent of War Patients

The American Ambulance hospital in Paris has established a record of saving the lives of more than 92 percent of the patients received, a record that "probably never has been equalled in a surgical military hospital," according to a report to the American committee of the institution.

The hospital receives only the most difficult cases. During December and January, the institution was occupied to 87 percent of its capacity. There are now 390 cases being treated. The record which it has established has called forth the highest praise from distinguished military and professional men.

APOLOGY FORTHCOMING

Kaiser to Personally Express Regret For Insult to Gerard

Emperor William will apologize personally to James W. Gerard, the American ambassador to Germany, for the hostile demonstration which occurred at a Berlin theatre, according to a telegram from the German capital.

Gerard is reported in the dispatch to have accepted the emperor's invitation to go to Koenigsburg.

Gerard and a party from the United States embassy were attending a theatre in Berlin on Feb. 9, when, greatly to their annoyance, a man in the audience protested, because they were speaking English.

When informed that his remarks were directed against the American ambassador, the man began a loud and violent attack against the United States for permitting the exportation of arms. The individual was finally suppressed by the theatre attendants.

EXPLANATION IS ASKED

Army Officer Said to Have Talked of Country's Unpreparedness

Washington, Feb. 18.—Secretary Garrison instructed Brigadier General Scott, chief of staff of the army, to call upon Captain Mitchell of the general staff to explain published remarks attributed to him on the unpreparedness of the United States for war.

Mitchell was quoted as having said that "it would take the United States about three years to put an army of 1,000,000 trained men in the field and in that time an enemy could take and hold our American seaboards."

Garrison said he considered such utterances, if made in public at present, injudicious and improper.

ARRAIGNMENT IS NEAR

Mrs. Walters Has Recovered From the Effects of Poison

New York, Feb. 18.—Mrs. Ida Walters "Rogers" will be arraigned within a few days on the charge of poisoning the two babies of Lorlis E. Rogers, unless physicians can convince the court she is not yet out of danger.

A coroner's physician reported to District Attorney Martin that he found Mrs. Walters fully dressed at Lebanon hospital, and, apparently, recovered from the poison she swallowed after killing the infants. Martin said he had been led to believe that the woman's condition was still serious.

VICTIM OF INDIGESTION

Medical Examiner Finds O'Neil's Death Due to Natural Causes

Worcester, Mass., Feb. 18.—Edward P. O'Neil, proprietor of the Franklin Loan company, who was found dead in the midst of $10,000 worth of jewelry scattered about the floor, died from acute indigestion.

This was the decision of Medical Examiner Hunt, who declared an autopsy unnecessary. He said the cut on O'Neil's head was caused by falling when stricken.

Sailor Killed In Boxing Bout

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 18.—A. V. Brown, a seaman, died from injuries received while boxing on board the cruiser West Virginia with Clarence Salmon, another seaman.

Eight Buried by Landslide

Rome, Feb. 18.—A landslide caused by the torrential rains at Varcosabina buried a house occupied by eight persons.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—not made by guess-work, but by a scientific formula. Leading grocers sell it.

ITS HARD TO WORK

When Suffering from Kidney Ills, Many Quincy People Find This To Be True.

What's so hard as a day's work with an aching back?

Or sharp "stabs" of pain with every sudden twist or turn?

There is no peace from the dull ache—

No rest from the soreness, lameness and weariness. If the kidneys are disordered you can't reach the cause too soon.

Neglect is often fatal.

Weak kidneys need prompt attention.

Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills at once—

A tested and proven kidney remedy.

Quincy readers should find new hope in the following statement.

W. O. Coffin, machinist, 16 Mechanic street, Quincy, says: "I had an operation and after that was not very strong. I suffered from backache and the kidney secretions passed too frequently at night. I used a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and felt better in a week. Some time later, I again used Doan's Kidney Pills and I haven't needed any kidney medicine since."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Coffin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

POLICE DEPARTMENT

CITY OF QUINCY

FEBRUARY 16, 1915

TO ALL PERSONS ENGAGED IN THE MOVING OF FURNITURE.

Your attention is called to the ordinance of this city relating to the moving of furniture. This ordinance is to be strictly enforced by this department. Blanks for the purpose as required in section 2 can be had on application. The ordinance reads as follows:

SECTION 1 OF NUMBER 47.

Every person, firm or corporation, engaged in the business of moving or transferring household furniture, pianos, or other articles or personal effects, shall keep a record on certificates to be furnished by the police department, of the names of the owners of the articles moved, the address from which they are taken and to which the same are moved, the general character of the articles moved, the date the same are moved and the name of the owners and drivers in charge of such vehicles. Every person, firm or corporation shall file with the police department of the city, not later than three days after said moving, on blanks to be furnished by said department, a certificate setting forth the above information and record.

SECTION 2 OF NUMBER 47.

It shall be the duty of the Police department to prepare blanks convenient for recording such information, to be furnished free of charge to those requiring same and to properly file and index record when received under the name of the owner indicted. Such information shall be accessible to the public.

SECTION 3 OF NUMBER 47.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm of corporation to fail to file a certificate in accordance with section 1 hereof, or to knowingly give a ficticious name or ficticious address in said certificate.

SECTION 4 OF NUMBER 47.

Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance, upon conviction shall be fined not less than five nor more than fifty dollars for each offence.

SECTION 9 OF ORDINANCE NO. 12.

The City Council may grant licenses to such persons as they deem expedient to employ or use any wagon, cart, sleigh, or other vehicle which may be necessary for the conveyance from place to place within the city, for hire, of any goods, wares, furniture or rubbish, and no persons shall use any of the vehicles mentioned in this section, for the purpose herein specified, without a license as aforesaid. Every person licensed under this section shall cause his name to be placed in plain, and legible words on any such vehicle he may use, and every such license shall expire on the first day of May then next ensuing unless sooner revoked. Every person so licensed shall pay to the City Clerk, for the use of the city, one dollar for each vehicle so licensed.

DANIEL R. McKAY.
Captain and Acting Chief.
17-3t

Sheriff's Sale.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss.

Quincy, January 14, A. D., 1915.

Taken on execution, and will be sold at public auction, on Saturday, the twenty-seventh day of February, A. D., 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, at my residence, No. 163 Franklin Street, in said Quincy, all the right, title and interest that Mary E. Ward, had (not exempt by law from attachment or levy on execution) on the 29th day of October, A. D., 1914, at eight o'clock and fifty minutes A. M., the time the same was attached on mesne process, in and to the following described real estate, to wit:—

A certain parcel of land with buildings thereon, situated in that part of said Quincy, known as Houghs Neck and bounded and described as follows: Westerly by Sea Street, measuring 41 feet;

Northerly by land now or formerly of Adam Vogel, measuring 90 feet;

Easterly by land now or formerly of Heirs of Joshua E. Hanson, deceased, measuring 42 feet;

Southerly by land now or formerly of Chapin Thayer, measuring 92 feet;

Containing 3776 square feet; being shown as lot 15 on a plan of lots at Houghs Neck drawn by E. G. Pratt, dated July 20, 1870, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Deputy Sheriff
11-3t Feb. 11-18-25

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES

20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

GRIPPING STORIES OF WAR ZONE; SOLDIER WRITES OF TRENCH ATTACK

Corporal Tells of First Battle and Chaotic Impressions. In Charge Through Woods.

English Troops Live on Bread, Tea and Dates—Battling Near Garden of Eden.

EVERY day there arrive in this country incidents of the great European war which are not told in the news dispatches from the front. Gripping in its intensity is the narration by a corporal of French line infantry and published in the Figaro of an assault on a German trench delivered by his regiment. It was the regiment's first experience under fire, and the writer describes in a most interesting manner his sensations.

"And now we are in the thick of the battle," he writes. "It is the first time, and we are nervous, a bit uncertain and hesitant. The bullets seem, by crossing their inflexible trajectories through the trees and into the shrubbery, to be weaving an invisible net, into which we hurl ourselves head first, like fish into a trawl net. Where can one put one's head? How can one find the openings in the net weaved by those indefatigable sewing machines—the rapid fire guns? If one crawls along the pack protects a bit. But no, we must offer to the bullets that pierce a man like a needle through linen our heads, our bodies! I am envious of the crocodile and rhinoceros. Never before have I feit myself so vulnerable.

"I strap my pack on my back, the thought of duty and of peril surge together through my mind, and I try to think of nothing but the combat. I feel that I am responsible for a weak part of the living wall that is marching on, and I glance about me. All my section to the left of the wood have fallen flat on their faces in the grass.

Wriggling Like Worms.

"It is the section of the sergeant major. The men in the grass are firing incessantly, while he is studying the train. No one is erect—the cannon, the machine guns, the rifles are scalding. Suddenly the sergeant major leaps up and turns his face toward me. His face is pale and drawn, his eyes glitter with a resolution that fires us. "Cease firing!" he cries, and dashes for the woods, followed by his men. I shout: "Cease firing! Forward!" And we dash abead, bent forward, in the narrow spaces through the trees into the hail of bullets.

"A 'halt' brings us flat on the ground again. Maurice, the quartermaster, is beside me. 'Hot work, old man,' he grins. The man next to me drags himself on his elbows, groaning. A red stain appears on his blouse and on the grass beside him. A great ring of men has been engulfed on right and left in the brush. I cannot see them. Where have they gone? The sounds of battle rend the air. Through the dense underbrush I can see a handful of men beside me, wriggling along the ground like worms, with bayonets and canteens clattering. One more dash brings us on the line—a few poor chaps are left stretched out—and we begin methodically emptying our cartridge boxes. The trees re-echo the reports; the wounded are crying; here and there grotesquely sprawling bodies mark the men who have paid the price.

"How long are we going to stay here? From far away come voices, crying 'Fire, fire!' And suddenly the roar from our captain: 'Forward! Nom de Dieu! Are you ever going to get up? Forward!'

"'Come on,' calls my neighbor, who has been crouched behind the imaginary shelter of a tiny sapling, and we stagger together through the woods. What makes us shaky is the fact that we cannot see more than ten yards ahead and the fear of falling suddenly into the concealed enemy. At last I can stand the strain no longer. Tired of crawling, enraged because I have to do so, I jump to my feet and cry, in my turn, 'Forward!' Every one follows me. By my side are the sergeant major and another sergeant.

"Instinctively we duck our heads; the bullets whistle mechanically past us; a few, ricocheting, sing through the air with a piercing note. We must be getting nearer. Will this woods never end? Are we not going to fall suddenly into the midst of the invisible 'Boches?' Shots to the right rear! Can we have passed the line?

"'Ta, ta, ta, ta, ta, ta'—the machine guns. We fall to the ground once more to let the rafale pass over our heads. What a sprinkling! To lift one's head means death. Where is the quartermaster? He is lying back there, his waxen face upturned. Where is my squad? I do not know any of the men beside me! My piece is so hot it burns my hands. My right cartridge box is empty. Mechanically I fill it from my left hand box. I calculate the distance we have traveled. We must be within eighty yards of them!

Woods Filled With Yells.

"'Fix bayonets.' The order runs down the line. The bayonets rattle. I tug at mine. I have forgotten how to adjust it! At last my clumsy fingers fix it right. My blood is beating through my arteries with hammerlike blows. I am hot. My mouth is dry, so dry, and I swallow with difficulty.

"My ears are ringing. I cannot hear an order. I wriggle on because the men beside me are doing the same thing. Every now and then some one swears and drops behind. The wood is filled with the yells of the wounded. Each minute is an eternity. And now I have beside me the Turkos. How did they get there? They are chattering away in their own tongue and yelling like savages. What torture to be able to see nothing ahead!

"'Forward!' One more dash. It is the last. The fever, the anxiety, impatience, the wish to see something, anything, urge us on.

"At last the clearing! Some forty yards away we can vaguely see mounds of earth, the German trenches, fringed with flashes and glittering bayonets. And as we do we feel ourselves brought up short. For a second we hesitate, without even firing, when the cry goes down the line, 'The wire—the barbed wire!'

"For a width of twenty yards an impassable weave of wire, fronted by trunks of chopped down trees, bars our path, an obstacle against which our foremost men have dashed and are hanging, riddled.

"Where are the officers? Have they all fallen? 'Come back; come back!' the voices shout from all sides. And back we go, taking thirty seconds to return over the ground that it took twenty minutes—twenty centuries—to advance over.

"And there in our trenches, where our wounded comrades are groaning, in the midst of equipment scattered here and there, drunk with rage, white with emotion and fury, we fire, fire, fire blindly into that accursed wood until the commandant himself, bareheaded, comes running up, shouting: 'Cease fire! Cease fire!'

"We begin to breathe again, while the stretcher bearers commence their task under the relaxed fire of the enemy, waiting until our supports come up to re-enforce us and begin another effort.

"'That trench must be taken,' says the commandant.

"'Very well, mon commandant!'

"P. S.—Tomorrow I will write you how we did take the trench the next day."

"Champagne Bottles."

A French officer who has been through the entire campaign and is now resting before returning to the front has given some details concerning a new and extremely powerful explosive which the Germans have been employing for about a month.

"My battalion," he said, "facetiously calls these missiles bottles of champagne. They are cylindrical in form and about as long as a champagne bottle—that is to say, about twelve to sixteen inches and about five inches in diameter. We suppose they are filled with liquid air or liquid carbonic acid.

"They are thrown a distance of from 300 to 400 yards—this is the maximum—and without any great initial velocity. You can follow the projectile through the air and see where it is going to drop. They are apparently thrown by means of mortars, and when they fall and explode the effect is equivalent to that produced by the explosion of a charge of 132 pounds of melinite. A single bottle of champagne' makes a hole from forty-five to fifty-five feet in diameter and thirty or forty feet deep.'

Big Reward For Soldiers.

That the kaiser has promised that it will be well worth the while of every soldier in the army of Field Marshal von Hindenburg to take part in the capture of Warsaw is told in an article printed by the Figaro. There is reason to believe, says this article, that every soldier engaged in the campaign should share in spoils which will amount to 20,000 marks a man. They are further told, says the newspaper, that the fall of Warsaw will mean peace with Russia and an end to the war.

"Word has come to us from Petrograd," says the newspaper, "that a proclamation issued by Emperor William to the soldiers of Field Marshal von Hindenburg was found on the body of a German soldier killed in Poland. In this proclamation the kaiser demands that his army take Warsaw step by step, as the capture will mean the end of the war and peace with Russia. He tells them that he intends to levy heavy war contributions on all the Polish towns, which will be given entirely to the army.

"This will result in each soldier taking part in the campaign returning to Germany with 20,000 marks. The offer of this reward should not suffice just yet, as the Germans are still on the other side of the Bzura and the Rawka. After all, the soldiers of Field Marshal von Hindenburg should know that the more the kaiser promises them the less reason they have for counting their chickens before they are hatched. Especially is this true since the fall of Warsaw will not have the slightest effect on the duration of the war. Thus Russia, like all the allies, will not lay down her arms until the Germans are crushed."

PROTESTS ARE WITHOUT AVAIL

Kaiser's Answer to United States Not Yet Received

SUBMARINE CAMPAIGN IS DUE

Britain Contemplates Blockade of German Coast In Retaliation—Washington Anxious For American Vessels and Crews and Grave Possibilities as Result of Marine War—Suggestion That Our Warships Convoy Merchantmen Does Not Meet With Approval in Naval Circles

Washington, Feb. 18.—Secretary Bryan says that no reply has been received from Germany to the American note concerning submarine attacks on belligerent merchant ships in the new sea zones of war under the German admiralty's proclamation, which goes into effect today.

If a reply to the representations of the United States had been delivered in Berlin to Ambassador Gerard the state department had not been apprised of that fact.

Publication of the text of Great Britain's complete reply to the American communication concerning contraband and neutral shipping revealed that England does not intend to relax her vigilance on the shipments of foodstuffs to Germany, and announces that measures are in contemplation to retaliate against submarine attacks by Germany on British merchant ships.

The warning in the British note that, if Germany abandons the principles of international law by refusing to verify the character of a merchant ship before attacking it, England may not be bound by the rules hitherto accepted, injected into the general situation further uncertainties on which the developments of the next few days are generally expected to have an important bearing.

While officials at the White House and state department did not discuss what might be done if any American vessels or lives should be lost in the war zones, it is admitted on all sides that the situation is fraught with many grave possibilities.

Ambassador Gerard's dispatches continued to give the text of anti-American editorials being printed in semi-official papers in Germany. Officials of the Washington government, however, are confident of the rights of the Washington government and point out that a position similar to that of the United States has been adopted by practically all the other neutrals of the world.

Representatives of the German government are entirely friendly in their conferences with Gerard, and there is nothing to show that officially there has been any change in the good relations which have hitherto existed.

The manner of carrying out the submarine campaign is awaited with considerable anxiety. It is hoped that on account of the fact that negotiations are still pending with neutral Governments, the German proclamation will not actually be carried into effect for a few days, although scheduled to be put into force today. Many American vessels will be in the war zones in the next few days, having left the United States before the German proclamation was made public.

The recent suggestion from German sources that American merchantmen might escape attack and secure safety if convoyed by an American warship has not met with approval in Washington naval circles. It was pointed out that no naval captain would be willing to assume full responsibility for the non-contraband character of the cargo of any American ship which might fall in with his vessel and claim his protection, as an adequate search of the merchantman on the high seas would be out of the question.

Furthermore, it is suggested that the threatened British retaliation for the German war zone may be the issue of notice of a blockade of the German coast. In that case, not even an American man-of-war would have the right to pass the blockade lines alone, much less with a convoy of merchant ship.

Formal notice by the British of the blockade and recognition of it by the United States would, of course, at once remove from the field of diplomatic negotiations all questions relating to the right of neutral nations to send cargoes of food to the civil population of the blockaded state.

FRENCH STEAMER SUNK

Crew Ordered to Leave Before German Submarine Begins Attack

An official communication issued by the French ministry of marine tells of the sinking by the German submarine U-16 of the French steamer Ville de Lille a short distance east of Cherbourg, after the submarine had ordered the crew to leave the steamer.

The Ville de Lille was a small steamer of 997 tons.

Bernhardt to Lose a Leg

Bordeaux, Feb. 18.—Sarah Bernhardt, who is is a hospital here awaiting the amputation of her leg, necessitated by an injury to the knee, continues to maintain her strength and spirits.

MAINE BUILDERS GET BUSY

European War Has Created Big Demand For Sailing Craft

Bangor, Me., Feb. 18.—With lumber freights at $16 and $18 per M from Portland and Boston to the River Plate and Rio Janeiro, as high as 80 shillings a standard (about $20 per M) from Stockton, below Bangor, to Liverpool, coal and general cargo to South America and the West Indies at unheard-of rates and a brisk demand at fancy figures for American coast steamers and old-fashioned square-riggers to carry cotton to Rotterdam, Maine shipbuilders have begun to think it is about time to build more vessels.

At Bath the builders have recently taken some contracts, and it is likely that some good-sized sailing vessels will be built in a hurry, while at various other ports along the coast of Maine are signs of suddenly awakened interest among old builders.

Today the Maine shipowners wish they had not been in such a hurry to get rid of their old ships and barks—selling them "for a song," to be out down into coal barges. It is not so many years since Maine had a considerable fleet of deep-water craft, and were these vessels ready for business today they would make their owners rich in short order.

COTTON PLUNGER FAILS

Final Crash of Livermore, Who Made and Lost Millions

New York, Feb. 18.—Jesse L. Livermore, who made and lost millions plunging on the New York cotton exchange, and is well known in Boston for having furnished funds for defending his brother-in-law, Chester Jordan, the Somerville wife-murderer, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in this city.

Livermore is said to have cleared $3,000,000 on a single campaign on the exchange and to have forced the price of cotton $5 a bale in November, 1907. He lost $750,000 in a single day in 1908.

Livermore began his career as a "marker" with a Boston brokerage firm. Before he was 28 he made millions out of speculations in industrials and "retired." He was unable to keep out of the game, and soon found himself on the wrong side of the market.

He went back on to the market with nearly $250,000 that he had kept for "a pocket piece," and made some money on the basis of his exceptional knowledge of the cotton trade. He has been unable to win back his fortune, however.

CHILD LABOR BILL FOR NEXT CONGRESS

Chances Against Going Before Senate at This Session

Washington, Feb. 18.—The passage of the national child labor bill by the house by the comfortable vote of 233 to 43 undoubtedly means that the senate will follow as soon as occasion permits.

In the normal course of events this bill can not go to the senate at this session, and as this session closes this congress, it will have to be repassed by the house in the Sixty-fourth.

Few question either the willingness or the ability of the house to put the prohibition of child labor by federal enactment again squarely up to the senate. And few seriously doubt that the senate will yield to the popular demand for this legislation.

Practically the only opposition to the child labor bill comes from the south, and even in that quarter the opposition is diminishing.

STARVES TO DEATH

Tailor Fasted Sixty Days to Cure Himself of Stomach Trouble

Palo Alto, Cal., Feb. 18.—Louis C. Roth, the fasting tailor of Palo Alto, died of starvation. Though he broke his sixty days' fast by taking orange juice, his devitalized organs failed to respond. He fasted to cure stomach trouble.

It is believed Roth established a new record for fasting. The longest previous authenticated fast was that of Sig. Merlatti, who went without food for fifty days in 1886 in Paris.

Roth weighed 145 pounds when he started his fast and but 75 when he died.

Death of General Goodale

Wakefield, Mass., Feb. 18.—Brigadier General Greenleaf A. Goodale died at his home here, aged 75 years. Goodale was in the United States service nearly fifty years and served in the Civil war, in the west and in the Philippine islands.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

An embargo on the shipment of live stock into the state of New York from any territory under quarantine for foot and mouth disease was announced.

Peter McCamley, amateur athlete and pitcher for New Jersey ball teams, lost his pitching arm by falling beneath a train at Newark, N. J.

Mrs. Hannah Ousley, 66, of Pawtucket, R. I., committed suicide by jumping from a bridge into a river.

The main buildings and dormitories of the Chamberlain Military institute at Randolph, N. Y., were destroyed by fire. The loss is $75,000.

ANCIENT GREEK TRAINING.

What It Did For the Boy Physically and Intellectually.

The manner in which the Athenians brought up their children is worth remembering.

At seven years of age the Athenian lad entered the palestra, which was essentially a playground. All the first and better half of the day was spent in gymnastics, dancing, games and play. In the afternoon there were singing, some writing, some reading, all in the open air, and then came a long period of play again. Such was the schooling of the Greek lad up to the age of ten or eleven, and it did not differ essentially up to the age of sixteen, except in the severity of the exercises.

And yet the world has not ceased to marvel at the results of the Greek education. It produced the highest type of man, physically and intellectually, that the world has ever seen, which Galton says was as far in advance of the modern Englishman as the modern Englishman is in advance of the native African.

In physical beauty, courage and patriotism, in philosophy, literature, architecture and art, the Greeks have been the unsurpassed models of the ages and are still the inspiration of our schools today. But they placed the emphasis upon hygiene, exercise, games and play, which are too much neglected in these days. — Kansas City Star.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Angelia V. Brown, late of Northport in the State of Maine, deceased, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, and appointing John F. Smart of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, 144 Marlboro Street, his agent, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

LEON E. BROWN, Adm.
(Address) No. 144 Marlboro street, Wollaston, Mass.
January 6th, 1915.
3t Feb. 18-25 Mar. 4.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Henry W. Brown, late of Northport in the State of Maine, deceased, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, and appointing John F. Smart of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, 144 Marlboro Street, his agent, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

LEON E. BROWN, Adm.
(Address) No. 144 Marlboro Street, Wollaston, Mass.
January 6th, 1915.
3t Feb. 18-25 Mar. 4

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

TO LET
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for E.r. Kribs.
Greenleaf Block. 'Phone 21066 Quincy

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Small store and tenement at 35 Willard street, West Quincy. Good chance for lady or couple, rent only $3 per week. Key at 33 Willard street. 16-6t

TO LET—Flat of five rooms at 97 Coddington street, $2.75 per week. Key at 93 Coddington street. 18-6t

TO LET—Furnished rooms in newly renovated house, hot water heat, all conveniences. Gentlemen only. Meals if desired. Garage room for one automobile. Apply to Mrs. A. E. English, 273 Newport avenue, Wollaston. 15-6t

TO LET—New single house, with 5 rooms, bath, range, hot and cold water furnace heat, gas light. Vacant Mar. 1. John A. Weeden Greenleaf Block. 15-6t

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 13-9t

TO LET—After March 1, House of nine rooms with all modern conveniences at 5 Summer street. Apply to Dr. D. B. Reardon, 1186 Hancock street. 11-tf

TO LET—Apartment of five rooms and bath in new house, all modern improvements, fine location, 26 Bradford street, off Franklin street. Apply to F. Barnicoat, Quincy. 10-tf

TO LET—Lower flat, 42 Euclid avenue, 5 rooms all modern improvements. For particulars address Mr. P. J. Curry, 94 Federal avenue or phone Quincy 1075M. 9-12t

TO LET—Half of colonial house on Russell park, 7 rooms and bath, fireplace, coal and gas range and all modern conveniences. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 9-tf

TO LET—Flat of seven rooms with electric lights, gas stove, range at 32 Euclid avenue. Apply at 12 Berkeley street. 6-12t

TO LET—Two or three rooms, furnished or unfurnished for light housekeeping, all improvements, reasonable rent, board if desired. 132 Marlboro street, Wollaston Park. 6-tf.

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-4. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Four room apartment, new house, all improvements. Apply at 226 Franklin street. 30-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Gratton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 17-tf

LOST

LOST—Lady's hand bag with silver monogram between Saville street and Kincaide Theatre. Reward if returned to Room 20, Greenleaf Block. 17-3t

FOUND

FOUND—A small sum of money. Owner may have same by proving property and paying charges. C. Cheever, 30 Chestnut street. 17-3t

WANTED

WANTED—By a middle aged American woman position as housekeeper, experienced nurse, capable of taking full charge. Address "M. E. Z." 19 Kemper street, Wollaston. 18-6t

WANTED—Young lady for office work with some knowledge of typewriting. Write to E. Ledger Office. Feb. 18-3t

WANTED—By refined young woman position as housekeeper in widower's home. Capable of taking full charge. Write M. Ledger Office. 17-3t

WANTED—Lady to take charge of Ice Cream and Candy parlor. Apply at 1449 Hancock street, Quincy, Mass. 17-3t

YOUNG MAN WANTED.
With or without experience, to work in printing office. Must be a graduate of the High school. George W. Prescott Pub. Co

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—A covered extension carryall in good condition; may be obtained for exceedingly small sum. Address Francis G. Shields, Milton. Tel. 838-M. 18-3t

FOR SALE—Car load of fresh calved cows and dandy springers at stable on Granite avenue, East Milton, Saturday, Feb. 20. Two minutes from depot. John Mullen. 18-3t

FOR SALE—Two flat house in South Quincy. Hard wood finish, modern plumbing. Very desirable renting proposition, never vacant since built. For particulars enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 9-tf-1po

MISCELLANEOUS

SOME ONE—Please answer who would be willing to take a fine upright piano into their home. Prefer small private family who might consider purchase later if well pleased. Write for full information, E. C., Ledger office. 12-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

A Few Choice House Lots
— ON —
PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX
are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.
SWITHIN
3 GREENLEAF BLOCK
Jan. 5-tf

TO LET
Large Room 30x86
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.

FOR SALE
House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,300. Straight Loan of $2,000.
EDMUND C. HAYDEN
Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing
HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.
120 Tremont St., Boston.
Oct. 5-tf

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

DON'T MISS IT !

EXPLOITS of ELAINE

— ALSO —

THE BOY SCOUT FARM

A New Picture showing the military life of our Boy Scouts in America.
Hearst's Weekly and wholesome entertaining Vaudeville.
O'Reilly and The Queill Twins—Novelty Entertainers.
Thomas Gillen, Monologue Artist and The Eureaka Singing Novelty Trio.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

THURS. FRI. SAT. Daily Matinee 2.30 P. M. — Evenings at 8 P. M. — 10--15--25c

Coming --" LIFE'S SHOP WINDOW "-- Mon. Tues. Wed.

Gorgeous Photo-Play of the famous novel and play—which cost over One Hundred Thousand Dollars to produce

Fish, Oysters and Clams

Live Shore Haddock	9c
Fresh Eastern Halibut	20c
Fresh Smelts	2 lbs. for 25c
Fresh Herring	4c each
Fresh Mackerel	2 for 25c

QUINCY PUBLIC MARKET

1514 Hancock St., Kincaides Bldg.

Phone 1434 J. Legal Stamps Free Delivery

KILL MAD DOG IN BRAINTREE

Post Mortem Shows Dread Symptoms

A post mortem on a Braintree dog has revealed that death was due to hydrophobia. No quarantine of dogs has been ordered, however, because the animal had not been at large for some time previous to his sickness.

Dr. Francis W. Abele of Quincy, who was called on the case, is of the opinion that the appearance of the hydrophobia is the result of the mad dog scare Braintree and Quincy experienced some months ago when an animal with rabies ran at large and bit cows and dogs which crossed its path.

The paralysis, the first indication of the disease, developed only a few hours before the death.

EIGHT TABLES IN PLAY.

Eight tables were in play Wednesday evening at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club. The two best scores of the evening were made by Fred A. Drake and Warren H. Rideout. Light refreshments were served after the tournament.

Masquerade Costumes For Rent

Children's Costumes in variety

MRS. R. E. WOODWARD

155 Billings Road

Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs

Feb. 3-tf

APPOINTED CITY BILL COLLECTOR

Mayor Campbell has appointed Chas. E. Decker as official bill collector of the city. There are a number of departments in city hall which have more or less trouble in collecting bills. This is especially true in the Board of Health department. Heretofore Mr. Decker has been employed in collecting these bills, receiving a certain commission on the amount collected. In many cases also there has been added services as a constable, expenses, etc., which has made the collection of these bills rather expensive.

The mayor said this morning that in the interest of economy he had made Mr. Decker a collector for all departments of the city for which he would be paid a small weekly salary thus doing away with the charges for constable service, expenses, etc. Decker has already begun his duties.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

Theodore A. Hayden of Braintree was arraigned in court this morning on complaint of Inspector Goodhue for violation of the liquor law in Quincy. The particular form of violation charged was that he delivered liquor, knowing that it was to be used illegally.

The case grew out of the raid at the premises of Mrs. Teresa Palma at 1 Willard street. The woman's husband is now in Dedham jail for violation of the liquor law and the premises of the Palma's have been the scene of many raids. Defendant pleaded not guilty and the case went over until Feb. 26 for a hearing.

JOHNSON AND CO.'S PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT

Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.

IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.

Be Sure My Name is on The Band

Yours, JOHNSON

Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

Furniture Storage Warehouse

Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.

Rates $2---$3---$4 per month

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.

1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.

Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.-tf

Buy Sugar Now

25 lb. Bag Fine Granulated

For

$1.50

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980

FOY'S 2 STORES

WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

The Quincy Tennis club will hold a dance on Thursday evening Feb. 26.

William Hodge of Pawtucket, R. I., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hodge of Town Hill street.

The Nonpareil Social club is making arrangements for the opening of the clubs summer cottage at Glen Echo lake.

Thursday evening will be observed as Fanny Crosby night in the prayer meeting of the Wollaston Methodist Episcopal church.

Welcome Young of Prospect street, Atlantic, who has gone to New York on a business trip is expected home the last of the week.

Miss Annie Crothers of Beale street Wollaston has gone to the Deaconess hospital, Boston, were she is to undergo an operation.

Frank Umano the popular Brewers corner barber has recently returned from a six months visit to New York city.

Miss Mildred Huston, overseer of the poor, was the guest Tuesday of Miss Burt, overseer of the poor at Taunton for the past twenty years.

The Nonpareil Social club located on Copeland street will shortly move to their new headquarters on Granite street.

Miss Mattie Dutton, formerly of Holbrook road, Norfolk Downs is to make her home for the present with Mrs Frank J. Collett of Squantum street Montclair.

Mrs. M. J. Atkins of Walker street was among those who spoke against the bill to license cats which was brought up at the State House on Tuesday.

The friends of Daniel Shea of Town Hill street are glad to hear that he is recovering rapidly from a serious attack of pneumonia. Mr. Shea expects to return to work shortly.

Quincy Lodge 261, N. E. O. P., will hold its regular meeting Friday evening in Protection hall. A speaker from the grand lodge will be present. "Quoits" will be the entertainment furnished for the evening.

Miss Rose Anderson of Chester street, Wollaston, is visiting her people in South Ryegate, Vermont. Miss Anderson will return to Wollaston when she has completely recovered from the operation which she underwent recently.

POVERTY SOCIAL.

A "poverty social" was held at the home of Mrs. James McCormick of Hall place on Wednesday under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the Hall Place M. E. church, the proceeds to be used for new singing books for the Sunday school.

All persons not appearing in a poverty-stricken condition were fined and all persons wearing any of the following were also fined: Hair combs and hair pins, rings or fancy pins, collars or neckties, fancy belts and polished shoes.

A prize was given to the ones appearing in the most poverty stricken condition. The ladies prize was awarded to Mrs. H. Loud and the gentlemen's prize to Mr. Butterfield, while the booby prize was divided among Arthur Williams, Julius Fuller and Alex Ramsay.

The evening was spent in playing games. Refreshments were on sale.

MRS. ENGLER C. ALLARD.

Mrs. Engler C., widow of Carl A. Allard, died Wednesday at the home of her son, Carl C. Allard at 156 Elliott avenue, Montclair after a short illness. Mrs. Allard was 75 years of age and since the death of her husband has made her home with her son.

FORE RIVER NOW EMPLOYING 4400

Another one of the L submarines under construction for the Fore River shipyard will be launched within two weeks and the L-2 launched last week will be given her trials early in March.

Work at the shipyard is booming and at present there are about 4400 employed the majority of whom are mechanics. There is a scarcity of machinists riveters and iron workers however.

The keels for the submarines I-10 and L-11 have been laid and work will be pushed rapidly. The keel of the monster submarine which will be able to travel 24 hours submerged will not be laid until the M-1 is launched. That ship will be launched this spring.

ORIGIN OF "OLIVER TWIST."

Dickens Got His Principal Characters From Cruikshank.

The true story of the origin of "Oliver Twist" is not generally known. It is this:

After the amazing success of the "Pickwick Papers" Dickens was thinking of following it up by a story of London life, with which he was more familiar than with English country life. Just about that time he happened to visit the studio of George Cruikshank and was shown some drawings the latter had made illustrating the career of a London thief. There was a sketch of Fagin's den, with the Artful Dodger and Master Charley Bates, pictures of Bill Sikes and his dog and Nancy Sikes and, lastly, Fagin in the condemned cell.

Dickens was much struck by the power of these character sketches, and the result was that he changed the whole plot of "Oliver Twist." Instead of taking him through spiritless adventures in the country he introduced him into the thieves' den in London, showed up their life of sin, but brought his hero through pure and undefiled.

Thus it will be seen that George Cruikshank, not Charles Dickens, was the originator of the leading characters that appear in "Oliver Twist."—London Saturday Review.

HAIR AND VITALITY.

The One Acts, In a Measure, as an Index of the Other.

In the course of its continuous growth the hair records the tide of vitality as it rises and falls in the body. When a hair is held up to the light it may be seen to be smaller at some places than at others. There may be a space of one-eighth of an inch perhaps where the hair is so thin as to appear ready to break off.

Such spots indicate an appreciable loss of nourishment, a sleepless night or an attack of auto-intoxication. In the last named cases the general vitality is interfered with, and the roots of the hair, not being developed, are not as strong as otherwise.

The hair grows until the weight is so great that it can no longer be sustained by the root, and it drops out. That is why hairs are of different lengths. Coarse hair, having large roots, will grow long. When the vitality is low all over the body the roots are imperfectly developed, and the hair is likely to fall out, as in cases of typhoid fever.

Dandruff is a parasitic disease, and the parasites get down around the root of the hair, which becomes diseased. That is another reason why the hair falls out.—Boston Herald.

THE PLANET MERCURY.

It Is Difficult to Weigh, and Its Orbit Is Very Eccentric.

Though Mercury is one of the smallest of the planets, it is perhaps the most troublesome of all to the astronomer.

It lies so close to the sun that it is seen but seldom in comparison with the other great planets. Its orbit is very eccentric, and it experiences disturbances by the attraction of other bodies in a way not yet fully understood.

A special difficulty has also been found in the attempt to place Mercury in the weighing scales. We can weigh the whole earth, we can weigh the sun, the moon and even Jupiter and other planets, but Mercury presents difficulties of a peculiar character. Le Verrier, however, succeeded in devising a method of weighing it.

He demonstrated that our earth is attracted by this planet, and he showed how the amount of attraction may be disclosed by observations of the sun, so that from an examination of the observations he made an approximate determination of the mass of Mercury. Le Verrier's result indicated that the weight of the planet was about the fifteenth part of the weight of the earth. In other words, if our earth was placed in a balance and fifteen globes, each equal to Mercury, were laid in the other the scales would hang evenly.—"Story of the Heavens."

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

CAN WIPE OUT UNEMPLOYMENT

Idle Men Should Be Put to Work on Public Projects

PLAN OUTLINED BY WILSON

Labor Secretary Thinks Action by National, State and Municipal Authorities Would Keep Workers Busy the Year Round—Government Doing All Possible to Relieve Situation

Washington, Feb. 18.—Uncle Sam can wipe out unemployment by enabling men to work on federal construction projects "when business is not brisk," declared Secretary of Labor Wilson.

"Put the men to work on land reclamation, government buildings and rivers and harbors improvements," said the secretary. "Let federal, state and municipal authorities do the same and there will be work all year round for all who want to work.

"Not until the whole business of government is revised, however," Wilson added, "will this be advisable or possible.

"It is my opinion," he said, "that national, state and municipal governments should make appropriations for work to complete a job, and not for periods. This would enable the funds to be used in employing men when industries are not brisk. They could be given work on rivers and harbors improvements, building construction, land reclamation and on scores of other projects where the government is active.

"But because of the obstacles in the way, I am not prepared to get back of this plan now.

"The greatest obstacle is congress' fear that funds appropriated for any length of time will be squandered. Another obstacle is the fear that those who have authority to spend the money will use it to build up political machines. And congress desires to keep its finger-tip on appropriations."

Suggestions that the president is "playing politics" by his unemployment census and that there are not employers seeking employes were denied by the secretary.

Because the present unemployment scheme has been in operation only a short time, he said, he did not have full information concerning the number of employers seeking help, but he declared the figures would be published as soon as they were obtained.

"We are making no pretext of creating jobs," he added. "There are always times when business is not brisk that men need jobs and employers need workers. Our task is to bring the two together. Satisfactory replies are being received daily from employers and unemployed.

"We are using all the means at our disposal to relieve the situation. We are utilizing government facilities which have been sleeping, and we believe we are going to be able to do some good."

If the plan is the success the officials believe it to be, they hope to have an unemployment bureau established in the labor department under the direction of experts.

INDIANS DEFY POLICE

Federal Marshal and Posse Set Out to Capture Band of Piutes

Cortez, Col., Feb. 18.—Old Indian fighting times were recalled when United States Marshal Nebker of Utah, followed by forty armed men, rode out of Cortez bent upon taking an Indian stronghold in southeastern Utah.

Strongly entrenched near Buff City are twesty-seven Indians. They are led by Everett Hatch and his father, Old Polk, Piute Indians. Hatch is wanted in Colorado for the robbery and murder of a Mexican nearly a year ago.

When the authorities sought to arrest Hatch, Old Polk interfered and backed up his argument against taking his son with a Winchester. The two Indians then took to the hills. They were later joined by about twenty-five other Piutes. They are well armed.

Boston and Maine Must Settle

Boston, Feb. 18.—The Fidelity Trust company was awarded $26,057.53 by a jury in the superior court in its suit for $40,000 against the Boston and Maine Railroad company. Suit was brought to recover on five notes for $5000 each.

Politician a Suicide

Providence, Feb. 18.—The body of E. F. Crowell, treasurer and general manager of an engine company and a well known Democratic politician, was found in Woodville pond. Medical Examiner Frizzell said Crowell committed suicide.

Herd of Diseased Hogs Killed

Attleboro, Mass., Feb. 18.—Three hundred hogs owned by Jacques Sharron were killed on account of being infected with the hoof and mouth disease. The herd was valued at $3500.

Many Millers In Mixup

New York, Feb. 18.—William Miller, waiter, arrested by William Miller, detective, on complaint of William Miller, salesman, will face trial, charged with stealing auto tires.

BUTTER IS LOWER

Finest Creamery	32c lb
Sugar Corn	3 cans 25c
Early June Peas	3 cans 25c

MAPLE DAIRY

CHESTNUT STREET

NOTICE !

This space will be devoted each day—not to advertise cheap grade at full value, but Johnson Bros. Quality Goods at a sure low price.

GOLD MEDAL FLOUR

Regular Retail Price $1.20

OUR PRICE FOR SATURDAY $1.10

JOHNSON BROS., City Square.

SPORTING COMMENT

The $10,000 suit brought by J. J. O'Rourke and Edward F. Smith of Worcester against the Boston American club for the alleged humiliation of being deprived of seats they held for one of the World's series games of 1912 has been taken from the jury by Judge Stevens of the Suffolk County Court. His grounds were "lack of case."

"Home Run" Baker of the Athletics has determined to quit base ball and become a farmer. His successor has not been named. His retirement means that only Jack Barry and John McInnis are left of so-called $100,000 infields of Connie Mack, Eddie Collins being now with the Chicago Americans.

The Red Sox advance guard leaves on March 4 for spring training. Duffy Lewis reports at Hot Springs on March 15.

The basket-ball team of Quincy High held its final practice today for its game here with Weymouth on Friday. The visitors beat Brockton and Brockton has beaten Quincy.

The big event of the local indoor sport will be the game with Brockton in the local gym on the afternoon of Washington's birthday. Unless a player is injured Quincy's team will be intact and ready to secure revenge.

Brockton, it is claimed introduced football methods in the last game. This will probably not be permitted by Coady, who will referee. A victory will therefore rest entirely on superiority.

It is the general impression that the local quintette has a slight advantage. If this develops Quincy will have established a fine record this season, 13 wins and but four losses, the Weymouth game not being counted.

The booking of these games brings the season up to March 3 and owing to the scarcity of time, Wellesley may not play Boston College high, the only undefeated team in Eastern Massachusetts.

B. C. High has accepted the challenge of Xavier High, New York city champs, and dates are being arranged.

Watch for result of the Wellesley-Brockton game today.

Wellesley High, champs of the Interscholastic basket ball league and claimants of the state title has arranged two games each with Rogers High of Newport, R. I. and Fall River Tech. William Coady has been appointed referee of the Tech series and James Crowley of East Boston of the Newport series.

Groton has dropped Milton Academy from its 1915 football schedule. Springfield High and Harvard second have been added to the list.

A call for candidates for a track team at Quincy High has been issued by teacher-coach Paulson. Although his field is unlimited but few have the ambition to follow in the footseteps of Fletcher Miller, "Demi" Gourlie, Carl Gram, Fred and Franz Marceau. All of these boys made records and those of the three latter athletes are unbroken.

W. H. Hanley has sold the champion racing dory Shadow to Halert Shepheard and Chester Pyne of the South Boston Yacht club. Shadow was built in 1914 by W. H. Chamberlain of Marblehead and made the best record for class H in the inter-club and Y. R. A. events.

W. EDWIN WALLACE.

W. Edwin Wallace a well known resident of Norfolk Downs passed away Wednesday afternoon at his home 167 Billings road, aged 53 years. Mr. Wallace was a carpenter by occupation and leaves a widow and several children.

TO CONFER ABOUT SCHOOLS.

In compliance with the resolve adopted by the city council last Monday evening that the Mayor arrange for a conference with the president of the city council, chairman of the finance committee, chairman of the committee on public buildings and the school committee to discuss school matters, the mayor has arranged with chairman Mackay of the school board for a conference. It will be held Tuesday evening in the rooms of the school committee.

J. COMOLE HIGH MAN.

J. Comole was high man in the Wardwell rolloffs Wednesday night with 320. J. Dell was second with 318, and J. Brown third with 315. Harry Swett finished fourth with 303. Peter Morton won the cigars with 111 and A. Mattson got the booby with 222.

ROY GIVEN MARRIES.

Weds Miss Fairbanks of West Somerville.

Dr. Roy Given of Dorchester was married on Tuesday evening to Miss Helen Fairbanks of West Somerville. Dr. Given formerly lived in Wollaston Park and graduated from the Quincy High school. The young people were the recipients of many beautiful gifts.

EATON—STRICKLAND.

Asa Allan Eaton, 36 Newcomb place, a joiner at the Fore River shipyard, and Sarah Eunice Strickland of Boston were married at Boston Tuesday and will make their home here. The ceremony was performed by Fr. William B. Finigan.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Johnson Bros.
Kincaide Theatre
Notice to the Public.
Winegate Auto Top Body Co.
Electric Express Co.
To Let.
E. F. Conlin.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

TO LET—Large front room, all modern improvements. Apply 102 Upland road. 18-6t

BIRTHS

GOODRICH—In Wollaston, Feb. 16, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Everett B. Goodrich of Taylor street.

MARRIAGES

EATON—STRICKLAND—In Boston, Feb. 16, by Fr. William B. Finigan, Asa Allan Eaton of Quincy and Sarah Eunice Strickland of Boston.

GIVEN—FAIRBANKS—In West Somerville, Feb. 16, Roy Given, formerly of this city, and Miss Helen Fairbanks of West Somerville.

DEATHS

WALLACE—In Atlantic, Feb. 17, W. Edwin Wallace of 167 Billings road, aged 53 years.

ALLARD—In Montclair, Feb. 17, Mrs. Engler C. widow of Carl C. Allard, aged 75 years.

WHYTAL—In Atlantic, Feb. 17, John Q. Whytal of 69 Appleton street, aged 93 years.

OSBORNE—In Quincy, Feb. 16, Weston Washburn Osborne in his 70th year.

Funeral services at Christ Episcopal Church, Friday, Feb. 19, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 2t

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily -- Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 43 QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 19, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

CHARLES J. McGILVRAY IS ELECTED PRESIDENT

Ward Four Improvement Association Holds Important Meeting

The regular meeting of the Ward Four Improvement association was held Thursday evening. The meeting was to have been held in St. Jean's hall but owing to a confusion of dates it would have interfered with the regular meeting of the John Boyle O'Reilly club. The trustees of the Copeland club came forward early Thursday afternoon and offered the association the use of its rooms which was accepted.

The meeting was the best attended in the history of the association and it showed that at least 250 people of the section are interested in its welfare.

CHARLES J. McGILVRAY.

President Stephen B. Little called the meeting to order and the first business was the election of new officers. The following were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Charles J. McGilvray.

Vice Presidents, William J. Corcoran, John Kapples and Neil A. McDonald.

Secretary, Joseph H. McPherson.

Treasurer, Michael E. Monahan.

Auditing Committee—John Burke, Edward J. Sandberg and William H. Teasdale.

Membership Committee—George S. Hobert, Sherman I. Cull, Philip F. Garity, John Evans and Loreto Tocci.

Advisory Board—Dr. John H. Ash, John J. Barry, Peter T. Fallon, Stephen B. Little, Rev. Thomas R. McCoy, Robert J. Teasdale, Joseph Lamb, Councilman John D. Smith, Lewis J. White, Alphonse E. LeClair, John Casey, Robert Newcomb, James H. Elcock, Thomas Cahill and Councilman Joseph A. Barry.

The committee appointed at the last meeting to confer with the other improvement associations in reference to the lower rates for gas and electricity reported that it was working in conjunction with the others and that as soon as it has the evidence and statistics it will present them to the gas and Electric Light Commissioners. Charles J. McGilvray, Peter T. Fallon and William R. Teasdale constitute the mentioned committee.

The association went on record in favor of the bill introduced by Senator Langelier into the legislature which provides for 75 cent gas for Quincy. Messrs Ross and Mossman of the Montclair Improvement association stated that there would be a hearing Friday, Feb. 26, at 10 o'clock in the state house before the commissioners. They urged that a large delegation from the association be present and believed that would be one of the best arguments they could present.

Arthur B. Haywood, a Braintree real estate broker, spoke on the progress that was being made on the proposed state highway through Quincy, Braintree and Holbrook to Boston. He stated that at the annual town meeting to be held March 1st in Braintree and Holbrook it is listed in the warrant of Braintree to appropriate $10,000.00 and in Holbrook $8,000. for the starting of this work. The Highway Commission will appropriate possibly $25,000. to be spent between the two towns. He believed that if the city council of Quincy would appropriate $5,000. in the same manner the highway commission would aid Quincy.

Rev. Thomas R. McCoy, pastor of St. Mary's church, made a stirring appeal to those present to start a co-operative bank in the section. He spoke of its value to a community and to the home and hoped in the near future to see one in West Quincy. James H. Elcock also spoke in favor.

During the meeting it was announced that the Chickering Piano Company is looking for a place to locate a factory. The secretary was instructed to write and invite the company to come to Quincy and look over the city for a place to build.

Dr. John H. Ash spoke on the Granite avenue proposition and stated that he believed that the Quincy square merchants are opposed to the opening of this end of the city as it would tend to draw trade away from them.

Others who spoke during the evening were Peter T. Fallon, William Duane, Councilman John D. Smith, Alphonse E. LeClair, Stephen B. Little and John J. Barry. They all spoke on the proposed highway and the benefits to be derived from it.

The meeting adjourned at eleven o'clock subject to the call of the chair.

Charles J. McGilvray the new president of the association is a Quincy born boy, a product of the first class of the Gridley Bryant school and of the High school. He studied law and is now affiliated with a large law firm in Boston. He served several terms in the city council and at the death of City Clerk Keith was appointed by

(Continued on Page Three.)

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity.
Fair Saturday and Sunday with little change in temperature.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.35
Sun sets	5.22
Length of day	10.47
Moon sets	12.00
High water, A. M.	3.30
High water, P. M.	3.45
Days increase	1 hr. 41 minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.38 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	43 degrees
Feb. 19, 1914,	28 degrees
Feb. 19, 1913,	35 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—87.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

The general express business conducted by the late Joseph M. Bruce, at No. 1598 Hancock Street, under the name of

BRUCE & WARNER EXPRESS

will be continued in the same name, and at the same place as formerly by the undersigned.

HELEN M. BRUCE, Administratrix.
DAVID M. WARNER, Manager.

18 6t

STUDY LIFE OF FANNY J. CROSBY

There was a special prayer meeting topic at the regular weekly service at the Wollaston Methodist Episcopal church Thursday evening when the life of Fanny J. Crosby and her influence for good through the medium of her hymns was discussed. The meeting opened with the hymn "There are Shadows in the Valley but There's Sunshine on the Hill."

It was pointed out that her Christian influence is best described by one of her sayings: "Let every one strive to make the world a little happier, that is the truest sentiment and the best gospel that I can give. I never fret, never worry, never think disagreeable thoughts, nor find any fault with anybody or anything. Then again we can make life just what we want it, the continual good and being good and finding sunshine, music, love and flowers wherever we go."

Fanny J. Crosby was born in the year of 1320 and when only six weeks old took a fever which affected her eyes. Hot applications were given which destroyed the optic nerve and she remained blind all her life. In the year 1835 she entered an institution for the blind in New York and graduated with highest honors in 1842. In 1847 she returned as instructor of the higher branches of education and remained there until her marriage to Professor Alexander M. van Alstyne in 1857. Her 8000 hymns were all written after she was forty years of age. She joined the Methodist Episcopal church in 1851. In her hymns it is interesting to notice how many times she speaks of "light" and "being led" by Christ.

The meeting closed with her favorite hymn, "Safe in The Arms of Jesus."

CONSIDER WAITING ROOM.

Planning Board and Council Committee Meet with Mayor.

A meeting of the new Planning Board and the special committee of the city council appointed to look into the matter of a waiting room in city square met in the office of the mayor Thursday evening. All members of the new board were present as were also the members of the council committee.

There was a general discussion of what improvements might be made in city square as well as the matter of a location for a waiting room and convenience station. The discussion was informal in nature and no definite action was taken. The matter of the congestion of city square was also discussed informally.

The board voted to hold another meeting March 3, at which time representatives of the street railway will be invited to be present.

TWO NEW CASES.

Two more cases of scarlet fever were reported yesterday in the Cranch School District. This makes a total of six cases this week. Miss Annie Swithin and Mabel Cook both of Glendale road, are the two cases reported Thursday.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

AUCTION SALE

Unclaimed and Refused Freight.

Auction sale of unclaimed and refused freight to be sold by order of New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Co., Tuesday March 2nd, 1915, in freight yard of this Company at South Braintree, Mass. at 12.30 P. M. in conformity Chapter 95 of the Revised Laws of Mass., Section 6, for account of whom it may concern.

One lot of 38 poles received in cars ACL 72188—ACL 72870—ACL 73298, consigned to Fore River Ship Building Co., East Braintree, Mass., arriving at East Braintree about Dec. 26th 1913, supposed to have been shipped by Samuel Dawson, Old Grade, Ga. Also lot of 40 poles received in cars ACL 72869—ACL 73457 and 5534 consigned to Fore River Shipbuilding Co. East Braintree, arriving at East Braintree about Jan. 26th, 1914, supposed to have been shipped by Samuel Dawson, Old Grade, Ga.

N. B. All purchasers must be prepared to make deposit at time of sale of at least 25 percent cash. All goods must be paid for and removed within 10 days after sale is completed.

per order G. L. WINLOCK,
Freight Claim Agent.
New York, New Haven and Hartford, R. R. 4-9t
4,5,6,11,12,13,18,19,20

LIEUT. HANSON NOW RETIRED

Sergt. Bishop Will Continue as Acting Lieutenant

Mayor Campbell signed the order passed Monday night by the city council, retiring Lieut. Mark E. Hanson of the police department on a pension, Thursday and the order therefore becomes effective at once. Under the law retiring officer Lieut. Hanson will receive a salary of $600 a year as long as he lives.

For the present Sergt. Bishop will be the acting lieutenant as he has been since the date Lieut. Hanson asked to be retired. Sergt. Bishop will continue to serve until after the civil service examination ordered for March 1..

The mayor said he probably should appoint the three new permanent men authorized by the city council and fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Officer Timothy J. Golden early next week.

When asked about the rumored shake up in the police department, the mayor said: "I see that the Ledger has had something to say along that line, but for the present I am not saying anything."

CZAR'S SUBJECT IN COURT TODAY

Three interpreters, and a score of subjects of the Czar of Russia filled the court room, being witnesses interested in the case of Peter Shuma against Paul Panchenco. This is an action to recover on a promisory note which was heard before Judge Avery this morning.

Peter and Paul both hail from the empire of Czar Nicholas and formerly were fast friends. Jan. 20, 1913, Paul gave Peter a three months' note for $100 for money loaned. Paul admits borrowing the money and giving the note, but says he has paid it. Peter says he has not. It will be late in the day before the final scene is enacted and the court gives its finding .

CLOCK 125 YEARS OLD.

Aged Timepiece Being Repaired at Local Store.

A clock of the Revolutionary days is attracting considerable attention at the store of C. F. Pettengill in City Square, where it is being repaired.

The clock is wooden throughout, excepting the three pound weights which are hung on wire. The clock was made more than 125 years ago by Jonathan Frost of Reading. No screws were used in its construction pegs taking their place.

The clock is owned by Benjamin Leavitt, a Randolph farmer. It bears the name of I. Wilbur, Randolph, and the date Jan. 23, 1875 on the inside in pencil. The letters are very legible. Wilbur formerly conducted a clock shop in Randolph but has since died.

CHICKATAWBUT CLUB MEETS.

The Chickatawbut Social club held its regular meeting Thursday evening at the home of Theodore Minahan on Rustic place. After a short business meeting, games and music were enjoyed until a late hour. Jerome Reinhalter the president rendered several solos. The meeting night of the club has been changed from Friday to Thursday for the rest of the Lenten season.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF.

A verdict of $156.44 in favor of the plaintiff has been returned by Judge Avery in the case of Kulmala Bros. against Joseph Walker. The suit was for $833.33 for extras claimed to have been furnished in a contract of the plaintiff in the erection of a building for the defendant.

Daniel Sullivan of South Quincy, formerly connected with Stone Webster & Co., of Boston, has accepted a position with the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation.

WARNS AGAINST CROOKED AGENTS

Sales of books are made daily in Quincy through misrepresentation by canvassers for publishing houses according to Capt. Daniel R. McKay of the police department, who has today issued a warning to the women of the city to be guarded in their dealings with strangers.

Captain McKay states Quincy has been a fruitful field and investigation of the score of complaints he has received from residents has revealed all kinds of methods used in making sales.

He is convinced that all canvassers do not depend upon misrepresentation in making sales as he says there are quite a few honest people left in the world, but that a few of the other class are raiding Quincy. The method of the dishonest canvasser is to call in the day during the absence of the men folks of the family and secure signatures to contracts after deliberately lieing about the proposition Within a week of the signing of the contract according to the captain, a follow-up man calls and either extracts the first payment or forces a deposit on his delivery of the books, using the signed contract as the wedge with which to force open purses.

Captain McKay states that within a few days he learned that one canvasser for a magazine declared Hon. John D. Long of Hingham secretary of the navy under President McKinley was a liberal contributor to its columns, but a telephone to Mr. Long's home brought out the fact that he had never penned a single word for the periodical in question.

Capt. McKay says the purpose of his warning is not to discourage people from earning an honest living in Quincy or to dissuade citizens from doing business with solicitors who call at the home. He simply wants to point out that some contracts have been secured through misrepreceptation and to warn householders to be on their guard.

BARNYARD DANCES NOT ON PROGRAM

An old-fashioned dance, so termed because the modern dances were not included on the program, in Brasee Hall, Wollaston, Thursday was the most successful party held there this season. The dances included the waltzes, galops, schottiches and quadrilles, and two steps, of the "remote past.".

The 40 couples present entered heartily into an endorsement of the old time dances. Ice cream was served during the evening by Brooks.

The party was held under the auspices of the Women's Alliance of the Wollaston Unitarian church and the committee in charge was G. Ernest Carr, R. C. Baker, R. W. Oldham and C. H. Baker.

NOT TO INVITE BILLY SUNDAY

The deacons of the Bethany congregational church on Thursday evening discussed the advisability of joining with Boston clergymen in extending an invitation to Billy Sunday, the base ball evangelist, to come to Boston.

Rev. Benjamen A. Willmott, pastor of the church, suggested that inasmuch as there would be but one meeting if Sunday came to Boston it would be outside the jurisdictoa of Bethany church. His recommendation that no action be taken was adopted.

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.

will continue the service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.

OFFICE AT
WASHINGTON ST. QUINCY

WOLLASTON CHILDREN GIVE BROWNIE BALL

Two Hundred and Fifty Lads and Lassies Participate in Production

Great success attended the production of "The Brownie Ball" or "Vivian's Adventure in Wonderland" given Thursday evening in Wollaston school hall by over two hundred and fifty children of the Massachusetts Fields school under the auspices of the Parents-Teachers association.

An endless variety of attractive costumes and clever groupings made it vie with many a professional performance; while the large number of children, all finely trained, made it one of the most ambitious affairs presented in Wollaston.

The evening opened with a prologue by Muriel Langelier, in which was told how Vivian, wandering in the woods, falls asleep and is found by the Brownies, remaining under their influence till daybreak. In this time she sees all the folk of Mother Goose land and is entertained by them.

Act one opens upon Vivian, Evelyn Houghton, asleep on a large stone in the centre of the wood. Suddenly several Brownies appear from the underbrush, discover Vivian and hop off to tell their fellows of their find.

Swarms of Brownies come from all sides until the stage is filled with these hopping little creatures. By means of their "Sleeping" chorus they brew a charm which makes Vivian slumber the more soundly.

Enter the three wise men—William Lindsey, Ralph Drew and George Vibert. They advise waking Vivian and having her join in their frolics. "Wake, wake, wake" is sung and the Brownies take their leave.

Vivian slowly awakens and finds herself lost in the forest. The three Brownie wisemen return and sing "Three Brownie men are we." Enter the Brownies' chief (George Cobb) attended by his bearers—Harry Kenyon Jack Stiles and Albert Thompson. He and Vivian ascend the throne and the fairy folk pass in review before them.

In come the Slumberland children, dozens of tiny tots in night robes, caps and candles, led by the Slumberland fairies, Suzanna Sweeney and Olive Holland. They are accompanied by seven little pajama boys: Reginald Benoit, Gilbert Lothrop, Paul Ketchum, Marshall Brown, John Lamont, Norman Hall and John Styles..

The infants made an impressive sight and their song "We're Bound for Slumberland," accompanied by the drooping of the little heads, was too cute for words. Vivian followed with "The Sand man" song.

A fairy from Dance-land next appears, in the person of Addie Doris Baker and an attractive solo dance was performed. The Button boys—Harold Clark, James Eaton, Morton Cleale and Ralph Richardson—enter with their rollicking chorus "We are the Button Boys."

Mrs. Sara Betsey Ann Scheu (Helen Eaton), better known as the "old woman that lived in a shoe," enters accompanied by her countless hordes of children who have with them toys of all descriptions. She brings a letter from Mother Goose to the Brownie folk inviting them all to dinner. She sings the song "Oh, Husband, Where Art Thou?" Pat Sweeney (Amory Wait,) with his song "Sweet little Polly O'Flanagan," followed.

Next came a clever pantomime of "The frog Who Would Awooing Go." The song was sung from behind the scenes by Mrs. Stella M. Tanner and the cast, with its clever animal costumes was as follows:

The Frog	Marion Baker
Mr. Rat	Mabel Kappler
Mrs. Mouse	Irene Shay
The little Mouse	Harold Paine

Next come the Indian braves, with their dance. They discover a pretty little squaw (Jean Barber) in the tepee and she sings, "Pretty Little Silver Heel." "The Hops and Hips," from "Topsy Turvy Town" in the land of "Upside Down" next appear. A dainty little Grecian dance was performed in costume by Ruth Kaulbeck.

The Scheu children, with their games and songs next take the stage. They are followed by Miss Matilda Toy (Dorothy Bishop) who brings with her, the toy bears, Marshall Baicy, Lawrence Parrish and Calvin Cobb the long ago dolls, Sylvia Black, Dallas Wylie, Eleanor Sharkey and Elsie Hay; the geese, Eleanor Campbell and Edna May Tuttle and the dancing doll Addie Doris Baker.

All are wound up and creditably perform their parts. The chorus breaks into a lively strain "We're off to the dinner" and part one closes.

During the intermission music by the following artists was enjoyed: John Chipman, cello; William Hedlund, violin; Charles E. Decker, accompanist.

All the Brownies are assembled at the home of Mother Goose when Act Two opens. The two "Cullud" Brownies, Russell Hall and Melville Small enter and amuse with their song and dance. The Von Kickupps, huge fellows in wooden shoes next appear and make merry with their dance. They were Charles Grover, Foster Ganzell Everett Miller and Malcolm Anthony.

Next come Alice and her companions from Wonderland. They were

Alice	Ruth Kaulbeck
Rabbit	Robert Douglass
Duchess	Winifred Butler
Queen	Gladys Payne
Cat	Charles Decker

The next to arrive are the three black crows (Howard Fowler, Harold Merrill and Charles Brown) who sing the song "Billy McGee" with its chorus of "caw, caw, caw." Mother Goose and her goose next drops in, accompanied by Mother Hubbard and her dog and Mother Market and her pig. In the cast were:

Mother Goose,	Elizabeth Eaton
Goose,	Edith Osberg
Mother Hubbard,	Ethel Cleale
Dog	Marion Haslett
Mother Market,	Elsie Corkill
Pig,	Frank Marr

The Boy Blues and Bo Peeps enter and go through the steps of a dainty dance. The Boy Blues: Phillis Williams, Gladys Keith, Thelma Klee. Bo Peeps: Marie Anderson, Dorothy Eaton, Myrtle Maxwell. A solo dance "fashion caprice" was performed by Miss Baker.

In come the Brownie policemen headed by diminitive Chief J. Wiliam Decker and his two small lieutenants Randolph and Russell Fowler. "Chief" Decker with his tiny uniform made one of the hits of the evening.

"The Young Maids of Lee" had a clever song and were followed by "Ye

(Continued on Page Three.)

WENEGATE AUTO TOP & BODY CO.

PACKARD FORE DOORS $30

Runabout, Hearse, Truck, Touring, Limousines, and Speed Bodies made to order, Mud Guards, Hoods, Tops, Slip Covers, Wind Shields and Repairing of all kinds.

CONVERTIBLE LIMOUSINE TOPS FOR ALL MAKES OF CARS
ALL WORK GUARANTEED—PRICES VERY REASONABLE

637 WASHINGTON ST.--Tel. Dor. 1180--DORCHESTER, MASS.

Feb. 19-1m

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

MODERN WIZARDS.

Everyone knows that the Panama canal is open for transit. Everyone has heard about the great difficulties which had to be overcome to make this canal a possibility. We have all been interested in those wonderful locks and many of us have been interested enough to study out the way they work.

But how many of us realize that much of the machinery etc. has been actually invented designed and manufactured to fit this special demand? In the locks especially has unique machinery made their operation successful.

Think of the brains and skill it took to devise machinery to operate locks a mile and a quarter long, machinery so contrived that one man operates it alone. To make this possible someone had to invent a contrivance whereby every operation is duplicated in miniature on the control board. The water is represented by a slab of blue Vermont granite which rises and falls as the water in the locks does. The position of the gates and fender chains had to be shown.

And someone devised an ingenious interlocking scheme whereby the switches are so arranged that the operator cannot make a mistake thus minimizing accidents.

Yet how many of us will ever know the names of these wonderful inventors

A MOVE FOR HARMONY.

The conference which will be held Tuesday evening between the mayor, President Whiton, Chairman Richards of the finance committee, Chairman Griffin of the public buildings committee of the city council, with the school committee should result in a more harmonious school administration. For years there has been more or less friction between the school committee and the council with injury to the schools. One of the points upon which the two bodies have differed has been the matter of plans for new buildings. The council has always claimed that it should select the plans and forward them to the school committee for its approval or disapproval. On the other hand the school department has claimed its right to select the plans.

There has also been more or less friction in regard to the budget. The school committee has maintained that the budget should be forwarded directly to the city council, while others claim that it should go to the mayor just the same as any other department estimate does. Last year it reached the mayor's hands first and he immediately chopped off the sum of $2,000 before he forwarded it to the council. The result was that the council under the law could not increase any of the items as forwarded by the mayor and the budget went through less the $2,000.

TWADDLE.

"The delight of being loved and cherished caused her to blossom into a kind of shy, delicate beauty, which made her irresistible. Her starved nature budded and put forth new tendrils to curl themselves about his heart."

This charming little bit of twaddle appears on page 86 of a well printed volume of recent date which is called a novel. It is an exaggerated sample of what the modern novelist can do if he is sufficiently demented. It is a pretty picture, forsooth. After being rendered shy, delicate and beautiful by a certain amount of blossoming this maiden prepares to bud. For some time, it appears, she has been starving but fortunately she possesses a tendril or two which curl about some unfortunate's heart and proceed to suck in the nourishment which is so much needed?

The pity of it is that there is little hope of the author's starving because twaddle of this nature, if well printed with plenty of conversation, has an appeal which reaches more people than a sane person would think possible.

Lately the Ledger has recorded a number of enjoyable "poverty parties" in which the prizes go to the man and woman who appear the most poverty-stricken. There are several million persons scattered about the globe who probably would have little difficulty in taking prizes if they were invited, and one would not have to go to Belgium to find them, either. There is no harm in "poverty parties" unless the participants acquire the delusion that there is something comic in being truly poverty-stricken.

We confess that among the phrases which irritate us are "these United States," a phrase which is sometimes injected into patriotic speeches by pseudo-orators as a sort of acme of eloquence. There is nothing particularly eloquent in the words "these United States," nor is there anything particularly patriotic in them. The words are not even true. The Civil War, if we are not mistaken in our history, rather emphatically decided that "the United States is" rather than "the United States are."

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The tickets for the annual show are now on sale at the building. From the present outlook there will be a large demand and those who wish them would do well to secure them now. The curtain raiser "Old Cronies" with Erastus Osgood as Dr. Jacks and William Walker as Capt. Pigeon, promises to be one of the funniest sketches ever produced in Quincy.

Our basket ball teams will journey to Boston on Saturday evening to play the Boston 1st and 2d teams. They have been playing in fine form lately and should come home with the large end of the score to their credit.

The meeting for boys on Saturday morning will be conducted by J. T. Melville in the absence of the chairman of that committee. Mr. Melville spoke to the boys a short time ago and the boys are looking forward to this continuation of his talk on life in the West. The meeting will start at nine o'clock and will be followed by the regular Junior Gym class in the gym.

The boys who are going to attend the Boys' Conference at Pawtucket, left on the 11.31 train this morning. They expect to return Monday afternoon and will give a report at the regular Saturday morning meeting, Feb. 27th. The following boys with C. H. Humphrey, the boys' work secretary, were in the party, Roger Ahlstrom, Eric Nelson, Herbert Hendry, Sturgis Hunt, Maynard Hatch, Joe Beal, Frederick Tobbenboske, Percy Jenkins, George Prout and Everett Robbie.

This week we will play a team from the Wollaston Congregational church the game being played this afternoon at 4 o'clock and while the regular team will not be on the job we ought to be able to come out winners.

Monday afternoon in the Gym will be played two games of basket ball. The first between the students and the employed boys, the second between the employed boys and an outside team.

Monday evening the seniors will have a treat in the hall with an eight-reel moving picture. This is something new for us here and it is hoped that a number of the fellows will be on hand.

Sunday afternoon at three p. m. the Employed Boys' Gym club will meet to discuss some important business. After the business some interesting discussion will be had on some interesting subject.

RESPITE IS REFUSED

Kentucky Governor Will Not Extend Clemency to Thieving Banker

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 19.—In a statement given wide publicity, Governor McCreary refused executive clemency to George Alexander, former president of George B. Alexander & Co., bankers, of Paris, Ky.

Alexander pleaded guilty to the charge of embezzling $21,000 of the institution's funds and to making false entries in its books. He was sentenced to a minimum of eight and a maximum of seventy years.

The statutory respite allowed convicted prisoners before the judgment of the court operates expires in Alexander's case today. His next recourse is to the court of appeals.

NO-LICENSE REFERENDUM

Prohibition Measure Is Passed by the Vermont House

Montpelier, Vt., Feb. 19.—The house passed a referendum bill to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquor in the state. The measure has not been acted on in the senate.

Under the provisions, if adopted by the voters at a special election next November, the act will become effective in March, 1916. The state now has a local option license law.

PRATT'S BREAD never varies t is made and baked by a fixed rule Ask your grocer.

FORMER STATE AUDITOR SPEAKS

Gerry Brown's Successor at K. of C. Gathering

Frank H. Pope of Leominster, former state auditor, who succeeded E. Gerry Brown of Brockton as supervisor of small loan agencies spoke on "State Finance" before a large gathering of members of Quincy council, K. of C. in Colonial hall Thursday evening. Mr. Pope took the place of Fred Mansfield, former state treasurer, who was obliged to cancel a speaking engagement for the first time in his life on account of illness.

Mr. Pope described the increase of the state debt from $2,000,000 to $8,000,000 since 1904 as partly due to the care of the insane or feeble minded. In his talk, which took the greater part of an hour, he explained at length the various phases of the question, and illustrating several points with apt stories. He was liberally applauded.

The speaking followed the regular meeting, presided over by Peter M. Sullivan, grand knight. Arrangements were partially completed for the annual Easter Monday ball of the council and it was voted to engage Strachan's orchestra for the affair.

The committee in charge of the ball organized with Edward D. Barrett as chairman. The members are Michael M. Barrett, Michael T. Sullivan, William A. Carey, Michael T. Walsh, Richard A. Cole, William McGunnigle, Philip Guinan, James M. Sullivan, George W. Barry, Thomas Griffin, Frank Driscoll, Andrew Driscoll, Charles Haggerty, Frank Ferguson, William Hogan, Alex D. Thompson, Alfred J. LaCroix, James J. Powers.

News of Interest to Granite Manufacturers and Workers

With Memorial Day only a little more than three months away business has not been as brisk as usual at this time of the year. Of course the winter months are usually quiet and few shipments are made from November to March. In other years the manufacturers at this time of the year had a book full of orders for March 1 delivery. There is a lot of Westerly work to be cut this spring but the manufacturers have been unable to get the granite as the Westerly quarries do not operate during the winter.

BUY NOW.

The "Buy Now" slogan of the Boston Chamber of Commerce may be well applied to the present conditions of the granite industry in Quincy. Business never was as dull as it is at present and if prospective purchasers of memorials would place their orders now they would receive lowest prices. A purchaser who waits until May first to order his work and then wants it by Memorial Day has to pay the full price plus any overtime work in proportion to the amount of work the dealer has on hand. "Buy Now" and avoid the rush" is the way a well known granite dealer expressed his opinion on the question.

WILL HELP QUARRIES.

Representative Charles A. Ericson's bill to appropriate $10,000 to build a sea wall at Houghs Neck will be heard at a special hearing in the near future. If this appropriation is allowed the granite for it will come from Quincy and will allow the quarries to get rid of some of their grout. Representatives Erickson and Sandberg will do all in their power to push this bill through the house and Senator Langelier will work for it in the senate.

MACHINERY INDUSTRY.

The advent of machinery in the granite industry and especially the new gasoline compressors which can run two or three air tools has revolutionized working in this city.

Previous to the invention of this machinery all work was cut and finished in the local yards before being shipped. Today over two-thirds of the granite being shipped from Quincy is only partly completed.

Slabs constitute the larger portion of this work. The manufacturer buys random from the quarries and puts a man on the stone to line it up, which takes only a few hours, after which it is placed under the surface machine and later polished one or two faces. A few sticks of boxing are strapped across the polish faces and they are piled up waiting for an order for a slab of its size which is bought at approximately $2.00 a foot.

The quarrymen a year ago, with one or two exceptions, agreed to sell no more random but that difficulty was easily overcome by putting some size on the piece and sending it off at random prices.

If the manufacturers would only consider the large amount of work that is leaving the city, they would endeavor to get the completion of this work done here. In past years before these movable air tools were invented all work done for small firms with show yards near the cemetery was completed even to the lettering before it left. Now every concern in all cemeteries has one of the new machines and they buy up a lot of different sized slabs.

The business of the late John L. Miller is being carried on by his sons. Byron has charge of the local yard and Tupper is the road agent in charge of the New York yard.

The show yards in the cemeteries are beginning to open. The managers are dusting off the desks and cleaning up the offices which have been idle since November. With the appearance of the ground hog and the disappearance of the snow, people begin to plan for their memorials.

Most people do not realize the time it takes to transform a stone from the rough to the finished product. The order is placed at the quarry where it may take a week to get the stone out. Then it is lined up and run under the surface machine which takes two days more. It is then placed in the polishing mill where it is polished on two sides and may remain three weeks. After that it must be finished which takes considerable time and then it must be shipped and set up.

A BUSY YARD.

The yard of Lavers Granite Company on Copeland street presents a busy sight at the present time. Several large pieces of granite have been received this week to be sawed and polished. The machine for sawing granite is one of the two that are in the city. The yard is run under the direction of Joseph B. Grossman.

TO ASK INCREASE.

The agreement between the Granite Cutters and the Manufacturers at Barre, Vermont, expires soon and it is reported that a stiff fight will be waged by the cutters to secure an increase in pay and a shorter day. The Quincy agreement between the cutters and manufacturers has one year more to run and there will be no trouble to this city on this account this year. The Barre men are going to declare a strike on March 1st unless the manufacturers come to some agreement before that date.

"Lamson & Hubbard" Hats
Men of discrimination go to the store that sells them. They go there for style—they go there for value—they go there for satisfaction
Look for the store that displays the Lamson & Hubbard Sign.

DON'T MISS IT !
EXPLOITS of ELAINE
— ALSO —
THE BOY SCOUT FARM
A New Picture showing the military life of our Boy Scouts in America.
Hearst's Weekly and wholesome entertaining Vaudeville.
O'Reilly and The Queill Twins—Novelty Entertainers.
Thomas Gillen, Monologue Artist and The Eureaka Singing Novelty Trio.
KINCAIDE THEATRE
THURS. FRI. SAT. Daily Matinee 2.30 P. M. — Evenings at 8 P. M. — 10--15--25c
Coming --"LIFE'S SHOP WINDOW"-- Mon. Tues. Wed.
Gorgeous Photo-Play of the famous novel and play which cost over One Hundred Thousand Dollars to produce

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

About seventy-five residents of the East section of the town attended the public hearing held Wednesday evening in Ellsworth hall, about the proposed gymnasium, to be built in the Brook road playground. A model of the gymnasium was on exhibition.

Nathaniel Kidder presided. The speakers included James S. Russell, Frank B. Fanning, Jesse B. Baxter and Newton Harlow.

Mr. Baxter, a former chairman of the Board of Selectmen, denied the rumor that the building of the gymnasium would mean the closing of Cunningham gym.

Rev. John N. Trout of the East Congregational church gave an illustrated lecture on "The Hudson in Fable," Wednesday evening, at the church. The lecture was under the anspices of the Men's club. Most of the slides shown were taken from Irving's stories about the Hudson. As Rev. Mr. Trout was pastor in Dobb's Ferry on the Hudson, for several years, he was very familiar with the region.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the East Congregational church was held Wednesday afternoon in the church vestry.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Baptist church met Wednesday afternoon in the church parlor.

Team three in the bowling match at the Cunningham gym still occupies first place in the league with team nine a close second. Team 1 was able the past week to keep out of the bottom for the second consecutive week. The standing of the teams is:

Team	Won	Lost	Total P.F.
Three	38	18	18271
Nine	37	19	17409
Four	33	23	17558
Eight	30	26	17865
Seven	29	27	17344
Ten	28	28	17665
Two	26	30	17509
Six	21	35	13903
One	20	36	16348
Five	18	38	16913

The highest individual averages are: Wood, 95.1; E. Cummings, 94.7; Jobling, 93.1; J. F. Reid, 92.5; C. Smith, 92.1; J. Farrell, 90.8; Bishop, 90.5; J. Cummings, 90.4; Duggan, 90.4; Gordon, 90.3; Delury, 90.2; J. Corkery, 90.2; D. Reid, 90; "Dick" Reid still holds the high three string with 336, and "Jack" Reid made a new single string record with 141.

On Saturday evening the Midgets will play the Boston University team on the gym floor.

CLAN MEETS MONDAY.

Clan MacGregor No. 5, has a treat in store for its meeting next Monday evening.

Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott will address the clan, and as Mr. Willmott always deals with vital, up-to-date questions and is always interesting, a large meeting is assured.

The recent issue of the Fiery Cross the official organ of the Order of Scottish Clans, shows that Clan MacGregor No. 5 is still the leading clan in the entire organization, leading the next largest clan, namely Clan Gordon of Barre, Vt., by over twenty members.

Three were initiated at the last meeting and five applications were received so that the local clan evidently intends to hold its lead and remain the banner clan of the order.

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

FOR TIGHT COLDS
For colds that are deep-seated hard to loosen and which have a firm hold on your system, there is no better remedy than our
WHITE PINE & TAR COUGH SYRUP
Its loosening and soothing power is soon noticed.
25c A Bottle

BUILD UP YOUR SYSTEM
Everybody, even those who have failed to find COD LIVER OIL which they could taste, can without trouble take
HEARN'S EMULSION COD LIVER OIL
A good flesh and body builder.
50c Large Bottle

CHAS. C. HEARN, Druggist City Square

PLAN ANNUAL BALL.

Ave Maria Council's Yearly Feature To Be April 12.

Ave Maria council will hold its annual ball in St. Mary's hall on April 14 and on April 28 will give a minstrel show in Music hall.

The ball is one of the events of the year in the West Quincy section where the council has its home and a large committee is completing the details. The committee is Charles Buckley, Joseph Daley, Henry Donaher, Edward Monahan, Joseph LeClair, Edward and Charles Reardon, Daniel T. Falvey, Joseph Barry, George Reinhalter, Hugh Galligan, James Donovan.

Rehearsals are now being held for the minstrel show under the direction of Ralph Crossen, a man well known in professional circles. The minstrel committee is Charles Buckley, James Donovan and Joseph Daley.

WOMAN'S GUILD MEETS.

An all day work meeting of the Woman's Guild of Christ church was held Thursday at the parish house. At noon a luncheon was served by the hospitality committee under the direction of its chairman, Mrs. Torrey. At 3.30, the rector, Rev. William Grainger gave the first of a series of talks on the story on the life of Christ During Lent the Guild will meet every Thursday for work and in the afternoon the rector will continue these talks.

The work Thursday was for the church as the guild has completed its work for the Belgians. It will be of interest to know that the guild has finished and forwarded to the Belgians fifteen abdominal bands, three mufflers, ten pairs of wristlets and six pairs of hose. The guild furnished its own material for these articles.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

ISLE OF PINES
An association is now being formed to own 100 acres of grapefruit or 7000 trees. Join now--membership $250.00, $10.00 down and $5.00 per month. 6 pct. guaranteed for the first five years and then each member gets 85 pct. of the profits. Write for particulars.
ISLE OF PINES ASSOCIATES
170 Summer St., Boston, Mass.
Feb. 11-1m

BOYS SHOES
Made to stand Hard Wear
BOSTON WELT
Regular $2 Shoe for $1.50
As a special inducement to every mother buying a pair of these Shoes we will repair your old ones for 25 cents, which is just the cost of the leather.
E. F. CONLIN,
HANCOCK and SAVILLE STS

BUTTER IS LOWER
Finest Creamery 32c lb
Sugar Corn 3 cans 25c
Early June Peas 3 cans 25c
MAPLE DAIRY
CHESTNUT STREET

YOUR PROTECTION
I protected you Madam, against the high cost of flour, because I bought away ahead. You don't have to pay such high prices when I can give you a loaf of bread for the same money as when flour was normal. Remember my loaf of bread is the same price, same size and same quality. Come Madam, take advantage of my good fortune—Buy Today.
LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN
1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.

SEEK HEIRS OF JAMES READY

Mayor Campbell received a letter from a law firm in St. John, N. B., this morning making inquiry about two sons of James Ready, who died in that city in March 1913. The letter stated that the late Mr. Ready left an estate in which the two brothers were interested and any information as to their whereabouts would be thankfully received. The two men about whom information is desired are Hugh J. Ready aged 55 years who left St. John two years ago and James F. Ready who left St. John ten years ago.

WOLLASTON CHILDREN

(Continued from Page One.)

Olde Maydes of Lee" whose acting was exceedingly good. The young maids: Sabra Ryder, Julia Polk, Rachel McTear. The olde maydes: Janette Shay, Doris Bissett and Gertrude McIntyre.

In come a troupe of dusky singers and dancers in typical plantation costume. After a merry-round of song strains of the wedding march are heard, the lights are turned up, and down the center aisle comes a bridal procession. Composing the same are:

Groom, Kenneth McKensey
Bride, Elizabeth Sweeney
Maid of honor,
Elizabeth Richardson
Bridesmaids—Olive Day, Dorothy Shay, Caroline Fields, Constance Wetmore.

Ushers—Richard Fowler, Howard Fowler, Charles Brown, Harold Merrill.

The procession ascends to the stage and after it has passed the children break into the closing chorus and the entertainment is over. Much credit is due Mrs. Charles E. Decker and Mrs. Halley M. Fowler, under whose direction the ball was given. Alonzo Cole was director and Dustin Russell, accompanist.

The performance will be repeated this evening, with a matinee for the children on Tuesday afternoon. In the chorus numbers were the following:

Solo Brownies,—Edward Lindsey, Richard Brackett, Alfred Pletch, William Richardson, Frederick Decker, Alexander McDonald, Earl Hiscock.

Brownies,—Sidney Maxwell, James Shay, Nelford Platner, Ralph Blake, Forrest Coe, Willard Edwards, Kenneth Zwicker, Stewart Ingraham, Herbert Sadlies, Winthrop Russell, Elbert Dority, Harold Des Jardin, Philip Shaw, Lennard Wait, Earl Wetzley, Allen Sass, Harold Spear, Paul How, Curtis Crowell, Gordon Banks, Chester Mellish, Edward Landsay, Joseph MacNamara, Lennard Reynolds, Thomas Stewart, Alfred Pletch, Sumner Besse, Dana Kaulbeck Herbert Luke, Russell Hall, Holly Keith, Charles Greenleaf, George Kappler, Chandler Ryder, John Kennedy, William Delory, Arthur Fleishman, Edgar Des Jardin, Kenneth Keith, George Marr.

Slumberland children.—Ruth Broadbent, Dorothy Locke, Geraldine Olive, Marion Ripley, Alice Vibert, Ruth Ramsdell, Edith Moller, Hester McFague, Marie Langelier, Miriam Musgrave, Helen McIntyre, Mildred McDonald, Dorris Kaulbeck, Elizabeth Morris, Phyllis Bryce, Hortence Faucet, Lucy Marr, Marion Letson, Margaret Tanner, Lillian Roughtean Katherine Whittaker, Barbara Klingenhagen, DorisThompson, Caroline Queen, Irene Hall, Marion Frost, Ruth Lagerstadt, Natali Ryder, Mildred Clarke, Ida Drew, Celia Reynolds, Natali Klee, Helen Douglass, Ethelwynne Loud, Helen Nelson, Muse Kennard, Eva Kilpatrick, Marie McDonald, Fanny Stuart, Thelma Burton, Lillian Wragg, Corinne Edwards, Constance Lamont Evelyn Hicks, Marion Hicks, Mildred Morgan, Ruth Fields, Bertha Allen Bowetha Harragan, Barbara Kaulbeck, Gwendoline Ellis.

Scheu Family— Elizabeth Tobbenbosky, Olive Day, Barbara McTear Katherine McDonald, Mary Harragan, Marrietta Murray, Louise Brivogal, Grace Webber, Muriel Miller Helen Wade, Dorothy Benoit, Marion Nelson, Ellen Shay, Ellen Pratt, Dorothy Ranagan, Dorothy Pratt, Helen Roughtean, Alice Flahive, Agnes Campbell, Ruth Davis, Bulah Zwicker, Helen Kenyon, Helen Anderson, Doris Shay, Celeste Ripley, Anna McIntyre Katherine Sharkey, Sadie Keith, Dorothy Platner, Barbara Tue, Bertha Pletch, Edna Miller, Constance Wetmore, Louise Oliver, Helen Russell Mildred Corson.

Indians, Curtis Crowell, George White, Linn Fuller, Richard Ketchum, George Fieshman, KeKnneth Harvey, Robert Wait, Russell Fowler Randolph Fowler,.

Policemen,—Wilson Barstow, William Lindsay, Ralph Drew, Armory Wait, Clayton Pollock, Philip Doherty, Bradford Ropes, Clifton Wallace William McIntyre.

Dusky songs and Dances—Joseph Ripley, Charles Anderson, Richard Brown, Paul Knowlton, Hayden Chase Horace Ripley, Ernestine Ralph, Margaret Barber, Dorothy Butler, Dorothea Chapman,, Percis Lagerstadt Mildred Gorham.

TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS.

Following are the subscribers connected with the Quincy Exchange, week ending Feb. 17, 1915:

1005-M—Everett F. Prior, 71 Farrington street.
1666-W—Mrs. A. Robertson, 46 Winter street.
540—John McCullock, 63 Germain avenue.
201-J—H. M. Mabey, 281 Beale st.
641-2—W. E. Kimball, 39 Standish av
1488-M—Wm. H. Neale, 49 Glover av
2046-W—J. L. Roberts, 286 Beach st
2238-R—John F. Daggett, 85 Vassall street.
1136-W—J. A. Crawford, Jr., 90 Botolph street.
1188-J—W. E. Glidden, 156 Billings street.
1657-M—Hulda Johnson, 182 Centre street.

BEAUTIFUL SHOW YARD.

The show yard of John R. Richards of South Quincy at the entrance to Woodlawn cemetery in Everett is very beautiful and the variety of designs in all kinds of granites and the arrangement of the yard would draw the attention of the most indifferent person. At this yard it is possible to see any size of stone from the smallest gravemark to a large memorial. There are a few men who are employed at the yard to do the tracing and lettering on the work. The yard is under Mr. Richards personal care and every piece of work is inspected by him before it is set in the cemetery.

BROCKTON HIGH LOSES.

Brockton High, which plays Quincy here Monday afternoon lost to Wellesley High Thursday 24 to 20.

FINED $50.

The continued cases of Catherine and Frank Lopez of Braintree for violation of the liquor law were heard. Mrs. Lopez was fined $50 and appealed. Frank Lopez was found not guilty and discharged.

A regular meeting of the School Committee will be held Tuesday evening.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

WEDNESDAY LEDGER CLUB NEWS

Masquerade Costumes For Rent
Children's Costumes in variety
MRS. P. E. WOODWARD
155 Billings Road
Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs
Feb. 3-tf

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton Director
Municipal Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings. 6-12t

WALL DECORATION

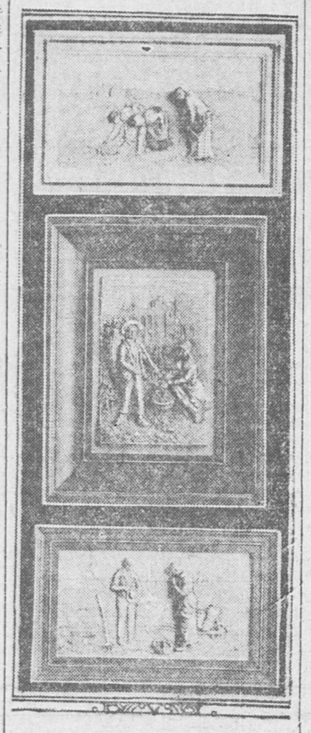

Choice and Placing of Pictures Properly Requires Taste.

OVERCROWDING IS CRITICISED

Use of Novelties Should Depend on Their Artistic Value—Colored Plaster Basreliefs of Old Masterpieces Please Many People.

A few well chosen pictures will lend distinction to a room. The use of many small pictures suggests confusion. While a few large, choice paintings or photogravures, handsomely framed, make the simply furnished living room a more distinguished interior than perhaps it really is, walls covered with framed prints, photographs, sketches and passe partouts, turn it into a "den," cozy and intimate, perhaps, but not a room in which to receive visitors or to dispense hospitality.

A constant process of elimination is necessary if the walls of the small apartment are not to be overcrowded. There are so many charming little pictures that tempt the eye, hand colored prints of places endeared by sentiment, photographs of famous paintings and the like. Each may be excellent in itself, but massed, helter skelter, on the walls of living room or bedroom they make a jumble which robs the room of individuality.

COLORED PLASTER BAS-RELIEFS.

Groups of passe partouted photographs may be hung in the hall, and the arrangement of such pictures in such a place must be very regular, with even spaces between the pictures and between the groups.

Large pictures in the living room should not be hung too high, a very common mistake. As a rule, the lower edge of a very large picture should be about four feet from the floor, of a medium sized picture about five feet from the floor. Smaller pictures hung between the larger ones may be five and a half feet from the floor, and the spaces at either side of the small picture should be the same. Sometimes a small picture may be hung exactly below a larger one, and in this case the larger one will be lifted a trifle.

In almost every well furnished French room there is a well placed mirror, sometimes two or three. The dweller in a small apartment should not forget the value of mirrors in creating perspective and making a small room appear larger than it really is. A high, narrow mirror flanked by sconces gives an exceedingly distinguished effect.

Decorative novelties are the bas-reliefs of old masters, which may be seen in the art shops. These are really white plaster bas reliefs tinted in artistic colors. They are framed in suitably simple moldings of harmonizing or contrasting colors. Frames of gold, of white enamel, of ebony, black walnut, etc., are variously used. Three characteristic bas reliefs are pictured here.

A Standing Watch.

A small watch that stands upright is seen in the shops. It is especially convenient for the desk or dressing table. It is guaranteed to keep correct time and to be in good running condition when it is bought.

STYLE HINTS.

Rich embroideries will be much used for girdles.

All of the broad brimmed hats are worn at a pronounced angle.

Broche crepe de chine is excellent for blouses, especially in dark blues.

Some handsome sports coats are made up in corduroys and velveteens.

The narrow lining has not been discarded in frocks for semiformal wear.

Trains are pieces of stuff hanging here and there without any apparent reason.

EXPERIENCED STITCHERS WANTED
APPLY
SOVEREIGN WAIST CO.
192 GRANITE ST.

Every Wife in Quincy Wants Her Husband To Make More Money

To live in a better house: to wear better clothes—to dress her children better: to educate them.

And she can tell him how. Fifty other wives did by new ideas—not theories, but actual ideas, and all as simple as A, B, C.

These wives are telling how they did it in the great series, "How I Helped My Husband to Make More Money": six of them in the March

LADIES' HOME JOURNAL
On Sale Tomorrow
Fifteen Cents a Copy, of All News Agents
Or, $1.50 a Year (12 issues) by Mail, Ordered Through Our Subscription Agents or Direct
Boys Wanted to Deliver on Routes. Apply to Our Sales Agent
C. H. LEANDER, 145 Whitwell St., Quincy, Mass.
THE CURTIS PUBLISHING COMPANY
Independence Square, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

CHARLES J. McGILVRAY

(Continued from Page One.)

the late Mayor Shea to fill out the term as city clerk.

His past experience in legislative work will be a great benefit to the association and his pleasing personality will bring a large number of the younger element to the meetings. Mr. McGilvray is a member and P. G. K. of Ave Maria Council K. of C., St. Mary's C. T. A. and the Holy Name Society of St. Marys church. He has a law practice in this city and has an office in the Adams building.

At a banquet held Tuesday evening at the American House, Boston, by the Graduates of the Class of 1905 of the Boston Y. M. C. A. evening law school Atty. McGilvray was elected president for the ensuing year. Joseph A. Sedgwick, treasurer of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation is also a member of this class.

Waldo Galligan of 5 Independence avenue, has been elected a member of the Massachusetts Home Furnishers association. Mr. Galligan is one of the most active furniture men of the city. He has been associated with the Henry L. Kincaide Co., for the past five years.

AT THE THEATRE

The Exploits of Elaine, running in serial installments in the Daily Ledger, is the feature picture of the program for the last half of the week at the Kincaide theatre. A thrilling library scene in which the owner of the "Clutching Hand" just escapes capture brings the film to a close.

The remaining pictures are well balanced, pictorial illustration of the Boy Scouts of America cultivating their farm vieing with a Broncho Billie picture in which "The False Note" furnishes the plot. New war pictures and events of international importance are shown on the Hearst-Selig weekly.

The "vaudevillians" equally share the honors of the performance. A clever singing act is presented by the Eureka Trio and new jokes with real points are the foundations of Tom Gillen's act. O'Riley and the Quell, Twins, the latter dancing sisters, and Teny and DuPont, "humorous" comedians fill the bill.

Manager Wardwell has booked "Life's Shop Window," an elaborate photo-play produced at a cost of over $100,000, for the holiday section of this week.

COAL
Just Unloaded 2600 Tons of
Sprague's Celebrated New River Cumberland Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.,
27 Granite St.

NOTICE!
This space will be devoted each day—not to advertise cheap grade at full value, but Johnson Bros. Quality Goods at a sure low price.
GOLD MEDAL FLOUR
Regular Retail Price $1.20
OUR PRICE FOR SATURDAY $1.10
JOHNSON BROS., City Square.

CITY OF QUINCY
BOARD OF SURVEY

The public is hereby notified that the Board of Survey by virtue of the authority of Chapter 704 of the Acts of the year, 1914, have adopted the following rules:—

Rules Concerning the Preparation of Plans and Profiles.

All plans and profiles submitted to the Board of Survey, must be drawn on sheets of tracing cloth of uniform size, 18 inches high by 31 inches wide inside the border, with 1½ inch margin, except on the left where it shall be 3½ inches.

Plans should show scale, date, surveyor's name and address, with north point and names of abutting owners.

Unless otherwise directed by the City Engineer, the scale of all plans must be 40 feet to an inch, the horizontal scale of all profiles 40 feet to an inch and the vertical scale 6 feet to an inch.

The plans must give sufficient information to accurately locate the centre or one side of the proposed street so as to connect it with other existing streets in the vicinity. They should show ground heights at the centre and both sides of streets at each 50 foot station.

All buildings, walks, drives or other fixtures abutting on or near the proposed streets should be shown, if they are affected by the proposed lay-out. The lines of the proposed street and the proposed grades, as well as the figures showing the radii of curves, widths and proposed grades, must be shown in red ink; all other figures and lines in black ink.

Profiles must show, in addition to the proposed grade, present elevations of the centre of proposed streets every fifty feet.

All grades must refer to Quincy City Base.

If a street submitted for approval does not extend through to another street and is likely to be extended in the near future, the plan should be of the whole street, showing the connections with existing or other proposed streets.

EZEKIEL C. SARGENT, Clerk.

Copies of the above act, together with rules and form of petition to the Board of Survey may be obtained at the Office of the City Engineer.

Feb. 19-3t

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS— Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

SERIES STANDS THREE TO THREE

Josephine Again Defeats Rogers

Josephine again defeated Rogers in the sixth game of the series being played between these two stars for the pool championship of Quincy. This game tied the series three to three and the final game will be played Tuesday evening at eight o'clock at Wardwell's, Alpha hall pool parlor. The game Thursday evening was played at Pineo's Emporium and was witnessed by a large gallery of fans. Josephine took the lead in the first frame and held it throughout the game. The west side boy seemed to be off color and missed many simple shots. Jack Jolly, the former pool star, refereed the match and "Scrappy" DeCoste was the score keeper. The score was 100 to 76.

The game Tuesday evening will attract a large number of fans and Manager Sullivan states that he will have a team there ready to challenge any team of players in the whole city for a series of games.

Add granite

LAST GAME HERE IS NEXT MONDAY

The last home game of the season of basket ball at the local High school will be played on Monday next at three o'clock with Brockton High as the opponent. Brockton defeated the locals at Brockton last week by a score of 22 to 14, but this should be no criterion that they can do the same here on Monday. In fact, the same conditions obtained last season but Quincy defeated Brockton at Quincy 27 to 13.

It is hoped that a large crowd will witness this game for the plucky boys are deserving of support.

Mr. Coady has been engaged to referee.

TO HOLD FIRST SMOKER TONIGHT

Quincy Conclave, Knights of Sherwood Forest, held its regular meeting last evening at Court John Ericson hall, School street. One candidate was initiated and three applications were acted on.

The committee having the arrangements of "smoker" to be held this evening in charge, reported that two wrestling bouts would be part of the entertainment and many entertainers of local repute would be present.

Delegations from Taunton, Brockton and Lowell are to attend and all Foresters in Quincy have been tendered an invitation, so that a large gathering will be present to enjoy the first smoker of Quincy Conclave.

☞ PRATT'S BREAD is baked for those who want good bread. Grocers sell it.

NONPAREILS ARE LEAGUE CHAMPIONS

Quincy Social Clubs League Brings Its Season to a Close

QUINCY ADAMS CLUB NEXT

FINAL LEAGUE STANDING.

	Won.	Lost.
Nonpareil	29	11
Quincy Adams	26	14
Waseca	25	15
Seneca	19	21
Pastime	12	28
Franklin	9	31

High single string McLeod, Pastimes 132.

High individual total Wallace Carson, Franklin 321.

High team single, Nonpareils 489.

High team total Nonpareils 1441.

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

Franklin 4, Waseca 0.

Quincy Adams 4, Nonpariels 0.

Senecas 3, Pastime 1.

Quincy Adams 4, Franklin 0.

The bowling schedule of the Quincy Social clubs league came to a close at the Coliseum alleys Thursday night with the Nonpareils in first place, champions for the season. The team practically won the title three weeks ago when a couple of clean sweeps put it ahead so far it could not be reached by the Waseca or Quincy Adams five, runners up.

The Quincy Adams boys rolled two matches last night, one being a postponed one. They garnered eight points, enough to beat out the Wasecas for the position.

Wallace Carson of the Franklin celebrated the closing of the schedule by getting a total of 321 and breaking the record. He will be awarded the special prize offered the record total holder.

The Nonpareils lost all four points to the second place men. Larson, their anchor man and high average man of the league was absent and the dummy returned a total of 225, at least 75 less than what he would have scored.

The boys are now considering a banquet when the prizes will be awarded. The final summaries:

QUINCY ADAMS—4.

Curtin	100	84	92	276
Bishop	86	98	94	278
Galvin	78	95	77	250
Muir	82	81	88	251
Sullivan	97	86	100	283
	443	444	451	1338

NONPAREIL—0.

O Djerf	81	81	92	254
Markham	89	78	89	256
T. Djerf	87	97	76	260
Rouillard	98	90	88	276
Dummy	75	75	75	225
	430	421	420	1271

QUINCY ADAMS—4.

Curtin	96	97	92	285
Bishop	78	76	103	262
Galvin	83	86	81	263
Muir	89	83	92	264
Sullivan	93	91	83	267
	457	433	451	1341

FRANKLIN—0.

Costa	71	68	83	222
Igo	81	77	78	236
W. Carson	98	63	93	254
Bisson	80	80	80	240
Carson	79	87	82	248
	409	375	416	1200

FRANKLIN—4.

E. Costa	88	73	62	223
Igo	89	89	84	262
Carson	101	115	105	321
Bisson	72	85	78	235
Carson	96	83	93	272
	446	445	422	1313

WASECA.—0.

Pinel	107	87	98	292
MacDonald	79	82	82	243
Allen	88	90	80	258
Muir	75	92	69	236
Sherriff	80	89	84	253
	429	440	413	1282

SENECA—3.

Booth	85	81	105	271
Grassick	81	83	91	255
Crammond	86	86	74	246
Moyle	83	87	70	240
Main	87	97	95	273
	422	444	435	1285

PASTIME—1.

H. Smith	71	67	80	218
Allican	76	82	88	246
French	76	76	84	236
Morrison	84	87	101	272
Blanchard	124	89	77	290
	431	401	430	1262

CELLAR CHAMPS WIN 3 POINTS

Unexpected Happens in Elks League Matches

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

Capt. Hildebrand 3—Capt. Hanson 1

Capt. Maloney 4—Capt. Larkin 0.

Johnnie Hildebrand's team came through with three points in the Elks league matches at Wardwells Thursday night, beating the Hansons 3 to 1. The Maloneys trimmed the Larkins 4 to 0. Dr. Murphy was high with a single of 110 and a total of 292. The Hildebrands showing was the feature of the evening and was partly due to the fact that Sheffer's rabbit foot which has been in evidence every week was not in its accustomed place a repair man not having delivered it in time for the matches.

CAPT. MALONEY—4.

Revens	88	80	94	262
Thompson	92	86	96	274
Keating	102	84	102	288
Dr. Murphy	110	93	89	292
Dr. Sweeney	75	72	91	238
	467	415	472	1354

CAPT. LARKIN—0.

Coyle	98	72	83	253
Larkin	89	73	76	238
Hoy	99	83	81	263
Joyce	81	92	98	271
Dummy	75	72	89	236
	442	392	427	1261

CAPT. HILDEBRAND—3.

Hildebrand	65	89	80	234
George	72	83	76	231
Sweeney	81	86	87	254
Brown	77	87	91	255
Ross	94	87	74	255
	389	432	408	1229

CAPT. HANSON—1

Williams	84	62	81	227
Connors	75	76	79	230
Hanson	103	86	83	272
Sweeney	68	83	94	245
Dummy	65	83	74	222
	395	390	401	1196

CITY HALL NOTES

Clyfeton W. Hill, the new purchasing agent paid a visit to Lynn Wednesday to see how the purchasing agent of that city conducted the affairs of his office. He was accompanied by the city auditor. In Lynn it was found that the agent had two clerks to do his office work.

Mayor Campbell is undecided as yet just what to do about putting in the telephone switch board in city hall but will probably come to some decision at an early date. If installed it will be placed in charge of a young woman who will do clerical work in addition to answering the telephone.

Miss Mary Hooper, clerk in the office of the city auditor, has accepted a position with a Boston house and will sever her connection with the auditor's office the first of the month.

The sending out of summons by the tax collectors department resulted in the office being flooded all day Thursday with people, some of whom came to pay up and others to register a kick that twenty cents more had been added to their tax bill.

☞ The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

CONTINUES WAR IN HER OWN WAY

Germany Will Not Modify Order Creating War Zone

REJECTS AMERICAN PROTEST

Claims Right to Attack Enemy's Shipping Because of Britain's Alleged Violation of International Law —Suggests That American Ships Be Convoyed—Washington Not Pleased With Reply, Though Friendly, and Will Again Insist That American Ships Be Let Alone

Washington, Feb. 19.—The reply of Germany to the protest of the United States against a blockade of British waters is couched in the most friendly terms, but firmly maintains the position of Germany as already announced.

The answer, which is a lengthy document, has been transmitted in full to Washington.

The note explains that Germany's proposed action is rendered necessary by Great Britain's policy of attempting to cut off the food supply for the German civil populace by a method never recognized in international law.

England's course in ordering merchantmen to fly neutral flags, equipping them with artillery, with orders to destroy submarines, the German reply contends, renders nugatory the right of search, thus giving Germany the right to attack English shipping. Germany holds that she cannot abandon that right under the stress which England has enforced upon her.

Since Germany must compel the nations with which she is at war to return the recognized principles of international law, and restore the freedom of the seas, she argues that the stand she has taken is necessary.

The note recommends that the United States government send warships to England to convoy merchant vessels through the danger zone as security against attack with the understanding that vessels thus guarded shall carry no war supplies. Hope is expressed that the American government will understand the position in which Germany has been placed and appreciate the reasons for its course.

The reply closes with an expression of the hope that the United States may prevail upon Great Britain to "return to the principles of international law recognized prior to the outbreak of the war," and in particular obtain the observance of the London declaration by belligerents opposed to Germany.

If this were done, the note explains, Germany would be enabled to import food supplies and raw materials. Germany would recognize in this, says the reply, an invaluable service toward a more humane conduct of the war, and would act in accordance with the new situation thus created.

Washington appreciates the friendly reply, but a careful reading has shown Germany sternly unyielding, and the references to an embargo on arms and the suggestion of United States warships as convoys of American ships are received with scant favor.

It is hinted in well informed quarters that the next Washington note will repeat the American contention of safety for neutral commerce under all recognized usages of civilized warfare, and will declare in diplomatic language that if German submarines destroy American lives Germany must be prepared to take the consequences which such an act entails.

The German note is regarded as clearly evasive on many points, while its general tenor is an endeavor to shift responsibility for its acts by making charges against England and even against the United States. For instance, Germany, while admitting that her action is unusual and certain to add hitherto unknown perils and horrors to warfare, makes the claim that England is responsible because "she has tried to interest a new ally on her side in the shape of hunger."

To this the United States can reply that England's action, whether legitimate war or not, is directly against her enemy, while Germany's submarine blockade, though nominally directed against England, imperils the lives and property of American citizens and in fact of all neutral nations engaged in overseas commerce.

BRITAIN AWAITS ATTACK

No Ships Have Yet Suffered From German Submarine Blockade

No incidents, so far as is known, have yet marked the opening of Germany's submarine blockade of the British Isles. Nor has the British government thus far announced its promised retaliatory measures.

Precautions, however, are being taken on the British side of the North sea, and, although the German government has warned the German people not to expect any sensational developments for some days, the regular cross channel passenger services have been somewhat curtailed and altered. Otherwise, the sea-borne trade of England is proceeding much as usual.

The White Star steamship Adriatic, from New York, crossed the Irish sea during the night, but did not resort to the use of a neutral flag to evade the German submarines. Other ocean liners and freight steamers are maintaining their regular schedules.

A fleet of freight steamers left Denmark for England with provisions aboard, and it was to keep track of these, it is believed, that German airships, one of which was destroed by fire and another of which was reported wrecked on the Danish coast, have been so active.

In England, Germany's reply to the American note of protest against interference with neutral ships is creating more interest than the threatened blockade, and there is a great deal of curiosity as to what the United States will say in response.

GUNS FOR DEFENSES

Garrison Asks For Larger Weapons With Longer Range

Washington, Feb. 19.—Guns of greater range and power than any that could be arrayed against them were asked for American coast defenses, in a report of the army board submitted by Secretary Garrison and made public by the house appropriations committee.

The board advised that the old type 12-inch guns and mortars "are not equal in range and power to major calibre guns afloat."

Garrison recommends the immediate improvement of some of the coast defenses, so that the range of the old 12-inch guns could be increased to 20,000 yards; and the board suggested that wherever it was necessary to construct new works the larger guns should be 16-inch 45-calibre weapons.

TAYLOR DEPORTED FOR SECOND TIME

Man Without a Country Is Sent Back to England

Boston, Feb. 19.—Frederick A. Taylor, who arrived in Boston last October from London, where he confessed to stealing war maps and was suspected of being a spy and deported by Great Britain on his claim of American citizenship, was yesterday sent back by United States officials on the ground he is a British subject.

Thus closed the most sensational and extraordinary case brought to the attention of local immigration authorities.

It makes Taylor a man without a country and means that he will be imprisoned or perhaps shot as a spy or once more deported to a country that has twice refused him entrance.

The final decision in the case that has claimed the attention of federal officials since Taylor's coming arrived at the local immigration station in the form of a deportation order from Secretary of Labor Wilson.

Two hours later Taylor was a prisoner aboard the Allen liner Pretorian and he sailed for Great Britain to face death, imprisonment or a life of wandering.

WANTS TO COME BACK

Jack Johnson Desires to Know How He Stands With Court

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Jack Johnson, the black champion, is yearning for the chicken dinners in Chicago's "black belt." He is not finding life abroad, during war times, any too happy, and his friends have opened negotiations with United States District Attorney Cline to find out just what will happen to Johnson if he comes back and throws himself on the mercy of the federal court.

Johnson is facing resentence on three charges of violation of the Mann white slave law and retrial on two others. Cline says he made no promises. The federal government is still attempting to collect the $15,000 bail which was jumped by Johnson when he fled to Europe.

WIMBORNE SWORN IN

Famous Polo Player Becomes Lord Lieutenant of Ireland

Dublin, Feb. 19.—Baron Wimborne was sworn in as lord lieutenant of Ireland at a meeting of the privy council in Dublin castle.

Wimborne succeeds Lord Aberdeen, who held the post of lord lieutenant for nine years.

Wimborne was born in 1873. In recent years he has represented an Irish constituency in the house of lords and in the Boer war he was given a medal for distinguished service. He is best known in America as the man who took the international polo cup back to England in 1914.

Contract For $750,000 Yacht

Bath, Me., Feb. 19.—A contract has been closed by the Bath Iron Works for a large steel ocean-going pleasure yacht for P. W. Rouse. The total cost is estimated to be upwards of $750,000.

Hazers May Be Arrested

Erie, Pa., Feb. 19.—Arrests of a number of pupils of Burns school who cruelly hazed Charles Anderson are promised by the police. The boy was found bound underneath an overturned piano box.

A "Jim Crow" Fast and Prayer

Washington, Feb. 19.—A three-day fast and a forty-day prayer are the methods local negroes are using as a weapon against the pending District of Columbia Jim Crow bill.

SPORTING COMMENT

Frank Wilde, president of the winter league in Quincy, when asked what he thought of Home Run Baker's retirement said "There is so much going on in big ball we don't know 'so's what and what's whoa.'"

Local boxers are entering the amateur tourney to be conducted by the Quincy A. A. on March 5 in Quincy Adams hall. The classes are to be 108, 115 and 158 pounds.

Lewis Leonard is the best appearing entrant in the small class. Pitted against him will be Young D'Arcy, who won the class at the last tourney. John Perry of Roxbury, Eddie Marshall and Johnnie Wren of Quincy.

Ed Barcel of Quincy and Joseph Fisher of Brockton have sent their names in for the 158s. The former is considered a better man than Fisher.

The heavyweight division will probably return Johnny Carey of South Boston a winner. In order to be on however he will have to wade through McGuinness of Lynn and Al Smitherton. Billie Gerstel of Neponset will enter if his wrist, fractured on the eve of the Inter-city bouts, is in good shape.

Entries are being made through Webb McDonald and additional ones are expected.

Quincy fans are awaiting with considerable interest the twenty string tandem match between the teams of Poehler—Walsh and Millar—Cole which is to be rolled at the Rowe's Wharf and New Boston alleys on Feb. 22 and 23. Poehler and Walsh are the general favorites but the fans agree that the unexpected may happen.

Smith's total of 327 gave him the rolloffs at the Coliseum alleys Thursday evening. The positions:

Smith	106	125	96	327
Kelly	106	74	120	300
Carlson	87	114	95	296

The completion of the basket ball schedule of Quincy High will be welcomed by "Abe" Crosscup, the centre, for it will give him a chance for a much needed rest. "Abe" has gone through the season under difficulties, due to regular spells of sickness. He has played against the advice of his physician in some games and in others suffered the effects of a strained ankle. Despite handicaps he hopes to acquit himself creditably in the Brockton game in the local gym on Washington's Birthday afternoon.

Ted Muir stated Thursday night that the wager placed in Jerome Markham's hands by Ernest Knight would be covered within a few hours. The claim of the Quincy Adams members that Ted is the superior will then either be justified or disproven. The match will probably be played at the Pastime club.

The Monroe and Hoxie teams are jockeying for first place in the Wollaston Tennis club league. The former leads with 49 won and 19 lost. The Hoxie's are two behind. The Baker, Estes and Litchfield teams are prospects for cellar positions.

ADMINISTRATRIX'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administratrix of the estate of Georgiana B. Sanger sometimes called Georgiana Sanger late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk deceased, intestate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to FANNY B. FISH, Admx.

(Address) 95 East Squantum street, Atlantic, Mass.
February 15, 1915.
3t Feb. 19-26 Mar. 5

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
Telephone 1827-W Quincy
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy F27

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 213-4 Haymarket 2440
Oct. -tf

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES.
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

POLICE DEPARTMENT

CITY OF QUINCY

FEBRUARY 16, 1915

TO ALL PERSONS ENGAGED IN THE MOVING OF FURNITURE.

Your attention is called to the ordinance of this city relating to the moving of furniture. This ordinance is to be strictly enforced by this department. Blanks for the purpose as required in section 2 can be had on application. The ordinance reads as follows:

SECTION 1 OF NUMBER 47.

Every person, firm or corporation, engaged in the business of moving or transferring household furniture, pianos, or other articles or personal effects, shall keep a record on certificates to be furnished by the police department, of the names of the owners of the articles moved, the address from which they are taken and to which the same are moved, the general character of the articles moved, the date the same are moved and the name of the owners and drivers in charge of such vehicles. Every person, firm or corporation shall file with the police department of the city, not later than three days after said moving, on blanks to be furnished by said department, a certificate setting forth the above information and record.

SECTION 2 OF NUMBER 47.

It shall be the duty of the Police department to prepare blanks convenient for recording such information, to be furnished free of charge to those requiring same and to properly file and index record when received under the name of the owner indicted. Such information shall be accessible to the public.

SECTION 3 OF NUMBER 47.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm of corporation to fail to file a certificate in accordance with section 1 hereof, or to knowingly give a ficticious name or ficticious address in said certificate.

SECTION 4 OF NUMBER 47.

Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance, upon conviction shall be fined not less than five nor more than fifty dollars for each offence.

SECTION 9 OF ORDINANCE NO. 12.

The City Council may grant licenses to such persons as they deem expedient to employ or use any wagon, cart, sleigh, or other vehicle which may be necessary for the conveyance from place to place within the city, for hire, of any goods, wares, furniture or rubbish, and no persons shall use any of the vehicles mentioned in this section, for the purpose herein specified, without a license as aforesaid. Every person licensed under this section shall cause his name to be placed in plain, and legible words on any such vehicle he may use, and every such license shall expire on the first day of May then next ensuing unless sooner revoked. Every person so licensed shall pay to the City Clerk, for the use of the city, one dollar for each vehicle so licensed.

DANIEL R. McKAY.
Captain and Acting Chief.
17-3t

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Jane Evans, late of Quincy, in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by John Evans of said Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the third day of March, A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this tenth day of February in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Feb. 12-19-26

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

DEPARTMENT OF QUINCY

FEBRUARY 16, 1915

SONS ENGAGED IN THE OF FURNITURE.

ion is called to the ordi- city relating to the rniture. This ordinance tly enforced by this de- anks for the purpose as ection 2 can be had on The ordinance reads as

N 1 OF NUMBER 47.

on, firm or corporation, e business of moving or household furniture, er articles or personal keep a record on certi- furnished by the police f the names of the own- cles moved, the address ey are taken and to e are moved, the gen- of the articles moved, ame are moved and the owners and drivers in h vehicles. Every per- corporation shall file department of the city, three days after said nks to be furnished by nt, a certificate setting ove information and

2 OF NUMBER 47.

he duty of the Police prepare blanks conven- ding such information, free of charge to those e and to properly file rd when received under e owner indicted. Such all be accessible to the

OF NUMBER 47.

nlawful for any person, ation to fail to file a ccordance with section knowingly give a fic- or ficticious address in firm or corporation f the provisions of this n conviction shall be han five nor more than each offence.

OF NUMBER 47.

ORDINANCE NO. 12.

ncil may grant licenses s as they deem expedi- or use any wagon, cart, vehicle which may be he conveyance from within the city, for oods, wares, furniture no persons shall use cles mentioned in this purpose herein speci- license as aforesaid. censed under this sec- his name to be placed egible words on any e may use, and every all expire on the first n next ensuing unless d. Every person so ay to the City Clerk, the city, one dollar for licensed.

NIEL R. McKAY. n and Acting Chief. 17-3t

th of Massachusetts. Probate Court. -law, next-of-kin, and sons interested in the e Evans, late of Quin- ounty, deceased: rtain instrument pur- he last will and testa- ceased has been pre- Court for Probate, by said Quincy, who prays amentary may be is- he executor therein giving a surety on his ou are hereby cited to bate Court to be held said County of Norfolk, y of March, A. D. 1915, the forenoon, to show u have, why the same ranted. And said pe- y directed to give pub- of by publishing this each week, for three s, in the Quincy Daily aper published in said publication to be t before said Court, postpaid, or deliver- this citation to all interested in the es- s at least before said es H. Flint, Esquire, ourt, this tenth day of e year one thousand nd fifteen. McCOOLE, Register. 3t Feb. 12-19-26

avings Bank

RS: Every Business urday, 8.30 A. M. to 2

8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

LARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

REGISTRY

NURSES

oad, Quincy, Mass.

ained and practical ndants. No charge those applying for RANE, Registrar. -W.

CZAR'S FORCES ARE IN RETREAT

East Prussia and Hungary are Safe For the Present

EVACUATION OF BUKOWINA

Reported to Have Been "One of Most Thrilling Episodes In Military History"—Civil Population Fleeing From Polish Frontier—German Advance From East Prussia Is Designed to Cut Railroad Communication With Warsaw—Offensive by Allies Features Fighting In the West

London, Feb. 19.—Following hard upon the disastrous setback to the Russian forces in East Prussia, the czar's armies have been forced to retreat before the Austrians in Bukowina.

Czernowicz, the capital of Bukowina, which the Russians have been desperately defending for days, was occupied by the Austro-Hungarian forces.

This news is contained in an official dispatch sent out by the Vienna foreign office. The Russian official statement, on the other hand, had a few hours previously declared there was no change in Bukowina. Later, however, the official statement from Petrograd admitted that the Russian columns had retreated across the Pruth river, upon the banks of which Czernowicz is situated.

There is now no question that the Russians have suffered a serious repulse at both ends of their long battle line. The threatened invasions of East Prussia and Hungary are checked and the Muscovites are in retreat in the north and in the south—not in utter rout, perhaps, but falling back nevertheless.

The Petrograd denials of defeat, colored as they are by the thin disguise of a "strategic falling back," only serve to accentuate the fact that the Russians have once more proved unequal to the task of invading the enemy's country and creating such a diversion in the eastern theatre of the war that the Germans will be forced to rush reinforcements from Flanders and France.

"The Russian withdrawal from Bukowina was one of the most thrilling episodes in military history," says a correspondent of the London Daily Mail.

"The Austro-German forces were vastly superior in number, but the retirement was effected with comparatively little loss. The mountain paths were followed, as well as the tracks used only by summer tourists. The men often had to march in four feet of snow. The Austrian Tyrolese troops harrassed the marching troops from the mountain sides with fire, and when possible loosed pieces of rock on them."

The German advance from East Prussia upon the Russian towns of Kovno and Grodno appears to be designed to cut the railroad communications to Warsaw, the capital of Russian Poland, rather than to an effort to take the Russian fortified positions in that territory.

Along the Plock to Niemen line, which is a little short of 200 miles in length, there has been intermittent fighting. From all the towns in this district, which is the most populous of the empire, the civil population is fleeing, thronging the highways and railroads. The latter are offering the best service possible to transport the inhabitants to places of safety in the interior.

The German advance guards are reported to have proceeded from Augustowo toward the railroad between Grodno and Bialystok and to have reached within twelve miles of the former places, where they are said to have been checked by the Russians.

The allies, in the hope of relieving the pressure on the Russians, have taken the offensive along the western line, and although the French and German accounts differ as to the result of this, it is evident that the French and British have been able to make some gains at some points, which they say have been maintained. The Germans have voluntarily evacuated the village of Norroy, to the north of Pont-a-Mousson, which they had captured last week after a severe fight.

The dispute between Greece and Turkey over the insult to the Greek naval attache at Constantinople has been settled by a personal apology and the publication of this in the Turkish newspapers.

THE NVAAL CONFLICT

British Losses In Tonnage and Lives Exceed Those of Germany

Despite the sinking of the German armored cruiser Bluecher by the British in the North sea Jan. 24, the advantage still lies with the Teuton fleet in tonnage and in number of lives lost.

The number of German warships sunk is increased to 42, with a tonnage of 161,467, while ony 21 English men-of-war, with a tonnage of 170,700, have gone to the bottom of the sea. On the other hand the British have lost at least 1000 more men than the Teutons, the figures reading, Britain 5675, Germany 3438.

The facts and totals are obtained from newspaper reports and from official statements issued by the British admiralty. No official statement as to the exact number of ships and lives lost has ever been published by the Germans, so far as is known.

German torpedoes were responsible for the loss of seven of the British vessels, while the submerged mine has played scarcely a less conspicuous part, five English warships having been destroyed by that means.

Less successful have the British been with the torpedo, only four German men-of-war having been disposed of in this way. But in direct naval engagements where the opposing fleets have beeen able to use their big guns the British are easily in the lead with at least fifteen Teuton fighting ships to their credit, whereas the Germans have shelled only four Britishers.

HARD PRESSED FOR FOOD

Germany to Send Five Million People Out of the Country

"The wheat shortage in Germany," says the London Daily Mail's Copenhagen correspondent, "was concealed until the last moment for fear of discouraging the people. It is much greater than has hitherto been believed. Germany will only escape famine before the next harvest by a narrow margin."

The report is in circulation in Copenhagen that, owing to the necessity of restricting food consumption, the German government intends ordering 5,000,000 Germans who possess independent incomes and are ineligible for military service to leave Germany for neutral countries and remain there until the war is over.

It is planned, according to the report, that 3,000,000 of these persons shall go to the Scandinavian countries, 1,000,000 to Holland and 1,000,000 to Switzerland.

ZEPPELIN IS DESTROYED

Explosion Follows Fire on One of Largest Craft In Commission

Fourteen members of the crew of the Zeppelin dirigible which was destroyed by an explosionn following a fire on Faroe islands were rescued and will be interned by the Danish authorities, says a dispatch from Copenhagen.

The Zeppelin was cruising over the island with another dirigible when it caught fire and was compelled to descend, landing before the explosion took place. The destroyed Zeppelin was the L-3, one of the largest in commission. She was 550 feet long, had a diameter of sixty-one feet and displaced thirty-one tons. She was supplied with four motors with a total of 720 horsepower, and had a speed of about sixty miles an hour.

WEEDING OUT THE AGED

Joffre Appoints Nine Younger Men Over Heads of Old Generals

General Joffre, the French commander-in-chief, continues to carry out his settled policy of weeding out those in the higher ranks of the army in favor of younger and more active men.

The new appointment list, made public by Joffre, contains the names of nine generals of divisions who have been placed on the reserve list and succeeded by men promoted to brigadier generalships.

Paradoxical.

He—You have had a week now to think over my proposal of marriage. She—Yes; and the more I think of it the less I think of it.—Boston Transcript.

AMERICAN NURSES.

Two Girls Who Devote Time And Energy In Caring For Wounded on Battlefields.

Photo by American Press Association.

This picture was taken at the American hospital at Neuilly and shows Mrs. Vera Arkwright and Miss E. Whitney, who have been in the service for several months.

AMUSEMENTS

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

Shows may come and shows may go; bills at other theatres may change but "Common Clay" seems destined to finish out the winter at the Castle Square Theatre. Already in its seventh week, it continues to fill the house to the last seat, and orders are being booked steadily, four weeks ahead. The trials and triumphs of Ellen Neal, so wonderfully portrayed by Miss Mary Young, have struck home to countless thousands of people the weakness and repentance of her lover have rung true in every heart. The thrills and surprises of the great court-room scene have stirred every person who has seen the play. The whole Craig Company has geen marvelously suited by the characters in Cleves Kinkead's masterpiece, and the performance is an artistic as well as a popular success.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE.

There is no let up in the immense popularity of "Too Many Cooks," the delightful American comedy, written by Frank Craven, which, on next Monday begins the fifth week of its engagement at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston. An extra matinee is announced for Washington's Birthday, in addition to the regular Thursday and Saturday matinees. For a good wholesome and novel play "Too Many Cooks" is in a class by itself. To begin with the play is not of the slam-bang variety of comedy, but one of delicate and sympathetic fibre. It is just the sort of play that sends you from the theatre thinking, that, after all, life is worth living. It is as sweet and refreshing as a whiff of newly mown hay. It is the most captivating comedy of its kind that Boston has seen in years. As for that matter it is safe to predict that it will be a long time before Boston will be privileged to see another play of such natural and fascinating element. The stage setting of this piece is the most novel ever presented to the American theatregoing public. It shows a house in three stages of construction; first the foundation, second the frame work and in the last act the completed home

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.

Madame Alla Nazimova, the celebrated Russian actress, will present Marion Craig Wentworth's playlet, "War Brides," for a second and positively last week at B. F. Keith's Theatre commencing February 22nd. Nazimova has created a furore in Boston with "War Brides." No other words describe the sensational drama of the great world conflict, and its treatment of one of the most amazing phases of the World War. "War Brides" is woman's Magna Charta. One cannot forget Nazimova's message to the war lords until he dies. Boston will be the only city in New England to see Nazimova in "War Brides," and every woman should see this surprising and amazing play from the pen of Marion Craig Wentworth, who is well known in Boston social circles. Nat Nazarro, one of the most superior companies of athletes in the world, fresh from a three months' engagement at the New York Winter Garden, where their finished and daring work created a positive furore, will be another big feature. William Burr and Daphne Hope, an extremely popular team of London society entertainers that have been secured for a limited tour of the B. F. Keith's Circuit, offer an artistic modern love episode, "A Lady, A Lover, and A Lamp."

BOSTON THEATRE

The "Ben-Hur" season in Boston will end on Saturday night, February 27. Bookings made for the Chicago Auditorium prior to the Boston Theatre engagement compel Klaw and Erlanger to transfer the stupendous World's Fair production to Chicago's great playhouse. Seats can now be secured for all the remaining performances at the Boston Theatre including the extra matinee announced for next Monday, Washington's Birthday.

The present engagement has been the most successful ever enjoyed by the Wallace play at the historic Boston Theatre. Popular interest in "Ben-Hur" is not surprising for it is an all eclipsing production. No indoor spectacle is so magnificent, none more gorgeous, or complete in detail. As a travelling production for the largest theatres in America, the conception of "Ben-Hur" was daring and its execution clever to the point of being surprising. Its stupendousness somewhat shocks at first, then wins and holds the deepest attention of the spectator.

One may at random put a finger on something in this play to arrest and hold attention beyond the ordinary. For instance: When the faithful and incorruptible old Simonides asks of Ben-Hur if the reports he has heard about the Nazarene are true or false, the Prince admonishes him that he must beware of too hasty judgment. And again, referring to the incident of Jesus as a boy giving him a cup of water, when a prisoner on his way to the galleys, he says with simple eloquence "The same eyes, so full of pity, so mystic, so far-reaching! The same brow, about which a halo seemed to shine. But the face of a king! No, Sorrowful, but with the fore-knowledge of a martyr. The face of one born not to rule, but to suffer, and I fear to die."

CORT THEATRE.

With Richard Bennett as the star in an excellent company of players, "Nearly Married," a wholesome farce with a reputation behind it, has begun its Boston run at the Cort Theatre. This play, by Edgar Selwyn, comes to Boston after achieving success in a run of a year in New York and one of six months in Chicago. Selwyn & Co. the producers, have won the confidence of Boston theatregoers in having brought here in the recent past three record-makers: "The Country Boy," also by Edgar Selwyn, which ran 15 weeks; "Within the Law," with a credit of 12 weeks, and "Under Cover," which a year ago broke all Boston records for 28 consecutive weeks.

The story of "Nearly Married" is based upon an unusual twist of the divorce question; unusual in that the hero of the farce elopes with his own wife, thereby causing complications that supply the fun. Harry Lindsay, played by Mr. Bennett, has agreed to allow his young wife, Betty, to obtain a divorce after a meddlesome and officious young brother of the wife has succeeded in convincing her that it must be done. A professional correspondent is hired and the case heard when Harry and Betty meet, find they are just as much in love as ever, are reconciled and run away from their friends on a second honeymoon. As they leave, the brother, an embryo lawyer, arrives with the decree of divorce just granted by the court. Discovering the elopement, he and his friends follow the young couple, catching up with them at a wayside inn where they had been forced to put up for the night because of a tire blowout. Soon after the professional correspondent arrives seeking payment of her fee and then begins the succession of complications that keep the characters of the play in hot water and the audience in constant laughter throughout the three acts.

SHUBERT THEATRE.

When manager A. H. Woods undertook to produce George Broadhurst's American adaptation of Arpad Paszor's emotional play, "Innocent," from the Hungarian there was but one woman on the English speaking stage whom he could consider for the title role—a role that called for the utmost artistic delicacy of stage work and a personal charm that would carry out the author's description of Innocent "as beautiful as the orchid." Pauline Frederick, so often produced as the most beautiful woman on the American stage today, was selected to create the part of Innocent and when the play was first presented at the Eltinge theatre, New York, more than six months ago, it was generally agreed that both manager and star were unusually fortunate. Miss Frederick and the same supporting company comes to the Shubert Theatre for two weeks beginning with Washington's Birthday matinee, next Monday, Feb. 22.

The stage settings of "Innocent" are unusually elaborate, the original New York production being brought here intact. The play is in a prologue, four acts and an epilogue and the scenes are laid in Mukden, Manchuria, Budapest and Nice. Aside from these brilliant stage settings, there is the added attraction for the women patrons of the Shubert of many wonderful gowns brought by Miss Frederick from Paris in time to escape the embargo upon Paris fashions by the war.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

William Faversham in Francis de Croisset's powerful drama "The Hawk" enters upon its fourth and last week at the Majestic Theatre, Feb. 22. Never before was Boston so enthused over any play in which Mr. Faversham has heretofore appeared. As Count de Dasetta, he has added a character to his repertoire which undoubtedly will live for many seasons. From a stand-point of popularity, "The Hawk" has pleased more than any play which he has presented since "The Squaw Man." "The Hawk" is not only teeming with strong dramatic situations, but the last act contains scenes of pathos that are more tear compelling than any play that has been produced since "Camille." Of its popularity there can be no doubt, and the remainder of the engagement will undoubtedly continue to attract capacity audiences to the Majestic. The cast which includes Conway Tearle, Frank Losee and Grace Henderson has evidently pleased and the performance as a whole is one of supreme merit. The production is amply elaborate and the gowns by Doucet, the greatest of modern dressmakers, have been a delight to feminine theatreboers.

A special matinee on Monday, Washington's Birthday will be given, and the usual matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

WILBUR THEATRE.

Ask any man, woman or child in Boston which is the best show in town and the answer will invariably be "A Pair of Sixes." This tremendously successful laughter play has been running at the Wilbur Theatre for the past eight weeks, attracting the largest houses of the season, and creating more laughter than has ever before been heard within the walls of any playhouse.

"A Pair of Sixes" is without a doubt the best farce that Boston has enjoyed in many years. Every newspaper in Boston has said so, and the 90,000 people who have already seen the play at the Wilbur are unanimous in giving the same verdict. The play came to Boston for four weeks, and it became necessary to extend the engagement from week to week until it now appears as if it might have to remain another month before Boston has seen enough of this enjoyable farce. One secret of the great success of "A Pair of Sixes" is probably the fact that it contains more hearty, wholesome, healthy bursts of laughter than any play in the memory of the present theatregoers.

Matinees at the Wilbur Wednesdays and Saturdays and there will be a special matinee on Whshington's Birthday.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

Boston playgoers have been quick to appreciate the many attractive qualities embodied in the current attraction at the Colonial, which is Leo Ditrichstein in David Belasco's wonderful production of "The Phantom Rival," which proved one of the big, substantial successes of the present season in New York, and which is duplicating its record of prosperity in this city. The combination of Belasco and Ditrichstein in one of the most fascinating comedies disclosed on the local stage in many years is proving a magnet which is drawing exceedingly large audiences to the Colonial. "The Phantom Rival" is Belasco and Ditrichstein at their best, and considering the achievement of the former as a producer and of the latter as a finished actor this is sufficient guarantee of an entertainment of extreme merit in this fantastic comedy Mr. Ditrichstein is delightfully cast. He has never been seen to better advantage than in the role of the Russian, and in his portrayal of the five characters which figure in the dream, providing the central idea of the play. His is as finished a bit of acting as has ever graced the contemporaneous stage. He realizes the fullest possibilities of each character and brings to the various roles his tremendously ingratiating personality. The production shows to the fullest capacity the marvelous craftsmanship of David Belasco. The comedy has been staged with the usual careful attention to detail which marks everything Mr. Belasco does. Regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees and a special afternoon performance, Washington's Birthday.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

EXECUTORS' NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscribers have been duly appointed executors of the will of Thomas Curtis late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and have taken upon themselves that trust by giving bonds, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

THOMAS W. CURTIS,
NOAH CURTIS,
JOHN CURTIS,
(Address Care of John Curtis, Quincy, Mass.
Executors.

10 February 1915.
3t Feb. 19 26 Mar. 5

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of Joseph Chippendale late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

GEORGE R. CHIPPENDALE, Adm.
Feb. 17, 1915.
3t Feb. 19-26 Mar. 5.

TO LET

Lower flat of new house, 5 rooms, large reception hall, large bath room, combination gas and coal range, steam heat. Located in one of the best parts of South Quincy. Two minutes to electric cars, four minutes to Quincy Adams station. Rent reasonable. Apply to

JOSEPH B. GROSSMAN,
93 Goddard Street,
Tel. 1404-W Quincy. 18-tf

W. R. LOFGREN
Carpenter and Builder
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 398-3

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

TO LET
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE.
(Best location in City.)
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with cars—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.00 per week.

HALL'S RINK
Our new $200 system with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for A. F. Kribs.
Greenleaf Block. ('Phone 21066) Quincy

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Large front room, all modern improvements. Apply 102 Upland road. 18-6t

TO LET—Three unfurnished rooms with gas. $8 a month. Apply John Anderson, 159 Whitwell street. 19-3t

TO LET—Small store and tenement at 35 Willard street, West Quincy. Good chance for lady or couple, rent only $3 per week. Key at 33 Willard street. 16-6t

TO LET—Flat of five rooms at 97 Coddington street, $2.75 per week. Key at 93 Coddington street. 18-3t

TO LET—Furnished rooms in newly renovated house, hot water heat, all conveniences. Gentlemen only. Meals if desired. Garage room for one automobile. Apply to Mrs. A. E. English, 273 Newport avenue, Wollaston. 15-6t

TO LET—New single house, with 5 rooms, bath, range, hot and cold water furnace heat, gas light. Vacant Mar. 1. John A. Weeden Greenleaf Block. 15-6t

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Lower dpartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 13-9t

TO LET—After March 1, House of nine rooms with all modern conveniences at 5 Summer street. Apply to Dr. D. B. Reardon, 1186 Hancock street. 11-tf

TO LET—Apartment of five rooms and bath in new house, all modern improvements, fine location, 26 Bradford street, off Franklin street. Apply to F. Barnicoat, Quincy. 10-tf

TO LET—Lower flat, 42 Euclid avenue, 5 rooms all modern improvements. For particulars address Mr. P. J. Curry, 94 Federal avenue or phone Quincy 1075M. 9-12t

TO LET—Half of colonial house on Russell park, 7 rooms and bath, fireplace, coal and gas range and all modern conveniences. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 9-tf

TO LET—Flat of seven rooms with electric lights, gas stove, range at 32 Euclid avenue. Apply at 12 Berkeley street. 6-12t

TO LET—Two or three rooms, furnished or unfurnished for light housekeeping, all improvements, reasonable rent, board if desired. 132 Marlboro street, Wollaston Park. 6-tf.

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 37 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Four room tenement, modern improvements, new house, $16.00. Apply 115 Sumner street 6 minutes from Fore River Works. 19-3t

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

LOST

LOST—Lady's hand bag with silver monogram between Saville street and Kincaide Theatre. Reward if returned to Room 20, Greenleaf Block. 17-3t

FOUND

FOUND—A small sum of money. Owner may have same by proving property and paying charges. C. Chever, 30 Chestnut street. 17-3t

WANTED

WANTED—By a middle aged American woman position as housekeeper, experienced nurse, capable of taking full charge. Address "M. E. Z." 19 Kemper street, Wollaston. 18-6t

WANTED—Young lady for office work with some knowledge of typewriting. Write to E. Ledger Office. Feb. 18-3t

WANTED—By refined young woman position as housekeeper in widower's home. Capable of taking full charge. Write M. Ledger Office. 17-3t

WANTED—Lady to take charge of Ice Cream and Candy parlor. Apply at 1449 Hancock street, Quincy, Mass. 17-3t

YOUNG MAN WANTED.
With or without experience, to work in printing office. Must be a graduate of the High school. George W. Prescott Pub. Co.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Milk wagon runs light, will carry ton. Spent $50. on it recently. Will sell for $85. 50 Squantum street, East Milton. 19-3t

FOR SALE—A covered extension carryall in good condition; may be obtained for exceedingly small sum. Address Francis G. Shields, Milton. Tel. 838-M. 18-3t

FOR SALE—Car load of fresh calved cows and dandy springers at stable on Granite avenue, East Milton, Saturday, Feb. 20. Two minutes from depot. John Mullen. 18-3t

FOR SALE—Two flat house in South Quincy. Hard wood finish, modern plumbing. Very desirable renting proposition, never vacant since built. For particulars enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 9-tf lpo

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

A Few Choice House Lots
—ON—
PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX
are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.
SWITHIN
3 GREENLEAF BLOCK
Jan. 5-tf

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.

FOR SALE

House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,300. Straight Loan of $2,000.
EDMUND C. HAYDEN
Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing
HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.
129 Tremont St., Boston.
Oct. 8-tf

LAST TWO DAYS!!

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

Suits

Men's high grade black unfinished worsteds, blue serges and brown worsteds in regular sizes, stout and slim, regular $12.50 to $15.00 values. Sizes up to 46. Going out of business price

$7.75

Young Men's high grade, fancy suits with patch pockets and long roll, the kind you have to pay $13 to $15 in town. Our price during this sale

$7.75

Suits for best wear in fancy and plain mixtures, finest hand tailored by the best New York and Baltimore concerns. You may go in every store in town and you would not find any better at $20. Regulars and stouts. Going out of business price

$11.95

Overcoats

Young Men's Overcoats in Balmacaan and belt back, Greys and browns. Small sizes. Regular $10 value. Going out of business price

$5.95

Men's Overcoats, Convertible collar, 50 inches long. In sizes 35 to 40. Positively and actually worth $13.50 in any store in the United States. Going out of business price

$7.75

Men's High-grade Balmacaans in every shade conceivable, some with velvet collars, values $15 to $20. At this sale, All at one price

$11.95

FURNISHINGS

Men's 5c Handkerchiefs	2c
Men's Red & Blue Handkfs.	2c
Men's 15c White Handkf's.	7c

MEN'S NECKWEAR

It seems a pity to sell them so low, but necessity knows no mercy.

35c Knit Neckwear	15c
All 50c and 65c Ties	29c
Pure Silk Knitted and Silk Ties, extra large shape, $1.00 and $1.50 value	63c

MEN'S HOSE

15c Cotton Hose All Colors	8c pr.
Middlesex 15c Hose	10c pr.
25c Pure silk pleated All Colors	16c pr.
25c Cotton Hose Stag, All Colors	18c pr.
50c Onyx and Gordon brands Pure silk hose in white and colors Going out of business price	29c pr.

UNDERWEAR

UNION SUITS, STAG AND MADEWELL

$1.00 grade sale price	78c
$1.50 grade all shades	$1.10
$2.00 grade sale price	$1.28
Natural woolen Shirts and Drawers $1.50 grade. Sale price	89c
PAJAMAS, $1.50 value	76c
Boys' Bath Robes $4 value	$1.98
Greenwood Ear Muffs	.17c
Paris Garters	19c

BLACK AND WHITE SHIRTS

Regular $1.50 grade, the black predominating. At this Going out of Business sale All sizes. 88c

No More GROSSMAN

NEW KINCAIDE BLOCK

GUSTAVUS PRATT DEAD.

Gustavus Pratt, 58 years old, a former contractor in East Weymouth, member of the Weymouth Board of Water Commissioners and a chief engineer of the Weymouth fire department, died Thursday at a Westboro Hospital. He is survived by his wife three sons and two daughters.

BE PREPARED

For Holiday

FOR TOMORROW SATURDAY WE OFFER

Fresh Pork To Roast	.12lb
Leg AND Loin SPRING Lamb	.16lb
Short Legs SPRING Lamb	.17lb
Forequarters SPRING Lamb	.10lb

This Store will close ALL DAY MONDAY, FEB. 22nd

Brown AND Crowell

Tel. QUINCY 78

SPORTING COMMENT

Joseph T. Higgins, the Holy Cross star, winner of the Mayor Curley trophy at the Irish-American games Jan. 30 and the 1,000-yard run at the B. A. A. meet Feb. 6 injured an ankle Thursday and is out of commission, probably for the rest of the season.

The Milton Academy hockey players were awarded the school letter and silver pucks Thursday. Edward Cabot was unanimously elected captain for 1916. Trainor, Clark, Broughton and Felton will enter Harvard this fall.

Jimmy Polious suffered an injury to his back Thursday night when thrown by Peter Goulette after 45 minutes wrestling and the match was called off.

Joseph Mayer, the former National amateur champion will play Willie Hoppe the four remaining exhibition games.

Braintree A. A. lost its first in 11 games to Oliver Ames Thursday night The score was 35 to 34. A foul did it. Billie Manning shot eight baskets.

Jack Twin Sullivan in the rings for 17 years, got knocked out in the fifth round by Jim Coffey in New York Thursday night.

The Y. P. R. U. of the First Parish church will hold a dance in Alpha hall this evening.

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

The Presbyterian Manse on Quincy street will shortly be occupied by John Collins and family of Pleasant street

Christopher Daley of Smith street is enjoying a few weeks vacation. He is in poor health.

Timothy Morrisson of Wilson street has accepted a position with the Metropolitan Park Commission.

Members of the Pastime Social club are to visit the Pioneer Social club of Dorchester Sunday afternoon.

Albert Norling of Chicago is spending a few weeks with his father on Wilson street.

Miss Amy Medlyn is spending a few days with her mother on Town Hill street.

George Dunham, the local manager of the Prudential Life Insurance Co., is ill at his home on School street.

Henry Elrick, formerly of Quincy who is now engaged in the automobile business in Dorchester is visiting relatives and friends in South Quincy Archille Baldovin, proprietor of the fruit store at Brewers corner is confined to his home with a serious attack of the grip.

Headmaster E. L. Collins of High school and Messrs. Mansur, Roache, Paulsen, Thomson and French will spend the March vacation at French's Pond, N. Y.

Manager Louis Ross was not operated upon at the Massachusetts General Hospital Thursday. The surgeons upon examination, decided to wait another week.

Henry Gardner Pratt of 16 Edwards street, observed the 85th anniversary of his birth Wednesday, neighbors and friends being invited to his home where they enjoyed a turkey supper in his honor.

The Makaria Fraternity basket ball team will play Saturday night. The first team plays the Rockland Y. M. C. A. and the second the strong St. Joseph's team of Boston. Both contests should be interesting.

The special bowling match between the professional and business men of City Square, with a handsome, gold lined silver cigarette case as a trophy, was not rolled Thursday afternoon owing to pressure of business It will take place within a few days.

The Y. P. R. U. of the Swedish Congregational Church will observe Washington's Birthday with a turkey supper at six o'clock on Monday evening. The committee in charge is Miss Ruth Eckstrand, Miss Olga Johnson and Paul Palmgren.

The boys of Bethany castle, Knights of King Arthur, are looking forward to the regular meeting of the castle which will be held this evening, on which occasion they will have for their guests the members of the Bethany Brotherhood. The interesting event of the meeting will be the installation of the newly elected officers of the castle.

Consequences and other games which do not violate the neutrality of the United States were played after the regular meeting of the George L Gill Rebekahs in Odd Fellows hall Thursday night. They were under the direction of Mrs. Sadie M. Walker, Mrs. Marie Richardson and Mrs. Annie Pushee.

Ten tables were in play at the matinee whist of the George L. Gill Associates in Odd Fellows hall Thursday afternoon. The souvenirs were won by Mrs. H. Tenney, I. O. Brotherson Mrs. H. Berman, Miss M. Lizzie Furnald. Mrs. Martha Jones, Mrs. Mary Thomas, Mrs. C. L. Lewis. The consolation went to Mrs. Mary Jones.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

TO LET—A good tenement now ready. Rent reduced to $18.75 per month. C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 19-6t

LOST—Feb. 10, on Wollaston car, between Elmwood avenue and Pleasant street, Dorchester, lady's gold brooch, flower pattern, diamond centre. Return to Mrs. Greenbaum, 175 Safford street. 19-3t

DEATHS

PRATT—In Westboro, Feb. 18, Gustavus Pratt of East Weymouth, aged 58 years.

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

GRASS FIRE.

Department Has To Work Hard To Extinguish It.

The central station auto chemical was called on a still alarm at 12.55 this noon for a lively grass fire between Mt. Wollaston cemetery and the pine grove on the Adams farm. The fire made a big blaze and was rapidly eating its way toward the pine grove when the apparatus arrived. It required half an hour of hard work to extinguish it.

WORKING IN KEENE BANK.

Donald P. Crane, a son of City Clerk Emery L. Crane has accepted a position in the Keene, N. H., national bank, at which institution he began his duties on Wednesday. Mr. Crane has been attending Colgate college, but completed his course at mid-year. He will be employed in the bank until June when he goes back to college to graduate.

SERVICES FOR MRS. ALLARD.

The funeral of Mrs. Engler C., widow of Carl C. Allard, who died at the home of her son in Montclair Wednesday, was held this noon from her late home. The services were of a simple nature and were conducted by Rev. J. O. Backlund of Roxbury. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

W. EDWIN WALLACE.

The funeral of W. Edwin Wallace of 167 Billings road was held this afternoon from his late home. The services were conducted by J. Elliott Sprague, First Reader of the First Church of Christ Scientist, Quincy. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Alexis Elcock of New York, is visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. James B. Elcock of Copeland street. He had charge of a show yard in New York of Elcock & Sons, and came home during the dull season. He will return to New York the middle of March. He reports weather conditions in New York are against the trade.

DEATH OF FRANK JAMES

Was Once Leader of Notorious Bandit Gang In the West

Excelsior Springs, Mo., Feb. 19.—Frank James, one of the last surviving members of the notorious James gang, died on his farm near here. James, who was 74 years old, was stricken with apoplexy.

One of the last members of a notorious robber band, whose unparalleled career of crime kept the people of a dozen states in terror, Frank James had been living the quiet life of a farmer for more than thirty years.

The son of a respected minister, Frank James joined Quantrell's guerillas in the Civil war, together with his brother Jesse, and took part in the sacking of Lawrence, Kan.

When the war came to an end they were hunted far and wide by relatives of those who had met death at their hands. Driven here and there, they soon became outlaws.

Many notorious crimes of the decade following the war have been laid at the door of the James-Younger gang, of which the surviving members were Frank James and Cole Younger, the latter of whom is now living at Lees Summit, Mo.

In 1882, after Jesse James had been shot and killed by Bob Ford, also a bandit, for a reward of $50,000, Frank James surrendered in Jefferson City. He was sentenced to life imprisonment, but after a few years he developed symptoms of tuberculosis and was pardoned by the governor.

PRESIDENT SHOULD HAVE FREE HAND

Mann Says We Must Trust Him With Our Foreign Affairs

Washington, Feb. 19.—Far eastern affairs were brought up again in the house by Representative Hobson, who has resolutions pending which refer to the Japanese demands on China.

Republican Leader Mann and Chairman Flood of the foreign affairs committee both protested that the subject should not be complicated, and that President Wilson should be left with a free hand in dealing with the situation.

"At this time," said Mann, "it is absolutely necessary that the house and the people of the country place their reliance in the President of the United States.

"We must trust him in these matters, and we must not endeavor to annoy, hamper or interfere with him. I believe he is anxious to preserve the rights of this country and to preserve peace. I hope we will be able to protect our rights and to preserve peace. The only thing we can do under the circumstances is to have faith in the administration."

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

Meats "R" Cheaper

Roast Pork (strip)	12 1-2c lb
Fresh, Smoked & Corn Shoulders	12 1-2c lb
Hams (Swift's Sugar Cured)	18c lb
Fancy Corned Brisket	17c lb
Choice Roast Beef	15c lb up
Fancy Turkeys (strictly fresh)	25c lb
Fancy Fowl (fresh killed)	23c lb

and hundreds of other good things that make a good satisfying dinner at lower prices than ever. Also Fresh Fish daily and a full line of groceries.

Closed all day Monday, Feb. 22d.

QUINCY PUBLIC MARKET

1514 Hancock St., Kincaides Bldg.

Phone 1434 J. Legal Stamps Free Delivery

STORE CLOSED ALL DAY MONDAY

BIRTHDAY SALE

On Saturday for Washington's Birthday

We have used our energy and ability to the fullest extent to make your Sunday and Monday dinner a real Home Pleasure. We have succeeded by stocking our refrigerators and glass show cases to their utmost capacity with choicest lines of Swifts Heavy Corn Fed Beef and Genuine Spring Lamb, Fresh Killed Native Chicken and Fowl and Eastern Little Pig Pork.

LEG and LOIN Lamb .18lb Swift's Genuine Spring

FORES LAMB .12 1-2 lb

Eastern Little Pig Pork .14 1-2 lb To Roast by the Strip

Green Mountain Potatoes $1.25 2 Bushel Bag

Saturday will be Roast Beef Day

Rump Roast and Steaks
Sirloin Roast and Steaks
French Roast and Steaks

will be our leaders. You are cordially invited to look them over. Our Standard of High Quality will do the rest. You know the price of Beef is Lower, that is why we invite you

Fresh Killed Native Chicken .25lb

Fowl 3 lbs. Average .21lb

SUGAR CURED HAMS .18lb Weigh about 12 lbs,

Vegetables

Southern Spinach	35c Pk.
Rhubarb	12 1-2c lb.
Lettuce, very heavy	9c Head
Good Lettuce	7c Head

Fruit

Large navel Sunkist Oranges	29c Doz.
Sweet Floridas	21c Doz.
Grape Fruit, medium	5c, large 7c
Cranberries	7c
Cooking apples	35c Pk.
Fancy Eating	50c Pk.
Wine sap apples Very Large	3 for 10c

Coughlin & Donovan

High Quality Market 1475 Hancock Street

FREE DELIVERY TEL. 696-W

Wedded Happiness

can be assured by good meats. A healthy, and well fed man makes the ideal husband. Lay the best meats before him and merit his everlasting appreciation. We stock the best in everything procurable.

Legs Best Lamb	.20 lb
Fores Best Lamb	.12 lb
Prime Rib Roast Beef	.14 and .18 lb
Choice Cuts, all meat, for Pot roasts	.18 lb
Fresh Pork, strip	.14 lb
Corn Beef Tongue	.20 lb
Fancy Capons	.28 lb
Florida Celery	.15 bunch
Radishes	.05 bunch
Cranberries	.05 qt
Richardson & Robbins Tomatoes	.15 can $1.55 doz
Hatchet Brand Corn	.12 1-2 can 1.45 doz
Sugar Peas	.12 1-2 can 1.45 doz
McVitie & Price's Imported Biscuits 13 kinds	.21 lb
Sweet Navel Oranges	.25 doz

Closed Monday, all day, Washington's Birthday.

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980

FOY'S 2 STORES

WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

Advertise in the Ledger

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily -- Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 44 QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 20, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

MEN'S ASSEMBLY HAS ITS FIRST MEETING

"George Washington" Is Speaker's Subject at Supper of Wollaston Club

The first regular meeting of the newly organized Men's Assembly was held, Friday evening, in the chapel of the Wollaston Baptist church. Since the organization meeting last month the membership has advanced by leaps and bounds. There were 127 at the supper and the active membership list totals 145.

The supper was of roast beef and was delightfully served by the young ladies of the church. Jonquils graced the tables and at each place were miniature hatchets and cherry napkins. Large flags and other national emblems were hung on the walls.

During the supper popular songs were sung and music by a quartet was enjoyed. "In May Time" and "Willie had a purple Monkey" were the offerings. Comprising the singers were: William Bullock, Charles A. Kempton, Artemus Dingwell and Edward Bullock.

One of the features of the evening was the presentation of a large apple pie by the ladies to Ernest W. Campbell. There are certain traditions concerning Mr. Campbell and apple pie and this occasion was taken to bring the matter once more to the fore.

At the business meeting President Charles W. Bailey appointed the following committees for the year:

Program—Vernon A. Field, Arthur W. Bullock, Charles E. Goodspeed.

Supper— Ernest W. Campbell, Charles B. Hall, Kendall F. Harriman.

Membership—E B. Neal, Stewart Walther, James P. Cahill, Louis S. Cleaves, A. L. Walker.

"The Star Spangled Banner" and other national anthems were sung and Vernon A. Field displayed in honor of the occasion, a gavel and stand of historic interest, which were presented to him during the dedication of the Pilgrim Monument at Southampton, England.

In introducing the speaker President Bailey mentioned the number of firsts the evening included. "This is the first time I have been president of a society," he said "and this is the first real meeting of the new organization.

"This is the baby society of Wollaston and I am not sure but what it has been born full grown. We are to hear about the first boy who never told a lie, and the first to cut down his father's cherry tree. He was the first not to tell a lie and I am inclined to think the last."

The speaker of the evening was M. C. Freeman, sub master of the High School of Practical Arts, Boston. His subject was "George Washington."

In smooth flowing sentences and delightful word pictures the speaker drew a mental portrait that will long live in the minds of his audience. Not only were the familiar facts of history repeated but the motives lying behind the character of this world figure were disclosed in a manner to make one feel an intimate acquaintance with the man.

His excellent circumstantial training as a boy for the great responsibilities he would later assume were clearly outlined. "The hatchet story" said the speaker "contained the essential germ of truth, if not the actual truth of fact."

Mr. Freeman painted an interesting picture of "British insolence creating American independence." He paid a high tribute to Washington and emphasized his purity of purpose and undying faith. Said the speaker: "His was the very incarnation of patriotism. In every crisis he rose sublime, to be the prop of other men." "America" was sung, in closing, under direction of Amos D. Albee.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Fair Sunday and Monday. No change in temperature.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.33
Sun sets	5.24
Length of day	10.51
Moon sets	12.26
High water, A. M.	4.15
High water, P. M.	4.45
Days increase	1 hr. 45 minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.38 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	45 degrees
Feb. 20, 1914,	31 degrees
Feb. 20, 1913,	49 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—87.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

HIGHLAND TROOP OF BOY SCOUTS

Organization Holds Meeting at Headquarters

The Highland troop Boy Scouts of America met at their headquarters 35 School street, Wednesday evening.

The following scouts were duly enrolled:—David Muckle, James Richards, Harry Harding, Alexander MacKinnon, Chester Young, Ragnar Anderson, William Stephen, Walter Orr, Russell O'Brien, George MacDonald, William Nightingale.

The following boys were also admitted to the Junior scout patrol:—John Russell, Harry Nelson, Albert Watson, John Miller, Charles Campbell, Herbert Nightingale.

James Richards was elected patrol leader of the Lion patrol and Harry Harding leader of the Hawk patrol. The leader elected for Junior patrol was John Russell. William Nightingale and Chester Young were elected assistant patrol leaders of Lion and Hawk patrols respectively. The evening was spent in games and scout practice.

DROP OUT OF LEAGUE

The Dorchester Girls bowling team has dropped out of the Greater Boston Girls league. Their withdrawal left the Quincy Girls team without a game Friday evening. Arrangements to roll the Filene team have not been completed but a match will probably take place next week.

OLD FASHIONED DANCING PARTY

Town River Yacht Club Bars Barnyard Dances

Old fashioned dancing parties appear to be returning to favor dancing parties where the fox trot hesitation one step and the like have no place, but where one's order card reads waltz, quadrille, schottische, lancers, Portland fancy, Virginia reel, etc.

It was a such party as this which was held Friday evening at Colonial hall under the auspices of the Town river yacht club. The party was held from 8 until 11 o'clock and it is safe to say that the fifty or more couples thoroughly enjoyed the old time dances. During the brief intermission at 10 o'clock light refreshments of ice cream and cake was served.

Music for the dancing was furnished by McLaughlin's orchestra and those in charge of the affair included, Geo. H. Jacques, Edward McDonald, Allan MacGeachie, A. W. Coates, Edward Royse and W. C. Luther.

WAGON AND CAR IN COLLISION

Walter Reid of Quincy avenue, a driver of an express wagon of Bruce & Warner, was the centre of a unusual collision at Atlantic Friday noon Reid drove his horse around the corner at Prospect and Sagamore streets as the Squantum car, going a fair speed, passed. The horse struck the guard handle on the rear of the car, breaking it, and was thrown. One shaft was also broken.

The car in charge of James Moran was brought to an immediate stop. The horse was uninjured. It is not believed that Reid is seriously injured.

TO REARRANGE SIGNAL BOXES

A rearrangement of signal boxes of the police department is being considered and definite action may be taken within a few days. This will be necessary because of the four new officers to be added to the force, whose names will be announced Tuesday by Mayor Campbell. The changes will probably be made in the Wollaston, Norfolk Downs and Atlantic sections.

IN HONOR OF WASHINGTON

In accordance with the usual custom exercises were held in honor of George Washington in the public schools of the city Friday as well as at the Woodward Institute. The exercises were of a patriotic nature a nd included the singing of patriotic songs, salute to the flag, and a short talk on the life and work of Washington by the head masters.

The large picture of Washington with which every school is provided was draped with American flags.

☞Brockton vs Q. H. S., Feb. 22.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

SPECIAL NOTICE

ON MONDAY, FEBRUARY 22nd

Washington's Birthday

THE OFFICE OF THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER WILL BE CLOSED ALL DAY AND NO PAPER ISSUED. TUESDAY'S LEDGER WILL HAVE ALL THE NEWS OF THE HOLIDAY

NEW ORGANIZATION HOLDS BIG SMOKER

Large Number Attend Entertainment of Sherwood Knights

OUTSIDE DELEGATIONS

About three hundred attended the first entertainment and smoker of Quincy Conclave, Knights of the Sherwood Forest held in John Ericson hall on School street, Friday evening.

The conclave has been organized but three months and is the only one of its kind in this part of the country. It is composed of the third degree Foresters of America.

A large delegation from Brockton headed by Louis P. Barry, district deputy of the F. of A., came down in taxies. There were also delegations from Taunton, Lowell, Newport and Waltham.

Short addresses were made by Louis P. Barnes of Brockton, Peter J. Barry G. S. W. of West Quincy, Alex Russell and Daniel Ford of West Quincy and William Lyons of Taunton. There were songs by Thomas Melrose and Frank Kelliher of Brockton, Parker White and James P. Sullivan of Waltham.

The committee in charge were: Chester Brown, chairman, Luther Bradbury, secretary, assisted by Hugh McClellan, George Hastings Norman Everson, Alex Russell, William Allen, John Troup, William Lilly and John Smith.

Refreshments consisting of sandwiches, ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

The sum realized will be turned into the fund to outfit a uniformed degree team.

ATTEND REUNION.

Many Quincy boys attended the Camp Wyanoke reunion at the Copley Square Hotel today. Mr. Bently, a former principal of the Coddington school is the owner and director of this camp. Glover Howe, Q. H. S. '08 a well known high school athlete of those days is a councillor at Wyanoke.

Pride of Granite lodge, Old Ladies, will celebrate its twelfth anniversary with an entertainment and dance next Thursday evening in Franklin hall, South Quincy.

☞Last home game of the season.

GRANITE LODGE HOLDS 29th BALL

Sons of St. George Enjoy Annual Concert

Granite lodge, Sons of St. George, held its 29th annual concert and ball in Music hall Friday evening with a large attendance. The guests of the evening included the English born and their sons and daughters of Quincy and vicinity.

The concert program consisted of a minstrel show and professional performers. The minstrels were Matt Fay, Adolph Restelli, George Davey and Charles Vanner. Their repertoire included the popular song hits of the day, parodies and up-to-the-minute jokes.

The grand march, which opened the second half of the program, was headed by President and Mrs. Edward J. Warmington, Jr. There were 70 couples in line. A buffet luncheon was served until 2.30 when the party came to a close.

The floor director was Stanley Collins and the assistant floor director was J. Ernest Collins. The aids were William Dunstan, John Tate, Charles Vanner and Edward J. Warmington Jr. The reception committee was Thomas J. Smith, chairman, John Tate Edward J. Warmington, Jr., and the amusement committee was Thomas J. Smith, chairman, Joseph Spargo secretary, Charles Best, treasurer, John Tate, Edward J. Warmington, Jr., J. Ernest Collins, Stanley Collins, Chas. Vanner, George Dixon, John Tite William Dunstan and Frank Bulmer.

NEW REGULATIONS IN EFFECT TODAY

The new regulations of the Fire Prevention Commissioner, governing the erection of advertising devises on buildings and the maintenance of skylights and chimneys will go into effect today and thereafter no signs or advertising devises may be erected upon any building in any city or town in the Metropolitan district, unless its construction is approved by the local building commission or inspector. The head of the fire department however may appeal from any decision of the building inspector to Commissioner O'Keefe.

GRAND SENTINEL VISITS.

Quincy Lodge, N. E. O. P., Holds Meeting.

Grand Sentinel Frank H. White officially visited Quincy lodge, N. E. O. P., Friday evening at its meeting in Protection hall. He was accompanied by Deputy Grand Warden, Miss Margaret A. Trainor of Dorchester. Both spoke on the good of the order. A social hour during which games were played brought the evening to a close.

☞Charles C. Hearn the city square druggist is giving away absolutely free a beautiful American flag with every pound box of "Saturday Candy." The chocolates are the product of the H. D. Foss Company one of the best makers of fine candies in the land. The flag is very appropriate since Washington's birthday is only a day away. It will pay you to visit Hearn's drug store after you read his advertisement in today's Ledger.

☞PRATT'S BREAD Is liked by the most discriminating people. Grocers sell it.

BETHANY CASTLE HOLDS IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

Installation of Officers By Knights of King Arthur

The newly elected officers of Bethany castle, Knights of King Arthur, were publicly installed Friday evening at the Bethany church in the presence of a large gathering of the parents and friends of the Sir Knights, as well as a delegation from the new castle now forming at Wollaston and from the Bethany Brotherhood.

The installation ceremony was carried through with a dignity and precision which would have done credit to some of the well known fraternal organizations. The installing officer was Sir Merlin, Richard Wetherell, who was assisted by Sir Kay, Guy Shaw.

The ceremony took place in the hall of the castle, located in the basement of the chapel. The hall was arranged to represent the throne room of King Arthur. At one end was the Throne which had been set up beneath a large canopy. On the walls at the right and left were the shields of the castle, while directly in front was a large American flag, to which the Sir Knights pledged allegiance, and the castle banner a white Maltese cross on a field of red, representing purity and courage.

When all was in readiness the Sir Knights, some fifty in number, marched into the room and after going through their evolutions formed an arch with their spears beneath which the king marched to his throne. The officers of the castle wore their robes of purple, white, black and red, according to the office which they held, the Maltese cross being prominent upon each.

Before starting in with the ceremony Sir Merlin Wetherell said that he had a pleasant duty to perform which was to announce that Sir Knight Wesley Williams, the first king of Bethany castle, and Sir Knight F. Warren Crane, the retiring king, had been selected to be raised to the degree of Baron, with the rank of peer, in the International order. This degree he then conferred upon them, presenting them with the certificate and jewel, symbolic of their new rank and placing upon the purple cape, worn by members of the degree of baron. The following officers were then inducted into office:

King, Arthur Beach.
Constable, Henry Laing.
Sentinel, William McLean.
Heralds, Harold Deacon, Albert Allan.
Chancellors, Walcott Griffiths, Carl Pierce, Percy Jenkins.
Master of Ceremonies, Richard Clark.
Armor, John Willmott.
Chamberlains, Russell Williams, Walter Sargent, Edwin Ruggles, Ralph Hayden, William Thompson, Webster Pierce, Fred Jones, Edward Miller.
Bugler ,Sumner Swingle.

After being invested in his royal robe and upon taking his seat on the Throne Sir Beach, the new king, spoke briefly saying, "Ladies and gentlemen it gives me great pleasure to accept the office as your new king and I will strive to do my duty as best I can to help out the future of the castle."

Then came cheers, that were given with a vim, as only boys know how, for the new king, the retiring king, Rev. Mr. Willmott, the installing officers and others.

A brief entertainment followed which included piano solos by Richard Clark, vocal solo, by Wesley Williams, and violin solos by Guy Shaw. Rev. Mr. Willmott was then introduced and spoke briefly of the work that the boys were doing.

"It might be supposed that the boys were on their good behavior tonight, but I want to assure the ladies and gentlemen present that their work at regular conclaves is carried on with as much dignity as had been shown here tonight. After the conclave is over it is another question and they are as lively and noisy as boys usually are. The Knights of King Arthur is not a play organization but has a definite propaganda of what it is trying to do. It is a training school in many things. There are many things that a boy needs. It also has a definite religious place for teaching and religious influence.

"From this organization we expect that the boys will enter the church and become active workers. Much credit is due Richard Wetherell for his untiring work in bringing the castle to the high standard which it is today. During my three years in Quincy I have seen these boys grow. They were kids when I first came here. Now they are young men. I want to say that it had been my delight to work among the boys, and I also want to say that I never met a cleaner lot of boys than I have in this castle. I have never found one thing among the boys not wholesome, and clean, both morally and physically. They are honorable boys."

Rev. Mr. Willmott also spoke of the Boys Work committee of the Womans Union of the church and of the Bethany Brotherhood in behalf of the castle.

Ernest L. Collins, vice president of the Bethany Brotherhood spoke briefly for that organization, presenting the castle with some play tables, which he said had not yet arrived. They were on the way however. The tables were presented in behalf of the Brotherhood.

Richard Wetherell the installing officer spoke briefly, expressing his gratification at the interest the boys were taking in the work of the castle.

Rev. George W. Bailey of Wollaston expressed his gratification at the oportunity to be present and said that he hoped for their assistance in the castle which was to be formed at Wollaston.

Ice cream and cake were than served and the castle was closed in due form.

TOO MANY LAWYERS.

Henry R. Holden of Adams street was elected a member of the executive committee at the meeting Thursday night in Boston of the New England Leather and Shoe Findings Association. Frank W. Whitcher one of the speakers thought there were too many lawyers in the State and Federal government. He outlined a plan by which manufacturers could register retail prices and try to hold retailers to the schedule. Legislation involving the plan will be taken up by the Federal Trade commission.

☞Feb. 22, 1915, at 3 P. M.

☞Brockton vs Q. H. S., Feb. 22.

WENEGATE AUTO TOP & BODY CO.
PACKARD FORE DOORS $30
Runabout, Hearse, Truck, Touring, Limousines, and Speed Bodies made to order, Mud Guards, Hoods, Tops, Slip Covers, Wind Shields and Repairing of all kinds.
CONVERTIBLE LIMOUSINE TOPS FOR ALL MAKES OF CARS
ALL WORK GUARANTEED—PRICES VERY REASONABLE
637 WASHINGTON ST.--Tel. Dor. 1180--DORCHESTER, MASS.
Feb. 18-1m

NOTICE TO SHIPPERS
EXPRESS SERVICE DISCONTINUED
On and after March 1, 1915, the BAY STATE STREET RAILWAY COMPANY will discontinue its arrangements for picking up and delivery of express matter by teams. This should not be confused with its conduct of Freight Service, which will be operated as in the past.
3t Feb. 20-24-26

ISLE OF PINES
An association is now being formed to own 100 acres of grapefruit or 7000 trees. Join now--membership $250.00, $10.00 down and $5.00 per month. 6 pct. guaranteed for the first five years and then each member gets 85 pct. of the profits. Write for particulars.
ISLE OF PINES ASSOCIATES
170 Summer St., Boston, Mass.
Feb. 11-1m

BOYS SHOES
Made to stand Hard Wear
BOSTON WELT
Regular $2 Shoe for $1.50
As a special inducement to every mother buying a pair of these Shoes we will repair your old ones for 25 cents, which is just the cost of the leather.
E F. CONLIN,
Hancock and Saville Sts. Tel. Quincy 961-M

EXPERIENCED STITCHERS
WANTED
APPLY
SOVEREIGN WAIST CO.
192 GRANITE ST.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

ESTABLISHED 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION

BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES

QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

PARCEL POST ODDITIES.

Under the heading "A Parcel Post Incident," Frank L. Masseck of Arlington writes in the Boston Herald as follows:

"I have just had an experience that shows the absurd way in which the parcel post is being conducted. I had a package of printed matter to send to Melrose. It weighed 3 3-4 pounds. On taking it to the office I was informed that the postage would be 30 cents. I questioned the charge, and was informed by the clerk that printed matter weighing less than four pounds goes at a third class rate. But if it weighed four or over it would come under parcel post rates. I immediately undid the package, added an old newspaper for wrapping, and brought the weight to four pounds and sent the package for seven cents. Isn't that absurd?"

Absurd is no name for it, it is worse than absurd as all engaged in the printing business know to their sorrow. It is rank discrimination. Why should the dry goods merchant, the shoe dealer, the farmer, the grocer, in fact everybody but the printer have the right to send their wares by parcel post at one price and the printer be discriminated against and his stock in trade charged an exorbitant rate?

Why should the printer have to go out in the street and hunt up a rock or brick or something to make a pound of printed cards or hand bills weigh four pounds? Why burden the parcel delivery with four pounds to carry when it need be only one? Echo answers, Why?

The Ledger speaks from personal knowledge, for hardly a day passes it does not have to hunt up old papers or scrap lead or something to bring a bundle up to the four pounds necessary to have it go by parcel post.

THE GANG SPIRIT.

There is one truth which has become pretty firmly established in recent years and that is that the craving of the boy to be a member of ""the gang" is normal, natural and by no means vicious. Some well-meaning people still cherish the delusion that the proper way to make a man out of a boy is to force him to be a little Lord Fauntleroy. If the boy has an inclination to join the gang" and participates in stoning windows and other undesirable pastimes that boy, these persons believe, is naturally bad. As a matter of fact the boy is likely only normal. "The gang" as nearly everyone knows, can be made a power for good if rightly directed.

Such a ""gang" is Bethany Castle, Knights of King Arthur, which held so impressive an installation ceremony Friday evening. This sort of an organization is a practical illustration of what can be accomplished by harnessing the gang spirit for a useful purpose. The Boy Scouts organization is another illustration.

THE OLD DANCES.

It was refreshing to read in Friday's Ledger that an old-Fashioned dance was held Thursday night at Wollaston and thoroughly enjoyed. It was not attended by old-foggies either. Is it an indication of the times and a return to a saner outlook, not only in dancing but dress as well?

Can anybody inform us just what subtle connection there is between the coming of spring and the desire of Young America to play marbles. Although the ice is not yet off the sidewalks and the calendar says that springtime has not yet officially arrived, we may be sure that it is on the way when the small boys begin to play marbles. It is as sure a sign as the bursting of the pussywillows from their buds and just as reliable.

It will be quite a relief to have a rest from the more or less spirited recital of the adventures of "Toodles."

W. R. LOFGREN
Carpenter and Builder
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 398-3
June 24f

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

Editor The Ledger:

In the following article I will endeavor to show wherein the equiping of our quarries with railroad facilities for transportation purposes is a big business proposition; not only from the standpoint of the granite industry alone, but also from the viewpoint of the best interests of the city and the railroad itself.

The following figures will best and most effectively and clearly show that the construction of railroads to all of our quarries would be a good business investment from a purely railroad standpoint.

ORIGINAL COST OF CONSTRUCTION

Estimated cost of constructing a railroad from the Granite Branch to every quarry on the North Common.	$200,000.00
Purchase of railroad on the South Common or the West Quincy quarry hill running to all the quarries on the South Common.	75,000.00
Total cost of construction	$275,000.00

COST OF OPERATION.

Interest on capital invested $275,000.00 at 5 per cent.	$13,750.00
Maintenance and upkeep of road.	11,250.00
Total cost of operation	$25,000.00

PROPOSED RAILROAD EARNINGS

40 ton car at 25c per ton to dock or yard—$10 per car	$10
25 cars per day	25
	$250
300 days per year	300
Total or gross earnings	$75,000.00

Deducting the cost of operation ($25,000) from the gross earnings there is a net profit of $50,000 which is a net earning of more than 18 per cent. on the capital invested ($275,000.00) and there is no question but that this would be a good return on the amount invested.

The benefits from the construction of railroads to our quarries to the city and the granite industry in particular being co-related shall be considered together.

Every quarry owner, granite manufacturer and granite worker will unhesitatingly admit that the railroads to the quarries built in Barre—in less than thirty years—from a small hamlet to the richest and most prosperous city in Vermont.

Barre with her granite quarries and allied granite industries, employs more men and represents more wealth than all of the combined industries in Quincy taken together.

Notwithstanding that it is isolated, two hundred and eighty miles from a market—with no opportunity to utilize its vast quantities of grout as a by-product, by converting it into paving and foundation blocks—for 95 per cent of Barre's grout goes over the dump—and notwithstanding that it has no possibility of ever having a dock or waterway Barre has forged ahead and has become the leading granite centre in the East.

Quincy on the other hand, located at the very door of a great market for the disposal of its by-products—by converting its grout into paving and foundation blocks—has been content to continue the methods of our fore fathers; and by reason of our failure to procure railroad facilities of transportation the granite industry in Quincy has been on the decline and it will continue to be so until our quarries are equipped with the railroads which they so badly need and justly deserve.

One word at this time concerning the paving industry in Quincy. The late Charles Wilson alone shipped from Quincy over ten million paving a year and employed more men (twice over) cutting paving alone than are employed today in all of the quarries in Quincy together. During the past year the paving dealers in the city of Quincy did not sell three hundred and fifty thousand paving all told. Railroads, to all our quarries would resurect the paving business in Quincy and would decimate every mountain of grout now obstructing valuable quarry land and at the same time this waste would be utilized into use and profit.

At the present time there is no one quarry in the city that can undertake a large contract for paving or grout, solely because of the present lack of railroad facilities to our quarries.

Our mislocated and congested freight yards at South Quincy, West Quincy and East Milton are an abomination to the granite industry; a curse to the city; and expensive to the railroad to operate. Railroads to the quarries would eliminate these antiquated, expensive and hap-hazard methods of doing business. To illustrate—the Merrymount Granite Co. owns over twenty-six acres of some of the best quarry land in the city with about one acre of the same in use: with a costly cutting plant located at Quincy Adams which they are obliged to maintain under the present system with no railroads to the quarries. Thus they are compelled to use land for their cutting plant which is worth fifty cents a foot for business purposes, as it is the best location in South Quincy for a business block, while better land for the location of their cutting plant near their quarry which is taxed little over one cent a foot must remain vacant and idle solely because of the lack of railroad facilities to their quarry.

Railroads to the quarries will expedite business, save expense, and knock out competition.

From my experience as a quarry operator I feel positive that the by-product of the Quincy quarries—with proper railroad facilities to all of the quarries—would more than pay all operating expenses, pay off the help, and all of the taxes of every quarry in the city.

The granite industry to Quincy is worth more than all of the other industries that can possibly come to Quincy in the next fifty years. So let us co-operate for the good of the industry and the city and see that our quarries are equipped with the railroads which they need and justly deserve.

Yours for co-operation,
GUSTAVE B. BATES.

THANKS LEDGER.

Editor The Ledger:

I wish to express my thanks to the Daily Ledger for the kind publicity given to the Newsboys Club on Thursday, Feb. 18th.

Yours for business and prosperity,
DAVID POLOVSKY.

WOLLASTON VESPERS.

A vesper service is to be held in the Wollaston Unitarian church Sunday at 4.30 o'clock. A fine musical program will be rendered by the Apollo quartet, one of the best male quartets in Boston. All seats are free and the public is cordially invited. Following is the order of service:

Organ Prelude.
Call to Worship.
Anthem, "I will lift up mine eyes," Scott
Devotional Service.
Chant "The Lord's Prayer"
Poem.
Anthem "Lead Kindly Light" Buck
Responsive Reading from the Psalms
Chant "Now unto the King Eternal"
Anthem "Just beyond the Hilltops" Arranged.
Scripture Lesson.
Prayer and Response "Heavenly Father."
Hymn, Offering and Consecration.
Anthem "Eternity"
Sermon.
Hymn.
Benediction and choral response.

Visit your High school Gym Monday P. M.

AN AMERICAN FLAG FREE WITH A POUND OF OUR Saturday Candy
REGULAR 40c. VALUE FOR
29c
This offer is good for Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Get that Flag TODAY
HEARN
THE DRUGGIST

TELLS OF SARANAC WINTER CARNIVAL

Quincy friends of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice P. Spillane of Elm street, who are spending the winter at Saranac lake, New York, will be interested to read Mrs. Spillane's account of the winter carnival held there last week. It is held every two years and is a big event participated in by all the guests at the hotels and camps. Mrs. Spillane in a personal letter to a Quincy friend interestingly describes the various events as follows:

"Tuesday the day of our big parade was cold and the snow falling, lest perchance the foot already delivered might wear out. At 1.30 every float was in motion and the mercury 4 degrees below zero. In short order the wind instruments became frozen, leaving the burden to the drummers. Every house and street along the line of march was gaily decorated and the avenues of evergreen powdered with snow were particularly attractive.

There were 75 floats. All the doctors dressed in Irish costumes appeared on Tipperary. The New York state sanitorium float was a scream. It was labeled "Eugenic Factory," and depicted an operating room with surgeons and nurses. On the table was the subject they were fixing; hanging on the wall were odd heads, legs, arms, torsos and such like. It was a bit weird.

The "Red Cross ship" took first prize; Caribou Bill's sledge was remodeled into an esquimaux hut drawn by 15 Siberian wolf dogs and he got a prize also.

There were several sleighs beautifully decorated. The children had several floats, Little Red Riding Hood with a real wolf at her feet took a prize. There were several humorous floats especially one with wild animals from Africa, two keepers being necessary to keep the elephant from using his trunk on the bystanders.

I cannot begin to describe all the floats, suffice it to say that it was an exhibition worthy the efforts of a sizable city rather than an isolated country village. Prizes were given for the best decorated house and business block.

After the parade there was a fancy dress skating party for the children at the rink and in the evening an exhibition of fancy skating and barrel jumping by Edmund Lamy who is a Saranac lake boy and the World's champion skater. The ice palace was illuminated.

Wednesday afternoon there were international amateur speed skating races, and in the evening a fancy dress masquerade came off. You cannot imagine how beautiful many of the costumes were, just think 300 people on skates, with the thermometer hugging zero. It was fun to watch the crowd. To see a trained nurse flying in and out among all sorts of beautiful costumes was real funny. All sorts of get-ups were in evidence and the clothes in no wise told the sex.

In spite of the cold the band played and the skaters danced. Such a wonderful grand march, it was the most unusual thing I ever saw, and strange to relate I was not cold sitting on the grand stand. Of course I carried sofa pillows, hot water bottles and rugs. An indoor dance in the Boys' club followed the skating.

Thursday morning was a fine warm day. Not a cloud to be seen in the robin's egg blue sky. In the afternoon there were more international races. Montreal skaters took most of the heats although the Saranac lake boys saved some of the prizes. Hurdle jumping was new to me; how they can go like lightning and not fall is curious. An exhibition of fancy skating followed the races, and the sunset reflected on the mountains round about was a fitting close to the day's program.

Thursday night occurred the storming of the Ice Palace. Two hostile armies came from the hills with drums beating and lights sputtering to attack the palace. As the armies advanced from opposite directions the palace fired her "Long Tom's and attacked them with sky rockets and soon the heavens were aglow with all sorts of spectacular rockets. After half an hour, the invaders captured the palace and set it afire with colored lights, her guns were silenced and in short order all lights were out, then the audience withdrew in silence to their homes to wait two years for the next carnival.

YOUNG MEN MEET.

The Young Men's club of the Swedish Congregational church will meet in the church parlor Tuesday evening. Two of the members will read papers on George Washington. There will be special music and refreshments will be served.

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Suffragan Bishop Samuel G. Babcock will preach and administer the rite of confirmation at the 10.30 o'clock service at St. Chrysostom's church Sunday morning.

Junior Endeavor Society of the Atlantic Memorial church held a social in the vestry Thursday afternoon. Games were enjoyed and refreshments served.

Miss Susanna E. Ross of Fall River of the Union hospital staff is having a few weeks' rest at the home of her mother Mrs. Emma De Forrest Ross of Phillips street.

Timothy Shea of Gass place who was injured several weeks ago at the city gravel pit by falling gravel, is slowly recuperating and expects to be able to leave the hospital in a few weeks.

Sunday evening at seven o'clock Rev. William B. Ayres will lecture at the Norfolk Downs church on "Why does God permit the nations to war?" This series of lectures is calling out large audiences.

Mrs. Sarah C. Williams will conduct a whist party in Protection hall next Wednesday afternoon, instead of Tuesday afternoon as heretofore. The parties will be given on Wednesdays hereafter.

Mrs. Francis C. Lowell president of the Massachusetts branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the board of Missions is to speak Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock in the assembly room of the parish house to the Woman's Guild of St. Chrysostom's church Mrs. David L. Jewell, chairman of the Missionary committee has sent invitations to Christ church guild and Emmanuel church guild, Braintree to hear Mrs. Lowell.

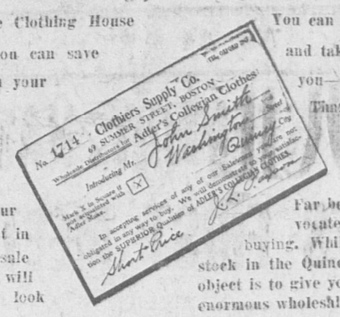

The Walther Men's Class meets Sunday at 12.15 in the Wollaston Baptist church. Rev. Joseph Walther will lead the discussion, subject, "The Death of Eli and His Sons;" prelude: "High priced banquets while so many are out of work and starving." Chorus of men and a hearty welcome for all. Men not engaged elsewhere are urged to attend and join this strong and growing class.

Sunday evening Rev. Warren P. Landers of Boston will address the Endeavor Society of Memorial church on "Meeting the Challenge," and will also preach in the evening taking as his topic "Rebuilding America." Mr. Landers is a brilliant speaker and is somewhat acquainted in Atlantic as he was one of the preachers in the church after the resignation of Rev. Mr. Coolidge seven years ago.

On Feb. 24th the Parents-Teachers Association of the Quincy school are to give an entertainment of unusual worth. An admission of 25 cents will be charged in order to provide funds for the use of the Association. Only once before in two years have they asked the public to assist in raising money and it is to be hoped all who have enjoyed the meetings for the past pear will feel glad to attend this one, especially as it will be of unusually high order.

The Christian Endeavor Society of Memorial Congregational church for the past few weeks has carried on special activities which have made the Endeavor movement felt effectively in the church and community. Sunday evening preceding the pastor's address, Miss Jessie French, president of the society gave a talk on Christian Endeavor Ideals, and emphasized the prayer life, Bible study and loyalty in service. Mr. Clarence Bird spoke on the difference in Endeavor Societies showing how some were not helpful to the church by members sitting in the back seats without any seriousness, while others were a voluntary committee to help welcome new comers.

Quincy, Norwood & Sagamore Wholesale Dept., 69 Summer St., Boston.
USE OUR INTRODUCTION BLANK
introducing you to a Big Boston, Mass.
Wholesale Clothing House
Where you can save
Money on your
Clothes

You can pay for them there
and take them with you—We manufacture
That's why

Ask for our Mr. Orent in our wholesale dept. who will cheerfully look after your wants

Far be it from us to advocate Boston clothes buying. While we carry a large stock in the Quincy store our object is to give you the benefit of an enormous wholesale stock at less than retail prices.

ORENT-PAYSON CO.
1387 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

BUTTER IS LOWER
Finest Creamery 32c lb
Sugar Corn 3 cans 25c
Early June Peas 3 cans 25c
MAPLE DAIRY
CHESTNUT STREET

UNIVERSALIST EVANGELISM.

The Universalist denomination has caught the spirit of the new forward movement of Christianity, and is making a series of efforts to apply its great principles as a working philosophy of the common life. In this connection an interesting restatement of its principles in social terms is gaining wide currancy. It is as follows:

"We believe in the Universal Fatherhood of God! Therefore this world is not a place for making archangles out of a favored few while the rest of the race drifts or drives to ruin, but a place for every human being to go forward and grow upward.

"We believe in the spiritual authority and leadership of His Son Jesus Christ." Therefore we must not only take His name upon our lips but His spirit into our lives ;and betrayal of our brothers is treason against Him.

"We believe in the trustworthiness of the Bible as containing a revelation from God." Therefore we will obey its commandments concerning our duties to others, as well as accept its promises of blessings for ourselves.

"We believe in the certainty of just retribution for sin." Therefore we and those who come after us must suffer for our social sins of commission and omission. We cannot save ourselves unless we save others.

"We believe in the final harmony of all souls with God." Therefore every surviving ignorance, every unrighted wrong, every permitted injustice that delays or arrests the growth of any human soul, delays the destiny of the Universe.

Next July a great national council of the whole church is to be held at Los Angeles, and in connection with it, a series of preaching services in the great cities of the west by leading men of the denomination on their way to California.

In Massachusetts the officers of the state convention are arranging for a campaign of Universalist Evangelism between now and Easter. Weeks of special services are to be held in most of the churches with the common purpose of making a contribution to community life. Such meetings will be held in the Quincy Universalist church March 1, 2 and 3 at 7.45 P. M. with Rev. Charles Conklin, D. D., as the preacher.

LENTEN SERMONS.

At the Universalist church, Sunday services, 3 P. M., the Rev. Merrill C. Ward announces the following sermons for Lent on fundamental matters of faith, as follows:

Feb. 21—"The God Whom We Worship."
Feb. 28—"The Bible We Believe In."
March 7—"The Hell We Shun."
March 21—"The Church We Unite With."
March 28—"The Saviour We Follow."
April 4—"The Heaven We Hope For."

PRATT'S BREAD—try it with a bowl of milk and blueberries. All grocers.

For Protection against the serious sickness so likely to follow an ailment of the digestive organs,—biliousness or inactive bowels, you can rely on the best known corrective
Beecham's Pills
(Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World) Sold Everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

NOTICE!
This space will be devoted each day—not to advertise cheap grade at full value, but Johnson Bros. Quality Goods at a sure low price.
GOLD MEDAL FLOUR
Regular Retail Price $1.20
OUR PRICE FOR SATURDAY $1.10
JOHNSON BROS., City Square.

DON'T MISS IT!
EXPLOITS of ELAINE
—ALSO—
THE BOY SCOUT FARM
A New Picture showing the military life of our Boy Scouts in America.
Hearst's Weekly and wholesome entertaining Vaudeville.
O'Reilly and The Queill Twins—Novelty Entertainers.
Thomas Gillen, Monologue Artist and The Eureaka Singing Novelty Trio.
KINCAIDE THEATRE
THURS. FRI. SAT. Daily Matinee 2.30 P. M. — Evenings at 8 P. M. — 10--15--25c
Coming --"LIFE'S SHOP WINDOW"-- Mon. Tues. Wed.
Gorgeous Photo-Play of the famous novel and play which cost over One Hundred Thousand Dollars to produce

In SOCIETY

Miss Ethel M. Pfaffmann of Worcester who came for the play and opera last week of the Quincy Women's club is continuing her visit over the week end being the guest of her aunts, the Misses Pfaffmann of Clay street.

• • •

L. M. Keene of Spear street has gone to Portsmouth, N. H., to join Mrs. Keene who has been spending a week at her former home. They return to Quincy the evening of the holiday.

• • •

Mrs. Roland MacDonald of Hancock street, Wollaston has been entertaining this week Mrs. Ida Brigham of Lynn, who was also her guest at the Wollaston Woman's club play Tuesday.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Apollonio of Billings street, are entertaining their daughter and husband from Marshfield.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Powell of Presidents hill have gone over to New York for a week.

• • •

So many enjoyed the series of opera talks by Havrah W. L. Hubbard under the auspices of the Wollaston Woman's club that he has been prevailed upon to give an extra talk on Saturday evening March 6 in the Wollaston school hall when Parsifal will be the opera. Mrs. Charles R. Safford of 150 Brook street is the committee in charge and is receiving the subscriptions to the talk.

• • •

Miss Ethel Young and Miss Dorothy Taylor have gone to Shirley, N. H., for over the week end and holiday, to be guests of Mrs. Edward Bartlett.

• • •

Mrs. Everett C. Bumpus of Presidents hill who went to Morristown, New Jersey earlier in the week to give an art talk on Thursday, is returning in time to be present at the tenth anniversary observance of the Quincy Women's Club on Tuesday, in which she is much interested as she was a charter member and the first president of the club. She returns to Morristown Wednesday to give another lecture.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis Bates of East Weymouth have issued cards to the marriage reception of their daughter Blanche Alma to ex-Councilman Harry Gardner Studley of Quincy for Wednesday evening March 10 at the Methodist Episcopal church East Weymouth, from 8 to 10 o'clock. They will make their home at the corner of Billings road and Davis street, Wollaston Park.

• • •

A particularly happy day is looked forward to next Tuesday by members of the Quincy Women's club it being the tenth anniversary of the club. There is to be open house at the clubhouse in the afternoon with music, reception and brief addresses, and in the evening a reception by the present and past presidents of the club and music, also a presentation to the city of a memorial gift which will be received by Mayor Campbell and chairman Mackay of the school committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Groce who have made their home on Alleyne terrace for several years are moving gradually in their spacious new home on Fairmount way, Presidents hill, and hope to be settled by March first.

• • •

Mrs. Hollis Black of Wollaston has been the guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Pettingill of Holbrook.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Price of 52 Billings road, Norfolk Downs leave for New York today to spend a few days with friends.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Faxon announce the engagement of their daughter Mary to Mr. Lemuel Bannister of Montclair, New Jersey. Mr. Bannister is a graduate of Harvard class of 1909 and of the Harvard Law school 1912 and is now engaged in the practice of law in New York City.

• • •

Mrs. Henry W. Tirrell of Bennington, Vermont is the guest of Mrs. Edward E. Miller of Bigelow street coming down for the opera Mikado and planning to stay until after the Quincy Women's club anniversary.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. George Baker of the Boulevard are on a trip to Maine.

• • •

Mrs. F. A. Blanchard of Norfolk Downs is the guest of Miss Nettie Blanchard of Whitman.

• • •

Mrs. Herbert Jordan and daughter, Ruth of Bridgewater have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hodgman of Norfolk Downs.

• • •

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. Joseph Singleton, 191 Fayette street, Thursday evening, when her daughter Miss Margaret Elizabeth Singleton, and Thomas William O'Connor were married by the Rev. T. W. Davison of the Atlantic Memorial church. The house was artistically decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. The bride was handsomely gowned in white crepe de chine. The couple were attended by the bride's brother and sister. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor will reside with the bride's mother.

• • •

Prison Commissioner James H. Stedman of Braintree addressed the Long Table Club at luncheon today at the Ritz Carleton hotel, Philadelphia, on the subject of "Institutional Use of Prison-Made Goods." The meeting was under the auspices of the Public Charities Association of Pennsylvania in conjunction with the City Club of Philadelphia.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. H. Everett Crane, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest V. Fitts left Wednesday for Atlantic City. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crane started yesterday and will join them there for over the holiday.

• • •

Miss Margaret Hunt, a student at Bridgewater Normal school, is spending a few days at her home on Bigelow street.

• • •

Mrs. Charles Wight of Atlantic has been visiting in Ashland her former home.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. James Granger expect to occupy their home recently purchased in Atlantic in the early spring. They come from Ashland.

• • •

The subscription list is growing larger each day for the Choral society concert to be given March second at Quincy Music hall. The Society's presentation this season for their opening concert will be Rossini's, "Stabat Mater" and Gounod's, "Gallia," two musical productions whose interpretation by soloist, chorus and orchestra should attract lovers of good music.

Fred B. Rice of Adams street is host at his farm in Peterboro, N. H., for his usual large house party over the week end and holiday.

• • •

With the holiday coming on Monday many week end parties have been arranged which not only include visits to friends, but outings to the city or country, even to beaches and camps in the woods and mountains. Many Quincy people left the city today for a few days recreation.

MOIR WEDS OHIO GIRL

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Moir on Way to Manila

Frederick Moir, son of Mrs. Alexander Moir of 419 Hancock street, who graduateed at Harvard in 1909 with a 'magna cum laude' and has since been in the Civil service bureau of the Philippines, and his bride, Helen Schnell of Mt. Pleasant, Ohio are spending their honeymoon by sailing to their new home in Manila, P. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Moir were strangers until two years ago when they met at Manila, where Miss Schnell was visiting her sister, Mrs. Carleton Fraser, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., at Manila. She returned just before the outbreak of the European War. The marriage was performed at Mt. Pleasant, Feb. 6, and the couple left immediately for San Francisco from which port they sailed last Saturday.

The marriage of Miss Schell and Mr Moir was anticipated in the early fall of this year.

Mr. Moir resigned from his government position last July and was in Germany when the war broke out. He reached here after long delays and expected to devote himself to business.

Late in January he was asked to reconsider his resignation and he returned a favorable answer on his promotion to first assistant of the bureau.

Miss Schell immediately resigned her position as a teacher in the Muscatine High school and prepared for her wedding. She has taught in the State College at Ames as an assistant in chemistry and is a member of Alpha Phi Sorority and while at Wesleyan was elected to Oita Phi, the honorary society at the college, election to which is by the faculty.

SEEK IDENTITY OF DEAD MAN

The police of Braintree, Holbrook and Randolph are seeking identification of the man found badly mutilated on the railroad tracks at the Highland station, Braintree near the Holbrook line, at 5.30 o'clock this morning.

The man was found at 5.30 by Patrick Madigan, a track walker, and is thought to have fallen from a freight or to have been struck by an earl ytrain. Life was extinct but a few minutes when the body was found.

The man is thought to have been between 40 and 45 years old. He is 5 ft. 9 in in height, dark complexion and wore a black moustache, a black corduroy coat and vest and blue striped shirt. One leg was cut off and his head was badly gashed. Medical Examiner Jones viewed the remains but found nothing to assist in the identification.

GET BIDS FOR SCHOOL CHAIRS

Bids were opened by Commissioner Brown this week for furnishings for the four room addition to the Atherton Hough school at Houghs Neck. There were three bids received. The specifications called for bids for 166 sets of desks and chairs, 4 swivel chairs and 4 visitors chairs.

The bids received were as follows:

American Seating Co., Boston	$728.90
Henry L. Kincaide & Co.	776.90
H. J. Harwood Sons, Inc., Boston	796.50

The original furnishings for the Atherton Hough school were manufactured by the American Seating Co. who at that time were represented in Quincy by Kincaide. On this contract however both firms submitted bids, and the American Seating Co. was the lowest bidder by $48. It is probable that the contract will be awarded to the American Seating Co.

Brockton vs Q. H. S., Feb. 22.

Woman's World

Miss McCalmont, Efficiency Expert In Regard to Hospitals.

MISS MABEL M'CALMONT.

Miss Mabel E. McCalmont is a hospital consultant. She has a home in Brooklyn, a registration address in California, and she works wherever her commissions take her. She received her diploma as a trained nurse from the National Homeopathic hospital in Washington. Later she became superintendent of St. Luke's hospital in Baltimore. It was while she was in Baltimore that she met a director in Philippine health affairs, who persuaded her to go to Manila.

In 1908 she took the civil service examination and became superintendent of the Civil hospital in Manila, as well as supervising nurse of the board of health. This work led to the position of chief of the division of hospital construction and equipment. She returned to New York in 1911. She had seen—what numbers of the public are constantly hearing referred to—the waste of money and materials and the inefficient management in hospitals. Having been "on the inside," she knew just how difficult a perfect organization is to effect. Thus her plan: Why not create the position of one, with practical experience, whose time may be devoted entirely to solving the problems of hospitals effectively?

Thus it was she originated the profession of which she is the sole feminine member, that of consulting expert in regard to hospitals. She has frequently given advice of the highest value in the case of hospitals seeking to secure more economical and efficient service.

CHIC DANCE GOWN.

Coquettish Flounced Creation Shown Among Spring Models.

The frilled or flounced frock is conspicuous among the models which fashionable modistes are pushing for spring.

NET DANCE DRESS.

Frills are of various sizes, but those of moderate width seem most popular.

A dance frock of black satin is illustrated here. The skirt is draped with a series of black net flounces edged with velvet. The long waisted bodice of black velvet is softly wrinkled, with low placed velvet flowers and shoulder straps of large jet beads.

Substitute For Butter.

Olive oil as a substitute for butter is responsible for the delicious flavor of many French and Italian dishes. The American housewife who experiments with oil as a butter substitute in cooking finds that it has many advantages. It does not burn as quickly as butter and therefore does not require so careful watching. It also lends a rich flavor which cannot be secured in any other way.

CARE OF THE EYES.

Here are a few "don'ts" for those who have pretty eyes, value them and would like to retain them:

Don't go out with your eyes exposed to very cold winds.

Don't work with a strong light facing you.

Don't leave a hot room suddenly for a cold, raw outside temperature. Try to break the shock in some way.

Don't open the eyes under water, especially when bathing in the sea.

Don't use cold water to bathe inflamed eyes. As hot as can be borne is far better for them.

Don't sleep so that the morning sun falls directly upon your face and awakens you.

Don't be too vain to go to a good oculist and wear what he suggests in the way of glasses, or you may risk losing what eyesight you have very quickly.

Prevention is always better than a cure, but a cure is better than blindness.

CARE OF SILVER.

Sand or Scouring Soap Should Not Be Used.

All plate and silver ware which is in regular use and not stored in such a way as to protect it from discoloration should be carefully polished once a week. It is best to have a regular time for this purpose.

Never use sand or scouring soaps, pumice stone or gritty washing powder for silverware or any other polishes the nature of which you do not understand. Many of them will scratch the silver and others will discolor it beyond repair.

Articles recommended for the polishing of silver, if not much stained, are whiting, either fluid, dry or moistened with alcohol or sweet oil; prepared chalk, cream of tartar, milk or a solution of alum.

To apply these use chamois skin, velveteen or pieces of old woolen or flannel underwear or pieces of old linen tablecloths. An old toothbrush or nailbrush with soft bristles might be used if preferred.

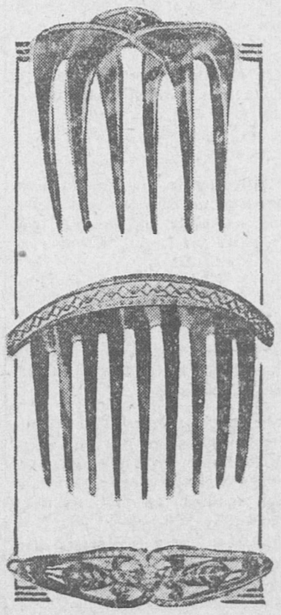

To wash silver prepare suds with boiling water, in which dissolve about an ounce of hard white soap to a quart of water and add a teaspoonful of soda. Into this put the silver pieces and boil them for a few minutes. Pour off the suds, pour over the silver clean boiling water, wipe dry on a clean towel without draining and polish with a piece of chamois skin.

ATTRACTIVE COMBS.

Jeweled Ornaments Which Are Suitable For the Evening Coiffure.

Pins and hair ornaments may cost as much as you can afford or as little as you wish. There are simple ones in very fair imitation of tortoise shell and adorned with artificial gems that are comparatively inexpensive.

The high back comb has won great favor. The fan shaped, four pronged jewel has an air or daring individuality about it that imparts to the coiffure a coquettish freedom.

SMART COMBS AND BARRETTE.

With it the hair is drawn smooth and high, away from the brow as well as from the nape of the neck.

The attractive combs and barrette illustrated are in tortoise shell decorated with rhinestones.

Fancy Powder Box.

A very pretty, yet inexpensive gift can be made by covering a box of ordinary face powder with a scrap of cretonne. A delicate pink and green pattern or a blue design on a white ground would be attractive.

The cretonne should be stretched over the lid and box so there will be very little fullness. Any extra goods can be disposed of by fastening it in very tiny plaits. The raw edges are pasted to the edge of the box, where they are covered with a very narrow gold braid or any gimp which would look well with the cretonne used.

Needless to say, the pasting must be very carefully done, as the beauty of the little box will depend upon neat workmanship and agreeable colors.

Furniture Storage Warehouse

Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.

Rates $2---$3---$4 per month

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.

1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.

Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.-tf

GIVE FAIR AND DANCE TODAY

Local Committee Seek to Aid Quake Sufferers

The Italian Earthquake Committee will hold a fair and dance this afternoon and evening in Quincy Adams and Franklin halls, South Quincy in aid of the fund to allay the sufferings of those made homeless by the awful earthquake in Italy a few weeks ago.

There will be a dance in Quincy Adams hall between two and five o'clock this afternoon. From five to eight there will be a concert and entertainment. Dancing will then be enjoyed till midnight.

The committee is in charge of Abonnatti Bianchi assisted by Peter Restelli, C. Bianchi, S. Gerriasso, F. Torchi, C. Dibona, P. Scollamono, C. Colletti. There will be an all day fair in Franklin hall from two o'clock until midnight.

AGAIN PRESENT BROWNIE BALL

Capacity Audience Enjoys Second Performance

"The Brownie Ball" or Vivian's Adventures in Wonderland" was successfully repeated Friday evening in Wollaston school hall by the 250 children of the Massachusetts Fields school before a capacity audience, which left only standing room and not much of that.

The action ran most smoothly and both principals and chorus excelled their performance of the night before. A number of the principals were recipients of floral tributes.

Durng intermission several delightful violin solos were played by Miss Marion Baker accompanied by Miss Baker. Preceding the performance an instrumental overture was played by Charles E. Decker.

Candy was sold at intermission by a group of young women in costume consisting of Dorothea Joyce, Suzanna Sweeney, May Kappler, Ella Axberg, Doris Browne, Edith Marr, Mabel Routine and Florence Hall.

In charge of the candy were: Mrs. S. J. Ripley, Mrs. A. V. Bissett, Mrs. Charles A. Richardson, Mrs. Albert Shay, Mrs. George Broadbent, Mrs. Houghton and Mrs. Edward Chapman

The ushers, principally teachers of the school were: Misses Grace Spinney, Lillian Waterhouse, Annie L. Blacklock, Marjore Miller, Olive Moody, Blanche Morris, Jennie Kennedy and Alice Moody.

On the general committee were Mrs. Halley M. Fowler, assistant to the director; Mrs. Charles E. Decker and Mrs. F. N. Danforth, costumes; Miss Ruth Taylor, Miss Florence Gammans and Miss Annie Bennett, stage assistants.

WEDNESDAY LEDGER CLUB NEWS

BRIEFS

Amos Marble of Lewiston, Me., is visiting friends in Quincy.

Quincy lodge, Figli d'Italia meets Sunday afternoon in Electa hall.

Ex-Senator John J. McDevitt who has been studying law in Albany, New York is the guest of his mother, on Willard street.

Clifford Taylor of Elm street spent a few days this week with Embert F. Oliver of Avon.

Miss Ita Sullivan of Copeland street will spend the week end with relatives in Somerville.

George Rouleau of Filbert street, a popular young man of the district, has enlisted in the navy.

The Finnish Temperance society will hold a barn dance in its hall on Smith street this evening.

Skandia lodge, Vasa Orden, entertains its members and friends at a whist and dancing party in Electa hall tonght.

Harry Brown of Mattapan, formerly employed by E. J. Murphy, the druggist, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown of Hancock street.

Manet encampment, I. O. O. F., exemplified the Patriarchal degree upon eleven candidates at its regular meeting Friday evening.

Monday evening at 8.00 the Squantum Improvement Association is to hold a whist party in Richards Memorial hall.

George Haupt, a boss fitter at the Fore River yard, has been appointed to a position as foreman in the Charlestown Navy yard.

James McDonald of Willard street has accepted a position with the George A. Keith Co. in East Weymouth.

The Reapers circle of Kings Daughters met Friday evening with Mrs. Mary Pollock. The meeting was a short one owing to the special Lenton services at the church.

Quincy lodge of Elks at its meeting next Tuesday evening will hold a lodge of sorrow in memory of Joseph M. Bruce who died Feb. 9. At the business session of the lodge nominations of officers will be made.

Friends of Winfield Jacobs of Curtis street, the popular letter carrier of the Cranch school district, will be sorry to hear that he was operated upon Friday at the Quincy Hospital where he was taken suffering with appendicitis.

The annual spring fair of the Washington street congregational church, will be held next Wednesday evening. Supper will be served from 6 to 7 o'clock, the menu of which will consist of roast pork, mashed potatoes, turnips, cranberry sauce, baked beans rolls, coffee and pies. At 8 o'clock a very pleasing, entertainment will be held, and will include piano solos, and dialogues.

Mrs. Chase's class of boys of Christ church visited the Charlestown Navy yard this afternoon. Several submarines were visited and boys were taken over a battleship. They also visited the old "Constitution."

Deputy Grand Knight Michael Barrett has been elected chairman of the committee in charge of the annual Easter Monday ball of Quincy council Knights of Columbus, in Music hall.

MacGREGORS WIN

Clan MacGregor defeated the Lindsays in the Scottish Clans league matches at Boston Friday night. The strings.

MacGregor	464	493	487	1444
Lindsay	438	449	445	1243

YOUR PROTECTION

I protected you Madam, against the high cost of flour, because I bought away ahead. You don't have to pay such high prices when I can give you a loaf of bread for the same money as when flour was normal. Remember my loaf of bread is the same price, same size and same quality. Come Madam, take advantage of my good fortune—Buy Today.

LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN

1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.

Baked with great care and wrapped in Wax Paper. Dust proof between our bakery and your table. Ask for it.

OUR GROCERS SELL IT

ATT BREAD CO., 3150 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON

Masquerade Costumes For Rent

Children's Costumes in variety

MRS. R. E. WOODWARD

155 Billings Road

Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs

Feb. 3-tf

Quincy Pianoforte School

Hackelton, Director

Greenleaf Block,

1419 Hancock Street, Quincy

INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE

Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings. 6-12t

CLARA MORRISON

Pianist and Teacher

Leschetizky Method

CATHERINE MORRISON

Mandolin and Guitar

50 Hamilton Street, Wollaston

Tel. Quincy 1318-W. Sept 30-w.s.-1y

DR. G. F. S. PEARCE

DENTIST

327 Newport Avenue, Wollaston

Mondays -- Wednesdays -- Fridays

9 to 12 —— 1 to 5

EVENINGS

Boston Office 194 Boylston Street

June 24-1y-w.s.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 2.30.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1585 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

A large number of parents and friends attended the meeting of the Belcher school association held Thursday evening in the school hall. The president, Louis V. Gosselin, presided Dr. Harris Kennedy of the school board gave an illustrated lecture on: "The Bermudas." The slides were very pretty and gave a good idea of the characteristics and manners of the people on these islands. Before and after the lecture selections were excellently rendered by the newly organized Glee club which consists of the following: Mrs. Richard Hird, Miss Flora Thrasher, Mrs. James Maguire, Miss Helen Wheelock, Miss Alice Wheelock, Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. Jesse B. Baxter, Miss Farrell and Mrs. George Anthony, pianist.

Following the lecture, Jesse B. Baxter, Frank P. Fanning, Percy Sheldon and Dr. Kennedy made a few remarks in regard to the proposed municipal gymnasium on the Brook road playground. Mr. Fanning who is a member of the school board announced that after this year no diplomas were to be given to graduates of the grammar schools, but merely a certificate showing that the pupils had completed eight years of grammar school work. The idea of this is to arouse a stronger inclination in the minds of the pupils to possess a high school diploma. A social hour and refreshments were then enjoyed.

REV. SPORRONG THE SPEAKER.

The members of the Young People's society of the Swedish Congregational church have been invited to attend the meeting of the Young People's society of the Ruggles street Congregational church of Boston at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Rev. A. G. Sporrong, pastor of the local church, will be the speaker. The visit will be returned at a future date.

Mr. Sporrong will speak on "The Desire of Christ in Regard to the Young People," a Lenten discourse.

☞Visit your High school Gym Monday P. M.

W. H. HASLETT
31 Bridge Street, Quincy
Tel. Quincy 1092 W

Plastering and Cementing
Concrete Houses
Outside Stucco Work
Cement Walks, Steps and Cellar Floors.

PETROSILO sanitary and fireproof flooring—guaranteed to wear longer than hard wood floor—no joints—one continuous piece put over any floor.
Feb. 8. W-S. tf

WILLIAM R. DIMOCK
Carpenter and Builder
Plans furnished and estimates given. All work personally and promptly attended to 133 PROSPECT AVENUE
WOLLASTON
☞ Telephone 1236 W Quincy.

LOCAL CAMP S. V. HOLD ROLL CALL

Chowder Supper and Patriotic Speeches

Past Commander Edward Prouty, was given a past commander's emblem at the second roll call of Col. Abner Packard camp, Sons of Veterans, in Grand Army hall Friday evening. The presentation was made by Past Commander George L. Phillips of post 88, G. A. R., and was witnessed by the 40 members who responded to the roll call and a majority of the members of the post 88 who were the guests of the evening.

A chowder supper was served under the direction of Lester Porter, George F. Phillips, J. A. G. Luther and Guy T. Baker and the entertainment was arranged by T. L. D. Gurney, patriotic instructor.

The program opened with a song, "Tenting Tonight" by a quartette of members, with chorus singing by the gathering; recitation, "O my captain" by George H. Phillips; Lincoln's Gettysburg address," Frank M. Chubbuck Lincoln's letter to Mrs. Bixbee, Samuel DeForrest, Jr., readings from George Washington, Walter M. Packard.

The visitors were Past Commander C. R. Smith of Camp 30 to Dorchester Commander J. B. Chandler of camp 115 of Duxbury, Commander Mark Hanson of Paul Revere Post, G. A. R., and sons from Salem, Dorchester and Duxbury.

Rev. Merrill C. Ward, pastor of the Universalist church, the speaker of the evening delivered an eloquent patriotic address. He said the three greatest men in the country were Franklin, Washington and Lincoln, and in speaking of the latter said there was a memorial in Hingham, England, where the Lincoln family lived previous to their coming to Hingham, Mass., which honored the martyred president.

In speaking of the Civil war he quoted liberally from Lincoln's writing and during his remarks said he considered the European war "the consumate folly of all ages since men whose interests all lie on the same side are going at each others throats for what they know not and with no one to tell them why."

He said the mother of Lincoln deserves recognition at the hands of the nation which has not yet been given her.

JUNIOR LEAGUE TEAMS BOWL

JUNIOR LEAGUE RESULTS.

Capt. Wren 3—Capt. Kelliher 1.
Capt. Swain 3—Capt. Sarno 1.

Little's 122 was high single in the Junior league matches at the Wardwell alleys Friday evening. Sullivan got 114 and LeCount 110.

CAPT WREN—3

L. Gilcoin	85	104	80	269
Griffin	85	86	96	267
DeSenso	74	101	74	249
J. Gilcoin	83	87	70	240
Wren	91	79	90	260
	418	457	410	1285

CAPT. KELLIHER—1.

Little	122	90	81	293
Dummy	75	75	75	225
Kelliher	75	75	87	237
Barker	100	87	79	266
Dummy	75	75	75	225
	447	402	397	1246

CAPT. SWAIN—3.

O'Donnell	89	96	71	256
Curtain	102	84	92	278
Callahan	73	84	82	239
LeCount	84	90	110	284
Swain	88	92	70	250
	436	446	455	1317

CAPT. SARNO—1

Foy	86	75	75	236
Sarno	96	98	81	275
Moodie	82	81	94	257
Sullivan	114	76	75	264
McConarty	83	86	82	251
	461	416	407	1284

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

EAST BRAINTREE

Mrs. C. O. Miller entertained Mrs. W. W. Partridge of Canton, Friday.

Charles Dawson of Factory Hill enlisted in the U. S. Navy this week.

Anton Nelson of Nelson street is able to be out again after his recent six weeks' illness.

Mrs. G. F. Hussey of Liberty street, who has been seriously ill the past week, is now improving rapidly.

Mrs. Max Lasson of Sheppard avenue is now able to use the ankle she sprained a few weeks ago.

Mr. Gording and family moved from their home on Factory Hill to Maine Wednesday.

Miss Jessie Hebb of Hyde Park was the guest of Miss Vesta Raasch of Shaw street over the week end.

The smelts have started running in the brooks and the state commissioner is on the lookout for greedy fishermen.

Miss Gladys Cameron of Allston spent the week end with her cousin, Miss Florence Adams of Oak street.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Estey of Somerville are the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Aitken of Shaw street.

Mrs. Gordon B. Trowbridge of Faxon street is entertaining Mrs. J. F. Haley and son of Dorchester.

Miss Melissa Doreum of the Abraham Lincoln school is enjoying the week end at her home in Newmarket, N. H.

Frank Harrison returned to Chester, Penn., on Monday after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. James Hollywood of Liberty street.

Miss Alice Robinson of Hingham was the guest of her cousin Mrs. Jasper E. Hamblin of Hayward street, Thursday.

The many friends of James H. Bates of Claremont street are pleased to see him out again much improved in health.

Mrs. Golden of Thayer street who was taken to the Homoeopathic hospital, Boston, a week ago is now out of danger and gaining rapidly.

Mrs. Charles S. Tarbox of Miller avenue entertained a few of her friends with a tea on Saturday afternoon.

Dr. Cooper, superintendent of the M. E. churches in the Providence district was the guest of Mrs. Johnson of Allen street Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Burnham and son of Central Falls, R. I., are the guests of Mrs. Burnham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Emerson of Bellevue road.

Miss Dorothy Hanson and Miss Marion Browning of Boston and Miss Lauria Satchel of Roslindale were the week end guests of the Misses Alice and Ethel Doane.

Little Ruth Ashworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ashworth of Shaw street has been confined to the house the past week suffering with a severe cold.

Charles Jordan, Jr., fell while playing on the ice Saturday and cut his hand quite badly. Dr. James H. Cook was called and it was necessary to take seven stitches.

Matthew Starr, an employee of the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. had a part of his thumb cut off by a freight car door the early part of this week. This is the second accident to befall Mr. Starr this season.

Mrs. James O'Brien of Quincy nee Miss Emily Clay of Bowditch street, has been seriously ill the past week at the home of her mother, but is now much improved. An early recovery is expected.

The Cemetery Improvement Association of East Braintree and Weymouth met at the home of Mrs. W. D. Aitken on Shaw street, Wednesday afternoon. There was a large attendance and the afternoon was spent in discussing plans for their annual fair.

At a meeting of the Weymouth Council Royal Arcanum No. 747 Wednesday evening, George Ludden of Shaw street was presented with a past regent's jewel. The presentation speech was made by past regent Arthur W. Davis.

Mrs. John L. Christe of Somerville avenue, who has been at the home of her sister Mrs. Hamilton in Ontario, Canada, suffering from septic poisoning since the early part of the winter, was greatly improved this week and is able to sit out of doors a short period each day.

The G. Y. G. C. club met at the home of Mrs. Charles Goss, Allen street, Monday evening. It was voted to hold a dancing party in Pythian hall, Weymouth. Following the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed during which musical selections were enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

LOCAL TEAMS BOTH VICTORS

Quincy High First Wins 19 to 9

The Quincy High school first team defeated Weymouth High in the local gym Friday afternoon 19 to 9 and Quincy's second team ran away with the visitor's second by a score of 33 to 10. The senior game abounded in close play, the ball being in the open but seldom while the second game was just the reverse, only in a larger sense.

Quincy was without the services of Hamlin who could not play on account of illness. Crosscup starred, three baskets scored being of the sensational kind. Paul Larkin, Interscholastic football end went in as a substitute in the closing minutes of the last period.

Weymouth, intent on securing revenge for the 31 to 21 defeat on their own court, played hard from the start They were unable however really to take the offensive. Richardson shot a goal half the length of the floor for the visitors.

The second team game was an interesting one and its first period, on Quincy's part, was the equal of the fastest period played by any team this season. The period abounded with plays, series and others, and demonstrated a high class junior team. "Blinker" Desmond starred his six baskets netting 12 points. Morrison's floor work resulted in four goals and Gilliat, did good work in the backfield and added two more baskets. Baker had no difficulty of scoring from a sharp angle and Art Favreau tossed six goals from free tries. One point was awarded for interference.

Dwyer, who went in at centre for the visiting second team in the last two periods gave a poor exhibition of sportsmanship, the result of inexperienced "Blinker" Desmond giving him an experienced man, a run for his money. The summaries:

QUINCY 1st		WEYMOUTH
Browne, rf		lb Whittle
		Mahoney
Welsford, lf		rb Palmer
Crosscup c		c Deane
Davis, rb		lf Condrick
Larkin
Beaton, lb		rf Richardson

Score Quincy 19, Weymouth 9. Goals from floor Crosscup 3, Browne 2, Welsford, Davis, Richardson, Mahoney.

Goals from fouls Welsford 2, Davis 3, Condrick 2, Richardson 3. Referee Robertson. Scorer, Mansur. Timer Atwood. Time 15 and 2-10m periods

QUINCY 2d		WEYMOUTH 2d
Favreau, rf		lb Chehan
Morrison, lf		rb G. Hughes
		Bates
Desmond, c		c Rand
		Dwyer
Rasmussen, rb		lf Curtis
Gilliat, lb		rf Gammons

Score Quincy 2d 33, Weymouth 2d,-10 1 pt. for interference. Goals from floor Desmond 6, Morrison 4, Gilliat 2, Baker, Curtis 2, Gammon, Bates.

Goals from fouls Favreau 6, Curtis Gammons. Time 15 and 2m periods.

Y. P. R. U. DANCE

The third and last of the dances given under the auspices of the Y. P. R. U. of the First Parish church in Alpha hall, Friday evening was a thoroughly delightful affair.

The sixteen numbers on the program were divided among the waltz, the one-step, and the fox-trot, although the name of the dance was not announced before hand. The music was furnished by Miss Nivers' orchestra.

Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis and Mrs. Ralph L. Lovell were the matrons. The ushers were Frederick Atwood, Richard Crane, Willard Crocker, Kenneth Edwards, William Edwards, Allen Miller, Horton Page and Eric Patch.

☞Brockton vs Q. H. S., Feb. 22.

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con

CHICHESTER S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter s Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

AGAINST SUFFRAGE.

The foundation argument against woman suffrage is that is must inevitably tend to make women more like men. Mr. Choate's toast is quoted. "Women, once our superiors, now our equals." It all comes back to that. Experience has not shown and argument cannot prove that the votes of women make government any better. There is real danger that it might be made feebler, more erratic, worse. But the effect upon women themselves can hardly be doubted. If they really qualify themselves for the intelligent use of the ballot, then they must cease to be what they are now, they must become more and more like men If that is desirable, then there is an end of the argument against votes for women. If the welfare of society will be promoted by the universal entry of women into those occupations which best qualify men for voting in the light of reason; if we are all going to be happier and better off when women wholly or in large part put aside the duties which have won them all honor and respect and take up men's tasks; if women are to concern themselves equally about the ruder things of life, the strifes and passions of politics, the hard tasks and the problems of office, and the counsels and decisions which men consume their flesh and blood in the attempt to give well and wisely, then by all means give the votes to women, and the sooner the better. The home will be different, maternity less frequent—there will be less time for such things. But let the home and the race be sacrificed if votes for women is the greater good. The longer the argument continues the less satisfactory is the demonstration upon that one point. It is after all the vital point—whether suffrage will make women more like men.—New York Times, Feb. 14, 1915.

BASKET BALL.

At Long's hall Thursday evening, the Braintree A. A. boys after eleven consecutive wins were defeated by the Oliver Ames A. A. of North Easton. It was a fast, snappy game, nip and tuck from start to finish and full of ginger. Goward and Nelson shone the brightest for the winners, while Manning was the star of the home team.

Between the periods, the Braintree A. A. second team in a one sided contest defeated the Normal Academy team of Boston 44 to 8.

This was the 14th straight win for the B. A. A. juniors. Hanson and Cahill of the locals were the whole show. The score of the first game:

Oliver Ames A. A.		Braintree A. A.
Nelson rf		lf Avery
Cloanan lf		rb C. O'Rourke
		rb Bennett
Johnson c		c Scollard
Goward rb		lf J. O'Rourke
Pratt lb		rf Manning

Score 35—34.

Goals from floor, Nelson 6, Cloanan 2, Johnson 1, Goward 7, Pratt 1, Avery 1, C. O'Rourke 1, Scollard 4, J. O'Rourke 3, Manning 8. Goals from fouls—Goward 1. Referee—Delorey. Scorer—Hubbard. Timer — South. Time 2-20 min. periods. Attendance 150.

NO MOVE BY COUNSEL

Defender of Becker Fails to Ask For a New Trial as Was Expected

New York, Feb. 20.—Contrary to expectations, counsel for Charles Becker, former police lieutenant, twice convicted for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, failed to make an application for a new trial.

Neither was the customary two days' notice of intention to begin court proceedings, as required by law, received by District Attorney Perkins.

It had been reported that Becker's counsel would make the application for a new trial, basing it on the repudiation in an affidavit by James Marshall of his trial testimony.

SHOOTS CABARET GIRL

Son of Rich Man Then Attempts to Take His Own Life

New York, Feb. 20.—Frederick Ulmer, 21, son of a wealthy cigar manufacturer, shot Ethel Odell, 18-year-old cabaret singer, on the platform of a subway station and then attempted to end his own life. The condition of both is critical.

"Ulmer shot me because I refused to marry him," said the cabaret performer. "He has bothered me to death."

Cut In Two by Train

Boston, Feb. 20.—The body of Frederick H. England, telegraph operator at the Cohasset station of the New Haven railroad, was found cut in two on the New Haven tracks in Dorchester. It is thought he fell from a train while going to work.

Boomer Gets Life Sentence

Akron, O., Feb. 20.—Harry Boomer was sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of Miss Vinnie Becker, a mission worker. Boomer confessed he murdered the girl in order to rob the store where she worked.

COAL
Just Unloaded 2600 Tons of
Sprague's Celebrated New River Cumberland Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.,
27 Granite St.

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1030 or Main 414

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE
Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit
WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS
Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.
Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block
Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.-tf

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To all persons interested in the estate of William Murphy of Quincy in said County, an insane person.

Whereas, George J. Murphy, the guardian of said ward, has presented for allowance, his first and final account as guardian upon the estate of said ward. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said County, on the tenth day of March A. D., 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be allowed. And said guardian is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire Judge of said Court, this eleventh day of February in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Feb. 13-20-27

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Joseph M. Bruce late of Quincy in said County deceased, intestate

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Helen M. Bruce of said Quincy without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of March A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this seventeenth day of February A. D. 1915.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Feb. 20-27-Mar. 6

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

Read Ledger Advs.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Rachel J. Corthell late of Quincy in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Samuel N. Corthell of said Quincy without giving a surety on his bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the third day of March A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this seventeenth day of February A. D. 1915.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Feb. 20-27 Mar. 1

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
Telephone 1827-W Quincy
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy F27

EDWARD J. FEGAN
Counsellor at Law
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 348-4 Haymarket 2140
Oct. -tf

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES.
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhœa. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

CITY OF QUINCY

BOARD OF SURVEY

The public is hereby notified that the Board of Survey by virtue of the authority of Chapter 704 of the Acts of the year, 1914, have adopted the following rules:—

Rules Concerning the Preparation of Plans and Profiles.

All plans and profiles submitted to the Board of Survey, must be drawn on sheets of tracing cloth of uniform size, 18 inches high by 31 inches wide inside the border, with 1½ inch margin, except on the left where it shall be 3½ inches.

Plans should show scale, date, surveyor's name and address, with north point and names of abutting owners.

Unless otherwise directed by the City Engineer, the scale of all plans must be 40 feet to an inch, the horizontal scale of all profiles 40 feet to an inch and the vertical scale 6 feet to an inch.

The plans must give sufficient information to accurately locate the centre or one side of the proposed street so as to connect it with other existing streets in the vicinity. They should show ground heights at the centre and both sides of streets at each 50 foot station.

All buildings, walks, drives or other fixtures abutting on or near the proposed streets should be shown, if they are affected by the proposed lay-out. The lines of the proposed street and the proposed grades, as well as the figures showing the radii of curves, widths and proposed grades, must be shown in red ink; all other figures and lines in black ink.

Profiles must show, in addition to the proposed grade, present elevations of the centre of proposed streets every fifty feet.

All grades must refer to Quincy City Base.

If a street submitted for approval does not extend through to another street and is likely to be extended in the near future, the plan should be of the whole street, showing the connections with existing or other proposed streets.

EZEKIEL C. SARGENT, Clerk.

Copies of the above act, together with rules and form of petition to the Board of Survey may be obtained at the Office of the City Engineer.

Feb. 19-3t

ORIENTAL RUGS

WE have the largest and most complete stock of Oriental Rugs in Boston and can always show you a greater assortment than you can find elsewhere.

JOHN H PRAY & SONS CO

646-650 Washington St., opp. Boylston St.

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy

REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY

Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

SUNDAY SERVICES

A new announcement of services is required each week. No notices accepted to run indefinitely. When possible the subject of sermon should be given, also special services. Generous space will be given in the news columns for church news, music and week day gatherings.

FIRST PARISH IN QUINCY (Unitarian)—City Square. Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, minister. Residence, Miller Stile Inn, Tel. 21072; office hours at church 9 to 12 A. M. Monday, Wednesday and Friday Tel. 1220. Morning service at 10.30. Subject of sermon by the minister: "Intellectual Religion and Billy Sunday." Sunday School at 12 M. Miss Minnie Packard, Supt.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Junction Hancock and Chestnut streets. Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott, Pastor. Morning Service at 10.30. Message by the pastor. Subject: "The Religion that makes us men." Bible School at 12, Christian Endeavor at 6.00. Pleasant Sunday evening service at 7.30. Subject: "The blind woman who brought joy to Millions."

CHRIST CHURCH, EPISCOPAL—Quincy corner Elm street and Quincy avenue. Rev. William Grainger, minister. 8 A. M. Holy Communion 10.45 Morning Prayer and sermon 7.30 Evening prayer and sermon. 10 A. M Wednesday Holy Communion. 3.30 P. M. Thursday, service for women. 4 P. M. Friday, service for children. 7.45 P. M. Friday, Litany and address. Everybody ordially welcome.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.—Washington Street, Quincy. Rev. Merrill C. Ward, pastor; Residence 62 Dunster road, Jamaica Plain. Telephone Jamaica 1950. Sunday School at 2 P. M. Service 3 P. M. Subject sermon "The God whom we worship." 4.15 P. M. Y. P. C. U. address by Ernest R. Sampson, of North Weymouth.

FIRST SPIRITUALIST CHURCH—Elected Hall Johnson building, Hancock street, Quincy Meeting, at 7.30 P. M. Mrs. S. V. Odiorne President. Mrs. E. Tom Stratton, speaker and message bearer. Articles read from and messages given at the meeting.

ASSOCIATED BIBLE STUDENTS (undenominational) Hancock Hall, Hancock Building Quincy Centre. Free Bible Lecture Sunday at 3 P. M. for the public, speaker: Mr. E. A. Robinson of Lynn, Mass. Topic: "Is the Judgment Day of the world yet future." All are cordially invited. Seats free. No Collection

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST—Quincy, Alpha Hall, cor. Hancock street and Cottage ave. Morning service and Sunday School at 10.45. Subject: "Mind." Golden Text: "O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord." Wednesday 7.45 a testimony and experiencemeeting. Reading room open from 3 to 5 P. M. week days, Saturdays from 7 to 9 P. M. holidays excepted. Also Wednesday evening before and after services.

WASHINGTON STREET CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Quincy Point, Rev. Stephen C. Lang pastor. 10.45 Morning Worship. Subject of sermon: "The Religious Clean." 12 noon, Bible school 6.30 P. M. Y. P. S. C. E. 7.30 P. M. Stereopticon Lecture "Social Aspects of Foreign Missions." Thursday 7.20 P. M., People's Hour service. Public cordially welcome.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH—Franklin street, Rev. C. C. Tilley, Pastor. Residence 26 Richie Road. Preaching Service at 10.30 A. M. Rev. J. H. Woodsum of East Milton will preach. Sunday School at 11.45. Christian Endeavor meeting at 6. Subject: "Favorite Chapters of the Bible and Why." Leader, Miss Robina Skinner. Scripture: Ps. 23:1-6. Evening Service at 7 Subject: "Starving out the Enemy." The pastor will speak. Regular prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 7.30.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Water and Quincy Streets. Rev. Clarence E. Campbell minister. Residence 95 Quincy Street. Telephone Quincy 884 W. 10.30 Morning worship with a sermon "My Inaugural Address." 11.45. Bible school and men's class. at 6.0' P. M. Christian Endeavor John Cunningham, leader. 7 P. M Evening service "The Function of the Preacher in Modern Life." The choir will sing at both services.

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Corner of School and Pleasant streets. Rev. D. B McLeod, M. A., pastor. Residence 40 Bradford st Preaching by the pastor at 10.30. and 7.30. Evening subject "Measuring the Sanctuary." Sabbath school and Bible class 11.45. Junior Endeavor at 3 Senior Christian Endeavor at 6.30. Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30. The prayer meeting is the pulse of the Congregation.

HALL PLACE M. E. CHURCH—West Quincy Rev. P. S. Neldon, pastor, Residence, 12 Hall Place. Morning service at 10.30. Wei Ping Chen, of Boston University will speak. Sunday School at 11.45. Epworth League devotional service at 6.00 P. M, Leader, Mrs. A. D. Steward. Evening praise and preaching service at 7.30 Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30 P. M. Junior League Monday afternoon at 4 P. M A cordial welcome to all.

SWEDISH BAPTIST CHURCH—Brewers Cor. Rev. Paul Hallin, pastor Residence 101 Glendale Road, Sunday school 9.30 A. M. Classes for all ages. Sermon by the pastor at 10.45 A. M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.45 p. m. Evangelistic service at 7.30 P. M. Strangers are cordially invited to attend.

SWEDISH MISSION CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH Garfield street. Rev. A. G. Sporrong, pastor, 14 Euclid avenue. Tel. Quincy 148-M. Sunday school at 9.30 A. M. Young peoples class led by the pastor. Morning service 10.45, by pastor Subject: "Victory over Satan or the cause for true joy." 7 p. m Evening service. Pastors address "A Lost Soul." Special singing. A hearty welcome to all.

ST. PAUL'S SWEDISH M. E. Church—Corner Granite and Fort Streets Quincy, Rev. A. E. Hillman, pastor. Residence 121 Glendale Road Morning service at 10.30 Subject: "Why God breaks our plans." Sunday School at 12 M. Epworth League at 6.30 P. M. Evening Service at 7 o'clock Subject: "The man Christ Wants to Win." Good Singing. All are cordially welcome

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH—Cor. Prospect and Warren avenues. Rev. Joseph Walther pastor. Prayer meeting at 10.15 in Pinkham class room. Kindergarten for children whose parents are attending morning service at 10.45 in Primary Department room. Morning service at 10.45. Sermon by the pastor. Sunday School at 12.15. Hilford L. Durgan, Supt. Subject: "The death of Eli and His Sons." Junior Endeavor, at 3.30. Mrs. Joseph Walther, Supt. Subject: "A journey to Japan." Leader, Earl Shultz. Union meeting of the Congregational Methodist and Baptist, Y. P. S. C. E. meeting at 6. Evening service at 7. in the Auditorium, preaching by the pastor. Our chorus choir will sing morning and evening. Everyone invited to these services.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN CHURCH—Corner Beale and Farrington streets. "An House of Prayer for all People." Rev. Carl G. Horst, minister. Residence 39 Grand View avenue. Telephone Quincy 317-1 The church auditorium is equipped with earphones. Service of worship with sermon at 10.45 a. m. Kindergarten for children of three years old and over in the vestry in charge of Miss Catherine Reed at 10.45 A. M. Sunday School at 12 M. in charge of Superintendent Mrs. H. C. Needham, classes for all. Vesper Service at 4.30. Seats are free and a cordial welcome to all.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL—Corner Lincoln and Winthrop avenues, Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, Ph. D., pastor. Res. No. 20 Marion street Tel. Quincy 1116 M. Morning Worship 10.45 sermon by the pastor, Topic: "The Irredeemable Past." Sunday School at 12.15. Mr. Charles A Campbell, Supt. Men's Bible class led by Dr. Sneath. Women's Bible class led by Mrs. A. A Lincoln. Kindergarten classes in charge of Mrs. Charles P. Hutchins Junior Christian Endeavor meeting at 3.30. Vesper service at 4. Address by Dr. Sneath, Christian Endeavor at 6. Evening service Topic: "The First Appointment," being the first in a series of sermons on "Paths to Power or Life's Greatest Paradox." Special music by William A. Sleeper of Wellesley. Union Young Peoples meeting at Baptist Church Thursday evening at 7.45 in the vestry regular mid-week service.

PARK AND DOWNS CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH — Beach street and Rawson road Wollaston, Rev. William B. Ayers pastor, Services 10.45 A. M. and 7 P. M. Vested choir Seats free, everybody welcome.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH—Hancock street, Wollaston—Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, rector, residence, the rectory. 523 Hancock street. Holy Communion at 8. Morning Prayer sermon and Confirmation at 10.30. Sunday School at 12. Evening prayer and address at 7.30.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Atlantic Rev. Thomas W. Davison, pastor, Theme: "What is God able to Do for Man?" Morning service 10.45. Sermon by the pastor Theme: "Doing good, but Not the Best." Sunday School at 12.00 M. Junior Endeavor at 3.30 Senior Endeavor at 6. Address by Rev. Warren P. Landers of Boston "Answering the Challenge. Evening service at 7 P. M. sermon by Rev. Warren P. Landers of Boston. Topic: "Rebuilding America." Good music. A cordial welcome to all.

FIRST CHURCH OF SQUANTUM—Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor. Sunday School at 3 P. M. Church service at 4 P. M. Sermon by the pastor. A cordial welcome.

NORTH WEYMOUTH

Miss Mattie Bain recently celebrated her ninth birthday by entertaining a number of friends at her home on Sea street.

Miss Valerie Hersey gave a party at her home on Standish road in honor of her fifth birthday.

Job Ferris is ill at his home on Pratt avenue.

Miss Cora Beard returned Friday evening from a two months' stay at Miami, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lunt had as their guest this week Miss Edith Anderson of Boston.

Mrs. Frank Benson of Hingham has been visiting North Weymouth friends this week.

Charles H. Chubbuck of Curtis street is visiting his daughter Mrs. George Hunt at Pittsfield.

Miss Mabelle Ferguson of Dorchester was a recent guest of Miss Ethel Cain of King Cove.

Mrs. Nelson Gladwin of Lovell street entertained Mrs. Alton Blanchard the latter part of the week.

Miss Olga Bailey was a guest at a whist party given by Mrs. Arthur Bryant at her home on Broad street, in honor of Miss Laura Thayer of Portland, Maine.

Miss Doris Torrey returned Friday from an enjoyable visit to Miss Marie Macsinett in New York.

Miss Hazel Clark has returned from a short visit at Springfield, where she attended the Junior Prom of Amherst college.

Rev. Arthur Mercer has installed a telephone in his residence.

Miss Mary O'Rourke is the new organist at St. Jerome's church.

The Peckham property on Bridge street has been purchased by the Willow Club Garage Co., Joseph Whall, manager who is to erect an up-to-date garage.

A china shower was recently tendered Miss Maud Williams at the home of Miss Mildred Alden by Squad 10 of Pilgrim Circle. It was a surprise of a most pleasing nature The hostess served a chafing dish lunch.

Mrs. Alice McFadden visited friends in Malden the first of the week.

Miss Doris Winters entertained the Wide Awakes this week.

Mrs. Charles Macker was hostess for the L. B. S. this week.

Miss Madeline Gale entertained a house party of thirty friends this week.

You owe it to your school.

Start Right

The best food for the first three weeks for newly hatched chicks is—

Pratts Baby Chick Food

25c, 50c and $1.00

Reduces mortality, prevents bowel trouble, insures quick maturity—Producing strong, sturdy, rapid-developing young birds.

Refuse substitutes; insist on Pratts.

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Back

Get Pratts 160 page Poultry Book

Sold by Grain Dealers & General Stores. 6669.

TO LET

Lower flat of new house, 5 rooms, large reception hall, large bath room, combination gas and coal range, steam heat. Located in one of the best parts of South Quincy. Two minutes to electric cars, four minutes to Quincy Adams station. Rent reasonable. Apply to

JOSEPH B. GROSSMAN,
93 Goddard Street,
Tel. 1101-W Quincy. 18-tf

MAKE PLANS FOR PEDDLERS PARADE

The executive committee of the Paul Revere W. R. C. will complete the arrangements tonight for the "Peddlers Parade" to be given under the auspices of the corps and Rebecca Wetwell tent, Daughters of Veterans, in Grand Army hall Tuesday evening. Mrs. Alice Litchfield and Mrs. Kate A. Blaisdell head the two committees and they will be assisted by many members.

MALCOLM—McKENZIE.

Chester Malcolm, a popular young man of West Quincy, was married Friday night to Miss Belle McKenzie of North Weymouth, by the Rev. Wm. Grainger at the rectory of the Christ Episcopal church.

The best man was Arthur Allen of Dorchester and the bridesmaid was Miss Jennie Malcolm, sister of the groom.

Mr. Malcolm is the son of Mrs. Bessie Dunn of 15 Hill street. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McKenzie and is very well known in Weymouth and Braintree.

After a short trip to New York, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm will live in North Weymouth.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS—STATE HOUSE, BOSTON, FEB. 19, 1915 The committee on Joint Judiciary will give a hearing to parties interested in H. 837, on police district and municipal courts, their officials and practice; H. 1043, that jurisdiction of Boston Municipal Court be extended; H. 595, on jurisdiction and precedure in civil actions in police, district and municipal courts; S. 229, on agreements between employees and employers; H. 1684, to provide counsel for indigent defendants charged with felony; at room No. 227, State House, on Thursday, Feb. 22, 1915, at 10.30 o'clock A. M. C. Augustus Norwood, Chairman. Robert Robinson Clerk of the Committee. 20-1t

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property

Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

FOR SALE

House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,900. Straight Loan of $2,000.

EDMUND C. HAYDEN
Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing
HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.
129 Tremont St., Boston.
Oct. 8-tf

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

TO LET

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop
—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall
—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $3.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 180.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for L. r. Kribs.
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Large front room, all modern improvements. Apply 102 Upland road. 18-6t

TO LET—Three unfurnished rooms with gas. $8 a month. Apply John Anderson, 159 Whitwell street. 19-3t

TO LET—A good tenement now ready. Rent reduced to $18.75 per month. C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 19-6t

TO LET—Small store and tenement at 35 Willard street, West Quincy. Good chance for lady or couple, rent only $9 per week. Key at 33 Willard street. 16-6t

TO LET—Flat of five rooms at 97 Coddington street, $2.75 per week. Key at 93 Coddington street. 18-6t

TO LET—Furnished rooms in newly renovated house, hot water heat, all conveniences. Gentlemen only. Meals if desired. Garage room for one automobile. Apply to Mrs. A. E. English, 273 Newport avenue, Wollaston. 15-6t

TO LET—New single house, with 5 rooms, bath, range, hot and cold water furnace heat, gas light. Vacant Mar. 1. John A. Weeden Greenleaf Block. 15-6t

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 13-9t

TO LET—After March 1, House of nine rooms with all modern conveniences at 5 Summer street. Apply to Dr. D. B. Reardon, 1186 Hancock street. 11-tf

TO LET—Apartment of five rooms and bath in new house, all modern improvements, fine location, 26 Bradford street, off Franklin street. Apply to F. Barnicoat, Quincy. 10-tf

TO LET—Lower flat, 42 Euclid avenue, 5 rooms all modern improvements. For particulars address Mr. P. J. Curry, 94 Federal avenue or phone Quincy 1075M. 9-12t

TO LET—Half of colonial house on Russell park, 7 rooms and bath, fireplace, coal and gas range and all modern convenience. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 9-tf

TO LET—Two or three rooms, furnished or unfurnished for light housekeeping, all improvements, reasonable rent, board if desired. 132 Marlboro street, Wollaston Park 6-tf.

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2-family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 226 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET—If looking for furnished rooms for light housekeeping, don't miss seeing these three cheerful rooms, private bath, near center. Modern improvements, gas, range, set tubs, etc. Write M. C. Ledger Office. 20-6t

TO LET—Furnished room at 1187 Hancock street. Modern improvements. Two minutes from city square and R. R. station. 20-tf

TO LET—Flat of five rooms to small family. Apply 33 Dysart street. 20-3t

FOR RENT—An apartment of four rooms, furnished or unfurnished. Situated on electric car line. It has steam heat, electric lights and gas. Apply to owner 196 Commercial street, East Braintree. 20-3t

TO LET—Three first class connecting rooms, nicely furnished, bath on same floor, centrally located, in home of American family. Light housekeeping allowed. References exchanged. Write L. H. H. Ledger Office. 20-tf

TO LET—At No. 9 Elmwood avenue, Wollaston, furnished or unfurnished rooms. Light housekeeping if desired. Modern improvements and telephone Quincy 863-W. 20-6t

TO LET—Four room tenement, modern improvements, new house, $16.00. Apply 115 Sumner street, 6 minutes from Fore River Works. 19-3t

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

LOST

LOST—Feb. 10, on Wollaston car, between Elmwood avenue and Pleasant street, Dorchester, lady's gold brooch, flower pattern, diamond centre. Return to Mrs. Greenbaum, 175 Safford street. 19-3t

FOUND

FOUND—On Butler road, small sum of money. Owner may have same by proving property and paying charges. W. Stephen, 51 Putnam street. 20-1t

WANTED

WANTED—Ladies sew at home; good pay. Send stamp. Work sent prepaid. King Mfg. Co., 1431 Broadway, New York City. 20-1t

WANTED—By a middle aged American woman position as housekeeper, experienced nurse, capable of taking full charge. Address "M. E. Z." 19 Kemper street, Wollaston. 18-6t

WANTED—Young lady for office work with some knowledge of typewriting. Write to E. Ledger Office. Feb. 18-3t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—I have a full size Hallett & Davis piano all in good order, cost new $425. I need the room and will sell for $20, delivered. Easy terms, write "Piano" Quincy Ledger. 20-6t

FOR SALE—Ten Wyandotte pullets and one cock ten months old, prize stock. Pullets beginning to lay. 5 Hancock court. 20-1t

FOR SALE—Milk wagon runs light, will carry ton. Spent $50. on it recently. Will sell for $35. 50 Squantum street, East Milton. 19-3t

FOR SALE—A covered extension carryall in good condition; may be obtained for exceedingly small sum. Address Francis G. Shields, Milton. Tel. 838-M. 18-3t

FOR SALE—Two flat house in South Quincy. Hard wood finish, modern plumbing. Very desirable renting proposition, never vacant since built. For particulars enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 9-tf 1po

FOR SALE—Car load of fresh calved cows and dandy springers at stable on Granite avenue, East Milton, Saturday, Feb. 20. Two minutes from depot. John Mullen. 18-3t

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage. Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1205-M, Quincy. Res. 22-tf

A Few Choice House Lots
—ON—
PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX
are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.
SWITHIN
3 GREENLEAF BLOCK
Jan. 5-tf

For Washington's Birthday
ORDER THEATRE TICKETS EARLY
A Remarkable Programme
LIFE'S SHOP WINDOW
Gorgeous Photo-Play of the famous novel and play which cost over $100,000.00 to produce

PATHE WEEKLY AND HIGH GRADE VAUDEVILLE

Kuki Japs --- The Oriental Marvels --- Russell & Evans Novelty Change Artists
Loyd & Churchill in a scream of a comedy sketch, entitled—
"NEARLY A FLIRTATION"

Kincaide Theatre
Matinee 2.30---10--15c Evening at 8 o'clock---10--15--25c

STATE POLICE TO INVESTIGATE

House At Rock Island Completely Destroyed

The fire department put in a busy evening Friday being called out on two bell alarms. The first alarm sounded at 7.33 and was from Box 42. This was for a fire in a couch on the second floor of the Pierson building at the corner of Water and Granite streets. The couch was located in the photographic studio. No time was lost in throwing the couch out of the window. The loss will not exceed $50.

The alarm from Box 119 at 8.40 called the department to a fire at Rock Island which made a blaze that caused an illumination that could be seen for miles, giving the impression that a conflagration was in progress. The fire was in the summer cottage of Mrs. Edith A. Haynes, 250 Massachusetts avenue, Boston. Mrs. Haynes was at the cottage Friday and it is supposed that she built a fire to warm the building, and that the blaze in some way started from this.

It was a difficult problem for the department to reach the scene of the fire for Winthrop street is not as yet completed. The only way to reach Rock Island is by a road at the extreme easterly end of Houghs Neck or by a road over the metropolitan sewer by the Pawsey farm. It was this route that the central station apparatus took and it was fortunate that the ground was frozen or the apparatus might never have reached the scene.

The house of Mrs. Haynes was completely destroyed and the adjoining house of Lawrence Murphy of the Boston Water Works department also took fire but was not much damaged.

Several other cottages at Rock Island were in danger of taking fire from the great shower of live sparks that filled the air but prompt work on the part of the firemen prevented any damage being done. The loss is estimated by Chief Billings as $1,000.

PICK RELAY TEAM.

A relay team was picked for the High school team at the local Y. M. C. A. Friday afternoon. The following men were picked: Sears, who ran last year, Crosby, Davis and Barber. The first race is at the B. A. A. meet next Saturday when the boys run against Weymouth.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

Kincaide Theatre.
D. E. Wadsworth & Co.
Notice to Shippers.
Mrs. S. V. Odiorne.
Chas. C. Hearn.

Feb. 22, 1915, at 3 P. M.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

WANTED—First class letterer on granite and marble, cemetery work especially. Steady work all year round. Man must be sober, quick and ambitious in his work. Only first class man need apply. P. Kozulius Trenton, N. J. 20-3t

MARRIAGES

MALCOLM—McKENZIE—In this city Feb. 19, by Rev. William Grainger, Chester Malcolm of Quincy to Miss Belle McKenzie of North Weymouth

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

SERVICES FOR W. W. OSBORNE

The funeral of Weston W. Osborne was held Friday afternoon at 2.20 o'clock from Christ Episcopal church with which he had for many years been closely identified. The services were conducted by Rev. William Grainger, with music by the vested choir. Incidentally it was the first funeral of Rev. Mr. Grainger since he became rector of Christ church.

The services were largely attended, and included delegations from Adelphi lodge of Masons of South Boston of which the deceased was a past master as well as delegations from St. Stephen's Royal Arch chapter and Quincy Commandery Knights Templar, Unity lodge, I. O. O. F., of South Boston, and Unity lodge, A. O. U. W. of South Boston. Each of these organizations sent floral tributes as did the officers of Christ church and many personal friends.

The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery, the bearers being Walter Deacon, representing the officers of the church, Abbott L. Melcher, a neighbor and close personal friend, Otis B. Oakman, representing St. Stephen's Chapter and Quincy Commandery, and Mr. Sanford, Mr. Wood Mr. Brackett representing the South Boston lodges.

ODD FELLOWS TO EXEMPLIFY

The biggest exemplification of the encampment degrees of Odd Fellowship on the South Shore in years will take place in Odd Fellows hall on Washington's birthday under the auspices of Manet Encampment of Quincy, Rockland of Rockland and Wampatuck of East Weymouth.

The exemplifications will be before the grand board of officers and included in the class of 40 candidates will be 11 from Quincy.

The patriarchal degree, will be worked at two o'clock by the degree staff of the Wampatucks and the Golden Rule and the Royal Purple degrees by the Manet and Rockland Encampments, respectively will follow, the latter after the banquet at 5.40 o'clock

A large delegation of members of the local encampment have arranged to attend the exemplifications. The ceremonies will extend into the evening.

SPECIAL SALE
Children's Coats
Sizes 2 to 8
Value $3.98
Sale Price $1.98

CHILDREN'S TRIMMED HATS
Reduced to One-half Price

D. E. Wadsworth & Co.
The Shirtwaist Store

RESULTS IN F. R. LEAGUE

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

N. Department, 4; U. S. N., 0.
Treas. Department, 4; M. Floor, 0.

The Navy department and the treasurer office teams were four point winners in the Fore River league matches at the Coliseum alleys Friday night. Coutts got high single 120 and Ryan tripled. The summaries:

N. DEPT.—4
Gillis	103	87	82	272
Rich	89	77	84	250
White	85	102	79	266
Ryan	89	104	107	300
Westland	91	102	94	287
	457	472	446	1375
U. S. N.—0
Mooney	85	82	84	251
Shay	87	86	74	247
Dummy	75	75	75	265
Hensen	92	82	86	260
Melendey	86	82	77	245
	425	407	396	1228
TREAS. OFFICE—4
Coutts	94	81	120	295
Desmond	82	80	73	235
Duncan	89	79	80	248
Gullicksen	11	103	96	276
Stone	93	91	86	270
	435	434	455	1324
M. FLOOR—0
Ford	104	88	102	294
Dalsell	74	89	92	255
Oliver	57	66	71	194
Cockett	93	76	80	249
Russell	85	95	93	273
	413	414	438	1265

NEW PASTOR.

Rev. Clarence E. Campbell, the new pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will conduct morning and evening services at the church Sunday. Rev. Mr. Campbell has been supplying the pulpit for some time but Sunday will see his first appearance as the regularly appointed pastor of the church.

In the morning he will speak on "My Inaugural Address" and in the evening on "The Function of the Preacher in Modern Life." The church choir will sing at both services. Sunday school will be held at 11.45 A. M. also the Men's Bible class will meet at the same hour; and Christian Endeavor at 6 P. M.

Rev. Mr. Campbell has taken up his residence at the Manse, 95 Quincy street.

Brockton vs Q. H. S., Feb. 22.

AUCTION SALE

Unclaimed and Refused Freight.

Auction sale of unclaimed and refused freight to be sold by order of New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Co., Tuesday March 2nd, 1915, in freight yard of this Company at South Braintree, Mass. at 12.30 P. M. in conformity Chapter 95 of the Revised Laws of Mass., Section 6, for account of whom it may concern.

One lot of 38 poles received in cars ACL 72488—ACL 72870—ACL 73298, consigned to Fore River Ship Building Co., East Braintree, Mass., arriving at East Braintree about Dec. 26th 1913, supposed to have been shipped by Samuel Dawson, Old Grade, Ga. Also lot of 40 poles received in cars ACL 72480—ACL 73447 and 5534 consigned to Fore River Shipbuilding Co. East Braintre, arriving at East Braintree about Jan. 26th, 1914, supposed to have been shipped by Samuel Dawson, Old Grade, Ga.

N. B. All purchasers must be prepared to make deposit at time of sale of at least 25 percent cash. All goods must be paid for and removed within 10 days after sale is completed.

per order G. L. WINLOCK.
Freight Claim Agent,
New York, New Haven and Hartford, R. R. 4-9t
4,5,6,11,12,13,18,19,20

MRS. BIRD WINS BOWLING TROPHY

The closing session of the Wollaston Womans Club bowling series took place at the Wardwell alleys Friday afternoon and the silver cup offered to the person making the largest single in the eight weeks schedule was presented to Mrs. Bird who made 107 several weeks ago.

The presentation was made by Mrs. George A. Wardwell and the cup was filled with tulips and roses. Capt. Wardwell complimented Mrs. Bird on her victory and consoled the other members of the club who had rolled to pass her single but failed to do so. The cup stands 24 in. in height and is four inches across at the top. It tapers down to its standard and is engraved. Garlands of laurel are worked around the engraving.. The final summary:

Mrs. Bird	81	75	91	67
Mrs. Waterhouse	57	56	73	45
Mrs. Price	58	75	65	82
Mrs. Barstow	80	87	81	63
Mrs. Newell	47	58	58	93
Mrs. Everett	55	55	55	55
Miss Howard	78	81	82	84
Mrs. Dinsmore	81	73	98	77
Mrs. Hopkins	83	65	70	87
Mrs. Otis	62	95	65	63
Mrs. Hatch	58	76	69	59
Mrs. Green	56	67	71	68
Mrs. White	66	84	93	80
Miss Luard	85	64	90	70

SQUANTUM CHURCH.

An enjoyable entertainment was given Friday evening in the auditorium of the First church of Squantum under the auspices of the Ladies Aid.

Jonquils and potted plants were used as decorations in the main hall and in the ladies parlor where refreshments were served to the talent. Yellow crepe paper streamers and bouquets of jonquils on the tables and mantles made the room very attractive.

The program consised of violin solos by Mrs. Joseph Thorley accompanied by Miss Hazel Ward, at the piano; an orchestra of four violins played by Mrs. Thorley, Murial Thorley, Pauline Elliot, Mr. Morse and cornet by Charles Bostwick; readings by Miss Adelaide Parrott; piano solos by Mr. Lundeen; vocal solos by Miss Jordine Davison; whistling solos by Joseph Uppling accompanied by Joseph Uppling, were finely rendered and greatly enjoyed by the audience.

Refreshments of sandwiches, doughnuts, and coffee were served in the Richards hall.

Mrs. Richardson, president of the ladies aid was assisted by Mrs. Joseph Uppling, Mrs. S. Harris, Mrs. William Spargo, Mrs. J. R. Nelson, as ushers; Mrs. John Marden, Mrs. James Sumner, Mrs. Lingren, Mrs. Gregory as servers; Mrs. J. R. Nelson Mrs. Joseph Uppling, Mrs. James Currie, Mrs. Matthew McGrain as decorators.

AT CHRIST CHURCH.

Special Lenten services are to be held at Christ church as follows: Wednesday mornings at ten o'clock Holy communion; Thursday afternoons at half past three for women; Friday afternoons at four for children Friday evening at quarter of eight Litany and address.

The rector, Rev. William Grainger, proposes to give sermons and addresses as follows:

Thursday—The Gospel Story.

Children's service— Stories from Genesis.

Friday—Seven English Hymn Writers.

Sunday A. M.—Five Reasons for being a Churchman.

Sunday P. M.—Some Old Testament Characters.

I Can Tell You
MRS. S. V. ODIORNE
Business and Pyschic Trance Medium
Private Readings $1.00
Lost Articles recovered, questions answered, advice given, satisfaction guaranteed.
Circles every Tuesday at 3 and 8
Developing Class Thursday at 8
President of Quincy Spiritualist Society, Member of Massachusetts State Spiritualist Association. I am here to stay.
Special for Monday, 22d
Circle Meetings at 3 and 8
8 Mechanic St. off Revere Road
Tel. 1923 M or 327 M.
Feb. 20-eod tf

COCHATO MEN'S TOURNAMENT.

Teams six, eight and nine in the Cochato club Boston pin tournament bowled Tuesday evening. Points were made as follows: team six, 5½ points, team eight, 5 points and team nine, 1½ points. Mr. Fitzgerald showed the boys how to hit the head pin.

TEAM SIX.
South	72	109	92	273
Crocker	96	89	99	284
Pratt	109	96	78	283
Pennock	103	95	95	293
Bates	75	87	90	252
Bridgham	82	87	92	261
	465	454	454	1373
TEAM EIGHT
Davy	89	89	89	267
Fitzgerald	96	109	119	324
Oakman	77	80	81	231
Stedman	96	90	84	270
	430	477	465	1372
TEAM NINE
Currier	95	95	95	285
Wheeler	93	93	93	279
Davenport	85	85	85	255
Hollis	82	82	82	246
Stevens	90	89	99	278
	445	444	454	1343

Wednesday evening the pins were completely intoxicated with cheers, whistling and singing in the observation seats and would hardly stand up. Our friend of the Boston Globe however kept his pins well up. Woodsum and Stoddard carried team seven to victory winning 6 points. Team ten won 5 points and team three secured one for consolation. Perry was high man on team ten. The scores:

TEAM THREE.
Lawley	99	99	99	297
Turner	89	89	89	267
Haskell	85	85	85	255
Bird	97	82	75	254
Gavin	78	78	69	235
	448	433	417	1298
TEAM SEVEN.
Woodsum	110	95	109	314
Stoddard	93	101	119	313
Ferguson	88	86	92	266
Adrian	85	97	78	260
Avery	81	97	89	267
	457	476	487	1420
TEAM TEN.
Knight	94	101	95	290
Swallow	85	83	103	271
Perry	104	83	112	299
Averill	95	78	93	266
Chapin	82	82	90	254
	460	427	493	1380

Thursday evening team one took 6 points, teams two and five 3 each. W. E. Howe made a wonderful string of 148. The scores:

TEAM ONE.
Olin	97	103	100	300
Macomber	78	103	85	266
Bent	94	95	101	290
Robbins	75	79	87	241
Urann	80	81	83	244
	424	461	456	1341
TEAM TWO.
W. I. Arnold	86	88	90	264
Macaulay	94	110	86	290
Rhoades	100	88	79	267
Johnson	87	91	92	270
Bennett	66	77	70	213
	433	454	417	1304
TEAM FIVE.
J. E. Arnold	92	95	84	271
Patten	98	108	77	283
Howe	91	86	148	325
Richards	68	83	90	241
Cozzens	71	78	69	218
	420	450	468	1338

Rating		Average
97	R. B. Woodsum	101-12-15
99	F. D. Lawley	100-8-18
101	E. R. Olin	99-14-18
99	W. I. Arnold	99-2-18
98	E. S. Hollis	98-7-15
80	William Perry	96-8-15
85	Dr. E. Bent	96-7-18
95	H. F. Knight	96-4-15
97	J. E. Arnold	95-10-18
85	W. E. Howe	95-7-18
94	R. R. Stoddard	95-12-15
94	H. L. Patten	94-12-18
97	L. O. Crocker	94-12-15
95	E. T. Currier	94-7-15
91	H. W. Macomber	93-10-18
88	W. W. Macaulay	93-10-18
89	W. M. Pratt	93-7-15
93	G. W. Wheeler	90-14-15
89	M. A. Turner	89-8-18A.
85	A. C. Davenport	89-12-15
96	F. E. M. South	89-7-15
87	J. G. Spear	89-2-15
85	W. H. J. Fitzgerald	89
89	J. W. Davy	89
90	G. A. Arnold	88-10-15
84	E. A. Johnson	88
85	C. H. Ferguson	87-9-15
91	M. T. Swallow	86-8-15
77	H. A. Stevens	86-7-15
86	F. P. Rhoades	85-12-18
80	W. M. Adrian	85-12-15
85	C. V. Pennock	85-9-15
84	E. B. Bird	85-2-15
78	L. P. Chapin	84-1-15
82	G. H. Wetherbee	83-11-15
79	E. S. Averill	83-10-15
85	E. A. Haskell	82-5-18
75	M. L. Urann	82-2-18
82	L. W. Hollis	82-7-15
81	L. E. Bates	82-2-15
79	J. H. Stedman	81-13-15
83	O. B. Oakman	81-8-15
75	E. Prescott	80-5-15
81	Dr. R. A. Richards	79-17-18
75	C. S. Cozzens	79-3-18
75	G. B. Gavin	78-5-18
80	O. A. Bridgham	78-6-15
76	S. Avery	78-8-15
80	H. W. Robbins	76-6-18
75	C. M. Bennett, Jr.	74-1-18

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.
will continue the service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.
OFFICE AT
WASHINGTON ST. QUINCY

Meats "R" Cheaper

Roast Pork (strip)	12 1-2c lb
Fresh, Smoked & Corn Shoulders	12 1-2c lb
Hams (Swift's Sugar Cured)	16c lb
Fancy Corned Brisket	17c lb
Choice Roast Beef	15c lb up
Fancy Turkeys (strictly fresh)	25c lb
Fancy Fowl (fresh killed)	23c lb

and hundreds of other good things that make a good satisfying dinner at lower prices than ever. Also Fresh Fish daily and a full line of groceries.

Closed all day Monday, Feb. 22d.

QUINCY PUBLIC MARKET
1514 Hancock St., Kincaides Bldg.
Phone 1434 J. Legal Stamps Free Delivery

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

The general express business conducted by the late Joseph M. Bruce, at No. 1598 Hancock Street, under the name of

BRUCE & WARNER EXPRESS

will be continued in the same name, and at the same place as formerly by the undersigned.

HELEN M. BRUCE, Administratrix.
DAVID M. WARNER, Manager.
18-6t

ILL WITH MEASLES.

Miss Annie Swithin, daughter of John Swithin, Glendale road, is at her home recovering from an atttack of measles, and not scarlet fever as reported.

Miss Annie Deane of South Weymouth, who sang the part of Katisha in the recent Quincy production of the Mikado, is coaching a drama to be presented by the North Abington Y. M. C. A.

THANKS FIREMEN

Commendation for the way in which Chief Billings and the men of the fire department handled the Sunday morning fire in the Adams building is expressed in a letter to the department from Mt. Wollaston lodge, I. O. O. F., whose rooms on the third floor were in the path of the flames. The letter is the second received in connection with the fire, the first being from R. E. Foy, proprieter of the Adams Market on the street floor. The letter follows:

Quincy, Feb. 19, 1915.

Chief Faxon Billings,
Quincy Fire Department:

Dear Sir: The officers and members of Mt. Wollaston lodge, No. 80, I. O. O. F. wish to extend to you and your men our appreciation for the way the fire was handled in our lodge rooms last Sunday morning. Through your carefulness you no doubt saved us many dollars damage to our furniture and regalia.

Yours respectfully
Charles Prout, Rec. Sec.

TO ENJOY TURKEY SUPPER.

The Young Peoples society of the Swedish Congregational church will enjoy a turkey supper at the church on Monday evening from six to eight o'clock. There will be music during the meal.

Last home game of the season.

Wedded Happiness
can be assured by good meats. A healthy, and well fed man makes the ideal husband. Lay the best meats before him and merit his everlasting appreciation. We stock the best in everything procurable.

Legs Best Lamb	.20 lb
Fores Best Lamb	.12 lb
Prime Rib Roast Beef	.14 and .18 lb
Choice Cuts, all meat, for Pot roasts	.18 lb
Fresh Pork, strip	.14 lb
Corn Beef Tongue	.20 lb
Fancy Capons	.28 lb
Florida Celery	.15 bunch
Radishes	.05 bunch
Cranberries	.05 qt
Richardson & Robbins Tomatoes	.15 can $1.55 doz
Hatchet Brand Corn	.12 1-2 can 1.45 doz
Sugar Peas	.12 1-2 can 1.45 doz
McVitie & Price's Imported Biscuits 13 kinds	.21 lb
Sweet Navel Oranges	.25 doz

Closed Monday, all day, Washington's Birthday.

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1789
FOY'S 2 STORES
WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily -- Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 45 QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 23, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

BILLY SUNDAY IS PURVEYOR OF CHEAP SLANG AND RIBALD JEST

Rev. A. L. Hudson Denounces Him as Man Whose Methods are Vituperation and Abuse

In an eloquent denunciation of Billy Sunday and his methods at the First Parish church Sunday morning Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson inquired: "What has happened that we should suddenly abandon the traditions of nineteen centuries and install as the new 'Defender of the Faith' a man who uses language in the pulpit which would not be tolerated among the children in our home."

Rev. Mr. Hudson's subject was 'Intellectual Religion and Billy Sunday." He said in part as follows:

" 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God *with all thy mind.' In these words the Lord Jesus Christ set the seal of his approval upon intelligence as a handmaid to religion. He commanded the eager attention of all classes. The learned Nicodemus came to Him to inquire about the great secret of life and the common people heard him gladly. He could sear with his invective the smug hypocrisy of his enemies and could baffle them in the field of subtle dialectic He could comfort the broken hearted, could inspire with hope the soul of the despairing sinner and could lift a casual conversation at the curb of Jacob's well, to the height of sublimity in a single sentence. But never once in all of his recorded utterances did he descend to flippant, coarse, or vulgar speech in order to attract a crowd or to refute an opponent.

"And yet men who seem in other matters to be sane, well meaning and sensible, talk about sending for Billy Sunday to evangelize Greater Boston, and to be the new standard bearer of the Christian Gospel! It is unthinkable!

"Religion in all ages has been the profoundest interest of mankind and Christianity is its highest expression on the earth. I can not believe that it has become so hopelessly bankrupt in our time that it must put itself into the hands of a receiver whose chief claim to notoriety is as a purveyor of cheap slang and ribald jest.

"The great upholders of the church through all the Christian centuries were men who today would be classed as "Intellectuals." Paul was one of the most perfectly educated men of his generation, well versed in the learning both of Greece and Israel, and his letters in pure and vigorous Greek to the churches which he helped to found, form a large part of our New Testament.

"The early 'Christian Fathers' were the scholars of their times, and the writings they have left behind are classics in Greek and Latin tongues. During the middle ages the Church was the repository of Learning. In modern times such great Evangelists as Wesley and Whitfield have spoken to vast multitudes in choice and faultless English. The two most distinguished and best loved preachers of New England in the past generation, whose words have touched the hearts of English speaking people on two continents, were Edward Everett Hale, and Phillips Brooks, both graduates of Harvard and masters of English style. What has happened that we should suddenly abandon the traditions of nineteen centuries and install as the new 'Defender of the Faith' a man who uses language in the pulpit which would not be tolerated among the children in our homes?

"Much harm is being done to the cause of religion by attacks and sneers from Christian pulpits directed against cultivated people as such. It is charged that as a class they are more interested in niceties of speech than in religion and humanity. In themselves such attacks are harmless and, upon the whole, absurd. But they tend to confuse moral values and to divide the forces of those who are battling for the right. When a distinguished prelate of the church refers sneeringly to a certain class with whom "An error in grammar is the only cardinal sin," it is easy to guess whom he is trying to hit. But the shaft goes wide of the mark. Fortunately for all of us there has been for some time in Cambridge and in Greater Boston a considerable group of people who have shown a decided prejudice in favor of cultivated intelligence and the use of correct English. But they are very far from being literary dilletanti. I know many of them. They are made of tough New England fibre and they come from stern old stock. They were 'Black Abolitionists' when slavery was entrenched in power. Their sons and brothers gave their lives for freedom in the Civil War. They have been foremost in unpopular reforms and humanitarian movements. They have been the chief supporters of Boston's large philanthropies, and are always at the front in any struggle for the rights of man. They are often "cranks" and radicals; but dilletanti? Never!

"Doubtless there are cultivated people among us who are indifferent to religion and lacking in a proper sense of their own moral responsibilities. Let such men be condemned for their indifference and carelessness, but not for their mental cultivation. Otherwise we would better dynamite our universities, and close our public schools. I cannot believe that the cause of religion and morals would gain in power by substituting, in the place of men of cultivated standards the leadership of Billy Sunday.

"But the thing most to be regretted in this present demand for something striking and spectacular is the underlying not of distrust in the normal and wholesome development of the activities of our Christian churches. I do not believe that such distrust has any valid basis. During the three years I have been privileged to work in this community I have watched with anxious interest the steady growth of Christian ideals, of moral and civic responsibility, and of broader human fellowship. Among my fellow-workers in the ministry there is coming to be, more and more, a disposition to subordinate our differences in theological beliefs, ecclesiastical forms, and individual ambitions, for the sake of our common work. We are learning to emphasize the larger interests of humanity without any surrender of denominational loyalty, or any occasion for it.

"I have seen at the same time a most promising response on the part of the people of the city. The attendance is steadily increasing in our churches. Men who have absented themselves from their church, in whole or in part, for many years, are coming to take an active interest in its affairs and are helping substantially in its work. I note with great delight a deepening seriousness in the lives of our young people and a loyal willingness to be of service. Our Sunday schools are increasing in numbers and efficiency, and are gaining in the active co-operation of the older people. Nor is evidence lacking that the same results are being realized in the communities around us. Many influences today are leading people back to a sense of individual duty and the vital need of building up the influence of the Churches, as a saving, steadying power in human life.

"I wish the process might go on more rapidly. It is natural for earnest workers to grow at times discouraged and impatient. We can all sympathize with the feeling of Theodore Parker when he exclaimed: 'I've found out what is the matter. God isn't in a hurry and I am.' But Jesus taught us that the "Kingdom of God" must needs come slowly, like the processes of Nature's growth, and subject to all the vicissitudes of thorns and tares, of shallow soil and hardened surface. But it would be a dangerous expedient to seek for help from a resort to cheap and vulgar methods, under the leadership of a man whose stock in trade is coarse vituperation and abuse and a wholesale denunciation of the motives and methods of tried and trusted workers. Let us trust in God and keep on working in our present ways! We do not need an earthquake, a tempest, or a cyclone, but only larger faith in the patient ministry of the 'Still Small Voice.' "

In closing Mr. Hudson urged his own people to renewed zeal and devotion in maintaining the noble ideals and Christian principles of their ancient church. "If we take the responsibility," he said, "of asserting that the religious welfare of the city does not need Billy Sunday, we must recognize the fact that it does need us."

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity.
Increasing cloudiness probably followed by rain tonight and Wednesday.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.29
Sun sets	5.28
Length of day	10.59
Moon sets	3.22
High water, A. M.	6.45
High water, P. M.	7.30
Days increase	1 hr. 56 minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.38 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	48 degrees
Feb. 23, 1914,	15 degrees
Feb. 23, 1913,	38 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—87.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

BOYS SHOES
Made to stand Hard Wear
BOSTON WELT
Regular $2 Shoe for $1.50
As a special inducement to every mother buying a pair of these Shoes we will repair your old ones for 25 cents, which is just the cost of the leather.
E. F. CONLIN,
Hancock and Saville Sts. Tel. Quincy 961-M

QUINCY MAY BE STRIKE SUFFERER

Trouble Believed to Be Brewing Among Street Car Men

W. D. MAHON COMING

W. D. Mahon, international president of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Car Employees of America reaches Boston today to determine whether or not the employees of the Bay State St. Ry. Co., will continue their arbitration meetings or adopt some other way to adjust their grievances. Rumors of a strike are rife throughout the entire system and a fair percentage of the Quincy branch which includes Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth, are said to favor one. The final decision will be reached at a meeting of the joint conference board of the union.

GERMANS WILL BE VICTORIOUS

Admiral Bowles Believes Ka'ser Will Win

Rear Admiral Francis T. Bowles, for several years president of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation, who returned to New York Monday after a hurried trip to Germany on a secret mission, is reported as declaring that he was confident that Germany would be the victor in the present conflict, but said he could not discuss the reasons.

Adm. Bowles went abroad on Dec. 12. His mission took him to Berlin, Dresden, Bermen, Hamburg, Cologne and other cities. He declared tonight that he was confident Germany will be the victor in the present conflict, but said he could not discuss his reasons.

SOCIETY HOLDS ENTERTAINMENT

The Ladies Aid society of the Calvary Baptist church held an entertainment and social, Monday evening in the church on Franklin street.

The program consisted of selections by the choir, speeches by Mrs. W. Williams and Mrs. R. Reed, recitations by Ruby Townsend, Esther Perry, Mrs. Butter, Mrs. Harding, Elsie Rhines and Dorothy Forbush, songs by the Ladies Aid Quartet, and solos by Walter Tregaskis and Mrs. Harding.

Refreshments were served and a silver collection was taken. The committee in charge was: Mrs. Richard Reed, Mrs. Linsey Smith, Mrs. Fred Beauleau and Mrs. Cottrell.

ATLANTIC TENNIS CLUB.

The members of the Atlantic Tennis club, recently organized in Ward Six, have petitioned for articles of incorporation. The officers elected are Lawrence Pope, president, Leslie Arthur, secretary and Stanley Churchill, treasurer.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

TO LET
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for Mr. Kribs.
Greenleaf Block. ('Phone 21066) Quincy

MANY OVERCOME FIGHTING STUBBORN $25000 FIRE

Crowd Marches Safely From Theatre Overhead Calmly Singing Tipperary

Merrily singing "It's a long way to Tipperary" 200 children and 500 adults filed safely out of Music hall Monday afternoon, when the building was discovered to be on fire. One boy started to shout fire but before he could repeat his cry he was shoved forcibly through the door. The remainder of the audience not knowing what had happened filed out through the main entrance and through the fire escapes on the west side of the building.

Among the firemen overcome by smoke were:

John Minihan, Auto 1, revived by the pulmotor. Taken home.

Paul Avery, Combination 2, taken to City Hospital.

Murdock McDonald, Auto 1, went home.

William B. Gerry, Auto 2, taken to Central fire station.

William Creedon, Auto 2, taken to Central fire station.

John C. Gallagher, Combination 2, returned to work.

Edward Barry, Auto 1, returned to work.

William Ericson, Combination 1, returned to work.

Cornelius O'Connell, Auto 1, returned to work.

Fred Bent, Ladder 2, returned to work.

John Desmond, Auto 1, returned to work.

William H. Sands, Hose 2, returned to work.

Maurice Creamer, Auto 1, returned to work.

William Carroll, Auto 1, returned to work.

Clarence Metcalf, Combination 2, hit with nozzle, remained at work.

The fire was in the basement of Remick Bros. store who occupy the entire first floor of the Music hall block. Their stock in trade was damaged upwards of $20,000 and the building damaged $6,000.

The afternoon performance had not been long in progress when some of the performers back of the stage noticed smoke coming up through the floor. Without stopping to investigate, John Fortier rushed to the front and shouting "Everybody sing Tipperary". He began to play the air on the piano. At the same time Patrick and Joe Erwin who were back of the stage rushed out and with John Erwin threw open the doors leading to the fire escape and opened wide the doors of the main entrance and forming the audience in three lines marched them out. In less than three minutes the hall was entirely emptied. One boy saw the smoke and shouted "fire" but before he could repeat his cry John Erwin grabbed him and forced him through the door.

Many firemen were overcome by the thick black smoke which filled the basement and for some time prevented them getting inside the basement and at the seat of the fire Early in the fire John Minihan of Auto 1 was taken out of the rear entrance to the basement. He had been overcome by the smoke and was unconscious. He was laid on a platform and the pulmotor brought into use. Dr. W. H. Blanchard of the Red Cross hospital at the Fore River applied the pulmotor assisted by Officers Cahill and Whelan and after the fire fighter had been revived he was taken to his home in the police auto.

An hour later Paul Avery of Combination 2, Quincy Point, collapsed. He had been partly overcome several times but as soon as he had somewhat revived, returned to work. The pulmotor was applied but it was cold and Dr. Reardon who was at hand ordered Avery removed to the City Hospital.

Murdock McDonald of Auto 1 was overcome and after partly recovering was led home by a friend. William B. Gerry and William Creedon of Auto 2, were also so much overcome that they had to give up duty and went to the central station. Chief Billings was almost overcome several times but stuck to his post and after breathing a little fresh air immediately returned to work. Others who were overcome, but returned to work were John C. Gallagher of Combination 2 at Quincy Point, Edward Barry of Auto 1, William Ericson of Combination 1, Cornelius O'Connell of Auto 2, Fred Bent of Ladder 2, John Desmond of Auto 1, William H. Sands of Hose 2, Maurice Creamer of Auto 1, William Carroll of Auto 1. Fireman Metcalf of the West Quincy apparatus got a crack on the leg with a nozzle which made a bruise but although he limped about during the remainder of the fire he did not give up.

Some of those overcome although advised to give up and go to the station refused to do so. At one time it was reported that two men were in the basement. Chief Billings sent a squad of men to the rescue. Just at this time however William B. Gerry and William Creedon crawled out and toppled over. After being revived they went to the central station.

It was the hardest kind of a fire to fight. All of the fire was in the basement, and as it was later learned, was among a lot of old paper which had been bundled and then piled up in one part of the basement. It was this burning paper that caused the smoke. Edward A. Damon, the engineer of the building was the first to discover the fire. He saw smoke coming through the walls into the engine room and immediately telephoned the central fire station. He then ran to Box 23, the danger box, which was sounded at 1.35. Half an hour later a general alarm was sounded bringing all of the apparatus of the city with the exception of Houghs Neck. Capt. McKay and Inspector Goodhue responded with the patrol wagon and pulmotor and a squad of officers. The street was immediately roped off to keep back the large crowd.

At no time did the fire get to the street floor but the main store was so filled with a black stifling smoke that it was impossible for a man to remain inside the room. Dr. Blanchard of the Fore River Red Cross hospital was one of those early on the scene and he brought with him the self-rescuing appliances, such as are used at the Fore River plant in entering

(Continued on Page Two.)

12th Anniversary
Concert and Dance
Pride of Granite Lodge, I. O. O. L. M. U
FRANKLIN HALL
THURSDAY EVENING, FEB. 25th, 1915
From 8-12 Refreshments Free
TICKETS 25 CENTS

I Can Tell You
MRS. S. V. ODIORNE
Business and Pyschic Trance Medium
Private Readings $1.00
Lost Articles recovered, questions answered, advice given, satisfaction guaranteed.
Circles every Tuesday at 3 and 8
Developing Class Thursday at 8
President of Quincy Spiritualist Society, Member of Massachusetts State Spiritualist Association. I am here to stay.
Circle Meetings at 3 and 8
8 Mechanic St. off Revere Road
Tel. 1923 M or 327 M.
Feb. 20-eod tf

CITY OF QUINCY
BOARD OF SURVEY

The public is hereby notified that the Board of Survey by virtue of the authority of Chapter 704 of the Acts of the year, 1914, have adopted the following rules:—

Rules Concerning the Preparation of Plans and Profiles.

All plans and profiles submitted to the Board of Survey, must be drawn on sheets of tracing cloth of uniform size, 18 inches high by 31 inches wide inside the border, with 1½ inch margin, except on the left where it shall be 3½ inches.

Plans should show scale, date, surveyor's name and address, with north point and names of abutting owners.

Unless otherwise directed by the City Engineer, the scale of all plans must be 40 feet to an inch, the horizontal scale of all profiles 40 feet to an inch and the vertical scale 6 feet to an inch.

The plans must give sufficient information to accurately locate the centre or one side of the proposed street so as to connect it with other existing streets in the vicinity. They should show ground heights at the centre and both sides of streets at each 50 foot station.

All buildings, walks, drives or other fixtures abutting on or near the proposed streets should be shown, if they are affected by the proposed lay-out. The lines of the proposed street and the proposed grades, as well as the figures showing the radii of curves, widths and proposed grades, must be shown in red ink; all other figures and lines in black ink.

Profiles must show, in addition to the proposed grade, present elevations of the centre of proposed streets every fifty feet.

All grades must refer to Quincy City Base.

If a street submitted for approval does not extend through to another street and is likely to be extended in the near future, the plan should be of the whole street, showing the connections with existing or other proposed streets.

EZEKIEL C. SARGENT, Clerk.

Copies of the above act, together with rules and form of petition to the Board of Survey may be obtained at the Office of the City Engineer.

Feb. 19-3t

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

Quincy, in common with other American cities, has suffered much because of the failure of many of its most prominent citizens to see their duty. America needs men of ability, men who have made successes in their private undertakings, in public office today. It is sad to reflect that so many have failed to respond to the call and have yielded the field to lesser men.

He whose birthday all America celebrated on Monday was not such a man. George Washington always heeded the call of duty. A man of family and wealth, it would have been easiest for him to have remained loyal to the king. Instead, as all the world knows, he heard the voice of duty and threw in his lot with his countrymen. He was a true American.

When the Revolution was over most men might have felt that they had earned the right to rest. Those were troublous times: the presidency of the young nation promised more sorrow than honor. Personal inclination would have induced the great American to decline the crowning honor of his career. But the call of duty was not to be denied and he agreed to guide the ship of state on its maiden voyage.

In a letter to General Knox he wrote: "I am sensible that I am embarking the voice of the people and a good name of my own, on this voyage; but what returns will be made for them, heaven alone can foretell. Integrity and firmness are all I can promise. These, be the voyage long or short, shall never forsake me, although I may be deserted by all men; for the consolations, which are to be derived from these, under any circumstances, the world cannot deprive me."

Americans for all time will render tribute to this man, to whom the nation is indebted for its very birth. And there can be no greater tribute than this: response, upon the part of those who enjoy the blessings of the land for which George Washington did so much, to the call of duty with a determination to perform it with integrity and firmness. "Long live George Washington, President of the United States," cried the chancellor when Washington had taken the oath of his great office. Long live, too, the spirit of George Washington in the hearts of the American people.

SOCIAL BITTERNESS

At the heart of modern social problems lies the bitter feeling between classes. When the sweating laborer in the street shakes his fist as the luxurious limousine passes there is something more at issue than any mere question of money.

If people of wealth wish to know how they can soften all this friction of unrest, they can find plenty of individual instances in the charity work done so widely this winter. When one sees some daughter of luxury out with a big basket, distributing food supplies, or collecting gifts for the Belgians, even the resentful man with the pick must see that wealth does not always close the heart.

Bitterness arises from the fact that a successful business man often looks at human material as something to be merely bought and sold. He has acquired his fortune by hard knocks. If other people suffer, it must be from their own indolence or waste. He looks at the people streaming into the picture shows and remarks that he never acquired his fortune by such foolish expenditure.

If he is running a poorly ventilated, unsanitary factory, with dangerous machines and too long hours, he is undermining the stamina of the community. Nothing that he or his family can do by way of incidental alleviation can begin to atone.

These evils are being relieved by laws, inspection, and trade agreements. Meanwhile the number of wealthy women who make charity a leading occupation is larger. Many of them know the slums of the cities as well as the Socialists and Anarchists. They give not merely money but kindly sympathy and common sense suggestions. This is more effective than talking on soap boxes.

GETS BAD CUT DURING FIGHT

Physician Sews Up Wound and Victim Disappears

An Atalian who refused to give his name came to the office of Dr. S. C. Hardwick on Elm street late Sunday afternoon with a bad cut in his side, which he said he had received during an affray at 70 Union street with another Italian. After the wound had been sewed up the man disappeared. Dr. Hardwick notified the police who visited the house at 70 Union street but found no one who knew anything about the row or would even admit that there had been a row of any kind at the house.

WOMEN PRESENT GOOD PROGRAM

There was a large attendance at the Swedish Lutheran church Monday evening at the exercises held under the auspices of the Ladies society, Mrs. L. Hokenson wife of the pastor, was in charge.

The program opened with singing by the congregation, followed by a song by the Ladies society.

Other numbers on the program included an address of welcome by Mrs. Andrew Anderson, vice president, piano solos by Mrs. Andrew Nelson, vocal solos by Mrs. Youngquist, readings by Mrs. A. C. Bjorkman, violin solos by Mrs. Emily Haagan, trio by Mrs. W. R. Lofgren, Mrs. Alma Skinner, Mrs. L. Hokenson dialogue by Mrs. Ecklund, Mrs. Hultin, reading by Mrs. Mary Nelson, songs by the ladies society, piano and organ duet by Mrs. Andrew Nelson and Miss Emma Witting, and remarks by Rev. L. Hokenson, president of the society. The party then adjourned to the new chapel which although not yet completed was used for refreshments. The ushers were Mrs. E. J. Sandberg, Mrs. Fred Swanson, Mrs. G. A. Nelson and George Nordahl.

MAN AND SON STRUCK BY AUTO

Samuel Steele, 43, and his son, Lindsay, 6, of 777 Washington street, Quincy, were struck and knocked down by an automobile while they were leaving the ferryboat Hugh O'Brien at the East Boston slip Monday afternoon. The machine was operated by Samuel Sneerson of 187 Devon street, Roxbury.

Both were taken to the East Boston Relief Station where an examination showed that the elder Steele had sustained a fracture of the left shoulder and multiple injuries. His son escaped with an injury of his left knee.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

A pretty birthday party was given by Miss Norma Barnard, 1585 Hancock street, Monday afternoon and evening to her young friends.

They formed a theatre party in the afternoon; after which the party went to the home on Hancock street where games and dancing were enjoyed. A dainty luncheon was then served and a huge birthday cake was cut by the little hostess.

Among those present were the Misses Ruth Kinsman, Ruth Jones, Catherine Brown, Ruth Barnard, Clarice Jones, Marie Jones .

POEHLER AND WALSH WIN.

Poehler and Archie Walsh beat "Red" Millar and Harry Cole Monday night in the first half of their 20 string match. Poehler was high with an average of 110 and Cole second with 105. Wednesday night the last half will be roiled at the New Boston alleys. The scores:

Poehler—107, 114, 116, 108, 107, 96, 114, 89, 130 121—1102

Walsh—108 97, 116, 97, 109, 88, 95, 100, 106, 111—1027—2129.

Millar—90, 85, 95, 94, 100, 103, 87, 102, 112, 122—990.

Cole—110, 102, 113, 125, 113, 85, 110, 112, 95, 89—1052—2042.

FALSE ALARM.

The alarm from Box 224 at 3.05 Sunday afternoon was a false alarm. The recall was immediately sounded.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

MANY OVERCOME

(Continued from Page One.)

parts of a vessel where a fire starts. This apparatus is hung about the neck and has a small tank of oxygen attached .The mouth piece is placed over the mouth and nose and as long as the oxygen lasts a man can remain in a room of the thickest kind of smoke. These enabled the firemen to learn that there was no fire on the main floor.

Nine or ten lines of hose were laid. Several of these lines were pushed through the small window near the sidewalk used to light the basement and tons and tons of water were poured into the basement. A large hole was also cut through the floor and a stream played down through this. At the same time several lines of hose were laid to the rear rear of the building and forced into the basement. It was on this side of the building and forced into the thickest and where all of the firemen were overcome. It seemed as though the firemen would never get inside. They tried hard enough but it was utterly impossible for anyone to get in. Then again it was found difficult to break in the windows. As a last resort a ladder was brought into use and used as a battering ram and then the doors and windows were forced, although the ladder was knocked into kindling wood.

It was nearly 4 o'clock before the firemen were able to enter the basement and then they began to throw out the bundles of old paper and the fire was under control. The recall sounded at 5.30 P. M.

One of the early arrivals at the fire was Chief Holmes of Milton who came over with several of his men. While standing talking to Chief Billings someone came along and said that Box 322 had just sounded.

Chief Holmes volunteered to take care of the fire and left for the scene in the chief's auto. The Wollaston apparatus was also dispatched to the box. They made good time but on arrival found that the box had not been sounded.

When Chief Holmes returned he telephoned to Milton to send over a hose wagon and some men to relieve the Quincy men and at 4.45 o'clock Hose 1 of the Milton central station and a dozen men appeared on the scene and relieved the Quincy men, who were glad enough to get out into fresh air once more.

While the fire was in progress Capt McKay of the police department ordered a lot of hot coffee sent to the central station which was greatly appreciated by the firemen who were sent to the station a few at a time for a little relief.

The smoke and water that filled the street floor must have ruined the stock of Remick Bros. who occupied the whole of this floor. Mr. Remick was one of those earliest on the scene but could not give any idea as to the loss. He said that he carried a stock of more than $20,000 which he believed was practically ruined.

While the fire was in progress the door of the back shop was opened and several of the firemen were supplied with rubber coats, for they were soaked through and through with water.

As the street was roped off all street cars on the East Milton, Brockton and Weymouth Landing lines were held up on either side of the lines and passengers had to transfer. The street railway company brought its hose bridges to the scene and used them for a time on the easterly track

Another visitor to the fire was District Chief Webster of Weymouth who came over in his auto. He offered Chief Billings the use of one of Weymouths new auto pumps but the offer was declined.

During all of the fire a large outside show case filled with gentlemen's furnishings stood like a guard at the main entrance of the store, and strange as it may seem the glass was not smashed. When the fire was about over the case was torn from its fastenings and carried across the street.

After the fire was out it was found that the floor timbers of the store were badly charred on the under side and they will probably have to be replaced No fire got upstairs however and there was no damage to Music hall. The loss on the building is estimated at about $6,000.

Paul Avery of Combination 2, who was sent to the city hospital when overcome by smoke at the fire Monday is reported as doing all right and will probably return home today.

John Minihan is also reported as being on the road to recovery today although it was necessary for him to call a physician Monday night.

John Desmond seems to be the worst off today. Fireman Desmond who is attached to the central station apparatus kept at work during the fire although partly overcome several times. Today however he is feeling the effects of the smoke in his eyes being nearly blinded. He is now confined to his home under the care of a physician.

Mr. Remick when seen this morning said that he did not care to make any statement at the present itme as to the amount of sock that he carried or what he thought the loss would be. HHe did say however that he was fully covered by insurance.

Chief Billings has not been able to determine the cause of the fire. He found a large bundle of bundles of old wrapping paper in the basement. The fire started there. The chief estimated the loss on the building at $5000 to $60000. The stock was insured for $25,000.0

BOY MAY LOSE HIS EYESIGHT

Applies Match to Some Blasting Powder

Thomas, the 11 year old son of John McLean of Granite street, may lose his eyesight as the result of the explosion of a quantity of powder Sunday afternoon. The boy was poking about the granite sheds along Quarry street during the afternoon and found some loose blasting powder. He applied a match to it which produced a loud explosion flashing up into his face. Companions with him rushed him to a physician who found that his eyes were badly damaged. The physicians hope to save the young boy's eyesight.

BUILDING PERMITS.

Inspector of Buildings Thomas has issued the following building permits this week:

Leroy S. Hinxman, dwelling, East Elm avenue.

H. L. Eldridge, garage, Royal street.

Mary E. Sullivan, dwelling, Charles street.

M. S. Kelliher, garage, Oak street.

George Lamprose, alteration, Revere road.

Oriental Fossati, dwelling, Kendrick avenue.

A. R. Wells, cottage, Pawsey street

John Rorizant, dwelling, Shorehan road.

S. H. Littlefield, dwelling and garage, Ocean street.

A. E. Stephenson dwelling Freeman street.

Hyman Katz, dwelling, Walnut street.

W. L. Jefferson, dwelling, Hamilton street.

Mary A. Buckley, dwelling, Bayfield road.

George W. Glover, garage, Green street.

Mildred D. Richmond, dwelling, Fayette street.

W. B. Grant, dwelling, Freeman street.

CLASS OF 1911 HOLD REUNION

The reading of the statistics of the class of 1911 of Quincy High school quotations of members and the characteristic songs applied to them, as printed in the graduation number of the Golden Rod of that year was a pleasant feature for 25 couples who attended the first reunion, Saturday evening in Colonial hall.

Miss Clara Thompson, teacher of mathematics at High school and Miss Margaret Lennon, secretary to Headmaster Ernest L. Collins, were the matrons of the evening and renewed many friendships. Both received a warm welcome from those present.

Washington birthday favors were distributed and all joined in singing popular songs of the day, after which there was a confetti battle when dozens of paper rolls were thrown through the clouds of colored tissue which filled the hall. A great portion of the evening was devoted to dancing, music being furnished by Samuel Sears.

During a short meeting it was voted to have the reunion committee permanent appointees and to hold the affairs every four or five years. The committee was Paul Blackmur, Miss Daisey Brooks, Sydney Crane, Miss Edna Rose, Miss Jean Arthur, Millard Chapman.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

LEGISLATURE PASSES BILLS.

Two Special Acts of Interest to This City.

Two of the important Quincy matters before the legislature this year have been passed and have been signed by the Governor. This year in the legislature these matters are known as special acts. The first of these to pass is known as Chapter 29, and allows the city to appropriate a sum not exceeding $10,000 in any one year for the city hospital.

The second act is an amendment to the charter and is known as chapter 32. This provides that in case of a vacancy in the membership of the city council, after a majority of the members thereof have taken oath, that the vacancy shall be filled by the remaining members of the council. It also provides that if a vacancy occur in the office of the mayor after having taken the oath of office, the president of the city council shall assume the duties of the office.

This is taken to mean that when the president of the council assumes the duties of the office of mayor that his membership in the city council shall cease and that the council will fill this vacancy in the manner provided, and then elect a new president.

Another act which is of more or less interest to Quincy is that which allows cities and towns to appropriate money for the celebration of holidays. This act also allows cities and towns to appropriate a sum not exceeding one fiftieth of one per cent of its valuation in the year the appropriation is made for providing suitable quarters for the grand army. The act also allows cities and towns to appropriate money for armories.

FOOLS WITH DYNAMITE

Franciello Touches Match to Fuse of Cap

Vincenzo Franciello, 232 Independence avenue, with the aid of a match Monday evening definitely determined the quality of percussion caps used in exploding dynamite in blasts. None of his fingers were blown off but all on his left and two on his right hand were painfully burned.

Vincenzo's curiosity was aroused by the sight of a box of caps found by his five year old son. Unaware of his danger he touched a match to a fuse and the explosion followed.

Dr. Cook of Braintree responded to the frantic summons from neighbors who crowded into the Franciello home when the explosion resounded throughout the dwelling, followed by the distressed cries of the injured man. The physician said amputations would not be necessary.

The police are investigating as far as they can, the story of the little boys find. They seized a box containing two dozen caps which are now in the headquarters arsenal.

ENGAGEMENT TEA.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Faxon Entertain For Daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Faxon of Adams street gave a tea Sunday afternoon to their daughter, Miss Mary M. Faxon, whose engagement to Samuel Bannister of New York was announced Saturday.

The tea was from four to six and during those hours Miss Faxon and Mr. Bannister were the recipients of the hearty good wishes and congratulations of scores of relatives and friends. Mrs. Faxon assisted them in receiving.

A profusion of lovely flowers filled the rooms, roses, pinks, violets, orchids, and lilies of the valley. The tables from which coffee, tea and ice cream were served, were also beautifully adorned. The servers were Mrs. Joseph Morrison of Exeter, N. H., Miss Clarice Doble, Miss Constance Sears Miss Beatrice Morrison, Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth of Bronx, N. Y., and Miss Eleanor Drinker.

DR. COOK TO MARRY.

Quincy Physician Engaged to Maine Girl.

Captain and Mrs. B. E. Pinkham of Boothbay Harbor, Maine, have announced the engagement of their daughter Marion Louise to Dr. James H. Cook of this city. Dr. Cook is little known in Quincy, having but recently opened his office here. He is well known in Braintree and Weymouth. Miss Pinkham is assistant to the postmaster at Boothbay Harbor

I am a Traveling Man-with a wife and little family that I see once a week.

Since the inauguration of the Western Union Day Letter and Night Letter service my wife and I have exchanged Night Letters regularly. My wife says these daily notes keep her from being lonesome. I am assured daily that everything is O. K. at home.

THE WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH CO.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Charles F. Adams 2nd et al trs et al to Emma J. Wenners, Hobomack road.

Livingstone Blake to Catherine L. Boyden et al, Kemper street, Waterston avenue.

Florence J. Brown to Leta J. Spear Davis street.

Wilton A. Dunham to Flora B. Wanamaker, Houghs Neck.

Wilton A. Dunham to Margaret M. Coughlin, Houghs Neck.

George H. Field to Walter B. Grant Freeman street.

James H. Fitzpatrick to Moreton T. Swallow, Dimmock street.

Ella S. Grisim to Charles W. Knox, Pelican road.

Ada T. Hayden to George W. McNeil et al, Border street.

Edward G. Jarvis to Thomas A. Sweeney et al, Taber street.

Harry D. King to Livingstone Blake, Kemper street, Waterston avenue.

Glenn G. Klock to Frederick M. Torrey.

Mellie L. Lane to Bertha G. Nichels, Billings street.

Alice B. Mannex to Mary Berry, Rogers street.

Georgianna S. Murray to Sarah O. Murray, Newport & Lincoln avenue.

Bigelow F. Nay to Hanna M. Anderson, Howard avenue.

Martha J. Nelson to Anthony Calabro et al, Clarendon street.

Maria I. Osborne et al to Charles E. Wright, Berlin and Whyland streets.

Marian A. Osborne ex to Charles E. Wright, Berlin and Wayland streets.

Ida L. Patten et al to Livingstone Blake, Willow street.

Ida L. Patten et al to Wilbur E. Dickerton, Willow street.

Charles H. Penniman to Charles Larson, Whitwell street.

William Prout to George Prout et al, Brook road.

William Prout to George Prout et al.

John A. Rein to Agnes G. Rein, Bellevue road.

Gertrude Roberts to Ella S. Grisim, Pelican road.

Elmer J. Rogers to Mary A. Hanson Seagull & Heron roads.

Charles R. Sherman to John M. Hall, Ridgeway street.

Thomas Whiffon to William L. Rand, Houghs Neck.

Charles E. Wright to Lydia A. Mann Berlin and Wayland streets.

BRAINTREE REAL ESTATE SALES.

Joseph I. Bishop tr to Lucia Grazioso, Granite street.

James E. Burke tr to Harry Hackett.

Lorenzo Gonsziosi et ux to Francesca S. LaMarca et al, Granite street.

Alphonso S. Hall to Anthony J. White, Columbia terrace.

Josephus Sampson to Warren H. Foss.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

Quincy branch advertised letters, Feb. 20, 1915.

Johan A. Anderson, John Boies, Thos. Carr, Warren D. Carr, Henry Duclois, Mrs. Len Terro, Mrs. C. J. Fowler, Mrs. Edw. Frye, A. J. MacDougal, John Maloney, E. W. Martin, Miss Harriet Reed, Joe Richards, Archibald L. Smith, Frank Smith, Th. Toplrenj, Frances Fox Ushhiti, Mrs. Walls, Miss M. Whitman.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

ISLE OF PINES

An association is now being formed to own 100 acres of grapefruit or 7000 trees. Join now--membership $250.00, $10.00 down and $5.00 per month. 6 pct. guaranteed for the first five years and then each member gets 85 pct. of the profits. Write for particulars.

ISLE OF PINES ASSOCIATES
170 Summer St., Boston, Mass.

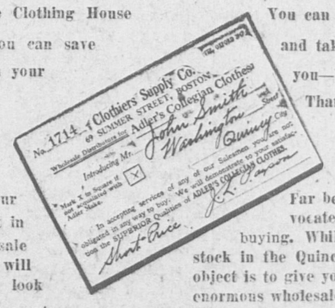

Feb. 11-1m

Quincy, Norwood & Sagamore Wholesale Dept., 69 Summer St., Boston.

USE OUR INTRODUCTION BLANK

introducing you to a Big Boston, Mass.

Wholesale Clothing House
Where you can save
Money on your
Clothes

You can pay for them there and take them with you—We manufacture That's why

Ask for our Mr. Orent in our wholesale dept. who will cheerfully look after your wants

Far be it from as to advocate Boston clothes buying. While we carry a large stock in the Quincy store our object is to give you the benefit of an enormous wholesale stock at less than retail prices.

ORENT-PAYSON CO.
1387 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

WENEGATE AUTO TOP & BODY CO.
PACKARD FORE DOORS $30
Runabout, Hearse, Truck, Touring, Limousines, and Speed Bodies made to order, Mud Guards, Hoods, Tops, Slip Covers, Wind Shields and Repairing of all kinds.
CONVERTIBLE LIMOUSINE TOPS FOR ALL MAKES OF CARS
ALL WORK GUARANTEED—PRICES VERY REASONABLE
637 WASHINGTON ST.--Tel. Dor. 1180--DORCHESTER, MASS.
Feb. 18-1m

Among Our Churches

ST. CHRYSOSTOMS.

The 10.30 o'clock service at St. Chrysostoms church was morning prayer, the rite of confirmation and sermon by Suffragan Bishop Samuel G. Babcock. The rector Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra presented twenty persons to the Bishop for confirmation.

The Bishop addressed the candidates on the meaning of the step taken reminding them that it was only the initial step; to remember that by this confirmation they had confirmed the words of baptism given by parents or sponsor. He brought out the meaning of the Holy Ghost that spiritual presence of Gods power, love and the manifold gifts of grace. Dedicate yourselves to the service of God that He may defend you with His heavenly grace. He emphasized the significance of that portion of the order of confirmation "daily increase in thy Holy Spirit more and more until he comes into thy everlasting Kingdom."

Bishop Babcock took for his text Luke 21, 19th verse, revised version "In your patience ye shall win your souls." The words of Christ and what a great promise they contain.

Lent is intended to help win souls, which can be won or lost. Soul winning is getting possession of the spiritual side of life. It is the higher nature in life attaining mastery over the lower nature. It is holding one's faculties in command and bringing them into God's service in spite of all distractions. It is following the example of Jesus the conqueror of sin. One must have patience; "Follow me," says our Lord and the road over which He leads passes through the wilderness of discipline and trial.

People look at Lent in different ways, but whoever obeys the church's call "Listen to the words of life," finds fellowship with the highest and best. Pray for God's wisdom and guidance. Set apart forty days in which to meditate upon the passion of Jesus Christ the Righteous," is learning to win his soul. We are living in times that try men's souls. The world is full of commotion and revolution. The very foundations of society are threatened. Across the water the heresy of "might makes right" is making unnumbered multitudes mourn. We have thought we had outgrown paganism, and yet we see rulers of nations sanctioning cruelties, done even to the innocent and helpless which would put to shame any decent barbarian.

Is it not true that we are sometimes too neutral in the presence of vice and wrong? Lent comes to teach us how to fight the good fight of good against evil. We win our souls by winning other souls to Christ.

If I should undertake to state what is a leading thought or desire in the minds of most people at present I should say "to win something." Beginning with ambition for the prizes of school life, the objects it strives for, multiply as the years speed on, and this no doubt adds to the zest and interest of life but there is this danger that we may value highest things of least importance. One sign that many are doing this is found in the daily newspaper which is supposed to represent popular opinion. Examine it and note what a disproportionately large amount of space is given to finance, sport and war; three departments of life which tell of the prizes of material gain, of athletic prowess, of success in violence and battle.

It almost means madness these fevered efforts to win what we call the popular prizes of life. What bitter disappointment the struggle results in, and how one forgets that the chief prize is within reach of all, that it is the same as in the days of Jesus "In your patience ye shall win your souls."

The mixed vested choir under the direction of Herbert Y. Follett and Miss Louisa Allison Ross organist rendered the musical program. The anthem, "Lead Kindly Light," by Sullivan was sung during the offertory.

Those confirmed were: Herbert Spencer Atkins, Hilton Horte, George Sidney Horte, Sydney Elsmere Smith, Horatio Arthur Holland, Carroll Kennedy McTear, William Stephen Guilhop, Ray Carleton Lamb, Lawrence Douglass Wetmore, Charles Sumner Vibert, Harold Thomas Burgess, Beatrice Winnifred Nickerson, Margaret Elizabeth Buzzell, Dorothy Clara Wetmore, Sadie Effigiene Wheeler, Mildred Deans Wilmore, Josephine Julia Kessler, Bernice Alice Hobson, Ada Margaret Hooton, Mrs. George G. Watts.

BRIEFS

Dr. Seth Ames Lewis of Springfield, was the guest of J. Willard Hallett, 38 Warwick street over the holiday.

The First Presbyterian church will hold a general conference Thursday evening on "The Field to Which Our Church Should Minister."

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Presbyterian church will meet Wednesday evening.

Horace Briggs and family of 15 Warwick street have moved to Montclair and will occupy one of Mr. Parlee's houses.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Allen of Hamilton street entertained a number of friends on Saturday night. Honors were won by Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Davidson, while the consolation went to Mr. H. J. Landry and Mrs. J. Willard Hallett.

Miss Rose A. Hallett and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deyette have returned to Centreville accompanied by Mrs. Wm. J. Vass and children of 92 Botolph street, Atlantic, whose house guests they have been the past week.

Miss Ethel Young of Elliot Avenue, Bellevue Park, spent Saturday, Sunday and Monday at the summer home in New Hampshire of the Taylors of Beach street, Wollaston.

The Boston District Cabinet of Epworth Leagues is to tender Bishop Hamilton and District Superintendent Bronson a reception in Hamilton hall, Boston on Saturday evening from 7 to 9 o'clocck to which the cabinets of the local leagues are invited.

While Dr. Adams of Wollaston was backing out of his garage Sunday to respond to a hurry call to attend a person with a broken arm he was struck by an electric car going down the grade on Farrington street. The collision caused the rear wheel to be broken square off the axle. Fortunately no one was hurt.

SURPRISE PARTY.

Miss Sadie Berman of 98 Franklin street was surprised Sunday by her friends and presented with a gold pendant. There were 85 present and the committee was Miss Marion Litchman, Miss Mollie Sherad, Louis and William Wolf. Refreshments were served by the committee.

HENIGAN IS FIRST.

Thomas Henigan finished first in the St. Joseph's T. A. S. ten mile run Monday morning and his brother James, scratch man, captured the time prize. Allen Connor of Quincy was seventh. Their time.

	Elap. m.s.	Pen. m.s.	Cor. m.s.
T. Henigan, Dor. Club	57.38	1.15	56.
Al. Connor, Dorr. Club	58.57	.15	58.42
J. Henigan, Dor. Club	59.	.22	5.15 54.07

VIOLATION OF LORD'S DAY.

Seven Arraigned In Court For Alleged Pool Playing.

Seven young men were arraigned in court today for violation of the Lord's Day. Nicola Papagni was the only man found guilty and his case was continued for sentence until Thursday. The case of Americo Marini who is a juvenile was also continued until that date. The other men were found not guilty and discharged. The men were arrested by Officers Hollingshead and Ferguson in a room on Water street Sunday evevening. It was alleged they were playing pool.

Baked with great care and wrapped in Wax Paper. Dust and flyproof between our bakery and your table. Ask for it.
YOUR GROCERS SELL IT
PFATT BREAD CO.
3100 Washington Street, Boston

Masquerade Costumes For Rent
Children's Costumes in variety
MRS. R. E. WOODWARD
155 Billings Road
Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs
Feb. 3-tf

MICHAEL E. SHEA BACK IN OFFICE

Will Assume Duties of General Foreman, Street Dept. Mar. 1

WAS OUSTED BY MILLER

The office of first assistant to the commissioner of public works, instituted a year ago by Mayor Miller in order to get rid of Michael E. Shea, the general foreman of the street department has in turn been abolished by Mayor Campbell and the office of General Foreman has again been established. Michael E, Shea has been appointed, his appointment to take effect March 1.

Mr. Shea was first appointed under the civil service rules during the administration of Mayor Shea in 1908. When Mayor Miller came into office he requested Foreman Shea to resign but the latter refused point blank. In order to get rid of him Mayor Miller abolished the office.

JOHN F. GARVIN.

John F. Garvin a Dorchester contractor and a native of Quincy died at 23 Elmo street, Dorchester, on the holiday. He was the son of Patrick Garvin who lived on Sumner street years ago. One brother of the deceased was familiarly known in athletics as "Billy" Garvin. He was a long distance walker and won many medals. He was killed in a train wreck at Philadelphia 35 years ago. His funeral, held here, was the largest ever seen in the city and has never since been equaled.

John Garvin is survived by his wife, Margaret and one sister, Katherine, wife of patrolman Lyons of Station 16 of Boston. His funeral will take place Wednesday. A high mass of requiem will be sung at St. Hugh's church, Blue hill avenue. The body will be brought to Quincy for burial in the family lot in St. Mary's cemetery.

WILL COMMEND FIREMEN.

Mayor Campbell said this morning that he would write a letter to the Erwin boys some time during the day commending them for their work in emptying Music hall during the fire Monday. He also said that he would write a letter to the firemen, who although enjoying their day off from duty responded to the general alarm and did heroic work at the fire.

APPOINTMENTS WEDNESDAY.

Mayor Campbell will probably announce his appointments to the police department at roll call Wednesday evening.

CHURCH NEWS WEDNESDAY.

The regular church reports were crowded out today by the great amount of news which accumulated over the holiday. The church news will appear Wednesday.

YE OLDEN DAYS.

When Young Master Seaver finished the dinner, President Adams invited him into his library and as was his custom gave the teacher an opportunity to select a book to take home to read and return the following week. He asked the President what book he had better take and was advisel to take Shakespeare which he did. At the en do fthe week, he returned it and the President asked him what he thought of Hamlet's soliloguy? Seaver scratched his head a little hesitated awhile and said "I read the book through but I don't recall it." Well said the President, "What did you think of Portia's plea i nthe trial scene of the Merchant of Venice?" Seaver passed his hands through his hair again, "I declare," said he "I don't seem to recall that." "Well said the President, "You had better take the book home and read it" which I did and you may rest assured I read it, thoroughly that time It was a great lesson to me ever after when I read a book, I read it understandingly an dthoroughly.

Hotel Brunswick
Lysander S. Richards
Boston, Feb. 20, 1915.

WEDNESDAY LEDGER CLUB NEWS

Milady's Mirror

The Beautiful Profile.

It is in profile that the features show perfection or defect. A face that to front view appears symmetrical may in profile present angles and hollows and features that are too sharply delineated for beauty. So study your side view in the mirror.

Note whether the side line of the head is too long. If it is draw the hair a little farther down over the temples and if the line of the face is too long bring the hair forward a bit.

Carrying the chin uptilted ever so slightly diminishes the apparent length of the facial outline and seems to elongate the curve of the throat. If the head is tipped a trifle to the side and back, presenting a broad side face, a good shoulder line is effected, but if either throat or face is thin beware. Hollows will deepen, and the line of the jaw will become a sharp edge.

If the neck and face are too fat the fat is apt to accumulate at this particular point. Sometimes the neck is flat in front and bulging at the sides. Here the side view is distinctly not beautiful. To correct either of these defects practice the head bending exercise. Bend the head from the base of the neck first to one side as far as possible and then to the other, repeating the movements several times.

Removing Dust.

Dust is insidious. A wash cloth and warm water at best remove but little of it from the face. If you really wish to see how much dust the face can take up in a walk take a damp wash cloth when you arrive home and dip it in your cold cream jar. Then scrub face and neck. The wash cloth will be so black that one is horror struck to think that so much dust has been carried on the face even for a short while.

For some reason soap and water do not seem to remove the dust as well as cold cream and warm water. The face should then be sponged off with cold water to tighten the pores, which have been opened by the warm water and dusted with powder that has been chosen to match the color of the skin as nearly as possible. This powder should be wiped off till not a bit of it shows, for nothing is more disagreeable than smears of it on the face.

Drink Plenty of Water.

If you would have a clear complexion drink plenty of water between meals and exercise out of doors every day.

Cold water stimulates the membranes of the stomach, and hot water soothes them.

Sipping either is better than swallowing rapidly, and when the taste of hot water is unpalatable a pinch of salt or a dash of lemon juice will improve it. A pinch of soda with the lemon juice is even better.

A rational habit of drinking water will not only improve the health, but will preserve it. Water and milk are both very good to keep the kidneys acting well.

For Tender Feet.

Carbolated vaseline, well rubbed into the skin, is said to be excellent for frostbites.

Where the skin is broken zinc oxide is sometimes very healing.

White cotton stockings should be drawn on the feet, when any cream is used.

Massage after a warm foot bath helps to stimulate the circulation where there is a proneness to cold feet and is a preventive of frostbite.

A little salt added to the foot bath will harden too delicate skin.

When Hair Darkens.

Light hair grows darker as one grows older. The woman who is troubled by her hair darkening might add the juice from half a lemon to next to the last rinsing water when she washes her hair. If her hair is not too dry it will not harm it to put a teaspoonful of borax in the shampoo bath.

A hair restorer is composed of twice as much Jamaica rum as castor oil and a few drops of either oil of roses or lavender. Rub it will into the scalp, being careful not to have any more than possible touch the hair.

Sties on the Eyelid.

Sties are occasioned by the irritation of the hair follicle out of which an eyelash springs. They should be opened as soon as the pus is formed, for they will not get well as long as the pus remains.

For inflammation of the follicles and scaliness add to an ounce of vaseline fifteen grains of precipitated sulphur. In applying this ointment it is well to warm it a little.

Unconscious Frowns.

Don't narrow your eyes when you wish to be impressive. If you draw your mouth into a button and allow deep lines to pucker between your eyes you will acquire a habitual cross expression. Is anything more unpleasant than an angry face with its features tied in veritable knots?

Hair Curlers.

Curlers of any description are none too good for the hair, but the kinds where the hot iron does not come in contact with the hair itself are best. Then the kid one, where no iron at all is used, is better still.

BELTED GOWNS.

Quaint Variations of This Style Favored For Youthful Figures.

BELTED SPRING SUIT.

The belted suit or the suit with the simulated belt is promised as a style leader among spring costumes. White, tan, putty and neutral shades prevail for these gowns.

A jaunty spring suit of white broadcloth is shown here. The skirt, partially circular, is laid in inverted box plaits in front. The loosely fitting jacket is belted with white kid and has a cutaway peplum falling in points at the side. Trimmings are of white novelty buttons. Worn with it is a wide brimmed sailor hat of blue satin.

WOMEN IN BUSINESS.

Worry About Work Doesn't Pay In the Long Run.

Business women frequently allow their responsibilities to weigh too heavily upon them. They do not forget their cares, but take them home, discuss them at the dinner table, take them to bed and once more they are heard at the breakfast table.

It is small wonder that business eventually drives them and the family to the point of tense nerves and much unhappiness.

The brain should not be robbed of its peace, especially at night, for nothing wears off its finer edge more quickly than worry, which naturally encourages insomnia.

Every effort should be made to indulge in outdoor diversions, active and passive, so as to suit one's needs and moods.

Long hours of office work and household labor should be followed by periods of play, mental or physical relaxation, which serve as a balance wheel. Depression is sometimes due to too little physical exercise. Few people suffer from fatigue where the circulation is normally active.

Trying to Cure Insomnia.

The immediate cause of insomnia is the presence of too much blood in the brain. The feet go to sleep first, so use a hot water bag or a soapstone first of all to see if you cannot draw the blood to the extremities or soak the feet in hot mustard water just before retiring, but you must not do this too often.

If very nervous put a mustard plaster at the back of the neck. The little ones already prepared and sold at the drug store for 5 cents each are nice for this purpose. One of the simplest and usually an effective method is to place a hot water bottle on the stomach. Never use drugs. They deaden, but do not heal.

FASHION'S FOIBLES.

Blues of many shades will be worn in the spring.

Princess polonaises are promised for the coming season.

Wide tucks as trimmings are coming into favor.

There are no radical changes in corset lines.

The military note continues to influence woman's dress.

The Turkish skirt promises to become popular.

Each month brings with it a wider skirt.

The coat dress is at present the smartest and most practical affair worn.

On a few of the new skirts the hems are stiffened.

Some of the new skirts are literally four yards around.

There is a growing tendency toward combining fabrics for children's dresses, the high, broad belt and full gathered skirt.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

The general express business conducted by the late Joseph M. Bruce, at No. 1598 Hancock Street, under the name of

BRUCE & WARNER EXPRESS

will be continued in the same name, and at the same place as formerly by the undersigned.

HELEN M. BRUCE, Administratrix.
DAVID M. WARNER, Manager.

18 6t

MATERIALISM REACHES PULPIT

Rev. Campbell Preaches at First Presbyterian

Rev. Clarence E. Campbell delivered his first sermon as the regularly appointed pastor of the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning. He spoke on "My Inaugural address." In the evening he spoke on "The Function of the Preacher."

"It is somewhat unfair to characterize even the Middle Ages as 'The dark ages' for this age of darkness produced some mighty men of faith who would make a genuine contribution to our modern life. But if we can with fairness characterize any age we shall be compelled by a study of modern social conditions to call this age through which we are just passing 'the age of materialism.'

"I am free to say the successful ministry of today is not my idea of its chief function. For this materialistic age has reached up into the pulpit and pulled down the great prophet aflame with a message of faith in God to an uninspired world, and placed in his stead administrators and executive geniuses whose chief aim seems to be that of keeping organizations going and bringing the institution to the close of the year without a deficit, and we call such a successful ministry!

"The most crying need of our time is for great prophetic souls who will make God and the human soul the most real and supreme interest in human life. Great preachers who have talked with God and meditate in the night-watches and can go out into a material age and radiate such faith in God that shall spiritualize all things.

CLARENCE E. CAMPBELL.

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con

There is to be a meeting to continue the work on the supplies for the hospitals in Northern France at the Women's clubhouse, Goffe street, on Wednesday at one o'clock. There is a great deal of material on hand and help would be welcome, from any women in the city interested in this most worthy work.

ON EVERY TABLE

is our bread. It has that delicious home-made taste that denotes quality. Only the best ingredients are used. Skilled help to fashion it and the same size, same price as always. You are sure of satisfaction if you give us a trial. Make that trial today—Madam—but

LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN

1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.

COAL

Just Unloaded 2600 Tons of

Sprague's Celebrated New River Cumberland Coal

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.,
27 Granite St.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS— Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

DIONIGIE TEMPESTA.

The funeral of Dionigie Tempesta was held Monday morning at nine o'clock from the residence of Joseph Tempesta, 12 Hayden street, an uncle of the deceased. A large number of the Italian residents of the section were in attendance.

Mr. Tempesta died Friday at St. Vincents Hospital in New York City He underwent an operation for appendicitis, but pneumonia, proved fatal. Mr. Tempesta was well known in this city, having conducted a tailor shop on Hancock street and a confectionery store in Malnati's Block in South Quincy. He married Miss Clara Rouleau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rouleau of Filbert street, who survives him.

A requiem high mass was celebrated in St. Marys church by the pastor, Rev. Thomas R. McCoy at nine o'clock. The Gregorian mass was sung by the regular choir under the direction of Mrs. Mary Reardon. The interment was in St. Marys Cemetery.

The pall bearers were George Roulcau, Joseph Rouleau, Wilfred Rouleau, Edward Rouleau, Ledorgue Savard, and Carmene Contelli.

Tempesta died on the third anniversary of his marriage.

Mrs. Tempesta collapsed at the cemetery and had to be taken to her uncle's home.

EXEMPLIFY THREE DEGREES.

The exemplification of the three degrees of the encampment branch of the I. O. O. F. was held Monday afternoon at Odd Fellows Opera House, East Weymouth and was attended by fully 500 patriarchs from Weymouth, Quincy and Rockland. The grand encampment officers were also present and complimented the degree teams on their excellent work. The Patriarchal degree was exemplified by Wampatuck encampment of East Weymouth, the Golden Rule degree by Manet encampment of Quincy and the Royal Purple degree by Rockland encampment of Rockland. The session began at 2 o'clock and at 5.45 a recess was taken during which time a banquet was served.

JOHNSON—HILL.

Frederic Johnson, the well known ball player of West Quincy, a member of the Nonpareil Social club and a former member of the Orient A. A. Baseball club, was married Friday night to Miss Lillian Hill of Buckley street, West Quincy by the Rev. Mr. Siitinan of the Finnish Congregational church on Buckley street.

Mr. Johnson is the son of Mrs. Anna Johnson, widow of the late Charles Johnson of McDonald street, West Quincy. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson after a wedding trip to Albany will reside on McDonald street.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton Prentiss
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings. 22-6t

DEFEAT IN LAST GAME AT HOME

High School Team Succumbs to Brockton

The Quincy High school basket ball teams played their last home game on the holiday afternoon. The senior team lost to Brockton High for the second time this season by a score of 10 to 6 and the junior team defeated the visitor's juniors 19 to 8.

From a spectators standpoint the senior game proved to be a poor attraction since neither of the teams reached the standard they established for the season.

Crosscup was the only Quincy man to toss a goal. His shot was quarter length of the court and was very accurate. Mitchell netted the only goal from the floor for Brockton. The throw was from the side of the gym half its length, and was the most spectacular one made here for some weeks.

The remaining points were the result of fouls, Frank Hill getting eight, Davis three and Welsford one. Penalties were numerous and Brockton lost enough points on free tries to make the score more decisive. On the other hand Quincy lost enough points on free tries to give them a victory.

The score of the senior game was the smallest ever made in Quincy. Inaccurate shooting, close covering and at times a complete disorganization was responsible for the final result.

Penalties were numerous and together with the ball's dropping into the line of fans standing three deep on one side and a row of filled settees on the other, the referee was obliged continually to blow his whistle. Few actual exhibitions of dodging were given. Both teams were penalized for holding.

Brockton attempted at times to introduce football tactics into the play and were frequently successful. Some of the visitors however found their match in Whet Browne, usually to the extent of being given the benefit of a foul, but insistent enough nevertheless to make them realize their opponent was no chicken hearted schoolboy.

Beaton and Davis played a good backfield game and if the Quincy forward had done as well the story could have been different.

The score at the close of the first period was 6 to 4, one basket from the floor figuring in each total. It was 5 to 5 at the end of the second period and Brockton added but two more points in the last ten minutes and Quincy added but one.

Quincy's second team, which has not lost a home game this season, as usual demonstrated more real inside knowledge of the game than its elders. The illness of Hamlin which barred him from the game apparently was quite a factor in the demoralizing of the local senior team play.

The second as well as the first team did its share of violating the rules and "Art" Favreau added nine velvet points from the foul line. Desmond lived up to his reputation by getting a pretty long shot.

George Prout, a first string man on the local first team, was sent into the junior game in the second period. He had been in play only a few minutes when he and Bogigian mixed it up and both were ruled off the floor. Prout was succeeded by Baker. He was allowed back the last period of the senior game.

The summaries:

SENIOR GAME.

BROCKTON		QUINCY
Mitchell lf		rb Davis
		rb Prout
Hill rf		lb Beaton
Peterson c		c Crosscup
Mahar lb		rf Welsford
Reed rb		lf Browne
Wushauer rb

Score Brockton 10, Quincy 6. Goals from floor—Mitchell and Crosscup. Goals from free tries—Davis 3, Welsford, Frank Hill 8.

Referee—Coady; Timer Atwood; Scorer, Mansur; Time, 15m. and 2-10 minute periods.

JUNIOR GAME.

QUINCY 2d		BROCKTON 2d
Morrison lf		rb Creed
Favreau rf		lb W. Hill
Desmond c		c Emery
Gilliatt lb		rf Bogigian
Baker lb		rf Miller
Prout lb
Rasmussen rb		lf Hurwitz

Score, Quincy 2d 19, Brockton 2d 8. Goals from floor Rasmussen 3, Desmond, Morrison, Hurwitz 2. Goals from free tries, Favreau 8, Hurwitz 4. Same officials.

You need the Ledger every day.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

SOCIETY ELECTS ANNUAL OFFICERS

The St. John's Holy Name society held its regular annual meeting Sunday afternoon at 4.30 in the basement of St. John's church.

Election of officers was held and the following were chosen.

President—John W. Lynch.
Vice President—Robert T. Foye.
Secretary—George Cahill.
Treasurer—Rev. Fr. M. J. Owens.
Consultors—Michael T. Sullivan, Peter Sullivan, James Cantill.

A copy of the letter sent by the pope to Cardinal O'Connell was read relative to the receiving of Holy Communion March 23. The communication was accepted without debate.

PRESENT PURSE OF GOLD.

Quincy Commandery, Knights Templar, was represented by Eminent Commander John Morgan, and Past Com Arthur W Stetson Saturday among the 200 or more that gathered at the Copley-Plaza to pay tribute to William H. H. Soule, and to assist in commemorating the latter's 75th birthday anniversary. The guest of honor was presented with a purse of $500 in gold. He has been connected with the Masonic fraternity since Feb. 3, 1866 and is an active member of many Massachusetts bodies as well as being an honorary member of several commanderies which include Quincy Commandery of Quincy.

SPEAKS ON WASHINGTON.

Rev. B. A. Willmott Addresses Clan MacGregor.

"Britain's Attitude Toward George Washington" was the subject of an address by the Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott delivered before the members of Clan MacGregor in their hall at Noble's corner Monday evening.

He pointed out how the Englishman claimed Washington as a son of Great Britain for he came of British stock. The speaker said there was no reason for the Scotch to hang their heads on the 22nd of February for they had as much right to rejoice in Washington as though they had been born here.

The address was preceded by a brief business session.

ITALIANS ON TRIAL.

Ten Charged With Assault On Chief James Plead Not Guilty.

Three Italians, held in connection with the shooting of Chief James O'Hare Hingham police on the evening of Feb. 13, were tried before Judge Kelly in the Hingham district court this morning. They are represented by Atty. J. J. McAnarney of Quincy, and pleaded not guilty.

All are charged with assault with intent to murder, Salvatore Signorello held as a witness under $500 bond having since been made a principal.

Chief James continues a patient at the Massachusetts General Hospital. His condition is uncertain. The names of the defendants are Joseph Gasario, arrested by Patrolman Heffernan, John Arventi arrested by marines on the government reservation, and Salvatore Signorello.

NORTH MEETS SOUTH.

Dr. Sneath Marries Lewiston Man and New London Woman.

The north and south of New England were joined in a matrimonial union Saturday by Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath of the Wollaston Congregational church. The groom was William H. McCausland, 43 years, of Lewiston, Me., and the bride was Mary Elizabeth Oldroyd, 35 years, of New London, Conn.

ATTEND MEETING.

J. E. Hayward, Lemuel Hayward, Charles Hayward, Herbert H. Newcomb and Arthur Newcomb attended the meeting of the Sons of the American Revolution, Monday at the Boston city club. Before the meeting the society went in a body to the governor's reception.

The joint City Council Committee on Finance and Fire and Police will meet Thursday evening.

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.

will continue the service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.

OFFICE AT WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Harry Fitton of Wollaston has been visiting relatives in his former home town, North Easton.

Miss Lucy Atwood of Wollaston has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. L Cook of Bridgewater.

The engagement is announced of Dr R. W. Sheehy of East Weymouth and Miss Emily M. Dowd of Winchester

Paul Blackmur of Elm street entertained a few college friends from Harvard over the holiday.

Miss Beatrice Morrison of Edgemere road was the guest of friends in Reading over the holiday.

Miss Virginia Blackmur of Elm street has been visiting in Worcester for the last few days.

St. Francis court No. 25 M. C. O. F., will meet this evening in Division 22 A. O. H. hall.

The Ladies Sodality of St. Marys church will meet this evening in the church.

William Shea, a popular resident of West Quincy, has entered the tea and coffee business.

The many friends of Miss Theresa Costa of Spring avenue will be sorry to hear that she is confined to her home with a sprained ankle.

L. Brewster Walker of New York enjoyed the holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Walker of Thayer street.

Thomas C. Hardwick of New York spent the week-end and holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick of Chestnut street.

Rev. Henry B. Edwards rector of St. Michaels church, Milton is to preach Thursday evening at the midweek service at St. Chrysostoms.

C. F. Derby, employed for many years in the store of George W. Jones severed his connection Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Timmerman and family of Jamaica Plain were the guests of Mrs. Caroline Schatzel of Willard street for the holidays.

Miss Irene Graham and James Graham of Willard street were the guests of Mrs. John Barry of Brockton over the holidays.

The many friends of Mrs. James O'Brien will be pleased to hear that she is convalescent at the home of her mother Mrs. Jacob Clay of East Braintree.

Miss Frances Burke, a teacher in the public schools at Plymouth, spent the holidays as the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burke of Willard street.

The Lenten sermon in St. Marys church Wednesday evening will be preached by Rev. Walter J. Lambert of the Gate of Heaven church, South Boston.

Miss Annie Dinegan is at the Quincy City Hospital where she was operated upon Saturday. Her condition is reported as much better this morning.

Byron T. Brown and Manuel Perry of Quincy Council Knights of Columbus were among the class of 163 who were given the fourth degree Sunday at the annual session of the district assembly at the Quincy house, Boston.

Thomas Sheehan of Crescent street returned home from Denver, Colorado on Saturday. He has been the guest of his brother, Michael Sheehan, for the past few months.

George Burke who is employed by the Boston & Albany R. R. Company at the Concord office spent the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs Patrick Burke of Doble street.

The beautiful decorations at the home of Mrs. C. A. Clapp on Merrymount road, which were used last week at the whist party for the benefit of the Dorcas society of the Universalist church, are still in place and daily are being admired by many callers. On Wednesday evening Mrs Clapp is to entertain another small party, and among the guests on this evening will be Mayor and Mrs Campbell.

The Woman's Guild of St. Chrysostoms church is to meet at two o'clock Wednesday, instead of the usual hour. Mrs. Francis C. Lowell, president of the Massachusetts Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions is to be the guest of honor and speak on Auxiliary work. Members of Christ Church Guild and the Braintree Church Guild also the Girls Friendly society have been invited to be present.

DAMAGE CLAIM MAY BE ENTERED

Probable Extent of American Action In the Evelyn Case

DIPLOMATS WILL SEEK FACTS

Will Be Difficult to Ascertain Whether American Ship Was Sunk by Mine or Submarine—No International Convention In Force Prohibiting the Laying of Mines

Washington, Feb. 23.—Washington apparently will make no official protest at this time in relation to the sinking of the Evelyn at Borkum. Even if it is established that the mine was of German origin there seems to be no maintainable grounds of complaint.

The reference in the message from American Consul Fee at Bremen to the destruction of the Evelyn is interpreted in some quarters as meaning that the vessel was within the territorial waters of Germany when she struck the mine, but the "official belief" that a claim for damages against Germany might be made by the American owners does not seem warranted.

The Evelyn was insured by the United States war risk insurance bureau and is the first vessel lost that has been covered by government insurance.

Secretary Daniels ordered Walter R. Gherardi, American naval attache at Berlin, to investigate and make a full report on the destruction of the Evelyn.

Daniels explained his purpose in directing an inquiry after the state department had called upon the ambassadors at London and Berlin for a report was to secure technical information which, perhaps, might not be included in the ambassadors' replies.

It was understood that Gherardi would be guided entirely by Ambassador Gerard in making his investigation.

It was said at the navy department that from present indications it will be difficult for the naval officers to secure exact information of what actually destroyed the Evelyn.

Unless Captain Smith or some of the members of the crew of the steamship actually saw the conning tower or periscope of a submarine officials say it would not be possible to deny that the Evelyn was sunk by a mine. It was pointed out, however, that the German officials might disclose to the American naval officer in confidence the map of their mine fields in the vicinity where the Evelyn was sunk.

No Complications

Chairman Stone of the senate foreign relations committee said he could see no complications arising from the destruction of the Evelyn. "An American vessel," said Stone, "ventured into an area known to be mined, and, unfortunately, struck one. So far it is not known what nation laid the mine. It is probable that a national claim for damages might be made when all the facts are established, but I cannot see how serious complications could come from the incident."

The sinking of the Evelyn brought vividly before official Washington the danger to which American vessels are exposed in the waters adjacent to the belligerent coasts of Europe. The American note to Germany warning that country against attacks on American vessels in the sea zones of war applied only to submarines.

Since the outbreak of the war the North sea has been mined by both Germany and Great Britain, and an added warning was given to neutral commerce by the German reply to the American note in announcing that mines would be strewn in the waters surrounding Great Britain and Ireland and in the English channel.

It was considered unlikely that, beyond claims for damages, there would be any diplomatic action resulting from the loss of the Evelyn, inasmuch as there is now no international convention in force prohibiting the laying of mines either for offensive or defensive purposes.

A story from Berlin contains an alleged interview with the commander of the Evelyn which tends to throw the blame for the disaster upon British misinformation. Captain Smith declares, according to this source, that, after leaving Rotterdam, he took the course he did upon the advice of a British naval boarding officer, instead of following lines set forth by the German marine officials.

The Evelyn struck two mines at the same time, says this dispatch, and, although so completely crippled, stayed above water for seven hours before making her final plunge. This gave the captain and crew plenty of time to get away, but it is inferred, from the fact that the boats became separated, that a heavy sea was running at the time, the situation possibly being complicated by fog.

There are supposed to be thirteen men in the party that headed for the Dutch coast, and which is now on the missing list. Smith and thirteen others are supposed to be safe on German soil. The Washington authorities have renewed instructions to all their diplomatic representatives in western Europe to use every effort to locate and care for the castaways.

Roofing that must last!

You can't tell by looking at a roll of roofing how long it will last on the roof, but when you get the guarantee of a responsible company, you know that your roofing must give satisfactory service.

The only real test of roofing quality is on the roof.

Buy materials that last

Certain-teed

Roofing

Asphalt Roofings (All grades and prices)	Insulation Papers
Slate Surfaced Shingles	Wall Boards
Asphalt Felts	Plastic Roofing Cement
Deadening Felts	Asphalt Cement
Tarred Felts	Roof Coating
Building Papers	Metal Paints
	Out-door Paints
	Shingle Stains
	Refined Coal Tar
	Tar Coating

1-ply guaranteed 5 years
2-ply guaranteed 10 years
3-ply guaranteed 15 years

Ask your dealer for products made by us—they bear our name.

General Roofing Manufacturing Company
World's largest manufacturers of Roofing and Building Papers
New York City Boston Chicago Pittsburg Philadelphia Atlanta Cleveland Detroit
St. Louis Cincinnati Kansas City Minneapolis San Francisco Seattle London Hamburg Sydney

EXPERIENCED STITCHERS
WANTED
APPLY
SOVEREIGN WAIST CO.
192 GRANITE ST.

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE

Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit

WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS
Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.
Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block
Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.-tf

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To Thomas J. Welch otherwise called Thomas Walsh and Eliza Welch otherwise called Elizabeth Walsh the next of kin and all other persons interested in Mary Agnes Welch otherwise called Mary Agnes Walsh of Quincy in said County of Norfolk minor:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Georgianna E. Dumais of Quincy in the County of Norfolk praying for the appointment of herself, or some other suitable person as guardian with the custody of said minor: You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-fourth day of February A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why a guardian should not be appointed as aforesaid. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give notice thereof, to the next of kin of said minor, and others interested, by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, or by delivering a copy thereof to the said Thomas J. Welch otherwise called Thomas Walsh and Eliza Welch otherwise called Elizabeth Walsh at least seven days before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this second day of February in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t-Feb. 13-15-23

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of John Dever, late of Quincy, in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Annie Dever of said Quincy who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline in said County of Norfolk on the twenty-fourth day of February A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court. Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twelfth day of February in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Feb 13-15-23

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chichester Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHICHESTER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point.
Telephone 1827-W Quincy
Office at C. F. Pettengill's, 1391 Hancock Street, Quincy F27

EDWARD J. FECAN
Counsellor at Law
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, Quincy
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 Tremont Building, Boston
9.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Telephones—Quincy 948-4; Harvard 2140
Oct.-tf

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES.
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

The Exploits of Elaine

A Detective Novel and a Motion Picture Drama

By ARTHUR B. REEVE

The Well-Known Novelist and the Creator of the "Craig Kennedy" Stories

Presented in Collaboration With the Pathe Players and the Eclectic Film Company

Copyright, 1914, by the Star Company All Foreign Rights Reserved

SYNOPSIS.

The New York police are mystified by a series of murders and other crimes. The principal clue to the criminal is the warning letter which is sent the victims, signed with a "clutching hand." The latest victim of the mysterious assassin is Taylor Dodge, the insurance president. His daughter, Elaine, employs Craig Kennedy, the famous scientific detective, to unravel the mystery. What Kennedy accomplishes is told by his friend Jameson, a newspaper man. Enraged at the determined effort which Elaine and Craig Kennedy are making to put an end to his crimes, the Clutching Hand, as this strange criminal is known, resorts to all sorts of the most diabolical schemes to put them out of the way. Each chapter of the story tells of a new plot against their lives and of the way the great detective uses all his skill to save this pretty girl and himself from death.

NINTH EPISODE

THE DEATH RAY.

Kennedy was reading a scientific treatise one morning, while I was banging on the typewriter, when a knock at the laboratory door disturbed us.

By some intuition Craig seemed to know who it was. He sprang to open the door, and there stood Elaine Dodge and her lawyer, Perry Bennett.

Instantly Craig read from the startled look on Elaine's face that something dreadful had happened.

"Why — what's the matter?" he asked, solicitously.

"A—another letter—from the Clutching Hand!" she exclaimed breathlessly.

Craig took the letter and we both read, with amazement:

Are you an enemy of society? If not, order Craig Kennedy to leave the country by nine o'clock tomorrow morning. Otherwise a pedestrian will drop dead outside his laboratory every hour until he leaves.

The note was signed by the now familiar sinister hand, and had added to it a postscript which read:

As a token of his leaving, have him place a vase of flowers in his laboratory window today.

"What shall we do?" queried Bennett, evidently very much alarmed at the letter.

"Do?" replied Kennedy, laughing contemptuously at the apparently futile threat, "Why, nothing. Just wait."

We got up as usual the next day, and quite early went over to the laboratory. Kennedy, as was his custom, plunged straightway into his work and appeared absorbed by it, while I wrote.

"There is something queer going on, Walter," he remarked. "This thing registers some kind of wireless rays—infra-red, I think—something like those that they say that Italian scientist, Ulivi, claims he has discovered and called the 'F-rays.'"

"How do you know?" I asked, looking up from my work. "What's that instrument you are using?"

"A bolometer, invented by the late Professor Langley," he replied, his attention riveted on it.

Some time previously Kennedy had had installed on the window ledge one of those mirrorlike arrangements, known as a "busybody," which show those in a room what is going on in the street.

As I moved over to look at the bolometer I happened to glance into the "busybody" and saw that a crowd was rapidly collecting on the sidewalk.

"Look, Craig!" I called hastily.

He hurried over to me and looked. We could both see in the busybody mirror a group of excited passers-by bending over a man lying prostrate on the sidewalk.

The excited crowd lifted him up and bore him away, and I turned in surprise to Craig. He was looking at his watch.

It was now only a few moments past nine o'clock!

Some time later our door was excitedly flung open and Elaine and Perry Bennett arrived.

"I've just heard of the accident!" she cried, fearfully. "Isn't it terrible! What had we better do?"

For a few moments no one said a word. Then Kennedy began carefully examining the bolometer and some other recording instruments he had, while the rest of us watched, fascinated.

Somehow that "busybody" seemed to attract me. I could not resist looking into it from time to time as Kennedy worked.

I was scarcely able to control my excitement when again I saw the same scene enacted on the sidewalk before the laboratory. Hurriedly I looked at my watch. It was ten o'clock!

"Craig!" I cried. "Another!"

Instantly he was at my side, gazing eagerly. There was a second innocent pedestrian lying on the sidewalk while a crowd, almost panic-stricken, gathered about him.

"It's no use," he muttered, as we gathered about him. "We're beaten. I can't stand this sort of thing. I will leave tomorrow for South America."

I thought Elaine Dodge would faint at the shock of his words coming so soon after the terrible occurrence outside. She looked at him speechless.

It happened that Kennedy had some artificial flowers on a stand, which he had been using long before in the study of synthetic coloring materials. Before Elaine could recover her tongue he seized them and stuck them into a tall beaker, like a vase. Then he deliberately walked to the window and placed the beaker on the ledge in a most prominent position.

Elaine and Bennett, to say nothing of myself, gazed at him, awe-struck.

"Is—is there no other way but to surrender?" she asked.

Kennedy mournfully shook his head.

"I'm afraid not," he answered slowly. There's no telling how far a fellow who has this marvelous power might go. I think I'd better leave, to save you. He may not content himself with innocent outsiders always."

Nothing that any of us could say, not even the pleadings of Elaine herself, could move him. The thought that at eleven o'clock a third innocent passer-by might lie stricken on the street seemed to move him powerfully.

"I'm so sorry—Craig," murmured Elaine, choking back her emotion and finding it impossible to go on.

"So am I, Elaine," he answered, tensely. "But—perhaps—when this trouble blows over"—

He paused, unable to go on, turned and shook his head. Then with a forced gayety he bade Elaine and Perry Bennett adieu, saying that perhaps a trip might do him good.

They had scarcely gone out, and Kennedy closed the door carefully, when he turned and went directly to the instrument which I had seen him observing so interestedly.

Plainly I could see that it was registering something.

He walked fairly close to the window this time, keeping well out of the direct line of it, however, and there stood gazing out into the street.

"We are being watched," he said slowly, turning and looking at me fixedly, "but I don't dare investigate lest it cost the lives of more unfortunates."

He stood for a moment in deep thought. Then he pulled out a suit case and began silently to pack it.

Although we had not dared to investigate, we knew that from a building across the street emissaries of the Clutching Hand were watching for our signal of surrender.

The fact was, as we found out later, that in a poorly furnished room, much after the fashion of that which, with the help of the authorities, we had once raided in the suburbs, there were at that moment two crooks.

One of them was the famous, or rather infamous, Professor LeCroix. The other was the young secretary of the Clutching Hand.

This was the new headquarters of the master criminal, very carefully guarded.

"Look!" cried LeCroix, very much excited by the effect that had been produced by his infra-red rays. "There is the sign—the vase of flowers. We have got him this time!"

LeCroix gleefully patted a peculiar instrument beside him. Apparently it was a combination of powerful electric arcs, the rays of which were shot through a funnel-like arrangement into a converted or, rather, a sort of concentration apparatus from which the dread power could be released through a tubelike affair at the end. It was his infra-red heat wave, F-ray, engine.

"I told you it would work!" cried LeCroix.

* * * * * * * *

I did not argue any further with Craig about his sudden resolution to go away. But it is a very solemn proceeding to pack up and admit defeat after such a brilliant succession of cases as had been his until we met this master criminal.

He was unshakable, however, and the next morning we closed the laboratory and loaded our baggage into a taxicab.

Neither of us said much, but I saw a quick look of appreciation on Craig's face as we pulled up at the wharf and saw that Elaine's car was already there. He seemed deeply moved that Elaine should come at such an early hour to have a last word.

Our car stopped, and Kennedy moved over toward her car, directing two porters, whom I noticed that he chose with care, to wait at one side. One of them was an Irishman with a slight limp; the other a wiry Frenchman with a pointed beard.

In spite of her pleadings, however, Kennedy held to his purpose, and as we shook hands for the last time I thought that Elaine would almost break down.

We finally tore ourselves away, followed by the porters carrying as much as they could.

"Bon voyage!" called Elaine, bravely keeping back a choke in her voice.

Near the gangplank, in the crowd, I noticed a couple of sinister faces watching the ship's officers and the passengers going aboard. Kennedy's quick eye spotted them, too, but he did not show in any way that he noticed anything as, followed by our two porters, we quickly climbed the gangplank.

"In there," pointed Kennedy, quickly to the porters, indicating our stateroom, which was an outer room. "Come, Walter."

I followed him in with a heavy heart.

Outside could be seen the two sinister faces in the crowd watching intently, with eyes fixed on the stateroom. Finally one of the crooks boarded the ship hastily, while the other watched the two porters come out of the stateroom and pause at the window, speaking back into the room as though answering commands.

Then the porters quickly ran along the deck and down the plank to get the rest of the luggage.

They took a small, but very heavy box and, lugging and tugging, hastened toward the boat with it. But they were too late. The gangplank was being hauled in.

They shouted, but the ship's officers waved them back.

The porters argued. But it was no use. All they could do was to carry the box back to the Dodge car.

Miss Dodge was just getting in as they returned.

"What shall we do with this and the other stuff?" asked the Irish porter.

She looked at the rest of the tagged luggage and the box which was marked:

Scientific Instruments
Valuable Handle With Care!

"Here—pile them in there," she said, indicating the taxicab. "I'll take care of them."

Meanwhile one of our sinister-faced friends had just had time to regain the shore after following us aboard ship and strolling past the window of our stateroom. He paused long enough to observe one of the occupants studying a map, while the other was opening a bag.

"They're gone!" he said to the other

"Bon Voyage," Cried Elaine, Bravely Keeping Back a Choke in Her Voice.

as he rejoined him on the dock, giving a nod of his head and a jerk of his thumb at the ship.

"Yes," added the other crook, "and lost most of their baggage, too."

Slowly the car proceeded through the streets up from the river front, followed by the taxicab, until at last the Dodge mansion was reached.

Elaine sighed moodily as she walked slowly in.

"Here, Marie," she cried petulantly to her maid, "take these wraps of mine."

A moment later Aunt Josephine left her and Elaine went into the library and over to a table. She stood there an instant, then sank down into a chair, taking up Kennedy's picture and gazing at it with eyes filled with tears.

Just then Jennings came into the room, ushering the two porters laden with the boxes and bags.

"Where shall I have them put these things, Miss Elaine?" he inquired.

"Oh—anywhere," she answered hurriedly, replacing the picture.

Jennings paused. As he did so, one of the porters limped forward.

"I've a message for you, miss," he said in a rich Irish brogue, with a look at Jennings, "to be delivered in private."

Elaine glanced at him surprised. Then she nodded to Jennings, who disappeared. As he did so, the Irishman limped to the door and drew together the portieres.

Then he came back closer to Elaine.

A moment she looked at him, not quite knowing from his strange actions whether to call for help or not.

At a motion from Kennedy, as he pulled off his wig, I pulled off the little false beard.

Elaine looked at us, transformed, startled.

"Wh—what"—she stammered. "Oh—I'm—so—glad. How—"

Kennedy said nothing. He was thoroughly enjoying her face.

"Don't you understand?" I explained, laughing merrily. "I admit that I didn't, until that last minute in the stateroom on the boat when we didn't come back to wave a last good-by. But all the care that Craig took in selecting the porters was the result of work he did yesterday, and the insistence with which he chose our traveling clothes had a deep-laid purpose.

"The change was made quickly in the stateroom. Kennedy's man threw on the coat and hat he wore, while Craig donned the rough clothes of the porter and added a limp and a wig. The same sort of exchange of clothes was made by me, and Craig clapped a Vandyke beard on my chin."

"Mum's the word," cautioned Kennedy. "You must smuggle us out of the house some way."

Kennedy lost no time in confirming the suspicions of his bolometer as to the cause of the death of the innocent victims of the machinations of the Clutching Hand.

Both of them, he had learned, had been removed to a nearby undertaking shop, awaiting the verdict of the coroner. We sought out the shop and prevailed on the undertaker to let us see the bodies.

As Kennedy pulled down the shroud from the face of the first victim he disclosed on his forehead a round, dark spot about the size of a small coin. Quickly he moved to the next coffin and, uncovering the face, disclosed a similar mark.

"What is it?" I asked, awe-struck.

"Why," he said, "I've heard of a certain Viennese, one LeCroix, I believe, who has discovered, or perfected, an infra-red ray instrument which shoots its power a great distance with extreme accuracy and leaves a mark like these."

We thanked the undertaker for his courtesy and went out.

Meanwhile Elaine had called up Perry Bennett.

"Mr. Bennett," she exclaimed over the wire, "just guess who called on me?"

"Who?" he answered; "I give it up."

"Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Jameson," she called back.

"Is that so?" he returned. "Isn't that fine? I didn't think he was the kind to run away like that. How did it happen?"

Elaine quickly told the story as I had told her.

Had she known it, however, Bennett's valet, Thomas, was at that very moment listening at the portieres, intensely interested.

As Bennett hung up the receiver Thomas entered the room.

"If anyone calls me," ordered Bennett, "take the message, particularly if it is from Miss Dodge."

"Yes, sir," nodded the valet with a covert glance at his master.

It was not long afterward that a knock sounded at the door of the new headquarters of the Clutching Hand. LeCroix and the secretary were there, as well as a couple of others.

"The Chief!" exclaimed one.

The secretary opened the door, and, sure enough, the Clutching Hand entered.

(To be Continued.)

A QUINCY REPORT

Fully Corroborated and Easily Investigated.

Do you need a good kidney medicine? Then read the reports in these very columns of Quincy persons cured or benefited with Doan's Kidney Pills. You won't have to go far to find out if they are true. This Quincy case is an example. Others will follow.

Mrs. R. A. Neil, 40 Edison Park, Quincy, says: "My hands and ankles swelled. I was worse at night after I had done a hard day's work. I used several remedies, but they did me little or no good. My husband brought home a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and I began taking them. I could see an improvement right away. Doan's Kidney Pills got my kidneys acting right and the swelling went down. I wasn't so nervous and felt better in every way. I now keep Doan's Kidney Pills in the house and consider them a fine family medicine."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Neil had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

W. R. LOFGREN

Carpenter and Builder

PLANS EXECUTED

Established 1891 in Quincy

Hundreds of Satisfied Customers

Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs

19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall

Tel. Quincy 388-3

Dec 9-tf

LARGE NUMBER AT BARN DANCE

Finnish Society Holds Semi-Annual Affair

The semi-annual barn dance of the Finnish Temperance society was held Saturday evening in their hall on Smith street. About 250 members were present.

First prize, a five pound chicken, was awarded to Engrie Tappio Charles Smith was given a peck of apples as second prize. The hall was decorated to represent a large barn. Music was furnished by the Quincy National Band. Refreshments were served in the lower hall. The affair was in charge of the entertainment committee, Frank Nelson Victor Mattio and Henry Hill.

FAIR AND DANCE FOR SUFFERERS

The Italian Earthquake committee of the Italian Relief society held a fair and dance Saturday afternoon and evening in Hibernian hall on Franklin street. The affair, which was attended by almost every Italian resident of the city, was held to aid the sufferers of the recent earthquake at Messina, Italy.

The program consisted of dancing in Quincy Adams hall, which was attended by all the younger people. In Franklin hall a fair was held and the articles that were collected in the recent canvass of the city were auctioned off to the highest bidders. A large sum was realized on the affair which will be added to that already collected and sent to the stricken sufferers. Music was furnished by the Quincy Italian Band under Alfred DeMitre. The committee in charge was: Abondio Bianchi, chairman Peter Restelli, C. Bianchi S. Gerriasso F. Tocci, C. DiBona, P. Scollamona and C. Colletti.

GRIGNON WINS.

Napoleon V. Grignon of West Quincy playing with the Boston checker players won the State prize from Matlin of Maynard in a holiday match held by the newly organized New England Checker association. Grignon won three games and drew one.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

UNITED STATES post office Quincy, Mass. Office of custodian, February 15, 1915. Sealed proposals will be received at this building until 2 o'clock p. m., February 27, 1915, and then opened, for furnishing electric current, gas water ice and miscellaneous supplies removing ashes, and washing towels during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1916. Sealed proposals will also be received until 2 o'clock p. m., April 5, 1915, and then opened, for fifty tons anthracite coal and one cord wood. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved by the Treasury Department C. L. Hammond, Custodian. 2t Feb. 16-23

ADMINISTRATRIX' NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administratrix of the estate of William E. Hayden, late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, intestate and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

LILLIAN E. HAYDEN, Administratrix
(Address)
25 Wollaston Ave., Quincy.
Feb. 11, 1915.
3t Feb 16-23 Mar. 2

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes

Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

TO LET

Lower flat of new house, 5 rooms, large reception hall, large bath room, combination gas and coal range, steam heat. Located in one of the best parts of South Quincy. Two minutes to electric cars, four minutes to Quincy Adams station. Rent reasonable. Apply to

JOSEPH B. GROSSMAN,
93 Goddard Street,
Tel. 1404-W Quincy. 18-tf

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Upper apartment 4 rooms and bath. Furnace, electric lights, set tub, screens etc. Ready for occupancy April 1. Apply to Miss Prescott, Ledger Office. 23-tf

TO LET—New house, five rooms. All modern improvements. Location high and dry. Inquire on premises. 149 Kendrick avenue. 23-6t

TO LET—Large front room, all modern improvements. Apply 102 Upland road. 18-6t

TO LET—Three unfurnished rooms with gas. $8 a month. Apply John Anderson, 159 Whitwell street. 19-3t

TO LET—A good tenement now ready. Rent reduced to $18.75 per month. C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 19-6t

TO LET—Small store and tenement at 35 Willard street, West Quincy. Good chance for lady or couple, rent only $3 per week. Key at 33 Willard street. 16-6t

TO LET—Flat of five rooms at 97 Coddington street, $2.75 per week. Key at 93 Coddington street. 18-6t

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 13-9t

TO LET—Apartment of five rooms and bath in new house, all modern improvements, fine location, 26 Bradford street, off Franklin street. Apply to F. Barnicoat, Quincy. 10-tf

TO LET—Lower flat, 42 Euclid avenue, 5 rooms all modern improvements. For particulars address Mr. P. J. Curry, 94 Federal avenue or phone Quincy 1075M. 9-12t

TO LET—Half of colonial house on Russell park, 7 rooms and bath, fireplace, coal and gas range and all modern conveniences. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 9-tf

TO LET—Two or three rooms, furnished or unfurnished for light housekeeping, all improvements, reasonable rent, board if desired. 132 Marlboro street, Wollaston Park. 6-tf.

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $16. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property

Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

TO LET

TO LET—If looking for furnished rooms for light housekeeping, don't miss seeing these three cheerful rooms, private bath, near center. Modern improvements, gas, range, set tubs, etc. Write M. C. Ledger Office. 20-6t

TO LET—Furnished room at 1187 Hancock street. Modern improvements. Two minutes from city square and R. R. station. 20-tf

TO LET—Flat of five rooms to small family. Apply 33 Dysart street. 20-3t

FOR RENT—An apartment of four rooms, furnished or unfurnished. Situated on electric car line. It has steam heat, electric lights and gas. Apply to owner 198 Commercial street, East Braintree. 20-3t

TO LET—Three first class connecting rooms, nicely furnished, bath on same floor, centrally located, in home of American family. Light housekeeping allowed. References exchanged. Write L. H. H. Ledger Office. 20-tf

TO LET—At No. 9 Elmwood avenue, Wollaston, furnished or unfurnished rooms. Light housekeeping if desired. Modern improvements and telephone Quincy 863-W. 20-6t

TO LET—Four room tenement, modern improvements, new house, $16.00. Apply 115 Sumner street, 6 minutes from Fore River Works. 19-3t

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

LOST

LOST—Gray fur-lined glove, near Quincy Square. E. T. Monihan, 17 street, Boston, Mass. 23-1t

LOST—Feb. 10, on Wollaston car, between Elmwood avenue and Pleasant street, Dorchester, lady's gold brooch, flower pattern, diamond centre. Return to Mrs. Greenbaum, 175 Safford street. 19-3t

WANTED

WANTED—Five to fifteen acres of land on or near electrics. Write A. B. Ledger Office. 23-3t

WANTED—First class letterer on granite and marble, cemetery work especially. Steady work all year round. Man must be sober, quick and ambitious in his work. Only first class man need apply. P. Korzilius, Trenton, N. J. 20-8t

WANTED—By a middle aged American woman position as housekeeper, experienced nurse, capable of taking full charge. Address "M. E. Z." 19 Kemper street, Wollaston. 18-6t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—I have a full size Hallett & Davis piano all in good order, cost new $425. I need the room and will sell for $20, delivered. Easy terms write "Piano" Quincy Ledger. 20-6t

FOR SALE—Milk wagon runs light, will carry ton. Spent $50. on it recently. Will sell for $35. 50 Squantum street, East Milton. 19-3t

FOR SALE—Two flat house in South Quincy. Hard wood finish, modern plumbing. Very desirable renting proposition, never vacant since built. For particulars enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 9-tf lpo

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

A Few Choice House Lots
— ON —
PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX

are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.

SWITHIN
3 GREENLEAF BLOCK

FOR SALE

House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,800. Straight Loan of $2,000.

EDMUND G. HAYDEN
Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing
HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.
120 Tremont St., Boston.
Oct. 8-tf

FIFTY-SEVEN of the best known automobile engineers in the country met recently to design what would be an ideal automobile. In making up the specifications for this car they considered every detail which would appeal to an automobile owner driving his own car under average conditions.

Chesterfield Six
$1650
Light Four
$1450
Six-48
$2400

The completed car called for a full French streamline body, a worm drive rear axle, four-speed transmission; cantilever springs; two-unit, six-volt electric starter; three plate dry disc clutch; one-man top; high-speed—high-efficiency six-cylinder motor, with cylinders 3" x 5"; leather couplings in the drive system; a pump operated water cooling system; high tension magneto: left drive with center control; full floating rear axle and weight less than 3000 pounds.

One of these engineers who called at the Jeffery factory last week said, "This Jeffery Chesterfield Six is exactly like the ideal car we designed at our last meeting."

The Thomas B. Jeffery Company
Main Office and Works, Kenosha, Wisconsin

Wollaston Centre Garage
Wollaston, Mass.

LEAK IN HUGE TANK.

It was reported to Chief Billings this morning that a large gasoline tank on the railroad siding near the Braintree line was leaking badly and that the inflamable fluid was running down onto the main line tracks. This would have been a source of danger, in case any sparks from a passing locomotive should drop into the fluid Chief Billings visited the premises and found that one of the tanks was leaking but that it was not on the main line. Workmen from the factory have been sent out to repair the leak.

DISTRICT COURT.

George B. Shring of Newton was fined $20 for exceeding the automobile speed limit at Milton.

Felix Morrison of 21 Gilmore street was arraigned on a statutory offense. Case continued until Feb. 26.

August Maki was arraigned for drunkenness at Quincy. Maki was already on probation for a similar offense last April. The suspension was revoked and he was ordered to pay a fine of $10 on the April offense and $15 on the offense of Monday.

DO NOT FORGET

that we carry a full line of Fresh and Smoked Fish always. Received fresh daily and packed in clean ice.

Our prices are very reasonable, our service excellent and you get what you ask for.

PLENTY OF FISH FOR WEDNESDAY.

QUINCY PUBLIC MARKET
1514 Hancock St., Kincaides Bldg.
Phone 1434 J. Legal Stamps Free Delivery

NOTICE !

This space will be devoted each day—not to advertise cheap grade at full value, but Johnson Bros. Quality Goods at a sure low price.

BUY THESE TODAY

35c can Curtice Bros. Sliced Peaches 25c
Large can of Baked Beans, Regular Price 15c for today 10c per can.

JOHNSON BROS., City Square.

LIFE'S SHOP WINDOW

Gorgeous Photo-Play of the famous novel and play

PATHE WEEKLY AND HIGH GRADE VAUDEVILLE

Kuki Japs — The Oriental Marvels — Russell & Evans Novelty Change Artists
Loyd & Churchill in a scream of a comedy sketch, entitled—
"NEARLY A FLIRTATION"

Kincaide Theatre

Tues. & Wed. Matinees 2.30--10--15c. Evening at 8 o'clock---10--15--25c

TURKEY SUPPER.

The young men of the Swedish Congregational church served a Turkey supper to 100 at the church on the holiday evening.

The room was prettily decorated with flags, lanterns and pictures of George Washington. The menu consisted of turkey, cranberry sauce, green peas, mashed potatoes, rolls, coffee, cake and ice cream.

BASKETBALL RESULTS.

Rogers High 32, Wellesley 11.
Fall River "Tech" 43, Melrose 14.
Thayer 34, Weymouth 32.
Thayer Girls 61, Worcester South 51
Melrose Girls 28, Stetson High 7.
Newton Y. M. C. A. 28, Portland A. C. 24.
Revere High 27, Winthrop 20.
Makaria 1st 52, Rockland Y. M. C. A. 22.
Makaria 2d 23, St. Joseph's 19.
Quincy Y. M. C. A. 27, Boston Y. M. C. A. 25.
Quincy 2d 30, Boston 2d 15.

INFANT DIES.

Carmine Popile, the 18 days old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Popile of 23 Canal street died Saturday and was buried in Mt. Wollaston cemetery Sunday. The mother is doing well.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

Kincaide Theatre.
R. E. Foy & Co.
Maple Dairy.
Chas. C. Hearn.
Johnson Bros.
Barnard's Bakery.
Concert and Dance.
Quincy Public Market.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

BRIEFS

George DiBona of Centre street has accepted a position with the Lockwood Manufacturing Co. of Boston.

Anna Leppalla, sister of Mrs. Victor Leppalla of 79 Deane street arrived from Europe Sunday morning.

The George L. Gill associates hold a social dancing party in Colonial hall Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hall of Faxon road spent the holiday and week end with J. H. Foster of East Sandwich.

Mrs. M. F. Baker of Walker street is visiting with relatives in Bridgewater.

Miss Doris Hayward was the guest of Miss Helen Damon over the week end.

A whist party is to be held in Poland's hall, Norfolk Downs, Friday evening.

The state aid commissioner will be in Quincy next Monday and Tuesday to examine recipients of state and military aid.

William Harding of New York spent the week end and holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harding of Botolph street.

Ernest Mattson of Granite street South Quincy is enjoying a two weeks vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mattson.

A meeting of the Hospital Aid association will be held Thursday afternoon with Mrs. F. H. Smith of 701 Washington street.

The members of the Pastime Social club of Temple street visited the Pioneer Social club of Dorchester Sunday afternoon and evening.

William Curtis and Thomas Djerf members of the Nonpareil Social club of Brewers corner, visited friends in Dorchester over the week end.

The Misses Rose and Mae Riley of East Boston were guests of Mrs Achille Baldovin of Common street over the holiday.

Thomas Gunning of Gay street who recently returned from Canada has accepted a position with J. T. Ford and Co. of East Milton.

Joseph Irwin of Foster street has accepted a position with Curriers Market on Hancock street.

A party of Atlantic Memorial church Christian Endeavorers will be the guests this evening of the Young People's Society of the Phillips church, South Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Langley of Pawtucket, R. I., were guests of his parents Mr. and Mrs. George O. Langley of Washington street over the week end.

Walter W. Walker who is employed at Connecticut, spent the week end at his home on Whitwell street and renewed old acquaintances after several weeks absence from this city.

J. Cummings of Portsmouth, N. H. 13 years in the service at the life station in that city, was the guest of his sister Mrs. Hugh Cameron of Wibird street over the holiday.

Joseph Flaherty, the genial foreman of the Bay State Street Railway Co. who resides on School street, is confined to his home suffering from an ulcer in his right eye.

Nathan Ames of the Hardware Supply Co., was among those present Monday at the 22d annual convention and exhibition of the New England Hardware Dealers association in Mechanics building.

Hon. George S. Harrington and daughter Miss Katherine H. Harrington of Taunton spent the holiday with relatives on Briggs street, Wollaston The Hon. Mr. Harrington is the grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of Massachusetts.

At the whist party given by the Mt Wollaston club in I. O. O. F. hall Monday evening, fifteen tables were in play. Those receiving souvenirs were: Mrs. Annie Pratt, H. E. Gates Mrs. G. F. Spooner, Miss M. Lizzie Furnald, Mrs. H. Berman, G. Bolster and Mrs. Mary Thomas.

At the regular conclave of Quincy Commandery, Knights Templar, Monday evening the proposition to amend the by-laws relative to the fee for the Orders, was refused. The fees therefore remain the same as before. The Order of the Temple was exemplified.

The members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in Quincy, West Quincy, Atlantic, Braintree and Randolph and also the ladies auxiliaries connected with the above divisions will attend a lecture ordered by Cardinal O'Connell in St. Mary's church, West Quincy, Wednesday evening, March 17 at 8 o'clock.

ON THE LINKS.

Between 75 and 100 were out on the Montclair links Monday. Forty entered the medal play tournament.

A. H. Goodale got 82, M. J. Mackey 83, Vance Smith 86, R. R. Freeman 86.

MEN'S MEETINGS

On next Sunday afternoon will be held the first of a series of men's meetings in the Kincaide Theatre The speaker will be Ora Samuel Gray

Mr. Gray was born on a farm in northern Vermont and lived there for a good many years. He worked for his education and therefore appreciates the value of honest toil. For the past ten years he has been lecturing to large audiences. In connection with his lectures he has found time to speak to thousands of men at Y. M. C. A. men's meetings. Year after year he has spoken at the meetings held by the Indianapolis and Baltimore associations. His subject will be "Will the Old Ship Stand the Storm?" From three to three-thirty the Wolaston Cadet Band will render a concert.

On Sunday, March 7, Austen T. Kempton of Cambridge will give a drama Talk on "Lost and Found." Mr. Kempton has gained wide reputation in the giving of his drama talks and is sure to make a deep impression upon his hearers. The band will play another concert.

Fred L. Willis, for many years General Secretary of the Worcester Association, will be the speaker. At the third meeting. The speaker for the last meeting will be announced later.

MARIE VERONICA McNAMEE

Marie Veronica McNamee of the Junior class of Quincy High school and only child of Mr. and Mrs. James McNamee of 4 Dorchester avenue, Houghs Neck, formerly of Cambridge died at their home Monday after an illness of a few months.

Miss McNamee was one of the most studious pupils at High school and about six months ago was obliged to discontinue attending because of poor health.

Her funeral will take place Thursday morning with a high mass of requiem at St. John's church at nine o'clock.

PILALAS—MANTIR.

Miss Margaret Mantir, of Quincy Point and Nicholas Pilalas of the Emanuel Candy Store were married at the home of the bride's parents on Washington's birthday in the presence of Italian and Greek residents of the city.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. Prussianos of the Greek church of Boston. John Apostoles was best man and Miss Josephine Scavo of Boston was the bridesmaid. A reception followed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Pilalas took possession of their new home at 54 Dysart street after the reception. This morning Mr. and Mrs. Pilalas left on a wedding trip. They will return the last of the week.

GIVEN GAS RANGE.

A surprise party was given Mr. and Mrs. August Carlson, 72 Cranch street, Saturday evening. They were presented with a large gas range.

Mr. Thorvald Johnsen made the presentation speech and acted as toastmaster. A committee of three, Mrs. C. Erikson, Mrs. P. Svenson, Mrs. Everson were in charge and a fine collation was served. Afterward singing and games were enjoyed till a late hour.

PRATT'S BREAD sales have increased because it satisfies. Your grocer.

MARRIAGES

McCAUSLAND—OLDROYD—In Quincy, Feb. 20, by Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, William H. McCausland of Lewiston, Me., and Mary Elizabeth Oldroyd of New London, Ct.

PILALAS—MANTIR — In Quincy, Feb. 21, by Rev. T. Prussianos, Nicholas Pilalas and Margaret Mantir, both of Quincy.

DEATHS

McNAMEE—In Houghs Neck, Feb. 23, Marie Veronica, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McNamee, age 17 years, 5 months. Funeral from her late residence, 42 Dorchester avenue, Thursday, Feb. 25, at 8 A. M. High mass of requiem St. Johns church at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

23-2t

POPILE—In Quincy, Feb. 20, Carmine son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Popile of 23 Canal street, age 18 days.

TEMPESTA—In New York City, Feb. 19, Dionigie Tempesta, formerly of Quincy.

IN MEMORY OF THE "BELOVED PHYSICIAN"
JOHN F. WELCH
February 23, 1914

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

BUTTER IS LOWER

Finest Creamery 32c lb
Van Camp's Milk 7 1-2c a can
Van Camp's Soup 7 1-2c a can

MAPLE DAIRY
CHESTNUT STREET

Furniture Storage Warehouse

Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.

Rates $2---$3---$4 per month

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.
Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.-tf

HULTMAN MUSTERED IN.

Arthur B. Hultman, assistant court officer, officially became the largest man in the state militia on Washington's birthday when he was mustered into the M-G Co., 6th Regt. M. V. M. during Gov. Walshs reception at the State House. Four others, Henry M. Furnald, Joseph R. French, John A. Purcell and William Childs were also sworn in. The oath was administered by Capt. Gilson, Co. B., of Fitchburg, in the presence of Col. Warren E. Sweetser, 6th Regt., and Lieut. George M. Downes in charge of organizing the company.

Others now in the service are Frank M. Chubbuck, Dr. John H. Anderson, Francis R. Sullivan, Alfred N. LaBrecque, Terence McManus, William C. Hoxie, Robert A. Mullaney, Patrick A. Erwin.

Lieut. Sidney C. Hardwick, attached to the surgeons staff, 5th Regt. M. V. M. will examine more candidates in Alpha hall this evening.

CHRISTENING PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Castlemen of 120 Sumner street entertained a large number of friends Sunday at a christening party for their son who was born Sunday Feb. 14. The heir has been given the name of Bernard Mr. and Mrs. Castlemen were showered with congratulations and during the afternoon a collection was taken for the war sufferers in Russia.

MAYOR ATTENDS CLUB.

Mayor Campbell and ex-Mayor John O. Hall were among those in attendance Saturday at the meeting of the Massachusetts Mayors club at Young's hotel Boston. The Mayors listened to a discussion on fire prevention by Fre Hazard Commissioner O'Keefe.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

A. O. H. CLUB MEETS.

Members of O. A. club of Upland road observed Washington's birthday after the regular business meeting of the evening. An interesting program was in order. A sketch entitled "For the Love of our Country" was rendered by Bert Reed John Wholly Miss Rhoda Johnson. Miss Lillian Reed and Edward Lacroix. Refreshments were served by a committee composed of Richard Welch, F. Lacroix, Lawrance Blake and Edwin Welch.

ATTEND CONCLAVE.

Knights of King Arthur Arise at Early Hour.

Forty-six energetic knights of Bethany Castle, Knights of King Arthur, arose at an early hour on Monday and at 6.45 A. M. took the car for Taunton, where they attended the annual district conclave of the Knights of King Arthur. The state regent of the order presided. Rev. Mr. Willmott accompanied the boys.

AT ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S.

Meetings for the week are as follows:

Tuesday—4 P. M. Junior Auxiliary; 4.45 P. M. Children's service; 8 P. M. Girls Friendly society.
Wednesday 10 A. M. Holy communion; 2 P. M. Woman's Guild; 4 P. M. service and devotional reading.
Thursday 7.45 P. M. Prayer and sermon
Friday 7.30 Choir rehearsal.

Timothy Shea of the street department, who had his leg fractured some weeks ago while at work in a gravel dump has returned home from the hospital.

PRATT'S BREAD made of the best flour by the best bakers. Your grocer.

Keep Your Teeth Clean
Your Health Will Be Much Better

We have a large stock of American and Imported Tooth Brushes. We want you to get acquainted.

Tuesday and Wednesday
We will give absolutely FREE a
15c Jar of Hearn's Tooth Powder
With every 25c Brush, and a
25c Bottle Tooth Wash
with every 35c Brush. These are both excellent preparations and worthy of a trial—COME TODAY

CHAS. C. HEARN, Druggist City Square

Foy Stores

Tuesday and Wednesday

Best Lamb Chops Rib or Kidney 25c lb

Priscilla Flours { Doughnut, Gingerbread, Tea Cake } 12c pkg

...ESDAY, FEB. 24, 1915

THE QUINCY DAILY L...

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily -- Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 46 QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 24, 1915

ON EVERY TABLE

is our bread. It has that delicious home-made taste that denotes quality. Only the best ingredients are used. Skilled help to fashion it and the same size, same price as always. You are sure of satisfac-...n if you give us a Make that trial Madam—but ...OD SIGN ...Hancock St.

CAPTURE PICKPOCKET AFTER LIVELY FOUGHT

Branlund Gets Six Months Term For Larceny

Frank Branlund of 111 Copeland street was arraigned in court this morning for the larceny of a watch from August Ahonen and sentenced to six months in the house of correction. The alleged larceny took place in a bowling alley at Brewers corner Tuesday night, where a lively mixup came near resulting when Ahonen, who hails from Hardwick, Vt., accused Branlund of stealing his watch.

According to the story told in court this morning Ahonen visited the bowling alleys of Konstant Hill at Brewers corner and while there met a friend, Harry Hanson, who offered him a drink. They stepped into a side room where a man named Victor Kinnonen was found. While the three were talking Branlund came in. Ahonen put back his head to take a drink and he alleges that at that time Branlund took his watch. The two men seized each other and a scuffle ensued. Someone ran for a policeman and the proprietor locked the doors so that none could escape. Ahonen is six feet two and he held on to his man with a grip that could not be shaken.

Officer Deneen then came in and was told the story. Branlund denied taking the watch and offered himself for search. In the meantime the watch was found on the corner of the floor where it had evidently been thrown. After hearing the story Branlund was placed under arrest.

Ahonen was much disturbed over the incident and gave utterance to the following weighty words:

"I have travelled considerable, have been in nearly every large city in the United States and have also lived in the lower side of New York, but never before has anyone attempted to rob me. To think that I had to come to a little town like Quincy, be here only a day or two and lose my watch."

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity.

Thursday clearing and colder.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.27
Sun sets	5.29
Length of day	11.02
Moon sets	4.03
High water, A. M.	7.45
High water, P. M.	8.15
Days increase	1 hr. 55 minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.33 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	48 degrees
Feb. 24, 1914,	25 degrees
Feb. 24, 1913,	28 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—87.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

BOYS SHOES
Made to stand Hard Wear
BOSTON WELT
Regular $2 Shoe for $1.50
As a special inducement to every mother buying a pair of these Shoes we will repair your old ones for 25 cents, which is just the cost of the leather.
E F. CONLIN,
Hancock and Saville Sts. Tel. Quincy 961-M

LIABILITIES ARE NEARLY $100,000

John Berman Appears in Bankruptcy With Heavy Debts

ASSETS ARE $86,677.07

John Berman, a local furniture and real estate man, filed schedules in the United States district court Tuesday showing liabilities of $98,657.32 and assets of $86,677.07. Bankruptcy proceedings were instituted by creditors some time ago.

There are seven secured creditors with claims aggregating $74,145.88 and more than 100 unsecured creditors with claims amounting to $22,812.13. In addition Berman owes $780.41 in notes, held by the Hingham National Bank; $857.45 for taxes, and $61.45 for wages. Among the secured creditors are Frederick L. Alden, East Weymouth, $40,499.38; Arthur D. Alden, North Weymouth, $9209; Quincy Savings Bank $4308; Hingham Savings Bank $3017.50; Henry N. Clark, $4971; Hingham National Bank, $1950; Benjamin A. Robinson, Hingham, $7200.

Berman's assets consist chiefly of real estate valued at $71,150; stock in trade, $ 9827.07; and debts amounting to $875.

LUNCHEON TO MISS ABBOTT.

A dainty luncheon was served at the home of Mrs. Harry Beal, Ocean street, on Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Edith L. Abbott. The decorations were yellow and suspended on yellow ribbons above the table was a shower of packages which contained dainty articles of household value.

Those who so successfully surprised Miss Abbott were, Mrs. H. F. Beal, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Charlotte Bickmore, Mrs. Leary and Miss Ada Mossman, Miss Edna Rice and Master John Beal were also contributors to the shower, and Mrs. J. W. Abbott a guest of the afternoon.

T. Malcolm Hinkley of New York came over Friday to spend the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Brooks of Hancock street, Wollaston.

MRS. CHANDLER W. SMITH,
President Quincy Women's Club.

MAYOR APPOINTS FOUR PATROLMEN TONIGHT

Sweeney, Hebert, Dahlberg and Canavan Are Lucky Men

Mayor Campbell announced this morning the promotion from the reserve to the permanent police force of Joseph F. Sweeney, William J. Hebert and Nils Dahlberg. He also announced the appointment of Michael F. Canavan to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Timothy Golden. The announcement of these appointments will be made at roll call tonight by Mayor Campbell in person. The mayor will also announce at the same time the names of those special officers who are to be appointed to the reserve force.

Just where the new men will be assigned will not be definitely decided until tonight, at which time it is understood that there will be a general shaking up of the routes of the different patrolmen.

The new permanent men have been members of reserve force for sometime Hebert having been made a reserve officer April 15, 1910, Canavan, July 2, 1911, Sweeney, Dec 2, 1911 and Dahlberg Aug. 2, 1912. Canavan is the only man who has been continuously employed since his appointment, he has been taking the place of Timothy J. Golden who resigned last week. Messrs. Sweeney and Dahlberg have been on duty more or less of the time, filling in on days off and during the vacation period. Hebert for many years has been employed in the freight department at the West Quincy railroad station.

MEETING OF M... GUN COMPANY

Col. Warren E. Sweetser, 5th Regt. M. V. M. has detailed Charles E. Starbird, Co. K, 6th Regt. of Lowell, as acting first sergeant to the M-G Co. being formed here. He commenced his duties as instructor at Alpha hall Tuesday evening. He was assisted by Corp. Eldon Downes, Troop B. Cavalry, and Corporal Lester Porter, Co. A., 5th Regt. of Charlestown.

All the men who have been mustered in and 18 others were given preliminary drilling. They were also lectured on formations by Acting Sergt. Starbird.

Col. Sweetser and Lieut. Downes, the latter who is forming the company were present. Lieut Sidney Hardwick, of the surgical staff of the 5th Regt was present but there were no examinations. Recruits and candidates will gather in Union hall again on next Monday evening.

AWARD CONTRACT TO LOCAL FIRM

Commissioner Brown this morning awarded the contract for the furnishings for the addition to the Atherton Hough school to Henry L. Kincaide & Co. of Quincy. The local company was $48 higher in its bid than the American Seating Co. but the latter company would not agree to deliver the furnishings inside of seventy days. The Kincaide company agreed to deliver them inside of thirty days, and was therefore awarded the contract.

James Morrison, formerly of Quincy and now a nurse in the state insane asylum at Worcester is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Morrison of Wilson street.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

LIFE'S SHOP WINDOW
Gorgeous Photo-Play of the famous novel and play
PATHE WEEKLY AND HIGH GRADE VAUDEVILLE
Kuki Japs --- The Oriental Marvels --- Russell & Evans Novelty Change Artists
Loyd & Churchill in a scream of a comedy sketch, entitled—
"NEARLY A FLIRTATION"
Kincaide Theatre
Tues. & Wed. Matinees 2.30--10--15c. Evening at 8 o'clock---10--15--25c

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB OBS... ITS TENTH ANNIVER...

Members Throng Clubhouse Both Afternoon and Evening at Decennial Celebration

A birthday is, or should be, a happy occasion and the tenth milestone of the Quincy Women's club on Tuesday was a particularly happy one, bringing together at the clubhouse present and past members and many old friends.

In the afternoon the club kept open house. The club colors gold and white were used in the decorations, yellow jonquils everywhere giving a brightness and springlike atmosphere to the clubhouse. Each guest was presented with a jonquil, and the ushers wore yellow and white badges.

An orchestra composed of Miss Josephine Durrell, violinist, Miss Marion Moorhouse 'cellist and Mrs. Jennie Hocking Hunt, pianist played during the reception.

In the reception room standing in front of a bank of palms the officers of the club received from two until three o'clock in the line being Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, president; Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham, first vice; Miss Hattie E. Turner, second vice; Mrs. George L. Badger, clerk; Mrs. Edward S. Tenney corresponding secretary; Mrs. Herbert W. Pinkham, treasurer and Mrs. Frank F. Prescott auditor, also Mrs. Claude Gilson of Wellesley vice president of the State Federation, Miss Elizabeth Johnson, godmother of the club and Mrs. Charles A. Spear, a charter and also the oldest member of the Club, each of whom carried a bunch of violets, a gift of the club.

The ushers were: Mrs. Charles R. Safford, chairman assisted by Mrs. William E. Alden, Mrs. Herbert Albee, Mrs. Zenas S. Arnold, Mrs. Herbert S. Barker, Mrs. Frederick H. Bishop, Mrs. Clarence Burgin, Mrs. Frederick S. Boyden, Mrs. Frederick L. Cheever, Mrs. William F. Cummings, Mrs. William H. Doble, Mrs. Samuel W. Ellsworth, Mrs. Henry M. Faxon, Mrs. Thomas Fenno, Mrs. Otho A. Hayward, Mrs. Nathaniel S. Hunting, Mrs. Edwin E. Davis, Mrs. Edward E. Jameson, Mrs. John D. Mackay, Mrs. Edward B. Marsh, Mrs Victor E. Miller, Mrs. Frank J. Moore, Mrs. William B. Nichols, Miss Annie L. Prescott, Miss Edith Randall, Miss Margaret L. Thomas, Mrs. Ida F. Watterhouse, Miss Emily C. Wilde and Mrs. Jennie B. Worster.

Following the reception the president called the assemblage to order for a brief business session it being the regular club meeting day. In her greeting to present and past members the president spoke feelingly of those who passed out of the club during the ten years, death having taken 26 members and a beloved president Mrs. George W. Morton.

Announcement was made of a gift to the club by Sue Rice of a book containing photographs of all the club presidents, so made that it could be added to as there was need from time to time.

Letters were read from Mrs. Mary C. Wade of Chicago, Mrs. Percy C. Holman of Kingston, Miss M. Flora Underwood of Salem and Mrs. Florence Peletier Pope of New York regretting their absence.

The treasurer gave a resume of the finances of the ten years showing a large amount of money received and expended, the report calling out applause. As showing the work of visiting nursing carried on by the club since its organization Mrs. N. S. Hunting chairman of the present committee read the January report of the nurse.

The president graciously spoke of Mrs. Spear, the club's oldest member who was 92 years old, the day being the 73d anniversary of her wedding. Mrs. Spear is young in years being interested in all good works as well as the woman movement. She responded in a few words telling how much she enjoyed the club and its associations.

The president carried a beautiful bouquet of pink roses a gift from the music committee of the State Federation of which she is a member.

A short program to follow the business opened with a song by Miss Ruth Lloyd of Hartford, Conn., accompanied at the piano by William E. Weston. Miss Lloyd's rich and sympathetic voice gave much pleasure, especially her closing group of songs ending with "A Perfect Day."

Mrs. Gilson for the State Federation was the first speaker and was very happy in her remarks and said it must be a happy day for the charter members as the club must have grown beyond even their expectations and become an influence and power in the community. She spoke of the memorial gift the club was to give to the city in the establishment of a school nurse and told of the benefit it would be to the city.

Mrs. Wilson Marsh was club historian and gave a brief but telling history of the ten milestones passed by the club. She said she was going back to her Mother Goose as follows:

"This is the House that Dr. Jeffrey Brackett's father built. This is the Club that lives in the House that Dr. Jeffrey Brackett's father built. This is the tenth anniversary of the Club that lives in the House that Dr. Jeffrey Brackett's father built."

"Once upon a time, in the beginning ten years ago, Dr. Jeffrey R. Brackett, became godfather of this club conferring the gift of the use of this house for a home, and the godmother was Miss Elizabeth Johnson who arranged means of subsistence. The Home Science Association was to merge with the new club and its assembly and May festival were to help carry on Educational and Civic Betterment work. Mrs. W. E. Alden and Mrs. H. M. Willard were asked to be sponsors and Mrs. J. W. Sanborn, Mrs. George S. Saville and the present speaker were its fostering mothers, who with the sponsors, the godfather and godmother planned for a Visiting Nurse which should be the charge of the infant club and give it a worthy motive for existence. But the club was really never an infant but sprung into existence 300 strong, then 350 and is now 400. The club has undertaken and accomplished much as briefly outlined by Mrs. Marsh and she was roundly applauded.

Miss Johnson introduced as the godmother of the club spoke briefly of her pleasure in being with the club and of her continued interest in all its accomplishments. She told how a few women met in a store in Boston and talked over a club and later in the Quincy depot and still later the large meeting in Bethany chapel.

The program closed with singing the club hymn written by Mrs. Irene Chipman Tirrell. Former officers of the club were seated on the platform

An informal reception brought the afternoon to a close. Guests were invited to inspect the clubhouse, especially the beautiful new marble drinking fountain in the tea room presented by the 1913-1914 Education committee.

The Hospitality committee headed by Mrs. Walter E. Burke served coffee and frappe, the pourers being two former presidents Mrs. Everett C. Dumpus and Mrs. Eben W. Sheppard. Mrs. E. Granville Pratt served the frappe. Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick had the decorations in charge.

The birthday observance continued in the evening a reception being held at the clubhouse from eight until

(Continued on Page Six.)

RELIEF CORPS HOLD EXERCISES

"Peddlers Parade" is Striking Feature

Paul J. Revere Woman's Relief Corps held Washington Birthday exercises in Grand Army hall, Tuesday evening. The program included readings by Mrs. Kate A. Blaisdell, patriotic instructor, Mrs. Laura E. Holt and Mrs. Sarah Williams and vocal solos by Mrs. Exelis Nason. The exercises closed with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

The Peddlers Parade, a novel feature followed. All were in costume and carried decorated baskets filled with wares. The names and costumes were: Mrs. Alice Litchfield, chairman of the committee, fancy costume; Mrs. Mary Spooner, Colonial dame; Mrs. Exelis Nason, pop corn girl; Mrs Walter Carmen, baker; Mrs. Mae Berry, Japanese girl; Mrs. Mary Jones the sandwich man, Mrs. Lena Stewart orange girl; Mrs. Electa E. Field, potato peddler; Mrs. Sarah Williams, clothespin girl; Miss Bertha McCurdy peanut girl; Mrs. Levina Dorley, sunshine girl.

DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

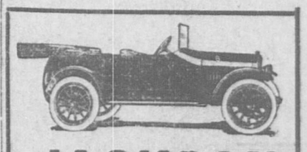

Mrs. Josephine Well Known in Quincy

Mrs. Hannora Burke Josephine, wife of Peter Josephine, died at her home on Water street Tuedsay evening after a long illness. She was in her 50th year...

Mrs. Josephine was well known in this city. She was born here on the day President Lincoln was assassinated, April 14, 1864. Her mother, Mrs. Margaret Burke of Hancock court, who is in her 79th year, survives her. Her father, William Burke was one of the first to enlist with Colonel Cass of the 9th Regt., and served throughout the Civil War.

Mrs. Josephine is survived by her mother two daughters, Mrs E. Foy and Mrs. Mary Marinelli, one son, Raymond, and two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Burke and Mrs. Benjamin Johnson.

The funeral will take place on Friday morning. A high mass of requiem will be celebrated at St. John's church at nine o'clock.

JACKSON
Model 44
embodies all the distinctive Jackson Features. Durability, economy of operation, assured comfort and pleasing appearance. Seating capacity of 5.
Price $1250
Equipped with electric lights and starter, speedometer, etc.
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily -- Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 46 QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 24, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

CAPTURE PICKPOCKET AFTER LIVELY FOUGHT

Branlund Gets Six Months Term For Larceny

Frank Branlund of 111 Copeland street was arraigned in court this morning for the larceny of a watch from August Ahonen and sentenced to six months in the house of correction. The alleged larceny took place in a bowling alley at Brewers corner Tuesday night, where a lively mixup came near resulting when Ahonen, who hails from Hardwick, Vt., accused Branlund of stealing his watch.

According to the story told in court this morning Ahonen visited the bowling alleys of Konstant Hill at Brewers corner and while there met a friend, Harry Hanson, who offered him a drink. They stepped into a side room where a man named Victor Kinnonen was found. While the three were talking Branlund came in. Ahonen put back his head to take a drink and he alleges that at that time Branlund took his watch. The two men seized each other and a scuffle ensued. Someone ran for a policeman and the proprietor locked the doors so that none could escape. Ahonen is six feet two and he held on to his man with a grip that could not be shaken.

Officer Deneen then came in and was told the story. Branlund denied taking the watch and offered himself for search. In the meantime the watch was found on the corner of the floor where it had evidently been thrown. After hearing the story Branlund was placed under arrest.

Ahonen was much disturbed over the incident and gave utterance to the following weighty words:

"I have travelled considerable, have been in nearly every large city in the United States and have also lived in the lower side of New York, but never before has anyone attempted to rob me. To think that I had to come to a little town like Quincy, be here only a day or two and lose my watch."

LIABILITIES ARE NEARLY $100,000

John Berman Appears in Bankruptcy With Heavy Debts

ASSETS ARE $86,677.07

John Berman, a local furniture and real estate man, filed schedules in the United States district court Tuesday showing liabilities of $98,657.32 and assets of $86,677.07. Bankruptcy proceedings were instituted by creditors some time ago.

There are seven secured creditors with claims aggregating $74,145.88 and more than 100 unsecured creditors with claims amounting to $22,812.13. In addition Berman owes $780.41 in notes, held by the Hingham National Bank; $857.45 for taxes, and $61.45 for wages. Among the secured creditors are Frederick L. Alden, East Weymouth, $40,499.38; Arthur D. Alden, North Weymouth, $9209; Quincy Savings Bank $4308; Hingham Savings Bank $3017.50; Henry N. Clark, $4971; Hingham National Bank, $1950; Benjamin A. Robinson, Hingham, $7200.

Berman's assets consist chiefly of real estate valued at $71,150; stock in trade, $ 9827.07; and debts amounting to $875.

MRS. CHANDLER W. SMITH,
President Quincy Women's Club.

MAYOR APPOINTS FOUR PATROLMEN TONIGHT

Sweeney, Hebert, Dahlberg and Canavan Are Lucky Men

Mayor Campbell announced this morning the promotion from the reserve to the permanent police force of Joseph F. Sweeney, William J. Hebert and Nils Dahlberg. He also announced the appointment of Michael F. Canavan to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Timothy Golden. The announcement of these appointments will be made at roll call tonight by Mayor Campbell in person. The mayor will also announce at the same time the names of those special officers who are to be appointed to the reserve force.

Just where the new men will be assigned will not be definitely decided until tonight, at which time it is understood that there will be a general shaking up of the routes of the different patrolmen.

The new permanent men have been members of reserve force for sometime Hebert having been made a reserve officer April 15, 1910, Canavan, July 2, 1911, Sweeney, Dec 2, 1911 and Dahlberg Aug. 2, 1912. Canavan is the only man who has been continuously employed since his appointment, he has been taking the place of Timothy J. Golden who resigned last week. Messrs. Sweeney and Dahlberg have been on duty more or less of the time, filling in on days off and during the vacation period. Hebert for many years has been employed in the freight department at the West Quincy railroad station.

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB OBSERVES ITS TENTH ANNIVERSARY

Members Throng Clubhouse Both Afternoon and Evening at Decennial Celebration

A birthday is, or should be, a happy occasion and the tenth milestone of the Quincy Women's club on Tuesday was a particularly happy one, bringing together at the clubhouse present and past members and many old friends.

In the afternoon the club kept open house. The club colors gold and white were used in the decorations, yellow jonquils everywhere giving a brightness and springlike atmosphere to the clubhouse. Each guest was presented with a jonquil, and the ushers wore yellow and white badges.

An orchestra composed of Miss Josephine Durrell, violinist, Miss Marion Moorhouse 'cellist and Mrs. Jennie Hocking Hunt, pianist played during the reception.

In the reception room standing in front of a bank of palms the officers of the club received from two until three o'clock in the line being Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, president; Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham, first vice; Miss Hattie E. Turner, second vice; Mrs. George L. Badger, clerk; Mrs. Edward S. Tenney corresponding secretary; Mrs. Herbert W. Pinkham, treasurer and Mrs. Frank F. Prescott auditor, also Mrs. Claude Gilson of Wellesley vice president of the State Federation, Miss Elizabeth Johnson, godmother of the club and Mrs. Charles A. Spear, a charter and also the oldest member of the Club, each of whom carried a bunch of violets, a gift of the club.

The ushers were: Mrs. Charles R. Safford, chairman assisted by Mrs. William E. Alden, Mrs. Herbert Albee, Mrs. Zenas S. Arnold, Mrs. Herbert S. Barker, Mrs. Frederick H. Bishop, Mrs. Clarence Burgin, Mrs. Frederick S. Boyden, Mrs. Frederick L. Cheever, Mrs. William F. Cummings, Mrs. William H. Doble, Mrs. Samuel W. Ellsworth, Mrs. Henry M. Faxon, Mrs. Thomas Fenno, Mrs. Otho A. Hayward, Mrs. Nathaniel S. Hunting, Mrs. Edwin E. Davis, Mrs. Edward E. Jameson, Mrs. John D. Mackay, Mrs. Edward B. Marsh, Mrs Victor E. Miller, Mrs. Frank J. Moore, Mrs. William B. Nichols, Miss Annie L. Prescott, Miss Edith Randall, Miss Margaret L. Thomas, Mrs. Ida F. Watterhouse, Miss Emily C. Wilde and Mrs. Jennie B. Worster.

Following the reception the president called the assemblage to order for a brief business session it being the regular club meeting day. In her greeting to present and past members the president spoke feelingly of those who passed out of the club during the ten years, death having taken 26 members and a beloved president Mrs. George W. Morton.

Announcement was made of a gift to the club by Sue Rice of a book containing photographs of all the club presidents, so made that it could be added to as there was need from time to time.

Letters were read from Mrs. Mary C. Wade of Chicago, Mrs. Percy C. Holman of Kingston, Miss M. Flora Underwood of Salem and Mrs. Florence Peletier Pope of New York regretting their absence.

The treasurer gave a resume of the finances of the ten years showing a large amount of money received and expended, the report calling out applause. As showing the work of visiting nursing carried on by the club since its organization Mrs. N. S. Hunting chairman of the present committee read the January report of the nurse.

The president graciously spoke of Mrs. Spear, the club's oldest member who was 92 years old, the day being the 73d anniversary of her wedding. Mrs. Spear is young in years being interested in all good works as well as the woman movement. She responded in a few words telling how much she enjoyed the club and its associations.

The president carried a beautiful bouquet of pink roses a gift from the music committee of the State Federation of which she is a member.

A short program to follow the business opened with a song by Miss Ruth Lloyd of Hartford, Conn., accompanied at the piano by William E. Weston. Miss Lloyd's rich and sympathetic voice gave much pleasure, especially her closing group of songs ending with "A Perfect Day."

Mrs. Gilson for the State Federation was the first speaker and was very happy in her remarks and said it must be a happy day for the charter members as the club must have grown beyond even their expectations and become an influence and power in the community. She spoke of the memorial gift the club was to give to the city in the establishment of a school nurse and told of the benefit it would be to the city.

Mrs. Wilson Marsh was club historian and gave a brief but telling history of the ten milestones passed by the club. She said she was going back to her Mother Goose as follows:

"This is the House that Dr. Jeffrey Brackett's father built. This is the Club that lives in the House that Dr. Jeffrey Brackett's father built. This is the tenth anniversary of the Club that lives in the House that Dr. Jeffrey Brackett's father built."

"Once upon a time, in the beginning ten years ago, Dr. Jeffrey R. Brackett, became godfather of this club conferring the gift of the use of this house for a home, and the godmother was Miss Elizabeth Johnson who arranged means of subsistence. The Home Science Association was to merge with the new club and its assembly and May festival were to help carry on Educational and Civic Betterment work. Mrs. W. E. Alden and Mrs. H. M. Willard were asked to be sponsors and Mrs. J. W. Sanborn, Mrs. George S. Saville and the present speaker were its fostering mothers, who with the sponsors, the godfather and godmother planned for a Visiting Nurse which should be the charge of the infant club and give it a worthy motive for existence. But the club was really never an infant but sprung into existence 300 strong, then 350 and is now 400. The club has undertaken and accomplished much as briefly outlined by Mrs. Marsh and she was roundly applauded.

Miss Johnson introduced as the godmother of the club spoke briefly of her pleasure in being with the club and of her continued interest in all its accomplishments. She told how a few women met in a store in Boston and talked over a club and later in the Quincy depot and still later the large meeting in Bethany chapel.

The program closed with singing the club hymn written by Mrs. Irene Chipman Tirrell. Former officers of the club were seated on the platform

An informal reception brought the afternoon to a close. Guests were invited to inspect the clubhouse, especially the beautiful new marble drinking fountain in the tea room presented by the 1913-1914 Education committee.

The Hospitality committee headed by Mrs. Walter E. Burke served coffee and frappe, the pourers being two former presidents Mrs. Everett C. Bumpus and Mrs. Eben W. Sheppard. Mrs. E. Granville Pratt served the frappe. Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick had the decorations in charge.

The birthday observance continued in the evening a reception being held at the clubhouse from eight until

(Continued on Page Six.)

MEETING OF M GUN COMPANY

Col. Warren E. Sweetser, 5th Regt. M. V. M. has detailed Charles E. Starbird, Co. K, 6th Regt. of Lowell, as acting first sergeant to the M-G Co. being formed here. He commenced his duties as instructor at Alpha hall Tuesday evening. He was assisted by Corp. Eldon Downes, Troop B. Cavalry, and Corporal Lester Porter, Co. A., 5th Regt. of Charlestown.

All the men who have been mustered in and 18 others were given preliminary drilling. They were also lectured on formations by Acting Sergt. Starbird.

Col. Sweetser and Lieut. Downes, the latter who is forming the company were present. Lieut Sidney Hardwick, of the surgical staff of the 5th Regt was present but there were no examinations. Recruits and candidates will gather in Union hall again on next Monday evening.

AWARD CONTRACT TO LOCAL FIRM

Commissioner Brown this morning awarded the contract for the furnishings for the addition to the Atherton Hough school to Henry L. Kincaide & Co. of Quincy. The local company was $48 higher in its bid than the American Seating Co. but the latter company would not agree to deliver the furnishings inside of seventy days. The Kincaide company agreed to deliver them inside of thirty days, and was therefore awarded the contract.

James Morrison, formerly of Quincy and now a nurse in the state insane asylum at Worcester is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Morrison of Wilson street.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

RELIEF CORPS HOLD EXERCISES

"Peddlers Parade" is Striking Feature

Paul J. Revere Woman's Relief Corps held Washington Birthday exercises in Grand Army hall, Tuesday evening. The program included readings by Mrs. Kate A. Blaisdell, patriotic instructor, Mrs. Laura E. Holt and Mrs. Sarah Williams and vocal solos by Mrs. Exelis Nason. The exercises closed with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

The Peddlers Parade, a novel feature followed. All were in costume and carried decorated baskets filled with wares. The names and costumes were: Mrs. Alice Litchfield, chairman of the committee, fancy costume; Mrs. Mary Spooner, Colonial dame; Mrs. Exelis Nason, pop corn girl; Mrs. Walter Carmen, baker; Mrs. Mae Berry, Japanese girl; Mrs. Mary Jones the sandwich man, Mrs. Lena Stewart orange girl; Mrs. Electa E. Field, potato peddler; Mrs. Sarah Williams, clothespin girl; Miss Bertha McCurdy peanut girl; Mrs. Levina Dorley, sunshine girl.

DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Josephine Well Known in Quincy

Mrs. Hannora Burke Josephine, wife of Peter Josephine, died at her home on Water street Tuedsay evening after a long illness. She was in her 50th year...

Mrs. Josephine was well known in this city. She was born here on the day President Lincoln was assassinated, April 14, 1864. Her mother, Mrs.Margaret Burke of Hancock court, who is in her 79th year, survives her. Her father, William Burke was one of the first to enlist with Colonel Cass of the 9th Regt., and served throughout the Civil War.

Mrs. Josephine is survived by her mother two daughters, Mrs E. Foy and Mrs. Mary Marinelli, one son, Raymond, and two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Burke and Mrs. Benjamin Johnson.

The funeral will take place on Friday morning. A high mass of requiem will be celebrated at St. John's church at nine o'clock.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity.

Thursday clearing and colder.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.27
Sun sets	5.29
Length of day	11.02
Moon sets	4.08
High water, A. M.	7.45
High water, P. M.	8.15
Days increase	1 hr. 55 minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.33 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	48 degrees
Feb. 24, 1914,	25 degrees
Feb. 24, 1913,	28 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years--87.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years--2

LUNCHEON TO MISS ABBOTT.

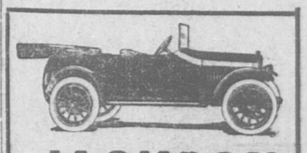

A dainty luncheon was served at the home of Mrs. Harry Beal, Ocean street, on Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Edith L. Abbott. The decorations were yellow and suspended on yellow ribbons above the table was a shower of packages which contained dainty articles of household value.

Those who so successfully surprised Miss Abbott were, Mrs. H. F. Beal, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Charlotte Bickmore, Mrs. Leary and Miss Ada Mossman, Miss Edna Rice and Master John Beal were also contributors to the shower, and Mrs. J. W. Abbott a guest of the afternoon.

T. Malcolm Hinkley of New York came over Friday to spend the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Brooks of Hancock street, Wollaston.

BOYS SHOES
Made to stand Hard Wear
BOSTON WELT
Regular $2 Shoe for $1.50
As a special inducement to every mother buying a pair of these Shoes we will repair your old ones for 25 cents, which is just the cost of the leather.
E F. CONLIN,
Hancock and Saville Sts. Tel. Quincy 961-M

LIFE'S SHOP WINDOW
Gorgeous Photo-Play of the famous novel and play
PATHE WEEKLY AND HIGH GRADE VAUDEVILLE
Kuki Japs --- The Oriental Marvels --- Russell & Evans Novelty Change Artists
Loyd & Churchill in a scream of a comedy sketch, entitled--
"NEARLY A FLIRTATION"
Kincaide Theatre
Tues. & Wed. Matinees 2.30--10--15c. Evening at 8 o'clock---10--15--25c

JACKSON
Model 44
embodies all the distinctive Jackson Features. Durability, economy of operation, assured comfort and pleasing appearance. Seating capacity of 5.
Price $1250
Equipped with electric lights and starter, speedometer, etc.
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

A SPLENDID SUGGESTION.

The New England Clean Up and Paint Up Campaign Committee has issued a "Notice to Property Owners" which is well worth considering. It is a practical suggestion for aiding the condition of the unemployed and is approved by the Massachusetts State Executive Committee on Unemployment. The committee does not ask for charity. It does ask that property owners start NOW on the spring cleaning, painting and repairing which they usually leave until later, and by so doing not only help to relieve the lamentable condition of the unemployed but also do a good service to themselves.

The circular which the committee has prepared reads as follows:

May 2 to 8, 1915, is to be Clean Up and Paint Up Week in New England this year. This is the week when our Municipal and Town Departments collect and remove free, Old Rubbish, Paper and Refuse Matter put out by housekeepers.

Remember this week really marks the finish, not the beginning of the Clean Up and Paint Up Campaign.

Experience last Spring shows that much cleaning up and painting up was delayed until early summer, and in many cases never attended to at all because of inability to hire workmen during the Spring rush in March, April and May.

Men are plenty now, and will be glad to work at reasonable wages, so why not commence at once to put your property in order?

Among the kinds of work which could well be done at this time the committee suggests:

Inside cleaning of all kinds in Houses, Stores or Factories.

Inside Painting of all kinds.

Clean up and Whiten cellars, warehouses, etc.

Renovate and make inside repairs to Tenement Property.

Tear down and remove old dilapidated buildings.

Paint Store Fronts. A clear day with snow on the ground is the best time for this, on account of freedom from dust.

Re-paint store signs.

If a thaw comes, clean up back yard, straighten up fences.

In conclusion the committee urges employers to engage their help from regular sources, asking that preference be given to men who have families or who have been out of work for a long time.

In securing men, and women too, for work of this nature the City Free Employment Bureau at city hall should be consulted. The bureau will be glad to co-operate. A telephone call to Quincy 1044-W will do the business.

CITIZENS OF QUINCY.

In a brief address which he gave to the High School Alumni association last December President of the Council Joseph L. Whiton, who was then acting as mayor, deplored the tendency to subdivide Quincy into a number of little communities, all pulling against each other and none for the good of the city as a whole. The Ledger reported the speech at length and commented editorially upon it at the time. Upon other occasions this paper has editorially expressed its agreement with Mr. Whiton's contention.

To the various improvement associations of different sections we wish all the success in the world. They can be, and are, powers for good composed of public spirited men, who, we believe, have the good of the city at heart. But there is sometimes a tendency to work for the interest of some section without any regard for the city as a whole.

This is wholly wrong. If Quincy is to be made a better place in which to live the citizens, no matter in what geographical section they happen to live, must remember that first of all they are citizens of Quincy, rather than of West Quincy, South Quincy, Quincy Point, Houghs Neck, Wollaston, Norfolk Downs or Atlantic.

CRIME AND DRUGS.

Judge Swann, of the Court of General Sessions at a recent meeting in support of the crusade against drug selling stated that 50 per cent of criminals brought to trial in New York are addicted to the use of narcotics.

This is very strong testimony as to the abnormality of the minds of criminals, for it is generally admitted that it is impossible to become a victim of the drug habit and retain a sound mental balance.

Your copy for the Ledger will be much easier to edit and put in type if you conform to "newspaper style." Don't capitalize spring, summer, fall, winter, church, hall, evening, street, road, avenue and many other words which do not require it. The names George, Charles, William and all others should always be spelled in full. It is of more importance however to write the news.

Financial Review

War influences continue to dominate the stock market. Our foreign trade is being conducted under very abnormal and unstable conditions. In December the loss of imports was about $70,000,000 chiefly in raw silk, wool, coffee, copper and textiles. Exports during the same month increased about $12,000,000 over last year. Considering the heavy shrinkage in outward bound cotton, copper and oil, this increase was remarkable; being entirely due to extraordinary shipments of foodstuffs and war materials. The net result of December's foreign trade was an excess of $130,000,000 in exports. The balance has been steadily growing during January and February; so that it is now estimated that the excess of exports has arisen considerably above $200,000,000 since the beginning of the war.

General business is again marking time. The spirit of confidence which began to develop after the fall elections is still maintained, but so far as positive action is concerned, progress is exceedingly slow. War imposes strong restraints. The volume of business shows only slight gains Industry is somewhat more active but there is still room for a large degree of improvement. Orders are being placed with more freedom by the railroads for steel products, and to this extent improvement can be reported in the great basic steel industry, all of which is at least encouraging and strengthens the belief in a permanent turn of the tide. The building trade also shows partial signs of recovery, the easier conditions of the money market and the low price of many raw materials serving somewhat to stimulate constructive operations. The most prosperous sections of the country continue to be the agricultural districts where the good harvests of last year and the high prices obtained for agricultural products are making certain regions exceedingly prosperous. It is quite natural that the communities and industries dependent upon agriculture should share this prosperity. The result is that the country's trade as a whole is in a spotty and somewhat confused condition.

The investment situation is unchanged. There has been a fair demand for new issues; quite as good as could be expected in view of many perplexing conditions. The possibilities of large foreign demands for new capital appearing on this side keep the investment outlook somewhat unsettled. It is quite certain that to offset the losses from war there will be heavy inroads upon the supply of new capital, and good rates of interest are equally sure to be demanded. Quite a number of securities, however, can be selected in this market which already offer handsome returns to the purchaser, and the growing belief of brighter times ahead seems to be an effectual barrier against any important decline.

There is one fundamental factor upon which to build confidence; that is there will be a good demand for our food products for months to come, war or no war. We have plenty to spare for export from the crops of 1914; and all indications point to a large acreage in 1915. Europe it is certain will raise small crops next year, even if the war terminates earlier than expected. For many reasons European soil cannot be adequately tilled this year and it will be years before the devastated districts can fully recuperate. We may be sure therefore of profitable prices for our surplus food products for some time to come. Additional reasons for confidence are the early adjournment of Congress and the failure of the ship-purchase bill.

Henry Clews, Banker

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1153-M Quincy
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point

DEMAND FOR FISH IS ON INCREASE

Meat Prices Drop When Lent Brings Lessening of Usual Demand

FLOUR REMAINS SAME

The Lenten season is now on and one of the requirements of some religions is that the followers shall deny themselves something during the period of forty days. It is the season when meats are not as freely used as usual. However there are those that demand meat at least once a day, especially those who are engaged in laborious occupations and these the church allows the privilege of indulging in meats, at least once a day. While the demand for meats is falling off the demand for fish is on the increase. Quincy does not boast of many fish markets yet there are some where every variety of the finny tribe can be had.

Meats are dropping steadily in price, and fish in spite of the unusual demand is reasonable unless one desires to indulge in lobster, and if so he must part with 38 cents for every pound he buys, and as lobsters are weighed shell and all it makes pretty dear eating. However smelts, always delicious, can be had for 20 cents a pound, halibut from 20 to 25 cents a pound, cod at 8 cents, unless one wants steak cod when one must pay 18 cents. Some people like herring, although these are the fish with the distinction of having more bones to the square inch than any other kind, and if so their wants may be supplied at 5 cents each. Clams are selling at 15 cents a peck in the shell and 35 cents a quart opened. Oysters are selling this week for 45 cents a quart and scollops at 60 cents. Mackerel cost 15 cents for the ordinary size, and perch sell for 15 cents. Haddock are selling for 10 cents.

Coming to meats we have rump steak at 35 cents, sirloin, 22 to 25 cents, top of round, 28 cents, and bottom of round 20 cents. Rib roasts can be had from 14 to 18 cents, face or back of the rump for 22 cents, pork chops 16 cents, pork to roast from 12 1-2 to 14 cents, sliced ham 23 to 25 cents, whole hams 16 1-2 to 17 1-2. Then there is smoked shoulders at 11 1-2 to 12 1-2 and corned shoulders at 12 1-2 cents a pound.

Of course these are not the only kinds of meats in the market but the list will furnish a fair sample of what the market affords. If one is desirous of the special cuts in any of these lines they will be called upon to pay a little more.

Another stable articles during lent is eggs. They can be bought anywhere from 23 cents to 29 cents, 32 cents and 40 cents a dozen, the latter price being for strictly fresh eggs laid by Quincy hens. There are probably more eggs used during Lent than at any other season of the year, unless it is at Thanksgiving time.

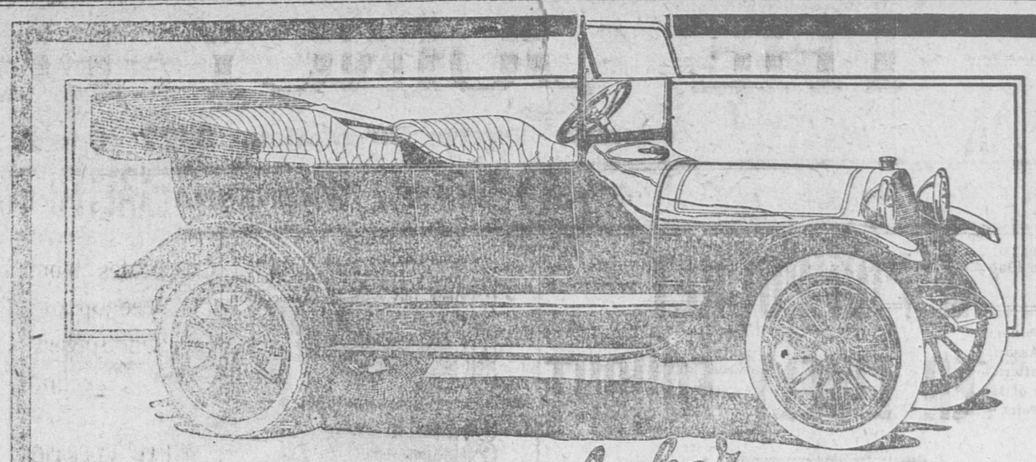

Butter furnishes about as much of a variety in price as do eggs. For instance tub butter can be bought for 33 cents and 35 cents. Best print butter is selling in one market at 34 cents and in another at 38 cents. If purchased by the five pound box it can be had at $1.65 and $1.80 cents.

Salt pork is another article used to a considerable extent. In one market it was found that prime corned pork, extra heavy, can be bought at 13 cents, while in other stores the same kind of salt pork is selling at 15 cents.

Flour remains the same as last week, that is $1.20 a bag, and sugar likewise is the same, namely 6 1-2 cents a pound in less than 100 pound bags.

Only One "BROMO QUININE"
Whenever you feel a cold coming on, think of the full name, LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for signature of E. W. Grove on box. 25c.

ISLE OF PINES
An association is now being formed to own 100 acres of grapefruit or 7000 trees. Join now--membership $250.00, $10.00 down and $5.00 per month. 6 pct. guaranteed for the first five years and then each member gets 85 pct of the profits. Write for particulars.
ISLE OF PINES ASSOCIATES
170 Summer St., Boston, Mass.
Feb. 11-1m

The New Studebaker Automobiles

We Are Proud To Announce Ourselves As Exclusive Dealers In Studebaker Automobiles

We do not divide our allegiance or our selling effort.
We believe in Studebaker cars.
We believe in Studebaker policies and Studebaker ideals.
We have confidence in the men who govern the affairs of the Studebaker Company.
We have confidence in the ability of every department of the great Studebaker plants.
We know that money cannot buy more value, more or better service, more reputation than Studebaker offers.
We know the exceptionally prompt and efficient service that Studebaker gives to both owner and dealer.
Our years of experience have taught us that Studebaker values are the biggest values to be found in the entire automobile field.
They have taught us that to find the same value elsewhere you must go to cars of much higher price.
That is why we are devoting the exclusive efforts of our entire organization to Studebaker cars.
We are now showing the new Studebaker automobiles.
We believe that they excel in beauty of appearance and finish, in completeness of equipment and in sterling quality the best that even Studebaker has ever produced.

Won't you come in today and let us show them to you

SPOONER'S AUTO EXCHANGE
Quincy and Braintree Agent for Studebaker
GEORGE F. SPOONER, 64 Revere Road. Tel. 454 Quincy
Boston Office 94 South Market St. Tel. Richmond 127
D-135

Beans, New England's favorite dish, still remain high averaging about 12 cents.

Some people are very fond of soups and to such it will be pleasing to learn that fine Canadian peas can be had at 10 cents, which is very cheap.

Canned goods can be had in great variety and at reasonable prices averaging about 10 cents a can for the best tomatoes in some markets where the same article is selling at 12 and 15 cents in another market.

In giving these prices the Ledger is not attempting to advertise any particular market. Some people claim that the market editor quotes certain low prices but does not tell where to obtain the articles. If one wants to find these goods it can be easily done by carefully reading the advertisements in the Ledger and by a personal visit to various markets.

Fruit is still plentiful and is selling at reasonable prices. There are quantities of all kinds of fruit in the markets and fruit stores that can be found readily by all shoppers. Spring vegetables are making their appearance and one finds in going about that there are radishes, cucumbers, spinach, and the like. Just travel about the markets, Mrs. Housewife, and see for yourself.

PRATT'S BREAD—baked by experts in a light, well-ventilated building. All grocers.

W. H. HASLETT
31 Bridge Street, Quincy
Tel. Quincy 1092 W

Plastering and Cementing
Concrete Houses
Outside Stucco Work
Cement Walks, Steps and Cellar Floors.

PETROSILO sanitary and fireproof flooring—guaranteed to wear longer than hard wood floor—no joints one continuous piece put over any floor.
Feb. 25- W-S. tf

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton Director
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings. 23-6t

FIREMEN ARE RECOVERING

The firemen who were overcome by smoke at the Remick Bros fire Monday afternoon are doing well. Paul Avery who was taken to the hospital returned to his home Tuesday afternoon. John Minihan, the first man who succumbed to smoke and who was taken home returned to duty this morning. John Desmond whose eyes suffered considerably is still confined to his home although he is slowly recovering. The other fireman still on sick leave is Andrew Scully of the House Neck Combination. Monday was Fireman Scully's day off but hearing the alarm he responded for duty. He worked during the fire in the thickest of the smoke and was one of those partly overcome. He was obliged to go to his home Tuesday and is still confined there although he expects to be out in a day or so.

CONFER DEGREE.

L. O. L. Members Plan For 10th Annual Ball.

The Royal Arch degree, the second in the Loyal Orange lodge, was conferred on two members of Quincy lodge in Protection hall Tuesday evening. The exemplification was under the direction of the master of ceremonies, M. I. Jones, assisted by the degree staff of the lodge. One candidate was initiated.

Partial arrangements were made for the tenth annual ball to be held in Alpha hall on March 26. The committee in charge is headed by Andrew Stewart, past master of the lodge.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

NOTICE TO SHIPPERS
EXPRESS SERVICE DISCONTINUED
On and after March 1, 1915, the BAY STATE STREET RAILWAY COMPANY will discontinue its arrangements for picking up and delivery of express matter by teams. This should not be confused with its conduct of Freight Service, which will be operated as in the past.
3t Feb. 20-24-26

LIVELY FIRE IN COTTAGE

William Edwards Property is Damaged

The alarm from Box 15 at 7.07 this morning was for a lively blaze in the summer cottage of William Edwards off Bicknell street, Germantown. It appears that painters had been at the cottage Tuesday doing some work and left a fire in a stove. The funnel for this stove ran through a sheathed partition and Chief Billings thinks that this must have become overheated and started the fire. The blaze gave the firemen a good half hour's work before it was extinguished. The interior of the cottage was considerably damaged, the loss being estimated by Chief Billings at $300, covered by insurance.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

INJURED BY ARMOR PLATE

Fore River Workman Taken to Hospital

A swinging armor plate struck Neil McIsaac, 34, 23 Haywood street, East Braintree, above the knee at the Fore River shipyard Tuesday afternoon. The plate severed all the muscles on the right thigh but fractured no bones. McIsaac may be unable to resume work for several months..

McIsaac is a rigger and was employed on submarine work when the metal struck him. He was removed to the Red Cross hospital in the shipyard where his wound was dressed, and later to the Quincy City Hospital in the police ambulance. He is married and father of several children.

PRATT'S BREAD is always in favor because delicious in flavor. Your grocer.

NOTICE!
This space will be devoted each day—not to advertise cheap grade at full value, but Johnson Bros. Quality Goods at a sure low price.
BUY THESE TODAY
35c can Curtice Bros. Sliced Peaches 25c
Large can of Baked Beans, Regular Price 15c for today 10c per can.
JOHNSON BROS., City Square.

WENEGATE AUTO TOP & BODY CO.
PACKARD FORE DOORS $30
Runabout, Hearse, Truck, Touring, Limousines, and Speed Bodies made to order, Mud Guards, Hoods, Tops, Slip Covers, Wind Shields and Repairing of all kinds.
CONVERTIBLE LIMOUSINE TOPS FOR ALL MAKES OF CARS
ALL WORK GUARANTEED—PRICES VERY REASONABLE
637 WASHINGTON ST.--Tel. Dor. 1180--DORCHESTER, MASS.
Feb. 18-1m

What Local Clubs are Doing

News of Women's Clubs is a feature of the Daily Ledger every Wednesday. Secretaries of organizations should send notices of club activities, to reach the Club Editor not later than Tuesday night to insure insertion the next day.

The February meeting of the Hospital Aid Association is to be held tomorrow afternoon at half past two at the home of Mrs. Frederick H. Smith, Quincy Point. East Weymouth and Quincy Point cars pass the door.

* * *

Mrs. Walter A. Jackson is chairman of the meeting tomorrow afternoon of the Atlantic Shakespeare Society when act one of "Midsummer Night's Dream," will be the subject of study.

* * *

The March meeting of the Quincy Day Nursery Association will be held Monday afternoon at half past two at the Women's clubhouse, Presidents hill.

* * *

The annual meeting for the hearing of yearly reports and election of officers of Adams Chapter Daughters of the Revolution is to be held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George T. Magee, Hancock street.

* * *

Miss Mary W. Holden of The Prescott apartments, Spear street is to be the hostess Monday afternoon for the meeting of the Junior Friday club.

* * *

Katharyn Crane Memorial Club is to meet Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Emery L. Crane of Whitney road.

* * *

Quincy W. C. T. U. holds its regular monthly meeting March 5.

* * *

Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead of Boston the well known peace lecturer is to address the meeting of Quincy Alliance in the First Parish chapel next Wednesday afternoon taking as her subject, "European War and America's Duty."

* * *

Mrs. W. E. Weld is in charge of the meeting next Wednesday of the Wollaston Auxiliary Woman's Board of Missions when chapter "The child at Worship" of the text book "The Child in the Midst," will be taken up.

* * *

The March third meeting of Bethany Women's Union is to be a typical meeting of the Woman's Board conducted by Mrs. Frank H. Wiggin. Miss Ida L. Thomas will conduct the devotions and the Junior Auxiliary chorus will sing. A fine meeting is anticipated.

* * *

The Quincy Women's Club class in parliamentary law meets Monday afternoon at the clubhouse for the fourth lesson.

* * *

Miss Edith Randall, president of the Quincy Equal Suffrage League will be the speaker of the evening at the next regular meeting of the Wollaston Equal Suffrage League to be held with Mrs. Howard G. Hinkley, 19 Prospect avenue, Tuesday evening, March 2 at eight o'clock. All interested in suffrage work are cordially invited to attend and become members of the league.

* * *

Mrs. Eben W. Sheppard and Mrs. Herbert W. Pinkham are to represent the Quincy Women's club Friday at the meeting in Somerville of the State Federation of Women's clubs. A large party of club women are to go from this city.

* * *

Not only club women but many men as well are interested in the evening opera talk to be given March 6 in Wollaston school hall by Havrah W. L. Hubbard under the auspices of the Wollaston Woman's club. Parsifal will be the opera and Mrs. Charles R. Safford of 150 Brook street has charge of the tickets and arrangements.

WOLLASTON WOMAN'S CLUB.

The Ladies Glee club is to entertain members and friends at the next regular meeting of the Wollaston Woman's Club next Tuesday afternoon at the Park and Downs church. A very delightful program of songs with violin solos has been prepared by the chairman Miss Florence G. Olney. The Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Crowley is doing splendid work and an afternoon of great pleasure is promised. Tea will be served at the conclusion of the afternoon's entertainment.

The last of the opera talks by Havrah Hubbard to be given Saturday evening March 6 at 8 o'clock in the Wollaston School hall is being eagerly anticipated.

Miss Hattie E. Turner chairman of the Belgian Relief Committee has been most active in getting helpers to make up materials donated by members and friends. Two sewing days were planned in the Congregational church vestry which were largely attended. Several days have also been spent by Miss Turner and her workers at Tremont Temple, Boston assisting in the preparing of material brought there.

* * *

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

At the business meeting of the Quincy Women's club Tuesday afternoon announcement was made of the State Federation meeting at Somerville on Friday and members were urged to attend and keep in touch with the broader club work.

In place of the debate as announced in the year book for the next meeting there would be instead an art lecture by Mrs. Bumpus. It would also be the annual meeting and the biennial election of officers. The polls would open at 2 P. M. The ballot was read by Mrs. Arnold chairman of the nominating committee.

A vote of thanks was extended Sue Rice for the book of photographs of the present and past presidents of the club.

A full report of the club anniversary meetings will be found elsewhere.

MILTON

Teams A and B of the Kemp Class bowled a match of three strings Monday morning on the Cunningham gym alleys. Team A captained by Langdon Parsons defeated team B. captained by William Hoxie, 3—1. Team A's total pin fall was 1174 as against team B's total of 1099. Hoxie made the highest single with 108. The totals were as follows:

TEAM A—3.

	Total
Captain Parsons	226
Carlson	193
Long	273
Macleary	237
Hollidge	245
	1174

TEAM B—1.

Captain Hoxie	280
Doherty	194
Wood	198
Hecker	214
Pratt	213
	1099

The Cunningham Midgets lost their game with the U. S. S. Brooklyn team on the evening of the holiday on the home floor by the score of 39—37. The home team led at the end of the first half with the score of 28—13. In the second half Stone and Noble of the visitors got started and the score began to go up for the sailors "Joe" Duggan showed his wonderful ability at making baskets, getting seven from the floor and three on fouls. The lineup was:

U. S. S. Brooklyn	Cunningham
Nesbitt rf	rf J. Duggan
Gregg lf	lf D. Duggan
Stone c	c S. Duggan
Noble rb	rb Carder
Pratt lb	lb Hearn

Score U. S. S. Brooklyn 39—Cunningham Gym 37. Goals from floor Nesbitt, Gregg, Stone 5, Pratt, Noble 3, Carder, Hearn 2, S. Duggan 4, D. Duggan 3, J. Duggan 7. Goals from fouls J. Duggan 3 Noble. Referee, Eaton. Timer Smith. Time two 20m periods. Attendance 300.

RESUME HEARINGS.

The Bay State St. Ry. and the Carmen's Union hearings are to be resumed today and the indications are that the differences which arose and resulted in a sudden adjournment have been smoothed out.

CLUB EVENTS

FEBRUARY.

25—Atlantic Shakespeare Society.
25—Hospital Aid—Mrs. F. H. Smith.

MARCH.

1—Adams Chapter D. R. Mrs. Magee.
1—Junior Friday Club, Miss Holden.
1—Quincy Day Nursery Association.
1—Q. W. C., Parliamentary Law.
2—K. C. M. Club, Mrs. Crane.
2—W. W. Club Musicale.
2—Wol. Equal Suffrage League.
3—Quincy Alliance.
3—Wol. Aux. W. B. of M.
3—Bethany Union.
5—Q. W. C. T. U.
6—W. W. Club—Opera Talk.
8—A. P. Q. Chapter D. A. R.
9—Q. W. Club Annual.
10—L. B. So. Wol. Cong. church.
10—Wollaston Alliance.
11—Atlantic Shakespeare So.
15—Ladies Circle, Universalist Parlor
15—Q. W. C., Parliamentary Law.
16—Wollaston Woman's Club.
16—K. C. M. Club, Dorothy Hall.
17—Universalist Mission Circle.
17—Quincy Alliance.
22—Junior Friday, Mrs. Lawton.
23—Quincy Women's Club.
24—Wollaston Alliance.
24—L. B. So. Wol. Cong. church.
25—Atlantic Shakespeare So.
29—Q. W. C., Parlimentary Law.

WEI PING CHEU, SPEAKER

Christianized Chinaman At Hall Place M. E.

A good sized audience listened to the inspiring address on China by Wei Ping Cheu of Boston University at the Hall Place M. E. church, Sunday morning. Mr. Cheu is a speaker of pleasing personality and while there is a deep undercurrent of seriousness about all that he says and does his wit and humor are contagious.

What great advance he inquired can a few missionaries make among so many millions of people when the proportionate amount of sin and vice are shipped into China at the same time. China has made a noble effort to rid her country of its greatest curse opium, and succeeding, yet what lasting good effects can result when Christian nations are sending cigarettes and liquor into China.

Mr. Cheu gave several good reasons why the Chinese people showed such an antagonistic spirit toward Christianity and then told of the great changes which have come to China since 1900 and said that the Chinese people have their eyes on the United States and are ready to imitate anything we do.

Mr. Cheu, is an Americanized Chinese. He was born in Peking of Christian parents, first attending a Chinese school and then a Mission school. He was graduated from Peking University with highest honors. He came to America and graduated from Wesleyan University with the degree of master of arts. He is now completing his course at Boston University school of Theology.

The attendance at the Sunday school broke all previous records. Mr. Cheu addressed the Sunday school dressed in native costume.

At the evening service Mr. Stevick of Boston University who visited West Quincy with the Gospel Team recently preached an interesting sermon based on the 29th Psalm.

BRIEFS

A regular meeting of Sons of St. George will be held tonight in Clan McGregor hall on Franklin street.

Division 5, Ancient order of Hibernians, will hold its regular meeting in Franklin hall, South Quincy, tonight at eight o'clock.

This evening the Union Chorus Choir will hold a rehearsal at the Swedish Congregational church.

A vaudeville entertainment will be given by the High School Alumni association in the school assembly hall Friday evening.

FORRESTERS MEET.

Enjoy Social and Entertainment After Meeting.

The Irish National Forresters held their regular bi-monthly meeting Tuesday evening in Franklin hall, South Quincy. A social and entertainment in charge of the regular entertainment committee was held after the meeting. Impromptu songs and speeches were in order during the evening.

SOLONS IN CITY.

Several members of the legislature were in town today in company with Dock Commissioner Crane. They visited the Quincy Point bridge and looked over the channel for which an appropriation of $75,000 for widening and deepening is pending before the legislature. After their view they were taken to City Hall and introduced to Mayor Campbell.

EDWARD E. LARKIN EXALTED RULER

Candidates Nominated at Meeting of Elks Unopposed For Election

ANNUAL ELECTION MAR. 9

Edward D. Larkin, esteemed leading knight of Quincy lodge of Elks, was unanimously nominated exalted ruler Tuesday evening to succeed John Hildebrand, who declined to be a candidate for reelection despite the request of members. The ratification will be at the annual election on March 9 and the installation will be on April 13. Mr. Larkin is one of the most popular young men of the city and is the son of Mrs. Annie E. Larkin of 929 Hancock street. All candidates are unopposed for election.

Dr. James H. Maloney, esteemed loyal knight, was elevated to the post of esteemed leading knight, and John R. S. Ross, esteemed lecturing knight, was nominated esteemed loyal knight. Charles H. Hanson, inner guard, was made esteemed lecturing knight.

Edward V. Sweeney, secretary, Charles R. O'Connor, treasurer, and John W. Reveney were all renominated.

Exalted Ruler John Hildebrand was nominated delegate to the Grand Lodge and Past Exalted Ruler Philip T. Sullivan will be the alternate.

William J. Stone will be the new trustee for three years. His nomination is his debut in official society circles in the city. He was one of the organizers of the North Quincy Catholic Club, and is a member of Dorchester council, Knights of Columbus, and the Pressman's Union. Mr. Stone is an attorney, with offices at 6 Beacon street, Boston and makes his home at 68 Tyler street.

During the meeting a lodge of sorrow was held in appreciation of the charity, brotherly love and fidelity of the late Joseph M. Bruce, who was initiated on Feb. 23, 1905, became a life member on June 24, 1913 and died Feb. 9, 1915. The memorial was conducted under the direction of Exalted Ruler Hildebrand. The lights of the lodge room were lowered during the services and the "Vacant Chair" was sung by Edward Coggswell of Wollaston.

The committees for the ensuing six months are: House committee—Charles R. O'Connor, Joseph J. Neagle, Maurice F. Cohen. Finance—James Sweeney chairman, Rednor P. Coombs, John J. Lane. Standing Relief—Edward D. Larkin, Dr. James H. Maloney, John R. S. Ross. Sick—P. W. Branscheid, H. H. Moseley, Robert J. Williams, Jr., Charles P. Gould, Fred Miller. Entertainment—Dr. James H. Maloney, Edward D. Larkin, John R. S. Ross, Charles H. Hanson, Joseph N. Shafer.

ADJOURNED MEETING.

Committees Appointed For Ensuing Year of Christ Church.

An adjourned meeting of Christ church parish was held Tuesday evening at the parish house. The meeting was called to straighten out a technicality in a loan the parish is to make.

Following the parish meeting there was a meeting of the vestry of the church. At this meeting a meeting of the men was arranged for next Monday evening. The object of the meeting is to enable the new rector to meet all of the men together.

Committees were appointed on the church, vestry, grounds and finance as follows:

Church and grounds, William H. Deacon, Roy Prout, S. A. Moyle, W. E Burke.

Parish House and Parish, W. S. Torrey, Archibald McLeod, W. G. Spargo.

Music, William L. Thomas, H. C. Hallowell, Charles M. Chase.

Finance, Albert L. Barbour, William L. Thomas, Charles E. Haskins, Charles L. Hammond, Byron C. Miller.

Preliminary steps were taken for improvements of the parish house and grounds.

SALAMAGUNDI SOCIAL.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Atlantic Memorial church spent a delightful evening with the Phillips church Endeavor society of South Boston at a Salamagundi Social on Tuesday evening. About twenty-seven of the young people from Atlantic attended the party. Fifteen tables of Salamagundi were in play between eight and ten, after which a dainty lunch was served.

ADVOCATES ROOM BUILDING

Mayor, Pres. Whiton, Two Councilmen, and School Board Confer

REGULAR MEETING HELD

A conference was held Tuesday evening, at the rooms of the School Committee between the members of the committee, Mayor Campbell, President Whiton of the city council, Chairman Richards of the finance committee and Chairman Griffin of the public buildings committee.

Before beginning the discussion of school matters the School Committee adopted a resolution to the effect that when the proposed new school building in the Quincy Point district was built it should be a sixteen room building.

A general discussion on this subject as well as additional accommodations for the Norfolk Downs district was held. Supt. Barbour explained the school situation throughout the city, especially with reference to the High school which was becoming overcrowded. He said that he believed it better to build a large building of sixteen rooms with provisions for enlargement to twice that size rather than dot the city over with small buildings. If there was a large building the idea was to have junior high schools established. He advocated that in all future buildings there should be sixteen rooms and that junior high schools should be established in each.

After the conference a regular meeting of the school committee was held

The resignations of Miss Elizabeth H. Litchfield of the Coddington school and Miss Charlotte G. Nash of the Wollaston school were accepted. These teachers are soon to take up the more important duties of residing over their own households.

Miss Olive G. Moody was transferred from the Massachusetts Fields to the Coddington school and Miss Gertrude M. Burke from the Atherton Hough to the Massachusetts Fields school.

Miss Annie G. Cumming who was elected a month ago was assigned to the Wollaston school.

Miss Ruth H. Stopp was elected as a teacher in the Wollaston school.

Letters were received from the Parents-Teachers associations of the Washington and Massachusetts Fields school urging the committee to do all that was possible to secure additional accommodations.

It was voted that the retirement of Samuel DeForest as janitor of the John Hancock school date from Feb. 28 and it was also voted that the city solicitor be asked if it was legal to charge the amount paid him on a pension to the school budget.

Alexander Shirley was transferred as janitor from the Lincoln to the John Hancock school and Lewis R. Dunham as janitor from the Wollaston to the Lincoln school. The matter of the vacancy in the janitorship at the Wollaston school was referred to the sub-committee.

The expenditures of the department to date were reported as follows:

Administration	$1,058.97
Instruction	30,408.47
Text Books	632.45
Stationery, Supplies, etc	716.93
Operation of Plant	6,058.23
Maintenance	22.30
Miscellaneous	364.22
Evening Schools	660.91
Total	$39,922.48
Independent Industrial school	2,393.20
Industrial Evening school	753.94
	$3,147.14

VIOLATE NEUTRALITY.

Singing of "Tipperary" By Those Fleeing Fire.

Those Quincy people who marched out of a fire-endangered theatre singing "Tipperary" didn't have time to think what a terrible blow they were dealing to the cause of ice-cold neutrality.

ON EVERY TABLE

is our bread. It has that delicious home-made taste that denotes quality. Only the best ingredients are used. Skilled help to fashion it and the same size, same price as always. You are sure of satisfaction if you give us a trial. Make that trial today—Madam—but

LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN

1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1537 Hancock St.

PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE TO FIRE CHIEF BILLINGS

Commissioner O'Keefe Speaks on Fire Prevention

John A. O'Keefe, fire prevention commissioner of the Metropolitan district, delivered an interesting lecture on fire prevention and elimination of the fire hazard, at the monthly meeting of the Wollaston Congregational Men's club, Tuesday evening.

The speaker was treated to a novel introduction by Mayor Campbell, president of the club. President Campbell stated that he did not feel equal to introducing such a distinguished speaker but would call on the mayor of the city to do the honors. President Campbell then sat down and up rose Mayor Campbell who delivered a burlesque political speech and fittingly introduced the speaker.

Com. O'Keefe proved himself a sworn enemy of the wooden shingle, which he declared to be mainly responsible for the disastrous spreading of fires. "These act in two ways" he said, "The fire inside can break out through the roof and the hot air carries the burning shingles for miles. If these light on the house tops they find great food in dry curled up wooden shingles."

The loss at Chelsea might have been greatly cut down and that of Salem might have been kept within its first $100,000 loss, had it not been for the wooden shingle. As it was burning shingles were carried four miles across the harbor and started eight or ten incipient fires in Marblehead.

"I am working hard to have incorporated in the ordinances of every town and city in the metropolitan district regulations providing that on all new constructions or major repairs non combustible roof covering or fire resisting shingles be used."

Commissioner O'Keefe declared that for a dollar more per square many kinds of fire resisting shingles and roof coverings could be had. Causes of fires from negligence were taken up; such as smoking in bed, careless

(Continued on Page Six.)

COAL

Just Unloaded 2600 Tons of

Sprague's Celebrated New River Cumberland Coal

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.,

27 Granite St.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

The general express business conducted by the late Joseph M. Bruce, at No. 1598 Hancock Street, under the name of

BRUCE & WARNER EXPRESS

will be continued in the same name, and at the same place as formerly by the undersigned.

HELEN M. BRUCE, Administratrix.
DAVID M. WARNER, Manager.

1461

CLARA MORRISON
Pianist and Teacher
Leschetizky Method
CATHERINE MORRISON
Mandolin and Guitar
50 Hamilton Street, Wollaston
Tel. Quincy 1318-W. Sept 30-w.s.-1y

DR. G. F. S. PEARCE
DENTIST
327 Newport Avenue, Wollaston
Mondays -- Wednesdays -- Fridays
9 to 12 — 1 to 5
EVENINGS
Boston Office 194 Boylston Street
June 24-1y-w.s.

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con

Pratt's Vienna Bread
Baked expressly for those who appreciate the best. Always uniform in quality and quantity.
YOUR GROCER

Successful Poultry Raising
rests on a few definite principles. Perfect cleanliness is one of these. Adopt it, and you have made a long stride toward success.
Pratt's Poultry Disinfectant
35c per quart; $1 per gallon
Is designed to make this work easy. Safe, sure, pleasant to use. It kills disease germs, destroys mould, makes the plant and equipment clean, sweet and sanitary.
"Your money back if it fails."
Pratt's Powdered Lice Killer
Is fatal to lice. 25c and 50c
A. J. RICHARDS & SON, C. W. & G. W. NIGHTINGALE
NATHAM AMES E. H. DOBLE & CO
AND GRAIN DEALERS AND GENERAL STORES EVERYWHERE 6659

CHILDREN SEE BROWNIE BALL

Final Performance Draws Large Number

Some 700 school children with a scattering number of grownups, witnessed the third and final presentation Tuesday afternoon in the Wollaston school hall of "The Brownie Ball or Vivian's adventures in Wonderland," by a cast of 250 children of the Massachusetts Fields school.

The children proved to be the most appreciative of the audiences and when Baby William Wecker, the diminutive Brownie chief of police accidentally kicked through one of the large footlights, the enthusiasm was immense.

The performance went very smoothly both principals and chorus doing exceedingly well. The children had been put through several months of careful training and the result redounded credit on those in charge.

The net proceeds, amounting to nearly $250, will be expended for equipping with the proper apparatus, the palyground recently secured by the Massachusetts Fields school.

With the sum realized from the entertainment together with contributions from the parents, it is expected that money enough will be provided so that a supervised playground will be in operation during the summer months.

POLICEMEN ARE AGAIN DEFEATED

The Quincy car men overwhelmed the Quincy police in a special at the Wardwell alleys Tuesday afternoon. The match was one of the warmest rolled this season and was featured by a single of 136 by Lavoie. His total was 336. Lavoie had 66 in his fourth box and 88 in his sixth. He went like a house afire the balance of the string. None of Quincy's "finest" reached the hundred mark. Reserve officer Fallon was high on his team with 275.

QUINCY
W. Cowe	85	107	90	282
G. Ford	102	84	88	274
O. Lavoie	98	102	136	336
R. Ames	84	85	90	259
H. Davey	80	87	82	249
	449	465	486	1400

QUINCY POLICE.
W. Ferguson	90	76	85	251
F. Canavan	86	84	84	254
D. Ford	70	82	89	241
H. Thorne	87	78	83	248
G. Fallon	95	92	88	275
	428	412	429	1269

Masquerade Costumes For Rent
Children's Costumes in variety
MRS. R. E. WOODWARD
155 Billings Road
Norfolk Downs Car, Norfolk Downs
Feb. 3-tf

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
—OF—
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES,
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

LIGHT PINFALL IN PT. CH. LEAGUE

POINT CHURCH LEAGUE.
Stage Pt. 2—Beach Pt. 2.
Cedar Pt. 3—Rocky Pt. 1.

Light pinfall marked the matches of the Point Church league at Wardwells Tuesday evening. Thayer got high single of the evening, 115. MacQueen was the other man who passed the century. The summaries:

CEDAR PT.—3.
Scouler	91	86	94	271
Chisholm	96	91	88	275
Barnes	83	73	65	221
MacQueen	109	83	95	287
Jones	87	80	76	243
	466	413	418	1297

ROCKY PT.—1.
Waddell	63	82	65	210
Thayer	80	73	115	268
Moe	91	73	66	230
Wight	78	85	87	250
Lang	83	82	88	253
	395	395	421	1211

STAGE PT.—2.
Melville	80	83	71	234
Peterson	69	80	91	240
Everson	97	79	79	255
Dummy	75	75	75	225
Dummy	75	75	75	225
	396	392	391	1179

BEACH PT—2.
Hoffees	77	96	94	267
Melville	78	82	72	232
Dummy	69	79	71	219
Dummy	75	75	75	225
Dummy	75	75	75	225
	374	407	387	1168

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

At assembly Friday morning Principal Charles L. Curtis of the High school awarded football "M's" to the following men: Captain "Dutch" Reiser; "Jimmie" Park; "Doc" Crowell; "Park" Field; "Bob" Adams; "Red" Robertson; "Les" Patterson; Frank Patterson; "Louie" Sprague; Lloyd Corbett; "Star" Luce and "Ken" Hecker.

Kenneth D. Johnson, a member of the senior class of the High school entertained twenty-five of his friends Saturday evening at his home on Washington street. The house was decorated with patriotic bunting and Washington birthday decorations. Games were played, prizes being won by; J. Randall Pratt, Miss Bena G. Erhard, Miss Josephine Rice and Clifford Davidson. Ice cream college ices, cake, punch, fancy cookies and bon bons were served. The party ended with singing old folk songs.

The high school hockey team ended its season Friday afternoon when it was defeated by the Newton High team at Brae-Burn 6—3. The score at the end of the first half was 1—0 in Newton's favor. With but two minutes to play the score was 4—3 in Newton's favor. Then the winners made two goals in rapid succession. Captain Robertson, Simpson and Luce made Milton's goals.

A grand missionary rally will be held Friday evening under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church in the church. Miss Houston for years a missionary among the American Indians of the West will be the speaker of the evening. A chorus of forty young ladies will sing.

Rev. C. C. Tilley of the Calvary Baptist church of Quincy preached at the First Baptist church Sunday morning in exchange with the pastor. The Woodsum class met at 12M with 100 per cent. The C. E. society meeting was led by Chester Carder, his subject being "Favorite Chapters of the Bible and Why." In the evening a patriotic service was held, music being furnished by a male chorus made up of members of the Woodsum Class. The pastor, Rev. J. Hamilton Woodsum, preached on "Model Citizens."

EDWARD J. FEGAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY.

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

NICOLLS LOSE THREE POINTS

But Still Hold Lead in Clan MacGregor League

LEAGUE STANDING.

	Won	Lost
Capt. Nicoll	61	31
Capt. McKenzie	51	37
Capt. McLean	53	35
Capt. Smith	38	54
Capt. Hughes	37	55
Cat. Maver	32	60

High team total, Capt. Nicolls 1493
High team single, Capt. Hughes 534
High total, Dell 369.

RESULTS LAST NIGHT
Capt. McLean 3, Capt. Nicoll 1.
Capt. Mayers 4, Capt. Hughes 0.
Capt. Smith 3, Capt. McKenzie 1.

The Nicolls lost three of four points to the McLeans in the Clan MacGregor league matches at the Coliseum alleys Tuesday evening but still retain the lead. Capt. McLean set the pace with a total of 328. Big pinfall by some men was a feature. None of the existing records were broken. The Smith team supplanted the Hughes five in fourth place. The summaries:

CAPT. MAVER—4.
H. Welsh	81	83	119	283
J. Maver	93	101	82	276
Thomson	95	78	78	251
Birnie	88	95	83	266
Hastings	106	99	95	300
	463	456	457	1376

CAPT. HUGHES—0.
Hughes	91	88	83	262
Mitchell	76	83	82	241
Muir	82	74	100	256
O'Neil	78	83	91	252
Dackers	80	87	85	252
	407	415	441	1263

CAPT. McLEAN—3.
Paterson	81	79	82	242
Mannock	82	98	76	256
McLeod	91	104	86	281
McLean	101	119	108	328
Dell	113	90	87	290
	468	490	439	1397

CAPT. NICOLL—1.
Craig	83	120	90	293
Michael	80	90	92	262
Stewart	97	100	71	268
Merters	94	102	84	280
Nicoll	79	85	86	250
	433	497	423	1353

CAPT. SMITH—3.
Stewart	91	94	79	264
Maver	88	89	84	261
Smith	76	92	108	276
Davidson	80	71	82	233
Martin	79	71	89	239
	414	417	442	1273

CAPT. McKENZIE.—1.
Hunter	86	82	80	248
Gordon	75	87	77	239
McKenzie	91	84	72	247
Russell	77	97	76	250
Drummond	82	94	94	270
	411	444	399	1254

NO. QUINCY TOWN MEETING.

Associations of Wards 5 and 6 to Hold Joint Gathering.

Members of the Squantum, Norfolk Downs and Montclair Improvement associations have been invited to attend a special meeting of the Atlantic association in the Atlantic Music hall on Thursday evening.

Mayor Campbell will be present and the affair may resolve itself into a North Quincy town meeting when those present will point out to his honor the needs of their district. A. L. Stinson and the councilmen from Ward six will be present.

The topic of the evening will be "Civic Improvement." A light collation and cigars will be served those who attend.

Miss Polly E. Barnum and Miss Ernestine H. Barnum, both of Atkinson, N. H., have been the guests during the past week of Miss Edith Atkins of Bromfield street, Wollaston.

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.
will continue the service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.
OFFICE AT
WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY

SPORTING COMMENT

Capt. Wales of Brookline High aquatic team has protested Andover's win because his team had no choice in selecting officials. Roger Bird of the team, out of competition because of rheumatism, has resumed studies.

Browne and Nichols have withdrawn from the Schoolboy Rowing Association.

Jimmy Power the B. A. A. miler has recovered from his illness. He will cut indoor running for a while.

The annual St. Alphonsus cross country will be held March 27.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

George Washington isn't the only person who celebrates his birthday on February 22d. Master John Holmes young son of John Holmes of Bellevue road celebrated his sixth birthday by inviting fifteen of his young playmates to his home from two to five o'clock.

Appropriate games were played. The children played an original game of pinning little flags to a flagstaff while blindfolded. The winners of the prizes in this game were—first, Joseph Uppling, Jr., second, Miss Marjorie Mardon.

At 5 o'clock a luncheon was served in the dining room. This room was handsomely decorated with red, white and blue crepe paper streamers. The place cards were little George Washington hatchets. Each child had a souvenir appropriate to the day. In the centre was a huge birthday cake with six candles. As the children marched into the dining room an American flag was unfurled and the children saluted it and sang "America," to the accompaniment of the cornet played by Charles Bostwick.

Master John was the recipient of many pretty gifts including neckties, books, boxes of candy and money.

The children present were Hazel Olson, Ethel Morse, Richard Nelson, Joseph Uppling, Jr., Hazel Mason, Doris Sumner, Ingvard Hackensen, Earling Hackenson, Ruth Holmes, Mildred Lindgren, Evelyn Lindgren Ruth Olson, Harold Mason, Marjorie Mardon.

John R. Fernald of Atkinson, N. H., Walter H. Brown of East Kingston, N. H., and William R. Wheeler of Haverhill were the guests of Miss Edith Atkins of Bromfield street, over the holiday.

You need the Ledger every day. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Elizabeth F. Faxon late of Quincy in said County deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Amos L. Faxon, of Wellesley in the County of Norfolk, without giving a surety on his bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of March A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twentieth day of February A. D. 1915.
J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Feb. 24-Mar. 1-8.

CHARLES E. DECKER, Auctioneer
Room 3, Adams Bldg., Quincy.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a mortgage deed of real estate given by Maria Giordani to Agnesa Giordani dated December 22, 1913 and recorded with Norfolk Deeds Book 1268, page 502, for the purpose of foreclosing, said mortgage for breach of the conditions thereof, will be sold at public auction on the premises described therein on SATURDAY the 13th day of March 1915 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular, the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed the same being situated in Quincy in the County of Norfolk and comprising Lots 19, 20, and 21 on a plan by H. T. Whitman recorded with Norfolk Plans, plan book 17, plan 2219, said parcel being bounded and described as follows:

Northerly by land now or formerly of Adams and Whitman 126 4-10 feet; Easterly by land now or formerly of Ryan, sixty feet; Southerly by land now or formerly of Bizzozero one hundred and twenty-five 4-10 feet; Westerly by Side Street, sixty feet, containing 7554 square feet of land.

The premises will be sold subject to a prior mortgage and other incumbrances if any there be.

One hundred dollars will be required to be paid at the time of sale; remainder within ten days, on delivery of deed.

AGNESA GIORDANI.
Mortgagee.
3t Feb. 17-24 Mar. 3

The Exploits of Elaine

A Detective Novel and a Motion Picture Drama

By ARTHUR B. REEVE

The Well-Known Novelist and the Creator of the "Craig Kennedy" Stories

Presented in Collaboration With the Pathe Players and the Eclectic Film Company

Copyright, 1914, by the Star Company All Foreign Rights Reserved

(Continued from last issue)

There came another knock. This time, as the door opened, it was Thomas, Bennett's faithless valet, who entered.

"Say," blurted out the informer, "do you know Kennedy and Jameson are back?"

"Back?" cried the crooks.

"Yes — they didn't go. Changed clothes with the porters. I just heard Miss Dodge telling Mr. Bennett."

Clutching Hand eyed him keenly, then seemed to burst into an ungovernable fury.

Quickly he began volleying orders at the valet and the others. Then, with the secretary and two of the other crooks he left by another door from that by which he had sent the valet.

* * * * * * *

Leaving the undertakers, Kennedy and I made our way, keeping off thoroughfares, to police headquarters, where, after making ourselves known, Craig made arrangements for a raid on the house across the street from the laboratory where he had seen the opera glass reflection.

Then, as secretly as we had come, we went out again, letting ourselves into the laboratory, stealthily looking up and down the street. We entered by a basement door, which Kennedy carefully locked again.

No sooner had we disappeared than one of the Clutching Hand's spies, who had been watching behind a barrel of rubbish, gave the signal of the hand down the street to a confederate, and, going to the door, entered by means of a skeleton key.

We entered our laboratory which Kennedy had closed the day before. With shades drawn it now looked deserted enough.

Kennedy went over to a cabinet, and from it took out a notebook and a small box. Opening the notebook on the laboratory table, he rapidly turned the pages.

"Here, Walter," he remarked. "This will answer your question about the mysterious deadly ray."

I moved over to the table, eager to satisfy my curiosity and read the notes which he indicated with his finger.

INFRA-RED RAY NOTES.

The pure infra-red ray which has been developed by LeCroix from the experiments of the Italian scientist, Ulvi, causes, when concentrated by an apparatus perfected by LeCroix, an instantaneous combustion of non-reflecting surfaces. It is particularly deadly in its effect on the brain centers.

It can be diverted, it is said, however, by a shield composed of platinum backed by asbestos.

Next Kennedy opened the case which he had taken out of the cabinet, and from it he took out a platinum-asbestos mirror, which was something of his own invention. He held it up, and in pantomime showed me just how it would cut off the deadly rays.

He had not finished even that, when a peculiar noise in the laboratory itself disturbed him, and he hastily thrust the asbestos-platinum shield into his pocket.

"Though we had not realized it, our return had been anticipated.

Suddenly from a closet projected a magazine gun, and before we could move Clutching Hand himself slowly appeared behind us.

We started to our feet, but in an instant found ourselves sprawling on the floor.

In the cabinet, beneath the laboratory table, another crook had been hidden, and he tackled us with all the skill of an old football player, against whom we had no defense.

Four of them were upon us instantly.

At the same time Thomas, the faithless valet of Bennett, had been dispatched by the Clutching Hand to commandeer his master's roadster in his absence, and, carrying out the instructions, he had driven up before Elaine's house at the very moment when she was going out for a walk.

Thomas jumped out of the car and touched his hat deferentially.

"A message from Mr. Bennett, ma'am," he explained. "Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Bennett have sent me to ask you to come over to the laboratory."

Unsuspectingly, Elaine stepped into the car and drove off.

Instead, however, of turning and pulling up on the laboratory side of the street, Thomas stopped opposite it. He got out and Elaine, thinking that perhaps it was to save time that he had not turned the car around, followed.

The door was opened quickly by a lookout of the Clutching Hand and the valet asked if Craig and Elaine's lawyer were in. Of course, the lookout replied that they were, and before Elaine knew it she was jostled into the dark hallway.

And as the door slammed she caught sight of the fearsome Clutching Hand himself.

She drew back, but was too frightened even to scream.

With a harsh, cruel laugh, the supercriminal beckoned to her to follow him and look down through a small trapdoor.

Unable now to resist, she did so.

There she saw us. To that extent the valet had told the truth. Kennedy was standing in deep thought, while I sat on an old box, smoking a cigarette—very miserable.

Watching his chance, when the street was deserted, the Clutching Hand and his followers had hustled us over to the new hangout from the laboratory. There they had met more crooks and had thrust us into this vile hole.

As the various ineffectual schemes for escape surged through my head, I happened to look up and caught a glance of horror on Craig's face. I followed his eyes. There, above us, was Elaine!

I saw her look from us to the Clutching Hand in terror. But none of us uttered a word.

"I will now show you, my dear young lady," almost hissed the Clutching Hand at length, "as pretty a game of hide and seek as you have ever seen."

As he said it another trapdoor near the infra-red ray machine was opened and a beam of light burst through. I knew it was not that which we had to fear, but the invisible rays that accompanied it, the rays that had affected the bolometer.

Just then a spot of light showed near my foot, moving about the cement floor until it fell on my shoe. Instantly the leather charred, even before I could move.

Kennedy and I leaped to our feet and drew back. The beam followed us. We reteated further. Still it followed, inexorably.

Clutching Hand was now holding Elaine near the door where she could not help seeing, laughing diabolically while he directed LeCroix and the rest to work the infra-red ray apparatus through the trap.

As we dodged from corner to corner, endeavoring to keep the red ray from touching us, the crooks seemed in no hurry, but rather to enjoy prolonging the torture, as does a cat with a mouse.

"Please—oh, please—stop!" begged Elaine.

Clutching Hand only laughed with fiendish delight and urged his men on.

The thing was getting closer and closer.

Suddenly we heard a strange voice ring out above us.

"Police!"

"Where?" growled the Clutching Hand in fury.

"Outside—a raid! Run! He's told them!"

Already we could hear the hammers and axes of the police whom Kennedy had called upon before, as they battered at this outside door.

At that door a moment before the lookout suddenly had given a startled stare and a suppressed cry. Glancing down the street he had seen a police patrol in which were a score or more of the strong-arm squad. They had jumped out, some carrying sledge-hammers, others axes.

Almost before he could cry out and retreat to give a warning they had reached the door and the first resounding blows had been struck.

The lookout quickly had fled and drawn the bolts of a strong inner door, and the police began battering that impediment.

Instantly Clutching Hand turned to LeCroix at the F-ray machine.

"Finish them!" he shouted.

We were now backed up against a small ell in the wall of the cellar. It was barely large enough to hold us, but by crowding we were able to keep out of the reach of the ray. The ray shot past the ell and struck the wall a couple of inches from us.

I looked. The cement began to crumble under the intense heat.

Meanwhile the police were having great difficulty with the steel bolt-studded door. Still it was yielding a bit.

"Hurry!" shouted Clutching Hand to LeCroix.

Kennedy had voluntarily placed himself in front of me in the ell. Carefully, to avoid the ray, he took the asbestos-platinum shield from his pocket and slid it forward as best he could over the wall to the spot where the ray struck.

It reflected the ray.

But so powerful was it that even that part of the ray which was deflected could be seen to strike the ceiling in the corner, which was of wood. Instantly, before Kennedy could even move the shield, the wood burst into flames.

Above us now smoke was pouring into the room where the deflected ray struck the floor and flames broke out.

"Confound him!" ground out Clutching Hand, as they saw it.

The other crooks backed away and stood hesitating, not knowing quite what to do.

The police had by this time finished battering in the door and had rushed into the outer passage.

While the flames leaped up, the crooks closed the last door into the room.

"Run!" shouted Clutching Hand, as they opened a secret gate, disclosing a spiral flight of iron steps.

A moment later all had disappeared except Clutching Hand himself. The last door would hold only a few seconds, but Clutching Hand was waiting to take advantage of even that. With a last frantic effort he sought to direct the terrible ray at us. Elaine acted instantly. With all her strength she rushed forward, overturning the machine.

Clutching Hand uttered a growl and slowly raised his gun, taking aim with the butt for a well-directed blow at her head.

Just then the door yielded and a policeman stuck his head and shoulders through. His revolver rang out and Clutching Hand's automatic flew out of his grasp, giving him just enough time to dodge through and slam the secret door in the faces of the squad as they rushed in.

She Looked at Him Speechless.

Back of the house Clutching Hand and the other crooks were now passing through a bricked passage. The fire had got so far beyond control by this time that it drove the police back from their efforts to open the secret door. Thus the Clutching Hand had made good his escape through the passage which led out, as we later discovered, to the railroad tracks along the river.

"Down there—Mr. Kennedy—and Mr. Jameson," cried Elaine, pointing at the trap which was hidden in the strife.

The fire had gained terrific headway, but the police seized a ladder and stuck it down into the basement.

Choking and sputtering, half-suffocated, we staggered up.

"Are you hurt?" asked Elaine, anxiously, taking Craig's arm.

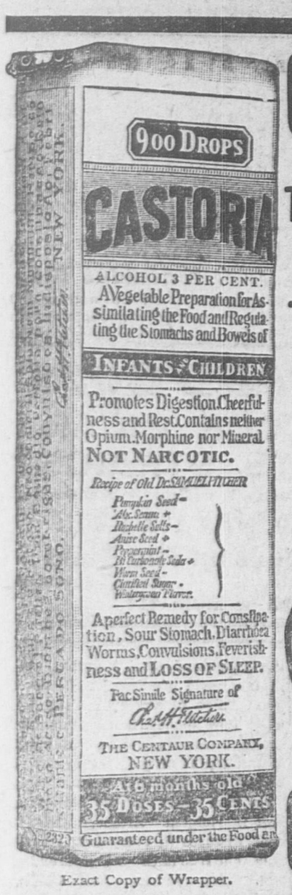

"Not a bit—thanks to you!" he replied, forgetting all in meeting the eager questioning of her wonderful eyes.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Anthony Flarherty of Quincy County of Norfolk State of Massachusetts to Oliver E. Sheldon of said County and State dated Oct. 12, 1874 and recorded Norfolk Deeds Libro 459 folio 284 which mortgage has been duly assigned to George H. Field of said County and State by instrument dated July 10, 1914 and recorded Norfolk Deeds libro 1285 folio 505 for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction from the premises hereinafter described on Wednesday, March 3, 1915 at 4 P. M. all and singular the property described in said mortgage namely—"A certain parcel of land with all the buildings thereon situated on the Southwesterly side of Grove street in that part of said Quincy called West Quincy and is bounded as follows that is to say; Southeasterly by said Grove street there measuring seventy-one and 82-100 feet (71.82) southwesterly by the lot numbered eight (8) in part and part of lot numbered six (6) on a plan hereinafter referred to, there measuring one hundred forty-seven and 88-100 feet (147.88.) Northwesterly by lot numbered ten (10) on said plan, there measuring seventy and 75-100 (70.75) and north-easterly by a Private Way, twenty-five feet wide as reported on said plan, which is to be forever kept open as a Court or way of the Abutters thereon, measuring one-hundred and sixty and 27-100 feet (160.27) containing ten thousand and nine hundred square feet of land as per said plan made by Whitman and Brede Surveyors dated August 1874 Entitled Plan of Lots in West Quincy owned by the Granite Railway Company and said lot is numbered 9 in said plan. Said sale is subject to all unpaid taxes or Municipal Assessments, $100 deposit on day of sale balance cash within ten days from date of sale, on delivery of deed. Per order
GEORGE H. FIELD,
Assignee of the mortgage and present holder of mortgage.
Feb. 10-3t 10-17-24

W. R. LOFGREN
Carpenter and Builder
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 398-3
June 24tf

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

EIGHT TABLES WERE IN PLAY

Washington's birthday was celebrated by the Squantum improvement association by a whist party and social in the Richards Memorial hall Monday evening. The affair was a big success and a very enjoyable evening was passed by all who attended.

Eight tables were played. Whist began at 8.30 o'clock and it was after 11 when the last hand was played.

Mrs. Joseph Allen was awarded the first souvenir, receiving a handsome silver set of scissors and paper cutter and Mrs. William Whitley received second ladies' prize consisting of a pretty cut glass vase. James Hagan took the first gentleman's souvenir, a gold tie clasp and John Nelson, president of the association, won a handsome card case and pack of cards.

Among those present were, Mr. and Mrs. William Whitley, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Golbranson, Dr. Nelson, Martin Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bostwick, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson, John Holmes, Mrs. Joseph Uppling, Mrs. Joseph Allen, Mrs. Gregory, Mrs. Matthew McGrain, Mr. and Mrs. William Spargo, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Smith, Perley Bostwick, Roger Mason.

The affair was a great success and reflected great credit on the work of the committee, consisting of Frank Anderson, chairman, Charles Bostwick, William Spargo Perley Bostwick and John Holmes.

A committee of the Quincy Associated Charities is arranging a large charity ball and bridge party for the benefit of that organization to be held Thursday evening March 4 at the Quincy Women's club on Presidents hill.

For Indigestion and Biliousness

those foes of comfort and well-being, there is one family remedy universally regarded as the best corrective of deranged conditions of the organs of digestion. Present suffering is relieved promptly, and worse sickness prevented by timely use of

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Let this wonderful remedy tone your stomach, stimulate your liver and kidneys, regulate your bowels and you will feel improved throughout your entire system. A few doses will prove to you why, for the common and minor ailments of life, Beecham's Pills

Are the Right First Aid

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.
Directions of Value Especially to Women with Every Box.

WE have the largest and most complete stock of Oriental Rugs in Boston and can always show you a greater assortment than you can find elsewhere.

JOHN H PRAY & SONS CO

646-650 Washington St., opp. Boylston St.

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy

REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY

Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

Among Our Churches

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL.

"Religion that makes us men" was the subject and "By their fruits ye shall know them," the text of Mr. Willmott's morning sermon.

When speaking of judging our fellow men, Christ, while intimating that it would be as well to withhold our judgments altogether gave us a standard by which to judge. It was not claims men make, not what they say of Christ, nor even the useful things they do but the spirit which animates their lives.

It is true of a race, it is true of individuals. Only a religion which develops the soul and redeems and purifies the life is a true religion. That which does good is good.

There are three elements in every religion which makes us men, Freedom, Virtue, God.

Freedom is only another name for redemption. Any religion which has not power to free man from moral bondage will not long control the race Every man has elements in his life which would if allowed develop slavery. We are the heirs of immemorial yesterdays. If we have stood when others have fallen it is because God has given us grace.

Virtue stands for character measured not by attainments but by struggle. While salvation which does not produce character is unworthy the name, divine grace may be developed in a reeking, unwholesome atmosphere where those who breathe it can not rightly be judged by our New England standards of righteousness.

A religion which makes men can not leave God out of the reckoning who is to our feeble efforts what the roots of a tree are to the trunk and branches. It is the pure in heart who shall see God . When we live on a high altitude it is easiest to believe in an overruling power. With God's help virtue develops crowned by moral freedom.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST.

The pastor Rev. Mr. Walther preached an inspiring sermon Sunday from the subject: "The Man Chris Jesus." He combined the two text in connection with the Lord Jesus First: "Come and See" second: Behold this Man."—Come and See and behold the Strength of this Man.

Not physical strength, of course mental strength moral and spiritua strength. There was need of such strength, in view of the temptations that Jesus had to meet. Not only those directly from the evil one, but also those that come from friends and loved ones, unconsciously on their part.

In view of the people, by which he was surrounded, and of the great work he had to perform, how did he carry himself and carry on his work? it is interesting to see how he brushed man aside. Jesus came to John the Baptist to be baptized and John forbade him but Jesus said "Suffer it to be so, now; for thus it becometh us to fulfill righteousness." All through his life you see this, the same with Peter, John, James, the Jews and his mother and the devil himself. Jesus was not a calm, sickly effeminite man but when he gave a command he was obeyed by a great many.

The second great thing in Jesus life which was striking, was his great knowledge. No other in all the scripture revealed so much knowledge of God. Also his knowledge of men, of the past and future.

Third outstanding quality in Jesus life was his absolute righteousness. In studying Jesus' life we cannot find one instance of injustice or unrighteousness toward God or man.

The fourth quality was his great love. His love for the Father is demonstrated by His submissions to the Father's will. His love for men: "Greater love hath no man than this that a man lay down his life for his friends. But God commendeth His love toward us in that while we were yet sinners, he died for us."

Now what about our relation to this great man, Christ Jesus. We ought to worship and adore him. Admiring him is not enough. We ought to obey him. We ought to imitate him. We ought to incarnate him. The world needs such men. This is the only way in which men will see in us the reflection of the Master.

The Sunday School followed the morning service with a large number present. The Junior Endeavor meeting at 3.30 was in charge of Mrs. Joseph Walther. Subject: "A Journey to Japan." Ps. 107 1st.—3. Leader Earl Shulz.

Y. P. S. C. E. meeting at 6 o'clock. Leader, Marion Rand. Subject: "Favorite chapters of the bible and why." The evening service at 7.00 The pastor preached a helpful sermon from the subject "A Model for 20th Century Christians." Text taken from 119th Ps. Chorus choir sang at morning and evening service.

WOLLASTON M. E.

Rev. George M. Bailey of the Wollaston Methodist Episcopal church preached on Sunday morning from the twelfth chapter of Hebrews, the seventeenth verse, "For ye know not how that afterwards, when ye would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears."

These are almost if not the final words of the tragedy of a promising life, a life that was promising in its beginning but ended in a tragedy. These words were spoken centuries after Esau had sold his birthright and given up a lifetime of joy and possibility for a moment of hunger. Esau's life seems to be condensed into two points, namely, he had and he lost, he was born and he died.

These two points are repeated over and over again in the lives of individuals around us today. There are cases known to all of us where the situation is the same as that of Esau. There are young men and women who have started out well but have sold their birthright, sold the treasure of their soul.

There came a time when Esau would have taken back that which he had so thoughtlessly thrown away years before. He had a different vision concerning true values but the vision had come too late. Why not keep a stainless life and a pure heart while we have them? Why not hold fast to an honest, upright life rather than to yield to some temporal pleasure? No man is at fault for a broken character but the man himself. Each person must bear his own responsibility.

Once a man has missed his opportunity he may repent with tears but it is too late, for crying will never change the past of sin and mistakes. The remark is often made, "If I could only live my life over again I would make it so different." The world has records of a few men who have been brought back to life but even these men have been obliged to start at the place where they left off. They have not been allowed to have a second chance.

After a word has been spoken it can never be called back again for it has gone out to cause pain or comfort to some heart. After a deed has been done it has left an impress on your life or the life of some one else which can never be blotted entirely out.

There are some people who have not the courage to break with the past and so let their opportunities go by . It does take courage to say, "I have been in the wrong" but a wondrous blessing comes as a result Therefore whatever the past may have been, make the future what it ought to be.

PARK AND DOWNS

The pastor, Rev. William B. Ayers, though suffering from a severe throat trouble has seldom given a sermon which appealed more directly to the hearts of his hearers than the one delivered Sunday morning. Text: John 14-6. "I am the truth."

The minister compared the Old Testament with the Gospels, also the Epistles with the Gospels. He showed how the best that is in the Old Testament gets its meaning and value from Jesus' message and how little help the Epistles would be to the world but for the Gospels.

Then he showed how men have tried to put the Old Testament above the New, how they have held as more important than Christ's Gospel things that men have said about Christ and theories which they added to his message.

He said that Christ came to show us the Father and to build up a Kingdom. That Kingdom was not to be narrowed down to a state. It was not to be confined to the bounds of a church. It is not any outward visible thing that works up on man's being from without. It is a spirit, an influence that starts within the man and works outward.

Too many of the worlds problems are being ministered to by organizations. When we discover an evil or a class sin we make another organization to deal with it. There are a great many new organizations now being instituted to compel peace. If the influence of Christ is admitted to the hearts of men there will be no more war. If you want to make the world better you must begin by making yourself better. There is so much sin and wickedness in the world because men are adopting every other idea except Christ's Gospel. And every other antidote excepting His Spirit.

One of the most helpful meetings of the week is the midweek prayer service as demonstrated by the large number who attend.

On Friday evening the Woman's Guild will hold a basket picnic in the church vestry. Every woman is asked to bring a basket with luncheon for two.

The subject for the evening was: "Why does God allow the nations to war?" A pleasing part of the musical program was a solo by Miss Priscilla Brackett, also a trombone solo by Charles Richardson, accompanied by Miss Emily Bjorkman, organist. .

SWEDISH CONGREGATIONAL.

The pastor preached two lenten sermons last Sunday. In the morning the topic was "Victory Over Satan"—In the evening: "The True Joy or the Name Written in Heaven." Male chorus sang both morning and evening. Both services were well attended.

In the afternoon the young people were invited to visit the young people's society in the Ruggles Street Mission church of Boston. That meeting was well attended and inspiring. An interesting program was rendered, consisting of music and singing. Rev. Sporrong of this church was invited as the speaker. His address was on "The Supreme Desire of Jesus Christ in Regard to the Young People." The Society of Boston is going to return the visit to Quincy in the near future.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN.

The Lenten Vesper Service Sunday afternoon was most helpful and impressive and was much appreciated by the very large congregation which filled not only all the pews but all the chairs that it was possible to get into the auditorium. The musical part of the service was finely rendered by the Apollo Quartet of Boston. The minister read Washington Gladden's poem entitled "The Things that Endure" and preached a short sermon on "The Help and Need of the Quiet Hour."

Regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid Alliance was held in the vestry of the Methodist church this afternoon, Mrs. H. N. Thomas read a paper on "The

(Continued on Page Six.)

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Auctioneer — Insurance Care of Property

Justice of the Peace

Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

TO LET

Lower flat of new house, 5 rooms, large reception hall, large bath room, combination gas and coal range, steam heat. Located in one of the best parts of South Quincy. Two minutes to electric cars, four minutes to Quincy Adams station. Rent reasonable. Apply to

JOSEPH B. GROSSMAN,
93 Goddard Street,
Tel. 1404-W Quincy. 18-tf

TO LET

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.

22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up

Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld.

Small front office.

Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE

(Best location in City.)

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS

Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.

Ask for R. r. Kribs.

Greenleaf Block. (Phone 21066) Quincy

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—New single house, with 5 rooms, bath, range, hot and cold water furnace heat, gas light. Vacant Mar. 1. John A. Weeden Greenleaf Block. 24-6t

TO LET—Upper apartment 4 rooms and bath. Furnace, electric lights, set tub, screens etc. Ready for occupancy April 1. Apply to Miss Prescott, Ledger Office. 23-tf

TO LET—New house, five rooms. All modern improvements. Location high and dry. Inquire on premises. 149 Kendrick avenue. 23-6t

TO LET—Large front room, all modern improvements. Apply 102 Upland road. 18-6t

TO LET—A good tenement now ready. Rent reduced to $18.75 per month. C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 19-6t

TO LET—Flat of five rooms at 97 Coddington street, $2.75 per week. Key at 93 Coddington street. 18-6t

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 13-21t.

TO LET—Apartment of five rooms and bath in new house, all modern improvements, fine location, 26 Bradford street, off Franklin street. Apply to F. Barnicoat, Quincy. 10-tf

TO LET—Half of colonial house on Russell park, 7 rooms and bath, fireplace, coal and gas range and all modern conveniences. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 9-tf

TO LET—Two or three rooms, furnished or unfurnished for light housekeeping, all improvements, reasonable rent, board if desired. 132 Marlboro street, Wollaston Park. 6-tf.

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1. 2-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 253-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $20. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $18. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes

Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN. Treas.
Nov

TO LET

TO LET—If looking for furnished rooms for light housekeeping, don't miss seeing these three cheerful rooms, private bath, near center. Modern improvements, gas, range, set tubs, etc. Write M. C. Ledger Office. 20-6t

TO LET—Furnished room at 1187 Hancock street. Modern improvements. Two minutes from city square and R. R. station. 20-tf

TO LET—Flat of five rooms to small family. Apply 33 Pysart street. 20-3t

FOR RENT—An apartment of four rooms, furnished or unfurnished. Situated on electric car line. It has steam heat, electric lights and gas. Apply to owner 196 Commercial street, East Braintree. 20-3t

TO LET—Three first class connecting rooms, nicely furnished, bath on same floor, centrally located, in home of American family. Light housekeeping allowed. References exchanged. Write L. H. H. Ledger Office. 20-tf

TO LET—At No. 9 Elmwood avenue, Wollaston, furnished or unfurnished rooms. Light housekeeping if desired. Modern improvements and telephone Quincy 863-W. 20-6t

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Barman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

WANTED

WANTED—By a smart young woman day work washing, ironing, cleaning. Can give best of reference. Tel. 2103 Quincy. 24-1t

WANTED—Tracers. Young women 18 years of age or over to learn plan tracing. Apply by letter only, stating age, education, experience if any. Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation, Quincy, Mass. 24-6t

WANTED—Young man to operate Oliver Typewriter. Apply by letter, stating age, experience and wages expected to O. T. Ledger Office. 24-2t

WANTED—Girl for light house work, down-east girl preferred. Apply 6 Bittern Road, Adams Shore, Quincy. Feb. 24-3t.

WANTED—Five to fifteen acres of land on or near electrics. Write A. B. Ledger Office. 23-3t

WANTED—First class letterer on granite and marble, cemetery work especially. Steady work all year round. Man must be sober, quick and ambitious in his work. Only first class man need apply. P. Kozilius, Trenton, N. J. 20-3t

WANTED—By a middle aged American woman position as housekeeper, experienced nurse, capable of taking full charge. Address "M. E. Z." 19 Kemper street, Wollaston. 18-6t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Have a full size Hallett & Davis piano all in good order, cost new $425. I need the room and will sell for $20, delivered. Easy terms write "Piano" Quincy Ledger. 20-6t

FOR SALE—Two flat house in South Quincy. Hard wood finish, modern plumbing. Very desirable renting proposition, never vacant since built. For particulars enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 9-tf lpo

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy. Res. 22-tf

A Few Choice House Lots
— ON —
PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX

are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.

SWITHIN
3 GREENLEAF BLOCK

FOR SALE

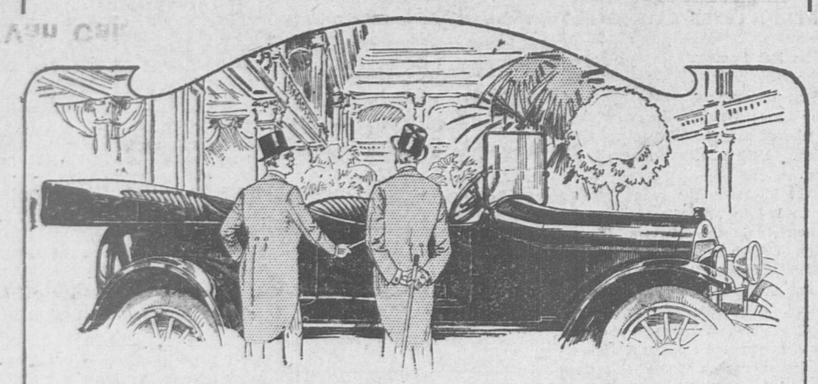

House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,300. Straight Loan of $2,000.

EDMUND O. HAYDEN
Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing
HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.
120 Tremont St., Boston.
Oct. 9-tf

Wollaston Auto Show

Wollaston Centre Garage

February 25th, 26th, 27th

A well known manufacturer of high-priced automobiles spent considerable time at the Jeffery factory last week. With him was the president of a varnish company with a reputation for making the highest quality body finish.

Chesterfield Six
$1650
Light Four
$1450
Six-48
$2400

Both displayed remarkable interest in the Chesterfield Six and in the Jeffery Light Four, and one of them said, "The design and finish on these cars are the best that it is possible to put on any automobile."

You can well appreciate the interest of these two men if you will examine Jeffery cars at our salesrooms. One feature in which practically everyone is expressing the keenest interest is the weatherproof cloth upholstery. This is becoming universally popular among users of motor cars with whom luxury is synonomous with high excellence in design.

The Thomas B. Jeffery Company
Kenosha, Wis. U.S.A.

The Thomas B. Jeffery Company
Main Office and Works, Kenosha, Wisconsin

Wollaston Centre Garage
Wollaston, Mass.

Keep Your Teeth Clean
Your Health Will Be Much Better

We have a large stock of American and Imported Tooth Brushes. We want you to get acquainted.

Tuesday and Wednesday
We will give absolutely FREE a
15c Jar of Hearn's Tooth Powder
With every 25c Brush, and a
25c Bottle Tooth Wash
with every 35c Brush. These are both excellent preparations and worthy of a trial—COME TODAY

CHAS. C. HEARN, Druggist City Square

BUTTER IS LOWER

Finest Creamery	32c lb
Van Camp's Milk	7 1-2c a can
Van Camp's Soup	7 1-2c a can

MAPLE DAIRY
CHESTNUT STREET

EXPERIENCED STITCHERS
WANTED
APPLY
SOVEREIGN WAIST CO.
192 GRANITE ST.

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB

(Continued from Page One.)

nine o'clock. Mrs. Frank A. Emery chairman of the committee was assisted in presenting the guests by Mrs. Carrol Bates, Miss Irene Dasha Miss Clarice Doble, Mrs. George Fleming, Mrs. John F. Hunt, Miss Marion Johnson, Mrs. Perry Lawton, Mrs. Harry McDonough and Miss Harriet Whittaker assisted by the officers of the Young Women's club as follows: Miss Minnie Packard, president, Miss A. Maud Briggs, Miss Lydia Djerf, Miss Hannah Litchfield, Miss Edith Mullen and Miss Carlena Walker.

The past presidents were in the receiving line, Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Mrs. Everett C. Bumpus, Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney and Mrs. Eben W. Sheppard. There was music by an orchestra made up of Max Pinkham, Herbert Packard and William E. Weston, which enlivened the reception.

When the club had assembled for the brief program to follow the reception the president extended the greetings of the club saying in part:

"You have already received the cordial greetings of your Presidents, it remains for me to extend to you the freedom of our Club home. It is yours, this evening, to enjoy as you will. It has my pleasant duty, during the two years of my service, to greet from this platform on different occasions, the husbands and guests of the club members. This day has been an eventful one fraught with feelings of sadness as well as happiness for with the joy of greeting friends and clasping hands with former members has mingled the memory of many who have stood side by side with us in the ranks, but who are with us no more.

Each passing year has taken its toll One loved president is gone and 26 active members have passed on during the ten years. All honor to their memory!

A company which tested the capacity of our house gathered here this afternoon and we had the pleasure of entertaining guests from the State Federation and from sister clubs, as well as many former members of our own club.

Our oldest charter member, Mrs Charles A. Spear has honored us with her presence in our receiving line. Today is the 72rd anniversary of her wedding day and Mrs. Spear has passed her 92d birthday.

The ten years of our existence have been reviewed and the list of our achievements, of which we are justly proud, have been recited. We may have done some things which we ought not to have done, but I feel sure that we have left undone none of those things which we should have done, for according to the testimony of our good historian in her account given this afternoon, we have been doing something most of the time during the ten years of our existence Our work along civic and philanthropic lines is known to all of you—our Summer schools, children's gardens, forestry etc.—and of course you do not need to be told of our Visiting Nurses of Associated Charities and all the good work which is going on under this roof. (At present a committee of ladies is meeting to work for the hospitals in Northern France) but I wish to mention some of the improvements and some gifts from committees which must have been apparent to those who have not been here recently. In the first place, we have set a new stone step where it was very much needed, at the foot of the steps going down from Goffe street, at the side of the house. Renewing of pipes and plumbing has been going on and the freshening of paint which is an annual necessity but in addition to these we have a fine drinking fountain just put in place by our Education committee. Have you seen it? It is in the Tea Room at the rear of the hall and every one must certainly see it and drink from it, before going home.

You may interfere with Mrs. Burke's nicely planned hospitality, but never mind! She is wonderfully good natured. We have a bulletin board which is very useful as well as ornamental just outside the door, in the hall and upstairs we have some wonderful coat rooms and racks for clothing which have been acquired during the past two years. In this room are two pictures, one secured through the efforts of our Art committee in memory of an Art chairman who died while in office and the other given by the committee in testimony of their admiration for the work of a talented club member. This is a photograph made from a Statue of an Angel, modeled by Mrs. Theo Ruggles Kitson.

The President's table and chair were also gifts of a retiring committee. All these have been added within a short time to a long list of gifts already in the possession of the club. But while all of our committees have been doing splendid work in ways best suited to them, the club as a whole and with the assistance of past members has concentrated its efforts upon a work which we hope will prove of great benefit to our community at large—that of the installation of a School Nurse. When plans for celebrating our tenth anniversary were first considered, the question of Ways and Means arose and many suggestions were made. All were unanimous in wishing to make some gift to the city—something which might be permanent and plainly marked with a tablet. As many of you know we considered a light to be placed in the open square in the centre of Quincy which should be designed by our gifted member Mrs. Kitson and be a beacon seen from afar. This project failed on account of the great expense to be involved.

Many other objects were considered and different organizations appealed to for suggestions. At last came this from the Supt. of schools—that nothing was more needed in the city than a school nurse—a woman with a knowledge of disease and its treatment and also of Social Service work, who should visit our public schools and look into the condition of some of our children who for one reason or other were not receiving necessary care.

This suggestion met with immediate approval and altho' regret was felt that such a gift could not properly be labelled so that "those who run may read" of our good work, it was unanimously voted to install the School Nurse as our Tenth Anniversary gift. To the school children of Quincy we make this gift and, we take this opportunity to make a public presentation of the same. To you Mr. Chairman of the School Committee and to our co-workers we entrust the consensation of the gift, promising cooperation and assistance wherever it is needed. We believe that in this way we are best striving to live up to the motto which we have chosen for our 1914-15 Year Book— "Our part is to conspire with the new work of new days, a heart to resolve, a head to contrive, a hand to execute."

The event of the evening in which all interest centered was the presentation of the a memorial gift to mark the 10th milestone of its history, which took the form of sum of money presented to the City of Quincy through the School committee to pay the salary of a school nurse Thus to look after the little ones of today who will be the men and women of the next generation.

The gift was a free will offering of past and present members. The details of collecting the fund had meant much labor of love on the part of Mrs. E. S. Tenney and Mrs. Herbert W. Pinkham and committees, officers and club members.

Chairman Mackay in receiving the gift for the school committee explained the absence of his associates and the Superintendent by stating that they were in session at one of their regular meetings. Through him he said, they had sent their greetings and an expression of regret over their inability to be present.

"It would seem from the recital of the things this organization has accomplished during the ten years it has been in existence," said Mr. Mackay, "that you had taken as your slogan the motto 'Noblesse Oblige' and had governed yourselves accordingly. You have amply proved during those ten years that even without the ballot the American woman can exert a powerful influence upon her day and generation."

After relating the facts in two cases of unusual neglect which have been already discovered and relieved by Miss Jackson, Mr. Mackay said those instances would probably be multiplied during the year and that there could no longer be any serious doubt as to the need of a school nurse. He said in closing:

"The school department accepts your gift as a trust fund and I pledge you the fidelity of the Superintendent my associates and myself in administering the trust,—fidelity not only to you but also to the litle ones who are intended to be the beneficiaries. If this experiment proves successful,—as we all feel sure it will,—then next year, despite the fact that our expenditures are large we shall in all probability make this work a regular feature of our public school administration and relieve you of its burden."

A club favorite, one who has been with the club on several happy occasions, Mrs. Julia Ritta McCormick was present again to delight with her singing. She sang an aria from Mozart's Don Giovanni with much effect calling out appreciative encores. She also closed the program later, singing a group of three songs, the last of which "Away to the Mountain's Brow" an old English song being delightfully sung.

An original poem by Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, read by her was received with much enthusiasm, being exceedingly bright and clever and dealing with the women of Quincy. The poem will be published in Thursday's Ledger.

Dr. Brackett introduced as the club's godfather and benefactor told of his pleasure in being in his old home and of his gratification of its use. He said he hoped some day to see a statue in the triangle at the junction of Adams and Hancock streets to John Adams, John Quincy Adams, John Hancock, Edmund Quincy and others who saw the call to duty in the old days. Today the call was just as strong, there were stirring days now. There were 20th century things to be done in a 20th century way. The club was up-to-date or ahead. Dr. Brackett expressed for Mrs. Brackett and himself the wish that the next decade would find the club just as happy in doing its good work in the community.

During the informal hour with which the evening closed refreshments were served by the hostess committee, the pourers being Mrs. Theodore B. Thomas, Mrs. Thomas Penno, Mrs. John W. Sanborn and Mrs. E. Granville Pratt.

THE CHURCHES

(Continued from Page Five.)

Organization and Early Work of the Cheerful Letter Exchange." Some of the young people read extracts from letters of their correspondents. Tea was served.

At the special Lenten service next Sunday evening, the Rev. Abbott Peterson of Brookline will be the preacher. These services are for the deepening of the moral and religious life and the public is cordially invited.

The first meeting of the minister's preparatory class for the study of Fundamentals in Religion" will be held Sunday in the auditorium after the morning service. All are invited to attend this class.

Unitarian Literature may be had free of charge upon application to Miss Harriet E. Turner, 25 Winthrop avenue.

The Quincy Hospital Aid Association meets with Mrs. Frederick H. Smith, 701 Washington street, Thursday at 2.30 P. M. All women in the church are invited.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of Whatsoever Circle King's Daughters of Wollaston will be held in the Wollaston Congregational church this evening.

The Social Service committees of the Unitarian churches in Greater Boston will meet in the parish house of the First Parish church, Harvard square, Cambridge, Thursday, from 5 to 8.45 P. M. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss vital questions of the social service work of Unitarian churches..

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL.

Dr. Sneath preached an inspiring sermon Sunday to a large congregation. He took for the subject "The Pearl of Great Price"—Matt. 13: 45, 46.

"Again, the Kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant man, seeking goodly pearls; who, when he had found one pearl of great price went and sold all that he had, and bought it."

Dr. Sneath spoke of the gigantic pearl oyster fisheries of Ceylon where the finest and most beautiful pearls in the world are found and of the great value placed upon them. He cited how thousands of pearl divers sacrifice sometimes even life, hunting in the depths of the ocean for the valued and beautiful gems.

So man seeks for the highest and best in religion. Although there are good features in every faith, there is only one true faith—complete and perfect, which endures. Jesus Christ is the pearl of great price. He is the matchless one of the ages.

As the pearl is a gem whose beauty and purity can never be improved upon, so the life of Christ is the exemplification of greatest beauty and highest purity. Although men sacrifice much for the rarest pearls, yet they will not receive the pearl of greatest price—Jesus Christ—when given without money and without price. He meets every need, satisfies every want of the human soul, yet men turn away. It is incredible that there are men and women so blind as never to have caught the vision of the matchless pearl. To know Jesus is to know eternal life.

An all day sewing meeting of the Ladies Benevolent society is being held today. Lunch was served at noon.

The regular mid-week service will be held Thursday evening. "Self Denial" is the subject. There will be special music.

FIRST SPIRITUALIST.

Meeting at 7.30 Mrs. S. V. Odiorne, president. Mrs. E. True Stratton gave a talk on Spiritualism. This being the first meeting held as a society it had the pleasure of inaugurating as president Mrs. S. V. Odiorne: as vice president Mrs. L. C. Williams of Weymouth. Mrs. S. V. Odiorne and Mrs. Stratton gave many messages which were all acknowleged and well received. Society meeting Wednesday afternoon and evening, all welcome, 8 Mechanic street.

PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE

(Continued from Page Three.)

disposal of cigarettes and children playing with matches.

"The careless use of gasoline in the home and garage was mentioned and the use of substitutes, whenever possible, was urged. The speaker told of the many constructive measures for fire prevention now being set in operation.

In conclusion Commissioner O'Keefe, paid a high tribute to the efficiency of Chief Billings of this city. "Chief Billings," he said, "has taken interest in problem after problem and settled each one. We have been interested enough in his work to send men out here. If this same work was carried on throughout the district results would be sure to follow."

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Quincy Public Market.
Wollaston Auto Show.
Spooner's Auto Exchange.
Jackson Motor Car Co.

Mrs. William Denny is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen McKay of 31 Smith street.

YOUNG MEN'S CLUB.

Paper on George Washington Read At Meeting.

There was a good attendance Tuesday evening of the Young Men's club of the Swedish Congregational church The program of the evening was an interesting one. Two new members were admitted. Edwin Barsean and Harry Larson.

The program included a duet by Mrs. A. J. Sporrong and Mrs. J. A. Sutherland and a trio by the two ladies and Rev. Mr. Sporrong. There was also an interesting paper by Walter Johnson on George Washington.

At the conclusion of the meeting light refreshments were served. The next meeting of the club will be held March 15, at the home of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Sporrong.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Canale who have been making an extended trip through the United States are the guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Micheal Canale of Gilbert street, South Quincy.

DEATHS

McNAMEE—In Houghs Neck, Feb. 23, Marie Veronica, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McNamee, age 17 years, 5 months.
Funeral from her late residence, 42 Dorchester avenue, Thursday, Feb. 25, at 8 A. M. High mass of requiem St. Johns church at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends invited to attend.
23-2t

JOSEPHINE—In Quincy, Feb. 23, Anna F. wife of Peter R. Josephine of 162 Water street in her 48th year.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

FRESH FISH

Live Shore Haddock	18c lb
Strictly Fresh Halibut	20c lb
Fresh Smelts	2 lbs 25c
Fresh Herring (large)	4c each
Finnan Haddies	12c lb
Large Opened Oysters	40c qt
Fresh Mackerel	2 for 25c

QUINCY PUBLIC MARKET
1514 Hancock St., Kincaides Bldg.
Phone 1434 J Legal Stamps Free Delivery

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

Foy Stores
Tuesday and Wednesday
Best Lamb Chops Rib or Kidney 25c lb
Priscilla Flours { Doughnut, Gingerbread, Tea Cake } 12c pkg

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily -- Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 47 QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 25, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

LIVED IN SOUTH QUINCY 25 YEARS

Ex-Councilman Charles H. Grindell Dies After Long Illness in 76th Year

WAS TOOL MANUFACTURER

Ex-Councilman Charles H.. Grindell, long a well known resident of South Quincy, passed away at his home 55 Pleasant street, Wednesday, after an illness of more than a year, in his 76th year. Mr. Grindell was a granite blacksmith by occupation, although for the last few years of his business has been that of manufacturing granite tools, with an office on Brook street.

Mr. Grindell was born in Penobscot,

CHARLES H. GRENDELL

Me., in 1839 and received his education in the public schools of his native town. In 1870 he removed to Fitchburg, where he remained several years coming to Quincy in 1880

After locating in Quincy Mr. Grindell took an active part in the political affairs of the city, state and nation and for many years was an active worker on the Ward Three Republican committee. He represented Ward Three in the city council of 1893 but declined a re-election the following year. He was again sent to the council of 1895. While serving as a member of the council he was a constant attendant at committee and council meetings, and was a hard worker for anything that would improve conditions in his own ward, although he also looked carefully after the welfare of the whole city.

He was a member of the Masonic fraternity, although not affiliated with any local lodge, and was a member of Mt. Wolalston lodge, I. O. O. F.. He leaves a widow and one daughter, Mrs. E. Frank Mitchell.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity.

Clearing Thursday night. Friday fair and somewhat cooler.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.23
Sun sets	5.30
Length of day	11.04
Moon sets	4.47
High water, A. M.	8.30
High water, P. M.	9.15
Days increase	1 hr. 58 minutes

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.36 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	53 degrees
Feb. 25, 1914,	38 degrees
Feb. 25, 1913,	24 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—37.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

TWO HUNDRED AT MUSICALE

Squantum Women's Club Hold Successful Affair

Two hundred guests attended the musicale given by the Squantum Women's club in the hall of the New England Women's club Boylston street, Boston, Wednesday afternoon. It was the most pretentious affair ever given by the Squantum Women's club and proved a great success. The special artist was Ethel Frank, the well known mezzo soprano soloist, who for a number of years has made her summer home in Squantum. Miss Frank was in excellent voice. Her technique was wonderful and the warmth of expression in her great variety of selections, demonstrated that she is an accomplished and talented singer. She was assisted by Miss Gertrude Morrison, reader.

Miss Morrison, who is familiar to Boston audiences, proved herself a brilliant entertainer. Her selections were well chosen.

The guests were received by Mrs. Hiram A. Morse, president, and Mrs. William A. Reed, former president of the club. The ushers were: Mrs. John R. Nelson, Mrs. George Butler, Mrs. May Duff, Mrs. Francesca Cusumano, Mrs. Joseph Allen and Mrs. Herbert A. Smith. The tickets were in charge of Mrs. Charles Bostwick.

After the entertainment Russian tea and fancy cookies and candies were served. The pourers were Mrs. Francesca Cusumana and Mrs. John R. Nelson. The ushers served the guests.

$10,000 FIRE IN BRAINTREE

Plant of W. E. Dow Badly Damaged

Lack of pumping apparatus which resulted in the failure to get good water supply necessitated the sounding of a general alarm for the $10,000 fire in the plant of the Dow Manufacturing Co. on Adams street, Braintree, Wednesday evening, and the calling on Weymouth for its auto-pumping engine.

The hose of the North Braintree apparatus which reached the fire first was not enough to reach a hydrant some distance away and a second alarm was sounded. The Weymouth engine with Chief W. W. Pratt and a company of men backed up to the Monatiquot river which flows behind the plant and did very effective work.

The plant owned by Willard E. Dow, is an old three story wooden structure. It was formerly the Morrison woolen mill.

The fire broke out in the office on the first floor and worked into the packing room on the second floor. The L and the third story of the main building were badly gutted, and the water caused considerable damage to the contents of the factory. Electrical euipment for automobiles is manufactured there.

Q. H. S. DRAMATICS.

The Quincy High School annual dramatic season started Wednesday when half a hundred candidates reported to the coach, Miss O'Neil. The name of the play this year is "Bachelor Hall."

GOODHUE ARRESTS PSEUDO-DETECTIVE

Alleged to Have Secured $200 From Woman To Find Her Husband

SAID TO HAVE CONFESSED

Charles Anthony, alias Antonucci, was arrested in Boston Wednesday night by Inspector Goodhue by whom he was wanted for the larceny by false pretences of $200 from Mrs. Maria Lorosti of Quincy. It seems that last November Mrs. Lopresti's husband, Guiseppe disappeared and no trace of him has since been discerned Anthony, whose home is at 45 King man avenue, Revere, is a salesman for an installment company of Boston In the course of his work he visited the Lopresti home, and in a moment of confidence Mrs. Lopresti told him of her husband's disappearance. A few days later Anthony called again at her home and is alleged to have told her that he had located her husband in California. He further told her it is said that the police would do nothing to bring him back and that if she would give him $200 he would go after him.

She hesitated at first and told him that she would not dare to give him money until she heard from the police He then visited the police station and wanted Inspector Goodhue to give him the warrant as he said he knew where the man was. The police told him that if that was true and he found him to turn the missing man over to the first police officer he met

Anthony is then alleged to have gone back to the woman whom he told that he had the warrant and that the police said to give him the money Upon this representation she gave him $200 and he departed. Nothing more was heard from him, until Mrs Lopresti became anxious and told the police the circumstances.

The police traced him to New York and then to New Orleans. They were about to start after him when word was received that he was working toward Boston. Wednesday night Inspector Goodhue went to Boston to the office of the concern where Anthony is employed and found him in the office.

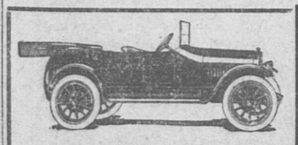

His arrest followed and after being taken to police headquarters and "mugged" he was brought to Quincy. It is alleged that after some grilling Anthony admitted taking the money and also that he did not attempt to go after the missing man.

He was arraigned in court this morning and held in $500 until Friday for a hearing.

ALL DAY SEW.

The Ladies Benevolent society of the Wollaston Congregational church held an all day sewing meeting at the church on Wednesday. Luncheon was served at noon.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

JACKSON
Model 44

embodies all the distinctive Jackson Features. Durability, economy of operation, assured comfort and pleasing appearance. Seating capacity of 5.

Price $1250

Equipped with electric lights and starter, speedometer, etc.

JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

MAYOR ADMITS HE IS OUTDONE

Enthusiastic Over Decorations at Mrs. Clapps

Mrs. C. A. Clapp of 66 Merrymount road, whose home was most beautifully and artistically decorated for the whist parties last week held under the auspices of the Dorcas society of the Universalist church, opened her home again Wednesday for a small party of friends that they might also enjoy the decorations about which so much has been heard.

His Honor Mayor Campbell and Mrs. Campbell, were among those who enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Clapp on this occasion, both of whom marvelled at the manner in which the interior of the house had been transformed. Mrs. Campbell was presented with a large bunch of violets by the hostess who was herself presented with a large bouquet of Jack roses, and a corsage bouquet of violets by her friends.

After a few hands of whist, Mayor Campbell was introduced and said that he was sorry to be obliged to leave early but another engagement made it imperative. He wanted to say however that both Mrs. Campbell and himself were delighted with the beautiful decorations and with the hospitality extended.

"I have had much experience in decorations with some of the large enterprises which I have managed, where thousands of dollars had been expended in decorations, but I must say that these exceed anything I have ever seen," he said. "It was my pleasure some weeks ago to enjoy the hospitality of your church and I am pleased to know that I did not wear my welcome out. While you are Universalists and I am a Congregationalist I feel that there is but little difference between us, for we are all working toward the same end. I sincerely trust that your efforts in behalf of the church will be a success and that you will realize a good sum."

After the whist refreshments, which included chop suey, hot rolls, chicken salad, hot coffee and ice cream were served.

Mrs. Clapp announces that there have been so many requests that she had decided to open her home for public inspection Friday and on this occasion a small admission will be charged.

INCUBATOR BABE PASSES AWAY

Mother of Infant Died Week Ago

The two pound girl, daughter of and Mrs. Eugene Nolte of Hollis avenue, who has been in an incubator at the Massachusetts Homoeopathic Hospital, Boston, since the death of its mother Friday night, passed away Wednesday and was laid at rest this afternoon beside her mother. The baby was born last week and the mother died shortly after. The tiny tot was placed in the incubator and for the first few days it seemed as though she would live. A decline set in Wednesday morning and death soon followed.

SUES MRS. PFAFFMANN.

The suit of Hattie L. Nash of Quincy against Mrs. Mabel A. Pfaffmann of Quincy, to recover $5,000 for alleged personal injuries claimed to have been due to a defect in a piazza of the defendant's house on Charles street, Quincy is on trial before Judge McLaughlin in the superior court at Dedham. James E. Fitzgerald is for the plaintiff and Paul R. Blackmur for the defendant.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

MAYOR CAMPBELL GIVES STIFF LECTURE TO POLICE OFFICERS

Addresses Force at Roll Call And Tells Men That Their Work Is No Pleasure Jaunt

"Your work is not a pleasure jaunt. You are put there for a purpose, and citizens expect you to do that service." Thus spoke Mayor Campbell to the members of the police department at roll call Wednesday night.

The officers were lined up as usual at 7 o'clock before Capt. McKay who briefly introduced Mayor Campbell. The occasion was the announcing of the appointment of the new permanent officers, Joseph F. Sweeney, William J. Hebert, Nils Dahlberg, and Michael F. Canavan, as announced in Wednesday's Ledger. The mayor also announced the appointment of the following reserve officers: George E. Ogle, Edward J. Martell, Joseph R. O'Neil, Thomas J. Fallon and George F. Hollingshead. These men are taken from the civil service lists.

It was also the occasion for the department to get the most thorough shaking up that it has had in years. Practically all of the day as well as the night officers have had their routes changed. An officer no longer patrols a beat in the same ward in which his home is located but has been transferred to a route in some other section of the city.

In announcing the new appointments the Mayor addressed the patrolmen saying:

Your duties gentlemen are to protect the interests of the citizens of this city. In accepting your appointments it is reasonable to suppose that you did so with your eyes wide open and a full appreciation of all the responsibilities connected with the same. The responsibilities are large, but having accepted them as you have it is obligatory on your part to fulfil them to the best of your ability. You gentlemen were appointed by my predecessors because it was believed you had that ability, therefore I urge you not to allow it to be said that you have betrayed that trust that has been confided in you by your appointments.

The entire police department has been in an unfortunate position the past year. Illness has caused your chief to be absent for some months, and that coupled with various other unfortunate circumstances has placed your department in rather an unfair position before the public. With this situation it is even more imperative that you gentlemen should be watchful in caring for the interests of the city.

I concede gentlemen, that many unjust and unwarranted criticisms are heaped upon the heads of officials and the officers of the police department, but gentlemen just so long as I am the Mayor, no officer or official will receive censure from the executive department for unjust criticism, but on the other hand should investigation show that the complaint or criticism is just, action will be taken. I shall always be glad to make note of any special work or act of meritorious nature done by an officer and give full credit for the same.

Your task is not an easy one, many of the routes are long and uninteresting, but so long as they exist we must care for them. Loafing on routes, long conversations with citizens on social, political or other matters not connected with your duties, will not be tolerated. Calling a box and boarding a car to reach the next box must cease. Overlooking cases of boisterous drunkenness because of personal acquaintanceship or friendliness must stop, and I charge everyone of you that your oath to properly perform your duty, whether to friend or foe, must be lived up to, or action will be taken to remedy the evil.

I have personally covered many of the districts patrolled by you gentlemen, the past few weeks. I have seen many of you in action, I regret to say that I have seen some of you inactive, loafing an undue length of time at call boxes, in stores, on cars, conversing with women, etc. Your work is not a pleasure jaunt, you are put there for a purpose, the citizens expect you to do that service. Any case of drunkenness by an officer will be met by dismissal from the force.

Remember, we will back you up if you do your duty—we will take action if you do not.

Immediately following the Mayor's little talk Capt. McKay read off the changes in the routes of the patrolmen.

It will be noticed by the new routes given in full below, that a large number of the officers have been changed and that two new routes have been established. Among the important changes is the transferring of Officer Charles Olson from the night beat in city square to night wagon man. The beat of Patrolman Ford near the Adams Academy has been split up and a new beat established which takes in Butler road, from which section there have been many complaints of late of women being held up. Officer Ford goes to the Plains at South Quincy and Officers Jeremiah Dinneen and M. F. Canavan are appointed to the Adams street and Butler road beats formerly covered by Officer Ford.

Down near Barry's corner, Atlantic, another new beat has been laid out which will be covered by Henry F. Reiley, who is taken from the Wollaston Plains route.

Then there has been a new day route established in city square. Officer Murray will remain in the vicinity of city hall all of the time and the beat in the vicinity of Elm street, Bigelow street, etc will be covered by Patrick F. Milford who is transferred from the day beat at Quincy Adams.

Among the other changes that will be noted are that John Duffy takes Jeremiah Hinchon's place at South Quincy on the day shift and Hinchon goes to Wollaston. Curtin comes from the Wollaston day beat to West Quincy. On the night beats, Dahlberg takes Duanes place at West Quincy; Black, Dinneen's place at Brewer's corner; Hebert takes Black's place at the last half of the Quincy Point route; Corbett the last half of the city square beat in place of Phillips; Sweeney the beat of McNamara at Norfolk Downs; McNamara the beat of Duffy at Atlantic, and Shea the beat of Dahlberg at Houghs Neck.

George F. Phillips will be held to fill in the route of the day off men. John Holloran who has been night wagon man is assigned to the first half of the night desk duty for the present.

When the promotion is made to fill the vacancy in the office of lieutenant and in the office of sergeant there will be another officer to appoint to regular duty which may necessitate some additional changes. All of the changes noted above will go into effect Saturday.

The complete list of the routes as now laid out is as follows:

DAY ROUTES.

No. 1, West Quincy, Edward J. Curtin
No. 2, South Quincy, John P. Duffy.
No. 3, Quincy Point, Edward Johnson.
No. 4, Bigelow street, Patrick A. Milford.
No. 5, City Square, James W. Murray.
No. 6, Wollaston, Jeremiah Hinchon.
No. 7, Atlantic, Charles T. Crooker.
No. 8, Houghs Neck, Michael Donovan.

NIGHT ROUTES.

No. 1, West Quincy, Nils Dahlberg.
No. 2, Brewer's corner, Alexander Black.
No. 3, Plains South Quincy, Daniel J. Ford.
No. 4, South Quincy, Thomas A. Malone.
No. 5, Last Half Quincy Point, William J. Hebert.
No. 6, Quincy Point, Jeremiah Dhooge.
No. 7, Washington street, Claus A Broberg.
No. 8, Bigelow street, Daniel H Doran
No. 9, City Square, last half H. F. Corbett.
No. 10, City Square, D. L. Farrell.
No. 11, Butler road, M. F. Canavan.
No. 12, Adams street Jeremiah Dinneen.
No. 13, Wollaston Hill, John J. Avery.
No. 14, Wollaston Plains, John J Duane.
No. 15, Wollaston Park, Henry W. Thorne.
No. 16, Norfolk Downs, Joseph F. Sweeney
No. 17, Barry's Corner, Henry F. Reiley.
No. 18, Atlantic, J. McNamara.
No. 19, Houghs Neck, Daniel Shea
Days off work, George F. Phillips
Wagon man, Charles Olson.
Chauffeurs, George A. Cahill, James H. Whelan.

ANNUAL LADIES NIGHT.

The Annual Ladies night of the Franklin Associates will take place this evening in their rooms on Franklin street. Friends from Brockton, Dorchester, Weymouth and Braintree have been invited.

The committee in charge of the affair are Russell Farquharson, chairman assisted by Edward Carson, Enos Costa, Walter Carson, Andrew Costa and James Bison.

I Can Tell You

MRS. S. V. ODIORNE
Business and Psychic
Trance Medium
Private Readings $1.00

Lost Articles recovered, questions answered, advice given, satisfaction guaranteed.

Circles every Tuesday at 3 and 8
Developing Class Thursday at 8

President of Quincy Spiritualist Society, Member of Massachusetts State Spiritualist Association. I am here to stay.

Circle Meetings at 3 and 8
8 Mechanic St. off Revere Road
Tel. 1923 M or 327 M.
Feb. 20-eod-tf

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE

Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit

WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS
Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.
Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506-1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block
Jan. 2-tu-th-s-tf

WENEGATE AUTO TOP & BODY CO.
PACKARD FORE DOORS $30
Runabout, Hearse, Truck, Touring, Limousines, and Speed Bodies made to order, Mud Guards, Hoods, Tops, Slip Covers, Wind Shields and Repairing of all kinds.
CONVERTIBLE LIMOUSINE TOPS FOR ALL MAKES OF CARS
ALL WORK GUARANTEED—PRICES VERY REASONABLE
637 WASHINGTON ST.--Tel. Dor. 1180--DORCHESTER, MASS.
Feb. 18-1m

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the
TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

THE POLICE SHAKE-UP.

A vigorous exposition of the path which members of the Quincy police department are required to follow was given by Mayor Campbell in his talk to the patrolmen at roll call Wednesday night. The path was outlined in no uncertain terms. His honor informed the officers that he had been making a personal investigation of the manner in which they had served the people who paid them and he declared that in some cases the conditions which he found were not commendable. Loafing on beats is reprehensible, and such infractions of discipline will not be viewed leniently by the mayor, we are glad to note.

There are some excellent officers on the force and there is no reason why Quincy cannot have an efficient department. Nearly every observing citizen knows, however, that discipline has not always been what it should have been and the force has not always been efficient. The Ledger has commented upon this state of affairs before and has warned members of the force that it would make public infractions of duty when it observed them.

The Ledger, however, has refrained from indicating certain infractions during the past six week believing that it was only fair to give the new mayor time to become acquainted with conditions and then note what action he took. Mayor Campbell's stand is vigorous and praiseworthy and we expect to see a marked improvement in the efficiency of the force.

There is one officer, for example, who upon occasions recently has been accustomed to view his duties rather lightly. He is assigned to the early morning shift, a disagreeable task it must be confessed. This officer has been in the habit of leaving his beat for intercourse with friends, one of the latter of whom obligingly takes him by auto to the police box when the hour comes to ring in. We believe this officer will heed the Mayor's warning and that he and others who have disregarded their responsibilities will pursue a better and safer course hereafter. Failure to do so will probably lead to detection, followed if we read the mayor's talk aright, by dismissal. Hereafter the Ledger intends to bring to the attention of his honor and of the people of Quincy any serious violations of duty which come under its observation.

A MIGHTY DRAMA.

David Belasco, always original and always interesting, believes that the plays of the day have a powerful rival with which to contend, the mighty drama across the water in which the nations of Europe are the actors A play today, he asserts, must have unusual elements of interest to seduce the theatregoer from his perusal of Europe's tragedy in the daily papers.

Says Belasco:

In times such as these, unless the theatre holds forth real enjoyment the average citizen is going to remain at home and read his newspaper, in which, as I have said, he will find far more real, vital drama than at the playhouse. And in our great metropolitan cities are thousands of men and women who have either friends or relatives in the war zone, many of whom are on the firing line. Naturally this makes the newspaper drama of more importance to them than anything else. All that they read strikes home.

One has only to look about him to find men hurrying home to their big easy chairs from business each day with large bundles of newspapers under their arms. Do you suppose anything short of the unusual and the most pathetic "hit" in the theatre is going to lure them from their fireside and newspaper drama? I know if I were a business man that I would gather in the latest editions of all the newspapers I could carry and hurry home to spend the evening reading the greatest of all dramas.

It is surely true that few pages in history are more absorbing than the pages which are being turned day by day, sometimes hour by hour of the great drama, the last act of which no human can foretell.

Last year in the city of Brockton there were several officers who were reprimanded and suspended for being under the influence of liquor while on duty. The offense is a heavy one; the penalty too light.

In our opinion there should be but one penalty for officers who so forget their duty as protectors of the community which hire them as to become intoxicated while on duty THAT PENALTY SHOULD BE IMMEDIATE DISMISSAL.

The Ledger is rejoiced to note that this is the attitude of Mayor Campbell.

SEEK AID FROM HOSPITAL STAFF

Board of Health Wants Quarantine Rules

The medical staff of the Quincy City Hospital has been asked to give its opinion on the length of time quarantine should be in effect in Quincy. The matter will be discussed at the meeting of the staff at the hospital Saturday evening.

The matter has been referred to them by Walter R. Buchan, chairman of the Board of Health, who in studying matters relating to quarantine in Quincy has found that several regulations conflict and more or less confusion has arisen on that account.

The main topic to be considered will be that of the removal from, and the necessity of keeping in quarantine. The present regulations call for two weeks after the recovery or removal of a patient.

The quarantine situation, particularly the past four years, has been a vital one to the city. Some instances of deliberate violation have arisen and former boards have found it necessary sometimes to station a patrolman outside premises to prevent occupants under the ban from leaving at will. This situation has developed mostly among the foreign population who despite the recommendations of physicians, inspectors, members of the board of health and police officials, have not seen the necessity of assisting in preventing a spread of the disease.

Chairman Buchan and the members of the present board expect vigorously among the foreign population who There has recently been an entire absence of co-operation between the family and the board and minor cases or suspects were not reported to the board of last year. The situation became strained and Quincy was thought to be on the verge of an epidemic which promised to surpass any ever experienced. Dr. J. T. Reynolds clayed careless parents in an interview printed in th Ledger, calling attention to the peril in which children and adults were placed.

The opinion of the medical staff on quarantine will probably be given in writing Mr. Buchan hopes to be present to hear the discussion. The beliefs of the physicians, in substance, may be accepted as a final ruling on quarantine and may be made part of the records of the present Board of Health.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

Editor of the Ledger:

"I should like through the columns of your paper to thank the Quincy Fire Department for the able manner in which it checked the fire in my cottage at Germantown. Owing to the disgraceful condition of Palmer street which is practically impassible on account of the mud, I consider it a remarkable feat for the department to have succeeded in getting its heavy apparatus to Germantown at all."

William Edwards.

DISTRICT COURT.

Ben. Kassus was fined $10 on account of costs for assault on Michael Downey at Weymouth.

Michael Foye who was fined $15 last December for drunkenness and had his sentence suspended was brought into court on a new complaint for drunkenness The suspension on the old case was revoked and he was ordered to pay the fine of $15 and a fine of $15 was imposed on the new case.

John H. H. Murray was arraigned for assault at Milton. Case continued until June 1.

Charles B. Smith was sent to the state farm for being a tramp at Milton.

Henry P. Murphy of Quincy was arraigned for violation of the automobile law at Cohasset. Case continued until March 27.

You need the Ledger every day. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

LAY BLAME TO SEWER PIPE

Allegations have been made that the offensive odors which float over the Houghs Neck colony are the direct result of the building of a sewer pipe through that section and the Metropolitan Water and Sewer Commission has set March 1st for a hearing on the charges. The session will be in the rooms of the commission at 1 Ashburton place at two o'clock.

The allegations have been made by John A. Hester, owner of the Pandora hotel and other land in the vicinity of that building, through his attorney, Maurice J. Murphy of Brockton.

The offensive odors which have been a nuisance to residents of Houghs Neck the past seven or eight years developed shortly after the sewer line was constructed through that section to Nut island. The filing of the complaint by Mr. Hester is expected to determine once and for all whether or not, as charged, there is a leak in the sewer, also whether the commission should take the steps necessary to abate the nuisance or should leave it to be disposed of by the Board of Health.

No actual investigation of the cause of the odors has ever been made. Residents of Houghs Neck in their protests through the press and in conversations have maintained it to be due to one of the four following reasons: Fensmere lake, a small pond affected by tides between Pandora dance hall and Pandora hotel; a leak in the sewer pipe; a small drain running into the pond or sea weed.

Walter R. Buchan, chairman of the Board of Health when asked about the attitude of the board in the matter said that if it was definitely determined that the odor was not the result of the sewer pipe line the board would take immediate steps to bring about an abatement of the nuisance.

GIRLS TO DON MEN'S ATTIRE

The Thelma Girls will hold their regular monthly meeting tonight at the home of Miss Julia Corcoran on Grove street. An entertainment will be held after the meeting in which half of the girls will dress in men's attire.

FRANCIS E. FAHEY.

Word was received in this city Wednesday of the death on Tuesday of Francis E. Fahey at Tewksbury. Mr. Fahey was well known here, having been born in West Quincy 41 years ago.

He was the son of the late Edward and Winnifred Fahey of Bunker Hill avenue and was graduated from the Willard school. He served his time as a blacksmith and worked in this city until about seven years ago when he went to Milford. Two years ago he was taken sick and has been confined to his bed the greater part of the time since then.

He is survived by his wife and one child, Francis Jr., one sister, Mrs. Fred Skinner of Everett, and three brothers, Edward of Reading, Pa., and Patrick and Thomas of this city.

Burial will be on Friday in the family lot at St. Mary's cemetery.

YOUNG MEN TO ENTERTAIN.

The young men's class of the Atlantic Methodist Sunday School gives an entertainment at the church Monday evening. The orchestra of the Newton Methodist Sunday School under the leadership of Miss Glennys Pollard will be present. Readings will be given by Joseph Wood. Admission free but a free will offering will be taken at close of entertainment. Home made candies will be served and ice cream will be on sale.

MRS. MARY DEEHAN.

Mrs. Mary Deehan, wife of Cornelius Deehan, died at Elmira, N. Y. Tuesday. Her body was taken to Richmond, Me., where her funeral will be held today. Burial will be in Portland, Me.

The deceased was the mother of George and Charles Deehan, both of Payne street.

To Cure a Cold in One Day
Take LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE Tablets Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter s Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

KINGS DAUGHTERS 25TH ANNIVERSARY

Whatsovever Circle Observes Quarter Century Mark

RECORD OF ACHIEVEMENT

Members and friends of the Whatsoever Circle of Kings Daughters joined in celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary Wednesday evening with a reception, followed by speeches and music, in the vestry of the Wollaston Congregational church.

In the receiving line were: Mrs. Edmund S. Taylor, president of the Whatsoever Circle; Miss Mary E Raymond of Boston, founder of the circle; Miss Susan Brokenshire of Waltham, third vice president of the international society; Mrs. M. Wheatey Farley of Waltham, president of the state organization; Mrs. Mary M. Sawtelle, of Reddville, president of the Norfolk County Kings Daughters; Miss Eleanor E. Fales of Wrentham, president of the Pond Home Corporation, and Mrs. Harry A. Stevens, president of the Quincy Union.

The ushers were: Mrs. E. S. Sayward, Mrs. Leroy C. Holbrook, Miss Helen Foster, Miss Almira E. Simmons, Mrs. George Thompson, Mrs. Jesse I. Litchfield and Mrs. E. R. Frost During the reception there was music by an orchestra consisting of Max O Pinkham, violin; E. B. Packard, 'cello and William Ellis Weston piano.

A word of greeting from the resident, Mrs. Edmund S. Taylor, was followed by a piano trio by Misses Dorothy Stevens, Kathleen Jones and Margaret Taylor.

An interesting history of the circle, from its inception to the present, was read by Miss Helen Foster and was a record of much faithful work done and many results accomplished. Miss Almira E. Simmons added a word regarding a loan fund, for needy college students, started by the Steadfast Circle.

During the evening a number of vocal solos by Miss Rosetta Key of Winthrop, who was a charter member of the Beatrice Circle, were enjoyed. Her selections included "My Laddie," "Eyes of Irish Blue," "Songs of Old London" and "Ripe Strawberries." A cello solo by Mr. Packard was also enjoyed, as was a reading "Massa John's goose" by Miss Annie Morse.

The first speaker was Miss Brokenshire who recalled her childhood days on the hills of Wollaston when she was a resident of Milton. She spoke of the broad work of the Kings Daughters, whose circles "formed a beautiful chain all round the world making it bloom like the garden of the Lord."

Mrs. Farley described the work of the state order and took her audience on a visit to "Gordon Rest," a benevolence supported by the organization The cradle rolls now being formed among the circles and travellers aid were other departments touched on.

Mrs. Sawtelle told of the good deeds the county organization, with its 700 members and 25 circles, was doing; from providing a crib in the Floating Hospital for infants to maintaining a home for the aged at Pondville.

The final speaker was Miss Fales who gave a history of the Pond home which included many personal reminiscences.

At the conclusion of the exercises 25 candles were lighted on a large birthday cake, upon which the numerals "25" were prominently inscribed.

Refreshments were served by a committee consisting of: Mrs. Fred L. Eastman, Mrs. Frank Berry, Mrs. Arthur Dodge, Mrs. Hattie Gurney, Mrs. Alice Rhodes, Mrs. W. S. Whittam and Mrs. Eric H. Ewertz. Decorations of palms and daffodils served to make the rooms attractive.

The movement for the Whatsoever Circle was started in January 1890 when, at the invitation of Miss Mary E. Raymond, a group of young women met at the home of Mrs. James Lord on Hancock street, Wollaston.

When Miss Raymond went to live in another town Miss Elizabeth E. Jones was chosen as leader. From that time to the present the circles has held about 15 meetings yearly and engaged in much charitable work.

Not only has it entered heartily into individual work and help for the worthy unfortunates but it has been a wide contributor to local charities and movements for human betterment.

From a small beginning it has grown until it now numbers 22 active and 26 associate members. Six members have been lost by death Mrs. Ella Godfrey Merrifield, Mrs. Katherine O. Adams, Mrs. Walter Holbrook, Mrs. Flanders, Mrs. May Kingman Fourtin and Mrs. Minnie Prescott Leavitt. Mrs. Leavitt was a charter member and the only one to be a worker throughout the entire 25 years.

The present board of officers includes:

President—Mrs. Edmund S. Taylor.
Vice President—Mrs. Isaiah W. Sneath.
Second Vice—Mrs. Arthur Dodge.
Secretary—Miss Almira E. Simmons.
Treasurer—Mrs. Leroy C. Holbrook

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton Director
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings. 23-6t

BOYS SHOES
Made to stand Hard Wear
BOSTON WELT
Regular $2 Shoe for $1.50
As a special inducement to every mother buying a pair of these Shoes we will repair your old ones for 25 cents, which is just the cost of the leather.
E F. CONLIN,
Hancock and Saville Sts. Tel. Quincy 961-M

NORTH WEYMOUTH

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Austin was the scene of a happy gathering Saturday evening when they entertained the K. C. B. C. and friends at a harlequin party. There were seven tables at which various games were played the winners being Mrs. Charlotte Stoddard and Mrs. Grace Walker who were awarded a leather hand bag and a hand painted water set. Mrs. Josie Culley and Mrs. Conrad were "consoled" with hand painted china. Refreshments were served and a jolly good time enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kittredge entertained their sons, Arthur Kittredge and Winifred Kittredge and their families, over the holiday.

Combination One responded to an alarm Sunday forenoon for a grass fire on the property of A. S. Frothingham on Wessagussett road. The damage was slight.

Harry Bailey and Christopher Bailey attended the Governor's reception at the State House Feb. 22

Traffic was delayed Saturday afternoon when the 4 o'clock car left the track.

Miss Wilhelmina Coleman was at her home during the holiday respite from her studies at Mount Ida Academy, and entertained a house party during that time. Her guests were Miss Ethel Harkins and Miss Esther Harkins of Quincy and Mrs. Francis Gorman of Hingham.

Saturday was the birthday of D. A. Jones and he was the recipient of a gigantic post card shower. Mrs Charles Litchfield a neighbor made a beautifully decorated birthday cake, as a pleasing reminder.

Miss Mildred Alden spent the week end and holiday as the guest of Mrs. Allan Thatcher of Middleboro.

Miss Martha K. Feyler of Waldboro, Maine is spending a week with Mr. Mrs. Arthur Alden.

Cards were received this week by North Weymouth friends from Dr. and Mrs. R. O. Clark. They are at Tampa Florida this week. They have travelled 1500 miles by auto since leaving Jacksonville, and are most enthusiastic over the beauty of nature in the tropical climate.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

SEE IT TODAY
EXPLOITS of ELAINE
— Ninth Episode—Two Reels —
— Also New Two Reel Educational and Comedy "Pathe Picture" —
— New Vaudeville —
THE FOUR BANTAS — Novelty Musical Act
PARIS & VANNETTE — Talking and Singing Comedians
McCARTHY SISTERS — New Songs--New Dances--Rapid Change Artists
CARMEN — The Marvelous Hoop Roller
THURS. FRI. SAT. Matinee Daily 2.30 P. M. 10--15c — Evenings at 8 — 10--15--25c
Kincaide Theatre
Coming March 1-2-3 — Sequel to The Million Dollar Mystery--2 Reels
THE IDLER---A wonderful Photo-Play--5 Reels--Produced by Chas. Frohman
The Four Frazers--Scotch Entertainers--Harry Murphy, Black Face Comedian
Pathe Daily News of World Interest

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

EXIT FROM MUSIC HALL.

Transcript Commends Orderly Nature of Escape from Fire.

The Boston Transcript commented editorially in its issue of Tuesday on the orderly exit from Music hall of 700 persons while a fire raged underneath. The editorial reads:

Emptying the Quincy Music Hall of an audience of seven hundred adults and children in three minutes, while a fierce fire was raging in the basement beneath them, was an achievement that speaks so well for the common sense and presence of mind of those having this matter in charge that it deserves more than ordinary notice and commendation. Had a panic occurred many lives might have been lost. Very few fires in places of entertainment are dangerous to the patrons if they can be brought out in orderly fashion. There is generally time enough for safe exits. The popular "Its a Long Way to Tipperary" was never played and sung to better purpoes than this occassion

FIREMEN SMOKE CIGARS.

Chief Faxon Billings and the boys at the Central fire station were yesterday swoing on a fife.

The "smokes" were presented by William Edwards, owner of the cottage which was discovered on fire at Germantown Wednesday morning and which the firemen saved from total destruction.

The large box of choice cigars were received Wednesday. An attached card expressed the compliments and thanks of Mr. Edwards.

MAYOR PRAISES ERWIN BROTHERS

Mayor Campbell gave out the following letter to the Erwin Brothers for their work during the fire in Remick Bros. store Monday afternoon.

Mr. Joseph Erwin,
Mr. Patrick Erwin,
Mr. John Erwin,
Foster St., Quincy, Mass.,
Gentlemen:—

My attention has been called to the splendid work which you did in connection with the dismissal of the audience at Music hall during the fire in the basement of the building.

Cool-headedness, coupled with good common sense, is a great asset in the makeup of a man, and the display of splendid judgment on your part yesterday is proof of your ability in the handling of serious situations where quick action and right judgment are needed.

Will you kindly accept the thanks of the citizens of Quincy for your work.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) CHESTER I. CAMPBELL,
Mayor.

AUTO SHOW.

The third annual automobile show of the Wollaston Central Garage will be held this evening and Friday and Saturday evenings of this week. Women will be welcomed during the afternoon and be served with afternoon tea.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

BUTTER IS LOWER
Finest Creamery 32c lb
Van Camp's Milk 7 1-2c a can
Van Camp's Soup 7 1-2c a can
MAPLE DAIRY
CHESTNUT STREET

COAL
Just Unloaded 2600 Tons of Sprague's Celebrated
New River Cumberland Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.,
27 Granite St.

THE EDUCATIONAL FIELD

THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
HIGH SCHOOL PUBLIC SCHOOLS
WOODWARD INSTITUTE PAROCHIAL SCHOOL

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES.

PERIODICALS.

Persons not having time for extended reading should find an interesting magazine collection in the library. These magazines are varied in subject and cover most fields of common interest. The subscription list numbers 115, but when duplicate copies and gifts are added, there is a total of 182 which circulate throughout the year.

The magazines which deal particularly with mechanics are:—American Machinist, Automobile, American Carpenter and Builder, Popular Mechanics, Marine Review, Motor Boat, Engineering, Aeronautics, Scientific American and Supplement, International Marine Engineering and Modern Mechanics.

Those which deal with education are:—Journal of Educational Psychology, Elementary School Teacher, Education, Teacher's College Record, Trained Nurse and Educational Review.

The following are gifts:—Christian Science Journal, Christian Science Sentinel, Christian Register, Church Militant and Theosophical Path.

The fine arts are represented by Craftsman, American Architect, Arts and Decorations, Photo Era, House Beautiful, International Studio, Musician, Theatre and Etude.

Literature, by the Atlantic Monthly, Bookman Forum Hibbert Journal, Nation, Dial, Contemporary Review, Fortnightly Review, Current Opinion and Literary Digest.

Of special interest for women are:—Delineator, Good Housekeeping, Harper's Bazaar, Ladies Home Journal, Modern Priscilla and Woman's Home Companion.

Magazines of general interest are:—Harper's Monthly, Century, Scribner's, World's Work, Outlook, McClure's, Leslie's Weekly and Saturday Evening Post.

The Times History of the War and London Illustrated News are of great interest to those who are following events closely.

Life and London Punch are both to be obtained in the reading room.

The Juvenile department must not be forgotten for the children are as eager as the grown ups to read their favorite magazines. St. Nicholas, Boy's Life, American Boy, Popular Mechanics, Youth's Companion, Little Folks and Bird Lore are some of the popular ones.

This is not a complete list of magazines to be found in the library, but is a summary of those most desired by the average reader.

Sewing machines are to be supplied for all schools that are not now equipped with them, in order to give the girls in the sewing course instruction in their use. It is expected that at the grammar school graduation in June, each girl will wear the dress made by herself as part of the required sewing course.

NEW SCHOOL BUILDING.

The apparent plan to build so large a school as one of 16 rooms on the newly acquired school lot in Bigelow Park is one which seems to be justified by present conditions and rate of growth in that district. The conference on Tuesday night brought out facts with reference to the school membership that made it plain that 10 to 12 rooms would be occupied as soon as ready and the proposition to relieve the High School pressure in the way suggested by the School Department appeared practicable both from an economic and an educational standpoint.

MASSACHUSETTS FIELDS SCHOOL

The overwhelming success of the entertainment given three times by the pupils of the Massachusetts Fields school for the benefit of a supervised playground in that district easily takes care of the initial expense and ensures proper supervision for the coming summer on the lot of ground recently acquired by the city. This sort of summer work is gradually developing in this city and is a most valuable educational feature. Pupils who spend their spare time on the playground are under excellent care while their parents may feel free from worry. It is a fine thing to have the movement gain so strong a hold in this city.

SOME OFFICERS DISSATISFIED

Register Kicks Because of Shake-Up

Dissatisfaction is being shown by some of the police officers who were shifted in the shake up that was given the department Wednesday night and as a result several called at city hall this morning to register a complaint with the mayor. Some of the night men claim that partiality has been shown in-as-much as some night men who have been doing duty for a shorter period than they have, have been given day beats.

Then again some of the men are registering a protest on the ground that the mayor in his remarks to the officers stated that he had seen men loafing on their beats which was one of the reasons why shifts were made. They claim that their individual record, are good and that they have never been complained of and to shift them from what might be called an easy beat to a hard beat is not fair and that it leads the public to think that they were shifted because they were the ones the mayor referred to as loafing.

MEAT PIE SUPPER.

The Sons of Veterans auxiliary celebrated Washington's birthday by giving a meat pie supper to the members of Paul Revere Post 88 and Col. Abner B. Packard camp, Sons of Veterans. After the supper the regular business meeting was held and there were several speakers from Post 88, including Past Commander Phillips G. B. Thomas, Commander William R French of the Sons of Veterans and Brothers Strattard and Maxwell.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

The general express business conducted by the late Joseph M. Bruce, at No. 1598 Hancock Street, under the name of

BRUCE & WARNER EXPRESS

will be continued in the same name, and at the same place as formerly by the undersigned.

HELEN M. BRUCE, Administratrix.
DAVID M. WARNER, Manager.

186t

NOTICE !

This space will be devoted each day—not to advertise cheap grade at full value, but Johnson Bros. Quality Goods at a sure low price.

BUY THESE TODAY

FRANCO-AMERICAN READY MADE SOUP
Finest QUALITY in Soups 10c can 3 cans 25c
Large can of Baked Beans, Regular Price 15c
for today 10c per can.

JOHNSON BROS., City Square.

MRS. LOWELL AT GUILD MEETING

At the regular meeting of the Woman's Guild held in the assembly room of the parish house of St. Chrysostom's church Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Francis C. Lowell gave an interesting and comprehensive talk on "General Auxiliary work."

The meeting was largely attended by parishioners and guests, members of Christ church guild and Emmanuel church guild, Braintree.

Mrs. Daniel C. Miller, president, introduced Mrs. Lowell, president of the Massachusetts branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions.

Mrs. Lowell said the auxiliary is an extension of the work Christ came to do. Mrs. Lowell spoke of the "Quiet Day" held each year. At Worcester during a Diocesan conference an illustration was given to show one of the meetings of the Board of Missions, the officers and chairman of the Auxiliary taking the parts of Dr. Lloyd and other members. Mrs. Lowell's description of it threw light on their great work in Cuba, Brazil, Mexico, Alaska, China, Japan and among the Indians, colored people and "Mountain Whites." The Mission study classes make one familiar with the problems which the Board is trying to help its missionaries solve, to create in the parish a centre of missionary inspiration so that they will voluntarily offer prayers, service and money.

The united offering stands by itself in the activities of the Woman's Auxiliary. It is a gift made once in three years and placed on the altar of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York. This thank offering given by individuals is set aside for women's work, salaries, etc., of those who go out to mission fields. Mrs. Lowell mentioned by name several representatives including Miss Dorothy Mills so well known in Wollaston now on the staff of teachers at St. Hilda's school, Wuchang, China.

The work of the Junior auxiliary is laid up on methodical lines and does exceptionally good work. Mrs. Lowell spoke of the "apportionment" and mentioned the far-reaching spiritual and intellectual help which the Church Periodical club gives through the wise distribution of magazines and libraries and paid high tribute to Miss Ward so many years Diocesan correspondent. Interesting speakers are heard at the Auxiliary meetings held every third Wednesday in the Cathedral rooms, Boston and Mrs. Lowell hoped more would attend.

Refreshments of tea, sandwiches and fancy cakes were served under the direction of Mrs. Herbert H. Albee who poured, assisted by members of the hospitality committee. Jonquils decorated the tea and president's tables.

TENDER SURPRISE PARTY.

Miss Gladys Walters of 100 Copeland street was tendered a surprise party by eighteen of her young friends Wednesday evening at which time Harold Kidder in behalf of the surprisers presented Miss Walters with a gold pendant. Miss Walters although taken completely by surprise gracefully expressed her thanks. Miss Ruth Reynolds gave several piano selections and games of various kinds were enjoyed.

Those present were Miss Ruth Reynolds, Miss Mabel Evans, Miss Tyse Almquist, Miss Emily Poole, Miss May Parry, Miss Josie Mortanson, Miss Esther McDonald, Cecil Cain, Russell Johnson, Raymond Evans, Harold Kidder, Reese Walters, Henry Kidder,, Harold McDonald Gladys Walters, Vernon Holström, Robert Elder, John Conroy and Mr. and Mrs. Walters. Refreshments were served during the evening.

NORFOLK, SUPERIOR COURT.

Jury Waived Session.

Ruby S. B. Cox of Springfield vs. Ethan E. Cox of Quincy. Uncontested divorce libel. Decree nisi for desertion. Robert H. Benny for the libellant.

Blanche Leavitt of Dorchester vs. Herbert Leavitt of Quincy. Uncontested divorce libel. Decree nisi for cruel and abusive treatment. George H. Lucey for the libellant.

MRS. MARY F. SPEAR.

Mrs. Mary F. Spear, wife of Charles H. Spear, died at her home at 29 Franklin street, this morning. Horace Spear is a son of the deceased and survives her. The funeral will be Monday afternoon.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

Anniversary Poem

Lines written for the Tenth Anniversary of the Quincy Women's Club by Claire Hubbard Gurney.

On Manet's shore the snow was softly sleeping
One winter's night when all the world was still,
In the arched sky, the moon her course was keeping,
Silvering the tree tops on each distant hill.

Flooding the whitened fields with glory,
Sharpening the shadows from the fringe of wood,
On that low mount renowned in song and story
Where long ago the far-famed May pole stood.

Three misty forms, part real, part fancy seeming,
Came from the thicket, noiselessly and slow,
Wistful they gazed, where peaceful in its dreaming,
Lay the still town below.

"Waken," they called, "O Quincy Women, Waken!
Waken to human needs—to acts of love,
Waken to wisdom and to faith unshaken,
Waken! your freedom and your power to prove.

"Here where sweet love our life has gladdened
Bidding our spirits ever to rejoice
Here where we suffered, and our hearts were saddened
We call to you—O listen to our voice."

Who were the three? And why for us their caring?
Hark and their story I will to you tell
Sorrows and joys their fearing and their daring,
The loves and romances that them befel.

* * * * * * * * * * *

In Weymouth town many years gone by Lived a dainty maid with a roguish eye
With lustrous hair and a smile so sweet
That many suitors flocked to her feet.

With love they languished yet all did fail
To please the pretty Abigail
Till over from Braintree came a youth
Who won when others had lost, forsooth!
For he was so stalwart, strong and brave
That quickly her heart to him she gave.

Now I've heard it said, though it may be a myth,
That Abigail's father, the Reverend Smith,
Did not look with favor on
His daughter's suitor, the gallant John.

His manner to him was as cold as could be,
He'd not invite him to stay to tea,
At his pretensions he'd sneer and vail
But that didn't trouble Abigail.

For she answered his scolding with great good sense,
Although with becoming deference,
"Respected parent," she firmly said,
"'Tis I not you that John will wed.
And I'm quite determined to have my own way!"
Then she chose him a text for her wedding day.

And the years that followed her wisdom proved
In keeping her faith with the man she loved,
For she ruled forever his heart and life
Friend, companion and honored wife.

And the suitor her short-sighted father banned
Made her the first lady in all the land,
And unique the glory that fame has lent
To her, mother and wife of a President!

Oh, women of Quincy with reverence
Pray we may share her great good sense,
That our faith and love shall never fail,
Pray for the wisdom of Abigail!

* * * * * * * * * * * *

Not far from the center of Quincy town,
Where a little brown brook flows bubbling down,
You may see, if you'll peer the hedges through,
The fine old home of Dorothy Q.

One summer's day when the sun was high
If we had been strolling that mansion by,
(We couldn't have done it and now be alive
For 'twas seventeen hundred and seventy-five).

We'd gladly have paused in our walk to see
The tokens of great festivity
That flaunted abroad on the summer breeze,
Eye and ear and nose to please.

The sound of laughter loud and long,
Of jest and banter and joyous song,
And, Oh, the odors, rich and rare,
Of the toothsome viands cooking there.

On the walls was a brand new paper placed,
With forms of Venus and Cupid graced,
And birds and flowers in colors gay,
Most appropriate for a wedding day!

You see, the secret at last is out,
It's another love tale I tell about,
That of John Hancock, patriot true,
And his winsome neighbor, Dorothy Q.

An envied man, I trow, was he,
Although he won her quite easily;
For surely no maiden could withstand,
A man who wrote such an elegant hand!

Quincy, Norwood & Sagamore Wholesale Dept., 69 Summer St., Boston.

USE OUR INTRODUCTION BLANK

introducing you to a Big Boston, Mass.

Wholesale Clothing House
Where you can save
Money on your
Clothes

You can pay for them there
and take them with you—We manufacture
That's why

Ask for our Mr. Orent in our wholesale dept. who will cheerfully look after your wants

Far be it from us to advocate Boston clothes buying. While we carry a large stock in the Quincy store our object is to give you the benefit of an enormous wholesale stock at less than retail prices.

ORENT-PAYSON C.

1387 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

But, alas for the lovers, they could not wed,
For the king set a price on John Hancock's head,
And far from his sweetheart he had to flee,
In order to keep his liberty.

Did Dorothy give him up? Not so,
She ordered her coach and followed her beau,
And she swore in a perfectly ladylike way,
"I'll marry John Hancock, come what may!"
And although they had to leave the State,
The wedding was only a few weeks late.

Oh, women of Quincy, pray that we
May have the fine audacity,
The loving ardor, the courage true,
The purpose and will of Dorothy Q.

* * * * * * * * * * * *

Over the hills to Wollaston
Wearily came Anne Hutchinson,
Rested awhile, ere she sadly went
Away to her cruel banishment.

Oh, list while the story I relate
Of the greatest woman in all our state
She who dared think when to think was sin,
She who dared speak, tho' but shame to win.

The learned synod met to trace,
The course of her speeches about free grace,
Declared that she was a heretic,
And that she should be banished mighty quick.

But their decision, 'tis plain to see,
Resulted from wounded vanity,
For the only fault they could find with Anne
Was that she was smarter than any man.

And an icy fear at their hearts did clutch
When they found that she could talk twice as much
And twice as learned and twice as well
As any of them about Heaven or Hell.

And besides, tho' the men did criticize,
She prevailed on the women to organize.
As Hamlet says, there was the rub,
They couldn't stand a woman's club!

They said that woman's sphere was home
So they ordered Anne abroad to roam,
Of course I do not need to note,
'Twas only the men who had the vote.

She was urged to come back as the years went by,
But she couldn't see the reason why,
For her opinions were just the same
As they were of old, so she never came.

Oh, women of Quincy, pray that we
May be wise and clever and true as she;
Pray for a birthday gift that each
May bind clear thought with the fluent speech.

Like her be fearless, like her be brave,
No dearer gift can our hearts ere crave,
No greater beauty our lives can crown
Than the power and poise of Anne Hutchinson!

* * * * * * * * * * * *

On Manet's Shore—the darkness soft is falling
This winter night when all the world is still
The voices now are hushed that erst were calling
From that historic hill.

And records of the decade that is ended
Records of work that time can ne'er unmake
Records of efforts and achievements blended
Prove Quincy's women are indeed awake.

Furniture Storage Warehouse

Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.

Rates $2---$3---$4 per month

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.

1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.
Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.-tf

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT
BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS— Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

WIN FOR FIRST IN H. S. HISTORY

Freshies Defeat Juniors By Convincing Score

In a thrilling game at the High school gym Wednesday the Seniors tied the Sophmores for the lead in the Inter-Class League. The final score was 17-13. The game was full of football and wrestling, Merrill, Smith, Larkin and Reardon taking beautiful chances but not getting away with many of them as Referee French called foul after foul for charging, holding and pushing. Hunt and Larkin shot two pretty baskets, both being of the clean variety. For the Sophomores DeSenso, Mullen, Jenkins played well. One point was awarded each team, at different times for charging. "Midget" LeCain was thrown against the wall and was forced to retire. The tie probably will be played off Saturday.

The score:

1915		1917
Hunt rf		lb Mullen
Larkin lf		rb DeSenso
Smith c		c Atkins
Merrill rb		lb LeCain
Reardon lb		rb Jenkins

Goals from floor—Smith 3, Larkin 2, Hunt 2, Jenkins 2, Atkins. Goals from fouls—Jenkins 6, Hunt 2. One point awarded each team for charging. Referee French. Scorer, Mensur. Timer Roache; Time two 15-minutes periods.

The Freshmen made a new record when they won from the Juniors 10-4. This is the first time since the league has been under way that the Freshmen have ever won a game. Isaacson got two spectacular baskets for the "Freshies" while Walker, Hendry and Thompson kept the ball from the Juniors most of the time. In Walker the Freshmen have a husky boy who should make good next year. His only fault is that he plays his man too much but in his all round playing he made the Juniors hustle.

Dennehy was the only Junior who seemed to have any life, the others appearing glued to their tracks.

The score:

1918		1916
Hendry rf		lb Riley
Nelson lf		rb MacLoughlin
Williams lf
Isaacson c		c Erikson
Walker rb		lb Dennehy
Thompson lb		rb Hammond

Goals from floor—Hendry, Isaacson 2, Hammond, Riley, Thompson. Goals from fouls—Hendry 2. The same officials.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-918 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY.

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

MAKARIAS CHURCH LEAGUE CHAMPION

Defeat Rand Class by Six Points After Hotly Fought Match

TEAM TOTAL IS RECORD

FINAL STANDING.

	Won	Lost	Pinfall
Makaria	46	14	20,216
Rand	40	20	19,661
Davis	38	22	19,885
Clark	25	35	19,200
Pilgrim	21	39	19070
O. U. B.	10	50	18,382

Highest individual single string, Nicoll 140

Highest individual three strings, Nicoll 352.

Highest team single string Makaria 520.

Highest team three strings, Makaria 1506.

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.
Makaria 3,—Rand Class 1.
Davis Class 3,—Pilgrims 1.
Clark Class 3,—O. U. B. 1.

The Makarias defeated the Rand class 3 to 1 in the final matches in the Quincy church bowling league at the Wardwell alleys Wednesday evening and won the league championship. The match was hotly contested but the victory was decisive enough to indicate without much question the superiority of the Makarias. Both teams had jockeyed for first place throughout the schedule, the Rands being runners up the last half with only a few points to the bad.

The Makaria team total record of 1506 is the best made so far this season in the city in league competition. Its team single was 520. Nicoll got the league record total of 352 and the record single 140. He will be given the shield offered as a trophy to the high average man. His mark is 95 plus. A handsome shield will also be awarded the champs. The final matches:

MAKARIA—3.

Nicoll	90	114	103	307
Tytler	77	83	70	230
Prescott	81	93	76	250
McFarlane	88	85	92	265
Brookes	93	123	133	349
	429	498	474	1401

RAND—1.

Rhodes	112	89	90	291
Cahill	89	75	102	266
Cahill	79	76	87	242
McLeod	94	86	97	277
Cahill	105	88	89	282
	479	414	465	1358

CLARKE—3.

Tinney	84	97	87	268
Van	93	84	94	271
Imray	89	89	93	271
McDonald	93	87	86	266
Dummy	75	75	75	225
	434	432	435	1301

O. U. B.—1.

Dorley	96	75	83	254
Frost	80	83	69	232
Burrell	75	85	104	264
Sprague	74	69	94	237
Dummy	75	75	75	225
	400	387	445	1232

DAVIS—3.

Hobart	117	85	76	288
Smith	86	101	93	280
Harling	89	84	98	271
Neil	111	113	89	313
Duff	98	99	88	285
	501	482	444	1427

PILGRIM—1

Moe	89	76	75	240
Melville	90	77	91	258
Lang	74	109	107	290
MacQueen	86	89	97	272
Dubois	98	121	84	303
	437	472	454	1363

ISLE OF PINES
An association is now being formed to own 100 acres of grapefruit or 7000 trees. Join now—membership $250.00, $10.00 down and $5.00 per month. 6 pct. guaranteed for the first five years and then each member gets 85 pct. of the profits. Write for particulars.
ISLE OF PINES ASSOCIATES
170 Summer St., Boston, Mass.
Feb. 11-1m

ROLLOFFS OF SAMOSET CLUB

LEAGUE STANDING.

	Won	Lost
Capt Rhodes	17	7
Capt. Campbell	16	8
Capt.. Hill	10	14
Capt. Armstrong	6	18

High single—Hill 125.
High 3 strings—W. Cahill. 323.
High team single—Campbell 463.
High team total—Rhodes 1333.

RESULTS TUESDAY NIGHT.
Capt. Campbell 4.—Capt. Hill 0.
Capt. Rhodes, 3—Capt. Armstrong 1.

Campbell with 307 was high in the Samoset club rolloffs at Wardwell's Tuesday evening, getting one pin more than Rhodes. Campbell had a single of 116 while Rhodes' high was 110. The matches were close, particularly in the second team single but two points separating those totals. The fight which has developed for first place stands now with the Rhodes five in the lead by one pin. The summary:

CAPT. CAMPBELL—4.

Pope	89	66	85	240
Johnson	77	81	85	243
Comins	73	74	91	238
Swett	90	93	109	292
Campbell	116	90	101	307
	445	404	471	1320

CAPT. HILL—0.

P. Cahill	89	91	85	266
Weston	73	74	91	238
Lupton	89	90	101	280
Cranshaw	77	66	108	251
Hill	102	81	85	268
	430	402	470	1302

CAPT. RHODES—3.

W. Cahill	109	87	102	298
Smith	66	80	89	235
Stone	77	70	76	233
Pinkham	81	78	83	242
Rhodes	97	110	99	306
	430	425	449	1314

CAPT. ARMSTRONG—1.

C. Armstrong	97	78	76	241
Browne	85	77	95	257
Baker	66	80	89	235
Nichols	81	101	83	265
A. Armstrong	97	91	92	280
	416	427	435	1278

FAMOUS TANDEM ARE VICTORIOUS

Poehler and Walsh the famous tandem bowlers, won the final strings and the match against "Red" Millar and Harry Cole at the New Boston alleys Tuesday night. The score for the 20 strings was 2208 to 2057. In the finals Poehler had 1111, Walsh 1097, Cole 1072 and Millar 985.

The tandem again demonstrated their superiority in New England bowling. Walsh made five spares in his eighth box and netted 132. In his ninth he got three strikes in succession and closed with 136. Both singles were high for the evening. One of the most prominent features was that Poehler passed the century each string. The scores:

Poehler—104, 118, 114, 111, 115, 118, 102, 114, 109, 106—1111..

Walsh—115, 94, 101, 98, 114, 117, 105, 132, 137, 84—1097.

Millar—89, 107, 117, 101, 85, 119, 106, 88, 90, 83—985.

Cole—116, 92, 97, 104, 105, 130, 111, 97, 120, 100—1072.

PRATT'S BREAD is baked by experts in proved ovens. Sold by grocers.

Question Cleared Up

Quincy Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence.

Again and again we have read of strangers in distant towns who have been cured by this or that medicine. But Quincy's pertinent question has always been "Has anyone here in Quincy been cured?" The word of a stranger living a hundred miles away may be true, but it cannot have the same weight with us as the word of our own citizens, whom we know and respect, and whose evidence we can so easily prove.

Mrs. George Atkinson, 80 Main street, Quincy, says: "One of my family had trouble from weak kidneys caused by his work. He also suffered from backache. He used six boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured him. He don't complain at all now. We give all the credit for this cure to Doan's Kidney Pills. We keep a supply in the house all the time."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills— the same that Mrs. Atkinson recommends. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

MONROES AND HOXIES TIED

Standing in Wollaston Tennis Club League

LEAGUE STANDING.

Capt. Monroe	50 22
Capt. Hoxie	50 22
Capt. Jenner	43 29
Capt. Geddes	39 33
Capt. Green	32 40
Capt. Baker	29 43
Capt. Estes	23 49
Capt. Litchfield	22 50

Highest averages—Jenner 98, C. Baker 94, Litchfield 93, Monroe 91, Hoxie 91.

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.
Capt. Green 3, Capt. Litchfield 1.
Capt. Baker 3, Capt. Jenner 1.
Capt. Hoxie 3, Capt. Monroe 1.
Capt. Geddes 3, Capt. Estes 1.

The last drops in the Wollaston Tennis club matches at the Coliseum alleys Wednesday evening let the teams of Captains Monroe and Hoxie tied in first place, with the five of Capt. Jenner four points to the good in third place. None of the men tripled in the matches. All of the scores were 3 to 1. Two pins more in the total would have given Capt. Jenner a split.

CAPT. HOXIE—3.

Brigham	84	86	84	254
Fleichner	76	91	85	252
Chase	80	80	76	236
Powers	85	88	90	263
Hoxie	87	96	82	255
	412	441	417	1270

CAPT. MONROE—1.

Baker	89	79	95	263
Pinkham	86	86	82	254
Raymond	82	82	86	250
Brown	76	82	96	254
Monroe	97	98	89	284
	430	427	448	1305

CAPT. C. BAKER—3.

Redlon	77	77	77	231
Gardner	74	93	79	246
Oldham	72	82	95	249
Hutton	77	76	95	248
Baker	84	98	102	284
	384	426	448	1258

CAPT. JENNER—1.

Murray	87	87	87	261
Carr	67	91	81	239
W. Baker	85	89	82	256
Barker	78	73	76	227
Jenner	90	92	94	276
	407	432	420	1259

CAPT. GREEN—3.

McLean	84	84	84	252
A. Davis	87	84	77	248
Weld	93	105	95	293
Hiller	69	102	86	257
Green	83	98	92	273
	416	473	434	1323

CAPT. LITCHFIELD—1.

Holmes	79	69	72	220
Bates	87	82	74	243
Crossley	81	85	80	246
Nickerson	87	77	87	251
Litchfield	97	90	93	280
	431	403	406	1240

CAPT. GEDDES—3.

Albee	91	82	97	270
Emery	87	87	91	256
Seiders	75	77	87	239
Smith	95	86	67	248
Geddes	87	87	87	261
	435	410	429	1274

CAPT. ESTES—1.

Ela	77	86	83	246
Simpson	81	90	80	251
L. Smith	76	76	75	227
C. R. Davis	103	82	70	255
Estes	81	100	78	259
	418	434	386	1238

ROLLOFF RECORD.

Harry Swett, high average man of the Samoset club league established a rolloff record at the Wardwell alleys Wednesday night by getting a three string total of 359. Peter Morton was second with 340. Jim Dell was third with 337 and M. Bergfors fourth with 304.. J. Dunn won the cigars with a single of 116 and J. Brown got the booby with 228. Many of the bowlers passed the triple mark but not by enough pins to qualify.

MAKARIA CHALLENGES.

The Makaria team, champion of the Sunday school league, has issued a challenge to roll any team in the city at the Wardwell alleys. The Makarias finished first with Nicolls, a member and the team beating all Wardwell marks. Their high total was 1506.

SPORTING COMMENT

The Woburn High school base ball team has filed a bill of complaint. In the Cambirdge Superior Court in Equity to secure the award of the Middlesex League championship of 1914.

Milton Academy has been added to the football schedule of St. Marks.

A post season tragedy of the gridiron is contained in news despatches from Wilmington, Del. "Bob" Mayfield, quarter on the Johns Hopkins eleven, who received a fractured vertebrae in a game with Lehigh, at South Bethlehem, Oct. 31, is dying.

A. H. Goodale was the happiest golfer at the Montclair links on the holiday for he not only made fine cards but also held his ninth in one. His morning round was 82 and was good enough to win the gross prize in the club tournament. His afternoon round was in 77. Goodale finished the 1914 season strong. His fine opening indicates he will be a prominent factor in state golf this season.

Alec Campbell, the Country club pro has resigned. His brother Matt succeeds him. Alec goes to the Baltimore Country club

Clan MacGregor's quintette expects to finish first in the Scottish Clans bowling league. The three first division teams are within reach of each other. Their standing:

	Won	Lost	Pinfall
MacGregor	62	14	27,053
McPhails	61	15	26,957
Ramsay	58	18	26,488

The handicapping committee of the Massachusetts Golf association met Wednesday. The open golf will be held in July.

The choice of any man to the treasureship of an organization is complimentary. Patrolman Jeremiah Dineen of the Quincy Police has been re-elected to that post in the Police Base Ball league. .

Quincy High and Winthrop High are tied for second place in the Interscholastic Basket Ball League. They play the last game at Winthrop Friday. Quincy, in order to retain its place will have to play better than it did against Brockton on the holiday.

"Porky" Flynn, a Boston heavyweight was easily bested by Charley Veinert in points Saturday night in Phillie. Flynn weighed 191 pounds and his conqueror 177.

Jack Dillon celebrated his return to the ring by artistically trimming Frank Mantell in 10 rounds. .

Walter Pipp, first baseman and Hugh High, outfielder, will play with the N. Y. Americans.

The Athletics have taken 13 recruits to Florida.

Harrison's goal in the Fore River New Bedford game Saturday was of the unsavable variety. Well directed, propelled by a terrific kick, Lambie, the N. B. goal tender who starred the entire game, couldn't have stopped it unless she was as quick as a squirrel and as strong as a Sandow. Incidenally he was the cause of eliminating New Bedford from and placing Fore River one step nearer to the National championship.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

Masquerade Costumes
For Rent
Children's Costumes in variety
MRS. R. E. WOODWARD
155 Billings Road
Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs
Feb. 3-tf

W. R. LOFGREN
Carpenter and Builder
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 398-3

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.
will continue the service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.
OFFICE AT
WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

The Junior Suffrage League met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Milliken, Brush Hill street. J. Randall Pratt was elected secretary of the league. William Hoxie floor director for the dance in the town hall, March 27, made a report. Plans were made for a May party on Mrs. Wilken's grounds on May 8. Miss Marion C. Johnson was appointed to have charge of this. A short talk on the ways of national government was given by Miss Hazel Swift. Kenneth D. Johnson gave a brief argument in favor of the cause. Refreshments were then enjoyed followed by pool and dancing.

Milton Lodge 93, K. of P., on Wednesday evening observed its seventh anniversary by a banquet and ball in Berkeley hall. About 200 persons were present. Guests, of whom the two first named made brief remarks, were: George S. Harrington, grand chancellor: John S. Ballantyne, supreme representative: George S. Howe, grand keeper of records and seal and George Simpson of Winter Hill Lodge 135, deputy grand chancellor.

BICYCLE CLUB PLAYS "63"

The Bicycle club of South Quincy held its regular monthly meeting last night in Clan MacGregor hall. Prizes were awarded to the winners of the winter tournament in Cribbage and "63."

The winners in cribbage were: Welcome Blake, first; Francis Morrison, second; David Coutts, third.

The prizes in "63" were awarded to Thomas Douglas, first; James Watson, second; William McIntosh, third.

On March 24 the club will listen to a talk on political economy by Francis Morrison.

HOLD ANNUAL SPRING FAIR

The annual spring fair of the Washington street Congregational church was held Wednesday evening and was a pronounced success in every way. The chapel where the fair was held was very prettily decorated under the direction of Mrs. E. H. Bushnell. Arranged in a tasteful manner about the room were tables for the sale of fancy articles, candy, aprons, cake and punch. These tables were in charge of the following:

Fancy table, Mrs. John Roche, Mrs. Arthur B. Foster, Mrs. John Forest.

Aprons, Mrs. Charles Sherburn, Mrs. H. E. Bonney, Mrs. Hayden.

Candy, Mrs. Daniel Scouler, Jr., Mrs. John Hendry, Miss Effie Waddell.

Punch, Mrs. Hayden.

Cake, Mrs. J. Peterson, Mrs. W. Newcomb, Mrs. Shorter.

The evenings program opened at 6 o'clock at which time an appetizing supper was served under the direction of Mrs. Hayden assisted by a large corps of assistants. The menu consisted of roast fresh pork, with brown gravy, mashed potatoes, mashed turnips, cranberry sauce, baked beans, rolls, coffee, pies.

At 8 o'clock there was a pleasing entertainment the program being under the direction of Mrs. Marcus Wight and included piano solos by Miss Mattie Chisholm, Dialogue, "In Two Minds" by Mrs George E. Bailey and Miss Marie Lorentsen dialogue, "Back ward Child" by Miss A. B. Foster and Miss Marion Peterson. After the entertainment ice cream and cake were on sale.

DANCE THIS EVENING.

The Quincy Tennis Club will hold a dance in Alpha hall this evening.

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1153-M Quincy
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point

Sheriff's Sale.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss.
Quincy, January 14, A. D., 1915.

Taken on execution, and will be sold at public auction, on Saturday, the twenty-seventh day of February, A. D., 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, at my residence, No. 163 Franklin Street, in said Quincy, all the right, title and interest that Mary E. Ward, had (not exempt by law from attachment or levy on execution) on the 29th day of October, A. D., 1914, at eight o'clock and fifty minutes A. M., the time the same was attached on mesne process, in and to the following described real estate, to wit:—

A certain parcel of land with buildings thereon, situated in that part of said Quincy, known as Houghs Neck and bounded and described as follows:

Westerly by Sea Street, measuring 41 feet;

Northerly by land now or formerly of Adam Vogel, measuring 90 feet;

Easterly by land now or formerly of Heirs of Joshua E. Hanson, deceased, measuring 42 feet;

Southerly by land now or formerly of Chapin Thayer, measuring 92 feet;

Containing 3776 square feet; being shown as lot 15 on a plan of lots at Houghs Neck drawn by E. G. Pratt, dated July 20, 1870, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Deputy Sheriff
11-3t Feb. 11-18-25

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Weston W. Osborne late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Maria Isabella Osborne, of said Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving surety in her official bond; You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of March A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-fourth day of February in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Feb. 25 Mar. 4-8

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Angelia V. Brown, late of Northport in the State of Maine, deceased, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, and appointing John F. Smart of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, 144 Marlboro Street, his agent, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

LEON E. BROWN, Adm.
(Address) No. 144 Marlboro street, Wollaston, Mass.
January 6th, 1915.
3t Feb. 18-25 Mar. 4.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Henry W. Brown, late of Northport in the State of Maine, deceased, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, and appointing John F. Smart of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, 144 Marlboro Street, his agent, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

LEON E. BROWN, Adm.
(Address) No. 144 Marlboro Street, Wollaston, Mass.
January 6th, 1915.
3t Feb. 18-25 Mar. 4

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
—OF—
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES.
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1698 W

Read Ledger Advs.

DELCEVARE KING NOT CANDIDATE

Declines Renomination As Treasurer of W. & W. Society

Delcevare King has announced that he would decline renomination as treasurer of the Watch and Ward society because his personal business requires more time.

Mr. King's decision became known to reporters who covered the case of Eugene W. Mitchell who sued the society for false arrest and whose case has been settled out of court to the material advantage of the plaintiff.

Mr. King denied that the settlement of the case had any bearing on his resignation.

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Walter Reid, Quincy avenue, injured in a recent accident, is able to be out.

Rev. Merrill C. Ward of the Universalist church is spending a week with his family in Buxton, Maine.

Miss Yvonne Bouchard is spending the week with relatives at Lewiston, Maine.

Miss Carrie Neison of South Boston spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Morrissey of Euclid avenue.

The quarantine card has been taken down from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Forbes Craig on Federal avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Durgin of Malden have moved into the upper apartment of William Cleaves two-family house on Standish avenue.

Fred Williams, the popular drug clerk at Murphys drug store, has returned to work after being confined to his home with the grippe.

Mrs. Patrick Bradley, who was operated on at the Quincy City Hospital a few weeks ago, has returned to her home fully restored in health.

Mrs. George Troupe of Cranch street has gone to the Carney hospital where she will undergo an operation on her eyes.

The friends of Mrs. Henry Lavelle will be sorry to hear that she is confined to her home with a sprained ankle.

Robert E. Foy, the well known grocery and market man of South Quincy and Quincy, has left for Connecticut where he will enjoy his regular spring vacation.

Mayor Campbell as president of the July Fourth Celebration committee has called a meeting of the executive committee of the association for Saturday afternoon.

Chester H. Wiley of Elm avenue who was taken to Quincy City hospital last week suffering from a severe attack of appendicitis is doing as well as can be expected.

Mrs. Eugene DeNormandie will entertain the members of the Ladies Alliance of the Wollaston Unitarian church at whist at her home at 17 Park street on March 3.

The prize winners at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite city club Wednesday evening were John W. Walsh and C. L. Young. Refreshments were served after the tournament.

Mayor Campbell was closeted with City Auditor Fairbanks all of the morning, going over the budget which will be forwarded to the council next Monday evening.

At the Dedham session of the Norfolk county probate court Wednesday administrations were granted on the estates of William E. Wallace and Frances E. Jelinek of Quincy. Georgianna E. Dumais was appointed as guardian of Mary Welch, a minor of Quincy.

SONS OF ST. GEORGE.

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Sons of St. George was held last night in Clan MacGregor hall, South Quincy.

The usual concert and entertainment under the direction of the entertainment committee took place after the meeting.

PRATT'S BREAD is wholesome, nutritious, crisp and delicious Get it of your grocer.

FINN'S CASE CONTINUED

Assault With Intent to Kill Hannagan Charged Against Him

Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 25.—Dennis H. Finn, former member of the state legislature, charged with shooting Alderman Paul Hannagan at the city hall, was arraigned in the district court. He entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of assault with intent to kill.

Counsel for Finn rose to address the court when he was interrupted by the prosecuting officer, who asked that the case be continued ten days. The continuance was granted.

Finn is held, and his attorney said no arrangements had yet been made for his release on bail.

A consultation of physicians will be held to decide the question of recovering the bullet that has been found lodged in the neck not far from the spine of Hannagan.

The bullet was locate by the means of an X-ray examination, but there was much question about removing it, as it means a serious operation. Hannagan is said to be in a most cheerful frame of mind.

KILLED AT RIFLE RANGE

Bullet From Friend's Rifle Penetrates Brain of High School Lad

Portland, Me., Feb. 25.—Lawrence C. Houghton, 16, was accidentally shot and killed by Gordon J. Malone while they were engaged in rifle practice at the Deering high school.

Both were members of the Deering high school team, which is leading in the matches for the public high school championship of the United States.

Malone was in a prone position, practising with a rifle of 22 calibre for a match. Houghton and Captain Watson were standing near the target, spotting the result of his shots.

Malone changed his position slightly while his rifle was cocked and the weapon was discharged. The bullet penetrated Houghton's brain.

VERDICT OF $40,000 IS AWARDED WOMAN

Had Asked $500,000 Damages For Breach of Promise

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 25.—Miss Maud Armfield was awarded $40,000 in her $500,000 breach of promise suit against Bryant Howard, Jr., of San Diego by a jury in superior court here.

Miss Armfield was married to Howard in San Diego July 4, 1909. The marriage was annulled Oct. 7, 1909, because, it was testified, Howard's divorce from his first wife was defective.

Miss Armfield's suit was based on the allegation that she agreed to annullment with the understanding that Howard would remarry her when he secured a perfected divorce.

WAS JEALOUS OF RIVAL

Maine Man Commits Murder and Then Takes Own Life

Bingham, Me., Feb. 25.—Jealousy and the approaching time for the marriage of Claude Bouchard were responsible for the murder of Bouchard and the suicide of his slayer, Perley Hawes, at a Dead Stream pond sporting camp.

Hawes, who was about 35, and married, but did not live with his family, found Bouchard sitting in a room with Mrs. Arthur Durgin.

According to Mrs. Durgin, he commanded Bouchard to throw up his hands and, as he did so, fired one shot which entered Bouchard's head and killed him. Hawes then turned his revolver upon himself and fired three shots with fatal result. Bouchard was about 20 years of age.

FOR STEALING 75 CENTS

Man Who Once Proved Himself Real Hero Is Sent to Prison

New York, Feb. 25.—Daniel Casey, who rescued twenty-four persons and many bodies from the East river at the time of the Slocum disaster, was sentenced to six months in the workhouse after pleading guilty to the theft of 75 cents from a Harlem store.

Casey was a trusty on Blackwell's Island at the time of the disaster. For his heroism he was released from the workhouse, given a gold medal and a purse containing a large sum of money donated by the persons he saved.

Vermont Senate Rejects Suffrage

Montpelier, Vt., Feb. 25.—The woman suffrage bill, which passed the house recently, was rejected in the senate on a third reading. The house bill provided that all women real estate owners of legal age should have the right to vote.

Court Martial For Naval Officers

Washington, Feb. 25.—Court martial of four officials of the United States warship San Diego, aboard which there was an explosion recently in which several lives were lost, will be ordered by Secretary Daniels.

Alice Pelletier Seriously Sick

Thomaston, Me., Feb. 25.—Alice Pelletier, who was convicted as an accessory in the death of Mildred Sullivan, is critically ill in the state prison and it is said she may not recover.

Points for Mothers

Children's Friendships.

The friendships that children form have a far deeper influence over their lives than many parents realize.

It is not an easy matter to influence children in the formation of friendships, for even at the beginning that seems to be a matter of personal selection. There never yet was a child who did not hate the children whom his parents talked about as particularly desirable for companions. If let alone he might have chosen them of his own accord for playmates, but not after hearing too much about their virtues.

Friendship, like love, can never be created by talking too much about it. There are other ways, however, of influencing both boys and girls, and a little tact on the mother's part will accomplish wonders. It is not always pleasant or convenient to entertain a horde of children when only one playmate would be more desirable, but the old saying that there is safety in numbers is never better exemplified than in the bringing up of children. There are more quarrels, to be sure, but sensitive edges are rubbed off when exposed to the good natured but quite honest criticism of many playmates.

It is the guiding hand on the reins, the light touch that controls the most spirited horses. They respond quickly to firmness, but resent being pulled in with a jerk. A word here, a suggestion there, little plans for children's happiness that may cause many a sacrifice of comfort on the parents' part, have often nipped in the bud undesirable associations and ended, before they were really well started, friendships that would bring no lasting happiness.

The Model Nursemaid.

The children's nursemaid should be neat and have a good disposition. Irritable manners and harshness have no place in the nursery, for they soon make the little ones sullen and bad tempered. By her influence as well as by their play and games she should make them feel the value of good manners, unselfishness and perseverance.

She should insist on obedience from even the smallest child. This once learned will give the nursery an air of sunshine and contentment it cannot otherwise have. Still she must realize that good discipline does not mean tyranny and hard discipline. Punishment should only be used as a means of last resource. Then it should be to deprive the child of some simple pleasure. Any severe punishment should be left to the parents.

It is nurse's business to see that the nursery is supplied with toys to amuse the children so there may be toys for all, but it is equally important to let the children feel that the toys are owned in common. She should direct their play and games, but let all the children pick up their toys and put them away after they have finished with them.

In her personal habits and appearance she should be neat and clean. Her work is clean, so there is no excuse for dirty hands and soiled aprons.

When Lessons Tire the Child.

"The child does not pay attention," the teacher says of the little boy or girl in the kindergarten, whose mind seems to be upon the thing that is being done and yet cannot accomplish it. But it very often happens that the child is not capable of concentrating attention for very long upon one thing. He watches the play or the drawing very carefully for a certain length of time; then he wearies through no fault of his own, but because of brain fatigue, and his eyes wander to the shape of the pencil he is holding or possibly to the waving leaves of the tree outside the window.

Mothers who study their children carefully can tell just how long they can hold the attention of the child without wearying it, but the teacher, having so many to think about, may not realize that she is tiring the child with the lesson.

Many children that are voted stupid by parents or children are only slow in their mental processes and require great patience and care in the first years in the nursery or school. Let the lesson be a little longer each day, and as soon as the child seems tired change to something else.

A Blackboard For the Children.

Many mothers want something to entertain the young child so well and so long that they may read or sew or attend to household duties undisturbed for an hour at a time.

One good suggestion is a blackboard and a package of colored chalks.

It has been found that children work longest over blackboards, probably owing to the ease and the fun of erasing, an act of destruction which delights them and yet in some way is passed unchided by the superior powers. Next to this they like crayons and chalk on paper, and least of all paint.

They enjoy the water and the messing for a time, but the spreading of the paint, while they imagine it to be an ocean, seems to detract from the clarity of the image which the child had in view when he started.

Amusing sketches and actual school work may be undertaken on the blackboard. As to the board itself, a small, light, unbreakable easel shaped board worth a dollar or less is the one best liked and best suited to the children.

NOVEL COMBINATION.

Checked Skirt With Kimono Jacket of Black Satin.

ATTRACTIVE SPRING SUIT.

An afternoon suit of shepherd checked serge and black lacquered satin in oriental design, the skirt consisting of straight gores of serge alternating with circular gores of the satin, is pictured here. The kimono jacket of satin, lined with white pussy willow taffeta, has edges banded with black silk military braid embroidered in gold and green. It is a fine specimen of the modiste's art in adapting Japanese ideas in regard to dress to the taste of the occident.

NEW SPORTS CLOTHES.

What the Smart Set Dons For Outdoor Recreation.

With devotees of riding enjoying themselves in the country, clothes for day wear at the smart estates become of the riding type.

This brings into consideration a most attractive display of smart neckwear, sports hats, trim shirts and blouses, the most swagger article in boot styles and a corresponding array of good looking sports suits.

Both corduroys and tweeds have their admirers. It is about six of one and a half dozen of the other in point of preference, so honors are even.

For walking suits corduroys are in high favor.

The costume shown by a leading shop forces this point home rather decidedly, for it is one of the new models designed for spring wear by a most exclusive patron of conservative but sports loving taste.

It is of green cotton corduroy. The coat is made with a smart yoke with the skirt part showing inverted pleats, which are belted in such fashion at the waist line that but a small portion of the belt need hang when the coat is worn unbuttoned.

The skirt is of circular cut, buttoned in front and with pockets set on just below the hips.

Renewing a Rose.

To renew the charms of a shabby artificial rose, trim all the edges of the petals with sharp scissors, and if there are green leaves, trim those as well.

Then straighten bent wires, press the fresh heart of the rose open so that it has a full blown look and place the flower at the left bust of a low evening bodice in some thin material.

New, the corsage rose costs from $2.50 up to anything, but with careful pruning a twenty-five cent bargain may burst upon the eye like nature's own.

FOR PET DOGS.

Here are a few of the dainty things for the pet dog:

Military brushes, which can be monogrammed in silver.

Collars of leather, studded with brass, or with jewels if one cares for them.

Rubber coats, lined with wool for the sake of warmth, that keep all rain from the dog's back.

Rubber shoes of red flexible leather that pull on like riding boots.

Black rubber shoes that lace up the back.

Straw or leather traveling bags, well ventilated.

Bells of silver or brass to fasten on the small dog's collar.

Enameled sleeping baskets in blue and white.

Umbrellas that are strapped around the dog's body and held erect in this way over its back.

Roses and other artificial flowers to fasten to the dog's collar.

RIVERSIDE CLUB ANNUAL MEETING

The annuel meeting of the Women's Riverside club was held Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. George E. Spooner on Revere road. At the business session, the following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. George E. Spooner.
Secretary, Mrs. Ida J. Crane
Treasurer, Mrs. George Sprague.
Auditing Committee, Mrs. Isabelle Souther, Mrs. Mary Oxford and Mrs. Muriel Arnold.

After the business meeting there was a social hour during which the hostess served refreshments.

UNITY SEWING CLUB.

The Unity Sewing club held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Grace Brownrigg of Garfield street. Games of all kinds were enjoyed after which the party danced till midnight. Miss Celia Connors and Miss Marion Duffy alternated on the piano. Mrs. Nora Millard and Mrs. Theodore Andrews sang two pleasing duets. Refreshments were served.

Among those present were Mrs. Theodore Andrews, Mrs. Philip F. Garity, Jr., Mrs. Leo Hurley, Mrs. John Connors, Mrs. Nora Millard, Mrs. John Brownrigg and the Misses Marion Duffy, Celia Connors, Lou Connors, Annie Connors, Mabel Connors and Grace Brownrigg.

APPRECIATE THANKS.

Mayor Campbell received the following letter Wednesday evening from John, Joseph and Patrick Erwin, in response to his letter of commendation for their good work in clearing Music hall on the occasion of the fire Monday.

Hon. Chester I. Campbell,
Dear Sir:

We have received your letter and we more than appreciate yours and the citizens of Quincy's thanks. All we can say is that we tried to do all in our power to have them go along smoothly.

Thanking you sincerely,
John, Joseph and Patrick Erwin.

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES

20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block,

TO LET
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water, $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity $12—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity $40—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for E. r. Kribs.
Greenleaf Block, (Phone 21066) Quincy

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents. No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash. In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—New single house, with 5 rooms, bath, range, hot and cold water furnace heat, gas light. Vacant Mar. 1. John A. Weeden Greenleaf Block. 24-6t

TO LET—Upper apartment 4 rooms and bath. Furnace, electric lights, set tub, screens, etc. Ready for occupancy April 1. Apply to Miss Prescott, Ledger Office. 23-tf

TO LET—New house, five rooms. All modern improvements. Location high and dry. Inquire on premises. 149 Kendrick avenue. 23-6t

TO LET—Large front room, all modern improvements. Apply 102 Upland road. 18-6t

TO LET—A good tenement now ready. Rent reduced to $18.75 per month. C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 19-6t

TO LET—Flat of five rooms at 97 Coddington street, $2.75 per week. Key at 93 Coddington street. 18-6t

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 13-21t.

TO LET—Apartment of five rooms and bath in new house, all modern improvements, fine location, 26 Bradford street, off Franklin street. Apply to F. Barnicoat, Quincy. 10-tf

TO LET—Half of colonial house on Russell park, 7 rooms and bath, fireplace, coal and gas range and all modern conveniences. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 9-tf

TO LET—Two or three rooms, furnished or unfurnished for light housekeeping, all improvements, reasonable rent, board if desired. 132 Marlboro street, Wollaston Park. 6-tf.

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET
Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

TO LET

TO LET—For one, two or three furnished rooms, for light housekeeping. Apply 23 Hancock Court. 25-6t

TO LET—If looking for furnished rooms for light housekeeping, don't miss seeing these three cheerful rooms, private bath, near center. Modern improvements, gas, range, set tubs, etc. Write M. C. Ledger Office. 20-6t

TO LET—Three first class connecting rooms, nicely furnished, bath on same floor, centrally located, in home of American family. Light housekeeping allowed. References exchanged. Write L. H. H. Ledger Office. 26-tf

TO LET—At No. 9 Elmwood avenue, Wollaston, furnished or unfurnished rooms. Light housekeeping if desired. Modern improvements and telephone Quincy 865-W. 20-6t

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

WANTED

WANTED—To buy about six Plymouth Rock hens. Write to Mrs. Rose Beaudett, 76 Broadway. 25-1t

WANTED—A clean quiet, boarding place by a young man. Plain living good room. Write E. L. N. Ledger Office. 25-3t

WANTED—By a smart young woman day work washing, ironing, cleaning. Can give best of reference. Tel. 21036 Quincy. 21-2t

WANTED—Tracers. Young women 18 years of age or over to learn plan tracing. Apply by letter only, stating age, education, experience if any. Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation, Quincy, Mass. 24-6t

WANTED—Young man to operate Oliver Typewriter. Apply by letter, stating age, experience and wages expected to O. T. Ledger Office. 24-3t

WANTED—Girl for light house work, down-east girl preferred. Apply 6 Bittern Road, Adams Shore, Quincy. Feb. 24-3t.

WANTED—Five to fifteen acres of land on or near electrics. Write A. B. Ledger Office. 23-3t

WANTED—By a middle aged American woman position as housekeeper, experienced nurse, capable of taking full charge. Address "M. E. Z." 19 Kemper street, Wollaston. 18-6t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—An Overland car in perfect condition. Complete electric equipment. Write M. Ledger Office. Feb. 25-3t

FOR SALE—I have a full size Hallett & Davis piano all in good order, cost new $425. I need the room and will sell for $20, delivered. Easy terms write "Piano" Quincy Ledger. 20-6t

FOR SALE—Two flat house in South Quincy. Hard wood finish, modern plumbing. Very desirable renting proposition, never vacant since built. For particulars enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 9-tf lpo

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

A Few Choice House Lots
—ON—
PRESIDENT'S HILL ANNEX
are now offered for sale at very reasonable prices. All lots are high and dry, overlooking Boston Harbor. Also houses and land in all parts of the city.
SWITHIN
3 GREENLEAF BLOCK
Jan. 5-tf

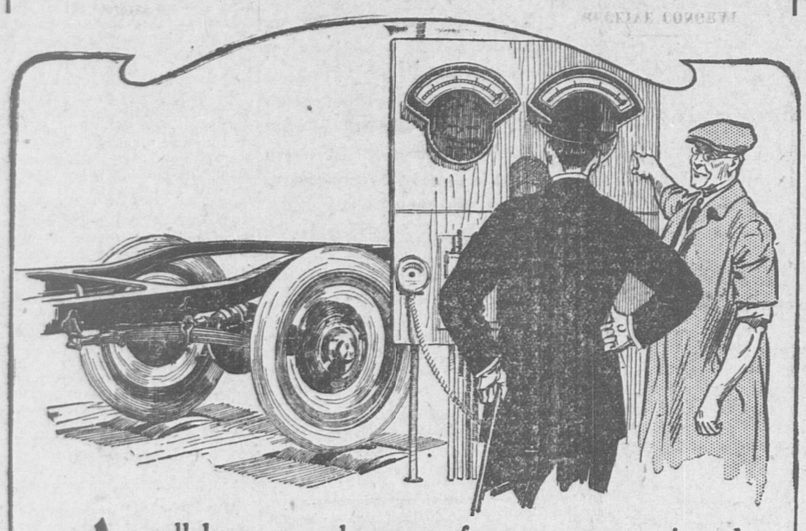

TO LET
Lower flat of new house, 5 rooms, large reception hall, large bath room, combination gas and coal range, steam heat. Located in one of the best parts of South Quincy. Two minutes to electric cars, four minutes to Quincy Adams station. Rent reasonable. Apply to
JOSEPH B. GROSSMAN,
93 Goddard Street,
Tel. 1404-W Quincy. 18-tf

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Wollaston Auto Show

Wollaston Centre Garage

NOW OPEN

A well-known axle manufacturer, acquainted with practically every automobile manufacturer in the country, was present at a meeting where twenty-one automobile engineers discussed the worm drive on the Jeffery Chesterfield Six.

Chesterfield Six $1650
Light Four $1450
Six-48 $2400

"Every comment that I heard," said the axle builder, "was favorable. One talked about the superior strength; another about the greater power efficiency; another commented on the silent running; and everyone agreed that freedom from damage through chipping, stripping and the elimination of friction meant an axle that would outlive even the car itself."

Jeffery is the first American built gasoline car to use worm drive. It must eventually become standard on all cars which lay claim to high quality.

The Thomas B. Jeffery Company
Main Office and Works, Kenosha, Wisconsin

Wollaston Centre Garage
Wollaston, Mass.

GEORGE CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

Abe George, a Syrian, was arrested today by Acting Chief McKay and Inspector Goodhue in the Fore River shipyard on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon.

The arrest grew out of an altercation between George and Poulos R. Kalim, another Syrian, in the shipyard Tuesday evening during which it is alleged George struck Kalim with a riveting hammer, inflicting a scalp wound. Kalim procured the warrant this morning. George was admitted to bail shortly after his arrest.

BRIEFS

Mrs. W. B. Blanchard, formerly of Quincy, has been visiting Mrs. Herbert Lawton Presidents hill for several days. Mrs. Blanchard now lives in Sherborn and came here to attend the 10th anniversary observance of the Quincy Women's club.

The Bulkland club met with Mrs. William F. Tenney at Adams Shore, Tuesday, the gathering taking the form of a Washington's birthday entertainment. The guests wore Washington caps and a dainty lunch was served. The erection of a yacht club house at Adams Shore was informally discussed.

PERSCH—MORRILL.

Word has been received of the marriage in Greenwich, Conn., on Friday, of Miss Pauline Morrill, formerly of Wollaston, to Donald Persch, a well-known broker of New York city. Mrs. Persch is the daughter of Mrs. Annie Morrill of Royal street, Wollaston and she has a host of friends in this city, where she spent her girlhood days. She attended the Quincy High School and later became a trained nurse in a Boston hospital. While a resident of this city Mrs. Persch took an active part in many church entertainments.

LECTURES ON PANAMA.

John L. Hamilton Speaks at Washington School.

John L. Hamilton, former president of the Board of Trade, gave an illustrated lecture on Panama and South America before the Parent-Teachers Association and seventh and eighth grade members of the Washington school on Wednesday evening. Mr. Hamilton spoke for an hour and a half.

Councilman Griffin and Williams from the ward and Arthur Newcomb, ward member of the school committee were present and made short remarks on the new school building, an order for which has been introduced in the City Council by Councilman Charles Yule, the junior representative.

LENTEN DEVOTIONS

Regular Lenten devotions were held Wednesday evening in St. Mary's church. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Walter E. Lambert of the Gate of Heaven church,, South Boston, who gave a very interesting address on the cardinal virtue, "Hope." The sermon was followed by benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, by Fr. Duffy assisted by the regular choir under the direction of Mrs. Mary (McKay) Reardon.

BIRTHS

DUNSTAN—In Quincy, Feb. 23, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Dunstan of 243 Copeland street.

DEATHS

JOSEPHINE—In Quincy, Feb. 22, Hannora F., wife of Peter R. Josephine, in her 49th year. Funeral from her late residence 162 Water street, Friday, Feb. 26, at 8.15 A. M. High mass of requiem at St. John's church at nine o'clock. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

SPEAR—In Quincy, Feb. 25, Mary F. (Mitchell) wife of Charles H. Spear. Funeral services at late home, 27 Franklin street, Monday March 1 at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 2t 25-27

GRINDELL—In Quincy, Feb. 24, Charles H. Grindell in his 76th year. Funeral services at late residence 55 Pleasant street, Saturday Feb. 27 at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 2t

FAHEY—In Tewksbury , Feb. 23, Francis E. Fahey, formerly of this city in his 42nd year.

DEEHAN—In Elmira, N. Y., Mrs. Mary Deehan, mother of George and Charles Deehan of Payne street.

BRYANT—In Boston, Feb. 25, Miss Laura Bryant of Quincy. Funeral private.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

SECOND PLACE IS AT STAKE

Geo. Carens Reviews School B. B. Season

BY GEORGE C. CARENS.

Boston Transcript.

Second place in the Greater Boston Interscholastic Basketball League series is at stake at Winthrop High School's gymnasium today when Winthrop and Quincy meet in the final game of the league series. The game was scheduled for Friday but has been advanced a day. Wellesley High, with seven victories and one defeat, has repeated its victory of 1914 in the league series; Winthrop and Quincy are bracketed in second place, each having won four and lost three games; Revere is fourth with three victories and five defeats, and Reading brings up the rear with one victory and seven defeats. Winthrop is favored to win today, but it is expected that a close contest will result.

Wellesley High's victory in the series was due largely to the fact that its defence was as strong as its attack. In the eight league encounters only 95 points were scored against the champions, while a total of 235 points were rolled up. Winthrop stands second in the matter of points scored, having 194 and, if Quincy weakens today the Wellesley total may be approached. The league teams have scored 126 points in games with Winthrop, while against Quincy they have scored 147. Quincy's margin of victory has been close several times and, on account of this, the Granite City team, although it has better than an even break, has only scored 131 points, 16 less than its opponents.

Revere lost its opening game to Reading by five points, trailed Wellesley two points in the first round-robin game, and Quincy won the second league game by a single point. Thus it can be seen that the Revere team might have been right on the heels of Wellesley if luck had been a bit more favorable. Revere scored 142 points during the season and had 156 points scored against it, but the season is not one of regrets for Winthrop High was beaten for the first time in three years. Reading High was hopelessly in the ruck, scoring only 111 points against 289 for its opponents.

WINTHROP BOYS HIGH SCORERS

Although Wellesley won the title for the second successive year, all of the honors were not captured by the champions. The high scorer of the league is William Talcott of Winthrop who caged 17 baskets from the floor and 39 fouls, giving him a total of 73 points. Talcott's foul-shooting ability gives him a ten-point lead over his teammate, Edward Wilson, who is second in the list and a warm struggle may be expected between these boys in tomorrow's contest. Talcott shot 12 baskets from free tries in one game, tieing the record that had been established earlier in the season by Perley Judkins, Reading High captain, whose foul total of 31 and ten baskets from the floor placed him fourth on the season's scoring list. Wilson of Winthrop is the high basket scorer for a single game, caging 11 in one contest and nine in another. John Fielding of Winthrop with nine, Gilbert Hamlin of Quincy and William Talcott of Winthrop with seven each and Captain Russell Webb of Revere and William Delaney of Winthrop with six apiece, being his closest rivals.

Each league team has a specialist for foul-shooting and if is put out of commission the team is often badly handicapped. Quincy lost its captain—Willard Crocker—early in the season, a knee injury forcing him to give up the game. There is no chance of his appearing today for he is only gradually regaining the full strength of his leg and is saving himself to act as captain of the Quincy High School tennis team. Crocker was Quincy's "foul" specialist and up to the time of his injury he had caged eight. The task was given to Robert Davis after Crocker had been incapacitated and he placed 14 to his credit. If he has a particularly busy afternoon today and is successful, Davis may be found among the first dozen scorers for the season. Captain Judkins of Revere was unable to play in several games and Herbert McLeod caged 18 baskets from free tries. Kurt Kuhlewein of Wellesley caged 27, Andrew Oneto of Revere 21, and Charles Orr, of Revere 11.

WHY WELLESLEY EXCELLED.

Admittedly, the hardest task for school basketball players is to cage goals under great excitement and it was in this department that Wellesley High excelled. The champions relied almost exclusively upon a short, snappy passing game, team work being used to work the ball into an opponent's territory Long passes, which are sensational but unreliable, were noticeable by their absence in a large majority of Wellesley's games. The only defeat of the season for the titlists was administered by Winthrop at mid-season and in this game only one basket was caged In the other games the players shot more accurately. Baskets from the floor were distributed as follows: Wellesley, 100; Winthrop, 75; Revere, 54; Quincy, 52; Reading, 31. The fouls were rather differently scattered, as the following shows: Reading, 49; Winthrop, 43; Revere, 34; Wellesley, 33; Quincy, 27.

TWO STILL OFF DUTY

Two of the firemen injured or overcome by smoke at the fire in Remick Bros. store Monday, are still off duty. Jerry Lynch had the misfortune to run a nail through his foot at the fire and is confined to his home under the care of a physician. John Desmond, whose eyes were badly affected by smoke, is still confined to the Houghs Neck station, who was overcome by smoke, reported again for duty this morning.

FRESH FISH

Live Shore Haddock	18c lb
Strictly Fresh Halibut	20c lb
Fresh Smelts	2 lbs 25c
Fresh Herring (large)	4c each
Finnan Haddies	12c lb
Large Opened Oysters	40c qt
Fresh Mackerel	2 for 25c

QUINCY PUBLIC MARKET
1514 Hancock St., Kincaides Bldg.
Phone 1434 J Legal Stamps Free Delivery

BATH SPRAYS
In Chocolate and Red Rubber
97c
CHAS. C. HEARN, Druggist

BIGGER THAN ANY INSURANCE POLICY
A broad statement, but a true fact.

Madam, you don't have to pay eight or ten dollars for a barrel of flour. When the grocer places high price sign on his flour, just set tight and go to the clean, tidy, wholesome and sanitary bake-shop studio known as Barnard's. I was very fortunate Madam, in securing a large quantity of flour before it went up in price.

OUR BREAD

is the same size, same price and same quality. Now let's both benefit -- Will we -- today. Always

LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN

1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.

CARL LEANDER IS CLIMBING

Carl Leander, one of the organizers of the Quincy Newsboys club and the youngest circulation manager to the south of Boston, is now sixth in the contest of the Curtis Publishing Co. First place carries with it a trip to the Panama Exposition. Since July 1st Mr. Leander has climbed steadily from 35th place.

The standing depends on the sales of the Ladies Home Journal and the Country Gentleman made in this district. Both are published by the Curtis Co., the former monthly and the latter weekly.

Mr. Leander is well known here and took a prominent part in the circulation of the election, inaugural and appointment special editions of the Quincy Ledger.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

Kincaide's Theatre.
R. E. Foy & Co.
Chas. C. Hearn.
Barnard's Bakery.
Johnson Bros.
Wollaston Auto Show.

CHIEF BILLINGS REAL SPRINTER

The sounding of the fire alarm in Braintree Wednesday night was so plainly heard in Quincy that many thought the fire to be in this city. Chief Billings was at home eating supper when the alarm sounded and immediately made ready to start for the scene. Going to the door he looked for his automobile, wondering why it did not show up. Instead of waiting he did a lively sprinting act to the central station where he arrived all out of breath and was again surprised to see all of the apparatus in place. Then it was that he learned the fire was in Braintree.

MASQUERADE PARTY.

A pretty masquerade party was held in the home of Mrs. J. Bina on Douglas street, West Quincy, Wednesday evening.

About thirty-five attended the party and thoroughly enjoyed themselves. Dancing was enjoyed till 10 o'clock when refreshments were served. The music was furnished by John Mezzacasa.

DIV. 5, A. O. H. HOLD MEETING

The regular meeting of Division 5 Ancient Order of Hibernians was held Wednesday night at Franklin hall, South Quincy. Final arrangements were made for the annual concert and ball to take place on Friday evening, April 16.

The concert will be from 8 o'clock to 9 in Quincy Adams hall, followed by dancing.

In the floor below in Franklin hall there will be four old-fashioned fiddlers who will relieve each other in keeping things moving every minute till 2 o'clock.

The committee in charge are: John J. Donahue, chairman, James Cantfill secretary, assisted by Timothy Sullivan, James McArdle, James Dougherty, James Scanlon and Thomas Brennan.

Three applications were received and voted on. Nearly 100 members were present.

Friends of Miss Julia Ceriano from Milton and Mattapan left for their homes yesterday after an extended stay at her home on Quarry street.

SIX GIRLS ARE BEARERS

Hold Services For Miss Marie McNamee

Six girls, all members of the choir of the church of St. Francis-by-the-Sea were the bearers this morning of Marie Veronica McNamee, their associate and a member of the Junior class of the Quincy High school, whose funeral took place from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McNamee of 4 Dorchester avenue, Houghs Neck.

A high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Johns church at nine o'colck. Fr. Walter A. Quinlan was celebrant and music was by the regular choir. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

RECEIVE CONGRATULATIONS.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Dunstan of 243 Copeland street are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a daughter, Tuesday, Feb. 23.

MISS LAURA BRYANT.

Miss Laura Bryant, 70 years, daughter of the late Bartholomew Bryant died this morning at the Eye and Ear Infirmary, Boston, where she has been a patient. Her body will be brought to this city for burial.

SCHOOL VACATION.

The public schools will close Friday for a vacation of one week, reopening on Monday, March 8, for another term of eight weeks.

EXPERIENCED STITCHERS
WANTED
APPLY
SOVEREIGN WAIST CO.
192 GRANITE ST.

AT THE
FOY STORES
THURSDAY ONLY
2 LBS. MIXED COOKIES 17c
Extra good value of fresh goods
UNEEDA BISCUITS
3 1-2c pkg.

ADAMS MARKET
Adams Building
PHONE 1980

WATER ST. MARKET
Water cor. Quincy St.
PHONE 117

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily -- Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 48 QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 26, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

TEN CENT REDUCTION IN PRICE OF GAS LIKELY

Delegation Secure Promise of 10 Cent Rate Under Conditions

As the result of a conference Thursday afternoon between Mayor Campbell, Senator Langelier and A. N. LaBrecque, chairman of the Board of Trade committee, with James L. Richards, president of the Massachusetts Gas Companies, the price of gas will probably be reduced to $1.10 per 1000 feet on July 1, and thereafter there will probably be an annual 10 cent. reduction until the minimum price is reached. The reduction is contingent upon the accounts of the company at the close of the fiscal year showing the stock had earned a dividend of six per cent.

The meeting was held in the office of President Richards and was arranged for by Manager Nichols of the Citizens' Gas Co. President Richards said that his company came to Quincy eight years ago by request and negotiated to take over the old company, whose service was poor, and its mains antiquated, the quality of gas poor and the price $2 per 1000 feet. The company had immediately voluntarily reduced the price to $1.50 and since that time has expended $600,000 in development, mainly for construction. In Quincy the population was not concentrated, but covered a large area making it necessary to extend the gas mains many miles. For instance the mains were laid to Houghs Neck at a cost of $60,000 and to Montclair at a cost of $10,000 where there were but 73 consumers.

Mr. Richards said that he wanted to see the city grow. The growth of the gas company depended upon it. The price of gas has voluntarily been reduced three times by the company he said, until now it was $1.20. The present business depression all over the country is felt by the gas company in the reduced amount of gas consumed. He did not feel that his associates would allow him to make promises for the reason that during the eight years the dividend has only averaged eight per cent.

Upon request of Mr. LaBrecque that he suggest something definite Mr. Richards held a short conference with Manager Nichols after which he announced that in the event of the Citizens Gas Light Company of Quincy earning 6 per cent. or more on its capital investment for the year ending June 30, 1915, it agrees that it will reduce the price of gas 10 cents per thousand cubic feet, said reduction to take effect some time between July 1, 1915 and October 1, 1915. Notice to be sent out to consumers as soon as practicable after July 1st of the reduction, at which time a definite date for same to take effect will be given."

Mr. Richards also intimated that if the company continued to earn 6 per cent. there would be an annual 10 cent reduction until the minimum was reached. It is believed the minimum in question is 80 cents per thousand cubic feet.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity.

Fair and colder Saturday. Strong westerly winds.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.24
Sun sets	5.3
Length of day	11.07
Moon sets	5.47
High water, A. M.	9.30
High water, P. M.	10.00
Days increase	2 hrs. 1 minute

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.38 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	23 degrees
Feb. 26, 1914,	44 degrees
Feb. 26, 1913,	33 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—S7.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

CIRCULAR SAW SEVERS HIS ARM

M. M. Coons Suffers Accident in Fore River Yard

Merle Morton Coons, aged 21 years, of 52 Woodlawn street, Forest Hills had his left arm severed at the Fore River shipyard Thursday night. Coons was working in the wood-working shops and was in the act of adjusting a belt when he slipped and fell onto a rapidly revolving circular saw, which practically severed his left arm. He was hurried to the Red Cross hospital on the grounds where he received first aid treatment and was then taken to the City Hospital. He is now on the dangerous list.

WOLLASTON AUTO SHOW

The Wollaston Auto Show was opened Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock with a large number of people in attendance. Manager Temple A. Winsloe had a large corps of assistants on hand to take care of the crowd. The garage was beautifully decorated, the work of decorating being done wholly by the girls of the office force. The sides of the garage were decorated with purple wisteria and ends with yellow wisteria were artistically draped. In the centre were four trees of Southern flowering dogwood and yellow jonquils which gave a very fine effect to the different automobiles which were surrounding it.

During the evening music was furnished by the Sullivan Sisters Orchestra and solos were rendered by Deputy Sheriff William J. McDevitt of Boston and Miss Louise Sullivan. Refreshments were served by the women of the different Women's Clubs in the city. Tea was served in the afternoon and light refreshments in the evening.

The manager Mr. Winsloe gave a short speech in the evening and introduced the different parts of the program. The show will be repeated this evening and Saturday evening.

WENEGATE AUTO TOP & BODY CO.

PACKARD FORE DOORS $30

Runabout, Hearse, Truck, Touring, Limousines, and Speed Bodies made to order, Mud Guards, Hoods, Tops, Slip Covers, Wind Shields and Repairing of all kinds.

CONVERTIBLE LIMOUSINE TOPS FOR ALL MAKES OF CARS
ALL WORK GUARANTEED--PRICES VERY REASONABLE

637 WASHINGTON ST.--Tel. Dor. 1180--DORCHESTER, MASS.

Feb. 18-1m

HOLDS ANNUAL LADIES NIGHT

Franklin Associates Pass Enjoyable Evening

The Franklin Associates held their annual ladies night in their hall on Franklin street, South Quincy.

The entertainment was varied. Piano solos were given by Miss Belle Robertson and William Clements. Cornet solos were rendered by Thomas Djerf of the Fore River Band. Snare drum imitations were given by William Watson. A solo by William Watson assisted by the Franklin Quartet was much enjoyed There was a drum solo by Miss Fannie McCarthy and an harmonica solo by James Bisson.

The feature of the evening was the one-act comedy sketch entitled "Not Enough of Mustard," by the Franklin actors James Bisson and William Watson.

President Russell Farquharson succeeded in threading a needle while sitting on a jug. This was the "big scream" of the evening.

Dancing was enjoyed till 11 o'clock Music was furnished by William Clements, pianist, Thomas Djerf, cornetist, and William Watson drummer. Refreshments were served.

The members of the club present were Jas. Bisson, Andrew Costa Enos Costa, Harry Farquharson, Wallace Caddy, Daniel Farquharson, Thomas Djerf, William Clements, J. Brown, R. Cavicchi ,Timothy Reagan, Peter Giglio, Robert Farquharson, Wallace Carson, John Curry, Fred Carson, Wm. Watson, Bernard McCarthy, Edward Igo and Paul Franzie.

The committee in charge of the affair was: Russell Farquharson chairman, assisted by Edward Carson, Enos Costa, Walter Carson, Andrew Costa and James Bisson.

GRANITE CONCLAVE INSTALLATION

District Deputy Thomas Galvin of Hyde Park, assisted by a suite, installed the officers of Granite Conclave, Independent Order of Heptasophs and presented Bert Irving, retiring archor, with a traveling bag in behalf of the members on Thursday evening.

The ceremonies took place in Electa hall and were followed by a turkey supper in Protection hall, during which there were vocal solos by George Davy. The supper was served by Barnard, the local baker, and members.

The details of the annual dance of the conclae to be held in Alpha hall on April 9, were discussed and the committee appointed was: John Kaison, Garrett Robertson, Miles Burnes, George Stevens, John Collins, John Cahill, Joseph Meller, J. Sprunk Wm. DeCoste and Peter M. Dackers,

William J. Canty the new archon, is a well known young man in Quincy. His home is in Atlantic and he is employed at the Wollaston factory of the Tubular Rivet and Stud Co. The officers installed were:

Archon—William J. Canty
Provost—Daniel Barnes
Prelate—James Collins
Inspector—Edward Young.
Warder—Kenny Hirtle
Secretary—Mark B. Gill.
Treasurer—John Cahill
Sentinel---Edward Ferguson.

COURT RULES FOR MRS. PFAFFMANN

At the conclusion of the evidence for the plaintiff in the suit of Hattie L. Nash against Mabel A. Pfaffmann of Quincy to recover $5000 for personal injuries owing to a defect in a piazza of the defendant's house on Charles street, before the superior court at Dedham, the court took the case away from the jury and ordered a verdict for the defendant.

You need the Ledger every day.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

QUINCY LOSES LAST GAME

Winthrop Takes Second Place By Its Decisive Win

SCORE WAS 36 to 16

The Winthrop High school quintette clinched second position in the interscholastic basket ball league by defeating Quincy High at Winthrop Thursday afternoon by a score of 36 to 16. The Talcott brothers, Fielding and Capt. Wilson figured prominently in their victory. Crosscup and Brown played well for Quincy.

Hamlin was unable to play and Beaton after he had been in for some time was forced to retire on account of a slight illness.

The second Quincy team had no difficulty in rolling up a 30 to 16 victory over Winthrop second. The win ties them for first place in the Junior league.

The defeat of the senior team was due primarily to the superior passing of Winthrop.

WINTHROP H S		QUINCY H S
Fielding rf		lb Beaton
		lb Prout
Wilson lf		rb Davis
R. Talcott c		c Crosscup
Sheehan rb		lf Welsford
Fabyan lb		rf Brown
W. Talcott lb

Score Winthrop H. S. 36, Quincy H. S. 16. Goals from floor, Fielding 7, Wilson 6. R. Talcott 2, W. Talcott, Davis, Brown, Wellsford 3. Goals from fouls, Davis 2, Welsford 3, W. Talcott 3, Brown, R. Talcott. Referee Coady. Scorer, Murray. Timer Rowe. Time, one 15m and two 10m periods Attendance 350.

OBSERVES 12th ANNIVERSARY

The Pride of Granite lodge, Odd Ladies of Manchester Unity held its twelfth anniversary of its society in Franklin hall Thursday evening Invited guests from Boston, Cambridge, Braintree, Weymouth and Brockton were present.

The feature of the night was a sketch entitled "The American Girl" by a vaudeville team from B F Keith's circuit of Boston. George Davey, the baritone singer, rendered several solos which were greeted with much favor. Miss Alice McDonald of Atlantic the Scotch dancer, also entertained wth several new steps. Refreshments were served and dancing was enjoyed till midnight. Music was furnished by Wilson's Orchestra.

The committee in charge was: Ch. Mrs. E. Spargo,; Sec. Mrs. M. L. Thomas assisted by, Mrs. Jennie Morrison, Mrs. L. Caron, Mrs. E. Williams Mrs. A. Denton, Mrs. Wm. Lilly, Mrs J. Boutelier.

The floor was in charge of Miss Elizabeth Boutelier, assisted by Miss Etta Spargo.

BOOK CLUB MEETS.

The Wollaston Book club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. E. Lake Hutchinson of North Central avenue. An interesting literary program was presented and dainty souvenirs, the work of the hostess, were won by Mrs. William E. Howard and Mrs. E. Pence Mitchell. A consolation prize was given Mrs. Percy Clapp.

At five o'clock the guests adjourned to the dining room where delicious refreshments were served. The room was strikingly decorated with potted plants, jonquils and violets. The centre of the table represented a Japanese garden, and at each place was a bouquet of violets. The beauty of the scene was further enhanced by the soft light of many candles.

The next meeting of the club will be held March 10 at the home of Mrs E. Pence Mitchell of Belmont street.

Manager Louis Ross of the Wardwell alleys submitted to a slight surgical operation Thursday. His condition is good today.

RESCUES GIRL FROM RUFFIANS

Police Officer Pursues Young Men Without Success

An unknown girl, thought to be a native of Finland; was rescued from the toils of half a dozen men in the Quincy Adams freight yard by Patrolman Henry Corbett late Thursday evening. The girl is thought to have boarded a Braintree bound train while he was identifying her alleged assailants since she was missing on his return.

The girl was first seen standing on the station platform. Several young men approached and entered into conversation. They were joined by others and as far as can be learned, some of the group suddenly picked her up and, while one covered her mouth to prevent her screaming, carried her over a fence to the lumber pile on the property of Louis Grossman.

Patrolman Corbett made an immediate investigation. The young men fled on his approach and he took up the chase, but without success. In the meantime the girl disappeared.

Thinking she had gone to Braintree he sent one of the railroad employees in search of her. The employee boarded the late train and went to Braintree where he asked Patrolman Jeremiah Galvin of that town whether or not any girl debarked there. He said he had not seen any girl answering the description leave the train.

Patrolman Galvin then came down to Capen's bridge and inquired as to whether or not a girl had recently passed that way. No definite information was obtained.

The girl will be a material witness if any arrests are made. Inquiry in Braintree this morning revealed that a young woman evidently of foreign birth, left a train at South Braintree before midnight and was noticed by Patrolman John Shay. He believes he can produce her if necessary.

ANTICS OF THE ALUMNI.

Graduates of Q. H. S. To Give Vaudeville Show.

High school graduates from all sections of the city this evening will wend their way to the school assembly hall, there to witness the big vaudeville show of the High School Alumni association. The show is free as the air to members, and each of the latter is privileged and urged to bring one friend.

A feature of the vaudeville will be a short play, coached by Miss Ella Packard, in which five well known alumni will demonstrate their histrionic abilities. Then there will be some high grade, sparkling specialty acts by those members of the graduates who have proved their preeminence in this line. J. Brooks Keyes is in charge of the entertainment, which is another way of saying that something unusual may be expected.

EXHIBITION DANCE FEATURE.

Skandinavian Brotherhood Hold Interesting Meeting.

Exhibition dancing by Miss Nancy Carlstrom and Herman Johnson was one of the features of the party which followed the meeting of the Quincy lodge of the Skandinavian Brotherhood of America in John Ericson hall Thursday evening.

The meeting was largely attended. An interesting address on the purposes and benefits of the order was given by Otto Peterson and three candidates were initiated.

NOBILI—VERZARI.

Antonio J. Nobili, 31 years, and Mary Verzari, 31 years, both of 242 Water street were married in Boston on Feb. 20 by Lewis Pennini, justice of the peace. The groom is a stonecutter. Both are well known among the Italian residents of Quincy.

The Ladies Aid society of the Swedish Lutheran church met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Adolph Nelson, East Braintree. There was a good attendance. Refreshments were served.

WARNS MAYOR OF ELECTION COMING

Speakers Urge Better Streets in Atlantic and Squantum

Civic Improvements was the subject of a most enthusiastic meeting ever held by the Atlantic Improvement association.

The meeting, which took place Thursday evening in Atlantic Music hall, was more than a meeting of the Atlantic association, it was a joint meeting of the associations of Atlantic, Norfolk Downs, Squantum and Montclair, and was largely attended. Each person wore a tag on which was written his name and the Association to which he belonged.

The first half hour was given over to getting acquainted and at 8.30 the president, Henry F. Mosses called the meeting to order. Senator Louis F. Langelier, Attorney Alva L. Stinson, Councilmen, Fuller, Nelson, Kessler, and Prescott were on the platform.

The president in welcoming the visiting associations said: "On behalf of the Atlantic association I want to express a hearty welcome to the men who have made it convenient to be with us this evening, and say a few words. The purpose of this meeting is to discuss Civic Improvements."

Mr. Mosses introduced Senator Langelier who told of the different bills being brought before the Legislature to extend the Boulevard and of the bill which he hopes will make possible a new Neponset bridge.

The speaker said the results of his efforts to secure lower gas and electric light rates in Quincy would be printed in the local newspapers Friday. He expressed Mayor Campbell's regrets at not being present owing to a severe cold.

Mr Stinson the next speaker said: "I think the matter of good roads and streets is of first importance in the matter of Civic Improvements in any town. I was deeply impressed with the roads coming up here tonight,, yes very deeply impressed—up to my knees in some places.

"The city of Quincy should be ashamed of the way it has treated Atlantic in the last five years. By "the city of Quincy" I mean the officials. Now here is a warning, not a threat mind you, but a warning, to the present administration. If it does not do something and that soon we may send them home in the fall in need of rear patches.

"Our officials get in ruts. They forget their term of office is for but one year and that in that time they must give attention to the whole city. I wonder what the present administration has done for Atlantic. Perhaps they have not had any opportunity to do anything, yet perhaps they have. If the present administration does not do all it should do and can do and do it soon their "fresco" will be hanging in threads.

"We have here the most beautiful section in Quincy but it has been sadly neglected. How would it be to get our officials together some rainy afternoon, take them down Billings street to the troubled sea, then up Atlantic down Conant Road and up Ocean street and then lead them over to Squantum head to think it over.

"I invited a friend of mine here last summer, a wealthy Boston lawyer who had $20,000 with which he intended to build his home in Atlantic. This was before he came but when he did come he said it was nothing but dog paths and lover's lanes. Why does not Quincy realize her natural advantages? If you tell us I will put my lily-white hand in yours and we will get busy."

The next speaker, Councilman Nelson of Squantum, outlined the work of the Squantum Improvement Association of which he is president. Mr. Nelson was the only one to speak against the cooperation of the four associations. His argument was that it was the selfishness of each separate association which brought about results.

(Continued on Page Three.)

TO HALT MILK LAW VIOLATION

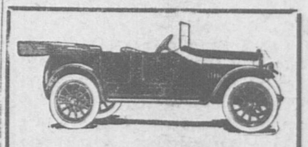

Board of Health Will Take Action

The Board of Health will not tolerate violations of the law relative to the sale of milk not to be used on the premises and all infractions will be summarily dealt with.

This was the statement of Dr. Harold Diehl of the Board this morning after he investigated an alleged violation in the city.

Dr. Diehl's investigation in this particular case was the result of a complaint registered with the board. He found that milk was being delivered to a certain place in eight quart cans and then dispensed and that the milk had been furnished from a dairy, the proprietor of which, he believed, to be entirely innocent of its final disposition.

The laws at present require milk to be taken from premises, to be sold in bottles. This law, sometimes termed the "original package" regulation has been in vogue several years.

JACKSON
Model 44

embodies all the distinctive Jackson Features. Durability, economy of operation, assured comfort and pleasing appearance. Seating capacity of 5.

Price $1250

Equipped with electric lights and starter, speedometer, etc.

JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

EXPERIENCED STITCHERS
WANTED
APPLY
SOVEREIGN WAIST CO.
192 GRANITE ST.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

PHILLIPS NOT THE MAN.

The editorial in Thursday's Ledger entitled "The Police Shake-up" might be interpreted in such a way as to do injustice to a hard working officer. The portion of the editorial referred to read as follows:

There is one officer, for example, who upon occasions recently has been accustomed to view his duties rather lightly. He is assigned to the early morning shift, a disagreeable task it must be confessed. This officer has been in the habit of leaving his beat for intercourse with friends, one of the latter of whom obligingly takes him by auto to the police box when the hour comes to ring in. We believe this officer will heed the Mayor's warning and that he and others who have disregarded their responsibilities will pursue a better and safer course hereafter. Failure to do so will probably lead to detection, followed if we read the mayor's talk aright, by dismissal. Hereafter the Ledger intends to bring to the attention of his honor and of the people of Quincy any serious violations of duty which come under its observation.

Strictly speaking, the "early morning shift" extends from midnight to nine o'clock in the morning and to this shift, as such, only two officers are assigned. The words "early morning shift," therefore, to many persons may have served to narrow the identity of the officer the Ledger had in mind to one of these two. As Officer Phillips covers the city square beat the suspicion might naturally fall upon him. OFFICER PHILLIPS IS NOT THE MAN.

The officer the Ledger had in mind is one of the 7 P. M. to 4 A. M. shift, the night shift. His offence is committed at an early morning hour, four o'clock. Because of the peculiar method in dividing the shifts in effect in this city this officer's offence is committed, therefore, on the night shift rather than on the early morning shift.

QUINCY MUSIC HALL.

Not only the managers of Quincy Music hall but the public must feel pleased that the hall came through the recent fire in the building in such good shape that no bookings have been canceled and social affairs will go on in the hall as usual.

Only a few theatres and halls in the state have the highest rating and Music hall is in this class, having exceptionally good protection in case of fire, with 37 feet of exit. It has the best fire protection and the highest rating, which gives patrons a feeling of security and speaks well for the owners who are willing to stand the cost of it, as such protection is necessarily expensive.

Credit should be accorded Mayor Campbell, Senator Langelier and Mr. LaBrecque, chairman of the Public Lighting Committee of the Board of Trade for their efforts in behalf of less expensive gas in Quincy. As a result of the arguments which they presented the Massachusetts Consolidated Gas Companies, of which the Citizens Gas Light Co. is a subsidiary, have promised a ten cent reduction if the companies are able to pay a six per cent dividend at the close of the present fiscal year, June 30. Credit should also be accorded the gas company for meeting the Quincy delegation more than half way.

The company presented facts and figures apparently conclusive to anyone who held delusions that the company was earning big dividends. The local company paid no dividends for the first four years. The average dividend for eight years has been two per cent, it is stated, indicating that for the past four years the average has been four per cent.

The better average earning which appear likely in the future the company has consented to share with the consumer. This is the right attitude for a public service corporation to take and the gas company is to be commended.

Dr. Tivnen of Chicago says love is a disease, and gives it the scientific name of "anaphylaxis." If this be true, then confidence might also be termed a disease because of its contagion. If business men want prosperity they must think it, will it, talk it, and act as if it were here. Then they may find for themselves how contagious it is.

QUINCY BOY IS AUTHOR

Pi Eta Society Present Comedy Here on March 25

Paul Blackmur, Harvard '11, son of Atty. and Mrs. Paul R. Blackmur of Elm street, this city, is the author of the musical comedy entitled "Robin the Robber," which will be presented at Quincy Music hall, Thursday, March 25, by the Pi Eta society of Harvard University.

Mr. Blackmur has achieved success in many lines since entering Harvard, having been particularly prominent in the Glee club. He was a leading candidate for ivy orator, being defeated by a narrow margin. His latest achievement is in many respects the most noteworthy of all.

The scene of the comedy is laid in a small mythical kingdom where beautiful princesses and courtiers abound and where handsome robber chieftains infest the woods. Several Quincy boys will take part in the production. The musical side of the program was composed by Murray Hall '15, who is well known in undergraduate musical circles at Harvard.

ADDRESS ON PROHIBITION

In place of the usual weekly prayer meeting service at the Bethany church Thursday evening Delcevare King gave a talk on "National Prohibition" movement. The chapel was filled and the talk of Mr. King was most interesting. First taking up the change in the scientific side of the question he spoke of it from the standpoint of efficiency. He also spoke of the progress of the National Prohibition movement and its hopeful aspects. In closing he said it was inevitable that national prohibition would come in a few years.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The ten boys who attended the Boys Conference held at Pawtucket, Rhode Island Feb. 19th to 22 report having had a good time. About 630 boys were together during the conference.

Stereopticon pictures for the boys this week Saturday morning at nine o'clock. Last week a large number were out to hear Mr. John T. Melville talk on Western Plain Life.

The Bible Classes will meet as usual this afternoon and Sunday afternoon. The boys are studying hard preparing for the examinations which will take place the middle of April.

The Employed Boys Gym. club is flourishing and at the last meeting Sunday afternoon made some interesting plans for the future enjoyment of the club.

The Junior Basket ball teams will play two games Saturday afternoon at four o'clock. The first team will line up against a team from East Weymouth while the second team will battle with the Washington street Congregational church boys.

Our Senior teams 1st and 2nd will have as their opponents the Cambridge Y. M. C. A. 1st and 2nd teams Saturday evening at eight o'clock.

Special events have been planned during the next week while the boys are enjoying their week's vacation.

The meeting for men held in Kincaide Theatre which has been anticipated for some time will commence Feb. 28, when Mr. Ora S. Gray will be the speaker. A Band Concert by the Wollaston Band from 3 to 3.30 All men of Quincy welcomed at these meetings.

Much interest is being shown in the Annual Y. M. C. A. play which is to be given in Quincy Music hall April 7th. Those in the cast say it is the funniest thing they have seen in years Tickets are going fast and may be secured at the building at any time.

BEFORE COMMITTEE.

Chief Billings of the Fire Department appeared before the committee of the council on fire department matters Thursday evening in connection with orders that have been referred to that committee on fire department matters. The meeting was an executive one.

BARON CHINDA.

Japanese Ambassador To the United States, Who Handles Our Notes.

Photo © by American Press Association.

COMPROMISE IN SIGHT

Japan Waives Chief Demands Made Upon Chinese Government

Pekin, Feb. 26.—The outlook for an adjustment of the differences which have arisen between China and Japan has improved distinctly. The conferences between representatives of the two nations apparently are progressing toward a compromise.

The Japanese government has given indications which are regarded as definite that it will not insist for the present upon the group of general demands which it presented. These include the chief points upon which China based her resistance to the representations from Tokio.

GERMAN ATTACHE'S NAME MENTIONED

Alleged Passport Fraud Is Unearthed In New York

New York, Feb. 26.—Government officials delved deeper into a second fraudulent passport case, following the arrest and confession of Richard Stegler, a German, that he was about to be sent to England to do spy duty for the German government, while masquerading as an American citizen traveling on business.

Captain Boyed, German naval attache at Washington, is mentioned in Stegler's confession, which was prompted by his young American bride of three months.

Arrested with Stegler was Gustave Cook, a waiter in the American hotel at Hoboken, who, it is alleged, induced Richard Madden, an employe in a Hoboken dance hall, to allow Stegler to use his birth certificate in getting a passport.

Madden was arrested by special agents of the department of justice at Hoboken and will be arraigned with Stegler and Cook.

FINEST IN THE LAND

Dedication of Angell Memorial Animal Hospital at Boston

Boston, Feb. 26.—The Angell Memorial hospital, the new animal hospital that cost $225,000, contributed by 10,000 persons as a memorial to the late George T. Angell, was dedicated yesterday afternoon and will be ready on March 1 to receive sick and injured horses, dogs, cats and birds.

At the formal dedicatory exercises President Lowell of Harvard university, Governor Walsh and Mayor Curley paid a tribute to Angell, founder of the M. S. P. C. A. and American Humane societies, forty-four years ago.

The appointments of the hospital are the best of any institution of the kind in the country, and special attention was paid to the arrangements of the operating room and quarters for horses.

REWEDS AT AGE OF 15

Missouri Girl Marries the Day After She Is Divorced

Webb City, Mo., Feb. 26.—Divorced and married again within twenty-four hours at the age of 15 is the record of Grace Tucker of this city, now Mrs. Willie Shadwick.

At 12 Grace Tucker was married to Mirt Jamerson, 30 years old. After two years they separated. She was granted a divorce, pleading she had been forced into the first marriage by her relatives.

Mer maiden name of Grace Tucker was restored and Miss Tucker, with the consent of her mother, was married to Willie Shadwick.

Death of Victim of Assault

Boston, Feb. 26.—Nicholas Gay, who was murderously assaulted on Hampden street on the way to his home, died of his injuries last evening. The police have three men under surveillance.

No Aliens on Public Work

Albany, Feb. 26.—The constitutionality of the state law prohibiting the employment of aliens on public work was upheld by the state court of appeals.

News of Interest to Granite Manufacturers and Workers

The weather of the past week has been favorable to the granite industry and business has begun to show something of the activity which should naturally exist at this time of the year. The quarries are operating almost a full gang and are getting out a lot of stone which indicates that business is coming along. Several of the sheds have put on more men during the past week.

The polishing mills while not so busy are preparing for the usual spring rush. The stone which is now being delivered to the sheds will be ready for the mill in a few weeks at which time the polishers will have plenty to do.

Shipping is beginning to show an increase both at the West Quincy and South Quincy freight yards.

At the South Quincy yard the teams have to wait to be unloaded and the crane is busy all day. A large amount of finished work is being shipped.

At West Quincy several car loads of rough stock has been shipped the past week with a few cars of slabs. A lot of finished work is also being loaded at the present time.

A BUSY YARD.

The yard of J. N. White & Sons on Miller street is busy at the present time. This firm turns out a large amount of work every season and from May 1st until Memorial Day a large truck is employed hauling the finished work to the cemeteries.

This firm has recently erected a large all-polished memorial to the late Mayor William T. Shea in St. Mary's Cemetery. It is a three-piece monument of best Quincy granite and the second base and die are all polished. It is one of the finest pieces of work in the cemetery.

ERECTING NEW DERRICK.

Riggers are at work erecting a new derrick for H. Gerrior & Company at the new plant at the corner of Garfield and Quarry streets. The firm is finishing up what work it has on hand at its present location on Quarry street and will occupy its new shed as soon as the power is connected and the derrick rigged.

The company has a large amount of spring work to cut, including a large vault job. Mr. McLean of the company looks forward to a busy season in their new plant. McDonnel & Sons who formerly did business at this place were one of the larges producers in the city.

COMPLETING CRANE.

Work is being rushed completing the erection of the travelling crane at the yard of D. F. Fitzgerald on Miller street. The crane was put up the first of the week and will be ready for operation in a short time. To erect the crane a shed had to be moved and a new foundation is now being constructed. Business is picking up in the yard and the outlook is said to be good for a busy season.

WILL BE MISSED.

William J. Hebert who was appointed to the local police force this week has been affiliated with the granite men of the city in his position as freight clerk at the West Quincy station. He was always courteous and obliging to all who had dealings with him. His duties were to look up all claims for lost freight. He will be missed by his many friends.

MR. DEANE OPTIMISTIC.

The yard of A. M. Deane & Co. has begun its usual spring rush. The men who have been working part time all winter started the first of the week on full time. Mr. Deane is very optimistic and reports a good number of spring orders. He expects that this year will be the largest in the amount of work ever done by his firm.

PREPARING TO RETIRE.

Alexander Kemp is finishing up the work he has on his books at his plant on Nightingale avenue. Mr. Kemp will retire from business about the tenth of March.

ON WESTERLY GRANITE.

The report of last week which stated that the inability of the producers to get their stock from Westerly in any kind of season has been questioned by several dealers in Quincy. The Crumb Quarry Company of which F. W. Barnicoat of this city is the owner reports that they have been shipping stock to this city all winter and are prepared to fill all orders in shortest time possible. In past years it has been stated that it was almost impossible to get Westerly granite during the winter months. The Crumb Quarry Company operated all winter and is now able to handle all orders in due time. Outside of this company little Westerly is coming here just now.

The Ledger has received a letter from the Crumb Quarry Co. stating its side of the case. The letter follows:

Editor Daily Ledger:

We are in receipt of a copy of the American Stone Trade Magazine published at Chicago, Illinois, in the interests of the stone industry, and we note they have copied from your paper the following:

"The manufacturers of this city are forced to hold over Westerly orders on their books all through the winter, owing to the fact that no stone is quarried in Westerly during cold weather. If salesmen would give more attention to Quincy Granite the workmen would not be idle in the winter and there would not be such a rush around Memorial Day."

We wish to call your attention to the error of this item. We are shipping to over seventy firms in Quincy, and are filling all orders practically inside of thirty days from receipt of order, as our quarry is in excellent condition and with the large force of men we have at work, in spite of the bad weather we are making shipments practically as prompt as in the summer months, and as this item appeared in your paper we think it only fair that you correct the statement.

Our company purchased the largest and best quarry in Westerly, Rhode Island eight years ago. Mr. F. Barnicoat of your city is treasurer, and Mr. F. Charles Barnicoat of your city is secretary, the quarry being operated under the name of the Crumb Quarry Company..

We have noted from time to time items inserted from your paper and other papers, of parts of speeches of prominent Quincy men, and it seems to be their idea that the way to boom Quincy would be to shut out all outside granite and confine themselves totally to Quincy granite.

This is certainly a very odd idea to have and in our minds a queer way to boom a city. Quincy and Westerly Granite are in no ways competitors. If the salesmen followed your advice the granite cutters of Quincy would be walking the streets both summer and winter, or would have to leave town in order to obtain a living, and if you believe that Westerly granite should only be manufactured in Westerly, many of your manufacturing concerns would either have to give up business or move to Westerly.

Other communities are reaching out to see if they cannot bring in some outside business, while the policy of your papers, and of your prominent citizens seems to be to kill all the outside business if possible. The large amount of Westerly Granite that is cut in Quincy is due to the superior business qualities of your business men, and their shrewdness in recognizing the fact that there was a big demand for Westerly Granite, and besides getting all the Quincy orders they could get, if they were able to get order for outside granite they knew it would be a considerable boom to their business and the result has been that they have built up a large and prosperous business cutting Westerly Granite, which some of the citizens in your city outside of the granite industry seem to think is very improper.

While published and read locally, your pieces make very little difference to the situation as practically all the Westerly orders cut in Quincy come from outside points, but when the item is copied and published in the Stone Trade papers, throughout the country the mis-statements create a wholly wrong impression, and certainly would not inspire dealers with confidence in Quincy concerns during the winter months so that they would place their orders with them.

If the Westerly Granite was brought to Quincy finished and set up in your cemeteries depriving the local firms and cutters of a livelihood, we could understand the attitude that your paper is assuming, but when you consider that all this Westerly Granite comes to Quincy in the rough, and is delivered to your business men, and cut by your citizens and then practically all of it reshipped to other points we should think you would regard it as a very fortunate circumstance instead of a practice to be condemned.

Very truly yours,
CRUMB QUARRY COMPANY,
Frank A. Sullivan,
Pres. & Mgr.

BEFORE COMMITTEE.

Col. Sweetzer and Lieut Downes Appear.

Col. Warren E. Sweetzer and Lieut. G. M. Downes of the 6th regt. M. V. M. the latter being in charge of the Machine Gun company in Quincy, were before the finance committee of the city council Thursday evening. The meeting of the committee was an executive one and the military officers appeared in connection with the order before the council appropriating $2,000 for the expenses of the machine gun squad. City Solicitor Pinkham was also present in connection with the same matter. It was not given out what action was taken. Capt. Daniel R. McKay was also present at a meeting of a joint committee earlier in the evening in relation to police matters.

BIGGER THAN ANY INSURANCE POLICY

A broad statement, but a true fact.

Madam, you don't have to pay eight or ten dollars for a barrel of flour. When the grocer places high price sign on his flour, just set tight and go to the clean, tidy, wholesome and sanitary bake-shop studio known as Barnard's. I was very fortunate Madam, in securing a large quantity of flour before it went up in price.

OUR BREAD

is the same size, same price and same quality. Now let's both benefit -- Will we -- today. Always

LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN

1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.

BATH SPRAYS

In Chocolate and Red Rubber

97c

CHAS. C. HEARN, Druggist

GILL ASSOCIATES ENJOY DANCING

There was a good attendance Thursday evening at Colonial hall at the social dance given under the auspices of the George L. Gill Associates. About fifty couples participated. The party a pretty one, was matronized by Mrs. Harry W. Tirrell, Mrs. John H. Gillis and Mrs. George A. Wardwell. Dancing was from 8 to 12 o'clock with a brief intermission at 10 o'clock at which time ice cream and cake were served. The committee in charge were: Mrs. Annie Pushee, Mrs. Kate Irwin, Mrs. Marie Hall, Mrs. Sadie Wood, Miss Grace Hodge, Miss Ethel Sargo, Mrs. Edith Williamson, Mrs. Sadie Walker, Mrs. Mary Jones and Mrs. Maude Richardson.

PRATT'S BREAD—the staff of life for you and your wife. Get a loaf today.

NOTICE TO SHIPPERS
EXPRESS SERVICE DISCONTINUED

On and after March 1, 1915, the BAY STATE STREET RAILWAY COMPANY will discontinue its arrangements for picking up and delivery of express matter by teams. This should not be confused with its conduct of Freight Service, which will be operated as in the past.

3t Feb. 20-24-26

NOTICE!

This space will be devoted each day—not to advertise cheap grade at full value, but Johnson Bros. Quality Goods at a sure low price.

BUY THESE TODAY

FRANCO-AMERICAN READY MADE SOUP
Finest QUALITY in Soups 10c can 3 cans 25c
Large can of Baked Beans, Regular Price 15c
for today 10c per can.

JOHNSON BROS., City Square.

SEE IT TODAY

EXPLOITS of ELAINE

— Ninth Episode—Two Reels —
— Also New Two Reel Educational and Comedy "Pathe Picture" —
— New Vaudeville —
THE FOUR BANTAS — Novelty Musical Act
PARIS & VANNETTE — Talking and Singing Comedians
McCARTHY SISTERS — New Songs--New Dances--Rapid Change Artists
CARMEN — The Marvelous Hoop Roller
THURS. FRI. SAT. Matinee Daily 2.30 P. M. 10--15c — Evenings at 8 — 10--15--25c

Kincaide Theatre

Coming March 1-2-3 — Sequel to The Million Dollar Mystery--2 Reels
THE IDLER---A wonderful Photo-Play--5 Reels--Produced by Chas. Frohman
The Four Frazers--Scotch Entertainers--Harry Murphy, Black Face Comedian
Pathe Daily News of World Interest

TENNIS CLUB GIVE DANCE

Miniature Tennis Rackets Distributed As Souvenirs To All

OUT OF TOWN GUESTS

The invitation dancing party of the Quincy Tennis club in Alpha hall on Thursday evening was one of the prettiest and most successful affairs of the season. Many elaborate gowns were worn and metropolitan Boston was well represented among the guests.

The matrons were Mrs. Harry L. Rice, Mrs. Paul R. Blackmur and Mrs. Russell A. Sears. Their receiving corner was a bower of fragrant foliage, blossoms, potted plants and palms. The hall decorations were simple and attractive.

Miniature tennis rackets, with ribbon bows of the club colors, were distributed during the evening and frappe and ices were served.

The modern dances were freely indulged in, music being furnished by Bolle's tango team of colored musicians.

The patronesses were Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann, Mrs. A. W. Hall, Mrs. Carl R. Sheppard, Mrs. James H. Slade, Mrs. Frank H. Breslyn, Mrs. H. R. Holden, Mrs. J. Brooks keyes, Mrs. Henry W. Porter.

The affair was under the direction of the husbands of the patronesses, all of whom are members of the board of governors of the club, and William C. Edwards. The floor was in charge of President George E. Pfaffmann and Treasurer James H. Slade.

Among the out of town guests were Miss Edith Faxon of Brookline, Gardner Emmons and Gordon Kreer of Cambridge, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Hall of Milton., Miss Florence Stratton of Dorchester and Mrs. Charles Tatman of Worcester.

REV. HOKENSON DECLINES CALL

Will Remain For Present at Lutheran Church

Rev. Leander Hokenson of the Swedish Lutheran church has declined the call recently extended him by the Swedish Lutheran church of Lowell. Rev. Mr. Hokenson's decision became known today.

One fact which had considerable bearing on his declining the call was that the new chapel at the church has not been completed. Work is being rushed and it is now ready for shingling and plastering. The contract for installing the heating apparatus was awarded today to C. E. Shute of Boston.

TO ORGANIZE COURT.

A court of the Knights of King Arthur is to be organized in the Wollaston Methodist church this evening under the leadership of Sumner Gaddes.

Safe Robbery In Daylight

Boston, Feb. 26.—Three men robbed the safe of the Waldorf Lunch company at 15 Cornhill in mid-afternoon, carrying out their program coolly in the presence of several lunchers and chasing Assistant Manager Ryan to cover with a revolver when he tried to interfere. The thieves escaped.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1827-W Quincy

WARNS MAYOR

(Continued from Page One.)

Councilman Kessler of Montclair said Atlantic was receiving more interest from Quincy than she realized. He then gave a short outline of the Montclair association and advocated cooperation.

Councilman Fuller of Atlantic spoke of the needs of the fire, police and school departments. "You are aware," said Mr. Fuller, "that there are horses that have been in service for from eighteen to twenty years and are still in service. Some of the ladders in use are hardly strong enough to bear the weight of two persons. The police department is poor on account of the lack of funds. There is only one policeman to cover the whole of Ward Six. It seems to me that these departments need care before the streets."

Councilman Prescott, the last speaker said: "It seems that one of the earlier speakers made a mistake in thinking Atlantic the only neglected section. About fifty cents out of every dollar goes to pay interest. We cannot have improvements while we spend so much on interest. Wait a few years. Reduce the debt and interest; this will help out in years to come." Mr. Prescott referred to the water tax situation as being of greater importance.

President Mosses then came forward and in answer to the last speaker said, "I have been trying to figure out whether "getting in debt for improvements" is a correct statement. Improvements are made, thereby making a site attractive. A man comes and buys a piece of land, builds his home on it and pays taxes to the city. Now I should call that a corking good investment for the city."

At this interval, there was a recess of fifteen minutes, during which Caterer Ducker served coffee, sandwiches doughnuts and cigars, after which the meeting was open for discussion. Harry F. Clark argued for lower gas and electric light rates. He compared rates in Quincy with those of surrounding cities.

Charles Axberg of Norfolk Downs Association told of conditions in Seattle where he had lived for years and stated that the city controlled the electric light plant and sold the electricity for power at two cents per watt and for lighting three cents.

When individuals controlled the electric light plant they could not afford to sell it for ten cents, he contended, but when the government took it the price was reduced at once. He declared that men of money and power could influence legislature. Money controls as long as it can.

Harry W. Read was called upon and spoke of his appreciation of the enthusiasm of the Atlantic Improvemen Association. He stated that he had lived in Atlantic for over 30 years that he had seen it grow up and prosper.

Mr. Read said he was sore all over but not sour. He said he was sore at the way Atlantic has been used, and was kicking all the time about it. He said he told "Bill" Shea to come to Atlantic and look it over. He also told "Gene" Stone to visit Atlantic when he was mayor and he had asked Mayor Campbell to come down once in a while. He then caused a good deal of laughter telling he owned an auto and would be willing to be blindfolded and could guarantee that he could tell a Quincy street as soon as he struck it.

There is one thing more Mr. Read said he felt and that was that Ward Six had not one important appointee in office and had not had in the last six years with but one exception. Most important appointees stop at Wollaston, Atlantic, the Downs, Montclair and Squantum are left out of consideration.

James Churchill of Billings street asked that the men would take more interest in the looks of streets by not leaving their ash barrels out all day Sunday and until Wednesday or Thursday.

He said he feared Atlantic did not get the best service. Mr. Churchill said he would like to have the three councilmen of the ward investigate and see if Atlantic is getting its share of improvements.

Councilman Fuller stood up after Mr. Churchill sat down and thanked the men for their suggestions as he had been on the city council two months and did not know that any body was dissatisfied and he had come to the conclusion that he would have to look around and see if anything was needed.

Mr. Fuller's statement seemed almost to start a bomb as James Hagar of Squantum took the floor at once and said he had been kicking for years and that if Councilman Fuller would come to Squantum and look over Dorchester street he would see a place where there is only three feet of ground between the car track and the water, if the fire truck tried to reach the end of the car line it would be almost impossible.

He said that Squantum had no police protection except in summer and no fire protection except what could be had from Atlantic.

Mr. Kenyon of Squantum suggested that the Atlantic and Squantum Associations get together and not allow the Bay State R. R. to afflict them by that turn on Hancock street that would not be allowed in the backwoods of Maine and that it would be a small matter to fix the road so that the car would turn on the street.

A movement was carried to make the organization of the four improvement associations and patriotic association of War Six into a permanent organization.

Henry Mosses was chosen chairman W. N. Davis clerk, and Harry W. Read, treasurer.

A committee of five is to be appointed to draw up plans for the permanent organization.

DEFENSE BOARDS OUSTED

General Board of Review Will Give Advice on National Defense

Washington, Feb. 26.—Five special defense boards are abolished by war department orders. The work which these special boards previously have done will hereafter be directed by a general board of review, composed of from five to seven officers on detail in Washington, who will from time to time make recommendations regarding the country's defenses.

The membership of this board has not yet been determined by Secretary Garrison. In addition to the recommendations which the board of review may make from time to time, department commanders will be authorized to make other suggestions based upon the defensive needs of their respective jurisdictions.

The special boards which have been ordered dissolved are the national land defense board, which has been charged with looking to the proper protection of the land approaches of coast defense; the Cape Henry defense board, the Long Island sound defense board, the Panama fortification board, and Philippine defense board.

TO AVOID BIG TAX

Rockefeller Swears He Is Not a Resident of Buckeye State

New York, Feb. 26.—John D. Rockefeller testified by deposition, at his home at Pocantico Hills, in an effort to avoid paying a personal property tax of $1,150,700 levied upon him by the authorities of Cuyahoga county, O.

Rockefeller testified he was not a resident of Ohio and had not been for the last fifteen years, and that consequently he could not be taxed in that state.

Rockefeller testified he moved to New York from Cleveland in 1885 and established his domicile here; that he was now a citizen of New York and had regularly been assessed by the proper authorities in this state and had paid his taxes regularly in this state.

Rockefeller was assessed on $311,000,000 personal estate by the authorities of Cuyahoga county, on the ground that he had spent the greater part of the year ending Feb. 1, 1914, in the state of Ohio, and that consequently he had established a legal residence there.

OVERWHELMED BY BREAK OF ICE JAM

Four Men Swept to Death and Others Seriously Injured

Lisbon, N. H., Feb. 26.—Four men were killed and ten others seriously injured in a rush of ice and water in the Ammonoosuc river.

The accident occurred while a wrecking crew was trying to remove ice from the flooded track of the White Mountain division of the Boston and Maine railroad in the meadows a mile above this town.

Henry L. Whitcher, the foreman of the crew, was one of those killed. The names of the other three, who were foreigners, are not known. The bodies were swirled under the heavy ice floes and swept out of sight down stream.

So sudden was the rush of water that none of the twenty-five men in the wrecking crew had any chance to avoid the torrent. Nearly all of them lost their footing.

Two men were saved from death in the Winooski river, near Montpelier, while dynamiting ice in the stream.

Rain, falling for stirty-six hours in Montpelier, has caused great damage, and the Winooski is dangerously high.

Property loss in towns along the Winooski is estimated in the hundreds of thousands. Street car traffic has ceased in Burlington and the city is threatened with total darkness because of danger to the power plant.

Central Vermont traffic has been halted by numerous washouts. There have been several washouts on the Boston and Maine and traffic north of Woodsville is impossible. Telephone service is crippled.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

Cookery Points

Dainty School Sandwiches.

Following are a few delicious sandwiches that will doubtless prove a welcome addition to the school lunch box of any boy or girl:

Olive Sandwiches.—Slightly butter thin slices of whole wheat bread; moisten chopped olives with mayonnaise dressing and spread upon the buttered slices; spread other slices with cream cheese and press together in pairs.

Peanut Sandwiches.—Chop freshly roasted peanuts; pound them in a mortar until smooth and season with salt. Serve on lettuce leaf between buttered white bread.

Fruit Sandwiches.—Cut bread, white, brown and graham, as thin as possible. Use four or five pieces in each sandwich, putting them together so that the colors will contrast. Apple butter, peanut butter, honey or jam, spread thin, may be used as filling.

Fig Sandwiches.—Chop one fourth of a pound of figs fine, add one fourth of a cup of water, cook to a smooth paste. Add a few almonds, chopped fine. When cold spread the mixture upon whole wheat bread. Raisins, dates or marmalade may be used in place of the figs. The marmalade, of course, requires no cooking.

Fancy Cheese Sandwich.—Spread fresh bread with butter, over this spread a layer of Brie or other cream cheese, and over the cheese spread a layer of honey. Press two similarly shaped pieces together and serve at once.

Facts About Soup.

Soups cannot be made in a hurry.

All remnants of meat, bones, bacon rind, and left over bits of meat of every description may be used to make stock, which is the foundation of all soups.

Stock must be frequently skimmed during the early stage of the proceedings.

Never allow stock or soup to cool in the saucepan. The liquid should be poured off and strained into an earthenware bowl.

The bones should be boiled for two or three hours and all the scum removed before the vegetables are added, which should be simmered until tender.

Do not overboil soup, as this spoils the flavor.

Casserole Cookery.

A casserole is a deep, earthenware pan with a lid to it.

After buying it fill it with cold water and a little soda, put it in the oven and let it remain there till the water is nearly boiling. This will cleanse it thoroughly and make it last much longer.

If you use a gas oven put the casserole in while it is still quite cool. If you suddenly put it into a very fierce oven the casserole may crack.

Be careful where you place the casserole when taking it out of the oven. If it is stood in the cold sink or any other cold place it may crack.

If you remember these few hints your casserole will last you many years and you will find it exceedingly useful.

Baking Hints.

Do not cover rising bread in bowls and tins with a dry cloth. Instead cover with a damp cloth which has been wrung out in warm water. In cold weather the damp cloth should be placed over a dry cloth.

As a result the dough will not dry on the top, and the loaves when baked will be much more uniform. To prevent holes appearing in brown bread prick twice with a needle, once when loaves are placed in tins and once immediately before the loaves are placed in the oven.

For Bread Makers.

Bread must always be made in a warm place, and all the ingredients must be warmed before they are combined. This is particularly important when you are making yeast bread.

Yeast is a little plant which begins to grow when it finds itself in a warm, damp place, and as it grows it puffs up the flour and makes the bread light. If you let it get cold you will stop its growth.

Eggs En Cocottes.

Butter fireproof cups and put two tablespoonfuls of cream into each; then on this carefully break a newly laid egg. Sprinkle a little salt, pepper and chopped parsley on the top. Place the cups in a pan of water which comes halfway up the cups and put a piece of buttered paper over the top. Allow them to steam till the eggs are just set; then serve immediately in the cups.

Potatoes For Rheumatism.

A noted Danish food expert claims that an exclusive diet of potatoes is excellent for eliminating the uric acid responsible for the pangs of rheumatism, but he says that to be curative the potatoes must be well chewed and also well buttered to supply the fat needed by the patient.

When Cakes Stick.

When cakes stick to the pan stand for a few moments on a damp tea towel or dishcloth, and the cakes will then turn out easily without breaking.

For the Children

Young German Patriots Saluting Kaiser Wilhelm.

Photo by American Press Association.

Young people, as a rule, are intensely patriotic. They believe—and it is natural they should—that no country equals their own native land. No other nation is so great and powerful and nowhere else are the soldiers so brave. It is entirely proper that one should cherish a love of country and home, for without patriotism to inspire it no nation would amount to much. The boys in the picture are German, and their picture was taken during a recent visit of the German emperor to Berlin. At the present time he does not spend much time at his capital, but more frequently is at the battle front. The boys, you will notice, are dressed in uniform. They were standing at their window so as to be able to see their loved ruler, and when he arrived opposite their place they saluted in true military fashion.

Double Beheadings.

1.—Remove the first letter from a word which signifies durable and leave a piece of furniture; behead again and leave a word that implies skill.

2.—Remove the first letter from a building material and leave a musical sound; take away the next letter and leave a unit.

3.—Remove the first letter from a part of harness and leave a trial of speed; behead again and leave a single spot.

4.—Remove the first letter from a grain and create warmth; behead again and learn what to do with the first word.

5.—Remove the first letter from an edge and leave a place of amusement; remove the next letter and you can write with it.

6.—Remove the first letter from the cost and leave a grain; behead again and leave something very cold.

7.—Remove the first letter from a shallow dish and you will be behind time; take away the next letter and it will be eaten.

Answers.—1. Stable, table, able. 2. Stone, tone, one. 3. Trace, race, ace. 4. Wheat, heat, eat. 5. Brink, rink, ink. 6. Price, rice, ice. 7. Plate, late, ate.

The Game of Teapot.

An amusing game to be played by any number is called "teapot." Let one player choose a word. The others are to guess the word. In order to do this they all ask questions which the word chooser must answer. This sounds simple. The difficulty, however, is that the chosen word must have two meanings, "roll," for instance, which may mean either the variety we enjoy for breakfast, or to turn over and over. Or it may be words spelled differently, but pronounced alike, such as "night" and "knight."

In answering the questions the player must use the meanings alternately, substituting "teapot" for the chosen word. Thus, suppose the word is "roll," the beginner might ask, "Does it belong to the vegetable kingdom?" The answer would be, "Teapot does belong to the vegetable kingdom."

Suppose the next player asks, "How would you get to the top of a high mountain?" The answer might be, "I could not teapot there." The successful guesser has the privilege of choosing the next word.

Advice For Hiking Scouts.

There are several things for boy scouts to remember when going on hikes. An old woodman gives the advice, "Never walk over anything you can walk around; never step on anything that you can step over." H. W. Gibson, in an article on the subject of hikes, advises a pace of two or three miles an hour and warns against excessive water drinking on the part of the hikers. He also advises that the scout carry only the things absolutely needed, rolled in blankets, poncho army style.—Chicago Tribune.

Table Manners.

When I am eating bread and cake
I never smack my lips;
And milk I always try to take
In quiet little sips.

At breakfast, luncheon and at tea
I hold my fork just right,
For little folks should always be Exceedingly polite.
—Portland Oregonian.

BUTTER IS LOWER
Finest Creamery 32c lb
Van Camp's Milk 7 1-2c a can
Van Camp's Soup 7 1-2c a can
MAPLE DAIRY
CHESTNUT STREET

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

SCHEDULE OF YACHT CLUBS

Y. R. U. Fixes Dates For Open Races

A number of important matters of interest to yachtsmen were acted upon Thursday evening at the annual meeting of the Yacht Racing Union of Massachusetts at the American house. One of these important matters was fixing the schedule for open races counting for the Y. R. U. of M. championships. In these it is noticed that the dates of racing under the auspices of the Quincy club are as follows: Wollaston Yacht club July 3, Quincy Yacht club, July 31, Quincy Yacht Yacht club August 17. The race for the Bermuda cup now held by the Squantum yacht club will be held under the auspices of that club on Labor day, Sept. 6.

Instead of having the squadron run from Bass Point to Marblehead, as has been the custom in the last few years to open mid-Summer week at Marblehead, the racing yachts that follow the circuit this year will make a run to Gloucester Sunday, Aug. 8. This will allow the Gloucester Yacht Club to hold an open regatta under the auspices of the New Yacht Racing Union of Massachusetts Aug. 9.

By doing this the mid-summer week at Marblehead is cut one day, making only five days of racing at the North Shore port. Tuesday, Aug. 10, the Eastern Y. C. will give a race, Wednesday, the Boston Y. C., and for the remaining three days the yachtsmen will be entertained by the Corinthian Y. C..

A second squadron run from Marblehead to Hull Sunday, Aug. 15, and to hold the annual rendezvous from Hull to City Point Sunday, Sept. 12.

All the active clubs of the bay, except the Cottage Park Yacht Club, will have at least one open regatta next summer, although the Columbia, Jeffries, Lynn and Mosquito Fleet did not select dates last evening. According to the delegate from the Bay State Yacht Club of Revere, that club also may hold an open regatta this season..

Instead of giving a championship pennant and medal for the championship winners of 1915, the new union will award a blue cock-of-the-walk pennant to the championship winner, a red pennant to the second boat and a white pennant to the third. There will be awarded also for each race small square blue, red and white flags for first, second and third places.

CONFERENCE AT 1st PRESBYTERIAN

A general conference of the people of the First Presbyterian church on Water street was held Thursday evening in the lecture room. Over 100 of the parishioners were present and Rev. Mr. Campbell had his first opportunity to meet his flock in a social way. Mr. Campbell gave a short address in which he stated his plans for the future of the church.

It is his ambition to make the church a source of both temporal and spiritual good, to make the people get more together into the social life of the church and in general to make it a community church. The different work being done in South Quincy by the different churches was discussed fully and several good suggestions were taken from their work. After the conference the people took the opportunity to welcome Mr. Campbell, their new pastor, and wish him success in his new field.

BUCKEYE INCUBATOR
$7.50
GUARANTEED
to hatch every hatchable egg
SOLD ON 40 DAYS TRIAL
with an absolute guarantee to hatch every hatchable egg for you the first time you try it.
IT'S A WONDER
Nearly half a million in successful operation
SEE THE
KANT KROWD KLOSE KONTACT AIR BROODER
IT'S A LIFE SAVER
NATHAN AMES
5 GRANITE ST.

COAL
Just Unloaded 2600 Tons of
Sprague's Celebrated New River Cumberland Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.,
27 Granite St.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Burgess & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

LOCALITIES IN B. A. A. GAMES

Seventeen are entered for the mile run at the B. A. A. schoolboy games Saturday. The record of 4 m. 37 4-5s made in 1910 by Franz R. Marceau, then representing Quincy High, may be broken. It is thought that Levine of Lawrence High, who came within 10 seconds of the record last year, may have to break it in order to win J. Hutchinson of Milton High, who took second place last year, is the favorite.

Quincy is pitted against Weymouth High in the relays. Young Talbot will be on the latter team and is considered somewhat of a dark horse in the mile run. The relay team is not expected to make much of a showing. The men who will make it up are all inexperienced and lack the coaching necessary to develop a fast combination. Its members, however, are confident and promise to be victors over Weymouth.

CLAN MacGREGOR LEAGUE MATCH

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.
Capt. McLean 4, Capt. McKenzie 0.

The McLeans won an easy victory over the McKenzies in a postponed Clan MacGregor league match at the Coliseum alleys Thursday evening. Dell was high man with a total of 318. The score:

CAPT. McLEAN—4.

Paterson	85	92	106	283
Marnock	72	91	91	254
McLeod	91	89	92	255
McLean	110	98	86	300
Dell	127	105	86	318
	485	475	459	1410

CAPT. McKENZIE—0.

Hunter	89	90	92	271
Gordon	93	86	76	255
McKenzie	88	78	92	258
Russell	95	95	92	282
Coutts	100	79	77	256
	465	428	429	1322

SMITH HIGH MAN.

The rolloffs at the Coliseum alleys Thursday evening were:

Smith	105	110	107	322
Dell	100	98	99	297
Cockett	107	105	84	296

HEAVAN

Mrs. Gustaset Lindberg of 62 Albertina street is a patient at the New England Deaconess Hospital, Boston. She is gradually recovering from the effects of an operation performed there a month ago.

ISLE OF PINES

An association is now being formed to own 100 acres of grapefruit or 7000 trees. Join now—membership $250.00, $10.00 down and $5.00 per month; 6 pct. guaranteed for the first five years and then each member gets 85 pct. of the profits. Write for particulars.

ISLE OF PINES ASSOCIATES
170 Summer St., Boston, Mass.

Feb. 11-1m

ELKS MATCHES ARE EXCITING

Larkins and Maloneys Are Winners

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

Capt. Larkin 3, Capt. Hanson 1.
Capt. Maloney 3, Capt. Hildebrand 1

Several good strings and a total of 1403 marked the Elks league matches at the Wardwell alleys Thursday evening. Excitement was intense throughout the rolloffs, particularly when the bowlers realized that Captain Larkins five needed but one pin to tie Hildebrands team single of 438 and completely rout the submarine team of the league "Jacka" Joyce, holder of the city single record of 165 was the only man to triple. His string of 110 put him up to the mark. The summaries:

CAPT. LARKIN—3.

Coyle	116	84	79	279
Dunn	89	75	97	261
Hoy	77	88	99	264
Larkin	107	93	99	299
Joyce	93	97	110	300
	482	437	484	1403

CAPT. HANSON—1

Desmond	80	85	84	249
Dunn	109	90	83	282
Hanson	84	96	109	289
J. Sweeney	95	84	101	280
Dr. Sweeney	64	83	81	228
	432	438	458	1328

CAPT. MALONEY—3

Reveney	103	85	85	273
Fitzgerald	88	79	93	260
Deasey	87	94	87	268
Dr. Murphy	92	94	111	297
Keating	89	96	108	293
	459	448	484	1391

CAPT. HILDEBRAND—1.

Hildebrand	79	93	74	246
George	88	77	73	238
Sweeney	93	79	107	279
Brown	105	93	93	291
Ross	85	111	85	281
	450	453	432	1335

R. & H. CLOSES BOWLING SEASON

The bowling series between the finishing room and office teams of the Rice and Hutchin's South Braintree factory K. came to a close at the Coliseum alleys Thursday evening. The finishers finished high with a wide margin and claim the factory championship, having won two of the three matches. The strings of some of the losing bowlers were small. The score:

FINISHING ROOM.

Magee	80	99	63	242
Stairita	88	78	99	265
Ellingsworth	70	96	81	247
Slaugher	75	75	74	224
Store	90	93	86	269
	403	441	403	1247

OFFICE DEPT.

Euvira	57	78	78	213
Reynold	79	99	60	238
Sengleton	81	70	79	230
Johnson	72	65	69	206
Doughty	76	69	93	238
	365	381	379	1125

ALICE PELLETIER DYING

Sister, Called to Bedside in Prison, Finds Her Unconscious

Thomaston, Me., Feb. 26.—Alice Pelletier, who began last January a sentence of eighteen months in state prison as accessory after the fact in the murder of Mildred Sullivan of Houlton, is reported to be at death's door.

Her sister, Miss Edna Pelletier, was summoned from Presque Isle and found her unconscious. An application for the pardon of Alice Pelletier was filed immediately after her commitment, as it was said that she was a victim of tuberculosis, but no official action has been taken.

ASKS NEW BECKER TRIAL

Counsel Claims One of State's Witnesses Gave False Evidence

New York, Feb. 26.—Formal application for a new trial for former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, sentenced to death on a charge of plotting the murder of Gambler Herman Rosenthal, was made here.

Attorney Manton, for Becker, in making his plea to Supreme Court Justice Weeks, stated that one of the state's witnesses swore falsely at Becker' second trial.

MAN SLASHED TO DEATH IN BED

Slayers Failed to Awaken Wife In the Same Room

RICH ARMENIAN THE VICTIM

Providence Police Think Revenge Was Motive For Crime Which Is Shrouded In Mystery—Body Looks as If Attempt Had Been Made to Cut Hearts Out—Covered With Wounds

Providence, Feb. 26.—The body of George Rustigian, covered with deep cuts, was found in bed at his home on Benefit street. The authorities found no clue to his murderer.

Rustigian, who was the proprietor of a grocery store, was reputed to be one of the wealthiest Armenians in the city.

That revenge was the motive that prompted the stabbing is the opinion of the police. The implement with which the murder was committed has not been found, but the wounds indicate it was a rusty butcher knife.

The discovery of the body was made by Rustigian's wife, who was asleep in the same room. She says she dreamed something was wrong and that as she opened her eyes she believed she saw two shadowy forms go through the door into the hall.

She arose and lighted a lamp, but could find no traces of any person in the room. It was as she searched the room that she saw her husband and uttered a cry that aroused John B. Lawlor, who lives under the Rustigians.

Not only was Rustigian stabbed and cut over the heart twelve separate times, as he lay on his bed, next to the bed of his wife, but he was struck on the forehead, as though with some blunt instrument, and there were three cuts on his right arm and smaller cuts on his right hand.

Rustigian's body, as it awaited the medical examiner, looked as though someone had tried to carve the man's heart out. The whole room was blood spattered. Mrs. Rustigian was slightly spattered with her husband's blood.

In the adjoining room three children were asleep. Downstairs, John B. Lawlor was awake. Lawlor thinks he did hear a slight sound, but no more alarming than if one of the Rustigians, on the floor above, had got up and moved a chair.

How Rustigian could have been hacked to pieces without the slightest alarming sound being heard is a mystery to the police and Medical Examiner Griffin.

Mrs. Rustigian could give the police no help. She knew of no enemy of her husband. The police gave her story full credence.

ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

Specialist Says Operation on Hannagan Is Not Necessary

Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 26.—Dr. Porter of Boston, a specialist, was summoned here to examine X-ray photographs showing the location of the bullet which wounded Paul Hannagan in the neck when he was shot by Dennis H. Finn.

After Porter had seen the X-ray photographs he said that an operation at this time is unnecessary and that it will be better to await developments.

Hannagan is apparently on the way to recovery. He is able to sit up a part of the time and to smoke his pipe.

PLAN HEARING IN BOSTON

Industrial Commission Looking Into Big Copper Strike

Washington, Feb. 26.—R. L. Agassiz, Quincy Shaw, F. L. Higginson and William A. Paine will be summoned by the United States commission on industrial relations to testify at a hearing, shortly to be held in Boston.

The federal investigators will dig into the affairs of Calumet and Hecla and of the independent copper companies, with a view to disclosing labor conditions and the causes of industrial unrest and the recent big strike.

PLUCKY MME. BERNHARDT

Great Actress, Though Crippled, Plans Return to the Stage

Paris, Feb. 26.—Mme. Sarah Bernhardt is improving steadily following the amputation of her right leg and physicians report that her temperature and pulse are normal.

"As soon as I have recovered I will move heaven and earth to realize my dream and create Rostrand's 'Princess Lointaire,' she declared.

Death of Noted Law Expert

Boston, Feb. 26.—John C. Gray, 76, member of a Boston law firm and Royall professor of law at the Harvard law school, died at his home in this city. He was prominent in law circles, was a noted writer and officer of corporations, and a former president of the Harvard Alumni association.

New $20 Counterfeit Out

Washington, Feb. 26.—A new counterfeit $20 gold certificate has been discovered by the secret service. It is of the series of 1906, and bears the portrait of Washington.

SULLIVANS ROLL INTO 1st PLACE

Oust Avery's Boys in Snapp Contest

LEAGUE STANDING.

Team	Won	Lost
Capt. R. Sullivan	23	9
Capt. P. Avery	21	11
Capt. Coyle	18	14
Capt. T. Fallon	17	15
Capt. Cantfill	10	22
Capt. F. Avery	7	22

High single, R. Sullivan 130
High total, R. Sullivan 333
High team single, Capt. Cantfill and Capt. Coyle 478.
High team total, Capt. Coyle, 1394.

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

Capt. Sullivan 4, Capt. F. Avery 0.
Capt. Coyle 4, Capt. P. Avery 0.
Capt. Fallon 4, Capt. Cantfill 0.

The quintette of Capt. Russell Sullivan jumped into first place in the Knights of Columbus league during the matches at the Wardwell alleys Thursday evening, and the five captained by Paul Avery dropped back to second place. Four points from the Frank Avery combination for the Sullivans and the loss of four points to the Coyles by the Averys brought about the change.

Capt. Coyles five tied the team single of 478, made three weeks ago by Capt. Cantfill's boys and broke its own team total record of 1385 by nine pins.

"Bill" Mahan took the high individual total with 303. Leo Kenny got high single of 110. The matches were the first this year that resulted in clean sweeps. The last single of the Coyles was hair raising and filled with spares. "Pete" Sullivan came across with a single of 105 and Magee with 109. The summaries:

CAPT. COYLE—4.

Hogan	100	94	97	291
Sullivan	97	83	105	285
Thompson	103	102	92	297
Magee	92	70	109	271
Coyle	78	77	95	250
	470	426	478	1394

CAPT. P. AVERY—0.

Brown	66	59	76	201
Dummy	75	75	75	225
Lavelle	97	98	95	290
Walsh	57	86	98	241
P. Avery	88	102	86	276
	383	420	430	1233

CAPT. FALLON—4.

Mahan	113	86	104	303
Flaherty	72	91	99	262
Cain	86	112	73	271
Ford	92	99	99	290
Mahoney	71	86	84	241
	434	474	469	1367

CAPT. CANTFILL—0.

Brown	72	86	85	243
McGrath	79	83	70	232
McDermott	90	91	83	264
Heaney	86	84	78	248
Cantfill	88	94	92	274
	415	438	408	1261

CAPT. SULLIVAN—4.

Powers	99	82	102	283
Myatt	94	89	79	262
Dummy	75	75	75	225
Driscoll	70	94	91	255
R. Sullivan	106	93	97	296
	444	433	444	1321

CAPT. F. AVERY—0.

T. Fallon	87	95	78	260
Burns	92	87	80	259
Kenny	86	83	110	279
Dummy	75	75	75	225
F. Avery	81	89	82	252
	421	429	425	1275

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

EDWARD J. FECAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-915 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY.

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.

will continue the service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.

OFFICE AT WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY

Wollaston Auto Show

Wollaston Centre Garage

NOW OPEN

A SALESMAN for one of the highest priced cars in America, crossing one of our leading streets, saw a Jeffery Chesterfield Six go by. "There goes a car that sells for $1650," he said, "but it has the same specifications as the car I have to get $5000 for."

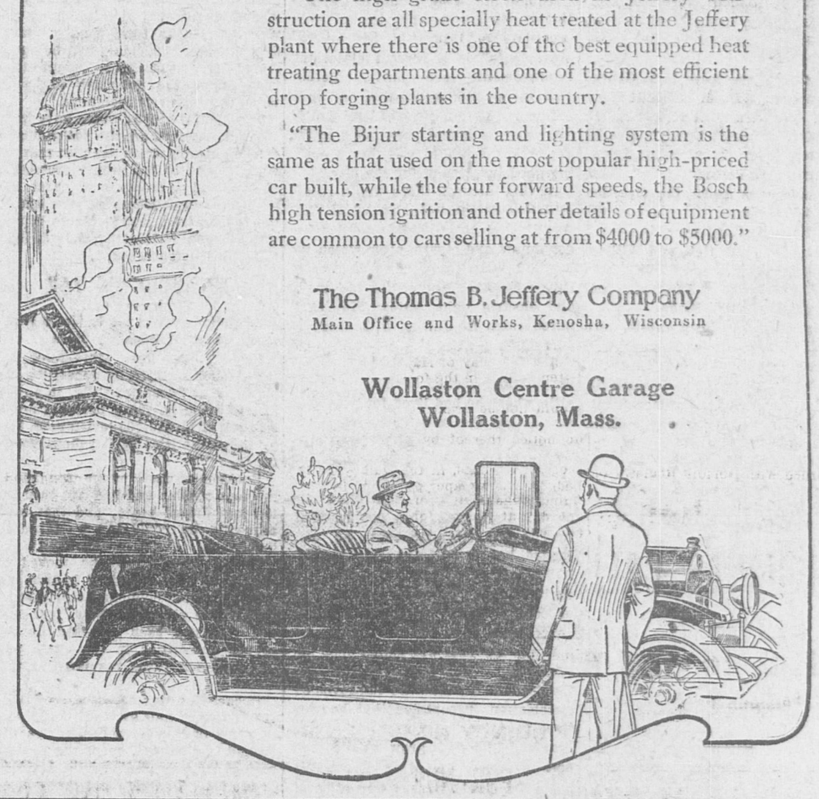

"The Jeffery high-speed—high efficiency motor with small bore and long stroke is the lighest in proportion to horsepower that has ever been built. That means economy of operation.

"The high grade steels used in Jeffery construction are all specially heat treated at the Jeffery plant where there is one of the best equipped heat treating departments and one of the most efficient drop forging plants in the country.

"The Bijur starting and lighting system is the same as that used on the most popular high-priced car built, while the four forward speeds, the Bosch high tension ignition and other details of equipment are common to cars selling at from $4000 to $5000."

The Thomas B. Jeffery Company
Main Office and Works, Kenosha, Wisconsin

Wollaston Centre Garage
Wollaston, Mass.

SPORTING COMMENT

College football captains believe the revised rules are satisfactory and want no further changes. All agree the game is about right. The ban on throwing the forward pass is favored.

James Austin third base man, under contract with the Pitts Teds, has decided to play with the St. Louis Americans again. Herman Schaeffer has joined the Teds and has been assigned to the Newark club of New Jersey, formerly the Kansas City team.

Paul Poehler, national candle pin man, has not yet decided to enter the National Bowling association which starts in New York on March 27.

Edward E. Keevin conducted the hearing at the state house Thursday to put boxing under the supervision of the State Board of Health. Joseph A. Woodman, a proponent, said under the bill the four round bouts under State supervision would supercede 12 round affairs at exhibitions of so-called athletic clubs.

Eddie Sammon of West Quincy, known in New York ringdom as "Eddie Mullen, the featherweight," will box Battling Joe Carroll at the Unity Cycle club of Lawrence in the near future. Sammon has been a local resident of the city for a year. He is being managed by Goonie McIntosh.

The schedule of the Wollaston Tennis club closes in three weeks and spirited bowling may take place in the remaining matches. The teams of Captains Hoxie and Monroe are tied for first place with 50 points won and 22 lost. Jenner's quintet is in third place, seven points behind.

After the Tennis club schedule closes the handicap matches for the club trophy will be rolled. Jenner, high average man, will be on scratch and the handicaps will be the difference between his and each man's average. C. E. Baker and Carr have each won a leg in the handicaps. The trophy goes to the bowler taking two legs.

Captain Bert Armstrong of the cellar team of the Samoset club league is a hard luck performer. A triple on Quincy alleys is a stranger to him. On the other hand he averages close to a century on Boston alleys. He appears to lose one per cent per mile.

A special between teams of high men of the Samoset club and Wollaston Tennis club leagues is being arranged.

The "defi of the Makarias", champions of the Sunday School league has been accepted by the Tennis club specials. The match will be rolled March 9.

The Quincy Tennis club had a pretty good "racket" at their dance in Alpha hall Thursday evening. The racket was part of the decorative scheme.

"O Phil" writes that Jack Johnson caused the war and that the kaiser and von Bernhardi were influenced by his prowess. Oh! Phil!

John McGraw of the Giants, a recent convert to golf, has found it entirely different from base ball but is inclined to think it will dim a batting eye. John made the assertion without batting an eyelash.

Masquerade Costumes For Rent
Children's Costumes in variety
MRS. R. E. WOODWARD
155 Billings Road
Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs
Feb. 3-tf

CLUB TO HAVE BASE BALL TEAM

The Chickatawbut Social club held its regular weekly meeting Thursday evening at the home of its president, Jerome Reinhalter of Bunker Hill avenue. The regular business meeting was held and plans were made to put a first class baseball team in the field this season. A captain and manager will be elected at the next regular meeting.

The business meeting was followed by a social hour. Music was furnished by Miss Marguerite Reinhalter and solos were rendered by Ted Minahan and Kimball Roberts. Refreshments were served.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton, Director
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings. 23-6t

BOYS SHOES
Made to stand Hard Wear
BOSTON WELT
Regular $2 Shoe for $1.50

As a special inducement to every mother buying a pair of these Shoes we will repair your old ones for 25 cents, which is just the cost of the leather.

E. F. CONLIN,
Hancock and Saville Sts. Tel. Quincy 961-M

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

MACHINERY AND PERSONAL PROPERTY

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Robert Cantley of Quincy, County of Norfolk, Commonwealth of Massachusetts to Webb Pink Granite Company, of the County of Worcester of said Commonwealth, dated August 26th, 1911 and recorded Norfolk Deeds Libro 1188 folio 41, which mortgage has been duly assigned to Theophilus King of the County of Norfolk, of the said Commonwealth, by instrument dated November 21st 1911 and recorded Norfolk Deeds, libro 1229 folio 260 for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction from the premises herein described on Saturday March 20th 1915, at one P. M. All and singular the property described in said mortgage; namely,

A certain parcel of land situated in Quincy, shown on a plan by Ernest W. Branch, Civil Engineer, dated January 8, 1907 and recorded in Norfolk Registry of Deeds, Plan book 46, Plan No. 2190, and bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at an iron pipe in the swamp on land now or formerly of the Quincy Quarries Company; thence running Northwesterly on said land of Quincy Quarries Company fourteen hundred and sixty-five (1465) feet to a drill cut on a boulder shown on the said plan; thence Northeasterly on land now or late of Barker eleven hundred and sixty-one and two tenths (1161.2) feet to a stone monument shown on said plan; thence Southeasterly by the fence on land now or formerly of Cunningham and on land, owners unknown, seven hundred and forty (740) feet to an iron rod in a stone heap as shown on said plan; thence Southwesterly on land now or late of the Quincy Quarries Company nine hundred and seventy-seven and eight tenths (977.8) feet to the point of beginning, containing twenty-five and one-fourth (25 1-4) acres, more or less; being the same premises conveyed to the grantor by deed of Quincy Quarries Company, dated January 8, 1907 and recorded with Norfolk Registry of Deeds, Book 1052, Page 411; and being hereby conveyed subject to the reservations set forth in said deed, the right of operation of railroad and rights of way therein contained.

This conveyance includes the buildings on the granted premises, with the exception of a stone crusher, of which the Quincy Quarries Company is the owner and which the said Quincy Quarries Company has a right to remove at any time.

And the grantor hereby conveys to the grantee all his right, title and interest to any and all machinery, tools, appliances and all other personal property of every name and description owned by him and now on the premises described aforesaid.

This conveyance is made subject to a mortgage of Eighty-one Hundred ($8100) Dollars to The Quincy Quarries Company, dated January 8, 1907 and recorded with Norfolk Registry of Deeds, Book 1052, Page 412.

Said Sale is subject to all unpaid taxes or other assessments if any there be.

THEOPHILUS KING.
Assignee of the mortgage and present holder of the mortgage.
3t Feb. 26 Mar. 5-12

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Robert Cantley of Quincy, County of Norfolk, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to The Quincy Quarries Company of said County and Commonwealth, dated January 8th, 1907 and recorded Norfolk Deed, libro 1052, page 412 for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction from the premises herein described on Saturday March 20th, 1915, at one P. M., all and singular the property described in said mortgage; namely,

A certain parcel of land situated in said Quincy shown on a plan made by Ernest W. Branch Civil Engineer dated January 8, 1907 recorded with Norfolk Deeds and bounded as follows:—Beginning at an iron pipe in swamp on land of said grantee thence running Northwesterly on said grantee fourteen hundred and sixty-five feet to a drill cut on boulder shown on said plan; thence Northcasterly on land now or late of Barker eleven hundred sixty-one and 2-10 feet to a stone monument shown on said plan, thence Southeasterly by the fence on land now or formerly of Cunningham, and on land of owners unknown seven hundred and forty feet to an iron rod in stone heap as shown on said plan; thence Southwesterly on land now or late of said grantee nine hundred seventy-seven and 8-10 feet to the point of beginning. Containing twenty-five and 1-4 acres.

Being the same premises conveyed to me by said grantee by deed of even date and record herewith, and being hereby conveyed subject to the reservation set forth in said deed, the right of operation of the railroad and rights of way therein contained. This conveyance includes the buildings on the granted premises with the exception of a stone crusher which said grantee has a right to remove at any time.

Said sale is subject to all unpaid taxes or other assessments if any there be.

The Quincy Quarries Company,
By T. J. Dunphy, Treasurer,
Mortgagee.
3t Feb. 26 Mar. 5-12

W. R. LOFGREN
Carpenter and Builder
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 398-3
June 9-tf

EXECUTORS' NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscribers have been duly appointed executors of the will of Thomas Curtis late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and have taken upon themselves that trust by giving bonds, as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

THOMAS W. CURTIS,
NOAH CURTIS,
JOHN CURTIS,
(Address) Care of John Curtis, Quincy, Mass.
Executors.

10 February 1915.
3t Feb. 19 26 Mar. 5

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of Joseph Chippendale late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond as the law directs.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

GEORGE R. CHIPPENDALE, Adm.
Feb. 17, 1915.
3t Feb. 19-26 Mar. 5.

ADMINISTRATRIX'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administratrix of the estate of Georgiana B. Sanger sometimes called Georgiana Sanger late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk deceased, intestate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to FANNY B. FISH, Admx.

(Address) 95 East Squantum street, Atlantic, Mass.
February 15, 1915.
3t Feb. 19-26 Mar. 5

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Jane Evans, late of Quincy, in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by John Evans of said Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the third day of March, A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this tenth day of February in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Feb. 12-19-26

QUINCY REGISTRY
FOR NURSES
20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.
Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.
MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.
Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

HOLMES & HALL
GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES.
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

AMUSEMENTS

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE.

An event of theatrical importance will be the presentation by Charles Frohman of his new star Ann Murdock in a pretentious American comedy, "A Girl of To-Day," at the Hollis Street Theatre March 1. It is a significant fact that Miss Murdock is to follow Maude Adams, significant for the manager who discovered Miss Adams, Miss Barrymore, Miss Burke and others who have become famous would like her to follow in the footsteps of the best-loved personality on the American stage. Ann Murdock is not unknown to Boston theatregoers. She is a fine young girl of unusual personal charm, magnetism and histrionic ability. She impresses one as possessing excessive simplicity and refinement and no one who has seen her previous work questions her rights to stardom. The author of Miss Murdock's new play is Porter Emerson Browne, who wrote "A Fool There Was" and "The Spendthrift." The heroine of "A Girl of To-Day" is a young woman who has been reared in luxury by her guardian. The latter dies suddenly; he has left no will. The girl is thus thrown on the mercy of her late guardian's kinsfolk, who are grasping and covetous. The interest in the girl becomes cumulative for the plot is absolutely plausible and the play well written. Its love interest is sweet without being mawkishly so. "A Girl of To-Day" is a work that through the cleverness of its story reaches straight for the heart strings and takes a strong hold on them.

During the stay of Miss Murdock at the Hollis the usual matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

A musical, poetic and social event of the first magnitude, is the current limited engagement at the Majestic Theatre in Boston, of the Andreas Dippel Opera Company composed of many of the foremost grand and light opera singers of this country, in an elaborate production of "The Lilac Domino," the famous opera by Charles Cuvillier and the English adaptation and lyrics by Harry B. Smith and Robert B. Smith which has been acknowledged and recognized as a light opera masterpiece.

The Andreas Dippel Opera Company was brought into existence in order to revive the glories of opera comique and restore to the American stage a style of entertainment, which in these days of song and dance, had almost disappeared from view. The plan contemplated a company of artists who should gradually develop a repertoire of new light operas, and was planned on the same scale which has made the Opera Comique, of Paris, an internationally famous institution.

Grand opera and celebrated artists were engaged for the first American production of the fascinating opera of "The Lilac Domino," which, together with a gorgeous scenic investiture, and picturesque costuming, was produced at the 44th Street Theatre in New York with phenominal results.

The remarkable cast of grand and light opera singers include Eleanor Painter, Wilfrid Douthitt, Rene Detling, Jeanne Maubourg, Ethel Pettit, George Curzon, James Harrod, John E. Habbard, Robert O'Connor, Harry Hermsen, Anita Andrews, Marie Hamilton, Christie D'Alloit, Lyn Donaldson, Gertrude Grosberg, Jane E. Miller, Julia Cahill, Leicester Parker, Maxwell Olney, together with a symphony orchestra of thirty pieces and chorus of fifty voices. This presentation of "The Lilac Domino" is unquestionably the greatest production of all light opera.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE.

"The Third Party," a new farcical comedy in three acts which was produced last season by F. Ray Comstock and which enjoyed long runs in Chicago and New York, will be shown at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, with the original cast including Taylor Holmes, Walter Jones, Marjorie Wood, Edna Phillips, Richard Temple, Alma Belwin, George Gaston, Mattie Keene, William L. Gibson and others. The farce is from a foreign source and has been brought up to date and Americanized to Mark Swan. Needless to say, the two principal roles are entrusted to Mr. Holmes and Mr. Jones, who make an excellent team. The chief character is a Mr. Cazzaza, who is employed at the Restaurant Royale in London in the capacity of professional chaperon. Christopher Pottinger, a Member of Parliament, although a married man visits the restaurant in company with a charming lady companion. Mr. Cazzaza on this momentous occasion is not on the job, with the result that Hilary Chester a young society chap, offers himself as substitute and actually poses as the chaperon for the distinguished politician and his pretty little companion. No sooner is the luncheon under headway than Mrs. Pottinger enters the restaurant and as her husband has not been fortunate enough to secure a private room, she of course discovers him, but when the lady with him is introduced as Mrs. Cazzaza, she takes no offense. In spite of the strange actions of the aforesaid Mr. Cazzaza "his wife," they are invited to the country seat of the politician, this in spite of their stations. Nothing will satisfy Mrs. Pottinger, however, but that the whole party shall instantly motor to their home and to make matters worse for Mr. Cazzaza he meets at the home of the Pottingers, the lady to whom he is engaged. It is certainly the most awful thing that ever happened in his young life, but Cazzaza is a resourceful chap and manages in some way to get out of the difficulty.

WILBUR THEATRE.

Shows may come and shows may go in Boston, but "A Pair of Sixes" remains the biggest hit in town. For nine weeks now this joyous farce has been attracting the largest audiences of the season to the Wilbur Theatre, and there is not the slightest falling off in attendance or advance sale. The indications are that there will be thousands who will be unable to find accommodations at the Wilbur, for "A Pair of Sixes" cannot run on forever. On three different occasions the engagement of this farce has been extended, but existing contracts must be filled, and in a very short time "A Pair of Sixes" will be compelled to fold its tents and steal away. When it does, however, it can leave with the satisfaction of knowing that it has provided more than 100,000 people in Boston and vicinity with three hours of the most enjoyable, most wholesome, and most hearty laughter ever afforded by any stage performance.

"A Pair of Sixes" is a curious combination, for while it is the funniest play ever staged, it is at the same time clean and fresh as an ocean breeze.

SHUBERT THEATRE.

There remains but one week more of the engagement of Pauline Frederick at the Shubert Theatre, whom A. H. Woods presents in the sensational success of the season "Innocent", the remarkable play that ran for six months at the Eltinge Theatre, New York. Miss Frederick comes to us with the same splendid supporting company that contributed to the enormous success scored by this remarkable play and Mr. Woods has sent also the original supurb stage settings. Miss Frederick has long been recognized as one of the most beautiful women on the English speaking stage today and both superlative charm and great artistry are demanded in the title role for Innocent is one of the most alluring of stage heroines who is described as being "as beautiful as an orchid." To lend one last artistic touch to this production Miss Frederick secured in Paris the very last models of gowns completed before the War put an embargo on importations of fashions. "Innocent" is from George Broadhurst who adapted it from the Hungarian play of Arpad Pastor. It is in prologue, four acts and epilogue and the scenes are laid in Mukden, Manchuria, Budapest and Nice. "Innocent" proved to be one of the sensational success of the season in New York, for not only is the story an absorbingly interesting one but the author has deliberately ignored all the old canons of dramatic constructions in unfolding the plot which opens with a thrill and keeps the audience in suspense to the fall of the last curtain.

CORT THEARTE.

It is seldom the dramatic critics of Boston agree unanimously in their verdict of the merits of a play, but, in the case of "Nearly Married," a farce by Edgar Selwyn, in which Richard Bennett comes to Boston as a star for an indefinite run at the Cort Theatre, there was not a dissenting voice—or pen in publishing the enjoyment offered in this laugh-provoking series of complications that attend the elopement of a man with his own wife. That's what the story of the play is about, and, while the characters in the play are extremely serious in their working out of the plot the audience is kept in constant roars of laugher throughout the three acts.

Here are a few of the things said about "Nearly Married" by the Boston critics: Charles W. Howard, in the Globe, called it a "quick-moving succession of hilarious complications"; E. F. Harkins, of the Journal, names it a "two-hour laugh-fest"; in the Herald, Philip Hale declared the "spectators laughed constantly and heartily"; Helen Bishop, in the Traveler, wrote that its "riotous fun baffles the pen," and that it caused "shrieks of laughter."

There are few young married couples who have not at some time found that they have become entangled in quarrels through the interference of relatives and, therein, lies the interest in "Nearly Married." Edgar Selwyn, the author, has written bright lines and conceived funny situations, and Selwyn & Co., the producers, have given to Boston a worthy successor to the three former successes they sent here, "The Country Boy," "Within the Law" and "Under Cover."

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.

Jesse L. Lasky's "The Beauties," in many respects the greatest one-act musical comedy ever presented in vaudeville, will head the bill at B. F. Keith's Theatre the week of March 1st. "The Beauties" is presented by an all-star cast, including Eileen Van-Biene; Mortimer H. Weldon; and W. J. McCarthy. A congress of beautiful girls of all types and nationalities are the real stars of the piece. They enter as immigrant girls fresh from the steerage, and their metamorphos into the court beauties of the eight great known nations. The music of "The Beauties" is by Robert Hood Bowers, composer of "The Red Rose" and "The Vanderbilt Cup." The costumes and setting surpass in gorgousness anything ever before seen upon an American stage. Surrounding this great feature will be an all-star vaudeville show, nearly every act new to Boston. Hazel Cox, sister of Ray Cox, will offer a unique cycle of character songs; Ramon Blanchart, the great Spanish tenor, has a novel singing specialty; Fisher and Greene, the "Potash and Perlmutter" of vaudeville, will play their comedy, "The Partners"; Brooks and Bowen, the boys from Dixie, offer a repertoire of original song compositions; Wille Brothers are the last word in equilibrists and acrobats; Steward and Donahue have a lively dancing act and several other features are promised.

PAVLOWA AT BOSTON.

The former visits of Mlle. Anna Pavlowa and her Russian ballet organization to Boston have met with such great success, and her following there has increased to such an extent that instead of remaining there for only one or two performances, as she has done in the past, she will tarry there for an entire week of eight performances beginning Monday night, March 1st, at the Boston Theatre. This will be the longest ballet season Boston has ever had, and it is only exceeded by Mlle. Pavlowa's stay of ten days in Chicago this winter, and her run of four weeks at the Century Opera House in New York City. The larger capitals of Europe each have the Russian ballet for engagements of from four to ten weeks each year, and it is evident that America is fast becoming quite as appreciative of this art.

A most varied and attractive repertoire will be presented at the Boston Theatre, including ballets produced in America for the first time this season. Two of these, "Seven Daughters of Ghost King" and "Floras Awakening," are of the futuristic school now in great vogue in Russia and Germany, and both of a type new to this country. Two others, "Amarilla" and "Raymonda," are highly dramatic works, depicting well defined and romantic stories. "Walpurgis Night" is a part of Goundd's opera, "Faust," but is seldom given in performances of that opera, and is hence an attractive novelty. "Puppen-Fee" ("The Fairy Doll") with its quaint toy shop, mechanical dolls and other ingenious conceptions, adds humor and vivacity to the list. "Chopiniana" is a pure example of classic ballet, arranged by Mlle. Pavlowa and her ballet master, M. Clustine, to music selected from Chopin. The Modern Ballroom Soiree displays the ballroom dances of today as standardized by these artists. Besides this list of ballets, a repertoire of sixty-five divertissements will be presented during the week. Matinees will be given Wednesday and Saturday.

WOMEN'S UNION ENJOY SUPPER

The monthly supper of the Bethany Women's union was held Thursday evening and was enjoyed by a large number of the parishioners of the church. On this occasion the committee in charge were Mrs. Herbert Pratt, Mrs. Gilbert M. Miller, Mrs. Edward P. Smith, Mrs. F. L. Carleton, Mrs. C. T. Sherman, Miss Julia Underwood and Mrs. J. G. Roberts. Supper was served at 6.30, the menu including creamed fish, cold meets, rolls, coffee ice cream and cake. The waitresses were young women of the church in charge of Miss Evelyn Stewart.

MRS. HANNORA JOSEPHINE.

The funeral of Mrs. Hannora Burke Josephine, wife of Peter Josephine, whose death on Tuesday evening followed a long illness, was held this morning from her home at 162 Water street.

A high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. John's church at nine o'clock by Fr. John J. Casey. The musical portion of the mass was rendered by the regular choir under the direction of John Mahan, organist.

There was a profusion of floral remembrances from relatives and friends. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

PRATT'S BREAD—is best because more care is used in the making. Grocers.

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

TO LET
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water, $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 158.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for K. R. Kribs.
Greenleaf Block. (Phone 1696) Quincy

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—New single house, with 5 rooms, bath, range, hot and cold water furnace heat, gas light. Vacant Mar. 1. John A. Weeden Greenleaf Block. 24-6t

TO LET—Upper apartment 4 rooms and bath. Furnace, electric lights, set tub, screens etc. Ready for occupancy April 1. Apply to Miss Prescott, Ledger Office. 23-tf

TO LET—New house, five rooms. All modern improvements. Location high and dry. Inquire on premises. 149 Kendrick avenue. 23-6t

TO LET—A good tenement now ready. Rent reduced to $18.75 per month. C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 19-6t

TO LET—At No. 9 Elmwood avenue, Wollaston, furnished or unfurnished rooms. Light housekeeping if desired. Modern improvements and telephone Quincy 863-W. 20-6t

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 13-21t.

TO LET—Apartment of five rooms and bath in new house, all modern improvements, fine location, 26 Bradford street, off Franklin street. Apply to F. Barnicoat, Quincy. 10-tf

TO LET—Half of colonial house on Russell park, 7 rooms and bath, fireplace, coal and gas range and all modern conveniences. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 9-tf

TO LET—Two or three rooms, furnished or unfurnished for light housekeeping, all improvements, reasonable rent, board if desired. 132 Marlboro street, Wollaston Park. 6-tf.

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 262-1. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 37 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET
Large Room 30x36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

TO LET

TO LET—Four or five furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Apply 28 Hancock Court. 25-6t

TO LET—If looking for furnished rooms for light housekeeping, don't miss seeing these three cheerful rooms, private bath, near center. Modern improvements, gas, range, set tubs, etc. Write M. C. Ledger Office. 20-6t

TO LET—Three first class connecting rooms, nicely furnished, bath on same floor, centrally located, in home of American family. Light housekeeping allowed. References exchanged. Write L. H. H. Ledger Office. 20-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

LOST

LOST—Tiger cat, white face, breast and paws; had on collar with ribbon bow. Reward if returned to A. M. Wainwright, 63 Adams street. 26-1t

WANTED

WANTED—Position as janitor. Alfred Heimo, 373 Water street. 26-3t

WANTED—A clean quiet, boarding place by a young man. Plain living good room. Write E. L. N. Ledger Office. 25-3t

WANTED—Tracers. Young women 18 years of age or over to learn plan tracing. Apply by letter only, stating age, education, experience if any. Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation, Quincy, Mass. 24-6t

WANTED—Girl for light house work, down-east girl preferred. Apply 6 Bittern Road, Adams Shore, Quincy. Feb. 24-3t.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — Refreshment and lunch room at Squantum Beach. Apply E. Gorham, Border Street, Squantum. 26-3t

FOR SALE—Eight room house, can be used for two families. Bath, hot and cold water, furnace, gas, electric lights. 16,435 feet of land. Stable, hen houses, fruit, garden. Five minutes walk to station. Will take less than assessed value. Terms reasonable. Call and look this over. 178 Washington street. 26-2t

FOR SALE—An Overland car in perfect condition. Complete electric equipment. Write M. Ledger Office. Feb. 25-3t

FOR SALE—I have a full size Hallett & Davis piano all in good order, cost new $425. I need the room and will sell for $20, delivered. Easy terms write "Piano" Quincy Ledger. 20-6t

FOR SALE—Two flat house in South Quincy. Hard wood finish, modern plumbing. Very desirable renting proposition, never vacant since built. For particulars enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 9-tf 1po

MISCELLANEOUS

MY VERY FINE mahogany upright piano will be stored with private family who would consider purchase later at a sacrifice. Write A. C. Quincy Ledger. 26-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE
House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,300. Straight Loan of $2,000.
EDMUND G. HAYDEN
Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing
HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.
129 Tremont St., Boston.
Oct. 3-tf

TO LET
Lower flat of new house, 5 rooms, large reception hall, large bath room, combination gas and coal range, steam heat. Located in one of the best parts of South Quincy. Two minutes to electric cars, four minutes to Quincy Adams station. Rent reasonable. Apply to
JOSEPH B. GROSSMAN,
93 Goddard Street,
Tel. 1404-W Quincy. 13-tf

EXTENSION OF LEASE

We have been allowed one week longer to stay in our store which will enable us to do business till Saturday night, Feb. 27th.

To-day & Saturday

Last Two Days of Active Business

Now is your last chance to buy dependable merchandise of a reputable concern who have been hard hit by conditions.

You profit by our loss.

Suits and Overcoats as low as

$5.95

Other Goods at Corresponding Prices

After Saturday 10.30 P. M.

NO MORE GROSSMAN

In QUINCY

BROWN AND CROWELL

BROWN AND CROWELL

WHAT ARE WE DOING FOR YOU ?
TO REDUCE THE HIGH COST OF LIVING ?

THE FOLLOWING PRICES ANSWER THIS QUESTION.

Don't Skip Over Anything. - Get It All.

— For SATURDAY ONLY. —

MARKET DEPARTMENT

CORNED, FRESH, SMOKED SHOULDERS - 11c lb.
FRESH KILLED CHICKENS - - - 20c lb.
POTATOES (BEST QUALITY) - 15c pk.

GROCERY DEPARTMENT

FREE

One Jar of Heavy Hampden Cream with One Pound of Our BEST COFFEE Regular Price - - 35c lb
(Not more than one jar of cream to a customer.)

DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT

OLD ERIN CRASH 11c yd.
Guaranteed All Linen
GOOD SIZED BLEACHED SHEETS - 29c each

Brown AND Crowell

DOBLE'S CORNER. - TEL-78- SO. QUINCY

BROWN AND CROWELL

Advertise in the Ledger

PROTECTION OF YANKEE SHIPS

May Be Secured by Our Placing Embargo on Foods

WOULD HELP END GREAT WAR

Europe Cannot Battle Without American Foodstuffs, According to Peace Advocates—President Urged to Take Action For Domestic Reasons, Regardless of War Zone Situation

Washington, Feb. 26.—America may call hunger as her ally to bring England and Germany to their knees in their submarine warfare now threatening United States commerce.

Such was the unconfirmed hint in official circles. Sponsors for the suggestion declared the president would lay an air-tight embargo on exportation of foodstuffs to both the allies and Germany unless all parties involved yield to America's latest suggestions.

In this connection, it was recalled that the president has recently been urged strongly to take such a step regardless of the war zone situation. Mayor Mitchel of New York and others claimed this is needed for domestic reasons; hence could be applied on that pretext without drawing the United States into the European conflict.

At the same time its effect, it was believed, would be that both Great Britain and Germany would hastily grant American demands and give absolute immunity to American ships.

Moreover, peace advocates held that in addition to forcing immunity for American commerce, America's hand in a hunger war would hasten the end of Europe's bitter struggle, for, they insisted, Europe cannot battle without America's foodstuffs.

Some officials, however, professed to believe stringent action by this government will not be necessary. They claimed to see a ray of light in overnight developments abroad.

England has presented to her allies the American request for some agreement whereby food can be shipped into Germany, with its distribution supervised by American officials. Germany, too, was reported "willing" to relax its submarine warfare under the terms of America's proposals.

While the allies' unanimous consent is necessary to complete the foodstuffs agreement, officials here believed this ultimately will come.

The chief worry is that continued destruction of ships in Germany's death zone will frighten American shippers to such an extent that it will virtually paralyze American commerce.

This spirit is already reflected in the government's war risk bureau's temporary suspension of insurance to certain European ports, and considerable increase in its rates on business to certain other ports around the zone.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

WANTS "FARM DE GINK"

Davis Urges President to Provide Tract of Land In Arizona

Washington, Feb. 26.—Jeff Davis, founder of the Hotel de Gink for unemployed in New York, asked President Wilson to set aside some public land in Arizona for a "Farm de Gink" for the use of unemployed, and later discussed his project with interior department officials.

"The unemployed are divided into three classes," Davis told the president; "hoboes, who are willing to work; tramps, who won't work, and bums, who can't work. We are doing our best to care for the hoboes, who are entitled to assistance from the government. Any man is apt to become a hobo some time."

INSANITY PLEA FAILS

First Degreee Murder Verdict Against Slayer of Rich Farmer

Riverhead, N. Y., Feb. 26.—The insanity plea offered by Francis J. Fowler to the indictment charging him with having clubbed to death Franklin P. Sammis, a wealthy farmer of Huntington, failed last night, when a jury in the supreme court here found him guilty of murder in the first degree.

Fowler had been employed on the Sammis farm. The prosecution claimed Fowler killed his employer because the latter objected to Fowler's paying attention to Sammis' sister.

Church Fire Not Incendiary

Malden, Mass., Feb. 26.—After a week's investigation, State Officer Rice reached the conclusion that the fire which destroyed the First Baptist church was not of incendiary origin. He believes it was caused by a defect in the electric wiring.

A large and appreciative audience gathered on Wednesday evening in the Quincy School hall at an entertainment given by the Parent-Teach association of Atlantic.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

R. E. Foy & Co.
Brown & Crowell
Quincy Public Market
Coughlin & Donovan
Grossmans Clothes Shop
Nathan Ames

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

MARRIAGES

NOBILI—VERZARI—In Boston, Feb. 20, by Lewis Pennini, Justice of the Peace, Antonio J. Nobili and Mary Verzari, both of Quincy.

DEATHS

GRINDELL—In Quincy, Feb. 24, Charles H. Grindell in his 76th year. Funeral services at late residence 55 Pleasant street, Saturday Feb. 27 at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 2t

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service
485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

AT THE THEATRE

Probably not many of the Scotch people will see the Fraser Troupe at the Kincaide Theatre next week would recognize in Miss Jessie Mac Donald the little girl from Norfolk Downs who used to take prizes for sword dancing and the Highland fling at the Scotch picnics at West Roxbury a few years back, but sure enough Jessie she is although no longer the little girl.

Miss MacDonald has arrived home after an absence of two years with her troupe, during which time she has visited every state in the Union, except two, and appeared also in Mexico and some of the Canadian cities. She is a daughter of Alexander D. MacDonald, of Warwick street, a well-known manipulator of the weird sounding and blood stirring pipes, so dear to the Highland heart. Miss Jessie also can play the pipes with dexterity and skill, but her specialty is scottish dancing. She leaves in two weeks for another extensive tour.

The ninth episode of the Exploits of Elaine met with as much favor as the previous episodes of this most baffling story, at Kincaide Teatre Thursday afternoon and evening. The Four Bantas proved a real treat in their novelty musical act. Paris and Vannette, talking and singing comedians certainly lived up to their reputation as being entertainers of the first order.. The McCartry sisters were also greeted with great favor by the audience and had to respond to several encores. Carmen the marvelous hoop roller mystified the audience with his many wonderful feats The pictures were excellent. The show will be repeated today. and Saturday..

BRIEFS

The meeting of the July Fourth association will be held at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The Saturday Auction Bridge club will meet tomorrow afternoon with Miss Mary Faxon of Adams street.

Mayor Campbell and City Auditor Fairbanks attended the meeting of the Massachusetts Auditors' club at the Boston city club, Thursday.

Charles H. Marsh spent the holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Marsh of Irving place. He is at present employed by an engineering firm at Turners Falls.

Mrs. A. Isabelle Davis of Edgemere road is coaching a play in Auburndale to be given the last of March by the Village Improvement society of that place.

Alex Kiloh of Liberty Square has moved into his new home on Willard street, formerly the estate of Ann Schatzel. He has renovated and remodelled the house.

HIGH COST OF LIVING CUT IN HALVES BY TRADING HERE

Our up-to-the-minute methods, our cash buying and selling, and our general knowledge of the business, puts us in a position to offer you these

Red Hot Bargains for Saturday

Leg and Loin Genuine Spring Lamb	18c lb.
Short Legs Lamb	20c lb.
Best Kidney Lamb Chops	25c lb.
Standing Rib Roast Beef (Corn Fed)	15c lb.
Rib Roll Roast (no bone, best Beef)	18c lb.
Butcher Steak (very tender)	25c lb.
Best Top Round Steak (corn fed)	28c lb.
Hamburg Steak (real good, no fat)	15c lb.
Pot Roast (clean meat and lean)	14c lb.
Fancy Sugar Cured Bacon (lean or fat)	20c lb. by strip
Fancy Sugar Cured Hams	16c lb. whole
Corned Beef Middle Ribs (value 16c lb.)	12 1-2c lb
Shoulders of all kinds (fancy, lean)	12 1-2c lb
Chicken or Fowl (strictly fresh killed)	22c lb.
Vermont Turkeys (strictly fresh killed)	27c lb.
Fancy Capons (real genuine)	25c lb.
Lean Pork Steak	14c lb.
Real German Frankfurts	15c lb.
Heinz Sauerkraut	5c lb.
Best Creamery Butter	34c lb.
Excellent Coffee (fresh ground)	25c lb.
Teas all flavors (60c value)	40c lb. for Sat. only
Early June Peas	3 cans for 25c
Fancy Maine Corn	3 cans for 25c
Solid Packed Tomatoes	3 cans for 25c
Evaporated Milk	3 cans for 25c
Fancy Sliced Pineapples	15c can

NOTE---This week our meats are exceptionally good, in fact they are the very best we can possibly obtain. So do your marketing as early as possibleand get first choice. We have lots of real bargains for you and everything we sell is warranted to suit or money cheerfully refunded.

Yours Truly,

Quincy Public Market

1514 Hancock St., Kincaide's New Block

Phone 1434 J Legal Stamps Free Delivery

Miss Mildred M. Estes has been appointed as clerk in the office of City Auditor Fairbanks succeeding Miss Mary Hooper, who has resigned to accept a position in a Boston office.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

AN ERROR

in yesterday's paper Live Shore Haddock was quoted at 18c lb instead of 8c.

FRESH FISH always

Live Shore Haddock 8c lb

QUINCY PUBLIC MARKET

1514 Hancock St., Kincaide's Block
Phone 1434 J. Legal Stamps Free Delivery

Saturday will be

ROAST BEEF DAY

OUR SIRLOIN ROASTS and STEAKS with heavy Porter House
RUMP ROASTS and STEAKS
FACES OF RUMP ROASTS and 5 RIB CUT ROASTS need only one trial to convince you of their superior Quality.
PRICES ALWAYS RIGHT

Sugar Cured Skinned Back Hams 18c lb
Weigh 10 to 12 lbs.

Vegetables
Lettuce, Celery, Rhubarb, Beet Greens, Spinach, Squash, Carrots Parsnips, Beets.

Fresh Killed Native Chicken .26lb
Fowl 21 - 23c
All fresh killed

Eastern Little Pig Pork .14 1-2 lb
To Roast by the Strip

Sugar Cured Bacon
Narrow Strip 22c lb
Wide Strip 25c lb

Fruit

Large Navel ORANGES	25c doz
Large GRAPE FRUIT	5 for 25c
LEMONS	21c doz
Good ORANGES	21c doz
Extra Large NAVELS 29 and 35c

Coughlin & Donovan

High Quality Market 1475 Hancock Street
FREE DELIVERY TEL. 696-W

ADAMS MARKET
Adams Building
PHONE 1980

FOY'S

WATER ST. MARKET
Water cor. Quincy St.
PHONE 117

Your Sunday Dinner!

Smoked Shoulders
Extra Fine and Good Sized
12 1-2c lb.

Rib Steak Roasts
Clear Meat Tender and Juicy
22c lb.

BEEF, LAMB, VEAL, PORK, POULTRY and GAME

Small Premium Hams - - - 19c lb.

Vegetables		Fruit
Fresh Lettuce	.10 head	Oranges
California Celery	.15 bunch	California Navels	.23 .29 .40 doz
Cauliflowers	.20 and .25 each	Floridas	.23 doz
Radishes	.5 bunch	Grapefruit
Peppers	.5 each	Golden	.5 each, .55 doz
Cranberries	.5 qt	Large, Thin Skinned	3 for .25
Spinach	.30 pk	Eating Apples	.15 .25 .30 doz
Beet Greens	.15 lb
Rhubarb	.12 lb

R. E. Foy & Co.

Free Delivery to all parts of the City

26-2t.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,127 Copies Daily -- Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 49 QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 27, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

MISS WILSON IS CHARMING BRIDE

Many Attend Marriage of A. M. Sturrock and Miss Wilson

REV. CAMPBELL OFFICIATES

Miss Sadie Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Caroline E. Wilson, one of the most popular young ladies of the city and Alexander Miller Sturrock of Franklin street, manager of the Giles South Quincy dairy, were married Friday evening in the presence of friends from Dorchester, Medford, Chelsea, Hingham and Quincy.

Rev. Clarence Campbell of the First Presbyterian church performed the ceremony and was the special guest of the evening. The bride was given away by herbrother, John Wilson. Miss Susie O'Keefe of Dorchester was bridesmaid and John Muir of Quincy Point was the best man. The maid of honor was Miss Vera A. Burke

The bride was gowned in white silk crepe de chine, cut en traine, and trimmed with Irish Point lace. Her veil of tulle was caught up with lilies of the valley and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and brides roses. The bridesmaid was dressed in white charmeuse trimmed with pearls and the maid of honor was dressed in white point d'esprit and wore a black picture hat. The Mendelssohn wedding march was played by James Muir.

A reception was followed by a wedding feast after which Mr. and Mrs. Sturrock left on an extended honeymoon. On their return they will live in Quincy.

The couple were the recipients of many handsome presents. The bride was presented with a piano, the gift of the groom. The bride's present to her attendant was a pendant with diamond chips. The groom's present to the best man was a signet ring of rare design.

SACRED CONCERT.

A sacred concert which will include moving pictures of Joseph's Flight into Egypt and the singing of religious songs will be given in the Atlantic Music hall Sunday afternoon and evening for the members of Sacred Heart parish and their friends. The afternoon concert at four o'clock will be for the children of the Sunday school and the evening concert for the adults.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity.

Fair Sunday probably followed by snow during the night.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	6.22
Sun sets	5.32
Length of day	11.10
Moon sets	5.47
High water, A. M.	10.15
High water, P. M.	10.45
Days increase	2 hrs. 4 minute

First Quarter, Feb. 21, 9.58 P. M.
Full Moon, Mar. 1, 1.38 P. M.
Last Quarter, Feb. 7, 12.11 A. M.
New Moon, Feb. 13, 11.31 P. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	33 degrees
Feb. 27, 1914,	47 degrees
Feb. 27, 1913,	35 degrees

Feb. Noon Maximum, 18 years—87.
Feb. Noon Minimum, 18 years—2

GRAND SHIFT IN EFFECT TODAY

Kick by Doran and Reilly Brings Results

The grand shift in beats of the policemen, as announced Wednesday night at roll call, go into effect today, with the result that citizens practically all over the city will notice new faces among both day and night officers. There has been a deviation from the oiginal announcement.

This change was the outcome of the visit of Officers Doran and Reiley to the office of the Mayor Thursday. Their complaint to the mayor was that they were the two longest service men on night duty and that the rule had been when a new man was given lay duty the officer longest in night service was selected.

After some discussion over the phone with Capt. McKay the mayor announced that Officer Doran would be assigned to the day beat at South Quincy and that officer Duffy would be assigned to the night beat along Bigelow street originally assigned to Doran.

ANTHONY CASE IS ON TRIAL

A hearing was heard before Judge Avery this morning on the case of Charles Anthony, who it is alleged obtained $200 from Mrs. Marie Lopresti by false pretenses. Anthony who represented an installment house obtained $200 from Mrs. Lopresti on representing to her that he knew where her missing husband was and that he would bring him back to Quincy.

Mrs. Lopresti testified that Anthony told her that her husband was in San Francisco, Cal., and that if she would give him $200 he would go there and bring him back. The woman said that she told him she did not want to do anything unless Capt. McKay said so. The next day Anthony appeared again at her home and telling her that Capt. McKay said it was all right she gave him the $200.

Since that time she had received a number of letters and telegrams from Anthony, all of which were dated New Orleans. These telegrams and letters were put in evidence. The tone of the telegrams were asking for more money. They stated that he had located her husband all right but that he was sick and could not be brought back to Boston, and he wanted her to send him $50 more to pay his hotel bills. One of the telegrams said that he would be arrested for not paying his board bill if he did not get $50 more. Along toward the last of the telegrams the amount desired was reduced to $20 which he said he would repay on his return to Boston. However she sent no more money but turned the telegrams over to the police.

ADD ANTHONY CASE

At the conclusion of the hearing the court found Anthony guilty and imposed a sentence of six months in the house of correction. He took an appeal.

LENTEN DEVOTION.

The regular Lenten Devotions were held Friday evening in St. Mary's church. The services consisted of Rosary, Stations of the Cross followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The services were conducted by Father Duffy assisted by the regular church choir under the direction of Mrs. Mary McKay Reardon.

RESCUES FIVE COWS IN FIRE

Barn in East Milton Practically Destroyed

The barn of James G. Smith on Granite place, East Milton, was practically destroyed by a fire which broke out Friday evening on the first floor.

The fire was discovered at nine o'clock when it burst through the roof fully an hour after it started. The total loss is estimated to have been $1500 and the insurance was small.

Five cows stabled in the cellar were led out by Sidney Smith. He made an unsuccessful attempt to pull out a buggy and wagon valued at $200, on the first floor.

The barn burned fiercely and the flames illuminated the entire section and were visible from Milton hill. A large crowd was attracted. Several lines of hose were laid by the East Milton department, the first to arrive. When the central station apparatus arrived they laid several lines to protect the surrounding property, menaced because of the high wind which swept across the meadow carried the sparks into the group of houses nearby.

The large windmill on the barn did not tumble although its supports were badly burned and considerably weakened. The water froze almost as soon as it ran off the building. Several tons of baled hay were destroyed.

Mr. Smith, the owner is a retired pressman, and for many years was employed by the Boston Advertiser Boston.

NEW SWITCHBOARD.

Fore River Accommodations Have Been Outgrown.

A new two section mahogany switch board is being installed by the N. E. T. & T. Co., in the office of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation and workmen commenced to cut in this afternoon. The change will be completed and the board ready for operation on Monday morning.

The installation was necessary because telephone extensions in the shipyard have outgrown the present accommodations. The new board will accommodate about 150 plugs, about 30 more than the one removed.

FORE RIVER TEAM TO BE HUMMER

Some Fast Baseball Players Are Eligible For Team

TED GALVIN ONLY VETERAN

Definite steps to reorganize the Fore River base ball team are under way and it is understood that John S. Higgins will be again invited to manage the team. The aggregation, as last year, will play in the Manufacturers' league.

This year it may be necessary for players to be permanent employees at the shipyard. If hat rule is enforced the only veteran eligible is Ten Galvin he local left fielder. .

New timber has been uncovered in the yard and if the finds live up to their past reputations, the team should be the fastest ever seen here, although last season's nine at times performed in brilliant fashion..

Among the new employees is William McConigle of Farrington street, who before he enlisted as an electrician in the navy played with the Pawtucket team of the Mill league. During his enlistment he was an infield on the team of the U. S. S. Michigan.

Pettle of Philadelphia, said to be a southpaw of no mean ability and a team mate and chum of Pennock of the athletics, and Fraher and Gloster, of last years Weymouth High school team are at the yard. Gloster expected to enter Exeter this fall but has held off a year.

Tom Clinton, who played the outfield for the old Fore River apprentice team five years ago, is back in Quincy after a long stay at Charleston, N. C., where he played minor league ball.

James Michael, who next to George Donohue, is the best pitcher the game ever produced in Quincy is expected to become an employee next week. Michael was to have started two weeks ago but was unable to do so. Eggleton, who played the outfield of the Makaria three years ago is back with the Eclectric Boat Co. and Paul Larkin, short stop and captain of

(Continued on Page Six.)

KALEVALA DAY TO BE OBSERVED

Finnish People Will Hold Big Celebration

The Finnish people of Quincy will celebrate Kalevala Day on Sunday evening in the Temperance hall on Nelson street. This day has become one of the most important among the Finnish and Hungarian people, and is in honor of the day when Elias Lonnrot dedicated his great book "Kalevala" on Feb. 28, 1835.

A few words in explanation of why it is celebrated and honored. Investigation has proved that the Finns and Hungarians have had a brilliant past. They ruled a large portion of Eastern Europe, extending way into the middle of Asia. Especially around the Volga River they ruled mightily for a long time. Wandering nations then compelled them to move further north and separated the Finnish from the Hungarians. They were disbanded, and small in strength, they found themselves among the stronger nations.

These compelled them, with the aid of bayonets, to adhere to religions which were strange to them, and when they attempted to worship as they had been accustomed to, they were burned at the stake. Thus it came about that the Finnish language was being forgotten, as were their religious customs, and all of the Finnish people would have disappeared from the world.

Elias Lonnrot, a college graduate, devoted many years in collecting material for his book. This work required enthusiasm and energy, and Lonnrot traveled through Viro, Ingermanland and Russia, from one end to the other, and also through parts of Lapland, in the severe winter weather and suffered many hardships. Being a stranger, he received poor treatment, and once he went for three days without eating.

"Kalevala" contains the old ballads and traditions of these Finnish and Hungarian people, which were handed down from father to son. One of the characters, Kaukomieli, is, in part, the original of Longfellow's "Pau-Puk-Keewis." The book has been translated into fifteen different languages and the English edition can be obtained from "Everybody's Library," Messrs. E. P. Dutton & Company, New York. Some of the great men of Finland have borrowed ideas from "Kalevala" for their paintings, literature, and musical compositions. In the principal cities of America societies have been formed, called the Knights and Ladies of Kalevala. One branch has been started here.

FINED FOR MOVING.

Tony Had Neglected To Secure Permit.

The first case under the ordinance passed by the city council two years ago relative to furniture moving was brought into court Friday when Tony Patta of 19 Canal street was arraigned on two complaints for violation of the ordinance.

The ordinance provides that persons engaged in furniture moving shall obtain a license from the city council and that they shall make returns to the police of every person moved. It is alleged that Patta moved a family from 49 Dayton street to 153 Water street without a license and that he failed to make a return. He was found guilty on both complaints which were placed on file on the payment of $6 costs on each complaint.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES PASS MERRY EVENING

Versatile Alumni Entertain Large Gathering

"High Jinks" played by William E. Weston at the piano and Max Pinkham on the violin started an evening of song dance and comedy at the High school assembly hall Friday evening.

The occasion was the first of a series of entertainments to be given for and by the newly formed alumni association of the school, and this first was a huge success. About 250 graduates and their friends thoroughly enjoyed themselves from eight until half past ten.

The first number on the program was announcements made by Brooks Keyes who said, punctuating his remarks with his usual witticisms, that April 24 was the date of the alumni play in charge of Mrs. Willard Sheppard and that the proceeds of this were to be given to the H. S. Athletic association. On June 3rd there will be a picnic featured by a baseball game between the odds and evens. In March will be inaugurated a membership campaign in charge of William J. Nolan, '08.

Mr. Keyes then spoke of the hope of the association of raising a sum of money to be used, under Mr. Collins advice to assist seniors and graduates who were desirous of a college education but were unable to go. "This should be given as an award for brilliancy, and I've observed that those who can't afford to go are often the most brilliant," he remarked parenthetically. He closed by mentioning the alumni's basket ball defeat and hoped they would have a tennis team that would "trim" the school team.

For the next hour the audience greatly enjoyed a farce "Pa's New Housekeeper," which was coached by Miss Ella Packard. It was screamingly funny, and cleverly acted. The parts were taken by Misses Muriel Badger, Dorothy Packard and Winthrop Safford, Millard Sumner, and Alvah Innis.

They all did splendidly Miss Packard as a winsome sister of her friend's fiance, Miss Badger as a charming fiancee and pseudo maid Mr Safford as an elderly, sentimental gentleman, Mr. Innis, the fiance, in a decidedly uncomfortable situation and Mr. Sumner, a man who could help his friend out of his difficulties by assuming the role of a widow.

Mr. Sumner was the star of the play. His acting was natural and he made such a very alluring widow that the audience didn't blame the sentimental gentleman when he "tendered his hand in marriage."

Maurice Blackmur dressed as a jockey then announced that the audience was to witness a scene of peasant life in Poland in the 13th century the parts to be taken by Miss Ruth Packard "the Julia Marlowe of the Granite City" and Harry Slade, "the nearest approach to Billy Watson." This peasant scene proved to be a clever little skit wherein a wife soundly berates her husband for coming home late, not allowing him to speak, and finally when he produces a bracelet for her birthday gift, the irate lady becomes all sweetness. Mr. Slade's part was played without a spoken word.

Mr. Blackmur then cleverly introduced the other entertainers.

Mr. Victor and Miss Edna Fowler were forced to respond to encores

(Continued on Page Three.)

WORK OF Q. H. S. B. B. TEAM FOR SEASON

First Quintette End in Third Place With Nine Won and Six Lost

The basket ball team of the Quincy High school which finished in third place in the Interscholastic League, being defeated for the second position by Winthrop, scored 146 points in league contests while the other teams rolled up 183. During the season however the team rolled up a total of 334 against 242 by its opponents, including league games. They won nine games and lost six.

The team lost both its games to Wellesley, champions of the league split with Winthrop, took two from Reading and split with Revere. In the unattached games they beat Weymouth twice, Mansfield once, and split with Brockton, beat Woburn and the alumni five.

Hamlin was high scorer in the team having thrown 15 goals up to the time illness forced him out of the game. Bob Davis came second with 28 points 16 of them from free tries. Beaton from the backfield got 18 points, all baskets. Crocker, had 18 points, ten from the floor, when he was injured. Whet Browne got 16 points, all from the floor and Welsford 16, eight of them on fouls.

The team's season was up and down. In some games the quintette exhibited a flash of style that was excelled only by the superior Wellesley team and at other times there appeared to be a complete demoralization. The results:

INDIVIDUAL GOALS.

	Goals	Fouls	Total
Hamlin	15		30
Davis	6	16	28
Beaton	9		18
Crocker	5	8	18
Brown	8		16
Welsford	4	8	16

JENNINGS—NOLAN.

Albert Wesley Jennings, a carpenter of 204 Rhoda street, Quincy, and Anna Elizabeth Nolan, a Boston telephone operator, were married in Boston Thursday. The ceremony was performed by Frank M. Zattoli, justice of the peace.

Founder's day of the Woodward Institute is to be observed Friday evening March 12th. A fine program is being prepared to be given in the school hall.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

WENEGATE AUTO TOP & BODY CO.

PACKARD FORE DOORS $30

Runabout, Hearse, Truck, Touring, Limousines, and Speed Bodies made to order, Mud Guards, Hoods, Tops, Slip Covers, Wind Shields and Repairing of all kinds.

CONVERTIBLE LIMOUSINE TOPS FOR ALL MAKES OF CARS
ALL WORK GUARANTEED—PRICES VERY REASONABLE

637 WASHINGTON ST.--Tel. Dor. 1180--DORCHESTER, MASS.

Feb. 18-1m

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.

will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.

OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY
Tel. 618

QUINCY MUSIC HALL

THE HIGHEST CLASS OF LICENSE—THE HIGHEST RATING

A THEATRE LICENSE and "EXCELLENT" in every single particular, is now issued to Music Hall— "Excellent" for:—

Structural condition,	Curtains,
Facility of escape of audience,	Protection neighborhood hazard,
Heating apparatus,	General condition of appliances
Water supply,	and apparatus,
Lighting apparatus,	General condition of stage.
Condition of fire apparatus,	Rating as a whole
Condition of sprinklers,	With regard to safety of audience

There are few—very few Halls in the State that thus have the highest class of License and the highest rating in every particular. Previously the fire exits and facilities for fire prevention were ample for a Hall License, but to obtain our present highest class of License and the highest rating in every particular, the whole main exit was torn down and made absolutely fireproof, large automatic smoke and fire vents were constructed over the stage, all scenery was made fireproof, and in addition to chemical fire extinguishers and fire pails throughout the Hall, automatic sprinklers and fire hose were installed on the stage. Further, the previous generous exit facilities were very greatly increased so that there are now ten (10) doors opening from the Hall, and six (6) separate exits: two (2) of 8 feet each, one (1) of 7 1-2 feet, two (2) of 5 feet each, and one (1) of 3 1-2 feet, A TOTAL OF 37 FEET OF EXIT. All exits are lighted continuously by both gas and electricity. There is an asbestos curtain, by which the stage can be instantly cut off from the Hall proper.

The Location is in the heart of the city. The street cars with double tracks pass the door.

The Electric Light Festoon over the entrance way, flashing first red, then white, is a unique feature.

The Floor is of selected maple laid with the greatest care, and is kept in perfect condition, being covered with canvas when not used for dancing.

The Ventilation—a most important consideration—is such as to keep the air pure with even a crowded Hall. A large electric fan has recently been installed.

The Hall is Lighted by electricity, brilliantly and pleasantly, and with a switchboard arranged so that all desired effects can be obtained in the Hall proper or on the stage. Gas is used as an auxiliary light.

The Heating is direct—indirect, ample and giving the best results.

The Stage has been designed with care, and is furnished with a particularly generous supply of attractive and appropriate scenery.

For Advertising the Music Hall Billboards are valuable.

To Darken the Hall, there are special window fittings so that at noonday the Hall can be made as dark as at midnight.

Victrola. A $200.00 Victrola with the best dance records is now furnished at the nominal charge of $1.50.

A Public Telephone with an especially large booth is near the main entrance.

A Water Cooler of the latest type is furnished free. Paper drinking cups in a glass tube may be had for the actual cost of 30 cents per 100.

As a whole, Quincy Music Hall has been carefully planned to meet the requirements of those who wish an absolutely safe and large and really first class Hall.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE TRUST
(Ask for MR. KRIBS)
GREENLEAF BLOCK 'Phone 21066 QUINCY, MASS.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the
TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

AN UNFAIR THREAT.

"Our officials get in ruts. They forget their term of office is for but one year and that in that time they must give attention to the whole city. I wonder what the present administration has done for Atlantic. Perhaps they have not had any opportunity to do anything, yet perhaps they have. If the present administration does not do all it should do and can do and do it soon their "fresco" will be hanging in threads."

These words, according to the Ledger reporter who attended the big meeting of the Atlantic Improvement association, were uttered by Atty. Alva L. Stinson, one of the speakers. Mr. Stinson is a man of ability and a "live wire." Doubtless conditions in Atlantic appeared to him to justify the threat.

But in our opinion he was not justified. A threat is never a pleasant thing for the person against whom it is directed, nor in this case does it appear fair. Mayor Campbell and the 1915 City Council have not been in office a full two months. The annual appropriation budget has not yet been passed. There has been no opportunity for the present city government to take the action in Atlantic which its residents desire and to which, in considerable measure, we believe they are entitled.

It would have been proper and fair, we believe, for the residents of Atlantic to have presented their case and have allowed that case to stand or fall on its merits. We believe that Quincy this year has the best city government which it has enjoyed for several years. We believe that Quincy, all of Quincy, will get honest and impartial consideration by that city government. If after a fair presentation of their case the residents of Atlantic held the belief that they were not securing honest and impartial consideration then would they be justified in registering their conviction in the voting booth.

The threat at this date is not only unfair but eminently unwise. Such speeches as that quoted above set a bad example. Favorable action following such a threat is likely to be taken as evidence that the desire was effective because it was expressed in the form of a threat whereas it might well have been taken because of an honest desire on the part of the government to bestow benefits where benefits are due. The Ledger earnestly believes that Atlantic and other outlying sections of the city are entitled to more consideration than they have heretofore received but it does not feel that the proper method was taken to secure those benefits.

NATIONAL PROHIBITION.

It is a pity that more could not have heard the talk in favor of "National Prohibition" by Delcevare King at Bethany church Thursday evening. It was an able presentation of an important subject. There is, of course, absolutely no question of the great evil wrought in this country by intoxicating liquor. There is, of course, absolutely no question that the great bulk of the people would favor national prohibition if they believed it could be enforced. The consensus of opinion, based we are bound to say upon what appear to be valid grounds, is that national prohibition could not be made effective. The general opinion is that the question is distinctly one for local option. But in the past the majority of the people have been wrong upon occasions. They may be wrong this time and it is always valuable to hear what the other side have to say. We trust that Mr. King may be induced to repeat his address to a larger audience.

PSYCHOLOGY OF DISPLAY.

Some merchants don't seem to realize that there is psychology in the way their goods are displayed as well as in advertising.

In the show case of a local dry goods store recently there was a display of luncheon cloths and doilies. They were prettily arranged in circles and were in themselves dainty and attractive. But the effect was entirely ruined by the fact that in the middle of each centerpice was a boudoir cap. These, too, were attractive in themselves but their position was incongruous and spoiled the effectiveness of the display.

The passage of the bill which prohibits interstate commerce of products from concerns employing child labor would be of great benefit to manufacturers as well as to humanity. In 22 states there are now laws prohibiting child labor and the manufacturers in these states have difficulty in competing with those employing cheap labor.

How many people widely read or not, could answer the question, "How does camphor grow?" How many have ever hear of the 2,000 acres of camphor trees in Florida? Another query often asked is, "How do peanuts grow?" This question was recently asked in a grammar school and most of the answers asserted that peanuts grew on bushes.

The war is effecting even our federal department. The postoffices of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, and Boston have lost so much business through the war that it is feared men will have to be laid off. The great army of unemployed will then be composed of men and women of every trade, even including Uncle Sam's own offices.

Poor men of the West! Where will they keep their tobacco, etc.? Two states out there have bills pending to prohibit hip pockets in trousers. The reason is, according to the claim, that in a large number of murders the defense has been that the victim was "reaching for his hip pocket."

With the terror of the hoof and mouth disease and its consequent result of a scarcity of beef, it is encouraging to read that experts believe they can breed giant rabbits, weighing 30 pounds apiece.

CHARITY BALL AND BRIDGE.

A charity ball and bridge for the benefit of the Associated Charities of Quincy is to be held at the Quincy Women's club, Thursday evening, from 8 to 11 o'clock.

The idea is unique in that there will be not one cent of expense, so that the whole of the dollar for each ticket goes to the Associated Charities. The Women's club generously gives the use of the hall, the refreshments will be water; the prizes rosy apples; music victrola, and also it is probable that one or two friends will volunteer to play.

Each person is requested to bring some not-wanted article of small value—preferably something curious, comical or fantastic, which will be auctioned.

A particularly merry time is anticipated. The committees are

On the ball—Miss Marguerite Davis, Miss Clarice Doble, William C. Edwards, Delcevare King, Miss Gertrude Lacey, Miss Ninon Lacey, John S. Pfaffmann and Morton Smith.

On bridge—Mrs. Frances Abele, Henry M. Faxon, Thomas Fenno, Mrs. Eugene C. Hultman, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, Mrs. Herbert Lawton, Mrs. Wilson Marsh, Miss J. M. Purchase, Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, and H. Gerrish Smith.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Real Relief
from suffering means true happiness. The trouble due to indigestion and biliousness, is removed quickly, certainly and safely by
BEECHAM'S PILLS
The Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World
Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

JOHN ADAMS COURT MEETS

Court John Adams No. 144, F. of A. initiated eight candidates at its meeting in Clan MacGregor hall Friday evening and four applications were acted upon.

Arrangements are being made in conjunction with John Adams Aerie of Eagles and Granite Lodge, Sons of St. George, for a benefit to a member of the three organizations who has been on the sick list for some time.

The benefit entertainment will be held after the regular meeting of Court John Adams on Friday, March 12. The business meeting will be called to order at 6.30 o'clock.

TO REMOVE BABEL ROCK

Work will be commenced on Monday removing the edge of the Historic Babel Rock at the entrance to the Metropolitan Park Reservation. This rock is to be partly removed to make room for the widening of the extension of the Furnace Brook Parkway to make that road a through road to Canton fit for automobiles. The rock itself is so situated that an excellent view of the harbor can be seen from its top and all summer there are people who travel up its steep sides to get the view.

The work is to be started Monday and a gang of men and two steam drills will start the work. The work is to be done by Michael E. Shea the recently appointed superintendent of streets of this city. A large number of men will be employed on the job.

UNIVERSALIST EVANGELISM

The campaign of Universalist Evangelism is attracting wide attention In the cities and towns where services have already been held the attendance has been large and the general public interested. It is a sign of the times that in most cases the emphasis has been put on the social and community aspects of liberal Christianity.

In connection with these services tens of thousands of pieces of literature are being distributed through the mail and from house to house. It is too soon to attempt to tabulate results, but already there are many assurances that in numbers and increased interest the returns will be impressive, and by no means limited to the denomination leading in this movement.

Services will be held in the Quincy Universalist church Mar. 1, 2, 3, at 7.45. Preacher, Rev. Charles Conklin, D. D.

THAT PHONE SWITCHBOARD.

While the matter of installing a telephone switchboard in city hall has not as yet been fully settled, Mayor Campbell states that there is little doubt but what the board will be established although there were several matters that would have to be settled, particularly in regard to the operator. It is quite certain that there will not be work enough to keep an operator busy all of the time, and the plan that will probably be definitely worked out will be that the young lady who will operate the switchboard will have a desk and typewriter so that she may occupy her spare time in other work. It is probable that nothing definite will be done until the budget is out of the way.

FRIENDS TENDER SHOWER.

Miss Sadie Wilson Is Pleasantly Surprised.

Miss Sadie Wilson, the popular cashier at the M. O'Keefe store on Hancock street, who was married Friday, was tendered a miscellaneous shower at her home at 173 Whitwell street Wednesday evening by 25 young women friends. During the evening a musical program was rendered by Miss Bessie Burke, Miss Wilson, of Quincy, and Mies Anna Gilrain of Neponset. Piano music was furnished by Miss Helen Connor, and refreshments were served.

HEARING ON SEA WALL PETITION

Bill Before Legislature to Protect Houghs Neck

The bill introduced by the Mayor into the Legislature, known as House Bill No. 1121, being a petition of "Chester I. Campbell for the building of a sea wall or other structures in the city of Quincy, for the protection of Houghs Neck" will come before the committee on Metropolitan Affairs on Monday at 10.30 A. M. at Room 240 in the state house, Boston, Mass. Every citizen interested in the protection of the shore line at Houghs Neck is urged to be present.

Te following is a copy of the essential part of the bill:

"The directors of the port of Boston are hereby authorized and directed to build such breakwaters, retaining walls, sea walls or other structures in the city of Quincy as may be necessary for the protection from encroachment or damage by the sea of the shores of that part of Quincy known as Houghs Neck, and the board is authorized to expend for this purpose a sum not exceeding ten thousand dollars.

"Said board shall not begin work hereby authorized until the owner of the shore where said sea wall is to be located shall have released to the commonwealth all claims for damages which he may have on account of said work."

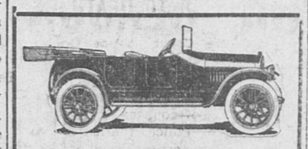

LENTEN SERVICES AT CHRIST CHURCH

There was a large number present at Christ church Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the special childrens' service. The rector gave a talk about Cain and Abel, the introduction of evil in the world and the inevitable consequences. At the evening litany the address of the rector was on the life of John Newton. How his life was one of adventure and how in the end he became a clergyman of the Church of England. He also spoke of the beautiful hymns written by him which all love so well to sing.

BRING RESULTS.

Want ads. in the Quincy Ledger bring results. Miss Purchase, secretary for the Associated Charities reports that a recent ad. asking for a cook stove for a needy family, brought several responses and a cook stove, complete with pipe etc., was finally donated by Mrs. W. G. Shaw.

The Quincy Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet at the home of Mrs. Caroline A. Spear, 166 Washington street, Friday March 5 at 2.30 P. M. Interesting speakers are expected to be present. All cordially invited.

JACKSON
Model 44
embodies all the distinctive Jackson Features. Durability, economy of operation, assured comfort and pleasing appearance. Seating capacity of 5.
Price $1250
Equipped with electric lights and starter, speedometer, etc.
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

SEE IT TODAY
EXPLOITS of ELAINE
— Ninth Episode—Two Reels —
— Also New Two Reel Educational and Comedy "Pathe Picture" —
— New Vaudeville —
THE FOUR BANTAS — Novelty Musical Act
PARIS & VANNETTE — Talking and Singing Comedians
McCARTHY SISTERS — New Songs--New Dances--Rapid Change Artists
CARMEN — The Marvelous Hoop Roller
THURS. FRI. SAT. Matinee Daily 2.30 P. M. 10--15c — Evenings at 8 — 10--15--25c
Kincaide Theatre
Coming March 1-2-3 — Sequel to The Million Dollar Mystery--2 Reels
THE DLER---A wonderful Photo-Play--5 Reels--Produced by Chas. Frohman
Frazers--Scotch Entertainers--Harry Murphy, Black Face Comedian
Pathe Daily News of World Interest

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.

A large and appreciative audience gathered Wednesday evening in the Quincy School hall at an entertainment given by the Parent-Teachers Association of Atlantic. A pleasing program was presented as follows:

Orchestral selections, White Trio
Vocal selections, Mrs. S. J. Ripley
Art and song
T. A. Manning and Byron Miller
Fancy dances, James Kennedy and a few of his pupils
Garland drill, Sixteen young ladies
One-act play "On account of the lobster," with the following cast:
Mr. Langdon, Dwight Gearwar
His wife, Collina Brown
Fiddler, Reginald Gay
Maid, Nettie Coombs

The selections by the Trio were very pleasing and heartily encored. Mrs. Ripley, who was formerly a resident of Atlantic, sang with much feeling and expression. The novel and artistic number by Messrs. Manning and Miller kept the audience spell bound. Mr. Miller sang two vocal selections, one suggestive of an old New England homestead, and the second of picturesque Ireland. During the singing Mr. Manning with rapid and dexterous strokes painted in oil the two beautiful pictures the beauty of which was well enhanced by artistic lighting. The easels were well placed and supported framed pieces of glass 4x5 feet and when the pictures were completed at the end of each song, the audience showed their appreciation by hearty applause.

Master James Kennedy, who gave an exhibition of fancy dancing, deserved much praise for the dainty and graceful dances in costume The first number "The dance of joy" was particularly pleasing, Miss Annie Kennedy. Miss Thelma Keay and another little miss, showing much grace and ease as they accompanied their teacher, who seemed the poetry of motion. Little Ruth Wetmore was fascinating in the Sailor's Hornpipe—and Margaret Reardon was quite captivating in the Highland Fling. The little tots received much applause. The garland drill was given by sixteen young girls in pretty pink gowns waving gracefully wreaths of pink pond lilies.

The concluding number was well given. Mr. Langdon, the husband who had eaten too much lobster and suffered thereby with a headache, acted well his part, while the devoted wife was very sweet and attractive. Mr. Fiddler proved most amusing and his love affairs with the pretty maid equally interesting.

Miss Mabel Lovejoy drilled the girls and coached the play. Hiss Helen Hunt and Miss Marion Letteney were the accompanists.

BIG THEATRE MEETING.

The first of the big men's meetings will be held Sunday afternoon at the Kincaide theatre at 3.30 o'clock.

From the time the doors open at 3 o'clock until the meeting begins the Wollaston Cadet Band will play. Those who have heard the band know that a treat is in store for those who avail themselves of this chance to attend the first meeting.

The speaker is Ora Samuel Gray who spoke so well at the meeting last year. Mr. Gray is a born orator and the men of Quincy have a rare opportunity offered them.

HOSPITAL AID ASSOCIATION.

At a time when a great deal of attention is being given to the needs of the hospitals across the water it was a pleasure to see so many women gather on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frederick H. Smith of Washington street to sew for our own City Hospital.

The hospital babies were the object of their attentions and a goodly number of tiny pillow slips, crib sheets and flannel gertrudes were made ready for use. The president, Mrs. Blackmur, spoke of the large amount of work necessary and urged the ladies to continue saving the last Thursday afternoon in each month for the needs of the hospital. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess

The next meeting will be held Thursday, March 25th, at the new home of Mrs. Luther W. Glover on Presidents hill.

WOMAN'S GUILD MEET.

Members Sew Dresses For Cuban Bazaar.

The members of the Woman's Guild gathered in the parish house Thursday afternoon and worked on children's dresses and aprons to be sent to Cuba to be sold at a bazaar to be held there under the auspices of the Episcopal church of which Rev. Mr. Snaverly is rector. They will be completed at an all day meeting next Thursday.

Tea was served during the afternoon by Mrs. William F. Torrey, chairman of the hospitality committee. She was assisted by Mrs. Archibald McLeod and Mrs. Otho Haywood.

Rev. William Grainger, rector, gave the second of his series of Lenten addresses on "The life of Christ" at the services held after the meeting.

NOTICE!
This space will be devoted each day—not to advertise cheap grade at full value, but Johnson Bros. Quality Goods at a sure low price.
BUY THESE TODAY
FRANCO-AMERICAN READY MADE SOUP
Finest QUALITY in Soups 10c can 3 cans 25c
Large can of Baked Beans, Regular Price 15c
for today 10c per can.
JOHNSON BROS., City Square.

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE
Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit
WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS
Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.
Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block
Jan. 26-tu-th-s.tf

ORIENTAL RUGS
WE have the largest and most complete stock of Oriental Rugs in Boston and can always show you a greater assortment than you can find elsewhere.
JOHN H PRAY & SONS CO
646-650 Washington St., opp. Boylston St.
All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

THEY ALL POINT TO US FOR QUALITY WORK
THERE IS NO REASON UNDER THE SUN
Why the men folks of this city shouldn't patronize local institutions as far as possible. The Old Colony Laundry Co. is a local institution.
WHY THE WHITE MAN'S LAUNDRY SHOULDN'T BE FIRST,
" IS THE TOPIC OF TODAY "
It comes under the compensation act, and workmen are protected. Its work's are open to public inspection and it is under rigid sanitary laws. So is The Old Colony Laundry.
BECAUSE THE WHITE MAN'S LAUNDRY IS - RESPONSIBLE IS - CLEAN
IS - LAWFUL
IS - ONE OF YOU
IS - A TAXPAYER
AND PAYS A LIVING WAGE. So does Old Colony.
OUR COLLAR -WORK- IS UNSURPASSED
We groove a little ditch in your collar so neatly, for your tie to slip through, "and it takes the fury out of men."
OUR SHIRT IRONER
AH! gentlemen, you who have not enjoyed our service, you are losing a treat. Mend your ways this week.
TEL. QUINCY 407
OUR TEAM WILL CALL

In SOCIETY

One of the pleasant features of the tenth anniversary of the Quincy Women's Club was the fact that Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, who was first vice president with Mrs. Everett C. Bumpus as president, when the club was formed, was on the anniversary president of the club and prime mover in the observance of the event. Mrs. Smith followed Mrs. Bumpus as president but owing to her removal from the city soon after gave up the office, so that it is particularly pleasing that in the course of events she should again become president and especially so on the club's tenth birthday.

* * *

Mrs. Herbert Lawton of Presidents hill went over to New York Friday for a Lenten visit.

* * *

Miss M. E. Prescott of Federal avenue is spending a few days at Chelmsford and later expects to go to Manchester, N. H.

* * *

Mrs. J. E. Rogers of Clive street entertained her son from Worcester over the week end and holiday.

* * *

Miss Helen Wilson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Monro Wilson of Kennebunk, Maine, formerly of Quincy, has returned from the Philippines and is in San Francisco where she expects to remain some time enjoying the Exposition.

* * *

Dr. Harold E. Marsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Marsh of Irving place has resigned his service at the Massachusetts General Hospital to accept a three years' appointment at the famous Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., and leaves for the West the middle of March.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Gay of Webster street announce the engagement of their daughter Catherine Holmes to F. Gordon Jenkins. Miss Gay, who was graduated from the Quincy High in 1908, is one of the most popular young ladies of Quincy and Boston.

* * *

Mrs. R. F. Clarke of Walker street, entertained the Criterion club at her home Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Rednor Coombs and Mrs. Annie Turner acted as substitutes for Mrs. W. Norton Stetson and Mrs. John Burke. Whist was enjoyed after which a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess.

* * *

Charles C. Wrigley of Washington street who is enjoying a trip to Bermuda is a guest at Hotel Inverurie.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence B. Hoyt, nee Dorothy M. Ruggles who were married at Wakefield Saturday night are to make their home at 108 Emerson street, Melrose.

* * *

Hon. and Mrs. Eugene H. Sprague of Park street are on an extended southern trip which will include visits to the Panama canal and Cuba. While in Cuba they will be guests of their son Rathburn Sprague on a large sugar plantation.

* * *

Cards have been received in Squantum from Mrs. Helen McGowan who is making a trip to New York and Chicago. This week she was a guest of Mrs. M. E. Wallace in New York city. Mrs. Wallace was formerly Phyllis Bostwick, daughter of Perley Bostwick of Brunswick street, Squantum.

* * *

Miss Thelma Holt of Fitchburg formerly of Squantum was a recent guest of Mrs. Charles Bostwick of Bellevue road.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Pinkham of Grand View avenue are contemplating a trip to California and the exposition in July.

Miss Jennette R. Harris and Robert Gould were married Monday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra S. Harris, at 45 Rockwell street, Dorchester. The bride was attended by Miss Laura Richardson of Dorchester, and the best man was Leroy Harris, a brother of the bridegroom. Mr. and Mrs. Gould will live in Wollaston.

* * *

Mrs. Hull of Providence accompanied by her three daughters Misses Mary, Carrie and Katherine Hull, have been spending a few days with Mrs. John C. Fuller of Botolph street.

* * *

Mrs. Frank J. Moore of Dysart street and Miss Clarice B. Doble of South street spent last week at Saranac Lake in the Adirondacks, where Mr. and Mrs. Maurice P. Spillane of Elm street are passing the winter and whom they saw much of during their stay.

* * *

The young daughters Amy and Miriam of Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Bainbridge have been staying with their maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Nathan G. Nickerson of Winthrop avenue during their parents trip to New York, Philadelphia and Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Bainbridge whose home is at North Weymouth are expected home Monday.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Duesbury and daughter, Hope, of Providence have been visiting Mrs. John Fuller of Atlantic.

* * *

PREPARE FOR BIG MINSTREL SHOW

The entertainment committee of Ave Maria Council under the direction of Charles Buckley are busy making preparations for their first grand minstrel show which will be held in Quincy Music hall Wednesday evening, April 28th. A chorus of seventy voices is being trained by Ralph Crossen the well known minstrel show man. The show will be an innovation for Quincy as it will consist of acts that have never been shown in this city. It will be a musical show. Rehearsals are being held twice a week and the men are making every effort to make this their, first attempt in the minstrel line, a howling success.

DISTRICT COURT.

Abe George, the Syrian who was arrested by Capt. McKay Thursday noon for assaulting Poulos Kalil with a hammer, inflicting a severe scalp wound was arraigned in court before Judge Avery on a complaint charging him with assault with a dangerous weapon. George entered a plea of not guilty and the case was continued under $500 bonds until March 4.

The continued case of Charles Anthony for larceny of $200 by false pretenses was again continued until Saturday morning.

The continued case of Theodore A. Hayden for violation of the liquor law at Quincy was heard and he was fined $50 and placed on probation until June 20.

Charles F. Jaquith of Randolph was arraigned for neglecting to support his family. He pleaded guilty and the case was continued until November on the understanding that he contribute $5 a week toward the support of his wife.

LECTURE ON WASHINGTON

Charles H. Johnson will deliver his lecture on George Washington at the chapel of the First Parish church Sunday afternoon at 4.30. No doubt a large audience will greet Mr. Johnson as his many friends will take this opportunity of meeting him in the church and school to which he gave so many years of service.

CLARA MORRISON
Pianist and Teacher
Leschetizky Method
CATHERINE MORRISON
Mandolin and Guitar
50 Hamilton Street, Wollaston
Tel. Quincy 1318-W. Sept 30-w.s.-1y

DR. C. F. S. PEARCE
DENTIST
327 Newport Avenue, Wollaston
Mondays -- Wednesdays -- Fridays
9 to 12 — 1 to 5
EVENINGS
Boston Office 194 Boylston Street
June 24-1y-W.-S.

A bread of superlative excellence, carefully baked and wrapped in waxed tissue for your protection.
ASK YOUR GROCER

MERRY MAKING BY KNIGHTS TEMPLAR

Quincy Commandery, Hold Banquet Entertainment and Dance

LARGE NUMBER ATTEND

The annual ladies' night of Quincy Commandery, Knights Templar, was held Friday evening at Alpha and Union halls, and proved to be one of the most enjoyable social functions ever held by the commandery. The program of the evening included a banquet at 6.30 followed by an entertainment and closing with dancing.

The Sir Knights and their ladies began to arrive soon after 6 o'clock and were welcomed on their arrival by Em. Commander, John Morgan and members of the committee. Wraps laid aside, the party assembled in Alpha hall until 6.30 at which time they marched to Union hall where the banquet was served by C. C. Whittemore, the menu including turkey mashed potato, cranberry sauce, lobster and chicken salads, escalloped oysters, rolls and coffee, ices of all kinds and cake. The courses of the banquet were interspersed with chorus singing from the book of "Old Favorite Songs" with Mrs. Herbert Y. Follett at the piano and the singing led by Sir Knight Follett.

At the head table were Em. John Morgan and Mrs. Morgan, Sir Knight and Mrs. Chester I. Campbell, Em. Walter E. Piper and officers of Quincy Commandery with their ladies and Em. Sir. Gardner R. P. Barker, commander of South Shore Commandery of East Weymouth. After prayer by Rev. Sir Isaiah W. Sneath, the dinner was served.

The dinner closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" during which all remained standing and at its conclusion marched back to Alpha hall singing "Onward Christian Soldiers."

Then came an hour's entertainment which was given by high class talent the concert program opening with a selection by Poole's orchestra.

The artists contributing were Mrs Gertrude Holt, soprano soloist, Miss Winifred Bent, reader, Sir Leon Van Vliet, cello soloist, and Mrs. Herbert Y. Follett as accompanist.

Miss Bent's opening selection was "Mary Elizabeths Initiation" and for an encore she gave "Foolish Questions" with piano accompaniment Other numbers by Miss Bent were "The Head of the House" and humorous monologues. All of her selections were more or less along the humorous vein, frequently convulsing her hearers with laughter, and the applause which was accorded her showed full well how much her selections were enjoyed.

The singing of Mrs. Holt was a rare musical treat, one that a Quincy audience seldom has the opportunity to enjoy. Her voice aside from being unusually sweet was one of remarkable range. She was down for two numbers, her first selection being "Delight" by Luckstone, and for an encore she gave a Scotch song. For her second number she gave a Lullaby, by Godard, with cello accompaniment and graciously responded to an encore.

The other contributing artist was Sir. Leon Van Vliet, a cellist of great ability. He proved himself master of this beautifully toned instrument and his numbers were greatly enjoyed. His first numbers were "Reverie" and "Tarantelle" by Southerland and for his second numbers Taubert's "Serenade" and Beethoven's Minuet. He also responded to encores.

At the close of the most enjoyable concert, dancing was in order until midnight. There were no printed programs but on one side of the platform were card indexes, decorated with cupids, hearts, etc. which gave the dance numbers. This was not strictly adhered to however for any dance the participants desired was given. Special cars at 11.45 left the hall for Wollaston and Atlantic.

The committee in charge of the evening, included Em. Sir. John Morgan, commander of Quincy Commandery, Em. Sir Albert W. Fay, Em. Sir. Walter E. Piper, Sir. Alfred H. Richards, recorder, Sir. Jonathan S Swingle, treasurer and Sir. Knights John Conway, George L. Cole, Herbert Y. Follett, Albert M. Parker Roscoe Horton. J. Francis Merrill and Walter Deacon.

You need the Ledger every day.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

TRANSPORTING GRANITE.

Editor Daily Ledger:

Kindly allow me further space in your valued paper for a quotation of the respective costs of transporting paving, building stone, grout, and other granite products, with railroad facilities of transportation to all our quarries to a dock at Atlantic on the one hand, as compared with the present antiquated, and tedious method of teaming by the Ox and the Ass, on the other.

Under the present system of transportation it costs $2 a ton to send our paving, grout, etc. to Boston. Therefore today it costs us $24 to team a thousand of our medium sized paving which runs 12 ton to a thousand. On the other hand, with railroad facilities from our quarries to a dock; we could ship the same paving blocks or other granite products to New York—250 miles away—for one half what it costs us under existing conditions to send such products to Boston which is only ten miles away. With railroads from the quarries to a dock the cost would be, 25 cents per ton from quarry to dock, 10 cents per ton loading barge at the dock, and 65 cents per ton from dock at Atlantic to wharves in New York, making a total cost of $1 for transporting a ton of granite to New York, the greatest granite market in the world, which is but half of what it costs us under present conditions to send the same granite to a market—not so large—only ten miles away.

Let me say, without fear of contradiction, that there is not a quarry in Quincy which makes grout fast enough to supply any contract of paving, rip rap, or grout job of any size. It requires the combined output of all our quarries to fill such a contract quickly and economically The essence of a granite contract is quick delivery. Hence the need of a railroad from our quarries to a dock that we may carry on our granite business expeditiously and successfully.

There are many barges of coal and lumber come to Quincy and Neponset which are obliged to leave our wharves empty and go to Cape Ann for cargoes of granite for the New York market. If we had such a railroad, as is suggested, from all our quarries to a dock we would easily capture the New York market, and by so doing keep our granite quarries alive and furnishing employment for

It has been said that the N. Y., N. hundreds of our granite workers. H. & H. R. R. is not in a condition financially to take up the problem of building railroads to our quarries. Well, the truth in the matter is, that it will be the Old Colony R. R. that will build this railroad to our quarries and it is an established fact that this is a rich corporation, and would I believe, consider a remunerative business proposition such as this would be.

Thanking you for your valuable space, I remain

Gustave B. Bates.

DOOMED TO DEATH CHAIR

Supreme Court Justice Denies New Trial For Charles Becker

New York, Feb. 27.—Supreme Court Justice Weeks denied the application of counsel for former Lieutenant of Police Charles A. Becker, who is under sentence of death for the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

The application was based on an alleged affidavit by James Marshall, who testified at the second trial of Becker, in which he recanted his testimony.

MAKES CUBA HIS HOME

Havana Will Be Jack Johnson's Headquarters For Some Time

Havana, Feb. 27.—Jack Johnson will remain indefinitely on Cuban soil to defend the world's heavyweght championship title against all-comers.

This was indicated when the champion announced he had leased for one year a house in Vedado, a suburb. Johnson intends to reside there, making Havana his headquarters. He now tips the beam at 245 pounds.

Marshal Arrests Own Sons

Salina, Kan., Feb. 27.—The city marshal of Ellis arrested four boys for smoking cigarets in violation of a city ordinance. The boys, two of whom were the marshal's sons, were put on the streets to work out their fines, guarded by the marshal.

Square Riggers In Long Race

Boston, Feb. 27.—With large sums wagered between the crews, the full-rigged ship Rhine and the barkentine John S. Emery started on a 6000-mile race to Buenos Ayres.

Bank Robbed; President Kidnapped

Havana, Ark., Feb. 27.—Two robbers kidnapped President Mitchell of the Bank of Havana after blowing the safe and getting $12,000.

Woman's World

A Practical Movement to Aid the Woman on the Farm.

MRS. BELLE VAN DORN HARBERT.

The International Congress of Farm Women is an organization of women who have caught the vision of an ideal life on the farm. They know the hardships which farm women have endured in the past, and they are anxious to brighten the lives and widen the horizon of all women similarly placed.

The American division of the farm women's movement was organized at Colorado Springs in October, 1911, coordinate with the Dry Farming congress. It is now united with many other great national congresses, making one great international union in which twenty-eight nations are represented.

The organization is interested in inviting the national and state governments to recognize the needs of farm women. The dangers of the rapid growth of cities, with the accompanying decrease of rural dwellers, is being studied. The doctrine of thrift and the nobility of labor are preached in the hope of encouraging a "back to the farm" movement. Unbiased experiments with modern inventions, calculated to save labor in farmhouses, are being carried out, and an effort is made to make it possible for farm women to discriminate between the useless and valuable ones. The congress is also interested in the development of consolidated schools and in encouraging teaching of domestic science and practical housekeeping.

The leader in this useful movement and the president of the organization is Mrs. Belle Van Dorn Harbert of Manzanola, Colo., a woman of charming personality and wide human sympathy. Mrs. Harbert has made a study of the questions affecting the welfare of women on the farm and has been wonderfully successful in interesting them in the movement.

BAMBOO EFFECTS.

Outing Hats In This New and Pretty Straw Prove Acceptable.

Lacquered straw in bamboo effect has been popular for midseason hats, and its acceptability for rough and ready outing hats cannot be gainsaid. Illustrated here is a model of brown lacquered straw, woven in bamboo effect. The shape is a modification of the ever popular sailor, the narrow crown drooping to one side and flaring upward at the other. The trimming consists of grosgrain ribbon and felt flowers.

NOVEL SPRING HAT.

Colored Embroideries.

There is a great deal of embroidery worn—chiffon worked with a loose, coarse floss—with the happiest results, but we have to accustom our eyes to the bright colors. Red and blue are introduced together on tan and green, and purple on yellow, while yellow and red find favor.

DON'TS FOR CHILDREN.

Don't allow children to read in a dim light.

Don't let them read with the sunlight glaring on the book.

Don't allow them to read at night facing the light.

Don't allow them to read when lying down.

Don't allow them to read for too long a time.

Delicious
Baked Beans
For Supper Tonight
Made with care and under sanitary conditions.
Give us a call — Today — always
LOOK FOR THE PURE FOOD SIGN
1441 Hancock St. Barnard's 1587 Hancock St.

BUTTER IS LOWER
Finest Creamery 32c lb
Van Camp's Milk 7 1-2c a can
Van Camp's Soup 7 1-2c a can
MAPLE DAIRY
CHESTNUT STREET

BUILDING PERMITS.

Inspector of Buildings Thomas has issued the following building permits this week:

Puritan Spring Bottling Co., garage Willard street.

Ida A. Dennison, dwelling, Billings street.

E. T. Folsom, dwelling Sea street.

Catherine L. Boydon, dwelling, Kemper street.

M. E. Kilpatrick, dwelling, Hancock street, Atlantic.

B. Hilliard, removal Sea street.

Ida M. Higg, dwelling, Smith street

Estate Fanny C. Adams, repairs Adams Building.

G. N. Hatch, addition, Palmer street.

Mrs. Jennie A. Anderson, dwelling, Hudson street.

H. L. Eldridge, garage, Royal street

Mary E. Sullivan, dwelling, Charles street.

Victor Matti, dwelling, Suomi road.

John Keniley, Jr., dwelling, Hudson street.

Morton & Marden dwelling, Waterston avenue.

COMPLIMENTS POLICE.

Acting Chief McKay of the police department has received a letter of thanks from Chief Faxon Billings of the fire department in connection with a recent fire. The letter is:

Capt. Daniel R. McKay,
Acting Chief of Police,
Dear Sir:

Allow me to express my thanks to you and your men for the way you looked after the interests of the fire department at the fire in Music hall block on Feb. 22. Your good work was very much appreciated by myself and by my men.

The pulmotor we think, was a very big success, very promptly applied and with good results.

Sincerely yours,
FAXON BILLINGS,
Chief of the Fire Department.

HIGH SCHOOL

(Continued from Page One.)

for their solos, which were much enjoyed. William Northrop drew some very original sketches of the new dances, the grizzly bear represented by a grizzly looking man, the bunny-hug by a bunny being hugged by a baby, the one step by a masked burglar taking one step out of the house, and so on.

Clifford Hill, as usual, was extremely popular. He danced, sang, and recited some clever dialogue pieces.

The entertainment closed with fancy dancing by Mr. Herbert and Miss Florence Barker. They gave a good demonstration of some fox trot steps, which were much appreciated.

BOY IS IMPROVING.

Thomas McLean, the 11 year old son of John McLean of School street who at first was thought in danger of losing his sight because of the explosion of gunpowder with which he was fooling last Monday, is improving rapidly. The doctors now think that it is possible to save both of his eyes.

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School. Tel. con

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1827-W Quincy

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

COAL
Just Unloaded 2600 Tons of Sprague's Celebrated
New River Cumberland Coal
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.,
27 Granite St.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1295 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

RESULTS IN JUNIOR LEAGUE

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.
Capt. Wren 4, Capt. Sarno 0.
Capt. Swain 4, Capt. Keliher 0.

The Swain and Wren fives were four point winners in the Junior league matches at the Wardwell alleys Friday evening. The former's victory was taken by only a few pins.

CAPT. WREN—4.

Gilcoine	88	97	80	265
Griffin	89	88	103	280
Gilcoine	98	104	79	281
DeSenso	96	93	91	280
Wren	97	86	94	277
	468	468	447	1383

CAPT. SARNO—0.

Sarno	88	89	83	260
Sullivan	75	78	82	235
Foy	107	83	71	261
Moody	79	87	68	234
McConarty	70	86	91	247
	419	423	395	1237

CAPT. SWAIN—4.

O'Donnell	83	80	88	251
Curten	93	74	83	250
Callahan	89	81	69	239
Lecount	81	89	101	271
Swain	83	87	84	254
	429	411	425	1265

CAPT. KELIHER.—0

Keliher	76	97	74	247
Little	88	92	94	274
Sharkey	75	75	75	225
Barba	101	67	90	258
Ford	77	79	81	237
	417	410	414	1241

SERVICES FOR MR. GRINDELL

The funeral of Charles H. Grindell was held this afternoon from his late home on Pleasant street. The services were conducted by Rev. P. S. Neldon, of the West Quincy M. E. church. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends including a delegation from Mt. Wollaston oldge of Odd Fellows and delegates from the Masonic lodge with which he was affiliated. Each of these organizations sent floral tributes. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—always crisp, clean, pure and wholesome. Try it. Grocers.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton Piano Co.
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings. 22-tf.

BOYS SHOES
Made to stand Hard Wear
BOSTON WELT
Regular $2 Shoe for $1.50
As a special inducement to every mother buying a pair of these Shoes we will repair your old ones for 25 cents, which is just the cost of the leather.
E F. CONLIN,
Hancock and Saville Sts. Tel. Quincy 961-M

FEDERAL LEAGUE MAY COME HERE

Report Says Al Winn Combing Quincy For Park Site

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR FEDS

A semi-professional base ball team may be assigned to this city by the Federal league if the negotiations now going on for grounds are completed within a few weeks. Al Winn owner of six of the eight teams of the Colonial league is said to be the man behind the guns.

Winn came here late last season to look over the territory and since then he has been in constant touch with Quincyites who know the local situation.

Such a team would be a training school for the Feds and it is understood that a local aggregation, if one is assigned here, will play in Brockton and Taunton Saturdays when those teams are playing out of town.

If Winn places a team in Quincy it is possible the games will be played on the Old Colony grounds on Water street.

LORD COFFEY IS HIGH MAN

"Lord" J. Coffey and his stalwart indoor sports won an easy victory over the Fore River steam fitters at the Wardwell alleys Friday evening. Coffey was high man with a total of 348. His showing was a great surprise to the fans who have not before seen him in action. "Admiral Caven, right support to his lordship, averaged 87.

LORD IJ. COFFEY—1356

Connelly	50	61	98	209
Summers	73	93	97	283
Gulicson	74	77	103	254
Caven	88	87	87	252
J. Coffey	104	107	137	348

F. R. STEAM FITTERS—1243

Hicks	67	85	79	231
Silsby	68	72	83	253
Hanson	63	72	78	213
Iliffe	87	91	68	246
Paradise	100	100	100	300

TO MEET WEDNESDAY.

Board of Trade To Consider Several Questions.

A regular meeting of the Board of Trade will be held Wednesday evening. The business for the evening stated in the call is to receive and act on applications for membership, to hear reports of committees, to see if the Board will vote to secure larger quarters for its monthly meetings, to see if the Board will change its night of the monthly meeting to the second Thursday of the month. In addition to the business stated Mr. Chapman will be present and explain his anti-friction ball bearing device. This company desires to locate in Quincy if sufficient encouragement is given them.

WILL SEND BUDGET.

There have been many rumors in regard to the mayor's budget not going to the city council that the Mayor was asked this morning if he was going to send the budget to the council at the Monday night meeting. In reply he stated emphatically that it would be forwarded on that date.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE.

A meeting in the interests of Equal Suffrage is to be held Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock, at 38 Coddington street, to which Miss Randall, president of the local League extends a cordial invitation to all, to attend. Miss Mary Carson, ex-secretary of the Massachusetts Political Equality Union will speak.

CONSIDER R. R. SCHEDULE.

The committee on transportation of the oBard of Trade will meet this evening at the rooms of the board at 7.30 to consider what changes if any are desired in the spring timetable of the railroad. Any citizens having any changes to suggest should notify the committee in person or by telephone at the rooms of the Board of Trade.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

ROBERT LANSING.

Counselor of State Department Declares It's Time For Anxiety.

Photo by American Press Association.

Robert Lansing, counsellor of the state department, speaking at a dinner of the Amherst alumni at New York, said: "These are critical days for our country; how critical only those who are in intimate touch with affairs can fully realize. It is a time for serious thought, a time for anxiety."

IF WALSH DROPS OUT

Barry Will Be Candidate For Governor of Massachusetts

Springfield, Mass., Feb. 27.—Former Lieutenant Governor Edward P. Barry of Boston issued a statement formally announcing his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor in the event Governor Walsh should refuse to become a candidate for the nomination this year.

He expressed the hope, however, that Walsh would again consent to seek election for another term.

WOMAN CONCERNED IN $22,000 THEFT

Mrs. Cole and Husband Suddenly Disappear From Boston

Boston, Feb. 27.—Police search has begun for Mrs. Loranna T. Cole and her husband, George W. Cole, wanted in connection with alleged thefts from the Collateral Loan company, known as "the biggest pawnshop in America."

The couple are claimed to have confessed, to the loan company directors, to stealing the amount of $22,000 by means of a system of fraudulent pledges, which the district attorney's office, the police and the loan company's officials have been trying to ferret out for weeks, since the arrest of William Cobb, a former president of the concern, charged with other larcenies.

Mrs. Cole, up to a few days ago, was a bookkeeper at the Collateral. Her husband is claimed to have been the "outside" man in the alleged swindle.

WOMAN SLAYERS EXECUTED

Three Men March to New York Death Chair Without Faltering

Ossining, N. Y., Feb. 27.—In a triple execution in Sing Sing prison three slayers of women were put to death in the electric chair.

The three were Robert Kane, Oscar Vogt and Vincenzo Campanelli. Only twenty-seven minutes and ten seconds were consumed in putting the three men to death.

All marched into the death chamber with heads erect and without faltering.

DISCUSSED BY CABINET

President Unlikely to Call an Extra Session of Congress

Washington, Feb. 27.—Administration senators are inclined to doubt that President Wilson will call an extra session of the senate after March 4 to consider the Colombian indemnity and Nicaraguan canal right treaties or for any other purpose.

The president and his cabinet discussed the advisability of such action, but so far as is known no final decision was reached.

Child Scalded to Death

Brockton, Mass., Feb. 27.—Leonard Allen, 2 years old, died as the result of scalds sustained when he upset a tea pot and the scalding contents ran over his head and shoulders.

Jim Crow Car Law Rejected

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 27.—A bill requiring railroads to provide separate cars for negro passengers was reported adversely by the senate committee on railroads.

Evelyn Thaw Breaks Down

New York, Feb. 27.—Evelyn N. Thaw was taken to a sanatorium suffering from a nervous breakdown caused by overwork.

GIVE THREE NIGHT MINSTREL SHOW

No. Weymouth People Throng to See Laughable Antics

NUMEROUS LOCAL QUIPS

The Mens club connected with the Universalist church of North Weymouth concluded the third performance of its annual minstrel show in the vestry Friday evening, having played to a packed house each night, and eliciting the heartiest applause.

The show took the form of a cabaret with four end men and two waiters in black face. Earl Williams, Herbert Libbey and Alfred Cadman were attired as ladies in striking costumes as were also Messrs. Clapp and Gardner on the opening night, although they changed to purple satin dress suits on the succeeding nights, corresponding with Stanley Torrey and Cy C. Howland.

Sidney Dunbar, club president, made an imposing interlocutor attired in conventional evening dress; Harry Bailey looked every inch a soldier in military costume, and Irving Morgan, Nathan Cushing and Joseph Holbrook ably assisted in the chorus work.

Stanley Torreys song "Months and Months and Months" was well rendered, being encored as was also Roy Vining's rendition of "California and You."

Edgar Stiles in both makeup and manner was a real English chappie and made a decided hit in "A Hundred Years from Now." Alfred Cadman was a "symphony in yellow" and gave "Down in Burgundy" in soprano voice, responding to an encore with "Silver Threads Among the Gold." In appearance he was a beautiful society girl as to gown and voice.

Harry Stiles as a lady from the Emerald Isle, started applause as soon as he came down the stage and sang "At the Garbage Gentleman's Ball" in his own inimitable way.

Henry Clapp sang "Sister Susie's Sewing Shirts for Soldiers," without a slip although it is a tongue twister.

Cy Howland in the song, "Syncopated Sandy" was obliged to respond to encores so pleasing was his rendering.

C. E. Stiles must have had professional training, so accurately did he portray a Yiddish gentleman, in "How is Everything by You, All Right?"

Charles L. Parker looked a Harry Lauder in Scotch evening dress, and his rendition of "When the Twilight Comes to Kiss the Rose Good Night," was well nigh perfect.

Allie Gardner is too well known in semi professional circles to need any comment. His turn "When Uncle Silas Did the Turkey Trot" and tambourine solos were so perfect that it is a wonder he isn't on the Keith circuit.

Will Dasha in the song "Michigan" and introduction of the talent kept the audience in a continuous gale of laughter.

Rev. Sam Johnson depicted by George Ames, was to talk on "Nothing in Particular" but before the concluded his stump speech had talked on everything from gypsy moths to woman suffrage.

Carleton Tyler and Leonard Wiley kept the audience in an uproar whenever they took the stage. Mr. Tyler is a clever banjoist, and Mr. Wiley who is a well known artist, did buck and wing dancing and performed sleight of hand tricks to the delight of old and young.

Both the opening and closing choruses were arranged by John H. Tower, who was also musical director. An orchestra composed of Miss Doris Torrey piano, Mr. Leighton flute, Percival Ames, violin and Dr. Stetson, cornet, rendered the incidental music.

The lavish display of flags and the streamer confetti used in the closing chorus was very effective.

As to the jokes none escaped the quips and jests of the end men.

Alfred Gardner had charge of the troupe. The finances were managed by E. R. Sampson, Irving Morgan, Richard Hesse and George Ames.

The ushers were Frederick Hilton, Arthur Sampson, Ralph Poulin and A. U. Sampson.

The Wollaston W. C. T. U. will hold its regular monthly meeting Friday March 5 at the home of Mrs. Henry Hatfield 100 North Central avenue. Mrs. John Benson, will speak on "Rescue work."

Wollaston Auto Show
Wollaston Centre Garage
NOW OPEN

THE best known carburetor expert, who has spent the past two years working out improvements adding to economy in gasoline mileage, placed his order for a Jeffery Chesterfield Six recently.

"The high-speed — high-efficiency motor with its big power and small gasoline consumption is bound to win," he said. "A lot of people are working toward it, but Jeffery has really arrived."

He is only one of the large number of men actively identified with motor car construction who are of the same opinion. Among others who have ordered or expressed their intention to order Jeffery car within a short time are managers of steel mills, tire manufacturers, leather jobbers, automobile spring builders and various accessory manufacturers.

Chesterfield Six $1650
Light Four $1450
Six-48 $2400

The Thomas B. Jeffery Company, Jeffery, Kenosha, Wis. U.S.A.

The Thomas B. Jeffery Company
Main Office and Works, Kenosha, Wisconsin
Wollaston Centre Garage
Wollaston, Mass.

SOUTH BRAINTREE

Andrew A. Nicols of 13 Curtis place has been laid up all the week with a carbuncle on his neck.

Dr. William Gallagher, head master of Thayer academy, returned Monday from a trip to New York city

Miss Clara Landry of Lowell spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. John Landry of Franklin street.

The Braintree Club and the Pond Street A. A. kept open house, Washington's Birthday.

Mrs. Hugh W. Owens of Franklin street spent Washington's birthday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elliott of Taunton.

Mrs. Claribel Simonds of Tremont street is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Leroy J. Wade of Dighton.

Mrs. Cora N. Tirrell of Pearl street returned yesterday from a business trip to New York, preparatory to the spring opening of millinery season..

Mrs. Mary Esterbrooks of Peacedale, R. I., is making an extended visit with her niece Mrs. A. A. Smith of Franklin street.

At the meeting of Braintree Council No. 1462 K. of C. Thursday evening the officers of the council exemplified the first degree on ten candidates.

Mrs. Chester A. Maddocks who is teaching school this winter at Ellsworth, Maine, has been spending the week in town and leaves for Lewiston, Monday.

Miss Alice Holbrook, who is a member of the Simmons college club, attended a very enjoyable meeting of that organization held one evening this week at the home of Miss Beulah Hatch of Wollaston.

Master Ellis Condon of Taylor street and Master Henry Simonds of Franklin street spent the week-end with the latter's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Eaton of Dighton.

Mrs. Charles M. Lothrop of French avenue returned Sunday from the Frost hospital, Chelsea, and is reported to be greatly improved in health.

Harry Cone has resigned his position with the local office of the Adams Express Company, in order to embark in a business venture, and his place has been taken by William Mellen of Taylor street.

According to the terms of the contract the South Braintree post office is being renovated and repaired and a new safe, larger and more commodious than the old one is a noteworthy feature of the new equipment.

A Junior Holy Name Society was organized Sunday afternoon at the St. Francis church, by the assistant pastor, Rev. James J. McMorrow and the following officers were elected: Stephen Levangie, president; John Gallivan, vice-president; William Dacey, secretary; William McGrath treasurer.

The Pond Cemetery Association met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. J. Wilde, Tremont street. Arrangements were made for the annual fair which will be held next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Warren Mansfield, 26 Central street, observed their wedding anniversary Feb. 22, by entertaining relatives and intimate friends from Wakefield, Quincy, Braintree and Chicago. Westover & Foss, caterers.

At the weekly whist party of the Pond street A. A. held Thursday evening souvenirs were presented to Mrs. William Tucker, Mrs. Winfield Thompson, William Tucker and John McInnis.

Late Wednesday night, two small boys giving their names as Harold Jordan, 11 years old, of 14 Brant street and William Whitten, 10 years of age, of 8 Gibson street, Dorchester were noticed at the South Braintree station by night operator John J. Foley who notified the local police. The boys said they had started for a walk after school and got lost. The boys' parents were notified and they were sent to their homes.

☞PRATT'S BREAD costs a little more—is worth a good deal more. Ask your grocer.

Masquerade Costumes For Rent
Children's Costumes in variety
MRS. R. E. WOODWARD
155 Billings Road
Norfolk Downs Car. Norfolk Downs
Feb. 34f

ISLE OF PINES
An association is now being formed to own 100 acres of grapefruit or 7000 trees. Join now—membership $250.00, $10.00 down and $5.00 per month. 6 pct. guaranteed for the first five years and then each member gets 85 pct. of the profits. Write for particulars.
ISLE OF PINES ASSOCIATES
170 Summer St., Boston, Mass.
Feb. 11-1m

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

EDWARD J. FEGAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhoea. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

W. H. HASLETT

31 Bridge Street, Quincy

Tel. Quincy 1092 W

Plastering and Cementing
Concrete Houses
Outside Stucco Work
Cement Walks, Steps and Cellar Floors.

PETROSILO sanitary and fireproof flooring—guaranteed to wear longer than hard wood floor—no joints one continuous piece put over any floor.

Feb. 25- W-S. tf

W. R. LOFGREN

Carpenter and Builder

PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
Hundreds of Satisfied Customers
Prompt Attention given to Remodeling and Repairs
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 398-3
June 9-tf

QUINCY REGISTRY FOR NURSES

20 Whitney Road, Quincy, Mass.

Will supply trained and practical nurses and attendants. No charge will be made to those applying for Nurses.

MRS. E. L. CRANE, Registrar.

Tel. Quincy, 131-W.

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

LEWIS N. CURTIS

PAINTER and GLAZIER

LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

HOLMES & HALL

GENERAL REPAIRERS
— OF —
HOUSEHOLD FURNISHINGS
SCREENS, SHADES.
LOCKSMITHS
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Rachel J. Corthell late of Quincy in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Samuel N. Corthell of said Quincy without giving a surety on his bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the third day of March A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this seventeenth day of February A. D. 1915.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.

3t Feb. 20-27 Mar. 1

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To all persons interested in the estate of William Murphy of Quincy in said County, an insane person.

Whereas, George J. Murphy, the guardian of said ward, has presented for allowance, his first and final account as guardian upon the estate of said ward. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said County, on the tenth day of March A. D., 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have why the same should not be allowed. And said guardian is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eleventh day of February in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.

3t Feb. 13-20-27

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Joseph M. Bruce late of Quincy in said County deceased, intestate

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Helen M. Bruce of said Quincy without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of March A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this seventeenth day of February A. D. 1915.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.

3t Feb. 20-27-Mar. 6

Read Ledger Advs.

SUNDAY SERVICES

A new announcement of services is required each week. No notices accepted to run indefinitely. When possible the subject of sermon should be given, also special services. Generous space will be given in the news columns for church news, music and week day gatherings.

FIRST PARISH IN QUINCY (Unitarian)—City Square. Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, minister. Residence, Miller Stile Inn, Tel. 21072; office hours at church 9 to 12 A. M. Monday, Wednesday and Friday Tel. 1220. Morning service at 10.30. Subject of sermon by the minister: "Lent" Sunday School at 12 M. Miss Minnie Packard, Supt. Meeting of the "Willing Workers," at 3.30 P. M. in the Social Room. Meeting of Y. P. R. U. at 4.30 in the Chapel. Mr. Charles H. Johnson will give an illustrated talk on "The Life of Washington." A social hour will follow. All are invited.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH — Junction Hancock and Chestnut streets. Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott, Pastor. Morning Service at 10.30. Message by the pastor. Subject: "Come unto me." Bible School at 12, Christian Endeavor at 6.00. Pleasant Sunday evening service at 7.30 Subject: "Who Cares?"

FIRST SPIRITUALIST CHURCH—Electa Hall Johnson building, Hancock street, Quincy Meeting at 7.30 P. M. Mrs. S. V. Odiorne —Black President Mrs. Albie Attwood from Lynn, speaker messages will be given and articles read. Bring your friends.

CHRIST CHURCH, EPISCOPAL—Quincy corner Elm street and Quincy avenue. Rev. William Grainger, minister. Second Sunday in Lent. 8 A. M. Holy Communion. 9.30 A. M. Sunday School. 10.45 Morning Prayer and sermon 7.30 Evening prayer and sermon.

ASSOCIATED BIBLE STUDENTS (undenominational) Hancock Hall, Hancock Building Quincy Centre. Free Bible Lecture Sunday at 3 P. M. speaker: Mr. H. P. Gleason of Boston Topic: "The Door of Hope." All are cordially invited. Seats free. No Collection

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH — Washington Street, Quincy. Rev. Merrill C. Ward, pastor; Residence 42 Dunster road, Jamaica Plain. Telephone Jamaica 1960. Sunday School at 2 P. M. Service 3 P. M. Subject: "The Bible we believe in." Y. P. C. U. at 4.15 P. M. address by State President, Thomas J. Farmer

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST — Quincy, Alpha Hall, cor. Hancock street and Cottage ave. Morning service and Sunday School at 10.45 Subject: "Christ Jesus." Golden Text: I am he that liveth, and was dead: and behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen. Wednesday 7.45 a testimony and experience meeting. Reading room open from 3 to 5 P. M. week days, Saturdays from 7 to 9 P. M. holidays excepted. Also Wednesday evening before and after services.

WASHINGTON STREET CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Quincy Point, Rev. Stephen C. Lang pastor. 10.45 Worship, sermon by the pastor, "The Success of Humility." 12 noon, Bible school 6.30 P. M. Y. P. S. C. E. 7.30 Evening Praise Service Subject of address; "Crosby Hymns." Thursday 7.30 P. M., People's Hour service. Public cordially welcome.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH — Water and Quincy Streets. Rev. Clarence E. Campbell minister. Residence 35 Quincy Street. Telephone Quincy 884 W. 10.30 Morning worship with a sermon "The Descent of Faith." 11.45. Bible school and men's class taught by Mr. Campbell. 3.00 Junior Endeavor. at 6.0 Senior Endeavor 7 Evening service with an address on "Billy Sunday as I know him."

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Corner of School and Pleasant streets. Rev. D. B McLeod, M. A., pastor. Residence 40 Bradford st Preaching by the pastor at 10.30 and 7.30. Sabbath school and Bible class 11.45. Junior Endeavor at 3. Senior Christian Endeavor at 6.30. Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30. Let every Sunday be "Everybody go to Church Sunday."

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH—Franklin street Rev. C. C. Tilley, Pastor. Residence 26 Richie Road. Preaching Service at 10.30 A. M. Subject: "The Troubled Christian." Sunday School at 11.45. Christian Endeavor meeting at 6, Subject: "What will improve our prayer meetings." Scripture. I Cor. 14:1-12, 26. Led by Prayer Meeting Committee. Evening Service at 7. Subject: "The Untroubled Sinner." Regular prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 7.30.

HALL PLACE M. E. CHURCH — West Quincy, Rev. P. S. Neldon, pastor, Residence, 12 Hall Place. Morning service at 10.30. Rev. Mr. Germany will preach. Sunday School at 11.45. Epworth League devotional service at 6.00 P. M Leader, Miss Jessie Burke. Subject; "Winsome to win some." Evening praise and preaching service at 7.00 Junior League Monday afternoon at 4 P. M. Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30 P. M. A cordial welcome to all.

SWEDISH ELEVENTH DAY ADVENTIST CHURCH.—John Ericson Hall, 139 School Street C. Meelen pastor. Sunday service at 3 P. M. Subject: "Peace far and near." or heaven in earthly homes and how to obtain that happy condition.

ST. PAUL'S SWEDISH M. E. CHURCH—Corner Granite and Fort Streets Quincy, Rev. A. E. Hillman, pastor. Residence 121 Glendale Road Morning service at 10.30 Sermon by the pastor. Subject: "The Rainbow and the Throne." Sunday School at 12. Union Evangelistic meeting at the Swedish Baptist Church at 7 P.M. Music by the large chorus. Everybody welcome.

SWEDISH MISSION CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH Garfield street. Rev. A. G. Sporrong, pastor. 14 Euclid avenue. Tel. Quincy 1482-M. Sunday school at 9.30 A. M. Young peoples class led by the pastor. Morning service 10.45, by pastor Subject: "Jesus saves a boy from the power o Satan." 5 P. M. Young Peoples Meeting. 6 P. M The Union Chorus Rehearsal. 7 p. m. Union service in the Swedish Baptist Church Brewers Cor. A hearty welcome to all scandinavians.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH—Cor. Prospect and Warren avenues. Rev. Joseph Walther pastor. Prayer meeting at 10.15 in Pinkham class room. Kindergarten for children whose parents are attending morning service at 10.45 in Primary Department room. Morning service at 10.45. Subject: "When is a man a fool." This is the last of a series of sermons on this subject. Sunday School at 12.15. Elford L. Durgan, Supt. Subject: "Samuel the Victorious Leader." Junior Endeavor at 3.30 Mrs Joseph Walther, Supt Subject: "Stories of Christ's Sabbath." Leader Jeanette Bailey. Senior Endeavor at 6. Subject "What will improve our prayer meetings." Meeting in charge of prayer meeting committee. 7 o'clock There will be a Union Service at the Methodist, Congregational, and Baptist churches in the Baptist Church. Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, of the Wollaston Congregational church will preach. Everyone invited.

ST. CHRYSOSTOMS EPISCOPAL CHURCH — Hancock street. Wollaston— Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, rector, residence, the rectory, 633 Hancock street. Holy Communion at 8. Morning Prayer, Ante-Communion and sermon at 10.30. Sunday School at 12. Evening prayer and address at 7.30.

WOLLASTON METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH—Rev. George Mervyn Bailey, pastor. Residence, 52 Brook Street Telephone, Quincy 10.45 A. M. Divine worship with sermon by the pastor. Theme: "Little Sir Galahad as a Temple of God or the Religious Philosophy of a child." 12 M. Sunday School. H. A. Sedgwick, Supt. Pastor in charge of men's class. 6 P. M. Epworth League Devotional service. Subject: "Winsome to Winsome." Leader, Raymond Cassidy. 7 P. M. Union service at the Baptist Church; Congregational, Methodist and Baptist participating. Sermon by Rev. Isaiah W Sneath.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN CHURCH — Corner Beale and Farrington streets. "An House of Prayer for all People." Rev. Carl G. Horst, minister, Residence. 39 Grand View avenue, Telephone Quincy 317-1 The church auditorium is equipped with earphones. Service of worship with sermon at 10.45 a. m. Kindergarten for children of three years old and over in the vestry in charge of Miss Catherine Reed at 10.45 A. M. Sunday School at 12 M. in charge of Superintendent Mrs. H. C. Needham, classes for all. Minister's preparatory class in Church Auditorium at 12. Special Lenten service at 7.30 Preacher, Rev. Abbott Peterson of Brookline. Seats are free and a cordial welcome to all.

ATLANTIC M. E. CHURCH— corner Newbury avenue and Squantum Streets. Rev. E. C. Pollard, pastor. Residence 19 Wesley Street, Newton, phone 2467 W. Morning service at 10.45. The pastor will preach a sermon in honor of the 6000 Veterans of the Methodist Church. Sunday School at 12.15. Junior League at 3. Epworth League at 6. "Winning Souls." The pastor's lecture will be on Church Veterans. Public service at 7.00. Sermon by the pastor.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH — Atlantic Rev. Thomas W. Davison, pastor. Morning service 10.45. Sermon by the pastor. Theme: "Life's Values." Sunday School at 12.00 M. Junior Endeavor at 3.30 P. M. Senior Endeavor at 6. P. M. Evening service at 7 P. M. Theme: "Rebuilding Atlantic." A cordial welcome to all.

FIRST CHURCH OF SQUANTUM — Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor. Sunday School at 3 P. M. Church service at 4 P. M. Sermon by the pastor. Special Music. A cordial welcome.

BRAINTREE

Mr. N. E. Hollis is enjoying a trip to Palm Beach, Florida.

Letters remain in post office for William Bass, Charles Dearden and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Wardwell.

Miss Mollie McKean of Robinson avenue spent the week end and holiday with relatives in Scituate.

Miss Elaine Barker formerly of this town spent the holidays here with friends.

Mrs. John Conathan of Sherbrooke avenue is recovering from her recent illness.

Miss Hazel Barrett of Middle street spent the week end with relatives in Waltham.

Herbert F. Kneeland of Hollis avenue has returned from a business trip west.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hill of Dorchester spent the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. George H. Holbrook of Middle street.

Miss Marion Harmon of Wollaston who is starting a music class in Braintree is a pupil of Mr. Huyman S. Buitekan of Boston.

Mrs. E. C. Powers of West street, accompanied by Mrs. Juul left Thursday morning to spend two weeks at Poland Springs, Maine.

Start Right

The best food for the first three weeks for newly hatched chicks is

Pratts Baby Chick Food

25c, 50c and $1.00

Reduces mortality, prevents bowel trouble, insures quick maturity—producing strong, sturdy, rapid-developing young birds. Refuse substitutes; insist on Pratts.

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Back

Get Pratts 160 page Poultry Book

Sold by Grain Dealers & General Stores. 6639.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Emma W. Belcher late of Randolph in said County, deceased, intestate

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Helen W. Pratt, of said Randolph, without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the tenth day of March A. D. 1915 at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire Judge of said Court, this twenty-sixth day of February A. D. 1915.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.

3t Feb. 27 Mar. 6-8

WILLIAM R. DIMOCK

Carpenter and Builder

Plans furnished and estimates given. All work personally and promptly attended to

133 PROSPECT AVENUE
WOLLASTON
Telephone 1238 W Quincy.

BRIEFS

Arthur Swanson, the popular local entertainer, is making a big hit impersonating "The Gibson Girl."

Richard Hall of Faxon road has returned to his home after a six weeks' business trip through the south.

Miss Mary Hooper, clerk in the office of City Auditor Fairbanks, severs her connection with that office today.

John Carrulla and family of Quarry street extension are moving to their new home on Willard street.

Rev. William J. Duffy of St. Marys church attended the funeral of Rev. Dr. David Supple held at Holliston on Friday.

Arthur Collins and family have moved into the manse on Quincy street where they will reside with the Rev. Clarence E. Campbell.

Hiram Morse of Bellevue road, who last year conducted the Squantum Inn in partnership with Herman Berghous is now connected with the Hotel Lenox.

A meeting to oraghize the First Church of Squantum is to be held Friday evening inthe church vestry. Officers for the coming year will be elected and articles of incorporation and bylaws will be drawn up. Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor of the church, hopes all members of the church will be present.

Building operations are taking on a boom in Squantum. James Hagan is building an attractive bungalow on Gladstone stree t which is nearing completion. Mr. Hagan intends to occupy the new house and rent his other house on the corner of Gladstone and Bayside road. James Currie is putting the inside finish o n his new eight room cottage on Bellevue road. He also intends to occupy the new place and let his present home on Standish road.

The Altar Guild of St. Chrysostoms meets Wednesday evening next week instead of Thursday.

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes

Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

TO LET

Lower flat of new house, 5 rooms, large reception hall, large bath room, combination gas and coal range, steam heat. Located in one of the best parts of South Quincy. Two minutes to electric cars, four minutes to Quincy Adams station. Rent reasonable. Apply to

JOSEPH B. GROSSMAN,
93 Goddard Street,
Tel. 1404-W Quincy. 18-tf

TO LET

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.

22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block. 1 flight up Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld. Small front office.

Office, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—16x18 ft.—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop —ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall —28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water, $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS

Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for L. R. Kribs.
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

WATCH THESE SMALL ADS

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Four or five furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Apply 23 Hancock Court. 25-6t

TO LET—Front parlor, 1st floor. Also two light housekeeping rooms. Five minutes from Library. 65 Spear street. 27-3t

TO LET—Furnished room to one or two persons. Very desirable. Few minutes from Wollaston station, on street car line. Tel. Quincy 953-W or address 740 Hancock street, Wollaston Park. 27-tf

TO LET—Five room flat with large attic and improvements at 70 Intervale street South Quincy. $14.00 a month. Apply at 159 Liberty street. 27-3t

TO LET—New single house, with 5 rooms, bath, range, hot and cold water furnace heat, gas light. Vacant Mar. 1. John A. Weeden Greenleaf Block. 24-6t

TO LET—Upper apartment 4 rooms and bath. Furnace, electric lights, set tub, screens etc. Ready for occupancy April 1. Apply to Miss Prescott, Ledger Office. 23-tf

TO LET—New house, five rooms. All modern improvements. Location high and dry. Inquire on premises. 749 Kendrick avenue. 23-6t

TO LET—A good tenement now ready. Rent reduced to $18.75 per month. C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 19-tf

TO LET—At No. 9 Elmwood avenue, Wollaston, furnished or unfurnished rooms. Light housekeeping if desired. Modern improvements and telephone Quincy 863-W. 20-6t

TO LET—New lower flat of five rooms and bath, furnace heat and cemented cellar situated on Taft street. Apply 79 Elm street. 21-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 13-21t.

TO LET—Apartment of five rooms and bath in new house, all modern improvements, fine location, 26 Bradford street, off Franklin street. Apply to F. Barnicoat, Quincy. 10-tf

TO LET—Half of colonial house on Russell park, 7 rooms and bath, fireplace, coal and gas range and all modern conveniences. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 9-tf

TO LET—Two or three rooms, furnished or unfurnished for light housekeeping, all improvements, reasonable rent, board if desired. 132 Marlboro street, Wollaston Park. 6-tf.

TO LET—From March 3rd, apartment 91 Revere road, 5 rooms and bath furnace, gas, rent $20. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1. 3-tf

TO LET—For permanent storage purposes, the Windmill Building, in the meadow back of Edwards Estate on School street, nominal rent. Slate roof. James L. Edwards, 33 School street, Tel. Quincy 730. 3-tf

TO LET—Near High school, six room cottage, hot water heat. Also 2 family house 5 rooms each, bungalow style, new and all modern improvements. A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road. Tel. 258-1 30-1mo

TO LET—Upper flat of four rooms and bath. Apply 236 Franklin street. 26-tf

TO LET—On Bigelow street, house of eight rooms with improvements; rent $30. Also house of six rooms, rent $25. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, Quincy. 25-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 6 rooms and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. W. Lehtola, 97 Goddard street near Quincy Adams station. 16-tf

TO LET—Cosy tenements near shipyard in East Braintree, 4 rooms and bath $15, 5 rooms and toilet $15. For rent to small families of nice people. Apply 336 Granite street, Quincy. 1-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Two tenements, 29 and 31 Clay street, Wollaston; 5 rooms each. Apply to Mrs. E. S. Wales, Agt., 36 Warren avenue, Wollaston. 27-6t

TO LET—On Elm street, half house 7 rooms and bath. Hot water heat, laundry, set tubs, electric lights and gas, kitchen range. Apply at 130 Elm street. 27-6t

TO LET—If looking for furnished rooms for light housekeeping, don't miss seeing these three cheerful rooms, private bath, near center. Modern improvements, gas, range, set tubs, etc. Write M. C. Ledger Office. 20-12t

TO LET—Three first class connecting rooms, nicely furnished, bath on same floor, centrally located, in home of American family. Light housekeeping allowed. References exchanged. Write L. H. H. Ledger Office. 20-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

LOST

LOST—Tiger cat, white face, breast and paws; had on collar with ribbon bow. Reward if returned to A. M. Wainwright, 63 Adams street. 26-3t

FOUND

FOUND—On February 25th, sum of money. G. B. Thomas, Letter carrier 18 Mechanic street. 27-2t

FOUND—Adrift in January, flat bottomed row boat. Owner can have same by proving property and paying charges. Apply 42 Gannett road, Adams Shore. 27-1t

WANTED

WANTED—Position as janitor. Alfred Heimo, 373 Water street. 26-3t

WANTED—A clean quiet, boarding place by a young man. Plain living good room. Write E. L. N. Ledger Office. 25-3t

WANTED—Tracers. Young women 18 years of age or over to learn plan tracing. Apply by letter only, stating age, education, experience if any. Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation, Quincy, Mass. 24-6t

FOR SALE

FOR SALE — Refreshment and lunch room at Squantum Beach. Apply E. Gorham, Border Street, Squantum. 26-3t

FOR SALE—Eight room house, can be used for two families. Bath, hot and cold water, furnace, gas, electric lights, 16,435 feet of land. Stable, hen houses, fruit, garden. Five minutes walk to station. Will take less than assessed value. Terms reasonable. Call and look this over. 178 Washington street. 26-2t

FOR SALE—An Overland car in perfect condition. Complete electric equipment. Write M. Ledger Office. Feb. 25-3t

FOR SALE—I have a full size Hallett & Davis piano all in good order. cost new $425. I need the room and will sell for $20, delivered. Easy terms write "Piano" Quincy Ledger. 20-6t

MISCELLANEOUS

MY VERY FINE mahogany upright piano will be stored with private family who would consider purchase later at a sacrifice. Write A. C. Quincy Ledger. 26-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOR SALE

House of 6 rooms, Hot Water Heat, Bath Room, large garden plot, and on good street in Wollaston. Price $2,800, reduced from $3,200. Straight Loan of $2,000.

Tel. 1877-M Quincy, Representing
HENRY W. SAVAGE Inc.
129 Tremont St., Boston.
Oct. 8-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

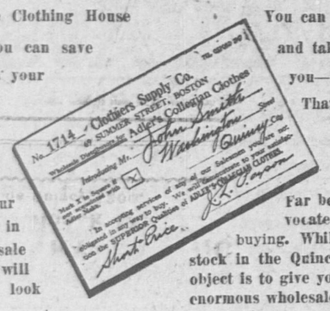

Quincy, Norwood & Sagamore Wholesale Dept., 69 Summer St., Boston.

USE OUR INTRODUCTION BLANK

introducing you to a Big Boston, Mass.

Wholesale Clothing House
Where you can save
Money on your
Clothes

You can pay for them there
and take them with you—We manufacture
That's why

Ask for our Mr. Orent in our wholesale dept. who will cheerfully look after your wants

Far be it from as to advocate Boston clothes buying. While we carry a large stock in the Quincy store our object is to give you the benefit of an enormous wholesale stock at less than retail prices.

ORENT-PAYSON CO.

1387 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass.

BATH SPRAYS

In Chocolate and Red Rubber

97c

CHAS. C. HEARN, Druggist

COUNCIL MEETING MONDAY.

A regular meeting of the city council will be held Monday evening but as there is not much business in sight outside of the mayor and terasurers budget the meeting does not promise to be a long one. Several committees have met since the last regular meeting but it is not expected that they will report on any of the matters referred to them.

The budget will be published in full in Tuesday's Ledger with the amounts appropriated last year, for comparison.

BUCKEYE INCUBATOR

$7.50

GUARANTEED

to hatch every hatchable egg

SOLD ON 40 DAYS TRIAL

with an absolute guarantee to hatch every hatchable egg for you the first time you try it.

IT'S A WONDER

Nearly half a million in successful operation

SEE THE

KANT KROWD KLOSE KONTACT AIR BROODER

IT'S A LIFE SAVER

NATHAN AMES

5 GRANITE ST.

Furniture Storage Warehouse

Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.

Rates $2---$3---$4 per month

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.

1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.

Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.-tf

EXPERIENCED STITCHERS WANTED

APPLY

SOVEREIGN WAIST CO.

192 GRANITE ST.

NORTH WEYMOUTH

Miss Mary Delory has returned to her studies at Mt. St. Joseph academy after spending a few days with her parents Mr. and Mrs. tSephen Delory of North street.

Mrs. Sadie Miller entertained a dinner party Wednesday at her home on Leonard road, composed of members of the Auxiliary to the K. C. B. C. and their husbands.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Veno have been entertaining Miss Lillian Joyce of Cambridge.

Mrs. Earl William is entertaining Miss Bertha Smiley, of Waterville Maine.

Mrs. T. H. Lees of Standish road has been entertaining her sister Miss Nettie Swan.

Miss Lenora O'Rourke of Neck street is recovering from an attack of the grip.

Mrs. Harry Gould of Pierce court has received passports for herself and daughter Eleanor and sails April 18 for South America where Mr. Gould is stationed on the Rivadavia, as inspecting engineer for this government.

A. O. H. hall was the scene of a jolly party Thursday evening when after a business session the officers and members of the Auxiliary tendered a surprise to two of its retiring officers, Miss Kathryn Egan and Miss Lillian McCue. As an expression of esteem each of the ladies was presented with a friendship circle set with pearls, the presentation being made by Mrs. Theresa Condon. Refreshments were served by a committee consisting of the president Miss Kathryn Mack, V. P., Miss Nellie Coneen, recording secretary, Miss Catherine Egan, financial secretary Miss Annie Kearns, treasurer, Miss Agnes Crehan, Mrs. Margaret McCarthy, Miss Marguerite Coleman, Miss Mabelle McCue, Mrs. Theresa Condon, Miss Teresa M. Condon, Miss Nellie Mahan and Miss Elizabeth Mack.

CHRIST CHURCH.

The subject of Rev. William Grainger's sermon at the Sunday morning service will be "Baptism." In the evening he will speak on "Jacob, the Usurper."

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

The W. R. C. 103 will hold a public whist party at Mrs. Mary Jones, 58 Rixer street, Monday 2 P. M.

Miss Fannie Johnson of Pine street who had the misfortune to break her arm last week, has the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

The annual business meeting and supper of Atlantic Memorial church will be held in the vestry Wednesday evening.

Mrs. George Burr of Billings street has been called to Holliston by the illness of her mother, Mrs. Farabee, who has pneumonia.

"Who Cares?" will be the subject of Rev. B. A. Willmott's address at the Pleasant Sunday evening service of Bethany church.

A meeting of the executive board of the Quincy Charitable Society is called for Thursday March 4 at the home of Mrs. E. Granville Pratt, Hancock street.

Miss Blanche Hayden of Elm street has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. B. Colburn of Stoughton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Kiley have been guests this week of Mrs. Kathryn Murphy of Holbrook.

Lady Mary Kirk of the United Order of the Golden Cross officially visited Dorothy Quincy Commandery of Quincy Thursday evening. Lady Kirk was received in Hancock hall where the meetings are held. Her address was on the good of the order.

The Y. P. C. U. of the Universalist church meets Sunday at 4.15 P. M. The subject will be "A study of great lives" with an address and installation of officers by the state president, Rev. Thomas J. Farmer of East Boston.

The quarterly meeting of the Norfolk County, Association of the W. R. C. will be held in St. Mark's Episcopal church, Brookline Wednesday, March 17th. Dinner will be served by the C. L. Chandler Corps No. 109.

The Walther Men's class meets Sunday at 12.15 in the Wollaston Baptist church. Rev. Joseph Walther will lead the discussion, subject: "Samuel the Victorious Leader." Chorus of men, earnest discussions, a hearty greeting. All men not otherwise engaged are urged to attend and join this strong and growing class.

The A 1 club of the Wollaston Methodist Sunday School were entertained at the home of their teacher, Mrs. Arthur R. Poquett, on Wednesday evening of this week. The evening was spent in playing games. Refreshments consisting of sandwiches, ice cream, cake and fancy crackers were served during the evening.

Mrs. Alice M. Carr of Thayer street writes of her safe arrival in Honolulu after a very rough voyage. They ran into a typhoon which damaged the steamer somewhat, the storm lasting three days with heavy wind. The waves ran 50 feet high. Mrs. Carr finds Honolulu such a beautiful spot that she writes she has forgotten the disagreeable passage out there.

At the Wollaston Unitarian church Rev. Abbott Peterson of the First Parish, Brookline, is the preacher at the special Lenten service Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock. Miss Marion Moorhouse, the well known violoncellist, of Wollaston, will render two selections on her favorite instrument. The purpose of these special Lenten services with sermons by out-of-town preachers is the deepening of the moral and religious life. The minister's preparatory class meets Sunday noon in the church, subject for conference "Fundamentals in Religion."

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

N. Dept. 3—Purchasing Agts. —1.
U. S. N.—4—(forfeit)

The United States Navy team of the Fore River shipyard added four points when its opponents failed to appear at the Coliseum alleys Friday evening. The N department beat the Purchasing Agents 3 to 1.

N DEPT.—3.
Rich	100	88	61	249
Kennedy	96	100	84	281
Higgins	70	89	84	241
White	102	96	80	278
Westland	99	116	93	308
	467	498	402	1357
P AGENTS—1
Austin	70	83	88	241
French	109	107	89	305
Kline	72	77	82	231
Smith	93	92	91	276
Sullivan	86	84	87	257
	430	443	437	1310

SQUANTUMITES TO PROTEST

A lively protest is being made by Squantum residents regarding condition of Dorchester street. A committee has been appointed of members of the Squantum Improvement association who will take the matter up with Mayor Campbell. The first step will be to get a decision through the mayor from the city solicitor of whether the street belongs to Quincy or not. It has been a public thoroughfare for thirty years or more and has been used by the Bay State street railway for its line of cars to Squantum.

Many residents believe that although not registered as an accepted street in Quincy it has been made so through its long usage as a highway. If this should prove true a demand will be made that it be put in passable condition. It is now said to be dangerous to travel of any kind, the winter tides having broken down the sea wall and undermined the roadway. In case of fire it would be impossible for the auto truck at Atlantic to pass over this road and therefore a large section of Squantum is seriously menaced in case of fire.

SPECIAL MATCH.

The management of the City Square alleys has submitted the following score of a special match between three dreanought inspectors of the shipyard. Icenhower and Heaton were tied at 353 and the rolloff went to the former. Trapp was a few behind. The scores, when considered from the competitive standpoint knocks your eye out. The strings:

Icenhower	130	109	114	353
Heaton	129	110	113	353
Trapp	116	116	117	349

ROLLOFFS.

Regan and Mahoney were high in the rolloffs at the City Square alleys Friday evening. The strings:

Regan	125	89	105	319
Mahoney	95	87	129	311

BILL GOES INTO EFFECT.

Black's Creek Is To Be Bridged.

Gov. Walsh has approved the bill authorizing the Metropolitan park commission to construct and maintain a bridge over Black's creek for the extension of Furnace Brook Parkway The bill took effect upon its passage.

The plans for the bridge have been approved by the Board of Port Directors and they have been submitted to the navy department for its approval. No opposition on their part is contemplated. The bill follows:

The Metropolitan Park Commission is hereby authorized to construct and maintain a bridge without a draw over Black's Creek, so called, in the City of Quincy, as a part of Furnace Brook Parkway and to provide for the construction and maintenance of said parkway from Quincy shore reservation to Hancock street in said city as authorized by Chapter 699 of the Acts of 1912.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our thanks to the neighbors and friends for the kindness and sympathy shown us in our recent bereavement also for the many beautiful flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. James McNamie.
Quincy, Feb. 27 1t

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

TO LET—To small family of adults several very desirable new tenements $22 and up, also stable $10 per month; store $10 per month. Apply to C. H. Hardwick, 111Washington street. Tel. 174-2 Quincy.

27-12t

MARRIAGES

STURROCK—WILSON — In Quincy, Feb. 26, by Rev. Clarence Campbell, Alexander Miller Sturrock and Miss Sadie Wilson, both of Quincy

JENNINGS—NOLAN—In Boston, Feb. 25, by Frank M. Zottoli, justice of the peace, Albert W. Jennings of Quincy and Anna Elizabeth Nolan of Boston.

DEATHS

SPEAR—In Quincy, Feb. 25, Mary F. (Mitchell) wife of Charles H. Spear.
Funeral services at late home, 27 Franklin street, Monday March 1 at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 2t 25-27

NORTON—In Atlantic, Feb. 26, Dennis J. Norton, aged 37 years 7 mos. Funeral from the residence of his sister Mrs. John Roberts, 22 West Squantum street, Monday, March 1 at 8.15 A. M. High mass of requiem at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Atlantic, at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends respectfully invited to attend. Late member of Lexington Council, Knights of Columbus.

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1495 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

QUINCY BOY IS MAKING GOOD

The Delaware, Ohio Journal-Herald this week in commenting upon the alumni athletic events, Washington's birthday at the Ohio Wesleyan University has the following regarding the work of Allison Marsh, Q. H. S. '09, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Marsh, and former assistant at the Ward two playground.

"Prof. Dixon is assisted this year by another young man of great energy and who is never too busy or too tired to do anything in his power to increase the efficiency of the physical department. Prof. A. W. Marsh, the assistant physical director, is a graduate of Amherst with the class of 1913 and although this is his first year at both students and faculty and much Wesleyan he has made a great hit wit' success awaits him in his chosen field.

FORE RIVER TEAM

(Continued from Page One.)

Quincy High school, is arranging to spend the summer in the yard.

Joe Desmond the fastest first base man in metropolitan Boston, may come out for the team although he has received several offers to play with the minor leagues. George Barry, the "Little Commodore" of the Colonial league and Taunton's catcher, now in the electrical department, will not be available for the aggregation. Barry may return to Taunton. where he made a fine recod. He had arranged to make the training trip with a Canadian league team but the war has practically disrupted the game in the north.

"Pappy" Wall, last seasons catcher is now a student at Tufts Dental College and should make the team here. Stevens, the nifty right field of last year will take his try out with the Lowell New England league team before he decides on a program. Stevens finished the season there.

Several members of the strong semi-pro St. Eulalias team of South Boston are said to be employed at the shipyard and are eligible.

DENNIS J. NORTON.

Dennis J. Norton, brother of Mrs. John Roberts of 22 West Squantum street, died Friday after a long illness, in his 38th year. The deceased was a late member of Lexington council, Knights of Columbus. His funeral will take place Monday morning from his sister's home. A high mass of requiem will be celebrated at the Church of the Sacred Heart at nine o'clock.

SPECIAL POULTRY SALE

Fresh Killed Fowl 20cts lb
Fresh Killed Chicken 22cts lb
Fresh Killed Capons 25cts lb
Vermont Turkeys 27cts lb

QUINCY PUBLIC MARKET

1514 Hancock St. Kincaides New Block
Phone 1434 J Legal Stamps Free Delivery

ARE YOU IN TROUBLE?

Have a private reading from me. I will truthfully advise and help you with your business, health, domestic or any other affair in which you are interested and would like advice. Private readings daily, $1.00. Circle meetings Tuesday 3.00 & 8.00 P. M., Each one receives a message $.25. Developing Class Thursday 8.00 P. M.

Mrs. S. V. Odiorne

8 Mechanic St. off Revere Road Tel. 1923 M or 327 M

Feb. 27 eod

-- SOLD TO --

Orent-Payson Co.

We've just completed arrangements to take over the stock of

THE PUTNAM CLOTHING CO.

Elm and Pomfort Sts., - Putnam, Conn.

This stock consists of Men's and Women's Apparel and is not six months old. Owing to a disagreement between partners this stock had to be sold.

We Were There With The Cash

This stock is now being prepared for shipment and you can take it from us when this stock arrives There'll Be Something Stirring. These goods will be sold for whatever they will bring at quick sale.

ORENT-PAYSON CO.

1387 Hancock St., Quincy, Mass.

MRS. MARGARET MERRITT.

The funeral of Mrs Margaret Merritt was held Friday at her late home in Avon. Mrs. Merritt was a former resident of South Quincy having resided on Granite street for a number of years. About fifteen years ago she went to Avon but has been a regular visitor to the city ever since. She was over eighty years of age. She is survived by one son and two daughters and a sister Mrs. Mary Simmons of Willard street. Her son John was in an explosion in a local quarry a number of years ago and has been blind ever since.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

ADAMS MARKET
Adams Building
PHONE 1980

FOY'S

WATER ST. MARKET
Water cor. Quincy St.
PHONE 117

Your Sunday Dinner!

Smoked Shoulders
Extra Fine and Good Sized
12 1-2c lb.

Rib Steak Roasts
Clear Meat Tender and Juicy
22c lb.

BEEF, LAMB, VEAL, PORK, POULTRY and GAME

Small Premium Hams - - - 19c lb.

Vegetables		Fruit
Fresh Lettuce	.10 head	Oranges
California Celery	.15 bunch	California Navels	.23 .29 .40 doz
Cauliflowers	.20 and .25 each	Floridas	.23 doz
Radishes	.5 bunch	Grapefruit
Peppers	.5 each	Gol	.5 each, .55 doz
Cranberries	.5 qt	Large, Thin Skinned	3 for .25
Spinach	.30 pk	Eating Apples	.15 .25 .30 doz
Beet Greens	.15 lb
Rhubarb	.12 lb

R. E. Foy & Co.

Free Delivery to all parts of the City

26-2t.